Art Students Bring Their Own Crayons

School Board Authorizes $125 for This Item, Paste And Brushes

It must be pretty tough when the art department in the schools finds itself short of crayons and pupils bring them from home.

This has been going on, declared School Commissioner Herbert C. Schmutz at the Board of Education meeting Monday night when he submitted a list of material needed by the department to permit it to operate smoothly. Pastes, crayons and brushes will be purchased in the amount of $125.

The board accepted the offer of the Belleville Lions Club to furnish $50 worth of reference books, to be selected by school authorities for the high school library.

Because it is in a tentative stage figures were withheld on the budget, a discussion of which was held by board members in conference following the regular meeting.

The business office of the schools will dispense with Saturday morning opening the Board of Education decided Monday night when it was pointed out that employees will start at 8:30 instead of 9 o'clock mornings and work until 5 in the afternoon. The same will apply to the superintendent's office, although Superintendent Wayne R. Farmer asked the board if the members had any objection if he and his staff worked occasionally Saturday mornings. The answer was obvious. Mr. Farmer's department has been starting about 8:15 in the morning, anyway.

The high school office force may find itself in the same category provided some one there applies to the board for Saturdays off.

The Building and Grounds Committee was authorized to proceed with the erection of wooden steps and railings to protect people from falling on the concrete steps in stormy weather at the Holmes street entrance to the high school.

The same committee will check up on work required on the new high school addition to bring it up to specifications of the contract, bond for which will soon expire.

Following a report from School Business Manager Ruel E. Daniels, the board decided "at no time shall school buildings be open without a janitor, pay for which shall not exceed sixty cents per hour."

Mr. Daniels pointed out that on various occasions the schools had been opened without janitors. He wished to be relieved of responsibility unless the janitors were on hand.

President John P. Dailey voted in the negative on the ground that "nothing had happened and the procedure had been carried on without janitors for years."

The board will further investigate the advisability of carrying insurance on its boilers, only two Essex systems, Verona and Belleville, having a type that Mr. Dailey considers dangerous. Mr. Dailey again cited an explosion of a boiler similar to those in Belleville and Sussex. The boiler exploded, he said, under a classroom. Fortunately there were no children in the room at the time, he added.

School Commissioner Charles Gebhardt said he had investigated the Sussex explosion and found it caused by a faulty oil burner installation.

"The damage was slight," said Mr. Gebhardt.

Valley Association Presses Action on Improvement of River Bank North of Bridge

State Highway Commission Has Not Yet Laid Out Route And Park Commission Hesitates To Make a Move

The Valley Improvement Association is definitely following through its aim to get a parkway along the Passaic river, north of Rutgers street bridge.

Recently the association was informed by an official of the Essex County Park Commission that the development depended upon the State Highway Department setting lines for Main street in that location. Now C. F. Bedwell, construction engineer for the state department says "present State Highway Route 21, as legislated, does not extend north of the Belleville Bridge. As a consequence, of course, there cannot be sidewalks established along a state highway which does not exist. If you are referring to that part of Route 21, south of the Belleville Bridge, the sidewalks are quite definitely established, and the Essex County Park Commission has full information regarding the right of way controlled by the state in that vicinity."

The advice was addressed to Ora A. Current, secretary of the association. Mrs. Samuel Tiger, secretary

Editor Home from Orient Declares China to Defeat Japan with Soviet Aid

Invading Armies Will Be Stopped in Far East, Bate Tells Lions Club; Declares Japan Aims To Drive White Race from Asia

Sympathy for China in her present conflict with Japan exists throughout the world except for "Benito Africanus" and the little fellow with the trick moustache, corpulent, nimble-witted Don Bate, former newspaperman, told the Lions Club yesterday at luncheon in the Forest Hill Field Club.

The club heard the reporter, traveler say that China with the aid of Russia, will yet defeat the humorless Japanese; that the warfare will be confined to the Far East, and that while "ninety per cent of the Americans deplore Japan's ruthlessness, all our investments in China are not worth sending an army to the fields of Manchuria."

An affirmative answer was found by Mr. Bate to his subject "Can Japan Be Stopped?"

"Before we get our hammers and begin on Japan," Mr. Bate said, "let's remember that Japan is doing no more than has been frequently done in the Occident. Let's not hold up our hands in pious horror. War may have been outlawed in the Western world—but I don't know."

The Japanese belief in the divinity of the Emperor is the nation's main reason for unity, the speaker said, as he traced the Japanese policy of expansion leading up to the present conflict.

Cites Differences. Fundamental differences between the Chinese and the Japanese were cited by Mr. Bate, including the geographical difference between great, sprawling China, and the "tight little island" of Japan; the national spirit of the Japanese, as against the family life of the Chinese; the military sense of the Japanese, as against the Chinese theory that "a fugitive from the front lines is simply a rational man acting to preserve himself" and finally, the difference in the humor of the two races.

"The Japanese have absolutely no humor," the speaker said. "You cannot jest with them. It may be their profound inferiority complex. I don't know. The Chinese, on the other hand, are as bland and as well pleased with themselves as they possibly can be. Considering themselves superior, they have a great sense of humor; they will laugh with you."

"The Japs apparently believe it is good sales policy to shoot their customers. This policy has developed sympathy nowhere in the whole, wide world, except possibly with Benito Africanus and the little fellow with the trick moustache."

"All of Japan's foreign policy is affected by one thing and that is her fear of Russia. She fears Russia because Vladivostok is only three hours by plane from Japan's Pittsburgh, Osaka. Japan is in Manchuria today solely as a military expediency, not because she can use those plans for colonization, or because she loves her yellow brother, the Chinese."

"Japan seeks to drive the white race from Asia. That is one reason

Blinker Marks Spot Where Barge Upset

750 Tons of Scrap Iron Clutter Channel of Passaic

A blinker light marks the spot where 750 tons of scrap iron are dumped into the Passaic River as a result of the capsizing last Thursday of the barge, Marie.

The barge was towed to Newark Bay Tuesday. An effort will be made there this week to right it.

The barge had been partially submerged in the river north of the Belleville turnpike bridge, but because of the narrowness of the river no attempt to right it there was made.

A proposed attempt to recover the iron with an electro-magnet will be watched with interest by Kearny officials because it is believed the cargo is lying near the pipe line under the river which carries Kearny's water supply.

Arthur Brokaw, town engineer of Kearny, claimed that a magnet might disrupt the pipe line, and threaten the water supply.

It was proposed at first to dynamite the barge but this was not feasible because of the nearness of the water pipe.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Goeller of East Lansdowne, Pa., will be weekend guests of Mr. Goeller's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John F. McShane of 57 Tiona avenue.

Many Attend Talk By Sarah B. Askew

Noted Librarian Addresses No. 3 Parent-Teacher Association

Sarah Byrd Askew, secretary of the New Jersey Public Library Commission, was the principal speaker at No. 3 School Parent-Teacher Association meeting last night. Miss Askew, who was introduced by the president of the Library Board, Harvey B. Thompson, spoke on "Education For Living."

The speaker said in part, "Education is not learning facts, but must come through a combination of schools and libraries. The schools teach how to read and how to comprehend what you read. The library furnishes the books to carry on this education. A person needs books to learn how to do his or her job in the best way possible."

"Today there is so much competition that we must take advantage of every opportunity. Books must be available on Economics and History to enable a man to be the best citizen possible. Books build character through bringing out the best in the persons they describe."

"We need to furnish books as a good clean form of recreation. We have 316 local libraries in New Jersey and eleven county libraries. The first library was started in our state in 1750 in Trenton."

"You should be proud of the work your library has done in Belleville with comparatively so little money. It certainly deserves the support of every citizen for it serves everyone."

Among those attending the open meeting were President of the School Board, John P. Dailey, School Commissioner Herbert C. Schmutz, Superintendent of Schools, Wayne R. Farmer, and the following officers of the P. T. A. Association: John Denike, president; Charles H. Thompson, vice president; Miss Margaret Peterson, secretary, and Miss Lucy Smith, treasurer. Those who served as hostesses were Mrs. Albert Borman, Mrs. Joseph A. Deim, Mrs. Karl Struble, Mrs. Eleanor Brooks, Mrs. Janet Naylor, Mrs. Morris Rocklin, Mrs. Harry Naylor and Mrs. John Dailey.

Williamsons Entertain

Miss Lois Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Williamson, 304 Union avenue, was hostess to her high school club Monday night. Those who were present included Misses Amy Hardman, Virginia Breunlich, Margaret Wirtz, Lorna Zink, Virginia Rose, Cecilia Campbell, Margaret Sahn, Judith Hyde, Margaret Solaue, Betty Schwab and Isabel Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Williamson entertained over the week-end the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson and daughter, Florence, of Elmhurst; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gotshall, Mrs. John Brown and daughter, Connie of Cocoa, Florida.

Hartley Opposes Funds For Foreign Wars

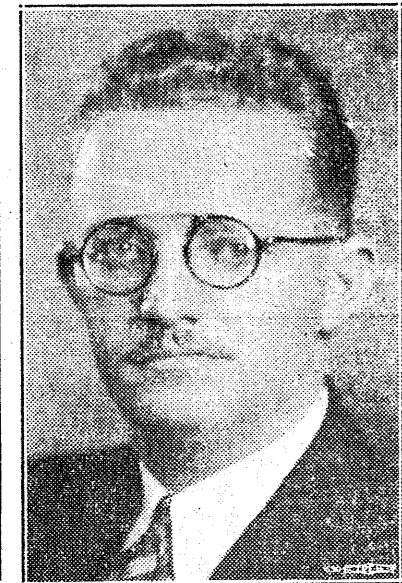

Says He Will Never Vote a "Cent to Send Boys Out Of Country"

"I'll never vote another cent out of the treasury to send our boys out of the country or even across the border," was the answer of Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., to a question put to him at the second session of the Belleville Institute of Public Affairs, Wednesday night.

Other speakers on the same program were Colonel Richard P. Hartgen of New Jersey National Guard, and M. J. Fischer, of League of Nations Association. A fair sized crowd attended this session of the Institute. The topic discussed was "Peace—How Can America Maintain It?"

Col. Hartgen, in presenting the army viewpoint, cited the need for national preparedness to protect every country. Each must sacrifice something in order to gain vast benefits for all. His main premise was, however, "we must develop a feeling of close relationship with other countries."

Congressman Hartley, the last speaker, subscribed to the "isolationist" of our country. He drew attention to the danger of being drawn into a conflict through the carelessness of seemingly aggressive acts of armed forces.

Congressman Hartley

"The present neutrality act," he stated, "is not as effective as it should be because we desire to be one-half neutral and one-half belligerent."

He concluded that America can maintain peace through its religious institutions and through the mothers of our country. He claimed that such organizations as the R. O. T. C., National Guard, and C. C. C. form important educational factors in the training of American youth.

"America can maintain peace," Col. Hartgen said, "through education and enlightenment." "The soldier," he concluded, "because of his training and experience in the methods of war, becomes one of the most peace loving individuals in the community."

Mr. Fischer decried the obsolescence and ineffectiveness of neutrality legislation and preparedness as methods for peace. "They have been tried and found wanting," he claimed. He suggested child education to take the glamour and the glory out of war.

Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, moderator of the Institute, opened the session and introduced Edward J. Abramson, chairman.

It was announced that the next session of the Institute will be held December 15. The topic will be "The Psychology of Child Upbringing."

To Honor Patrol Boys

Junior patrol boys in the Public Schools will be feted with a banquet or outing, details of which are going to be worked out by a committee headed by School Commissioners Charles Gebhardt, Herbert C. Schmutz and Superintendent Wayne R. Farmer.

Mr. Gebhardt brought up the matter at a meeting of the school authorities Monday night.

In turn, each member suggested some form of honor—from a hockey game, trip to Radio City, to an Easter outing or Christmas party.

One thing is certain the boys are going to be honored and they can thank Mr. Gebhardt for remembering them.

Mayor Frank Hague, Jersey City, To Address Belleville-Bloomfield Rotarians at Evergreen

Two Clubs To Meet Jointly To Hear Discussion of "Juvenile Delinquency" a Subject on Which Mayor Is Authority

Belleville Rotarians will hold their December 8 meeting jointly with Bloomfield in the Club Evergreen where the club from the neighboring town has arranged to present Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City in a talk on "Juvenile Delinquency," a subject in which the mayor is an authority. Hereafter Clifton Smith, local coal dealer, will have to call his shots when he goes hunting.

This was made certain Wednesday noon at a meeting of the local club in the Forest Hill Field Club when an account of a recent hunting trip of Cliff and three other Rotarians to the North Woods was given, principally by Julius Fass, tavern owner, Edward H. Yerg and George Cullen are the other two hunters. Cliff averred he brought down a moose with eleven shots, after missing one because the (cold?) made him shiver too much for careful aim as the "man mountain loomed up" in front of him.

A Question Julius interrupted long enough to point out it was sixteen shots that were fired.

Be that as it may, Cliff admitted he had been "scared" as his guide called "a bull" from the woods to the water's edge. Prior to the calling, the local coal dealer wanted to call "it quits due to the cold."

Cliff fired away, reloaded and fired away again at Sir Moose. He missed and, disdainfully, the proud animal raised its head, scampering off.

"Oh, shucks," said Cliff to his guide. "Let's call it quits." "Nothing doing," replied the guide. "There's another one in the woods. Hear him? Have a smoke and quiet your nerves."

Downstream they paddled, the wind blowing from the direction of the moose so that no hint of the hunters' presence would be made known to the animal.

"Boy those woods are thick, and don't let anyone kid you," continued Cliff. "I heard that baby coming a mile away, crashing through the woods. Finally out he popped and off popped my gun. Presto, the moose

Legion Auxiliary Visits Crawford Crews Post

Many Activities Are on Program for Next Few Weeks

Belleville Unit, American Legion and post members attended installation of officers of Crawford Crews Colored Post of Montclair, Monday evening. Motion pictures of the National Convention parade were shown.

Tuesday evening members attended the fashion show and card party, sponsored by the County Auxiliary, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Howard Schuster, president of Nutley Auxiliary and County Activity chairman. Over 200 members of Essex County attended this event, proceeds of which will be used in county rehabilitation and welfare work.

The junior auxiliary, under leadership of Mrs. Elsie Kant, met Wednesday at the home of their president, Miss Maude Christie, for a regular meeting.

All girls are urged to turn in their cards so assessments now due at state and national headquarters may be paid.

The unit members are planning to attend the installation of Public Service Post and Auxiliary tomorrow evening at the Service Man's Club, Irvington. Any member wishing to go may do so. The starting time for the installation is scheduled for 8:30.

The next meeting of the unit will be Monday evening at the Legion Chateau at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be followed by a card party at 9 o'clock, to which the public is invited. The unit will use the proceeds to help with their Thanksgiving and Christmas work.

Members of the local unit are urged to remember the tubercular children at Soho Hospital. There are twenty-two children here from two to fourteen years old. Visiting time is any morning and afternoon from 2 to 5.

"This place is so close to home, please visit these children occasionally and cheer them," says Miss Christie, "by contacting Miss Moore, who is in charge of these children. Any desired information may be obtained. If some one has a small radio no longer used by them, here is a grand place to put it where it will do a lot of good helping to make a long day shorter and brighter for these little ones."

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bramhall of Boston are guests this week of Mr. Bramhall's brother, R. C. Bramhall of 231 New street.

Don't forget that Victor Hart, JEWELER, sells Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry on the Easy Payment Plan, 157 Washington avenue, corner Tappan avenue, Belleville, N. J.

Look your best on Thanksgiving. Michael's Barker Shop wishes all patrons a most joyous holiday.

Chest Appeal Closes With $12,077 Raised

More Contributions May Send Amount Beyond 75 Per Cent Mark

The Community Chest campaign for $16,000 officially was brought to a close last Monday night at a dinner for volunteer workers held in the Elks Club. Divisional chairmen reported pledges totaling $12,077, or seventy-five per cent of the sum sought.

Thomas R. McHale, campaign manager, said the chairmen have indicated that other subscriptions may be received within the next week or two, which may boost the total receipts to $14,000 or better.

Returns reported at the dinner included: Initial gifts, Philip Dettelbach, chairman, $5,980; industrial, William Weyland, $2,530; school employees, Wayne R. Farmer, $1,110; municipal employees Commissioner Gerard, $435; organizations, Recorder Smith, $505, and house-to-house canvass, Lawrence E. Keenan and Herbert Schmutz, $1,517.

Although the goal was not reached, Recorder Smith, who also is president of the Welfare Federation, expressed satisfaction with the results of the campaign. "You did a mighty fine job at a time when seeking subscriptions to the Community Chest was a difficult task," he told the workers.

Smith pointed to the lack of success experienced by the Chest committees in nearby communities and remarked that Belleville would stand a favorable comparison with the results in other towns. He commended the volunteers for their efforts and integrity of purpose.

McHale said that while he regretted the fact that the goal was not reached, he considered that the workers had done remarkably well in the face of such handicaps as a business slump scare, the approaching holiday shopping season and the fact that many Belleville residents are solicited in other chest campaigns.

Xmas Party Discussed By G. O. P. Women

Will Be Feature of the Annual Luncheon on December 9

The Belleville Woman's Republican Club met on Friday afternoon at the Woman's Clubhouse, 51 Rossmore place. In the absence of the president Mrs. John F. O'Brien, Jr., the first vice president, Mrs. Emily A. Sundheimer presided.

Plans for the annual luncheon and Christmas party to be held on the next meeting date, Thursday, December 9, were discussed. Mrs. Emily J. Mayer, ways and means chairman will be in charge. Each member is requested to bring some article of food, canned goods or other staple, to be placed in a Christmas basket for some needy family. Each member is also to bring a ten cent gift for exchange with some one else present at the party. The hour set for the luncheon is 1 o'clock.

Curtain Rises on "Smilin' Through" After Weeks of Effort by Theater Guild

Carpenters, Painters, Dressmakers Have Been Discovered Among Membership, As Well As Talented Thespians

The presentation of "Smilin' Through" at Belleville High School tomorrow evening will climax weeks of effort by Little Theatre Guild members in preparing one of the most ambitious productions in the organization's history. Unlike recent guild productions, the majority of which have been set in modern times, "Smilin' Through" covers a period of fifty years—from early Victorian times through the World War, and requires the costumes and setting of each period.

Carpenters, painters and dressmakers have been discovered among the guild membership, as well as actors during the construction of an entirely new set depicting a rural English garden, and the making of colorful hoop-skirt costumes. The set was designed by Ethel Krumenau and Henry Abramson and built by Abramson with the help of volunteers. The original costumes were designed by President Helen S. Johnson, while many Belleville residents assisted by ransacking their attics for old-fashioned suits and dresses.

"Smilin' Through" depicts the tragic love story of John Carteret, which leaves him in his old age with a blind hatred of his long-dead rival, and of the war-time romance of the latter's son, Kenneth, and Carteret's ward, Kathleen. The modern story, with its conflict of emotions, is colored by poignant memories of the past that ultimately lead to its solution.

New comers to guild productions are Arlene Jeffery and Lois Elizabeth Millen, who played the feminine leads of Moonyeen and Kathleen. The important role of John Carteret will be played by Richard A. Newman, who will be remembered for his work in "Big-Hearted Herbert," "Councilor-at-Law," and "Whistling In The Dark." Edmund McCollister will play Kenneth Wayne. Others in the cast are Margaret Lois Ackerman, Marjorie Brokaw, Gary Vanderbilt, Jr., Edward Lang, Frank T. Jones, Peggy McAleese, Louise Carissima, Helen Geng, and Henry Abramson. "Smilin' Through" was directed by Elsie Newman.

Curtain is at 8:30.

C. D. A. Notes

The Catholic Daughters of America, Court Santa Maria No. 61, have organized two junior Catholic daughter groups under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Grimley, chairman of the junior Catholic daughter movement in Belleville, and Miss Mary Higgins.

The initiation ceremonies, conducted by the Bound Brook Junior Catholic Daughters, took place Sunday afternoon, November 14, in St. Peter's new school. The ceremony was attended by members of the senior court and visitors from Bound Brook, Westfield, Nutley and Newark.

A memorial mass for the deceased members of Court Santa Maria will be celebrated at 7:30 A. M., Sunday. A Christmas charity card party, with Miss Mary Ford, as chairman, will be held on Tuesday evening, November 23, in St. Peter's auditorium.

Miss Gertrude Irene Robertson Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Robertson, 122 Tappan avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Irene Robertson, to Edward Albert Dawson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Albert Dawson, Sr., 785 Hampton road, Woodmere, L. I.

Miss Robertson is a graduate of Belleville High School, class of 1935 and also of Berkeley School of East Orange.

Mr. Dawson is a graduate of Lawrence High School, Woodmere and attended New York University.

Junior Woman's Club

Members of the Woman's Club will be guests Tuesday evening of the Junior Club at Senior night. Mrs. P. Garretson Polhous, state chairman of the Junior clubs, will be the guest of honor.

D. S. Saunders, executive secretary of the league for Fair Play will be the speaker. Entertainment will be given by the drama department, with Vivian Kilpatrick as chairman. Miss Palma Di Noia will play the piano. The hostesses will be Virginia Crockett, Margaret Soleau, Jeanne McClelland, Ethel Van Dusen, Elizabeth Wortman and Betty Shurts.

Son to the Walkers

A son, Robert John, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker, White Plains, New York, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker are former Belleville residents. Mrs. Walker is the former Miss Irene Schaeffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schaeffer, 484 Belleville avenue.

Belleville Contributes to Radio and Movies

Belleville High School graduates have appeared from time to time on radio programs and one graduate is now making pictures for the Universal Studios.

Miss Marion Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Johnston, 10 Brighton avenue, a Junior of Belleville High School, is currently appearing on the radio over station

Miss Marion Johnston

WNEW at 4:30 P. M., Sunday afternoons.

Miss Johnston made her debut as a singer in the revue presented by Belleville High School last spring, when she was a notable star of the show.

WABC Pianist.

Ward A. Lay, 29 Myrtle avenue, who attended Belleville High School some time ago and in his younger days was a singer of note, is now pianist for the staff orchestra over WABC. When a youth, Mr. Lay had a remarkable boy soprano voice and was well known in Belleville and surrounding municipalities.

Belleville Announcer.
Kenneth Hankinson, formerly of 26 Essex street, now of Scranton, a 1923 graduate of the high school, sings and announces on a Scranton station. He is the son of Mrs. Charlotte Hankinson, who moved to Scranton recently. "Kenny" was a radio "ham" for many years before securing the position with the Scranton station.

Duskateers.
Anson C. Depue, a 1924 graduate of Belleville High School and a graduate of Wesleyan University, class of 1928, was a member with Arthur Ackerman, pianist of the "Duskateers." Mr. Depue sang tenor in the university glee club, which won two contests among glee clubs of the United States at Carnegie hall.

He was a student of George H. Downing, 32 Milford avenue, Newark, while Mr. Ackerman was a pupil of Rodney Saylor, well known Newark music teacher.

The "Duskateers" appeared on WAAM when that station was in its "heyday." Both men have appeared over WOR and WAAT. Mr. Depue is now a teacher at Butler High School, while Mr. Ackerman is assistant treasurer of the Town of Belleville.

Duo On Air.

Donald Gauss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Gauss, 114 Tappan avenue, and Mildred Drentlau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Drentlau, 370 De Witt avenue, both graduates of the high school, class of '34, appeared jointly about a year ago over station WAAT. Miss Drentlau is now employed in the Eleanor Bacon-Peck studios in Overlook avenue, while Mr. Gauss is working at the E. I. du-Pont de Nemours plant.

In The Movies.

Last, but not least, is William Lennon, Montclair avenue, Newark, a graduate of Belleville High School in 1930, who has carved a niche for himself in the hall of fame by his acting, in the two pictures "Bargain Matinee" and "Off the Horses," for Universal Pictures.

Mr. Lennon, who is twenty-four years old, studied histrionics under Reginald Goode and appeared with the Provincetown players of New York City and the Lake Shore Theatre Colony of Westford, Mass.

Lt. Smith Better

Lieutenant Kenneth Smith was reported by the police department to be on the road to recovery following an operation two weeks ago.

He is resting comfortably at the Presbyterian Hospital, Newark.

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

Washington, if it really tried, ought to be able to give the kiddies some worthwhile lessons in how "ring around the rosy" should be played. But one influential "inner circle economist" who claims to be the only one who a year ago foresaw the present business recession—sees flaws in the game as Washington plays it. Listen to his summary:

"We set out to do something for those who live in shacks and don't have enough to eat and wear. So we put them on relief. Then to get the money we levy new taxes. And naturally we get an increase in prices. So it costs us more to feed the needy and we have to levy higher taxes."

"Take the farmers. We try to help them by seeing that they get more money for the things they sell. We raise prices of farm goods."

"The prices get so high that factory workers can't buy farm goods, so we think up an NRA or a wage-hour bill. And we raise the wages of factory workers. Then the prices of factory goods go up so the farmers can't afford them. And we have to raise the farmers' income again. And so it goes—ring around the rosy."

"There is another group that we seem to be forgetting about. Add the six million farmers and the eleven million factory workers together. They make seventeen million, less than a seventh of the population."

"If we keep boosting factory wages and farm income long enough, the law of averages says that some day we must reach a happy medium for them. But meanwhile what happens to the fellow who is in neither group—the white collar man; the great middle class? The first thing he knows, he can't buy either factory-made or farm-raised goods."

"Unless we stop this ring around the rosy business and let things improve naturally for a while, we're going to end up with all our farmers and factories having a lot of high-priced things they can't sell, and with a hundred and ten million people on relief."

If this economist had wanted to cite an illustration, he might have chosen one that is drawing particular interest here now. It involves the railroads and the coal industry.

Railroads granted sizeable wage increases to their employees recently. The Interstate Commerce Commission, convinced that the action was necessary to avoid bankruptcy, granted the request of the railroads for freight rate increases totalling $47,500,000 annually. That won't cover half the increased railroad payroll cost.

On the other hand, Congress created the National Bituminous Coal Commission to "save" the coal industry. So the Consumers' Counsel for the Coal Commission steps forward and announces he will ask reconsideration of the freight rate increase.

The coal industry, he says, will pay $27,000,000 of that $47,500,000. What he means is that coal consumers all over the country will pay higher prices for their delivered coal. Since it will cost more, they will try to burn less and the railroads will have less to haul and the coal miners will have to dig less out of the earth.

Sounds like that song everybody got so tired of, remember? "The Music Goes Down and Around."

They're still squabbling about that mural in the Postoffice Department building here which shows Indians pillaging a stage coach and scalping nude women.

John Collier, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, says it is obvious from other things in the picture that the Indians hadn't had time to tear the clothing from the women, so the women must have been riding along naked. "and the Indians scalped them for indecency."

Excitement Reigns at Teachers' Convention

Will Check Up on Those Who Said They'd Go And Failed

A check-up of Belleville teachers, who are said to have "ducked" the State Teachers' Association meeting in Atlantic City over the week-end, will be made. This came before the Board of Education Monday night when it was stated by various members that not all who said they would attend the gathering did so.

In October Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer had informed the board that it would be useless to try to operate the schools the day after Armistice Day, because "so many teachers were going to the convention" it would deplete the ranks and it would be impossible to get substitutes because neighboring towns were going in like numbers. Therefore the schools closed Armistice Day and Friday.

Now some of the board members are skeptical about the attendance of local teachers. A rumor spreading in many neighboring towns has it that the teachers fell down on the "rebel" ticket, which sought to replace the administration. It was the general belief that the teachers were out to "scalp" the administration ticket, which for years has been the voice of the higher-ups in education. The "Progressives," or rebels, as they were termed, put up Walter O. Ettinger of Camden, as president, while the administration banked on Miss Sarah O. Whitlock, New Brunswick, to pull its ticket over the top. Miss Whitlock, nationally known, won.

Ettinger charged the administration officials with "bringing in teachers" to vote the administration way. Orders were given before hand, it has been said. Ettinger explained next year his group would "put a dent" in the administration vote.

Two Stick Ups—

Two Down—

"Stick 'em up."

When this command was hurled at Dr. Donald S. Brown, osteopath, out of the fog the other night, as the doctor was entering his home next to the library, chills ran up and down his back.

"Doc" wouldn't have minded so much if the command had been made out in the open, but it came just as he had stuck his size ten shoe through a rear window, which he had opened. He had forgotten his key and knew the only sure way of getting in, without forcing a lock, was the rear, unlatched window.

"Doc's" chills changed to chagrin and then praise for the local police when he discovered the "stick 'em up" edict had been made by a policeman on duty near the home, who had mistaken "Don" for a marauder.

Harry Scott, police officer, heard "Don" relate the story at the Elks' the other day and promptly told one on himself. It seems Harry tried a similar stunt at a kitchen window in his home one dark night. Harry's brother, believing a burglar was attempting a break, promptly landed the heel of his shoe on Harry's head.

"Boy, I went out like a light," related Harry.

Mrs. Angie Gregory was a guest at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, on the boardwalk in Atlantic City, during the convention of the State Teachers' Association.

Who Is the Lucky Winner IN THE SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO. WEEKLY CUSTOMER CONTEST?

On Wednesday afternoon, November 17, 4:20 P. M., Mr. X and his wife entered our store. Mr. X was a heavy set healthy looking gentleman attired in a dark suit, grey cap with an A. F. of L. union button on it. His wife was smartly garbed in a blue plaid coat, red felt hat, and silk scarf. They had with them a dainty pokenese dog which attracted some attention by its cute antics.

Mr. X purchased 10 quarts of Cross Country oil and a gallon of Cross Country alcohol. Then while Mr. X inquired as to our sale on Allstate tires Mrs. X evinced an interest in pencil sharpeners which were shown her in our catalog. Mr. and Mrs. X hold receipt number 30184 which entitles them to a five ($5) dollar credit if they will present themselves at our store.

Who will be next week's lucky Mr. or Mrs. X?

America Does Not Forget

1620, a bleak year, saw the landing of a small party on the wild coast of America. Their terrific struggle for a foothold in this new soil is known to every schoolboy. Then, after their first harvest—knowing that success, no matter how small, was theirs—the Pilgrims paused to give thanks! Again, 317 years later, the nation commemorates that custom. Forgetting the confusion of the modern world, and calling their families and friends about them, Americans gather once more to enjoy the riches of their tables . . . and to give thanks for the blessings of this land!

School Board Orders More Equipment for Expansion of Visual Education Project

"What's $1,000?" Some One Queries. "It's Ten Teachers At $100 or Twenty at $50" Replies

President John P. Dailey

"Where do we go from here?"

Thus queried School Commissioner Charles Gebhardt Monday night at the Board of Education meeting when $1,048.90 was appropriated to develop visual education in the schools by the addition of four movie machines to be used in connection with those now in use and about 1,000 slides.

The commissioner propounded the question when Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer said he believed that about $1,000 a year should be appropriated to bring the film library up to standard.

"I am wondering how great a door we are opening to spend money for this when we have a problem to raise funds for salaries," Mr. Gebhardt stated. "I would rather see our teachers get a decent living wage first before we go into this too far. It is equally as important to have some money for teachers' salaries as a visual education library," he said.

"What's $1,000?" some one queried. "A small amount like that."

"It's ten teachers at $100 or twenty at $50," spoke School Board President John P. Dailey.

School Commissioner Herbert C. Schmutz said that the textbook account had a surplus of about $3,000 which could be tapped for the expenditure, which was eventually ordered.

Mr. Gebhardt stated that "if we don't watch this will grow to be a big item."

Principals In Favor.

Robert N. Hayes, chairman; James G. Shawyer, Miss Viola Broadbent, William F. Richards and Fred W. Evans, principals, recently advised Superintendent Wayne R. Parmer as follows:

"The committee on visual instruction has functioned for the last six years in an obscure way by organizing educational film instruction for large groups in the auditorium of all elementary schools. We feel that this work has been very worthwhile, although the teaching value has been greatly limited because of the size of the groups. It is very apparent that the crying need is individual instruction, the personal atmosphere of the classroom, certain projection equipment, and a library of glass and film slides, and a few staple 16 mm. silent sound films, the property of the Board of Education. It is recommended that the instructional material be stored and properly cataloged in a school centrally located and in proper custody of a competent clerk.

"The committee therefore, lists a specific list of these materials, which if purchased, would approximate the needs of our English, Social Science, Elementary Science, and Art teachers of Belleville, as a nucleus. We are submitting these lists of the best materials available to you for your approval and action."

When next year rolls around Armistice Day is apt to find the children in school for one session instead of enjoying a holiday. It was pointed out by Mr. Parmer that Columbus Day is another such occasion when the pupils "may learn more in school about Columbus than they will outside."

Superintendent's Report.

Mr. Parmer's report to the board on general school affairs follows: "The schools were in session twenty days during October. The percentage of attendance for the month of October was 96.38 per cent.

Attendance Officer's Report.

"The attendance officer's report for October is as follows: Brought in, 12; found sick, 446; detained by parent, 79; moved from district, 5; lack of clothes, 10; truant, 7; not found, 52; other reasons, 16; total cases referred, 627.

Medical Inspection.

"The medical inspectors report that at the time of their monthly inspection the buildings were found generally satisfactory as to sanitation.

"The following cases were brought to the attention of the medical inspectors: high school, 110 pupils examined, no exclusions; School 1, forty-three pupils examined, no exclusions; School 2, thirty-two pupils examined, no exclusions, one case examination of chest, no pathology found; School 3, forty-two pupils examined, one case suspected conjunctivitis, excluded; School 4, sixty-nine pupils examined, no exclusions, one case sore throat, one case puncture in foot from nail, referred to family doctor for injection against Tetanus;

School 5, thirty-five pupils examined, no exclusions, one case infection of right ear; School 7, fifty-one examined, no exclusions, one case infected blister on foot, one case Herpes of lip, one case poison ivy, one case scratch on knee, one case infected sores on thumb and leg, one case referred to family eye doctor; School 8, thirty-one pupils examined, no exclusions; School 9, thirty-five pupils examined, no exclusions; School 10, forty-seven pupils examined, no exclusions and one case of non-contagious rash.

Report of Communicable Diseases. "The health department reports the following cases of communicable diseases in our schools for October: Chicken pox, School 3, one; School 4, twenty-two; School 5, two; School 8, thirty-eight; measles, School 2, one; scarlet fever, School 4, one.

Special Programs.

"Columbus Day was celebrated in all grade schools through the social science classes and the assembly programs."

A list of all the special assembly programs in School 3 and an outline of each was detailed, as well as Halloween programs given in the rooms and assemblies throughout the grade schools. In the high school a Halloween party attracted more than 400 students, most of whom were in costume and during the week of the Irvington football game, Mayor William H. Williams delivered an "excellent talk on sportsmanship, playing the game, and over-confidence."

Contributions.

"The third grade at School 10 purchased three beautiful pictures for the classroom from funds raised last school year. The second grade in this school has also adorned the walls with a fine print," said Mr. Parmer.

"The Home and School Association at School 2 donated a beautiful California landscape to the school. You will see it hanging in the front hall."

"I suggest also that you observe the 'farm' panel made by the children in first grade of No. 10 and also the Halloween and Thanksgiving friezes of the fifth and third grades, respectively. It will be worth your time."

"The teachers in the lower grades have been purchasing out of their own pockets such materials as they need on occasions like Halloween and Thanksgiving. For instance, the kindergarten teacher at No. 7 purchased two pumpkins at twenty-five cents each for her children to prepare Halloween lanterns. You will find this is quite general. Christmas is another occasion when many of the grade teachers will be purchasing things that are needed for certain programs or projects peculiar to these occasions."

It was decided teachers will be reimbursed for such layout of personal funds.

RIGHT OUT OF THE AIR

By EARLE FERRIS

If you want to make money, act timid. That's how Kenny Baker, Jack Benny's tenor, started on the way to fame. He really was bashful about stepping up to the microphone for the first time and Benny kidded him about it. That's how a characterization was born and it has proved a successful role for Kenny, because it also opened the movie portals for him.

Lanny Ross, song star of "Mardi Gras," tried to play Bob Burns' bawdy after the latter had appeared on a recent program but the most Lanny could get from the instrument was a feeble burp.

Harmony is usually used in radio in the musical sense. Yet, harmony is responsible for the success of "Pepper Young's Family," NBC script show. This cohesion makes the cast feel like working and their enthusiasm is reflected in their lines.

Phil Baker who, with his amusing stogoes "Beetle" and "Bottle," is now being heard from Hollywood over of actors and actresses in mind for the principal characters. Morse built the characters around the actors' real personalities. The result is a remarkable illusion of reality. The same players have been doing the main characters since "One Man's Family" started.

Jack Fulton, tenor on "Poetic Melodies" over CBS, is an adept trombone player and occasionally joins the band in between vocal numbers just to keep his lips in shape.

Latest word from Hollywood indicates that Rudy Vallee will remain on the coast until March or April, making a picture there as well as broadcasting his Thursday night variety hour. If this schedule holds it will keep Rudy in Hollywood longer than he has ever stayed before during his eight broadcasting years.

Rudy has just marked the actual eighth anniversary of his first Thursday night show.

If you're knocked down, get up, and if you get knocked down again and again, get up—that's the only way you can win.—Jack Dempsey.

MAIN STREET

The hitch in the improvement of Main street, north of Rutgers street bridge, by the Essex County Park Commission seems to hinge on the fact that the thoroughfare is not laid out as a part of State Highway Route 21. E. Donald Sterner, State Highway Commissioner, today tells Belleville folks through this newspaper of the situation. His department has also informed the Valley Improvement Association of the set up. Now the Valleyites are once more communicating with the Park Commission to see if any legislation is proposed to make the section a part of the state highway. The Park Commission says it can not move until the route is established because it would be a waste of money to construct a park and then find part of it needed along the river bank for widening of the roadway to 100 feet, which is a stipulation for state highways. The Park Commission says the logical widening would have to be on the river side.

Thus it appears that things are at a standstill until some enterprising legislator takes up the matter in Belleville's behalf. Action should be hastened so that the State may lay out a route in the section and the park project be pushed ahead. It would seem that this is a simple matter. The state has not said it does not want the section as a State Highway and the Park Commission has declared it stands ready to move. It looks like another case of a lot of red tape.

NOT SO BAD

Everything taken into consideration Belleville did not do so badly when it was learned Monday night that over $12,000 had been raised in the Community Chest Appeal with straggling reports still to come in. In these days, it is gratifying that Belleville came through as it did. It speaks well for those who unstintingly gave their services free to put across the drive. Those who contributed deserve the thanks of the community and, in particular, the agencies which will benefit. As usual the manufacturers contributed in substantial amounts. It was interesting to note that most individual contributions came in cash, in contrast to former years when pledges, over a period of time, swelled the total. Belleville did a fine job. Perhaps, some who failed to help, will voluntarily come forward now with donations to place the quota nearer the figure set.

WASHINGTON AVENUE POSSIBILITY

Now that the trolleys in Washington avenue have been supplanted by all-service buses, wouldn't it be a good idea for some enterprising official or group to take up with the State Highway Department, which controls the thoroughfare, the matter of bringing it up to modern standards of safety? Almost everywhere one goes today on modern roads the center portion is composed of grass-covered plots, set in concrete curbs, which serve to deter reckless and "dizzy" drivers from smashing head on with their ilk or some unsuspecting careful motorist. The state is now financing certain street improvements up to ninety per cent of the cost. Why not approach the authorities to change the complexion of Washington avenue. It is a much traveled highway, and, as time rolls on, more and more traffic will find its way through Belleville via Washington avenue. The suggestion to alter the middle section of the street would not only provide a safety measure, but would beautify the town's main business thoroughfare. The argument that Washington avenue is "too busy" is offset by other and more heavily traveled arteries all around us that have been constructed with center parkways. One such parkway leads through Brooklyn to Coney Island and carries far more traffic than Washington avenue. The center portion in Washington avenue need not be extra-wide, just enough to keep certain types of drivers from taking their half in the middle.

THE COP IS GETTING CLOSER

"NEED ANY HELP, NEIGHBOR?"

THIS WEEK

By "GUARDIAN"

We understand that there is to be a meeting at the High School this evening on the subject "Is Belleville Getting a Bargain in Education?"—and that a distinguished panel of citizens will discuss the subject. On September 17 in this column we asked the question "Is the fact that Belleville is spending the lowest annual sum per pupil of all municipalities in our county, anything to be proud about?" This question aroused a good deal of discussion and this evening's meeting should be of much interest to all taxpayers.

By and large in this life, we get what we pay for. Our present school system is the result of nearly a lifetime of effort on the part of George R. Gerard, who, under the sponsorship of various boards of education over a quarter of a century, built and organized what he considered the best school system that could be built consistent with Belleville's pocketbook. He was vigorously opposed to the "frills" in education, to architectural palaces for school buildings and to pampering the school children. He paid particular attention to attendance because he felt first of all that the school child's place was in school and secondly, because the proportioning of state funds to aid municipalities in the operation of their school systems was based in large part upon attendance. And under his leadership Belleville continued throughout the years to operate one of the most, if not the most, economical public school systems in the state.

His successor and the present Board of Education have in general continued his policies—certainly insofar as trying to operate an economical public school system. We have no quarrel with that because the suit must be made from the cloth at hand, but we do ask, in all sincerity, when we see that the highest cost per pupil per year in any community in the county (Glen Ridge) is $197.00, on an attendance basis, while Belleville's cost is now stated to be $88.47—if the children in Glen Ridge are getting enough more education to justify the increased expense and if the taxpayers of Belleville are doing the best thing for the children of Belleville in keeping their costs as low as they are?

There is only one sound answer—and that is obtained by finding out the success of the children that graduate from our schools compared to the success of the children that graduate from the Glen Ridge schools—not alone in higher institutions of learning but in their subsequent performance in business and civic life. That's a pretty big question to answer and a pretty difficult one—but its answer is necessary before any sound appraisal can be made.

At any rate, Gerard accomplished what he set out to accomplish and what the citizens of the community demanded that he accomplish—the creation and operation of as good a school system as the pocketbook of Belleville could afford. Now the question is—any more extensive curriculum or any better instruction demanded by the taxpayers who will have to pay the bill?

And it is interesting to note that George Gerard has carried into his job as Director of Public Safety, the same vigorous, earnest determination to get a full dollar's worth of service for every dollar paid in taxes. You learned that from this paper last week in publishing the fire and police costs of communities in this area of comparable size. With what seems to be satisfactory fire and police protection and still paying the members of both forces salaries comparable to those of our neighbors, Belleville enjoys the lowest per capita cost of comparable communities in this area.

That is another reason why we are so glad to see George R. Gerard in public service and that is why we hope that he will continue in the public service for years to come.

The Community Chest drive is over officially, but many willing workers will continue their efforts to see if the gap between the $12,000 reported and the $16,000 absolutely needed to support the work of the agencies next year can be filled. After all the work of the officers and committees of the Community Chest—and their organization and effort, it is to be regretted that the campaign did not go over the top the closing night.

If more people would give on the basis of sharing what they have with others, such Community Chest campaigns would be far easier and far more successful. That spirit of giving was so adequately expressed by James Russell Lowell in the closing chapter of "The Vision of Sir Launfal" as the leper, transformed into the living Christ with the Holy Grail in his hand says,

Not what we GIVE, but what we share,
For the gift without the giver is bare;
Who gives HIMSELF with his alms feeds three Himself, his hungry neighbor—and Me.

Yours for Belleville,
"GUARDIAN."

Children in Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Five cases heard in juvenile court this week plainly revealed that young men and women must be associated with the church and character building groups if they are to avoid the unwholesome influences of the questionable dance hall and beer garden.

So long as parents and adults scoff at the church and the efforts of character building groups, the United States will continue to lead the world in organized crime. Persons of this type should not blame the politician when their taxes are high, for it costs approximately $3,500 to construct a cell block for a single youth who has developed into a hardened adult offender.

WRIT BITS

by John E. Smith TRYING TO PLEASE
There's a certain line of action,
If we take it as our aim,
That will bring much satisfaction
In the playing of life's game.
When we try to please another,
Be it friend, or husband, wife,
Or a sister, chum, or brother,
We avoid a deal of strife.

Of good will it's a creator,
For our profit, not our loss,
When in business life we cater
To the welfare of "the boss."
Sometimes when of tasks we ease him,
And we go the "second mile,"
In our efforts just to please him,
It may prove as well worth while.

When some favors we're bestowing,
Gladly on companions, friends,
We will find our friendship growing,
And to greater depths it tends,
When we please folks in good measure,
They'll respond, just by degrees,
And what's known as mutual pleasure
Comes from simply trying to please.

Trying to please always covers
To a large extent we'll find,
The chief function of true lovers,
Who are to each other kind.
It's the secret of relations
That are wholesome, sweet and pure,
In all sorts of situations,
And for discord it's a cure.

PIQUANT POLITICS

By MEADOR WRIGHT

ALTHOUGH it received scant mention in the press, the recent election returns were highly flattering to the Republican leadership of Essex County's government. And when Republican leadership is mentioned, the reference is usually to none other than Arthur T. Vanderbilt of Short Hills. The suave and mysterious Vanderbilt could with equal validity emulate Hudson's more publicized leader and make some such motto as, "Le Provence C'est Moi." That he has usually kept in the background, however, may be partly responsible for the fact that he has dominated the Essex County Board of Freeholders with only one brief lapse for nearly two decades.

This is a rather remarkable record for a man not yet fifty, and when the history of New Jersey politics during that period is finally written, possibly the most noteworthy figure in the whole story will be Vanderbilt.

The popularity of the regime dominated by Vanderbilt was demonstrated last fall when three Republican freeholders and a county supervisor were elected while all but one of the Republican assembly candidates met defeat in the Roosevelt landslide. This year the returns told the same story, but with even more emphasis. While Dr. Clee could carry Essex by less than 14,000 majority, the average majority of the freeholder candidates was 33,373. Likewise this average majority was 6,297 above that of the Republican assembly nominees. This figure is too high to be accidental, and merits no interpretation other than that of a vote of confidence, either in the administration of the county government or the political sagacity of its leadership.

Of the latter, the shrewd Vanderbilt must share honors with a new political figure, Anthony P. Miele of East Orange. The youngest member ever to be elected freeholder in Essex, Miele was personally responsible for some of the margin of victory that freeholder candidates received above their assembly colleagues. In addition to running nearly 4,000 votes above the next highest freeholder candidate, Ralph D. DeCamp, Miele's showing against the Democratic candidate with the same position on the voting machine was even more impressive. This candidate was Dr. Ames Filippone, who like Miele, was selected as a representative of the Italian-American voters. But Miele received 118,425 votes to 81,094 cast for Filippone, a majority of 37,331.

As with Vanderbilt fifteen years ago, Miele's political career will bear watching. Just turned thirty-five, he has youth in his favor, as Vanderbilt had it then. Although he lacks the suavity that has made Vanderbilt one of the leading lawyers of America, Miele has demonstrated a genius for friendship that may take him far along the political path.

With his leadership of the board of freeholders secure, Vanderbilt is likely to play a decisive role in Republican councils throughout the state during the coming year. While his political bed-fellow, William H. Seely, gets the headlines these days in pushing the ballot investigation in Hudson, Vanderbilt's voice is likely to have more weight when decisions of moment are to be made by Republican chieftains. The key to Vanderbilt's powerful influence in party circles rests largely in the subtlety of his maneuvering. Like Mayor Hague, Vanderbilt is adept in keeping his political preferences to himself. In not assuming active leadership, the Short Hills lawyer is seldom blamed for the failure of a political campaign. Thus William H. Seely is bearing the criticism of these days for the poor showing of Clee in Essex, although Vanderbilt was responsible for the selection originally of the titular Republican leader. W. Stanley Naughton, whose unpopularity with political workers throughout the county is conceded everywhere.

The very chaos in Republican leadership in New Jersey favors Vanderbilt's inevitable strategy. This is a personal strategy, and will follow lines most likely to strengthen his influence at focal points. If he thinks the times are not opportune for pushing some candidate or project, he will stay severely in the background and let Seely and Dr. Clee lead the siege warfare against Hague and his Hudson machine. But when he thinks the cycle is ripe for a political Austerlitz, it will be Vanderbilt who will essay the role of New Jersey's Republican Napoleon. But even this simile is not entirely appropriate. Vanderbilt's picture of himself as he would like to paint it would be that of a Warwick rather than one of the crowned figures he would create. For the public he would draw himself as a modern Cincinnatus, busy with his legal plow until such time as the public enemy should appear in battle array on the banks of the Passaic. With these hosts vanquished, he would take up his plowing again.

In the last presidential campaign, he maneuvered a solid New Jersey delegation for Alfred M. Landon, with the commonly believed understanding that he was to be the attorney-general in the new cabinet. Whether the miserable showing Landon made against Roosevelt will discourage his active participation in the 1940 campaign remains to be seen. As president of the American Bar Association, Vanderbilt over night has become a national figure. That this prestige will be used in politics is little short of certain. Next to Dr. Clee, Vanderbilt is the most important Republican in New Jersey, although Harold G. Hoffman might be reluctant to concede this. Both Clee and Hoffman are products of public fancy, a rather precarious perch, as Hoffman, himself, must admit now, and perhaps Clee later. Vanderbilt has never gambled with the voters' inconsistency, except, indirectly, with his Essex board of freeholders. The object of all three is power, but the techniques are different.

WHAT is said to be the most elaborate alarm system ever developed is installed in the vaults of the new United States mint at San Francisco. Controlled by an arrangement of detectors set to react to any type of sound disturbance, the alarms automatically call police and military authorities by short-wave radio, turn on floodlights, ring bells and spray tear gas.

Business men who find their recreation in cruising along the sea-board can talk to their homes or offices by telephone without putting in to shore. Radio telephone equipment suitable for small craft is now available and telephone companies have established shore stations, enabling yachtsmen in the vicinity of Boston, New York, Miami, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles to call any telephone subscriber on land.

It is reported that the U. S. Navy has developed a "radio spy" which can track down and locate enemy vessels over long distances, thus providing ample warning of their presence. It is believed that the basis of the device is the use of micro-waves which are reflected back by the distant warships.

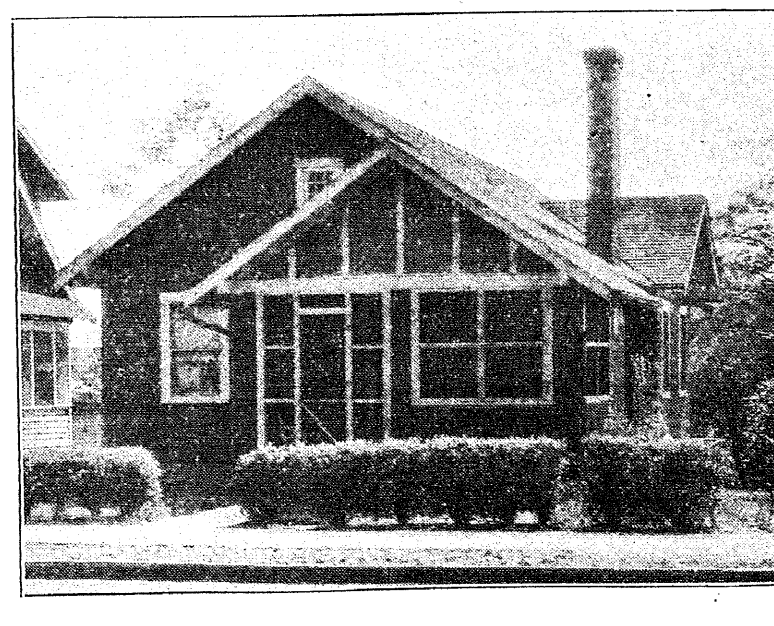

Progress in the campaign for greater safety at sea is marked by the successful performance of a robot radio receiver designed to insure the receipt of distress signals by ships that have only one operator who may be off duty at the time. The receiver reacts to a special code signal. When such a signal is picked up it calls the operator by sounding an alarm bell and flashing warning lights.

79 Wednesday, died Tuesday night at his home after an illness of two years.

Mr. Behrle, a native of New York, lived in Belleville fourteen years before moving to Newark a year ago.
He was a member of the Jr. O. U.
A. M. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Anna Behrle, two sons, Joseph of Newark and Frank of Orange; four daughters, Mrs. Louise Bergmiller, Mrs.
Anna Lichtenberger, and Miss Jean Behrle, all of Belleville, and Mrs.
Amelia Britzke of Newark, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 A. M. today at the William V.
Irvine Funeral Home, 276 Washington avenue. Rev. Paul F. Arndt of Redeemer Lutheran Church will officiate.

Mrs. Ada Hughes

Funeral services for Ada Hughes, 69, wife of John H. Hughes, formerly of Belleville, who died Saturday at her home, 333 East 42nd street, New York City, were conducted by Rev.
Peter R. Deekenbach, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the William V. Irvine Funeral Home, 276 Washington avenue. Burial was in Glendale Cemetery.

Organize Zionist Unit

A Zionist unit was organized for Belleville and vicinity at a meeting held on Tuesday at the home of Jack Faust, under sponsorship of Rabbi Rubin Dobin, of the Congregation
A. A. A.

It was agreed at the meeting that a planned program will be instituted, acquainting the Jewish people of these parts with the ideals of Zionism and the aspects of establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine.

The following officers were elected to serve in organizing the unit: Mr.
Faust, chairman; Mrs. Rubin, membership; David Waldinger, recording secretary; Rabbi Dobin, ex-officio.

Membership is open to residents of surrounding towns.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts turned out to parade in goodly numbers last Thursday evening with 150 in line, wearing their new green capes and berets purchased last spring by selling cookies. These capes, made of greens sateen with stand-up collar, fastened with gold braid and gold buttons added considerably to the appearance of the unit. The favorable comments, heard from all sides while marching, helped keep lines straighter and heads up. Again the girls captured the prize for most in line.

The capes were made for the Girl Scouts by the WPA sewing unit, Mill street. All are alike and beautifully tailored. The scouts give the unit a marching vote of thanks instead of the usual rising one.

The local Girl Scouts paid their annual fall visit to Washington, D. C., last Sunday, leaving Newark at 7:45
A. M. Almost sixty were in the party, with a special club car all their own. Upon arriving in the Union station, they were divided into three groups. One taxied to Mount Vernon, with a stop over at Arlington Cemetery and tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Another, the first comers, were escorted to the Capitol, and Washington Monument. The other group was taken to the Congressional Library, where the original drafts and other papers of the United States Constitution are on view. The group asked for the largest, which was not being exhibited at present, but was shown the smallest book in the world.
Leaders in charge were Mrs. May T.
Holden, director; Miss Lena Roviello,
Miss Frances Place, Miss Myrtle Schetter, Miss Evelyn Rascioppi and Mrs. Helen Neill.

The cooking class conducted by Public Service at the Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon was well attended this week. There are a few vacancies to be filled, but after next week the lists will be entirely closed. Miss Hobbeman is again the instructor. This week apple pie and butter scotch buns were baked. Last week the lessons given were soups and cream sauces.

highway required width of 100 feet would be on the side toward the river where no buildings would be disturbed. Any expenditures the park commission might have made in this area that would be taken for the highway widening would have been money thrown away. It is, therefore, quite necessary that this information be obtained before any development work is undertaken.

Project Submitted.

"A WPA project was submitted to the government authorities in July to furnish the necessary labor to properly prosecute the work along Second river, east of Union avenue, and with any surplus earth from that section to fill and level off the stretch along Passaic river from the Wallace & Tjerran plant to the Rutgers street bridge. We have not as yet received the approval of the government on this project for the labor that we asked for some three months ago.
The few men that have been working along the Second river are a few surplus available from another job, but are too few to make any showing.

"I assure you that at as early a date as it is possible we will undertake some definite program toward the ultimate improvement of that section of the Passaic river, north of the Rutgers street bridge. It is possible that some work will be done there this Fall if government approval of a project can be obtained and labor furnished us."

As a result of this correspondence, John J. Hewitt, president of the association, has written Mr. Wallace, explaining the state view, adding:
"We would like to know if the Essex County Park Commission contemplated requesting the legislature to take the necessary action to lay out the route or affirmative action that would permit the park board to proceed with the work."

she wants naval parity, for parity in the vast Pacific means for Japan superiority. They want the whole of the Pacific Ocean as their sphere of influence. I'm not telling you, however, they intend landing marines in Southern California, though that wouldn't be a great loss.

Force Is The Answer.

The Japanese, Mr. Bates said, believe in their destiny and they are willing to fight for it. Because this is known in the capitals of the world, the question has arisen in the minds of the rulers, Mr. Bates said, can Japan be stopped.

"Either she goes to pieces economically or she is to be stopped by force. Force seems to be the answer.
Sanctions? Yes, but will lead into force.

"When will she be stopped? Very soon. She must be. Lloyd George said in England 'Let's stop Japan before she stops us!' He wasn't talking through his hat, or giving a mere personal opinion.

"Where will she be stopped? In the Far East, I believe.

"China has but few weapons, but she now has the will to fight. Madam Chiang Kai-shek's New Life movement has given them the will, and the old, old idea of a man with a knife is still a vital factor in winning battles, say what you will of bombs and planes.

"There is always the possibility the conflagration may spread, but I believe if Hitler can be persuaded to keep off Russia's western front, Russia, who is now convinced of China's will to fight, will come to the aid of the Chinese.

"While ninety per cent of the Americans are pro-Chinese, I say that we owe it to ourselves to stay out of the conflict. We should not be jockeyed into the position of pulling chestnuts out of the fire for Great Britain. Although we deplore the ruthlessness of Japan, that's China's business. Perhaps Russia's, perhaps Great Britain's, but not ours."

Mr. Bates explained at the outset that he was talking purely for himself; that he was not "the paid agent of any country or agency."

President Arthur E. Mayer presided. Louis A. Noll arranged the program.

Philip Dettelbach, Former Town Commissioner
Takes Part in All Civic Enterprises in Town

Popular Rotarian, Official at L. Sonneborn Sons Paint

Particularly Community Chest Drive

Philip Dettelbach, general superintendent of L. Sonneborn Sons, Inc., has served Belleville in many capacities since coming here in 1906.

Mr. Dettelbach, who is a member of Belleville Lodge of Masons, the Rotary Club, and local Elks, is also a director in the North Belleville Building and Loan Association, Community Service Bureau and the Welfare Federation. Previously he was a member of the famous Belleville Club and the Neriad Boat Club.

Mr. Dettelbach helped organize a community fund for the Boy Scouts, in 1925, which led to the organization of our present Community Chest, in 1929, and of which he was the first president. Since that time he has been chairman of the Initial Gift's Committee. The Community Service Bureau was formed under his leadership in 1928. Fortunately for Belleville, he is still actively interested in these endeavors.

Born in Baltimore, March 1, 1884, he lived there until his twenty-first year, when, as an employee of the Sonneborn Main Office there, he was transferred to Oil City, Pa., for six months, and following this, to the St.
Louis branch, where he remained for a like period.

Previous to his employ in L. Sonneborn Sons, Inc., he was educated at Polytechnic Institute in Baltimore, and also Marston's Prep School of the same city. He was graduated from John Hopkins University at the youthful age of 20, with an A. B. degree.

In point of service, Mr. Dettelbach is the oldest member of his firm, which manufactures paints, lubricants, products for the textile industry and building trades.

It would be amiss not to mention his efforts put forth each year on the popular Fourth of July celebrations at Clearman Field.

He was a prominent figure in the testimonial dinners tendered to Mayor William H. Williams in 1934 and to our former Police Chief, Michael J. Flynn.

His wife was the former Ethel Vosseler of Nutley, and they have two daughters, Phyllis, who is attending Syracuse University, majoring in Home Economics, and Ruth, who is a sophomore in Belleville High.

During the World War, he was active in the Liberty Loan drives and was chairman of the Industrial division of the United Charities Drive in 1918, when Belleville went over the top in subscriptions to the extent that this town had the highest per capita rating in Essex County. In 1923, as a member of the Board of Health with W. Brand Smith and Frank Gibson, he appointed the first town nurses.

He was Town Commissioner in 1923 and 1924, assuming the vacancy caused by the death of Mayor John

Initiation Held for Charter Members of Belleville Junior Catholic Daughters

The charter members of the Junior Catholic Daughters of Belleville were initiated Sunday in the basement of St. Peter's school. The members were initiated by the juniors of Bound Brook, under the supervision of Miss Shay, their counselor.

Among those initiated were Irene Forden, Marie Jones, Elsie Grum, Iva Penetti, Veronica McNulty, Christine Berry, Virginia Higgins, Claire Drexler and Marian Davis, Dorothy Kasner, Rita Clark, Catherine Westlake, Jean McNair, Margaret Carragher, Catherine Murphy, Patricia Fields, and Rita Bennett.

Guests included Sisters Anna
Raphael and Joseph Eucharis, Miss Shay, Miss Mary Higgins, Florence Kelly, Miss Mary Grimly, Miss Canine and Miss McLaughlin.

Refreshments were served after several speakers had been called upon. There was an election by the juniors for the officers of the Junior Court as follows: President, Irene Forden; vice president, Iva Penetti;
secretary, Marie Jones and reporter, Marian Davis.

Elks Lodge Arranges Traffic Night

Local Officials Will Be Asked To Join in Meeting

In-keeping with a proclamation issued by Grand Exalted Ruler Charles Spencer Hart, members of Belleville Lodge of Elks are planning to observe "National Traffic Night" December 27, it was announced by Exalted Ruler Harold Cavanaugh.

CHARLES SPENCER HART

A committee has been appointed and arrangements are being completed for the forthcoming observance, to which town officials and law enforcement agencies will be invited for the purpose of giving them an opportunity to join in a scheduled discussion on matters pertaining to safety on highways.

Grand Exalted Ruler Hart's "National Traffic Night" proclamation follows:

"I call on every exalted ruler of our 1,400 lodges to name a night as National Traffic Night. Appoint a committee of influential and interested members to take charge of the meeting under your direction. Invite the city officials, police officers and commissioners to attend as your guests to discuss this matter.

"Every community has a different problem—a discussion with city officials will reveal them. You can readily understand that it would be difficult to submit a plan that would meet the conditions of every town. Therefore, after a conference with your city officials you will be able to set up a local program that will help them.

"My request is that as a basis of our national program you undertake to eliminate at least one major traffic hazard in your lodge jurisdiction.

"This can be done. It already has been done by several lodges. In one community there were nine persons killed in 1935 at one point, and this traffic hazard was eliminated by a lodge with the result that there were no accidents at that crossroad of two main highways in 1936.

"The other part of this program is to start a movement to make ticket fixing unprofitable.

"And the truth is that it is unprofitable.

"It is not fair to the police officials who are trying to do their sworn duty to go behind their backs and through political pressure, kill a ticket which was merited by the recipient and given by that officer in an honest effort to protect society.

"Every judge, whether big or little, will applaud this movement, as he also has no pride in stultifying his office or being a party to making a mockery of justice.

"Ticket fixing encourages reckless driving on the part of the youth of our nation. Statistics show that careless youthful drivers, confident of the ability of their elders to get them out of a summons, are responsible in great measure for this terrible death rate from speeding.

"This is not an Utopian idea—it is a practical one—and which will meet with the approval of every good and fair-minded citizen.

"The Order of Elks is one of the most logical organizations in America to promote this movement, comprising as it does, a group of influential men in every community.

"If every Elk will assist in putting over this program, we need have no fear as to the results which will be achieved in the saving of human lives and the promotion of consideration for others in the traffic program of safety to which we have lent our name and influence."

COMPULSORY INSPECTION LAW

AS VIEWED BY

J. ALDEN De RONDE

Before proceeding with my subject, I wish to commend the spirit shown by the management of the Belleville News in presenting to their readers, without fear or favor, the many phases of a law which can result in nothing but a waste of the taxpayers money.

Traffic experts, safety authorities and discerning users of our highways have consistently turned thumbs down on the idea that compulsory inspection of automobiles could materially decrease the number of accidents occurring on our highways.

Those who are informed on the subject realize that such a measure means only a tremendous additional expense to the motorists.

Motorists are taxpayers, and "most of our taxpayers are motorists."

Hence, New Jersey's compulsory inspection law is the concern of—not just our motorists—but of our taxpayers in general.

Many of our taxpayers constructed a highway fund consisting of fourteen million dollars.

That fund now consists of about nine million dollars and is pledged to highway purposes only.

Now our "public servants" say to us, "we have your nine million put away where we can reach it when we find it can be expeditiously used, and, in the interests of public safety we are giving you compulsory inspection at an additional cost to you of only one million dollars per year."

They have our nine million, they will have millions more after 1938 licenses and registrations are collected and, even with all this money, available to them, they demand that we pay another million a year for safety which every right-thinking person knows will not be forthcoming.

Leon Feldstein.

Senior, Belleville High School.

Here it is, another Friday, and with it comes "In the Spotlight."

Ye scribe has had a number of residences in small hamlets and in large metropolises, where the elite holds sway and where Grogan's Alley is a typical thoroughfare.

We have seen towns and cities so corrupt in their political aspect that only a few people outside of the predominant faction could expect or receive aid when in need of it.

But all that type of trouble was in effect only until we reached Belleville. True this town isn't Eutopia, but on the other hand, no one can call it an eyesore to New Jersey's face.

Modern structures have and are still being erected that are the envy of many neighboring communities. Our recent addition to the high school is proof enough of that.

We point to a good administrative civic body, through whose good work all dreams of architectural modernism have flourished and come true. That selfsame administrative body has given aid and saved the life and liberty of many a destitute family.

The Belleville townspeople, as a group, are mild mannered and patriotic citizens. Taken individually they are the most sociable folk we have as yet come in contact with. Plain and simple is their attitude and within each and every one there beats a heart of gold.

And so we say, fellow Bellevilleites, "We're glad to call ourselves a part of you and your glorious town."

Although Belleville lost a game to West Orange High School, we're glad to say the spirit toward the school team is still high and, rightly so. If not for a few bad breaks, we could have won with ease.

Belleville, without a doubt, outplayed its rival in every phase of the game. Next year we're sure to have a champion team. That is, if this season's spirit will remain as is.

Has the young boy or girl of today something to look forward to in later life?

What with war scares, daily political scandals and overcrowding of all fields of employment, life is just a series of struggles until death rings down the final curtain to the play known as "Existence."

Wither is today's world bound? The younger generations are suffering more and more with the supposed advance of world civilization.

We think that there is only one plausible way to call a halt to the terrible catastrophe toward which the younger citizens seem to be headed. Do away with dictatorships and hoist Democracy above all opposition. Establish universal brotherhood, and all strife will end.

Visions of sizzling turkey, garnished with minty greens and rosy cranberry sauce, are beginning to arise all about.

As a recent song was worded, "leaves of brown come tumbling down." Birds fly south and wintry winds are beginning to blow.

And why shouldn't all these signs appear. After all, next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day.

We sincerely wish all our readers a merry time, full of joyousness and frivolity. But please pay heed my friends, "Don't over eat. Your tummies may not be able to stand the strain."

We have admitted that compulsory inspection, as an auxiliary measure, could accomplish some good, but for a million dollars a year major measures could be adopted—measures which, according to well informed sources, could produce worth-while results.

Why spend ten dollars for one dollar results and, above all, why should we pay "any" more for highway purposes when a fund of millions of dollars already exists which can not legally be spent for any other purpose?

This paper will appreciate an answer to these questions—May we have yours?

Areme Chapter Plans 'Master Masons' Night'

Splendid Program Has Been Arranged with Prominent Speakers

Areme Chapter, O. E. S., will have as the principle speaker and guest of honor, Mrs. Emma E. Farrier, Past Grand Matron and Right Worthy Grand Secretary of the State of New Jersey, of Jersey City, when the chapter observes "Master Masons' Night" on Monday evening, at Masonic Temple, Joralemon street.

There will be no initiation. Instead a splendid program has been arranged. Mrs. Helen Proven, past matron and chairman of the entertainment committee, is in charge.

Belleville Lodge, 108, F. A. M., and Belleville Craftsmen will also be guests. Mrs. Marian Jensen, worthy matron, will address the group with words of welcome. Other guests will include Mrs. Bertha Porteous, Worthy District Deputy of District 21, of Arlington; Mrs. Jane Manigan, Worthy Grand Electa of Kearny; Mrs. Edith Oakley of Nutley; Mrs. Anna Brandenburg of North Arlington, grand representatives. A Broadway entertainer will give several vocal selections. Members of the O. E. S. and Master Masons are cordially invited.

Julius Wins

But Julius won all laurels for the prize story teller. What Julius left out of his account of the trip was not worth hearing anyway, and what he put in, was. In his own inimitable manner, he took the Rotarians from their business cares right up into the snow covered trails, where men are men and few and far between.

"By golly I even saw the Northern lights at 3 o'clock in the morning and, you can believe it or not, they crackled just like thunder," he remarked.

Julius told many interesting side-lights of the trip to the delight of his listeners. His lengthy narration was a masterpiece that literally kept the members in a continuous outburst of laughter. Interruption by Mr. Cullen, photographer, didn't phase Julius in the least.

"Who is telling this story?" was the only rejoinder to George, who because of lack of time failed to tell how he brought down a deer.

At one stage of the narration Julius was telling how hard an Indian "boy" works, saving the disclosure that it was actually a girl, that looked like a boy, for the denouement. George interrupted.

"Gosh darn it," commented Julius. "I know it was a girl, but can't you let me tell this story?"

Mr. Yerg, printing establishment owner, told how he shot a bear, the skin of which will be prepared as a rug.

Honor William J. Orchard

Before the hunting story engrossed the members William J. Orchard, Wallace and Tiernan Company, was honored on the occasion of his birthday. Bill enlivened the meeting along with John Baker of the same company, who led in singing. Bill played accompaniment on the piano-accompaniment to the enjoyment of all.

Financial Picture

(from the New York Times)

During the first four months of the current fiscal year the government of the United States has collected $215,000,000 in social security taxes. If anybody imagines that this money has been set aside under lock and key, in a special reserve fund which will accumulate interest over a period of years and enable the government ultimately to pay the benefits which the Social Security Act requires, his faith is based upon a misconception of facts.

The $215,000,000 has all been spent, for a variety of purposes: perhaps to help build Grand Coulee Dam, perhaps to finance WPA projects in street paving, perhaps to pay the salaries of officers, in the Navy—one one knows precisely, since the dollars that come into the treasury are not so earmarked that they can be identified when they go out again. As for the reserve fund which is supposed to supply the money needed in future years for the payment of benefits under the Social Security Act: it consists at present only of government I. O. U's.

Certain conclusions are inescapable. One is the fact that what the government has actually done has been to invent a new kind of corporation tax and a new kind of personal income tax, applied in the case of individuals even to the smallest incomes. Equally clear is the fact that this system is a constant beguiling temptation to governmental extravagance.

Elks Lauded for Aid to Crippled

New Jersey's work among the crippled children is winning worldwide praise and much of the success is due to the activities of the New Jersey Elks' Association, which was the pioneer in the movement. Wherever there are lodges of Elks there will also be found the reports of the program, and so it was that when the child of a member of the Order in Panama, Canal Zone, was found afflicted with a club foot that Richard M. Davies, organizer and Past Exalted Ruler of Panama, Canal Zone Lodge No. 1414, looked up the book-let and had the father, Charles E. Thomas get in touch with the New Jersey authorities.

Action started after the first letter was received by J. W. Lyons, who was publicity chairman for the New Jersey Elks' Crippled Children's Commission and chairman of the State Elks' Crippled Children's Committee. Arrangements were made to have the child, Dorn Thomas, operated upon by Dr. Fred H. Albee, in New York on October 23, 1931. The boy was then eight months old. On July 8 last, the father, Dorn, and his older brother Charles, were guests at the state committee organization meeting held at the summer home of Colonel Kelly. The lad has been completely cured and Chairman Buch had the great pleasure of presenting the father and the boys to the assembled members of the state committee.

From the lodge at Panama and from the parents of the boy have come expressions of gratitude for the cooperation given by the Elks' of New Jersey to a fellow member in order that one more child might have an opportunity of facing life without a handicap.

This case is but one of the many that have brought far-reaching fame not only to New Jersey but to the Elks for their efforts in crippled children's work, and shows that the program has won favor in sections far away from the state.

Sisterhood To Hold Its Annual Dance

Affair Will Be Held in Robert Treat Ballroom

The annual dance of the Sisterhood of Congregation A. A. A., 317 Washington avenue, will take place tomorrow night in the grand ballroom of the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark. The proceeds of this event are used to further the charitable purposes of the organization. The Sisterhood is one of the main supporters of the Religious School of the congregation.

Mrs. Samuel N. Goldberg, chairman of the arrangements committee, has announced that Mrs. Rubin R. Dobin will act as hostess for the event. Mrs. Louis Lempert will be in charge of the flower girls. The committee has arranged a very interesting evening. Music will be furnished by Martie Ames and his orchestra.

During the meeting plans were made for future meetings.

The members invented a new card game named "Foo," which is very exciting.

Young Man Held For the Grand Jury

Five Charges Entered Here Against Reformatory Parolee

Raymond Jenkins, 20, 510 Washington avenue, was held Tuesday for grand jury action by Recorder Everett B. Smith on five charges of theft and breaking and entering.

Robert Bruce, 19, 25 Bridge street, who with Jenkins, is a parolee of Annandale reformatory, was charged with breaking his parole.

Bruce was returned to the reformatory.

Both had been sent to the reformatory for the theft of a car in which they were involved.

Police said Jenkins admitted theft of a radio and two wheels and tires from a car of employees of the Wallace and Tiernan plant in Mill street September 3; entry of the tavern of Julius Kondratowicz, 512 Washington avenue and theft of $30 cash, cigars and cigarettes, October 13; entry of Belleville Elks' Club and theft of liquor and tobacco valued at $67 November 4, and attempted entry of the tavern of Arthur Heller, 91 Joralemon street, November 8.

BELLOWING ABOUT BELLEVILLE

By JACOB LEVINE
Class 1938, Belleville High School

"Ark! Ark! O-O-O! Ps-st! Ps-st! Grr-r! M-e-o-o-ow!"

You seem to know all the wrong answers. Think again—"Ark! Ark! O-O-O!"

It was the reception given me as I opened the door of Dr. Cecil L. Gates' dog and cat hospital, the sanitarium where most of Belleville's feline and canine injured go to recuperate.

A bronzed medico in an immaculately white uniform, who was running his fingers soothingly through the hair of a small collie, looked up as I entered.

"Yes, sir," he said, "is there anything I can do for you?"

His smile made me venture to myself, "people can't possibly entrust their dog to a more kindly man."

My pencil poised over a little green notebook obviously told the purpose of my visit, and after I confirmed any doubt in his mind with "Yup, I'm from the Belleville News," Dr. Gates led me into an adjoining room.

I walked into a large, airy room filled with dogs of a heterogeneous sort, well locked in clean, roomy cages. The smell of ether pervaded the room, as a Pekinese mother had just taken an anesthetic. Peeping out through the wire of its temporary abode were the two sad looking eyes of a Scotch terrier. "Scotty," so the doctor said, had not estimated the altitude of the stairs in its home, and had done a "topsy-turvy" down the flight, much to the side-splitting delight of its juvenile master—but oh, when he discovered the aftermath of Scotty's tumble! Two stair-less weeks in Dr. Gates' hospital.

We next looked in at our bewhiskered serenader, who, when perched on our back fence, supplies ample competition for Lily Pons and the like with her persistent "Meows!"

But pussy will not serenade for some time now. Last week she had skulked across the street, only to be toppled over by a whizzing taxi. Her injuries were serious, indeed—a broken leg and internal injuries. Incidentally, this particular cat has six toes instead of the usual four.

Sound asleep in the next kennel was a husky police dog who, in his daily devastations of the garbage can, had stepped on a broken bottle and cut a tendon in his right foot.

"This fellow," said Dr. Gates, picking up a Scotch terrier, "has just undergone what we humans might term and appendix operation. How are you, Scotty?"

Dr. Gates then turned him on his back, displaying an ugly scar, the souvenir of his painful operation. "But no more tummy aches, ay, Scotty?" laughed the doctor, putting the dog back in his bunk.

We next walked into the room which dogs instinctively abhor the most (and we can't blame them)—the room where they are given baths, clipped, and to use an over-worked expression, given the works. Everything from the huge bath tub to the medicine bottles on the shelf, have that indefinable air of cleanliness and immaculateness about them.

The doctor next showed me where tests are made to ascertain whether dogs' bones are broken. It was the X-ray laboratory, and if I must say, a highly efficient one.

"Put your paw under that fluoroscope and I'll show you how our X-ray machine works."

Evidently, the doctor was in the habit of speaking in the canine vernacular, but, at any rate, I put my "paw" under the fluoroscope and the next moment a skeleton outline of my hand was seen. I was amazed at the vivid picture obtained and ventured that it certainly was wonderful—the way dogs are so scientifically treated today.

"Did you ever find, in your experiences with dogs, any human qualities about them?" I queried as we stepped out of the laboratory.

"Yes, I did," replied the doctor, "especially in one particular case which I will never forget."

Here he paused meditatively.

"About a year ago," he began again, "we picked up a stray pup that was the cutest fellow you'd ever want to lay eyes on. He was a cross between a bull and some other mixture. Anyway, he had a grand time at our hospital, devouring everything put before him, scrapping with dogs twice his size, and having a swell time."

"But he had no business in our place; why, he was the picture of good health. So, we gave him to a resident in Belleville who, we thought, would give him the right attention. But two days later, as I opened the door to reach for my morning newspaper, in pranced Laddie (that was the pup's name) frisky as ever, hopping all over me, happy and apparently back to stay at his old stamping grounds."

"The following day I gave him to a dog lover in Bloomfield, but Laddie only gave us an encore of the preceding day's performance. Then, we sent him to Nutley, but Laddie, the same old devoted dog, was back to our old homestead a few days later."

"Finally, in desperation, we packed him up and shipped him off to Little Falls, thinking that he couldn't possibly sniff his way back from there. We heard nothing of the dog for about two weeks and at last felt that we had 'taken our last look at his scrappy little face.'"

"Then one rainy day—oh, it was pouring buckets full—I heard a faint scratching on the front door. I thought I was imagining things, so I continued bathing a dog. The scratches became more insistent, and I feared the worst. 'Could it be that little stubby-faced little rascal,' I thought, 'No, must be the rain beating on the door.' But then I heard an unmistakable whine and opened the door. And there he was—stubborn ol' Laddie, wagging his tail, lapping his tongue, drenched to the bone, but mighty happy to be back at our hospital."

"We kept Laddie for about two weeks, and then shipped him down to Southern Jersey with the admonition that he must be tied up for at least two weeks. After that, we haven't seen or heard anything of the persistent Laddie. But you never can tell. We might hear that familiar scratch on the door one of these days."

"Ark! O-O-O—M-e-o-o-ow!"

As I opened the door to leave I was again struck by this onslaught of feline dog yells and hissing cat protests. Which was probably their way of saying, "good riddance!" to a pesky scribe whose design it was to show their idiosyncrasies to an outside world.

WITH the VETS

By GEORGE H. WESTON

Youngster Junior Naval Patrol participated in the Armistice Day parade in town last week. The judges awarded the troop one of the prizes for the best marching unit. The Naval patrol meets every Tuesday evening at Veterans' Hall, Belleville avenue and Stephen street, for instructions. Captain A. Larson is in charge.

The Ladies' Auxiliary installed officers on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Alicia Gannon is the new president. Private George A. Younginger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, also installed on the same evening a full slate of officers headed by Norbert Bertl, as commander. After the installations, moving pictures were shown of the Hindenburg explosion and various other films. A Chinese dinner was served after the meeting.

Chess Club Competes In Suburban League

Meetings Are Held Each Week at Recreation House

The Belleville Chess Club has organized again this year with George J. Rellin, 54 Perry street, as president.

The group, which meets at eight o'clock each Monday night at the recreation house, is looking for new members and invites all chess players to attend its meetings.

The club began three years ago and is now competing in the Suburban League, which is composed of the Bayviews, Bloomfield, East Orange, Irvington, Irvington Polish Club, Kearny-Arlington, Nutley, Orange Knights, and the Pillsbury Club of West Orange.

Belleville has played two games, winning from Bayview, but losing to Irvington.

The club uses the ladder system in deciding the ability of the players. The following is the standing today: Cyrus Dunthorn, Mr. Rellin, Archibald Macintyre, Leslie E. Evans, George Kerr, John C. Alpaugh, August Kries, George Douglass, Harold E. White, David A. Boston, Peter Ventola, Henry Beecher, Adolph Jentichke, William S. Gump, Chester Bosiak, Kenneth Ennis, Fred Ochs.

Rabbi Dobin To Act As Beaux Art Ball Patron

Rabbi Dobin has been appointed a patron of the Beaux Art Ball to be given by the Junior League of the Jewish Community Center, Jersey City, on Wednesday evening, November 24, in the auditorium of the center.

Dr. Milton E. Ashur of North Arlington, president of the Junior League, announces that the affair will prove to be the biggest social success ever held at the center.

The auditorium, in which the affair will take place, will be arranged in a setting romantic and glorious, with soft lights and swing music.

Easy for Cops

The police cars are having an easy time catching motor vehicle law violators. Some drivers even come right up and involuntarily beg for an appearance before Recorder Everett B. Smith.

John Hozack, 95 Belmore street, took the lines of least resistance early Saturday morning when an automobile, which he is said to have been operating, collided with a police car at Union avenue and Greylock parkway. Patrolman Bush was driving the police car. In it with him was Patrolman Thomas Cruthers. Police Surgeon H. B. Vail declared Hozack intoxicated.

Sleep Saves Him.

Because he had fallen asleep and had not given another man permission to operate his automobile, John Miller, 737 Summer avenue, Newark, was not charged with permitting an intoxicated person to operate the car when he appeared in police court Friday before Recorder Everett B. Smith. The driver Leo F. Sweeney, 515 Union avenue, was fined $225 and lost his driver's license for two years.

The charges were made October 16 when Patrolmen Monaghan and Holly stopped a car which they said was traveling in a zig-zag manner in Belleville avenue. Sweeney was driving and Miller, owner of the car, was asleep in the auto.

Miller testified he had given Sweeney permission to drive the car earlier in the evening. Both were sober then, he said. After a visit to a tavern, Miller said, he came out, got in the car and went to sleep. He contended he had not given Sweeney permission to drive later and did not know Sweeney was driving until police stopped the car.

Recorder Smith dismissed the drunken driving charge against Miller. Sweeney, who was declared intoxicated by Police Surgeon Vail, pleaded not guilty.

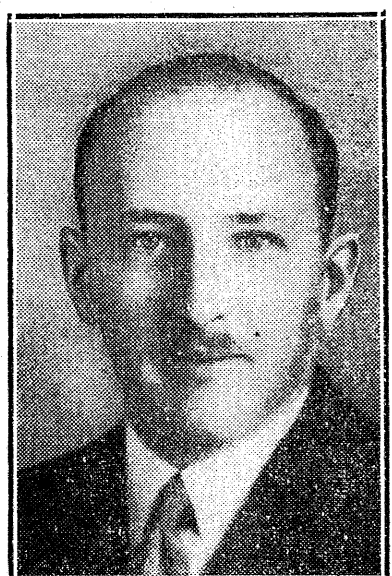

Not So Tricky

David Malcolm, 37 years old, 68 Rutgers street, has a trick shoulder.

The other day while engaged in doing some job or other he threw his shoulder out of joint.

As in previous cases he thought he would have no difficulty in putting it back in place. This time the shoulder proved balky and it necessitated a trip to St. Mary's Hospital, where he was given ether and his shoulder was reset.

To Attend Meeting of District School Boards

Charles Gebhardt.

School Commissioner Charles Gebhardt will represent the Board of Education at the annual meeting of the State Federation of District Boards of Education, Trenton, December 3. Luncheon will be served at 1 P. M. That day for delegates in the State Trent Hotel.

Prominent speakers will discuss matters of interest and vital importance to boards of education.

Question Marks Elect

The third meeting of the Question Marks was held at the home of Barbara Neary, 242 Washington avenue, Thursday evening.

Officers were elected as follows: Edward Mead, president; Eugene Davis, vice president; Barbara Neary, secretary and Dot Carrigan, treasurer.

There was the same dispute over the name of the club. "Question Mark" was the final decision.

Announcing Children in Court

By Hon Malcolm K. Hatfield

Judge of the Probate and Juvenile Courts, Berrien County, Mich.

Berrien County, in the State of Michigan, is the only county in the United States which treats its juvenile delinquents by methods that invariably produce correctional results, and succeed in discouraging juvenile crime. The juvenile court there operates on the now recognized theory that children will not become delinquents if their parents will exercise proper supervision. Its judge, Hon. Malcolm K. Hatfield, holds that when a boy or girl or normal intelligence gets into trouble with the law, it is the fault of the parents in 99 out of 100 cases. He has formed the opinion, from his experiences on the bench, that the roots of all juvenile crime are imbedded deeply in the home. It is usual for parents in Berrien County, for instance, to find that they are the ones on trial—not their children—when a boy or girl is taken before the judge. A case in point follows:

The price of a half-fare bus ticket proved the means of landing a thirteen-year-old girl in the juvenile court recently. Twenty-four hours before her apprehension by juvenile authorities for stealing from a ten-cent store, this child had heard her mother tell a bus driver that her daughter was eleven years of age. While the mother saved a few cents by misrepresenting her daughter's age, this proved to be the most expensive ticket she ever bought, for an example of dishonesty was set which the child was not slow in adopting.

After less than five years on the bench, Judge Hatfield already has won for himself a national reputation for his handling of juvenile crime. Now, in Children in Court, which the Paebor Company, Inc., will publish early in 1938, he has written a record of his experiences, designed primarily as examples for parents, and for those faced with the problem of rearing children. The book is made up chiefly of cases right out of the files of the judge's own juvenile court in Berrien County, from their original entry into its jurisdiction, until their usually successful termination.

Local Woman Winner In Ann Page Contest

Mrs. Harry Nielsen Gets Award of De Luxe Bicycle

Announcement of the winners in the sixth and seventh of the weekly Ann Page prize contests now running in A. & P. Food Stores, brings good news to residents of New York City and vicinity. A total of eighteen major and ninety-seven minor prizes have been awarded in these two contests to entrants in this area.

In the sixth contest prizes consisting of bicycles with deluxe equipment were won by Edward Moran, New York City; Mrs. Robert Frazer, Oyster Bay, N. Y.; Mrs. William Hutchinson, Riverside, N. J.; Mrs. Harry Nielsen, Belleville; Mrs. Julius Oshlag, Lake Mahopac, N. Y.; Mrs. C. F. Regan, Brooklyn; Miss Beulah Simpson, West Caldwell; Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Sag Harbor, N. Y.; Mrs. F. Werling, Ramsey, and Mrs. M. Winslow, Weehawken.

In the seventh contest the major prizes consisted of electric kitchen mixmasters and were awarded to Captain E. Carlson, Wantagh, N. Y.; Douglas Garriel, North Long Branch; Mrs. Edwin Kelly, Bayonne; Miss Anna Lowe, Newark; Ray Reilly, Bardonia, N. Y.; Miss Helen Robbins, Morristown; Mrs. W. Sheridan, Orange, and Mrs. G. Smith of Port Washington, N. Y.

A total of 300 prizes will continue to be awarded each week through the week of November 29. Entry blanks are being distributed at all A. & P. Food Stores, where pictures of the prizes are also on display.

Contestants are required to write a twenty-word sentence telling why they like a food from the Ann Page line selected each week, to name eight Ann Page foods and enclose a label or facsimile from one of them, and to give the address of their A. & P. Food Store. Entries to any week's contest must be postmarked before midnight of the following Monday, and are sent to Box 459, Grand Central Station, New York City. The prizes each week are awarded to the 300 entries which fulfill these requirements and which are best in the opinion of the judges. The contests are not open to employees of A. & P. their advertising agency or their families.

The popularity of these contests is attested by the fact that to date over 300,000 entries have been received.

Over Six Million Members Will Share in Christmas Club's $320,000,000 Distribution

About 6,600,000 Christmas Club members will share in $320,000,000 to be distributed by approximately 4,500 banking institutions and organizations within the next two weeks according to an estimate given out yesterday by Herbert F. Rawll, founder and president of Christmas Club, a corporation. The annual distribution of $320,000,000 will be used by the recipients approximately as follows:

Christmas purchases, forty-two per cent, $134,000,000; permanent saving, twenty-five per cent, $80,000,000; taxes, 12 per cent, $38,400,000; year-end commitments, eight per cent, $25,600,000; mortgage interest, six per cent, $19,200,000; insurance premiums, five per cent, $16,000,000; education, travel and charity, two per cent, $6,400,000; total, $320,000,000.

The First National Bank will distribute $80,000 to 1600 participants. These will be given November 23.

The Peoples' National Bank and Trust Company will give out 1100 checks amounting to $45,000. They will go out November 24.

tribution for 1937 and the number of members participating has not kept step with increased payrolls and increased employment. Decreased revenue from investments, occasioned by the abnormally low rates for money recently prevailing with and increased operating costs in banking institutions, have made it difficult for some commercial banks to profitably handle Christmas Club deposits. While several banks have met this situation by a small service charge, others are withholding this form of saving until an improvement is established in the rates of money.

Because of these factors, there was a decrease in the number of participating banks this year, resulting in a decline of the total number of people participating in the Christmas Club accumulation. The number of Christmas Club members for each participating bank, however, increased on the average of eight per cent and the total per bank accumulation increased about eleven per cent. These increases were substantial in all Mutual Savings Banks. There was a similar increase in the estimated average amount for each member from $46.50 in 1936, to $48.55 in 1937.

These estimates are based upon a substantial number of reports from institutions operating the Christmas Club plan in different sections of the country. In using the formula established in previous years from questionnaires to individual Christmas Club members, the estimated fund of $320,000,000 will be used by the recipients approximately as follows:

Christmas purchases, forty-two per cent, $134,000,000; permanent saving, twenty-five per cent, $80,000,000; taxes, 12 per cent, $38,400,000; year-end commitments, eight per cent, $25,600,000; mortgage interest, six per cent, $19,200,000; insurance premiums, five per cent, $16,000,000; education, travel and charity, two per cent, $6,400,000; total, $320,000,000.

In the distribution of Christmas Club funds this year New York state leads the other states with about $84,000,000, while the estimates for Pennsylvania are $33,000,000; for Massachusetts $28,000,000; for New Jersey $22,000,000. New York's metropolitan district will receive about $45,000,000.

New Jersey Today

Hunting Season.

Prepared for the Belleville News by Russell Van Nest Black, consultant-director, New Jersey State Planning Board.

Among the studies of state resources made during the past two years by the State Planning Board, was that of our wild life. This study served as the basis of a pictorial map, published by the Fish and Game Commission, showing the prevalence and distribution of game in the state. At this time of the year, when sportsmen are preparing to take advantage of the New Jersey short season for hunting the wary deer, the map is of particular interest.

All but two counties, Hudson and Salem, have reported deer kills in recent years. Burlington and Ocean Counties are, of course, the real paradise for the hunters. The legal kill for the state in the past few years has been approximately 2,000 annually. From the State Fish and Game Commission comes the interesting statement that the herds of deer are increasing so that the annual trek to the woods for the legal limit of the season is not endangering the improvement and increase of these herds.

In addition to the deer hunting, the state, by its policy of breeding and liberating pheasant and quail, has also provided much improved hunting of these game birds.

To those who decry the killing of our wild animals, the other activities of the Fish and Game Commission prove interesting. Food patches have been established near to cover so that our wild friends may survive through the winter. There are now 87 acres of feeding grounds adjacent to or part of our 8,863 acres of public shooting grounds. It is hoped that this acreage may be greatly increased. Planting of trees and shrubs for cover has also been carried for some years; 192 patches of such food and cover shrubs are now cared for by the state.

One of the interesting projects supported by the state is the quail farm in Ocean County where nearly eight thousand birds were raised to maturity and liberated during the past year. Nearly thirty-five thousand pheasants were also bred and released.

Of the fur-bearing animals taken during the past few years, the department reports muskrats, mink and otter valued at over $200,000.

Such figures on the number of game animals and birds would not be surprising in some of our less populous states, but to consider New Jersey a happy hunting ground is worthy of note. This glowing picture, however, is not complete without mention of the increasing army of gunners. In 1935, hunting and fishing licenses numbered 148,686 and in 1936, these had increased to 152,042. The maintenance of a reasonable quantity of game in so populous a state is a constant race between game propagation and management and annual depletion during the hunting season. Such maintenance of the game supply can be achieved only through the cooperation of land owners and sportsmen.

It is notable that the work done by the State Fish and Game Commission is supported entirely from funds received from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses.

Many Changes in Telephone Listings

Changing Business and Social Scene Hereabouts Is Reflected

Fourteen thousand new listings, approximately ten per cent of the total reflect the changing business and social scene hereabouts in the new Essex County Telephone directory being distributed this week and next.

In all, the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company reports, the business of connecting and disconnecting telephones and changing listings for various reasons caused about 70,000 changes of one sort and another in the white page section alone.

The edition being distributed in the Newark area is a volume of more than 600 pages, that in the rest of the county about seventy-five pages thinner due to a smaller yellow page, business section.

In Serious Condition

Frank Lee, 568 Washington avenue, reports that his sister, Mrs. Anna Lee McCue, is still in a serious condition following an operation last Saturday in St. Peter's Hospital, Brooklyn.

Mr. Lee was called to give a blood transfusion Sunday, but arrived a few minutes after a professional blood donor had been secured.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE WATER SYSTEM OF THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE BY ADDITIONS TO THE DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM, THEREOF, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO FINANCE THE SAME.

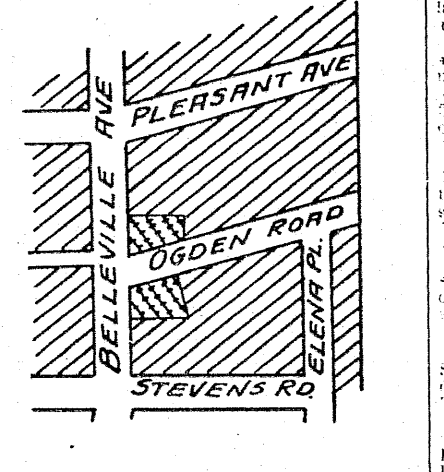

Section 1. That the water system of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, shall hereafter be improved by the installation of a six inch water main on Ogden Road from Belleville Avenue to property of the Essex County Park Commission.

Section 2. It is hereby determined and stated that it is necessary that the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, shall hereafter be improved by the installation of a six inch water main on Ogden Road as described herein, and that the estimated maximum amount of money necessary to be raised from all sources for said purpose is Five Hundred Fifty Dollars, and that the estimated maximum amount of notes necessary to be issued for said purpose is Five Hundred Fifty Dollars.

Section 3. To finance said purpose there is hereby appropriated the sum of Fourteen Dollars which sum has been made available for said purpose in the budget of said town which has heretofore been adopted for the fiscal year 1937, and consists of the appropriation

Section 3. To finance said purpose there is hereby appropriated the sum of Fourteen Dollars which sum has been made available for said purpose in the budget of said town which has heretofore been adopted for the fiscal year 1937, and consists of the appropriation

(a portion thereof) made in the budget for "Water Operating".
Section 4. To finance said purpose there shall be issued pursuant to the Local Bond Act of the State of New Jersey in anticipation of the issuance of bonds, Bond Anticipation Notes of said town which shall not exceed in aggregate principal amount the sum of Five Hundred Forty-six dollars. Said notes shall bear interest at a rate which shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum, and may be renewed from time to time pursuant to and within the limitations prescribed by said Act. All matters with respect to said notes not determined by this ordinance shall be determined by resolutions to be hereafter adopted.

Section 5. Not more than Fifty Dollars of the sum to be raised by the issuance of said notes may be used to finance interest on obligations issued to finance said purpose, whether temporary or permanent, or to finance engineering or inspection costs and legal expenses, or to finance the cost of the issuance of such obligations, as provided in Section six of said Local Bond Act.

Section 6. It is hereby determined and stated that the period of usefulness of the bonds to be issued to finance said purpose shall be a period of twenty years, computed from the date of sale thereof.

Section 7. Said improvement shall constitute a general improvement and the cost thereof shall be borne by the town and place of improvement.

Section 8. It is hereby determined and stated that the supplemental Debt Statement required by said Act has been duly made and filed in the office of the Town Clerk of said town, and that such statement so filed shows the gross debt of said town, and that the sum of one hundred and two of said Act, is increased by this ordinance by Five Hundred Forty-six dollars, that the issuance of said notes is permitted BELLEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL CREED

I believe in honest work, in generous comradeship, in the courage of high convictions. I believe in the inspiration that comes from contact with all that is truest and best, in books, in people, in life. I believe in loyalty to our high school, the fostering mother of these ideals, and I pledge her my allegiance in all her undertakings; in all that will make her a stronger and nobler school.

PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM

Among Belleville High School's best items of educational equipment is the public address system which, when combined with a movie projector, offers a varied number of films that bring the textbook to the screen.

Subjects that stress vocal ability can be taught by means of the system whenever there is a need for it. Assemblies are made far more interesting with its use.

Only yesterday one of the English classes presented a play in the form of a radio broadcast, using the public address system. Its success was instantaneous.

Thus, with this and similar equipment, Belleville High stands at the fore wherein secondary school education is concerned.

It is hoped that the public address system will be extended through the entire school building.

BASKETBALL OUTLOOK

In a few more weeks the basketball season will hold sway. Our team this year should excel by far those of previous years.

Ours is championship material and, if we aid them by displaying school spirit, the state championship will become an easily obtainable award.

"Cheer your team to victory," should be the Belleville High School motto through the duration of the basketball season.

Upsala Grad Gets

Practice Work Here

Miss Jennie Munson Works

Under Guidance of Miss

Myrle Allen

Miss Jennie Munson, a resident of Warwick, Rhode Island, and a graduate of Upsala University, has been a practice teacher in room 103, under the supervision of Miss Myrle Allen, since Monday, November 8.

Miss Munson will remain in Belleville High School until the start of the Christmas vacation.

Miss Munson has formed a favorable opinion of the Belleville student body, although she has been here for a rather short time.

Correct Dance Date

The senior class dance was misdated in last week's news item. It will be given tomorrow night.

Star in College Play

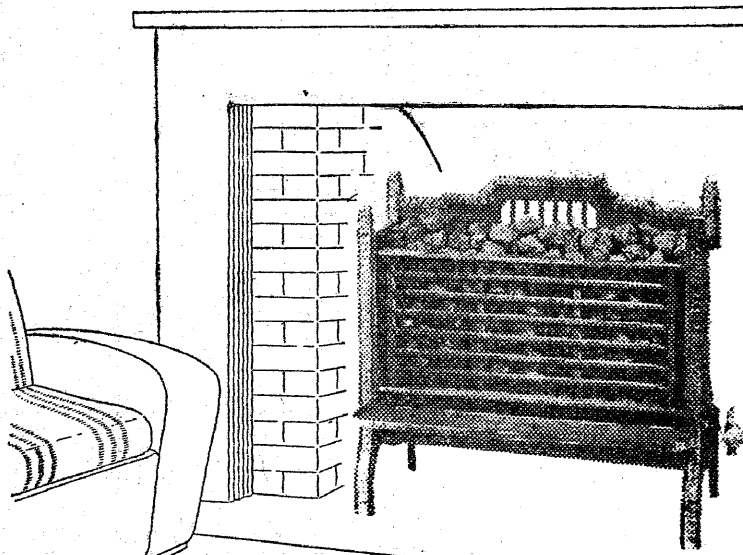

Special to Belleville News.
DURHAM, N. H., Nov. 19—Robert S. Glynn, 12 Overlook avenue, again scored a dramatic success playing the part of Walter Beckett in Phillip Barry's Spring Dance, presented by Mask and Dagger, University of New Hampshire dramatic society, Wednesday and yesterday and concluding today.

Glynn has played prominent leads in four Mask and Dagger productions: "The Swan," "The Silver Box," "Loyalties," and "Lilium." "Spring Dance," his fifth starring vehicle, is in direct contrast to the heavy drama presented by Mask and Dagger in recent years, and is a light fast-playing comedy of college romance from the pen of Barry, celebrated for his Holiday and Paris Bound.

Glynn was elected president of Mask and Dagger this year.

The Gas Heater Gives Warmth and Cheer at Low Cost

Change the fireplace—bleak and empty—to the focal point of your room. An attractive coal basket heaped with glowing coals, giving out warmth, makes your room a different place. These gas fireplace heaters are not expensive to purchase nor to operate. Payment terms are as low as $1.25 a month including carrying charge. No work to have a fire. No work after the fire is out. Strike a match and turn on the gas. Turn off the gas when you want the heat no longer. See these "Woodfires" and "Coalfires" at Public Service stores.

Bill Parmer Only Regular Left from Last Year As Bell Boys Start Basketball

William "Bill" Parmer is the only remaining regular for the basketball team of Belleville High School which will trot the boards this winter. Leo Culkin, the other regular, is out of the game this year due to an appendectomy.

Practice began Monday with about 100 youngsters turning out. Under the tutelage of Albert K. McBride, this squad will be cut to about fifty within the next few days in order to give Coach McBride a nucleus for organizing this winter's team.

Coach McBride is looking for tall youngsters who can also play basketball. Already he has picked several men over six feet tall who have shown an ability to play the game.

Among the six feet men are Joseph Caskey, Joseph Smith, Walter Giller, William Parmer, Duncan Langland, Robert Martin, Vincent Richards and Pat Barbone.

There are several others, not as tall, who have a definite chance of making the team. They are Bobbie Thompson, William Engelman, Robert Malcolm, John Walters, and Jack Clark.

Concert for P-T. A. Forum

The Belleville High School Glee Club and orchestra will give a concert in the high school auditorium, preceding the P-T. A. Council forum, this evening.

The program is as follows: Five selections by the orchestra, "Give a Man a Horse," Geoffrey O'Hara; "Morning," Oley Speaks; "Tom Thumb's Drum," Leslie Sarony; "America Triumphant," Clifford Demarest and "The Rosary," E. Nevin.

The selections, which will be played by the orchestra, are "Ave Maria," Franz Schubert and selections from "The Three Musketeers," Rudolph Friml.

Classrooms Opened To Public at No. 3

Parent-Teacher Association

Heard Talk Given by

Sarah B. Askew

The classrooms of School No. 3 were open to parents and visitors on Thursday evening at 7:30 P. M. A short business meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held later in the auditorium, after which Miss Sara B. Askew, secretary and librarian of the Public Library Commission, Trenton, New Jersey, was guest speaker.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee under the direction of Mrs. Bormann.

Struck by Bus

Marietta Constantino, 22, 28 Belmont avenue, Silver Lake, was taken to Columbus Memorial Hospital after being struck Saturday night in Bloomfield avenue near Fifteenth street, Bloomfield, by a bus operated by Charles McCaughan, 256 Devon street, Kearny.

English Classes Offer Poems by Pupils

Here are a few poems written by students in Miss Eleanor Rush's English classes:

DAVID Versus GOLIATH

By Vincent Sorrentino.

The Bellboys broke thru the Bloomfield line
Of victories long, and lengthy.
They came upon the field, as lively little lads,
To fight the big boys from Bloomfield.
Dressed in all their pads
Bloomfield left the field of battle, dejected, disgusted, and forlorn.
But for Belleville, a brand new era was born.

STILL OLD-FASHIONED

By Joseph Cerriero.

The good people gave them gifts,
And the audience was amazed
To see them sit on golden steps
And look and live as laborers do,
And make a mess of modern things.

POEM

By Frances Butler.

The power drunk dictators had drawn their treaties,
And courageous were conscripted for a cause thought worthy
For the cause, a war was waged to end all wars.
After long years of great, grim and glorious battles,
By destructive mobs death was dealt,
To all false, fierce leaders of foreign lands.

WAR

By Gunther Meder.

When God of War is on the walk,
He shakes the heaven down from high
Should heroes live to tell the tale,
No more war will lend their wits.
Mars alone should be forced to fight.
The Queen of Peace shall put in place,
The glory due this tarnished race.

Schools Closed Tuesday For Football Game

Local schools closed at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to permit those who had purchased season passes to attend the Belleville-West Orange High football game, which was postponed Saturday due to rain. Belleville lost, 12-0.

At first it was thought advisable to dismiss children who had passes or were willing to purchase tickets. A general closing was decided upon after some discussion.

The Interrogator

By ALYCE LYNAS

Do you think that there should be a greater student representation in senior activities and committees?

Betty Schwab—Positively. Why do we have to have approximately twenty people thinking at senate meetings for the rest of the 250 seniors? Why couldn't it be possible to hold senior class meetings after school and have the people attend who are earnestly interested in senior class affairs.

Lucille Balzer—Absolutely! There should be a greater representation from all classes especially the seniors. That would aid in promoting a higher degree of school spirit.

Gloria King—Yes, I do! I believe that the senior class, as a whole, should hold meetings in which the officers of the class should preside. At these meetings I think that the class should hold a discussion concerning the activities planned for the year. Why not give the people, other than the ones in the senior senate, a chance to participate in the different committees involved.

Thelma Jensen—Yes, decidedly so. Give every one a chance to take part in the activities of their class. If everybody was given a chance it would be found out that all the students would be more willing to co-operate and the various affairs would be major successes.

Beatrice Harter—I am convinced we should have a greater student representation. In all cases, I think students can control themselves well enough to put over dances, movie benefits and such things which help their class. Many of the students are never given an opportunity to show their abilities and fine characters. We, the upper classmen, feel this the most.

Clubs

Piano Club.

The piano club is composed of eleven members who have been chosen after a series of tryouts.

To be eligible for membership a person must have from six to eight years of playing experience.

An immediate requirement is to be able to play a piece from memory and another from sight. If satisfactory to the members the candidate is allowed to enter.

The piano club stresses memory work, sight reading and composition. The club consists of Elizabeth Sharp, president; Ruth Slater, vice president; Doris Stalter, secretary; Hazel Ellsworth, treasurer; Donald Schofield, Jean Payne, Mary Lynch, Dorothy Irvin, Irma Cameron, Pearl Lindenbaum and Marion Butler.

Miss Alice Walters is the faculty adviser of the group.

Debate Club.

It was decided at a round table discussion to accept an invitation to debate Orange High School. The topic for debate is as yet undecided. Beatrice Berkowitz succeeded Harvey Fort as secretary.

Chess Club.

At the weekly meeting of the chess club terms and plays were discussed. Many of the students have made fine progress in their play.

Nature Club.

The nature club, which meets on Monday, has twelve members with more coming in. In the club, most interests are centered about photography, mounting, and rock study.

Senior English Classes Present Poe's Version of "Fall of the House of Usher"

Mr. Edward Glaspey's senior English classes presented their version of Edgar Allan Poe's, "Fall of the House of Usher," during the third period yesterday.

There is a possibility of its being presented at a school assembly in the near future.

Oratorical Contest Winner

Joseph Distasio was the winner of the local original oratorical contest of the New Jersey Forensic League held in Room 303, on Monday at 4 o'clock.

The state final will take place in the near future.

Judges of the contest were Mr. Murray Wilcox, Miss Elsie Sandford and Miss Schramm.

The high school's public address system was used.

The cast was composed of Corwin Stickney, Harold Johnson, Fred Mace, Walter Botto and Joe Distasio.

"Growing Pains" Growing

Under the direction of Mr. Herbert Bitterman, committees for the senior play, "Growing Pains," are being formed.

Miss Eleanor Rush, coach of the play, has been holding rehearsals daily with the full attendance of the cast. The production promises to be a good one.

Programs and tickets for the performance are being made by the new school printing department, in the charge of John S. Charlton.

Know Your Teachers

MISS GREGORIA MARIE CONDON

By Peggy Luby.

Miss Condon teaches first, second and fourth year English, in room 105. She is a graduate of St. Vincent Academy and the College of St. Elizabeth. Many pupils will remember her as a teacher in Silver Lake School, No. 4. She came to Belleville High from St. Mary's High School, Rutherford.

Miss Condon formerly lived in Belleville, but moved from here in 1913. Since then she has been a resident of the Forest Hill section of Newark. Her father, Dr. John F. Condon, is the vice president of the First National Bank of Belleville.

Her favorite hobby is traveling. She traveled to California on a tour that lasted eleven weeks. During this time she enjoyed many interesting moments viewing the Yellowstone and Yosemite National parks, the Grand Canyon of Arizona, Lake Louise, the Canadian Rockies and many other interesting places, including the cinema haven—Hollywood. She returned home by boat through the Panama Canal. Last fall she went to the Centennial celebration at Dallas, Texas, as a delegate from New Jersey.

Another interest of hers is reading. Miss Condon prefers books of fiction.

Miss Condon says our school is a fine organization, run with splendid discipline. She finds the students co-operative and easy to work with, and boasts that she has had no unpleasant experience with any of the students.

Posters To Depict Senior Class Play

Art Students Have Effectuated

Many and Novel

Ideas

Mr. P. Webster Diehl, high school art teacher, has set his classes to work in the construction of posters, to publicize the senior class' production of "Growing Pains."

Many novel ideas already have been effected. A few of the posters depict such well known characters as "Charlie McCarthy, Little Lulu," and many other similar types.

Biology Classes Study Types of Weeds

Usefulness and Harmfulness Is the Purpose of

The Study

The pupils of Mr. Norman Cotter's biology classes are at present engaged in an intensive study of weeds.

An exhibit was prepared by the students numerous types of weeds.

The purpose of the study is to teach the uselessness and harmfulness of weeds and how they may be successfully exterminated.

Camptown Pros Win From Midvale Club

Record Is Unsullied in Seven Starts This Season

The Camptown Pros retained their undefeated, untied and unscathed record Sunday afternoon, by adding to its other six victims the Midvale A. C. of Passaic County, 12-0.

The Camptown took the lead early in the opening quarter, when the visitors elected to receive. A long kick from placement by Zoppa to the Midvale goal line was received by Joe Herrick, who ran the ball back only eight yards. The Midvales kicked out of danger to Midvale forty-five yard line, where Joe Choborda received the ball and raced to the twenty-five yard line, where Steve Choborda scored on a line buck. The second score came in the third quarter when the Camptown center recovered a fumble on the visitor's eighteen-yard line. A pass from Choborda to Bill Scott, good for eighteen yards over the goal line, marked the end of the scoring. Both attempts from placement were wide.

The game was played before some 2,000 spectators on a slippery and rain-soaked turf.

The Herrick brothers, Rutgers and Egre Anderson, Trenton State Teachers' College, played well for the visitors, while Bill Shulman played a bang up game for the Pros.

The Pros will be facing one of its major games of the season Sunday in the Woodside A. C. at Tri-City.

Among the local boys who will see action for the Woodsideers are Tom Marshall and Matty Grunn. Both are former Belleville High School players.

TOUCH-DOWN TACTICS

GEORGIA TECH . . .

by
W. A. Alexander
Head Football Coach

This is the third in a series of nine outstanding diagram plays by nine leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's Cities Service Football Guide.

The above diagram is a modified tandem formation with an unbalanced line. No. 1 back receives the ball and steps back as if to throw a pass. No. 4 back comes around and makes a fake attempt to execute the old Statue of Liberty play and continues on around to the left. The purpose of this delay is to pull the defensive right tackle across the line of scrimmage where he is blocked off by the No. 3 back. If he charges across the line, which is his usual assignment, this play will result in a substantial gain. The blocking assignments are about the same as in any "slant off tackle" play.

Local Jayvees Hold No. Arlington Varsity

Two Teams Play Scoreless Tie at Clearman

By FRED McQUILKIN

The Belleville Jayvees held North Arlington's first team to a scoreless tie, Armistice Day, at Clearman Field.

Belleville surprised the fans by outplaying North Arlington throughout the entire game. The Bellboys threatened to score early in the first period when "Mouse" Thompson, quarterback and ace ground gainer, blocked and recovered a kick on the North Arlington twelve-yard line, but a fumble on the seven-yard marker stopped this advance.

The locals again threatened in the same quarter, when they marched twenty-four yards to the seventeen-yard marker, where they lost the ball when Thompson passed over the goal line on fourth down.

A punting duel between Rosell, North Arlington quarterback, and Fass, Bellboy halfback, occupied most of the second quarter. Belleville got the break they were waiting for, but too late. Aversia, Zebra end, recovered Rosell's fumble on the North Arlington thirty-two yard line. "Mouse" Thompson passed fifteen yards to Langley, Belleville left end, to put the ball on the seventeen-yard line, and this is as far as they got for the half ended as the Bellboys went back into their huddle.

"Mouse" Thompson brought the Belleville rooters to their feet time after time in the second half with his brilliant passing, but was unable to change the score.

Belleville threatened twice in the second half, once going twenty-nine yards to the North Arlington five-yard line, where they were halted by a fumble.

North Arlington made its only offensive gesture as the game was drawing to a close, when they intercepted a Belleville pass on the Bellboy ten-yard line. They were able to get in only one play before the whistle blew ending the game.

Seven-Footer Tops

Laurel Garden Card

John Sullivan, Giant from

Ireland, Recalls

Folklore

With the first appearance of John Sullivan, seven-foot Irish giant, backing up a three-star attraction, local fans will be treated to the outstanding wrestling card of the season at Laurel Garden Friday night.

Sullivan, a real descendant of the Irish giants of folklore, stands seven feet tall, weighs 275 pounds, has a reach of ninety-four inches, sports a jet black beard and is by no means a freak, but a real wrestler. He meets Vanka Zeleniak, of Russia, in the main supporting bout to the three one fall to a finish matches which feature the show.

Topping the show is the bout between Dr. John (Dropkick) Murphy and Irish Paddy Mack. Murphy made his first appearance last week and scored a sensational hit. He is the greatest exponent of the thrilling dropkick in the game today and uses his feet as well as any other man can use his hands.

The second one fall to a finish bout pairs Jack Singer, who was disqualified for rough house tactics last week, with the popular young German, Hans Schwarz. This will be another clash between the orthodox and unorthodox style of milking.

Sammie Fitzpatrick Cohen, public villain No. 1, competes with Tony Siano, in the third finish match. Cohen also gives the fans many a thrill with his unorthodox stunts and is one of the best hated men in the game.

The other preliminary bouts present Len Macaluso against Jack Zarnos, a newcomer who has just returned from a world tour, and Hans von Blumberg with Jimmie Kilonis, who made his debut last week.

Nutley Dukes Trample

Over Ridgelawns

Red Vandemark, Local Lad,

Stars in Booth Park

Battle

The Nutley Dukes ran rampant over the Passaic Ridgelawns in a football game Sunday afternoon at Booth Memorial field, 35-0.

Registering a touchdown in each quarter, the Dukes had little opposition from the Passaic County team.

The first touchdown was made in the opening minute of the game with "Chick" Chichowitz carrying the ball over the goal line on an off-tackle slant. This followed a thirty-yard march on the part of Dick O'Neil, Elmer "Red" Vandemark and Chichowitz.

A forty-yard reverse pass scored another touchdown in the second quarter with Stultz carrying the ball over.

In the third quarter, Vandemark fumbled on the two-foot line after an eighty-yard march down the field. However, the Passaic booter was tackled back of his own goal line, which added two more points to the Dukes' growing total.

A forty-yard progress netted a fourth touchdown with Vandemark scoring from the eighty-yard line. Speciale ran around end for the extra point.

The final score occurred in the last play of the game with Walker catching a forty-yard pass from Vandemark over the goal line.

West Orange Downs

Bellboy Squad, 12-0

Outweighed Again Locals

Put Up a Stubborn

Defense

By LEON FELDSTEIN, B.H.S.

Belleville met a strongly manned and heavier football team Tuesday and lost by a comparatively small score, 12-0.

Although outweighed on an average of seventeen pounds per man the home team fought doggedly and managed to keep its defensive line compact.

In the offense, Belleville outplayed West Orange, but ill luck pursued the "Zebras" and a pass was intercepted by Pennington, West Orange center, on its twenty-yard line, while the locals were gaining yardage for a touchdown. Pennington ran eighty yards for a touchdown, setting the score in favor of West Orange, 6-0. The out of towners failed to convert the extra point.

Chet Kuchinski, Belleville left half back, was successful in throwing a few completed forward passes that put the Bellboys well in enemy territory, but as hard luck would have it, these passes didn't count very much as far as Belleville's scoring was concerned.

Ed Slavin, star Belleville half back, was injured during the finishing moments of the fourth quarter. This made it necessary to remove him from the game.

Both sides played straight, hard football and didn't rely much upon tricky, deceptive plays.

Falcone, West Orange fullback, was successful in crossing Belleville's goal line after a series of power plays and extended the score an additional six points.

HERE WE ARE AGAIN: and radio has ushered in another week with gala shows. Much has been written about the old stars who hold the limelight...other editors have mentioned them to you...but some have forgotten lovely Vaughn, DeLeath, who is known as the pioneer radio girl...and shortly she will be starred in one of New York's swankier clubs and, too, on a bigger commercial than lovely Kate Smith...this is not a prognostication, but a scoop...you watch for it...The American Album of Familiar Music is still pleasant to our ears...Jane Cowl, a fine actress, playing "Elizabeth the Queen" on the Kate Smith hour...Rudy Vallee is in the ninth year for the same sponsor...Uncle Don just completed ten for more than forty-six sponsors...and C. J. Ingram, on WAAT, needs a sponsor in a bad way...Pat Henry will be screened next week...WOR-Mutual just clicked with the new Lucky show...here is a clever program...Amos 'n Andy will be stronger than ever when they come to the fore with their new sponsor...funny thing in radio production, the sponsor seems to be the thing. I guess people are over the stage where they work for experience alone...yeah man...The WMCA Gangplank interviews have developed into real interesting entertainment...Edith Holden, former WOR singer is the new click on CBS with the Fanchio and Marco Agency session...Ted Husing again gets a line for his Army-Notre Dame description in the mud...The Red Cross drive deserves your cooperation...the radio world is doing its share...Bill McCune and his singers, Hal Atkinson and Vincent Laydell has passed an informal screen test and will spend the rest of their spare time on dictation, etc., so that their first starring short will be tops...

good luck, guys...Mark Hellinger leaves for the coast...his best column was his last, when he said good bye to Broadway...For every one that leaves there are hundreds that come here to make a GO of it...and the females are the only ones that have the IT. NBC has had quite a shake up...Hal Kemp is a HIT on the coast...but it took twelve years...We enjoy the graphologists on the air...their work is amazing...I have written several words on Why The Programs are coming from the coast...here is a new slant...you know, of course, that most of the gags are stolen from joke books and the like...well now the scripters haunt the sets on the Hollywood lots and clip settings, etc., from the new pictures...several were caught at this last week and it looks as though all will end...James Barton still stars in Tobacco Road on Broadway, should have a permanent radio show after his perfect work in Kate Smith's session. We like Phil Baker and Jack Benny, but Benny will find it hard to hold his following with competition from Henry Youngman, Jack White, John Gambling, and Harry Hersfield...Things to watch for: the Christmas baskets and Good Deed Funds and Not An Empty Heart for Christmas...Vaughn DeLeath's own...so long.

'100 Men and a Girl' Is Now Playing with 'Back in Circulation'

Cinderella had a fairy godmother; Aladdin owned a lamp. Ali Baba had the "open sesame" and Deanna Durbin has a magic voice. Cinderella, Ali Baba and Aladdin were figments of the imagination. But there's nothing unreal about Miss Durbin. The wonderland which has opened to her is due to her own talents.

Only a few months ago Deanna was just another one of the nation's youngsters. But the movies, out-moding fairy godmothers, wonderful lamps and magic passwords have brought Deanna fame and fortune. The fourteen-year-old girl soared to stardom in her second film, after she skyrocketed into prominence as a most promising stellar prospect in "Three Smart Girls."

Now Universal is presenting Deanna in a picture that takes advantage of everything the child has to offer. The producers have designed a production to bring this everything out in the most effective manner. The result is "100 Men and a Girl" at the Capitol through tomorrow. "Back in Circulation" is the co-feature.

Souls at Sea. Gilbert Emery, Hollywood's "perfect Britisher," and Porter Hall, also proud of his moustache, have been going about the film capital slightly naked of late; that is, "sans moustachios." They had to shave off their moustaches to appear as naval officers in Paramount's sea epic, "Souls at Sea," coming Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to the Capitol theatre. This picture deals with a period in history when the British Navy regulations forbade moustaches.

She Asked For It. Tully Marshall is not the only veteran in the cast of "She Asked for It," which runs the same time at the Capitol. Nick Thompson, veteran villain of the screen, also prominently cast in the picture, should be proficient at his "heavy" roles by this time, since he was the villain who pursued Pearl White through all fourteen episodes of "The Perils of Pauline" and has been at it ever since, "menacing" his way all through the evolution of motion pictures.

"Oil for the Lamps of China" plays Saturday with Pat O'Brien and Josephine Hutchinson in the cast.

At the Capitol

Gary Cooper and lovely Frances Dee carry the major love story in Paramount's epic, "Souls at Sea," the amazing romance lifted right from one of the most glamorous pages of American history, which comes Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Capitol Theatre.

'Dead End' Scheduled At Lincoln Theater

Sylvia Sydney and Joel McCrea Star in 'Perfect' Production

If a piece of angel's food cake suddenly turns to devil's food in the middle of a movie scene, thousands of film fans take their pens in hand and point out the error to the studio.

If a 1937 license plate appears on an automobile in a scene supposed to take place in 1917, the fans are quick to see it.

These are obvious "boners," easy to spot in a picture. But the fans catch the less obvious ones, as well. That's why Samuel Goldwyn had two technical directors on "Dead End," in which Sylvia Sydney and Joel McCrea star Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Lincoln theatre. He knew that there were just millions of New Yorkers, just waiting for a chance to write glowing letters over any inaccuracies.

Caught Inaccuracies. Irving Sandler, veteran property man, who grew up in New York's East Side, where the story is laid, and E. P. Goodnow, who was stage manager for the New York stage production for the Sidney Kingsley play on which the film is based, were the "boner shooters" on the Goldwyn picture. And they caught dozens of trifling inaccuracies which would have brought delight to the "boner

New Singing Star

HAL GORDON, new tenor on the Tim and Irene show over the Mutual coast-to-coast network at 6:30 p.m. Sundays, was a small-town school teacher until he raised enough money to pay his fare to New York for an appearance on an amateur hour. He clicked, got a sustaining program and was signed for a feature spot with the comics, D'Artega and his orchestra supply the music.

spotters."

For instance, a baby carriage plays an important part in the picture. One of the property men brought a luggy, vintage of 1890, to the set. Goodnow caught that boner. He pointed out that baby carriages wear out fast in the slams because the birth rate is so high. The span of life of such a vehicle is never more than ten years, he claimed. So a newer model was produced.

Wrong Package. Sylvia Sydney appeared in a scene with a package of meat. Sandler took the package away from her and gave her another. The reason for the switch was this. The first package was wrapped in white paper and a piece of blue sticky tape circled it. Sandler said that on the East Side butchers use brown paper and brown string.

Goodnow spotted a "boner" that had to do with the gum vending machines on the set. The set dresser had forgotten to chain the machines to the front of the grocery store. All such machines are chained down, Goodnow pointed out.

But even with all this care, both Sandler and Goodnow admit they may have slipped up. They're certain that some trifling mistake will be spotted by the eagle-eyed fans.

Humphrey Bogart, Wendy Barrie, Clair Trevor, Allen Jenkins and the Dead End kids from the original New York stage cast are featured in the supporting cast of the production. "Dead End" is released through United Artists.

"100 Men and a Girl."

Acting is fun to Deanna Durbin. Singing is hard work. But she enjoys the hard work of singing more than the fun of acting. This was revealed by the little fourteen-year-old soprano during the filming of her new Universal picture, "100 Men and a Girl," at the Lincoln next Wednesday and Thursday. Deanna appears in three-fourths of this picture's scenes. She acted four hours a day, every day for six weeks. She sings four songs in the production, perhaps fifteen minutes of singing all told. Yet for this fifteen minutes of warbling, she spent more time and trouble in rehearsal than for her 168 hours of acting. And she loved it.

Two Outstanding Features At Proctor's, Newark

"Victoria the Great" now playing at Proctor's, Newark, is a dramatization of the reign and, incidentally, romance of the famous British sovereign with Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha Anna Neagle, popular English film actress, appears in the title role, co-starred with Anton Walbrook, international stage and screen star, with Walter Rilla and H. B. Warner, as featured players.

"The Life of the Party," featuring Joe Fennel, Gene Raymond, Parkyoukarkas, Victor Moore, Harriet Hilliard, Helen Broderick and Billy Gilbert is a romp and romance in rippling comedy with music.

Who Said Girls Couldn't Cook?

Alice Frost, star of "Big Sister," and Sally Nelson, vocalist of "Romantic Rhythm," prove that they can take very good care of themselves, thank you, when it comes to cooking the royal turkey for the holiday season. Just because they are in New York and living in apartments doesn't mean they can't get turkey with all the trimmings—and for themselves, too.
