MAGIC IS LURE AT WOMAN'S CLUB RECEPTION

Members And Guests

Robert Sharpe, magician, will entertain Friday evening, November 18, when the Women's Club holds its annual reception at 8:15 o'clock to associate members and guests in the club house. The president, Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn and her officers will receive.

It is the opinion of Mr. Sharpe, that magic has always fascinated people of all ages and classes.

As an example of this, during one week he entertained at a church minstrel show, a children's party, an orphan's home, a bachelor dinner, a night club, an insane asylum, a veterans' hospital, a woman's club, and even a deaf and dumb school. It took quick thinking to adapt himself to these different audiences.

While in Mexico, Mr. Sharpe had no language difficulties. Magic spoke for him through his performance, there as well as in other countries.

Among Natives

In Haiti, he almost started a riot among the natives when he asked for oranges with money in them. Although the fruit vender assured him that there were none, Mr. Sharpe opened an orange and took a coin from it. The terror-stricken natives were positive that he was casting the "evil eye" on them, and Robert Sharpe had to depart hurriedly.

Mr. Sharpe was born in St. Louis, Mo., and there received his education. In 1918 he entered the United States Navy, in which he served for the duration of the World War.

After leaving the Navy, he became an insurance broker. He was interested in magic and psychology, and in his spare time, entertained as a magician at club, church, and private engagements. In 1934, he became a professional magician and went to New York.

It was Mr. Sharpe's interest in the study of psychology that led him to take up magic and mind reading. His ability to keep his mind open enables him to receive "thought waves" from his subjects, an art that is eternally fascinating.

MANY EXPECTED AT GAMES PARTY

A monster Thanksgiving game party and Turkey award will be held by St. Peter's Social Society on Friday night, November 18, in the new school building. The members of the committee arranging the party are diligently working to make it even more successful than a similar affair held last year when the New School Building Fund was increased by approximately $1,100.

In addition to the giving away of ten turkeys, many of the awards will also consist of orders for turkeys which may be reserved for Thanksgiving.

Miss Teresa K. Salmon is general chairman of the committee on arrangements and Mrs. Thomas McNair is in charge of tickets. They are being assisted by the entire membership.

BREAK IS MADE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Ice Cream And $5 Were Taken And Vault
Tampered With

Gaining entrance through a boiler room window, police say, intruders over the week-end ransacked the high school. Some ice cream and about $5 were taken from the cafeteria.

While some plaster was cut away from the office vault with a paper knife, which was taken from the desk of Principal Hugh D. Kittle, the attempt to force open the vault was unsuccessful. Schools Business Manager Ruel E. Daniels Tuesday reported to authorities that entrance also had been made to Public School No. 7, Passaic avenue.

Laying The Barrage

Halloween is over but juicy tomatoes carry on. Bus drivers of the Crops-town line have complained to police that they are object of a barrage of the red, ripe, luscious vegetable each time they cross Belleville avenue at Union. So far the layers-down of the crossfire have eluded the authorities who are investigating.

While allegedly ransacking a service station early Monday morning at 519 Belleville avenue, Frank Petrosini, 27 Mt. Pleasant avenue, Newark, was nabbed by Police Sergeant Pearl and Patrolman Nygard, who were cruising near the station in a police car. Municipal Judge Everett B. Smith paroled the man in custody of his attorney to await Grand Jury action on a charge of breaking and entering.

The police were attracted to the service station when they saw a car parked near it and a window open in the building. Petrosini was found hiding in the station, police say.

Plans Are Progressing At Fewsmith Church For Men's Club Minstrel

Direction is under J. Edward Walker, Robert McNair is business manager. The club, consisting of over 100 members, is headed by Charles Carswell.

locutor and the end men will be Frank Stinson, Art Davis, Harold Snook, Robert Cox, Richard Bruegman and, Walter Babbitt. A specialty number will be given by John Rainie and music will be by Karl Dewe and his orchestra.

The director reports fine progress of the chorus of thirty-five male voices. Also will be heard a beautiful ballad written by a prison inmate, "There Must Be a Bright Tomorrow."

Tickets are obtainable from any member of the Fewsmith Men's Club, or by phoning the business manager, Mr. McNair at Belleville 2-3920-R. This is the first minstrel show by the club and the early indications of its success have already encouraged the club to make it an annual affair.

Armistice Day Proclamation

Whereas, on Friday, November 11, 1938, our citizens will pay tribute to the Americans who, with their lives, rendered a supreme duty and sacrifice to our country, and whereas, we pay tribute to those who offered their lives and were fortunate enough to return to their loved ones and their homeland, and

Whereas, we appreciate the civic contributions of the World War veterans who have taken their places in the economic and civil affairs of our town, state and nation, and

Whereas, on this twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, our citizens note the necessity of adhering to the ideals of our departed and living national defenders because of the growth of various "isms" which conflict with sound American fundamentals, now, therefore:

I, William H. Williams, Mayor of Belleville, urge our people to co-operate with the officers and members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, their auxiliaries and other groups in a fitting observance of the twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, and, as humble citizens, to express OUR appreciation of their efforts in upholding the high ideals, principles and ambitions which have made America known as the Land of the Free.

Win In Sweeping G.O.P. Election

Assemblyman Zink

Congressman Hartley

Zink And Hartley Win Easily As Civil Service Loses Here

Belleville Gets Its First State Senator At General Election

Sweeping to victory Tuesday in the General Election in the county, Assemblyman Homer C. Zink, Republican, becomes Belleville's first State Senator. Belleville piled in 4,517 for its native son as against 3,015 for Gerald McLaughlin, Democrat, his opponent. The county plurality was about 18,000 for Zink.

Reaching an all-time high in the Tenth Congressional District, Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., started on his tenth consecutive trek to Washington. He polled the largest vote in Belleville—5,062. His Democratic opponent, Lindsay H. Rudd walked off with 2,689 votes.

Henry Young, Jr., Republican, and candidates for Sheriff, had a ding-dong battle, Young getting 4,388 votes to Patterson's 3,125.

Civil Service Loses

Civil Service was defeated by a vote of 3,147 to 1,934.

The Republican Assembly slate led the Democrats here with Edgar Williams being tops with 4,498 votes. The Democratic slate was topped by George J. Christie, Belleville, and Mary C. O'Malley, each with 2,962. The plurality of other victorious Republican candidates, including freeholder slate was correspondingly the same.

There were 12,932 voters on the registration lists in comparison with 12,674 last General Election and 8,628 voted Tuesday as compared with 6,743 a year ago.

Barbour received 4,764 votes in Belleville and Ely 3,047.

Zink Statement

"This victory is a triumph for the voters of Essex County who are interested in economy and better government. The result is especially gratifying because it was possible to overthrow the forces that were determined to defeat good government. My only promise is to continue my efforts in the Legislature on behalf of the taxpayers," says Mr. Zink today.

"It is my hope that Tuesday's victory may mark the rebirth of a great and liberal Republican party in Essex County and in the State of New Jersey."

Hartley Extends Thanks

"I wish to express my deep appreciation to the citizens of Belleville for the great part they played in my re-election to Congress."

"This is the greatest victory I have ever scored, and it has impressed me with the deep responsibility that so great a victory places upon me."

"I am grateful for the editorial endorsement of The Belleville News, and it will be my earnest endeavor to merit the confidence which you expressed in me," said Congressman Hartley.

The only open opposition to Civil Service came from police chancemen and callmen of the fire department who issued circulars and campaigned against the measure for the last two weeks.

Williams Statement

Mayor William H. Williams, who advocated Civil Service and who was the prime factor in having the question placed on this year's ballot, today issued the following statement:

"I am sorry that Belleville citizens have rejected Civil Service. I had refused to believe that intelligent voters could be misled by false and vicious rumors circulated by men whose motives were purely selfish. I am sorry that Belleville has not kept step with the progressive towns in this state by placing its employees under Civil Service."

Zara was struck and thrown to the pavement by an automobile being driven west in the same thoroughfare by John O'Connor, nineteen, Arlington Cemetery, Arlington. Police Sergeant Beth and Patrolman Finn took the youth to the hospital in the town ambulance.

Twenty Years Have Passed But Vets Are Still In Line

Easy Come—Easy . . .

As a buyer a colored girl, Ruth, she said she was, is prolific. Barney Shargel, who operates a dry goods store at 480 Washington avenue, will vouch for this. The police later on may be able to vouch for the authenticity of Ruth's name. Barney saw the old cash register clicking merrily along as Ruth sauntered into his store Tuesday. She purchased from one end of the store to the other until she had accumulated a bill of $15.

Barney was elated. Certainly, he would cash a WPA check for $37.10. The address on the check was 155 Passaic avenue, Nutley, and the name also on it was John Smith.

Barney made change for Ruth, a slim miss, about five feet tall and thought no more of it until he deposited the check at a local bank.

Barney received a jolt. The check, set it developed from a checkbook with John Smith, was stolen from him, he said. Barney laments his sale—at least, up to the present.

Committee Urges At Least 800 Turn Out Reviving Victory Parade

The Belleville Veteran organizations have arranged a program that is worthy of the support of the town for tomorrow, Armistice Day. Otto T. Breunich, commander of Belleville Post, American Legion, urges that all men who served their country during the war come out and participate in this twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

Any service man, who can not attend the full day's program is urged to make a special effort to be present at some time and, if possible, fall in line for the evening parade.

Twenty years ago 800 Belleville boys, veterans of the World War, marched up Washington avenue dressed in the uniform of the Army, Navy and Marines, headed by Alexander Marshall, as grand marshal, and John Foster, chief of staff. It was a glorious sight to see the pride on the faces of these boys as they swung along to the applause of residents. The people of Belleville said they would never witness anything like it again.

Commander Breunich, grand marshal of this year's parade, quite agrees with the residents of that period because those boys are now middle-aged men. However, the same pride is still in their hearts in the thought that when their country needed them they wore the uniform with credit and now honorably discharged, still able to march up Washington avenue. Many of them have taken on the blue and gold uniform of the American Legion to signify their willingness to still participate in activities for the good of community, state and nation. Still a number of these boys will not be recognized as veterans as they now wear uniforms of the police and fire departments and are actively and honorably serving the town.

In the line of march will be included leading drum and bugle corps of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, resplendent in their gay and colorful uniforms. Among these will be Morristown Post, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, ranking fourth nationally. Come out and see your favorite organization in the line of march as listed in last week's issue of the Belleville News.

The Joint Armistice Day Committee, of which Thomas W. Fleming is chairman, is doing its utmost to make this program a worthy one to commemorate the twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. They would like to see those 800 boys of yesteryear out in line and although some have no uniform they are welcome to march with the boys.

"Just contact any member of the American Legion advising them you were in the parade twenty years ago. By doing that you will help us determine how many of the original 800 men are still in town. Any service man, having moved into Belleville since then, is urged to get in touch with the local Legion Post."

Come out on Armistice Day and let us show that Belleville can again put 800 service men in parade for old time's sake, says Arthur H. Christie, publicity chairman.

BOARD REAPPOINTS KEENAN AND SMITH

Corporation Counsel And Recorder Have Been On Job Six Years

The Town Commission Monday night unanimously re-appointed Corporation Counsel Lawrence E. Keenan for one year—from December 1—as provided by State Law—and at the same time also re-appointed Judge Everett B. Smith for two years, the term of office to start the same date.

This is Keenan's sixth consecutive appointment by unanimous approval of three different Town Commissions. He has not missed a regular, special or conference meeting since taking office and never has the town had to place a substitute for him in court in any town matter. Mr. Keenan, a former service man, has law offices at 228 Washington avenue. He was admitted to the bar in 1924.

Judge Smith also has served under three boards since the summer of 1932 when he first took office. This is his fourth full time appointment. His work as recorder is outstanding in the state. Mr. Smith has law offices at 810 Broad street, Newark, where he is affiliated with Reed and Reynolds, prominent law firm.

REPORTS CHEER CHEST WORKERS

Initial reports of workers on the Community Chest drive Monday night at a meeting in the Town Hall disclosed some encouraging information, says Floyd Bragg, president of the Welfare Federation.

Municipal Judge Everett B. Smith reported that $3,500 had been pledged and his year's total is expected to reach $6,000, the same amount as was raised last year.

While all house-to-house canvassers did not report Monday $400 was pledged up until that date. Clubs and lodges have pledged an additional $225 and the industrial division in charge of Walter Warwick, chairman of the drive, did not render a report.

"The response and reaction is splendid and very encouraging to workers," said Mr. Bragg today as he predicted this year's appeal would "go over the top."

The quota set for six participating agencies, Community Service Bureau, American Red Cross, Boy and Girl Scouts, Silver Lake Community House and Visiting Nurses' Association is $16,000, the same as last year.

King Association Meeting

The Joseph King Association Saturday night will be entertained with a movie, "Keeping Nature on the Course," after which there will be an election of trustees.

The club gave election returns Tuesday evening at headquarters, 414 Washington avenue. Refreshments were served.

Mead-Kurzman Lose

The only match played last week by Hal Mead and Henie Kurzman, popular Essex County shuffleboard champs, resulted in their first loss of the year. It also resulted in severance of relations with the Corner Tavern where the match was played.

At the three-quarter mark, Mead and Kurzman had run up a 75-69 lead over Joe Curran and Charlie Boyce, the tavern representatives. A few minutes later they had run this advantage up to 98-88.

At this point several persons decided they wanted the home boys to win and one of them, who was quite a bit on the weather-side, took up station beside Kurzman and hindered Henie from shooting in his regular style. This individual's method was to sit close enough to prevent a full swing and then to throw his arms over the table just as the shot was made.

These and other actions of the like permitted Curran and Boyce, who were not disturbed, to tie up the match at 99-all. All this despite vigorous protests to the management, who excused its patron's actions with "He is a very good customer." Curran and Boyce made the next point to win, 100-99.

Held For Grand Jury

Released in $100 cash bail by Recorder Everett B. Smith in Police Court, Ralph Vara, town employee, 8 Carner avenue, is awaiting Grand Jury action on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

Vara was arrested two weeks ago by Detective Captain Leighton and Detective Lee in connection with a series of thefts of automobile accessories. He was charged with having purchased a radio, steering wheel and other accessories stripped from a stolen car. He denied knowledge the parts were stolen. At the hearing here he admitted previously having been placed on three years' probation for an attempted hold-up.

Vara is a laborer.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1938

ELECTION IS OVER

Inevitable today are choruses of rejoicing and lamentation. Mingling with the cheers of victory are the wails of defeat. So must any election end.

The people have spoken. They have selected the men and the party in various degrees which they believe best fitted to administer the affairs of government. Their decision is final. The losers must accept it. The times are too perilous to do otherwise. They demand that politics die with the election. Politics has had its day. The campaign has run its due course. Its heat already has done much to melt confidence and courage, to shatter united effort.

Today the campaign is of the past and we must turn our backs to it, face an all-important future, a future that must be met in full array and strength. Together, not parted by campaign fever, partisan prejudice, Civil Service pros and cons, and disappointment, our people must meet the morrow.

With Lincoln they must agree that united we stand, divided we fall.

We must place our County, State and Nation before politics. Today, as never before, our Country needs cooperation, spirited, whole-hearted cooperation, inspired by a patriotism that towers above partisanship, grudges and disgruntlement.

Winners or losers, we must pull together, united under those chosen to lead us through a trying and crucial period.

We must crush the fatalistic campaign doctrine that victory by certain candidates means the end. Subscribing to such a fallacious theory is the surest way of making it true. Realizing the strength of our Country, its resourcefulness and will to win, we cannot, will not hold to any such despairing and unsporting philosophy.

Cooperation alone is our salvation. Already it has done much to save off ruin and to slowly turn the tide of battle upward. Industrial production has increased in the past months. Factory employment has increased slightly. Some of the basic industries and many of those most ill have lately shown signs of improvement. That conditions are improving is indisputable.

Whatever gain has been made is due, in great part, to the cooperative efforts of Americans; individuals, industrialists, bankers and statesmen. The unflagging faith of the bulk of the American population has played no small part in the measure of success thus far attained. Politics can claim no credit.

Let us realize that we are all in this economic upheaval together. The evils have no respect for Democrats or Republicans. The one can be as poor, hungry, frightened, despairing, and as dead as the other.

Elections have come and passed every year in American history, but we have gone on and upward, regardless of winner or loser.

Good losers and good winners fighting side by side cannot be defeated.

In passing let us compliment Belleville on the splendid vote it accorded Assemblyman Homer C. Zink, now State Senator-elect. Belleville should feel proud that it is the home of such an official. He can be counted upon to do his part.

That Civil Service lost here is no criterion that the town is going to the dogs. There were many angles that brought about the situation, one of the most humorous, if it may be termed that, the chance-vuepoint. They favor Civil Service but, because they were excluded from it, campaigned against it. Maybe next year with conditions reversed and these embryo bluecoats under blanket coverage of Civil Service, true to American tradition, they will be handing out circulars favoring it. Strange these elections, but a lot of fun and serious, too.

ARMISTICE DAY

Twenty years have passed. But we have not forgotten. We may seem to be engrossed in today's affairs, but that is because we are a busy nation, a nation more given to looking out for tomorrow than to wasting our energies on yesterday. We are not an exhibitionist nation. We are not a nation interested in "isms." We are slightly ashamed of displays of emotion. We pretend to be hard-boiled. We are proud of being practical. But at heart we are sentimental. Therefore, we have not forgotten.

We still get a thrill out of the memory of the stirring days of the Great War. We are just as proud as ever of the spirit which took our youth across the sea to fight for a cause, even though the cause itself may seem somewhat more vague with the passing of the years and the changing political set-up of countries "over there." We are not a spiteful people, and hence our hate for the erstwhile enemies has been dissipated. But our pride in our fighting men remains just as deep, hide it though we will by a mask of unconcern while our thoughts ponder on the future.

It is nothing of which to be ashamed. Let us put off the mask. Let us again give way to the inner urge, as we did twenty years ago when 800 bronzed Belleville lads in olive drab and blue marched proudly in a victory parade. The lads had come home. Most of them, hardened as they were with it all, felt the thrill of goose pimples as they walked along Washington avenue swinging in a fine cadence that is beyond them today—because they have grown a bit older, too. The boys were home and glad to march here. They are asked to turn out again tomorrow—to demonstrate that they still love this grand old United States. We do not wish to be a militaristic people. We do not wish to be a domineering people. Thank the Lord we have no dictators and that we can eat and sleep and talk and write with freedom. But we are a patriotic people, and must remain so if we are to avert the decadence which inevitably follows national indifference.

Tomorrow—Armistice Day—let us throw off our disguise, and openly applaud our Country's defenders.

BUSINESS AND POLITICS

About a year ago the bottom suddenly dropped from under the flow of business and, as income fell, it became necessary to lay off thousands of workers.

Politicians immediately jumped on this to prove that business did not want recovery and charged that the depression was conceived as a political move by business to embarrass the present national administration.

It would be interesting to know how these political economists now explain the fact that just a few weeks before the election, at a time when more men should have been laid off to carry such a strategy through, industry found its markets coming back and rehired many of those laid off. The automobile industry alone, which was reputed to be the big bad wolf of the scheme, called back more than 100,000 workers within a month before the elections.

Perhaps, though, the politicians would prefer that the subject not be raised. It is as difficult for them to explain how it happened that business turned upward in the Spring before the new pump-priming funds could be hauled to the pump.

CHEST REPORTS GRATIFYING

Volunteer workers on the Community Chest drive for $16,000 to support six worthwhile agencies in Belleville are elated with the response for funds to carry on these endeavors.

Belleville must raise this quota this year to keep its head above water. Deficits year after year place the chest in a precarious situation and call for curtailment in activities that are essential to Belleville. Let's all give to the best of our ability. Let's put this drive over and show that we appreciate the efforts of our neighbors who are willing to do good for our town without any thought of being reimbursed. Let's keep these volunteer workers encouraged. They are doing a real job.

HEALTHIEST YEAR

Americans may well feel elated that 1938 promises to be the healthiest year on record. Barring an epidemic, the surgeon-general of the United States Public Health Service sees this year as a banner one in the United States. The first six months of the year produced the lowest death rate ever known. The death rate from all diseases in the first six months of 1938 showed a decrease of eight and one-half per cent over the similar period in 1937. Many people may find much to complain about in 1938, but if it turns out to be the healthiest in history it is something to boast about.

STILL FIGHTING FOR DEMOCRACY

THIS WEEK

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The election is over—and it is estimated that well over forty million American citizens exercised their most precious privilege—that of voting.

That must be very gratifying to those who felt that this was to be a test of our democratic form of government for if forty million citizens, despite weather and personal convenience, thought enough of their right of franchise to vote—that Democracy is sufficiently precious to see to it that our basic democratic institutions are not jeopardized.

From the National standpoint, there are definite signs that the people who vote are saying to the present Administration, "Put the brakes on public spending—go easy on your plans for centralization—stop trying to regiment everything, make further efforts to make the outgo stay within the income and balance the budget."

No other interpretation can be made of the gain by the Republican Party of what is now estimated to be seventy-five seats in the National Congress. And we believe because the leaders of the present Administration are very intelligent politicians, that these signs will be heeded and we should expect a decided improvement in the general feeling of optimism and general tone of business in the not distant future.

In New Jersey this election—at least for the moment—gave a serious jar to the supremacy of Mayor Hague's Hudson County machine. The return of the experienced Senator Barbour to the United States Senate is an encouraging recognition of the value of experience—and a fine demonstration that just because a man has headed a W.P.A. administration in a State did not mean that he was blind and such a job

Aunt Flo's Column

Dear Aunt Flo:—There is little that you will be able to say to a poor broken-hearted old lady like me. Yet at this time of year my misery is so much more real, that I guess I am coming to you just to let out my heart to someone. Back in 1917 my only son, a promising and wonderful boy, marched off to serve in that murderous thing called the World War. He did not come back and, ever since, I have lived in a world of misery, hating everyone, even myself, for why should this terrible thing have happened to me. As Armistice Day draws near I feel almost crazed and ill. I wonder if the people who wave flags and cheer so joyfully ever think what it means to lose a wonderful boy forever and spend a life of loneliness.

A Gold Star Mother.
Dear Mother: You could not have come to anyone who would sympathize with you more than I do. I am not old enough to have a son who served in the World War. My son came to me the year after the war ended and he is now about the age that your son was then and I know how very much I should hate to give him up, especially to engage in any kind of warfare. However, I am not going to help you very much if I encourage you to go on feeling as you do, for I am sure no aching heart was ever cured by staying at home and nursing hatred and resentment in one's thoughts.

Your cure will come when you can forget your own self so completely that you will go out and do something for the boys who did come back—there were a great number of them and so many who did not find their dear old mother to welcome them, either.
Now did you ever think of that end of it? No, of course not, so you better begin right now and the best way to do that is to get in touch with the President of the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars located is not a guarantee of election to a political office.

In our judgment, Ely's very poor taste and judgment in attempting to give a political flavor to his remarks at the dedication of the Rutgers Stadium last Saturday afternoon cost him many votes. Certainly it should have done so for it was exceedingly poor taste.

With a gain of four Republican seats in the House of Representatives the New Jersey delegation will be eleven Republicans and three Democrats—a little too one-sided for true bi-party representation. We are happy that Representative Hartley was re-elected for he has served this State and Belleville well. We were sorry to see Congressman Towey defeated just because he was a Democrat for he has been an excellent representative of the 12th Congressional District, truly reflecting the views of a majority of his constituents despite his party label.

We are, of course, delighted that Belleville's own Homer Zink was elected State Senator by a handsome plurality and all of the citizens of Belleville will rally to his support in carrying out the high ideals and fine objectives that are his.

Practically the only regret that we see this morning on the political horizon is that there were 4304 people in Belleville who had the right to vote and who didn't exercise that privilege. That is too bad. Out of a registration of 12,932 voters, only 8,628 voters went to the polls as contrasted with 10,592 who voted in the 1936 Presidential election.

Those of the 4,304 who were not prevented from voting by physical incapacitation or reasons beyond their control should do a lot of thinking. If they want to continue to enjoy the type of life that this country affords, they must do their share and their first responsibility was to vote.

Yours 'til next week,
"GUARDIAN"

A barn dance was being arranged by the Valley Improvement Association to be held in Public School No. 1 auditorium. On the committee of arrangements were: Chairman, William Wanhoe, Mrs. Josephine Tiger, Mrs. Fred Kraft, Anna Conklin, Mrs. Angelina Botto, William Buckley, Walter Gresham and Mrs. Mary Galanot.

Although windows of stores and automobiles were soaped, doorbells rung and the ash cans of unwary householders overturned, Halloween came and went in Belleville with little disturbance. Grotesquely garbed figures roamed the streets, summing amused residents to the doors to render tribute in the form of candy, apples and nuts.

Recorder Everett B. Smith, chairman of the house-to-house committee of the Community Chest Appeal had mailed out 400 letters asking co-operation of that many residents on the committee. A rally at the Town Hall started the appeal.

First award at a Halloween party held by Court Gratia, C.D.A., went to Mrs. Thomas Reilly, as a great-grandmother; the second, Mrs. Eugene Sullivan, as a Chinaman. Mrs. Andrew Gartland was chairlady of the affair, assisted by Mrs. Walter Stager and Mrs. J. M. Cox. Mrs. Mary Brohal was grand regent at that time.

Editor News:
On behalf of the Case Committee of the Community Service

Municipal Management

by Mayor & Finance Director, William H. Williams

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

This column will be conducted by Mayor Williams not only in the interest of those who may propound a question, but the general public. It is designed to acquaint taxpayers with the many problems confronting public officials on the theory that a better understanding between the public and officials will develop.

At the present time I am checking the 1938 expenditures and receipts of our Town, and an analysis of the collections of current and delinquent taxes, assessments and receipts of anticipated revenues.

Our Board of Commissioners must include the State costs, County costs, Passaic Valley Sewer Commission costs, and local School costs in the local budget, even though your Board of Commissioners has no voice in the costs of said Boards or Commissions.

I believe many taxpayers may have suggestions of helpfulness towards developing a thorough understanding of the expenses of Town operation.

Will the readers of The Belleville News send me recommendations or suggestions which they think may aid in obtaining greater returns for dollars expended, or that may aid in lowering costs of present service?

Every recommendation will be studied. If practical, efforts will be made to adopt same, and if not possible of adoption, reasons will be outlined. Through the courtesy of this paper, an opportunity is available to many citizens to be helpful in developing civic interest in Belleville and to aid in eliminating many misunderstandings arising through inaccurate explanations of budget laws and budget operations. Each year changes are required in budget preparation, due to changing legislation and regulations, and I will be pleased to acquaint our citizens with facts and legal requirements, and at the same time citizens can be helpful to their public officials.

At a later date, prior to any legal action on the 1939 budget, I will arrange to hold an open meeting on the pattern of a New England town meeting where citizens can discuss the various budget items and municipal services.

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Was the majority in excess of 100,000 given W. Warren Barbour Tuesday a rebuke primarily of the New Deal or Frank Hague? Opinions differ, and both undoubtedly contributed to William H. J. Ely's surprising defeat. It is my own belief that antagonism to Hague's recent policy concerning free speech and assembly played the greater role.

Meador Wright

I have pointed out the scope of the campaign against Hague's policies that has been waged by the New York press. A study of the returns indicates that it was the readers of the New York papers—otherwise styled the commuter vote—that contributed most to Ely's defeat. Essex gave Barbour a 52,000 majority. Bergen gave him 46,000; Union, 28,000. These are the great commuter counties.

Discussed Hague Question

I pointed out in this column last week the potentialities of this anti-Hague sentiment, and that it might bring about Barbour's election. Even so, I did not sense the extent of the sweep, or that it would be augmented by a parallel anti-New Deal trend. But the majority of 134,000 given Ely in Hudson demonstrates anew the tremendous power of Hague's personal organization.

The outcome of the county election followed closely the predictions of this column last week, except that the majorities in every case were higher for the Republican candidates. Freeholder candidates won by an average of 40,000, whereas I had placed 30,000 as the top limit. Assembly candidates won by an average of 30,000 where I had given them 25,000. Henry Young, Jr. ran 13,000 votes behind his assembly colleagues in the contest for sheriff. I estimated this defection vote at 10,000. Homer C. Zink defeated Gerald McLaughlin for state senator by approximately 18,000 votes.

Zink Trained Assembly

This was 12,000 votes behind the assembly average, much in excess of my estimate of 5,000 votes. Commissioner Pearce R. Franklin of Newark is blamed for this heavy cutting of Zink and Young. I have heard many predictions that Franklin's party standing will be permanently discredited because of it.

Zink by virtue of being chosen for the second most important elective office in the state likewise assumes new importance as a county leader. He is tactful and serious in the performance of his duties, both in legislation and the dispensation of patronage.

Speaking of county leadership, there are certain to be many uncharitable comparisons in the Barbour majority of Tuesday over that of Dr. Lester H. Clea last year. Barbour's majority was nearly 40,000 in excess of Clea's.

Family Life Problems Today

By Mrs. Julia O. Reiner

Community Service Bureau

"The Child is Father to the Man."

A few months ago a nurse reported to us that in a certain home an eleven-months-old baby was being left alone while the father went to work, the mother being ill in a hospital. The nurse arranged for the young father to consult with the Community Service Bureau. He was a young man of twenty-two, who told us that his wife was in the hospital having her second child. He had no idea how unwise it was to leave the baby alone while he went to work until first the nurse and then our case worker pointed out that neighbors would consider him neglectful.

He was earning a very small wage and could not afford to pay anyone to stay with the baby, and no relatives were near enough to help. He welcomed our suggestion that we could provide a housekeeper temporarily and this plan was put into effect the same day.

Ten days later the young mother came home. The hospital told us she was in a very weak condition and should remain in bed for several weeks. This meant that the need for a housekeeper continued, and in addition both Bureau I wish to commend the Board of Education on its recent action to establish a dental clinic in connection with the School System.

Last year our Case Committee studied a number of cases in which there was an obvious need for dental care of children which could not be met in Belleville as no resources existed for this purpose. In May we wrote to the Board of Education, informing it of our findings and urging the establishment of a dental clinic at the earliest possible time. We are highly gratified with the prompt action which has been taken. This will begin to meet a real need which will have a positive value for our school children now and in the years to come.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. IRENE P. MCCORKLE
Chairman, Case Committee

the mother and new baby needed special diet and care. We were able to provide the specially needed items for six weeks. During this time we had an opportunity to meet the father's relatives and learned that they lived in a neighboring city.

The grandmother could not help with money but she suggested that if the young couple could come to live near her, she would help her daughter-in-law and the babies. She agreed that the couple had married very young and still had a great deal to learn. It was evident that the grandmother had this little family's welfare very much at heart. We helped them finally with the moving, where they will have the kindly help which the grandmother is able to offer them.

One family in three who come to the Community Service requires assistance in adjusting family difficulties. This is made possible by contributions to the Community Chest and individual voluntary contributions.

The M. D. Says

Tularemia is an infectious disease often carried by rodents, such as rabbits and squirrels, which may be transmitted to man. It may be transmitted to man through any abrasion in the skin when direct contact is made with an infected animal, or by eating infected meat which has not been thoroughly cooked. Thorough cooking destroys the causative organism.

Hunters and trappers should exercise the following precautions to avoid contracting this communicable and very painful disease:

1. Don't handle rabbits or squirrels found dead in the woods.
2. Be suspicious of rabbits and squirrels which are lacking in the natural energy characteristic of them.
3. Wear rubber gloves when handling or cleaning these animals after shooting them.
4. Be sure the meat is thoroughly cooked, preferably boiled.

Community Chest Appeal

by

Mayor William H. Williams

On behalf of the many youths and adults of Belleville who, because of illness and adverse economic conditions, are relying on the generous sentiments of those of us who are favored with good health and possessed of material assets, and in full appreciation of the sacrificing willingness of over 100 of our good citizens in volunteering their time to call on their fellow citizens in behalf of the welfare of our less fortunate neighbors, I most respectfully ask each and all of the good folks of Belleville to be gracious to the Community Chest Committee workers and accept a request for a contribution as an opportunity to help a neighbor in need.

$16,000 is the Community Chest Goal. We in Belleville know full well that:

The Visiting Nurses' Association
The American Red Cross
Boys Scouts and Girl Scouts of America
Silver Lake Community House
Community Service Bureau

are, individually and collectively, carrying on work our town can ill afford to have suspended.

By our contributions, each contributing as his own conscience and personal ability will permit, we can develop a greater neighborly friendliness in our town. Even though we sacrifice to help a less fortunate soul, we gather to ourselves a reward of satisfaction which makes the sacrifice soon forgotten.

I assure you of my utmost confidence in the charitable and humane interests of the ladies and gentlemen who supervise the work and finances of the Belleville Welfare Federation, and publicly thank them for their efforts in making Belleville a better community. Every dollar contributed and placed in their hands will be most carefully guarded and allotted only for most necessary cases.

Let us all consider placing our names on the honor roll of contributors to the Belleville Community Chest. The contribution of $1 from a person of limited resources will be appreciated as highly as the contribution from a person giving from a greater resource.

Mayor William H. Williams

P.S. - My personal and official thanks are extended to the proprietors of The Belleville News for the space afforded to me without cost for the above appeal.

Bellboys Get Break In Game Against Kearny Kardinal Squad

Local Players Make Own Breaks And Win By 13-6 Score

The breaks of the game, which were nearly always bad as far as Belleville was concerned in the early part of the season, have started a gradual shift in the other direction. The Bellboys manufactured their own breaks last Saturday and whipped a stubborn Kearny eleven, 13-6.

Once again it was Ed Slavin who played the principal role in the Blue and Gold triumph. Offensively, however, he was closely seconded by Chet Kuchinski. The Kuchinski-Slavin forward passing combination worked to perfection early in the second quarter when Chet and Ed worked two passes in a row for twenty-five yards and the first score of the game.

The Cardinals came back strong after the intermission, tied up the score in a few plays. The scoring was accomplished with a 30-yard pass from Forfar to Harry Pinkelstein, Kearny's 150-pound erstwhile guard, playing halfback for the day.

This was the situation in the closing minutes of the game — score tied at 6-6 and neither side able to gain much ground through the determined line on the other side of the ball.

Slavin Runs 70 Yards

Then Forfar dropped back and punted a long one down to Slavin, who caught it on his own 29-yard line. Off in a flash, Slavin tore straight down the field, twisting and dodging his way through the entire West Hudson eleven to be pulled down on the one-yard line by Jack Foy. It was a beautiful 70-yard run which set up the clinching touchdown.

After Belleville was penalized five yards for backfield in motion, Slavin went over on the second play. A neat little forward, Kuchinski, to Dan Stellatella, added the thirteenth and final point.

Offensively it was Kuchinski and Slavin who stood out, but Hollweg and Frunzi were important cogs in every play. Defensively, Ray Tenpenny and Al Zuzzio were the best on the field, breaking through time and again to stop the Cardinals.

Once again it was Ed Slavin who played the principal role in the Blue and Gold triumph. Offensively, however, he was closely seconded by Chet Kuchinski. The Kuchinski-Slavin forward passing combination worked to perfection early in the second quarter when Chet and Ed worked two passes in a row for twenty-five yards and the first score of the game.

The Cardinals came back strong after the intermission, tied up the score in a few plays. The scoring was accomplished with a 30-yard pass from Forfar to Harry Pinkelstein, Kearny's 150-pound erstwhile guard, playing halfback for the day.

This was the situation in the closing minutes of the game — score tied at 6-6 and neither side able to gain much ground through the determined line on the other side of the ball.

Slavin Runs 70 Yards

Then Forfar dropped back and punted a long one down to Slavin, who caught it on his own 29-yard line. Off in a flash, Slavin tore straight down the field, twisting and dodging his way through the entire West Hudson eleven to be pulled down on the one-yard line by Jack Foy. It was a beautiful 70-yard run which set up the clinching touchdown.

Miss Thelma I. Wiest Becomes Bride Of Edward Rafter at Church Wedding

Miss Thelma Irene Wiest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiest, 178 Union avenue, was married Saturday evening at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church by Dr. O. Bell Close, pastor of the church, to Edward Rafter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rafter, 169 De Witt avenue. Arthur Ackerman, church organist, played the wedding march. Mrs. Carl Bender of Maplewood, was matron of honor, Miss Gunderman, this town, and Miss Louise Carissimi, Newark, bridesmaids, and Doris Rafter and Donna Wiest, flower girls. Albert Rafter, Glen Ridge, was best man. Ushers were Robert Rafter, Irvington, another brother, and Har-Brumback and Donald Brown, Belleville.

The bride's wedding gown was of white satin in princess style. She wore a veil falling from a braided hair trimmed with orange blossoms. White roses and lilies of the valley formed her bouquet. The matron of honor wore royal blue velvet and a shoulder veil caught with tea roses. She carried matching roses. The bridesmaids, in duobonnet velvet with shoulder length veils, had pink roses. The flower girls wore long dresses of blue velvet and carried baskets of yellow roses.

There was a reception at the Club Evergreen, Bloomfield. After a trip to Virginia the couple will reside at the Union avenue address.

Final plans for the annual dance of the Sisterhood of Congregation A.A.A., 317 Washington avenue, were announced at the last meeting.

The committee under the able leadership of Mrs. Morris Cohen and Mrs. Harry Mellion are working tirelessly to make this affair a gala event.

Music for the dance, which will be held in the large social hall of the Synagogue, Thanksgiving Evening, November 23, will be provided by Benny Fairbanks and his orchestra.

The proceeds of the affair will, as usual, be used in the charitable endeavors of the organization. Tickets may be procured from any members of the entertainment committee.

Cambourakis Soloist For Nutley Symphony

Nicos Cambourakis, Nutley, eminent violinist and teacher, will play the Mendelssohn E minor Concerto for violin and orchestra at the first concert of the Nutley Symphony Society tonight at the High School auditorium.

Mr. Cambourakis, who is well known on the concert stage, has played this favorite composition many times on tours, not only in America, but in Russian, Southern Europe and North Africa. He was a pupil of Seligman at the Russian Imperial Conservatory and studied under Auer and Graffman in this country.

The complete program for the concert to be given under the direction of William Oscar, conductor, follows: Fingal's Cave Overture, Mendelssohn; Symphony Number 7, Beethoven; Finlandia, Sibelius; Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in E Minor, Mendelssohn, Nicos Cambourakis, soloist, and Hungarian Rhapsody Number 2, Liszt.

Adhering to the precedent established by the Nutley Symphony, the concert will start exactly at 8:30 and concert goers are requested to be in their seats promptly.

Available Town-Owned Sites

Recent advertisements of the Town of Belleville displayed photographs of homes and industrial plants — definite evidence of the desirability of properties owned by the Town and offered for sale.

Practically each meeting night your Board of Commissioners authorizes the public auction of building sites upon requests of prospective purchasers. Such sales are helpful, but small in comparison to the $750,000 worth of real estate by which the Town is deprived of the benefits of the price of the sale of such properties and the tax return on the land and the value of buildings which would result if such properties were returned to ratables.

Each property owner and taxpayer is and will be affected in their tax bill by the amount of property — more or less — sold by the Town of Belleville.

The Belleville News in its editorial of Sept. 30, 1938, treated on this matter very aptly and definitely when it advised its readers —

“We see that lots purchased from the Town of Belleville are just as usable and desirable as lots purchased from individuals.”

The important phase is this:

“Probably the most available tax relief to our taxpayers is the sale of property owned by the Town.

“Every Belleville taxpayer—real estate broker—attorney and builder can help themselves and at the same time render a valuable service to our municipality by becoming conscious of, and interested in the fact that Belleville has desirable properties for sale.”

Help your municipality by considering town properties when you contemplate building. — Advise your friends of the opportunities available to them in your town.

Your inquiry for information on residential, industrial or business properties to be sold by Town of Belleville will receive prompt attention. Municipal Bldg., Belleville, N. J.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

276 Main Street, Passaic.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday in all Christian Science Churches and Societies throughout the world.

The golden text is: "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

Among the lesson-sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

The lesson-sermon also includes this passage from the Christian Science textbook: "In divine Science, God and the real man are inseparable as divine Principle idea . . . Mortals will disappear, and immortals, or the children of God, will appear as the only and eternal verities of man."

Parents Experience Typical School Day At Back-to-School Night Here

Local Student Talent Was Feature Of Affair In High School

Parents of Belleville High School students Monday night

visited the classes their children attend and were entertained by high school talent in a typical assembly program. The regular opening exercises, including flag salute, school creed, scripture reading, and Lord's Prayer, were observed. Harold Kreismer, as usual, played the bugle calls.

After an announcement of adult education classes by Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer and a welcome from the Board of Education delivered by President Herbert C. Schmutz, the program got under way with a welcoming speech by Dorothy Newton, representing the public speaking classes.

Other performances followed in rapid succession. The High School orchestra rendered "Mosaic Overture."

Kathryn Haffner sang a "Ave Maria," Shirley Fritz gave a toe tap dance, then Johnny DiChiana earned an encore for his breath-taking performance on the accordion, playing "Poet and Peasant" and "Accordiana." Geraldine Miller rendered the difficult strains of "Czarbas" by Monti on the violin.

William Prophet and Ted Niewiadomski started and finished together on the trumpet duet, "Short and Sweet," by T. V. Short. Bobbie Kimble entertained with a tap dance and Margaret Jones sang "Little Lady Make Believe" and "Ebb Tide." Carol Carswell, who has played the clarinet in Essex County and All-State orchestras, rendered "Scene and Airs." June Reynolds, in a drum major costume, did a toe dance.

The program was concluded with five numbers by Harold Kreismer and his orchestra. The curtain went up with the orchestra playing the "Victory March." Other numbers were "Sweet Sue," "So Help Me," "Cute Little Hat-Check Girl" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Wesley Konrad sang the last one. Their program ended with "Home Sweet Home." The band is composed of Kreismer, trumpet; Louis Kreismer, piano; Herbert Mithon, saxophone and clarinet; Leonard Atkins, saxophone and clarinet, and Wilbur Cipperly, drums.

Science Classes

Evan Richardson stated that he was trying to hold the interest of the general science students so that they would choose physics, chemistry and senior science in later years. Simple apparatus such as a milk-bottle barometer and an eight-tone xylophone and charts made by the pupils were displayed.

Norman Cotter had a grand display of rats, preserved flowers, turtles and snakes. He startled parents by searching for an imaginary rat somewhere in the room.

Murray Wilcox demonstrated principles of physics with static electricity by friction, charges of over 15,000 volts, lights in parallel and series circuits, a simple St. Louis open-type electric motor, an iron bar floating in air by magnetic repulsion, and other amazing experiments.

Frank Spotts explained to the parents that senior science is taught with examples in everyday life.

Mathematics

Miss Esther Keitzman stated that in her algebra classes practical problems and applications are used.

Herbert Bitterman demonstrated his teaching methods to the parents.

Mrs. Myrtle Allen showed a film of medieval chateaux in France.

L. Howard Fox described to the parents the vocal organs and the

The girls under the supervision of Misses Ferrara and Leahy did exercises, tap dancing and played basketball.

There was an exhibit of posters, illustrations, oil paintings, charcoal drawings, clay and soap sculptures in P. Webster Diehl's art department.

David Fulcomer instructed the parents in touch typing and they were permitted to use the machines.

The machines were explained to the parents by Charles Schultz.

Case Committee Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Case Committee of the Community Service Bureau was held in the Bureau offices, 330 Washington Avenue, on Thursday morning when it was decided to postpone the December meeting one week—from December 1 to December 8—because many of the group are planning to attend the state conference of social work on December 1 and 2 at Asbury Park.

Two cases, recently referred by the schools for child guidance, were discussed. It was agreed that it is important to obtain early findings on the mental and physical abilities of children in order that suitable treatment may be planned.

Those present were Mrs. Morris Rochlin, secretary, Mrs. J. W. Haworth, Mrs. William Hunt, Mrs. Herbert V. Hardman, Mrs. Harry MacBriar, Ms. Elmer Peterson, Miss Doris Scharfberg, Miss Mary Millar, representing school nurses, Miss Ross, Visiting Nurse Association, Wayne R. Parmer and Mrs. Ethelyn Murphy.

Attendance Contest

Everyman's Bible Class inaugurated a contest for attendance Sunday to last for twelve weeks, between the Red and Blue Armies. This is the outcome of a challenge hurled at Max Seiler, general of the Red Army, by George Rawcliffe, the Blues. The Reds have been having excellent turnouts since the opening Sunday and the Blues are not to be outdone.

John Ellsworth is assisting the Blue Army in organizing captains and is doing yeoman work. A lively contest is promised.

The executive committee is making plans for a Ladies' Day to be held toward the end of November with a fine musical program. The exact date will be announced at classes.

Rummage Sale

The semi-annual rummage sale of the Ladies' Guild will be held in Christ Church Parish House, 397 Washington Avenue, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Mrs. J. The first meeting was held on Monday afternoon, October 31, at which the following officers were elected: President, Grace Weiss; vice-president, Grace Meade; secretary, Marjorie Ings; treasurer, Adell Kleinknecht, and chairman of programs, Blossom Huizer.

BOARD APPOINTS NEW TEACHERS

Will Establish New Class In Home Economics In Schools

The Board of Education has recently approved the appointments of the following teachers as of October 1, at a salary of $1,200: Jane C. Pichinello, School No. 7; Marie Goodenough, No. 8; Emil James Jantausch, No. 1; Maude S. Miller, No. 2; Mrs. Kathleen Judge Smalley, No. 8; and Mrs. Helen Forbes Kanouse, No. 1.

Mrs. Kanouse is a widow and Mrs. Smalley, formerly of the system, left three years ago to get married. She is a "very successful teacher," said Supervising Principal Wayne R. Farmer, and we are extremely glad to get her back.

Miss Evelyn L. Pleister also was appointed as of October 1, at a salary of $1,400 to supervise the proposed sight conservation class, the cost of which will have to be transferred from some appropriation in which a saving may be made because there are no funds for the class in the budget. This developed at the last meeting when the board, believing it had such funds available, was told by Business Manager Ruf E. Daniels such was not the case.

Miss Miriam Ruth Heidenreich, as soon as she is able to obtain a release from her present position in Washington, N. J., will take up her duties as teacher in the special class in Public School No. 8 at a salary of $1,200.

Home Economics Course

On recommendation of the Teachers' Committee the board decided to institute the General Home Economics Course of Study in the schools as prepared by the State Department of Public Instruction, Vocational Division.

Due to the fact that many teacher appointments were held up until October 1, the substitute payroll for September showed a large increase over the usual monthly cost, reaching a total of $1,480.50, provision for which is made in the budget.

The board intends to brush up on the 1938 school law decisions and school laws of the same year through purchase of two copies of each of the books.

"Crazy" would be the word for a Schiaparelli dress green on one side and red on the other. The same adjective has been attached, until quite recently, to the tonal combinations on an instrument known as discords. But style changes in music, as elsewhere. It is interesting to start from a point in the past and trace the gradual evolution of our present fashion.

In the eighteenth century, Johann Sebastian Bach used the contrapuntal style. That is, he would start out with a little tune or musical thought and repeat it again and again but sometimes at higher or lower pitches. He didn't intend to form chords or harmony but this was occasionally the result of playing two such melodies simultaneously.

The Classicists, Haydn and Mozart, were lovers of sheer architectural beauty. For them, one musical idea must be followed in answer by another of exactly the same length. At certain places the music must change key and at others, parts are re-iterated, possibly with variation.

It's got looks—and so have you!

EYE OPENER! With all its extra value, this Buick sedan lists at $51 less than last year!

It makes the eye glad and grateful—you spot that the instant your gaze takes in this sparkling Buick for 1939.

It's sleek and swift and businesslike, lean and clean in every line, the trim bonnet low-set, the graceful upper-structure light-and-airy looking, neat and fine.

Will you step in, please, and look it over closer?

Why, it's almost like being in an open car, with the outlook you've got here!

The long nose tapers quickly out of eye-way, the pillars modestly retire to the background, overhead stop lights drop into easy vision—ahead, to right, to left, you can see!

The ruler will tell you there are as much as 413 added square inches of safety glass in this Buick, and these inches are placed where they count.

It has a lot to do with making Buick beautiful, this grand expanse of openness!

And like "catwalk-cooling": radiators low where air pressure is greatest—and the lines of the bonnet: broad, clean, aerodynamically better—

Easy on the eye—easy to buy—on General Motors Terms!

"Better buy Buick the Beauty!"

PROFESSIONAL DISTRESS

NERVE STRAIN—MENTAL ANGUISH

Doctors and their social duties sometimes have a hard time making connections, and often are the despair of their family and friends.

It may not be generally thought that the modern Doctor takes the case of the patient as much to heart as the old family physician, but those who live close to Doctors will tell you a different story. The Physician who tries to divert his mind, or fulfill social obligations, with a seriously ill patient in his thoughts, is a very absent-minded theatre companion or bridge partner.

The Doctor expecting a momentary summons, is not free from mental strain or wakeful nights. When he finds the case beyond human or scientific help, only the immediate family grieves more than the Doctor. Of course it is up to the Doctor not to show distress, and to keep nerve strain under leash, but modern Physicians take their profession seriously, and want just as sincerely to make and keep you well as the old-fashioned general practitioner.

Get acquainted with your Doctor.
