It is with a sense of great personal loss that the members of the Executive Committee of the First National Bank of Belleville, N. J., record their formal testimonial of regret and respect upon the passing from their midst, on December 5, 1938, of their beloved director, Daniel Mellis.

His labors as a fellow director have been invaluable, and as a resident of Belleville for many years, he leaves behind the memory of a sterling character that will long be remembered by his friends and associates.

Quiet and unassuming, his contribution to the contracting and real estate business of Belleville will stand as a monument to a life helpfully and usefully lived.

To his family, we extend our deepest sympathy, with hope that the knowledge of the esteem in which he was held will serve as a lasting comfort.

TOY BUYING IS FASCINATING AT SEARS-ROEBUCK

Manager Ed. Moos Says Christmas Season Busiest Yet

Led by cries of "Hi, yo, Silver!" and "I'll mow 'em down!" from counterparts of the Lone Ranger and Charlie McCarthy, toy buying this season will be more fascinating than ever, predicted Ed. Moos, manager for Sears, Roebuck and Co. in Belleville.

Rivaling the masked rider and the eminent Bergen stogie in popularity will be Ferdinand the Bull in various shapes and postures, Deanna Durbin dolls, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs as a repeat from last year, Baby Panda dolls and a new doll for teen age girls, according to Mr. Moos.

With toy commitments comparing favorably with last year, Mr. Moos predicted better than a $240,000,000 volume for the nation's toy business. This will make it one of the best years the toy trade has experienced since 1929.

Outstanding among toy innovations this year is the tremendous swing toward rubber toys. Mr. Moos said. One new offering is rubber ABC and building blocks. Another is a group of farm animals, all reproduced in colored rubber. For boys the trend this year is toward working sets to help the youngsters get started on various hobbies, such as radio construction, and train and airplane building. Speaking of trains, Mr. Moos said this year's models will uncouple, blow their whistles while in motion and unload at the touch of a button.

One of the new games of the season is known as Chinese checkers. It may be played by from two to six persons. Originally a Chinese game, it is played with marbles on a board. "In this fickle toy business you never know what is going to be popular," said the manager of Sears & Roebuck. "When we brought out the Chinese checker game we had no idea it would go so well, but advance orders indicate that it will be a leader this season."

"One of the most revolutionary developments in the toy business this year is the new tractor, which is an actual reproduction of standard model tractors. Another trend which is gaining favor is elaborate exterior decoration of homes during the Christmas season through the use of illuminated wreaths, crosses and other ornamentation."

Santa Claus will stuff about $36,800,000 worth of dolls into American children's stockings this year. Included in his pack also will be approximately $12,000,000 worth of toy trains; velocipedes and sidewalk bikes valued at $10,800,000; wooden toys, $8,400,000; toy automobiles, $8,400,000; and $4,800,000 worth of mechanical toys.

CHOIR TO RENDER SECOND OF MUSIC SERVICES

Selections Have Been Announced For Sunday Evening

The Choir of Belleville Reformed Church on Sunday evening at 7:45 p.m. will render its second in a series of musical services.

The selections are "Savior Thy Dying Love," W. Berwald; "Agnus Dei," Georges Bizet, with Miss Edna Baun singing the incidental solo; "Send Out Thy Light," Charles Gounod, and "Lament — Passacaglia," an unpublished portion of "Dido and Aeneas" by the seventeenth century English organist and composer, Henry Purcell. This number was especially arranged by Charles O'Connell, guest conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, on numerous occasions. The obligato solo will be sung by Miss Grace Martling.

Peter J. Edwardsen, Jr., organist and choir master, will open the service with the playing of "The Poet and Peasant Overture," F. von Suppe and arranged for the organ by Edwin H. Lemar. During the service Mr. Edwardsen will play "Prelude and Fugue in B Flat Major," J. S. Bach, from the "Eight Little Preludes and Fugues for the Organ," "Liebestraum" by Franz Liszt, and the "Adagio" movement from the "Third Sonata in C Minor," Alexander Guilmant. The service will close with the playing of "The Largo" from "Xerxes," George S. Handel.

Relief Corps Elects

Henry Vreeland Woman's Relief Corps No. 32, auxiliary to the G. A. R., recently elected officers in Montgomery Church hall as follows: Mrs. Mabel Parrilla, Belleville, president; Mrs. Gertrude Revore, West Orange, senior vice-president; Mrs. Viola Ferrell, Belleville, junior, vice-president; Mrs. Pauline Just, Belleville, chaplain; Mrs. Lillian Corryell, Bloomfield, treasurer; Mrs. Florence Roselle, Belleville, conductor, and Mrs. Stella Parrillo, Belleville, guard.

Appointive officers will be announced at the installation which will be held in January.

A large delegation attended the dinner for the department president, Mrs. Tillie Darke, in Union City, yesterday.

The corps will donate oranges, apples and candy to the children at a Christmas party at Public School No. 2.

Ruth Fredericks, press chairman, announced that the auxiliary will hold a Christmas party at its next meeting on Thursday.

Dodge Announces Prices

Close on the heels of the introduction of the new Dodge Diesel truck comes the announcement by J. D. Burke, director of Dodge truck sales, that the new Dodge three ton Diesel line will include chassis ranging in wheelbase from 152 inches to 205 inches, and that delivered at Detroit prices will range from $3230 for the 152 inch wheelbase chassis to $3450 for the 205 inch wheelbase chassis with cab fully equipped.

The new Dodge Diesel truck is available in four wheelbase lengths: 152, 170, 180 and 205 inches. Mr. Burke in announcing the Diesel price range and the four wheelbase lengths, emphasized that the new Dodge product is a Dodge-built Diesel, engineered and manufactured in the company's own plant.

The new Dodge Diesel truck, available only in the three ton range, is an addition to an entirely new line of Dodge trucks which will be manufactured in a giant new factory said to be the industry's most modern and efficient truck plant.

This Dodge Diesel power plant introduced by Dodge Truck Division has been described as a simple, advanced design Diesel in which the marked economies of the full Diesel engine are successfully combined with dependability, easy starting and general performance qualities of the familiar gasoline engine.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE

Again the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association, Inc., has mailed Christmas seals to homes in both towns to aid in fighting the dread disease. Only seals purchased in Belleville will benefit the local Tuberculosis committee, which holds several clinics each month. Without the aid that the sale of seals brings, medical skill and constant observation may be denied the unfortunate sufferers of the disease. The local committee, headed by Health Officer Eugene T. Berry and the treasurer of which is Mrs. William V. Irvine, says most aptly: "The use of this seal on each Yuletide greeting is not only a token of thoughtful interest, but also a herald of good cheer to the sick and the suffering. To spread this cheer throughout our town you can help in two ways: Buy Christmas Seals — Sell Christmas Seals."

RAIDING INDUSTRY

New Jersey has received no end of unfavorable publicity during the past two weeks, by reason of erratic, arbitrary and reckless increases in 1937 and 1938 personal property tax assessments levied against New Jersey corporations by a handful of municipalities, including Jersey City, Newark, Paterson and Camden.

The increases run into hundreds of millions of dollars. If the full levies are ever collected, which is doubtful, some industries would be forced into bankruptcy and the financial structures of others would be seriously impaired.

The New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce is alarmed and Robert T. Bowman, its president, warns that many of the industries hard hit by the municipal levies are threatening to leave the state. The industries threatened by exorbitant tax rises include many who are large employers of New Jersey labor. If they leave New Jersey, thousands will lose their jobs.

This is disturbing. Already, this abuse of municipal taxing power has done New Jersey irreparable harm. Much of the good work by civic groups to attract new industry to this state has been undone.

The State Chamber urges business not to be stampeded into hasty action and expresses its belief that the public opinion of New Jersey will insist that industry be treated fairly. The Chamber is mapping out a course of action to this end. New Jersey workers who have learned through experience that what hurts industry hurts them will join the state chamber in condemning the recent display of municipal recklessness and will hope that the chamber's campaign is successful.

It is important that we keep the industries we now have and attract new ones. New Jersey's welfare depends on it. No group of revenue hungry municipalities should be permitted to endanger the industrial development of this state. We need more jobs, not fewer, for New Jersey workers.

THAT NINE-DAY WONDER

That recent wintry visitation, which transformed the streets and walks of Belleville—and other places—into almost impassable glacier-like areas, gave folks a lot to find fault about. The cry went up, here, there and everywhere, "Why don't they clean the streets?" The authorities found themselves quite at the mercy of the gummed-up snow and ice, particularly the latter which resisted shovel or other instrument, except the old reliable pick.

Then, when it seemed as though "Old Man Winter" had entrenched himself for a long stay—presto! One of those things Mark Twain is famed for having written in a spirit of jest—the weather—came to the rescue of poor, helpless humans. It rained! Just a loose lump of moisture, accompanied by a gentle southern breeze, and away went "Old Man Winter," snow, ice and all, leaving only the memory of what he could do as a reminder that no one can tell "what to least expect most."

WHAT'S IN THE AIR?

If we are facing a stiff winter with plenty of snow, as some surmise, it is essential that a foundation of ice, such as created by the storm on Thanksgiving, be removed from the street gutters. A fortunate shift of the elements removed the ice this week, but failure to keep the gutters clear may result in a great deal of trouble later on.

In the last storm many of our neighboring towns neglected this precaution. It is possible that if another such layer of ice covers the ground and succeeding snows clog the gutters, muddy pools will become the order of the day when thaws come.

If the gutters are properly cleaned out after each snowfall then the task of clearing the streets is easier.

Attention to this detail will help the automobilists.

AN OLD FRIEND RETURNS

About this time of year some group in Belleville—in the past it was the firemen and this year the Welfare Department—again offers an opportunity to the generous residents of the town to make Christmas a glad occasion for the little children who face a bleak one. This enterprise, which involves collection and renovation of old toys and clothing for the less fortunate kiddies from those who find their attics and spare rooms cluttered with such discarded articles, continues for another year the purpose of bringing joy to little ones who are the innocent victims of the moment's poverty in their homes.

To fill their empty stockings, which they shall hang behind the stove on Christmas Eve, will do more than make them happy. It will keep their faith in a world that even to them would otherwise be dreary and a disappointment. A contribution to the fund may be made to the Welfare Department or direct to Director of Public Affairs Joseph King who will see that it is turned over to the proper agency. It will be your way of saying: "I still believe in Santa Claus and kindness and the giving of a helping hand to little ones who sorely need a friend."

CHRISTMAS NEARS

Although the date belies it, Christmas seems to be approaching faster this year than ever. Already the stores are beginning to deck the windows with the Christmas colors and there is a rush on for Christmas cards.

One striking feature of Christmas of late years is that people now plan for the day. There is less of the last-minute rush for gifts and more care in their selection. Wise folks, who really wish to give their friends something worthwhile, are shopping early. On Christmas Day they will not be too tired to enjoy the fun of friendship at its best.

MARKS FOR CUPID

The stewardesses of the air lines must be the envy of most young women. They are more popular and more sought after than even the glamorous movie stars. American Airlines reports that ninety per cent of students enrolling as nurses in hospitals throughout the country have as their objective the position of stewardess on the huge air liners. All the air lines report that each year one-third of the stewardesses resign to enter matrimony. Cupid must indeed ride the air lines.

PREPAREDNESS

On a hundred green fields in New Jersey all fall, as the autumn sun went down, thousands rose and cheered strong, supple youths racing to football victories. None of the thousands dreamed that before another spring these youths might be in uniform, carrying guns on their shoulders instead of footballs under their arms. Yet few surmised that in the fall of 1916 that April would see America's youth marching off to camp and before another year was gone, thousands of them would tramp no more. Another war may seem far away to us. But deep down we are aware if another starts it will come swifter and we can hardly escape. We have one solace in that, hoping for peace, we shall be prepared. None of the young on the hundred grid-irons this fall played without weeks of preparation and the best of equipment. We surely should not ask the young to go to war again as unprepared as they were in 1917.

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Colonel Willard Chevalier, who made the principal address at the dinner given by Mr. Wallace and Mr. Tiernan last month to a group of their business and personal friends in connection with the Silver Jubilee Anniversary of their company, is the publisher of "Business Week," one of the country's leading business magazines.

In each week's issue of that paper he writes a column "Editorially Speaking." Since he used the Wallace and Tiernan story as the background of his current column and his unusual gifts of expression to present his thoughts so that they would be of interest to all, we venture to reprint Colonel Chevalier's observations:

"In self-styled 'liberal' circles it is fashionable to preach that the day of opportunity for the little fellow is gone, that 'big business' has built Maginot lines along all the frontiers and that we, the people, must choose between the neck of the economic royalist and the collar of a state controlled economy. The other night I got to wondering about that as I sat on the 25th anniversary party of a company that has been run with conspicuous success by a group of fellows I know."

"Two of them started from scratch in 1913. One was a bacteriologist, the other a mechanical engineer. Their capital was meager—as I recall it, less than $2,000. In the early days, survival was a day by day, catch-as-catch-can affair. So far as material factors went, the set-up showed little promise of big things."

"Today the two of them are still in charge of their business. Some of the first employees who worked in their dingy little shop still are on the payroll. But now they belong to a company of some 1,000 people, employed in 5 factories and 42 branch offices, making and selling a variety of appliances that are in use all around the globe."

"And this has been achieved without benefit of any of the dubious processes of fancy finance. Stone upon stone, this business has been built out of its earnings. Its story is a case study of the process by which thousands of American businesses have been born and raised."

"Remember that these fellows made their start only 25 years ago. That's not so far back. Already the prophets of woe were deploring the death of opportunity. The trusts and the money-baronies were supposed to have cornered all the good things. No little fellow had a chance. The 'good old days' were all washed up. But despite all that, the boys took off from a standing start and ran a good race."

"And what they have done during the last 25 years, other youngsters with the same savvy and the same guts will do during the next 25. For their sake, if not for our own, can't we stop this business of crying down the opportunities for intelligent and aggressive enterprise? Let us crack down all this despondent twaddle about our only hope being to rely on an all-wise Washington government to plan, organize and regulate our economic destiny."

"There was nothing miraculous in the performance of these fellows. What they and their crew did in 25 years, others did and still others can do again. Only one power really can block them. And that is this blighting cynicism toward the spirit to which they must turn for their inspiration."

"If ever personal enterprise and opportunity are found dead in this land of ours, there's evidence enough, I believe, to warrant a verdict of criminal negligence if not of willful murder."

What a message of hope, cheer and confidence!

Yours 'til next week,
"GUARDIAN"

American Legion Auxiliary Assists At Vets' Occupational Therapy Shop

Local Women Are Aid To County Group's Project

Belleville Post, American Legion Auxiliary, is cooperating with Essex County Auxiliary in sponsoring an "Occupational Therapy Shop" at 29 Halsted street, East Orange, as a Christmas project.

The purpose of the shop will be to sell for the inmates articles made at the Veterans' Hospital at Lyons. The shop is in charge of Mrs. Justine Grosvenor, past county president. Mrs. Joseph Huemer, president of Belleville Auxiliary, is one of the co-chairmen. Each Wednesday during December Belleville Auxiliary will assist at the shop with Montclair. The public is invited to visit the shop to see the useful articles made by the veterans, any day, except Sunday from 9 A. M. until 5 P. M.

The regular business meeting of the local auxiliary will take place next Monday evening. Final plans will be made for a public card party scheduled for next Friday evening in the Legion clubrooms, 170 Washington avenue. Proceeds will be used to defray expenses of a Christmas party to be given during Christmas week for Veterans' children.

The Junior Auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Christie, will meet Tuesday in the home of Virginia Ackerman, junior president, 191 Linden avenue. The juniors will make candy favors for the veterans at Lyons Hospital for Christmas.

Mrs. William Kant, child welfare and rehabilitation chairman, is completing plans for local Christmas baskets for veterans' families.

Mrs. Huemer and members of Belleville auxiliary will go to Lyons Hospital on Saturday morning, December 17, to trim twenty Christmas trees in different wards with other Essex County auxiliaries. There also will be a Christmas party in the afternoon given by Essex County Auxiliary and in the evening by the Department of New Jersey. Mrs. Grover C. Ashley, Montclair, county rehabilitation chairman, is appealing for Christmas tree lights, bulbs, wreaths and red and green Christmas rope for the hospital and anyone having such items and desiring to donate them may contact the local president, Mrs. Huemer, 179 Cedar Hill avenue, Belleville, or telephone Belle 2-4047-J and the articles will be called for and delivered to the hospital on December 17.

Due to the physical condition of some patients up until last year no ornaments were used on the trees for veterans, but it is the desire of the committee to make the veterans' Christmas as home-like as possible.

The committee also requests magazines or ladies' old silk stockings, regardless of condition, for rug weaving, and old automobile tires for door mats.

GLEE CLUB READY FOR CONCERT AT SCHOOL NO. 8

Thirteenth Affair Set For Wednesday Evening

Belleville Glee Club will present for the first time to Belleville listeners the Armenian folk song, "The Well Beloved," arranged by Deems Taylor, at its thirteenth concert Wednesday evening in the auditorium of Public School No. 10.

This folk song has an Oriental flavor, but is set to modern harmonization by this well-known composer, writer, critic and commentator. The soloist, Helen Harbort, soprano, will render the following numbers: recitative, Ah fors e lui and Aria, Sempere Libra, the scene and aria of Violetta from "La Traviata" by Verdi, in her first group. For her second group Miss Harbort has selected: "Freude (from 'Cycle of Life')," Ronald; Old Mother Hubbard (in the style of Handel), Hutchinson; Rain, Curran; The Awakening, Golde.

Other numbers by the Glee Club will be: Creations Hymn, L. Von Beethoven; Beloved Land, Mark Andrews; A Spirit Flower, Campbell-Tipton; A Lullaby of Love, Percy E. Fletcher; Joy of the Hills, Mark Andrews; De Animals a Comin, Negro spiritual; Grandma Grunts, North Carolina folk song; Black-eyed Susie, North Carolina mountain folk song. The Christmas group includes: Bring a Torch, Jeanette, Isabella, old French carol; The Shepherds' Story, Clarence Dickinson; O Holy Night, Adolph Adam, assisted by the choir boys of Christ Episcopal Church, East Orange; Adeste Fidelis, John of Reading.

The following active members are taking part in the December concert: first tenors, Edward Burnett, Charles H. Charrier, Paul H. Dove, Harry F. C. Howard, John Ramin, James E. Walker; second tenors, Charles Babcock, William B. Berr, Hugh J. Callery, William Chapman, John Cowburn, J. Lester Gorton, Lawrence J. Sturcho, James McCall, Harry Williamson, William R. Winkelman.

First bass, Herman M. Doell, John J. Goetschius, Walter K. Kratzsch, Thomas G. Lynas, Edward M. Mertz, Mark Main, John Markoe, Everett Martling, Fred Saunders, Sidney Summerfield, Alred Moniot, Albert Harther, Edward J. Reilly; second bass, William G. Berry, Albert J. Bi-dack, James Bunting, Samuel H. Cocks, Charles A. Cocks, Robert C. Cocks, Robert DeGroat, Louis H. Doell, Fred P. Packrell, B. H. Spencer, Charles Schick, Winfield H. Stone, William C. Winkelman and Vincent DeGroat.

Auxiliary during the coming year, according to Mrs. Charles Hoffman, American chairman of Belleville Auxiliary Unit. The auxiliary is now re-enrolling its membership for 1939 and expects to have half a million women to support its Americanism program next year, said Mrs. Hoffman.

"Every woman who enrolls in the American Legion Auxiliary is aiding her strength to the fight against alien 'isms' that are seeking to gain power in the United States," she declared. "The American Legion Auxiliary is aiding her strength to the fight against alien 'isms' that are seeking to gain power in the United States," she declared. "The American Legion Auxiliary is aiding her strength to the fight against alien 'isms' that are seeking to gain power in the United States," she declared.

"Educational activities will be the principal means used by the Auxiliary to combat the various types of radicalism. We will aid the Legion in the development of the Boy's States, which have proved to be such a practical means of teaching the democratic forms of government, and we plan to begin Girls' States this year. Our help will go to all other projects for bringing a clear understanding of the advantages of our free form of government to the youth of the country."

"We are confident that no American who really understands the principles of democracy as set forth in the Constitution of the United States ever will turn his back to the democracy's overtures. We are hoping that every eligible woman in Belleville will come into the Auxiliary this year and help us in our efforts to teach Americanism."

The M. D. Says

HEALTH QUESTION: Should frost-bitten skin be rubbed with snow?

Rubbing a frost-bitten area of the skin with snow is an old remedy but it is not a recommended remedy. In cases of frostbite the purpose of treatment is to restore circulation to the frost-bitten area. This is done with a minimum of pain if it is done slowly but effectively. Gentle rubbing of the affected area with soft, dry fur is preferable to the application of snow. Direct heat from a fire or radiator should be avoided.

Preventing frostbite can often be avoided by wearing adequate clothing and the right kind of clothing. Tight fitting shoes often cramp the circulation in the feet and in cold weather a foot so clad is more susceptible to frostbite than one which is comfortably shod.

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Although it is more than a year before delegates to the next Republican National Convention will be selected, interest in the candidates to whom they may be pledged has already invaded the local political scene. Arthur T. Vanderbilt set the precedent for early interest in Presidential candidates four years ago when he began to work quietly more than a year before the convention to line up support in New Jersey for Alfred M. Landon.

So thoroughly did the Short Hills lawyer do his job that no other candidate had a chance when the time to select delegates arrived. Vanderbilt's actions during the coming year are the subject of much speculation among local political leaders, and the name most mentioned in connection with this speculation is that of Thomas E. Dewey.

Dewey Boom Here

A movement for Dewey would be much easier to inaugurate than one for Robert A. Taft, Senator Vandenberg or some other candidate. The powerful New York press has already advertised Dewey in New Jersey much as the same press advertised the late Dwight W. Morrow eight years ago. Political leaders were astonished at the rapidity of the Morrow senatorial boom there, and it is my guess that much the same response would greet a movement for Dewey.

The New Year will find the Clean Government wing of the Republican party more firmly entrenched in Essex than ever before. There is unusual harmony within the board of freeholders. Ralph D. DeCamp of Livingston is scheduled to be re-elected director, with few committee changes in prospect. Elmer Hermann, commissioner of registration, has gravitated completely within the Clean Government orbit.

Miller Out In Cold

There appears no hope that County Chairman Miller can do anything to alter his present state of isolation, or that he could control the county committee should it be called together. The support of the Giuliano brothers by which he acquired the extra votes that elected him last September has already been weakened. James Giuliano, former assemblyman, is slated to be Homer C. Zink's secretary.

It is impossible at this writing to appraise with any accuracy the probable course of legislation in Trenton next year. I feel reasonably sure that the proposed gross receipts tax will not be adopted because of its resemblance to the hated sales tax. But beyond that the mystery of Trenton is complete. Except for Senator-Elect Zink, the action of the Essex delegation will be largely guided by advice from Clean Government leaders here.

Pari-Mutuel Betting

Has the New Jersey legislature a legal or moral right to nullify its past action authorizing a referendum on horse racing by failing to set a date for such a referendum? It is hard for me to see how the above question can be answered other than negatively. No defense is intended here of pari-mutuel betting, or even of the original action of the legislature authorizing the referendum. But it is contended that the opportunity for opposing the referendum being held ended when the two successive legislatures authorized it. For better or worse, the decision on legalized betting now rests with the voters of New Jersey.

Family Life Problems Today

By Mrs. Julia O. Reiner

Executive Secretary

Community Service Bureau

The "Lost" Pocketbook

She was neatly dressed but rather shabby and her little girl seemed restless. She wanted to go for temporary help. Some how she had lost her purse, containing her husband's pay. The woman did seem to be in a dare to tell him of the loss. Could we possibly help her until his next pay day?

The Case Worker listened sympathetically and said very little. The woman did seem to be in a predicament. The Worker suggested that she would be visiting in the neighborhood where the woman lived that afternoon, and arranged to call on her to see what could be done to help her temporarily. The woman appeared to be satisfied with the arrangement and left.

Part of the routine procedure of the Community Service Bureau is to "clear" names of families with the Social Service Exchange. Immediately came the information that the same family had been registered by a Newark agency just a few weeks earlier. An inquiry to the Newark agency showed that the woman had recently been there telling an identical story. It appeared to be a strange coincidence.

dence that the same difficulty could occur so soon again. Then a visit to the local address revealed that the family had never lived there.

Some of us might conclude that this woman was what is commonly called a "chiseler." We, who have a knowledge of human behavior, recognize what is called the "begging type." Now we know that we are dealing with a person who probably missed so much of affection, love, or little comforts in her early life, that she feels she can never have enough to make up for this loss and needs to beg, carrying to an extreme, an uncontrollable impulse to ask for gifts.

The use of the Social Exchange is a long established one, still helpful in avoiding duplication of effort and making information available between agencies. The exchange idea is particularly useful at the holiday season enabling those who wish to spread Christmas cheer as far as possible, without duplication. The Holiday Clearing House, established by the Community Service Bureau is our local exchange available to groups and individuals to help them in their Christmas planning.

Blotter Jottings

Two bandits armed with pistols held up Charles Avena of 94 Belmont avenue, and his helper as they parked his fuel oil truck in a Hackel street garage, Saturday night. They took $135 from Avena and $10 from the helper, Armando Inoschella of 474 Ninth street, Newark. As they drove away, Avena gave chase afoot, but soon gave up and called police.

Six truck drivers were fined $8 each Wednesday night by Recorder Everett B. Smith for failure to stop before proceeding across Railroad grade crossing in Franklin street. Complaints were made by Inspector James Higgins and Joseph Romer of the State Board of Public Utilities Commissioners. Under the law, tank trucks and trucks with trailers are required to stop before making grade crossings.

Two bicycles have been reported stolen. R. W. Christian, 498 Franklin avenue, lost his from in front of the relief office in Mill street, Wednesday, and Albert Testa, 172 Heckel street, lost his Sunday.

Armando Mischello, 25 Franklin street, parked his automobile outside his home Tuesday night and while seated in his front room heard a crash. He ran out in time to see another motorist disappearing in that thoroughfare after a collision with the parked car. A telephone alarm was sent out by the police in an attempt to catch the hit-run driver.

Police are investigating a break at Neary's Tavern, 69 Washington avenue, between 1:40 and 7 A. M. Tuesday morning. Entrance was made by jimmying a window on the north side of the building. $3 was taken from a cigarette machine.

The authorities also are endeavoring to find out who smashed a small window, turned the latch and entered H. L. Gory's gasoline station at 253 Washington avenue the same night. $39.90 from a change carrier and an unestimated amount from a cigarette machine there disappeared with the intruder.

Police recovered a jimmy alongside the door of the Ideal Lunch Company store in Washington avenue, also Tuesday night. Police Sergeant Pearl and Patrolmen Anderson, Gallagher and Singer investigated. A telephone call from Nutley police that a bakery truck driver had reported to them that while making delivery at the Ideal store he noticed iron bars on the window.

Anthony Barr, an attendant at a gasoline station at Greylock parkway and Washington avenue, thought he was being followed by a hot tip on a suspicious motorist Tuesday night, but it developed that a Greylock parkway hubby was waiting for his better half to arrive at the intersection from Newark by bus.

Easy on the eye—easy to buy—on General Motors terms!

YES, you decide, there must be a Santa Claus!
Someone with a special knack of knowing just what you like, and how to give it to you!
No one else could produce a car that's quite so much fun as this slightly, sprightly Buick—quite so eye-gladdening a thing to see, or so prideful a carriage to drive!
Step on the waiting treadle—and you feel like Johnny, when he first throws the switch on his new electric train! Sit back in its deep cushions—revel in its steady, fluid, flowing gait—and you wouldn't change places with any king on his gilded throne!

Your very outlook on the world is brighter through these new wide-paned windows—you've up to 413 more square inches of safety glass to see through, and you see everything better.
Your shortest trip takes on holiday quality from the flashing performance of this mighty Dynaflex straight-eight engine. On slippery winter streets or bumpy country roads, you'll sing constant praises of its jar-smothering Buick Coil Springing.
To see this sweet dream of a car, of course, is to feast your eye on the trimmest, cleanest, sleekest, neatest piece of smooth-rolling beauty that ever rambled the highway—but you've more to congratulate yourself on than that.
You drive a bargain, when you drive this Buick, mister! For with all its size, all its comfort, all the spirited smoothness of its great eight engine, this Buick costs less than last year, less than you'd think from its looks—less even than some fixes!

SPORTS

BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

Some coaches were crying into their beer if they were looking forward to a basketball season with only three returning letter-men around which to build a team. But not Al McBride. Al works on the theory that tears and coaches' tears all resemble crocodiles'—never remedied anything. The best thing to do is to get busy and make the most of what you have.

Besides scarcity of experienced material there is also the little problem of height, which is not peculiar to Belleville any more. Al found the answer to this stickler—speed and accuracy win more games than mere height. So the Bellboys have been trained for faster play and deadlier eyes.

There are, however, a few weaknesses in the team which might have quite a bit to say about the final outcome of the season. These are impressions gleaned from watching the boys go through their paces against Bloomfield Seminary last week. One-point losses in football are usually due to failure to kick extra points. One-point losses in basketball are usually due to failure to cash in on foul shots. We did not see many Blue and Gold fouls made the other day. Charley Brickley, "the greatest dropkicker of all time," says that kicking the extra point is the easiest part of football. How much more true this is of the foul shot in basketball. With no one to rush you, all the time in the world to get set and train your eye, there is no reason beyond possible nervousness—or lack of practice—for missing the easiest "set shot" in the game.

Two of the best teams we have ever seen as far as foul shooting is concerned are the University of Pennsylvania and Little St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, and when these teams meet the foul shooting contest which ensues would warm the cockles of any coach's heart. In one game Penn dropped in seventeen fouls out of eighteen tries! They won that one by three points. The following year Joe Oakes, sub forward on St. Joseph's, stood at the foul line with nineteen seconds to play and Penn leading 36-35. With the utmost of pressure on him, he calmly sank two fouls to win the game. Yes, fouls do win games.

WILD PASSING AND ZONE SYSTEM

When the Belleville-Bloomfield Seminary play waxed fast and furious there was quite a bit of wild passing on either side. Which is nothing unusual. In the heat of the game there are few teams which can completely keep their heads and continue to play as unit and not five individuals. But those who do usually find themselves on top. The intricacies of the zone system are still puzzling the Bellboys to some extent. Fortunately the zone will not out be the Belleville form of defense.

COLLITON AND THE ALL-TEAMS

The final Colliton rankings of the year put Belleville in ninth place in North Jersey, Group IV, behind Garfield, East Orange, West Side, Jefferson, Nutley, West Orange, Bloomfield and Barringer. Ninth in North Jersey despite a record of less than .500! Certainly this bears witness to the fact that the calibre of opponents faced by Belleville is higher than that met by any other team in this vicinity. Specifically it bears out the point we tried to make clear some weeks ago: that Nutley is not so far above Belleville in football ability as her coach seems to think and Nutley would not be stepping off a higher plane and out of her class to play Belleville, as her coach has said. Certainly if Nutley can afford to play Clifton, which is sixteen places behind Belleville, she would not lose too much prestige engaging in a little tete-a-tete with her neighbor. As a matter of fact, at least five of Nutley's opponents this year were below the Bellboys in final standings.

Ed Slavin and Al Zuzzio figured in two All-Essex teams picked by Newark newspapers last week; and were ignored by a third. Each boy rated a first and a second team mention and they really deserved it.

HARTLEY ON KURZMAN

Congressman Fred Hartley, who is well-known as a shuffler himself in these parts, was interviewed last week and was asked his opinion about the leading shuffleboard players of this district. Regarding Henie Kurzman, he said: "Kurzman has a style all his own; he is a hard man to beat." This was putting it very mildly as Henie edged in no uncertain terms Friday when he smashed the twenty-year record of Jim McCartney, world's champion cue player. Keep your eye on Kurzman; he is the coming power.

LEADERS TIGHTEN GRIP, LOOP LEADS REC. BASKETBALL

Wallace & Tiernan Follows Pre-Season Dope; Baldwin And Royals Clash Tuesday

Activities on the western front of the basketball warfare increased considerably during the past week as some indication of the true strength of different teams in the Manufacturers and Senior Leagues became evident and the Intermediates began their season.

Wallace and Tiernan has taken a commanding lead in the Manufacturers circuit, placing beside its name the only undefeated record of the loop. W&T is living up to pre-season predictions, but a single defeat would once again throw the whole standing in an uproar.

W&T came close to its full power for the first time since the season opened when the Watco boys blasted Federal Leather, 36-17, to hang up a new scoring record for all three leagues for this year. Hoyer Products stayed right on the heels of the leader by virtue of its close squeak over Sweeney Lithograph.

Everything points to a real showdown in the Senior League when the undefeated leaders, Baldwin Brush and the Royals, meet at the High School in the first game (7:15 P.M.) next Tuesday night.

The two teams have been whipping through all opposition the seniors can put forward and approach the vital clash Tuesday with identical records: won 3, lost 0, percentage 1.000.

The opening skirmishes of the Intermediates found the Penguins, Seminoles, Tigers and Pals winning games and all things for first place.

WERTZ ELECTED LEHIGH '38 CAPTAIN

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 8.—Mark E. Wertz, Jr., Belleville senior halfback on the Lehigh University varsity football squad during the past season, today was elected honorary captain of the 1938 Brown and White eleven.

His election marks the first time in the history of football at Lehigh that an honorary captain was chosen at the conclusion of the season. Coach Glen Harmsen appointed acting captains for each of the nine games.

Majoring in electrical engineering, Wertz has been a member of the Lehigh varsity football squad for three years, earning letters in his sophomore and senior years. Last fall he did not see much action because of a head injury.

A member of Beta Theta Pi social fraternity, Wertz believes his biggest thrill during three years of collegiate football competition came in the 1936 Penn State game. After he completed a 55-yard forward pass to Pat Pasetti for a touchdown, Norman Ayer, Plainfield, senior kicked the extra point from.

MARK WERTZ

placement to give the Engineers a 7-6 victory.

Wertz and Jim Campbell, also of Belleville, were among the twelve seniors to receive letters for football competition.

SPEED, ACCURACY MCBRIDE'S TOOLS TO COMBAT HEIGHT

Trying to find an antidote for lack of size has always been one of Coach Al McBride's trials at the High School. But he usually manages to succeed somehow.

This winter his difficulties are just a little bit more severe than usual, for the majority of the candidates for this year's basketball squad are far from gigantic stature. There are one or two men whose altitude is sufficient to warrant placing them at the center spot, but even at that it is expected that they will give away inches to every jumper to face them this season.

To offset this obstacle the team has speed and plenty of it. Watching them oo through their paces against Bloomfield Seminary (whom they defeated about 40-20 in a practice game the other day) the writer was surprised at the speed and seemingly boundless energy with which the Bellboys whipped around the floor. Towards the end of the game they did slow up a bit, but by that time they were so far ahead that it did not matter.

McBride is far from the point of naming his starting line-up for the game with the Alumni a week from tomorrow night. When we put a question to this effect, he dodged the issue with the statement that it was too early to decide. He believed, however, that he might be in a better position to select his starters early next week.

Kurzman Defeats McCartney, Shuffleboard Cue Champ

Henie Kurzman, half of the famed Essex County shuffleboard champion team of Mead and Kurzman, walked into Vesey's Tavern, 75 Orange street, Newark, last Friday night and was immediately asked to play Jim McCartney, Paterson, world's champion shuffleboard cue player.

The only hitch was that McCartney was in the middle of a match and had his opponent 50-44. Kurzman was persuaded to take over the score.

One of the biggest surprises in the history of local shuffleboard ensued. Kurzman not only made up the deficit but went on to win the match, 100-86. It was the first defeat handed McCartney in an important game in twenty-five years. The two have been scheduled for a return match at the same place next Friday night, December 9.

PLAN TO FORM OPERA GUILD

Belleville First Town
Hereabouts To Start
Such a Group

An opera guild is being formed in Belleville under the chairmanship of Eleanor Bacon-Peck, assisted by Mrs. C. D. Van Sickle and Miss Frances Williamson. Information regarding membership may be obtained by communicating with Mrs. Peck or with either of her co-chairmen.

The establishment of an opera guild in Belleville gives to the children of this town the privilege of attending the New York Metropolitan Opera House, a special children's performance of an opera chosen carefully for this purpose. The junior performance for New Jersey children will be given March 10. The opera will be "Lohengrin."

Guild members are invited to a working rehearsal of an important opera. At this performance it is possible to see the lighting, entrances and exits, and other interesting details worked out.

Belleville is the first community of the towns surrounding Newark to form such an organization.

The SUCCESSOR to the washing machine

THERE is no more thoughtful and practical present for wives than a Bendix Home Laundry... the successor to the washing machine. Like magic Bendix waves washday work away. Bendix washes clothes, gives them three separate fresh water rinses and shuts off... all automatically. Bendix pays for itself... and is safe, sanitary and smartly styled. Her old washer may be worth more than a down payment needed to deliver the Bendix. Easy terms. See a demonstration today.
