St. Peter's Plan for "3-Cornered Moon"

Show Will Be Presented by Dramatic Society in School Hall

Time being of the essence and imbued with the spirit of the mad Rimplegians whose lives they portray in their forthcoming production, "Three-Cornered Moon," the members of St. Peter's Dramatic Club, living up to their reputation of doing the unusual, notified and sent to James Lukowiak via air mail to Miami, Fla., his part of Ed Rimplegier in the play. Mr. Lukowiak, who is vacationing in Miami, wired his acceptance.

The play, which will be produced on Wednesday, April 27, under the direction of Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, in St. Peter's school hall, is being presented in conjunction with the centennial carnival of St. Peter's Social Society. It is a story of the moon-struck Rimplegians.

In the first act they are considerably well off in the world, and being spared the necessity of working, they take out their lunacy in inventing complicated methods of suicide or in impulsive journeys. Suddenly they find themselves penniless. Mrs. Rimplegier, having sold out the family fortune to a margin broker, puts on her wrapper, does up her hair in a Turkish towel and meanders dizzily around the house. That is why the Rimplegier children all go to work at starvation wages, and become a clan with a cause. But idle or industrious, a Rimplegier is always the same. From one day to another he never tamps with logic.

The players and the parts they enact are William Tomasulo, as Douglas Rimplegier; Marie Tomasulo, as Jenny, the maid; James Lukowiak, as Ed Rimplegier; Helen Grey, as Elizabeth Rimplegier; James A. Leonard, as Donald; John J. Roberts, as Dr. Alan Stevens; Kathryn Donahue, as Kitty, and Greta Kinnealy, as Mrs. Rimplegier.

The organization is making great progress in membership, which is steadily increasing.

Fireman Tells of Yesteryear As He Rocks Children Back and Forth on His Knees

Musings Take Him Again to World War Days as Scrap Book Reveals—But What Does
It Reveal?

I am a fireman. At night, when my day's work is through, I like to gather my two kiddies on my knees and tell them stories about the firemen, whose pictures I have in my scrapbook.

I was so engaged one night this week when I came across a snapshot of Ted Cyphers. Here's a fireman who was in the army, but was never discharged. It seems that Ted passed his eighteenth birthday shortly before the Armistice was signed and he joined and was ready to serve the Stars and Stripes the day of the peace signing.

Ted had reported for service that day only to find that it was not necessary. As he never served a day in the army, although signed up, the government didn't think it was necessary to give him his discharge papers.

Browsing among the pictures I found one of Oscar Reid. "This, kiddies, is a photo of a soldier who went four months without a hat because the army did not have the hat to fit his head."

Big Egg Man.
I picked out a picture of William "Becky" Gilchrist, when he had a generous amount of hair. "This man joined the navy during the World War. He is reported to have eaten

State Comptroller Tells Rotarians How Teachers' Pension Fund Will Be 'Tapped'

New Jersey Will Not Make This Year's Contribution of
$4,890,000 Until 1942 with Interest
Of Three Per Cent

In the course of a talk Wednesday before Belleville Rotary at luncheon in Forest Hill Field Club, State Comptroller Frank J. Murray told how the Legislature Tuesday night tapped the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund, to the extent of $4,890,000.

"The Legislature didn't actually take the money," he said. "It was the state's annual contribution to the fund, which is due July 1, that will not be met at that time. Instead the state will reimburse the fund in that amount in 1942, plus three per cent interest, payable semi-annually."

Mr. Murray explained the action of the Legislature, as he discussed "relief," pointing out that last year the state gave to municipalities $13,100,000 for relief and used $200,000 for administration of relief. Municipalities, in addition, appropriated $3,100,000 and used $1,700,000 for administration, running the expenditures for relief in the state up to $13,100,000. This, he said, does not include WPA assistance directly from the federal government, which figures he did not have available.

"Relief has been rising steadily since October," he stated, "until now about $2,250,000 a month is being spent."

A Favored State.
"New Jersey is one of the favored states in which to live," said the comptroller, "because as states go, it has a comparatively small bonded debt, $169,588,000, part of which is covered by sinking fund bonds in the amount of $102,000,000, and state bonds outstanding in the aggregate of $67,588,000. Assets total $89,000,000, leaving the net debt, $80,000,000."

Mr. Murray pointed out the debt is being paid at the rate of $15,000,000 per year, including interest and principal.

The federal government's project to supply New Jersey with $200,000,000 for secondary road construction was outlined by the comptroller, who said work is now under way to keep this year's relief total down.

Comparative relief costs to the state from 1932 to 1937, are as follows: 1932, $8,000,000; 1933, $19,000,000; 1934, $36,000,000; 1935, $70,000,000; 1936, $40,000,000; 1937, $13,000,000. Toward this the federal government contributed $90,000,000, most of which was in 1935. Since that winter no such contribution has been made.

"The state has financed relief in staggering figures without new or additional taxes," the comptroller declared, "except the Sales Tax, which was in order for four months, during which time it netted the state $7,000,000."

Mr. Murray quoted figures showing how the state raises its funds and where and how they are spent. Next Wednesday Dr. M. W. Openchowski, psychiatrist for Essex County Probation Department, who experimented on himself with narcotics, will talk on that subject, which he studied in Mesopotamia with the British Army. Mr. Openchowski hails from Russia.

New Club Formed At Local Synagogue

"Hadassah Buds" is Name
Selected by Young
Girls' Group

A new group for girls between the ages of twelve to fifteen was formed last week at the Congregation A. A. A., 317 Washington avenue, according to an announcement of Rabbi Rubin R. Dohin, of the congregation. The new club is named "Hadassah Buds" and meets at the synagogue every Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 8. Miss Harriet Lemell is leader of the group.

The program of the club will include many interesting features. Among them will be projects on Jewish holidays, Palestinian endeavors, and philanthropic activities. The group is now working to provide a fund for Passover relief for a needy family. They are planning many interesting trips for the spring and summer months.

A cordial invitation is extended to all girls of the ages from twelve to fifteen to join the group.

George Stewart Not In Commission Race

Civic Leader, Who Has Been Ill, Can Not Devote
Time to Job

An erroneous report has been circulated about town that George Stewart, 125 Smallwood avenue, would run for the town commission.

Mr. Stewart, who had been seriously ill at his home for two weeks with an streptococcus infection in his ear and who is now convalescing, said last night that he "has no intention of running" because his business interests require all his time.

"I am not prepared to give the time to the job," said Mr. Stewart, who long had been active in civic matters. "I received great enjoyment from my civic interests, but lately I haven't had time to be very active. Since my dad's retirement from our firm I have assumed most of the responsibility and I can not be as active locally, as before."

Firemen Kept Busy With Brush Fires

Record, However, for One Day Was Set Two Years Ago

Brush fires from Friday till Monday kept the local firemen on the hop, extinguishing them without property damage.

The fires were as follows: Friday, Belleville avenue and Cortlandt street; Sunday, 6 Rossmore place, 229 Joralemon street, and Franklin avenue at the Isolation Hospital; Monday, Burton place, 129 Joralemon street, Barnett lane and Joralemon street and 151 Joralemon street.

The record number of brush fire calls for one day is fourteen, which were answered by the local fire department two years ago.

Sign Painter

A phone call came into police headquarters Sunday night at 6:40 o'clock to the effect that some one was climbing a ladder at the A. J. Crowhurst plant and that it looked like the ladder climber was trying to gain entrance.

Patrolman Nelson Demgard was dispatched to the scene and he reported back that it was merely a sign painter touching up the sign of the factory.

Unusual Request

The Belleville police department has met with surety and swiftness any emergency that has presented itself in the past.

John Barton, 242 Washington avenue has asked the department to find his license plate which he lost on the shore road. Captain William Sullivan says it is not unusual for the police to locate license plates, even though lost some distance away.

Name Harold A. Gahr Head of the Elks

Installation Will Be Held
By Local Lodge Two Weeks Hence

Belleville Lodge of Elks Monday night elected Harold A. Gahr Exalted Ruler, succeeding Harold Cavanaugh, whose term with other officers expires at the next meeting. Monday evening, April 11.

Other officers elected were: Exalted leading knight, Emil Kastner; esteemed loyal knight, Wallin H. Masten; esteemed lecturing knight, William Priestman; secretary, Arthur E. Mayer; treasurer, John Deeny; Tyler, William McCoy; trustee, Raymond B. Berg. Exalted Ruler-elect Gahr was named delegate to the grand lodge convention with Mr. Cavanaugh as alternate. The latter will represent the lodge at the state association. John Monaghan was in contest with Mr. Priestman for lecturing knight. Mr. Mayer replaces Henry Gemeinhardt, Jr., who has been secretary of Belleville lodge since 1918.

Has Two Crashes; Jailed As Topsy Motorist

George M. Hoffman, 32, of 232 Union avenue, was released in $250 bail on a drunken driving charge Saturday night after his car had crashed into another at Kearny avenue and Belleville turnpike, Kearny. Shortly before that accident, Hoffman had been involved in another at Webster avenue and Belleville turnpike, Hudson county police told the Kearny police.

Hoffman will be given a hearing tonight.

Hoffman was pronounced unfit to drive by Dr. W. R. Rieck, police surgeon. Arrested with Hoffman was Harold S. S. of 13 Palisade drive, Belleville, who was slated on a disorderly conduct charge.

Rutgers New Football Coach To Speak At All Sports Dinner in High School

Awards Will Be Made to Many High School Players and Cheer Leaders During Diversified Program

By Mary Schofield, B.H.S.

Belleville is agog over the All-Sports Dinner, which will get under way tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock in the high school cafeteria. Harry Harmon, all-American at Pitt in 1921, and the new football coach at Rutgers, will be the speaker.

Groups to Hold Candlelight Service

Third Gathering from Local Churches to be Held
At Reformed

The third candlelight service will be held in the Belleville Reformed Church Sunday night, when Miss Grace Martling, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Martling, 383 Cortlandt street, will sing a number of solos throughout.

This service was given two weeks ago in Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, and three weeks ago in the Grace Baptist Church.

Mrs. W. D. Clark, Jr., a representative of Grace Baptist Church will conduct the service.

The ushers will be Miss Catherine Wood, Miss Marion Radin, Miss Dorothy Newton and Miss Sadie Lynas.

Peter Edwardson of Glen Ridge will be at the organ to accompany Miss Martling.

Budget Combed by Group Once More

Local Taxpayers Meet
With the Town
Commission

A session that lasted from 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon until 7 in the evening, was held by the town commission and five members of the Belleville Taxpayers and Civic Association to rehash the municipal budget which will be up for public hearing Tuesday.

As had been done previously at a meeting to which the public had been invited, Mayor William H. Williams explained the budget in detail, while other commissioners explained appropriations in various departments.

On the taxpayers committee were A. E. Chiappari, Walter Debold, Joseph Dunn, Joseph Kilpatrick and Matthew Atkinson.

Stolen Cars Found Minus Four Wheels

Silver Lake Youth Tells
Firemen He Saw It
Being "Stripped"

Reported as stolen, an automobile owned by John Hofer, 196 North Third street, Newark, was returned to him minus four wheels and a radio, Saturday.

Lieutenant Michael Hanley of the Silver Lake Fire Department, reported to the Belleville police that he was told by a youngster that a car was at the corner of Newark avenue and Magnolia street. Silver Lake, and was being stripped.

The Newark police department was notified and returned the car to its owner.

Lively Discussion at Institute Meeting

Seventh and Final for This Season Will Be Held
April 20

The sixth session of the Belleville Institute of Public Affairs was held Wednesday night in the auditorium of Congregation A. A. A., 317 Washington avenue. The session was sponsored by the congregation, the sisterhood, the Progress Club and the Junior League. The topic for discussion was "Woman's Place—at Home or in a Career." Rabbi Rubin R. Dohin, moderator of the institute, opened the session and announced that the next session of the institute will be the last in the present 1937-38 series. He then introduced Edward J. Abramson, who was chairman.

The speakers were Mrs. Arne Fisher, Mrs. Myra Blakeslee and Peter A. Smith. Mrs. Fisher believed that woman's place is in the home, but also outside the home in some voluntary charitable work. She stated that in the olden days women did not need to find anything to keep them busy outside the home, because there was enough to occupy all their time in the household. All the modern conveniences, she stated, made the place of the woman, Mrs. Fisher included, "to take an interest in the problems of her community, though not neglecting her home in doing this."

Mrs. Blakeslee cited some statistics which showed that there are nearly eleven million women who are gainfully employed in America today. And a vast majority of these women support from two to eight dependents each. She then presented a short history of the American woman in business and professional careers, thus proving that the American woman has a definite place in the set up of American industry and commerce. Mrs. Blakeslee warned that although bars are being put up to keep women out of certain spheres

Wallace & Tiernan Company Paves Way For Industrialists To Assist Boy Scouts

Local Company Feeling Responsibility to Area is Making
Plans to Help Boys in Immediate Neighborhood

By Joe McGarrick.

Today may be April Fool's Day, but officials of the Robert Treat Boy Scout Council are not in the joking mood when they believe that the Belleville district is on the brink of its greatest year in boy activities and membership growth.

For the first time in council history Boy Scout troops will be organized by manufacturing concerns in what Arnold C. Sorenson, scout executive, calls "an industrial program." The testing laboratory for this project will be seen here in Belleville, where Wallace and Tiernan, Inc., will organize a troop. Organization of the unit is well under way and the meeting for boys in the plant at 11 Mill street, is only several weeks away.

The scout executive, in his new offices at 17 William street, Newark, yesterday outlined his new program, relating that organization in other industrial plants in the council territory will be stressed during the spring season.

"The installation of the Wallace & Tiernan troop will open the doors wide to leadership and it should go a long way in developing scouting in Belleville. We hope to see our biggest year in membership growth in this town in a number of years," he stated.

Presenting a Challenge.
In describing the industrial development, Mr. Sorenson says: "When industry moves into a community, leadership generally moves out and play and church facilities usually slow down," he said. "It is a challenge to us and we intend to find a new source of interest to provide leadership." In a higher pitched

Martin F. Tiernan, voice, the executive pointed out, "it does not mean that we will organize industrial troops in preference to church units. It is not a substitute by any means."

Rainie Announces Ten-Point Program

Candidate Says Platform Is Contract With The People

John M. Rainie, candidate for commissioner, has announced a ten-point platform in his campaign for election.

The citizens of Belleville will soon be asked to choose the members of their official family—their governing body for the next four years, and in whose hands will rest the power to decide many important issues affecting the welfare of our entire community.

"As a candidate for commissioner, and as Deputy Director of Public Safety, I am fully aware of the responsibilities and obligations of public office. I also believe that campaign pledges and their fulfillment are kinfolk. They are so closely related that they should be regarded as a sacred covenant with the people.

"I believe it is the inalienable right and heritage of the people to know exactly where a candidate stands on measures that vitally affect the economic future of Belleville. If I am judge of public sentiment, I know the public is tired of hackneyed platitudes, vague and indefinite generalities, empty promises and spectacular bally-hoo that frequently characterize many campaigns. A campaign is no longer a popularity contest. People demand action, plus performance.

"Essentially, a platform is a proposal to enter into a contract with the people, and the people should know in plain words the terms of the contract to which they are asked to subscribe. In other words, if the people, by electing a candidate accept the contract, it becomes binding, and it is the imperative duty of that candidate to fulfill his obligations to the best of his ability.

"In submitting my candidacy, I have tentatively outlined a program, issues which I hold highly important, and to which I will dedicate my stewardship in the interests of a bigger and better Belleville.

"My program follows:

"1. I believe the people of Belleville are entitled to a five-cent fare to Newark, and I will not only cooperate with local organizations, but will personally press this matter with Public Service officials in an attempt to reduce the cost of transportation. Furthermore, I recognize the inadequacy of the service to Belleville; the crowded condition of the buses; the irregularity of the schedule; the utter disregard for the comfort of passengers, and other annoying phases of the service. I will make a determined effort to try and alleviate this condition.

"2. I know the industrial facilities that Belleville offers, and I will work with civic groups in a concerted campaign to attract new industries to our town.

"3. I favor the immediate opening of the proposed extension of Franklin avenue, by the county, from the Isolation Hospital through the Soho section to connect with North Belmont avenue. This project will not only give this section better fire protection, by providing a more direct route, but will possibly aid in reducing fire insurance rates. Every one recognizes the disadvantage it is for our fire apparatus to use Newark streets to reach a point within our own limits. I will confer with the Board of Freeholders in an effort to bring about this much-needed improvement, which will provide work through the WPA.

"4. I will make a serious effort to reduce the budget of the department to which I may be assigned. I will vote only for major expenditures which are absolutely necessary for public welfare. In this manner the tax rate can be kept at the lowest possible figure.

"5. I believe the home owner is entitled to the protection of the zoning law, and I will not vote to change the zone where said change will affect or lower the value of surrounding property.

"6. I oppose any dumping within the town limits, and will insist that all garbage and refuse must be taken out of Belleville.

"7. I believe there are enough taverns and package stores at present, and will oppose granting any new licenses.

"8. I favor the installation of a two-way radio system when our financial condition will warrant such an expenditure.

"9. I pledge an administration of service—service backed by wide experience and an intimate knowledge of problems confronting various sections of our community. My office will always be open to citizens for suggestions, regardless of race, creed or color.

"10. I pledge a non-partisan policy in accordance with the spirit of the Walsh Act, and an economic, efficient, constructive and progressive administration."

"Radio City Revels" Now At Proctor's, Newark

A new screen program headed by "Condemned Women," which stars Sally Eilers, Anne Shirley and Louis Hayward is now playing at Proctor's Theater, Newark. The second feature is "Radio City Revels," with Bob Burns, Jack Oakie, Ann Miller, Kenney Baker and Milton Berle.

In Newark Concert

A concert of unusual merit was presented Saturday night in a Newark auditorium, by the two-piano team, Miss Pearl Lindenbaum, seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lindenbaum, 436 Cortlandt street, and Miss Albino Longo, sixteen, 84 Fourteenth avenue, Newark.

They are the pupils of Alex Chiapinelli, 333 Thirteenth avenue, Newark, who states on the printed program that "they are the perfect exponents of two-piano music and have by their extensive repertoire, brought much pleasure to many audiences."

The number which was best applauded by the 400 persons present was Ferde Grofe's "On the Trail," and was one of the highlights of the program.

A pleasing contrast in color was made by the dark-haired Miss Longo and the titian blond Miss Lindenbaum, who started last June to prepare for this bow to music lovers. They appeared perfectly at ease and their naive nonchalance would have done credit to more seasoned performers. Both girls were attired in pale blue silk and received many bouquets of flowers from well wishers.

The program follows: Toccata and Fugue D Minor, Bach; Musette, Handel; Rondo, Opus 73, Chopin; Blue Danube, Strauss-Chasins; Concerto, A Minor, Allegro Molto, Grieg; Malaguena, Lecuona; Concerto, E Minor, Liszt; Polonaise, Opus 53, Chopin; Symphonic Dance No. 1, Scott; On the Trail, Grofe; Concerto A Minor, Allegro Moderato, Grieg, and Espana Rhapsody, Chabrier.

Brilliant Young Harpist Will Entertain At Choral's Eighth Annual Concert

Lois Bannerman Has Become One of America's Most Convincing Arguments for the Harp As A Solo Instrument

The eighth annual concert will be given by the choral of Belleville Woman's Club Tuesday in Wesley M. E. Church, with Ruel E. Lahner, directing, and Adelle Sutherland at the piano. Miss Lois Bannerman, harpist, will be the assisting artist.

Miss Bannerman has become one of America's most convincing arguments for the harp as a solo instrument. In the space of two seasons she has attained a position as a great favorite in the recital field. Last year she was honored with the awards of both the young artist's contest of the New York Madrigal Society. She is the first and only harpist to win either of these honors.

Born in 1920, of American parents, her mother a harpist, it was probably destined that Lois should become, in time, one of our great harpists. Her career has been successful from the outset, with special emphasis on her interpretation. She opened her season on October 6, with a well interpreted recital at the Barbizon and enchanted her audience. She always presents a well played and well chosen program and with her excellent technique, lends richness and delicacy to her selections.

Patrons, in addition to those announced last week in this paper, are Belleville Pharmacy, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Byles, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cooper, Dr. J. C. D'Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Drake, F. and F. Meat Market, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gauss, Mr. and Mrs. Percy H. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Miller, National Dairy Products Co., Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Nutt, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Powers, William F. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. John Ray, Amy G. Stratton Studio, Mr. and Mrs. William Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey

Thompson, Mayor and Mrs. William H. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Whitfield and Dr. and Mrs. Glen Yates.

The program is as follows:
Four Old English Carols,

Grace Guilds Plan Religious Drama

"He Is Risen" Will Be Presented on Sunday Evening, April 9

"He Is Risen," a religious drama, will be presented by members of Grace Baptist Church, under the auspices of the World Wide Guilds, on Sunday evening, April 9. The action of the play takes place in the garden of Joseph of Arimathea an hour before the Crucifixion.

The junior choir of the church, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Carr, will sing several choral numbers with Miss Flora May Davis accompanying. Mrs. Grace Heffernan and Miss Grace Martling will be the soloists, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Chesley.

On the committee of arrangements are Miss Virginia Lee, Mrs. Mary Hack, Miss Ruth Hogan and Mrs. Lorena Clark.

Wallace & Tiernan

Adult committee organization of the Wallace & Tiernan troop was completed earlier this week. Much of the initial planning is being directed by John P. Dailey, personnel manager, and a vice president of the Robert Treat Scout Council. The new troop will be situated in a location where leadership is needed. The troop committee will be headed by Russell Anderson, one of the purchasing agents.

Just as Mr. Sorenson believed that leadership in the industrial program will be provided by former scouters, the new scoutmaster of the Wallace & Tiernan troop will be Charles Michaelson, Jr., of Arlington, a former Nutley scoutmaster. Assistant scoutmasters selected are Robert Edelman of Belleville, Henry Ohlandt of Nutley, James Tierney and Edward Ecker of Newark.

The adult committee will be composed of Earl Germond, a district commissioner of the Eagle Rock Council, Montclair, and George Bird, Cy Tygert, Miles Monaghan, Charles Scheveha, Robert Browning, W. E. Austin, Adolph Kurth, John P. Fagan and Mr. Dailey.

Said Martin F. Tiernan, president of the Wallace & Tiernan Co., of the new troop plans: "We have always felt a large measure of responsibility to the area in which we are located and have prospered, and our management have given every encouragement to those of our employees who felt sufficiently civic-minded to give of their energy and time to get this troop started. I wish them every success and assure them of interested cooperation from me and my associates. I was very happy several months ago when Curtis R. Burnett, president of the Robert Treat Council, indicated to one of my associates the fine results which had been accomplished in Bridgeport, Conn., where eleven nationally-known manufacturers are operating boy scout troops in their neighborhoods. We are happy to place such facilities at the disposal of this troop."

Plant officials were aided with formation plans by Dr. John P. Tobey, Newark physician, a veteran scout, who is chairman of the council's organization committee.

Further assurance of increased scouting activities in Belleville will be seen with the charter application of four other new units. Organization also is being affected in St. Peter's Church, where about fifty boys are meeting; Wesley M. E. Church, which is quartering about thirty boys, and Grace Baptist Church, where eight men are reorganizing. The probable troop numbers will be Nos. 375, 301 and 386, respectively. Belleville Post, American Legion, also will sponsor a new scout troop in the not-too-distant future.

Steps Up In Navy

Expecting to leave for Honolulu shortly Elwood MacQuilken spent the last ten days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred MacQuilken, 138 Joramaleen street. Elwood recently joined the navy, this having been his chief ambition since he was in grammar school.

Mr. MacQuilken has received many honors during his stay in the Navy. His first ambition was to become a junior petty officer. This was achieved.

On retiring the former secretary was presented with a life membership in the Elks.

Officers will be installed at the next meeting by Alexander Slavov, past exalted ruler of Morristown lodge.

Mr. Deeny will install Montclair lodge officers on Thursday evening, April 14. Many Belleville Elks will accompany him and from there the group will go to West Orange lodge for the installation of officers the same night.

Camp Fire Girls of Greylock School Give Program Observing Twenty-fifth Anniversary

After Flag Salute and Bible Lesson a Playlet, "What Is Campfire" was Presented

The Camp Fire Girls attending Greylock School were in charge of the assembly program at the school last Wednesday morning. This was in honor of Camp Fire's twenty-sixth birthday, which occurred on March 17. Avery Seymour read the Bible lesson and Barbara Brinkerhoff led the salute to the flag.

The girls presented a playlet, "What is Camp Fire." Ruth Shannon, dressed in a ceremonial gown, had the leading role and gave the credo, with a bit about Camp Fire's history. The following girls gave dialogues to show some of the activities involved in the earning of honors in the various crafts: Evelyn Ackerman and Gertrude Wilson, home craft; Eleanor Bowden and Dorothy Carpenter, health craft; Mary McManus and Lois Burrington, hand craft; Shirley Nielson and Betty Ray Brown, business craft; Eleanor Sherman and Eleanor Trommler, camp craft; Lois Weber and Joyce Shannon, nature craft; Lenore Fischer and Mabel Harris, citizenship.

The program was concluded when Ruth Shannon gave the meaning of the various honor beads and explained the symbolism of the ranks. She was assisted in this part of the program by Barbara Brinkerhoff and Avery Seymour. The girls filed back on the platform and sang their favorite song, "Mammy Moon" and from behind the curtain, echoed the Wohelo cheer.

On Saturday afternoon, March 26, seventeen girls accompanied by their guardians, Miss Claramae Brodhead, Miss Grace Martling and Miss Helen Colehame and several of the parents attended a Grand Council Fire in Bogota. The girls from Belleville were in charge of the Candle Lighting Service and those participating were Eleanor Sherman, Ruth Shannon, Jean Keith and Gertrude Wilson. The theme of the Council Fire was "This Land of Ours" and was based on the birthday project for the year, which was conservation.

Lois Weber and Shirley Nielson of the Kleka Camp Fire and Jean Keith and Katherine O'Brien of the Layanore Group were awarded their Trail Seeker's pins.

American Legion Auxiliary Gives Party To Commemorate Organization Founding

County Commander W. J. Doyle Commends Post and Auxiliary for "Spendid Progress" Made In Belleville

A birthday dinner party, commemorating the organization of the American Legion nineteen years ago, was given by Belleville Unit No. 105, American Legion Auxiliary, Monday evening at the American Legion Post rooms, 170 Washington avenue.

George Bingham, local post commander, and about thirty members of the post were present. After the dinner was served, Mrs. Arthur Christie, unit president, gave an address of welcome and presented the gavel of honor to Commander Bingham, who then acted as toastmaster. Guest speakers included Mayor William H. Williams and Mrs. Williams, Essex County Legion Commander William J. Doyle, County Vice Commander Richard D. Shannon and Elmer S. Hyde, both members of Belleville Post. Other officers of the post present were William I. LaBaugh, junior vice commander, Finance Officer Harold N. Congleton and past commanders, Thomas Fleming, Cephas Brainard, Arthur B. Christie, Robert P. Smith and Henry Dennison.

County Commander Doyle in his remarks, praised the post and auxiliary for the splendid progress made in legion and auxiliary activity in Belleville, and thanked the post members for the contribution in membership, having exceeded their quota earlier in the year.

The American Legion and its auxiliary devotes its activities primarily

Inter-Troop Rally

A rally was held on Tuesday evening at the Silver Lake Friendly Community House, between Boy Scout Troops No. 90 of that place, No. 88 of Christ Episcopal Church, 75 of St. Peter's R. C. Church, and 2 of Wesley Methodist Church. The contest was in the following subjects: Attendance, knot tying, first aid, Morse and semaphore signaling, judging, handicraft, compass and relay racing. The score was Silver Lake 46, Christ Church 44, St. Peter's Church 22, Wesley Methodist 2.

Jack E. Patrick, cub leader of the Christ Church troop, won the swimming race, but this was not counted in the total number of points. John S. Charlton was in charge of the rally. Harvey Maden, assistant scout executive, Robert Treat Council; W. Douglas Clark, Jr., district commissioner; Harry F. Brumbach, member of the camp committee, Robert Treat Council; scoutmasters and several fathers were present, as was Rev. Benedetto Pascale, pastor of the Italian Baptist Church. A number of cubs also attended.

Silver Fox Patrol

The Silver Fox Patrol of Christ Episcopal Church Boy Scout Troop 88, met on Wednesday evening at the home of William Allen, DeWitt avenue. Those present were the leader, John Idenden, Herbert Bohler, Sam Cocks, William Frame, George Maginnis, David Nelson, Ernest Reock, Roy Wager and Robert Weiss. They practiced for the inter-troop rally. The patrol went on a hike to Great Notch, on Saturday, although it rained, and they constructed a lean-to for shelter, covering it with their raincoats and pine branches, and practiced fire building and cooking, turning over logs to secure dry wood. After the weather cleared, they explored and practiced tracking, following their leader, Idenden, who went ahead, "blazing the trail." Troops 88, Christ Episcopal and 90, Silver Lake Community House, are planning a rally, to be held in the near future.

G. R. Gerard Opens Vigorous Campaign

Cities Survey Figures to Show Efficiency in Departments

Public Safety Director George R. Gerard this week opened a vigorous campaign for re-election to the Belleville Board of Commissioners at the town election Tuesday, May 10. Commissioner Gerard is completing his first term as a member of the municipal board.

As he stated in the formal announcement of his candidacy last Friday, Commissioner Gerard is making his bid for re-election upon his record as former School Superintendent and as head of the Public Safety Department during the past four years, of which the fire, police, signal and recreation departments, are units.

In line with this, the Public Safety Director has drawn upon the results of a survey made recently by the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce of fire and police department costs in municipalities of this state having a population of over 20,000.

"The survey revealed," said Director Gerard, "that of thirty-two municipalities—excluding five because their fire and police departments are wholly or partly volunteer—Belleville pays the least for fire and police protection and its crime toll and fire losses are the lowest." From charts accompanying the survey report, the Director cited:

"Belleville's police cost per capita was $3.23 and the fire cost, $2.42. Hackensack and West Orange, both comparable to Belleville in population, reported higher per capita costs for both services. Hackensack's police cost was $5.08 and its fire cost, $4.64. The West Orange figures were $5.61 for police and $4.57 for fire.

"The major crime toll in Belleville during the last four years has been negligible, the men have been alert and efficient and the service has commanded the respect of the community. Likewise, the fire department has been particularly effective as attested to by Belleville's low per capita fire loss of $2.42. This compares extremely favorably with Hackensack's per capita loss of $4.64 and with $4.57 for West Orange. These figures also were taken from the State Chamber of Commerce report."

The committee supervising Director Gerard's campaign met Monday night and a women's auxiliary unit met Wednesday night at the commissioner's home in Rossmore place. Another group will meet tonight (Friday). The commissioner is receiving the enthusiastic support of a large number of the town's younger voters, many of whom were educated in the Belleville schools during the nearly three decades the director served as supervising principal.

Named Chanceman In Essex Falls

Appointment of Rohnstock Causes West Essex Flurry

Fred E. Rohnstock, Jr., of Belleville, has been appointed a chanceman in Essex Falls Borough as "an emergency" because, it is said, by Borough Attorney Williams, the two Essex Falls applicants were "not qualified," and the police committee found it necessary to go outside the borough for its selection.

John A. Bolger, a lawyer, of 260 Roseland avenue, said he was not satisfied and that the appointment might be legally contested. Attorney Williams replied it was his opinion a chanceman was not a member of the police department and therefore, Bolger's contention that under the state home rule act of 1917, a borough policeman had to be a resident of that borough for two years prior to appointment, did not hold true.

Bolger, who said he appeared as one of several interested residents and as a representative of one of the two unsuccessful Essex Falls applicants, declared he objected to the appointment of an "outsider." There were twenty-eight out-of-town applicants for the job which pays a salary of $130 per month, starting today.

Lively Discussion

of business activity, they will overcome all these obstacles that impede their progress.

Mr. Smith, the last speaker, maintained that the place of women is in the home.

"The greatest career for a woman," he said, "is in the home. There she can make the most successful career."

Mr. Smith cited the fact that the homes of America form the foundation of our democracy and that the woman, in whose trust these homes are placed, therefore are the guardians of this democracy. He approved, however, of the fine charitable and human work which many women do outside of the home. But, he maintained, the first responsibility of woman, is to her home and family.

After the speakers finished, a lively discussion took place from the floor. It was announced that the next session will take place on Wednesday, April 20.

Poster Contest Winner

Miss Genevieve Holland

Genevieve Holland has completed work on a poster, which portrays a man holding the world on his shoulders. The letters, "The World's Fair of 1939," are in black and red. The background of the poster is completed in white and gold.

Miss Holland received first prize in the county school district. The poster will be entered in a state competition. If Miss Holland wins this award she will be presented with a silver cup. Then, the poster will be in competition for the World's Fair prize of 1939, in New York.

Some Problems of Family Life Today

By Mrs. Julia Reiner, Executive Secretary, Community Service Bureau

The Limitations of Friendly Advice.

It is natural for the person in trouble to turn to some one for advice, guidance and reassurance. Often people seek the help of friends and relatives when difficulties arise or crucial decisions need to be made. In some instances, the interested relative or friendly neighbor can be of help in making necessary plans and in weighing the advantages and disadvantages of a particular step.

In certain situations, however, a person in difficulty might have a natural reluctance to turn to those close at hand. The character of the problem might be one that could be discussed with less reserve and embarrassment with some one outside his intimate group where there would be no risk of straining or disturbing valued relationships. In some circumstances, too, the person might hesitate to demand the time and attention of the particular friend in his own circle in whom he would be able to place his confidence and trust. If the problem is complicated, perhaps involving technical legal or medical knowledge, there might be the added difficulty of finding some one who would be able to serve him competently.

Under some circumstances, the friendly adviser might actually fail in his purpose. He might view the difficulty in terms of his own experience—or lack of experience—and overlook the feelings and desires of the person seeking the advice. It might seem quite logical to some one not familiar with issues of this character to suggest separation or court action to a woman whose husband is drinking or failing to support her. But such advice might actually lead to further complications if it failed to consider the degree of the woman's attachment, her continued hope for change, her unwillingness to abandon a husband she loved. In the same way an adequate person might have difficulty in understanding the uneasiness, timidity and uncertainty of some one who had failed in various enterprises. From his own comfortable and assured point of view, the problem would have little meaning, and the advice, which might be designed to push the troubled person into action, would result only in adding to his discomfort and anxiety.

Relatives and friends, too, are often at a disadvantage in attempting to advise in matters of personal adjustment. To the person unfamiliar with the intricacies of human behavior, the problems usually seem confusing and the hope for improvement slight. Perhaps nothing is more disturbing to a responsible family than to have one of its members fail repeatedly at school, or have difficulty at work, or be irresponsible in financial dealings. The family may be sympathetic, and attempt to achieve improvement through pleading or mild discipline. But if these measures do not succeed, the family may feel entirely helpless in dealing with the problem when subsequent difficulties arise. Other puzzling behavior such as extreme worry, over-concern about health when there is no actual illness, withdrawal from social contacts, chronic irritability, etc., also leave the members of a family bewildered and confused. It is difficult for them to believe in the possibility of change, especially if their own plans and suggestions have not brought about the desired improvement.

Lenten Tea

A very interesting musical program, sponsored by the Missionary Society, was presented at Wesley M. E. Church on Wednesday afternoon. Those who took part, are Mildred Davies, accompanist; Frances Schild, soprano; Margaret D. Akers, pianist; and Anna Bunnell, Jessie Fritts and Elsie Ballentine. The last three with Mrs. Akers formed a quartette, which rendered several numbers.

The same talent will provide the program on Saturday at 3 P. M., at the Congregational Church at Second avenue and Garside street, Newark.

G. R. Gerard

Public Safety Director George R. Gerard has lived in Belleville more than thirty years, and believes that he is so well known, that he can say little here that will enable you to know him better. He served twenty-seven years as the head of the local Public School system, and thousands of Belleville's sons and daughters know him as their friend.

During that time he was prominent in state school affairs, serving as president of the State Teachers' Association and as a founder of the State Schoolmasters' Club. He has always been active in civic affairs, particularly during the war times of 1917-18, when he headed many of Belleville's patriotic efforts in aid of his country.

Mr. Gerard has always supported the social and cultural projects of the community strongly, participating in all the efforts for the betterment of his home town, and the help of many of its citizens.

For the past four years he has served as one of your Town Commissioners, having charge of Public Safety, which includes the departments of Fire and Police, the Town Clerk's office, the Police Judge's Court and the Recreation Commission.

He did not seek this department, but has administered this difficult branch of a town or city's government so well that it has been entirely free from the troubles that so frequently beset this enforcing arm of a community's public service.

Recent state reports show the economy with which Mr. Gerard has conducted the affairs of his department, and yet maintained their services at a high state of efficiency. Among twenty-seven of the largest towns and cities in New Jersey, the police and fire costs per capita in Belleville are the lowest in the state. Examples of this are shown by comparison with Hackensack and West Orange, two cities nearest Belleville in size. The latest published report shows the yearly police costs in these three municipalities as Hackensack, $124,880; West Orange, $136,475; and Belleville, $87,050. The fire costs for the same towns and time, are—Hackensack, $114,875; West Orange, $111,132, and Belleville, $65,225.

These things have been accomplished without reduction in salaries or impairment of services, for the police department has solved every crime in Belleville during the past four years, and the fire loss here has been almost negligible.

The town's signal system has been so well maintained that the National Board of Fire Underwriters recently gave it high praise. The Town Clerk's office is noted for its efficiency and economy, as all who come in contact there, know. The work of our Police Judge is cited widely for fairness and justice. The Recreation Department offers a constantly expanding service at a very low cost.

This foregoing record is not a promise of what Mr. Gerard will do, but rather a statement of what he has done. It is easy to promise, but far harder to perform.

On this record, Mr. Gerard offers his candidacy, and asks your continued support.

ACTIVITIES ALONG THE POLITICAL SECTOR

W. D. Clark

Director of Parks and Public Property William D. Clark has lived in Belleville thirty-five years, at 121 Floyd street, moving here when there were only one or two houses in the entire Greylock section. He has been interested in civic affairs ever since he came to Belleville, organizing the Greylock Hose Company, Greylock Improvement Association and being the first president of the Board of Trade.

In 1915, Director Clark became the first president of the North Belleville Building & Loan Association and has been its only president since then. He is a member of the Rod and Gun Club and enjoys outdoor life, especially fishing activities. Belleville's town ambulance, the best equipment of its kind, was provided the town by the ingenuity of Director Clark, without any cost to taxpayers.

Director Clark is proud of the fact that his children, who were raised in Belleville, attended Belleville schools, are all married and all now live in Belleville.

Mr. Clark, who completed forty years in the employ of the Fidelity Casualty Insurance Company, New York, on January 3, is an executive officer of that firm.

The director is a firm believer in Belleville.

His public life includes two terms as Director of Public Safety, head of the police and fire departments, and one term as Director of Parks and Public Property. He feels that this experience is invaluable to any one seeking public office.

Heads Nutley Club

Joseph Scarpell, 38 Greylock place, a popular member of the last year's class of Belleville High School, recently was elected president of the Nutley Pleasure Club.

Joe played baseball for the high school last year and is playing this year for the Nutley club.

Undergoes Operation

LeRoy S. Graham, 47 Floyd street, a salesman for George T. Meade, auto dealer, is in St. Barnabas Hospital, Newark, following an operation for ulcers of the stomach. At the hospital yesterday, it was reported that Mr. Graham's condition is serious but that he was as well as could be expected.

BIOGRAPHIES OF CANDIDATES

ANENT BIOGRAPHIES

The Belleville News offers weekly this page for candidates to set forth biographies. Each candidate may write his own biography and it will appear from now until election on this page. This is in keeping with the policy of this newspaper to maintain its independent attitude and to show a fairness to candidates and taxpayers, alike, who are interested in municipal election on May 10. This newspaper takes no part in preparation of the biographies and leaves it to the candidates to set forth as fully as they desire, within reasonable limits, what they have accomplished. We believe that such biographies, if properly prepared, will afford Belleville voters a better opportunity to study the qualifications of each one who seeks public office. It is our aim to see, that as far as this newspaper is concerned, Belleville's municipal campaign is conducted on a high level. We are pleased to offer this service for the good of the town.

Elmer S. Hyde

Elmer S. Hyde, 275 Little street, is a highly successful broker with offices at 87 Maiden lane, New York City. He specializes in surety bonds. He is president of Elmer S. Hyde, Inc., which firm he organized and developed to the largest of its kind in the United States. He is also president of the Beverly Corporation, and is a member of the finance board of the New Jersey Baptist Convention.

Born in New York City February 6, 1897, Mr. Hyde attended public schools there and reached the top of the ladder the hard way, starting in business at thirteen for the Illinois Surety Company at $2 per week. When he was fifteen he was soliciting business for the same company and continued in that line until the time of the World War, when he enlisted in the 417th Telegraph Battalion, which immediately found its way to France, where Mr. Hyde was engaged in much of the severe fighting. After the Armistice he went into Germany with the Army of Occupation, returning to America in May, 1919.

At that time he continued in business where he left off and in 1921 married Miss Jessie Barber of New York. The couple moved immediately to Belleville and took up residence in Little street, where they purchased the home which they now occupy. Subsequently Mr. Hyde purchased other property in Belleville.

The same year he started his own business, which was successful from the beginning. From that year until the present not only has Mr. Hyde been active civically, but his wife also has played a part in Belleville's civic growth.

Mrs. Hyde is vice-president of the Woman's Club and has been interested with her husband in many charitable projects in Belleville and elsewhere in the state, as well as church activities. Mrs. Hyde is president of the Newark Home for the Aged. Mr. Hyde is president of the board of trustees of Grace Baptist Church and has played a very important part in its financial affairs.

Mr. Hyde is a member of Belleville Post, American Legion; Newark Athletic Club and fraternal organizations. He is a member and one of the organizers of the Community Service Bureau and president of the Men's Club of Grace Baptist Church. The Hydys have seven lovely children, Helen, Judith, Margo, Audrey, James Irwin, Arthur and Beth.

Joseph King

Commissioner Joseph King, director of Public Affairs, is a former Essex County freeholder and has long been active in civic affairs. During the past four years Commissioner King has served the town as head of the health, welfare and building departments. He also has had direction over the Shade Tree Commission and the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

For nearly four years Commissioner King has served as building inspector without extra compensation, effecting a saving for the town of over $10,000 in this department, alone. He has inaugurated other economies and has increased efficiency in all town departments under his administration.

Perhaps Commissioner King's most difficult task has been that of handling public welfare. Early in 1936 when the full load of the relief burden was placed on the town, Commissioner King assumed responsibility of caring for those in need. Administration of relief in Belleville has been effective and efficient under his direction.

Soon after his election to the Town Commission in 1934, Commissioner King tackled the problem of eliminating dumping grounds in the Silver Lake and Valley sections, which has long been a source of annoyance to Belleville residents. Within six months the dumping grounds were completely filled in and covered over with earth at his direction. He has since insisted that dumping of garbage be prohibited within the limits of the town.

Although Commissioner King devotes much of his time to his duties as town commissioner he also has other civic and business interests. As a member of the firm of Davidson and King, builders, real estate and insurance company, and as president of the Clover Building and Loan Association and the Belleville Realty Investment Corporation, he has had much to do with the development of Belleville.

Commissioner King is a director of the First National Bank of Belleville and a charter member of the Belleville Welfare Federation. He has been a director of the Community Service Bureau and has served in every Community Chest drive. He also is a past president of the Belleville Rotary Club.

A resident of Belleville nearly thirty years, Commissioner King makes his home at 28 Malone avenue with his wife and son, a high school student.

Andrew Boyajian

Andrew Boyajian, 246 Washington avenue, who conducts a tailor shop at that address, was born in Lowell, Mass., thirty-one years ago. He has been in Belleville since he was seven years old, attending Public School No. 1, Belleville High School, Class of 1925; New Jersey Law School for two years and Columbia University, College of Fine Arts.

Mr. Boyajian worked for Westinghouse, Belleville Base Plant, three years and then entered the tailoring business which was conducted by his mother, Mrs. Ponia Boyajian. He has written for the Haverik, a newspaper devoted to interest of Armenians in this country. He also wrote poetry and short stories for several magazines.

During the twentieth anniversary of the Sinclair Oil Refining Company he wrote the technical copy for their minstrel show of the air.

His only effort at writing a scenario was sent to Universal Studios. He heard no more of the incident.

Mr. Boyajian says: "I want fair representation for the younger element in town. This group represents the majority in voting lists and should be ably represented by a young man."

He has besides his mother, two brothers, Joseph, Maplewood, and Sarkis, Arlington, Mass.

Edward G. Smith

Edward G. Smith, a citizen and taxpayer in Belleville during the last twelve years, was born of humble parents on a farm at St. Mary's, Pa., on May 10, 1894. His father died in 1899, leaving his mother with seven children who had to struggle along at tremendous odds to make a livelihood.

Edward, who was a precocious child, was the only one in the family to graduate from high school. Being conscientious, energetic and insistent he finished high school with the unique distinction of neither being absent or tardy during four years, although he was forced to walk to and from school a distance of three miles, daily. Besides his studies he helped with his share of the daily chores, morning and evening.

Upon graduation he completed a special course at Penn State College. He taught school four years at the meager salary of $40 per month. During vacation and off days, he was employed as clerk and carrier in the post office.

Then came the World War. Mr. Smith offered his services and enlisted in the U. S. Regular Army. His promotion was rapid. Within eleven months he was promoted from private to sergeant, first class. He successfully passed a rigid test for entrance to the Officers' Training Camp at Jacksonville, Fla. Had hostilities not ceased on that memorable day, November 11, 1918, Sergeant Smith, undoubtedly, would have been commissioned. His handling of men and conscientious efforts in saving government supplies gained for him the respect and confidence of every officer and enlisted man in the camp.

Mr. Smith has been conducting a successful restaurant business in Forest Hill section of Newark the last seventeen years and attributes his success to his diligent and tireless efforts and irresistible command of confidence and respect.

Mr. Smith lives with his family at 232 Ralph street. He is the proud father of three children, Edward, Jr., 14; Marilyn, two and one-half; and Richard, one. Mr. Smith will be forty-four on election day.

Patrick A. Waters

Seeking his fourth term on May 10, Patrick A. Waters stands out as a commissioner who has, at all times, held the welfare of Belleville and its citizens as the paramount issue in every controversy that has arisen during his incumbency.

Born sixty-two years ago on the same spot at which he now resides and from which he has never moved, his name and the name of his brother, John Waters, who served as Mayor for twelve years has, during that period, spelled progress to the Town of Belleville.

His mother and father settled here seventy years ago in 1868 and the family has since then kept an uninterrupted residence.

Commissioner Waters has served as Director of the Department of Public Works for the twelve years he has been in office and is justly proud of his accomplishments during that period. He points with pride to the pamphlet recently published by the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce showing the per capita cost for the operation of his department as the second lowest in the State of New Jersey. This cost of $1.61 per person is a decided contrast to a neighboring municipality with a cost for similar functions of $3.05.

The commissioner has the enviable record of being employed by the Eastwood-Neally Corporation of Belleville for the past forty-five years and is now superintendent of the weaving division of this plant.

His charitable works are known from one end of the town to the other and many a desperate family have been sent back on the road to happiness by the aid which he has always so freely given.

Living in Belleville all his life, working in Belleville all his working life, and serving Belleville conscientiously all his political life, he can be justly termed as a real Bellevillite in every sense of the word.

FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1938

If we are indifferent, if we are selfish, the world will go to pieces.—Mme. Chiang Kai-shek.

HELPING BUILD BETTER CITIZENS

The civic spirit of the Wallace & Tiernan Company in fostering a Boy Scout troop, under jurisdiction of Robert Treat Council, with which Belleville scouts are affiliated, sets an example for other industrial firms to follow. The idea of industrialists sponsoring such troops started in Bridgeport, Conn., recently, and the effort was greeted with marked success. This is the first time Essex County has witnessed such cooperation.

Wallace & Tiernan Company, through its president, Martin F. Tiernan, have always played a large part in the civic growth of Belleville. This is another example of their splendid work in Belleville's behalf—a desire on their part which comes from the heart—to see this town become one of the finest in the country.

Aside from the community angle, the company is presenting a thought that might well be copied by others. The company offers its plant as a meeting place. The result of the plan will be that boys, who otherwise might find unfit companions on street corners, will be afforded a good, clean, wholesome environment. In the long run industry will be equipped with better employees from the ranks of scout-trained boys.

W. Douglas Clark, local scout commissioner, hopes to see the industrial movement spread to other industry here and, perhaps in the future, broaden to cover the entire country.

The commissioner points out to this paper that figures show that one-half per cent of our population is represented in boys of scout age—from twelve to sixteen. For Belleville this means that 1,500 boys are of that age. Recently Mr. Clark had inquiry from a New York bank for a young employee. The stipulation was that the employee must have had scout training. If this training consisted of minor requirements in scouting, a further stipulation was a college education. The bank, however, would have accepted an Eagle Scout, the highest ranking designation, provided that scout had had only high school education.

Eagle scout award is given to a boy who passes thirty-two tests. It represents the acme of scout life and lists its recipient as an outstanding boy.

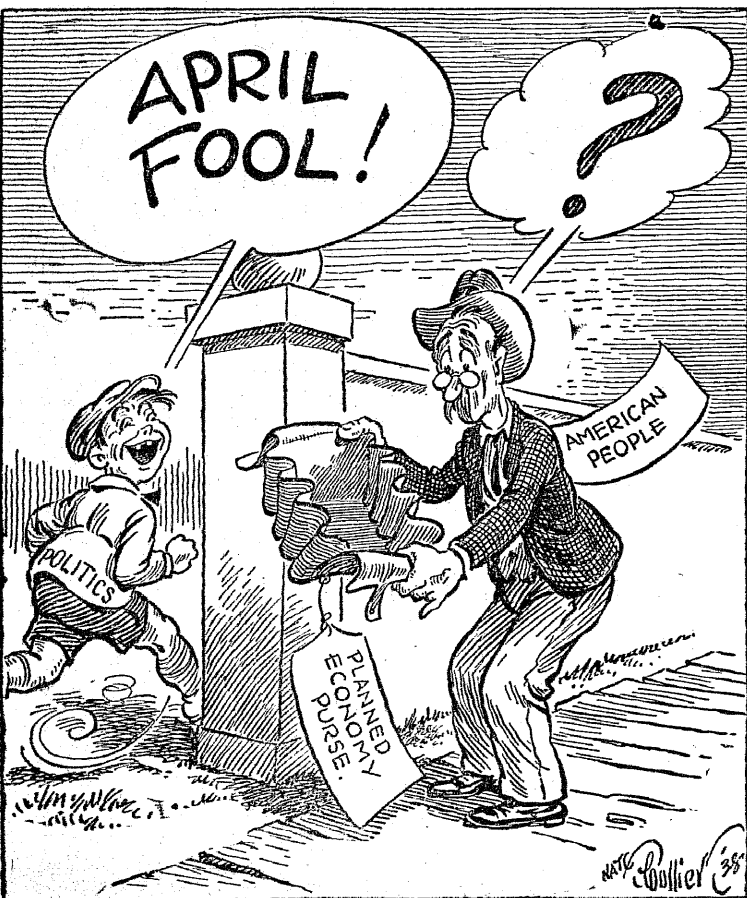

TEACHERS UP IN ARMS

Repercussions by way of ballots are apt to follow the action of the State Legislature Tuesday in deciding to withhold this year's payment to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund in the amount of $4,330,000 until 1942, when it is said, the amount will be returned with three per cent interest, payable semi-annually until then. Withholding of the contribution is said to be necessary to handle relief.

Regardless of whether the fund can stand tapping it does not seem logical for the state officials to pass on to a future legislature the obligation of finding a way to reimburse the teachers' fund, even if there is an idea now of a possible later fund transfer. Each year the teachers contribute a portion of their salaries for pensions, which contribution is met in like amount by the state. There are many beneficiaries of the fund, and many more who hope to be, who view with apprehension the latest action. If this tapping of the teachers' fund is reasonable, many are wondering what eventually, along kindred lines, may happen to social security collections and old age pension funds. There are many older teachers who receive pensions based on salaries of years ago—anywhere up to $1,500 top, who now at half pay, receive only $750. They could not afford to travel to Trenton to protest the action. It is certain that the boomerang will find their way ballotwards—for the teachers can be as ornery as any other group when some one for political expediency tampers with a fund that they hold almost sacred.

ALL-SPORTS DINNER

Belleville High School athletes will be in their glory tomorrow night when the All-Sports Dinner will be staged in the High School cafeteria. Football, baseball, basketball and track men will be honored along with the cheer leaders. An elaborate program has been arranged with School Board President Herbert C. Schmutz scheduled to act as master of ceremonies and Harry Harmon, Rutgers' new coach, as speaker. Supporters of the High School athletic teams will be out in numbers. Truly all roads will lead to the High School cafeteria, where the youthful athletes and sports followers will shine before the oldsters.

BEGINNING TO SPROUT

THIS WEEK

By "GUARDIAN"

The views expressed in the column, "This Week," are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

April first!
No foolin'.

One-quarter of 1938 gone—and to many of us New Year's seems only so far back as last week.

We can fool ourselves about a lot of things, but we can't fool the calendar.

Abraham Lincoln delivered one of the world's outstanding epigrams about fooling when he said: "If you once forfeit the confidence of your fellow citizens, you can never regain their respect and esteem. It is true that you may fool all the people some of the time; you can even fool some of the people all the time; but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

A good many of us fooled ourselves into a sense of security that the Senate would not pass the Reorganization Bill, but it was passed and is now before the House of Representatives for action.

A good many people are fooling themselves into a false sense of security in thinking that this Reorganization Bill does not strike at the fundamental principles of our American system of government. A good many people fool themselves if they think that this Reorganization Bill may not well be the first step toward dictatorship in this country—and that is why we must be concerned about it.

Last week we pointed out that in many respects the Reorganization Bill permits the President to usurp the powers of the Legislative branch of our government. It does other things, too. For instance, it replaces the present bi-partisan Civil Service Commission with a single commissioner, responsible only to the President. Now surely even the strongest advocates of the present administration will admit that the Roosevelt Democratic machine has concentrated an excessive amount of effort in getting Democrats on the public payroll. The statement has been made that there are 300,000 members of the Democratic party that have been placed on the payroll that are not now covered by Civil Service. If this Reorganization Bill finally becomes law, then the bi-partisan Civil Service Commission will be replaced by a single commissioner—a Democrat—and if he, as it would be natural to expect, were keenly interested in entrenching Democrats on the governmental payrolls, then these 300,000 now under Civil Service could be taken into the Civil Service and given tenure and protection that comes from Civil Service appointments. If that is so, it is a vicious example of the political doctrine that "to the victors belong the spoils."

Another serious objection that we have to the Reorganization Bill is that it makes many quasi-judicial bodies such as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, the Communications Commission, the T. V. A., etc., solely responsible to the President and not to the Congress. In other words, the President is the boss—the sole boss—and since any man, however exalted his position, realizes that to keep his job he has got to suit his boss, the President in effect would be in control of these semi-judicial organizations which have such a large share of responsibility in the administration of our present system of government.

Mind you, we are not saying that the present President would do these things. We are not numbered among those who blame all of the ills of the country on the President—and we refuse, despite many criticisms that we have in justice felt forced to make—to question his motives and intentions. But this Bill, if passed, would form a basic part of the country's law and as we pointed out last week, will exist just so long as a President can obtain the support of one-third of the Congress. We do not know what type of man might be our President in the future. We do not know how a man of the type of the late Huey Long might use the power conferred on a President by this bill—and so we are earnestly against the final passage of this proposed legislation because it is fraught with danger to the future of our country.

If enough people in this country feel the same way about it as we do, and if enough of us communicate with our Representatives in the House, there is still time to have the Bill so modified that essential governmental reorganization can take place without upsetting or violating our fundamental American principles. If you feel that way about it, wire TODAY to our Congressman, Fred A. Hartley, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Yours 'til next week,
"GUARDIAN."

OUTDOORS BECKONS

The amateur artisans of the backyard garden, doing their part to make an often dreary and somewhat disillusioning world a more glorious place in which to live, seem to be bubbling over with joy these days. Nights now, you see them going home in buses and hopping off the old Erie at Cleveland street or Belleville stations, a rake in one hand, a fat package in the other. They pay little attention to their fellow passengers. That far-away look is in their eyes and the expression on their faces dreamy. Smiles of satisfaction play quietly over their lips. Facts and figures from which they earn their daily bread and which they have wrestled with all day are forgotten. But homeward bound, they have entered another world, one bright with beauty, not built of steam and steel, but one bounded by blue skies, sunrise and sunset and the good earth. Spring is truly in the air. We may be dreaming about all this—but, no. Visit any local hardware store and watch these self-same folks, selecting tools, grass seed, paint, fertilizer and the million and one things that symbolize this glorious time of year, when homeowners' fancy lightly turns to thoughts of gardening.

PIQUANT POLITICS

By MEADOR WRIGHT

The views expressed in the column, "Piquant Politics," are entirely those of Mr. Wright and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

William Seely, Newark.
Dear Mr. Seely:

As the recognized leader of the present Clean Government movement, you, more than anyone else, are responsible both for its character and its reputation. As such, you must have directed the filing of dummy petitions for the three Essex Congressional districts, thereby appropriating the Clean Government slogan for candidates that you and your two colleagues on the committee on vacancies might select. As an experienced political leader you must have realized the responsibility that you were assuming in thus setting up yourself as the judge of who might be entitled to run for Congress under the designation that thousands of Republican voters trust and follow.

Do you think that you were fulfilling properly this responsibility when you allegedly promised the Clear Government designation to Mr. Robert W. Kean of Livingston for the Twelfth District? Did you not pledge the designation either in the hope of promise that Mr. Kean's father, former Senator Hamilton F. Kean, would make a handsome campaign contribution to your wing of the Republican party? I am sure a great many of the readers of this column especially those from the Twelfth District, will appreciate an answer to these questions. The questions are based upon very persistent rumors which, if not true, should be spiked as soon as possible, in fairness both to Mr. Kean and yourself.

County Chairman.
W. Stanley Naughton,
Dear Stanley:

As the titular Republican leader in Essex it is your responsibility to get out the vote. For this, you need money, a great deal of it. Realizing this, I can almost forgive the determined fight that you already have made to have Mr. Robert W. Kean on the slate of candidates to be endorsed by Clean Government. Necessity like charity covers a multitude of sins, and a campaign contribution if big enough, is more charity than sin. What I am afraid of, Stanley is that you have not driven the best deal possible. If the Twelfth District was to be bartered for political milk and honey, you might conceivably have gotten more had you advertised a public auction. The Roman Empire was once sold in such a fashion, and the bargain is not already signed, sealed and delivered, I will gladly offer you space in this column for bid and ask quotations. The range of prices might furnish valuable information on just how bad the present depression is, and thereby assist in alleviating it.

Clayton E. Freeman,
State Chairman,
Dear Mr. Freeman:

You are relatively a new figure in politics and, I believe, an honorable one. Certainly your actions are entitled to the benefit of the doubt. But what about these rumors that Mr. Kean is to get Clean Government endorsement in return for a campaign contribution from his father? You must remember the reports of sums almost unbelievably large that were spent by or for Mr. Hamilton F. Kean in 1928. A repetition of such reports about the campaign of 1938 will do Clean Government no good, neither in the county nor the state.

Arthur T. Vanderbilt,
Short Hills,
Dear Arthur:

The reports are that you have taken little or no part in the selection of Essex Republican candidates this year. But this letter is to suggest that it might be well for you to give the work of your colleagues a little supervisory attention. Your political creed has long been one of expediency—by expediency I mean a stern injunction against carrying such expediency too far. In twenty years of uninterrupted Essex leadership, you have never forfeited the right to the use of the slogan, "Clean Government." Nor have you ever betrayed the public interest for your own gain. As a student of national affairs, you doubtless realize the importance of Essex County, along with the rest of the nation, sending the very best men available to Congress this fall. Do you think the alleged action of your Clean Government colleagues in virtually freezing out all candidates from the Twelfth District, save the one whose endorsement is expected to bring the biggest campaign contribution, is helpful to our nation in these confused and trying times? Others may take Congressional candidates lightly, but you realize the importance of sending to Washington good men.

Senator Lester H. Clee.
Dear Dr. Clee:

You are more than a leader of Clean Government in Essex. You are the movement's symbol. Moreover, it is your candidacy upon which many of your colleagues depend to carry the slate to victory. Were you not running, they would not dare endorse a weak candidate for ulterior reasons than stronger candidates are available. More than average responsibility, thus, is yours to see that the Twelfth Congressional District is not exchanged for thirty pieces of political silver. To all, faithfully and charitably yours, MEADOR WRIGHT.

New Jersey Today

Chief Factors in Rural Tax Delinquency.

Prepared for the Belleville News by Dr. Maurice F. Neufeld, acting secretary, New Jersey State Planning Board.

Aside from the chronic problem of efficient tax collections and annual tax sales and the effect of a general economic depression, the chief factors which appear to contribute, in varying degrees, to the problem of rural tax delinquency in New Jersey include: (1) The existence of large areas of rural land, especially in South Jersey, which are unfarmed and forested, and which are subject, under private ownership, to periodic attempts of various kinds to make them income-producing; (2) the apparent lack of relation between present rural land use and soil potentiality; (3) the existence of small farms in certain counties of the state which are uneconomical in size and have been sold extensively to inexperienced city dwellers by high-pressure methods; and (4) inequitable or excessive tax rates and assessed valuations as reflected in variations in the tax per acre of farm land of substantially similar potentiality. The possible disproportionate taxation burden which rural real property may bear in relation to other types of real property is another important consideration, not covered by this report, but probably justifying careful study.

During the depression, the breakdown of municipal finance was general and the percentage of tax delinquency throughout the country doubled in the period from 1928 to 1936. While an adequate analysis of tax delinquency must be treated against a background of general economic and social conditions, experience has nevertheless indicated that there are substantial grounds for approaching tax delinquency, at least partially, as a problem in the effective administration of tax collection laws. For this reason, before turning to a consideration of the more fundamental aspects of tax delinquency, a review of the administrative experience of urban as well as rural sections in New Jersey under present State Tax Laws is desirable.

WRIT BITS

by John E. Smith

FAME

The other evening towards its close, This thought so curious to me came: What is the point of view of those Who've reached the pinnacle of fame?

Oh! famous ones, what's it about, You, who are in distinction's clouds; How does it feel, thus singled out, Who get the homage of the crowds?

To know the whole world's watching you, And keeping you in lime-light's glare, To know where you are, what you do, Your movements follow everywhere.

How does it feel, the heights to gain, To reach at last the top-most place, With no more honors to obtain, And with no ventures now to face?

To reach the peak of one's powers, And then to meditate, and think; Is fame a thing that sometimes sours, From which one famous fain would shrink?

Is earthly fame a thing to last, As something that is rated high, Or will it soon be of the past, And flesh-like, wither, fade and die?

Ambulance Fund Drive

Reports of the ambulance fund drive sponsored by the Essex County Voiture 127, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, will be made by the organization Tuesday night at the home of Harold Weber, 18 Berkshire road, Maplewood. The members of the drive committee are requested to submit their fund reports at this session. Grover C. Ashby, Montclair, Essex chief de gare, will review the dinner dance to be held by the Grand Voiture of New Jersey, May 14, at the Essex House. The affair will be given in honor of Fred G. Fraser, chief de chemin de fer, and Captain Robert H. Rogers, grand chief de gare passe, American Legion posts, auxiliaries, voiture and salon members of New Jersey will participate in the ceremonies. Seth M. Bryant, 661 Lincoln avenue, Orange, is chairman of reservations.

A VIOLET.

A dainty violet grew amongst the trees,
It was wafted this way and that by the breeze;
It grew and grew, it was sweet and wild,
And then it was picked by the hand of a child.

PICKING BELL-BOY ATHLETES

By Bill Englemann

From the stands of the high school gym there rose a ringing cheer (mostly from the Cobras) that sounded something like "Yea Hootmon, yea, yea, Hootmon." Out on the floor a young player in a Belleville uniform grimed sheepishly and tried not to blush. "Hootmon," as you have probably guessed by now, was none other than Bob Jackson. Bob, better known to his pals as "Scotty," was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and that is the reason for his Scotch nicknames. "Scotty" and "Hootmon" are only two of many.

Bob is a senior in B. H. S. and will graduate this year. He scored seventy-eight points while playing for the high school basketball team this year. The "B" he earned this season is his first. Last year he played second team baseball and is a candidate for the outfield this year. "Scotty" is a member of the famous Cobra Athletic Club. He is also a graduate of Public School No. 3.

Invite High School

Girls to N. J. C.

Final Conference Planned

For Insight of College Life

Local high school girls who are eager to learn from first-hand experience what college life and studies are really like will have their last chance this year on April 12. At that time New Jersey College for Women will hold the third and final Pre-College Guidance Conference of the year. High schools in all parts of New Jersey and in New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware as well, have sent their college preparatory students to these conferences to spend a full day on the campus visiting classes and laboratories and talking informally with students and professors.

Because the college felt it was impossible to give high school girls a thorough understanding of more than one field of activity in a single day, the conferences have been planned according to subject matter. Home economics is the field which is to be explored on April 12 and girls who are interested in knowing about the professional fields open to college-trained women in home economics will find the program especially valuable. Careers as hospital dietitians, cafeteria managers, costume designers, room managers, clothing specialists and high school teachers of home economics, are all possibilities for girls who study home economics, and the field is one of the least crowded of all those available for college-trained women.

Mrs. Helen W. Hazen, head of the economics department at N. J. C., is faculty chairman of the conference and Miss Jane Apple, '38, of Glen Ridge is student chairman. The program includes talks by undergraduates and alumnae in the field of home economics, visits to classes and to the many home economics laboratories, lunch and tea with home economics students and a tour of the campus. Girls who are interested in attending may communicate with the Pre-College Guidance Committee, New Jersey College for Women, New Brunswick, N. J.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE TO DO?

We'll bet a plugged nickel that you have some story tucked away that your teacher thought was pretty good, but never was printed. Or, perhaps you take to writing verse. We like both serious and humorous poems. Bring whatever you have to one of the editors and when you pick up a News the next Friday you may see your masterpiece on the high school page!

What do most boys do in study period the day before a test? They draw airplanes! And the girls are drawing pretty faces! Well, why not share these pictures with others? We could use a few.

If you don't take to any of these arts, at least you have opinions. Every one does!! Put these in the form of a letter and we'll print them (provided, of course, they are interesting to the majority of the students).

Come on! Turn in something, and see what a kick you get out of seeing it in print!

RICHARD STIMSON, Managing Editor.

SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC VALUE OF THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Specific courses are not taught with the idea of making bricklayers, carpenters or printers, but to the general information of our prospective population at large. Our doctors, lawyers, jewelers, teachers or farmers can partake of the offerings and benefit greatly from it. It is true that the industrial arts is designed primarily to contribute skills in the laboratory work, but the experiences, appreciations and information is most useful in any kind of occupational life in our present economic and social order. Industrial arts is a part of our general educational program rather than a special type of vocational education. The sooner our educators and specific teachers of the industrial arts concentrate their efforts on the organization and the administration of a program for the enrichment of our industrial, economic and social life of our future citizens, the sooner will our program become the vital factor in the lives of our boys and girls in the total scheme of education and take the place its founders intended it to take.

We must at all times realize that the pupils who are to take our industrial arts courses are not receiving a special type of trade or vocational education. It is possible with practically the same equipment to teach vocational education. However, the aims, objectives, methods, organization and content must be for this specific rather than general education. From a broad enriched, correlated and integrated program to a narrow specific training for a special trade or vocation.

Since the industrial revolution our everyday life in a social and economic sense have become highly complicated. New machines and processes will be invented. Science and invention will progress. There is every evidence that our industrial organization will become more complicated. Therefore, since this is a very potent factor in the future lives of our citizenry, the majority of our population must be educated to cope with the complexities of this age. Our citizens must know something about the great industries of the United States and their significance to our everyday life. The social and economic changes must be considered in making the necessary adjustments in the many life situations.

The average American citizen can no longer escape the many contacts with the industrial world and its multiplicity of products. His intellect is constantly being challenged by the changes wrought by industrial expansion and activity. The world is the modern stage upon which its actors, the inhabitants are victims of the machine age. The curtains of this human stage could represent the economic enlightenment, which if let down or drawn too tightly, would insure chaos. The lighting effect or the degree with which we will understand our modern industrial civilization could be represented by the understanding that we have of the social implications and changes in our everyday life. We must admit that one of the dominant factors in our modern educational program must include an understanding and

Belleville High

Loses to E. Side

Local Bowlers Beaten After Taking First Game

By A. Cipolano

The Belleville High School bowling team went down to defeat at the hands of the East Side High School tappers of Newark to the tune of 2 to 1 games. The games were rolled at the Ferrara bowling alleys on Wednesday night.

The Bellboys were victors in the first game but they faltered under the East Side barrage of strikes in the next two games.

Renzak was the outstanding tosser for the Newark team with runs of 175, 193 and 250.

Wellhofer was high man for Belleville with an average of 171 per game. Ferris captured high-scoring for a single game with a 207 contribution to the Belleville total.

Paul Jones, coach of the team, will schedule more meets for Belleville in the near future. The Belleville boys rolled as follows:

Ferris	207	136	161
Volpe	160	146	141
Johnson	155	141	172
Breen	151	161	139
Wellhofer	157	180	177

an appreciation of industrial life and its effect upon social and economic life.

Our schools must participate in the activities which are actual realities in the life of our boys and girls. We must as educators, provide a training which will help in the immediate solution of our present day problems. It is imperative, the need is apparent and an immediate solution is absolutely necessary to cope with the advancement of science and industry. Too much stress is placed on the future and not enough upon the adjustments to our present problems. If we could understand and make the present adjustments we could be better prepared to plan for the future.

The primary function of our schools is to assist in the development of the individual into a happy and useful citizen. This program of education must provide adequate information concerning those activities and experiences that the citizen meets in his or her everyday life. Various school subjects make their special contribution to the total plan of the education of the "whole child." This educated person would be somewhat disintegrated should he be deprived of the contribution that the industrial arts makes to his social and economic life. An educated man must understand the important principles of the industrial arts. The industrial arts has been introduced into our modern educational program as the most direct and satisfying means of interpreting our industrial age and its social, industrial and economic effects on our daily life. We, as industrial arts teachers, must make our contribution in our special phase of education which is indeed, very necessary for the fullest enlightenment of the problems of social and economic importance which confront our American youth of today.

CONGREGATION A. A. A.

317 Washington Avenue

Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin

Regular Kabbalas Shabbos services will be held tonight at 6 P. M. Sabbath morning services will begin at 9 A. M. The junior congregation will hold its children's service at 10 o'clock of the week to the children every Saturday morning. This day is also the first day of the new Hebrew month, Nissan. Special prayers will be offered at the morning service. The Sabbath is known as "Shabbos Ha-Chodesh," literally "The Sabbath of the Month." It derives its name from the prophetic portion. The "Haftarah" of that day, taken from Exodus XII, 1-20. This is the "portion about the month," referring to the special consecration of the month of Nissan, which is the most eventful in the history of Jewry.

Sunday school will meet as usual on Sunday morning at 9:45. Regular and punctual attendance is urged for the Sunday school classes.

The study group of the sisterhood will meet on Monday night at the home of Mrs. Morris Berkowitz, 8 Hornblower avenue. All members are urged to attend. The Progressive Judeans will have a recreational meeting at the synagogue.

The sisterhood will meet on Tuesday night. All sisters are asked to attend. Many important matters for spring activity will be taken up. The Hadassah Buds, under the leadership of Miss Harriet Lemell, will meet also on Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 8.

The Maccabean Boys of Belleville will meet at the synagogue on Wednesday night at 7:30. Henry Abramson is in charge of this group.

The congregation will have its regular monthly meeting on Thursday night. Edward J. Abramson, president, particularly urges all members to attend this meeting.

The religious school of the congregation will sponsor a tournament for the boys of the school during the week of April 17. The boys of the Maccabean Boys club are planning an outing and a hike for the same week.

The Progress Club will sponsor a charity party with many games to be held in the social hall of the congregation on Wednesday night, April 27. The proceeds of the event will be used to finance the annual Kiddies' Outing, which is scheduled for Sunday, June 19.

Seek Girl Who Leaves

Newark Hotel by Window

Slipping out a rear window of the Hotel Roosevelt, 16 Center street, Newark, Monday night while police entered a front door, a fourteen-year-old local girl, who has eluded authorities for over a week still has them on the run.

Detective Frank Spitzer of the Missing Persons Bureau, said the girl is Shirley McLeod, a state ward, who lives at 45 Fairway avenue, Belleville. She was reported missing March 20.

The girl registered as "S. McLeod" at 1:30 A. M. Monday, according to Arthur Dolin, manager. She said her father would appear later to pay her bill.

Clerk Walter Richter became suspicious because the girl was so young and attempted to question her. As police arrived, she asked to be excused for a moment and entered a wash-room.

When she failed to return, police found that she had opened a window and dropped to the ground. The girl is described as being five feet tall and weighing about 118 pounds. She has brown eyes and hair.

Injured in Fall

While repairing the roof at his home Tuesday, Gustave Young, 175 Washington avenue, fell to the ground from a ladder on which he was standing.

The accident occurred because of a weak balustrade on the second floor porch of his home, it is reported. Mr. Young suffered from shock but seemed otherwise uninjured.

Mexican Flowers Too Kaleidoscopic for Words Says Mrs. L. P. Baurhenn, After Trip There

"The flowers of Mexico are so kaleidoscopic in color that mere words can not convey how beautiful they are," commented Mrs. L. P. Baurhenn, 110 Malone avenue, on return this month from her four months' trip to that country.

"Pansies, Easter Lilies and violets vie with each other in color."

Mrs. Baurhenn spent much of her time in Monterey visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Young, whose husband is employed by the International General Electric Company.

She also visited San Antonio, Texas, and was in time to see the Mardi Gras at New Orleans. She was particularly interested in the beautiful floats, which are part of the many parades held in that city during this festival occasion.

"The people in Mexico," she said, "are either extremely wealthy or the poor peon class. The peon have to bury their dead themselves as they are too indigent to pay for burial in a more ostentatious manner."

Persons entering Mexico must have at least $200 in their possession before they are allowed to cross the border.

Mrs. Baurhenn, who has lived seventeen years in this town, makes her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Van Pelt. Mr. Van Pelt is connected with the Peoples' National Bank.

YOUR LAND and MY LAND

By CHARLES E. POTTER, L.S.

By Charles E. Potter, L. S.

There are many problems surrounding the home, not the least of which pertains to the land on which the home is built. The Belleville News starts today, a series of articles prepared by an engineer, surveyor and newspaper man, whose ideas may prove of benefit to readers. We are glad to offer this new feature, and service to our family of friends and readers, as the first, we believe, of any such articles in a newspaper.

Is your home built upon your own land?

Don't be too sure, unless the site of the house was staked out by an accredited surveyor at the time of its erection. Many persons, after living in a house for many years, have learned to their sorrow and expense that the building encroaches upon a neighboring lot.

Several years ago, a suburban development was laid out by one of the most successful surveyors in New Jersey. In order to secure an attractive setting for the fine residences to be erected in this sub-division, not many miles from Newark, the streets were laid out in curves.

Following the opening of the development, a young married couple purchased a lot for the erection of their "dream house." Although he was spending upwards of $10,000 for the construction of a modern dwelling, the head of the family decided that spending a nominal amount for a surveyor's fee was unnecessary, and his builder, an inexperienced contractor just starting in business, was unaware of the necessity of a location survey.

The sweeping curves of the street required measurement by precise instruments, yet the contractor staked out the foundations of the dwelling by "rule of thumb" and built the attractive house.

Five depression years followed and the lots on either side of the new home remained unsold. Finally the upturn came and the property on the northern side of the residence was purchased and staked out by a surveyor. The couple thought that the line was quite a distance from their house, but gave the fact only casual thought.

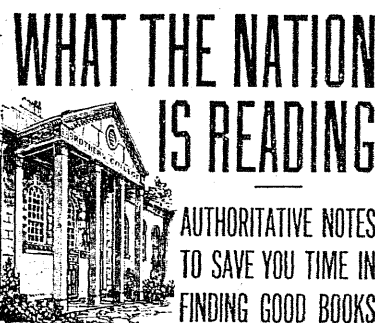

Consternation ensued several months later when the land on the southern side of the house was purchased by a builder. The couple learned, after the buyer had secured a survey of his property, that their home extended five feet over its property line onto the recently sold lot.

The couple had been hard hit by the depression. The husband had suffered drastic decreases in the salary he was receiving at the time of building his home and his savings had been exhausted in an effort to meet taxes and mortgage payments. No recourse could be had to the careless builder, since his business had been wiped out by hard times.

Alone, the couple faced the prospect of a house moving project estimated at several thousands of dollars. The only alternative was the purchase of the adjoining lot or a portion of it, but the new owner, realizing the couple's predicament, placed an abnormally high value upon the property upon which their home encroached.

The result was that the couple lost the home that they had suffered to maintain throughout the depression.

While this is an extreme case of loss through carelessness and ignorance of property lines, it is true in land measurement, as everywhere else, that "a stitch in time saves nine."

For two difficult years the French Republic has battled the great titans of the modern age—Fascism and Communism. No man has been so active in the affairs of the French people during this period as Leon Blum, first as Premier, then as Vice-Premier, and now as France's newest Premier. Upon the shoulders of this sensitive, logical, academic and yet realistic Jew the mantle of Jean Jaures rests with a dignity which is all too unusual in French politics. The history of this complex character is more than fascinating. The story of the growth of the young man-about-town is captivatingly told by Geoffrey Fraser and Thadée Nadsan (Leon Blum, Man and Statesman: J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, $3.00); they paint a sympathetic portrait of the present leader of a great proletarian party.

The authors, who have had access to Blum's private papers, his friends, his family, and his many and varied writings, first present the Blum of the closing years of the nineteenth century. It was the Dreyfus Affair, that scandal which reshaped the whole history of modern France, which brought Blum, already an intellectual Socialist, into contact with Jaures. Blum was a good student and became an ardent disciple of the great Socialist leader. The death of Jaures marked the beginning of Blum's political activity, and Blum's character was destined to shape French Socialism ever more than that of his teacher. For this sensitive man of the middle class, violence was not an end. He hated violence because it was unlovely; it must be used only when the revolutionary principles of Socialism could not be achieved by other means. At the Congress of Tours he made his stand and held out against the movement which would have swept French Socialism into the wake of Moscow. With skill and energy he led the moderate elements within the party to "smoother waters." In 1936, he was the accepted leader of the Socialist party and was elevated to the leadership of the Popular Front. Under his command the left-wing in French politics drove on to a great victory in the elections of that year.

The last two years have been difficult years for Blum; standing between the Communists and the moderate Radical Socialists, he has needed all the skill of a circus performer to keep the various sections of his team pulling together. While the battle has not been won, much has been accomplished, and today France is still democratic—that in itself is the greatest tribute which one can pay to Leon Blum.

The present biography is interesting, easy to read and more accurate and critical than the usual account of a man still active in the political field.

Girl Scouts, Relatives and Friends Enjoy Annual Rally in High School Gymnasium

After Many Awards for Meritorious Work "Under the Big Top" Was Presented With All The Trappings

Belleville Girl Scouts held their annual rally at the high school gymnasium Saturday evening before a large audience of relatives and friends. Mrs. Frank Ackerman, commissioner, presided. Mrs. Stanley Gibson, chairman of program division, awarded badges to those who had completed their work in laundries, handy woman, electrician, home nurse, needle woman, cook and nature. Life saver badge was given to Dorothea Hermann of Troop No. 6 and swimmer badges to Louise Oslin, Troop No. 10 and Marie Cooper, Troop No. 13. A very large group received second class rank and two girls received first class rank, Mildred Burfeind, Troop No. 2 and Leila Manley, Troop No. 6.

The community service pin went to Mildred Burfeind, Troop No. 2 and Margaret Soleau, Troop No. 13. Five-year stripes were presented to Jane Buchanan, Margaret Revill and Evelyn Moy, Troop No. 9.

Ten-year stripes were given to Mrs. Harvey Thompson and Mrs. William Adams, past commissioners of the Girl Scout Council and Miss Edna Baun, captain of Troop No. 9.

Two girls, Betty Gibson, Troop No. 10 and Jane Dixon, Troop No. 13, received their gold B. M. A., the highest award Belleville can give its own members. Both girls have maintained a high standard of girl scouting for over eight years.

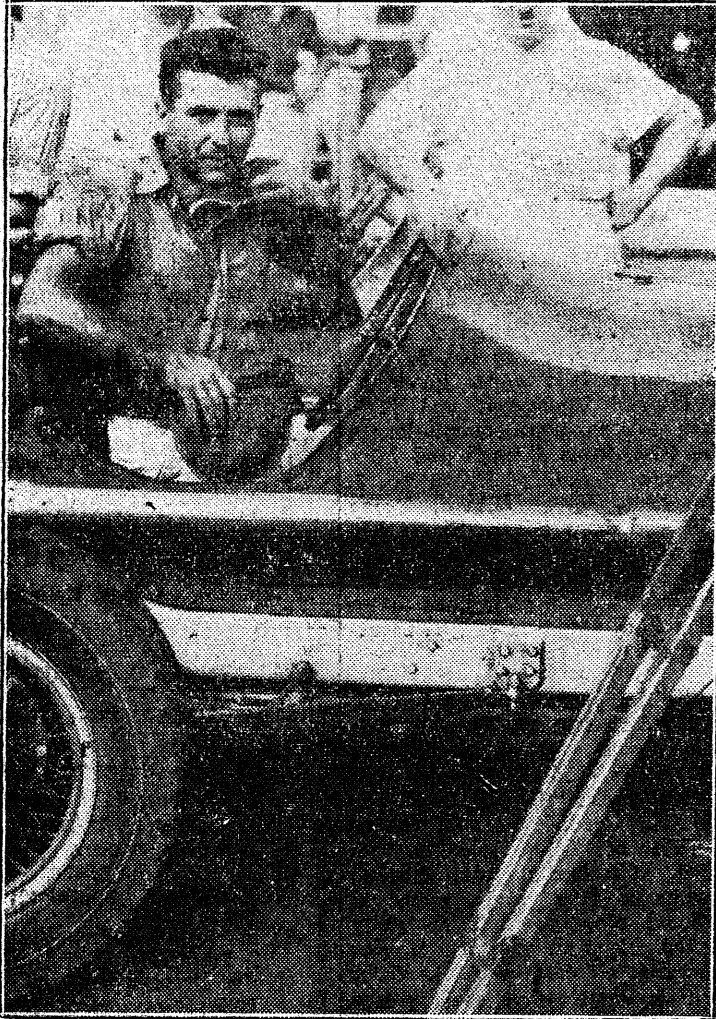

The Circus.

The girl scouts presented their annual frolic after the awards. This year a circus was given. All the glitter, pomp and excitement that can crowd under "the Big Top" was there. The grand parade, under leadership of Lena Roviello, be-medaled, silk hatted, who cracked her whip in great style, swept in with band playing. Girls on gaily decorated bicycles, clowns, trapeze

Drivers and Mechanics Tune Up Cars For Opening Midget Races at 'Drome

More Than Forty Machines Will be in the Pit When Season is Launched Sunday by John Kochman

With only a few days remaining before the opening of the midget auto racing season, drivers and their mechanics are rushing through the finishing touches on the machines they will drive in the first meet at the Nutley Velodrome board track this Sunday afternoon.

Frank Bailey

More than forty cars will be in the pits when the season is launched by Promoter John Kochman on Sunday and most of these machines are finished and ready for the initial speed duel of the season. But other cars, still requiring the last touches, are being toiled over day and night as the speedsters stage a battle against time. For, all of the drivers are anxious to be on hand for this opening meet at the velodrome.

The most spectacular names in the auto ranks—both the heavy and midget varieties—will race over the Nutley boards Sunday. Stars like Frank Bailey, 1936 A.A.A. big auto champion of the east and Bill Morrissey of Newark, regarded as one of the best of the rising crop, will be in the pits. So will Bob Sall, another former 3-A champion; Chuck Tabor devil; Bill Schindler, one-legged driver from Goshen, N. Y.

One of the drivers who is regarded as a potential threat in the Nutley ranks is the speedy New Brunswick, N. J. ace, Frank Bailey. Always a feared performer in the heavy machine division, he has taken to midget car competition and with his skill and a speedy machine under him, is touted as one of the standouts in the starting field.

Morrissey, another product of the big-car ranks, has marked up some notable victories since he began driving midgets. The Newark youth will be piloting one of the fastest machines at Nutley and is expected to be one of the front runners.

Time trials on Sunday will start at 1 P. M. with the first race set for 2:30 o'clock.

THE OUTDOOR WORLD

By Bob Bangert

I suppose some of you have some great movie star that makes your heart throb and maybe another that makes your stomach turn inside out with laughter.

Well, there's an actor that's well known in the woods. He is known as "Puff Adder." He resembles a rattlesnake which makes him all the more proud. If you meet him in the woods, immediately he will flatten out his body, look as fierce as he can, and try to strike at you. This probably would be enough to send most of you many miles away, but if you knew about him and picked up a stick as if to kill him, he would just roll over on his side and he'd swear he was dead. If you left him in that position and went on your way, in about five minutes he would just roll over and crawl away, happy, and contented without a care in the world.

I once read a poem by Robert Frost called the "Minor Bird," and it makes me feel that if you read it, you would put more pressure on our drive to make this a comfortable year for our musical talented friends, the birds. It goes like this:

"I have wished a bird would fly away, And not sing by my house all day. Have clapped my hands at him from the door, When it seemed as if I could bear no more. The fault must have been in me, The bird was not to blame for his key."

And, of course, there must have been something wrong, In wanting to silence any song.

Have you ever heard any one say, "Oh, look at the pretty wild canary?" Sure you have. Well, that little fellow who is the "alias," is a Gold Finch. He is no relation to the canary. He has a black forehead and black on his wing. The remainder is a bright yellow. If you ever hear him called again, correct the person.

Yellow Jackets Have Number of Players

Belleville Yellow Jackets last week practiced and the team's diamond representatives have been chosen as follows: Pitcher, "Sorrall" Bridge; Bill Austen, catcher, Jack Gibbs and Bridge, when the latter is needed; first base, Gordy White and Austen; second, Bob Breen, Ralph Smith; third, John and Eddie Kaye; shortstop, Harry Heimrich and George Lamberson; left field, James De Bonis and Bob Heimrich; right field, Charles Jones and Arnold Skinner and center field, Lynn Brumbach and Ralph Ledogar.

The Musketeers fell Saturday before the Yellow Jackets.

Triangles to Test Ability of Bellboys

High School Squad Seems To Have Edge on Independents

The Belleville Triangles will test the ability of the local high school baseball team tomorrow afternoon at Capitol Field. This game will be the first real test of both local outfits this season. The high school seems to have the upper hand to upset the Triangle boys, although the Triangles are more experienced. Coach Smith is confident that his inexperienced outfit will set the three-cornered insignia boys on their heads.

The Triangle outfit will open its official season at Capitol Field on May 1, against the Heller Bros. A. C.

The Triangles had another practice Sunday morning and Manager Distasio is satisfied the way his team is rounding into shape.

The next club meeting will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members should be on time, as this meeting is very important.

Rocco J. DiGregorio, former high school manager, was elected assistant coach to Joe Zoppa, who is head coach.

Jim Londos Back At Laurel Garden

Real Championship Show
Is Scheduled for Tonight

Newark's Laurel Garden will be the scene of a real championship wrestling show tonight when the promoters present a top notch card in support of the third appearance of Jim Londos, the International wrestling champion.

Londos has a real battle on his hands this time for he must battle Sammie Fitzpatrick Cohen, the rough and tumble champion. Billy Hanson and Dr. Dropkick Murphy, two clever scientific grapplers, were Jim's opponents the first two times and he had nothing to fear from them.

Cohen, however, will give Londos a real roughing up and the Greek Adonis will have to take plenty. The fans will be interested to see if the champion can take it and dish it out like the villains do.

As a special added attraction, Dean Detton, one of the most popular grapplers of the season, returns to battle Dick Daviscurt. Detton scored a big hit here until forced out of action with a dislocated shoulder.

In the third spot is the battle of the giants, Big Chief Sanookie and Man Mountain Harry Jacobs. The combined weight of these two human mountains is 725 pounds, and woe be the referee who gets between them.

Dutch Schultz, the bald headed villain, will have a real battle on his hands when he takes on George Becker. Becker, a clever young performer, can swing into rough stuff when the occasion demands and may turn back Dutch at his own rough house game.

Dr. Dropkick Murphy goes to the post again to protect his long winning streak when he tangles with Jose Rodriguez. Murphy has the best record of any grappler in the local ring this year. The remaining bout pairs King Kong with Mike Kilonis in another match which may see the clever grappler turn to fight fire with fire and heat the villain at his own game.

Local Teams Tour Pennsylvania Courts

Three Basketball Outfits To Make Annual Trip to Easton

The Belwood Athletic Association basketball team will make its annual trip to Easton, Pa., Sunday, to finish its season against the Phillipsburg Elks' team.

The association will have three other teams representing it on this trip. The Belleville Co-Eds will meet the fast-moving "Wilsonettes," girl champions of Easton. In the second game, the Fred C. Kurner Association will meet the "Battalion D" team, champions of the National Guard at Easton. The third game will bring together the Belleville Hawks and St. Anthony team, the latter holding a victory over the Phillipsburg Elks.

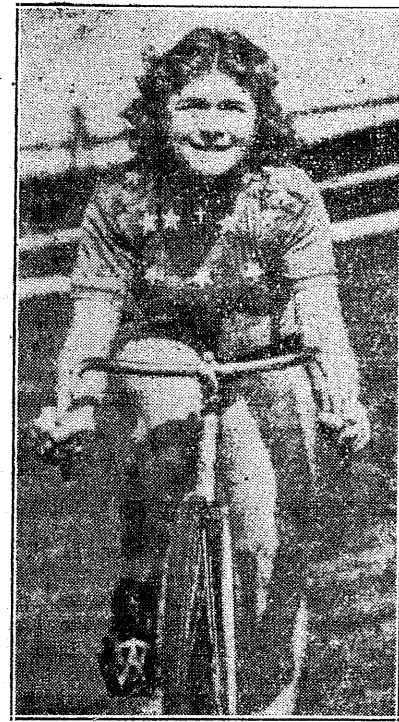

The players on the Belleville teams are as follows: Belleville Co-Eds, E. Sanok, H. Sanok, R. Long, K. Pepitone and J. Ellison; Fred C. Kurner Association, Van De Mark, Grum, Strykowski, Don, Brunetti, Long, Perkonski and Smith; Hawks, Sanok, Petzel, Dopart, Lanza, Fredericks, Orsulack and Marshall.

Doris Kopsky Wins Fourth Bike Title

Is First Young Woman
To Hold This Total
Simultaneously

Doris Kopsky, Belleville High, has received the honor of being the first girl to receive all four titles in the bicycle game. Miss Kopsky won the last of her titles last Saturday night at New York City. This race was for the eastern roller championship. She triumphed over nine other girls, among them the New York state champion, Ruth Lipsett.

Doris holds many titles and is the first girl to ever hold four titles at once.

Doris Kopsky

The titles are: New Jersey championship, the eastern dirt track championship, the national road championship and the eastern roller championship.

Doris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Kopsky, 306 Washington avenue. She has won all these championships in the last year. She may be seen almost any day on Washington avenue on her bicycle. Her father trains with her. He is an ex-champion and Doris gets her bicycle ability from him, and hopes that some day she may be remembered for her ability.

Emeralds to Play In Practice Game

Season Officially Opens
Week Hence With
Blue Comets

The Emerald A. C. held its final practice Sunday and will take on the Heller Bros. this Sunday in a practice game at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass field. The following Sunday the Gems will officially open their season, opposing the Newark Blue Comets at Preston Oval.

Manager Ryan will probably start the following players against the Heller Bros., although the entire squad will see action: Infield, Jim Lynch, at first; Bill Hamilton, second; Ed Fiske, third; and Jim McDonald, short; outfield, Bill Lister, left; Bob LaCapra, center and Henry Lubben, right. Lefty Sullivan, George Wiggins and Bob Wingle will probably divide the pitching, while Alex Young, Romie McGlynn and Flip Urea will share the catching. Tommie Carter, Bill Fisk, Charlie Cook and Ed MacDonald, the latter the only player failing to appear for practice, will also get into the line-up.

The Emeralds still have April 16, 23 and 30 open for games away from home with semi-pro clubs. For games write Henry Lubben, 38 Lincoln avenue, Newark.

Cardinals Prepare For Busy Season

Local Club Seeks Games
With Heavy Junior
Outfits

The Cardinal Athletic Club will be represented by a heavy junior baseball team this season.

The Cardinals hope to obtain Terry Street Field for their home games. The Cardinals will meet such teams as the Irvington Junior Police, Webster Cubs of Newark and other teams from Newark, Lyndhurst, Harrison and other nearby towns.

Players who will perform for the Cardinals are Bill McKay, Breen, Jack Avizer, Frank Van Dyke, Tommy Greg and Sookie McKay, infield; Louie Evans, "Vic" Brugeman, George Sammis and Eddie Effenberger, outfielders. Jack Conroy, Jack Avizer and Bill "Ace" McKay, will do the pitching. Conroy is a right hander with plenty of speed and curves. The Cardinals expect a great deal from him this season.

Bill Smith and Bob Gibler will share the catching. Smith is a hitter and Gibler a defense catcher.

The Cardinals would like to arrange games with heavy junior teams in this area. Write to W. Smith, 16 Oak street, Belleville.

Jack Ryle Defeated On Shuffleboard

"Valley" Champ Dethroned
By Willie Flynn
From "Hill"

The champion shuffle board player of the valley, Jack Ryle, has been dethroned.

For the past two years Mr. Ryle has been "instructor" in the art of playing shuffle board and claimed to be champion of the valley and declared that no one from the hill could defeat him.

Then came the dawn. Fireman William Flynn, a representative of the hill, happened to be near Harvey Ziegler's Valley Tavern, when Mr. Ryle boasted that Mr. Flynn could not beat him.

"O. K.," said Willie, "I'll take you on." They met.

Did Mr. Ryle win? He did not. Fireman Flynn took him like Grant took Richmond. Five out of seven games, with Mr. Ryle winning only the third and fourth games, was the record.

The scores of the game were 16-21, 10-21, 21-12, 21-19, 17-21, 18-21 and 15-21.

FISH and GAME

By De Allaire

The trout season is only two weeks off now and if I know anything about fishermen you have long since put your equipment into readiness for the opening day. The proper care and preparation of the fish, however, is quite as important as the catching, if you expect to enjoy them on your fork as well as on your line. It should be remembered that the three things which cause fish to spoil are, moisture, heat and flies. When the fish have been removed from the water, keep them dry, well out of reach of the flies and as cool as possible. Remove the gills and blood supply near the backbone as soon as possible to prevent the gathering and congealing of the blood which greatly aids spoiling. If you don't get a chance to clean your fish before they dry don't wet them again, but wipe the inside with a dry cloth. Kill your fish immediately after catching it, this leaves the flesh firm. It is best when putting the fish on ice to separate them from the ice with paper or cloth to keep out moisture.

When scaling your fish it is best to use a dull knife or a saw edged scaling knife. If you find your fish hard to hold, nail him by the tail to a board or a tree and you will find it an easier job. An old trick is to jab a stick into the fish from the mouth toward the tail, until it is firmly imbedded, thus giving yourself something to hold on to. If the scales are tough and you find the job hard, dip the fish in hot water and you will find it easier. Trout are very easy to clean as the scales are so small and of little importance. Robert McGowan, Lunch Proprietor, Succeeds After Finding Life Full of Ups and Downs

Started Concern Here On Proverbial "Shoestring" With His Wife Standing by to Help When Things Looked Black

Life has had its ups and downs for Robert McGowan, 20 Essex street, owner of the Ideal Box Lunch Company.

Bob started this business on the proverbial "shoestring," and struggled hard to make the business a paying one. His wife assisted him in the conduct of the enterprise at the beginning.

He now has a fleet of three trucks, which, according to him, are all paid for.

Bob, who is thirty-three years old, was born in Pawtucket, R. I. He attended high school there.

His first job in New Jersey was with the Ingersoll Pen Company, which closed its doors as a bankrupt a year later. He then went to work for Harry Hadley, who was in the box lunch business.

On November 24, 1927, he married Mrs. McGowan and they started housekeeping in a rose covered cottage in Barnett Lane, Belleville. He and Mrs. McGowan were childhood sweethearts.

He has been a call man in the fire department for the past seven years. He has one child, a pretty little girl, Marilyn, seven years old.

Local Grad Broadcasts At Syracuse University

Miss Ellen M. Conry Takes Part in Fifteen-Minute Program

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Miss Ellen M. Conry, 39 Preston street, Belleville, N. J., this week took part in the first in a series of fifteen-minute news and feature broadcasts for Syracuse University.

Miss Conry will be heard every Tuesday afternoon from 4:45-5 o'clock over station WFBL for the remainder of the school year. She will interview the outstanding students of the week as selected by a faculty-student committee.

All campus news going on the air is gathered and edited by the Daily Orange, undergraduate newspaper, and broadcast to students and Syracuse and area listeners.

The news programs originate from the new $5,000 radio workshop recently completed on campus and go through the regular facilities of one of Syracuse's two commercial stations.

Miss Conry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Conry, is a sophomore in the College of Business Administration, majoring in journalism.

Entries Total 125 In Table Tournament

Town Championships Will Be Held at the Wallace & Tiernan Plant

With a last minute surge, the entry list in the Belleville Table Tennis Championship Tournament, which begins next Monday, leaped to 125.

Last night was the closing date for entries and the committee announced that the response was very enthusiastic and encouraging.

All matches will be held in the recreation room of Wallace and Tiernan Company. The room is located on the second floor of the Kooler-Keg building on the east side of Main street, on the river bank, at Mill street.

Every contestant must appear in the tournament room by seven o'clock Monday evening. They will enter by the fire escape entrance on the side of the building.

A contestant who fails to appear when his or her match is called will be defaulted.

Any one wishing to enter a doubles team in tournament play can do so by leaving his name at the desk Monday night.

The past year's cheerleaders were: Margaret Hyde, Lawrence McCoy, Isabel Smith, Clara Lombardi, Edward Soleau, Janet Moffett, Cecile Campbell and Bernice Becker. Letters will be awarded by Edward Glaspey.

Waitresses for the banquet will be Frances Sheldon, Margaret Soleau, Janet Walde, Lorna Zink, Lois Williamson, Blanch Schaefer, Janet Smith, Edna Pole, Edith Atkinson, Virginia Gassner, Dorothy Dunleavy, Maureen Fitzpatrick, Alice Lynas, Judith Hyde, Amy Hardman, Grace McManus, Margaret Saam, Ethel Williamson, Ruth Compton, Lucille Balzer, Sara Cartwright, Anne Bergamini, Virginia Brunich, Wanda Rogers, Barbara Ennis, Ruth Drentian, Marjorie Hanlon, and Rosemary Henzly.

The menu will consist of fruit cocktail, roast turkey and dressing, cranberry sauce, glazed sweet potato, new peas and carrots, celery and olives, rolls and butter, tomato and lettuce salad, ice cream, vanilla wafer and coffee.

Christian Endeavor Notes

The Missionary Society will be in charge of the Belleville Reformed Church Christian Endeavor Society on Sunday, April 3.

The society has been very active in sending various missionaries to China, India, Africa and other places. This society is headed by Mrs. John A. Struyk, wife of the pastor.

The monthly business meeting of the society will be held on April 4, in the church chapel. During this meeting the annual election of officers will be held.

The Easter Sunrise service will be held by the society and the Men's Bible class on Easter morning at 6 o'clock. This was formerly to be held at 6:30, but due to Easter communions in various churches, it was changed.
