POLICE CLOSE IN ON AUTO GANG

Expect To Round Up Few More Who Pilfered Cars

Angelo Barrillo, twenty-three, 904 North Sixth street, Newark, was arrested Friday by Detective Captain Leighton and Detective Lee for alleged sale of automobile parts, said to have been stolen from parked cars.

This is the ninth arrest, authorities say, in an effort to round up a gang said to be involved in many thefts. Police say that Barrillo maintains he got the parts from his brother, who was previously arrested.

Newark police were given cusody of Barrillo because, it is said, the alleged transaction took place in that city. Police say that the purchaser of the parts who paid $25 for them was released. According to authorities Barrillo was attempting to sell a radio, heater and other accessories at a Bloomfield avenue store when apprehended. Parts stolen from cars are said by police to have been stored in a Seventh street barn.

Hoffman Not Worried About Foreign Ideas And Systems In The U.S. A.

Accept Ballot Heritage Too Lightly

"While there is still much to be desired we are so far ahead of other rations there is no room for foreign ideas and systems in the United States" declared former Governor Harold G. Hoffman ing of Belleville Rotary and Lions Clubs in the Forest Hill Field Club.

"Sometimes I think we accept our heritage of the little ballot too lightly. It came to us, not only from the Revolution, but way back of that. Sometimes we don't even exercise the privilege of voting which is ours because our forefathers were willing to sacrifice their lives and fortunes to hand down to us this and other forms of freedom we enjoy here —freedom that came through blood of hundreds of thousands of men on all the battlefields of Isserman, Isserman and Kapelsohn, attorneys for the machinists, have written Mayor Williams as follows: "Today it has been called to my attention by the officers of the Machinists Union that copies of your ad which appeared in The Belleville News on Friday, October 21, 1938 had been mailed to all of the members of the Machinists Union who are now out on strike. It is apparent from a reading of the ad that you are attempting to settle the labor difficulties existing at the present time at the Eastwood-Neally plant. I represent the International Association of Machinists, and have called you on several occasions in the past week or two in order to arrange for an appointment to discuss the matter. I notice from your ad that you are attempting to settle it by calling together the members of the weavers union who were former employees of the Eastwood-Neally

Cornoration. "It would seem to me that the only proper and possible method of disposing of the difficulties at the present time existing at the plant, would be for a broad round-table discussion in which all of the interested parties jon Your experience and your dealings with both management and labor can then be of great value and assistance. It is unnecessary for us at the present time to discuss who is responoute. That would not solve the problem, and I believe the only solution can be an open descussion in which some neutral person like yourself would act as he presiding officer, at which all grievances can be aired by all sides, and I am quite sure they can be disposed of. "The International Association of Machinists has been in existence for fifty-one years, and has a membership of approximately 300,000 in the United States, and it does not foster a "rule or ruin" policy. On the contrary, its reputation for fair dealing has been recognized by thousands and thousands of employers who have closed-shop agreements with it, and who have found that the union is a responsible and reliable organization to do business with. TOWN-OWNED PROPERTY

Mayor William H. Williams in his remarks to the members of the Board of Commissioners pertaining to policy in the sales of town-owned building lots to individuals and developers at attractive prices touched an economic principle which is important to the continued growth and building activity in Belleville.

He stated he had visited and studied building developments in various municipalities and feels satisfied the reason for greater activity in other communities in home building is essentially that the home builder can purchase building lots at lower prices than they can in Belleville, consequently the finished home can be sold at a more attractive price, providing the builder with the assurance of greater sales possibility and a quicker return on their invested capital and labor.

In order to compete for the benefits to be had for our community by increased building activity, the Mayor reasons that we must make building in Belleville as advantageous to the home builder as it is in the other locations.

The Mayor feels that in accordance with the law governing the sale of town-owned property, the Board of Commissioners should establish prices on various properties at a price which would increase building activity. The purchase of such properties, as it has been, will be available to all. That is basically fair and is or should be above criticism.

Sale of such properties will be a benefit to all. It returns the lot itself to paying ratables and in most cases homes will be built, increasing taxing ratables substan-

As the Mayor pointed out, if an industry were ready to build a plant worth $200,000 or $250,000 in our town we would not hesitate to tender the necessary property needed for the factory building at a most attractive price. He advocates using the same principle to attract home builders, for with house and lot assessed at $4,000 to $5,000 it would take only fifty of such parcels to increase our taxing ratables to the $250,000

We concur in the policy outlined as being the proper course at this time. While it is to be regretted that many individuals who have purchased their unimproved lots as a speculative investment and at a high price, find they cannot or will not sell such lots today at the low prices that prevail without sustaining substantial losses, still it is highly important that Belleville continue as an active community rather than become static waiting for the day when higher prices may be obtained.

Our benefits will accrue through civic contribution of the desirable families we will attract to our town and incidentally by the share of taxes their new homes will provide.

A competition among municipalities has developed in the past many years.

Belleville must meet its competition. We must continue activity at prices that are available and look forward to the day when better prices can be obtained.

HOFFMAN IS RIGHT

When former Governor Harold G. Hoffman Wednesday told members of Belleville Rotary and Lions Clubs at luncheon in Forest Hill Field Club, where he was guest speaker, that our legislators "cannot be tatesmen at Trenton because they are og-tied before they take office and the term of one year is too short," he spoke volumes.

Mr. Hoffman pointed out that many well meaning interests send out questionnaires which force legislators to "sign on the dot- in holding up the matter.

ted line before they take office" or else... He added that if he had his way he would place a ban on this, exlaining that he once pledged some well-meaning women to vote against women working nights, a pledge exacted in the interest of the canning industry in South Jersey. "When I took office I found 10,000 Passaic County women depended upon night work—cleaning looms to support families," he said. They went to Mr. Hoffman and when told of his pledge asked: "If you pass that measure what will we do—starve?"

The former chief executive is right—100 per cent so. It is high time that groups, which tell candidates to vote a certain way or their votes will not be produced on election day, were ferreted out and made the object of some stiff publicity. Certainly our legislators going to Trenton could do a better job. To many folks, the one-year term of office has been a joke. A man no sooner lands at his desk in the State. House than he starts figuring out how to get re-elected. It isn't quite as bad now with a fall primary as when the primary was in the spring. No sooner was a legislator seated under the old system than it was primary day. What kind of statesmanship can we expect from this? Mr. Hoffman is right in this connection-differ as you may with some of his other contentions.

HALLOWEEN

Halloween will be ushered in Monday night in all its usual blaze of glory. There will be parties and ghosts will walk the streets. A spirit of joy will fill the air. That is as it should be. But while we are all in the mood for fun, let's not carry the vitally concerned as to idea of Halloween to the point of rowdyism or vandalism. Everyone is entitled to have fun that night. It isn't out of order to stick a pin in some one's door bell, youngsters. It's a lot of fun, too, to visit homes and pick up all the apples, fruit, cake, nuts, pennies and other goodies you can. All that comes within the category of Halloween. A lot more does, too, that isn't exactly according to Hoyle. There is no need to mention some of the rowdy ideas that have been practiced in years gone by. Belleville should have a lot of fun Monday night, but parents can see to it that the youngsters temper the fun with good judgment.

SMOKING 'EM OUT

A few weeks ago Police Chief Spatz had an idea that an organized gang was responsible for stealing automobiles and stripping them of parts. He told this news- dustrial and economic conditions paper in an exclusive interview about where and far reaching remedial acthe gang would be found. "The tough job is to catch them," he said, adding, "but we'll get 'em." In a little over a week Detective Captain Leighton and Detective Lee have rounded up nine, some minors, who, according to police are linked in the thefts. Stolen cars and parts have been recovered. An old shed over the Belleville line in Newark has been pointed out as the place the cars were stripped, even of wheels, the strippers replacing the good wheels with old ones and then driving the cars to some out-of-the-way spot to abandon them. More arrests are expected, say authorities. At any rate, there are less stolen car entries on the police blotter. It makes one think that maybe another "headache" has been

GARBAGE DISPOSAL QUESTION

The Town Commission Tuesday night decided to hold in abeyance for two weeks disposition of the garbage contract matter. The board had issued questionnaires to various contractors and was all set to receive bids at its next meeting, but Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll objected to specifications which set forth that bidders have three years' experience. Noll suggested that if there were any restrictions they should pertain to the type and make of trucks for the job. Mr. Noll held that the three-year clause made the bidding an "air-tight" proposition for a "syndicate of four or five large firms, who want all the business in Essex County." It is our sincere belief that those who drew up the questionnaires and specifications wanted Belleville to get the best job at the lowest contract price. We also believe Noll is justified in his contention, but not entirely consistent. He holds the three-year clause is restrictive as to certain bidders. Certainly his suggestion of a certain type of truck is restrictive. But it is not our intention to level criticism at any of the commissioners. Noll raised an important point. All, we think, are interested in getting Belleville the best possible for the least money. The board showed good judgment

Just as Roosevelt II tied his destiny to the New Deal and the "forgotten man" so did Theodore Roosevelt go after reactionaries like Platt and Hanna and enunciated the theory that "true conservatism demanded a reappraisal of our intion,," and he started proceedings for the dissolution of a holding corporation — The Northern Securities Company.

Theodore Roosevelt tried to overcome the idea that there was one law for the rich and another law for the poor: one law for corporations and another for the individual,-and stirred up more fear and antagonism on the part of business than any President up to his namesake and distant relative, Roosevelt II.

But even his enemies had to admire Theodore Roosevelt for his vigor,— for his definite purpose,-for the things of benefit that he accomplished. His catch phrases - "Malefactors of great wealth" — "I'd rather wear out than rust out" -- "Tread softly and carry a big stick"—his advocacy of the vigorous life and his frequent use of the word "deelighted" — were catch words far more commonly used than the present catch words of the administration of Roosevelt II.

In the first decade of this century, the conservative press and business world was filled with predictions of dire consequence and dark days ahead because of the hings that Roosevelt I did. Things were never going to be right again because of what he did,—his doctrines and his hypotheses. The good old U.S.A. lived through it and came out to be bigger, stronger and richer than

We wonder if in the year 1978 we won't be able to say the same things about the administration about it at the moment.

But don't let's forget that Theodore Roosevelt's birthday is now observed as Navy Day, and don't let any of us growl about the cost of building an adequate Navy and don't let any of us hesitate about bringing our influence to bear in causing that Navy to be built to adequate size RIGHT

Well, election day is just around the corner. Our first interest in Belleville is the State Senatorial election in Essex County where one of Belleville's first citizens-Homer Zink- is a candidate, - a man of great exthe Legislature, who has wide experience as the head of the allimportant Appropriation Committee, whose work has saved hun-Theodore Roosevelt (Roosevelt dreds of thousands of dollars of as he is often referred to now the taxpayers' money in this greater than that of his Demgoing to or by his friends resting in snug complacency. That puts it squarely up to the citizens of Belleville to really go to work for Homer

> Of somewhat greater importance nationally, of course, is the Senatorial contest between Messrs. Barbour and Ely. Here again Barbour is experienced, having sat in the U.S. Senate Elv has not had that experience But as we pointed out in principle last week, there is far greater difference between the two. Ely pledges himself to be "100% Administration" - pledges himself, willy-nilly, to follow the lead of the Administration. If we interpret his speeches correctly and if he means what he says — and we must assume he does - he means he is going to be a "rubber stamp." Well then, why elect Why send someone down to Washington who isn't going to truly represent you but is going to follow the leader, whether you like it or not? He might just as well record with the Clerk of the Senate in advance to vote him "Aye" on every Administration measure that comes before the Senate and record him as "No" on every measure that does not have Administration approval and let him stay at home and draw his $10,000 a year salary and other allowances and do noth-

Barbour, on the other hand, promises to do in the Senate what he will be elected to do give careful consideration to legislation, weigh it in the light of the public interest, and particularly to weigh it in the light of the interests of his constituents in New Jersey.

It's up to the voters of New Jersey to determine whether they want someone in Washington representing them in the Senate who of Roosevelt II, however wrought will constructively work for them up and concerned we may be in their interests or someone who will blindly follow the leader. The answer should be easy.

The girl was an onty childthe met a young man of line charactor, ambitious with high ideals. they were impressed with each other from the start and the riendship grew into one of the most beautiful romances I have ever looked upon. They were nappy anywhere and everywhere so long as they were togetheralways joyously talking about the ruture, each setting the other on a penestal. It made one happy just to see them.

Then one day a relative told the girl's parents that she would be foolish to marry this man. His mother had passed on when he was a child, with a pulmonary disease. The sad days that followed I do not have space to teil you about. The parents plainly showed their disapproval until the man actually felt that he was jeopardizing the happiness of the giri he loved. The parents did everything to keep the girl from him-surrounded her with other gaiety-she was young and easily influenced. She finally married another man-he was also a splendid type. The parents were pleased, they felt there was noth-

If the Governor violated the bipartisan spirit of the legislative act in making his own selections of Republican members, then certainly it would be a more extreme violation to permit an election to be conducted under a board composed of one Republican and two Democrats.

Furthermore, the language of he law is explicit. It says that the state chairman shall submit a name to the Governor within ten lays after a vacancy shall exist and that the Governor thereupon chall make the appointment.

Drift From Barbour?

The near demoralization in the state Republican ranks regarding W. Warren Barbour represents one of the most dramatic shifts in political opinion that I have ever seen. Less than three months ago Barbour was considered a sure winner. Today not one leader out of ten expects Barbour to win. What are the reasons for this startling shift in his political the appointment prospects? This question cannot be answered fully, but the followthe Board of | ing are the reasons one hears tivtity. Second, the mildness with which he has criticised the New Deal is resented in many quarters. Justiy or unjustly, Democrats are accusing him of taking one stand pefore one group of voters, and another when speaking to a difcerent group. Thirdly, a number of state eaders usually identified with former Governor Hoffman are reported lukewarm toward Barbour's candidacy. It is said that these leaders would prefer that Barbour be eliminated from the political scene in crder that a senatorial as well as a gubernatorial candidacy would be available in 1940. It is the thought that Hoffman could be nominated and elected governor more easily if a senatorial berth were open for disorganized." A team is not necessarily great because it wins all its games. Greater still, in our cpinion, is the team which can come lack and win against odds. Belleville has done just that several times this year; witness Bloomfield after Barringer, Irvington after West Side. The team has been, or should have been, a little disheartened at losing games after completely outplaying opponents. But it has shown the ability to come back, and that is what counts.

WINNER NUMBER THREE: JOHN NOWAKOWSKI

13-0 was the score and 13-0 was John Nowakowski's guess. John, a 25-year-old WPA worker who lives at 34 Clinton street, had the only correct score. This week he will make his choice between a regulation football, an archery bow, a fishing rod or a surf reel in The News-Riddell Brothers contest. Entries for the Belleville-Kearny game must be handed in at Riddells, 526 Washington avenue, before 5 o'clock next Friday afternoon.

It is one of the phenomena of human nature how the sanest of people can become hipped on only one thing, become sort of monomaniacs as far as that single idea is concerned and refuse absolutely to take even the teeniest squint at anybody else's side of the question. That's how most wars start and that's how all hatreds, class or national or racial or any of the etceteras, are kept smoldering. That's how Belleville and Nutley are kept apart year after foolish year. Long ago, probably before the first Belleville-Nutley football game, the respective "responsible parties" decided in their own midds that the inevitable results of any such meeting would be fights, and then somebody was sure to get hurt. The idea persisted and became fixed. Despite this four games were arranged at various times during the last decade and a half, the last one in 1930 resulting in a 2-0 win for Nutley. But the adult supervisors of our irresponsible youth were sharp in their lookout for any untoward ecvent and considered every slight altercation, every small incident, a complete verification of their worst fears and ample justification of their thesis that "Belleville and Nutley just can't meet in friendly relationship." We wonder who are the really puerile intellects in

These same people, who hugged their sorrows to their souls as sweet solace and took comfort only in their woes, were decidedly amazed and not a little chagrined when their pessimism was blasted higher than a kite two months ago with the highly successful News-Sun Baseball Tournament. That was run off with no trouble and with perfect harmony (not that strained harmony usually existing in such cases) on both sides.

New George Stanford and a few faithful followers are the only obstacles in the resumption of relations. Belleville has declared herself to meet Nutley at any time. Stanford, however, is of the opinion that Belleville is too far below his boys to warrant Nutley taking a chance. Truth of the matter is that George Stanford is afraid that the Bellboys would take his charges and a defeat is to be avoided at all costs. One thing we must hand Mr. Stanford is the canniness with which he picks his opponents. Sure losses are out. A game with Belleville would be a probable loss, so that is out, too.

Sure, Nutley is undefeated but would it be were it playing the same schedule that Belleville is? Belleville lost to Barringer and West Side who stand first and second respectively in the Newark league. The Zebras matched Nutley's scoreless tie with Bloomfield and defeated Bayonne and Irvington decisively. Nutley beat South Side which has scored but two touchdowns in five games, four of which were lost. Nutley beat Montclair which has not scored since the first game of the year. Cranford, which has taken more than its share of trouncings this year, gave the Maroon its biggest scare of the season by holding it scoreless until the last five minutes. With no hesitation, we claim that Belleville has played the tougher schedule this fall.

It would be no tremendous loss of prestige should Nutley lose to Belleville, of which there is little likelihood for a year or two. So bear is no need for George Stanford or anyone else acting the board speedway Sunday aftersuperior part. Furthermore, granting that Mr. Stanford's premise were correct, then there is some other and more fundamental reason why Nutley still refuses to attempt to arbitrate. For if Nutley is so far superior to Belleville, it should be glad to play the Zebras since it would be another, addition to the Maroon's collection of victories which are so desirable.

There are so many angles to this whole problem and so many tenable and untenable arguments that have to be answered that we shall run a continued story from week to week. In the meantime, let's have some of your ideas on the subject.

Mead, Kurzman Triumph Over Strong Opponents At Corner Tavern

With fire in their eyes and deermination driving them on after their close call of last week, The Belleville News shuffleboard ers, Hal Mead and Henie Kurzman, Essex County champions, came through with a pair cf flashy victories at the Corner Tavorn Tuesday to chalk up numbers ten and eleven in their current undefeated campaign.

Playing before a crowd that jammed the tavern to the doors, Mead and Kurzman first hung up 53-39 win over Joe Curran and

After this they overcame the stiff resistance put up by Charlie Smith and Herman DeJonge in a game that had the spectators on edge until the final point. The final score was 52-45.

Return Matches Carded

Two return matches are on the docket for The News boys and both should be well worth watching. The strain of keeping up their undefeated schedule is beginning to tell and every match s a potential disaster.

Sunday Mead and Kurzman will meet Ed Dietrick and Mike Murkey who were defeated earlier in the season, 100-79. This will be a 100-point match and will be played at Corbo's Tavern, 14 Belmont avenue.

Charlie Boyce will team up with Joe Curran when Mead and Kurzman again visit the Corner Tavern, 213 Belleville avenue, for a 100-point match next Friday.

Things looked black for Belleville High early in the first quarter of its "crucial" game with Irvington last Saturday. Irvington marched straight down the field after the kick-off to the Blue and Gold 10-yard line.

There was a quick play with Irvington's Hank Przybylowski carrying the ball. Suddenly it bounced out of his hands into the arms of Charley Holiweg who the extra point. tore down the sideline ninetythree yards for a score.

At this point the entire complexion of the battle changed completely and from there on it was Belleville all the way. By the time the final whistle had blown, the Bellboys were out in front,

Mtieri, Boniface, Serrentino Form Scoring Nucleus; Still Unscored On

The Hilltops continued their undefeated, unscored-on pace, chalking up their fourth straight win of the fall at the expense of the husky Winans A. C. of Newark, 13-0, Sunday at Belleville

Nick Altieri took personal charge of the first score early in the second period after a dingdong first quarter. With the ball on the Winans' 29, Altieri started out on an ordinary end run, but before he was through he had snake-hipped his way to one of the most beautiful touchdowns of the year. After dodging, twisting and turning through the entire Winans team, he crossed the goal line standing up. His pass to Gerry Ringi for the extra point, however, was incomplete.

Midway in the third stanza, Ringi, faded to his own 25 and heaved a long pass to Altieri who received it on the Winans' 22 and carried it to the 7 before he was knocked out of bounds. Al Boniface, who played a bang-up game all afternoon, crashed through right tackle for the score, carrying four of his foes with him. Vic Sorrentino's placement for extra point was good.
