School Breaks Are Cleaned Up With Arrest Of Nutley Youth

Honor System In Schools Has Been Vindicated, Authori- ties Say

The honor of some of Belleville's schoolboys — temporarily questioned by two breaks recently in School No. 7 and the High School — has been vindicated by the arrest Tuesday night in Bloomfield of Leonard Antonacci, seventeen, 41 Albany avenue, Nutley, in Essex County Boys' Vocational School, 209 Franklin street, that town.

Thus are Belleville boys proud of their accomplishments in the campaign of honor in the schools, where acts of vandalism are on the taboo list. The program of education against breaking windows, entering buildings at night, destroying desks and other similar acts of vandalism was progressing very well here, school authorities thought, until the schools were entered. Then doubt arose, but it is settled now because, police say, Antonacci admits the breaks in the local schools and the vandalism is credited to another town.

Antonacci, who is charged with breaking and entering, was discovered by John E. Loftus, night watchman, and was arrested by Detective Lieutenant Whelan and Patrolmen Paurice and Fletcher. Police said nothing had been taken from the school and no rooms were entered. They believe the youth entered the building while evening classes were being held and hid in a washroom until 10 P. M. when the school was closed.

Breaks at Spring Garden and Lincoln Schools, Nutley, are said by police also to have been admitted by the youth.

Nothing was taken at the high school here, but Supervising Principal Wayne R. Palmer says "all kinds of ruthless damage occurred." A few dollars made up the loot from a desk at No. 7 School.

"We have tried to point out in our system of education that such vandalism only reacts against the perpetrators," said Mr. Palmer. "Parents, in turn, must make up the cost of damage in increased tax bills and those responsible are, therefore, denied other liberties, privileges and values. We are proud of our boys and girls and we are glad to know that no Belleville youth had anything to do with the break. I believe the honor system, in vogue here in which we teach the boys and girls the value of protecting property, is a splendid one. A year or so ago No. 10 School was entered. That time a Bloomfield boy was responsible. Once again, I am glad to say we are proud of Belleville's youth."

COASTING TABOO AS SEVERAL ARE INJURED

First Snow Brings Joy And Sorrow To Local Youths

Following several coasting accidents, Police Chief George Spatz and Recreation Commissioner Edward Lister Monday at a conference decided that no streets would be set aside officially for sleighing. The only place designated for safe coasting is Belleville Park.

John Spezzaferro, fourteen, 149 Passaic avenue, fractured his nose and received a possible skull fracture Sunday when he collided with another coaster in Emmett street. The lad is in St. Mary's Hospital Passaic, where he was taken in the police ambulance by Patrolman Nygard and Fireman Ted Cyphers.

Three youths were injured Monday evening while coasting in Greyclark Parkway. They are William Clancy, nine, 181 Floyd street and Charles Duff, fourteen, 275 Greyclark parkway, both of whom were taken by Patrolman Raymond Demgard and Fireman Cyphers in the police ambulance to St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, and Russell Kearney, twelve, 31 Union avenue, Nutley, who was taken to his home, where he was attended by a Nutley doctor for abrasions of the knees and three teeth which were loosened.

The trio were injured when they were in collision with an automobile driven by Howard Bird, 30 Bremond street at that street intersection with Greyclark parkway. The lads were coasting east in the parkway as Bird attempted to turn left from Broadway street into Greyclark parkway, and they collided with the right front wheel of the car. The lads in the hospital were attended by Dr. Edward M. Rizzolo in a Greyclark parkway home. The doctor ordered them taken to the hospital for observation.

Askes For Hills

All hills received a dosing of ashes Monday to curb promiscuous coasting after many motorists had protested that it was almost impossible to travel on side hills for fear of injuring youngsters, who harked in droves to the first call for sleighing.

The County road authorities were notified Friday to sand or place ashes in Belleville and Union avenues and Rutgers and Joramolen streets after motorists had "skidded all over the lots," according to the police.

Barry J. McMullen, colored, 420 Broughton avenue, Bloomfield, applied his brakes Sunday evening to a car he was driving east in Mill street, west of Union avenue traffic light which had turned amber. The car skidded into another, which was ahead of McMullen and which was operated by Nicholas Gerard, 133 Mt. Prospect avenue, this town. Miss Agnes Gerard, a sister of the driver, who was an occupant of her brother's car, received abrasions to her right knee and her cousin, Marie King, of the same address, bruises about the left knee. McMullen received a cut over the left eye, which required two stitches. All were attended by Town Physician Dr. Herbert B. Vail.

Plans are now under way for a special Christmas Day service.

Hartley Makes Good Piano Player

Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., once again demonstrated his versatility on Sunday morning when he was invited by William Wakefield to address members of Everyman's Bible Class at a meeting in Masonic Temple.

The Congressman never did get around to speaking, but when it was found there was no one on hand to lead in singing, he turned to the piano, with such excellent results that he is apt to find himself in demand on that score from now on.

Not only is the Tenth District representative a talented "tinker" of the keys, he is about the best "top of the board" shuffleboarder in these parts. The Congressman has beaten many of the best shuffleboard players from here to Kalamazoo.

Just another example of a saying in this district when you want something done call on Fred Hartley.

BIBLE CLASS NEEDS A SONG LEADER

Membership Drive Has Red And Blue Armies On Their Toes

Thomas Oliver, Kearny, and his own piano accompaniment, will lead the singing at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning for the Everyman's Bible Class at a meeting in Masonic Temple. The class is endeavoring to obtain a song leader and Mr. Oliver has consented to lead the men this Sunday.

Both armies are working hard to annex the coveted award in an attendance contest which is being conducted. The Blue Army, now under the leadership of Raymond Boxberger, is making great strides by its showing the last two Sundays. The attendance for both groups on Ladies' Day was 150.

Plans are now under way for a special Christmas Day service.

BELLEVILLE WILL MEET THE DUCHESS

St. Peter's Dramatic Club Presents Hollywood Story December 17 At Hall

St. Peter's Hall is being braced with extra strength in preparation for the hilarious laugh sensation which is on its way there. December 14 the St. Peter's Dramatic Club will present the riotous inside story of life in Hollywood when "Meet the Duchess" makes its first appearance in Belleville.

The story of a sweet young thing from Hogwash, "Ioway," who comes to the film capital fortified with the title of the most popular girl in her home town, "Meet the Duchess" is a cleverly written, side-splitting tale of just what people have to do to break into the movies.

Advance ticket sale is reportedly far ahead of previous years, since special efforts are being made because the dramatic production will be the central point in the week-long celebration of St. Peter's Centennial Celebration, December 11-17.

History of St. Peter's Church Proves Interesting Over 100-Year Period

School Has Been Built Under Present Rector, Rev. J. M. Kelly

Looking back over a century St. Peter's Catholic Church has just issued a resume of the history of that church for the period. The centennial celebration starts Sunday, December 11, with a solemn Pontifical Mass to be followed with a week of events as were listed in last week's Belleville News.

The history of the church follows in brief: On January 27, 1837, Patrick Moran, Patrick O'Connell, John Reed, John McLaughlin, James McDermott, Nicholas Duffy and Michael Duffy were elected as Trustees of St. Peter's Church, and on February 2, 1837, the incorporation of the Church was recorded.

The parishioners began at once the construction of a church, on the William street hill. The architect was the Very Rev. Patrick Moran, rector of St. John's Church, Newark, who was the architect of St. John's and St. Patrick's Cathedral, Washington street, that city.

Church Dedicated

December 2, 1838, the church was dedicated by Rt. Rev. Bishop DuBois, of New York, whose Episcopal See comprised the states of New York and New Jersey. The first resident priest was Father Francis Ferrall.

The following priests from 1838 to the appointment of the first pastor had been in charge: Rev. Ferrall, 1838-39; Rev. Bernard McArdle, 1839-40; Rev. James Dougherty, 1840; Rev. David W. Bacon, who became the first Bishop of Portland, Me., 1841; Rev. Patrick Doncher, 1841; Rev. Daniel McManus, 1841-42; Rev. Bernard McCabe, 1842-44; Rev. Francis Coyle, 1844-45; Rev. Philip Gillick, 1845-51; Rev. John Cuore, 1851-53.

In the year 1853, Father John Hogan was appointed first resident pastor. He enlarged the church, erected a tower and installed the bell, which weighs 867 pounds and that same bell has been in use ever since. The parish then comprised: Belleville, Bloomfield, Montclair, Nutley, Lyndhurst and Woodside, now part of the City of Newark.

Parish Re-Incorporated

On April 18, 1862, the parish was re-incorporated according to the new state law under Rev. Hubert DeBurgh, with Patrick Smith and Timothy Barrett, as trustees. The latter was the father of Michael T. Barrett, former State Senator.

Under Father Hogan, a church was built in West Bloomfield, near Montclair, and, once again, another church was built in Avondale, now Nutley's St. Mary's. In July, 1879, Rev. William Dornin was appointed pastor and, after enlarging the church again, was succeeded by the Rev. John J. Murphy and who, in turn, was followed by Rev. Eugene A. Farrell.

On October 4, 1898, Rev. James P. Smith became pastor. Father Smith built the Sisters' Convent in William street, and the present magnificent stone church. For twenty-five years Father Smith labored in the Parish, and died August 10, 1923.

Rev. Edwin Field succeeded Father Smith and after decorating the church, renovating the old school and extending the church properties, built the present beautiful and homey rectory. Father Field died December 8, 1931, and was buried in the church cemetery, where the parishioners have erected a beautiful monument to his memory.

Rev. Kelly Appointed

Rev. Joseph M. Kelly was appointed pastor in January, 1932, and with the able assistance of the Rev. John S. Nelligan, a new school has been built.

At the solemn Mass of Thanksgiving on December 11, the Most Rev. Archbishop Thomas Joseph Walsh S.T.D.J.C.D. will preside.

Leaking Gas Is Called Cause Of Mrs. Mary Mann's Death

Four-Year-Old Daughter Also Overcome By Alleged Seepage

Police and Assistant County Medical Examiner Berardinelli say that the death Tuesday of Mrs. Mary F. Mann, forty-seven, 128 Malone avenue, and the unconscious state in which her four-year-old daughter, Eleanor, was found, was due to gas escaping from a pipe leading from the street main into the house.

Mrs. Mann's husband, Aloysius, cashier in New York for the Belleville Copper Rolling Mills, returned home shortly after 6 P. M. accompanied by another daughter, Doris. Detecting the odor of gas and hearing no one in the house, he investigated and found his wife unconscious on the kitchen floor near a window and Eleanor in her crib in a second floor bedroom.

Throwing open windows on the first floor, he summoned police and then ran upstairs. He found Eleanor, surrounded by her dolls and playthings. From the position of Mrs. Mann's body, authorities said, it appeared she was attempting to get to a window to open it. No gas jets were open and no windows were open.

Boy Revives Child

Doris picked up her sister and ran screaming with her in her arms to the home of Harry E. Klos, at 128 Malone avenue. There Harry Jr. twelve, a seventh grade pupil at Public School No. 3, who had witnessed a recent demonstration of artificial respiration by Donald Rochlin and Robert Johnson at a meeting of Boy Scout Troop No. 88, decided to try what he had seen at the health class. He revived the child with the assistance of Arthur J. Kuhn, 122 Malone avenue, an official of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. Young Klos is being complimented for his efforts. He is not a Boy Scout, but is anxious to join a troop, his friends say.

Eleanor was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, where her condition is serious. It is believed she may recover. She was placed under an oxygen tent.

Lieutenant Nourse and Patrolmen Lilore and Fletcher and Fireman White responded at the home with the town ambulance and inhalators. They worked four hours in an effort to revive Mrs. Mann. She was pronounced dead at 10:30 P. M. by Dr. Edward Flynn. Dr. Edward M. Rizzolo was also on the case. Mrs. Mann was removed to Mullin's Mortuary.

The leaking main was discovered under the front porch about four and one-half feet, police say, from the foundation of the house. A Public Service Electric and Gas Company crew were at the scene Wednesday.

Besides her husband and the two daughters Mrs. Mann leaves two other daughters, Mrs. Albert J. Bablich, Bloomfield, and Mrs. Charles Powers, this town.

ADULT EDUCATION PLAN TO START IN JANUARY

Cost Of Ten Lessons Will Be Nominal $2 Fee

Final plans for an adult education program in Belleville were made Monday night at a conference of the Board of Education and a committee of the Parent-Teacher Council at Public School No. 8. Charles H. Thompson, Jr., heads the committee for the P.T.A. group.

A preliminary survey shows that courses most desired are public speaking, sewing, modern languages, and household finance. It is expected that a charge of $2 will cover the cost of ten lessons. The course will be open to all adults in Belleville. Supervising Principal of Schools Wayne R. Farmer will be in charge of the faculty.

The Board of Education has agreed to donate use of the high school one night a week for the first ten-week series of classes, which are scheduled to meet Thursday nights starting in mid-January.

Besides Mr. Palmer and Mr. Gebhardt, High School Principal Hugh D. Kittle, a delegate from each of the ten Parent-Teacher associations in town, Belleville Teachers' Association and a representative from the town at large will make up the committee.

Permanent officers will be elected next Monday when the committee plans another meeting. A questionnaire will be distributed in town seeking information for the committee as to possible courses, which will be based on answers to the questionnaire.

Snow Man Appears

"Remarkable progress has been made in the fight against this dread disease, but the battle hasn't been won. Only through the sale of these little seals can we be assured of victory. Charlton, assistant District Commissioner gave a talk, and on behalf of District Commissioner W. D. Clark, presented the troop with a check, in recognition of its being one of those which held a high place in the Pow Wow, at Clearman Field this fall and last. Scout master Raymond Patrick was assisted by his son Raymond H. Patrick and E. Bertram Bush. A number of parents and friends attended.

The snow last Thursday proved just the right thing for Raymond Jordan, 177 Greyclark parkway, to exhibit his talents in the construction of a snow man. Pictured is little David Van Brunt, who lives in the same house as Mr. Jordan, in front of the snow man. The lad was playing in the snow yesterday when The News photographer came upon him.

Belleville Unit No. 105, American Legion Auxiliary, was represented yesterday at the monthly Essex County meeting at Newark Post No. 10 headquarters, 137 Broadway, by Mrs. Joseph Huemer, president; Mrs. William Labaugh, Mrs. F. Gerard Fredricks, Mrs. Joseph Kolonsky, Mrs. Arthur Christie and Mrs. Edwin Ackerman. Mrs. Harry Kendall, Irvington, presided.

Mrs. Christie, Mrs. Labaugh, Miss Laura Congleton and Mrs. Kolonsky will attend tomorrow the department conference at the Hotel Hildebrecht, Trenton.

The Junior Auxiliary of Belleville was installed Friday evening in the Legion clubrooms by Mrs. William Kant, past-president of the Senior group as follows: President, Virginia Ackerman; vice-president, Ruth Shannon; secretary, Maude Christie; treasurer, Doris Huemer; historian, Alberta Allen; chaplain, Joyce Shannon; and sergeant-at-arms, Evelyn Ackerman.

Maude Christie, the retiring president, after serving two years, was presented by Mrs. Kant with an American Legion Auxiliary bracelet, the gift of the junior organization. Mrs. Arthur Christie, the newly appointed chairman for the juniors, is desirous of obtaining new members for that organization, which comprises daughters of legionnaires up to eighteen years. Anyone desiring further information may contact Mrs. Christie at 250 De Witt avenue.

The next business meeting of the juniors will be held on Tuesday, December 13, in the home of Miss Ackerman, 191 Linden avenue. The next senior meeting will be Monday, December 12, in the Legion clubrooms, 170 Washington avenue.

Re-enrollment of the entire membership of Belleville Unit before January 31 is the goal of a campaign begun by the unit today, Mrs. Huemer announced. New members also will be accepted during the campaign and the unit expects to enter the new year with an increase over its 1938 enrollment.

The campaign will be directed by Mrs. Huemer chairman of the membership committee, with the assistance of Mrs. Kolonsky, co-chairman and the entire executive committee. All members of the unit are being urged to work actively in the membership effort.

"The American Legion Auxiliary reached the largest membership in its history this year," said Mrs. Frank Mathers, Department President of the Auxiliary, "with over 500,000 women enrolled throughout the nation. We expect another large increase during the coming year."

"The growth of the Auxiliary is a result of the practical program of civic and patriotic service which it offers to its members. It affords opportunity to take part in some of the most significant activities being undertaken by American women today, including efforts for the defense of American democracy and for the protection of the country from war. Local activities cover a wide field of civic and patriotic work, and include many enjoyable social affairs."

"Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of American Legion members or deceased veterans, and women who were themselves in World War service are eligible to the Auxiliary. We are inviting them all into the membership of our unit at this time."

Hedden Wedding Party Held Recently For Rev. and Mrs. William Shoop and Mrs. William Shoop, of Springfield, Ill., who are guests of the winter of their son, Harold K. Shoop, 85 Malone avenue, celebrated recently in Forest Hill Field Club, their golden wedding anniversary at which they were dressed in the wedding attire they wore fifty years ago.

Mrs. Edgar M. Compton, wife of the pastor of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, which the couple have attended eight winters, played the wedding march.

Speakers included Dr. Arlo Ayers Brown, president of Drew University; Rev. William M. Gilbert, professor of mission study at the university, and Dr. W. L. Ham, E. Shoop, secretary of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who was toastmaster. All were one-time members of Illinois Central Conference, with which Mr. Shoop was identified during most of his active ministry. Tribute also was paid Mr. Compton from whose pulpit Mr. Shoop has frequently preached.

Mrs. Shoop's gown was of ivory cashmere, the skirt heavily shirred and stiffened with crinoline. Over the short, close-fitting bodice with position back, she wore an embroidered, fringed mantilla matching the dress. The only article her husband could muster from his wedding attire was a cream-colored broadened velvet turban-band.

They were married in the bride's home at Pennington Point, Ill., by the late Dr. J. S. Cumming, then president of Hedden College, Abington, Ill., where both were graduated. Mr. Shoop was from Abington and prepared for the ministry at Boston University School of Theology. He was retired in 1925.

Besides the son with whom the Shoops are staying, there are a son, William M. Shoop of Washington, N. C., and a daughter, Mrs. Don C. Seaton, wife of the state director of physical education for Illinois. There are no grandchildren. The couple are both active. Mrs. Shoop directing the affairs of her son's home.

Study in Contrasts

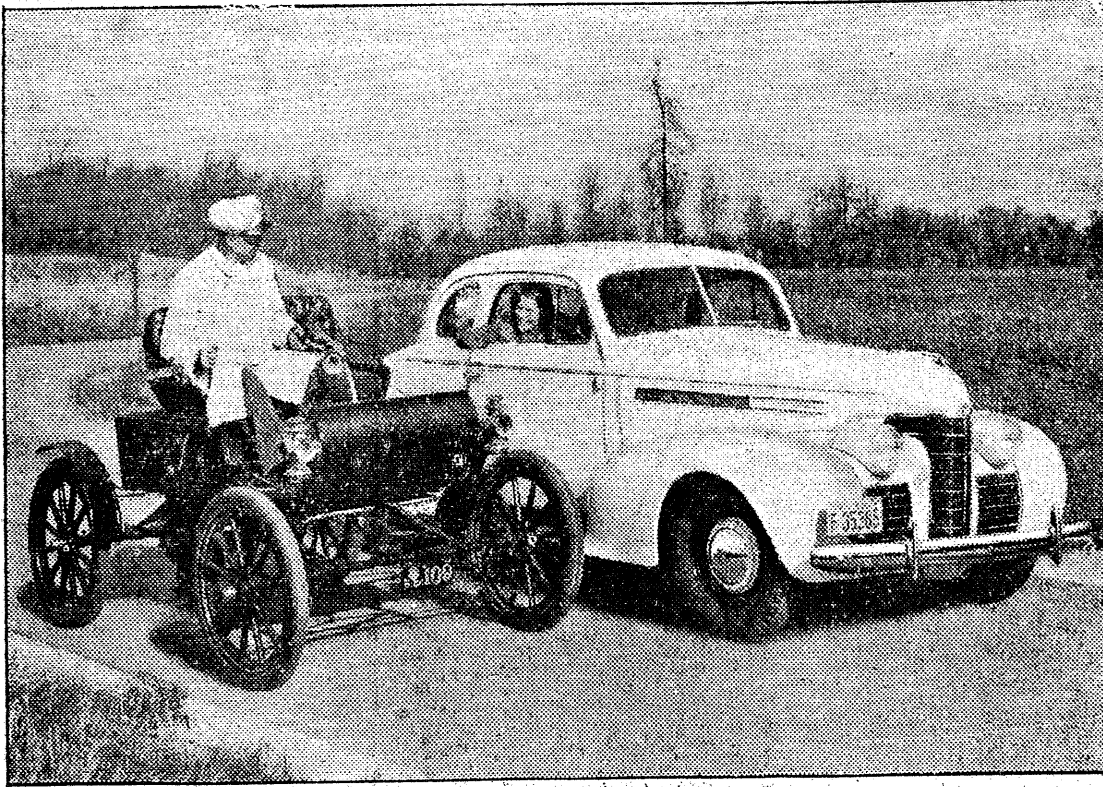

Illustration above shows two of the lowest priced Oldsmobiles ever built. This 1939 single-cylinder runabout listed for $650 f.o.b. factory, and when the price of coal-oil lamps, top and rain curtains was added, it about equalled the $777 factory delivered price of its 1939 successor, the new Oldsmobile series "Sixty" business coupe. Comparison of the two cars offers a dramatic illustration of the increase in dollar-for-dollar value achieved in motor cars in the past 40 years.

To Give Tea For Mrs. H. Witherspoon

A tea will be given Sunday afternoon by Eleanor Bacon-Peck at her studios, 110 Overlook avenue, for Mrs. Herbert Witherspoon of the Metropolitan Opera Guild. Mrs. Witherspoon will speak on the activities of the guild.

About forty guests from Belleville, Nutley, Bloomfield, Rutherford and Maplewood will attend.

taxi to reach places of business. Rutgers street hill at Washington avenue all day proved a menace to motorists, particularly those who tried to operate automobiles or trucks without chains. Until late afternoon the grade was minus sand or ashes and heavy trucks that stopped while proceeding up the hill for the traffic light at Washington avenue, often times skidded backward as far as the Erie Railroad. At one time as many as twenty-five cars and trucks were in helter-skelter positions in the street.

Accidents Reported

Neither Frank Oostdyk, 101 Maple avenue, Clifton, driver of a truck, nor Paul S. Cumming, 59 Verona avenue, Newark, driver of a pleasure car, were injured early Friday morning when the truck — a two and one-half ton affair — skidded and fell on the top of Cumming's sedan at Washington avenue and Mill street. The accident blocked traffic at the busy intersection from 7:03, when it happened, until 9:15. The truck's cargo of heavy material and boxes was spilled littering the street. The truck, it is said, skidded when the driver attempted to stop for a traffic light.

Two Belleville women were injured about midnight Thanksgiving Day in a three-car collision at Washington street and Lincoln Park, Newark. They are Sadie Warren, fifty-eight, and Lucille Warren, fifty, both of 27 Valley street. Both were taken to St. Barnabas's Hospital, Newark, the former with a skull fracture and the latter with minor injuries.

George Warren of the local address was driving the car in which the women were riding. The other cars were operated by Walter Rodi, 132 Pomona avenue, and George Clark, 145 Charlton street, both of Newark.

Nicholas Longo of King street suffered knee injuries when the bicycle on which he was riding was in collision with the auto of George S. Saunders, 197 Nutley avenue, at Passaic and Brookfield avenues, that town, Thursday.

Belleville streets were cleared of snow by the road department, consisting of seven men, with plows bought two years ago. Road Superintendent James Waters said only $15 were paid in overtime. Although rutted, as in other towns, streets were passable here all during the storm.

Windows Broken

Fun is fun but when young boys throw snowballs at houses with such force that they break windows, it is a case to call the police. At least, Mrs. Mary S. Hatch, 129 Joralemon street, had ample cause to do so Tuesday when a neighbor, who was seated in Mrs. Hatch's house, was injured about the head when one of the snowballs crashed through a window and hit the visitor.

Police also were called to the Begley home at 15 Lloyd place where a snowball was thrown by boys through a window.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1938

FIRST SNOWFALL PRESENTS PROBLEM

The first snowfall this year and best in many moons, so far as coasting is concerned, found Belleville totally unprepared. And this condition was not Belleville's alone. Other municipalities were in the same category. Thursday's early sleet and rain should have been a warning that snow plows be held in readiness for the flakes that were to follow. But it is a long time between winters and the plows remained inert until their use only served to skim the soft snow from the hardened icy bulk underneath.

Perhaps the balmy weather, leading up to the storm, had something to do with the lack of preparation. The real problem presented itself when motorists tried to climb icy hills sans chains. Rutgers street at Washington avenue at noon Friday afforded as many thrills as a midjet automobile race. Cars were askew in all directions. Some were in low gear, but any effort to move ahead only resulted in a skid backwards or sideways. Then came the coasters and accidents.

The sleighing was ideal and the hearts of youngsters throbbed as they sought the hills. Little did their thoughts turn to skidding motor cars until the authorities placed ashes on all hills and designated Belleville Park as the only safe place in which to enjoy coasting. The authorities did not want to prevent anyone from enjoying the fun of coasting. Of that we are sure. But the action of ashing hills brought forth a peal of protest. Perhaps the storm has afforded an object lesson. In the future sanded or ashed streets should be the thing immediately, not after a day has elapsed, whether they be town or county streets. Then, too, there should be some provision made for coasting on designated hills. Some youngsters find it a long walk to Belleville Park, especially when ideal coasting spots are nearer home.

A LITTLE PATIENCE, PLEASE

In the next three weeks many Belleville shoppers will make the rounds of stores as they search for Christmas articles. As they do so, tired salespeople will greet them with a smile, beset as they will be with long, hard hours trying to wait on all, some of whom will procrastinate, as usual, with shopping matters. This is the start of the Christmas season when all should be happy and merry. Let's try a little of this philosophy for the benefit of the salespeople who will be trying—ever so patiently—to serve our wants. Let's try to make their lot easier at this time of year. Be patient if the person who waits on you seems just a bit too slow or tired. Perhaps she or he will be maintaining a salesperson's demeanor—subconsciously. After all, the man or woman behind the counter is human, too. And, they like to think of Christmas as do all of us. Give them a break.

SPEAKING OF THE WEATHER

The bite of winter in the wind that blew late Thanksgiving Day was somewhat of a shock. Yet it was to be expected, even though sudden. Not only did the swift chill touch the flesh, but in the back of everyone's head was the memory of the hurricane. People passing under trees and signs glanced anxiously upward as they swayed and groaned. It will be a long time before the notable big wind passes out of the mind. It will, also, be a while before we forget a fall which, up to last Thursday, was so pleasant, mild and healthful. The bets are we may get a bit more mildish weather before this month is far under way. Although some of us older folks remember when it was not unusual to have snow around Thanksgiving time.

"PEACE ON EARTH"

With the holiday spirit once more upon us, it is with a feeling of relief that in the fierce pace of this rapidly changing world, plunging headlong into a darkened future, man may find a long sought after spiritual release and friendliness that springs of brotherly love in a fraternal organization that pauses in this season of the Christ Child to honor the memory of her dead.

It is most fitting that this season be chosen for the Memorial Services of the Elks' Lodges in this district. It is our hope that every member and the friends of this organization will attend the services which will be conducted by Belleville Lodge, B. P. O. E. No. 1123, this Sunday afternoon at the Club.

Today, more than ever before, man needs the balance, the mental security that springs from an organization that, because it is founded on the highest principles of mankind, is strong enough to dodge the lunge of a political grasp and spurn the ambitions of a selfish world. In this season of giving and of Godliness, man must find a hiding place from the headlines that scream of war and corruption.

While we watch with increasing fear the threats of radical groups against Americanism, we give thanks that because America has organizations like the Elks, who pause for a brief hour this Sunday to remember the men they have worked and played with, our fears are weak and our hope is strong. We know this because they honor not alone the memory of a friend, but an ideal and upon this ideal rests the hope of America. A hope for peace among men and peace among nations.

ADULT EDUCATION

Early this fall this newspaper pointed out that Belleville could do itself proud through establishment of Adult Education classes. It was pointed out that many residents of this town had signed up for such classes in North Newark, Nutley and elsewhere. Finally Belleville, through the Board of Education, has stepped forward with a project of this nature. It is planned to start such classes in mid-January, one night a week, courses to be framed from answers to a questionnaire, which will be distributed about town. This is splendid. It shows that Belleville is keeping pace with its neighbors in educational facilities for grown-ups. A committee of ten, selected from agencies closest to the pulse of educational matters, will handle the details and be in charge of the program. Belleville is going at this thing in the right way. If memory serves correctly School Commissioner Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., sponsored the idea from the Board of Education standpoint.

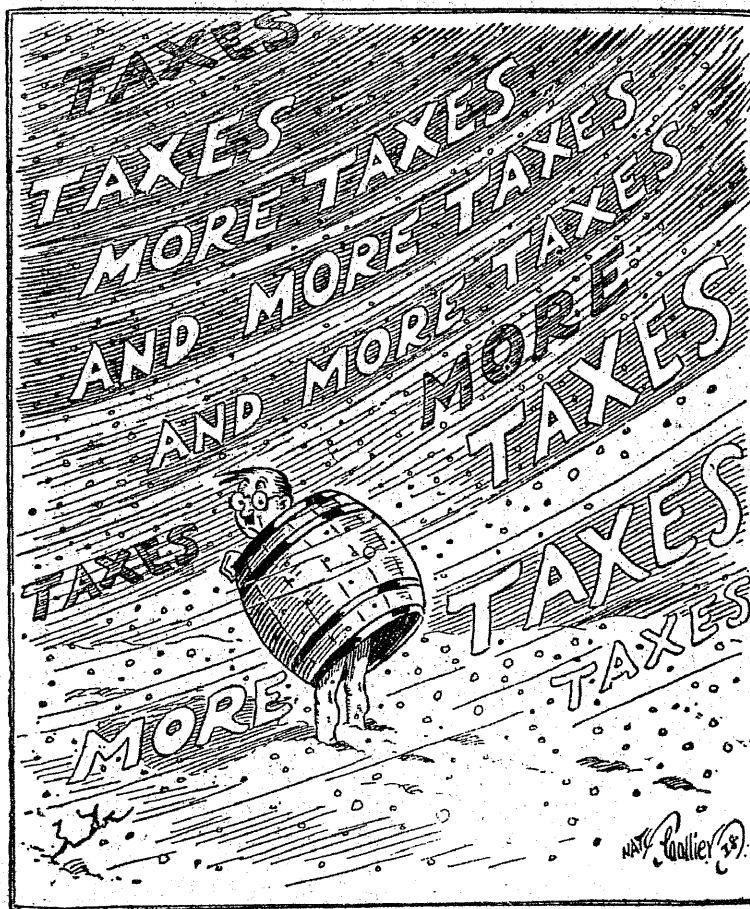

No. 3 SCHOOL PROJECT DOUBTFUL

Little hope is held out that the Federal Government will grant Belleville $69,485 to be added to the town bond issue of $84,865, which was ratified by voters on September 27, for an addition and auditorium at Public School No. 3. The Federal authorities say New Jersey is far ahead of its allotment now and the chances of Federal aid here are slim. This is too bad. The improvement is needed at the school, which has been termed a fire trap, as far as its auditorium is concerned. The condition of the auditorium is such that those who attended commencement exercises last year were forced to raise umbrellas to keep rain from spoiling their clothes when drops seeped through the roof. Then, too, the heating plant needs a thorough going over—a new job is really what is required. Belleville, it seems, cannot afford to pay the entire cost at this time. Therefore, it looks as if some temporary plan must be worked out or the whole project dropped until such time as funds are available to proceed with the work as it should be done.

BELLEVILLE YOUTH IN THE CLEAR

With the arrest Tuesday night of an out-of-town youth in Bloomfield where he was caught in the Essex County Boys' Vocational School, has led, police say, to the unravelling of breaks at Public School No. 7 and the High School. While we have no desire to cast aspersions on any other town, it cannot be permitted to pass unnoticed that Belleville's youth is in the clear. Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer well may feel elated that the honor system of protecting property, as is practiced in the local schools, has no stain upon it. Parents here also may feel pride that no Belleville school child had anything to do with the breaks and resultant vandalism. Belleville started the honor system recently with organized groups in each classroom in town. When the breaks occurred it was natural to suppose that some one in Belleville was responsible. Authorities were aware it was the work of some young person and, of consequence, did not look beyond Belleville's borders. Belleville's youth have been vindicated. Hats off to them.

THE SNOW STORM

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The Christmas spirit is in the air. You can see it in the stores and feel it in the streets. It is probably too much to hope that during this season when we celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace, that those who are causing strife and persecution throughout the world will be tempered by the Christmas spirit—but it will do no harm to hope.

Has it occurred to you in doing your Christmas shopping that when you buy at home, you help yourself? The more business that Belleville stores do, the better business is in Belleville, the more value attaches to business property and the more taxes are paid by business properties and as the taxes paid by business properties increase, it is a corollary that taxes paid on other properties should decrease. For many of the things you are going to buy this Christmas season there is no need to go to Newark or New York. Most of the things you are going to purchase can be bought with equal quality and usually less price in Belleville than if you went to one of the adjoining larger municipalities.

So buy at home. Help the local business people, help Belleville and help yourself.

And if the roads stay in the condition they have been in the past few days, the closer to home you do your shopping the better. We have seen many snow storms and many roads that were very difficult to traverse because of snow and ice but we cannot recall in Newark a more difficult time or more atrocious road conditions than those which have characterized the past week. Maybe there is some excuse because the storm came so quickly and unexpectedly but to do nothing on the plea of having no money available is not complimentary to the members of the Newark City Commission. On the whole the Highway Department in Belleville handled the street clearing problem admirably, as did most of the suburbs in Essex County—but for inefficiency and terrible street conditions, we would be compelled to award Newark the first prize.

Income tax time is coming around again, the fourth installment being due within two weeks. There isn't any question but that taxes are going to be higher before they will be lower because of the necessity of carrying the very heavy interest burden on monies that have been borrowed and the necessity of paying back monies that our Governments owe. Our representative in the House—Fred A. Hawley—and our United States Senators, Messrs. Barbour and Smathers, are going to have their say when it comes to financial transactions of the Government, tax bills, revenue acts, etc. They are going to Washington as your representatives. Do they know what you think? Will they have the advantage of your opinions? Will they know your wishes so that they will truly be your representatives? They truly want to represent you. Of course, they will use their best judgment but if you don't let them know your views, how can you expect them to represent you? All that is necessary to let them know is the ambition and energy to write a letter addressed to them at Washington, D. C., where many members of Congress are now working in preparation for the forthcoming Congressional session.

And speaking of Christmas, may we all be a little considerate of the clerks in the stores, of the delivery organizations, of the express companies and of the postal service—and do our shopping and our shipping early.

If you want an interesting and inexpensive evening's entertainment, may we recommend the Maplewood Theatre on Maplewood avenue, just across the street from the Lackawanna Railroad. There for the past several months, with change of program weekly, some of the outstanding Broadway plays of recent years have been offered, many of them with the original company and some of them with the original stars performing. The top price that you can pay for a ticket is $1.10 and on the whole the plays are admirably produced and admirably acted. We suggest you try it some evening during the approaching festival season.

We learn with regret that the Belleville Community Chest has as yet failed to reach their goal and that in fact they are some $4,000 behind the amount that was pledged a year ago. It is not too late to make a contribution to the Community Chest and it is worth a thought that while giving Christmas presents to others, we give one to our Community by making a contribution to the Welfare Federation or even increase the contribution that we have already made.

Other prominent parts were taken by Misses Betty Elson, Dottie Bingham, Gertrude King and Beatrice Bryson, supported by a snappy female chorus. Music was furnished by the Mosaic Orchestra, under direction of George Snodgrass.

The Board of Education accepted an offer from Belleville Rotary Club to present annually a prize to the high school student doing most for the school during the year.

After thirty-one years as treasurer of the Exempt Firemen's Association, Patrick F. Smith, 214 William street, resigned.

"We can save the Town of Belleville $1,800 if the Town Commission will give our representative complete power to act on garbage complaints resulting from garbage collections," declared Frank Gibson, speaking for

SEEKS PROTECTION FOR COASTERS

Prefers This To Being Chased From Local Hills

Editor, Belleville News:
Monday night about 100 young people were gathered on Little street having a grand time coasting. All of a sudden a city truck and a policeman appeared and shoved a truckload of sand all over the hill. The best and only hill in Belleville was ruined.

That was certainly social sabotage. Educators and others interested in the welfare of our youth are always urging us to take up healthy outdoor sports. The sanding of the hill was in exact contradiction to these teachings.

The reason for stopping the coasting was that someone complained to the police because a child had run into a parked car. We do not often get such excellent coasting so that I feel justified in asking that instead of being driven from the hill, we be given police protection on the hill.

PHILIP ACKOR

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Wednesday's Trenton dispatches state that a definite decision has been reached by legislative leaders for return of the primaries from September to May. Such an agreement does not necessarily mean that next year's primary will be held in May. Many things can happen to prevent an "agreement" from becoming a law. But the probability of passage is sufficient to justify an assumption in discussing the 1939 election.

Next year's primary is of particular importance in Essex in that it promises to be more decisive than the general election in November. Nothing short of a miracle will enable the Democrats to defeat the Republican ticket next year.

Majorities Too Big

This year's majorities of 30,000 for assembly candidates and 40,000 for freholders indicate a Republican trend too strong for the Democrats to overcome in the normal course of events.

One hears expressed on every side the belief that a Republican primary fight is inevitable. If these views are correct and the contest is held in May, it will not be many weeks before leaders and candidates will be under serious discussion. The only thing that can prevent a hard primary fight will be the inability of the anti-Clean Government wing of the party to wage a battle. Even though this wing of the party controls the county committee it may permit Clean

Government to win by this situation in Essex is very much like it was at the end of 1934. That year the Government nominated its candidates in the spring primary by huge majorities, but the late Jesse Salmon was elected chairman by a small margin over Henry Young, Jr.

Did Ignore Salmon

The next year Clean Government leaders just simply ignored Salmon and his control of the County Committee and entered a Clean Government slate composed mainly of candidates who had been elected the year before. The showing made by the organization ticket that year was little short of pathetic. The same situation is likely to confront County Chairman Miller next year as presented itself to Salmon in 1935, only that Clean Government is likely to be more firmly in control next year than it was then.

The machine of Pearce R. Franklin is likely to be weaker next May than it was in 1935. It is hard for me to visualize the support financial and otherwise, that will enable Miller to enter a ticket that could fight the Clean Government slate on anything like equal terms.

Third Party Slate

There is a third alternative to fighting in a primary or letting an election go by default. That is to enter a third party ticket in the general election. Such a movement is generally unpopular with politicians because those who subscribe to it are likely to be read out of their party permanently.

Should such a movement be initiated very likely it would be to protest the use of the "Clean Government" slogan on the part of the candidates who will seek nomination under the Vanderbilt-Cle-Seely standard.

Aunt Flo's Column

BEAUTY IS ONLY SKIN DEEP, and it is also well to remember that ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS.

Ida writes: Dear Aunt Flo—I have had a boy friend for the past two years and we have had such good times together, never a quarrel. We both enjoy the same sort of amusements and he is always doing something to make me happy. The only trouble is with his looks. He is considered rather homely and my younger brothers and sisters and some of my friends tease me and ask me why I don't pick out a better looking. He is always well dressed, however, and acts the gentleman on all occasions and, strange to say, I cannot see that he is homely. Do you suppose that later in life I would regret that I married him? This may seem like a silly question but it worries me and I would like to hear what you think about it.

Dear Ida: I have no patience with a man who is considered an Adonis for he is usually selfish and egotistical, thinking more about the impression he is making than the comfort of others, so I guess you have come to the right person for advice in this case.

Beauty fades quickly, but character lives on and on forever, each day unfolding itself in some beautiful and unexpected manner. This man of yours shows fine traits of character, in that you say he is always doing something to make you happy, so I feel you will make no mistake if you entrust your future to him.

I hope you will not be foolish enough to break off a friendship so lovely and search for a better looking just because your family and friends tease you a bit. For after all it is not your family or your friends who will be obliged to live with the man, but you. When you tell me that in your eyes he is not homely, you are telling me much more than you think and though I am no fortune teller, I honestly believe that you have found your man. Try to remember that some of the greatest characters are cloaked in seemingly unattractive bodies and when we are fortunate enough to find these persons and recognize their fine qualities we are indeed endowed with a rare foresight.

It is strange how persons are transformed when we love them—this is a little trick that is played on us all. Some of the persons we love dearest and best are the least attractive looking in the eyes of other people, but to me they are beautiful, because I have learned to see beneath the surface of their skin and know that their characters are lovely. I hope that you will continue your friendship with this worthy while man and that great happiness will come to you both.

CHRISTMAS GIVING

The Community Service Bureau, 338 Washington avenue, under the supervision of Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, executive secretary, explains why it is termed the "Holiday Clearing House."

Says Mrs. Reiner: "In the past, Christmas giving was a simple matter. Needs were known. One neighbor helped another."

"But today community life is more complex. Christmas giving has become a community problem. 'There must be plan, organization, centralization. Otherwise Christmas giving may become Christmas chaos.'

"That is why the community provides you with the Holiday Clearing House. It is the modern social work device which coordinates community giving, eliminates duplication, prevents 'charity racketeering.'

"Use its facilities. We can make Christmas happier for more people if we work together as a community."

Mrs. Reiner urges: "Please don't let this happen: Family A. They received four baskets — and there's barely a shovel of coal in the bin and not a whole sheet in the house."

Or this: Family B. Five pairs of rubbers came for Bobbie, aged ten years. He needs a warm coat. He wanted a sled."

Or this: Family C. They conducted a little campaign of their own, got seven baskets and sold the extra contents to the neighbors."

Or this: Family D. They need clothes and everything else you can think of in the house but—THEY DIDN'T GET A THING."

In contrast she pleads: "Please do: Make up a list of names of families or persons to whom you intend to give.

Arrange names in alphabetical order.

Be sure to include your own name as donor or the name of your organization, address and telephone.

State what you intend to give to each family or person on your list.

Mail the list to the Holiday Clearing House.

Mail it EARLY! (Two weeks before Christmas is none too soon, if you can.)

Small lists can be cleared over the telephone.

REMEMBER: Very often, people who have little money spend on anything anytime, best Christmas gift is CASH — money to use for what they want."

You Should Know

The service is confidential — no records are kept. Lists are destroyed after Christmas.

There is no charge — service is free to individuals and groups who give to people in need.

You are protected — fraudulent appeals are detected when names are cleared.

You can give through the Community Service Bureau if you don't know any families. The agency will describe a family and its needs and suggest welcome gifts. In consideration of the feelings of the recipients, names are not revealed by the Community Service Bureau.

Waste Giving is prevented. Every list is checked against every other list. Last year ten per cent of names cleared were found to be on more than one list. If you clear your list, later groups are notified of duplication; they can either substitute a different gift or another family.

"God the only Cause and Creator" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world.

The Golden Text is: "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King."

Among the lesson-sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us?"

The lesson-sermon also includes this passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Infinite Mind is the creator, and creation is the infinite image or idea emanating from this Mind. If Mind is within and without all things, then all is Mind; and this definition is scientific."

Personal Loans for the Homemaker

The greatest industry in the country is conducted by women. That business is house-keeping.

The good homemaker budgets her expenditures in relationship to her income, as a good business man will do. But her budget will not always balance. Expenses come in groups sometimes just as callers do. This is particularly true at this season when you have the cost of fuel and winter clothing, replacements, etc.

A timely loan may be the answer to your problem. You will find our officers glad to talk over your needs with you in a confidential, helpful way.

TUBERCULOSIS

Medical Science has made This Dread Disease Preventable and CURABLE

Such a short time ago Tuberculosis was one of the most dreaded of diseases.

Of course, it is yet a serious thing to allow one's self to become run down and infected with the "T. B." bug. But thanks to scientific and medical research, Tuberculosis is now CURABLE.

True enough, patience and full co-operation with Physician's orders is necessary, but what a blessed knowledge that another scourge of mankind is being conquered.

Tuberculosis is not stamped out by a very great deal, and it may take another century, but Medical Science is bringing that day nearer all the time. One of the very best possible ways you can help is to keep up your vitality—have a yearly examination, and insist on the same thing for every member of your family.

The early stage of any chronic, acute or wasting disease is easier to cope with, and most especially is this true of Tuberculosis.

Belleville High School Band To Play With 18 Others At Newark Armory

"Goodfellowship Night" Schedule For 1,000 Players Tomorrow Night

Belleville High School band will be among eighteen Essex County high school bands which will enter the following schools: Weequahic, West Side, South Side, Central, Bannington and East Side High, in Newark; Glen Ridge, Irvington, Montclair, Verona, Nutley, Orange, West Orange, East Orange and others not yet selected.

The Music Box

by Al Vada

This week I have a big surprise for you, in my series of interviews I will include the opinions of the faculty and then those of the student body.

Question: What do you think of "Swing"?

Mr. Wilcox: "Swing Music is an ideal form of exercise utilizing

In next week's music box which is conducted by Al Vada, he will have a ballot vote of the most popular swing band, so if you are in with the top swing bands, cast your vote to Al or any other member of the staff, or just put your name on a piece of paper with the band you think best and give it to Miss Wishart before December 5! The decision will be published December 9! Will it be Ben Goodman? Richard Himber? Time will tell.

every muscle of the body except the mental."

Mr. Parker: "I like swing very little, I like to listen to Benny Goodman just for a few minutes, but not for a steady diet. Paul Whiteman is my idea of a good jazz band."

Mr. Kittle: "If you listen to swing for any extent of time it will drive you insane."

Mr. Criswell: "Well, there's no comparison of swing to classical music; one is for the feet, one for the head and heart."

Mr. Criswell says that he is no jitter bug, but he can cut a rug. Mr. Hefferman: "Don't know, I never tried swing."

Miss Rush: "I think swing is the music for dancing, only when Guy Lombardo plays it."

Miss Wishart: "I enjoy swing tremendously but it will never be compared to classical music."

Miss Underwood: "I don't care for it, but it's all right as a variety, a little of it goes a long way."

Miss Nelson: "Swing is typically American."

Miss Andre: "Oh! it's terrible!! Oh! My!!"

Now I have surprising answers from the student body.

Margaret Pelz: "Without swing, life will not be worth living."

Peter Calabrese: "Too plus Goo Equals swing."

Bette Memmot: "I don't like the fast swing, but sweet swing is w-o-l-d-I-Larry Clinton's Recording of 'My Reverie' and Sammy Kayes' 'Swing an' Sway' are my idea of good dance music."

Ted Niewiadomski: "It's O.K. if played in a modified form."

Ernie Hensel: "It's Tops!!"

Ray Tenpenny: "It's Honky Dory!"

Rita Kennedy: "I think swing is really artistic if properly executed."

Edward Ostroski: "Swing is an incomprehensible sound to the reasoning power of the intellect; But the appeal to the emotion is terrific which proves that emotion still dominates reason."

Art

As the presentation of the Senior play nears, the advertising of it has recently reached completion under the able hands of the art students of B.H.S. supervised by P. Webster Diehl, of the faculty.

The students got their inspirations from the interesting title, "Ghost Train." The cardboard designs consist of ghosts, goblins, skeletons, dank sinister looking trains and detectives in the person of Sherlock Holmes. Monday, November 28, Mr. Krisswell, Mrs. Kapp, Mr. Fox and Herschel Saunders, together with Mr. Diehl, faculty of Belleville High School, met in the art room to judge the posters.

The winners are: first prize, three tickets for the second night, Astrid Carlson; second, two tickets, second night, Virginia Plantery; and third, one ticket, second night, Blanche Wells.

Form Puppet Club

Under the able supervision of Miss Thelma Weidman a puppet club has been formed. Work on the marionettes has been started in room 210 on Monday afternoons. After the puppets are completed a play will be selected and appropriate costumes made. The club hopes to present the play before a high school audience.

Miss Weidman has conducted puppet clubs in Public School No. 1, and in Easton Junior High, Easton Pa. She has been backstage at most of the big puppet shows in this part of the country. Miss Weidman thinks Tony Sarge, noted for his work in this line, America's foremost exponent of puppetry.

The Paper Mill Playhouse, Short Hills, is presenting a series of four puppet show performances. "Little Black Sambo," "Robin Hood," and "The Prince and the Pauper" are scheduled to be given sometime in the coming year.

"Le Petit Journal"

"Le Petit Journal," a newspaper printed in French for American students is being offered for sale to the students in Mrs. Penelope Allen's French 3 classes to help them become more familiar with the language. If enough students subscribe to the paper—Mrs. Allen plans to have pupils read it aloud in class to aid their pronunciation, otherwise the pupils who do buy the paper will read it for their own enjoyment (?) out of class.

Attend Concert

Little Albert, Carol Carswell, Alice Hart, and Geraldine Miller attended the concert of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra at the Mosque Theatre in Newark, Wednesday, as the guests of the conductor, Alexander Smallens.

The girls, as members of the high school orchestra, were introduced to the conductor.

Print Shop Activities

by Peter Calabrese
 Although working in much too close quarters, many enthusiastic students have done much fine work in printing school forms and material for their own use. The students regard the print shop as the center of the school, as it is very important to the school functions. There are printed all the dance tickets, library permits, detention slips and many other school necessities.

At present the students of the print shop are designing Christmas cards. Some of the cards they make have an almost professional appearance. They are made under supervision of John S. Charlton, the instructor.

Display cards for the senior play, "The Ghost Train," have just been printed.

Local Boys Making Good In Music

By Al Vada

"La Maestra Del Clarino." Carol Carswell was born in Belleville sixteen years ago. At the suggestion of William Richards, principal of Public School No. 3, she began taking clarinet lessons at the age of ten. Carol, at first, thought it odd for a girl to play a wind instrument like the clarinet, but there's nothing odd about Carol's playing now. Taking the clarinet from Carol would be like taking the baton from Miss Walters. In brief, the clarinet is just the instrument for Carol.

Carol took lessons from Oscar Werner and other well-known artists. At present she is under tutelage of Charles Thetford, formerly with Roger Pryor, George Innis and John Philip Sousa.

In 1937 Carol was chosen among strong competition to play in the New Jersey All-State High School Orchestra and the All-Eastern High School Orchestra at Buffalo, where she was awarded a medal for distinction in music.

In 1938 she played in the Essex County Orchestra, West Orange Symphony, Nutley Symphony and again appeared with the All-state group. This time she won two medals of merit.

Carol is indeed a very fine example of the brilliant talent which helps to place Belleville High School on top. We are proud of Carol and wish her success always.

Among all the high schools in New Jersey, Belleville now boasts of the most talented group of musicians.

NOTICE !!!

Next week we shall have another column, the "MUSIC BOX," conducted by Al Vada. It will consist of one main question pertaining to music, with answers by faculty and the students. Al's first question is: "What is your opinion of swing in comparison to classical music?"

Don't miss next week's issue for the answers by members of the faculty!

fundamentals of honesty and good sportsmanship. On the football programs and schedules there were little passages by famous men on the subjects.

Recently the printing students saw interesting slides.

Basketball Soon

Coach Albert K. McBride is busy these days rounding up his basketball material for the court season. The local coach has his eye cast on the State championship, it is rumored.

There are three lettermen returning to the squad, Adolph Paul, Robert Giber and Jack Clark. Others expected out for the squad are Pat Barbone, Pat Tortorella, Gerard Ferrara, Robert Thompson, Jack Avazier, Jack Hannon, James White, Leon Tierney, Sooky McCabe, Darrell Zink and William "Red" Hanley.

Belleville has seventeen games scheduled, nine of which will be played on the local court.

Praised For Poem

Miss Dorothy Hollander, sixteen, a junior in Belleville High School, has had her poem, "Ballroom Dame," printed in the "Round Table Column" of the November Scholastic. Miss Hollander is complimented by the editors of that publication. The poem follows:

BALLROOM DAME
 The tinkle and sparkle
 Of her tiny, trilling laughter,
 Her poised and fluttering crossings—
 That cause eyes to follow after,
 Her wispy, dreamy gowns
 That make hearts go pitter-pat:
 Butterfly technique.
 But, Oh! What a cat!

Wilma Plansoen Picked As Beauty At Duke

Miss Wilma Plansoen, Belleville, is one of the girls chosen by vote of women students at Duke University as one of the loveliest girls in the freshman class. From this group Miss Jane Smith, Atlanta, was picked as the freshman beauty queen, who reigned over the Duke-Pitt football classic.

Miss Plansoen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Plansoen, 681 Main street. She is a graduate of Belleville High School and has been pledged to membership in Zeta Tau Alpha. She is also a member of the Woman's College glee club.

Syracuse Editor

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 2—Miss Ellen Conry, 39 Preston street, Belleville, N. J., is one of the editors in charge of work on a special thirty-two-page anniversary edition of The Daily Orange, undergraduate publication at Syracuse University.

Miss Conry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Conry, is a junior editor of the campus newspaper which celebrated the thirty-fifth year of publication yesterday.

A junior in the School of Journalism, Miss Conry is majoring in journalism.

With The Team

The likes and dislikes of some of the Bellboy footballers follow:

Chester Kuchinski
 Edward Slavin

Chester (Chet) Kuchinski, left back and the passer of those mighty Kuchinski-Slavin aeriels, is a rabid movie fan and dislikes nothing quite so much as people talking during the show. His

Fewsmith Men's Club Is All Set For Minstrel At School No. 8 Tonight

Humor, Music And Flavor Of Old-Fashioned Show Promised

Activity will be found tonight at Public School No. 8 auditorium, at Clearman Field, where the Fewsmith Men's Club is scheduled to stage its first annual show. After weeks of careful rehearsing, the cast and J. Edward Walker, director, have prepared a show with all the humor, music and flavor of the old-fashioned minstrels.

A large group of local talent will be heard. Frank Boyd, acting as interlocutor, will banter with the end men, John Van Dusen, Joseph Tully, Frank Stimson, Richard Bruegman and Horace Knox.

Four beautiful ballads will be rendered by soloists, Charles favorite pair of motion picture stars are Maurcen O'Sullivan and Spencer Tracy.

Belleville's triple-threat man hates hot cereal. His favorite subject is public speaking and his best teacher is Mr. Blair. As to dancing—he prefers a slow waltz, and he's no jitterbug!

Chet's favorite college team is Notre Dame, and he admires the playing of Sid Luckman. The sports he goes for are football, golf and ice skating. Dannie Stellatella thinks Chet should have mentioned grappling as his favorite indoor sport.

Shep Field's band is aces high with Chet. Although blonde himself, he doesn't like blonde girls. Chet likes 'em five feet, six inches, brunette, round-faced, plump, sweet and understanding.

Charles Hollweg

Charles "Bud" Hollweg, co-captain, quarter-back, and number one hero of the Irvington game, doesn't like it when the fellows fool in practice, Monaghan especially. He added that he thinks the blocking on the team could be better.

Buddie considers lipstick that comes off very dangerous. He eats no breakfast and likes striped socks because they're sporty and the girls like them. That last remark gave me a chance to ask how he prefers THE girl to be. It seems that Charley Hollweg likes her shorter than he and with dark hair. Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane are his favorite movie twosomes.

Plane geometry is his most interesting subject and William Chapman is the teacher he most prefers. "Bud" Hollweg hopes to go to college after graduating from Belleville High School.

Ray Tenpenny and Al Zuzzio "helped" Bud with his interview so he says, "All remarks that sound queer may be traced to them."

Albert Zuzzio

Albert Zuzzio, Zebra co-captain and left tackle, dislikes lying and practice, but his list of "likes" is endless. "Wheaties" are his favorite breakfast because they're the "breakfast of champions." Tom Mix is his movie hero and Alice Faye is his favorite actress. Ray Tenpenny interpolated here that Al also enjoys walking his girl home from school and carrying her books before coming to practice. Tackling, and the rougher the better, is what he likes best in a football game.

Al Zu's favorite sports are football, basketball, baseball, golf, and ice skating. Phil Bruno declares that Zuzzio's favorite sport is necking, especially on Saturday nights.

Tommy Dorsey's orchestra and the song "So Help Me" are tops with him just now. "It's a Sin To Tell a Lie" is a close runner-up to the latter.

When asked if he ever hears the cheers from the sidelines when on the field, he replied, "I hardly ever hear them but when I do, I know that—well, it's hard to say, but somehow I know that the school is behind us, winning or losing."

signed after twenty-six years in that position. A new director, Frank L. Chambers, comptroller and vice-president of the National Grain & Yeast Co., also was named. Each office is for a period of one year. Both men are members of Belleville Rotary Club.

Mr. Keenan also recently was re-appointed Corporation Counsel by the Town Commission for the sixth consecutive yearly term. As has occurred at each appoint-

Mr. Chambers who is a member of the Executive Council of Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts, with which Belleville troops are affiliated, lives at 60 Perry street. He was born in Brooklyn. He is filling the unexpired term of Dr. DeKuse S. Tillou, resigned.

Blotter Jottings

Varied and odd are the calls the Police Department receives from residents. Patrolmen Jerry Lore and Frank Burke were detailed recently to 86 Beech street to assist a homeowner break a lock to his cellar in order that the owner might "fix his furnace."

Sunday evening, at 5:30 o'clock water spouted in a stream from the door of Public School No. 3 and a neighbor, who saw it, notified authorities. The janitor of the building reached the scene and shut off a faucet that caused the excitement.

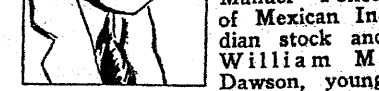

Residents of Baldwin street at Fairview place were annoyed Sunday night by what they thought was odor of gas escaping from a main. Police and Public Service Co. employees decided the odor came from pitch which had been thrown near the intersection after gas mains there had been cleaned of the pitch. Ignazio Benenata, eighteen, 302

North Belmont avenue, was arrested Friday night by Police

MEXICO'S leading tenor bears the name of Ortiz Tizado. He used to be heard frequently in the U. S. Tizado is also an eminent surgeon. He sings between operations. Maybe, during them, for all we know. . . .

Latest Cuban bandman to bid for American favor is named Sacarras. Can there be any Cuban bandmen left in Cuba? . . . The dance bands are wearing out "Sing You Sinners" before the picture which features the tune has barely got started in its public showing.

Since the dawn of jazz Johann Strauss, of all the music masters, is probably resting most easily in his grave.

Mansfield a Composer
Mrs. Richard Mansfield, widow of the great actor-manager, is authority for information that is little known—or has long been forgotten—by the music world. She says her husband composed the march used at President Harrison's inauguration. He also wrote several songs, the best of them being "Maybe You Can, But I Doubt It."

We're not aware at this moment of a more appropriate name for a hot jazz band maestro than Deacon Johnson. Curiously, most of the colored bandleaders have famous names. Jimmy Lunceford, Duke Ellington, Cab Calloway, Chick Webb, Noble Sissle, Count Basie.

Doctors are forever talking of the improvement of the physical condition of Americans. Can't a large part of it be attributed to the steady jumping of people to the dance to turn of monotonous repetition of dance tunes, over-arrangements of the familiar classics, long-winded sales plugs?

Hymns En Masse
That America is becoming more and more musical-minded was attested anew recently in Greenville.

The tonal thumpings of the more serious of the younger composer-conductor are not a lot of silly symphonies as various musical bigwigs would have you believe but topical expressions of the American spirit. John W. Green, whose "Body and Soul" and "I Cover the Water Front" are still vastly popular pieces in the periodic surveys of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, was the first to set down a musical impression of a night club. Mark Warnow has manufactured musical comicolities to fit dance band versions of movie scenes. Ferde Grofe has musicalized the tabloid newspaper as well as the comic strip. Crazy Kat. Freddie Rich has given musical form to animal crackers.
