Clark Heads Police and Fire Departments, Noll, Parks, As Commissioners Organize

Other Departments Same As Before Except for Removal Of Buildings from Department Headed By Noll

Banked with flowers, the town commission presented a veritable garden as the members reorganized Tuesday noon.

The post of Director of Public Safety was awarded to Commissioner William D. Clark as was told last week in this paper, would occur, while Louis A. Noll, who stood fourth in the voting was given the directorship of the Department of Parks and Public Property. He will also supervise recreation, transportation and the library board.

The other commissioners were awarded the same departments they have held—Mayor Williams was re-appointed Mayor and director of Revenue and Finance; Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, Public Works; Commissioner Joseph King, Public Affairs.

Responsibilities taken from Noll's department were parceled among the other members. Waters was given supervision of public buildings and Mayor Williams, finance director, was given the sale of town-owned property.

Director King was continued with the same duties, which include supervision of the health, welfare and building departments and the Shade Tree Commission. He continues as acting mayor in case Williams is absent.

Fred B. Handlon, real estate representative appointed by Clark, was retained by Williams.

Director Noll may fight the action of the commission in stripping his functions. He said he had retained counsel to determine if there was anything in the procedure contrary to statutes.

At the reorganization meeting Rev. Oscar L. Joseph, pastor of Embassy Methodist Church, Paterson, father-in-law of Mayor Williams gave the invocation and Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, said the benediction.

A resolution was passed making it necessary for the five commissioners to vote on the appointments of the Town Clerk and Town Attorney.

Another resolution gave police powers to Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan, Town Treasurer T. Russell Sargent and the five commissioners. Former Public Safety Director George R. Gerard was made an honorary special police officer.

The salary of the Mayor was fixed by resolution at $2700, and the four commissioners at $2250, an increase of $450 each.

Mother Gives Mayor Watch.

Rev. Joseph presented Mayor Williams a gold watch on behalf of the Mayor's mother, who lives at North Deighton, Mass. Dr. Joseph said that the Mayor's mother had sent the watch to express her gratitude of the respect accorded to her son by Belleville citizens for his efforts in their behalf.

These Chairs No Good For Local Classrooms

School Commissioner Charles A. Gebhardt found the seats so comfortable that he almost fell asleep Monday night at the Board of Education meeting.

He changed to a straight back chair and was wide awake the duration of the meeting.

Firemen Erecting Drill Tower Here

Smoke Eaters Will Be Put Through Paces Once A Week

Under the direction of Fire Chief R. A. Reid, there is being built in the rear of the fire headquarters, a drill tower with two platforms, one fifteen feet from the ground and the other thirty feet.

The four, thirty-five feet telephone poles which will support the two platforms were salvaged a few months ago, when the overhead wires were placed underground. The signal department of the town secured the poles and with the help of the firemen, erected them two weeks ago. Battalion Chief William E. Dunleavy is chief of the signal department.

Jumping into a net will be a feature of the drills which the firemen will undergo. Other drills will be climbing ladders, sliding down rope, using scaling ladders and "sky hooks," and holding nets.

Lead anchors have been placed in the wall in the rear of the fire house to hold the ladders when not in use. Regular firemen and call men will be subject to these drills, which will take place about once a week during the summer months and into the fall months if found necessary.

School Board Studies Tenure Situation

Coach Smith Is One of Eighteen to Have Contract Held Up

When questioned by Edward Hollweg, 18 Hornblower avenue, and Joseph Williams, 18 New street, as to the status of Football Coach Frank Smith, of the high school Herbert C. Schmutz, president of the Board of Education, replied that the teachers' committee had not made its report on any of the teachers, whose tenure of office takes place with their appointment for the coming year.

He said that at a special meeting to be called later the teachers' report will be submitted and acted upon then.

Questioned after the meeting, Charles A. Gebhardt, head of the teachers' committee, said that he would call a meeting of the committee next week to study the records of the eighteen teachers whose terms expire.

He said also that the special meeting of the board will be held the first week in June.

With the signing of his 1938-39 contract, Smith would come under tenure. It has been rumored that the board would not reappoint him and high school pupils have been circulating petitions in his behalf.

Meanwhile Smith may resign and be reappointed in September, in which case his tenure would be broken. Smith receives $1,800 as a teacher of history and an additional $700 for coaching.

Graduation exercises of the Belleville High School will be held Wednesday, June 22, at Clearman Field. Bleachers and a platform will be erected at the south end of the field and 350 seats will be rented to seat the graduates.

This report was made by Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer at a meeting of the Board of Education, Monday night. Elementary Schools Present Exhibit on Good Citizenship at Public Library

Mrs. Daisy Simons Wadsworth Has Supervised Experiment Which Tends Toward Desirable Character Development

Beginning Monday, and continuing throughout the week there will be an exhibit at the public library of project material from the elementary schools dealing with good citizenship and desirable character development. An invitation is extended to all to take advantage of this opportunity to see this phase of the work of the schools.

During the past year, there has been a special effort made in all elementary schools to study the needs of girls and boys with reference to good citizenship and the development of desirable character. In addition to the regular class room activities, there has been organized in each class a good citizenship club. These clubs held weekly meetings at which they discuss the problems having to do with happy group living at school, at home, and in the community. Desirable habits and attitudes are stressed and a number of pupils set as goals for themselves, specific habits.

The club meetings are pupil-conducted with officers elected by the group, and guided by the teacher. Preceding each election a study is made of worthwhile qualities of leadership. The class is divided into various committees, each having a definite field to study. These committees make suggestions for needed improvement and check on improvement. They cover such fields as health, courtesy, order, safety, room beautification, good scholarship, cleanliness, library, Junior Red Cross, and leisure time. The latter may have sub-committees covering hobbies, movies, radio, magazines, nature and other activities. Each pupil is given a responsibility so that he is a needed member of his social group.

Wayne R. Parmer, superintendent of schools, initiated the program three years ago in School No. 3, W. F. Richards, principal, and School No. 5, Miss Alice McDavit, principal at that time. Mrs. Daisy Simons Wadsworth supervised the experiment. Last year a series of teachers' meetings was held at which teachers discussed possible activities for good citizenship. This year all elementary schools have participated in the program.

This is the first exhibit of the Belleville schools having to do specifically with good citizenship and the development of desirable character. It will include posters, charts, scrap books, miniature movies, and other interesting material which pupils have been using to motivate their good citizenship activities.

The exhibit is under the direction of the following committee of teachers: School No. 1, Miss Evelyn McCloskey; No. 2, Miss Edith De Rosa; No. 4, Miss Lucy Rich; No. 5, Miss Helen Steeb; No. 7, Miss Mary Feind; No. 8, Miss Ruth Brohal; No. 9, Miss Katherine Conklin; No. 10, Mrs. Mary Davis. Mrs. Wadsworth has acted as chairman.

Callmen Object to Fire Appointments

Say Callmen Should Be Firemen and Chancemen, Policemen

The Callmen's Association, Inc. of the fire department, held a special meeting on Sunday at Exempt Headquarters, Stephen street, to protest the action of former commissioner G. R. Gerard in appointing two police department chancemen as regular paid firemen when heretofore the firemen were appointed from the ranks of the call men, since the creation of the paid fire department in 1923.

A large majority of the citizens of Belleville feel that an injustice has been done and are in accord with the protest of the callmen, members of the association declare.

The callmen have asked the present Board of Commissioners to amend the present ordinance drawn by Mr. Gerard by "closing the loop holes in the ordinance and to draw up an ordinance that will protect the callmen and chancemen, who up till now, are unprotected by the ordinance."

The callmen believe, that after serving three one-year appointments, they should be given the protection of tenure to the end that future firemen shall be appointed from the ranks of the callmen and police officers shall come from the chancemen ranks.

This precedent inaugurated by Mr. Gerard in appointing chancemen as regular firemen and thereby ignoring men who have served the town as callmen for many years, has done much to break the morale of the men on the callmen firemen's list, the men state in a letter to this paper.

Migliari Again Heads Political-Social Club

Franklin Group Names Him President for Fourth Consecutive Time

The Franklin Political and Social Club re-elected for his fourth term as president, Angelo P. Migliari, at a meeting Monday night. Other officers are Michael Di Nardi, vice president; Amerigo Errico, corresponding secretary; Mario Russo, financial secretary; Louise Buccinca, treasurer (re-elected); Nicholas Ugliarolo, Jr., sergeant-at-arms.

At present the club has sixty-five members and twenty-five honorary members. A six months' membership drive is planned to make the organization one of the largest in town.

The president will appoint a board of trustees Monday night at the next regular meeting. Political and recreational committees will also be named.

"This club was organized a few years back and has accomplished much for the community," said the president Monday, adding that he hopes the members will continue with the same attitude toward the town.

Janitors Would Have Summer Saturdays Off

Building and Grounds Head Will Give Matter Consideration

A communication from the Janitors' Association, signed by Andrew Lightbody, secretary, was presented to the Board of Education Monday night, asking that the janitors be relieved from duty Saturdays during July and August.

The janitors now get two weeks' vacation with pay each summer. The request was referred to the building and grounds committee for report, after the chairman, Walter Gilby, talks the situation over with the janitors.

Mrs. Esther Alexander, medical clerk, was reappointed by the board for another year at a salary of $700, which is an increase of $200.

School Physicians Herbert B. Vail and Daniel E. Cavanaugh were retained by the board for another year at salaries of $1,000 each.

Fishing Trip

Patrolmen Joseph Nygard, Walter Drake and Frank Lukowiak and Calvin Peck, went on a fishing trip Tuesday, all pepped up with the idea that they were going to bring home loads of whiting, fluke and flounders.

According to Patrolman Nygard, the only real fisherman in the quartet was Officer Drake, who caught several large fluke, the biggest one of which weighed eight pounds.

Peck, who is an ace bus driver, said that after this he would stick to bus driving, and leave the fish to the fishermen.

The Forty-nine Social Girls' Club will present Hal Breeze and his Blue Horizon orchestra at the North Newark Dancing Academy tomorrow. Swing tunes will be a special feature of the evening, starring Anthony Rocco at the drums.

"In the Shade of—"

Signs of summer are in the air. But the most concrete example that summer will be here ere long, was found on the grounds of Frank G. Miller, 73 Belleville avenue, where a summer hammock was slung between two trees, looking very inviting.

It's In THE AIR by Bill Clay

Never 'Til Now.

We've had so many requests for gossip about the stars that we had our Scoop Department dig up some "don't-tell-anyone-I-told-you" facts about a comic whose name, for obvious reasons, we can't reveal. Let's call him Mr. B.

At the age of five he gave his baby sister a box of tacks, a broken milk bottle and six old razor blades to amuse herself with. . . got his first stage engagement in "Dinner at Eight" at nine, but didn't appear because the Department of Correction had first call on him. . . loves his mother so much that he doesn't beat her on the first Sunday in May. . . never rides in buses or subways if his female escort can afford taxi fare. . . takes his shoes off on entering a home, then walks around in his stocking feet hoping to pick up a tack so that he can sue. . . learned to play a stringed instrument when living in an Oshkosh boarding house, by practicing between the hours of three and five in the morning when every one else was trying to sleep. . . played "Topsy" in Secaucus in 1911, and added novelty to the part by wearing a hat with a tassel on it. His mother insisted upon it, after three pig farmers tried to claim him.

The WOR publicity staff would have you know that their ace female commentator, Martha Deane, who talks of cabbages and kingfish, is celebrating her fourth anniversary on the air. In her little chats with the women folks she's supposed to have spouted 4,000,000, count 'em, words, which, to a man, isn't one bit surprising.

Good Crew.

Each year some orchestra leader strikes out with something new in music arranging, rises to the zenith, and falls off like the stock market when Roosevelt II takes a few wallops at Wall street from his fireside. But Guy Lombardo, like Relief, is here to stay. Year after year he continues as the ranking bandmaster by playing sweet music instead of tricky orchestrations or super novelty stuff. It pays big dividends, too. When he plays at Atlantic City's Steel pier in the summer he commutes to New York each night in his yacht.

The general acceptance of those "birth" still and movie pictures prompted the New York State Medical Society, to get in their licks orally. Dr. James Quigley gave an enlightening and informative talk about maternal welfare over WHN the other night and it was presented skillfully and in good taste.

Cat, C-a-t.

One of the grandest bits of entertainment that ever fell on these caloused ears hearkens back to the Sunday afternoon when the Newsreel presented Tony Galento, the pudgy pug from the pub. Tony was being interviewed by Parks Johnson and did all right with the "yes" and "no" answers, but when they got him around to using three letter words it was a panic. He and Jane Ace would make a great team, and I'm willing to send in a few bottle tops to any sponsor who gets Tony back on the air.

Grover Whalen knows more about getting publicity for his fair than the Rockefellers knew about getting millions. His latest gaggo was getting Jimmy Dorsey to hammer out a tune which he named the "Perisphere Swing." Dorsey will go on a tour next week and at every one night stand will blast out his tune, all in an attempt to make people Fair-minded.

Practical Hints.

that it's the duty of our Public Service Department to allay his fears by offering an enlightenment on broadcasting technique. Paste these few tips in your hat and no studio audience will ever laugh at you when you walk up to the mike to say your little piece.

Never use a script—keep both hands free to hang on to something for support. One solid week before the broadcast go down to the river and practice drowning. It will get you used to gulping for breath. If you don't want it to seem that there's a castanet player furnishing a musical background, strap your knees together when you get up to the mike. Glare right into it. If it glares back—faint. There are plenty of sustaining artists around the studios. Talk into the microphone in the same tone you used when you were telling the wife the way you told the boss off. When the announcer tells you that there's nothing to be afraid of, remember that your dentist says the same thing. Stay away from the mike if you're anemic. You'll sweat plenty of blood on your first broadcast.

WHAT THE NATION IS READING

AUTHORITATIVE NOTES TO SAVE YOU TIME IN FINDING GOOD BOOKS

War, war, war; how that word haunts us. Already two wars are in progress, another recently ended when a black empire vanished before the unchecked power of a modern Caesar, and tomorrow the whole world may be pitched into a conflict with unknown consequences. Much has been written and more has been said about America and the next war—perhaps too much. Unfortunately the tendency has been to forget the world of fact and to soar into the realm of idealism. "The Final Choice," by Stephen and Joan Raushenbush (New York, Reynal and Hitchcock, $2.50), is a hard-boiled book that deals realistically with facts and hides nothing.

Stephen Raushenbush, formerly chief investigator of the Senate Munitions Committee, and Joan Raushenbush, who acted, during 1935 and 1936, as special assistant on American foreign policy during the World War for the same committee, are well qualified to write regarding American foreign policy. Many facts are presented which will be news to readers who did not closely follow the work of the Nye Committee, and the analysis of the material will be found clear, fresh and penetrating.

Yet the volume is never dry or so weighty as to discourage the average reader.

We will not all agree with the author's solution. Every American, however, who wants us to stay out of war should read this book. Such books help to mold an intelligent public opinion—a public opinion which will never again wage war to safeguard democracy because it will be seen that war and its effects are democracy's greatest enemies.

To understand the present situation in the Far East one must go into the history of China and Japan. The author of "War in China" (Varian Fry, New York,

Auto Editors Make Cross-Country Hop

Discover U. S. Out-of-Doors On Dodge Fact-Finding Tour

By George T. Emerson

Director of Dodge 1938 New York-San Francisco Auto Editors' Fact-Finding Tour.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Well, there is such a place as Hell's Half-Acre. But less than a day's journey away is Utopia, a much more attractive place. And, as your map will confirm, both are in Texas.

These were two of the less important, but diverting facts, chanced upon during the progress of the 1938 Trans-Continental Automobile Editors' Fact-Finding safari, sponsored by Dodge, which has ended here.

This unique busmen's holiday for the automobile critics of the press—whose business it is to know and to inform American newspaper readers as to what is new and interesting in the motoring world—started from New York with no understanding whatever as to what kind of "facts" were to be found.

Cooperating in the project were writers representing nineteen metropolitan newspapers located in as many cities selected in advance as relay points. In turn they took the wheel of the new 1938 Dodge touring sedan, driving their appointed "legs" of the trip—which averaged 275 miles each for the eighteen laps of the 4,951-mile journey—selecting their own routes, determining their own speeds, stopping where they wished for picture-taking and even choosing the brands and types of oil and gasoline used for fueling and lubrication.

Returning next day to his desk, each wrote of his experience—what he wrote naturally being dictated by his own resources of imagination and observation along the way.

And a fine, congenial and well-informed lot of companions they were! The writer, who accompanied the car throughout the trip as Dodge representative, had the benefit of their familiarity with local history, terrain, interests and background, and to them acknowledges an indebtedness for an unforgettable experience.

But, on the debit side of the ledger, let it be put down here that once back of the wheel, automobile editors—for all their erudition on automobile subjects—are "just folks" and are subject to all the vagaries of average motorists.

Some Good, Some . . .

Some are excellent drivers. They may drive fast—but safely. Some wheel along at moderate speeds—but otherwise might benefit by a little "back-seat" criticism. All of which is meant kindly and, I know, will be accepted in that vein, for one bit of equipment any newspaperman must have is a sense of humor.

But the purpose of the trip was not to find facts regarding automobile editors' driving. Their strengths and weaknesses as drivers—in contrast with their competency as impartial critics of motorcar performance—is important here only in that these merits and demerits indicate the kind of handling the car received on its coast-to-coast journey. It was driven at speeds varying up to more than eighty miles per hour; at altitudes of from near sea level to more than 7,500 feet; over every sort of road, excepting plain dirt, and through every kind of weather condition excepting snow, but including uncomfortably-near proximity to both flood waters and a tornado in the western plains country.

It should be mentioned, too, that the car—a standard 1938 Dodge model—had run off only 226 miles when the trip started.

These being the conditions of car operation, it bespeaks much for present-day automobile manufacture that the tour car came through with a record of only slightly more than $70 expense for oil, gasoline and lubrication—three carburetor adjustments for high altitude driving being the only mechanical attentions required—which figures out at exactly .0145 cents per mile, or less than one and one-half cents! And that will stand as one of the outstanding and most impressive "facts" "discovered" on the trip.

The car was routed from New York via Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita, Oklahoma City, Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso, Phoenix, San Diego and Los Angeles into San Francisco.

The trip had the enthusiastic "blessings" of the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture, and the American Automobile Association in that one of its purposes was to direct attention to the highway facilities available to the American motoring public; heralding the opening of what promises to be the greatest highway touring season in American history and calling attention, too, to the importance of highway maintenance and development to the agricultural and commercial interests of the nation.

At every relay point the incoming and outgoing editor-drivers were accorded warm greetings and good wishes by mayors and other civic officials—including a handshake and word of good wishes from an official spokesman at the White House in Washington.

Coast-to-Coast Car Run Heralds Opening of '38 Tour Season

Snapshot record of recent Auto Editors' Fact-Finding Tour across continent sponsored by Dodge with "blessings" of U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and American Automobile Association—to herald opening of 1938 touring season and direct attention to highway facilities available to nation's millions of motorists. (1) Road sign at Hondo, Tex. (2) More than 50 coyotes, wildcats and one wolf—results of ranchers' hunt in Glass Mountain country. (3) Road contrast of "horse" power of yesterday and today—west of El Paso. (4) Howard Reed, Wiley, Kans., and '19 Dodge he uses for pulling 3-furrow plow—with one of the automobile editor-drivers who piloted the Fact-Finding car across the continent in relays as indicated on map. (5) Road sign seen in more than one-half the states traversed. (6) Good road today, but 50 years ago it cost $90 in gold to make the stagecoach trip from Phoenix to San Diego through this section of desert country. (7) Where gun and rope were "law" in the near yesterdays—at Langtry, Tex. Relic of "the good old bad days." Horse-thieves "and such" were tried on this porch; executed at a tree in rear of camera's position. (8) Near this picturesque spot on a section of an old Spanish trail the Tour car encountered its first detour in more than 2,800 miles of travel from New York—just east of Austin, Tex. (9) Last-lap drivers of car greeted by "Miss Golden Gate Exposition" on arrival of car at San Francisco destination. (10) Cactus, probably older than U. S. A., in Arizona wastelands. (11) Exactly 11.3 miles of straight Texas road—by speedometer—to that last dot of white on the horizon. (12) Tour car glimpsed in White House grounds where it stopped to receive official greetings and good wishes. (13) First glimpse of the blue, blue Pacific—after more than 4,000 miles of travel through sixteen states. (14) Beautiful road, mountains and Old Mexico in distance—near Shumla, Tex. (15) Missouri town typical of hundreds created by highway improvement and new road building. Large photo (center) shows Fact-Finding Tour car and statue dedicated to America's mothers of frontier days—near Ponca, Okla. The tour of 4,951 miles was made at a cost of just over $70 for gas, oil and lubrication—with no mechanical expense and only three carburetor adjustments for high altitude driving—over and through all kinds of roads and weather. It directed attention to the fact that an automobile and the free highways of America are the only passports required for the "discovery" of the vast and varied American out-of-doors and land of entrancing beauty.

Auto-Creator of Vital Changes.

If you are inclined to question the statement that the automobile, the bus and the truck have, more than anything else, transformed the whole of American life, to accelerate its pace and enrich it with greater ease and pleasure, start from New York, as we did, and wheel across the vast expanse of the United States to San Francisco—and your doubts will be ended.

The tunnel and "sky-way" through and over which you leave New York, the thousands of miles of intervening road over which you glide in armchair comfort, hundreds of the towns and villages through which you pass and the triumph of bridge-building over which you finally sweep into the Golden Gate City—all owe their very existence, or at least their present-day state of development, entirely to the automobile, the bus, the truck and their utilization for serving humanity's needs.

And similarly, as you roll along, there will dawn the realization that the automobile is gradually transforming the very appearance and physical lay-out of America's cities and towns—and will be a determining factor in the creation and shaping of the "city of tomorrow."

You will see that the automobile already has made curiously out-of-date the small and picturesque "town squares" more commonly found in states east of the Mississippi. Both east and west you will see scores of hamlets busily flowering into centers of commercial and social importance—brought forth from barren prairie wastes and existing only because the automobile forced the opening up of new highways with which came new opportunities and, finally, new names on the map.

On your trans-continental road journey you will travel so far that you will have to set your watch back three times—one hour each time. You will cross sixteen or more state boundaries—but at none of them will you find frontier guards, soldiers or customs men to impede your journey with questionings and the checking of passports and luggage.

Nor will you encounter any change of language, although you will pass through areas whose names—the lettering you see on store windows, street signs and mail boxes—proclaim them as having been dominantly English, Dutch, German, French, Indian, Spanish or Mexican, not many years ago. But use any of these languages, excepting English, in addressing the corner policeman or fellow traveler from whom you may be seeking information, and you will have to get an interpreter! They are all Americans today.

And, especially if you have any experience of life in other parts of the world—in Europe, Asia or Africa—and if you have been watching your newspaper headlines, you will get a glow and have some other related feelings when you realize that the scenes of peace, tranquillity and well-being you see all about you are in sharp opposition and contrast with the strife, carnage and desolation prevalent so many places elsewhere in the world.

See It—Then You'll Know America. If your cross-country travels are timed and routed as were ours, you will be wearing an overcoat when you leave the Eastern coast; will see Mother Nature gradually lifting the curtain on her big annual out-of-doors dress show as you proceed west and south. And you'll end up with water-nymphs in bathing suits, competing with skies and surf for your attention—and will long ago have discarded your overcoat—as you roll northward on the velvety-smooth roads skirting the Pacific.

You will have started your road journey in what was part of the original thirteen colonies; passed on through states carved out of what was once the Northwest Territory; Louisiana Purchase; one or two where you still see enough Indians to remind you that it was the red man after all who "saw America first"; on into and through that seemingly boundless domain of almost incredible contrasts—land of lush fertility and arid nothingness—Texas; and so into California with its equally varied panoramas of sea and sky, swirling sands and snow-peaked mountains.

You will have traveled mountain-side trails that George Washington helped make into roads; others that witnessed the arduous westward trek of the pioneer and frontiersman; you will have glided along in rubber-tired ease where white man and Indian had many a bloody encounter; where Spaniards and Mexicans raided and rustled cattle across the border lands of the Rio Grande; you will have wheeled along the wagon routes of the vanished prairie schooner and the wildernesses of cactus and sagebrush through which the forty-niner and his burro trudged their weary way.

You will glimpse such fateful landmarks as Valley Forge and Gettysburg; you will chance upon mementos of such oddly contrasted characters as Barbara Fritchie, Daniel Boone, Davie Crockett, Gerónimo, Col. Zak Miller and his famed 101 Ranch, Will Rogers, Jeff Davis and Billy the Kid. You will have some familiarity with such names as Aztec and Apache.

And, gliding up the west coast of California, it may occur to you that, if you were a playwright, you'd be tempted to stop off in Hollywood to do a script for the most interesting movie you've ever seen. You might call it "If You Go My Way"—and remind every one that it is an extravaganza that any one can see, and that an automobile and the wide open and free highways of America are the only passports needed.

For the first time in the club's history, it was unanimously agreed to suspend the section of the club's by-laws which prevents a president from being re-elected to succeed himself and to "draft" Herbert Waters to serve another year, due to his earnestness, skill and loyalty as a presiding officer and to give him an opportunity to complete his planned program for the club, which has shown such outstanding progress and success under his leadership during the past year.

In addition to being president of the Advertising Club, Mr. Waters was appointed chairman of the Newark World's Fair committee by Mayor Ellenstein and previously served as chairman of the Federal Unemployment Census committee for the City of Newark, which was praised as having done an outstanding job in the United States.

Legion Head Plans Aid for Boys

Urges Pooling All Resources Of Community in State-wide Drive

Any community in New Jersey can find ways and means to fight juvenile delinquency if it will only marshal the resources of its volunteer organizations, declared Dr. J. Fredell Wyckoff, Department Commander of the American Legion, today in announcing a state-wide campaign against the causes of juvenile crime.

The drive will be opened in this section of the state at a meeting to be held at Newark Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, May 25, to which the public is invited.

"The Legion is offering its club houses and its man power," Dr. Wyckoff stated, "and there are many other organizations which are willing to assist. It is not always necessary to go to the public authorities for an appropriation."

He pointed out that the chief reason that boys and girls spend their time on the streets is that they have no other place to go. "If every group in each community would do its share in a joint campaign to provide proper recreation for these youngsters," the Legion commander stated, "this prolific cause of juvenile delinquency could be removed."

Prevalence of juvenile crime is a mark of civic laziness, he asserted, "Deploying it is not sufficient. We must offer an attractive substitute—and that means effort."

A proper place to play, read, dance and otherwise use spare time in harmless social pursuits is a vital asset to every community, and these facilities can be found if every organization will do its share in community effort, he said.

Everett C. Plummer, Supervisor of the Crime Prevention Bureau of the State Police, will speak at the meeting on the formation of Community Councils.

The campaign is being directed by Judge Richard Hartsorne of Essex County, National Law and Order Chairman of the Legion, with Gregg L. Frost of Springfield, the Department Americanism chairman, and Franklin M. Ritchie of Trenton, Child Welfare chairman.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Land Value Taxation.

Editor, The News:
The social and economic effects of the Sanford Bill 160, just passed by the State Assembly, to permit any municipality to exempt buildings, and raise its public revenue by land value taxation, would be three-fold:

In the first place, all local taxes that now fall upon the exertion of labor or use of capital would be abolished. No one would be taxed for building a house or improving a farm or for adding in any way to the stock of things that satisfy human wants and constitute national wealth. Every one would be free to make and save wealth; to buy, sell, give, or exchange, without let or hindrance, any article of human production the use of which did not involve any public injury. All those taxes which increase prices as things pass from hand to hand, falling finally upon the consumer, would disappear.

In the second place, a fund would be provided for the public treasury, without any tax on the earnings or products of labor or on the returns of capital.

In the third place, and most important of all, land value taxation would discourage speculating in land, and holding land—the basis of all employment and welfare—unused for higher prices.

It would induce putting to use idle and poorly used land. This would encourage building, which would create demand for land, increase employment, and reduce the causes for poverty and crime.

The Senate would be advancing the public welfare by passing this bill, to allow any municipality that may wish to adopt it by referendum vote, to prove its above stated merits.

Anent Dictatorship

Editor, News:
Strange as it may seem, but nevertheless the truth, it was the financial barons who were responsible for the suggestion that President Roosevelt put on the robe of dictatorship. The President refused. Now these same barons of finance are responsible for the "smear" propaganda that the President desires to become a "dictator."

Secretary of the Interior Ickes in his address "Democracy or What," had this to say: "Interestingly enough, those who were willing to accept a Fascist government . . . were not of the lowly nor average citizens. They were those who, possessing wealth and economic power and social prestige were willing to sacrifice the liberties of America that they might cling a little longer to their wealth and power."

The American people will express their will by their votes, not telegrams, and in the meantime the President will carry out the mandate given him by the American people.

Auxiliary Notes

A committee has been formed, consisting of Mrs. Ninetta Adams, Mrs. Elsie Kant and Mrs. Irene P. McCorkle of the Belleville Unit No. 105, American Legion Auxiliary, to act as judges in the Poppy Poster Contest sponsored by the auxiliary.

The contest closed on May 10 and was open to children in the schools of Belleville in grades five, six, seven and eight and high school classes. Prizes for the best poster with the greatest amount of appeal, originality, artistic ability and neatness, in addition to carrying the name of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary with no more than ten words on the poster, will be given by the county committee in charge. There were approximately 100 posters submitted and the following which were considered by the Belleville committee as being outstanding will be sent to Mrs. Paul Kestner of Verona, chairman of the County Auxiliary Poppy Poster committee: School No. 1, grade eight, Naida Willette; grade six, William Mackey; School No. 3, grade seven, Louis Brooks; grade six, Rose Knadjan; School No. 4, grade eight, Ralph Acci; grade eight, Tony Risoli and Francis Maffia; School No. 5, grade eight, Lelia Manley; School No. 7, grade eight, B. Donald White and School No. 8, grade eight, William Frome.

Aside from the group selected by the Belleville unit, twenty-five other posters with the greatest amount of appeal and artistic ability were sent by the committee to be judged by the county with the possibility that some of these may be selected as a winner or with honorable mention. All posters deserve a great deal of praise and commendation and the Belleville Auxiliary feels that this is a beginning in the field of American Legion and Auxiliary endeavor to promote a community program of educational value in Belleville.

This kind of work is definitely one of the major features of the organization's ideals and principles to carry on a worth while community service activity. Although the Belleville unit will not participate this year in the sale of the poppy flower, the members will sell the poppy seals. These seals can be purchased by contacting Mrs. Arthur Christie, unit president, 250 DeWitt avenue, or any of the unit members. All contributions are turned over to the welfare and rehabilitation funds of the auxiliary. May is the American Legion Poppy month and the sale of poppies and seals takes place May 27 and 28.

Juvenile Delinquency.

A practical program to prevent juvenile delinquency along the lines being conducted by the American Legion throughout the nation, is being sponsored by the Department of New Jersey American Legion and Auxiliary with Franklin M. Ritchie of Trenton, as its chairman. Mr. Ritchie has called a conference at Wallace Hall, Newark Y. M. C. A. building, 107 Halsey street, on Wednesday evening at 8 P. M. Elmer Buechle, Irvington Post 16, and Mrs. Lillian Jaques, Newark Unit 10, child welfare chairman of Essex County Legion and Auxiliary, will cooperate with the department chairman. Mr. Buechle and Mrs. Jaques have formed a committee with the following unit members to assist, Mrs. Lillian Osterhout, Irvington Unit 16; Ann Shuster, Nutley Unit 70; Mrs. Anna B. Evans, Public Service Unit 160; Mrs. Edna Mills, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Justine Grosvenor, East Orange Unit 73, and Mrs. Irene P. McCorkle, Belleville Unit 105, who will contact the various civic, fraternal, veteran organizations, woman's clubs, boy and girl scout directors, Knights of Columbus, churches and church agencies, principals of schools, heads of P. T. A.'s, all judiciary courts and other groups who are interested in the prevention of juvenile delinquency, to ask their cooperation by sending their official representative or representatives to this conference to aid with their presence and viewpoint.

The program is arranged for round table discussions with no set speeches and the following are the discussion leaders and their subjects:

"Juvenile Delinquency from the National Standpoint," Judge Richard Hartshorn, chairman, National Law and Order Committee of the American Legion; chairman, Interstate Commission on Crime; judge Essex County Court of Common Pleas.

"Juvenile Delinquency in New Jersey," Dr. Thomas W. Hopkins, superintendent of schools, Jersey City, member of the New Jersey Juvenile Delinquency Commission.

"A Community Attack on a Community Problem," Russell P. Walker, general secretary, Newark Y. M. C. A.

"Practical Points for the Community Council to Undertake," Gregg L. Frost, Springfield, chairman, Department Americanism Committee of the American Legion.

"The Community Takes Action," Mr. Ritchie, chairman, Department of New Jersey Child Welfare Committee of the American Legion.

Youngsters of sixteen commit more serious crimes in proportion to their numbers than do persons of any other age. This fact has been established by a recently published report of the New Jersey Juvenile Delinquency Commission, and this conference is being called to point out how this program can be put into effect, not only in northern New Jersey, but in each municipality, and this invitation to meet with the

and get ready for activities before the baseball game.

5. Troops will be judged constantly from the time they enter Clearman Field until they leave. Final results of points earned will not be known at time of departure.

6. Scouters are to stay in the background and leave the troop under proper Scout leadership. The junior assistant scoutmaster and all below him in rank may participate in events.

7. Each troop is to clean up campsite and to cooperate in seeing that all conduct themselves as GOOD SCOUTS—and that Clearman Field is left as "found" and even better than "found."

8. Tents are not to be ditched because of damage to grass on Clearman Field.

9. Scoutmasters should strive for the best conduct of all Scouts and are requested to keep Scouts from climbing on top of fences, buildings, etc.

This is the first time anything like this ever has been held in Belleville. All the Scouts and Scoutmasters of Belleville District, Robert Treat Council, want to thank the Board of Education for all it has done to make this First Annual Boy Scout Camporee a success. They also thank the Camporee Program Committee, which consists of John S. Charlton, chairman; Don Roviello and John Monaghan, for all the work and time they have spent to make the affair a success.

Clark Heads

Commissioner Noll voted "No" on all resolutions because he said he had not been considered and not been invited to attend the meeting when they were drawn up.

Former Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy was a guest at the first official meeting of the commission Tuesday night. He was invited by Mayor Williams to ascend the rostrum at the beginning of the meeting.

Mr. Kenworthy said in brief "Four years ago when I left this platform I did so with the promise that I would be back to spank the members of the board, as a private citizen, if they did not do right by the residents of this town."

"Well, this is my first visit to the Town Hall since that time, so you can judge for yourself that the commissioners did a good job."

"Do not blame your commissioners for the high tax rate for this has been caused largely by the statutes passed by your legislature in Trenton."

Mayor Williams announced the appointment of a Local Assistance Board composed of the following members: Rev. Kelly of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Rev. Peter Ritte Deckenbach, Christ Episcopal Church; Miss Jane Donnelly, of the Bureau of Vital Statistics; Town Treasurer Sargent and Public Affairs Director King.

The Mayor introduced the members of the commission, School Board President Herbert C. Schmutz, Supervising Principal Wayne R. Farmer and Town Clerk Mrs. Florence R. Morey who was requested by the Mayor to take a bow.

William Schemm, representing the call men, asked that Director Clark cooperate with the call men in making appointments to the Fire Department in the future. Schemm said he was not criticizing the individual appointments, made recently by Former Director George R. Gerard, but requested that more attention be given seniority in the future.

A citizen asked why the Police and Fire departments and town employees, in general, were not under Civil Service and Mayor Williams replied that he feels confident that the commissioners will go on record in favor of placing this question on the ballot at the election next fall.

American Legion is extended to all those whose work particularly concerns them with the Juvenile Delinquency problem in both official and unofficial circles.

I dashed for town as soon as I heard about it!

"I've been needin' a dependable pocket watch for a long time. I'm glad I heard about VICTOR HART's place . . . I know I wouldn't have found a selection like they have ANY place else!"

IT'S SMART TO DRIVE SAFELY

As a vital necessity of educating drivers, young and old, to the fact that "It's Smart to Drive Safely," Connecticut in its first state-wide highway safety conference, under the sponsorship of the Highway Safety Commission, recently stressed this point.

And therein lies a story that has been told for a long while in Belleville and the phrase put into practice here by Recorder Everett B. Smith, who has declared there must be a social taboo on the "fix." Education is strictly a local problem, as the solving of reckless driving here has demonstrated. The president of a large automobile company said in Connecticut, at the conference, that "it can only be solved successfully by creating the right mental attitude toward safe driving."

Recorder Smith took the cue long before Connecticut heard it, when he said there must be a social taboo on the combination of drinking and driving, young girls going out with young men who have had even one drink. In short, drivers must learn that, instead of being smart and sophisticated when they mix drinking and driving, they are enemies of society—potential murderers!

During the conference, Burton W. Marsh, director of safety of the American Automobile Association, declared: "If the record of Connecticut could have been extended to the rest of the United States, 59,000 lives would have been saved since 1928."

He is correct and so is Recorder Smith, who did a splendid job and is continuing to do it in his own efficient manner. Every state in the Union must follow the example set by Connecticut if the nation's highways are ever to be made safe and New Jersey could well take a page from Recorder Smith's book to fall in line with our nearby neighbor.

PRINCETON APPOINTMENTS IMPORTANT

The degree of usefulness of the recently enacted Princeton Local Government Survey bills to tighten control of municipal finances will be determined by the manner in which they are administered, the New Jersey Building and Loan League tells Governor Moore in a letter made public this week.

The League properly is interested in the success of the Princeton program. Its eleven hundred members own some $350,000,000 worth of tax burdened New Jersey real estate. The League's letter to Governor Moore serves to focus further public attention on the importance of the appointments soon to be made by the Governor, who shortly will announce the men he will name to the four $4,500 a year Local Government Board jobs created by the Princeton bills.

We face every prospect of a mounting Federal tax burden. With New Jersey real estate already overloaded, and a strong possibility that another drive for new sources of state taxation may develop here this fall, the hope held out by the new Princeton bills seems to be the only bright spot in a sombre and disturbing tax picture. This is the program which Dr. Harold W. Dodds, President of Princeton University, believes will save us $25,000,000 a year, when it becomes fully effective.

The Princeton bills were drawn by competent technicians, after thorough study. They offer a vehicle through which substantial relief may be afforded New Jersey taxpayers.

Men equipped to make the most of this fine program should be placed in these Princeton posts if a maximum of usefulness is to be gained from the municipal spending controls set up in the survey bills.

The building and loan league is right in stressing the fact that the "men who will comprise the Local Government Board have a large responsibility and it is essential that they be men of outstanding ability, with an appreciation of the problems of the taxpayers of this state."

RELIEF—THE FOURTH LARGEST BUSINESS

America is a land that prides itself on its high standard of living. And it is not a false pride, for Americans have more comforts and conveniences than any other people—all because America has pioneered in the development of these modern things through industrial expansion. With that expansion millions of jobs were created so those millions could buy the things they produced.

Now, however, America finds itself alarmingly going backward instead of forward toward an even higher standard of living.

Consider the hundreds of ways in which the 130,000,000 people of our country earn or receive their living. Broken down into classifications, we find now that relief—at the expense of the taxpayer and the public purse—ranks fourth. That means that more people are now being supported on relief rolls than by such other industries as mining, public utilities, transportation and construction. Only manufacturing, farming and the service trades rank above relief.

Why, people ask, has relief become a "big business"? There are many theories, but it is interesting to note that it has advanced materially during the past five-year era of government pump-priming and indiscriminate "emergency" spending.

Since 1933 the staggering total of more than $16,000,000,000 has been poured into the relief channels. By July 1, 1939, according to current government spending estimates, the total will mount to at least $20,000,000,000.

Some people say Federal spending is a political expedient. Perhaps it is, but we wonder if, in the long run, industrial America and its high living standards can survive if relief finally becomes the first ranking business of the country? Relief is not a productive enterprise and America must produce to exist.

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

THIS WEEK

By "GUARDIAN"

The views expressed in the column, "This Week," are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Assistant Secretary of War Woodring issues a bombast against the Dictator nations—an unnecessary bit of talk, it seems to us—and J. Edgar Hoover cracks right back and says, in effect, that the democracies had better watch their step or soon democracy will be no more.

We wonder!

Though modern democracy may be said to have begun with the formation of our own Republic and is but little over one hundred and fifty years old, the basis of our present democratic ideas are over seven hundred years old, going back to the famed British Magna Carta and the year 1215 and beyond.

Those ideas, in effect, said that Mr. Everybody should have something to say about how he lived and how he was governed. The democratic principles of government are a thousand or more years old. Ours was a new form of government based on those principles—and little more than that.

Now, despite their progress in the past twenty years, it is reasonable to suppose that the Dictators' totalitarian theories of government, as represented by Russia, Italy and Germany, are going generally to supersede the theories of democracy that have proven their worth increasingly over a period of ten or more centuries?

We think not!

These three governments—though all controlled by Dictators—vary widely in conception and in operation.

Russia—borne by war through the disruptions of a dictatorship, almost absolute Czarist monarchy—set about to go to the other extreme. No longer was the country to be run for the benefit of the Royal Family—for the landed gentry—or for the capitalist class leaders. Instead, Royalty was murdered or banished, all property was at the command of the State, capitalism was abolished, and the country was to be run for the benefit of the working class—and only for the benefit of those who labored with their hands and by the sweat of their brow.

That was called Communism.

Italy—had Editor Mussolini's pre-1922 views been carried out—was to be a Republic based on the same idea of "turning the rascals out"—but with a totally different objective of government than that which prevailed in Russia. Mussolini contends that everything that is done must be done for the good of the State—that the State is and must be all-powerful and that nothing, that no one—whether worker or capitalist—may stand in the way of the complete success and all dominant supremacy of the State. Though he became an avowed monarchist before the March on Rome in 1922—though he personally did not go to Rome until King Emanuel had invited him to accept the position of Premier and form a new government—though he now treats the King and the Royal Family with the utmost deference and respect, Mussolini's objectives have not changed one whit. The rights of an individual—of a property owner—personal freedom—mean nothing. Only the good of the State was to be considered.

That is Fascism.

The Treaty of Versailles attempted to make Germany a subject nation. Foreign troops occupied its soil. Contiguous areas, by heritage and population clearly German, were taken away—its colonies appropriated—its navy confiscated—a proud people under the figurative heel of the victorious Allies. Economic desolation, inflation, currency tinkering and near bankruptcy plunged Germany into despair. Into that picture came Hitler—a psychic idealist with a silvery tongue that caused many to class him as the world's greatest living orator. He had but one message: "Germans you are a proud people. You are the most able people in the world. You had and shall have again the greatest nation under heaven. Follow me and throw off the yoke of the conqueror." The Germans listened—believed him—followed him and Germany has largely thrown off the heavy hand that the Allies placed upon it.

Basically Hitler is a Fascist—in that with him, all is and must be for the State first, last and all the time. But acting as though he has received a mandate from on high, he has persecuted minorities, flouted religion, purged all opposition by way of the firing squad or the concentration camp and caused a literal reign of terror for all save his followers. That is Nazism today—or rather the Nazi version of Fascism.

Democracy, on the other hand, continues (and we insist that it does so continue) on the theory of a representative government—representing everybody regardless of racial, social or economic position—on the basis of majority rule. In our judgment this country leaned way over toward Fascism in the last year or so—way over to the idea that the State, the National Government and the objectives of the New Deal—were all important. But the defeat of the Supreme Court Bill and the Reorganization Bill turned the drift back toward genuine democracy—and we predict that the trend will be even more in that direction in the coming months.

Knowing what has happened in the Dictator nations is the only knowledge that we need to make us fight with all our might to retain the blessings of democracy.

One way to do it is to mind our own business.

Assistant Secretary Woodring, please note.

Yours 'til next week,
"GUARDIAN."

OPEN AIR GRADUATION

The Board of Education this year will try out an experiment with the graduation exercises scheduled June 22 in the High School. In contrast to other years, when the graduation had been held indoors, it is planned this year to hold the affair out in the open at Clearman Field. Usually indoor programs are uncomfortably staged in June because of the warm weather. The change should be for the better. Here's hoping that skies are bright and clear so that the program may go ahead as planned.

PIQUANT POLITICS

By MEADOR WRIGHT

The views expressed in the column, "Piquant Politics," are entirely those of Mr. Wright and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

SENATOR CLEE's new bill providing for judges of elections to whom would be given the power of appointment of all district election officers is the latest and most aggressive thrust at the powers of the executive department of the state government. These district election officers are now appointed by members of the county board of election, who in turn are appointed by the governor.

At first glance it might seem of trivial importance as to who should have the appointive power over these petty officials. But, actually, their selection is of the greatest importance. Under the new bill, the party that would dominate the joint session of the legislature would have almost complete control of the election machinery affecting nearly half of the voters of the state. Such a shift would be a revolution in government of the first order. Beyond doubt, it would weaken the Hague machine in Hudson to an enormous extent. Likewise, it would have its bearing in Essex, now under the actual domination of a coalition of Democrats and anti-Clean Government Republicans.

Thus, it will be seen that the stakes Clee is playing for are extremely high. The very size of the prize leads me to question the chances of the movement's success. Were Clee willing to make a bid for general Republican support, he very likely would succeed in his plan. Having undisturbed control of the legislature, Republican chiefs are not adverse to making G. O. P. hay while the Democratic sun is not shining. But the Hoffman wing of the party is not willing that Clee and Clean Government should get any substantial advantage. Actually, there are three major parties in New Jersey instead of two. Clean Government is hostile to both of the other groups, although, naturally, it cooperates to a certain extent with its fellow Republicans. The Hoffman wing of the party is on speaking terms with both the Clee group and the Democrats. Between the latter there is no fraternizing whatsoever.

The 1940 gubernatorial election is uppermost in the minds of all three groups. Clee desires to have his party's nomination. Hoffman does likewise. Knowing of this intense rivalry, Democratic leaders have hopes of sending another Democrat to the governor's chair to succeed Moore. Meanwhile time marches on, and candidates must be nominated by both parties just two years from the day this is being written.

Many things will happen during these two intervening years, but it is possible to make a fairly good guess as to the direction of political trends. Today, the Democratic party is very distinctly in eclipse. Hague is unpopular everywhere except in Hudson County, and New Jersey voters are yearning to turn away from the Democratic party, Republican chances of winning the next gubernatorial election would appear excellent were it not for party strife.

Realizing its potential advantage to his party, Mayor Hague is content to lay low for the intervening two years and let Republican dissent run its fatal course. Actually, Democratic leaders are thoroughly reconciled to losing the congressional elections this fall, and state elections both this year and next. Moore will be governor until 1941 and his party will dominate the judiciary in its various branches well beyond that time. A determined effort will be made to retain the governorship, and it is not at all unlikely that someone like Charles Edison will be drafted to oppose whichever Republican candidate survives the primary Armageddon of 1940. Edison, or someone like him, would have a good chance of winning, not because he would necessarily be a strong candidate, but because thousands of normal Republicans would prefer him either to Clee or Hoffman.

Unable to control the executive department of the government, the majority Republican group follows an organization's natural instinct for aggression by gradually reducing its powers. This process is almost inevitable, and will continue until the two parties lose their respective monopolies of these branches of government. Thus, Frank J. Murray of Orange and his colleague appointed by joint session this week are symbols of their party's power. If Clee can also add his two all-powerful election judges, Hague's enforced hibernation will be that much less secure. These judges cast shadows as ominous across the Democratic campfire as that of the symbolic Edison across the path of the Republicans. There is no security in politics, either for the individual or the group.

high-salaried economist to figure that out.

And of the matter of relief, a Michigan constituent has written his Congressman about the CIO's "shake-down" strike tactics in his community. The man complained that pickets prevented him from going to work because he had not paid his union dues. He wound up with this snapper:

"About the only plants left operating here are the relief plants."

And speaking of shadows, the coming primary battle in Essex is casting a silhouette before it as lofty as the peaks of the Himalayas. Clean Government forces are in a position not unlike that of the Allies in 1918. They know that some Ludendorff is going to make a desperate effort to crush them, but they do not know just where or how the blow will be struck. Meanwhile William C. Cope of Glen Ridge commutes mysteriously between Newark and Trenton. Jesse R. Salomon emerges from the hills of Sussex like a butterfly from a cocoon. The ubiquitous Mrs. Edith Kreuzinger flits hither and yon like a spring robin gathering worms for a very hungry brood. Homer C. Zink, John R. Rogers and any number of others stay ominously in the background. The mysterious Arthur T. Vanderbilt doesn't show even the whites of his hawk-like eyes. Dr. Lester H. Clee smiles and says nothing. Nerves are as taut as bow strings. To draw another simile, Essex is like Europe in August, 1914. And again like Europe, Tannenberg and the Marne will be fought in September. There is very little political sleep in this Clean Government paradise.

Why Tax Delinquency?

Prepared for the Belleville News by Dr. Maurice F. Neufeld, acting secretary, New Jersey State Planning Board.

Considerable attention has been given to tax delinquency as an administrative problem. Students of the problem agree that taxes are often not paid because of lax collection methods and that the severity of tax delinquency is further aggravated by the lack of effective penalties attached to mandatory tax sale provisions. Tax delinquency of this type has been designated as voluntary and solutions to this problem are sought through putting teeth into existing laws or through the enactment of new and more efficient laws. These solutions are relatively simple, involving no grappling with fundamental problems, and the experience of Massachusetts has shown that tax delinquency may be reduced considerably through administrative reform.

But a certain percentage of tax delinquency will exist even with the enactment of the most perfect tax collection and tax laws and with the existence of the most efficient administrative system. For this type of delinquency is involuntary. Taxes cannot be met simply because there is no money with which to pay them.

The New Jersey State Planning Board has endeavored to analyze the causes of this type of delinquency in the rural areas of New Jersey. It is impossible, of course, to estimate what part of involuntary rural tax delinquency in New Jersey was due to the repercussions of a world-wide depression, and no attempt has been made to consider this factor. But certain other factors of great influence, though more limited in scope and consequently easier to analyze, are known to have a direct bearing upon the incidence of rural tax delinquency. Much tax delinquent land has never, and should never, be farmed, nor should it remain in private hands where its lack of productivity piles up back taxes year after year. Other lands which are heavily tax delinquent are farmed, but should be taken out of agricultural use because the soil is unsuited to such use. Again many farms which are situated on soil of good agricultural potentiality are too small in size to be operated economically. These small farms are usually sold to unwary and inexperienced, but hopeful, victims by high pressure methods. Still other farms may have good soil, may be of sufficient size to warrant economical operation, but through the lack of sufficient operating capital and diversity of products, the gross possible income is limited and a period of economic depression finds such farms seriously handicapped. Another factor which has added to the intensity of the tax delinquent situation in the state is the wide divergence in the tax per acre on rural land of essentially the same type. This is to some degree an administrative matter, but is closely connected with the entire problem of soil potentiality, and equalization can be achieved only through a close analysis of soil types and potentialities throughout the state. In many instances all of these factors may contribute to the tax delinquent problem in a municipality.

Lefty Les Dunn Just Misses Admission to Hall of Fame in Baseball Game Here

Belleville High School Hurler Lets Down Thomas Jefferson High Ball Club With Two Bingles

"Lefty" Les Dunham just missed admission into baseball's mythical hall of fame, Friday afternoon, at Clearman Field, as he hurled Belleville High to a 4-1 victory over Thomas Jefferson of Elizabeth.

For eight innings the southpaw frustrated the best efforts of the Betsytown batsmen, setting them down without the semblance of a hit or run.

Bud Campbell, Jefferson catcher and first man up for the visitors in the ninth, ruined Dunham's bid with a scratch infield single. Jefferson's only other bingle, a well-hit double by second-sacker Steve Kunka, drove in Campbell to spoil the shutout.

THE OUTDOOR WORLD

By Bob Bangert

Last Friday at the Belleville High School the students had an assembly at which they heard a very interesting talk on Bees. The High School was the only school in Belleville to receive this talk.

The topic "Bees" or any other subject on nature is a very hard subject to get interest from a group of high school students. The speaker had brought along with him a section of one of his beehives for investigation. In it were a few hundred bees. The speaker went on to tell the students that if it were not for the bees pollinating the flowers, that ninety per cent of the flowers would die. This is a very true statement. The bee comes in contact with the pollen as he crawls into the flower seeking the nectar within. The pollen falls on his shoulders and he goes on to another bush. This pollen is necessary to the flower as it fertilizes the eggs in the ovary of the flower.

The speaker also stated how bees were kept in the days of old. The natural habitat of the bees was in the hollow trees. The bee keepers would saw off the tree above the hive and under the tree and take it home. In the olden days many thousands of bees were killed every time the keeper wanted to get out the honey. Nowadays the keeper even goes so far as to make the cells for the bees to deposit the honey in.

The speaker did not believe that the queen bee should be called queen. He explained that the queen is really a slave to do as the others wish her to do. Her job is that of laying the eggs. In one day the queen bee may lay several thousand eggs.

The speaker also had with him some of the paraphernalia that is used in seeking admittance to the bee kingdom, such as a hood, etc. He also explained that a bee keeper always rolls up his sleeves when he goes near a bee hive. The bees walk up and down his arms and do not hurt him, but if the sleeves are rolled down and a bee walks under the sleeve and gets caught underneath, it's just too bad.

Another topic that seemed to interest the students was when the speaker told them that it is a wrong belief that a bee bites. He doesn't and more interesting the stinger is not in front where you would expect it to be. It is in the other end. The bee just sits down and pushes. The stinger is pulled from the bee as the skin is very tough. The bee leaves for the morgue after he bites you, as it is more painful to the bee than it is to you, believe it or not.

He also explained that the cosmetics some girls use on their face are made from bees' wax and that the same ingredients that are in their cosmetics are in shoe polish.

Track Schedule

Belleville High School track schedule for the balance of the season is as follows:

Tuesday, Brookdale Park, Bloomfield, 4 P. M., South Side (Newark); May 31, Brookdale Park, 3:45 P. M., East Orange; June 4, Montclair High School Field, New Jersey State Meet and June 8, City Stadium, Newark, 3:30 P. M., West Side, Newark.

Bears Prowl Back To Ruppert Stadium

Seeds To Be Object of All Eyes Sunday Afternoon

Headed by their one-man tornado, Bob Seeds, the batting sensation of the baseball world, the Bears return to Ruppert Stadium Sunday, to begin an inter-city series with the Jersey City Giants. It will be the first meeting of the season between the two rivals and a record crowd is expected to see the teams clash. In their first meeting the teams will clash in a doubleheader, which has been made possible by moving up a game originally scheduled for May 31. With the Giants showing signs of rounding into a pennant contender and possible new players coming in, the twin bill should furnish plenty of high class baseball.

While the followers of the two teams are highly enthused over the meeting, all are anxious to get a peek at Seeds, the Bears' rrrng fly hawk. Bob is due for a marvelous demonstration as a result of his sensational hitting in Buffalo earlier in the month. There Bob smashed four homers in four successive innings and in the same game got a pair of singles. He drove in twelve runs, a new league record and equalled the record for total bases, eighteen in one game. The next day Seeds cracked out three more homers on successive trips. No other player has ever hit seven homers in two successive games. Bob is playing the greatest ball of his career and hopes to be able to show the fans Sunday, just how he hammered the offerings of Buffalo hurlers.

Not only is Seeds attracting attention, but so are Jimmy Gleeson, Les Scarsella and Charles Keller by their great stick work. The four did their share in producing victories for the champions on their trip through the North.

With the Bears will be Pitchers Richard Atley Donald and Lee Elbert Stine. Both were sent to the Bears this week by the New York Yankees. Donald was the ace of the hurling staff last year, winning nineteen games and losing two. Stine was with the Kansas City Blues and is making his debut in the league. The pair should add considerable help to the Bears hurling staff. Then Catcher Buddy Rosar, who has been on the hospital list, will be in uniform ready for service.

The Giants are much stronger than last season and now rated as a real threat in the race. They always play their best ball against the Bears. With the Giants are Babe Herman, Hal Burham, Jack Winsett, Les Powers and Glenn Myatt. Burham, Herman and Winsett form a heavy hitting outfield and their big bats are dangerous threats. Myatt is regarded as a find and led the Pacific Coast League last year in steals. Manager Travis Jackson is back in the game at third base and his presence in the game has helped to make the Giants a stronger outfit. Les Powers, a former Bear, is playing first base. The hurling staff is strong with a number of promising youngsters on the staff. It is possible some of the help promised by Manager Bill Terry will be on hand for the series. After the twin bill Sunday the teams move to Jersey City for three games, then the Bears return home for a four-game series with the Baltimore Orioles.

Postpone Race at Langhorne Speedway

Big Cars Will go to The Post This Sunday

LANGHORNE, Pa., May 20.—Half a hundred speed boys who had hoped to race at Langhorne last Sunday, will have to wait until this Sunday, to go after gold and glory on America's fastest mile circular speedway.

Auto races, due to be run May 15, have been postponed to Sunday, as the weather man stepped in with cold, inclement and intermittent showery phases to make the day a "washout."

But the same star-studded field is due to be back, entries will be reopened, the program will remain the same and race fans will just have to wait one week longer to see their favorites in action.

From Langhorne it will be "on to Indianapolis" as the new date preceded the 500-mile race in the Hoosier capitol by just eight days.

Gates to Langhorne will open Sunday at 10 A. M., Daylight Time, with the trials starting at noon and races proper at three o'clock.

There will be four ten-mile races and the fifty-mile feature final.

Musketeers Bang Away at Emanons

Fracas at Belwood Park Is Decided by 5-2 Score

The Belleville Musketeers Friday defeated the Belleville Emanons at Belwood Park, 5-2. Going into the last half of the sixth the score was tied at two all, but the Musketeers scored three times at that stage of the game to place the battle on ice. Red Willie, for the victors, caused twelve Emanon batters to whiff the ozone. George Peacock, on the mound for the losers, fanned eight Musketeers. Al Willie, newly acquired player for the Musketeers, started at bat, with a double and single.

The Musketeers tackled the Newark Blue Jays Saturday afternoon at the same oval, but Jupe Puvius caused a cessation of hostilities in the second with neither club having a run to its credit.

The locals travel tomorrow to West Side Park, Newark, to engage the Mt. Holly Tigers and Sunday they will cross bats with the Laurel A. C. at Branch Brook Park.

Weight Was No Deterrent To Speed When Ed Hollweg Ran Quarter Century Ago

Local Man Rarely Came Home Without a Medal, Stop-Watch, Stick-Pin or Suit Case for Endeavors

While weighing 195 pounds, Edward Hollweg, 18 Hornblower avenue, ran the 100 and 220-yard races and won nearly every event he entered in this section of the country, a few years back.

Under the colors of the Belleville Catholic Club, he was New Jersey A. A. U. champion in those two events during the years 1910, 1911 and 1912.

In all he has 150 medals, six stop watches, three diamond stick pins and five suit cases to show for his ability as a runner. He never missed a week during the Spring and Summer of those years when he did not return home without some awards for his effort.

In keeping in training was no sinecure either. He had to work all day and train at night to keep in trim.

In 1911 he won four first places for Newark Y. M. C. A.

Some of his pals in the Belleville Catholic Club were Paul Kennedy, Holy Cross University, who was also coach, Eddie Garvey who lives in Lincoln terrace, Harry Fitzpatrick, a half-miler, who formerly lived at

Bill (Omaha) Van Horn Wins Waiters' Stakes at Cornell, Upsetting the Dope

Local Young Man Covers Quad Course in 5:10, Carrying His Weight Bravely and As Planned

Bill (Omaha) Van Horn, son of Mrs. T. H. Van Horn, 364 Little street, an added starter, recently capped the third running of the rich "Waiters' Claiming Stakes," over the two furlongs, Cornell campus course, Ithaca, thereby launching the program for the thirteenth annual opening of the Hotel Ezra Cornell.

Carrying his bowl of water with consummate dexterity and balance atop his slippery tray, Carl Snavelly's freshman candidate for center, came from behind with a spectacular rush to win. He stood off a great challenge by Bob (Fighting Fox) McDonald, heavily backed favorite, while some 600 odd spectators cheered the rousing duel.

Van Horn won over the full mile course in the surprising time of 5:10. Tony (Equipoise) Fertitta, another added starter, lightly considered in the betting, finished third, five lengths back, nosing out Al (Lawrin) Van Ronsst, the picture (clothes) horse, and Swifty (Seabiscuit) Bohman, who finished fourth and fifth.

In addition to collecting the Harry Gordon gold cup from Coach John F. Moakley as he cantered back to the winner's circle, Omaha paid off his scanty backers at 4 to win, 2 to place and 1 to show. By a strange twist in the odds by Jack Doyle Kersey, Fighting Fox McDonald failed to pay when he failed to take first honors. Equipoise Fertitta was the long-shot players' delight, paying 50 to show.

Pacing himself beautifully once the barrier went up to stay, Omaha Van Horn made the most of his steadiness and reserve power to win a race that was as truly run as it was shocking to the form players.

Board Grants Use of Field for Softball

Twilight League is, Also Given Clearman Field For Baseball

Permission was granted the Manufacturers' Softball League the use of Clearman Field, Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays, providing the same rules and regulations are observed as in previous years, at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Permission also was granted the Twilight Development League the use of the field Friday nights for baseball games. This league has six teams entered and expects to start May 27.

Many of the board members agreed to attend the meeting of the Federation of Boards of Education at the State House, Trenton, Friday, June 3, when Governor A. Harry Moore and Dr. Elliott of the State Board of Education, will speak.

Band Leader Peter Rosenzweig was granted three weeks vacation, beginning June 4, in order that he may attend the National Guard encampment at Sea Girt.

The board approved the sending of four high school boys to Westfield, May 25, to compete in the state golf tournament for high school's, contingent on the approval of the Athletic Council, which the board expects will pay the expenses.

The gate-legged son of Football, out of Hotel School, was rated off of fast early pace set by Jack (Twenty Grand) Sheffer, saved ground in the long run across the green from the middle of the quadrangle and came through on the inside to take command as the field headed into the paved stretch to the finish before Willard Straight hall.

Pressed by Omaha's cagey tactics, Sheffer became rattled and ran out from under his bowl of water, thereby disqualifying himself though he crossed the line first. Sun Beau Chamberlain, another added starter, also finished in front with tray and bowl intact, but had splashed out all his water in the struggle for the pole.

Sprawled out behind in a tangle of waiters' aprons, shining trays and inverted bowls were Mowow Moransky, Man O'War Mogk, War Admiral West, Can't Wait Hershey, The Chief Lafayette and The Dauber Blasco.

Hinchliffe Features Brother Combination

Joe and Jimmie Lardino To Face Gun of Starter Tuesday Night

The only brother combination in motorcycle racing, Joe and Jimmie Lardino of Hoboken, will be among the starters in the weekly motorcycle races at the Hinchliffe City Stadium in Paterson Tuesday night, when the speedsters resume their warfare on the fifth-of-a-mile track.

The Lardino brothers, two of the outstanding riders in the motorcycle racing ranks the past few years, loom as hot possibilities to capture top honors in the speed competition at the Paterson track this season. They have been showing up well in their tune-ups of the past three weeks and their machines are in good condition.

Jimmie and Joe will have a formidable field to contend with in Tuesday night's races at the Paterson track, however. They will have to encounter such stiff opponents as Bo Lisman, Eastern champion of last season, who is out to repeat and Crocky Rawding, the sensational Jersey rider who finished second to Lisman in the title meet after a great fight.

In addition the starting line-up Tuesday under the stadium lights will include such daredevils of the trackless machines as Don Smith, Texas Ranger; Dutch Mueller, Pee-wee Cullum, Walt Nazur, Palmer Tamburro, "Lazy Lou" Wilson, Mutt Kelly and Ray Tausler. All of these competitors are prepared for the program of eighteen races which Promoter John Kochman has lined up.

The races will start at 8:45 o'clock, with American Motorcycle Association officials in complete charge of the events throughout the night. A big field has been gathered for this show with the leading riders on hand to match speed on the fast Paterson track.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those two pounds of Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Belleville Tracksters Trim Clifton TeamAt Brookdale Park by Score of 44-42

Ed Slavin, Who Showed Boys at Bloomfield How It Was Done Week Ago, Snared Tops in Three Events

By Jacob Levine.

Fresh from a triumph over their traditional rival, Bloomfield, the Belleville tracksters went on to further conquest last Friday and trimmed a strong Clifton cinder squad, 44-42, at Brookdale Park, Bloomfield. The locals thereby won their third meet of the season, losing only to Hillside at Elizabeth.

Ed Slavin, who showed the boys at Bloomfield how it was done the week before by snaring the honors in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes and the broad jump, duplicated his feat against Clifton. Undaunted by a strong wind, which struck in the faces of the runners, Slavin was clocked at 10.4 seconds in the 100-yard dash and 22.8 in the 220-yard sprint. He barely missed jumping twenty feet in the broad jump, his mark being nineteen feet, eleven inches.

The mile run wasn't even a contest. Bob Bangert strode home far ahead of the field, and at no time during the race was he in any danger of losing his lead. His time was five minutes, flat. This was Bangert's third win of the season. Charles Hollweg galloped across the line far ahead of the others, winning the 880-yard run.

Danny Wascoe continued his winning ways by copping the duke in the high jump, at five feet, seven inches. Wascoe didn't feel so well at the outset of the meet, not even donning a track suit. Despite this handicap, he leisurely took the field, jumping in street clothes. And, we might add, Danny came back the next day at the Newark Academy invitation meet, jumped into a triple tie, and walked home with a big silver cup.

The results:
100-Yard Dash—Won by Slavin, Belleville; second, E. Hollweg, Belleville; third, Pakbin, Clifton. Time—0:10.4.

Dickinson CopsGame in Tenth*Four-run Rally in the*Ninth Upset Bellboy Combine

By Edgar Bloemeke.

The Belleville High baseball team Monday lost its sixth game of the year to a hard-fighting Dickinson High nine, 9-8, at Clearman Field.

The Hudson County team came from behind in the ninth inning, getting four runs on three hits and two bases on balls to tie the score, 8-8. In the tenth Stan Fiederowicz, the batting star of the afternoon, connected for his third double over the left field fence, with a man on second, to shove across the run that proved to be the winning tally of the game.

Adolph Paul started for Belleville and pitched a fine game until the ninth, when he filled the bases with two walks and a base hit. "Bill" Parmer relieved him with no outs and was tapped for four runs to tie the score and one in the tenth to win.

Howard Byles, who was in a slump at the beginning of the season, got three hits from the offerings of Doherty and Barber, to take top hitting honors for Belleville. "Vin" Sorrentino, who got a mighty triple with the bases full and a double, and "Vin" Riccio, who had a perfect day at the plate, getting two out of two, followed Byles in the hitting honors.

Eagles Lose Again;Score This Time, 8-4*Irrington Anuks Aided by*Errors Defeat*Locals

The Belleville Eagles continued in the loss column Sunday when they were defeated by the Irrington Anuks, 8-4. Errors and some timely hitting by the visitors led to Goglia's downfall.

The Eagles went ahead in the first inning on Gonnello's home run to deep left field. The Anuks tied the count in the second and went ahead with three in the fourth. In the Eagles' half of the fourth, after two were out, Caruso walked, stole second and scored on two wild throws. Kurpinski walked but Goglia ended the inning, grounded out.

Trailing 4-2, going into the eighth inning, the Eagles went to pieces when two errors and five hits scored four runs for the Anuks.

In the last half of the ninth, with the Eagles behind 8-2, they started a rally which fell short. After Caruso fanned, Kurpinski singled to left. Goglia was the second out on a lift to short. Danski singled, sending Kurpinski to third. Gonnello, who has been hitting the ball at a tremendous pace, got his third hit of the game, a long double to center, scoring Kurpinski and Danski. Bracaglia then walked, but Johnson skied to center ending the game.

Batting stars of the game were, for the Anuks, Weisbach and Salmon, with two hits each; for the Eagles, Gonnello had three, including his four master and Kurpinski had two.

Stepping Stone ProvesA Stumbling Block

The brown stepping stone that served its purpose in the horse and buggy days, and which stands in the front of the home of Mrs. Louisa Wells, 168 Mill street, caused an accident Saturday night.

Resenting the influx of the automobile the stepping stone, which dates back a hundred years, got in the way of an automobile driven by Salvatore Grotini, 20 Harrison street.

Grotini, who was driving a roadster, reported to the police that his car hit a bump in Mill street, and this caused it to swerve into the stone.

Printing Classes on Visit to Plants

Schoolboys See Work at Yerg's and Crescent Press

By Richard Stimson.

Belleville High School printing classes, under the supervision of John S. Charlton, visited the Crescent Press, 133 Washington avenue, and Yerg, Inc., 85 Washington avenue, during school hours, Wednesday.

The most interesting feature of the visit to Yerg's was, perhaps, the monotype machine, which consists of a keyboard and an automatic type-casting machine. The keyboard punches holes in a roll of paper corresponding to letters on the keys pressed. When the roll is used on the casting machine, a device similar to the mechanism of a player piano selects the matrices of the letters indicated, and the letters are cast individually. The type metal hardens instantly, a sharp edge cuts off the excessive metal, and the pieces of type are arranged in order. The rolls may be saved and used again as many times as necessary.

The flat-bed presses at Yerg's plant had gas jets to dry the ink on the paper as it flew over.

The motor-powered paper cutter trimmed stacks of paper five inches high with a single c-r-u-n-c-h.

The folding machine, capable of four creases in one trip through the machine, creased sheets of paper quickly and accurately.

Proofs were checked for rectitude, horizontally and vertically on the line-up table.

Holes of various shapes were punched through several sheets on a foot-operated machine, and standard round holes were drilled through inch-thick stacks of paper on a power drill.

An adjustable power-driven perforating machine would cut perforations of various lengths through several sheets.

At the Crescent Press the students saw a battery of platen presses. One of them was equipped with an automatic compressed-air feed. They also saw dies for cutting irregular shapes.

The classes have already visited the Belleville News, at 501 Washington avenue, and Sweeney Lithograph Co., Inc., 69 Academy street. Mr. Charlton plans to take his group very soon to see ink made. A trip may also be made to a large newspaper in the evening.

Student Loan Party

The Student Loan Council of Belleville will hold a party Thursday, June 2, in the Elks auditorium.

Proctor's Feature

Loretta Young and Richard Greene in "Four Men and a Prayer," with George Sanders, David Niven, C. Aubrey Smith and J. Howard Bromberg, head the program opening tomorrow at Proctor's Theatre. The companion feature is Joe Penner's "Go Chase Yourself," with Lucille Ball and June Travis.

David Garth's novel of the same title is the story upon which "Four Men and a Prayer" is based.
