Meeting Held At Elks Club By Suburban Group GOP's

Nearly All Appeared Last Night As Election Nears

Reiterating their stand against further taxes and bond issues, with the slogan "Economy Before Taxation," Suburban Republican candidates intensified their drive for support as the primary campaign entered its closing stage. Most of them spoke last night at a mass meeting at the Elks' club here.

Party leaders, envisioning a creditable showing at the polls Tuesday, today worked to schedule speakers for virtually every section of the county. Large mass meetings were slated in all of Essex's large municipalities and in many of Newark's wards. Scoring the rising tax-rates, the Suburban Republican slate: James H. Clark, State Senator; Joseph Giuliano, Sheriff; James A. McRell, Peter A. Smith and Edgar S. Bamberger, Freeholders; Frederic C. Ritger, Deane H. Uptegrove, Myra A. Blakeslee, Edgar S. Ballou, Frank L. Neudorffer, Aaron E. Parsonnet, Harry Tietjen, P. James Pelletchia, Jr., Florence H. Youngman, Margaret A. Barth, William M. Devonald and Gustave C. Wolber, General Assembly—is pledged to seek economy in state and county government and equalization of property assessments.

The candidates further pledged themselves to introduce and fight for legislation which will benefit Essex County taxpayers, and to fight for a return to the county and its municipalities of a fair portion of the enormous tax revenues Essex taxpayers are now contributing.

Louis A. Noll, Director of Parks and Public Property, was chairman. Director of Public Safety William D. Clark was one of the speakers.

Pointing out that tax bills for the past three years have continued growing, Clark, who has served on the finance committee and on the board of school estimate of South Orange-Maplewood, explained that the reason was apparent "when it is noted that the county tax bill was raised 20 points this year.

"I'm sure this isn't considered an accomplishment nor do I feel that those who were in power and levied these taxes against homeowners were looking out for their interests."

Giuliano Cites Record

Citing his fine record of fifteen years in the prosecutor's office and three years as under-sheriff, Joseph Giuliano, urged voters to support candidates whose merit and experience best fitted them for office.

Giuliano, said: "Many people maintain that public business standards should be applied to the transaction of county affairs. Then, too they always raise the cry that too often experience and merit have been passed by to reward the faithful.

"In my candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff the voters have an opportunity to show whether they mean what they say when they ask that a man be fitted for the position to which he aspires."

Born in Newark, Giuliano was graduated from Barringer High School, Blair Academy, Wake Forest College and University of North Carolina Law School. He was admitted to the bar of that state as an attorney and counselor-at-law.

Sheriff James A. McRell, former Newark police chief, seeking re-nomination of freeholder, has county-wide support as the "most logical and qualified candidate." He has shown substantial savings in the sheriff's office, the total running well over $100,000 for the first two years of his administration.

The committee in charge will consist of John Distasio and William Wanthouse, co-chairman; Mrs. Fanny Bohrer, Angelina Botto, Theresa Hunkele Mary Place, Mary Peck, Violet Sutphen, Josephine Tiger, Alice Walker, Miss Mabel Harford, Angelo Botto and Howard Brown.

VALLEY HOLDS ITS FINAL DANCE OF YEAR

Fund Collection Falls Short Of Committee's Expectation

The third and last block dance for the season was held Saturday night by the Valley group near the Little street section of town. Approximately 300 persons attended the affair, but due to lack of financial assistance from the gathering through voluntary subscription, the committee decided to cancel plans for further dances this fall.

MAN INJURED BY MOTORCYCLE

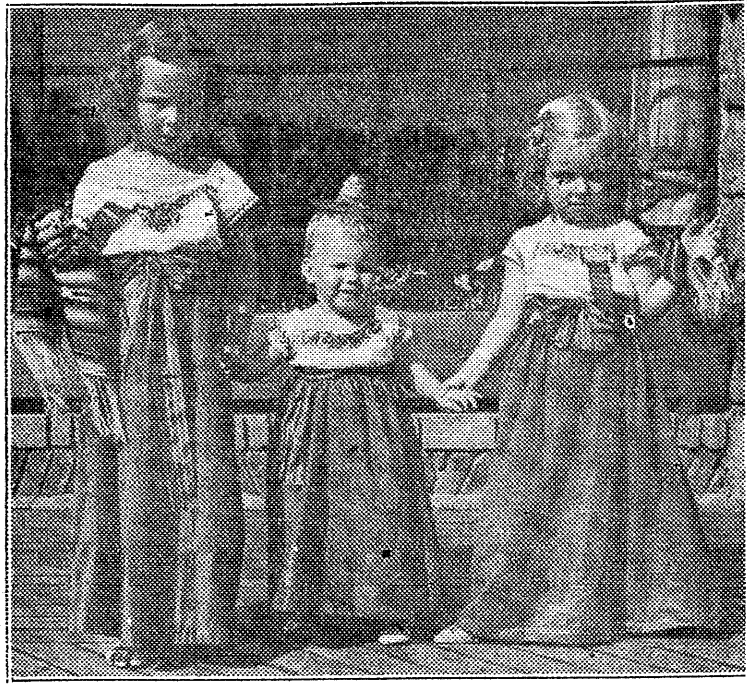

Three-Year-Old Son He Was Carrying Also Hurt

Alfred Vitelli, thirty-four, 10 North Eighth street, received abrasions about the left knee and a deep cut on his back Tuesday evening when he was struck by a motorcycle being driven east in Franklin street at Eugene place by Frank Bennati, eighteen, 300 North Belmont avenue.

Vitelli, who was carrying his three-year-old son Vincent in his arms, was thrown to the pavement, causing him to drop the child, who was also bruised about the knees. Passing motorists Victor Sicoli, 396 Bloomfield avenue, and Frank Loiso, 82 South street, Newark, took the father and son to Columbus Hospital. The lad was dismissed after treatment, but the father was detained.

Don't forget that Victor Hart, JEWELER, sells Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry on the Easy Payment Plan. 457 Washington avenue, corner Tappan avenue, Belleville, N. J.

Baby Festival Winners

Dressed in Mexican peasant costumes (real ones) from Torreon, Mexico, the three daughters of School Business Manager and Mrs. Ruel E. Daniels, captivated the hearts of onlookers at the recent baby festival at Lake Mohawk, where the Daniels family have a summer home.

The children, Sarah, one and one-half, Judith, three and one-half, and Mary, six, were judged second place winners, but given first place ribbons amid the plaudits of thousands, who attended the affair.

As the trio strode down the boardwalk, Sarah burst into a broad smile, which called for a round of applause. Their real costumes were striking, even to the quaint shoes each wore. The bracelets were real, too, having been hammered out by Mexican Indians.

The costumes worn by the children were brought from Mexico by Mr. Daniels' sister, Miss Margaret Daniels, who is a teacher in Gallaudet College, Washington. The costumes were supplied by the American Consul, Nelson Parks, a friend of the Daniels family.

Plan School Vote September 27 On Addition To School No. 3

Auditorium There Has Been Condemned By The State

A special school election will be held on Tuesday, September 27, in the high school when voters will be called upon to ratify a bond issue of $84,865 for an auditorium and gymnasium at Public School No. 3. If the vote is favorable the Federal government will be asked to grant Belleville $69,435 additional for the job.

Under this improvement the school will benefit by the installation of a new heating system, the cost of which is estimated at $25,000. By grouping this installation, which is needed regardless of the auditorium and gymnasium, Belleville will benefit to the extent of forty-five per cent from the government. Should the voters reject the measure the heating installation will cost Belleville the full amount.

In submitting the proposition to the voters the Board of Education is following through a plan, which was started four months ago when the State Department of Education condemned the third floor at No. 3 as a fire-trap and hazard.

This particular school has had unsatisfactory auditorium room for a long time. At the last eighth grade commencement exercises it was necessary to station two firemen at the auditorium doors, because, it was found, that the so-called fire escapes, two stairways were wood-studded. If a fire attacked the escapes the steps would be useless if the studs should burn. At one graduation parents raised umbrellas when rain seeped through the auditorium roof. The floor of the present auditorium is made of yellow pine and saturated with oil. The weight of one person using the stairs causes them to vibrate.

The proposed plan, a result of much comparative study by members of the board who visited neighboring towns, calls for an auditorium with proper seating facilities and a gymnasium, which will house a regulation size basketball court. The state department has approved the plans.

With this proposed grant the Federal government will have allotted Belleville schools through PWA grants $185,435 since 1935. WPA grants during the same period for plant building, field houses at Clearman Field, repainting school No. 5 and other projects totals an additional $75,000. This money has been obtained without any direct taxation against Belleville property.

Business Manager Ruel E. Daniels yesterday stated: "If other communities get these funds why shouldn't Belleville benefit?"

The auditorium at the school now is composed of two small rooms, one of which is a store-room.

ship, "It will take a plus in giving to reach it, a plus estimated at some $25,000 to make up the amount by which the campaign fell short last year, to replace the gifts of those who have since died or moved away and to replace the gifts of people without jobs."

SCHMUTZ COMES A CROPPER IN SPEED BOAT

School Board President Sends His Craft Against Sand Bar

Herbert C. Schmutz, president of the Board of Education, is an ardent boatsman, but not so proficient in the art of navigation, aver his friends, who recently saw him scoot his speedboat on a sand bar. Mr. Schmutz was forced to swim ashore after the accident to the beach near his summer home at Breton Woods on the Jersey coast. The boat was on its initial try-out when it was grounded.

STRIKE CONTINUES AT LOCAL PLANT

Action Deferred By Court On Plea Of "Illegal"

With pickets still strutting back and forth at least ten paces apart as ordered last week under a temporary injunction granted Eastwood-Neally Co., which seeks to have a strike of machinists there called "illegal"—the plant has been closed, down tighter than a drum.

Vice-Chancellor Berry last week issued the injunction. Action on the appeal of the company was to have taken place Tuesday but Vice-Chancellor Bigelow reserved decision when Ralph E. Lum, company counsel, asked that not only picketing be declared illegal but the strike as well. The Wagner Act was cited by Lum as well as by Morris Isserman, union counsel.

Meanwhile the company—the oldest and one of the largest in Belleville—has done the inevitable—"gotten fed up on strikes," to quote one employee, and closed its doors temporarily.

Lum complained that the company is confronted with a situation where the International Association of Machinists, District 47, demands renewal of a contract, which expired July 14, and where a group of machinist employees, who quit the union, claims a majority and demands that the company negotiate with it.

Willing To Negotiate

The company, Lum said, is willing to negotiate with any group in majority as required by the Wagner Act. He asserted, however, that under that law an employer has no means of bringing about a vote of employees and can not initiate such a move with the National Labor Relations Board. He said the union would take no such action and he charged that the strike was illegal.

Representing the union, Isserman argued that whether the union had a majority or not it was not obliged to apply to the National Labor Relations Board. He asserted the union had a right to strike and that nothing in the Wagner Act prohibited it from doing so.

Isserman charged that the company had started a move to get the men to resign from the union. Asked by the court whether the company hadn't a right to do that, the lawyer asserted it was illegal because the Wagner Act forbids employers to interfere with employees organizing.

Lum said yesterday that the company has a law suit pending against a unit of the weavers' union, with which it has a contract. He asserted the contract was violated by refusal of weavers to cross the picket line and go to work.

Purse Snatched

Frances Dumont, 20 Hornblower avenue, Tuesday night reported to police that she had been held up by two colored youths in Washington avenue near the Newark line. The pair snatched her purse, which contained a wallet in which were $5 and her driver's license and other articles. The miscreants made their getaway by running east through lots in the direction of the Erie Railroad, where the Cleveland street gateman saw them and gave a description to the police.

Zink Seeks Nomination Only On His Record

Speaks With Hartley At Meeting Of King Association

Declaring that he seeks the primary nomination as Senator on his record and ability to work "in double harness," Assemblyman Homer C. Zink Saturday night addressed members of the Joseph King Association at headquarters, 414 Washington avenue. Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., who finds himself in the "unique position of having no opposition" for the first time in his fourteen years, as a representative at Washington, also spoke.

"It was news all over the state," said the assemblyman when he and Senator Clifford Powell, Burlington, sliced the State Appropriations budget by about $2,000,000, "because the reporters saw two men from opposite wings of the Republican Party with the same point of view."

Reviews Saving Two Million

Assemblyman Zink reviewed the difficulties in paring the appropriation, especially after it had been submitted by an unwieldy and large committee to the Assembly, which rejected the original bill, because it exceeded the figure anticipated by the governor. He also reviewed the relief and WPA situations in the state and twelve points he had suggested, as a concrete plan for the legislature, most of which were constructively carried out.

"I feel a real record of accomplishment has been made at Trenton," he said. "Through four years at Trenton I have gathered experience and contacts of extreme importance, showing the ability to work in double harness with other people."

"If we could cut a substantial part of the chiseling from the relief and WPA rolls," said Mr. Zink, "we could use the same amount of money we are now using for more adequate relief for those who really deserve it, or we could give the same relief and save the taxpayers thousands of dollars. This relief situation came in as an emergency about seven years and has been treated thus ever since, although it is a permanent thing. We have never been on a sound relief basis and it must be placed on a business-like basis."

"I have spoken in town for many others," said the assemblyman, "but never for myself. I am here tonight to sell my record and not the fact that I live in Belleville, although that might be perfectly proper. I hope you find my record interesting and will remember it on Primary Day."

King Boosts Zink

Town Commissioner Joseph King, in introducing Assemblyman Zink, declared: "In these days voters who go to the polls are reluctant to think. In this case they should think of Homer's experience and clean record. He should be returned to office. There are lots of good men running, but Homer lives in Belleville, we all know him, and it is our duty as residents

HARTLEY ENTERS PRIMARY WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Congressman Has Held Public Office Fourteen Years

The only Republican candidate for a major office in either Essex or Hudson counties who will go to the polls unopposed next Tuesday is Congressman Fred A. Hartley, seeking re-election. There are contests for all other county state and federal offices.

CONGRESSMAN FRED A. HARTLEY

First elected when he was twenty-one years old, Hartley has held public office continuously for fourteen years—a full decade in Congress—but until now he has always been opposed by one or more candidates. He has never been defeated in an election.

The Congressman began his career in the Kearny Town Council, to which he was elected for four years. During that period he served on the Hudson County Republican Committee two years, which included one term as county chairman.

Then, ten years ago, Hartley made his first bid for Congress and defeated the then Democratic incumbent, Congressman Paul J. Moore, former chief of the New Jersey State Police. He emerged with a higher vote than his original tally. In Congress ever since, Hartley is now making his bid for a sixth term.

He is a veteran member of several important House committees among them Labor, Postoffice and Post Roads, Air Mail, Patents and Irrigation and Reclamation.

Kearny's public schools gave Hartley his education. He resides with his wife and three children at 52 Livingston avenue, the town.

JANITORS BRUSH UP IN SCHOOL

Not With Broom, However, But Delving Into Books

Belleville is going to send its janitors to school.

At least, the building and grounds committee has been authorized by the Board of Education to request its quota of twelve such employees to spend Friday evenings and Saturday mornings, starting October 7 and 8 at the Essex County Vocational Schools studying in the Janitor Engineering Courses.

While some mid-western and western states have had such courses in operation, this is the first time New Jersey has decided to have its janitors brush up on educational matters.

In this state the courses will extend over a period of four years and will include human relations, school housekeeping, sanitation, care of school grounds, fire prevention and accident prevention.

Ruel E. Daniels, local school business manager, will be one of the teachers, the balance being college and school professors and teachers.

Trucks Crash

Herbert Zimmerman, 69 Glen avenue, received minor cuts about the hands Saturday when a truck which he was driving, Cortlandt street was in collision with a truck and trailer which was parked in front of the Belvoir-Weidman Paper Company plant preparatory to unloading.

Walter Warrick

Walter Warrick, as campaign manager.

Mr. Warrick, who lives at 351 Union avenue will conduct the drive from headquarters at the federation's new home, 338 Washington avenue. The quota for the appeal has not been set as yet, but will be made public when the budget committee decides upon the allotment for each of the six participating agencies. Director of Public Affairs Joseph King is chairman of the budget committee, assisted by Richard Newman and Alvah A. Buckley. Last year the drive fell short of its $16,000 quota.

Floyd Bragg, president of the federation, has named the following committees: special gifts, Recorder Everett B. Smith; industrial employees, Mayor William H. Williams; school employees, Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer; commercial Wilfred Yudin; clubs and lodges, George Weston and house-to-house canvass, Mrs. Irene P. McCorkle and Walter Price, co-chairman. Committees will meet next week.

Organizations that benefit through the chest are Community Service Bureau, Visiting Nurses' Association, Red Cross, Silver Lake Community House and Boy and Girl Scouts.

ZINK APPEARS DOLEFUL

Essex Assemblyman Homer Zink appears to be an unhappy man since the filing of his new "clean government" ticket.

Few days after this filing, he made a "non-political" call upon State Finance Commissioner Bernard Lamb.

After Lamb and Zink had discussed State financial problems, Lamb asked:

"How's your ticket, Homer?"

Said Zink dolefully: "I hope we're defeated."

DO NOT TREAT YOURSELF WITH "HEARSAY"

Neighbors and friends are priceless possessions, and should be so regarded—but when it comes to treating yourself in case of illness, the advice of a neighbor or friend is not the safest plan. They mean well, of course, and simple little ailments and accidents about the house can often be treated casually with home remedies from the medicine chest.

Better to be Safe Than Sorry

However, when there is anything the matter with you, to experiment with yourself or treat your case with "hearsay," may be very expensive and dangerous.

There are many underlying causes for outward symptoms, discernible only to a Physician, after careful examination and analysis. Disease detected and treated in its first stages is so much easier to cure, and is less expensive to you physically and financially. Don't experiment on yourself!

SYNAGOGUE PLANS 'SELICHOS' SERVICE

Will Start Tomorrow At Midnight At Congregation A.A.A.

Congregation Ahavas Achim Anshe Belleville, 317 Washington avenue, will start preparation for the Jewish High holy day season with the time-honored "Selichos" service. The services will be held at the synagogue tomorrow night and will start promptly at 12 o'clock midnight. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate.

The "Selichos" ceremonial originated many centuries ago. It consists of the chanting of a group of individual prayers, poems and essays, written by the great rabbis and sages of former years. Part of the "Selichos" can be traced back to the seventh century.

The word "Selichos" is derived from the Hebrew source, "selicha," which means "forgiveness." The individual Jew is exhorted to repent and to prepare himself for the searchings of the "Yomim Noraim," the high holy days of Rosh Hashonah and Yom Kippur. He is reminded of these great days and of their deep significance. The "Selichos" ritual serves to bring to the individual his vast responsibilities in this hour.

The services at the synagogue will be open to all. A committee will be in attendance to distribute seats for the high holy day services.

ROBITUARY

Mrs. William Schnatterer

Mrs. William Schnatterer, 75, mother of Mrs. Joseph McCarthy, 11 Lincoln terrace, died at her home, 643 North Seventh street, Newark, Sunday. Following services at her home by Rev. Paris Greenley, Linden Avenue Methodist Church, Jersey City, she was buried Wednesday in the family plot in Fairmount Cemetery.

Mrs. Schnatterer, who was a member of the Eastern Star, the Gold Star Mothers and an American War Mother, lived in Newark for sixty years and had many friends in Belleville. Her son, Herman, was killed in action during the war.

Besides her husband and Mrs. McCarthy, she leaves six sons, four daughters, ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

John Lister

A high mass of requiem was observed Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Peter's Church for John Lister, son of the late William D. and Mary Ellen Lister who died Thursday. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery.

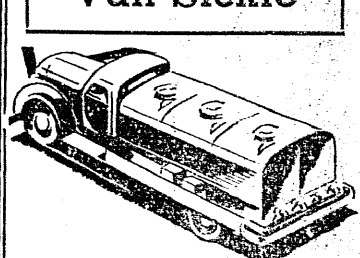

Mr. Lister leaves a sister, Mrs. William Campbell, 31 William street, from whose home the funeral left for the church. Mr. Lister was a member of the Ex-empt Firemen's Association.

DAUGHTER TO BRITAINS

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar T. Brittain, 9 Phillips street, Bloomfield announce the birth of a son, Russell James, in the Orange Memorial Hospital, September 13.

Mrs. Brittain is the former Margaret L. Shavger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Shavger, 14 Division avenue. Mr. Shavger is the principal of No. 4 School.

When You Borrow From This Bank

We consider a loan to be a business transaction. It is no more of a favor for a bank to lend you money than it is for a property owner to rent you a house. Both make a fair profit when the business is on a sound basis.

We welcome loan applications — for this is one of the ways we make money. You do not have to say "please," or "thank you," when you borrow here. Your application is judged strictly on its merit like any other business matter.

We are actively seeking good loans, and, if your application meets our requirements, we will approve it promptly; if it does not, we will tell you so frankly, together with our reasons.

ADJURATION TO VOTE

There are many who neglect to go to the polls on Primary Day. That is the wrong slant on matters that vitally concern each taxpayer. Primary Day does not represent a fight between the two major political parties, but it is the occasion when each of them determines by ballot, who will go to the post in the general election.

While the Democratic Party here in Essex is not particularly concerned about internal eruptions, the same thing cannot be said of the Republicans. A few short weeks ago there were gestures in the G. O. P. ranks toward harmony. It was to no avail with the result that on Tuesday those, who designate to vote a Republican ballot, will be faced with the problem of choosing between two tickets, one of which will emerge victorious to do battle with the Democrats in November. There are the Clean Government ticket and the Suburban Republican group, both of which present admirable candidates.

The Clean Government is headed by a Belleville man, Assemblyman Homer Zink, who is opposed by James Clark, Maplewood Township Committeeman, for the nomination as Senator. Clark is a brother of a Belleville Commissioner, William D. Clark, Director of Public Safety.

Whatever your choice may be—whatever your disposition to discuss the situation—get out and vote! Vote for the persons you think will best serve your interest as a TAXPAYER. Government, generally, is in a precarious state at this time. Your privilege, right and duty demands now, more than ever before, that you exercise the use of the ballot.

Tuesday is the day—7 A.M. to 8 P.M., the time to cast Primary ballots. Where Democratic contests exist this admonition applies, as well. Don't forget to vote. In Essex, too, the machines make it easy, fast and simple.

TOWN AUDIT

Following his policy of desiring citizens and property owners to gain a wider knowledge of municipal problems, costs and work involved, Mayor-Finance Director William H. Williams has placed elsewhere in this paper a detailed analysis of the town audit of 1937.

Our readers will be able to study many interesting phases of both the work involved in operating a business as large as Belleville, the ability and character required both by our public officials and town employees, and most interesting to our citizens should be the comments of the State Auditor on the manner in which municipal records are maintained, and the statement that no over-expenditures were incurred in 1937.

To most of us, busy with our personal affairs, probably little thought is extended to the fact that business ability of a high order is required to operate our municipal business, and through the thoroughness of Mr. Darby's audit, and the analysis and reports on recommendations as made by our Finance Director Williams, we can feel gratified that our Mayor, the Board of Commissioners and employees are sincerely working for the best interests of our community.

A study of all of our problems requires a vast amount of time, a trained ability and an ability to constantly improve our management program. School, town and financing costs are necessary in every city and town, and with our town free of criticism on operating conditions, and with methods meeting general approval, we must view our tax problems—even though difficult to all of us—with a degree of appreciation for those who are guiding the management and financial welfare of Belleville.

The policy of Mayor Williams in making all data pertaining to Belleville available to all interested parties, and the policy of the Board of Commissioners in approving the Mayor's program can be set up as an example for other communities.

The frankness and desire of our governing body to have us all understand our own municipal problem is worthy of our commendation.

HEALTH AND EFFICIENCY

The Belleville janitors—twelve of them—will be asked by the Building and Grounds Committee to participate in the school for janitors which will be started at the Essex County Vocational Schools, as the first such school in New Jersey. The course for the janitors will extend over four years and include health conservation methods and fire and accident prevention. Similar schools have been in operation out west and in the mid-west, all of which tends toward efficiency.

While on this subject, it is interesting to note, too, that the A. F. of L. building trades unions in New York are about to launch a movement against the water bucket and the common metal dipper. A bill is to be introduced in the legislature requiring contractors to furnish pure water and individual drinking cups. Surely education is finding its place everywhere—and that is as it should be.

To the hard-fisted workmen of a generation or two ago such propositions would have brought a laugh, it would have looked like going "sissy." But, nevertheless, it is a real part of the movement that has been under way all the time for better sanitary conditions and safety appliances whether workers be employed in small or large groups. More particularly, however, it applies to larger groups. When individual drinking cups were first used on a Harvard football field the other colleges made a great joke of it, but since then they have all followed suit.

The day when a workman was supposed to be rough and tough and could be exposed to unnecessary hardship without detriment to himself or his work have gone by. Employers find that more and better work is obtained when the employee works under comfortable conditions.

When vestibules were first proposed on street cars the street railway managements opposed them strongly. It was urged by them that the motorman could not see or hear properly, and that as a result there would be more accidents.

Up to that time the motorman stood outside exposed to the bitter winter snows and driving rains. He had to stand it all day, and the days for actual work were often twelve to fourteen hours, Sunday, Monday and holiday.

It seems foolish now to think that a man working under such conditions could drive more safely than now, when he is comfortably and warmly enclosed and with a seat which he can use for rest as he desires in cities where trolleys still operate and, not too recently hereabouts, until the advent of the bus.

UTTERLY ABHORRENT

From high Republican quarters in New Jersey has come quick condemnation of the suggestion that those on the relief rolls of this and other states be denied the right to vote. This subject flared in the newspaper headlines recently when a women's organization, in Suffern, N. Y., announced that its members would seek enforcement of laws in this state and in Rhode Island, which provide for revocation of the suffrage privileges of persons classified as "paupers."

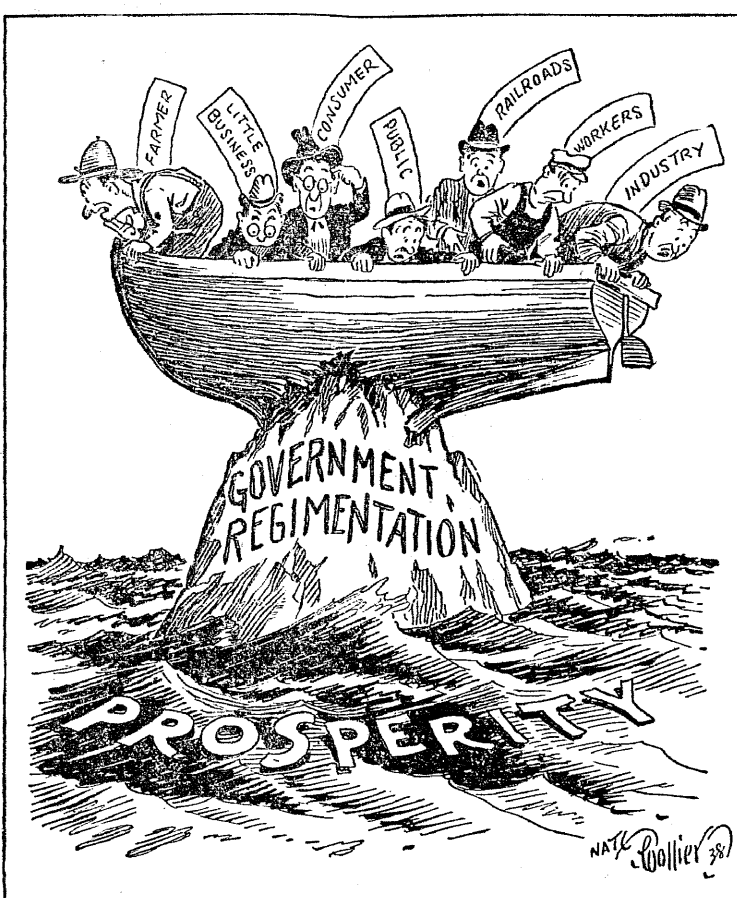

Both W. Warren Barbour, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, and Clayton E. Freeman, chairman of the Republican State Committee, promptly issued statements which expressed the antipathy most of us feel for this ill-advised suggestion.

Freeman branded the proposal as "utterly abhorrent" and Barbour, known as a statesman of broad and liberal sympathies, declared the proposal "shocking" and made known his intention to oppose it vigorously.

Theirs will be the reaction of most persons of good-will everywhere. Thousands of men and women have been forced in extremity to apply for public assistance in this state. The great majority are casuals of the unprecedented depression, deserving, as Senator Barbour said, not only our material assistance but our "sympathy and understanding."

That a small group of citizens should seek to stigmatize these unfortunate is an idea that is as fantastic as it is repugnant. Both Freeman and Barbour have accurately reflected public opinion in New Jersey by demanding that short shrift be made of this abominable proposal.

ALL IN THE SAME BOAT

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

In a democracy the right to vote and by your vote have your say in determining what is going to be done and who is going to represent you, is the greatest single, individual privilege. See that you merit that privilege by voting in the primaries next Tuesday and help on the cause of democracy by going out of your way to see that all members of your household vote, and urge your friends to vote.

Vote as you please, but vote!

We are beginning to suspect lack of normal intelligence on our part—otherwise we should be better able to understand the reason for all of the hullabaloo in Europe this week and maybe with more intelligence we could understand why millions of men this morning are under arms, mobilized without dignifying the step by the word, waiting for some spark to set off a catastrophe which will make the last World War look like child's play. And all over what?

Over the change in a boundary line.

Why anyone in this country should become excited about it—particularly if we recall the famous Wilsonian doctrines of 1918 and 1919 of "self-determination" and "rights of minorities," etc., etc., is, as we say, beyond our comprehension.

But we do know that there is almost a unanimous sentiment among thinking people of this country that it is none of our business and that in one way or another we're going to stay out of it.

The Republicans of Belleville and of Essex County who go to the polls next Tuesday to cast their ballots in the primary election will do well to reflect upon the outstanding qualifications of Homer Zink, as State Senator from Essex County. It has been our privilege to know Mr. Zink and Mr. Clark for years. Both high type, honest, upstanding citizens—but Homer Zink has had experience to qualify him for this job—and Jim Clark hasn't and that is the principal reason why we have done and are going to continue to do everything we can in Homer Zink's interests.

In the first place, Zink has had four years in the State Legislature—1930, 1931, 1936 and 1938. In the last two terms he was Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the Assembly and as such was a member of the State House Commission and a member of the State Financial Assistance Commission—whose job it was to find and disburse funds from the State to assist municipalities in extending relief.

Then early this summer after the final Appropriations Bill had been drafted, Zink and Senator Powell, the Chairman of the State Senate Appropriations Committee, got their heads together and determined that the budget as called for by the Appropriations Bill was too high and that it could and should be substantially reduced. As a result of that conclusion and some mighty long, hard work the Appropriations Bill was reduced over two million dollars—one and a half million dollars of which was in cold cash. Every newspaper in the State acclaimed Zink for the success of his efforts.

Surely such experience, and such performance calls for endorsement from all members of the Republican Party—and particularly from his neighbors in Belleville.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Five Years

After fifty-two years of purchasing water from Newark, Belleville discovered it was paying as much as the city charged industrial firms. Newark asked Belleville to pay more than it had been paying in a letter from Mayor Meyer C. Ellenstein.

Transportation problems took up the time of the commissioners at a lengthy meeting.

Mrs. William F. Entekin, president of the Woman's Club, announced plans for the annual fall bazaar.

Nathan H. Berger, former president of the Peoples' National Bank & Trust Company, addressed Rotarians on the "The Drama of the Law."

Edward J. Abramson, who had headed the Progress Club of Belleville, the first of its kind in the suburbs for four years, was planning another active year.

Ten Years

The Men's Club of Grace Baptist Church held its first fall meeting, featuring movies and other attractions.

A meeting of Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy's Belleville Committee of citizens to arrange an Armistice Day program had been called by Harvey B. Thompson, chairman. On the committee were William Hoed, George W. Cole, John C. Morgan, Arthur Christie, L. A. Van Blaricum, Lawrence E. Keenan, Thomas W. Fleming, Richard Flanagan, Richard J. Dolan, Charles Steel, G. L. Perks, Hugh Patterson, Frederick Singer, John Holden, Louis Levine, George Bingham, Douglas Chapman and Joseph Laterza.

Work of students of the handcraft classes was on display at the Recreation House under direction of Miss G. R. Holmes.

Fifteen Years

Samuel S. Kenworthy, president of the Board of Trade, was a candidate for the Assembly on the Essex County Republican League ticket.

Andrew Monahan, Anthony Di Leo, Lloyd Jenkins, Cyril Crabb, George Ryan and Neil Horne were on a trip to Bell Park in the northern section of the state.

As far back as 1923 Herbert J. Scott, who had returned from Norfolk, Va., where he attended the twenty-fourth encampment of Veterans of Foreign Wars, reported the vets were in favor of light wines and beers. "Scotty" has been an active Vet ever since.

Miss Catherine Scaine of William street was planning a two weeks' trip to Atlantic City.

James Reilly, Thomas and William McNair and Walter Romaine had returned from a motor trip through Pennsylvania.

Twenty Years

St. Peter's Baseball Club with Flynn and Gelsen, as a battery, blasted the Holy Cross team of Harrison, 9-0 at Columbia Oval.

Raymond M. Abbott, son of Mrs. Eliza Abbott, 11 Stephen street, wrote his mother from France that he "is in the best of health, has good treatment and gets plenty to eat."

Mrs. De Ruse Tillou, 63 High street, received word that her brother, Lieutenant Arthur Heron, Brockville, Ont., had been killed while fighting with the Canadian forces.

Police Sergeant James Flynn had received word of the safe arrival in France of his son, Corporal William Flynn.

Fifteen members of Uncle Sam's Patriotic Society of the Thomson Machine Company spent Saturday at McCloud's Mushroom Farm. A soprano solo was rendered by Miss Minnie Hozack and a duet was given by her and Miss Rose Blond.

Washington Snapshots

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Rapidly developing testimony before the Congressional Committee investigating subversive activities in the U. S. has uncovered the new method of Communists and radicals in cloaking their actual names and activities behind "fronts." In addition it was added that the "front" names were so effective that they resulted in many patriotic Americans becoming members.

Among the Communist-controlled, or outright Communist organizations named by witnesses were the American League for Peace and Democracy, the Workers' Alliance and the American Students' Union.

Even the most seasoned Washington observers, however, have now had their eyes opened to the extent to which Communists and other radical groups have perverted such words as "Peace" and "Democracy" to mask their activities designed to overthrow Democracy and American institutions.

Farmers and housewives who have been too busy to go in for stamp collecting had better begin getting some pointers because—

"Stamp collecting" promises to become an enforced part of the daily or weekly routine on every farm and in every home.

The newest Washington brain child is to extend the Social Security Act to farm help and domestic servants, both now specifically exempted. To reduce government bookkeeping, they propose to let farmers and housewives do most of it.

The plan is to supply each domestic servant or farm worker with a card or book. The employer (housewife or farmer) must buy stamps equal in value to the social security taxes and stick them on the cards. When filled, the cards or books will be sent to Washington.

Imagine the farmer stopping his Saturday night milking, or the housewife quieting the children, while they figure: "one and a half per cent for this, one per cent for that, two per cent for the other."

Thus is the farmer approaching the state of regimentation already imposed on industry.

Speaking of taxes, it seems the government "MAY" have to raise them. Chairman Harrison of the Senate Finance Committee says that unless business is able to pick up more than is now indicated it "MAY" be necessary to tax even lower incomes—the single men who make $800 to $1,000 a year; the married men who make $2,000 to $2,500.

Every year for five years now, Congressional tax handlers during the summer recess have said: "We HOPE a tax increase this year won't be needed; in fact we may even be able to cut them." And each year a new tax bill with stiffer taxes has followed a few months later.

The tax gatherers have been rather cagey. They have hoped tax increases would not be necessary, but they were. Now they admit that tax increases MAY be necessary, so it is fairly safe to assume that they WILL be.

Apparently the time is arriving to begin paying up for eight consecutive years of unbalanced budgets.

The M. D. Says

HEALTH QUESTION: How does organized medicine undertake to protect the public against insufficiently tested drugs and serums?

The medical profession is kept advised concerning the status of new drugs by the Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry of the American Medical Association.

Any pharmaceutical house which desires to market its products honestly and in accordance with the rules of the Council may have its products considered. Remuneration is not accepted for the consideration of products by any Councils of the American Medical Association.

If a product is considered and is not accepted, it indicates to physicians that the product is not all that its sponsors claim it to be. In this way the public is protected against newly introduced or insufficiently tested medical products.

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

CONFUSION

The present Republican primary imbroglio in Essex continues on its bizarre course, with the outcome as uncertain as the issues are indistinct. The public seems to sense the unimportance of the entire affair, and the frantic entreaties of Lilliputian candidates are likely to be greeted on election day by a huge yawn. But opinion is divided as to which side is likely to benefit most from the impending light vote. By the usual rules of the game, Clean Government should profit the more from public indifference in that it is the party in power. But the heretofore united front of the Vanderbilt-Seely combination is weakened by so many defections that it is possible that these rules may not apply. I look for a great deal of split voting. Such voting is encouraged by the use of voting machines. On the machine ballot, names run from left to right rather than from top to bottom. Once a voter starts pulling the levers he is likely to wander in the same way as a child picking daisies. Furthermore, all of these wanderings will be recorded, but again it is hard to say which side will benefit most from an honest tally.

Zink Will Lead

Despite the fact he has been made the main target of the opposition, I expect Homer C. Zink to lead his party in the total number of votes. While Zink's last minute allegiance to the Clean Government standard angered many of the political leaders now supporting James H. Clark, there are a number of others whose main interest is in seeing Zink elected. Nor does it appear that his opponents have been very successful in their campaign to impugn his record in Trenton. The Belleville lawyer was the recipient of too much favorable publicity last spring and summer for the public to accept very quickly the idea that these achievements were over-rated. It takes time to educate the public as well to educate it, and it is not unlikely that the period available in Zink's case is too short. My belief is that strategists of the suburban group erred in making Zink the target of their campaign. Such emphasis has served to push him still further into the limelight, and even to obscure Clark's very excellent qualification.

Furthermore, the conviction is general that Zink will refuse to take dictation from William H. Seely in the event of his election. Seely is easily the most hated man in the Clean Government ranks, and not a few leaders anticipate with considerable pleasure his probable discomfiture. Instead of emphasizing Zink, it seems to me that his opponents would have done better to have directed their campaign against Seely. Here is a Newark district leader who has assumed to speak for the entire majority party of a county with a million inhabitants. He has no mandate of any kind for this leadership, which is pure usurpation. Few suburban voters know Seely and still fewer like him.

Hot Fight For Sheriff

The contest for sheriff is complicated by the presence of several independent candidates, by far the strongest of which is Fred T. Lehman of Newark, scion of an old Newark family. Lehmann is conducting a tireless campaign and is pushing at the heels of both of the group candidates, Joseph Giuliano of the Suburban ticket and Henry Young, Jr., of Clean Government. It is not clear, however, from which candidate Lehmann will pull the most votes. I would say that the sheriff nomination belongs to anyone.

Several colorful figures have appeared on the two assembly slates, notably Dean Uptogrove of the Suburban ticket and Graham Huntington of Clean Government. As a successful advertising man, Uptogrove suggests New York's Bruce Barton. Although new to politics, Huntington has been a well known figure in the civic life of the Oranges and Maplewood for a decade.

Today IN NEW JERSEY

by Dr. Maurice F. Neufeld

There are, scattered through the State, over 130 Scout, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Y.M.H.A., and other similar group-camps with a total area exceeding 22,000 acres, and a total capacity of about 17,150 people. However, they do not meet either in size or number the potential need and demand of the total number of children to be served. Nor do children, especially city children of little means, have sufficient time in pleasurable and healthful natural surroundings. An expanded State forest-park system in New Jersey should provide much needed additional group-camp facilities.

There are also, principally in the urban and suburban counties, 110 private and semi-public golf and country clubs with a total area of about 14,200 acres. These clubs, although having low capacity in proportion to area occupied, and although seldom open to the general public, are large recreational assets to their localities. Not only do they offer agreeable recreation to a considerable number of people, but often they also provide pleasant open spaces in otherwise solidly built-up urban territory. Even the most exclusive golf clubs serve so much a public purpose that they should be publicly encouraged rather than taxed out of existence as sometimes happens. If and when abandoned, consideration should be given to converting well situated golf clubs into parks and playgrounds. Usually they are splendidly adaptable to these more intensive public uses.

Then there are the commercial outdoor recreational facilities. Many of these are high-grade and welcome supplements to public provisions. Others are of regrettably low standard and should be crowded out by better facilities, publicly owned and operated.

Properly equipped and conducted commercial recreational facilities reduce somewhat the need for public provisions of like character. But at best, they are impermanent and, generally, public recreational responsibilities lag so far behind obvious needs that commercial enterprise cannot be regarded as a very important factor in plans and recommendations for public effort. Further, commercial recreational enterprise is directly responsive to supply and demand. Its expansion is not susceptible to governmental pressure. Generally it serves a purpose quite different from that of the public recreational area. It is not, and probably should not be, subject to public control beyond place of location and safeguards as to operation in the interests of health and morals.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINTS

Insect Enemies of Health

By Dr. James A. Tobey

INSECTS, parasites, and pests not only are annoying, but some are actually dangerous. Many of the biting and blood-sucking insects carry serious diseases, while others are poisonous. Learn to know the bad ones and avoid them.

Malaria is an example of an insect-borne disease, for it is spread only by the bites of female mosquitoes of the Anopheles species. These large brown mosquitoes occur most frequently in the southern states, but they may breed in stagnant water in the north during hot weather.

You can recognize a malarial mosquito by the fact that she practically stands on her head when she bites, whereas the harmless mosquito remains flat or horizontal. The Anopheles also has black spots on the wings, and they go about chiefly at night.

Flies such as house flies and horse flies may carry germs on their legs, while flies like the western deer fly spread disease by biting. The filthy fly that walks offensively across your cake or pie is bred in manure, and may have been foraging in an outhouse.

The common dog tick or wood tick is said to be unusually prevalent now, particularly along the entire eastern coast. These little eight-legged ticks can cause Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever. Dogs should be kept free of ticks by suitable dusting powders, and tick bites on humans should be promptly and thoroughly disinfected, using iodine or carbolic acid.

The poisonous Black Widow Spider is likewise around. This coal black insect is about half an inch long, has hairy legs, and a bright red spot on its abdomen. It is found in dark, dry places, such as outhouses, lumber piles, stumps, and old shacks. Its bite is very poisonous, so watch out for it.

In cases of ordinary ant and flea bites, and harmless spider bites, the best first aid treatment is application of ammonia or vinegar. If bitten by a Black Widow spider, see a doctor immediately. In malarial districts, quinine is useful preventive.

A. E. Mayer Differentiates Between "Realtors" And "Brokers"

"Real estate brokers are licensed by the New Jersey Real Estate Commission, giving them the privilege of transacting business in the Real Estate line, but no licensed real estate broker has the right to use the word 'Realtor' unless he is a member of the National Real Estate Board. To become a 'Realtor' it is necessary for a licensed Real Estate Broker to make application to an authorized Real Estate Board. Should his application be accepted the fees are from $60 to $200 per year. The applicant is notified by the National Association of Real Estate Boards, who are the only governing bodies authorized to issue a certificate granting permission to use the word 'Realtor'."

ZINK PLEDGES NO NEW TAXES

Says He Hopes Language Is Clear Even To Opposition

Assemblyman Homer Zink today tells this newspaper in his candidacy for State Senator that he pledges his opposition to new state taxes, major issue in the primary election next Tuesday.

"It is to be hoped that this language is clear, even to an opposition which does not choose to understand. 'In the face of my record,' Zink said, 'it is surprising to hear the opposition charge that I favor new taxes. That charge is not true, as my entire record shows. On the contrary, that same record proves that I, perhaps, did more than any other one person to avert new taxes during the present session of the legislature. I challenge anyone to deny this.' Zink's statement follows in full: 'A man holding public office, who asks the people to return him to that office or to choose him for higher office, must stand or fall upon his record. If his record is poor, he will be judged accordingly; if it is good, he may tender it as a pledge of what he will do in the future. 'My public record began in 1930, when I first served in the Assembly, continued in 1931, and was resumed in 1936 and again this year. It covers four terms as an Assemblyman. I am bound by that record, which cannot now be changed. Frankly, I am proud of my record. Upon it I take my stand as the Clean Government candidate for the Senate, from Essex County. 'Thanks to the press, it is not necessary for me to go into detail. All the newspapers have generously given me credit for what I have done and tried to do in the Legislature. This is particularly true of my efforts, last spring, in reducing the state budget a million and a half dollars in hard cash. That accomplishment has not been forgotten. 'In the face of my record, it is surprising to hear the opposition charge that I favor new taxes. That charge, of course, is not true, as my entire record shows. On the contrary, that same record proves that I, perhaps, did more than any other one person to avert new taxes during the present session of the Legislature. I challenge any one

GEBHARDT SHINES AT SPARTA FARM

School Commissioner Shoots
Copperhead Over
Barn Door

School Commissioner Charles A. Gebhardt is a lawyer during business hours, but out in the wilds of Sparta, where he has a model farm, he becomes a backwoodsman.

Recently "Charlie," as the commissioner is familiarly known to his friends, dragged forth his trusty shot gun and made short work of a four-foot long copperhead snake, which calmly draped itself over the top of "Charlie's" barn door as the "farmer" entered to bring forth his run-a-bout of an ancient vintage.

The barn door is proof enough of murder on the farm for a hole marks the spot of aim in the door.

If anyone doubts "Charlie's" capability as a farmer-woodsman, he should be seen in action with a cross-cut saw, laboring to make little logs out of big ones, which he has hauled from a clump of woods near his farm.

Ed's Note: Since our demon reporter obtained the story as written above, we have learned from Charlie's dad that the copperhead was a common ordinary garden variety of garter snake, and that the first shot, because Charlie was nervous, blasted the barn door and also one of the doors on Charlie's car.

As Charlie sped away from the barn a family of mice scampered in all directions from under the front seat, evidently being scared from a nest there by the commotion.

to deny this.

"I have steadily preached against additional taxes, and I submit that I have practiced what I preached. To those who have urged substitute taxes as a means of reducing the tax on real estate, I have pointed out that most, if not all, of such substitute taxes invariably become added taxes. That warning is a far cry from advocating new taxes.

"With the experience gained and the knowledge acquired during several months of continuous work on state finances this year, I am in the best possible position to know how the state spends its money, what its needs really are, and whether new taxes are required. I say that no thoughtful man will seek to increase the tax burden of the state. 'I am opposed to new taxes. As senator, I will register that opposition and will continue the fight to reduce the cost of state government. I make that pledge for the Clean Government assembly delegation as well as for myself.

"Thus, Clean Government legislative representation at Trenton will assure the people of Essex County of continued militant effort to keep down the tax burden.

"It is to be hoped that this language is clear, even to an opposition which does not choose to understand."

LEIGHTON BACK AS DETECTIVE

Is In Charge Now
As An Active
Captain

Director of Public Safety William D. Clark has announced that Elmer Leighton, police captain, who has been retired since May 1, 1935, will resume active duty today in the capacity of head of the Detective Bureau. Captain Leighton had been retired because of illness.

Speculation as to what might happen was rife Monday when Detective Edward Fletcher was transferred from duty in the bureau to uniformed duty on a regular beat. It was inferred that the transfer was routine in accordance with a departmental plan of rotation from plainclothes to regular duty.

James Lee is still on plainclothes duty as a detective, all others having been transferred. Coincident with official notification of the Leighton assignment Tuesday night at the Town Commission meeting, Fred B. Handlon, who until recently had charge of the town real estate department under Clark and at the present time under Mayor William H. Williams' Finance Department, was named police court clerk to replace Lieutenant Nourse. Clark feels the shift will release Nourse for more important police matters. Handlon, meantime, will maintain the real estate position, serving in a dual capacity. Nourse's assignments will be made by Police Chief George Spatz.

Leighton will start in at $3,000 a year with increases of $100 a year until he reaches $3,200. He was appointed patrolman by Clark in 1927 and made a captain in 1931, after a series of spectacular arrests.

During the absence of Director Clark, who will be on vacation, Handlon will act as Deputy Director of Public Safety for the remainder of September.

Wipe Off Taxes

The board decided to wipe off the books about $55,000 worth of personal taxes, including items charged against people who have moved from town, veterans who are exempt and other uncollectible items. The amount covers a period from 1921 to 1930 and will bring the records of the town to excellent condition from 1909 to 1930, Mayor Williams said. He lauded WPA workers, who had scanned some 400,000 individual items over the period. Twelve to fifteen workers have been employed three years clearing the old records of items that are deemed worthless to carry.

"The law says we can arrest anyone who fails to pay," he said, "but I am not going to recommend arresting several hundred persons."

He further explained that because of the passage of the gas tax in 1927 and the automobile tax in October, 1926, duplication of tax charges had been made in many cases. He said that of the $55,000 total "probably $15,000 to $18,000" was a result of the overlapping of the two taxes. "The cost of collection is more than I want to recommend," said the Mayor. It is unbelievable the amount of work involved.

In eight years, since 1930 when he took office the Mayor has straightened out a muddle of bookkeeping—from 1909 to 1930.

Family Life Problems Today

By Mrs. Julia O. Reiner
Executive Secretary
Community Service Bureau

He was a handsome, well built, young man as he walked into the office. He had not stated his business to the receptionist; perhaps he had come to refer a case to us or to leave a contribution or to ask for a speaker at some meeting he was planning.

He told us directly that he was looking for a good home for himself and his small boy, that his wife had left him and he had to make some plan immediately so the boy could be cared for while he was at work. He could pay $40.00 a week. He had been living in a neighboring town but wanted to make a complete change since his family life had been so upset. We saw no financial need here but great emotional stress and strain.

We wondered how he had come to us? He told us that he had been closely associated with the Family Welfare Society in his community and was aware of the many ways in which they helped people so he looked us up in the telephone book and here he was. From our files and from our experience we have a good knowledge of the resources which the community affords. We were able to give him three addresses which he visited and he made his own choice of a home where a sympathetic, understanding woman could care for his boy and where the father could return at night to be with his son.

He came back later to tell us how satisfactory the arrangement was, and he came again and again. Little by little he told us more about his wife, how they had married very young how she had been very close to her own mother and how when there were misunderstandings she went "home" to her family.

We suggested that perhaps his wife was not happy in the present situation and she might be helped to find some solution if she could also talk with a case worker, some one who was understanding but in no way involved in the situation. He agreed to tell his wife of the suggestion and she went to the Family Service agency in the city where she was living. What happened in the months that followed cannot be told here, in detail, but now a year later they are together again and making a new start with more tolerance and understanding on both sides.

The Community Service Bureau is a member agency of the Family Welfare Association of America, of which there are over 200 in the United States and fifteen in New Jersey. The common purpose of Family agencies is to help people to find a satisfactory way out of their difficulties. As in other communities the Community Service Bureau is supported by the Welfare Federation and private voluntary contributions.

the most wonderful person in the world.

If this boy lives a distance away as you say, it might be nice for you to exchange letters once a week—not the mushy type, but newsy, joyous letters in which you can talk about your school activities and social life. You will both find much happiness in this,

I am sure, and after all, letter writing is very educational if one does not resort too much to X X X and O O O. Make it plain that you feel it is better you should associate with others and not deny yourself the pleasure of a date with some other boy friend. I feel sure you are much too young to have made up your mind so definitely.

Take Aunt Flo's advice and get those fine qualities and ideals that you have found in this boy up on a pedestal and keep them there. Meanwhile look over all the other aspirants, associate with them, make dates with them, compare them with your ideal and then if after all this you still feel that Bob is the only boy in the world and he still thinks you are the only girl—let me know and I will shout very loudly "Hurray" and feature you both in this very column as "The Unusual Mr. and Miss."

Synopsis of Publication of 1937 Audit, Town of Belleville, New Jersey

(On File with Town Clerk)

Hon. William H. Williams, Mayor and Board of Commissioners
Town of Belleville
Belleville, New Jersey

An audit of the financial accounts and transactions of the Town of Belleville in the County of Essex for the year ending December 31, 1937 has recently been completed by representatives of this office. The results of the audit are herewith set forth.

The comments pertaining to the audit are shown, insofar as is practicable, under the following headings:

Scope of Audit
Condition of Records and Conduct of Offices
Condition of Finances
General Comments, etc.

Certification
Roster of Officials for Period under Audit.

The several statements, schedules, and analyses showing the financial condition of the various accounts are set forth in the following order:
Current
Trust
Capital
Water Operating
Water Capital
Bond and Interest

An index of the statements, schedules, and analyses is shown immediately preceding the current balance sheet.

Scope of Audit
The audit, covered the financial transactions of the Collector and Treasurer, the activities of the Mayor and Board of Commissioners, the records of the Clerk, Board of Health, Engineering Department, Clerk of Police Court, Zoning Board, Relief Department, Public Library and Rent Collector.

Current Duplicate
The current duplicate was added and proved and all items that were not found to be supported by cash credits or by proper certificates of remission or cancellation were treated as unpaid.

Pre-1937 Taxes
The outstanding taxes of prior years were examined and any items which were not found to be supported by proper cash credits or by certificates of cancellation or remission were treated as unpaid.

Tax Arrears Register
I hereby certify that a tax arrears register had been installed and that all taxes up to and including the year 1937 have been transferred to the control figures made part of this report are in agreement with the detail of this register. A new card system for delinquent taxes was in the process of completion during 1937 and the delinquent taxes for the year 1937 are reflected in these duplicates. At the present time all delinquent taxes including 1937 have been transferred to the card system with the exception of items representing purely personal property taxes. These items are now being transferred by the officials. The control figures made part of this report are in agreement with the detail of this register.

Remission of Taxes
All remissions of taxes were found to be supported by proper authority. They were properly recorded in the minutes with the exception of a few minor typographical errors which were corrected by the Clerk at the request of my auditor.

Assessments Receivable
The Essex County Board of Taxation returned its decision on appeals without showing map designations. On several certificates granting veteran's exceptions, the name of the appellant receiving the remission differed from the name which appeared in the duplicate at the address shown on the certificate. The intent of the General Tax Act is that exemptions be granted only when the property is in the name of the veteran on the Town duplicate.

Tax Title Liens
The tax title liens were properly established and verified. Proper transfers were made by the municipal officials in charge.

Tax Title Register
I hereby certify that the required tax title register was installed by the municipal officials and that all taxes up to and including the year 1937 have been transferred thereto. In 1937 the register was maintained and operated on individual cards by a machine bookkeeping system with each card maintained in the control figures made part of this report are in agreement with the detail shown on the cards.

Assessments Receivable
The control figures made part of this report are in agreement with the detail shown on the cards of the machine bookkeeping system maintained in 1937 for assessments receivable.

Assessments
I hereby certify that the required assessment lien register was installed by the municipal officials prior to the date of audit and that 1937 confirmed assessments were properly recorded in the minutes. This register was also operated on individual cards by the machine bookkeeping system in 1937. I also certify that the control figures made part of this report are in agreement with the detail of the card system for assessment liens.

Utility Water Rents
The water rent accounts of the Town are kept on individual cards by a machine bookkeeping system. These consumer accounts receivable are kept in 13 books with a control card for each book which acts as a control card for the accounts in that book. Credit balances in all books were taken off and investigated. They were then transferred to the prepayment of water rentals account. All cancellations of water charges were checked from the records of the water department and the control figures made part of this report are in agreement with the detail shown on the cards.

Cash Balances
The cash balances were verified by independent certificates obtained from the depositories.

Revenues
The revenues were established and verified insofar as possible as to source and amount. They were properly reconciled with the receipts which were verified as to source and disposition.

Vouchers
All vouchers were checked as to whether they appeared to be a proper charge against the accounts and as to fiscal period. All cancelled checks were inspected and the amount had been verified as to extensions. It was noted that all vouchers were properly sworn to.

Reserves
Provision reserves for unpaid claims at the close of the year were set up by the Auditor on the basis of known and estimated charges to be received, properly chargeable to these appropriations.

Disbursements
All checks issued during the period under audit were signed by:
William H. Williams—Director of Revenue and Finance
T. R. Sargent—Treasurer, or Arthur S. Ackerman—Assistant to Treasurer
J. F. Cowan, Jr.—Deputy Director of Revenue and Finance.

All checks require two signatures and pursuant to ordinance any two signing officials may sign in the absence of the other official. By an amendment to the ordinance adopted August 10, 1937, Mr. Ackerman may sign in the absence of the Town Treasurer.

The Treasurer disbursed all funds in the manner required by statute.

CONDITION OF RECORDS
Books
Collector's Records
The Collector's records consisted of columnar cash books for all accounts, tax duplicates, delinquent, tax registers, tax title lien and assessment receivable registers operated on a card system by machine bookkeeping system. A register was also kept for the delinquent properties. All these records were found in good condition.

Treasurer's Records
The Treasurer's records consisted of a general cash book, journal, ledgers, bond register and other records, operated in accordance with the requirements of this office. Monthly trial balances had been taken and monthly bank reconciliations made. The ledger was found to be in balance at the time of starting the audit. The records were well kept.

Clerk's Records
The Clerk's records consisted of the Town minute book and ordinance book.

Minutes
The minutes were examined in detail and were found to be in good condition.

Assessor's Work
Our work on the tax duplicate did not go into the detail of valuations or similar matters but as far as could be determined, the work of the assessor was complete.

Condition of Records in "Outside Offices"
Recorder and Court Clerk
The records of the Recorder and Court Clerk consisted of two sets of books (Town cases and Motor Vehicle cases) one set being kept by each of the two officials. The Recorder's records consisted of a cash book in which all receipts and disbursements were entered, while the Recorder's notes opposite each entry in his docket, the disposition of the case and the fine imposed. All these records were in good condition. The Clerk had collected all funds, monies and disbursements made. Both sets of dockets were checked against each other and to the cash book.

Building Inspector
The records maintained by the Building Inspector consisted of permit applications, application forms for permits and Collector's cash receipt slips.

In the examination of these records it was noted that several building permits were issued for which no application forms were on file. The values shown on the permit stubs were used to compute the correctness of the fee charged and collected.

der sidewalks for which no permits were issued. It is suggested that a regular stub permit book be used to record the issuance of this class of licenses.

Zoning Board
Zoning Board records consisted of a minute book record of the proceedings of the Board and its decisions on appeals and applications heard. The fee for appeals from rulings of the Building Inspector is $5.00. The appeals action was checked against the Collector's cash receipt slips and the Collector's cash book. As explained under the comments under the Building Inspector, the Board should require a permit to be presented with the appeal before acting on the case in order to insure the payment of the $5.00 fee in those cases where a fee is required.

Department of Revenue and Finance—General Licenses
Miscellaneous licenses and permits were issued by the Department of Revenue and Finance. The records consisted of stub permit books. The revenue was established for these stub books and the list of fees established by the governing body and checked against the Collector's cash book.

All plates and dog tag tags purchased for 1937 permits were accounted for either as issued or on hand by physical count except vendor's plate No. 27, $10.00 which was accounted for on the instructions of the Department of Revenue and Finance to account "Due from Personal Tax Collector H. E. Williams."

According to the minutes of the Board, permission was granted at the meeting of February 24, 1937 to L. E. Williams to change of premises for a liquor license. The established fee for such transfer is $5.00. No record of the receipt of the fee was found. At the request of the auditor the matter is being investigated. The item has been set up as a revenue account receivable by the auditors and every effort should be made to clear this outstanding item from the records during 1938.

Collector of Rents on Town Owned Properties
In 1937 this office collected and turned over to the Collector $3,495.50. The records consisted of duplicate rent receipt books numbered by the auditor and a ledger containing accounts with tenants.

The rent receipt books were checked to the tenants' ledger and the Collector's cash receipts. A list furnished by the Rent Collector showing the monthly rent charges for each location was used to check the individual charges to the tenants' accounts in the ledger.

Where vacancies occurred a notation to that effect was noted on the levy side of each account by the official in charge for each month the premises were idle.

Rented properties disposed of by sale during the year were verified with Town records.

It is suggested that the Rent Collector report a detailed list of all vacant properties to the governing body each month and that these presented reports be filed.

Surplus Revenue Account Maintained
A surplus revenue account was set up by the officials and maintained as required by statute.

Notes
Notes were issued in the manner required by the statutes.

A proper record of outstanding indebtedness was kept. This register was also operated on individual cards by the machine bookkeeping system in 1937. I also certify that the control figures made part of this report are in agreement with the detail of the card system for assessment liens.

All cancelled notes were available for inspection and verification with the records of the water department.

Water Rents
All cancelled bonds were available for inspection. They were verified with the amounts paid and due.

All coupons and payments of registered interest were examined and verified in detail against the amounts due and payable with the exception of interest paid on baby bonds.

CONDITION OF FINANCES
Indebtedness Issued and Outstanding
The total indebtedness of the municipality which was issued and outstanding as of December 31, 1937 is classified as follows:

Baby Bonds $ 2,478.00
Total 139.00
Bond Anticipation Notes 140,600.00
Serial Bonds 2,987,800.00
Term Bonds 366,000.00

Utility Indebtedness
Water Department
Bond Anticipation Notes 17,400.00
Serial Bonds 875,000.00
Term Bonds 60,000.00

GRAND TOTAL $3,953,408.00

September 8, 1938

APPROPRIATIONS
Transfers of appropriations were made in accordance with the statute.

There were no overexpenditures of 1937 appropriations. The overexpenditure of the 1936 appropriation was paid by the Mayor punishable by fine and imprisonment. (Chap. 219, P.L. 1914).

RECOMMENDATIONS
That the departmental totals of bills approved for payment by the Board agree with the list of individual bills attached to the resolution adopted when Auditor verbally recommended same.

That all vouchers be checked carefully and every precaution taken to avoid duplicate payments of invoices presented the second time, and also to prevent overpayments. (Standard Recommendation)

That adequate reserves be set up out of budget appropriation accounts to cover all possible charges applicable to these reserves. (Standard Recommendation)

That the procedure for the transfer of outstanding items to foreclosed property and the installation of the new foreclosed property register plan be put into operation as soon as possible. (In process of adoption—This is a continuous detail due to acquiring new properties)

That all minute records be signed by all Commissioners present at the meeting. (All minutes signed at next subsequent meeting)

That complete and descriptive details of all bills received be recorded in accordance with a previous comment. (Detail as outlined on Page 7 adopted)

That continued care be taken to have the Recorder's and Court Clerk's dockets and the correct and complete disposition of each case and that all fines collected and recorded in the dockets be entered in the Court Clerk's cash book and deposited by him. (Standard Recommendation)

That a stub permit book be used by the Building Inspector for chargeable applications for hearing by the Zoning Board, as previously outlined. (Stub permit book method adopted)

That a stub permit book be obtained for the Engineering Department to cover permits issued to install tanks under walks. (Stub permit book method adopted)

That the fee of $5.00 due from L. E. Williams for transfer fee on a liquor license be collected. (Fee charge cancelled—Type of license applied for was abolished)

I certify that the taxes of 1933 to 1937 inclusive were transferred by the officials and auditor to delinquent columns in the 1933 to 1937 duplicates and that these delinquents are in agreement with the control figures made part of this report.

The outstanding taxes of prior years were examined and any items which were not found to be supported by proper cash credits or by certificates of cancellation or remission were treated as unpaid.

I hereby certify that a tax arrears register had been installed and that all taxes up to and including the year 1937 have been transferred to the control figures made part of this report are in agreement with the detail of this register. LEHMANN URGES TWO REFORMS

Sheriff Candidate Points To Certification of Sheriff Sales

Fred T. Lehmann who seeks the Republican nomination for sheriff at Tuesday's primary, asserted in a statement this week that there are two reforms which he considers are urgently needed in the sheriff's office, and he says that if he is elected sheriff he will put them into effect. They are alleged "lawyer running," and giving one lawyer a "corner" on the certification of thousands of sheriff's sales yearly at a fee of $3 each.

"Lawyer running is really a racket" in the sheriff's office today," said Mr. Lehmann. "Certain attaches of the sheriff's office have been known to recommend certain lawyers to prisoners in the city jail as well as to other people having business in the sheriff's office."

"I have been reliably informed that even prisoners are approached and told that: 'if you want a good break, get so and so as counsel.' Now this should stop, and I will see that it is stopped if I am elected sheriff. "The fact that one lawyer should be assigned to make all the thousands of certifications of sheriff's sales at $3, each is unfair to the large number of other practitioners. I would see to it that his business is distributed among many, especially the young lawyers, who are in need of legal business."

Classes Open Tuesday At Newark Jr. College

With classes scheduled to reopen September 20, work is being completed in the enlargement and renovation of the Chemistry Laboratory and Library of Newark Junior College, 121 Clinton avenue.

Mr. Aichele of Sneed and Company, is installing the Library which will have fifty feet of stacks. The stacks will be of a beige color, harmonizing with the gold silk brocade walls, the twin gold-wrought chandeliers, and the venetian ceiling. Sneed and Company are known throughout the world for their construction of the Vatican Library of Rome, and the libraries of the greater American colleges and universities.

According to Professor Leo Lemchen, Director of Newark Junior College, all the books in the library have been re-catalogued and are under the supervision of a trained librarian.

Completely re-equipped with new apparatus for inorganic chemistry, the laboratory has been built for classes of sixteen students. Professor Lemchen, in describing the new laboratory, asserted, "This unit has been planned for individual laboratory work."

Among other changes, the newspaper office of "The Scop," the Newark Junior College paper, issued weekly, has been moved to the first floor and re-furnished for the use of the students.

The offices of the administration have also been changed, but the student room, faculty room and college cafeteria will remain in the West Building of Newark Junior College.

Executive Board Meets

The first meeting of the executive board of the Essex County Council of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers was held yesterday at 10 a.m. in the Hall of Records, Newark.

On September 19 the president's meeting will be held at 8:15 p.m. at 31 Green street, Newark.

On Tuesday, October 25, the first County Council will be held. Time and place will be announced later.

Mrs. Louis H. Nyhagen, Maplewood, newly elected county chairman, has announced her new staff as follows: first vice-chairman, Mrs. Charles Mathewson, Montclair; second vice-chairman, Mrs. Howard Schantz, Livingston; third vice-chairman, Mrs. Robert Banta, Belleville; fourth vice-

Movie Quiz Solutions Take Only Common Sense

Sample List of Questions Are Cited On a Mythical Picture

The contest committee of the $250,000 Movie Quiz contest offers the two following samples of how questions will be listed and might be answered:

Let us presume that the picture is "The Singular Mr. Quiz," a Fictitious Picture Corporation production, starring Joe Doakes and Martha Millicent. (The title and the stars are, of course, suppositions.)

In one of the scenes from this picture, Joe and Martha are left alone in the drawing room of her Park avenue mansion. Suddenly Martha walks out on Joe.

The question is: "Why did Martha walk out on Joe in the picture, 'The Singular Mr. Quiz'?" One of these four answers is the correct one:

1. She remembers that she has to address a meeting of the League for Prospective Brides.

State Elks' Association Met At West Orange

The first quarterly meeting of the New Jersey State Elks' Association for 1938-39 was held in the West Orange Elks' Lodge rooms, 100 Chestnut street, on Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Howard F. Lewis, president of the association and past exalted ruler of Burlington Lodge, presided and was assisted by the following officers: Vice-Presidents John C. Gittone, south district, Joseph A. Miscia, northwest district, Dr. Fred H. Roever, central district, and Edward M. Griffin, northeast district; Secretary Francis J. Eagan, Treasurer Charles Rosencrans, Inner Guard John F. McHugh, Chaplain Francis H. Smith, Assistant Chaplain Dr. Warden L. Zane, Organist Max Bernhardt, Sergeant-at-Arms Jams A. MacMillan, and Trustees George L. Hirtzel, Joseph G. Buen, Flechter L. Fritts, Frederick A. Pope, Joseph T. Hurley.

Exalted Ruler Harold Gahn of Belleville Lodge and several other members of the lodge, all members of the association, journeyed to West Orange to take part in the proceedings and assist in furthering the great humanitarian work of the association in the rehabilitation of the crippled and under privileged children. Additional plans were also made to continue its already extensive program on safe driving and the elimination of subversive influences under the head of "isms" and to replace these by one "ism" alone, that of Americanism.

Special preparations, including a trip to Eagle Rock and the Thomas A. Edison Museum, were made by the lodge officers, Ladies' Auxiliary and town officials of West Orange to entertain the visitors before and after the meeting.

LOCAL MAN WINS CASH PRIZE IN SAFE DRIVING CONTEST

Gets $50 From Tydol Station At Rutgers Street

Charles C. Haring of 182 Floyd street, has been awarded a $50 cash prize for his list of eight safe driving rules in Tydol's Safe Driving Crusade contest at the Tydol Service Station, Washington avenue and Rutgers street.

Lists of all the 685 prize winners in the $50,000 safe driving crusade contest launched on May 5 by Tide Water Associated Oil Company are now posted at all Tydol gasoline and Veedol motor oil stations where they may be inspected by anyone, it was announced today by F. N. Pierson, sales supervisor of Tide Water Oil Co., Newark.

Myron L. Stearns of Rural Delivery 2, Upper Lake avenue, Greenwich, Conn., won first prize of $25,000 for writing the best eight rules of safe driving. Second prize of $5,000 went to Herbert C. Towle, 262 Billings road, Wollaston, Mass., and third prize of $2,500 to Paul L. Gorsuch, 70 Volan street, Merchantville, N. J.

BAND TO GET NEW REGALIA

High Schoolers Are Now Ready To Strut Their Stuff

Watch Belleville high school band strut its stuff.

The Athletic Council Monday night decided to replace the shabby seven-year-old sweaters with capes. Snappy caps will be added and, later, uniforms as funds become available.

The capes and caps will be purchased with funds, which have accumulated from receipts in comparison with other snappily dressed bands. From now on the members will be "going places."
