E. H. YERG RESIGNS AS OFFICIAL OF PEOPLES' BANK

Pressure Of Business
Given As Reason
For Action

Edward H. Yerg, president of Yerg, Inc., printers, Washington avenue, Monday tendered his resignation as a member of the Executive Committee of the Peoples' National Bank & Trust Co., of which, since 1938, due to the illness of James T. Boylan, he has been serving as chairman of the Board.

Edward H. Yerg

Pressure of other business forced Mr. Yerg to make the decision. No action has been taken on the resignation which was submitted Monday at a meeting of the bank officials.

Mr. Yerg has devoted to presidencies and chairmanships of various organizations much of his time since 1920, when at the age of thirty he was named a director of the First National Bank, Nutley, which directorship he held until 1934. He was president of the Executive Committee of the Peoples' Bank from 1923 until 1933, president of Belleville Rotary Club in 1929 and Exalted Ruler of Nutley Lodge of Elks in which he is intensely interested, in 1922, at the age of thirty-two. He is largely responsible for the recent erection of the new Nutley Elks' Home in Chestnut street, that town. He is president of the Nutley Elks' Realty Company and Greenbrook, Inc., Holding Co., Greenbrook Country Club.

When interviewed today, Mr. Yerg said, "I think I am entitled to a rest after seventeen years of continuous service. After taking a very active part in the organization of this institution I served as vice-president and member of the Executive Committee, as well as a member of the Board of Directors until 1933. I resigned as vice-president that year, but continued to fill my other assignments since. During 1938 due to the illness of Mr. James T. Boylan, there was added to my other duties the responsibility of Chairman of the Board."

"You have no idea of the hours and hours of time necessary to keep informed on all phases of a banking institution as active as ours and it becomes ever more difficult to spare the time."

"After a most successful year due to a large extent to the excellent work of the present officers, in whom I have the greatest confidence, the time seemed opportune to accomplish this desire to retire, which I have had in mind for several years."

"But my heart is still with the Peoples' and any time I can be of service, I shall be happy to help in any way possible."

EXEMPTIONS FOR VETERANS HERE

Town Commission Would Hold Conference
With Vets

Mayor William H. Williams notified the town commission at Tuesday night's conference meeting, that the question of veterans' exemptions from taxes is most important, both for the veterans and the town. The county tax board has banned further exemptions, or allowances to municipalities which allow them.

The Mayor announced that there are 420 war veterans in Belleville who have been allowed a total of $211,000 in exemptions, at $500 each. When foreclosures have taken place veterans have been nuked, the Mayor declared, and he intends to take steps to prevent this happening in the future. He urges the veterans to get together and meet with the town commission to arrange a workable program.

Commissioners Roast Relief As "Political Football"

Mayor Declares State May Force Towns Into Bankruptcy

Mayor William H. Williams started a lively and vigorous discussion over the WPA at Tuesday night's conference preceding the regular meeting of the town commission, when he declared the state's hesitancy in providing relief funds was interfering with the completion of the annual tax budget.

"If something is not done pretty soon," said the Mayor, "we will be in a serious difficulty and we do not know which way to turn. We figure the state owes us $60,000. We also figure that for January the state owes us $16,000 of the total of $30,000 for that month. And the laws do not permit us to include certain figures in the budget for relief subsequent to January 31."

"We are faced with the problem of what will happen if the state fails to make the necessary appropriation. In that case, every municipality in North Jersey will be thrown into bankruptcy, and many South Jersey communities, likewise. It is a pretty serious situation. If we do not obtain state aid, Belleville will face a quarter of a million deficit."

"I blame the Federal government," declared Commissioner Louis A. Noll, Jr. "Relief is a problem for the government, not the states or the municipalities. I believe relief has come to stay and the only way to face it is to fight it right."

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters pressed his lips tightly, and declared: "There is a constant stream of criticism in the papers and on the air against the WPA, but I want to say that it has done a great deal of good throughout the country. It has built roads and sidewalks where the people have been too poor and too discouraged to do it for themselves."

Waters' Views

"I say this," he declared, "that if the government does not take care of the relief situation properly, Lord have mercy on the country. What will happen will be terrible. What the country should do is see to it that all who need aid receive it. Nobody knows what it means more than I. Politics festers the whole machine. It is politics here, there and everywhere. No one can get a job on the WPA without some political boss horning in and taking command of the whole works. That's the trouble with the WPA. I've had fifty men sent to be placed. Monday I may have 150 more. I say it should be up to the town who should get the work, not to some political boss, here, there, or somewhere else. What do they know about the needs of Belleville, or the unemployed of this town? That is the business of the local relief authorities, isn't it? If we don't get some relief, we will be in a terrible mess!"

"The relief department of each community should be in full charge of all relief measures," declared Mayor Williams. "Relief is made a political football. The town pays its share, entails full responsibility for taxes with which to raise the money, and has no authority concerning who should get the jobs."

Many Expected To Be Present At President's Birthday Party

Kivlin And Committee Arrange Affair At St. Peter's

Many are expected Monday at the President's Birthday Party in St. Peter's Church hall, William street, where Eugene Kivlin, Democratic Town chairman, and members of the local Democratic County Committee will be in charge. Many awards for those who attend have been donated by merchants and manufacturers.

The entire proceeds will go to the Infantile Paralysis Foundation, to be divided fifty per cent each to the National Foundation and Essex County Committee.

The New 50-Plan James J. McMahon, county chairman, has written Mr. Kivlin as follows:

"The national fight against infantile paralysis which was started twelve years ago has at last reached permanence, size and organization, which I am sure must make you feel that the time has arrived when we all mean business in bringing Infantile Paralysis under control and perhaps some day stamping it out."

"On November 10, the trustees of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis unanimously voted for the establishment of a permanent chapter plan. Before this decision was made, many months were consumed in studying the various phases of the problems created by this disease and especially those having to do with the problem as it exists in your County."

"The trustees also recognized the need for placing funds in the hands of these National Foundation Chapters so that the local problems could be combated and immediate aid be given to those suffering from this terrible affliction."

"The trustees have authorized me as chairman of this committee to advise that this year County Chairmen are to divide the funds raised by the various community efforts on a 50-50 basis. One-half will be sent to this committee, and the County Chairman will hold the other half in trust, until the new Chapter of the National Foundation embracing his county has been established."

"After January 30, or upon conclusion of this year's campaign for funds, the successful County Chairmen of the committee for the celebration of the President's birthday will be invited by the Foundation to assist in the establishment of these new chapters, whose membership will be comprised of representatives from all of the communities playing a part in the fight."

"The plans for establishment and procedure of these chapters will be sent to all county chairmen after the campaign for funds closes on January 30."

The committee for the affair is comprised of Mrs. Catherine Herkness, Mrs. Kathryn Ward, Miss Marie A. Serritella, Mrs. Catherine Paxton, Miss Zita McCoy, Al Bonaiuto, Albert Carragher. This committee met in the Recreation House Tuesday evening.

Birthdays come in bunches with the King family.

Director of Public Affairs and Mrs. Joseph King gave a party for relatives Wednesday night in their home, 28 Malone avenue, for the director's son, J. Robert, sixteen, Belleville High School student, whose birthday occurred that day, simultaneously with his dad's birthday. The previous day William King, the director's brother, Beech street, had a birthday. William and Mrs. King and sons, Allan and Kenneth, and Robert's aunt, Miss Marie E. Minion, also this town, attended the party.

LOCAL COMMITTEE TO ORGANIZE SCOUT AFFAIRS

Twenty-Five Organize
To Interest Adults
In Program

A program to stimulate interest in Boy Scout work among adults and to tie in scout activities with community affairs is the object of twenty-five men, who met at the Town Hall Thursday night, to organize a district committee. The meeting was in charge of John P. Dailey, a vice-president of Robert Treat Council, with which Belleville troops are affiliated, and treasurer of the original Belleville Scout committee.

John P. Dailey

Robert Treat Council also comprises troops from Newark and Irvington. Organization plans and objectives of the local committee were outlined by Arnold Sorenson, Boy Scout Executive of the council, and Dean Allan R. Colli-more, Newark College of Engineering. Joseph Hurley of the council also was a speaker.

TURF BOG AREA CONTROL URGED

Recreation Body
Wants Authority
To Act

When a communication from the Recreation Commission asking for control of the turf bog area was read at the conference meeting of the town commission Tuesday evening, a lively discussion followed. Commissioner Louis A. Noll backed the recreation body's plea, but acquiesced to Mayor William H. Williams' suggestion that the town board retain full control until a complete program should be worked out jointly by the town board, the school board and the recreation board. This will give each a proper knowledge of the whole proposition from every angle.

Mayor Williams suggested that lots fronting on streets should be made assessable and sold for building purposes and the center of the plot could be transformed into a recreation site.

Commissioner Noll agreed that such a plan would be acceptable to the recreation body and thought the idea of a conference would meet with approval all around.

Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters and Town Engineer Matthew J. Sheehan left for Washington Wednesday night to attempt to speed federal acceptance of a $500,000 WPA project to build a recreation center in the old bog.

County and state WPA officials already have approved the proposed projects, Waters announced. The project, if approved as planned by Waters, would cover approximately twenty acres and include several athletic fields with concrete stands for 5,000 spectators, six tennis courts, a wading pool, cinder track, volleyball, basketball courts and a field house. A parking space for 3,000 cars also has been included.

Acceptance of the project, according to Waters, will ease Belleville's relief problem, since the proposed project would employ about 400 men for more than a year.

Hartley's Mail Heavy

Swamped with an avalanche of mail on the Spanish embargo situation and similar legislative proposals, Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., through this newspaper, asks his constituents to be patient until he has an opportunity to care for the mail. He says:

"I have been unable to cope with the mail situation. I have been swamped. Will you please ask my friends to bear with me until I can get replies to them."

Meeting Planned Monday By Passaic Avenue P.T.A.

The Passaic Avenue School Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular meeting in the school auditorium Monday evening. Mrs. Norma Bingham, Newark Evening News, will give a talk, "A Challenge to Parents."

The school orchestra, under the direction of Miss India Bryant, supervisor of music, will render several selections, and first grade pupils, under Mrs. Helen Jannarone, will present a playlet, "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe."

TOWN TO DISPOSE OF PROPERTY IT HAS ACQUIRED

Definite Plan Scheduled For Action In Near Future

A concerted drive to dispose of town-owned property, which has been acquired through deed, tax liens and foreclosures is in the making, says Mayor William H. Williams.

Tax Assessor John F. Coogan says that the holdings represent a big problem at this time. As a part of duties, which have been added to his assessing job—the real estate position—Mr. Coogan is planning a definite program for the immediate future. Many parcels of residential, industrial and business property are now up for sale.

The list includes several plots at Greylock Heights. Twelve homes have already been built and several are under construction. Almost the entire tract originally comprised land repossessed by the town and later sold. Some of the other properties have railroad sidings and are near major vehicular highways. There are also parcels on Union, Washington and Franklin avenues and Joralemon street. Included also is a site 400 by 100 feet on Parkside drive suitable for a large apartment house. There are several large parcels of land on Main street overlooking the river, which is expected to become a community of apartment houses because of the elaborate program of road building and land beautification under the auspices of the Essex County Park Commission.

"These properties comprise some of the choicest locations in the town," the Mayor said, "and will be sold for the amount of arrears due on them or for the highest bid over such amount. Arrangements can be made for guaranteeing the title of such parcels of town-owned property."

In recent months we have met with striking success in similarly disposing of that type of real estate. New homes have been built, new industrial plants established, and new stores built. Some of the construction is now in progress. We believe it is no sounder for a municipality to hold on to non-productive real estate than it is for a merchant to hold on to dormant stock."

The Mayor said that information regarding available town-owned property will be supplied on written or personal application to the real estate division of the department of revenue and finance.

The town is standing by waiting for new developments in the location of the Andrew Jergens proposed pharmaceutical firm here. Maps and blueprints were prepared this week by the town for the company and Mayor William H. Williams spent considerable time with representatives endeavoring to overcome any obstacle that might stand in the way of further action.

Representatives of nine labor unions agreed last week that in the event the Jergens Co. of Cincinnati build a $1,000,000 plant here construction will not be halted by jurisdictional disputes.

At a conference with Mayor Williams, company officials declared that if they decide to locate here, building of the plant will be a 100 per cent union job, and that wherever possible, union made materials will be used.

In return, the labor union representatives, all members of the Essex County Building and Construction Trades Council, agreed that in the event of jurisdictional disputes, work would be continued.

Diner, Lunch Wagon, Grill- Definition Perplexes Board

"Lunch Wagon's Nothing Else
But," Says Bellet To Board

An ordinance without "teeth" in it—prohibiting establishment of further restaurants and lunch wagons in Washington avenue, was passed by the Town Commission in 1926.

Since that time, says Theodore Bellet, attorney for Harry Byrnes of the Whiteaway Diner at Washington and Belleville avenues, the ordinance has been violated with little regard to the rights of long-time taxpayers who were intended to receive protection under the measure.

The situation came to light recently when Cliff's Diner was constructed at Washington avenue and Academy street, opposite Wesley M. B. Church and the Free Public Library. Byrnes hired Bellet to protest because of the existing ordinance, pointing out the commissioners permitted the diner to be placed at the spot before a permit had been issued to operate it. When the permit finally arrived before the commissioners, having been O.K'd by the Police Department, Director of Public Affairs Joseph King said it needed further approval by the Health Department before it could be granted. Meanwhile the diner, grill, wagon, restaurant, car—or whatever name may be applied, stood ready for business.

Mayor William H. Williams calls it a food dispensary. Bellet stands ready to stake his reputation on a jury of twelve that "not one will say it is anything other than a lunch wagon, having come in on wheels and is therefore portable."

"I'll be frank with you," said Keenan. "I was lulled into a legalistic sense of false security. I did not know the ordinance existed. I do not believe an edifice of that type is in violation of the ordinance. I don't believe the board made a mistake."

"If the board did make a mistake, will the permit be revoked?" asked Bellet. No answer was forthcoming. He added that "regardless of embellishments, a lunch wagon, once is always a lunch wagon."

"It's just like bologna—no matter how thin you slice it, it's still bologna," a bystander remarked. "It looks like we are paying no attention to this ordinance," was the only remark Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters had to make.

Keenan will report "as soon as possible" to the board on the town's legal status. This was suggested on Bellet's insistence.

North Belleville B. & L. To Give Dinner At Forest Hill Field Club

Losing Team In Share Drive To Fete Winners

A victory dinner has been arranged for Tuesday at the Forest Hill Field Club, by the directors of the North Belleville Building & Loan Association. This dinner is being given by half of the directors, who were members of the losing team to the other half, who were the winners in a recent share contest drive which netted the Association 642 shares. It was one of the most successful drives that has been conducted by the Building & Loan in the past seven years.

The captain of the winning team, William Abramson, with H. Willard Sawyer and A. A. Buckley, make up the committee in charge of the arrangements.

During the absence of the president, William D. Clark, who is in Florida, the meeting will be conducted by the vice-president, Edwin B. McCurdy. As part of the program, John P. Dailey, secretary, will read a paper that he delivered at the Mid-Winter conference of the New Jersey Building & Loan League held at Asbury Park last December, on "Men Must Put Hay in The Barn."

The phenomenal success of the North Belleville Building & Loan Association in obtaining new shares has been attributed to the insurance of shares, according to the statement of Mr. Clark, before he left for the south. The North Belleville Building & Loan Association is one of the ten insured associations in Essex County and all its shareholders' accounts are insured up to $5,000 by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the United States Government.

Dunn-Machette Wedding

Announcement has been made of the marriage on January 15 in the rectory of St. Peter's Church of Miss Muriel June Machette, daughter of Harry Machette, 111 Belleville avenue, and Thomas Francis Dunn, son of Mrs. Catharine Dunn, 6 Smith street. Rev. Joseph Kelly, rector of the church officiated.

The bride was attended by Miss Elvera Sigerist, East Orange, and the best man was Edward Dunn, brother of the bridegroom, who is a member of the police department. The bride's father is Republican town chairman.

DUNDEES ESCAPE DEATH WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

Former Middleweight Champ, Wife And Friend
On Way Home

Returning from Orange General Hospital where they had visited during the evening their seven-year-old son, Vincent, Jr., who had undergone an appendectomy, Mr. and Mrs. Vince Dundee, 118 Fairway avenue, and a friend, Thomas Carey, twenty-two, 4 Judson street, Albany, narrowly escaped death Sunday night when the Dundees' automobile was struck by a train at Willet street, Bloomfield.

Vince, twenty-nine years old, former middleweight boxing champion, suffered fractured ribs and spent the night in Mountsinclair Hospital, Montclair. His wife, Constance, twenty-seven, received severe internal injuries, physicians said. She was taken to the same hospital. Carey suffered cuts, bruises and shock. He was treated at the hospital and later released.

The Dundees had passed eastbound tracks, it is said, when their auto was struck at 1 p.m. by the west-bound train out of Jersey City. Their car was dragged 350 feet along the road tracks.

Dundee and Carey climbed out of the wreckage and with aid of the train crew helped Mr. Dundee from the car. A flash light at the crossing warns motorists of approaching trains. Gateman is on duty only between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Nicholas Moser, engineer, 99 Center street, Little Falls, felt the impact and brought the train to a stop after it had traveled 350 feet westward. The Dundee car ended up on the eastbound track.

Lee Slockbower, conductor, and other members of the crew helped the injured in the train, which was backed to Willet street. Mr. and Mrs. Dundee were removed to the hospital in the police and fire ambulance and Carey in a police radio car, accompanied by Patrolmen Moran and Lutz.

Dundee, who was born Vincent Lazzaro in Baltimore twenty-nine years ago, won the middleweight title in 1933 in a decision over Lou Brouillard in Boston. He lost it later in the year to Teddy Yarusz. He retired after a comeback attempt in 1937.

SNOW REMOVAL STIRS SOLONS

Ordinance With Teeth Will Be Enacted To Clean
Sidewalks

What to do about snow on sidewalks, in gutters and driveways following storms, occupied a portion of Tuesday night's meeting of the town commissioners, prior to the regular board meeting. It was pointed out that many people shovel snow from sidewalk and throw it in the street where it forms ruts. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters declared something should be done to have the practice stopped, by the passage of an ordinance with teeth in it.

Police Clerk Fred Hanlon planned that there is a town ordinance requiring all householders or occupants of property to clear the sidewalks and gutters of snow and ice, but there is no penalty for violations.

"We will remedy this," Mayor Williams. And Town attorney Lawrence Keenan said could be done.

Local Police Department Had Its Start In 1907

Former Chief Flynn Tells How He And Serg. Pearl Began Operations

Chief Spatz Gives Complete De- tails Of Force And Its Duties

Belleville's police department, which will begin the thirty-second year of its existence on February 1, is highly rated among the police departments of the county and state. Starting under the old township form of government, then in existence, the force made its bow to the public with four men, two of whom, former Chief Michael J. Flynn and Sergeant Charles A. Pearl, survive, and William Swinn and Joseph Hannan are deceased. The four were appointed in January, 1907, but did not begin work until February 1.

In the days of the early permanent police department, according to Chief Flynn, they began their duties in a little building at Valley and Rutgers streets, in which there were three cells. "Although the building and its fittings were modest," said Chief Flynn, in an interview with a News reporter at his home, 24 Kan Kesselaer street, "we had to trouble with prisoners, and we got away."

When the town hall was completed in 1914, police headquarters was moved from the little old building to the floor of the town hall where the police are located today. Below them was quartered the police patrol and ambulance, a combination vehicle that did duty for several years. Before this was bought by the town, Chief Flynn said a two-horse police patrol, formerly of the Newark department, and a one-horse ambulance were operated by Howard Bergen, who conducts a tavern on Belleville avenue, above Union avenue. According to Chief Flynn, Mr. Bergen did considerable work for the Belleville police department with both vehicles.

Chief Flynn said he remembered some of the constables who did duty before the police force was organized in 1907. He remembered Peter Daley, father of former Town Clerk John Daley. "I retired from active duty on July 26, 1936," said the former chief. "Upon that occasion, the people of Belleville accorded me a spontaneous tribute. The folks made me a life member, and the townspeople presented me with a certificate and a check for $1,000. Those were probably the proudest moments of my life. That certificate on the wall will hang there as long as I live, and is a valued possession."

Chief Flynn received the News reporter cordially, although he was suffering from a severe attack of neuritis, his right hand and arm being swollen.

The status of the police department of today was outlined by Chief George Spatz, who succeeded Chief Flynn, upon the latter's retirement. At that time, Chief Spatz was a police captain.

In detailing the composition of the department of which he is the active head, Chief Spatz explained the duties of some of the officers and patrolmen and told of some of the workings of the department which numbers a total of thirty-six, and gave the names of the force, and the dates of their appointment on the force, as follows:

Chief, March 15, 1927; Captain Robert S. Anderson, June 1, 1919; Captain Elmer S. Leighton, March 15, 1927; Lieutenant Richard P. Nourse, March 15, 1927; Lieutenant Kenneth B. Smith, July 11, 1928; Sergeant Charles G. Pearl, February 1, 1907; Sergeant Joseph F. Hannan, November 3, 1909; Sergeant John F. Flynn, May 15, 1924; Sergeant Emerson J. Bush, July 1, 1930. Patrolmen Walter Drake, May 10, 1919; Frank J. Burke, June 1, 1924; Ernest C. Slater, June 1, 1924; Thomas J. Gallagher, June 1, 1924; Thomas J. Cruthers, June 16, 1924; Frank J. Lukowiak, March 1, 1935; Frank Christensen, September 1, 1925; John J. Flynn, September 1, 1925; Harry R. Scott, March 15, 1927; John J. Monaghan, March 15, 1927; Raymond G. Demgard, March 15, 1927; Anthony B. Gross, March 15, 1928; Christopher A. Dotterweich, July 22, 1929; LeRoy F. Hilton, September 22, 1930; Nelson Demgard, May 22, 1931; Edward J. Fletcher, September 1, 1934; Donald Smith, September 1, 1934; James S. Lee, November 11, 1934; Joseph B. Nygard, October 1, 1935; Irving H. Holly, April 16, 1936; Frederick A. Singer, July 1, 1936; Jerry Lilore, August 1, 1936; Charles H. McGinnis, November 1, 1936; Charles F. Booth, June 25, 1937; Thomas E. Dunn, May 11, 1938.

Chief Spatz, in outlining some of the police department operations and equipment, said the town bought a Buick patrol vehicle in 1929, which is still doing duty in the lower quarters of the town hall, where many years ago the oldest auto engine in Belleville was quartered, as told in the story of the fire department, published in last week's Belleville News.

The Belleville police headquarters is equipped with a standard police teletype machine connected with similar devices in eight counties of the state. The A.D.T. service for mills, factories and other commercial plants is also connected with Belleville police headquarters, and alarms of fire received over this system can be immediately sent out over the Gamewell fire alarm system by means of a phantom alarm, such as is used in many town departments.

"The force in the Belleville police department is so assigned," said Chief Spatz, "as to provide

System Brake Service, Inc., Specializes In Brakes, Steering And Lights

Nothing is more important at high speed than brakes. The engine may break a connecting rod and toss it through the crank case without in any way endangering the driver and his passengers, but an unexpected pull of the front wheels to the right or to the left may be sufficient to take the driver unawares and send the car off the road.

Maintaining brake equalization has been found to be not merely a matter of an occasional inspection, but one that calls for intelligent adjusting and lubrication of all operating parts, especially those inside or outside the brake drums where rusting from water and condensation is a common complaint.

The amount of play in the steering gear, a minor factor in normal driving, may become an important consideration for safety when the car is traveling over forty miles per hour.

Servicing the car for the speed it must travel is a new rule of safety which the far-sighted motorist need not wait to learn through the hard school of experience.

It should be apparent that there can be no real efficiency and safety with any such process unless the brakes are properly equalized, generally through the means of a modern electric dynamic brake tester. It is apparent that many motorists do not realize that they are driving cars with their brakes, steering, lights, or windshield wiper in defective condition. This fact was best discovered when motorists drove their cars into the State inspection stations, only to have them rejected because something was wrong with one or more of these safety items. It is estimated that more than fifty per cent of the cars presented at the inspection stations were rejected for one or more of the items mentioned being defective.

While accident figures are not as yet completed for 1938, one can go back and learn a lesson from the 1937 totals. 40,300 persons were killed in automobile accidents throughout the country, and the injured total 1,221,000. Both figures represent new peaks. More persons were killed on Sunday than any other day of the week, and more people were injured on Saturday. The most dangerous hour for traffic accidents was between 7 to 8 at night, when almost ten per cent of the deaths occurred. Wednesday was the safest day of the week.

System Brake Service, Inc., operates six brake service stations. They are located in Newark, North Newark, Vailsburg, Bloomfield, Jersey City and Perth Amboy. Their employees are specialists in brakes, steering and lights.

TWO PRIZES EACH WEEK —FREE TICKETS TO CAPITOL THEATRE FOR THE BEST RECIPES PUBLISHED.

Write out in full such words as "tablespoon," "teaspoon," "cup," "pound," "ounce," etc. Use numerals for such words as 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, etc., when referring to quantities.

Mrs. Mabel H. Melroy, 51 Smallwood avenue, two weeks ago submitted a prize-winning recipe to this column for a dessert, "Mint Mallow." She is an ardent follower of the recipes and, because her last was so good, Aunt Flo is taking this opportunity to award her another pair of tickets to the Capitol Theatre for a recipe called "American Chop Suey."

It follows:

4 pieces bacon, cut in small pieces, fry till almost crisp. Then add 3 small onions, cut in pieces. Stir while frying.

Have one-half package spaghetti cooked and drained. Add one pound ground beef, either round or chuck, to bacon and onion mixture. Stir and cook till redness is out of meat—then add the cooked spaghetti to above mixture. Stir well.

Put in casserole and stir in one can of tomato soup and one can of water. Stir all well and bake for about three-quarters of an hour. Serves six to eight. Very good or if the Chinese is applied, "velly good."

Mrs. Melroy adds: Dear Aunt Flo — Am sending in this recipe that I have found very tasty and makes a fine dish. Thanks for my complimentary tickets for the recipe I sent in and which was accepted. Tried the bread pudding recipe and was very good. With all good wishes for your department.

Very truly yours,
(Mrs. J. W.) Mabel H. Melroy

Aunt Flo is pleased that the recipe column is providing such fun, pleasure and "good cooking times" to her readers. Properly used, she hopes that in the not too far distant future a cooking school of Belleville housewives may be formed. Send in your recipes and enjoy exchanging them with your neighbors. Meantime, Aunt Flo offers two tickets each to the two persons who submit the best recipes each week.

Belleville Artists To Give Concert In Bloomfield

Trio Will Present Program At The Woman's Club

Three Belleville artists will present a program of songs, and solo and two-piano composition Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Bloomfield Woman's Club, under the direction of Elsie Cochran, chairman of the club's music department.

The artists will be Matthew Ryan, tenor, pupil of William O'Rourke, New York, and Adell Sutherland and Helen McNair, duo-pianists, pupils of Eleanor Bacon-Peck, Belleville.

Four years ago Mr. Ryan gave his debut concert in Belleville. Since that time he has been much in demand for radio appearances and concert engagements. Mr. Ryan has sung in "Boccaccio," given with the New York Light Opera Guild in Carnegie Hall, as well as in that same company's production of "Aida." The charm of his voice coupled with finesse in performance has contributed much to his success. David Williams, Bloomfield, another Eleanor Bacon-Peck student, will be the accompanist.

Mrs. Sutherland and Miss McNair began playing two-piano compositions for the sheer joy of working together, but soon found themselves on the recital stage, pleasing with their evident compatibility in interpretation and touch. This is a return engagement for Mrs. Sutherland.

The program follows: Two Tone Poems, E. Minor, Grieg; Danse Norvegienne, Olson, Helen McNair. Where'er You Walk, Handel; Passing By, Purcell; Love Life, Mana-Zucca, Mr. Ryan. Prelude, Fugue, and Variation, Frank, Miss McNair and Mrs. Sutherland. Love Song, Stojowski; Præludium, E. Minor, Mendelssohn, Mrs. Sutherland. ## Aunt Flo's Column

Those who must blame their shortcomings on others should be avoided.

One week I received a letter I think is the most painful of all I have received. It came from a girl who signs her Jenn and reads:

"Dear Aunt Flo: I feel like a fool to be telling some one my troubles but somehow it helps to help, for I am most unhappy. I am twenty-four years old and what a change has come over me in the past three years. I hate to think about it. I was once then and I believe even you could have liked me, but I met a man who flattered me and told me so many glamorous stories of his future that I fell for him and adopted his way of living instead of sticking to my own ideals. I guess it was because I was young and foolish and thought it was smart."

The only thing that can be said in my favor is that I really thought I loved him and I believe I still do if he will stop blaming me for everything that goes wrong, but that is where the trouble lies. After either spends or loses all his money and we both make fools of ourselves, the blame is all laid on me as soon as he is sober and to hear him lecture me you would think that I had taught him to drink and had taken him by force to a drinking party, when as a matter of fact I never touched a drop of liquor in my life until I met him.

He is always the White Winged Angel and I the Satanic Miss who creates all the trouble—I hate myself. This is not the kind of life I dreamed of, yet I cannot see a way out for he says he cares for me a great deal and does not want to give me up. What can I do about it?"

My dear Jenn: I would advise you to drop this man as you would a hot cake and gain your self-respect as quickly as possible, otherwise you will become more deeply involved and I am sorry to say that I do not think your roadway will lead to happiness. If this man can be such a spineless, white-livered creature when he is sober, to blame you for what he actually taught you to do, then how can you ever expect sympathy and love and tolerance from him through the years that are to come, when you will probably be less attractive and other domestic problems will present themselves?

I admit you have a difficult problem on your hands, but if you stick firmly to your decision, it will become your old sweet self, it is not too late and I would begin right now by refusing to make any more engagements with him. A man who thinks so little of himself or the girl he pretends to love that he deliberately impresses her with the smartness of dissipation and tries to drag her down, is not worthy of the name "Man" but is the filthiest kind of "Rat."

I could forgive him if he did not blame you for everything, but the mere fact that he does, shows what little character he possesses. If he tries to frighten you by

He Had It!

Aunt Flo knows one about a friend of the family meeting little Hobart strolling home at 6:10 one evening, so she asked him:

"Aren't you late for supper tonight, Hobart?"

"Nope," said Hobart, "I've got the pork chops right here."

saying that he will tell all about your escapades, just tell him to go ahead, that you are willing for everyone to know. Ninety-nine chances out of one hundred he will not say a word because he knows in his heart that he is the one who started all the mischief—but it will be your way of getting back your own self-respect and ending this friendship that is sure to lead to disaster.

And Jenn, next time you are picking out a man be a little more careful—keep yourself up on a pedestal and let him come to you. Don't get the idea that either popularity or happiness is gained by changing good morals for bad no matter how fascinating the man may seem, for after all the men take us at our own valuation. Remember too, that a man who will blame all his troubles on some one else is not the sort one would want to live with for a lifetime. We all know (those of us who are married) that there are hundreds of things that go wrong and if we have not character enough to shoulder some of the blame, life would be intolerable.

Good Luck — I hope you will make a quick comeback and meet a real man—one who will make this last one look like the rat that he is.

I shall be happy to hear from you again and you do not need to worry that I tell any secrets.

Readers, address your problems to Aunt Flo, care of Belleville News, 11 Mill street, Town.

Frankly Now!

WOUL'DN'T YOU HEAT BY GAS IF YOU HAD NO FEAR OF THE COST?

You already recognize the superiority of gas as a fuel in the cooking, refrigeration and water heating tasks. Cleanliness, quick heat, and ease of temperature control are taken almost for granted in these days of the all-gas kitchen. Therefore we ask you a rather pointed question.

Isn't it logical to choose gas for heating the house? In no other place are its benefits so clearly illustrated. Freedom from soot? Dependability? Labor saving? All of these and more are plus benefits found in the growing thousands of New Jersey gas-heated homes. Not an occasional house, but entire developments are now gas heated.

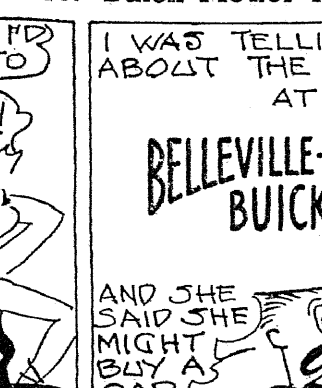

With a low gas rate for heating and a freedom from most of the hidden charges (power, repairs, service, etc.) so common to oil and coal systems, we believe that objections based upon cost are no longer valid. The one way to get an accurate idea of how much gas heat will cost in your home is to have it scientifically surveyed. Just consult your plumber, dealer, heating contractor, or our heating specialist. And when the results are known your house will probably be in the fast growing ranks of New Jersey's gas-heated homes.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

One hundred years ago, Belleville was a struggling section of Bloomfield Township, and stretched from the Yantacaw, or Third River, on the north, to Mt. Pleasant avenue, Newark, on the south, and from the Passaic River, on the east, to the present boundary of Bloomfield, on the west. Most of the area was farm land, with factories scattered along Second River. There was no idea at that time of the possibility that the region might one day become the site for a beautiful town. The people of the region in that day worked on the farms or in the factories. One or two inns or taverns catered to the traveler and stage coaches plied their slow means of transit between Newark and the outer world.

The population of the area was a bare 2,000, according to the most available statistics, and these were scattered along the roads between Newark and the upper Passaic valley. Two or three churches graced the Belleville hamlet of that day. They included the old First Church, Christ Episcopal and St. Peter's. Each had faithful members from as far as Market street, Newark, and some even at a greater distance.

Communication by boat on the Passaic river was much easier to Newark than by road. The latter was as nature made it, dirt, scooped along the sides to form a gutter, to carry off surface water. Compared with the Belleville of today, Belleville, which became a township in its own right a century ago, in February, to be exact, was about bursting from mother earth, and had just scraped the virgin soil sufficiently to erect the early abodes of the men and women who helped her become a proud and delightful community.

TURF BOG STADIUM

Plans are rapidly progressing toward start of the one-half million dollar stadium project out on the turf bog, most of the cost of which the Federal Government would assume.

And, with plans still in the embryo state, many groups have their eyes longingly turned toward the future when use may be made of the field, not only by townspeople in general, but school athletic teams, as well. We say this because, as pointed out recently in this newspaper by President of the Board of Education Herbert C. Schmutz, Clearman Field is not suited for athletic events of any importance. The plot might better be turned into building lots and ratables that certainly would bring to the town almost enough revenue to underwrite any amount spent on the stadium, says Mayor William H. Williams.

Should the idea to abandon Clearman Field ultimately work out, and the school teams be shifted to the bog stadium, the schools should have no say in the operation and maintenance of the stadium. There will be a large expense to maintain the field and this should not be overlooked. If school games are played at the field and admission charged a nominal percentage of the gate would accrue to the town. This should apply as well to any other events at the stadium should admission be charged. There would be quite some concern over the control of the stadium. The Recreation Commission, no doubt, will want to be in charge. The Town Commission may want control and then the school board will enter the picture. This is something for the future, we may say, but not so—already the con- fession is buzzing around the bonnets of the powers that be. To our humble way of thinking control should be vested in an independent board of citizens who would be named by the Town Commission and who would see that all taxpayers get an equal voice in use of the facilities to be established at the bog. No doubt this early conjecture over control will die a natural death when the commission, which started the project, gets around to that little detail. Meantime the gossip continues.

TRIAL BY JURY

The traditional American system of trial by jury seems to have lost none of its original intent, with the passage of years. While some well-intentioned folks in various walks of life have, from time to time, seen fit to criticize juries for failure to render verdicts according to the critics' ideas, the system appears to have survived all the tests to which it has been subjected.

The jury system in America is the outgrowth of arbitrary courts of England and the Colonies, prior to the American Revolution, and is a part of the much-heralded "bill of rights." It was inserted in the Constitution, as Section 3, Article III, which prescribes, "The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury, and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crimes shall have been committed; . . ." and the Fifth and Sixth Amendments of the Constitution, ratified and declared in force December 15, 1791. Thus all persons in America are equally protected by the Federal Constitution.

The reason for the jury phase of the "bill of rights" at the time the Constitution and amendments were adopted, was primarily to give all accused persons the protection of their fellows, in the states and districts in which they lived, or in which crimes might be committed. In other words, local sentiment was given authority over the will of courts, in deciding whether an accused person should be declared guilty of any crime. If only the evidence and laws were to be relied upon, the courts were deemed sufficiently versed in the rules for both, but more was required. The prevailing sentiment of the accused's fellow men became predominant, in finding the verdict. This has been the case in determining a multitude of verdicts throughout the country, and in many instances what people call "justice," according to their point of view, or "school of thought," has not prevailed.

Many years ago, when the United States was young and correspondingly weak, a Sussex county farmer's family was murdered by marauders believed to have come from Pennsylvania. Suspects were arrested and brought to trial. Many farmers of the section, believing justice would triumph, stayed away from the trial which somehow or other resulted in a verdict of acquittal. The suspects were liberated and hurried across the Delaware River to Pennsylvania.

The verdict so aroused the natives that they gathered a large force of armed horsemen, invaded Pennsylvania, seized the suspects and carried them to the county seat. Another trial was held and the accused were convicted and hanged, with slight ceremony. Although this action was illegal, there wasn't anything Pennsylvania could do about it, as the Jersey farmers were ready for war, if need be, regardless of the Constitutional restriction against one state making war upon another.

Along about 1880, a bloody riot took place in Paterson, following the murder of a man on Garret Mountain by a farmer, who claimed trespass. Sentiment in Passaic county was so one-sided, the defense obtained a change of venue to Bergen county where a jury of farmers acquitted the accused, the trespass law proving the deciding feature in reaching the verdict.

Public sentiment in the Lindbergh kidnapping was so widespread it would have been impossible to have held the trial anywhere in New Jersey where a verdict for the defense might reasonably have been expected. This was realized from the start, so the trial was conducted just where practically every inhabitant was ready to say "guilty," right off.

So it can be seen that public sentiment in the district where a crime is said to have taken place, plays a large part in determining the verdict.

INFORMATIVE AND GOOD LITERATURE

The American Library Association survey for 1938 shows that more books probably were read in the past year than ever before. The survey is a study of reports from thirty-five principal cities in the United States and Canada. There were several reasons for the increased reading. One was the lack of employment, another the fact that in many cities libraries have been given increased budget allowances.

One of the most encouraging aspects of the report was that readers of non-fiction had increased in numbers generally. Books like "Madame Curie" and "The Importance of Living," by Lin Yu Tang, were popular, showing the demand of the public for real informative works as well as good literature.

SO SAY WE ALL!

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

This week again the subject of relief has been prominently in the forefront of the public press with errors being made to bring the whole subject up for complete discussion. That is all to the good and is the American way of doing things—looking at both sides of every picture in order to get the facts. Our survey of the press dispatches would indicate that there have been found more wrongs in relief to criticize than to praise, and that those in favor of reducing the appropriation for relief have made a better case than the other side.

Have you let your representatives in Washington know how you feel about it? If you feel as we do—that the relief appropriation should be cut and that not over $725,000,000 should be appropriated for the balance of this fiscal year—and probably not that much—then you had better let your Congressmen and Senators in Washington have your views. Make no mistake about it, the people who are on relief and are protesting from the huge Federal relief expenditures, have let the folks in Washington have their views. As we have so often pointed out, they are YOUR representatives and want to know what you are thinking.

We have had the privilege this week of talking at length with a very important European businessman who is managing director of a very large international group of companies operating over sixty plants throughout the world. It was interesting to have his observations on the situation in Spain, of which he seemed to be particularly well informed. He observed that the civil war now in progress in Spain, and if we can believe this week's news dispatches, fairly close to a conclusion—is a conflict between two definite theories of government: Communism and Fascism. Italy and Germany, he believes, are openly giving encouragement and material support to General Franco's Fascist group in order to assure the defeat of Communism and prevent the establishment of a Communist regime. Though France originally supported the Communist or Loyalist side, possibly because the French Socialist Premier Blum was then France's number one man, they still do not want to see victory for the Fascists because as a Republic they do not want to be almost entirely surrounded by Fascist totalitarian neighbors—Germany, Italy and Spain.

He predicts the ultimate victory of the Franco group; believes that Spain will return to some form of monarchistic government, headed by royalty—but not any of the family of the former King Alfonso—and that there is nothing much for the rest of the world to be alarmed about in the situation. Nevertheless it was interesting to have confirmation from such a high source, that the fight that has been going on so long in Spain is not so much a fight as to which group in Spain is going to come out on top, as a conflict between two theories of government.

We repeat the admonition that everyone should give serious consideration to joining the Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey. This is the pioneer non-profit hospital service plan in the country. It is operated by a Board of Trustees with John R. Hardin as President, made up of a group of outstanding citizens who are giving of their time and effort so as better to serve their fellowmen. These Trustees serve without compensation and there are now some 110,000 people enrolled and seventy-one hospitals in the State of New Jersey ready to give the benefits that this fine plan offers. For as little as seventy-five cents a month for a single individual and for as little as $2 a month for a family of three or more persons—those enrolled obtain three weeks' free hospital service in any one year, including all general services and all customary routine care normally supplied by the hospitals.

It is a fine step forward in social progress and the benefits derived are so large in relation to the cost of joining the plan that we again urge everyone interested to communicate with the Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey, 744 Broad street, Newark. Yours 'til next week, "GUARDIAN"

LOOKING BACKWARD

Five Years

With former Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy absent and Commissioner Patrick A. Waters ill, three members of the Town Commission, Directors William H. Williams, Frank J. Carragher and William D. Clark, passed on first reading the municipal budget, which provided $712,521.14 would be raised by local taxation, as against $688,593 the previous year, an increase of $23,927.92.

The fourth annual banquet of Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church Men's Club was scheduled in the church parlors with the ladies in charge of a turkey dinner. The Mosaic Orchestra, under the direction of George Snodgrass was scheduled to play and the principal speaker was Dr. Lester H. Clee, Newark. Charles Lyons, president, was master of ceremonies.

"The Criminal Tendencies of the Younger Generation" was the subject of a talk by Recorder Everett B. Smith at a joint meeting of Belleville Post, American Legion, and Auxiliary.

Ten Years

Nutley and Belleville were once again on the verge of a split, so far as the annual football classic between the schools of the towns was concerned. The break materialized on charges of "aloofness" and, as Coach Steel said, "relations are off until Nutley again has a good team."

Belleville Craftsman's Club was preparing a skit, "On the Levee," to be presented in Masonic Temple.

Grace Baptist Church was arranging a musical, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary and the personal direction of Arthur Ackerman, choir leader and organist at the Reformed Church. The talent included Miss Florence Kearney, soprano soloist of the Kilburn Memorial Church, Newark; Marion S. Stager, contralto; Philip H. Cox, Jr., tenor soloist; of the Reformed Church, and Edwin P. Cook, baritone. George E. Stewart, violinist, was scheduled as instrumental soloist.

Director of Streets and Public Improvements Frank A. Neary had that no successor had been named for Town Engineer Frank T. Shepard, who resigned two weeks previous, as the Town Commission was considering an ordinance to establish an Engineering Department.

Dr. George G. Yarrow announced he had tossed his hat into the race for Congressman in the Eighth District which included Belleville. The announcement was made at a meeting of the Belleville Republican Club in the Elks'.

A Red Cross watch charm was presented to the late Charles Granville Jones, chairman of the Christmas drive of the Red Cross. The gift was from members of the executive committee.

The late Mayor John H. Waters was congratulated by several large coal firms for his work in 1918 in supplying coal to needy families in Belleville during the shortage of coal situation. "The people of Belleville are to be congratulated in that they had a man at the government head who could and did arise to such an emergency," wrote Jagels, Inc., Silver Lake, to the Mayor, who "personally drove a wagon numbers of times" to Jagels' yards and delivered coal to residents of the town in zero weather.

The M. D. Says

HEALTH QUESTION: Why is it wise to buy tomato juice in small containers?

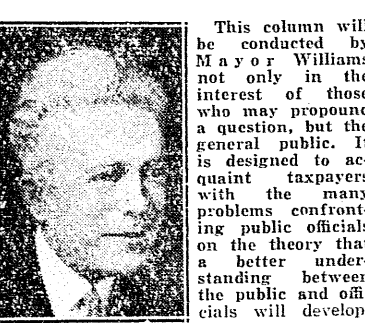

In buying tomato juice, it is wise to buy the size container that will be adequate for one meal. According to the American Medical Association, if a can of tomato juice is opened and its contents exposed to the air, the juice loses some of its Vitamin C potency. It is therefore wise to buy the size container which will be adequate to serve the family for a single meal.

In addition to containing Vitamin C, fresh tomato juice contains Vitamins A, B and G in varying amounts.

Municipal Management

by Mayor & Finance Director, William H. Williams

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

This article is from Municipal Topics by the New Jersey State League of Municipalities, of which former Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy is executive secretary.

Under the New Jersey statutes every dollar of municipal expenditures requires either the signature or countersignature of the treasurer. It is important, therefore, the duties of the office be in competent hands. Government today is big business. The larger municipalities are comparable to million dollar corporations.

The treasurer in large municipalities is aided in his work by a comptroller and auditor. In smaller communities he is the sole disbursing officer. Under the borough form of government the office is merged with that of tax collector, a provision of law peculiar to boroughs.

It is the duty of the treasurer to keep or supervise the keeping of the general ledger, all subsidiary ledgers, journals and cash books. These records are required to show at the end of any period the financial standing of the municipality; that is, the assets and liabilities as to bonded indebtedness, appropriation balances of the current budget, and other fiscal information such as appears on the general ledgers of a private business.

To a considerable degree, the treasurer acts as comptroller and auditor as well in municipalities not having such officers. His accounts are subject, of course, to independent audit each year, but it is his function to pass upon all bills before submission to the governing body for payment authorization.

Where his experience, background and training are sufficient, the treasurer is likewise of great aid in budget-making. In this connection services of marked value can be rendered, emphasizing again the importance of high-type appointments. Another function of the treasurer is the handling of bond issues and payments on debt service, the retirement of obligations and the interest on debt. In many budgets debt service is one of the largest items. Most bonds are of one thousand dollar denomination, which requires a tremendous amount of bookkeeping in order that a record may be had at all times of coupons outstanding and those paid.

The present law requires the issuance of serial bonds with a fixed amount becoming due and payable each year, beginning not later than the second year after issuance. In the past, it was the practice to issue bonds for periods ranging from fifteen to forty years without payment on the principal until the total matured. Annual payments were made to a sinking fund during the life of the bonds, the money being invested at a rate not less than three and one-half per cent, but during all of the period the municipality paid interest, usually at a higher rate, on the entire amount borrowed. An instance recently came to light of a $4,000 bond issue in 1911 and not maturing until 1941 on which the interest at five per cent total-

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Complete and inpenetrable chaos reigns in Trenton in regard to relief. The cross currents in the legislature are so complex that even the leaders themselves will not risk a prediction about what will emerge. Many elements of the struggle that has raged for several years between the diversionists and the new tax group are present again this year, but the struggle is more difficult to untangle now than in other years. This uncertainty is caused to some extent by the attitude of Senator Homer Zink. No one can be sure of the stand Zink will take from day to day, whereas his predecessor, Lester H. Clee, was a known factor.

Zink An Independent
The fact that he is committed to no definite program. This leaves him free to favor or oppose given plan according to its merits as they appear at that particular time. Clee cannot properly be said to have taken dictation from political bosses, but he did take a great deal of advice from William H. Seeley and Thur T. Vanderbilt.

Zink entered the Senate year without any composite picture. He takes the attitude that he elected to represent Essex, that he is responsible to the Essex alone. He weighs advice given him by Vanderbilt and the humblest constituent in the scales and judges this advice according to what the scales say. But these scales, again, are his own devising.

This independence of the Belleville senator has given rise to the very persistent reports that Zink and Vanderbilt are at odds. Zink denies the reports emphatically. "Relations between Vanderbilt and myself are entirely amiable and we have seen a good deal of each other during the past weeks," he declared this morning. Vanderbilt, as usual, says nothing.

Leader of Essex?

But there can be no doubt the fact that Zink considers his office entitles him to an important place in county leadership, and very definitely ranking place as regards legislative matters. His attitude is illustrated by the anecdote about John Tyler, President Harrison died, was the first Vice-President elevated to the Presidency, constitution being silent on point, Congress fell to decide whether Mr. Tyler should styled President or acting President. While the debate was in progress, a message came from the President, "John Tyler, President. That settled the matter. The manner the Essex leaders have received a symbolic message from the serious Belleville lawyer, it was signed, "Homer" Cass Zink, legislative leader of Essex.

But issuing his own declaration of independence means only half-victory for Zink. He must persuade the twelve Essex assemblymen to go along with him. His leadership is to achieve much. According to rules of the New Jersey senate, a member from the huge county of Essex is little more important than from the many smaller ones. But a senator with a solid vote of twelve assemblymen can play the game with him on either matter. Such an as-bloc can usually exert the power in that body, a possession would give Zink enormous advantage in the local trading that is necessary to get anything through the Jersey Senate. It is too early to determine how much influence Zink will exert over his colleagues in the assembly.

Election Reforms Due

Election reform legislation due to be introduced in about a week. As tentatively drawn will provide for a single commissioner of elections in the five class counties of Hudson and Essex, voting machines, no transfers after 28 days before election, civil service for most of employees of the enlarged commissioner of elections and other minor reforms. This bill is a composite of measures drawn up by the investigation of Robert Johnson of New Brunswick. Dr. Clee and other leaders there is another report, however, that an entire new bill setting up a state department of elections will eventually get major Republican backing. But something in the way of election reform will be introduced very shortly.

Support Zink

Senator Van Winkle and Assemblyman Freund, both of Bergen support Zink's contention that no final action should be taken on the highway budget until it is known how much of the department's income would be required for relief.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINTS Frostbite and Chilblains

By Dr. James A. Tobey

If you are bitten by the frost this winter, with freezing of an exposed part, don't make the mistake of vigorously rubbing the chilled portion of your anatomy with snow or anything else.

This advice may upset some preconceived notions, but every expert on first aid is agreed that snow-rubbing is bad for frostbite. Why? Because snow is usually dirty and gritty. It may break the skin and cause a serious infection. What should you do? Warm the frozen part carefully and gradually. If a finger is frozen, for example, put it next to your body under the armpit and let it thaw out there. Or bathe it in cold water. Keep frozen parts away from hot stoves, open fires, and hot radiators. You may rub or massage the frozen part gently, taking care not to break the skin. Then wrap in clean cotton wool. Take hot drinks such as tea or milk. How do you know when your are frostbitten? A frozen ear, finger, toe, or nose gets colder than the rest of the body and loses all sensation. The skin becomes gray, will not blanch when pressed, bad case of frostbite should be treated by a physician, since dangerous blisters and even gangrene may develop.

The best treatment for frostbite is to prevent it. When the temperature falls below 20 degrees Fahrenheit, wear sufficiently heavy warm clothes, preferably made of pure wool. In very cold weather woolen gloves are best, and wool stockings and socks are necessary or desirable.

Persons who are properly nourished, and who avoid fatigue, are much less likely to suffer from frostbite and the resulting chilblains. If you are anemic, or have poor circulation, you are ready prey to frost and cold. Build up your resistance to cold therefore, with a liberal intake of such foods as milk, whole wheat and white breads with plenty of butter, eggs, fruits, yellow vegetables, lean meats, leafy vegetables, potatoes, and nuts. These foods give you vitamins, iron and other minerals; enough of them will furnish you with adequate calories or heat units.

SAFETY RECORD MADE BY 'PHONE COMPANY DRIVERS

Slogan, "Courteous Driving
Means Safe Driving"

Drivers of the telephone motor vehicle fleet rode their slogan "courteous driving means safe driving" over more than 9,000,000 miles of New Jersey highways and byways in 1938 to a new road safety record that saw accidents reduced ten per cent in number and the distance between accidents extended from an average of 103,000 to 117,500 miles.

Approximately 600 of the drivers or more than forty per cent of the total, who have never had an accident since the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company was formed eleven years ago, kept their records spotless another year. They have driven an estimated total of 66,000,000 miles, a distance more than 2,600 times the circumference of the earth, without as much as marring a fender.

The fleet as a whole, composed of nearly 1,000 trucks and cars, had eighty accidents during the year, none of which caused a fatality or was of major consequence. Accidents in 1937 totaled eighty-nine. In the strict record kept by the company, a dent caused by careless backing is chalked up as an accident in the same manner as a smash-up on the road, and most of the accidents during the year fall into the former minor category.

Safe-driving insignia for the vehicles and certificates for the drivers were distributed this month at meetings throughout the State where conferences were held to map out the 1939 campaign. In eleven years the telephone safe-driving campaign has nearly quadrupled the average distance between accidents to telephone cars and trucks, from 29,700 miles in 1928.

KIERNAN ASKS ZONE CHANGE

Undertaker Wants To Have Funeral Parlor On De Witt Avenue

Undertaker George F. Kiernan, of 101 Union avenue, appeared before the town commission Tuesday night, and asked that a change be made in the class A zoning designation for a residence on DeWitt avenue, which he desires to use as a funeral parlor. Mr. Kiernan explained that he does not intend changing the appearance of the house, but only hopes to make use of it as a funeral parlor, with a sign similar to those displayed by doctors, dentists and other professions.

Mayor Williams explained that it would be better to present the application to the Zoning Board as that body would have to pass on it, anyway, and the town council could inform the zoning body it had no objections, but would alter the wording of the zoning ordinance to add the word "undertakers" to the professions granted use of premises for offices of doctors, dentists and the like.

The town council said this is all that would be necessary, and Mr. Kiernan said he would be satisfied if the change could be made, as suggested by the council.

Vincent Lopez, who is appeara stage show featuring Kate Smith's funsters ABBOTT & COSTELLO with an entire new

BETTY HUTTON, America's Number One Jitterbug; also Freda Sullivan and Dr. Hoffman,
"THINK-A-DRINK" illusionist.
"Hello Everybody, Lopez Speaking." No statistician would be foolhardy enough to compute the millions of dancing or the number of romances inspired by this famous greeting of Vincent Lopez.
And here's a good clue as to why those dancing miles and romances keep adding up. During Lopez's engagement at Billy Rose's Casa Manana, which stretched into a run of six months—Vincent, ever abreast of each new trend in the public's musical taste—changed his greeting words to "LOPEZ

SPEAKING—AND SWINGING.
In fact, one of the favorite topics along the great white way is the sensational manner in which Lopez responded to the call of swing.
Up to a year and a half ago, his band featured sweet music a style which lays stress on melody rather than rhythm. But when swing swallowed the younger generation, it also won over Lopez.
After some experimentation he evolved his present style, which he calls "suave swing."
One of the most radiant features of Lopez's new "suave swing" band is his blonde vocalist, Betty Hutton. Betty is called AMERICA'S NUMBER ONE JITTERBUG because she's the very personification of swing. The customers cease their dancing and stamp toward the bandstand when she sings and jitters. She has never failed to stop the show during the past two months of solo performing on the stage of Billy Rose's Casa Manana.

Jesse James Comes To Proctor's Theatre, Newark

Jesse James, America's best known outlaw, lives again, robbing trains and banks, in the motion picture of the same name, now playing at Proctor's Theatre, Newark. Tyrone Power will be seen in the title role, with Henry Fonda as his brother, Frank James. Nancy Kelly plays the outlaw's devoted wife, Zee, while Randolph Scott is cast as United States Marshal Will Wright.
Filmed entirely in technicolor at the actual location of most of the bandit's robberies, "Jesse James" was directed by Henry King, who made "Alexander's
Rag Time Band" and "In Old Chicago." In the cast are Henry Hull, Slim Summerville, J. Edward Bromberg, Brian Donlevy, John Carradine, Donald Meek,
John Russell and Jane Darwell.

Will Osborne And Orchestra
At Paramount, Newark

Will Osborne and his orchestra and the Andrews Sisters will be the principal entertainers in the stage program arriving today at the Paramount Newark Theatre.
The main screen offering will be
"Paris Honeymoon" starring Bing Crosby.
Osborne and his band, who specialize in "slide" music, are outstanding in the field of swing.
Featured among the members of the orchestra are the Three Slide Trumpets, the Three Regular Trombones and Dick Rogers and Lynn Davis, singers. The Andrews Sisters, Laverne, Patty and Maxene, are well known exponents of swing vocalizing.
"Paris Honeymoon" deals with a wealthy Westerner who sets out to marry an heiress in Paris and winds up by wedding a peasant girl chosen Queen of the Roses in a festa in a mythical European country.
Seen with Crosby in the cast are Francisca Gaal, Akim Tamiroff, Ben Blue, Edward Everett Horton and Shirley Ross.

Michael J. Conroy, 24 Van

Mayor Sole Arbitrator

Both the company officials and the labor leaders agreed that in the event of labor differences between unions and the company, Mayor Williams would act as sole arbitrator.

"Union leaders admit," Mayor Williams says, "that there has been much criticism, some warranted and some unfounded, leveled at organized labor here. The spirit of cooperation which was evident last week, I believe, will encourage both builders and financing agencies to give broader consideration to construction jobs in Essex County."

While he said there were several problems remaining to be solved, the Mayor added that he believed the labor agreement might well be the turning point in inducing the Jergens Co. to locate here.

"I am most optimistic that the Jergens company will come to Belleville," said Mayor Williams, who has spared no effort since last November to induce the concern to locate in town.

"Everybody concerned seems to be cooperating," he added. "I feel that the plant will mean much to Essex County. Aside from the number of workmen who will be employed in its construction there will be about 1,200 persons employed in the place when it is finished."

American Legion Auxiliary

Belleville Unit No. 105, American Legion Auxiliary, will be represented at Montclair Unit's past presidents' dinner on Monday evening in the Grill Leon, Montclair, by Mrs. Joseph Hue-mer, president; Mrs. William I.
Labaugh, Mrs. Arthur Christie,
Mrs. Charles Hoffman and Miss Laura Congelton.

Next Thursday Mrs. Huemer will attend the case committee meeting of the Community Service Bureau. The evening of the same day Mrs. Huemer and delegates, Mrs. Labaugh, Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. F. Gerard Fredericks, will attend the Essex County American Legion Auxiliary meeting in Public Service Building, 19 Main street, East Orange. Essex Division, Auxiliary, will be hostess and present a Fidae pageant.

With Congress in session, principal attention of the American Legion Auxiliary's 465,000 members is being focused during January upon support of The American Legion's legislative recommendations, according to Mrs.
Edwin Ackerman legislative chairman of Belleville Auxiliary Unit.

The Legion is urging increased defensive preparations, enactment of a Universal Service law, tightening of immigration, naturalization and deportation laws, federal protection for widows and orphans of World War veterans, and improvement of employment opportunities for veterans.

Building the additional warships needed to make the United States Navy the equal of any afoat is being asked by the Legion and Auxiliary as a measure to give increased security to the country's peace, said Mrs.
Ackerman. For this purpose, too, development and modernization of the Army is being urged, with special emphasis upon aviation. The Universal Service law is being recommended to give greater efficiency to the national defense in case of war and to remove the profiteering moti-

Total restriction of immigration for the next ten years, or least until the country is able to take up slack in employment, another Legion recommendation.
Deportation of all aliens convicted of a felony, those advocating overthrow of the government, force and violence, and those willing to apply for citizenship in one year after they become eligible, is also recommended.
Extension to all widows orphans of World War veterans the same protection now given those of veterans of other wars is being urged. At present protection goes only to widows and orphans of veterans who ten per cent or more disabpended to be the result of service.

The Legion and Auxiliary are urging rigid enforcement and tension of Civil Service in federal government, with quadruple preference for veterans. Preference for veterans in employment and retention on projects where government money is used is also asked any attempts to take away veterans the preference in effect will be vigorously opposed. Maintenance of the United States Employment Service under Department of Labor is recommended.

SEN. ZINK OPPOSES ANY NEW TAXES

Says Essex Delegation Will Live Up To Its Pledge

"Business is improving after a long and dangerous illness. Let's not cause a relapse by prescribing new taxes. What business needs is a tonic," says Senator Zink in an interview with this paper today.

"The Legislature has an obligation to business and to the citizens of the state. That obligation must be respected. We have no right, nor is there any necessity, to choose the easy way out, levying new taxes and setting another obstacle in the way of industrial and business recovery."

There would be no talk of new taxes in New Jersey if there were relief problem. If the municipalities were to cut their general costs even to the extent to which the state has reduced its spending, few of them would have any special relief problem.

Relief is not the sole responsibility nor even the original responsibility of the Legislature. Before the depression, public assistance was handled by the cities alone. It is still their primary responsibility, although the state has for years contributed to the cost.

"There are many careful observers who think that at least twenty-five per cent of the money now spent on relief goes to people who do not need help, or is wasted through political control. If this twenty-five per cent were saved it would greatly simplify our problem," he continues.

"Many municipalities get no cash from the state for relief, because of the formula now used in distributing funds. Others could easily get along without state aid, if they reduced their general expenditures."

"Admittedly, there are many cities and towns, both large and small, that have very bad unemployment situations, so that they desperately need help. They would still need some help even if they cleaned up their administration of relief and economized in their general budgets. These towns and cities must be taken care of."

"If the municipalities, generally, cut their budgets and put their relief in order, the state would require millions of dollars less for relief than the twenty million dollar total now being talked of."

"The money actually required by the state for relief can easily

NEWARKER NAMED BOND AGENT

Julius A. Rippel, Inc.,
Will Serve Belleville
In Financial Matters

The Belleville Town Commission at its meeting Tuesday night adopted a resolution offered by Mayor William H. Williams, by which Julius A. Rippel, Inc., 744 Broad street, Newark, will act as the fiscal agents for the town during 1939. The resolution is the result of a consultation following receipt of an offer from the financial corporation to represent the town in all bond transactions during the year. They will represent Belleville in all matters pertaining to the funding of the town's floating indebtedness and in re-bonding whenever such action is necessary.

In return for services, a second resolution provides that an appropriation sufficient to carry out the arrangement shall be made in the tax budget.

The commission held a public hearing on an ordinance appropriating $29,000 for the purchase of two tracts of land forming part of the Hendricks property being considered by the Andrew Jergens Co. of Cincinnati, O., as the site for a $1,000,000 plant.

Purchase of the two plots, totaling about ten acres, by the town, is contingent upon the pharmaceutical company locating here. The smaller of the plots would be used to straighten Mill street, and the larger as an overflow basin to relieve flood conditions on Second River, both to be done by the town as WPA projects.

The board also approved on first reading an ordinance to repeal the 1912 snow removal ordinance. Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan said another ordinance adopted in 1907 controlling the removal of snow and other impediments from sidewalks was still on the town's books.

TOWN TREASURER SERGEANT REMAINS N. J. CHAIRMAN

Continues To Serve
As State Head Of Finance
Officers' Body

Town Treasurer T. Russell Sergeant, state chairman of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association, for New Jersey, has agreed to continue as state chairman, in compliance with a request received by him from Miner R. Phillips, president of the national association, at Chicago.

The letter to Mr. Sergeant, received by him Wednesday, informs him that the executive committee of the national association, at Chicago, desires him to continue at his present post, the chairmanship of the New Jersey members of the association, to aid in furtherance of the national program. Mr. Sergeant has accepted this responsibility.

SALE OF AUTO LICENSE PLATES BEGINS HERE

Mr. Abramson explained to The News that, although 1939 licenses may be obtained now, they cannot be put on cars until March 15, but must be installed by April 1, the period between being two weeks' grace for auto owners.

Sorority Dinner And Dance

The Phi Delta Psi Sorority held its third annual dinner and dance last night in Parrillo's. The officers of the club are: Miss Connie R. Giordano, president; Miss Elnesta Ferrara, vice-president; Miss Mary Russo, secretary; Miss Teresa Rendo, treasurer; Miss Ferrara was chairman of the affair. There were many from this town, Bloomfield and Newark. Music was furnished by Frank Hope and his orchestra. The club will further celebrate its anniversary by having dinner and attending a theatre in New York.

WARNING ISSUED TO DOG OWNERS

Stiff Fines Scheduled
For Muzzle-Leash
Violators

"During 1938 there were reported in town eighty-three dog bites, eight of which were rabid, requiring twenty-three persons to undergo Pasteur treatment," says Health Officer Eugene T. Berry.

"In view of this, the Department of Health feels that every citizen, especially dog owners, should know the symptoms of rabies, among those most noticeable in a case running the usual course are the following: sudden change in disposition, unusual nervousness or irritability, tendency to leave home, change in voice, difficulty in swallowing, particularly of fluid food, tendency to snap or bite without provocation, weakness or paralysis of the legs or lower jaw, an increased flow of saliva, and swallowing abnormal substances, such as wood, stones, etc.," he continues.

"If your dog should become ill or develop any of these symptoms do not try to administer home remedies, as this procedure is dangerous, and hazardous, call in a veterinarian or the Health Department so that the animal may be properly isolated to protect the members of your household."

"The department wishes to further warn all dog owners that dogs running at large must be muzzled at all times unless accompanied by the owner on a leash. Persons failing to comply with these regulations liable themselves to a fine not exceeding $20 for the first offense and $50 for each succeeding offense."

"It has been the experience of this department that owners who place any value in their dogs will in the spirit of good sportsmanship comply with these regulations to protect their neighbors as well as their own dog from the possibility of infection until the present widespread prevalence of rabies has vanished," concludes Mr. Berry.

Local Druggist Gets Award On Dental Prescriptions

Sidney Kaufer Expounds Views
That Would Revolutionize Practices

Sidney Kaufer, one of the proprietors of the Corner Drug Store, Washington avenue at William street, has just been informed by the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association secretary, Prescott R. Loveland, that he has been awarded the 1938 Kilmer prize for a paper on "A Practical Method of Increasing Dental Prescription Practice," a new phase in pharmacy.

The paper was submitted in competition at the association's annual convention in June in Atlantic City and was judged best by Prof. A. F. Marquis, chairman of the committee on awards, who made the presentation to Mr. Kaufer during the luncheon of the association last Wednesday at the mid-winter convention in the Hotel Hildebrecht, Trenton.

Ernest Little, dean of Rutgers University New Jersey College of Pharmacy in Newark, wrote Mr. Kaufer: "I was mighty pleased to know that your paper on the use of formulas for dentists has won the Kilmer prize. That certainly is good work. We are mighty proud of you."

Sidney Kaufer

George C. Schicks, assistant dean, said: "Please permit me to again compliment you and congratulate you for winning the Kilmer prize for presenting the best paper of scientific and practical value before the New Jersey State Pharmaceutical convention last summer."

"You are doing a good work. I am glad that the recognition for the work you are doing has come to you so early, and I trust that it will act as a greater stimulus for you to continue with the efforts you are making in professional pharmacy."

Mr. Kaufer, who feels that, as in medicine, considerable research work may be done in care of the teeth, is contributing his findings gratis to dentists. He believes in this way he may offer in some measure a boon to mankind. He has made a study of tooth pastes and powders with startling results that bid well to revolutionize the methods for care and treatment of teeth.

"I will try to explain an experiment I made in a practically virgin field. If my endeavors will prove beneficial to other pharmacists, it will be a great stride forward in my plan," he said today.

"Just As Good"—Out

"It is as good as any, Mrs. Jones! How many times have you found yourself repeating these words to a customer who asks about the merits of some dentifrice that lines your shelves or one that you particularly push? At this time let us stop to give ourselves an honest going over. Can we truthfully recommend one product in preference to another? What do we really know about the principles involved in good dentifrice?"

"Knowing my own shortcomings on this subject, I decided to do some simple research. For my first step, I checked with my next dental customers and found that people were influenced in their purchases in the following ways: By claims made over the air or on the printed page, by their preference to certain tastes, and by no particular recommendations of their dentist."

Frank Puleo Rests After Entombing In Cinder Bin

Buried Six Hours In Ashes, Worker
Was Rescued By City Firemen

Perception

As a proofreader Miss Edith Frey, 159 Tappan avenue, a Belleville High School pupil, would stand out. Recently she glanced at a manhole cover in Union avenue at Hancox and discovered the word "county" was transposed spelling "county."

She notified Nutley's Public Works Department, which, in turn, notified County Engineer Stickel, under whose jurisdiction Union avenue is placed, as a county road. Stickel said that this is the first report on the spelling in this section although there are about fifteen such misspelled covers in the county, having been in place for ten years.

Local Man Says He Prayed
During The Long
Ordeal

Apparently none the worse for his experiences aside from slight abrasions, Frank Puleo, twenty-eight, 118 Washington avenue, a worker at the Multiplex Concrete Co., 64 Glenwood place, East Orange, today told how it feels to be buried six hours in ashes.

The thing Puleo wanted most when he was bogged down under the cinders was to get back to his wife and son, Frank, Jr., who was eight months old the day of the accident.

"I couldn't cover my face because my arms were pinned," said Puleo relating his initial feelings. "Every time I yelled I got a mouthful of ashes. That's why I stopped yelling so often."

Such a harrowing experience was Puleo's Friday when tons of frozen ashes and gravel entombed him in a cylindrical bin, one of three seventy-two-foot storage bins used for cinders and other materials which are moulded into building blocks. Sleeping upward to John Seadto, 282 Crystal street, North Arlington, and two other workers, Charles Ferrie, Lyndhurst, and James Hammett, also North Arlington, who had noted Puleo's absence from the payroll line, came Puleo's feeble voice to the conveyor shack above the bins. The trio had been assigned by Horace W. Bush, vice-president of the company, to find the missing man when he failed to show up at 5 o'clock for his pay. They say that on any other day he would not have been missed and probably would have suffocated. He spent Friday night after his rescue in Orange Memorial Hospital, where physicians said it was miraculous he had not sustained more serious injury. He was released Saturday.

Feeble Voice Calls
Peering into the bin from which the voice came, the trio who had climbed to the shack, saw only a sloping mass of cinders. As Puleo cried out again it was discernible he was under the pile. Using spotlights and in the cold rescuers, including twenty firemen, members of the rescue squad, a hook and ladder company and plant employees started to unearth Puleo, under direction of Fire Chief Charles A. McGinley. Puleo guided his rescuers as they scraped over his head, sometimes speaking calmly, sometimes desperately.

"I'm right below you," he said. "Oh, get me out of here, get me out."

Wesley Church Celebrates Its 148th Anniversary Here

Special Services Are Scheduled To Start Sunday For One Week

A family communion service, a service for all couples married during the last twelve years, a service at which all who have been members twenty years or more will be special guests and a special musical service are among the events planned by Wesley M. E. Church as it is about to celebrate its 148th anniversary, starting Sunday and concluding the following Sunday. An anniversary supper will be held on the actual birthday of the church, Thursday, February 9.

Margaret Dow, a local woman, founded the church which had its first building in Main street in 1803. The first pastor was Thomas Morrell and the church was part of a district, which included Belleville, Rockland, Ramapo, Long Pond, Nyack, Haverstraw, Fort Lee, Bulls Ferry, Paramus, Ringwood, Johnson, Bloomfield, Bloomdale and Thielle.

In 1840 a second church was built in Main street. In 1829 Belleville became a separate charge. Rev. William Granville was then pastor. It was at the turn of the century—1900, to be exact—that the church was located at Washington avenue and Academy street, where it now stands.

There are four former pastors living, Rev. C. H. Von Glahn, Rev. John H. Sparrow, Rev. Herbert Lytle and Rev. Paul G. Dennis. Rev. Edgar M. Compton, the present pastor, is completing his twelfth year in Belleville.

DENARIE REPORTS THREAT AT STRIKE

Local Photographer Had Snapped Pictures At Hightstown Plant

Donald "Andy" Denarie, local photographer for a Newark newspaper, Saturday reported to Frank Ritchie, assistant chief of benefits for the Unemployment Compensation Commission, he was threatened Friday after testifying at a hearing in Hightstown in behalf of the Hightstown Rug Co.

Ritchie had conducted a hearing at Hightstown to determine whether employees of the company are eligible for unemployment insurance. Persons involved in a strike are not qualified for unemployment insurance under the law. The company contends its employees are on strike, while the employees declare they have been locked out since December 3.

Denarie produced pictures at the hearing, showing a picket line around the plant.

Ritchie gave no decision. All such cases go before the board of review for consideration.

DRAMATIC GUILD FORMED BY GROUP OF YOUNG PEOPLE

Use Proceeds For Reformed Church
Building Fund

A group of young people in the Belleville Reformed Church recently formed a dramatic guild, "The Reformed Players."

Their first offering will be a three-act comedy, "Sound Your Horn," to be presented March 30 and 31 in the church chapel.

Mrs. Violet Troien, who has coached many successful plays, will direct. Fred H. Woodward, Jr. will be in charge of publicity, and Irwin G. Belden, stage properties.

The fund derived from the play will be donated toward the building of a primary school and recreational room under the present church school auditorium.

THREE HURT WHEN CAR TURNS OVER ON WASHINGTON AVE.

Sudden Stop At Red Light Proves
Disastrous

Three persons, two men and a woman, were hurt Sunday morning when a Buick car in which they were riding east in Belleville avenue, toward Washington avenue, turned over in the middle of the latter street, when the woman driver applied the brakes, as the red light flashed on.

The car was driven by Mrs. Joan San Giacomo, twenty-two, 19 Tichenor street, Newark. Riding in the car were Edwin Jolly, thirty, 91 South Clinton street, East Orange, and Paul Jaravolo, twenty-four, 15 Liberty street, Newark.

Officers Fletcher, Slater and James Travers and other autoists helped release the three from the overturned car. The injured were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, in the ambulance by Officer Slater and Fireman MacKillop. The men were allowed to depart, having only slight injuries. Mrs. San Giacomo was treated for lacerations of her left ankle, and was advised to remain in the hospital for further care. The auto was towed to the Blue and White Garage.

THIEVES BREAK INTO GARAGE; GET $1 AND $60 WATCH

Gain Entrance By Jimmying Rear
Door

Police Officer John J. Monaghan reported to police headquarters last Saturday evening that thieves had broken into a garage at 133 Cedar Hill avenue and made off with $1 in coins from a small bank, and a $60 Waltham watch. Investigation determined that the miscreants had gained entrance to the place by jimmying a rear door.

Mrs. Louis A. Noll, Jr.

The various sub-committees are as follows: tickets, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Knox, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Irvine, Dr. and Mrs. William Fabris, Mr. and Mrs. Laury Stem, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Mayer and Mr. and Mrs. Noll; music, Mr. and Mrs. William Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Y. Orange and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton J. Smith; patrons, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Connor, Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Jacobson and Mr. and Mrs. George Oslin.

Officers Fletcher, Slater and James Travers and other autoists helped release the three from the overturned car. The injured were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, in the ambulance by Officer Slater and Fireman MacKillop. The men were allowed to depart, having only slight injuries. Mrs. San Giacomo was treated for lacerations of her left ankle, and was advised to remain in the hospital for further care. The auto was towed to the Blue and White Garage.

MAY SET ASIDE COASTING STREETS

Mayor Williams Announces Plans In Making For Children

Mayor William H. Williams advised his colleagues on the town commission Tuesday night that arrangements will soon get under way to set aside streets in the town on which children may sleighride, whenever snow and ice is on the roadways in sufficient quantities. The length and other conditions of streets will be taken into account by the police and recreation bodies. No definite action will be taken to set apart streets for this recreational purpose without conferences and full information as to insurance risks and other costs that may attend such activities.

PROCLAMATION

I, William H. Williams, Mayor of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, by virtue of the power and authority of the Statutes of the State of New Jersey (revision of 1897, page 25) and by virtue of the resolution of the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville, in the County of Essex, duly passed on the 9th day of June 1934, do hereby proclaim that the public safety requires all dogs shall be properly muzzled with a wire or leather muzzle about the nose, securely fastened when on public streets, roads, parks or any public area or shall be on leash if not provided with muzzle. Violation of above control of dogs demands penalties be imposed as provided in Town Ordinance. Every true dog lover will protect his neighbor who may not be as interested in dogs as the dog owner, and he will have his dog protected from attack by other dogs if dog owners will obey our Town Ordinance.

AND, I do direct that this proclamation be published in The Belleville News, and that copies thereof in handbill form shall be posted in at least five prominent places in the Town of Belleville and generally distributed through the Town of Belleville. This proclamation shall be effective one day after such public notice being posted and printed as aforesaid.

PROVIDED, however, that nothing in this proclamation shall apply to a dog or dogs of a non-resident passing through the Town of Belleville, accompanied by the owner or owners of such dog or dogs.

This is to be in effect from February 3rd, 1939
