Donations Made to "Seeing Eye Fund"

Card Party Planned at Veterans' Hall Among Others

The "Seeing Eye Fund" is rapidly developing wide-spread interest about town and donations are coming in, not only from organizations, but individuals. The committees in charge hope to raise enough by July 4 to complete the fund.

Week by week donors' names will be printed. To date the list follows:

$10.00.
Areme Chapter No. 73, O. E. S.
Christ Episcopal Church
$5.00.
Junior Order
Belleville Rainbow Girls
Evening Guild
$2.50.
W. C. K. Club
$2.00.
Altar Guild, C. C.
$1.25
Jolly Eight Bridge Club

George A. Younginger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has donated use of its clubrooms at Belleville avenue and Stephen street on Thursday evening, June 6, for a benefit party for the fund. A group of women from the Valley section of town are sponsoring the affair. On the committee are Mrs. Elsa Balzer, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Gray, Mrs. Mary Schultz, Mrs. Madeline Mitchell and Mrs. Mary Jewell.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brink, 354 Stephen street, who is also working in connection with the fund, says the women "are deriving much happiness from this endeavor."

Assistance from all is asked in connection with the party, at which many awards will be given. Other card parties are in the making, one of which is planned June 9, in the home of Mrs. William Terry, 11 Bell street. She will be assisted by Mrs. Catherine Baurhenn.

Hot Brakes Cause Excitement Here

Firemen from Headquarters

Right Bus Trouble Before Alarm

The overheating Saturday of a brake band, on a Public Service bus, caused the heat to spread through the entire wheel, setting fire to the two tires on the left rear side of the bus.

The bus was passing in Washington, near Tappan avenue, and the bus driver pulled his bus to a stop near that intersection. He ran to Malone avenue, the next block north, and phoned from the Blue and White Garage to the fire headquarters.

In the meantime, firemen from the station house, who are ever on watch, spied the fire and were on the scene when the bus driver returned to his bus.

A volume of steam was emitted when the firemen first turned the hose on the rear wheels, but this was rapidly subdued as the wheels cooled off.

No passengers were on the bus, at the time, and little damage resulted.

Town Commission Hears Mayor's Plan To Celebrate Belleville's Centennial

Business and Industrial Leaders Will Be Asked To Cooperate with Many Prominent Citizens

Mayor William H. Williams plans to call in the near future, a conference of members of the Town Commission and prominent citizens to formulate plans for the 100th anniversary of the town, which occurs next year.

While no definite arrangements have as yet been made, it is understood the Mayor has a plan in mind that will embrace all Belleville's interests.

Another conference of importance—WPA projects—is planned for Tuesday evening. The board is faced with the problem of finding something to do for those now on projects, but whose work is expected to terminate by August.

Director of Streets and Public Improvements Patrick A. Waters, Monday afternoon, advised his colleagues on the commission that there are 400 WPA workers in Belleville and 300 additional residents working on projects out of town. The 400, he said, will have nothing to do at the end of summer, except fall back on relief, unless new plans are made.

He pointed out that time is essen-

Citizens Asked To Contribute Toward Food For Underprivileged Children at Camp

Unless Funds Are Thus Raised Needy Boys and Girls Will Have To Forego Two Weeks' Vacation

Belleville Recreation Camp, which has proven a friendly haven for underprivileged children, whose parents have felt the stinging hand of adversity, will not be open this summer for that much needed vacation for the youngsters—unless public-spirited citizens contribute to a fund, which is about to be started.

Because there is a dearth of funds to carry on the camp plans in the Recreation Commission budget, there is little hope for the children, unless philanthropic friends come to their aid. Wilfred Yudin, a member of the Recreation Commission, Philip Dettlebach, former town commissioner, Recorder Everett B. Smith and Wallin H. Masten, editor of this newspaper are starting the ball rolling for donations, which may be sent to this newspaper directly or to Howard McMaster, treasurer, in care of the First National Bank of Belleville.

There are some funds available for the camp program along Third River but, it is estimated, about $400 or $500 additional is needed to care for some 250 children. The cost of maintaining each for a week at the camp is about $3.50.

All funds will be used entirely for the youngsters.

Art Club Exhibits Paintings at Library

Display Continues for a Week Starting Tomorrow

The Belleville Art Club, in the Belleville Public Library, will hold an exhibition of paintings executed by local artists, beginning tomorrow and continuing until June 11.

Such well-known artists as Samuel Miller, Ted Krause and a former Belleville man, Matthew Geddes, will exhibit works of their own hand.

The committee in charge includes Mr. Miller as chairman, Mrs. James Swann, Mr. Krause and Mr. Geddes. The guest artists in the exhibition will be Heyley Lever, West Caldwell; Theodore Bogot, Newark; Harold Tanner, Montclair, and P. Webster Diehl, of the Belleville High School faculty.

Mr. Geddes, announced at a meeting held Tuesday night at the club, that he had received honorable mention at the finals of the New Jersey Art Club show, held last week.

Cash Stolen from Local Coal Concern

$160 Removed from Office Of Smith Brothers Company

About $160 in cash was stolen Friday night from the office of Smith Brothers Coal Company, 74 Academy street, according to Police Chief George Spatz.

Clifford Smith, a partner in the company, reported the theft to Chief Spatz, Saturday morning. Lieutenant Richard Nourse, is investigating.

Between the acts, School Principal Fred W. Evans introduced Mayor William H. Williams who spoke. The Mayor congratulated the participants for their efforts in making the show a success. He also spoke of the good work being done by the parent-teacher groups in creating a better understanding of the school and home problems in relation to the child. Mayor Williams also said that he hoped the movement would grow as a better understanding of the school needs and problems by the citizenry would mean better schools for Belleville. He received an arousing ovation.

Refreshments were served before leaving by Mrs. Boniface, Mrs. Roeloff, Mrs. Del Guercio and Mrs. Matt.

Milk Disappears

Nicholas Caruso, 101 Cortlandt street, reported to police headquarters Sunday that he has lost his milk bottles for the past three Sunday mornings.

In fact, Nicholas said, he believes some one with a filching hand removed the bottles from his front porch and Nicholas is vengeful.

Lucky Dog

With tears in his eyes, Bob Heinrich, 477 Washington avenue, told sympathetic firemen of headquarters company why he had to get rid of "Blackie," a canine of black and tan extraction, which belonged to him.

Bob said that a big police dog, which roamed the neighborhood, attacked "Blackie" so often when taken out, even on a leash, and the fact that the black and tan was only pint size, made it expedient that he part with his pal.

Fireman William Gilchrist was so touched by the youth's story that he offered to adopt the dog at once. The animal is now comfortably ensconced at the fireman's Van Houten place home.

Brumbach Named Scout Field Executive

Local Man To Be Placed in New Hampshire Territory

William K. Brumbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Brumbach, 100 Little street, has been appointed as assistant field executive in the Boy Scouts of America. His territory is New Hampshire.

Mr. Brumbach has been active in scouting for the past fourteen years, and was a member of Troop 4, Belleville. During the summer months for the past four years, he was a councillor at Camp Mohican. Mr. Brumbach recently received a certificate stating that he had completed the required training for an executive in scouting. This training is for a period of a month at the Mortimer Shifts Memorial Home for Scouts at Mendham.

Mr. Brumbach's high school and college courses were marked with numerous extra-curricula activities. In high school he was active in football and dramatics and was president of the graduating class of 1932.

At Duke University, Mr. Brumbach was outstanding in scout and Y. M. C. A. work on the campus, and was president of the latter group in his sophomore year. For outstanding work on the campus he was elected to Beta Omega Sigma, an honorary fraternity at Duke.

Mr. Brumbach was also treasurer and vice president of his fraternity, Delta Tau Delta. As a member of the Pegasus Chemistry Club of the university, he held the office of president.

Between the acts, School Principal Fred W. Evans introduced Mayor William H. Williams who spoke. The Mayor congratulated the participants for their efforts in making the show a success. He also spoke of the good work being done by the parent-teacher groups in creating a better understanding of the school and home problems in relation to the child. Mayor Williams also said that he hoped the movement would grow as a better understanding of the school needs and problems by the citizenry would mean better schools for Belleville. He received an arousing ovation.

Refreshments were served before leaving by Mrs. Boniface, Mrs. Roeloff, Mrs. Del Guercio and Mrs. Matt.

Work to Begin on Girl Scout Cabin

Proceeds From Cookie Sale Will Provide Necessary Funds

The foundation having been laid, work will begin Monday on the erection of a cabin for Belleville Girl Scouts, at South Mountain Reservation, on the land reserved for girl scouts.

Proceeds from a cookie sale, now in progress, are expected to provide funds for the building of the cabin. Headquarters for the sale, which is sponsored by the Girl Scout Mothers, are located at 262 Washington avenue, and the Town Hall. The cakes may be obtained also from any girl scout.

The cabin is being erected through the kindness of Harry Bowden, Nutley; William Anderson, 165 Hornblower avenue, and Walter P. Weiss, 242 Ralph street, who are builders and the fathers of the girl scouts.

A porch will be built around the cabin and sleeping quarters, for the girls, will be placed on its roof.

The building will be a one-room affair and will be thirty-nine by twenty feet.

Craftsmen Plan Big Time at Elks With Newark Bears' Team As Guests

Visiting Craftsmen, Suburban Chapter, De Molay and Belleville Lodge of Elks, Among Invited Guests

Belleville Craftsman Club No. 409, will hold father and son night at Belleville Elks Club, on Wednesday. The president of the Craftsman Club, George Walker, will welcome all members of Suburban Chapter, De Molay, delegations from all craftsman clubs in and around Essex County, and members of Belleville Elks Lodge No. 1123.

Mr. Walker and his committee, Frank Bangert, Charles Nutt, Edward Hartz, Harry Wortman, Edward McLaughlin, have been very fortunate in securing Ray Kennedy, secretary, Johnny Neun, manager, and, as near to the complete lineup of the Newark Bears baseball club, as will be able to attend. The Newark Bears will also bring all the movies of the complete training period and games played on the way north.

After the way this team took over Jersey City Giants on last Sunday, Belleville will have the opportunity to see the members of a great ball club. Due to the large number of invited guests and friends, it will be necessary that this affair start as near 8:30 P. M. as possible, as the players are all in training. There will be a business meeting of the Belleville Craftsman starting at 7:45 P. M., so as to be ready to receive their guests on time.

No Mineral Spring

James J. Earley, 165 Malone avenue, thought he had discovered another Munkaesy mineral spring, when he entered the cellar of his friend, Bob McGough, and found water bubbling up through the cellar floor.

However, upon investigation, he found that a leak from a hydrant, in front of McGough's apartment house was causing the water to enter the basement, underneath the floor and to rise through the floor.

Express Gratification In Poster Contest

American Legion Auxiliary Pleased with Schools' Cooperation

A meeting of Belleville Unit No. 105, American Legion Auxiliary, was held Monday evening at 170 Washington avenue. Mrs. Arthur Christie, president, requested all members to attend the memorial services at the Montgomery Church, Mill street, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and the parade on Monday morning at 9 o'clock, which will start at the Town Hall. Mrs. Christie will place a wreath on one of the town memorial monuments.

A report of the committee for the Poppy Poster Contest which was opened to the pupils of the Belleville schools, was submitted, and the following posters were selected from the two groups competing, one from the fifth and sixth grades and one from the seventh and eighth grades: William Mackey, 252 Cortlandt street, Grade 6, and Donald White, 61 Wilbur street, Grade 8B, both from School No. 7. The High School pupils did not compete. The names of these two contestants, together with the posters, were sent to the County Auxiliary chairman, to be judged with others from other schools throughout Essex County.

It was agreed by the members to award three prizes, one to each of the winning posters, from the Belleville Unit and the poster submitted by Hilda Yari, 360 Washington avenue, Grade 8, School No. 1, was included with those named, the presentation of prizes to be made by Mrs. Christie on Monday evening, June 13, at the regular business meeting of the unit. Ethel Shumard, 160 DeWitt avenue, Grade 7, School No. 3, was given honorable mention for having the outstanding poster from that school and it was decided to display it permanently at the post and auxiliary meeting rooms.

This is the first time the Belleville auxiliary has taken on this phase of American Legion Auxiliary work and the manner in which the contest was accepted by the pupils and the teachers of the Belleville schools, is gratifying. The judging was made with the following points: Appeal, fifty per cent; (catching the spirit of the significance of the American Legion Poppy); artistic ability, twenty per cent; originality, twenty per cent and neatness, ten per cent.

The sincerity of the boys and girls, who took part in this contest, deserves a great deal of praise and the unit desires to thank each pupil and to show its appreciation, has received permission to have all of the posters, of which approximately 100 were submitted, on exhibition at the Belleville Public Library during the week of June 13. There is a possibility that the posters selected by the Belleville unit and sent to the county auxiliary committee, will be judged a winner in the County, State and National competition. The national auxiliary committee is awarding a cash prize of $25 for the best poster sent in from all parts of the country.

The parade will start at the Town Hall and proceed north in Washington avenue to Van Houten place, west to Hornblower avenue, south to St. Peter's monument, where Rev. Joseph Kelly, rector of St. Peter's Church, will deliver a short talk; to Christ Church Cemetery, Main street, where Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, rector of Christ Episcopal Church will officiate, then to the Belleville Bridge, where the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Veterans and Legion Auxiliary will have exercises for those who died at sea. At the Reformed Church Rev. John Struyck, pastor, will give a short talk and the parade will then disband.

The graves of veterans will be

Store Entered

A thief broke into the store of Andrew S. Kristensen, 306 Washington avenue, Saturday night or early Sunday morning and robbed the store of six cartons of cigarettes and $3.

Entrance was gained by breaking the lock on the rear door.

Investigator Turns To Divorce Cases

William E. Rame, in Career, Has Discovered Large Gasoline Theft

William E. Rame, 307 Main street, has an interesting job.

He is a special investigator, getting evidence mainly to be brought up in a suit for divorce.

In his career he has come across many startling disclosures. One for instance, was the theft of 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline from the Sinclair Oil Company, in which Mr. Rame discovered the guilty party, but for matters of expediency the theft was hushed up.

In divorce cases, Mr. Rame's theory is to investigate the man in the case first. He said that, in many cases money matters are the cause for suits of this nature.

"A chap will come along with plenty of money and an attractive smile and the poor husband's wife will go for the interloper as a bee for honey. The erring wife will leave her husband for the man with cash. It's my job to get evidence against the wife, which is no easy matter."

Mr. Rame, who was born in Richmond, Va., has lived three years in Belleville. Previous to this, he lived in Bloomfield, where he was at one time, a chairman of the Bloomfield Democratic Club, and also president of the Bernard Damm Club, when Mr. Damm was running for commissioner.

At various times during his life, he has been a member of the Elks, Woodmen of the World, Eagles and Knights of Pythias.

"In motor accidents," Mr. Rame continued, "It's always the other driver's fault. An investigator must determine the rate of speed of the two vehicles, how far they were from the intersection at which they collided, how far from each other they

Nab Boys in Breaks Here and Nutley

Four Got Little Money But Nibbled on Crackers

Four minors were apprehended by Detectives Edward Fletcher and James Lee, Wednesday, for breaking and entering several places here and in Nutley. The youths, whose names are withheld for obvious reasons, have been turned over to Nutley authorities for further questioning.

According to the detectives, the quartet admitted stealing from Kristensen's Candy Shop, 306 Washington avenue, $2.71 and six cartons of cigarettes. At Joseph Raaser's warehouse, Cortlandt street, they only obtained a box of crackers, which they nibbled there.

In Nutley they admitted, police say, entering Luzzi's stand, Washington avenue, Washington Public School and Walnut Street Station of the Erie railroad, where they obtained twenty cents.

The lure of "easy money" is what tempted the boys to break into the places, authorities state.

Usual Parade and Services To Mark Memorial Day Observance in Town

Parade, Exercises at Various Cemeteries, Decoration of Graves and Sunday Memorial Service Planned

Belleville will observe Memorial Day as in past years by a parade and exercises at the various cemeteries. The ceremonies will start at 9 A. M. at the Town Hall, where the invocation will be given by Rev. O. Bell Close, pastor of Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian Church, and benediction by Rev. Edgar M. Compton, pastor of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church. Short exercises will be held.

The parade will start at the Town Hall and proceed north in Washington avenue to Van Houten place, west to Hornblower avenue, south to St. Peter's monument, where Rev. Joseph Kelly, rector of St. Peter's Church, will deliver a short talk; to Christ Church Cemetery, Main street, where Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, rector of Christ Episcopal Church will officiate, then to the Belleville Bridge, where the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Veterans and Legion Auxiliary will have exercises for those who died at sea. At the Reformed Church Rev. John Struyck, pastor, will give a short talk and the parade will then disband.

The graves of veterans will be decorated with flowers and flags with the assistance of the Girl Scouts, under direction of Mrs. May Holden.

On Sunday morning at 11 A. M., memorial services will be held in Montgomery Presbyterian Church, Mill street, to which all are invited to attend.

The committee in charge is Thomas W. Fleming, chairman; John K. Gannon, secretary and treasurer, and Norbert Bertl, marshal, together with a committee of American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The last meeting of the Memorial Day committee was held Tuesday night and Commander George W. Weston of Private George A. Younginger Post No. 275, V. F. W., was elected grand marshal. The Belleville Girl Scouts will assist in decorating the soldier's graves in the local cemetery.

Miss Dolores Moore Becomes Model After Graduation from N. J. C. for Women

Local Young Woman Had Intention To Make Social Work Her Career But Is Now Huge Success In Other Line

Two weeks after she was graduated last June, from the New Jersey College for Women, Miss Dolores Moore, daughter of Mrs. Helen Moore, 25

Miss Dolores Moore

Beech street, obtained a place as a model, through the John Powers Agency of New York.

Miss Moore, who is five feet, seven and one-half inches tall with high heels, wears junior miss clothes, size twelve, weighs about 110 pounds, has a natural figure for modeling and believes naturalness is the keynote of success in the modeling world.

She was born in Belleville, twenty-one years ago and has lived all her life at the Beech street address. She attended St. Mary's grammar school, Nutley, and Good Counsel High School, Newark, before entering N. J. C.

While at the Newark High School, she played basketball and her interest in athletics continued into college, where she played freshman hockey. She was also active in the college gymnasium.

At college, Miss Moore majored in social science, which included psychology and political science. Her intention is to make social service work her career, despite the fact that she is, at present, a huge success as a model.

Illustrations mostly for advertising, action work for fashion magazines, posing for commercial photographers, and as a model for junior miss clothes, are the types of work that she performs.

Modeling doesn't last for most girls and the fact that model agencies are constantly looking for new faces explains that. The readers of newspapers, posters and magazines get tired of seeing the same girl over and over. So she must look to her future.

In case you're interested, models are paid from $5 to $10 for an hour and a half of posing, according to Dolores. Special premiums are sometimes paid to girls fortunate enough to be in great demand. The accepted model pays the agent a registration fee and a stipulated percentage of her earnings.

But registration, even with a top-notch agency, does not mean that the model can sit back and wait for jobs to roll around like the days of the week.

Although a girl's photograph and much pertinent data have been given commercial photographers by the agency, the beginner must drop in on these people every week or so with a "Hello" or something to remind them she's still alive and doing business.

Of her private life, Miss Moore made some interesting disclosures. She varies her week-end between visits to Princeton University and West Point. She is popular at both places and is really a very likeable person, with gracious manners and a pleasant smile.

Westinghouse Reports $1,000,000 Spent in '37 for Vacations

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 27.—Completing twenty years of vacations with pay to hourly and salary paid employees, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company reported today that approximately $1,000,000 had been spent on vacations during 1937.

Two weeks' vacations with pay were originally granted in 1917 to all hourly-paid employees with a total of twenty years' service.

This vacation program was expanded last year, extending paid vacations of one week to hourly-paid employees with five to ten years' service and two-week vacations to such employees with ten or more years service. Former service of new employees is counted under the new plan after one year's continuous service.

It's In

by Bill Clay

THE AIR

Fred Allen does such a consistently good job in writing his skits that we got to wondering if he did it with mirrors, or a twist of the wrist. According to our Scoop Department, it's neither.

Every Monday Fred charts a Staten Island ferry boat and pilots it to the Gowanus Canal where six Blackfoot Indians come aboard balancing fishbombs full of guppies on heads. The one who drops his first has to go down into Allen's stateroom, listen to the gags, and run the hot dog stand which is in the north-east corner. The rest go back to Greenpoint.

The stateroom has windows painted on the walls, and contains a twelve-lap cinder track where Jesse Owens practices from 11 until noon. Allen's desk is in the center and he sits facing the northwest corner where the mountaineers stage cock-fights every hour, on the hour. He wears long flannel underwear in creative moments, and types the script with mittens on, which explains why an Art Player slips up on an occasional line. Soaks one foot in a bucket of epsom salts to have it in shape for the time that he might go back to floorwalking, and keeps the other free to kick at amateurs who brave the Gowanus in search of an audition.

Each year Cantor gets less humorous, but more cute. A couple of years ago he knew he was on the toboggan and that listeners were as scarce as a sharecropper in Brooklyn, so he surrounded himself with talent. It paid big dividends, too. Many a night millions suffered through his inanities to hear Parkynkarkas, Bobby Breen and the loveliest of the lovelies, Deanna Durbin.

The Other Half

Just by way of general information—WNEW is the only station in the metropolitan area which broadcasts twenty-four hours daily. It also conducts the longest program—six continuous hours—and it can be heard any time from one until seven in the morning. It's called the Milkman's Matinee and a chap by the name of Stanley Shaw conducts it. He has a carload of recordings and plays request numbers for night owls who would rather sit around diners and taverns than go home. Lots of automobile drivers listen in, too. It helps keep them awake if the Missus isn't along to prod them in the ribs.

Stan Lomax, the sportscaster, does a nice job of reporting the ball scores nightly, but he winds up too long before he lets his fast one go. Who cares if the Cleveland fans ate seven miles of hot dogs, or whether or not a Cabot showed up in the Boston ball park, when your nervous stomach is running up and down the scales like a tipsy xylophone player? Most of us wait with bated breath for the home team's scores, and when they're in, we'll take the incidentals. As for Clem McCarthy, he can slow down and take time out to breathe. We radio listeners are pretty patient, witness Joe Penner and Ed Wynn, and the few seconds that Clem saves by failing to catch his breath occasionally only makes his voice more annoying.

Original Purchase

If you weren't playing hooky the other night when the Adult Education Series had the air, you were reminded that Manhattan was purchased for $24 in trinkets. It doesn't seem like much of a bargain what with the sales tax and the cigarette tax, but the dramatization was splendid and Columbia gets another feather in its cap. We won't be satisfied though, until we learn about the two purchases of Florida—the first time for the Union and the second for Senator Pepper.

Kate Smith, one of radio's long distance favorites, has a better basketball team than a radio program, and no one knows it better than she. Henny Youngman was her ace in the hole last season, but he couldn't repeat this year and as a result her show bogged down. Some show doctors pumped some life into the hour after they got rid of Youngman, but it didn't last and the patient had a relapse. Kate dug up a new stimulant which we hope will get her over to vacation time. It's sort of a glorified amateur hour. She intends to spot little-known, but splendid actresses and actors in streamlined vehicles. Radio editors in key cities will select the casts.

Staccato

Newark's own troubador and mandolinist, Nick Lucas is actually Nicholas Luevranese...Lanny Grey's "Rhythm School of the Air" is as smooth as a mayor's doorstep...If you'd like to impress friends with your all-around intelligence, listen to Mary Margaret McBride's spiel each noon... "Music to Read By" is an hour of uninterrupted classical music every night at midnight and will soothe the savage in any breast...Bill McCune, whose music makes the Westchester widows throw their mourning clothing into the closet, has two wires out of the Hotel Borsert for the summer season.

Hoffman To Speak At Flex Meeting

State Officials, Stage and Radio Stars on Program

The Samuel F. Flex Association will hear former Governor Harold G. Hoffman at its next meeting Thursday evening, June 2, in the Newark Athletic Club. Leo Freudberg, WOR maestro and his orchestra, will be on hand.

In addition the 114th U. S. Infantry, A. E. F. band, directed by Edward Cortese, will play. This is the band which accompanied Captain Hoffman's outfit overseas. State officials and stage and radio stars will also appear at this meeting of the association, which is dedicated to "aiding those less fortunate than ourselves."

Mr. Flex says: "We can't announce the subject. Nobody ever knows what dynamic Harold will say." The former governor now heads the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Proceeds of Party For Deserving Students

Loan Council Hopes to Raise Enough for Higher Education

The proceeds of a party to be held Thursday by the Student Loan Council at the Elks' Home, will be devoted entirely to assist graduates of Belleville High School in their pursuit of higher education.

The object of the council is to promote interest in higher education in town and to help graduates of the high school in extension of preparation for their respective vocations by financial assistance to deserving students.

Originally the organization was a project of the University Club, Lions' Club, Woman's Club and Parent-Teacher's Associations. This project was reorganized and taken over by the Belleville Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, in February, 1937, and incorporated as a separate group on September 25, of the same year.

MARRIED STATE

Just to see a marriage failing, Disappointments and shocks, When this matrimonial sailing Ends upon the rocks, Whether discords, or impatience, Or affection cools, It's some forms of violations Of the marriage rules.

Marriage has been tested fully, By the human race, And successful proven, truly, Here and every place, It continues down the ages, Blessings it imparts, When a man with maid engages To unite their hearts.

Deep in mutual trust it's grounded, Faithfulness we'll see; Family life on it is founded, And society, On a fair and mutual basis, It to bless should lead, When unselfishly each faces Others welfare, need.

Marriage, as an institution Is successful found, In its proper execution, All the world around, Though there be some faithless, actors, Whom we might assail, There's no fault in marriage factors; Love can never fail.

FROM THE PULPIT

"Aldersgate."

World-wide Methodism last Sunday celebrated the two hundredth anniversary of the spiritual birth of its founder, John Wesley. Other communions very graciously joined in the recognition of this event because of the tremendous influence the two brothers, John and Charles Wesley, exerted upon the life of the people of England in the eighteenth century and upon all religious life since that time. John Wesley was born June 17, 1703, in Epworth Rectory, Epworth, England, a son of the Rev. Samuel Wesley and his wife, Susanah. His long life covered practically the entire century in which he was born, a century of progress, invention and empire building. It was also the classic age of English literature. Religion, however, had reached its lowest ebb in moral and spiritual indifference; society reeked with vice, and poverty reeled in drunkenness. At ten years of age he entered Charterhouse School, London. From Charterhouse he went to Oxford University and entered Christ College. Upon graduating he took Holy Orders and was ordained a clergyman in the Church of England. Altogether, John Wesley spent nineteen years in scholastic life, ten of them as instructor at Lincoln College.

Little need be said of his life between his scholastic days and his active ministry except that he became discouraged and disappointed because of the seeming failure of his ministry. After spending two years as a missionary to America, he returned to England at the age of thirty-five. A thing worthy of note is his contact with a band of Moravians and the influence it had upon his future years. The deep religious zeal of the Moravians created in Wesley a desire to possess that which they had and so greatly enjoyed. It was upon the insistence of a Moravian layman that John Wesley, on the evening of May 24, 1738, attended a service at a little meeting house on Aldersgate street, London. In this drab room, surrounded by humble folk, the great transaction took place. While a layman is reading Martin Luther's "Preface to the Romans," the Divine glow enters Wesley's heart. Thus, Aldersgate. But not afterwards. As soon as he could get himself together, and become oriented to his new destiny, he began to travel.

He became the Prophet of the Open Road and for fifty years he wove a fabric of travel over the face of three kingdoms. All over England, Ireland and Scotland he stretched his web of evangelism until there were few places but had been caught in its benevolent meshes by this frail, slight Oxford scholar. It might be well to recall something of the heritage left by this great ambassador of Christ. Luther nailed the theses to the door of the Castle Church in 1517, and two decades later the reformation was a world movement. Nevertheless, two hundred years after, John Wesley felt the need to stress the Reformation doctrine of Justification by Faith, and he again gave it first emphasis. He also emphasized HUMAN FREEDOM, and insisted that man was not the pawn of omnipotence. He is a sovereign personality and we should never fail to emphasize this significant point.

He further stressed HEART PURITY—an experience of religious reality which results in a unified and Christ dominated life. Further, he affirms the WITNESS OF THE SPIRIT. The familiar Bible text runs—"The spirit beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." How much we need that experience today. We have departed from the characteristics of early Methodism, but the Aldersgate anniversary is recalling to us a new appreciation of the springs of our former power. We must recover spiritual values, but in doing so, we must not forget the practical and commonplace interests which must steadily be forwarded through them.

In Jesus' thinking nothing ever comes to a final end. It is the weakness of our smaller minds that we tend to see everything ending in itself. But Jesus was right. True life forever flows, and must flow. Worship must produce brotherhood. Brotherhood must bear fruitage of peace and universal well being. And so on and on in endless accent. The spiritual energized the moral; the moral orders the social; the ennobled social advances the political; and at last the whole reacts to elevate the spirit again.

Son to Priestmans

A son, William James, was born Sunday morning to Mr. and Mrs. William G. Priestman, 18 Center street, at Mountaine Hospital.

Exemplify Degree at K. of C. Meeting

District Deputy Dockery Warns Members Against Communism

St. Mary's Council, Knights of Columbus, exemplified the second degree to a class of seven candidates, Monday evening at St. Mary's hall. The guests present included District Deputy Joseph Dockery, Montclair; District Deputy Francis Keating, City of Orange Council; Grand Knight Timothy Monahan, Belleville Council and Joseph Donlon, Hoboken Council.

District Deputy Dockery spoke on "The Dangers of Communism." He warned those present not to be confused by propaganda, which is being released by communists. It supposedly is working for free speech, but in reality it wants free speech only to advance the causes of communism. Mr. Dockery asked all the members present to back the individuals and officials in their communities who are actively working against communism.

District Deputy Keating addressed the council on the scholarships at St. Peter's College, which are offered by New Jersey Chapter No. 1. These scholarships are open to any member of the Knights of Columbus, a son or brother of a member of the Knights of Columbus, who has completed a high school education. Further information concerning the scholarships may be obtained from the Grand Knight of any council affiliated with New Jersey Chapter No. 1.

Recording Secretary Arthur J. Kuhn, speaking for the Boys' Work Committee, asked the support of the council for the drive that the members of Troop 11, Nutley Boy Scouts, have inaugurated to raise money for their summer campment.

William Donohue reminded the council that the date for the retreat at the San Alfonso Retreat House has been set for July 15, 16, and 17. He desires all members who can arrange to make the retreat to contact him as soon as possible.

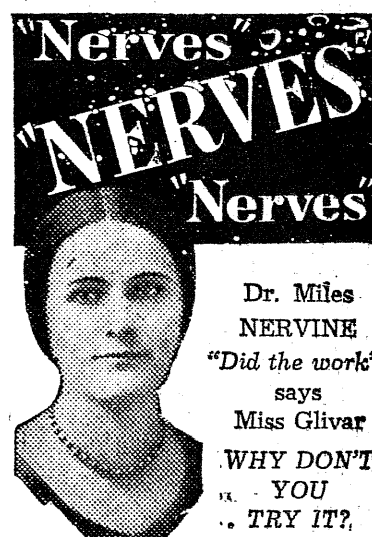

Joseph Kile reported that a joint outing will be held with Montclair and Bloomfield Councils at Mazda Brook Country Club, probably on the third Sunday in June.

MEMORIAL DAY

The history of our great country can be traced through its wars, and, in each instance, it will be found that we were fighting for independence. In each instance, it will be found that we won that independence through the loyalty and bravery of the young men of the United States, young men who now lie buried in graves all over the country, young men who remembered us when they went to fight for our safety and happiness, young men who we in turn remember on Memorial Day. It is a little thing to do to bring flowers to some soldier's grave, a little thing for him, who did such a big thing in giving his life to his country. Let's not forget them, let's perpetuate their memory with flowers, and in so doing perpetuate our gratitude.

HELPING HANDS NEEDED

The Recreation Camp along Third River, north of Joralemon street, has been a haven for a two weeks' summer vacation in past years for underprivileged children, the food expense being shared by various civic and fraternal organizations. This year, because of shortage of money with which to operate, the vacations are faced with being placed on the taboo list by the Recreation Commission. Therefore, if Belleville's less fortunate kiddies are to get away to a wholesome atmosphere, right in our own town under proper supervision, townspeople must contribute to a fund which will be used entirely for food purposes. Any resident of Belleville, who aids, will have helped a little neglected child to health and happiness. Here is one opportunity to render a worthwhile service. Belleville can not afford to see its less fortunate children deprived of two weeks' vacation. The camp is here—the supervision and facilities also are here. A small contribution will help furnish the food. Let's go, Belleville. It will take so little to make so many children happy. In years to come the children who benefit will never forget that they, too, had a chance to enjoy two weeks at camp.

Checks should be made out to Howard McMaster, treasurer, in care of First National Bank.

MILL STREET—A COUNTY ROAD

The Essex County Board of Freeholders have agreed to take over and improve Mill street from Main, a state highway, to Union avenue, the entrance to the new extension of Branch Brook Park. Previously the town had requested the Park Commission to do the job, but no action was taken by the latter group. Now that the county plans to move ahead at once with the improvement, Belleville will get another very excellent road, along a stretch of parkway that is now taking shape bordering on Second River. This is splendid and the town officials are to be complimented for pushing the matter. One thing is desirable. It is hoped that the county will install a traffic light at the intersection of Union avenue and Mill street, one of the most dangerous intersections in the town. Perhaps this will come about, inasmuch as the county also controls Union avenue.

RED TAPE

Even President Roosevelt has discovered that we have swiftly become a nation of accountants. Business men, who should be paying attention to their enterprises, are physically and mentally bogged down by figures and reports that government demands. Some of them have to go to extra expense to hire one or more figure experts to prepare the weekly, monthly, semi-annual and annual parade of figures for the government agencies. If the President does find a way to simplify all this exasperating paper work, business heads will certainly be grateful.

GRANDMA HAD THE RIGHT IDEA

Out of chicken embryo Russian scientists claim to have developed a virus which will stop the common cold within twenty-four hours, and thereby they are in hopes of conferring a boon on suffering mankind. Such a cure has long been needed. For the common cold, so prevalent and so annoying, is so dangerous when neglected. But long before the Soviet men of science discovered the cure, grandma in the old days, at least, was on the right track when she dosed her family patients with hot chicken soup.

USE ELECTRICITY SAFELY

You have a giant ready to do your work at the push of a button. But don't ever forget that this giant is not always friendly.

Electricity, properly controlled, is safe, but there is a very real danger of shock if electrical appliances or lamps are defective or if proper precautions are not followed. Safeguard your home with reference to the most careless person who may enter it. Appliances or lamps should not be placed near metal objects that are grounded, because if some one touches both at the same time, the result may be disastrous. Most adults appreciate this fact, but children cannot be expected to know.

Numerous fires are caused by electric pressing irons, toasters, curlers, etc., left attached and unattended until they over heat. Many such appliances are now equipped with automatic shut-offs, which break the circuit before the temperature goes too high, but an extra measure of precaution is easy and worth while. Always detach all heating appliances when leaving the room.

Another word of caution: Ask an electrician how many lamps and appliances may be plugged in safely to one outlet and do not use more. Use the correct size fuse and don't put pennies behind blown fuses.

All wiring should be done by an expert electrician and in accordance with the specifications of the National Electrical Code. Householders should watch for frayed and worn cords and have them replaced with new. Avoid hanging wires over nails and running them under rugs as this sometimes causes short circuits.

Many an amateur electrician has sown the seeds for a serious fire. Play safe and leave all wiring work to those who know the game.

THIS WEEK

By "GUARDIAN"

The views expressed in the column, "This Week," are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The Wages and Hours Bill passed the House of Representatives in Washington and now becomes a headache for the Senate. This bill is a modification of the old N. R. A., which was held unconstitutional and which proved to be an economic flop while it was in operation. We are led to believe that many House members who privately were against the bill, voted for it in order to establish a proper relationship with the electorate back home, hoping that the Senate would change it sufficiently to make it more acceptable to the ideas for which they did not have the courage to vote. If that is so, these Representatives thought more of their political prestige than they did of their convictions—and so we hope that the report is in error.

We know of no reason why there shouldn't be a bill regulating hours of employment and minimum compensation if the people in this country want such a bill. But if they want it, they should remember that they must pay for it. Shorter hours of labor, higher compensation per hour must, of necessity, mean higher prices for things that are produced so if Congressmen voted for the Wages and Hours Bill because they think that the voters back home will like them the better for it, that must be because they believe that the voters back home are willing to pay the increased cost of things that will result from the bill becoming effective.

Any attempt to regulate the social or economic order of a community must, in the last analysis, be paid for by the community. If we all realize that and are all willing to pay the bill, well and good—but as intelligent people we must remember that everyone of us must do our share toward paying the bill.

We do not believe that man is sufficiently omnipotent at the moment to control the law of supply and demand. It has been attempted for centuries. Amos Pinchot, in his recent letter to President Roosevelt, says that the idea of managed sixth was first tried by Hammurabi, sixth king of the First Dynasty of Babylon, who, around 2250 B. C., reigned for fifty-five years.

At any rate, our attempts to manage the economic life of the nation haven't succeeded in doing what they were intended to do and that is reduce unemployment. Mr. William Green, President of the A. F. of L., earlier this month, is quoted as saying that 3,700,000 industrial workers have lost their jobs in the last seven months while Mr. John L. Lewis of the C. I. O., is credited with the statement that 13,000,000 Americans are now unemployed. So attempts that have been made to control our economic system to date have not produced results. However partisan we may be, we must have the intelligence to recognize that.

And yesterday in the paper we had evidence that man's omnipotence is not such as to permit him to control either the bounty or disasters of Nature. July wheat is quoted at 72c a bushel—46c less than a year ago—as the reaping of a wheat crop estimated at 754,000,000 bushels started in the Southwest. Wheat traders expect this to be the nation's second biggest winter wheat crop. The idea has been, if we understand it correctly, that by taking land out of cultivation for soil conservation purposes, and by regimenting the farmer so that only certain areas would be devoted to raising certain crops, that man would be better able to control the law of supply and demand and thus keep prices up and prevent over production.

And it hasn't worked.

During past months we have said enough in this column to indicate that we have no question of the intent of the present Administration. We do not question their motives—but we are beginning to question more seriously than ever, their intelligence. Why, after going through these five years of ceaseless experimentation and enormous expense in an effort to have a planned economy—which effort has not been fruitful—does the Administration continue along the path and on the same theory?

It takes courage for a man to admit that he is wrong and the bigger the man and the more important his job, the more courage it takes.

Suppose the procedure was completely reversed? Suppose instead of borrowing money, to be subsequently raised by taxes in order to pay the cost of these various economic and social experiments, the Administration quit all of the experiments, borrowed the money for the purely necessary functions of government and declared a moratorium on taxes for a year so that all money that all industry and agriculture is paying into the Federal government for taxes would be available for industry and agriculture to use for wages and for giving employment—We wonder what would happen?

A crazy idea—may be—but no more fantastic than some of the ideas that have been tried and failed.

Yours 'til next week,
"GUARDIAN."

IN A DICTATORSHIP

The meeting between Dictators Hitler and Mussolini in Rome stood for one thing—the meeting of the two outstanding representatives of Fascism, which they believe promises so much for the people.

A few lines of copy in the Rome Correspondents' reports of the meeting surely gives the dictatorship system away in fine style. The correspondents reported that:

"The lighting effects were so spectacular that it was necessary to raise Rome's supply of electrical energy for this one evening from 8,000 to 14,000 kilowatts."

It wouldn't be fair to compare Rome's electrical consumption with New York's with its 7,000,000 of population. But it is fair to make one comparison of electrical consumption in this country—a Democracy.

The Music Hall Theatre in Radio City in New York alone uses 12,000 kilowatts of electricity every day of the year! Yes, dictatorship certainly does "promise" the people a lot.

PIQUANT POLITICS

By MEADOR WRIGHT

The views expressed in the column, "Piquant Politics," are entirely those of Mr. Wright and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

WITH both the commission elections and the Legislature out of the way, selection of a Republican slate of candidates in Essex at last has priority. Nearly three months remain in which to make the selections, but when the difficulties facing the slate makers are considered, that period is none too long. Very likely there will be two slates, although one cannot be sure even about Republican dissension.

Clean Government faces more discontent within its own ranks, perhaps, than at any other period in its five years of existence. But so divided and antagonistic are the opposing groups that its relative strength may be greater than on other occasions. Clean Government is like a tired champion of the prize ring. It is ready to go down for a count of ten whenever a formidable challenger appears. But weary or not, it is still the champion until some one dethrones it.

Who this Essex challenger will be is still very much of a mystery. A half-dozen leaders have organizations and ambitions. Peter A. Smith of South Orange is conducting a quiet campaign to be the next Republican county chairman. William C. Cope of Glen Ridge is working hard to weld a united front against Clean Government in general and William H. Seely in particular. David H. Jones, also of South Orange, is likewise being backed for chairman. Pierce R. Franklin of Newark is still aware that he controls nearly a third of the total county committee. Jesse R. Salmon by public announcement is back in the fray. Harold G. Hoffman has enough contacts with which to build a strong organization, were he so inclined. Former loyal supporters of Salmon like Bert Lamb, superintendent of elections, would gladly join an opposition movement to Clean Government if they were convinced that its chances of success were substantial. Independent Republicans like former Judge Fred G. Stickle, J. Henry Harrison, Homer Zink, George W. Grimm, Judge Richard Hartshorne, William A. Shaw, Walter Head, Mayor Charles H. Mortens of East Orange, Spencer Miller, Jr. of South Orange, Charles Demarest of Bloomfield, and any number of others would probably give active or moral support to a new Republican deal in Essex. But men like the above mentioned will not follow the Pearce R. Franklin kite, nor will they join a movement doomed to defeat before it would start.

Thus, the initiative must come from the outside if Clean Government is to be overthrown this year. Inertia is the ally of the party in power. Realizing the odds against them many thoughtful opponents of Clean Government are frankly pessimistic over the chances of the movement being overthrown this year. Their main reliance rests on the hope that Clean Government leaders will make some major mistake that will cause an open break in its ranks. Should this happen, Clean Government enemies would spring up from behind tree and hedgerow like the Minute Men of the American revolution.

Clean Government strategists are aware of this party discontent, and likewise of the advantage that inertia gives them. Hence, they are likely to lean over backwards in being careful to iron out threatening difficulties. One such difficulty facing them is the problem of selecting a candidate for Representative from the Twelfth District. Early last spring, Robert W. Kean of Livingston, son of former Senator Hamilton F. Kean, contacted William H. Seely and W. Stanley Naughton regarding Clean Government endorsement for that post. The guid pro quo of such endorsement, either stated or implied, was a very generous campaign contribution to Clean Government from the elder Kean. Seely and Naughton, according to the story, promised the endorsement. Also, if reports can be believed, some of the Kean money went to finance the ballot investigation in Hudson. Thus was the Seely-Kean axis forged.

But the entrepreneurs of the deal miscalculated at two important points. First, they forgot the extreme unpopularity of the elder Kean as evidenced by the pathetic vote given him when he sought re-election in 1934, and that the son had no following of his own to offset the handicap of his name. Second, they failed to appreciate the potential popularity of another candidate for the Republican nomination, Public Safety Director Dallas S. Townsend of Montclair.

While he is almost unknown to the rank and file of Republican workers in Essex, Townsend has an extremely potent following in Montclair, and scores of influential friends in other sections of the county. Many of these friends began quietly to exert pressure on Clean Government leaders to renounce the Seely-Kean deal. They were joined by a number of leaders in Clean Government, itself, who disapproved of the whole arrangement in that it was morally indefensible and very likely would result in the re-election of Frank Towey, Democrat. These were joined by Montclair Republicans who saw that an independent campaign by Townsend would wreck Republican unity in that city.

Russell C. Gates, Clean Government leader and Republican chairman of Montclair, saw the danger of the Townsend candidacy to his group. He and Townsend were old friends. Furthermore, he realized that if he should support the Clean Government ticket, including Kean, his leadership in Montclair would be at an end. For months he has been almost begging Seely and Naughton to drop Kean and, if possible, endorse Townsend.

For a while it was hoped that Townsend could be persuaded not to run independently if Clean Government should endorse Kean. The wish being father to the thought, it was whispered far and wide that Townsend would not run. But Townsend recently has exploded this hope by informing Clean Government leaders quietly that he intends to run—and will certainly do so if Kean is their candidate. Gates has likewise informed them that he and a majority of the Montclair City Republican Committee will support Townsend, come what may.

The situation would not be so threatening to Clean Government if Montclair were not such a strategic center of the Clean Government movement. But its leaders are fearful that if Montclair should secede, so to speak, other communities might follow suit.

Many strategists believe that Clean Government will not permit such a break in ranks, and will back down when the final test comes. It has been proposed that Clean Government endorsement be confined to state and county office seekers leaving aspirants for the Congressional jobs to conduct their own campaigns. Such was the policy up to a few years ago, and this precedent will be cited in the explanation that must be made in such an event to former Senator Kean.

New Jersey Today

Ten Study Areas.

Prepared for the Belleville News by Dr. Maurice F. Neufeld, acting secretary, New Jersey State Planning Board.

In order to study at close range the various factors which contribute to involuntary tax delinquency, ten areas throughout the state, were selected by the New Jersey State Planning Board. These areas included municipalities with high percentages of their total land areas tax delinquent together with nearby municipalities which had low percentages of delinquency. The soil classifications of each municipality as a whole as well as of the tax delinquent parcels within each municipality were analyzed. The average sizes of tax delinquent parcels were tabulated and the average number of acres of crop land harvested in each municipality was listed. In addition, notation was made of the percentage of tax delinquent land not farmed. The principal crops for each municipality were studied and the average number of chickens and cows per farm for each municipality was also listed. Information was available at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station on the average amount of tax per acre of farm land and improvements from 1930 to 1936, for a limited number of municipalities in the Study Areas. In addition, a study was made of the tax sale habits of these municipalities. With this information at hand, it was possible to appraise generally the extent to which the tax delinquency problem for each Study Area was one of poor administration of tax collection and tax sale laws or of more basic agricultural and economic maladjustment. If, for example, two adjacent municipalities having the same general type of soil and the same average size of farms showed widely divergent percentages of tax delinquency, it was thought that an examination of the various factors studied would make clearer the particular problem involved.

The ten study areas covered 1,737,265 acres in every section of the state, and comprised 36.16 per cent of the total land area of New Jersey. The total area of tax delinquent rural land contained in those ten Study Areas was 462,562 acres, divided into 7,241 tax delinquent parcels. The average size of the tax delinquent parcels for the ten Study Areas as a whole was 63.9 acres.

Home from Trip

Miss Mae O'Brien, 64 Cleveland street, and Miss Ann Maguire, of the same address, went to Baltimore last week-end, leaving Newark at 12:30 A. M., Saturday morning and arriving home 10 P. M., Sunday night.

In Competition

Boy Scout Day was truly observed in Belleville last Saturday. Over 160 Boy Scouts, thirty scouters, District and Council officials participated in the camporee held at Clearman Field by Belleville District, Robert Treat Council. About 500 spectators were present.

The following troops representing their sponsoring institutions participated: 301, Wesley M. E. Church; 333, Wallace & Tiernan Co.; 350, Fewsmith Memorial Church; 375, St. Peter's Catholic Church; 386, Grace Baptist Church; 388, Christ Episcopal Church; 390, Italian Baptist Friendly House and 392, Belleville Recreation House.

On Saturday morning Clearman Field showed signs of unusual activity. The south end of the field was divided off into sections to be reserved for the various troops who were to arrive at 12 o'clock, with their tents and other equipment.

The first two tents erected were used as headquarters tents. One tent was used as a first aid station and the other for the use of W. D. Clark, Jr., district commissioner of scouting in Belleville, and Assistant Commissioner John Charlton, who were in complete charge of the Camporee. As the various troops arrived they reported to headquarters tents to be registered and assigned to their respective locations.

Pitch Tents.

The boys immediately started to pitch their tents and set up camp as they were judged from the minute the breaking of camp on Sunday morning.

All boys and scouters registering for the Camporee were given a special Camporee button by Frank Chambers.

A microphone and sound equipment were set up on the field, used to announce the various events and broadcast music while the various events were taking place. The use of the equipment was donated by the Federal Radio & Television Co. of Washington avenue, owned and operated by Dominic Roviello and William Terry, who are also scoutmasters of Troop 390 and 301, respectively.

The scouts thoroughly enjoyed themselves from the minute they arrived on the field and they entered into the activities with a great deal of enthusiasm. The fire contests and the tug of war seemed to be of most interest to the spectators. During the fire tests, in one event where the fire had to be started with two matches, one troop of boys was in such a hurry to get the fire started that they tried to light it before the proper kindling was prepared and did not succeed in getting fire at all.

During the water boiling contest, one troop built such a big fire that it burned down the supports holding the pail of water.

The spectators especially Commissioner W. D. Clark, Director of Public Safety, got a big thrill out of seeing the boys actually build a fire without the use of matches.

Fire By Friction.

In one event the boys built fires by the friction method, using only a bow and drill and again, in another event, started their fires by the use of flint and steel.

During the tug of war the parents and spectators were rooting enthusiastically for the different teams that entered this event. In order to make the contest equal, the weight of each team was limited to 1,500 pounds and it was quite a sight to see sixteen boys, whose weight averaged about ninety pounds per boy, tugging away against a team of twelve big fellows, whose weight averaged 120 pounds per boy.

After the events of the afternoon were over, a big event for the boys got under way—supper—and were those boys hungry? The scouts cooked their own meals on small fires built on the tennis courts at the south end of Clearman Field.

After supper was over bleachers were set up in a semi-circle on the tennis court and a huge camp fire was built in preparation for the evening event. This program was in charge of Ray Patrick, scoutmaster, Troop 388.

The scouts assembled around the camp fire in the same manner as they do at their summer camp at Blairstown, and sang songs. The song leaders were Norman Lauterette and Harry Lamphier. An Indian ceremony and ceremonial dance was put on by Troop 66, Robert Treat Council. Two employees of the National Grain Yeast Co., played the accordion and the violin to provide music for the songs.

William "Becky" Gilchrist, fireman, brought along his guitar and entertained with cowboy and other popular songs.

Among the spectators was Mayor William H. Williams, who was called to the microphone and gave a short talk to the boys. Herbert C. Schmutz, president of the Board of Education, also gave a short talk and promised the co-operation of the Board of Education at other scout affairs to be held at some future date.

Prominent Visitors. Other official visitors were Arnold Sorenson, chief scout executive, Robert Treat Council; Harvey Maden, assistant scout executive and George McElwey, assistant scout executive. At 10 o'clock, taps was blown and the closing scout ceremony was held.

after which the boys reported to their tents, to turn in for the night. About 110 boys remained at the field to sleep out in their tents. Rain started to fall about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, but due to the foresight of the committee in providing extra tents, scouts who had poor equipment were transferred to other tents and the scouts remained all night without any boy getting wet.

Sunday morning proved to be too wet and stormy to proceed with the religious ceremony and transportation was provided to return the boys to their homes. However, Rev. Walter J. Lake and Rev. Edgar M. Compton, with the organist, Arthur Ackerman, appeared despite the inclement weather.

The results of the Camporee are as follows: First place, Troop 388, 900 points; second, Troop 375, 712 points; third, Troop 392, 650 and fourth, Troop 350, 375.

The prizes were given by the National Grain Yeast Co., as follows: First, $80 worth of troop equipment; second, $5 worth; third, $3 worth and fourth, $2 worth.

The prizes will be awarded to the winning troops by Scout Commissioner W. D. Clark, Jr., at the first regular meeting night.

The scout officials and committees who co-operated in making the arrangements for the Camporee are as follows: General chairman, Mr. Clark, Jr.; grounds committee, W. K. Howard, chairman, George Demmon; service committee, Edward Settle and Ralph Brown; program committee, Mr. Charlton, Don Roviello, John Monaghan, Mr. Chambers and William Park; prizes and awards, Mr. Patrick, Sr. and Mr. Clark; publicity, Kim Appgar, Mr. Charlton and Robert Bangert; judges, Jack Dey, Assistant Commissioner, Robert Treat Council; Sunday morning religious services, chairman, Rev. Walter J. Lake.

On behalf of the Belleville Scouters' Association, W. D. Clark, Jr., general chairman of the camporee, wishes to thank all those who worked hard and earnestly to make this first annual camporee a real success.

This was only possible through the co-operation received from all scouts, scouters, business men, Board of Education, clergymen and parents.

"In fact, all of Belleville co-operated in this worthy character building and citizenship training program," adds Mr. Clark.

The enthusiastic gardener can do nothing more interesting than to browse constantly among garden articles in papers, magazines, and books. That painless habit gradually builds up a fund of information that is invaluable in planning and caring for a garden. Furthermore, the gleanings are reliable. The garden that is built on the advice of the good neighbor runs a large chance of being a crippled garden—the average neighbor doesn't have enough information to advise—but that built on the advice of printed information will undoubtedly do well, granted intelligent care by the owner. A wealth of horticultural knowledge is readily available in our papers, magazines, and our books, written by people who know and for people of all tastes.

One new book that is almost a hazard, because it is so hard to put aside when once taken up, is the Gardener's Omnibus, edited by the well-known Edward I. Farrington, for the Massachusetts Horticultural Society (published by Hale, Cushman and Flint, New York, $3.75). It is composed of many short articles covering a very wide range of horticultural subjects and written by many people, both intelligent amateurs and professional horticulturists.

Much of the material has appeared in that excellent magazine Horticultural, published by the Massachusetts Horticultural Societies. The book is designed for the use of amateurs and is capital for that purpose. Over five hundred illustrations illuminate the text. A partial list of the thirty-nine chapter headings includes garden features, rock gardens, perennials, biennials, annuals, seed sowing, spring bulbs and other bulbs, lilies, roses, peonies, irises, herbs, wild flowers, vegetables, lawn construction, pools, hedges, ground covers, trees, evergreens, shrubs, vines, winter protection, greenhouses for the amateur, fruits, pruning, birds, winter window gardens, flower shows, flower arrangements, garden labels, pests, garden calendar. The variety is so great that any amateur can surely find some of his special interests and be stimulated to develop others.

Another new book of interest to the same readers deals with horticultural problems in a totally different way. Louis Van de Bie in Planning and Planting Your Place (Macmillan, New York, $4.50), starts with the land and its grading and in an orderly fashion furnishes it with house, lawn, shrubs, trees and flowers. Naturally, in a book of this size, the directions are suggestive rather than exhaustive, but for the person with the average small place the very simplicity of the book is a great advantage. Information about costs and maintenance make it a very practical book and the lists of trees, shrubs, and flowers prescribe the best. The planting plans for five typical plots from seventy to one hundred feet deep are suggestive. Photographs and drawings are plentiful.

YOUR LAND and MY LAND

By CHARLES E. POTTER, L.S.

Judicial Functions of Surveyors.

"When a man has had a training in one of the exact sciences, where every problem is supposed to be of accurate solution, he is likely to be not a little impatient when he is told that, under some circumstances, he must recognize inaccuracies, and govern his action by facts which lead him away from the results which theoretically he ought to reach. Observation warrants us in saying that this remark may frequently be made of surveyors."

So wrote Justice Cooley of the Michigan Supreme Court in a paper prepared for the Michigan Society of Surveyors and Engineers.

"What do you mean by inaccuracies? A hundred feet is a hundred feet," asks the average property owner. "If my deed calls for 100 feet, how can I be sure that some surveyor will come along and say that I have title to only ninety-five feet?"

The answer is that the property owner cannot be sure of his boundaries unless they have been accurately determined in the past. Who laid out the property lines? Was it a surveyor, with standardized tapes and modern, precise instruments, or a real estate broker with a knotted string? Was it measured at the site with chain and compass or laid out on paper by some one who never saw the land he was dividing, but accepted the measurements given in an old deed as correct?

In accurately determining the rights of the individual property owner, the surveyor must, as Justice Cooley points out, frequently concede inaccuracies.

For example, a surveyor called upon to mark the boundaries of a lot, described as having a frontage of fifty feet by its deed, must ascertain the rights of the owners of neighboring properties. Suppose he learns that the lot was part of a tract subdivided into ten equal parts. The original owner held a deed calling for a frontage of 500 feet, and accordingly furnished the new owners with deeds calling for fifty feet each.

The surveyor may now find the frontage supposed to be 500 feet is really but 490 feet. Obviously he must, if he is making an honest survey, tell his client that he owns but forty-nine feet, since if every owner in the subdivision claimed fifty feet boundaries could not be established.

The truth is, unfortunately, that not so many years ago lines were determined very carelessly, monuments were inaccurately placed and corners were marked by green stakes, certain to disappear in a few years. Many boundaries were laid out by imperfectly trained surveyors, who, when land was cheap, did not appreciate the importance of correct lines.

It will probably be admitted that no man loses title to his land or any portion thereof merely because the evidences become lost or uncertain. It may become more difficult for him to establish his rights against an adverse claimant, but theoretically the right remains, and it remains a potential fact as long as he can present better evidence than any other person.

It may often happen that, notwithstanding the loss of all traces of a corner stake or monument, that there will still be evidence from which a surveyor will be able to determine with almost absolute certainty the location of the original boundaries.

Mr. Potter will answer any questions pertaining to property ownership for readers of the Belleville News, address Charles E. Potter, care of Belleville News. Enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Westinghouse Spends $12,000,000 To Prime 'Pump' for Thousands

Matches 1937 Building Program to Benefit Half Dozen States

Emphasizing that "no agency alone can prime the business pump," Mr. A. W. Robertson, chairman of the Board of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, today announced Westinghouse would "do its share" by spending approximately $12,000,000 on new buildings, new machinery and equipment and other improvements and repairs in the company's district offices, radio stations and plants.

That sum, approximately the same as that appropriated for similar projects in 1937, is being spent because of faith that a revival of business is coming, "plus our natural desire to do our part in effecting a return of prosperity and employment," Mr. Robertson said.

He pointed out that, although the amounts being spent this year and last were virtually identical, there was an important difference. The 1937 outlay was made to keep up with mounting demands on the company for increased production, whereas this year's appropriations are made principally on faith that business conditions will improve and on the company's desire to be ready for increased production when it comes.

"The stimulus of these expenditures will be felt directly in scores of communities and states," Mr. Robertson said. "This program extends all the way from Boston, where a warehouse and service building will be erected, to Emeryville, California, which will get two new buildings, equipment and repairs." Among the major projects planned or already under way are the following:

In New Jersey, $1,500,000 will be spent for new improvements and equipment and completion of buildings at various locations, including the Westinghouse Elevator Company at Jersey City, the Meter Works at Newark, the Lamp Works at Bloomfield, Belleville and Trenton.

The major improvements planned for the New York area include completion of a building at the Elevator Works in Jersey City; repairs, alterations and installation of new equipment in the Lamp Division Works at Bloomfield, Belleville and Trenton.

Westinghouse last year purchased the A. B. See Elevator Works at Jersey City, and moved its former elevator operations from Chicago. The plant is now being enlarged to make it one of the most up-to-date elevator manufacturing centers in the country. At this plant are now being built such major installations as the elevators for the Associated Press Building at Rockefeller Center, and the giant electric stairway—largest and highest in the United States—for the Theme Building of the 1939 New York World's Fair.

If You're Planning To Build

By W. S. Lowndes

Director, Schools of Architecture and Building
International Correspondence Schools

IN THE Spring many American families think of building new houses and plan homes which will be more ideal in every respect. Of course architects and building experts have to supply the technical knowledge, but if you are planning to build there are numerous little things to keep in mind. You should have some knowledge of the methods of construction and the building materials to be used. Keep in mind that the primary object of house-building is to make it into a harmonious unit. It is also important to know something of landscape gardening which will aid you in planning walks, lawns, trees and other decorative features.

The first object in designing a house is to provide comfort and protection, the second is to make it beautiful, and the third is to do these things in an economical manner. Saving in the first cost of a house is effected by making it as small as possible without sacrificing any of its essential requirements. Every house should be built so that it will be pleasing to the average house buyer. Expensive construction and peculiar design often interfere with the sale of a house, or compel the owner to sell at a sacrifice.

Beauty is an asset to any house. This element is not necessarily a matter of expense, but may be obtained by the application of thought and good taste to the design and arrangements. Certain elements, such as simplicity, symmetry, balancing of parts, good proportion and appropriateness, always contribute to the external beauty of a building.

These Experts Want to Make Profits FOR YOU

The artists who draw for Tribune Service are the same expert men who prepare illustrations for use by some of Chicago's largest advertisers. They know the type of work that unfailingly attracts the prospect's eye. Their work is practical—and, consequently, resultful. It helps make advertising profitable.

There's a great deal more to copy than a mere collection of words. Copywriters must be students of every phase of marketing. They must know their product—they must know their prospect. Naturally the resources of The Tribune command men who star at their work. Those same men work for you when you use Tribune Service advertising.

Advertising That Pays! FREE—At This Paper

The basis of successful selling is knowledge and ability. Every salesman must know his product better than his customer does. Advertising that attempts to sell without thorough regard for that principle is doomed to certain failure.

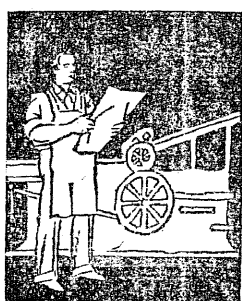

For that reason, in seeking an advertising service which we might offer our merchants with confidence, we made every effort to go deeper than surface indications and make an exhaustive study of how and by whom our advertising material was prepared.

In choosing Chicago Tribune Service we were guided by several factors. First, was the more logical, stronger copy, the more attractive and timely illustrations. But more important, is the organization back of the material. This Service is created and designed by the same men who must make merchandise move in a large and difficult market. They must know advertising—they must test their product by actual use and results.

Naturally, those men are in a position to know newspaper advertising needs, and the problems of big and little merchants. Naturally those men must have trained ability and the knowledge of merchandise and salesmanship. How well they do their job can be seen in the finer results their suggestions produce. Not advertising alone, but real merchandising, real thought, real selling effort makes the use of Tribune Service intensely profitable to merchants everywhere.

You owe it to yourself to make a study of this better modern method of building business. The latest copy of Tribune Service is in our office. See it, study it, use it with our help and in the columns of this influential newspaper for the finest results you've ever experienced from advertising.

Bellboys Win One And Drop Another

Defeat Clifton Nine But Lose to Bloomfield
Bengals

By Edgar Bloemke.

Adolph Paul won his second game of the year, as the Bellboys defeated Clifton High, 6-2, Saturday afternoon at Clearman Field.

Paul came to the rescue in the first inning for Belleville with the bases loaded and no outs, to relieve Ed Banta. He allowed only one run in that frame and went on to win, allowing four scattered hits, while his teammates clubbed John Zanet and Ken Stich's offerings for six runs.

Paul also fanned nine and was tied with Jerry Lepre for top batting honors, with two hits apiece.

Belleville did most of its scoring in the third inning with base hits by "Bob" Jackson, Lepre and a double by Paul, to push across four runs to clinch the third victory in the starts. "Vin" Sorrentino, catcher, was the defensive star, throwing out three runners trying for the second sack.

Jack Robinson, Bloomfield's ace "rookie," twirled four-hit ball to trounce Belleville High, 14-2, for the Bengal's sixth win of the season, at Clearman Field, Friday afternoon.

It was a "nip and tuck" pitcher's battle, going into the seventh, between "Lefty" Les Dunham and Robinson, with the former allowing five base hits and the latter, four.

Bloomfield came to life in the seventh, making eleven runs on seven hits off Dunham, with two men out. Adolph Paul relieved him and retired the side, allowing one hit and a run.

Don Savage, Bengal's hard-hitting shortstop, banged out three base hits for a perfect afternoon at the plate to lead the Bloomfield's batting barrage.

Belleville scored all its runs in the third with Lepre's single, plus two bases on balls and a Bloomfield error.

Jerry Lepre, who was the batting star against Hillsdale High, May 6, with three out of Belleville's four hits, accomplished the same feat against the Bengals. This time, "Vin" Riccio received the other safety, in Riccio's case, as in the Hillsdale game.

Paul Russo Enters Big Car Competition Midget Auto Racing Star Will Be on Hand at Hohokus Show

Midget auto racing sensation of the season, Paul Russo of Chicago, will make his first big car appearance next Monday afternoon when he competes in the annual A. A. A. Decoration Day races at the Hohokus Speedway.

It will mark the first time Russo has driven on the historic Jersey track and the Chicago Italian will be piloting a powerful machine in his Hohokus debut. He will be driving the speedy McDowell which Ken Fowler chauffeured last season. This car turned in consistent performances in racing competition and during the course of the season, smashed several Hohokus records.

Russo has been blazing a spectacular trail in midget auto competition on the Nutley Velodrome boards for the past few weeks, proving his racing skill. As a result, speed followers are anxious to see how he will fare in his whirl at the larger cars next Monday. For, a strong field is being lined up for the annual holiday meet by Promoter John Kochman.

Frankie Bailey, Russo's rival in the small machine ranks, will be in the Hohokus line-up, too and the New Brunswick ace is regarded as a strong contender for the top honors on the half-mile speedway. Bailey is expected to have an edge over the Chicago driver in this meet for he is more familiar with the bigger machines and the Hohokus dirt surface.

The holiday meet will start at 1:30 o'clock when time trials will be presented. The first race is set for 3 o'clock with a thirty-five lap feature headlining the program.

Being a six-team affair, this league will schedule three games a week for fifteen weeks, two games of which will be played on Capitol Field Tuesdays and Wednesdays. The Friday games will be played at Clearman Field.

Art Vreeland Ranks Among Top Racers

New Haven Lad Is Star at Nutley 'Drome Board

Track

New Haven's sole contribution to midget auto racing ranks, Art Vreeland ranks among the top contenders in the line-up of drivers seeking additional laurels and lucre on the Nutley Velodrome board speedway Sunday and Wednesday nights.

Although he has been unable to crash the winning column in the main events at the Nutley track so far, Vreeland has been coming along so fast that he is regarded as a potential threat in the line-up of stars. With his steady improvement as encouragement, he feels confident that he will come into his own in these next two meets.

Vreeland has been handicapped by his inexperience on the boards, but with several weeks of racing under his belt, he will step out on the velodrome track bidding for victories over the crack field. No task for a tyro, subduing that line-up which awaits Al Stewart's starting flag in the semi-weekly meets at Nutley.

Paul Russo, Chicago Italian heads the line-up along with Red Redmond the southern star; Bob Sall, Paterson speed veteran; Eddie Staneck of Caldwell, Frankie Bailey of New Brunswick, Ted Hartley of Detroit, Jack Moon of Garfield, Mike Josephs and Babe Bower of Philadelphia, Roy Lake of Burbank, Cal., Harold Burdette, Bill Morrissey and Chet Mayo of Newark and Tommy Hinnerschitz of Laureldale, Pa., among others.

The competition under the Nutley lights will start at 8:30 o'clock, with the program being climaxed by the thirty-five lap main event. With new drivers in the field now, this week's starters are expected to provide the biggest entry lists to date.

THE OUTDOOR WORLD

By Bob Bangert

At this time of the year all over our land people are starting to get their vacations, at which time they will travel over America. Many will travel from here to the Yellowstone National Park or the Grand Canyon.

From the West many people will travel to this part of the country to see the World's Fair. But most of the people will go to the shore resorts or to the mountains for rest and enjoyment. But did you ever stop and think of the thousands of children and older people who will have to stay in the city where it is hot and unhealthy because of financial reasons? Many of you know of such people, maybe they live on your block. Probably when Saturday rolls around you go to the country for the week-end. Is the back of your car empty? If it is, why not fill it up next time with some one whom you know would appreciate it? You will have a much better time that week because you will know you are making some one happy.

Summer will be here soon and with it comes a bill for all the expenses it will take to cover the protection of the forests of our country. When you throw that lighted match in the grass next time, think of what would become of this country if it were not for the wood that is used in our country. All over the country fire wardens are posted in high look-outs, to try to stop a fire before it gets too far gone. But the fire wardens can't stop a fire, they can only prevent it from getting too large. Don't forget that "Prevention is better than cure." There is a trick that some fellows use so as not to start a fire with lighted matches. Before throwing the match away they break it in half. And I am sure that they don't break it in half while it is still lighted. Let's save our forests this year.

Vic Weber To Meet

Dutch Schultz Tonight
Laurel Promoters Elated
With Their Newest
Sensation

The Laurel Garden wrestling promoters will toss their newest ace, Vic Weber, into the ring with Dutch Schultz on Friday night in a new effort to halt the depredations of the bald headed villain, who is riding on top of the world via his victory over Jesse James.

Weber defeated Kimon Kudo to earn the shot at bringing Schultz down, but has a real assignment on his hands. The best matmen in the game have tried to stop Dutch, but he has gone merrily on his way. Weber has been a sensation in three appearances here and the fans are counting on him to come through against Dutch.

Shaving top billing is another finish match in which Count Karl von Zuppe, the ace actor of them all, returns to action against Juan Olaguivel. The count has long been a favorite here because of the strange tricks he plays on his foes. He is aiming at a bout with Henry Kulikov to decide who rates the title of Clown Prince.

As a special added attraction, Kimon Kudo comes back to tangle with Michelle Leone, Italian champion. Kudo has to start his climb back to the top again and a victory over Leone would help him a great deal.

Walter Percy, clever English matman, comes back after a long absence to tangle with Luigi Bacigalupi. Dr. Dropkick Murphy has a tough battle on his hands for he faces Joe Bonica, rough and tough little grappler. In the remaining bout King Korg helps Steve Zagursky, a new comer, make his first appearance here.

The national singles champion, Joseph Burke, will appear at the meet in a race against Frank Menne, former Belleville, who was a member of the Nereid Club a few years back.

Bisons Claim Forfeit

The Bisons Sunday claimed a 9-0 forfeit game from the Schalk Bears, Newark, for failure to appear at Capitol Field. Instead the Schalk team played at Linden without notifying the Bisons.

The Bisons Sunday will play the Lamparillo Association of Newark at Capitol Field at 3 P. M.

Triangles Defeated by Canal Coal Miners Union Features Gold Cup Stakes

Hard-Fought Game Was Played Sunday at Bloomfield
Third in a Series Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon

The Belleville Triangles, despite an early lead, suffered the first defeat of the season Sunday to the Canal Coal Miners, 7-5, at Bloomfield.

The Triangles held a comfortable lead over the homesters by gathering three runs, on hits by Hickey, "Swede" Ryden and a walk to Grum followed by a three-base hit by Phillips in the first.

The Triangles held the lead until the fifth inning, but a pair of homers by the homesters tied things. Louis Long pitched for five innings and pitched good ball until a homer suddenly weakened him. He left the mound when the score was 4-3, in favor of the three-cornered insignia boys. Louis Fantacone followed Long on the mound. He also pitched good ball, but a scratch homer in the seventh gave the homesters a hard fought victory.

The Triangles played Sunday with only nine men. Manager John Distasio wishes to contact dependable ball players for every Sunday. An outfielder and a catcher are needed. Those interested in joining the Triangles, should contact Mr. Distasio, 98 Greylock avenue, or any Triangle member. The Triangles are a traveling club.

Fred Ryden did well at the bat Sunday, gathering three hits in four attempts.

Sunday the Triangles will travel to Pompton Lakes to take on the DuPont Bears. Sherwood will pitch for the Triangles.

Eagles Fly Off with Bargain Bill Games

Blank Newark Indians in Two Games at Local Park

The Belleville Eagles won both ends of a doubleheader Sunday afternoon at Belleville Park, when they blanked the Clifford Indians, Newark, 7-0 and 3-0.

In the first game, with "Stanzy" Goglia on the mound, striking out fifteen batters and allowing but three hits, the Eagles scored one run in the second when Duva singled, Tobia singled to left and the ball got away from the left fielder. Duva scored.

In the third the Eagles scored two. Gonnello was safe on an error, stole second and scored on Johnson's one base to center. Johnson later scored on an infield grounder. They added a run in the fourth and two more in the fifth. The final tally came when Gonnello tripled to deep left center and scored on Costello's fly to left in the eighth.

The second contest was a pitcher's battle between Bracaglia of the Eagles, and Gendios, the Indians. They kept the hits well scattered. Bracaglia fanned thirteen batters and never was in any trouble. He allowed but four hits.

The damage was done in the Eagles' half of the second when Biase walked. Tobia walked sending Biase to second. Caruso hit a long double to center field, scoring Biase and Tobia and, when the center fielder threw the ball over third, Caruso came in with the third and final run of the game.

Hitting stars for the game were Gonnello with three. Tobia also had three, while Johnson connected for three.

Salvia and Pepe of the visitors turned up with the fielding gems of the game.

Sunday afternoon at Belwood Park the Eagles will seek their third and fourth straight wins when they play the Irvington Bruins a doubleheader, first game at 1:30. Monday at 3 P. M., Belwood Park, they will play a single game with the Belleville Cardinals.

Horseshoe Champion At Paterson Rodeo

Ted Allen Won Title at Chicago World's Fair

World's champion horseshoe pitcher, Ted Allen, who won the title at the Chicago World's Fair five years ago, will be one of the stars to appear in the J-E Ranch Rodeo at the Hinchliffe City Stadium in Paterson for the week beginning Monday afternoon, May 30.

Allen won the title by pitching successive ringers in the competition with clock-like regularity at the regulation distance of forty feet. He was the rodeo star at Paterson last year and with this appearance he will feature several additional trick pitches.

Allen does some amazing work with the horseshoes. He allows assistants to hold a blanket in front of the peg, totally obscuring the view and pitches ringers despite that handicap. An assistant places his chin on the top of the peg and the champion pitches the heavy shoes right under that courageous target without once missing.

Twenty-six events are scheduled for each of the rodeo programs which will be presented at the Paterson Stadium starting Decoration Day afternoon and finishing the night of June 4. On the concluding day, the second afternoon show will be presented in addition to the nightly events.

The entire repertoire of cowboy sports will be featured with broncho busting, calf roping, wild steer riding, steer wrestling or bull dogging, and several special stunts such as the Allen presentation, enabling the reloading of the chutes with wild stock. Another special stunt presents Monte Reger and his trained steer, schooled like a show horse. This steer is the longest horned in the world, his antlers measuring eight and a half feet.

Promoter John Kochman, who is bringing the rodeo to Paterson, has announced that all night programs will start at 8:30 o'clock, while the Decoration Day and June 4 afternoon showings will begin at 2:30 P. M.

Senators Win Two Over the Week-end

Score Shut Out Against Ruckis; Beat St. Columbas By 7-5 Score

The Belleville Senators chalked up the seventh and eighth wins of the season with victories over the Rucki Association, Newark, 1-0, and St. Columbas, 7-5, last week-end. The shut-out was the Senators first of the season.

Barnett's fine pitching was the outstanding feature of the game. He gave but two hits and struck out nine batters. He was in trouble in two innings, but fine fielding by the Belleville club cut off all rallies. The Senators scored their only run in the seventh inning. Barnett started with a hit, Lukowiak next forced Barnett at second, Mauriello then doubled, scoring Lukowiak from first base.

In the Sunday game against St. Columbas the feature again was the fine relief pitching of Barnett, who chalked up his second win in two days. The Senators started a new pitcher, Gurley, and the visitors took advantage and scored three tallies in the second inning. He retired in the fifth inning in favor of Barnett.

The Senators scored one run in the third and four in the fourth to take the lead. The visitors tied up the count by scoring runs in the sixth and eighth innings, but the Senators came back to score two runs in the eighth inning when Bedford walked and Stryjewski tripled to left field to score Bedford. Boryszewski then singled and scored Stryjewski with an extra run.

The visitors got but six hits off the two Senator's hurlers. Effner's playing was a feature on Senators defensive play. He also had three hits.

Over the coming week-end the Senators will meet three outstanding teams of the state at home, at Belleville Park, games all starting at 3:30.

Two-block Dash Down Hill by Driverless Truck Ends in Upset After Crash into Tree

Careening crazily for two and one-half blocks from Union avenue east, down grade in Overlook avenue, a Tuscan Dairy truck Tuesday, teetered another truck, which tried to block its descent and wound up on its side after crashing into a tree in front of Charles Duffy's home, 103 Overlook avenue at Bell street.

Driverless, the truck was seen moving by Charles Nourse, 139 Overlook avenue, and Edward King, 107 Overlook avenue, who vainly tried to climb aboard to pull up the brake. They failed. Leslie Woodruff, in one of his father's National Dairy trucks, tried to block the path of the runaway truck. For his efforts his own truck was damaged when it was bounced over the curb of Overlook avenue. Woodruff was not injured.

Neither was Joseph McDonough, Linden avenue, this town, who prior to the mad dash of the Tuscan truck, had parked it against the curb of Overlook avenue at Union, while he went about his work in the neighborhood. Milk and broken bottles were heaved about inside the Tuscan truck, which eventually was towed away by another of the company's trucks. McDonough assisted in clearing the debris from the wreck, perhaps inwardly soliloquizing that the stars had been on his side.

Voice of the People

Objects to Dumping Along Third River

Editor, News:

Allow me to protest once more against the dumping on the north-west end of Joramelon street, at the Third River.

It is unhealthy and very unsightly. When the river rises, it floats the debris dumped there into the running stream.

Belleville Recreation camp is situated on this river and many children come to swim and boat here. The river is impassable in some places, due to the old boilers, crates and junk, even dead dogs collected in places.

This little river is really the only

Town Commission

taken over by the county or state had failed to date.

The commission introduced an ordinance amending the penalty clause in its 1927 sanitary code and defining the word "cattle" to include horses. The change corrects technicalities on which a health department complaint against Nicholas Ricca of Laverne place of maintaining a riding academy without a permit was dismissed by Recorder Smith a week ago.

Director Louis Noll of the Parks and Property Department declared that neighborhood playgrounds should be laid out on town-owned property as a WPA project. Mayor Williams suggested a conference to study recreation.

The Mayor also said a conference among the Town Commission, Recreation Commission and Board of Education should be held, at which a broad program should be outlined.

Adoption of Civil Service probably will not be considered until July, the Mayor said. This will leave ample time for the question to be placed on the November general election ballot if a majority of the commission favors the referendum, he explained.

The board will receive bids at its next regular meeting Tuesday, June 14, for approximately 10,000 gallons of asphaltic road oil, 2,000 cubic yards of one and one-half-inch trap rock, 500 cubic yards of three-quarter-inch trap rock, 50 cubic yards of screenings, 50 cubic yards of sand and 300 bags of cement.

A resolution was adopted naming James Dunn official tax searcher from June 4 until June 18, while Edward King, who holds that position in field training with the National Guard.

Another resolution was adopted expressing condolences in the death of James K. Alexander Sunday evening. Mr. Alexander had been president of the Library Board of Trustees the last five years and a member of the board for many years.

Local Assistance Board. The Local Assistance Board was organized Monday. Public Affairs Director King was named chairman and Miss Jane Donnelly secretary.

Other members appointed by Mayor Williams, are Rev. Joseph Kelly, Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach and Town Treasurer Sargeant. The board named John Hewitt, poor overseer, as director of relief at the same salary.

Call For Pitometer Survey. The Pitometer Company was authorized to proceed with a survey of the town's water system at a cost of $2,800, after Thomas W. Fleming, in charge of the water system, had discovered a loss of 29,500,000 gallons, representing $3,300 since January 1. The check-up will include testing of mains from which the supply reaches Belleville from Newark's reservoirs and the large meters on mains and in business places. The local system will be divided into sections, maps drawn and charts prepared. There will also be a thorough check for underground leaks and unauthorized use of water. Mr. Fleming discovered Belleville had paid $1,600 more for water from Newark the first four months of this year and sold $1,700 less water to taxpayers than the previous year. In 1937, the Water Department showed a profit of $10,000. If the loss had not been discovered, it is estimated this year's operating loss would have been $2,000. The survey, the first since 1931, will take three months.
