WEAVERS VOTE ON EASTWOOD-NEALLY STRIKE SITUATION

Will They Or Will They Not Go Back Is The Question

With the executive committee of the national organization of the weavers' union meeting in New York all week and in Newark Monday and Tuesday of this week, the situation of the wire weavers remaining out at Eastwood-Neally Corp. plant is being reviewed. The weavers, while not on strike, are out because they refuse to cross a picket line of machinists who have been on strike for some time.

Weavers are reticent to say what transpired when they took a vote either Monday or Tuesday before their executive board, but it is rumored that fifty-eight to eighty of the local members agreed to go back to work even if it meant crossing the line. At the time of going to press Wednesday, however, other spokesmen for the weavers say that the group is just as far from crossing the line as ever—that the case is right back where it was.

Meantime speculation is rife that things are being ironed out and that the shop may be operating before many more days elapse.

As usual, no statement is forthcoming from officials of the company, although it is said Calvin Neally, Landon Carter and Harry Specht, officials, sat in at some of the weavers' conferences. This could not be verified, however.

LIBRARY EXHIBITS PRODUCTS OF WESTINGHOUSE

Recent visitors to the Belleville Public Library have evinced much interest in a display of the products of a local manufacturing plant—the Belleville Base Works of the Westinghouse Lamp Division. The exhibit, which is the work of a local manufacturer, displays a variety of products, including Mazda lamps, X-ray and electronic tubes, and allied devices.

According to James B. Whitmore, superintendent, the local plant, which employs approximately 200 people, is responsible for an annual production of over 200 million metal and composition bases of some 100 different types which are used in the assembly of finished products in the Bloomfield and Trenton plants of the Westinghouse Lamp Division.

In addition to the variety of bases made in Belleville, the library exhibit includes a display of some of the more unusual of the 10,000 or more different types of modern Mazda lamps made by Westinghouse. Among these latter is a tiny surgeon's lamp no larger than a grain of wheat and consuming less than one-fourth watt of electricity. In contrast, there is a powerful 10,000 watt lamp, twelve inches in diameter and eighteen inches long, used to produce the intense light needed in movie studios.

Because of the important part Belleville plays in the production of such a vital commodity as the Mazda lamp, the library display is proving of much more than passing interest to local residents. The exhibit will be staged for three weeks.

CHEST DRIVE FALLS UNDER QUOTA

Chairman Warrick Reports Three-Quarters Is Subscribed

When all reports are in, Walter Warrick, campaign manager of the Community Chest drive, expects the total collected to go over the $12,000 raised last year. This amount will be about three-quarters of the quota set—$16,000. The drive officially closed last Wednesday but returns are not yet complete.

The best record in the present drive was made by the house-to-house canvass division, jointly headed by Walter Price and Mrs. Irene McCorkle. This group raised 98 per cent of its quota, the best percentage in the history of Belleville's Community Chest drives.

According to Warrick, all divisions with the exception of special gifts will exceed the amounts raised last year. "The quotas were the same for both years."

The division covering clubs and lodges, headed by George Weston, has also exceeded any previous year's record in percentage of quota raised.

Noll Protests Proposed Bus Time Schedule Change

Sees Need To Check Up On Nos. 13 and 18 Bus Lines

The Town Commission Tuesday night passed a resolution protesting to the Public Utility Commission against proposed time schedules for the Belleville-Nutley-Irvington bus route No. 13 and the North Newark-Irvington route No. 18. Irvington has a similar action, it is said.

Reporting on the matter, Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll, who is in charge of transportation with his chief clerk, Charles Tedesco, said that "at present there are 122 through trips to Irvington from Nutley and the proposed change will reduce the number of such trips to thirty-four, a reduction of eighty-eight trips per day."

He also said that the present 133 through trips from Second River to Irvington center will be sliced twenty-four to 109. Belleville's southbound 170 trips per day to the same place would be cut to seventy-nine, a reduction of 91 trips per day, he added, and the same numbers apply to northbound traffic.

"Last year when Public Service asked for the substitution from trolleys to all-service buses, it needed a 107 per cent increase in trips," he explained. "Public Service stating that such an increase was necessary to take care of the smaller capacity of the buses. The company also anticipated an increase in traffic and there has been such an increase."

The trolleys making 180 trips per day took care of 9,000 passengers. The Public Utilities Commission, at that time, increased the trips from 180 to 303 trips per day for all-service buses. If the Commission should at this time decrease the number of trips, as is proposed by Public Service, it will mean that a great majority of the people riding on such buses will find it necessary to stand during the entire trip, as there will not be sufficient seating capacity for the great number of passengers with such limited service.

"From March, 1937, to April, 1938, there has been an increase of 1,600 passengers per day. The trolleys were able to take care of the old load. The buses could not and this was admitted when an increase in the number of trips was asked for. Therefore, the proposed schedule will not enable Public Service properly to take care of the added traffic."

Curtailed Through Service

"Furthermore, there will be, under the proposed schedule, certain periods of the day when there will be no through service from Belleville to Irvington. It will be necessary for a person from Belleville to wait eight to ten minutes for a through bus during rush hours. If, however, the passenger should make such a through bus, it would become necessary to wait at Second River an additional five minutes for a through bus—a total of approximately from thirteen to fifteen minutes. From 8:48 a. m. to 2:42 p. m. there will be no through service whatever. From 6:18 p. m. to midnight there will be no through service."

Noll also said that it had been brought to his attention that employees of the Prudential who live in Belleville complain because they must walk as far south in Broad street as the City Hall to board northbound No. 13 buses, available space being taken by Newark riders. He expressed his surprise for Belleville residents.

A representative of the Public Service Company pointed out that the change in time schedule does not affect the number of buses operating here—only the route to Irvington. Buses would reach a terminus at South Broad street, rather than Irvington, he said, adding that the No. 28 line to Belleville has an express service.

Noll charged that the change was only paying the way for a fifteen-cent fare to Irvington center for a ride which is now obtained for ten cents.

He was asked if a fare change was stipulated and replied "No, not now, but that will come later."

Traffic Survey

Tedesco was authorized to proceed with plans to survey traffic conditions in town, employing "white collar" help as a WPA project, the cost to be about $300 to the town, the balance to be paid by the Federal Government. Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan will act as consultant traffic engineer. After the survey recommendations for traffic lights and charts, showing danger spots will be bound.

MAGICIAN AMAZES MEMBERS OF LOCAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Card Found In Orange. Amuses Large Audience

Robert Sharpe, magician, glibly amused and amazed an audience of seventy members and guests of the Women's Club last Friday night.

The president of the club, Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn, and officers received guests and later their committee served the group and, over coffee, pondered the mysteries of Mr. Sharpe.

"How could that card have been found in the orange?" was asked repeatedly in a vain effort to decipher one trick wherein a card selected by a member of the audience was torn into quarters and later vanished from a small box, only to be found in an orange which another spectator had been holding all evening. Mr. Sharpe read the minds of the audience, cut Hindu turbans and restored them to their original condition, and offered to explain his feats, only to make them more involved and mystifying—all with equal ease.

Frank Dailey, of the Minute-men Civic League, was informed by Corporation Counsel Lawrence E. Keenan after a query by Dailey that the town had petitioned the Public Utilities Commission to re-open the case of the Garden State's bus line route from Allwood to North Newark and that an oral hearing in the matter took place three weeks ago but no decision as yet had been rendered. Dailey and Mayor William H. Williams engaged in an exchange of words when the former queried the board's attitude on the line. Dailey said he represented "citizens" and the mayor asked him to be more specific, which request was not complied with.

The Mayor charged Dailey was becoming a pest.

New York Pastor Came Here Over a Month Ago

Over 200 attended the installation services Sunday in Masonic Temple, Joralemon street, of Rev. Willard H. Borchers, as pastor of Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church. Rev. It is headed by Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, and consists of the following: Samuel J. Kogan, chairman, Edward J. Abramson, Mrs. Byrde Jacobson, Edward J. Ackerman, Louis Haft, Jack Faust, Mrs. Rose Kogan, Mrs. E. Miller, Mrs. Neil Holzman, Morris Gottschalk, Martin Kabot and Harry Fellman.

SCHOOLS SEEK R.R. TAX SHARE

State Has Been Using Belleville's Money Since 1933

The Board of Education Monday night adopted a resolution urging the Legislature "consider the present educational needs, accentuated by the depression," before the members "approve any diversion of the railroad taxes from school purposes."

The action was taken when it was reported that last week the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in reviewing the litigation concerning the railroad tax, gave a decision in favor of the State.

If the railroads decide not to appeal this case, $400,000 will be allotted to Essex County, of which Belleville is owed $86,884.78.

The Pennsylvania Railroad last week paid to the State $6,000,000—$2,000,000 of which was diverted immediately for the cost of relief. Under the State Constitution such funds are supposed to be set aside for school purposes, but a twist in the law permits the comptroller to use the funds and reimburse them when other moneys are available. In New Jersey educators say that their funds have thus been tapped but never refunded, especially since 1933.

"Any diversion of the railroad taxes from school purposes adds an additional burden on the local taxpayer. During the last six years the taxpayers of Belleville have been called upon to pay $86,884.78, which should have been received from railroad taxes," said School Commissioner James Lynch.

"Belleville has received no money since 1933-1934 from this source, even though the railroads have paid to the State Treasurer sixty per cent of their taxes. The finance committee, therefore, offers the resolution to be sent by the District Clerk to the members of the State Legislature of Essex County."

Mr. Lynch points out that because Belleville has not received its allotment, taxpayers here are paying the bill, inasmuch as the funds are needed to operate the schools.

"It is as broad as it is long," he said, explaining that state officials want Belleville to write off the item because Belleville "will never get it."

According to the set-up of the tax should be turned over to counties and the counties, in turn, allot the money to school districts on a proportionate basis arrived at according to rates and school enrollment.

Taxes Due Belleville

1933-34	$21,319.22
1934-35	23,749.81
1935-36	14,581.34
1936-37	6,392.46
1937-38	12,497.74
1938-39	8,344.21

Pharmaceutical Concern Would Erect Modern Layout

Location Is At Site Of Belleville Copper Rolling Mills

James Lynch

The Board of Freeholders is considering extending Franklin avenue southward to provide a new thoroughfare between Belleville and Newark that may pave the way for location of an industrial development here to employ 1,200 workers.

Mayor William H. Williams unfolded the plan to the road committee of the board Monday when he said that an "international known pharmaceutical concern" is considering locating on a twenty-five acre site at the Belleville Copper Rolling Mills, along Second River in Soho section south of the Essex County Hospital for Contagious Diseases. Plans would call for the extension to link with North Sixth or North Seventh streets or Roseville avenue, Newark.

The request was referred to Freeholder Gray, chairman of the road committee, and County Engineer William A. Stickle after the Mayor, Essex County Park Commission President Edward W. Jackson, other members of that commission and A. W. Coffin, vice-president of Joseph T. Garibaldi, Hoboken real estate brokers, had divulged the plans.

LONDONERS SEND BRITISH FLAG TO BELLEVILLE CLUB

Rotarians Extend Hands Across The Sea—U.S. Flag Sent Back

Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, rector of Christ Episcopal Church and district governor of Rotary International, Wednesday addressed Belleville Rotary Club at luncheon in Forest Hill Field Club on a Thanksgiving topic. Rev. Deckenbach each year thus addresses the club.

Last Wednesday Verner A. Wilmslow, water plant engineer and manager for Wallace & Tiernan Ltd., London, and a member of Chestwick and Brentford Club, that city, presented to Belleville Club a British flag, bearing the inscription of his club, a gesture intended to establish a bond of friendship between the two clubs.

Mayor William H. Williams on behalf of Belleville Club, in turn, presented a small American flag to Mr. Wilmslow to cement the friendship. Mr. Wilmslow, who has been a frequent visitor at the local club was presented by John Baker, also of Wallace & Tiernan. A quiz test of twenty-five words was conducted by George R. Gerard, the winners being Ed Moos and William Swenson.

Following the December 7 meeting a trip to the World's Fair site has been arranged for Rotarians by G. Roscoe Symonds. It was reported at the meeting that William V. Irvine is home from Presbyterian Hospital, Newark, where he underwent an operation and is "doing well."

Work at the proposed plant would be divided equally between men and women. The copper mills employs about sixty.

Branch Brook Park Extension and the improvements along Second River, it is said, have hastened the firm in a decision to want to locate here. Officials are in need of line and road grade, in order to proceed with landscaping if the measure is approved.

Stickle pointed out that the extension had been considered some time ago but financial conditions at the time precluded the measure. He also recalled that difficulty of travelling between Soho section and Newark had prompted previous investigation of the extension. It is now necessary either to travel across the Second River at Mt. Prospect avenue or to go west to Willet street, Bloomfield.

Stickle said that the extension would cause the erection of three bridges, one over Second River and two over the Erie Railroad. It is felt the extension would give better access to the City Subway route which has a stop at Heller Parkway, Newark, and ends at the Belleville line.

Two Local Banks Distribute $126,000 To 2,907 Christmas Club Members

Approximately 4,500 Banks Distribute $330,000,000 In Country

The two local banks this week distributed checks to 2,907 Christmas Club members in the amount of $126,000. The new clubs start on Monday at both institutions.

Using reports received in 1938 from individual Christmas Club members and applying these reports to the entire distribution for 1938, according to Christmas Club, Inc., New York City, the estimated fund of $330,000,000, which will be distributed this year to about seven million club members in the United States by approximately 4,500 banking and financial institutions, will be used by the recipients approximately as follows: Christmas purchases, $106,920,000; permanent savings, $88,110,000; year-end bills, $46,200,000; taxes, $32,010,000; insurance premiums, $30,690,000; education, travel and charity, $13,860,000; mortgage interest, $7,590,000; and unclassified, $4,620,000.

According to an estimate given out today by Herbert F. Rawlin, founder and president of Christmas Club, sponsors of National Prosperity Week, the total distribution for 1938 is about three per cent in excess of 1937 and the number of members to receive Christmas Club accumulations shows an increase of approximately six per cent. The average distribution per member amounts to $47, as against $48.55 for 1937. This decrease in per-member accumulation was apparently caused by payroll lay-offs and payroll reductions made effective during the early months of 1938. The estimates are based upon a substantial number of reports received from institutions operating the Christmas Club plan in different sections of the country.

Gone With The Wind

Packing boxes and odds and ends of scrap metal—the clubhouse of some boys near School No. 4 in Silver Lake section of town went up in smoke Thursday night and members of the club grieved at their loss while, it is said by firemen, a rival group of youngsters cheered.

When the last ember was whisked away in the breeze, the firemen returned to headquarters, but one-half hour later came another alarm. This time the shack of the rival gang disappeared as completely in flames as the first.

Park Commissioners Favorable

The Park commissioners were particularly impressed by the fact that the proposed extension would lessen or eliminate commercial traffic through the parkway. Mr. Jackson, J. H. Phillips, engineer, and Kenneth V. C. Wallace, secretary, declared they favor the plan.

Mayor Williams views the increased tax rates for Belleville, and incidentally, the county. If the company goes ahead the figures for taxing purposes on the new buildings would be ready in October, 1939.

The City of Newark is now planning to extend North Sixth street, it is said, north under the Erie Railroad to the Belleville line in connection with a housing project in the Branch Brook Park location. Stickle said that this project may be extended to the line with the extension of Franklin avenue.

ONE of these days you're going to get tired of watching these agile Buicks flash past you!

One of these days you're going to get fed up on hearing friends rave about Buick comfort, and Buick smoothness, and the glorious view through Buick's bigger and broader windshield and windows.

One of these days you're going to wish you too had a car styled like a bit of tomorrow here today.

And one day you'll ask yourself why you didn't see what a buy Buick is at its new, deep-cut, 1939 prices.

Sure as shootin' all that's going to happen—unless you do certain things now.

First—come try out the brilliant surging power of this Buick's Dynaflex great eight engine. Next—find a rough stretch—and discover for yourself how steady this smooth traveler is in its going, how directable in its easy handling.

Finally—take paper and pencil, and when noting Buick's surprising low delivered price, note also the extras it includes, the big reductions over last year, and the actual savings you can make by putting your dollars in Buick!

For the value's up mightily as you can see. And yet this great straight-eight actually costs less than last year—less than you'd expect—less even than some sizes.

How much less? We're waiting to watch your eyes pop when we tell you!

LIBRARIANS HERE TO GUARD SECRET OF TIME CAPSULE

Belleville Chosen As One
Of Key Repositories
In United States

If the people of A.D. 6939 find the detailed "cross-section of our civilization" the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company recently "mailed" to them at the New York World's Fair, the Belleville Public Library will share in the success of one of the most ambitious archaeological projects ever undertaken.

For Belleville, selected as one of the "key repositories" throughout the world, has just received the limited edition book describing the Westinghouse Time Capsule, and telling posterity of 5,000 years hence how to find it and understand it.

Called "The Book of Record of the Time Capsule of Cupuloy," the priceless volume is printed in non-fading ink on permanent rag paper from type designed by Frederick W. Goudy.

"Five thousand years ago," the authors note in an introduction, "during a period of invention, development, and science rivaling that of our day, recorded history began. It would be pleasant to believe that we might leave records of our own day for five thousand years hence."

Pointing out that the primary problem involved in such a project is the selection of a suitable material, the Book of Record explains why a copper alloy recently perfected by Westinghouse engineers appeared to be ideal.

"Known as Cupuloy, it is 99.4 per cent copper, 5 per cent chromium, and 1 per cent silver. This material may be tempered to a hardness similar to that of steel, yet has a resistance to corrosion equal to pure copper."

The book then describes the design and structure of the torpedo-shaped Time Capsule and the Pyrex inner glass crypt in which the "cross-section of civilization" was packed in a nitrogen atmosphere, and relates briefly the ceremonies at the New York World's Fair 1939 when the Time Capsule was deposited fifty feet in the ground before the Westinghouse Building.

Three methods for locating the historical treasure are described in detail.

First, the equivalent of the year A.D. 6939 is given for the Jewish, Chinese, Mohammedan, Shinto and Buddhist calendars. To help scientists of the future to compute the passage of time by astronomical data, the dates of the two solar and two lunar eclipses due in 1939; the heliocentric longitudes on January 1 of Mercury, Venus, the Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto; and the mean position on January 1 of the North Star, are given.

Second, coordinates surveyed by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey are given as: Latitude 40 degrees, 44 minutes, 34 seconds .089 north of the Equator; longitude 73 degrees, 50 minutes, 43 seconds .842 west of Greenwich—accurate enough to locate an object one-tenth of a foot or less in diameter at a particular position on the surface of the earth.

And finally, directions for locating the Time Capsule by geophysical means, specially prepared by Sherwin Kelly, noted geophysicist, are given.

What Book Tells

The Book of Record then tells how, with the aid of archaeologists, historians and experts in the arts and sciences, the Time Capsule Committee carefully selected the contents which were to tell posterity of a remote age what people of today were like. These included an 1100-foot microfilm "essay" comprising more than ten million words and a thousand pictures, and covering various aids to translation such as the Lord's Prayer in 300 languages, printed and pictorial descriptions of our homes, offices and factories; our arts and entertainments, religions, philosophies, educational systems, sciences, industries, books, magazines and newspapers. At the beginning of each of the four reels of this micro-film were exact instructions for building a projection machine through which it might be read.

In addition, more than a hundred solid objects, ranging from a woman's hat specially designed by Lilly Dache to a common safety pin, were placed in the Time Capsule, with a cross-reference describing or alluding to them.

And so that our descendants might visualize how we looked and acted, a composite newsreel prepared by RKO-Pathé presents a kaleidoscopic pattern of war, disaster, sports, politics, fashions and the like.

One of the most intriguing portions of the Book of Record gives a "Vocabulary of High-Frequency English" in neo-phonetics, worked out by Dr. John P. Harrington of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C. With this vocabulary Dr. Harrington has supplied simple drawings to illustrate the meaning of words, and a "Mouth Map" by means of which, with the aid of a mirror, linguists of the future will be able to duplicate the exact sounds of English as spoken in 1938.

Messages to A.D. 6939 specially written for the occasion by Albert Einstein, Robert A. Millikan and Thomas Mann are reproduced in the Book of Record, the originals having gone into the Time Capsule.

The Book of Record is going to libraries all over the world, and even into such remote repositories as Tibet's Lamaseries, the Shinto Shrines of Japan, and Buddhist Temples in India, Ceylon and Burma. With it is going a letter appealing to those in whose charge the book will be to preserve it carefully and to leave word to their successors that, should it show signs in disintegration in a few centuries, they take steps to have it reprinted and annotated.

1939 Auto Show Opens Tomorrow For Week's Stand, Center Market, Newark

Prominent Makes Will Be On Display Until Next
Saturday

New Jersey's greatest display of the 1939 creations of America's leading industry will be on view tomorrow when the Newark Automobile Show opens a week's stand in the Centre Market Building, Raymond boulevard, downtown Newark.

Utilizing more floor space for exhibition purposes than ever before in its thirty-two years of history, the show this year includes several features that promise to make it outstanding. In addition to the display of 1939 passenger models of twenty-one

American-made lines, there will be an exhibit of guaranteed used cars. Another section of the show will be devoted exclusively to light commercial vehicles.

The main exhibition hall in the Centre Market Building has been turned into an attractive champagne and green setting that complements the striking beauty of the lustrous new models. Special lighting has been installed that will enable easy inspection of the numerous new features that make the 1939 cars marvels of efficiency and comfort.

Although the latest models have many style refinements and mechanical improvements, show officials point out that the average retail price of the five-passenger cars to be exhibited is about $55 lower than a comparable car sold ten years ago.

Dealers of the metropolitan Newark area who have taken space at the show are looking forward to a banner sales week. They are confident that the new cars, the last word in performance and style, will win an enthusiastic response from the buying public.

Action exhibits direct from the National Auto Show in New York City and other scientific and educational displays will be seen.

The used car section of the show will be confined to the second floor of the building. All used cars on display must pass inspection by a special committee and will be for sale at prices established by an appraisal committee.

As in past years, the show is sponsored by the New Jersey Automobile Exhibition Company, in cooperation with the dealer members of the Newark Automobile Trade Association. William L. Mallon is manager of the event.

The show will open at noon Saturday with formal ceremonies under the direction of Mr. Fisher. It will be closed the next day, Sunday, and thereafter will be open daily from 11:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. There will be a musical program every afternoon and evening.

Auxiliary Enrollment

One-half million American women will enroll in the American Legion Auxiliary for 1939, predicted Mrs. Hoffman, membership chairman of the Department of New Jersey, as Belleville Unit continued enrollment of members for the new year.

The continuous growth of the Auxiliary since it was organized in 1921 was interrupted only in 1932 and 1933, the worst of the depression years, Mrs. Hoffman explained. Since 1933 more than 100,000 members have been gained and a record enrollment of 455,000 was reached in 1938. Expansion at the same rate will give the auxiliary approximately 500,000 members by the end of 1939.

Under the leadership of the American Legion Auxiliary, women's patriotic organizations of the nation will rally in support of strengthened national defenses at a huge conference in Washington, D. C., January 24, 25 and 26, Mrs. Ackerman, national defense chairman, has announced.

Mrs. George Bamford, Maryland, Eastern Division national vice-president, will be one of the speakers on December 3 at the Child Welfare conference in the Hotel Hildebrecht, Trenton.

Mrs. Huemer assisted Mrs. Kant in preparing and delivering Thanksgiving baskets yesterday to the needy families of veterans.

Card Party

The P.T.A. of Public School No. 1 will hold a card party Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the school. Tickets may be obtained from pupils of that school.

BOARD PASSES WPA ORDINANCES

Director Waters Sees Need
For More Projects
For Workers

Eight WPA ordinances designed to give employment to townspersons, who otherwise might be forced on relief, passed on final reading at a meeting of the Town Commission Tuesday night. Locally $13,300 will be raised by bond issues to carry on the work, the total cost of which is estimated at $35,938.71, of which the WPA will contribute $22,638.71.

The board recently passed on second and third readings an ordinance, providing for replacing old broken concrete walk on various streets and appropriating $10,200 for the work, and another ordinance appropriating $2,200 for the construction of an eight and six-inch water main and appurtenances in Union avenue from 100 feet north of Campbell avenue to Nutley line and Highland avenue from Sanford avenue to southerly terminus.

The eight WPA ordinances and amounts to be raised through bond issues are as follows: Construction of a sanitary sewer in Springer street from Baldwin place to Garden avenue, $450; paving and construction of sidewalks and curbs, same location, $3,100; water main in Springer street, $750; sanitary sewer, Riverside avenue, $800; seven-inch paving and curb, same place, $3,600; grading same, $800; sidewalks and curb, Brighton avenue, 250 feet south to Sanford avenue, $500; penetration shoulders, Van Houten place between Washington avenue and Hornblower, and Stephens street between Academy and Holmes, $3,300.

"The taxpayers of Belleville will start to realize that WPA has been a savior," said Director of Streets and Public Improvements Patrick A. Waters in a statement to this paper today. "It has to come to an end soon. We have just about completed every job we can do in Belleville. There isn't enough work, outside of Cortlandt street job to keep 100 men busy and we have better than 750 on WPA projects. With Apple Hill, the Normal School, South Mountain and Branch Brook Park Extension work winding up for the winter, I don't know what we are going to do. It looks to me like a lot of people will be thrown back on relief unless we can find some more projects. We got out of this pretty good the last six years but now we have no more jobs coming through."

Following his decision to reject garbage disposal specifications three weeks ago, when Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll protested that the original specifications were "closed to a syndicate," the board decided to re-advertise for bids which were received on Tuesday.

The request of Abraham Schelinsky and Richard Lee that they be granted a permit to conduct dancing in a store which they plan to open in Washington avenue near Joramelon street, will be studied by the board.

The applicants aim to attract boys and girls who otherwise might go to taverns to dance. They say similar establishments have met with favor in other communities. They would close at midnight week nights and at 1 a.m. Sunday. Everything would be open to full view of the public. The proposed location is in Washington avenue, near the Capitol Theatre.

There are no regulations in Belleville covering such business. Dance halls in connection with taverns are required to have a 1,000-square-foot floor space. The only licensed dance hall here is Riviera Park, now devoted to roller skating.

Consider: Municipal Dock

The board is considering the establishment of a municipal dock. The Essex County Park Commission has agreed to transfer to the town title to 90 feet of river frontage at the foot of Terry street, in exchange for two separate strips of river front, forty and fifty feet, respectively, now owned by the town through foreclosure of tax liens.

The ninety feet is to be set aside by the town exclusively for use as a municipal dock, according to Mayor Williams, who is sponsoring the project. No immediate construction is contemplated, but Mayor Williams feels the future industrial development of the northeast section of Belleville will be aided by dockage here.

rights on the Passaic River, which is navigable as far as Passaic. Director Noll also favors establishing a municipal dock. He said today he had had numerous requests from persons wishing dock pleasure craft at Belleville and to start fishing parties from here.

WE ARE THANKFUL—

For this broad land in the fertile temperate zone, wherein the resources are yet plentiful and mankind can live and flourish in plenty.

For the peace which we have, and which is denied to many other peoples.

For the vast conglomerate population, combining the pioneers of every race under the sun.

For our unusual combination of talents in the arts, athletics and scientific achievement.

For our democratic system of government which has exhibited a sturdy quality of resistance to exploitation by foreign ideologies.

For our strengthening sense of personal liberty, greater than elsewhere under the sun.

For our freedom of worship and our freedom of thought.

For our freedom of speech and press, which many other peoples are denied.

For our sense of fair play, our charity and our lack of greed.

For, finally, on this Thanksgiving occasion, the ancestors who so thoughtfully bequeathed to us a holiday, dedicated to the appreciation of a benevolent and gracious Creator.

And, at this Thanksgiving time, while we are giving thanks for all the blessings of our day, it might be well for us to think, too, about some of our modern thoughts.

Some people seem to think these days that it is no longer necessary to do much hard work to gain the things we give thanks for on Thanksgiving. These people apparently feel that the blessings of life are won in other ways—by luck or personal pull.

America and its abundant life of better things was not built on luck or pull. To the contrary, the blessings we now enjoy were created by generations of hard toilers; by men and women who worked hard to build agriculture and great industries. America has inherited the rewards of the honest labor of those pioneers, which is one of the things we have to be thankful for this Thanksgiving. Because they found ways to do things better and easier, we of the present generation do not have to work quite so hard as the old pioneers.

ADVERTISING PAYS

Advertising pays. Two words, but a nation has prospered in belief in the thought thereby expressed. Mayor William H. Williams believes in it, too. That is why he had $5,000, which is a small amount at that for the purpose, set up in the town budget to advertise the advantages of Belleville to the country, in general.

Results started to show. True, at first they were small. Consistency of advertising proved its worth, however, for just this week the mayor makes known that a pharmaceutical firm with 1,200 employees would construct a plant at the site of the old Copper Rolling Mills if the county will extend Franklin avenue to provide a proper entrance. Other industries have read the Mayor's ads, which have made Belleville known from coast to coast and from Canada to the borders of our southern neighbors. Some have located here. Others have inquired for sites.

There were some who objected to the town spending $5,000 to advertise. It not only proves they were wrong—but it substantiates again the full meaning of the two words—advertising pays. Belleville merchants should try it consistently—there would be no fear of trade going elsewhere. It would stay in Belleville where it should stay.

RAILROAD TAX DIVERSION

Since 1933 Belleville has not received any of its allotment of the railroad tax, which the State, under its constitution, is supposed to collect for educational purposes and distribute to counties, which, in turn, should distribute it to municipalities on a ratable-school population basis. Belleville has over $80,000 coming from this tax, which has been diverted by officials at Trenton for everything except education. Every other school district in the state has been denied the use of this money which rightfully should go to schools. A twist in the law permits the financial manipulators of state funds to divert them for emergencies and later reimburse the funds tapped. New Jersey has an unhappy faculty of never reimbursing the tapped funds and "the twist" does not specify when the funds should be put back in their rightful account. We said that the funds, since 1933 from railroad taxes, have been used for everything but education. Maybe we were wrong there. The money has gone to that old bugaboo, relief, which many will aver, has been an education these last few years.

Some legislators, who care not whether he ever goes back to the law mill at Trenton, could make a big name for himself if he had courage enough to stand up and fight against diversion of funds from educational accounts, which, by the way, is only one of the accounts the spenders can tap to the taxpayers' detriment. After all the $80,000 or thereabouts denied Belleville and the amounts denied Seward and elsewhere have to be raised locally because the schools need the money to operate. The state legislators who come back to their little towns looking for votes once a year are only fooling themselves, for eventually old John Q. Public will find out his hard earned tax dollars have been frittered away because the state wouldn't rightfully help him out. Frittered away is the word—on this relief racket. And, racket, too, is the word.

SHOCKING

Belleville sits by shocked—as the rest of the civilized world—at the barbarism in Nazi Germany, as Jews are persecuted and driven from the land. Only in a military country where people are precluded from voicing their opinions, where even thinking out loud is a crime, could such a thing happen. Belleville sits by and grieves. It extends its sympathy to those who are victims of the ruthlessness. Friendship, love of fellowman and tolerance, it was believed, were being spread to the far ends of the earth. It doesn't take much to upset all the good teachings of man. It only takes one Hitler to upset a world that is trying to find, as best it may, some method of living among ourselves in peace, quiet and contentment. Barbarism sets back the world centuries—it causes history to repeat itself. Thank God, Belleville is a tolerant town, that can understand and sympathize with those in trouble and their relatives, perhaps, on this side of the Atlantic Ocean.

SEE THE SHOW, BUT BUY HERE

The Newark automobile show, which opens tomorrow (Saturday) and ends December 3, should be one of the most appealing in years. The 1939 models offer many new features and also give more value for the price than buyers have ever received.

The whole idea of the automobile manufacturers has been to improve the product constantly and, at the same time, keep prices down. No other great industry has succeeded so well in carrying out its objectives.

The 1939 models, besides offering a number of improvements, are larger and more comfortable cars. Those cars in the lower price range are as spacious and as attractive as were the highest priced cars three or four years ago. It is amazing that such fine cars can be sold for relatively little money.

As goes the automobile industry so goes the most of American industries. A successful automobile selling season means everything to general industry. The manufacturers have embarked courageously on a heavy production campaign. Thousands of workers have been added to the payrolls. The industry is banking on a wide response from the public. They should get it.

It is not likely that the 1939 low prices will be duplicated in the future. The 1940 prices may be higher. This is, therefore, an excellent time to buy a new car. Those who have been wearing out their old cars can now replace them on a bargain basis.

A look at what is offered in this year's show should be quite convincing. Take a peek and then come back to Belleville and buy from the local dealers who are in a position to serve you better than anyone out of town. See the show, but buy your car in Belleville.

Thanksgiving Day

What a rush of thoughts that brings this year—as all years—to those of us who remember the real New England Day of Thanksgiving when all the family gathered together in the homestead to give thanks to the Almighty for the blessings of the harvest.

Then—that was a day of sacred solemnity, more religious than most Sundays—and dedicated to the giving of the blessings of life—of home—of friends—and of family. It was not a day of sport and play and somehow or other, everybody knew that the President had issued a Thanksgiving Day Proclamation—and why.

But times change—and so has our observance of Thanksgiving. Now instead of being a Holy Day—it is largely a day of play and recreation—accompanied by unusual feasting—as always.

But just the same it IS a day of Thanksgiving—and all thoughtful folks will devote some time during the day to reflect upon their own particular reasons for being thankful.

There will be thanks for varying degrees of health—of wealth—for friends—for loved ones—for home—for family. All matters of degree, depending upon the circumstances—the personal state of mind and the thinker. And these will vary—as people vary.

Thinking Americans, however, might be giving of thanks might be for personal blessings, should—and we feel will, this Thanksgiving—be unanimous in thanking the Almighty most of all for the privilege of being an American—a free citizen of this free country.

Here—though observed as a result of a Governmental Proclamation by the President—no one needs "bow the knee" in accordance with any directed formula. No one need fear on that day—or any day—to give full public expression to their thoughts as they give thanks—as they choose to give thanks—and in any church—or any place of worship that they might wish to visit.

Here there will be no black listing—no persecution—no timorous fear—no select gang of gen-darmes looking for victims—no special assessments because of race or religion—no embarkation to concentration camps. No, none of that! But there will be full and free opportunity for everyone to draw a deep breath and with gaze on high, say deep in their heart "Thank God for America!"

Yours 'til next week,

Aunt Flo's Column

It is nice to show good sportsmanship even when the tables are turned against us, for every cloud has a silver lining.

Jane writes: Dear Aunt Flo, I wonder if you can help me with this problem. I am so unhappy and it is hard for me to know what to do and I must decide before Saturday. A young man with whom I have enjoyed going to the movies has asked me to go to a very swanky affair with him Saturday night. I accepted. In the meantime another young man whom I particularly like wanted to make an engagement with me for the same evening. I told him that I had already made an engagement with A., but that it would be nice if he took my girl friend.

I got the two of them together and all arrangements were made for a lovely foursome. Now the young man I was to go with is in the hospital seriously ill and the other one is trying to make me decide to make new arrangements and go with him. My girl friend and I got along so well and I am so upset I do not know what to decide, yet I hate to miss going to this affair. It is such a nice one. Please help me.

Dear Jane: I certainly can appreciate the predicament that you are in and it is no small matter to decide. I can understand how anxious you are to attend this affair, especially when it is to be such a swanky one. I can also appreciate the turmoil that is going on in your mind when you remember that you turned over the boy friend you liked best to another girl and she is to enjoy the affair while you remain at home. I would say that was more than a trial for one so young as you—in fact, I believe that would be a confusing problem to any woman, of any age.

However, it would show very poor sportsmanship if, at the last moment, you agreed to go with this second chap and left your girl friend dangling in the air. To be candid with you I do not think very much of this young man for even suggesting it. You made your arrangements and now that your boy friend is ill I think the nicest thing you can do is to stay at home and let the other date go through with your girl friend as scheduled. You may shed a few bitter tears but you are going to retain the love and respect of these young people and somehow I feel that is worth more than one little evening at a swanky affair.

Sum up every ounce of your courage and remember that just because Lady Luck turned against you on this particular date, does not mean that she will keep her back turned forever. You are bound to be rewarded for such a splendid display of character. So take my advice and find something else to do this Saturday night. Meanwhile I will send out good thoughts for your happiness that evening—and who knows, you may still have a better time than you would have had at that swanky affair if you got there by making someone else unhappy.

Looking Backward

Five Years

George Froehlich was chairman of a card party which had been arranged by the Knights of Columbus.

The Misses Alberta and Doris Geiger, 16 Jerome avenue, Bloomfield; Ruth K. Lloyd, 83 St. Mary's place, Nutley, and G. Bernice Le Compte, 23 Astor street, Newark, attended the Army-Navy game at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

Belleville Post, American Legion, was forming a junior fire drum and bugle corps. Edward Lister and Arthur Christie were in charge.

Spencer Jones, 133 Academy street, was made fuel administrator for New Jersey, his work to be the adjustment of NRA codes in the industry to fit individual needs and the arbitration of disputes.

The Community Chest drive was extended beyond its closing date because the quota of $18,000 had not been subscribed.

Thomas Barry was re-elected president of the Regular Republican Club. Other officers were: vice-president, George E. Stewart, Jr.; treasurer, Lawrence E. Keenan; secretary, William Outcall, and trustees, three years, Frank Bangert, Milton Donnelly and Shirley Vought. Mr. Bangert and Ida Hammel were appointed as a committee to welcome new members, and William Gagg, Mr. Bangert, Mary Galant and John Walker were named as an entertainment committee.

Ten Years

Two of the outstanding permits granted by the Zone Board of Adjustment included a showroom and service station at 559 Washington avenue, north of Overlook avenue, and an apartment at 11-17 Tappan avenue at the southwest corner of Floyd street. Sixteen property owners in the vicinity of the proposed showroom objected to it on the ground that there "are too many showrooms, garages, lunchwagons and one-story buildings in Washington avenue."

Like all the Junior Patrol boys, Robert Brinkerhoff kept to himself an act of heroism—that he had yanked from the path of an automobile a five-year-old lad, who had darted from the curb. Real Estate Agent Arthur Mayer saw the incident and Police Chief Michael Flynn and Sergeant Robert Anderson planned to honor Brinkerhoff for his act.

After a lapse of four years, Belleville and Nutley were "all hot up" over resumption of football relationships. A game was scheduled between the two schools at Clearman Field on Saturday, November 24. In the Belleville line-up were Bert Knowles, C. Plenge, D'Elia, Estelle, Armour, Galluba, De Jonge, Dominic, Maniscaleo, Short, Anderton, F. Plenge, Salters and Schwieker.

Fifteen Years

Mrs. Robert Jackson, 28 De Witt avenue, entertained members of Aremé Chapter, O. E. S., at her home.

The Columbus Club, composed of Jordan, Dacey, Travers, Williams and Greene, took two bowling matches from the Highland P. C., which had in its line-up Mullanaphy, Watters, Arney, Black, Oakes and Scott.

The Wesley Epworth League was planning to hold a "Small Time Circus" in the church recreation rooms. Beatrice Reynolds was in charge, assisted by Alma Knudsen, Dorothy Kohl, Edwin and Harry Hosking and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kraft.

A card party was planned at St. Peter's School hall by the Social Society, the proceeds to go to the church.

Former High School Principal Charles Steel, Jr., was in charge of gym classes for boys and men which had been arranged by the Recreation Commission.

Twenty Years

With three candidates in the field, the Board of Commissioners was unable to select a town attorney for 1918-1919. In the meantime the incumbent, Harold A. Miller was holding over. Commissioner Hannen suggested Andrew L. Boylan for the post, but found no one to second the motion. When it was apparent that his man would not be put in nomination he declared he would not assist in the selection of any other aspirant.

Commissioner Livingston nominated Joseph A. Connolly and Commissioner Mathes put forward Mr. Miller's name. Mayor John H. Waters voted with Mr. Livingston and Commissioner Minion with Mr. Mathes. Hannen was adamant in his resolve not to vote and the deadlock maintained. Daniel Mellis had completed the building of a residence for E. A. Hicks in Little street.

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The possibility that the election reform bill to be introduced in the legislature early next year will abolish either the office of superintendent of elections or commissioner of registration, or both, has employees in those departments in a dither. The law would apply to the first class counties of Hudson and Essex.

The reform bill introduced last year by Senator Clee provided for a single department in each county headed by a judge of elections. In its original form the bill even named the judges, Eugene Hoffman in Essex and the late Mayor Jones of Kearny in Hudson. Since both Superintendent Lamb and Commissioner Hermann in Essex and Ferguson and Stoebeling in Hudson would have been ousted along with their subordinates, a tremendous opposition developed.

Hoffman Bloc Beat It

Lamb especially was effective in lining up votes against it. In this he was aided by the fact that Hoffman was known to be a protégé of William H. Seely, which made the bill a strictly an Essex Clean Government measure. The Harold G. Hoffman bloc in the senate joined with the Democrats in opposing the bill.

Next year's election reform bill will have far wider backing than the one this year. Warren Barbour, who took no part in this year's bill, will work for its passage. Barbour's influence will be strategic in that his support will make the group who blocked Clee's bill think twice before opposing this one. Barbour's sweeping victory of two weeks ago makes him the ranking Republican of New Jersey.

Friends of Lamb will try either to have his department retained out of an understanding that he will have an equally important position under the new setup. The same applies to Hermann and Ferguson.

Election reform, like many other prospective laws of the next session, will be influenced by the inevitable contest between Clee and Hoffman for nomination of governor in 1940. This fight promises to be the most bitter in the political history of the state. While Clee may have intended all along to seek the nomination for governor in '40, it is only since the recent election that his backers have shown much enthusiasm. The strong outpouring of voting commuters and the anti-Hague trend of the election convinced the Clee camp that he could count on more support from this source in 1940. It is felt Hoffman will face the same opposition that manifested itself against Ely.

Miller Out In Cold

Miller was elected chairman last September by the combined votes of Irvington, Pearce R. Franklin's Newark machine and the followers of Joseph Giuliano. Efforts will be made to bring the Giuliano followers back into the Clean Government camp and to weaken Miller's support in Irvington. It is also hoped that the impending trial of Franklin in connection with the Meadowland scandal will break or badly damage his machine.

With this basic strategy agreed upon, cooperation with Miller is being deliberately withheld by the inner Clean Government council. Since Clean Government, either directly or indirectly, controls every bit of patronage in the county save that of Prosecutor Wachenfeld's office, a unified boycott means that Miller is practically turned out to starve. There appears to be only one weak spot in the Clean Government armor—Hon. C. Zink has not subscribed to it fully.

Family Life Problems Today

By Mrs. Julia O. Reiner
Executive Secretary
Community Service Bureau

The Parks family (real names of the allies never used) had particular cause for Thanksgiving yesterday, and all because things had not gone as Mr. Parks thought they would. It was Henry's father who took him to court after the school attendance officer had made several calls at the Parks home.

"I'm going to give this boy the scare of his life," Mr. Parks told his wife angrily. "That's how boys get to be criminals, playing hooky first, and then more serious things. I'm going to scare it out of him before it goes any further."

On the way down to the court, Mr. Parks delivered a lecture. But Henry didn't "scare" easily, or, at any rate, he didn't show it. At the court, Mr. Parks was surprised and just a little disappointed at the absence of stern-faced officers and the rather quiet informality of the reception he and Henry were given. After the judge asked quite a few questions he suggested that Mr. Parks and Henry talk things over with a social worker at the Community Service Bureau. By this time Henry was beginning to take an interest in the situation. This was not at all like the court scene his father had described to him so vividly on the way down.

At first Mr. Parks was puzzled, confused and rather angry. He felt that the Department of Justice had let him down. Then during his subsequent talk with the social worker, he began to understand. These people believed that children have a reason for what they do. These people were trying to find out why Henry stayed away from school. Not that Mr. Parks was ready to agree with them. He had a pretty strong conviction that children are apt to "go bad" for no accountable reason. He had worried about it from the time Henry was a baby, and had tried to prevent it by a consistent program of strict discipline. But Mrs. Parks was always too soft with the children and he had warned her that she was undoing all his work. He felt that it was particularly important to be firm with Henry because he was the oldest.

The talk with the social worker was to some extent reassuring. Just in answering some of the questions asked him, Mr. Parks found himself explaining that Henry had always brought home high marks from school and was already in the eighth grade at the age of thirteen. He had to admit that Henry had never caused any particular trouble until this fall. But this fall—the reassurance vanished as he described the visits of the attendance officer.

True stories cannot be completed until time has written each chapter. Therefore, we cannot tell you much more about Henry and his father except that they have been keeping appointments at the Community Service Bureau. Henry has been at the office alone but he was too shy to say much as yet.

Henry's teacher has added her observations to the story—that he is brighter than average, but that he seems pre-occupied and lacks any interest in his school work this year. She thinks it is evident that something is worrying the boy. However, the ice is broken and we believe that Henry is going to be very happy. After that we can see what may be done to help him. Meanwhile, Mr. Parks is full that no record was on the court against his son.

THANK YOU

Editor Belleville News: We deeply appreciate your kind cooperation and hope that you will continue to provide us with space for our activities.

I, personally, have just renewed my subscription and I have been urging my friends to do likewise as it is my sincere belief that Belleville's only hope of getting fair and sufficient publicity is only through its local paper. In the past the Newark daily papers have only given very limited space to our town—unless they had something they could use to make fun of us. I hope that your paper will grow and be a real power for good in our town. Yours very truly,

SAMUEL H. COCKS,

ADULT EDUCATION

To the Editor of The News, It is indeed gratifying to know that at long last Belleville is proposing to venture into the realm of adult education. The success of our neighboring communities in this field should encourage the committee in the preparation of the program. The success of the venture will depend upon the co-operation of the citizens and the ability of the committee to obtain a qualified teaching force.

It has been said: "We can know so little; let us not be afraid to learn."

When the enrollment is announced the fathers and mothers, the older sisters and brothers and any adult will be given the opportunity for which they have been waiting. May success and good learning attend the endeavors.

Editor, Belleville News: Through the columns of your newspaper, I wish to thank the various clubs and organizations for their generous financial support to the Belleville Community Chest this year.

In gratitude to God for His loving care and guidance during the past year, and in keeping with the Proclamation issued by the President of the United States, First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newark, held its annual Thanksgiving service yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The service included reading of the President's Proclamation, singing by the congregation of several well-chosen hymns from the Christian Science Hymnal, and a solo, "Because of Thy Great Bounty."

The golden text of the lesson-sermon on "Thanksgiving" was as follows: "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High."

One of the Scriptural passages contained in the lesson-sermon was Deuteronomy 14:22: "Thou shalt truly tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year. The readings from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included the fol-

Congregation A.A.A. Would Pave Way For Them To Come Here

Edward J. Abramson, president of Congregation A.A.A., has just prepared a resolution recommending revision of the statutes and laws so as to admit to this country "a number of these defenseless and homeless human beings in Germany."

Copies will be sent to Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., United States Senators William H. Smathers, W. Warren Barbour and President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The resolution reads: "WHEREAS, it is a fact that there are at present hundreds and thousands of men, women and children, in Germany today who have been deprived of their homes and who are therefore devoid of shelter or country; and

"Whereas, it is imminent that unless territory be found for these homeless and defenseless people that they will undoubtedly die of starvation and exposure by the elements; and

"Whereas, it has been suggested by prominent American citizens of all denominations and faiths that the existing laws and statutes be revised and amended by mortgaging future quotas, increasing the present quota making same retroactive, or otherwise so as to allow the admission into this country of some of these people.

"BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that the Jewish Community of Belleville, New Jersey, does hereby endorse and does heartily recommend and prays that the House of Representatives and the Senate of the United States of America do revise and/or amend the existing statutes and laws of the United States of America so that admission into this country be allowed of a number of these defenseless and homeless human beings of Germany;

ADULT EDUCATION PLANS MATURE

P.T.A. Council Hears Of Program At Tuesday Meeting

Plans are progressing for start of a program of adult education in January under sponsorship of the Board of Education, Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., school commissioner, has announced. A nominal charge will be made for entrants to make the program self-sustaining.

About 6,000 questionnaires have been sent out through the schools and upon replies to these will depend the launching of the undertaking.

Advantages of the movement and methods of operation were discussed recently at a P.T.A. Council meeting by Lawrence S. Chase, Essex County superintendent of schools; Dr. Ernest Townsend, president of Newark State Teachers' College, and Thomas McHugh, principal of Wilson School, Newark, and director of adult education in Newark.

The county superintendent stressed importance of proper direction. Speaking on the "Whys of Adult Education," Dr. Townsend said more progress has been made in the last 150 years than in all previous history.

PUPIL COST LOW IN BELLEVILLE

Report Places Town Better Than Any In The County

Belleville's operating cost per pupil is $10.38, the lowest in the county, School Commissioner Walter Gilby, chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee reported Monday night at the Board of Education meeting. He had conducted a survey with School Commissioner Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., a member of the same committee.

"This cost is based on janitors' salaries, salaries of others, janitors' supplies, fuel, light, power and water, telephone and telegraph for a plant valued at over $3,000,000, and is computed for the 1937-38 school year. The highest cost in the county is said to be in North Caldwell where the figure is $27.64. Newark's cost is $12.02.

"It is quite evident," said Mr. Gilby, "that an economical administration of the operating expenses made by the New Jersey State Rehabilitation Committee on cases coming under the attention of the local Crippled Children's Committee.

For instance in Mount Holly during the past two years three million dollars have been expended on the care of the Elks Lodges throughout the State and that New Jersey Elks during the year reported upon have expended on their care $105,366.42 and that during the past ten years the total expenditures by the Elks Lodges in the State for this great humanitarian work has amounted to $1,367,160.15. This does not take into account the enormous amount of time and effort expended by doctors, specialists, and members of the various committees or the expenditures made by the New Jersey State Rehabilitation Committee on cases coming under the attention of the local Crippled Children's Committee.

Mr. Gilby rendered another report showing that the landscaping of No. 10 School with shrubbery has been completed and a new heating system installed in the plant building adjoining Clearman Field. He also reported on vandalism in various schools. No. 7 School has been broken into twice, the high school once and windows have been smashed in Schools Nos. 4, 6, 8 and 9.

Little Hope For Addition

Following a report of President Herbert C. Schmutz, little hope is held out that the Federal Government will allot Belleville $69,435 to proceed with the addition to School No. 3, the town bond issue for which amounting to $84,865 was ratified by voters here on September 27.

Mr. Schmutz and Business Manager Ruel E. Daniels had consulted the Federal authorities in the matter, but it was told them that New Jersey has oversubscribed its allotment several million dollars and the chances of Belleville getting a grant are slim. The total cost of the addition to include gymnasium is $154,300.

$400 Saving

By excluding 200 teachers from workmen's compensation insurance the board can save $400 a year in premiums, Mr. Lynch reported. He said that since teachers are not engaged in dangerous work he thought they should be eliminated and the cost of the premium saved. The legislative committee was instructed to study the recommendation and report back next month.

The board voted against taking action to comply with a state law which requires school boards to indemnify teachers against claims in accidents to children. Mr. Lynch said he understood legislation was to be

Mount Holly Elks Aiding Greatly With Work For Crippled Children

Elks Have Spent Total Of $1,367,160 For 10-Year Program

Few persons outside the membership of Elks Lodges have any conception of the constant work being carried on by the organization for the rehabilitation of crippled children. Some idea of the magnitude of the project is revealed in the report of the past year's activities recently presented by the Elks' State Crippled Children's Committee.

Owing to the very serious illness of the chairman, Joseph G. Buch, the report for the period July, 1937, to June, 1938, has just been issued.

It shows that there are 9,964 crippled children under the care of the Elks Lodges throughout the State and that New Jersey Elks during the year reported upon have expended on their care $105,366.42 and that during the past ten years the total expenditures by the Elks Lodges in the State for this great humanitarian work has amounted to $1,367,160.15. This does not take into account the enormous amount of time and effort expended by doctors, specialists, and members of the various committees or the expenditures made by the New Jersey State Rehabilitation Committee on cases coming under the attention of the local Crippled Children's Committee.

The latter home, entirely for the care and rehabilitation of crippled children, now has a hydrotherapeutic pool second to none in the country, furnished by a WPA grant and contributions from New Jersey Elks' Lodges.

At a recent meeting a deficiency of $1,510 was reported and made up by representatives of lodges in a few minutes.

A whole newspaper would be required to tell all the activities of crippled children's committees throughout the State.

Its importance has been realized by the Boards of Freeholders throughout the State who in 1938 have appropriated the sum of $125,600 to assist in carrying on this work.

To specifically mention a case coming under the jurisdiction of Mount Holly Lodge of Elks, the attention of Fred Moon, chairman of the local crippled children committee, was drawn to the case of a boy eleven with such a bad spine curvature that his only means of locomotion was by crawling. After examination Mr. Moon reported to the Elks that the only way to rehabilitate this boy was by placing him in the care of the Betty Bacharach Home for possibly several years. The Lodge unanimously voted to bear the expense and the boy spent over two years in the Home, most of the time strapped to a curved board. He has now been discharged from the Home and while still wearing a brace and using crutches occasionally, the doctors agree that in a short time he will be normal.

Anyone interested in the reintroduction this year for repeal of the measure.

The board also adopted a resolution making the school day seven hours and whereby teachers absent from class more than one hour, but less than half a day, will lose a half day's pay. Mrs. Porter Sheldon opposed the resolution on the ground teachers should be penalized only for actual time away from class.

TO DISCUSS RECENT IMPORTANT BOOKS

Miss Dorothy Frank On Woman's Club Program

Miss Dorothy Frank will speak on "Recent Important Books" at a meeting of the Woman's Club Monday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock.

Miss Dorothy Frank

Miss Dorothy Frank will speak on "Recent Important Books" at a meeting of the Woman's Club Monday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock. Miss Frank's talk will be something quite different from the traditional "book review." She describes the books, novels and non-fiction that are really important today and tells why.

Miss Frank's interest in American women, and in organized American women in particular, is the last of a long series of activities which have characterized her life. She is an accomplished traveler, as her dozen or more trips to the continent would indicate; they have made her a capable linguist and provided her with a background of personal understanding of Europe's problems. She was for a number of years a "fashion designer," later turning to dramatics and studying under noted American and European teachers. She has also taken an active part in the work of the New York Guild for the Blind and the Henry Street Settlement.

Today Miss Frank is primarily interested in the organized club women of America, their activities, their interests, and their influence. She has recently completed an intensive study on publications for American club women, in order to discover their attitudes to current problems.
