Local Police on Trail Of Gang of Automobile Thieves, They Believe

Man Found Stripping Car Tuesday Makes Getaway
In Second Such Chase In Last Two Weeks

Many stolen automobiles, which have been recovered here recently, lead police to believe that an organized gang is operating in Belleville and nearby places, especially Newark, where a larger percentage of stolen cars than in Belleville has been reported.

"We're going to clamp down—and clamp down hard," said Police Chief George Spatz today. "The toughest job is to catch these birds."

Stolen cars and other stolen machines, which have been stripped, are giving police officials here a headache.

Man Gets Away

Cruising about in a police radio car Tuesday evening at 9:20 o'clock, Patrolmen Nygard and Cruthers came upon a parked automobile in Jorammon street near the cemetery, west of Franklin avenue. They spotted a man in the car, who sensed their approach and made a getaway after a chase over fields bordering on the Plenge Farm. The car had been stolen.

This is the second such chase in the last two weeks. Recently police chased a pair who sped off toward Bloomfield, abandoning a stolen car after they had crashed into a pole along the curb near the town line. The pair also scrambled off to safety, but later police tracked them through a blue which has not been divulged and which, eventually, may lead to what Chief Spatz believes to be an organized gang of car thieves.

An inspection by the police of the car found Tuesday night showed the steering wheel, electric clock and spare tire missing. The machine was reported stolen September 29 by David Barsky, 762 Eaton street, Elizabeth.

Nygard and Cruthers described the man, who scampered away, as "a young man, wearing a faded blue shirt, blue dungarees and minus a hat." Nutley police were notified that the fugitive had run in the direction of that town.

Steal Detective's Car

Patrolman Nygard also found at 3:10 a.m. the same morning another stolen car which had been abandoned in Heckel street, south of Honiss. This car had been stolen from in front of 109 South Sixth street, Newark, and is the property of a Newark detective, Alex Schmidt, who had parked it at 10:30 Monday night at the South Sixth street address.

Taken from this machine were a heater, radio, spare tire, wheel and four golf clubs which were in a golf bag.

Wilfred Booth, 33 Rutgers street, Tuesday night parked his coupe in vacant lot behind the Overman Cushion Tire Company plant in Stephens street and, when he went to get it, found a steel tape and pencils had disappeared from the car.

Russell K. Rose of Rossmore place the same day telephoned police that a car had been parked all day in front of his house. Police investigated and found it had been stolen October 1 from Irvington. The car is owned by Terrence J. McHugh, 5 Orchard street, Verona.

"Will Get Gang Yet"

"We'll get this gang yet," says Chief Spatz. "Formerly Ford cars had been stolen, but now it seems parts of 1938 Chevrolets are what the gang are after. They are highly organized, I believe. One steals the car, another the parts."

MAN UNINJURED AS CAR UPSETS

Local Driver In Collision
With Another In Irvington

A serious accident was apparent Saturday night at Grove street and Olsen place, Irvington, when an automobile driven by John Russomanno, 227 No. Belmont avenue, turned over twice after it had been in collision with another car driven by Arthur Hibbert, Coit street service station owner.

Not a pane of glass in either car was cracked and Russomanno crawled out unharmed from his car.

Police said Russomanno attempted to pass the Hibbert car, as the latter was turning from Grove street into Olsen place. The local man's car landed on the sidewalk. Hibbert was pleasantly surprised when Russomanno crawled out, expecting the worst.

The car driven by Hibbert is owned by Edward Renz, 399 Ridge road, No. Arlington. One of its fenders was bent and Russomanno's front wheels were twisted.

Boy Cyclist Uninjured When Hit By Auto

Riding a bicycle south in Cortlandt street Tuesday, Eugene Baldwin, twelve, 49 Valley street, was thrown to the pavement when struck by an automobile which John H. Ritter, 191 Cortlandt street, was backing from his driveway.

The lad refused to go to a doctor when Ritter asked him if he was hurt. The lad declared he was not injured, police say.

Gets His Man

Victor Frey, 153 Cabinet street, Newark, is a Postal Telegraph youngster, who always gets his man.

Monday night "Vic" started from Newark on bicycle for Belleville at 11:50 p.m. Early Wednesday morning he had failed to return to his home and his father telephoned police here, seeking to learn his whereabouts. Postal Telegraph officials got on the job, too. Between the efforts of both, "Vic" was located on his way back to Belleville from Nutley, where he had been misdirected. At 2:50 a.m. Tuesday morning the lad, after delivering his telegram, tumbled into bed and a missing person teletype message was cancelled.

RED CROSS AIDS 15,000 FAMILIES IN HURRICANE

New England As Well
As New York Get
Liberal Help

Chairman Norman H. Davis today informed the Belleville Chapter that the Red Cross has given emergency relief to 63,000 people in the New England and Long Island hurricane and flood area, where more than 600 people lost their lives or are missing.

An appeal was issued for a relief fund of $500,000 to care for the homeless families and contributions were being received in quick response, particularly from New England.

Mr. Davis said that rehabilitation would be given to families without means to reinstate themselves. This will require rebuilding and repairing hundreds of houses, refurnishing, clothing and some aid to small businesses, he said.

Receiving Donations

Contributions for this fund will be received by Belleville Chapter. Checks should be drawn to the order of Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross. Cash donations will be received by the Chapter Chairman, Andrew L. Boylan, at his office, 228 Washington avenue, between 10 and 12 o'clock each day.

"The Red Cross is the only agency that will take care of the human problems of these distressed families," Mr. Davis said. "I am told that the majority of these 15,000 families will prove to be without resources of cash or credit to meet the repairs and other needed rehabilitation measures."

"These families become the charge of the Red Cross. We have sent 150 Red Cross workers, including building supervisors, family welfare workers, and others prepared to immediately check with the families. Roofs must be repaired, chimneys rebuilt, some whole houses rebuilt, means of livelihood restored for these thousands of people. Families are now being told by the Red Cross relief headquarters in all of the storm torn sections to register their needs."

When the tree fell outside the Charleston Paper Co., building, Charleston, S. C., Thursday, Clement B. Lehman, 90 Tappan avenue, was uninjured. Just a few minutes prior to this accident Lehman had stepped from the company building. He had scarcely entered his car when a tornado levelled the building in which four persons were killed as it collapsed.

When the tree fell Lehman was seated in the car which is owned by his employer, the C. V. Hill Company, Trenton refrigerator manufacturers.

The paper concern is Charleston agent for the Hill company. Lehman, a service man for the Hill firm, told Albert Le Bate, traffic manager, he felt a strong wind when he left the paper company's showroom. He said he noticed a piece of metal, apparently knocked from a roof, blowing up the street.

Lehman got into the car and closed the windows. A few seconds later the tree fell on it and then the building collapsed. Lehman assisted in rescue work.

Lehman said it took three hours to get through a telephone call to Trenton.

Famous Grid Star Coaches Here

John (Jack) Daly, last year's Manhattan College football captain and former Bellboy star, who rocketed to recognition in All-American selections among the college teams, Monday night was appointed for one year by the Belleville High School Athletic Council to act as assistant coach for the Blue and Gold squad. He gets his charges here under way tomorrow against Bayonne.

Local Man Injured When Tornado Strikes Charleston

Clement B. Lehman Was In Car On Which Tree
Fell

Seated in an automobile on which a tree fell outside the Charleston Paper Co., building, Charleston, S. C., Thursday, Clement B. Lehman, 90 Tappan avenue, was uninjured. Just a few minutes prior to this accident Lehman had stepped from the company building. He had scarcely entered his car when a tornado levelled the building in which four persons were killed as it collapsed.

When the tree fell Lehman was seated in the car which is owned by his employer, the C. V. Hill Company, Trenton refrigerator manufacturers.

The paper concern is Charleston agent for the Hill company. Lehman, a service man for the Hill firm, told Albert Le Bate, traffic manager, he felt a strong wind when he left the paper company's showroom. He said he noticed a piece of metal, apparently knocked from a roof, blowing up the street.

Lehman got into the car and closed the windows. A few seconds later the tree fell on it and then the building collapsed. Lehman assisted in rescue work.

Lehman said it took three hours to get through a telephone call to Trenton.

Mrs. Lehman, at home, learned of her husband's narrow escape from a neighbor who heard Lehman describe the storm on the radio. Shortly afterward, Mrs. Lehman said, she got a telegram from her husband saying he was safe.

Lehman was scheduled to leave Charleston Friday, Mrs. Lehman said, and go to Columbia, S. C. He has been in the South since July 4. The firm has ordered Lehman to come directly home as soon as his car is repaired.

QUIET SURROUNDS EASTWOOD STRIKE

Although Month Old There
Has Been No Apparent
Disturbance

Order is being maintained as pickets calmly continue to march in front of the Eastwood-Neally Corp., wire manufacturing plant. While the strike has been going on for over a month and few, if any workmen, are employed, aside from one fight a few weeks ago there has been no disturbance.

Meantime officials of the plant continue their reticence to discuss the situation, although, from reliable sources, it is said the company has not changed its idea of "what's the use use." It is hinted, as told exclusively in this paper last week, that the firm, Belleville's oldest and the largest of its kind in the world, is considering closing its doors and liquidating unless the strike is settled within the next few weeks.

Vice Chancellor Bigelow Monday issued an injunction limiting the number of pickets in the strike and prescribed intervals the pickets shall keep. Application for a more extensive injunction against the International Association of Machinists, District 47, and other defendants was denied.

Popular Local Athlete Selected To Aid Smith

The Wanderlust

The call of the open road appealed to James Schultz, thirteen, 129 Bell street, and Robert Francisus, twelve, 285 De Witt avenue, Monday morning. They decided to run away from home, police say.

A vigilant patrolman in Alendale spotted the youngsters and, after a trip to police headquarters there, they were brought home by their fathers who went after them.

Former Belleville, Manhattan Captain To Take Duties Tomorrow At Bayonne Game

Jack Daly, 119 Adelaide street, captain of last year's Manhattan College eleven and one of the most popular athletes ever to come out of the High School, has been signed as assistant coach of the Bellboys and will assume his new duties tomorrow at the Bayonne game.

This was announced at the meeting of the Athletic Council Monday night. The Council, which is composed of President Herbert Schmutz, Charles Gebhardt, Floyd Bragg, Everett Smith, Gus Plenge, Wayne Parmer and Hugh Kittle, announced that Daly's contract was for one year with option of renewal next fall.

This brings the high school board of strategy to full complement as Herman Wische and Wilho Winika are also assisting Head Coach Frank Smith.

Starred In High School

Jack Daly, who was born and has lived all his life in Belleville, began his schooling at School Number 2 in Soho and entered the High School in the fall of 1929. His athletic outlets were found in basketball, football and baseball.

He was a member of the grid squad in his junior and senior years and was elected captain in 1932. The court game saw him at varsity center for two years. He played behind the plate for the baseballers for three years, being honored by election to co-captain in his senior year.

Thus he graduated from the High School with seven letters. He also won the annual award of a watch for the best student-athlete in the senior class.

Enters Prep School

The fall of 1933 came along and Jack entered Allentown (Pa.) Prep for a one-year course. Here again his athletic ability was soon recognized. He played on the football and basketball varsities and was elected honorary captain of the Pennsylvania basketballers. The most coveted award of Allentown is that for the best all-around athlete. The cup for 1934 now rests on the Daly mantle.

During his high and prep school days Jack's athletic ability was naturally recognized only locally. But when he entered Manhattan College in the fall of 1934 he started on the way to nation-wide fame. Football and baseball were his only sports outlets at college but he became outstanding in each.

Grid Luminary

He played at end with the grid-ders throughout his college career and played brilliantly. Last year as captain of the eleven he became known all over. He cast as a great leader and strategist on the field. His activities on the diamond found him in the catcher's position for three years with the varsity nine. He was voted the best athlete at Manhattan in the annual senior poll conducted at the Gotham college. He graduated with first honors, having been on the dean's list of honor students his last three years there.

Despite his baseball and basketball prowess, it has always been on the gridiron that he gained his greatest fame. He was given honorable mention on the All-American squad in 1936 and 1937 and was selected by Andy Kerr to play with the Eastern All-Stars in their annual fust with the New York Giants. He played a bang-up game there and went on to play with the college stars a week later in Boston against the Boston Shamrocks.

It was in the latter game that he splashed himself into the headlines. It was Daly who recovered a Shamrock fumble and ran 35 yards for a touchdown, this constituting the only All-Star score of the game. It was by a margin of 7-6 that Daly's team conquered the Bean Towners.

Signed By Giants

75% OF DOCTORS DIE FROM EXHAUSTION

The average Doctor is a good example of what his patients shouldn't do, in the way of burning up energy faster than it can be replaced by nature.

Directly, or indirectly, in the case of 75% of the Doctors who die each year, plain exhaustion is the cause. Depletion from over-work, worry and lack of rest induces heart trouble, kidney disorders, acute gastric conditions.

The physical and mental demand on a Doctor with a busy practice, would appeal the average business man. He simply would not be able to understand why the Doctor does not systematize his practice better and insure himself a more healthfully rounded out routine.

However, the patient can often help, by being on time to appointments, telephoning only when necessary, calling at night only in cases of emergency—and co-operating with the Doctor's treatment.

Usually when it is necessary for you to wait on a Doctor, someone has been late to an appointment, or some unexpected emergency has arisen.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT SYNAGOGUE

Feast of Tabernacles Will Be Observed By Local Jewry

Special services commemorating the holiday Succos, the Feast of Tabernacles, will be held by the Congregation A. A. A., 317 Washington avenue, Sunday night at 5:15, and on Monday and Tuesday mornings, October 10 and 11 at 9 o'clock. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate at all the services.

Succos, which falls on the fifteenth and sixteenth days of the Jewish month, Tishre, lasts for nine days. The last days of the holiday will be observed on Monday and Tuesday, October 17 and 18. The holiday is of agricultural, as well as of historic importance to the Jew. While the Jews dwelled in their own land, Palestine, the adults made the tri-annual pilgrimage to the Temple in Jerusalem, during the time of the fruit harvest. The festival is observed as a thanksgiving at the completion of the entire harvest.

Succos also commemorates the wanderings of the Children of Israel in the wilderness after their deliverance from Egypt. During their trip to Palestine, the Jews lived in Booths or Succos. This is remembered by erecting booths, in which appropriate prayers are said during the days of this festival.

One of the beautiful customs of the holiday is the use of the "Arboch Minnim," the four kinds of plants, the lulav or the festive palm branch; the esrog, a Palestinian lime; the hadassim, myrtle twigs, and the aravos, or the willow branches.

All these serve to remind the Jewry of the agricultural significance of the holiday and of the eternal bond that exists between the Jew and Palestine.

A Succah, or booth is built on the side of the Synagogue and will be decorated by the Sisterhood of the Congregation. After the services, appropriate prayers will be recited in the Succah. All are welcome to attend.

COOPERATION NEEDED

Belleville recently has been faced with a series of thefts of automobiles, some of which have disappeared from locked garages. There have been numerous stolen cars recovered here in the last few weeks. Most of the latter have been stripped by vandals, belonging, according to the theory of Police Chief George Spatz, to a gang, possibly just around the corner from Belleville.

While on this subject the chief takes occasion to point out the careless attitude of some car owners, who invite theft of automobiles. He has observed many parked in streets with windows wide open, and valuable articles in such cars. Some owners are in such haste to jump from behind the wheel that they leave their keys in the car. At some time or other all us have done this, perhaps. The absent-minded man who leaves his key behind is often the butt of jokes at Nutley Velodrome, where announcements are blared forth that the owner of car with license number such and such, has left his motor running. So it does happen for the enlightenment of the individual who might be tempted to query "how come?"

All of this brings us to the point that while most of us try to use care in locking our automobiles, this important matter in owning a car can not be overlooked. Especially is this true since the thieves locally are on a rampage. At least locking will make it more difficult for the vandal to steal a car. It is too late to lock the barn door after the horse is stolen.

Aside from the theft angle, the chief is concerned about all-night parking in streets. This hinders work of the Street Department with its sweeper which, because of its bulk, finds it difficult to do a good job with cars parked helter-skelter. Then, too, the parking, if kept up could lead in devious ways to trouble. For instance, recently a body was found in a car which had been parked for three days in Newark. Let's keep the cars off the streets of Belleville at night so that such a case will not be thrust at the Belleville police. Let's co-operate by keeping our cars locked and, when parked for the night, in garages. The cars will be a mite safer there and perhaps some of the vacant garages about town will bring forth a little revenue to owners, who, thus, may feel they are in a better position to pay their taxes. It will work out advantageously for all concerned if the chief's drive against all-night parking receives co-operation. If it doesn't — that's another story. The offenders will receive tickets to appear before Recorder Everett B. Smith.

"BUILD IN BELLEVILLE"

The efforts of Mayor William H. Williams in last week's Belleville News and a Newark daily paper, exhibiting homes built on properties purchased from the Town of Belleville, was a valuable contribution to Belleville's advertising program, directly and indirectly.

The advertisements produced spontaneous action through the inquiries of developers, individuals and those seeking plots for industrial plants.

From those, not actually interested in the purchase of property, came comments that Belleville is a wide-awake, progressive community. To our knowledge Belleville is the first community to take hold of the sale of property in such a definite, business-like manner.

Sales may not accrue immediately, but the energetic attention to the business of Belleville is a fair indication to those who are not already aware of the fact, that Belleville has an active business administration.

Many business men might well follow the example of Belleville's Mayor to apply the same progressive methods to their businesses that he applies to the business of Belleville and its taxpayers.

The advertising proves, too, the advantages to be gained through newspaper space, especially when a person has something worthwhile to sell. The Belleville News was out Friday with the ad and the Mayor spent that day and all Saturday answering inquiries in response to it. Truly Belleville is a progressive town with a progressive newspaper.

LET'S HAVE IT

Two weeks ago Nutley High School football team held the vaunted Bloomfield Bengals to a scoreless tie, after Nutley had crossed the goal line of our westerly neighbors only to be penalized with the loss of a touchdown. Last week Belleville's Blue and Gold threw a scare into Foley's champion squad when they also held the next-door lads to a scoreless tie. It would be difficult to convince any Belleville rooster that "Yus-sel" Jacobs was entirely wrong when he startled the sporting fraternity with his international phrase: "We wuz robbed."

Be that as it may—Belleville lost, but outplayed the Bengals. So did Nutley. Nutley High is another neighbor up northward. The Bellboys for years "tangled," in sports parlance, with the Maroon and Gray, but difficulties arose and athletic relations were severed. Now is the time for these ancient rivals to meet again. We doubt if there is a stadium large enough in this vicinity to hold the packed house that would be bound to appear. Not only is the time propitious, but, for the life of us, we can not visualize why two such natural rivals should not meet. Whatever the "picayune argument was that caused the split, it should be forgotten. When nations can sit around the table to iron out momentous problems what has become of the traditional American sporting blood if two schools remain at loggerheads? Let's get all concerned to agree that a Nutley-Belleville game is the thing. Almost sixty thousand townspeople—that's the size of Belleville and Nutley combined—will then be happy. Belleville would meet Nutley more than half way, we are told. Belleville would even play George Stanford's boys on Park Oval, as a starter. Maybe that's as it should be. It could be arranged.

A LITTLE LEAF

There was a time when the falling of the leaves only meant that poets would burst into sad sonnets about the passing of summer and that the sidewalk had to be swept daily. The only danger in their falling was that of setting fire to the home-stead while burning them. But the coming of the automobile with rubber tires made the leaves messengers of danger and death. The automobile has now been with us a long time. But people still take chances on rainy nights and suddenly find themselves hurled over embankments or against trees because a little leaf landed on the highway. The driver must for a while be ever more careful.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE TAXPAYER

Both Republican and Democratic state platforms as finally ratified this week, pledge clear and unequivocal opposition to new taxes. This will be good news to the taxpayers of the State.

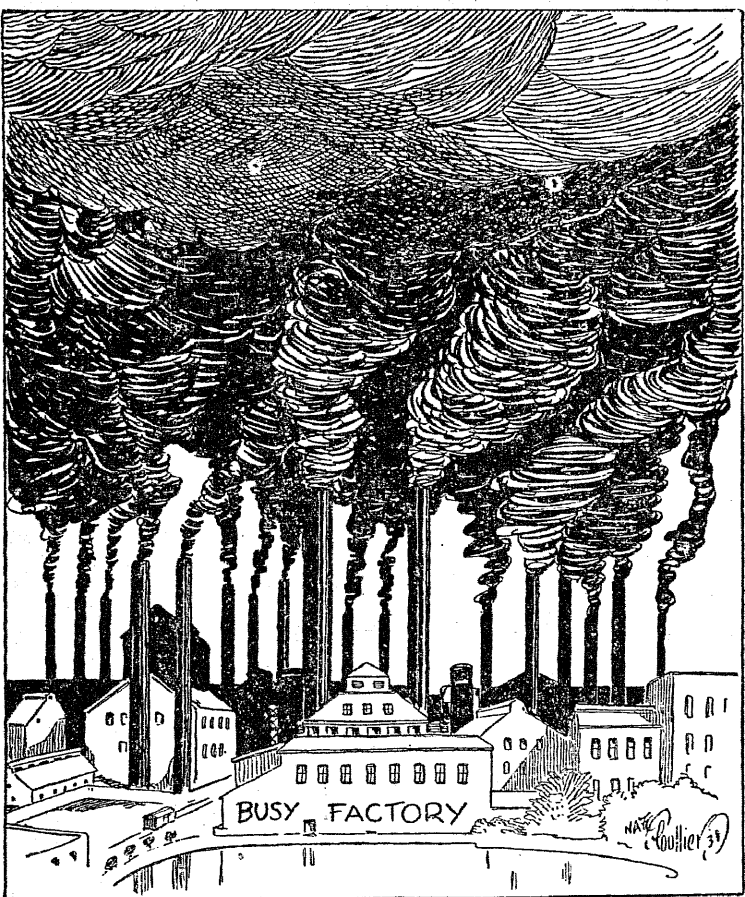

Taxation is an important issue in New Jersey. Civic and chamber of commerce groups have worked unceasingly during the past five years to make our citizens tax-conscious. The decision of both major parties to commit themselves against new levies in 1939 is a tribute to the thoroughness with which this job has been done.

It will be unfortunate, however, if it is now taken for granted that the fight against new taxes can safely be abandoned. The platform pledges, undoubtedly, will make more difficult the task of those who want new levies. They represent a barrier which the advocates of new tax programs must break down. This is their only significance.

Any other assumption may prove to be dangerous. While a victory has been won, the effort to reduce the cost of government ought to continue as vigorously as ever. Unceasing vigilance is required if the tax burden is to be reduced in New Jersey. This is said without any intention to question the sincerity or good faith of either platform.

ONE SMOKE NUISANCE NO ONE OBJECTS TO

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

A hospital bed with a "no visitors" sign on the door is a pretty good place for thinking—and during these past three weeks we have been having that opportunity.

Three weeks filled with cataclysmic occasions—some of them acts of God, more of them acts of man. There is nothing we can do about the acts of God save perhaps to build more sturdily and see that our houses are anchored upon rock rather than upon sand. There is nothing we can do to forestall the hurricanes, the tidal waves or tornadoes—but there is something we can do to forestall and control the acts of man.

The wild hysteria which preceded and the almost universal enthusiasm that greeted the successful—and to our mind commendable—efforts of Messrs. Chamberlain, Daladier and Mussolini, aided we feel, in no small degree by the timely steps taken by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull—are now being replaced by that "morning after" querulousness.

Many are questioning if peace was worth the price. Many are questioning if giving Mr. Hitler what he wants at this time, in order to avoid an enormous war which would bring untold and indescribable suffering to the world, is not but forestalling a show down conflict that will be necessary to knock Mr. Hitler's cars down and put him in his place.

It is too early to tell. Our opinion at the moment is that what has been done is the best that could be done under the conditions existing as they are—however much we sympathize with the fine people in Czechoslovakia. And they are fine, solid people of ability and courage.

Since Czechoslovakia as a nation was a man made heterogeneous grouping of several polyglot groups,—created through the Treaty of Versailles as an independent republic, it does not seem to us to be heinous, for another conference of the Great Powers that set up Czechoslovakia to reconstruct its borders,—if its final borders truly represent the "self determination" of those living within the areas involved.

Those who take the view that Czechoslovakia was not created as the result of any idealism growing out of Woodrow Wilson's Fourteen Points,—that it was not created keeping in mind the rights of men or with an eye to the principle of self determination,—but that it was only created as a buffer state to prevent German expansion and ultimate dominance of Southeastern Europe,—do not agree with us. But it is ail too early to tell.

Out of this enforced thinking of ours in the past weeks, one thing stands out above all else. Thank God for America! Thank God that we are a part of it! And out of that comes further re-enforcement of an oft-expressed conviction that cost what it might, we of the United States must see to it that our Navy, our Coast Guard, defenses and our Army and our Air Forces are more than adequate to enable our government to take the position among the nations of the world—"We'll mind our own business,—you mind yours"—and have the ability to back it up. Maybe if England and France had been better prepared, they would have called Mr. Hitler's bluff and not shade the concessions they felt they had to make to keep the peace. And maybe had England and France been better prepared Mr. Hitler would never have bluffed in the first place.

Yes, thank God for America. And let's resolve to do our part to justify the privilege of living here. Locally there is no better way of doing our part than getting behind the forthcoming campaign of the Belleville Community Chest and giving to it of our best in service and labor and money.

Yours 'til next week,
"GUARDIAN."

Family Life Problems Today

By Mrs. Julia O. Reiner
Executive Secretary
Community Service Bureau

Frank was fourteen and only in the third grade. Even this was beyond him and he sat mute all day, refusing to answer his teacher. If he couldn't do the work that came so easily to the other children he was bigger and stronger than they were and he seemed to get some satisfaction from bullying them and occasionally striking them. The teachers tried to do all they could for him, but recognized that perhaps he would get along better if he could go to a special school, where he could be helped with his backwardness and learn to work with his hands.

The teacher decided to suggest this to his parents and told them that the Community Service Bureau could tell them all about this other school, and how they could take advantage of the opportunity. Frank's parents were sad about their boy. They wanted him to be like other children, and to behave well in school. They tried to tell him the right things to do, but he did not seem to understand. When they heard there was something that might be done for Frank they came willingly to our office to talk things over.

We told Frank's parents about psychological tests for children that help determine how much they can learn. They consented to this and when two doctors recommended a special school for Frank we suggested they visit the school themselves before coming to any conclusions. The decision to have Frank leave home was not easy for his parents. They had many questions to ask and feared that neighbors and relatives would criticize them severely.

As they discussed their fears one by one, they diminished in size and importance until finally they came to see that the only way to give the boy the sort of opportunity he could use was to let him go away for a few years. They understood that when Frank had been through the training school, he could come home to them again. So it was decided and Frank is being fitted to fill a useful place in the world.

This is only one of many child guidance problems that come to the Community Service Bureau. Each is given individual attention and the solutions vary as much as the children. One of our important resources are the child guidance clinics that we can consult for expert opinion.

Bills for the repairs to Washington Avenue Firehouse must be approved by Director Public Safety William D. Clark, said Director of Public Improvements Frank J. Carragher, "even if it is in my department. It's all up to him. I'll not stand in the way of the men getting their money, but Clark's having the work done." The bills presented were approved by Mr. Clark. Carragher refused to approve bills submitted to him by Architect Paul B. West, contending Clark handled the contract and should supervise all phases of it.

Vice Chancellor Lane at conclusion of a trial, held jointly in the cases against the saloon of Thomas Hand, Newark, and Hillside Pleasure Park, ordered injunctions against both places, the result of which meant the removal of all furniture, fixtures, musical instruments and personal property, other than clothing, used or capable of being used in violation of the law, the same to be sold at auction, the proceeds, after paying fees, costs and allowances to the plaintiff, to be paid into the poor funds of the municipality, unless some further legal step intervenes.

Moth balls and bathing suits are easier for the average person to keep track of than figures. In the spring a fur coat is put in moth balls and hung in the closet. At the same time the bathing suit is taken from the closet and made ready for use. That is all quite simple.

But it is different with figures. Experts would say statistics. But it matters not. Whichever word is used the problem is the same. All of which means this. About the time the bathing suit is to be put away for winter, govern-

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINTS

Success in School Depends on Health

By Dr. James A. Tobey

If you want your child to have better marks and get ahead in school, you must consider his health. Studies by leading scientists have shown that the healthy, well-nourished child is usually the best scholar, the best athlete, and a school leader.

Dr. J. A. Tobey

As summer ends, children who have been playing in the fresh air, and sunlight ought to be in reasonably good health, provided they have had a proper diet, plenty of rest, and good hygienic care. It is always wise, however, to have your child's physical condition checked up at the beginning of the school year. This may be done by your family doctor, or the school physician.

Such a medical examination is desirable in any event, but is necessary if your child plans to participate in school athletics.

Before the child begins the school year, he should be vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria. If these valuable and harmless preventive measures have not already been taken. Your child should start to school with a good breakfast under his belt. Fruit, toast and cooked cereal, a soft cooked egg, and milk or cocoa is the right kind of a meal. No coffee for young children, and a minimum of hot cakes and syrups. A child can not do effective school work without a nourishing, unburied breakfast.

School lunches are also important. If there is a school cafeteria, the child may eat there at moderate cost, or he may take his lunch, in either case, pasteurized or certified milk or chocolate milk, sandwiches, green salads, and simple desserts should be the basis of it.

Sandwiches of white, whole wheat, and rye breads may be made of lean meats, lettuce and tomatoes, peanut butter, cream cheese and jam, boiled eggs, tuna fish, and other suitable foods. An active child usually needs two or three sandwiches, varied daily.

When school is over, let the child play, do any necessary home work, and then get a good night's rest. Eight hours' sleep in a comfortable bed is necessary for the average youngster. The fewer movies, dances, and parties on school nights, the better.

PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

As Essex Goes—Almost

The strategic importance of Essex in New Jersey's election returns has long been noted but, even so, the county's importance has probably never been given its rightful weight. Essex has long acted as a counter-balance to Hudson in the tug-of-war between the Republican and Democratic parties. Political strategists repeatedly question whether this condition is to endure. The answer is that it has endured a long time and may be expected to continue unless the trend is definitely broken. Until this takes place, the Democratic chances of carrying the county are based more on hope than probability.

The best indication of the relative strength of the two parties in a given area is the average vote cast for members of the general assembly. Here the personal popularity of candidates is almost completely discounted. The average vote is almost always a true index of the strength of the two parties. The average general assembly vote in Essex during the past decade follows:

Year	Repub.	Democ.
1929	65,177	36,122

1930	92,647	52,572
1931	90,781	101,237
1932	139,751	124,928
1933	66,835	52,897
1934	103,164	93,786
1935	112,105	70,654
1936	144,121	147,315
1937	113,566	86,490

It will be seen here that only in 1931 did the Democrats make an impressive showing. That year they carried the county by nearly 11,000 votes. In 1936 their majority was approximately 3,000. This majority in view of the Roosevelt landslide was a rather poor showing when compared with the Republican majority of some 42,000 the year before. Last year it will be noted the Republican majority was slightly over 27,000 votes. Such a majority is impressive where the total vote is only 200,000. It means that there must be a very radical shift in opinion if the Democrats are to carry the county this fall. A new Democratic chairman may inspire new hope among the rank and file of that party. Additional WPA workers may swell the total vote. Dissension within the Republican ranks may also help. But when all these factors are added together they still do not total Democratic victory.

To assume that James J. Mahon can organize a county of a million inhabitants within three months to change a trend that has lasted for decades is asking too much. He may do it. There always has to be a beginning. But there are no issues on the horizon that indicate such a shift in public opinion this fall.

IN NEW JERSEY

by Dr. Maurice F. Neufeld

Perhaps too little known and appreciated are the recreational values of the chain of salt water bays extending from Bay Head to Cape May with a navigable channel for shallow-draft boats extending their entire length and northward to Manasquan Inlet. Thanks to the protection of the pine-belt and to the fact that no large cities and few industries are located on their tributary streams, these bays are relatively free from pollution. Such pollution as does exist comes largely from small nearby towns, and steps are now being taken by the State Department of Health toward its abatement.

Primary use of the bays at the present time is for pleasure boating, fishing, and crabbing, and for duck hunting from the adjacent flats and marshes. Opportunity for pleasure boating is almost unlimited and as yet scarcely touched. Salt water fishing, measured by fish caught, appears to be on the decline probably for causes other than too much pleasure fishing—causes partially preventable through better control of commercial fishing.

More than 960 party fishing boats and countless rowboats and other craft are engaged in fishing in or from these bays. Total investment in pleasure fishing gear engaged probably is in excess of $1,000,000. Annual expenditures for pleasure fishing in and around these bays probably exceeds $1,500,000. And yet salt water pleasure fishing in New Jersey is fighting a losing battle against commercial fishing practices, amounting in total value of annual haul to about $1,000,000.

In the long time interests of both commercial and pleasure fishers, additional controls governing the catching of certain fish should be early established and rigidly enforced. Such additional restrictions might include: (1) further restriction of netting operations; (2) establishment of size limit for certain species, including weakfish and striped bass; and (3) prohibition of commercial fishing for, and the sale of, striped bass. The State can accomplish much toward such controls through legislation. It is probable, however that protection of migratory fish should be the Federal action as in the case of migratory wild-fowl and is based upon more knowledge than is yet available as to habits of our salt-water fish.

Recently the labor department announced employment figures for August. (The late announcement is no reflection on the department. Nobody can hurry the collection of either private or government figures.) These August figures showed that employment in non-agricultural occupations had increased 320,000. That is far from taking care of the millions unemployed. But the trend is in the right direction at last. Many economists think this upward trend has developed none too soon. They reason that jobs just must be found. Government spending cannot continue forever. At the close of September the national debt was roughly 38.5 billions of dollars. This is with-in 6.5 billions of the limit Congress has placed on the national debt.

The legislators have enacted a law prohibiting a public debt in excess of 45 billions. Public opinion is likely to roar against any increase in that amount—say to 80 billion as some propose.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING

Last year our team tied Bloomfield in that memorable battle that had the town talking for weeks. During the progress of the game, if you had looked at the Bloomfield bench and watched Bill Foley, you would have seen his knees shaking for fear that his team would not score upon our boys. Those knees weren't wrong. They knew that Bloomfield returning sadly to their cars felt envious of the songs and cheers from our boys and girls, for they hated to see their team tied—even by a scrappier team. Some of the more vulgar ones had the temerity to shout, "G'wan ya mugs, ya were lucky, boo!"

This year, Foley's knees not only shook—they beat like Spanish castanets to a red hot rhumba. Why, at one time you could actually hear them over in our stands tapping out "Nearer My God To Thee!" Those knees are certainly educated. At that time our boys were hungry for a big piece of that "Pay-dirt."

And the Bloomfield rooters walking out of their million-dollar stadium, only this time with big smiles on their faces, muttered to each other, "Boy! Were we lucky? Were we lucky, and how!"

No other words ever spoken were nearer the truth. Bloomfield was mighty, mighty lucky to come off with a tie.

Our team played a game that any school or town would be proud of. We are more than proud of them. The other teams may be bigger and stronger, but we still have to see the team that has more "guts" than they have. They played as perfect a game as it was possible to play; they were stupendous, colossal, magnificent, gigantic. No superlative can color them.

The running, tackling, blocking and kicking were excellent. Our team had so much fight and threw Bloomfield for so many losses that when Danny stepped on Ivan Blood's small feet, Ivan turned to Danny, patted him on the back and said apologetically, "I am so, so sorry."

Our cheering section deserves a great deal of credit. Although we were outnumbered, we made twice as much noise as Bloomfield. That kind of cheering and inspiration carried to every game by our rooters will fire our team to bigger and better victories. All you loyal students keep up the good work.

We have another tough game with Bayonne tomorrow. Let's all come out. Bring along your old pots and pans—anything that can make a lot of noise—and cheer our boys on to "Pay-dirt."

WE'RE GOING PLACES!

Through the cooperation of The Belleville News, the high school authorities, and the many students listed as staff, the readers of this newspaper will have a section of interesting news and features, and the students of Belleville High School will have an opportunity to publicize those activities which are of interest to the readers.

The editors are endeavoring to make this page something of which Belleville's readers can be proud. So, we ask all students to help us by giving us information and by sending contributions. Worthwhile letters of opinion from everyone will be accepted for publication.

Know Your Teachers

Carl Criswell, a new member in the English department of the Belleville High School faculty, came to Belleville from Haddon Heights, where he previously taught. He is a graduate of Millersville State Teachers' College, Pa., his home state, and of New York University.

While at Millersville, he played football, baseball and tennis. He was also interested in the theater, and this interest has matured through the years. Maurice Evans and Katherine Cornell are his favorite players. One of his accomplishments in this field is the writing of three plays, one of which was produced in a summer theater in New Hampshire.

Mr. Criswell's favorite pastime is reading. Some of the authors he enjoys most are Thomas Mann, Somerset Maugham and Sherwood Anderson.

Mr. Criswell kindly consented to be the first person we are to interview. For further information about your favorite teachers, look for this column each week.

GLEE CLUB PLANS PROGRAM FOR THANKSGIVING

Ninety-Seven Are Enrolled Under Leadership Of Miss Walters

The Glee Club will render several selections from new music it is adding to its large repertoire at the Thanksgiving program in the high school auditorium.

Under the capable direction of Miss Alice Walters, ninety-seven members make up the club.

The new music varies and there are pieces to suit everyone's fancy. There is "Peter Piper," a lively tune to fit the famous jingle, and, certain to appeal to everyone, "The Two Grenadiers," a song long familiar to music lovers. "Tally-Ho," a merry English hunting song; "Dear Little Boy of Mine," beautiful, tender words set to a smooth flowing melody; "Rhapsody," a sentimental song; Sigmund Romberg's ever popular "Auf Wiedersehen"; "The Story of Noah," a negro interpretation of the famous story of the Ark, and "Lochinvar's Ride," a musical rendition of Sir Walter Scott's famous poem. It is written in the form of a short cantata and perfect for a special assembly program.

This gives promise of being a very successful season with a musical comedy and the annual concert in view.

Senior Class Elects Officers

The senior class of Belleville High School at a recent meeting elected the following students to executive positions: President, Gerard Ferrara; vice-president, Pat Tortorella; secretary, Alice Hart; treasurer, George McKay. Gerard Ferrara has taken part in many activities and was also class president during his junior year.

Fashion Flash

By J. Marian Schleckser
Plaids galore! They were the predominating style seen at the football dance. Usually a sweater was worn in preference to a blouse. However, there were quite a few striking outfits with velvetene jackets worn over plaid skirts. One sportily miss had a black velvetene jacket over a scotch plaid skirt. The jacket was reversible with the same material as the skirt on the other side. With this outfit she wore black anklets and black and white saddle oxfords. It was quite a striking outfit.

Speaking of saddle oxfords, they seem to travel right along with plaids. There were also other type shoes with crepe soles but I looked in vain for a pair of those new square toed oxfords. Aside from skirts and sweaters there were also some other noticeable outfits. One pretty blonde came in a pale blue satin dress exactly suited for her hair. The neckline was low and two clips help it back on either side. The blouse was all shirred at the waist and the belt ran from the sides to the back. A two piece dress in maroon satin was also pleasing to the eye.

QUINTET PLAYS AT SCHOOL

Included in one of the many entertaining assemblies held in the auditorium recently, was a five-piece jazz band, which included Ted Niewiadomski, Fred Monte, Clem Ippolito, Al Vada and Andy Bracagialie, all of whom are from the Silver Lake area of Belleville. The instruments used were a trumpet, a guitar, an accordion, and two saxophones. The boys played a few of the latest hits, the vocals being by Ted Niewiadomski. The band which was organized only a few weeks before its debut in the high school, intends to go on to bigger and better things in the field of music.

New Band Uniforms Are Seen At Bloomfield

The Belleville-Bloomfield football game at Foley Field, Saturday, brought out the Belleville High School band in all the splendor of its new uniforms, which consist of blue hats, blue and gold capes, white shirts, and white trousers or skirts.

Lois Rafter, the drum-major wore a white skirt, blouse and cape, white boots with gold trimmings and a white hat with a blue plume.

Pat Tortorella did a good job of twirling the baton for Belleville.

Local Boys Make Good In Music

INTERVIEWING OUR INTERVIEWER

Starting next week, we will have a series of interviews from Al Vada. If you remember, he conducted a column last year, "For Musicians and Musicians Only."

This year Al will get interviews with the musicians in high school, and find out their ambitions, hobbies and plans. This week the editor interviews our interviewer.

Al Vada was born in Elizabeth, in 1921, and came to Belleville at the age of one. In 1935 he began to study music. He first chose the banjo piano accordion and progressed rapidly in a few years, taking lessons from Frank Lucas, J. Rossi, and Pietro Diro. Later he met at a banquet, where Al played a solo, the well-known professor, Victor Ippolito. The professor has Al in mind as a future star on the accordion. Al is now forming his own repertoire which consists of many overtures and special transcriptions, written by his professor.

We can expect some solos from Al at the concert and graduation exercises. After graduation Al intends to continue with the study of music, and with the help of his professor he will make his debut.

Keep an eye on this fellow. He's going places! and look for his column next week.

While Giovanni Russo, 11 First street, Woburn, Mass., was visiting his cousin, Louis Sica, 53 Honiss street, Friday night, some one stole the hub caps from Russo's car, he reported to police. W. F. Brown, 154 Washington street, Newark, went into the First National Bank to transact business Friday and later, after he had left, remembered he had left a bag in which were $55, two books of stamps and some valuable papers, on a desk. He returned for the bag, but it was gone.

Two automobiles were damaged Friday when, police say, Ernest C. Monch, 247 Ralph street, driving one owned by Ernest E. M. Cooper, 317 East Price street, Linden, collided with a car owned by Sidney A. Brown, 75 Van Houten place, who had parked it in that street.

Aunt Flo's Column

"Spare the rod and spoil the child" still holds good even though we are living in the twentieth century.

Mrs. J. says: Aunt Flo, I am writing you because I would like to know what you think of a teacher who will discriminate against a pupil. Our son is such a dear. He is our only child and we do everything to make a little gentleman of him, yet he is constantly getting into difficulty in school and with his playmates. We do not worry about the trouble he has with his playmates, but we do feel it is important that he get along well in school. And, yet, he tells us that no matter how hard he tries the teacher is always against him and gives him a low mark. Would you suggest that we try to have him transferred to another class?

Mrs. J.—Forgive me, if my answer does not meet with your approval, but since I do not know you and you do not know me, we can talk this question over very sensibly and perhaps the thoughts that I express here will help you and some other devoted parents with such a problem—and, incidentally, the lives of some little boys will be broadened somewhat.

First and most emphatically, I am going to say, do not have this boy transferred to another class. If you do, you are simply falling in line with the many alibis for bad behavior that are sure to follow and they will grow worse and worse and you will have greater difficulty getting him out of his scrapes.

Teachers, on the whole, are not usually looking for trouble in the classroom—they are happier in their work when a congenial atmosphere prevails. Too, it is well to remember that a teacher is credited when her pupils pass with honors, so the teacher would, in this case, be working a hardship on herself if she deliberately gave a pupil a low mark when his work deserved a higher one. When one of my children came home to me and complained that his marks were low because the teacher was unfair, I always felt like turning him over my knee and applying an old-fashioned strap, because I knew only too well that he had been doing something not quite right himself. Yet I would invariably control my wrath and say quite calmly: "And now sit down and tell me what you were doing."

There have been cases where a teacher did not understand a child and after a few short weeks together they have learned what was wrong and splendid work has resulted, but the mere fact that you tell me this child does not get along well with his playmates leads me to draw my own conclusions.

You say also this is not important to you—well, it should be very important, for after all this boy of yours has many years before him in which he will have to learn to brush elbows with all types of people and you and daddy will not be able to go along holding him by the hand and applying the ointment when his elbows are scraped and scuffed on life's highway, so he may as well begin right now to stand on his own feet.

I am sure you will find that if this boy of yours learns to get along with his playmates he will also come along better with his studies, for he will see that in order to succeed one must strive to do things right and be fair and not expect to sit back and be floated along in ease because Dad and Mother pull all sorts of strings to make it possible.

I would suggest that you try these correction methods first with the playmates. They are all so young that they can soon forget that your son did not mix well with them and after a few hard knocks they will welcome him as a real fellow, while with the teachers it would be quite

Taking Ways

Mrs. Wilhelmina Baecht, 155 Fairway avenue is in a quandry. Each morning she finds her bottle of milk on the porch, that is, each morning except Sunday, when it disappears. One week's loss wasn't so bad, but when it became two, three and four weeks in a row, she decided it was time to notify the police. This she did last Monday.

another story. He would come to be known as that dreadful J. child, always being transferred because he couldn't do what he wanted—and after twelve years of schooling the J. child would graduate (perhaps) having acquired little real knowledge—a bully among men—a stupid pest among women and a big heart-ache to his parents.

May you choose the right path for this boy of yours and write me again when you can tell me some nice things about him.

other has the stripping assignment and others sell the parts."

In the last two months there has been a widespread finding of stripped, stolen cars here and many residents have reported thefts of cars, several from locked garages.

The chief says that the ordinary person is not acquainted with the method used but the thieves start cars with "jumpers," a wire arrangement to turn on the ignition.

"I would like to issue a warning to many motorists," said the chief, "as regards leaving keys in the car and leaving doors unlocked, while the owners aimlessly walk off. I made a tour of Belleville at 2 a.m. one morning and was surprised at the number of cars parked on streets. Not only is this an incentive to thieves, but it also works a hardship on the Street Cleaning Department. The sweeper operates at night and it is impossible to clean streets properly. Of consequence, we are going to start a drive against all-night parking on streets. It isn't fair to the town or garage owners, whose garages should be rented by street parkers."

Thus far over 200 tickets have been given out, many of which

Ageless, Says Fred Stone

"You can't date humor based on the recognizable human frailties. A laugh, if it is inked in truth, is ageless. Which explains, perhaps, why playgoers are finding as much enjoyment in the revival of 'Lightnin'' as they did twenty years ago when it was first produced." Fred Stone, currently starring in John Golden's production of "Lightnin'", in its fourth successful week at the Golden Theatre, New York, is responsible for the observation.

GAVEY EXPLAINS FIRE PROCEDURE

Local Insurance Man
Gives Out Fifteen
Tips

"Do you know exactly what to do in case of fire?" queries Eugene M. Gavey, local real estate and insurance agent.

"Building fires is one of the most common destroyers of life and property. Once a minute there is a building fire somewhere in the United States. Despite these facts, many persons have never been called upon to report a fire or to accept responsibility in seeing that it is properly dealt with," says Mr. Gavey, who represents the nation's leading insurance companies.

As a cooperative measure during National Fire Prevention Week, October 9-15, Mr. Gavey urges every man, woman and young person to familiarize themselves with the procedure to be followed if it becomes necessary to report a fire. Some of the rules suggested by him follow:

1. Plan what to do if fire comes, then do it calmly and sensibly.
2. Make up your mind that you are not going to become excited.
3. Learn the location of your nearest fire box. Make sure that you know how to operate it.
4. Write the telephone number of your fire department where it can be found quickly by any member of the family.
5. Use the most convenient of these methods to call the fire department.
6. Learn the operation of hand fire extinguishers.
7. When using hand extinguishers the fire should be attacked at its base.
8. If the clothing catches fire, tear off burning portions if possible. Attempt to smother the flames by wrapping victim in a woolen blanket.
9. Do not allow the victim to run or move about.
10. When sleeping in a strange building, learn the location of the nearest exit before retiring.
11. If caught in a burning building, remember that smoke is thickest near the floor. Make your way to safety by crawling or crouching.
12. When inside a burning building, close as many doors as possible in order to keep the fire from spreading.
13. If it is necessary to jump from a window, first throw out mattresses or bedding to break the fall.
14. If fire breaks out while you are in a crowded room, give the alarm quietly and unobtrusively so as not to create a panic. It is unwise to shout "Fire."
15. When reporting by means of an alarm box, remain near the box until the firemen arrive so as to direct them to the fire with the least possible delay.

UNITED AGAINST FIRE

Belleville Joins the Nation in Observing National Fire Prevention Week

Beginning Sunday, October 9th, to
Saturday, October 15th.

Commissioner William D. Clark Advises:

1. Keep cellars clear of refuse, especially paper and oily rags.
2. Make periodic checks on oil burners, supply tanks and piping.
3. Clean chimney flues and check for chimney defects.
4. Do not keep inflammables in the house. If they must be kept, see that they are under lock and safe from children's reach.
5. Do not put hot ashes in wooden barrels.
6. Keep fire wood away from all waste papers and rags. Papers and rags mixed in with wood or coal may start spontaneous heating.

7. Don't go out at night and leave the children home alone.

Constant effort has brought our Police and Fire Departments to a high degree of efficiency. They are constantly on the alert to prevent fires and remove fire hazards.

But the Police and Fire Departments cannot do it all. THE CITIZENS MUST HELP.

For yourself . . . your children . . . your property . . . please be on guard against FIRE!

In case of fire, call the Fire Department immediately. Do not try to extinguish it yourself. Phone BELLEVILLE 2-1500.

by JOE DUVAL

Seen on the subway by the over-the-shoulder route the other day, something in one of the clever columns to the effect that Fordham is going to Pittsburgh this fall to play its annual scoreless tie with the Panthers. If we're not careful they'll be saying the same thing about Belleville and Bloomfield more much more time elapses. Two in a row and still going strong is a neat record and with proper nurturing should develop into a nice rivalry.

After the game in the excitement of the aftermath a few of the boys on each side mixed it up a bit and had a good time shoving each other around a bit. Somewhat the same thing happened last year, but this fall's post-matinee excitement was much tamer. Even so there was plenty of enthusiasm running riot in both camps and there were a few little incidents which occurred in the spirit of fun. Things of the same sort have happened in other rivalries and the respective school authorities saw fit to cancel future relations on the spot. That is, in our opinion, a manifestation of complete ignorance of the workings of the average high school mind.

After energies and emotions have been running at fever pitch for several days, when the floodgates are opened incidents are bound to happen. To take much cognizance of them, and particularly to consider them so all-important as to be cause for severing relations, seems to us to be going out of the way to pick a quarrel, seems to be used as an opportunity for self-aggrandizement by needlessly asserting one's authority. The kids never think twice of a little battle royal after it is all over—it's memory lingers only in the minds of those who were not concerned in it. There is seldom a football game without its "incident," so if we figured along the same lines we should cancel all of them and take up tick-tack-toe.

A Tough Choice For Daly

Jack Daly, Coach Smith's newest assistant, has had to choose between football and baseball several times but no choice he has ever made hurt as much as the decision to decline the Brooklyn Dodger contract he was offered this summer. The Dodgers wanted to send him down to one of their farms, Winston-Salem in the Middle Atlantic League, to gain the necessary experience. But Jack decided he preferred to play in the All-Star game with the Giants. If he hadn't been selected to play with the Stars he would now be in a Brooklyn prep school line-up and would probably have never signed with the High School.

Jack scored eight touchdowns from his end position while he was playing at Manhattan. Two of them came in his first game as a varsity man and were tallied against St. Bonaventure. Undoubtedly Manhattan was wishing he were back this year when they fell victims to the Bonnies.

Of all the six-pointers, however, Jack claims that none stand out in his memory as does the one against Texas A. & M. last year. He crossed the line on the end of a long forward pass in the first quarter and put the Green into a 7-0 lead which they held until the last quarter when the Texans chalked up two touchdowns in rapid succession to win 14-7.

Why Not Try Your Luck?

Response to the weekly contest sponsored jointly by The Belleville News and Riddell Brothers Sport Shop was only fair this week. Entries for tomorrow's game close this afternoon at 5 o'clock. In today's paper is the coupon for next week's contest. All you have to do is fill in your guess as to the final score of the Belleville-West Side game and hand it in to Riddell's before 5 P.M. next Friday. There is no entry fee and no obligation. But time is liable to be a deciding factor, for in case of a tie, the entry received first will be declared the winner. The prizes are worthwhile. Why not try your luck? Watch The News next week for the announcement of the winner of the first contest.

Mr. Kochman, Take A Bow

Major milestone in something or other was passed at the Nutley Velodrome Wednesday night. Ten cars started in the big 60-lapper and all ten finished! Not a single spin, crack-up or withdrawal because of motor trouble. The doodle-buggers have learned a great deal more about board tracks than they knew at the beginning of the summer. Jack Kochman deserves a major award for his very successful promotion and for giving a lot of people something to do every Wednesday and Sunday.

A suggestion or two for next year, however: This year it is quite evident that Jack gave the drivers every leeway in the matter of late entries and permission to qualify their cars whenever they arrived at the track. But the spectators are not particularly keen ten or fifteen minutes while some driver who arrives around 9 o'clock on seeing the events get started and then have them held up for or after warms his car up. Few of the drivers are so far from Nutley on race days that they cannot make it a point to be at the track an hour before race time so that they can get their cars tuned up to their liking. The spectators' disapproval of late-coming was shown Wednesday when Eddie Staneck got the rhythmic clack when he interrupted the time trials for thirteen minutes. If a doodler has been racing more than a day's journey from Nutley the day before the race, that is another matter, but it is also very rare.

Also, Jack might curb his candy, etc. hawkers a bit, especially during announcements. Further than this, congrats to Kochman, Kleinfeld, Stewart, Johnstone & Co. on a nice job.

Mead And Kurzman Again

The Essex County shuffleboard champs, Hal Mead and Heni Kurzman will be back in town Wednesday gunning for their sixth and seventh straight wins. Now playing under the banner of The Belleville News, they will shuffle against a pair of teams in two 50-point matches at the Belleville Tavern.

News And Notes On The Fishline

Jack Akers, fishing the surf at the Highlands last week, landed a five-pound striper on a yellow squid with pork rind. He reported seeing a much larger fish but could not get him to take any bait offered him.

Raymond Losey, fishing off the 8th avenue jetty at Asbury Park, landed a striper which weighed eight pounds. He also caught a 14-inch striper which he had to return to the sea due to the 18-inch law.

Sergeant O'Neill and Lieut. Eckert of the local Post Office took their usual trip to Lake Hopatcong on Sunday. The Sergeant, in his form, landed two sizable pickled while his mate came home empty-handed. They report that there were several large catfish taken and they seem to be very plentiful as almost every bait had a good meal. Of course, our good Sergeant and Lieutenant would not admit that they fished for the latter, claiming that they would not waste their time on the lowly catfish, but we have doubts. (No bottom at six.) "How's about it, Sarge?"

Charlie Nutt and a party of friends with Capt. Jake Applegate out of Shipbottom last week, returned with a nice mess of thirty-five fish, including one striper.

The winner in the trout contest sponsored by Riddell Bros., which closed last Friday, is John Young, Belleville plumber, New Street. This contest was not for the largest fish but for the greatest total inches in three fish. Jack had 50 1/2 inches: one rainbow trout 18 inches, one brown trout 17 inches, one brook trout 15 inches. Jack won, besides a beautiful silver cup, a combination dry and wet fly box ($5).

We regret that we were in error last week when we said that Snuffy the Cabbie hooked into a large fish, said he was a tuna. Have since learned from Snuffy that he hooked into a fellow fisherman on the other side of the boat. He got him by the collar and nearly pulled him overboard. We have yet to find out the victim's identity.

Belleville Runs Bloomfield Ragged But Lacks Scoring Punch

Refusing to be disheartened by the breaks which made them victims of Barringer's Jack Robinson the week before, the High School gridders came back to pull the unexpected and tie one-once mighty Bloomfield.

Battling up and down the field through four scoreless periods, Belleville had the better of the going all the way and local sportswriters were unanimous in Sunday's write-ups in the opinion that, for the second week in a row, Bloomfield was lucky to get away with a tie.
