Heads Chosen Tuesday Night By Major Party Committees

Kivlen Heads The Democrats, Machette Re-elected G.O.P.
Chairman

Harry Machette was re-elected chairman of the Belleville Republican County Committee at a meeting Monday night in the Town Hall. Others officers were re-elected as follows: Vice Chairman, Mrs. Julia A. Alexander; secretary, Anthony B. Di Leo, and treasurer, Ruth Fredericks. Eugene Kivlen, an auto salesman in the Herdman Chevrolet Company, of 174 Floyd street, was named chairman of the Democratic County Committee to succeed Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, who held the post for the last three years but declined it this year for business reasons. Kivlen was a candidate for town commissioner last May but withdrew in favor of Commissioner Louis A. Noll. He was opposed for the Democratic chairmanship by Angelo Domenick, but following a 21 to 17 vote for Kivlen, Domenick withdrew and the vote was made unanimous.

Other officers elected at the committee organization meeting Tuesday night are: Miss Zita McCoy, vice chairman; Miss Eleanor Scaine, treasurer, and Thomas W. Fleming, executive secretary.

Miss McCoy defeated Mrs. Catherine Herkness, who was seeking reelection, by a vote of 22 to 16. Miss Scaine defeated Mrs. Catherine Paxton 21 to 17. Fleming was unopposed.

Machette urged unanimous support for the Republican ticket in the November general election.

The following were elected ward chairmen and vice-chairmen: First Ward, Charles B. Tedesco, chairman; Mamie Kimble, vice chairman; Second Ward, James L. Davidson, chairman; Angela C. Brisk, vice-chairman; Third Ward, Elmer Smith, chairman; Jessie P. Rue, vice-chairman; Fourth Ward, Donald McPherson, chairman; Ruth Fredericks, vice-chairman.

The committee were guests of Machette at a party at the Legion Chateau following the meeting.

Voters Ratify Bond Issue For Schools

Voters Tuesday ratified 103 to eight the plan of the Board of Education to construct a $154,300 auditorium, gymnasium and new heating plant at Public School No. 3. This is about one per cent of the registered voters in town.

While the plan calls for expenditure of this amount only $85,000 will be raised by bonds, a PWA grant caring for the balance.

The improvement will eliminate a fire-trap which exists in the present auditorium, which has been thus termed by the State Board of Education. The addition will be an L-shaped, one-story structure at the north and east sides of the present building.

G.O.P. Vote

Belleville Republican County Committee members Tuesday night cast ten votes for Commissioner Percy Miller, Irvington, and twenty-three for Stanley Naughton in the battle for the county chairmanship of the party. Miller won over Naughton, thereby wresting control from the Clean Government, 548-512.

Lost, Strayed, Or --

Lillian Vosteen, 242 Washington avenue, left her automobile in Washington avenue Sunday night, instructing a local garage man to install a battery, the current one having laid down on the job. While the owner was occupied away from the automobile with other matters, the garage man drove the car into his garage.

Miss Vosteen failed to note what had happened and phoned police that her car was missing. This occurred at 11:25 p.m. At 7:55 a.m. the next morning, the garage man heard of the incident and called the authorities. Miss Vosteen received her car and the police cancelled a telephone message to surrounding towns and cities, guardians of the law of which were searching for the automobile.

"O.K." "O.K."

When the Hales, 59 Campbell avenue, stepped out for a few minutes Friday night someone stepped in. Mr. Haley upon returning to his home notified police.

This occurred at 7:35 p.m. Exactly one hour and twenty minutes later Mr. Haley picked up the phone again and called Belleville 2-1561. That number gets a police sergeant at headquarters.

"It's all right, sergeant," said a voice over the phone. "I was only my daughter."

"Who are you?" asked the desk sergeant.

"I'm Mr. Haley."

"O. K."

"O. K."

And the two phones clicked and a mystery was solved.

Famed Educator Addresses Joint Rotary Meeting Here

William A. Irwin Tells Of
"The American Way"

Discussing "The American Way" William A. Irwin, educational director of the American Institute of Banking, Wednesday said: "We are developing something that is the envy of the world—let's not give it up. I beg you when it is being challenged, let's keep it. It is the hope of the world, as well."

Mr. Irwin, a naturalized American of Irish birth, addressed a joint meeting of the Belleville, Nutley and North Arlington Rotary Clubs in Forest Field Club.

"I'm an American by choice," he said, adding, "I never saw a prouder day than that." He proceeded to draw a comparison between the civil and economic liberties in this country and those countries which are governed by dictators.

Mr. Irwin's life abroad qualifies him as an authority on this subject, and, through his experiences in foreign capitals, he was able to make a vivid presentation of the contrast.

"In Germany, Italy and Russia," he explained, "the American philosophy of life is being challenged, as well as in America, itself—not in one political party, but in all."

He declared that in Germany "Don't forget that Victor Hart, JEWELER, sells Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry on the Easy Payment Plan, 457 Washington avenue, corner Tappan avenue, Belleville, N. J."

SEEK WORKERS FOR HOUSE-TO-HOUSE WORK ON CHEST

Mrs. Irene P. McCorkle Appeals To Women's Organizations

In an endeavor to enlist workers, Mrs. L. E. McCorkle, 134 Forest street, chairman of the Community Chest house-to-house committee, has addressed an appeal to civic, patriotic, fraternal and others in Belleville. The letter reads as follows:

"The Community Chest campaign to be conducted by the Welfare Federation of Belleville will open on November 3 and close November 15, 1938, during which time the citizens of Belleville will assume the responsibilities of supporting the community chest drive to raise funds for 1939."

"I have been appointed with Mr. Walter Price to take charge of the house-to-house committee. This is a large undertaking and an enormous amount of work must be done and time spent in organizing this part of the campaign. In order to make the campaign, particularly the house-to-house successful and easy for all concerned, I am appealing to every woman's organization in Belleville for a group of women who will volunteer to act as solicitors in this canvass. Undoubtedly, some of the members of your organization have given of their time and energy in this endeavor in previous years so I am taking this opportunity of asking you once again, in behalf of the Federation, for that same splendid support."

"It will be necessary to have these various groups of volunteer workers well organized before the opening of the campaign so that the task of canvassing will be a pleasant and not a burdensome one. With this in mind I would kindly ask that the secretary of your organization fill in the names and addresses on the enclosed card of the ladies who will volunteer to work with me on this committee and return it to me as soon as conveniently possible to do so."

This plea for volunteer workers is extended to all conscientious citizens in Belleville who feel it is their duty to be of some service to the welfare of the Community Chest drive for 1939, and if there are any men and women who would like to give a little of their time to this campaign may do so by giving their name and address to either of the chairmen, Mr. Price, 177 Malone avenue, 'phone Belleville 2-1244, or Mrs. McCorkle, 'phone Belleville 2-2850-J.

Contractor Loses $300 On Job That He Paid $1 To Demolish

Citizens Are Said To Have Confiscated Wood And Blocks

When Louis Gerber, head of the Gerber Trucking Co., Irvington, agreed to demolish the old Belle Chemical Co. plant at 486 Cortlandt street and grade and level off the site for the consideration of $1 he thought he made a good bargain.

But, it didn't turn out that way.

Louis had visions of making a profit out of the wood and concrete blocks in the structure, which had fallen into town hands through foreclosure. He placed workmen on the job, down came the structure and up went the piles of building material.

A watchman was hired for $10 a week.

"But," sadly mused Louis Tuesday night when he appeared before the Town Commission to explain why he had failed to complete the clearing up process, "What can you get for $10 a week? He was a good watchman, but the minute he left the job, people backed up with trucks and, not only stole the lumber and blocks, but stole all my tools. I didn't make a cent. I lost $300 on labor. Now, I wonder if the town will furnish the labor, if I furnish the trucks."

Fred B. Handlon, court clerk, who has been in charge of the Real Estate Department of the town, said that several had been questioned by the police for confiscating the material, but all had been "let go because nothing could be pinned on them."

Handlon did explain that he "knew where one load of blocks can be found right now."

This led Mayor William H. Williams to suggest that the po-

TRUCKS HALTED BY STRIKERS

Picketers Have Been Stationed At Rutgers Street Bridge

While truck strike sympathizers have been stopping trucks at Rutgers street bridge, and advising the operators to turn back to plants from which they came, there has been no disorder.

Most of the truck drivers have complied with the picket, edict. Police have had an eye on the situation since the first truck was stopped Wednesday.

Several local plants are in the same predicament as others—materials consigned out of town and shipments of finished products are cluttering the plants while the strike for higher wages continues. Police escorts were afforded Wednesday as requested by Cardinale Trucking Co., B. & F. Fuel Oil Co., and Empire Box Corp.

TWO INJURED BY AUTOS

Crossing Franklin street between Florence and Naples avenue Sunday, Mrs. Marie Christiano, forty-eight, 23 Florence avenue, was struck and knocked down by an automobile being driven by Joseph E. Montanari, 8 Franklin street, Bloomfield. Mrs. Christiano informed the driver she was not injured, he told police, but she later went to Columbus Hospital for treatment.

Joseph O'Neill, forty-four, 24 Frelinghuysen avenue, Newark, also thought he was uninjured in an automobile accident Friday night at Linden and Division avenues, but he, too, later went to St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, for medical attention.

O'Neill was a passenger in an automobile, which was being driven west in Division avenue by Gordon Wilson, 76 Elizabeth avenue, Newark, and which was in collision with another car being driven north in Linden avenue by Leslie Speicher, 85 Conventual avenue, this town. Speicher received a gash on his right knee which was treated by Dr. Martin Meehan.

MINUTEMEN WAIT BUS DECISION

Civic League Has Eye On Garden State Route

The Minutemen Civic League, which was recently organized to check on municipal matters affecting taxpayers and, in particular, activities along the route of the Garden State Lines' Allwood-North Newark buses, here, is watching intently progress in its appeal to have the consents issued the line by the Town Commission revoked.

The league is waiting to hear a decision from the Public Utility Commission as to whether the line may not pick up passengers here. The Town Commission wants such a favorable decision or it will take steps to rescind the consents. A five-cent fare to Newark has been the basis of the bus route here.

The Civic League maintains there is no five-cent fare and the line does not benefit Belleville. Some members allege the line has picked up and discharged passengers within town limits in violation of the grants given by the Utility Commission. Frank Dailey, spokesman for the group, says this is in violation of the State Laws of 1926, Chapter 144, which, he says, call it a misdemeanor to violate a Public Utility Law.

LIONS CLUB HEARS YEAR'S REPORTS

The Lions Club Thursday heard President Louis A. Noll report on club activities for the year ending July 15, under the leadership of Arthur A. Mayer.

Numerous articles of clothing were purchased for needy children, and eye glasses supplied to two persons. Milk was provided for fourteen grade school pupils for a period of five months; also, two quarts daily to a poor family, for three months. A supply of good books was sent to the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg.

Committees were named to plan the charitable work of the club for the present year. The Ways and Means committee, under George Mead, presented a plan for raising charity funds.

Program Chairman Lommerin announced that Wayne R. Parmer, supervising principal of schools, would speak at the next meeting.

BOARD MOVES FOR CIVIL SERVICE FOR TOWN HELP

If Plan Carries Through Will Be Placed
Before Voters

The Town Commission Wednesday at a meeting which had been adjourned from the night before because of a lack of a quorum adopted a resolution to place on the ballot at the November general election the question of Civil Service for municipal employees.

In offering the resolution Mayor William H. Williams said 1,400 taxpayers had voluntarily signed petitions for the move and many had asked where they might obtain additional petitions to circulate.

Mayor Williams explained that it is his intention to invite the president of the Civil Service Commission to Belleville to explain any technicalities to board members.

An ordinance was introduced providing for a $26,000 bond issue for the paving of Cortlandt street. This increases the town's share of improving the street from $2,000 to $8,000. The State Highway Department will pay $18,000 and WPA $37,000 of the estimated total cost of $63,000. The state's portion will be paid later to the town and is included in the $26,000 figure.

Recover Body Of Local Missing Man From Passaic River

Reported missing Friday to local police by his family, the body of Frank Montarelli, seventy-two, 29 Carner avenue, was recovered Wednesday morning by Harrison police from the Passaic river.

The body was seen floating by workmen of the J. P. Callaghan & Co., building materials plant in Passaic avenue, north of the Bridge Street bridge about 6:45 a.m. Police used a boat owned by Timothy Qualey, Fifth street, Harrison, and recovered the body.

Management Mum On Talk That Strike Forces Attitude

While statements are not forthcoming from officials of the Eastwood-Neally Corp., foundry wire manufacturers for sixty-one years here, rumor persists about town that this old Belleville industry is seriously considering liquidating its business.

Work suspended in all departments through a strike, the object of which is said to be to make the shop a closed one, the firm, it is further rumored, is telling customers it can not fulfill orders.

Meanwhile pickets with banners, which ask for higher wages and better working conditions, continue to walk up and down outside the main office building in Joramelon street.

The company started back in 1877 when John Eastwood produced charcoal here to sell to neighbors. It grew through the years until it became the leader in its line and is now rated as one of the highest paid industries in New Jersey.

"What's the use" is the phrase said to epitomize the feeling of the owners, who claim a minority group is responsible for the trouble. Officials in the last few weeks have maintained that "hours, wages and working conditions" are not what caused the strike. It is maintained that only about twenty-five of the 175 odd employees originally struck.

The pickets still march back and forth at least ten paces apart as ordered recently under a temporary injunction granted the company, which seeks to have a strike of machinists, there called "illegal."

Vice-Chancellor Berry a month ago issued the injunction. After on the appeal of the company was to have taken place October 13 but Vice-Chancellor Bigelow reserved decision when Ralph E. Lum, company counsel, asked that not only picketing be declared illegal but the strike as well. The Wagner Act was cited by Lum as well as by Morris Isserman, union counsel.

Lum complained that the company is confronted with a situation where the International Association of Machinists, District 47, demands renewal of a contract, which expired July 14, and where a group of machinist employees, who quit the union, claims a majority and demands that the company negotiate with it.

Willing To Negotiate

The company, Lum said, is willing to negotiate with any group in majority as required by the Wagner Act. He asserted, however, that under that law an employer has no means of bringing about a vote of employees and can not initiate such a move with the National Labor Relations Board. He said the union would take no such action and he charged that the strike was illegal.

Representing the union, Isserman argued that whether the union had a majority or not it was not obliged to apply to the National Labor Relations Board. He asserted the union had a right to strike and that nothing in the Wagner Act prohibited it from doing so.

Isserman charged that the company had started a move to get the men to resign from the union. Asked by the court whether the company hadn't a right to do that, the lawyer asserted it was illegal because the Wagner Act forbids employers to interfere with employees organizing.

Lum said that the company has a law suit pending against a unit of the weavers' union, with which it has a contract. He asserted the contract was violated by refusal of weavers to cross the picket line and go to work.

prayer and address at 8 o'clock; "How to Quicken Faith in God." Sunday School meets at 9:45 a.m.

The Vestry will be in charge of the parish meeting which will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. It will be followed by a social hour. Newcomers in the church are asked to attend this meeting and get acquainted with the officers and members of the various societies.

At the suggestion of the Forward Movement Group, a question and letter box has been placed upstairs in the church to be used for signed or unsigned communications. Some one may be helped by such a box—personal problems, the meaning of parts of the church service may be explained. It is hoped this box will be freely used.

Last Sunday it was an impressive sight to see the captains of the Pence Can Offering make the presentation after the Litany. This offering gives all a chance to help the parish in a daily offering.

The Woman's Auxiliary will meet next Monday evening to plan the winter's program and to collect the sweaters which have been knitted during the summer for the boys at Bonnie Brae Farm.

In the past, two societies have benefited by the annual garden party given by Mrs. Florence Smith and her sister, Mrs. Harvey W. Mumford. Although the party could not be given this year, Mrs. Smith has presented to the Woman's Auxiliary and the Girls' Friendly Society her personal check for the sum usually raised. She is president of the auxiliary and an honorary associate of the Friendly.

JEW TO OBSERVE YOM KIPPUR

Will Start At Sunset
Tuesday And End
On Wednesday

Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement, which is the holiest day in the Jewish calendar, will be observed all over the world from sunset, Tuesday, to sunset, Wednesday. The Jewish date of Yom Kippur is the ninth of Tishri, and is the end of the Ten Days of Penitence. The holiday is referred to in the Bible as the Sabbath of Sabbaths.

In ancient times the Temple services in Jerusalem on this day were most elaborate and imposing. In modern times this "Sabbath of Solemn Rest" is a day when all Jews congregate in the synagogue for prayer and meditation. It is customary to abstain from all food and drink throughout the Day of Atonement. This fasting is in the form of repentance for all the transgressions which the individual may have committed.

Among the customs observed are the lighting of a large taper, in memory of departed ones. The light should be sufficient to burn for twenty-four hours. It is also deemed appropriate to wear white garments, since white is a symbol of purity, and since the high priest, during the times of the Temple, wore white garments on Yom Kippur.

Bible Class Resumes Meetings On Sunday

The Everyman's Bible Class will hold its first meeting of the Fall Sunday morning at 9:30 in Masonic Temple, Joralemon street. John Ellsworth will preside. George Tranter, Maplewood, will be the speaker.

Chanting of Prayer

The Yom Kippur Eve service is preceded by the traditional chanting of the Kol Nidre prayer. This prayer is reminiscent of the Marranos, the secret Jews of the Spain of the Inquisition, during the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. The chant is considered to be over 1,000 years old, and is best known of all the Jewish liturgy.

The Kol Nidre is a formal abrogation of all vows made under the influence of great emotional strain, and is intended to guard against oaths which may remain unfulfilled through negligence or forgetfulness. This dispensation from vows refers only to those which an individual voluntarily takes upon himself alone, and concerns his relation to his conscience and Heavenly Judge. No other oath or promise involving another person, a community, or a court of justice, is implied in Kol Nidre.

The ritual of the Day of Atonement is replete with petitions for forgiveness for all sins and transgressions. These prayers for pardon, however, are uttered in behalf of all Israel. According to Jewish tradition, a person will not be forgiven on the Day of Atonement, for any sins committed against a fellow being, only if he rights the wrong and makes amends to the individual involved.

Included in the service of the day is the "Avodah" which retains some of the elements of an impressive custom of Temple days when the High Priest alone, and on this day only, entered the Holy of Holies, the innermost part of the Sanctuary. Another part of the service is the "Neilah," which concludes the Yom Kippur service. The Holy Ark remains open throughout this service, and terminates with a long blast of the Shofar. This concludes the Day of Atonement.

Kol Nidre Service

Services will be held at the Synagogue of Congregation A. A. A., 317 Washington avenue, on Tuesday night at 5:30 promptly. This is the Kol Nidre service. The service on Wednesday will start at 7 a.m. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate, assisted by Morris Rosen. Rabbi Dobin will preach at the Kol Nidre service on the topic "The Jewish Position—5699." On Wednesday the rabbi will preach on the topic "The Art of Giving." The Yizkor Memorial service will be held on Wednesday at 10:30 a.m.

CIVIL SERVICE FOR BELLEVILLE!

It is gratifying to find that on the recommendation of Mayor Williams and with the approval of the members of the Board of Commissioners the adoption of Civil Service regulations to govern Municipal Employees is to be submitted for the approval of our citizens at the coming general election on November 8.

Belleville again is adopting a practice of Municipal Management which has and is being adopted by the better governed municipalities.

The adoption of Civil Service will guarantee a 100% merit system for our Municipal Employees who render consistent attention to their Municipal duties, assuring to taxpayers the advantages of having retained for public services competently trained employees free from possible political influence.

It is interesting to note that there has been very few changes in the personnel of our Municipality. For the greater part the Municipal Employees now engaged in our service have been retained by their present Director although appointed by a predecessor Commissioner. Our Commissioners have been in fact following the principles of Civil Service as is evidenced by the very few changes in Municipal Employees.

It is interesting to note that taking into consideration all employees of the Town of Belleville and the Board of Education 80% of our total employees have had the benefit of tenure or the right to earn continuity of office. The remaining 20% is composed of our Municipal employees who for the greater part are young men and women long residents of Belleville—products of our own school system—coming from Taxpaying families of many years standing—and many owning their own homes in Belleville.

In view of the fact that it is possible for folks who have come into our employ from beyond our Town border to earn tenure of office through provisions of existing state legislation it seems rather inconsistent that our own families should be denied the advantages available to others.

Many of the major positions important in the operation of our Town's Management are occupied by those coming under the classification of Municipal Employees.

Their training and experience in municipal operations have been acquired through their years of service—such experience can only be gained by actual employment in municipal works, this experience gained in the employment of our Taxpayers should be retained to inure to the benefit of our Municipality.

The adoption of Civil Service Regulations is another step in the right direction of our Municipal progress and its approval by the members of our governing body is indeed a splendid gesture to remove our employees from the possibility of political influence and render Belleville less political in nature.

Such an unselfish attitude on their part must be interpreted by their willingness to stand on their record of accomplishments as administrators when and if they again submit themselves for approval of our voters rather than depend on a vote to be delivered by a possible political machine which without Civil Service could be developed to the detriment to Municipal Service.

The Belleville News congratulates our Town Fathers on this attitude and feel that all sincerely interested Taxpayers should support the adoption of Civil Service in behalf of themselves.

SALE OF TOWN-OWNED PROPERTY

Citizens of Belleville and particularly Taxpayers should read with interest the advertisement of the Town of Belleville on Page 5 of this paper.

Mayor Williams, in a most convincing manner, is attempting to acquaint all with the fact that properties now owned by the Town, acquired for nonpayment of Taxes, are usable and desirable properties.

This advertisement showing houses which have been built on building lots purchased from the Town of Belleville is a most conclusive contradiction to the more or less prevalent erroneous impression that titles of property so acquired are faulty in title.

The facts are now before us all in a most concrete manner. We see that lots purchased from the Town of Belleville are just as usable and desirable as lots purchased from individuals.

The important phase is this. The Town of Belleville as a result of economic conditions finds itself practically in the Real Estate Business. The Town has had to acquire title to approximately $750,000 of Real Estate which it is constantly selling to purchasers and returning the property to ratables, in addition to the sale of such properties buildings are being constructed which provides Taxing Ratables.

Probably the most available Tax relief to our Taxpayers is the sale of the properties owned by the Town.

Every Belleville Taxpayer—Real Estate Broker—Attorney and Builder can help themselves and at the same time render a valuable service to our Municipality by becoming conscious and interested in the fact that Belleville has desirable properties for sale.

New Homeowners—Industrial folks and Business men usually come to our Municipality through the recommendation of some present resident of our Town. Hardly a month goes by but what each one of us hear of some friend who is in the market for a piece of property. It is to the interest of every Taxpayer that we attempt to interest such parties by calling their attention to the opportunities available to them in the properties that can be purchased from the Town of Belleville.

Let us keep in mind that every piece of property sold by the Town of Belleville and every building erected on same is a definite and direct help in bringing future tax bills to a lower level.

Let us help ourselves by helping our Municipality.

To those who persist in expressing their personal view to the effect that titles to town-owned property are not desirable—investigate and find that the facts set forth by Mayor Williams definitely contradict their improper viewpoint. Such erroneous opinions expressed by those who are regarded to be familiar with such matters have acted as a definite deterrent in the sale of town-owned property.

WHAT'S THE USE?

With nations of the world able to sit down to try to iron out their difficulties at a time when war clouds hover ominously close, it seems appropos to make note of the fact that right here in Belleville rumor persists that the oldest industry—the four-drainer wire manufacturing is about to close its doors, assuming the attitude: "What's the use?" A strike causes this company attitude, it is said.

Eastwood-Neally Corp., it is said on good authority, is ready to toss in the sponge because it has been faced with labor misunderstandings that have disheartened the owners and management. This industry started in Belleville in 1877 and, for sixty-one years, has been a building in the community, growing to such an extent that it became the largest of its kind in the world. All during the depression the company was ranked as one of the best paying to employees. Many employees have been at work in the plant all their lives. Now there are no wheels turning. The wire weavers, who have been unionized since 1890, are out because, say spokesmen, they don't want to walk through picket lines, which have been at the plant the last few weeks. Signs of pickets ask for higher wages and better working conditions, while officials at the plant maintain the picketing is being done to make the shop a closed one.

Regardless of what the trouble is there should be some sane mediator who could straighten out a tangle which, if let go to the extreme that is rumored, will have dire consequences in Belleville.

Mayor William H. Williams and some civic-minded citizens could probably help. It would be a shame to see 175 workmen in a large plant lose their jobs. It would be a blow to Belleville to lose the taxes the company pays here if it closes. Make no mistake about it, Mayor Williams, who has spent sleepless nights and all his days trying to induce industry to locate in Belleville will have his job that much harder explaining to prospective manufacturers, who would locate here, that Belleville has no labor troubles. Somebody from the outside should be called into this picture before it is too late and Belleville loses a fine plant and the workmen, their jobs.

Family Life Problems Today

DISASTER

Everyone who has listened to the radio during the past week has heard the daily reports from New England relating details of the destruction following last week's hurricane. Throughout that area thousands of families are homeless, hundreds dead and missing. Now as the flood waters recede the work of rehabilitation goes forward—work that will take months and years to accomplish. These radio accounts arouse our pity and sympathy, we are thankful that here we escaped with minor losses, more easily repaired.

Just as a wild storm beyond man's control takes its toll, so the economic depression has left its mark. Here in our own town we still meet the ravages of unemployment. For many families rehabilitation is just as necessary as though their homes had been swept away by fire or flood. We know men who have come to feel useless and ineffective through idleness, whose morale has to be bolstered before they can find courage to "sell" themselves to another employer. We know women who believe it is only their own husbands who can't find jobs and we have to help them understand how wide-spread the lack of work actually is.

And we know children whose parents can no longer give them those things which parents normally do for their youngsters. We know boys and girls who leave high school because their clothes are so poor they feel singled out, we know that they cannot go to the movies or join clubs as their school mates do.

We know one sturdy boy who last year ran away so that there would be one less mouth to feed at home. When he was found in a neighboring town we became acquainted with his parents and with the hardships which they had tried to withstand alone. A suit of clothes, new shoes and money for lunch and he went back to school where he took his place again and finished the year very happily. Further, a special membership in a boys' club was arranged and a little job after school finally, which paid his way and left a little over to help his family.

In the same way that much time and money is necessary to repair the havoc wrought by the forces of nature, so the work of helping families and individuals to find a way back to normal living requires time and often money. This work is done in Belleville by the Community Service Bureau which is supported by the Community Chest and individual voluntary gifts.

The PEOPLE'S FORUM

Sept. 29, 1938

To the Editor of The News,

Dear Sir: I would like to express my deepest appreciation to the loyal Republicans who voted in Fourth Ward, Fourth District, at the primary election Tuesday, September 20. No need to describe the atrocious weather that prevailed that day, as anyone who dared to set foot out of doors received a thorough drenching in short order. Even the Democrats didn't murmur their oft repeated slogan concerning rainy election days and, as a matter of record, the Republicans from "Four-Four"—shall I say out-reigned them 206 to 200.

Even "hard-boiled" election workers were ashamed to inquire if a voter had visited the polls as the deluge lashed against the houses and, when the reply was in the negative, the worker was forced to sigh "Don't blame you a bit!" In most cases, however, household chores were dropped, umbrellas and raincoats procured and then a dash for the car, and so to the polls.

To those of us to whom the primaries seem important, it was well worth the effort when the total was announced and, once again, we would like to take off our hats to the men and women who realized they had a duty to perform and made every effort to do their part. This district, like many others in town, was at one time a Republican stronghold but, in recent years, due to weak leadership in the district and no selling point like WPA, etc., slipped badly until the majority was held by Democrats. Now that we have finally regained a majority it is the fervent hope of the undersigned that we might slide into high gear for November's tussle, and with the fine spirit shown Tuesday this can and should be accomplished.

Thanking you for the use of your valuable columns, I remain,
DONALD MACPHERSON

An issue of 1933 tax anticipation bonds in denominations of $10 and $50, to be used to pay the salaries of town employees, was authorized by the Board of Commissioners at a special meeting on Saturday morning. The authorization was confirmed by the board at its regular meeting on Tuesday. Mayor William H. Williams, who then was a commissioner, heading the Department of Revenue and Finance, as he does today, said that the "baby bonds" is the first issue of municipal scrip in the country to bear the NRA emblem, a special authorization having been obtained by the director from Washington.

Lawrence E. Keenan, general chairman of the Community Chest appeal, which was scheduled for November 11-20, announced the appointment of a publicity committee. Hugh D. Kittle, president of the Belleville Teachers' Association, was named chairman, to be assisted by Frank Muni, John Burr de Graw, Joseph Jackson, Halsey Douglas and Thomas E. Delaney, Jr.

PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

SPLIT

The intensity of feeling between Newark and the suburbs shown at the Republican county committee election Tuesday was of more than mere political significance. If this line of cleavage is not altered the whole fabric of county government will be shaken to its foundation.

Newark cast 400 votes for Percy A. Miller, Jr. to 84 for W. Stanley Naughtright. The suburbs on the other hand gave Naughtright 428 votes to 148 for Miller. Had not Miller been a suburbanite, a commissioner and former mayor of Irvington, the geographical division would have been even more complete. But even the vote does not tell the story as completely as the tense atmosphere of the meeting. There was a unanimity of bitterness from every section of Newark against the Clean Government leadership of William H. Seely that is almost impossible to exaggerate. Had Naughtright won by a small margin as appeared likely at the beginning of the count, conditions would almost certainly be worse by now. From the standpoint of party welfare, the best thing possible happened.

It is not at all certain at this writing that the Clean Government candidates nominated last week can expect united party support in November. But they have a much better chance to obtain it than had Miller been defeated. Having assumed the responsibility of party leadership, inducements will be strong for this leadership to show that it merits the confidence placed in it.

Effect On Seely

Only time will reveal the full significance of the changes effected Tuesday, but I will hazard a guess that they may presage the termination of Seely's leadership. Republican candidates for the November election must necessarily reach an understanding with the new county committee officials. To reach such an understanding it will be necessary that they give certain assurances as to their conduct in party matters when they shall have been elected. One of the inevitable pledges that will be demanded will be that advice from others than Seely be followed.

What the Republican party now has is an alliance between Newark and Irvington. Such an alliance is natural and compatible, and I would not be surprised if it lasts a long time.

Barbour's Writing Improves

Either W. Warren Barbour's literary style is developing rapidly or he is the recipient of some clever assistance from his publicity men. In every encounter Barbour has had with his Democratic opponent, William H. J. Ely, the latter has come out second best. Not only are Barbour's sallies pungently phrased, but the subject matter has been excellently chosen. The timing, too, has been good as witness his stand for complete neutrality should an European war break out. Of course no one expects Mr. Ely to come out for war, but having endorsed President Roosevelt 100 percent he stands to lose by any mistakes that may be made in Washington's foreign policy or diplomacy.

There is one important factor in Barbour's favor—the business trend throughout the country. If Adolph Hitler has done nothing more, he at least has delayed the fall business recovery in America. With the stock market in jitters for a whole month because of war threats in Europe, all business has waited. Salesmen find it hard to land substantial orders. Financial commitments are delayed. At the very best, recovery here has been delayed a whole month. This completely upsets New Deal timing, and turns back the page of political history to somewhere about last spring.

When the stock market shot up in July, and the indices of recovery appeared on every hand. The political effect of this was an even greater boom in Democratic chances. With a little cautious inflation and with a spending program that contained few elements of caution, Democratic strategists hoped to face the voters in November with business conditions not much worse than they were in November 1936. But the war scare has knocked these calculations into a Czechoslovakian cocked hat. Barbour and hundreds of other Republican candidates throughout the nation have found in Hitler their best campaign ally.

IN NEW JERSEY

by Dr. Maurice F. Neufeld

Inland Waters and Pollution

Lakes and flowing water are to recreation what bread is to the American table. Gravitation of people to riverbank, lakeside, and ocean on every pleasant holiday is proof. Bodies of water are man's richest heritage for play. For use and enjoyment they need only be kept clean and accessible.

For many generations our people had little time for recreation—forgot its importance—forgot how to play. Rivers and streams became mere conveniences for urban and industrial expansion. Not only have we used waterways as open sewers, but we have treated river banks and stream valleys as workshops and back alleys. There we have built our factories and dumped our refuse. This disregard of natural assets, partly an outgrowth of false economy has had unusually disastrous effects upon densely populated and industrial New Jersey.

With few exceptions, including a number of streams draining into coastal bays south of Sandy Hook, all principal waterways in this state, south and east of a line drawn from Paterson to Somerville and thence to Trenton, are polluted to the point of having little or no recreational value. Unfortunately, this area coincides with the area of intensive urban occupation.

Reclamation of long neglected waterways is difficult and costly. Long since, most of New Jersey's larger cities have given up the idea of getting potable water from nearby streams and have reached out to distant and costly sources. Much of the incentive of cleaning up nearby streams for water supply purposes is gone. There remain, however, the large benefits to accrue from restored aquatic life, from recreational usage, and from improved navigation conditions. Existing industrial plants present perhaps the most troublesome element in pollution abatement. They cannot very well be removed and satisfactory treatment of industrial wastes presents many difficult problems.

But the situation is far from hopeless—witness the results of recent efforts of the State Department of Health in the Raritan Valley where municipal sewage treatment plants are in operation or in process of construction for all principal communities in the Basin. Probably few of the now heavily polluted streams can ever be brought back to their original purity, but some of them can be restored to a considerable degree of recreational and other uses. Not the least of our efforts should be directed toward prevention of aggravation and further spread of pollution. So much for the present.

by James Preston

Much discussion has developed recently over building the Nicaragua Canal to supplement the Panama Canal in time of war. It probably will never be constructed. Inner naval circles are opposed. It would be easier to defend one canal than two. Two canals would mean a divided fleet. That is something no admiral desires.

The new Atlantic fleet will be increased gradually. It is composed of new vessels built on the Atlantic coast. No warships were withdrawn from the Pacific. The Atlantic squadron has a two-fold purpose. It is a warning to dictators that a sudden raid cannot be made on the Atlantic seaboard and that means (1) North American and (2) South American.

Aunt Flo's Column

Happy Day! The youngsters have come to my column.
Junie, aged nine, writes: Dear Aunt Flo: I wonder if you ever answer letters that little children send in. Our Ant Kate seems to know you and she says that you always find time for everyone and she says if we will write you there will be an answer. Billy and I are awful worried and Ant Kate is to because see our mother died about two years ago and Ant Kate has been taking care of us ever since and now our

Daddy tells us that he is going to bring us a nice new mother to love us and take care of us but Billy and I don't want her and we won't like her. Billy is seven and I am nine so how could we like a new mother we both wish we could run away. Please is there anything we could do. Junie.
You dear sweet children, your letter has made me very happy for I love little children and I just wish I had the two of you right here on my knee so that we could talk things over and laugh all you troubles away.
First of all, if you loved your own mother a lot, I want to tell you that your Dad is paying her a very great compliment by wanting to find some one as nice to take her place. You see if he had not found your mother a real lovely person he would not want to try finding such a person again. It is sort of like burning your fingers with matches that you have been told not to play with. If the burn is bad you will not try matches again. Now do you understand a little what I mean?

Next, I am going to tell you and Billy to be real good children and get yourselves all ready to love this new mother a lot and I just bet you two nice boxes of candy that if you do that, she is going to like you, too. Remember all the rest of your life that Aunt Flo told you that you cannot buy LOVE with HATE. It just doesn't work.

If you and Billy show this new mother that you are trying to love her, it is all going to bounce back at you like a big rubber ball and she is going to love you, too. It is well to remember that there are very dear and good people who have never had a little boy or girl of their very own to make them happy and love them, and who are just as hungry for the love of little children like you as some one who had not eaten in a week.

Who knows, this new mother of yours might be that kind of a person and surely you and Billy would not want to make her more unhappy. Anyway, it would be nice to think about her that way and to make up your mind that when she comes you are just going to do everything to make her comfortable and at home with you both. I believe this will help your Daddy a lot, too, and even while I am writing

I am growing happy myself thinking about the good times you can all have together if you will only give my plan a try.
Just to show you that I am not fooling, I want to tell you that if it doesn't work and she is not nice to you, I want to hear from you again and if I think you have been good children and tried hard enough, I am going to come right out of my shell and let you know who I am so that you can come over to my house as many times as you like and we will romp and play and read stories and have a grand time.

You see I know all about these things for I, too, had a little boy and girl just like you, one time, and now they are grown up and don't need me any more to play with and sometimes I am lonely myself.

Be good children and remember what I told you about LOVE.
It is just like an echo—it always comes back to you. Try it on this new mother of yours and see.
AUNT FLO.

Virginia: I am sure the above will also help you.

Flo, Belleville News, 11 Mill street, Town.

TAVERN TRANSFER IRKS HILL FOLKS

Had Been Legally Advertised
But Objections Came In Too Late

The Town Commission is faced with a problem as regards transfer of a liquor license held by James De Bonis from 67 Little street to 538 Union avenue.

De Bonis recently advertised legally for the transfer, a portion of the advertisement informing residents that if they had any objections they should make them "immediately in writing" to Mrs. Florence M. Morey, town clerk. No protests were made, but now, after De Bonis had contracted to rent the store and made arrangements to move, hundreds have been pouring in to the town officials.

ABC Commissioner Burnett explains, officials say that inasmuch as the matter has been legally advertised and granted by the Town Commission, sitting as an exercise board, De Bonis has the right to establish the tavern at the new location.

It is pointed out that the objections should have been made before Tuesday, September 13, when the transfer was granted. De Bonis had advertised legally his "notice of intention" for two weeks.

Protest Meeting

A protest meeting was held Tuesday night in Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church against the proposed location.

The neighbors in the Union avenue section say there is no need for a tavern there, although the location is in a business zone.

Mayor William H. Williams presented a resolution which was adopted by the Town Commission Tuesday setting forth that in the future legal advertising pertaining to changing existing ordinances, changes in liquor licenses and zone changes be set out in "large, block type," because, he said, many residents do not read the "small legal size type."

The Mayor declared: "I think this will be fully consistent with the aim of the board to keep residents fully informed on matters that vitally affect them. It would seem advisable in some instances to use a little more space than called for by law to keep our taxpayers aware of what is going on."

WITH THE VETS

Private George A. Younginger Post, V. F. W., held a well attended meeting Wednesday evening when Commander George H. The Music Box

by Mildred Drentlau

Did you like Paderewski's broadcast from Switzerland? The well-beloved Polish statesman is nearing seventy-eight, so you may have thought he sounded a bit tired. But, even at that, his philosophy of music is quite evident. Mr. Paderewski believes that once he has the conception of a composition, he is obliged to render the same interpretation each time he plays it, regardless of his mood of the moment.

From Paderewski to Beethoven is quite a jump backward, but "The Life and Loves of Beethoven" at the Little Theatre, Newark, is a picture worth seeing and hearing. For both the Moonlight and the Appassionata Sonatas are presented in part, the circumstance of the story being the same, allegedly, as those under which the deaf musician composed years ago. Beethoven's love for Countess Julie Guicciardi and her love for his music supply one important complication.

Quartet lovers, don't miss the Beethoven cycle to be given this fall by the Curtis Quartet at the Griffith Auditorium, Newark. October 21, November 4 and 18, December 2 and 6, are the dates.

The Round Table, music club under the direction of Mildred Drentlau, Belleville piano teacher, held its first meeting on Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of Miss Drentlau.

After blackboard work and a discussion of Ignace Jan Paderewski, the following pupils played, Doris Heath, Grace Eckstein and Lillian Porto. A musical quiz game was played, followed by refreshments.

The club decided to attend the Joseph Hoffman piano recital at the Mosque in January.

Quiz Test

Belleville Lodge F & A. M. and St. John's Lodge, Newark, opposed each other in a Masonic quiz Wednesday night at the local Masonic Temple. The teams of five each were headed by masters of the respective lodges, John R. Quenlin of the visiting lodge and Charles W. Roehm of the home unit.

Sports Before Your Eyes

by JOE DUVAL

Seen in the column of one of the leading football authorities: words to the effect that forward passes are great levers, that they make up for the difference between big and small teams. On the whole, that is true, but the fellow obviously did not see the Belleville-Barringer frolic last week. The Bellboys were the smaller team, they threw the passes, but there the formula went a little haywire, x plus y did not equal z. The formula is still good, however; the Bellboys just did not have the right value for x.

A .143 batting average is not too good in any league, and in a football game it is usually fatal. It was Saturday. Four interceptions out of a possible seven shows at least that the interceptor is on his toes, and Jack Robinson was. While the Blue and Gold kept its feet on the ground it went places, but as soon as it took to the air it had its wings clipped.

Which end of the pass was off key has not been determined, but harmony was reached this week in the Clearman Field matinee directed by Frank Smith, back on the job after a lot of doctor-trouble. Rumor hath it that a pass attack will be tried during the first half tomorrow and, if it does not click, there will be no more for the rest of the afternoon.

The Matter of Sidewalks And Paint

Sidewalks, paint, broken footposts and friendly relations do not mix with any degree of compatibility, as we saw last year when Belleville invaded Bloomfield after that 0-0 game. If perchance Belleville feels in the same exultant mood tomorrow evening, let's hope nothing happens which might strain present good feeling. After the fun is all over one wakes up the next morning kind of sorry for the night before.

Your Guess Is As Good As Anyone's

The new contest sponsored by The Belleville News and Riddell Brothers Sports Shop, details of which can be found on page one, is designed to arouse more interest in the High School football games. All you have to do is clip the entry blank from The News, fill in what you think the score of the next Belleville game will be and turn it in to Riddell's. Several points must be noted: all blanks must be returned to Riddell's, absolutely none will be accepted at The News office; the official entry blank which will appear each week must be used; time will be, in some cases, a deciding factor, for in the event of a tie the blank handed in first will be declared the winner. Further information can be obtained from Riddell's or the Sports Department of The News.

Zink Wins Again

Two victories in one family within a week is not a bad record. Five days after Father Homer trotted off with the Republican Senatorial nomination, Son Homer successfully defended his singles sculling championship of Nereid Boat Club. All of which made the Zinks the winningest family in Belleville last week.

Lev Brett, leader of the rowing renaissance in this district and one of the respected voices in the rowing game, was rubbing his hands in glee on Sunday. From the response of the townspeople to the Nereid events on the Passaic this summer it seems that his campaign to revive the sport here is well on its way to success.

We were talking to a couple of people at the championships Sunday whose presence surprised us, inasmuch as we had no idea that they were at all interested in rowing. Confidentially, they confessed, they never had been. They were just out for a drive, saw the crowd on the bank and decided to drop in for a minute. Before they knew it they had stayed for the whole program and wanted to know when the next regatta was going to be. They had "never realized there was any excitement to be found at rowing races, but we were wrong."

Sports Shorts

The fickleness of the public mind always amuses us. "Howard Jones, distinctly unpopular in Los Angeles because of the poor success of Trojan eleven in recent years, now—as a result of that convincing beating by Alabama—stands alone as the Coast's most hated man." . . . And a couple of years ago he was tops—simply because his teams were winning. Can it be that he has suddenly lost the football knowledge gained through the years or has the alumni association lost its talent scouts? . . . With everything on Gargantuan scale these days, why not all-day football games, rotating the teams . . . Would give a few of the turnaways a chance to see the big games . . . Crazy idea, yes, but who isn't these days? . . . Northwestern Hopes To Go Wild Again . . . Big Ten Champions Two Years Ago On March For 1938 Title . . . They're all set if they can just hold out until Bill De Correvant comes up . . . Then they can probably lop the 0 off the 10.

Sports History In The Making

A history of sports and a year by year index of all teams in Belleville is in the process of construction by The News sports staff. The completeness of the chronicle will depend largely on the co-operation of sports figures in Belleville. We would appreciate any stories, anecdotes, and above all team records in any sport for any year. Many old-time and new-time managers have kept records of the teams they have guided and these records will be invaluable to us in this work. We appeal to Belleville sportsmen and teams to notify us if they have anything which might be of assistance to us in any line of athletics so that we may make arrangements to obtain copies.

News And Notes On The Fish Line

Whitey Miller, known about town as "Snuffy the Cabman," journeyed Brielle-way Tuesday and returned with much fish and much story: "Snuffy" hooked a very large fish, battled him for a full hour, lost him. Snuffy claims it was a tuna . . . Bill Patten and the Mrs. were down at Sea Bay Park over the weekend. Talked to some old salts who claimed that only three waves between thirty and fifty feet high did all the damage in the hurricane last week. When Bill fished there the ocean was calm as a millpond. Caught a few . . . Captain Marty Essayan of the Brue Burn reports location of some new fields for bass and blackfish . . . Announcement of the winners in the trout section of the Riddell Brothers contest will be made in this paper next week. Contest closes today.

Sights On The Hunting Scene

Hunting prospects are looking up. Rabbits are very plentiful; many pheasants have been sighted. Biggest surprise: a goodly supply of grouse are waiting to welcome you. They will probably abound as copiously as three years ago, which should please seekers of the "King of game birds." Woodcock season opens two weeks from tomorrow and there is also a good supply of these. Woodcock hunting requires a special license, obtainable from the game warden. Cost you two bucks plus regular hunting license.

HILLTOPS TROUNCE HARSEY A.A., 20-0 AS ALTIERI STARS

Nick Tallies Two Touchdowns And Throws Forward For Third Score

Nick Altieri scored two touchdowns and tossed a pass to lead the Hilltops to a 20-0 victory over Harsey A. A. of Harrison in the opening game of the season for both teams last Sunday at Belleville Park.

Receiving the opening kickoff, the Hilltops marched straight down the field, chalking up three first downs on the way, to score. The tally came on a pass from Ringi to Altieri. Ringi then passed to Adolph Paul for the extra point.

Altieri tossed an aerial to Paul for the second score after the two teams had spent most of the second quarter battling back and forth near the middle of the field. Sorrentino booted the fourteenth point from placement.

There was no scoring in the third stanza, although this period saw the only Harsey threat of the game. Harsey blocked a Hilltop punt and marched down to the 10-yard line, but here the Belleville defense stiffened and took the ball on downs.

Late in the game Altieri scored the final touchdown of the game. Taking the ball on Harsey's 24-yard line, Nick started on a quarterback sneak and squirmed his way through the Harsey forward wall and backfield and crossed standing up.

The victory, while a brilliant one, was costly to the Hilltops. During the fight to keep Harsey from scoring, Bob "Rock of Gibraltar" Kenworthy caught the toe of some one's shoe flush in the nose and it is feared that he may be out of the line for some time with a broken nose.

HILLTOPS — Paul, lb.; Kenworthy, lb.; Sorrentino, lb.; Carnese, c.; Lepore, rg; Sorrentino, rt; Tempenny, re; Altieri, qb; Ringi, lb; Lotruglio, rlb; Bonifacio, fb; HARSEY — Hoy, lb.; Brown, lb.; Flaherty, lb.; Wilson, c.; Conroy, rg; Wojcik, rt; Fosson, re; Hughes, qb; Santos, lb; Burke, rlb; Alery, fb.

Touchdowns — Altieri 2, Paul. Points after touchdowns — Paul, Sorrentino. Substitutions — Hilltops: Arthur, Erldy, Adessa, R. Bosco, A. Bosco. Harsey: Drew, Harris, Tonniss, Farrell, Garrigan, McCartney, Corlans.

George Zoppa Stars With Camptown Pros.

The Camptown Pros uncorked a new star when they met and defeated the Passaic Sacs last week. A regular on the Belleville High School team a couple of years back, George Zoppa was then known as a steady plugger and hard-working center who kept his eye on the ball.

Last week Zoppa, who lives at 34 Roosevelt avenue, suddenly leaped into the limelight when he intercepted seven forward passes thrown by the Sacs. An unusual feat for a center, Zoppa thus proved once more that he is the power man of the Camps' line.

DORIS KOPSKY WINS AT TRENTON

Women's National Bike Champ Turns Back Challenge Of Best In Country

The Trenton State Fair gave Doris Kopsky, 306 Washington avenue, another chance to prove that she is the best woman pedal pusher in the country and she proved just that. Competing in the two-mile open Monday, Doris once again rode away from the field. Doris won the national all-around title at Baltimore last month.

Ruth Griem finished second Monday with Lucille Hammond third. Ruth Lipsett, New York State champion, fell near the finish of the race and crossed the line fourth.

The fair management then arranged a special half-mile race between Doris and the New Yorker and once again the Belleville girl won, leaving no doubt as to her supremacy in the women's field.

Homer Zink receives the championship cup after defending his singles title in the Nereid regatta Sunday. Left to right, Zink, C. Leverich Brett, donor of the cup, and Warren Everson, the other finalist.

Zink Again Wins Nereid Title In Annual Club Championship

Is First Local Oarsman To Take Brett Trophy Two Years In Row

Homer R. Zink successfully defended his single gig title in the feature event of the annual Nereid Boat Club championships held on the Passaic River Sunday afternoon. He was the first defending champion to do so since the Brett Trophy, emblematic of club supremacy in this event, was put in competition in 1935.

Other winners were the quad stroked by Bill Fehon with Brainard Swain, Casey DeJonge and Alfred Walker completing the crew, and Club Captain Les Burnley, who triumphed over George Paganelli in a special single gig match race.

The championship singles event was the climax of the afternoon, and, for the Nereid oarsmen of the entire rowing year. Sixteen members entered competition for the honor and almost a month ago started elimination races, a contestant having to win two out of three races in order to advance to the next round.

The final round came up Sunday with Zink and Warren Everson facing the starting gun. Zink, who is the son of Assemblyman and GOP Senatorial Candidate Homer C. Zink, gained his outstanding triumph of the year at Philadelphia on the Fourth of July when he rowed off with the Association Senior Single Shell title. Everson is the Metropolitan Junior Single champion, having won this honor at the regatta on the Harlem a few weeks ago.

Zink Pulls Away

Everson and Zink matched strokes for the first eighth of a mile, but then Homer stepped up the beat and really "slugged them in." Warren made a valiant effort but could not quite raise his strokes to his opponent's speed. Zink pulled slowly away and crossed the finish line about a length in the lead.

At the conclusion of the race the cup was presented to the winner by its donor, C. Leverich Brett, Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Steward of the New York Rowing Association. He congratulated Zink and wished Everson the best of luck for next year.

attempted by the Bellboys, only one, the last of the game, clicked. Four others had the misfortune to fall into the enemy hands, one becoming the direct, another the indirect cause of touchdowns. It was Barringer's big Negro star, Jack Robinson who almost singlehandedly took care of the Barringer cause. It was he who, in the second quarter, snared one of Ed Slavin's passes and ran it back to Belleville's 42-yard line. From there, on the next play, he slid through tackle and tore for the sidelines, eluded Torre, Holweg and Frunzi on the 20-yard line and raced across the goal standing up.

In the final stanza, with Belleville threatening after a sustained drive down the field, Ches Kuchinski tossed an aerial from the invaders' 25 right into the hands of Robinson who caught it on his own 6. From there it was a straight dash down the sidelines for the clinching tally. Bonforte's toe added both extra points.

Outplay Barringer

Belleville, outside these two disheartening breaks, gave a good account of itself. The Blue and Gold drove hard throughout the game and registered ten first downs to Barringer's none. The Bellboys were able to go places when they confined themselves to a ground attack. But as soon as they went into the air they found their drive stopped by an interception. Slavin in particular marked himself as a very competent line cracker, piercing the Big Blue forward wall time and again for substantial gains via the line back route.

The Belleville line hurled back any thrust from the opposite side of the ball, as witnessed by the fact that Barringer could gain only thirty-one yards from scrimmage outside of Robinson's first touchdown run.

How Bellboy Opponents Fared Last Week

Bloomfield tied Nutley, 6-0 Bayonne did not play. West Side defeated East Orange, 13-6. Irvington lost to Jefferson, 20-13. West Orange defeated Millburn, 19-0. Good Counsel did not play. South Side did not play.

ville in the midst of a strong threat. When the whistle ended hostilities at the end of the first half, Slavin had just smashed his way through for fifteen yards deep into Barringer territory. The game ended when Kuchinski plunged through to Barringer's one-yard line. With three tries remaining, Belleville was sure to score. But the High School, gridders and rooters alike, while disappointed over Saturday's results, are all the more determined to take it out on Bloomfield tomorrow.

Bloomfield will trot on the field with its perennial title of State Champions. Hit hard this year by injuries and disabilities, the N.C. boys can nevertheless put a strong team on the gridiron. They are still stinging from the scoreless tie to which they were held by Belleville last year, a feat duplicated by Nutley last Saturday.

Comparing the weight of the two teams, Bloomfield has the edge both in the backfield and the line. Average weights:

From Nutley, Too

"Why they even came from Nutley," said Handlon, "with a truck and carted them off the minute the watchman left."

"That's nothing," opined Director of Streets and Public Improvements Patrick A. Waters. "They swipe blue stone curbs and everything. There ought to be something done about this."

Due to the fact that Director of Public Safety William D. Clark was absent on vacation, Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll was attending formation of the Essex County Republican Committee in Newark, and Director Waters had an important business engagement, the board held a brief session at 8 o'clock transacting only detail matters and adjourning until Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mayor Wants Action

"It's high time we made an example of some of these people who think they can steal town property," said the Mayor. "If someone steals $10 from my department (Revenue and Finance) it is just too bad. Last year there were $700 and, the year before, $400 worth of windows broken in the schools and, because someone knew the parents as good citizens, the boys were let get away with it. It is time some of them were hauled before Judge Smith."

Director of Public Affairs Joseph King said that there are other contractors who lose on jobs and "they take it on the chin." He said that Gerber would have to do likewise or it might set a precedent that would lead the town into many complications.

Meantime, Gerber, who appeared after Corporation Counsel Lawrence A. Keenan had become

EMERALDS DROP IN ELEVEN INNINGS

Five Sparkling Double Plays Mark Overtime Contest; Trounced By Blue Comets

The Emeralds took their fifteenth and sixteenth losses on the chin over the past weekend when they dropped an eleven inning 3-2 decision to the Newark Normals and were soundly beaten by the Newark Blue Comets 14-1.

Saturday's contest with the Normals was the best the Emeralds played this year. It was marked by five double plays, three by the Emeralds and two by the Normals. The most exciting double plays occurred in the ninth and eleventh innings with the Emeralds executing them.

Forcing the Normals to go eleven innings before they could win out was quite a feather in the Emeralds caps as the Normals are considered the heaviest semi-pro club in Newark and have played practically all of their games in New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut, with a few games under the lights in New York.

Sunday's contest was a run away as the Emeralds could acquire only eight players and the extra player picked up committed three errors to hand the Comets the contest.

This was the fifth victory of the season for Mead and Kurzman, who have yet to meet defeat. Sunday they are matched in a return engagement at Corbo's Tavern, 14 Belmont avenue, Belleville. Their opponents will
