INK NOT WORRIED OVER BARRING OF RADIO SPEECH

"Been Thrown Out Of Better Places,"
He Muses

"I believe I've made my last radio speech from Station WNEW," soliloquized State Senator Homer C. Zink today when questioned about cancellation of radio address he had planned to make at 10 o'clock Saturday night over that station on "Pressure Groups and Lobbies."

Because it "dealt with state politics of a controversial nature," said a statement under the name of the station manager, Miss Berice Judis, the talk was barred.

Mr. Zink said he was surprised because in two previous radio talks from the same station he had discussed controversial subjects. He said he was informed the talk was called off because he planned to make reference to the Workers' Alliance sit-down demonstration in the Assembly in 1936.

Suspects Other Reasons

"Much of the talk," he said, had to do also with the high-pressure lobby in New Jersey. I suspect there were other reasons for barring me from WNEW. However, I've been thrown out of better places."

"I made my first address from WNEW last summer and talked out the work done by the legislative appropriations committee. There was nothing controversial about that. However, in December, I reviewed the record of the 138 Legislature and critics might have found fault with some of my statements. Then, last month, I made what was to have been the first of a series of monthly radio talks on conditions in the Legislature. As I found them as a senator. At that time I discussed the state relief problem and I don't believe I mined words."

Mr. Zink said the manuscript of "Pressure Groups and Lobbies" was submitted to the radio station last Friday. He said he had originally been invited to make a series of talks by Harold John Adonis, an assistant journal clerk in the Senate, any director of the Unemployment Compensation Commission. Adonis and Conklin have been sponsors of a "You and Your Government" series of radio talks from WNEW for several years. Zink pointed out that neither is employed by WNEW, although Adonis serves as master of ceremonies for the "You and Your Government" talks.

"Early Saturday afternoon I was notified by Adonis that the talk had been cancelled," Zink said last night. "Adonis told me the station objected to a reference to the Workers' Alliance. He said he had suggested editing the manuscript, but was told that the script editor had left for the day and that nothing could be done about it."

Statement From Station

"Due to the fact that the talk submitted by Senator Zink dealt with state politics of a controversial nature in which specific groups were named, WNEW found it necessary to inform the senator that his talk would not be acceptable as such. However, WNEW would be only too willing to permit the senator to deliver his talk providing (1) he did not attack definite groups or individuals or (2) he invited those groups and individuals to the studio so that they might state their side of the case," read a statement from the station.

Town Prepares To Auction Home Site Lots

Top picture shows a view of a section of Greycliff Heights, where sixteen building lots, 40 x 100 feet, owned by the town, will be sold at public auction one week from tomorrow, March 11, in line with the town's policy to return to private ownership all municipally owned repossessed property. Homes shown are built by developers on land formerly owned by the town.

Twenty-three lots, with a minimum of 40 x 100 feet, adjoining Hendricks Field golf links near the site of the proposed $1,000,000 Jergens' plant and owned by the town, will be sold at public auction the same day.

SEEK MIDGET RACE TRACK OPPOSITE RIVIERA PARK

William Mishkind Would Promote Doodlebugs
In Town

Negotiations are under way by William Mishkind, who operates the Riviera Park Roller Skating Rink, with the Volkenkenn Estate, for a one-half-mile dirt midget automobile racing track plant, which Mishkind would manage east of the Erie Railroad tracks toward the Passaic River, just south of the Westinghouse Company Base Plant.

A spokesman for Mishkind says that six outstanding title races have already been promised him if he is able to put through the deal and obtain consent of the local officials to establish the track. It was said that John Kochman, who operates midget races at Nutley Velodrome, is interested in the local venture. Nutley hints it is going to raise his license fee.

Rabid Dog Scare Engages Attention Of The Authorities

Four Canines Were Thus Reported Over The Weekend

While Belleville dog owners have been cooperating splendidly with the authorities as regards muzzling and leashing restrictions, a mad dog scare swept over the town last weekend, when four cases of rabies were discovered. A stray dog, which was later captured in Bloomfield, it is believed, became rabid Saturday and bit two dogs in Belwood Park, which were tied in a local yard. They, too, showed symptoms of being rabid after the attack. Then followed another chase in Greylock section after a rabid dog, which was finally trapped by Health Officer Eugene T. Berry in a garage. This animal snapped at employees of the Associated Humane Societies who attempted to net it. The animal also tried to bite into the springs of an automobile.

Director of Public Affairs Joseph King, who has supervision of the Health Department, said today that Belleville is showing a fine spirit of cooperation and there is a noticeable dearth of stray dogs. Forty-one were picked up last week by the society and dog chancemen have been detailed to watch for stray animals.

Director King points out that the rabid dog situation is a costly one, especially when the town is called upon to pay for pasteurization treatments for citizens who are unable to pay for themselves. Each examination of a dog believed to be rabid costs the town $10.

The society reports to police headquarters two days each week, so that a check on the "pick-up" system is available.

"During 1938 we had in Belleville eight rabid dogs, twenty-three persons receiving pasteurization treatment," says Health Officer Berry.

"For the first two months of 1939, five cases of rabies have been reported and six persons received pasteurization treatment. This would indicate rabies are on the increase, and all dog owners are warned that under a resolution recently passed by the State Department of Health they must not allow their dog out of the house unless he is accompanied by a responsible person on a leash, except when the owner's premises are completely fenced in with a fence that is high enough to prevent their dog from coming in contact with others, or if the owner has a pen or enclosure that is high enough to prevent contact."

Mayor Williams Asks Board To Trim Budget to Bed Rock

If Rate Increases Substantially,
It May Effect Salary
Cuts

Mayor William H. Williams Tuesday night advised the Town Commission that if the budget, when complete with relief figures, which are undetermined now because of indecision of the legislature, indicates a substantial tax increase, he will recommend a general wage decrease for municipal workers.

In issuing this warning he urged his colleagues to "trim the budget figures" they have already submitted "to the last dollar."

The mayor pointed out that an analysis of tax collections, which last year reached seventy-seven per cent of the collectible item, was accomplished through intensive work and an eighty per cent collection will be difficult to attain. He showed that back taxes have been cleaned up in good style and with less to come in from that source and a reduced ratable figure—approximately $4,000,000 less than in 1932 when the total was $33,442,000—anticipated revenue from this source will naturally be lower.

"To curtail wages means curtailment of buying power," he declared. "And, therefore, I urge all members of the board to revise their figures to take out of the budget every single dollar that can be obtained. We are faced with an unknown relief element and handicapped by laws that leave us with control over only ten per cent of our budget. The laws are diametrically opposed to what business houses practice and we must get ninety per cent of our operating expenses from real estate. The State Laws are certainly unkind to municipalities. Then, too, we are faced with the need of additional fire equipment. With many taxpayers showing an incapacity to pay and others, an unwillingness to pay every tax dollar must be conserved."

The mayor announced he is determined to take advantage of the action of the state legislature setting the deadline ahead to May 1.

"Lack of information as to what the legislature intends to do about relief for 1939," he stated, "makes it impossible to set up more than a tentative figure in the town budget."

MAYOR PRAISED FOR BRINGING JERGENS HERE

Telegrams And Letters
Continue To Pour In

Mayor William H. Williams has been swamped with telegrams and letters of congratulations for his untiring efforts in bringing the Andrew Jergens pharmaceutical firm to Belleville. The barrage started last week and continued all this week.

Belleville Rotary Club Wednesday, on suggestion of Harry Specht, manager of Eastwood-Nolly Corp., wire concern, passed a resolution complimenting the Mayor.

"It is far too seldom that a public official gets any recognition of his work," said Mr. Specht. "Many, like Mayor Williams, who is a member of this club, work day and night and get little if any thanks for the long, hard hours they put in."

When Frank P. Dailey, who is a member of the Minute Men Civic League, said the taxpayers appreciated the mayor's efforts at a meeting of the Town Commission Tuesday evening, all members of the commission expressed their thanks to the mayor.

"I am sure," said the mayor, "when a thing of this magnitude comes to Belleville there is credit enough to be passed around among all of us. I appreciate the confidence you had in my efforts."

"You've done a noble job," said Director of Public Safety William D. Clark. "The people of this town don't realize the endless time and effort you have put in."

"What we, as members of the board, followed all the moves," said Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters, "you did all the hard work."

"You deserve a lot of credit," said Director of Public Affairs Joseph King.

"I think it is swell," said Director of Parks Louis A. Noll. "I hope it is the forerunner of many more such moves."

WOMAN DIES FROM HEART ATTACK

The funeral will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the "Sayre Funeral Service Home," 221 Broadway. Burial will be in New Brunswick.

Commission Acts To Purge WPA and Relief Chiselers

Board Sees Saving Of Twenty-Five Percent In Costs

Believing that relief costs in Belleville may be cut as high as twenty-five percent from its present $15,000 a month average, the Town Commission Tuesday night decided to check relief and WPA rolls to sweep the slate clean of chiselers. Transfer of employable relief clients to WPA projects is contemplated.

Non-residents working on projects in which Belleville shares any of the cost and all local residents on WPA will be investigated.

If necessary to check up, the police department will be called upon to find out whether some of the doubtful cases are deserving of assistance.

Director of Public Works Patrick A. Waters brought up the matter when he said that the town is ready to proceed with the one-half million dollar transformation of the turf bog into a recreation center and "if it isn't a success I know where the biggest part of the blame is going to fall. I don't want a man to kill himself, but I do expect an honest day's work."

Out With Them

Director Waters pointed out that he had seen "the same faces on WPA jobs five years ago that are still there today" at $150 and $160 per month—more than they ever made in their lives, and they don't make any effort to get jobs."

He suggested that the relief lists be combed to see how many there are employable and that those found fit to work be transferred to WPA jobs. If they refuse to work, as many have, he said, "Out with them." He urges re-certification of WPA workers.

Director Waters declared there are many on WPA rolls, who will not work because they consider themselves better off on relief rolls.

"They lose WPA jobs," he said, "and next thing you know they are on relief. Back they come to a project and off again they go to relief. They won't tell us that, but they tell their fellow workers."

"I see some of these people who never worked a day in their lives. Put them on WPA jobs and if they won't work and go back to relief deny it to them. They are not entitled to it."

"What about the women and children?" asked Director of Public Affairs Joseph King, who handles the Relief Department which is directly in charge of Director John Hewitt.

"Nobody's going to see women and children starve," replied Director Waters. "They've always been taken care of and always will. But I say what about the poor taxpayers? If we don't look out you and I and everyone else will lose his home the way things are going."

"But there you are faced with the State Laws," said Director King. "The laws say they are entitled to food and shelter. I say that those who get WPA jobs and refuse to work should be put in jail," said Director Waters. "That isn't a case of not having a job. It's a case of not wanting to work. When a man is fired by a foreman on a WPA job we should have his name sent to us so we can check up our relief lists, as well."

"Why, today, I had a couple tell me they would rather go back on relief than crack up stone with a sledge hammer," said Town Engineer Matthew Sheehan.

Suggests Police Help

Mayor William H. Williams suggested the police to check, declaring that he had tried to get WPA lists of workmen and could not obtain the lists.

"Every man on a project here is sent by Newark," replied Director Waters. "You can get WPA lists from the numbers given the men. Don't let anyone tell you you can't."

The Mayor said he had asked for such lists two or three times and had been unable to get them.

"The day will come when the lists will be published like tax sales and foreclosures in the papers," said Director of Parks Louis A. Noll.

"If relief clients, able to work are given jobs and refuse to accept them," said the Mayor, "they should get a second bounce over to Recorder Smith."

"We might just as well get ready for some drastic action. It will be only a matter of time, in my opinion, when the State and Federal authorities will withhold assistance in relief matters. If necessary use the police to check up on those who don't deserve relief. This is not unethical where dollars are unwisely spent. We only have to stop a certain number if they are on the rolls unfairly and the moral effect will be surprising to all of us. The public shame will force other unworthy recipients from the rolls. Every worthy case will receive our utmost help and there will be no publicity to deserving, unfortunate folks. The lists will not be made public and will be strictly guarded by the Town Commission. I believe Robert Allen, state administrator, will welcome a conference with our board and will cooperate."

field, Montclair, Newark and this town. After a short stay at Atlantic City, the couple will reside at the North Eighth street address. The wedding day marked a double celebration. The bride's father celebrated his fiftieth birthday then. He is an active worker in St. Anthony's Church.

Wedding Held

Miss Anna Notare, daughter of Andrew Notare, 61 Newark street, Newark, was married to Salvatore Pica, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pica, 93 Heckel street, at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Newark, Sunday, February 19, at 5 p.m. The bride was attired in a white satin gown, Grecian style, with a long tulle veil. Her bouquet was of gardenias and lilies of the valley. She wore a halo of orange blossoms.

Miss Josephine Clemente, of Newark, her maid of honor, wore a dabbonnet gown of net with a little shoulder veil. She carried an arm bouquet of roses. The best man was Ralph Giordano of this town.

After a two weeks' honeymoon in Florida, the couple will reside in Bloomfield. A reception was held for the bridal party and the two immediate families at the home of the bridegroom, 93 Heckel street.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Serritella, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Serritella, the Misses Geraldine Serritella and Rose Uzzolina were guests at a dinner-reception at Perri's Restaurant, Newark, recently, at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Andrea Trotto, who were married on that day in St. Lucy's Church, Newark. Mr. Trotto is the nephew of Mr. Daniel Serritella.

Mrs. Frances Maniscalco, 16 Magnolia street, had as weekend guests her niece and nephew, formerly Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cosenza, Stanford, who have just motored back after a two months' stay in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam DiGiovanni, 104 Harrison street, had as guests recently Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ventimileo and daughter, Barbara Ann, Mrs. Mary Caponigri, and Miss Lucille Caponigri, all Newark.

Masquerade Sets Attendance Record For St. Anthony's Social Calendar

The efforts put forth by the members of the Holy Name Society of St. Anthony's Church for the recent masquerade broke the season's record for attendance at affairs in the church.

The hall was beautifully decorated with ale-colored balloons and bananas, oranges, apples and onions, depicting days of old in Italy, hung on strings. Anyone caught taking the forbidden fruit was put in jail, which was in the rear of the hall. The violator was incarcerated until he or she had been bailed out by giving a donation, the total of which went to a worthy cause.

The costumes were picturesque, present day ones being in predominance, although a young man from the neighborhood got first award for a George Washington costume. Other costumes were clowns, Aunt Jemima and the like.

Dancing was enjoyed to the music of Duke Hawkins and his swing orchestra. Louis Gintella was chairman. There were door awards.

Silver Lake Couple Wed Five Years

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt, 102 Belmont avenue, will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary tomorrow evening with a reception in the Community Hall, 116 Belmont avenue. More than 200 relatives and friends of the couple have been invited.

On Bridge Committee

Mrs. Charles V. Craster

Mrs. Charles V. Craster, 381 Park street, Forest Hill section of Newark, will take charge of prizes for the desert bridge and fashion show to be given next Friday, March 10, at Prospect Hill Country Day School, Newark, to raise money for a new educational fund. Alumnae, trustees and parents of students arranged the party. Mrs. Craster is a trustee.

Party To Motor To Fort Lauderdale

Fort Lauderdale will be the destination of a party leaving Forest Hill tomorrow to motor to Florida. They are Mrs. Hugh D. Saunders, Ridge street, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Bittel and son Dick, Montclair avenue, and Mrs. Homer Pardee, Syracuse, N. Y., formerly Forest Hill. Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Pardee will spend three weeks at Fort Lauderdale and the Bittels will divide the time between that place and St. Petersburg.

INDEPENDENTS IN BUS LINE FIGHT

North Newark Unit Argues Against New P.S. Route

North Newark Bus Owners' Association and other independents Friday opposed Public Service Coordinated Transport's Application to Public Utilities Commission for approval of Newark consents to operate five buses on McCarter highway.

Cross examination by Israel B. Greene, counsel for the independents, of David E. Babcock, Public Service's traffic engineer, stressed the question of competition with existing service if the proposed new route, No. 100, were authorized.

Greene also indicated he will oppose taking five buses off the Public Service's present Newark-New Brunswick Route No. 134 to make McCarter highway trips, from Newark-Belleville line to the Pennsylvania station. Greene said the proposed change required consents of municipalities from Newark to New Brunswick, as well as Newark.

Charles S. Straw, Public Service counsel, said only the municipalities affected could attack the proposed change. Greene said the commission had refused another bus re-routing plan, involving Routes 172 and 132, because all municipalities affected had not given consents.

Denies Rerouting

Commissioner Hanson, who presided, said he would allow questions by Greene to which Straw had interposed objections, but did not agree with Greene the application was for rerouting a bus line. The 134 line still has its Newark terminus at Public Service Terminal, Babcock testified. When the second floor of the building was closed 134 buses did not join the other lines in making the Pennsylvania station a terminus.

Informed the Pennsylvania Railroad favored the new bus route to amplify its service at Market street station, Greene admitted he was a Pennsylvania stockholder, but said he had the interests of his bus clients to protect.

Frederick A. Loefer, Pennsylvania Railroad passenger agent, testified the proposed bus route would benefit railroad patrons. Chester A. Barn, State Highway Department engineer, testified on his knowledge of McCarter highway construction.

Asked by Greene when the state road will be completed and about "the state's money row with Newark" over the highway, the witness referred his question to state department officials for information.

Babcock testified there is "a real need" for such a route. Pending completion of McCarter highway as a state road, city streets would be used by buses, including a detour around Mt. Pleasant Cemetery via Herbert place, Broadway and Harvey street, he said.

Buses first would operate on thirty minutes headway. Two buses would be sufficient to start the service, Babcock admitted, but if demands from industries for added trips were made, the other three buses for which approval is sought could be utilized. The hearing will be resumed April 6.

RESULTS ALONE COUNT

The attraction of the Andrew Jergens Co., to Belleville, and its decision to choose this town in preference to many other municipalities which sought the plant, should be the final answer to those persons who cannot think in terms sufficient to realize the benefits to be had in advertising a progressive community.

We have heard objections and we have seen at budget meetings people and groups of people object to and attempt to persuade Mayor Williams of the futility of spending some town funds to advertise the advantages of Belleville to industry.

The Andrew Jergens Co. has closed its transaction for the purchase of a plant site here and the location of a new and world-famous business in Belleville.

What a pity it would have been if Mayor Williams had not maintained the courage of his convictions and insisted that advertising be continued. — What a pity it would have been if some of the 1,200 jobs which will be made available through the location of this plant had been denied the people of Belleville. — What a pity it would have been if the home owners of Belleville had been denied the benefits of the aid in carrying the tax burden that this company will afford them.

$5,000 was spent each year for advertising Belleville to the country-side — an insignificant sum in comparison with the result of a million dollar plant here. And there have been others, too, who paid attention to Belleville's advertising.

This is concrete evidence of good advertising paying dividends — not to mention the intangible good that has redounded to Belleville's credit through favorable news stories and editorials in papers throughout the length and breadth of the United States — free advertising, if you will, be our Mayor was alert.

It is regrettable that some individuals make the shortest cut for publicity by objecting to the policies and acts of sincerely motivated officials. But it is gratifying to know that some of these officials hold to the course they believe to be the proper one despite objection.

We see the benefits of vision today. We are coming next week to another municipal budget. No doubt, among those who will be interested in budget expenditures, will be those who will raise objections to expenditures that have been well planned and studied in the same manner that certain persons strenuously objected to the advertising account. Attention to objections should be paid only on the basis of a knowledge of facts by the objectors and not from any basis such as personal motives.

The voice of those, who through misunderstanding or other similar reasons protest, should be stilled in the light of accomplishment and results.

VISUAL EDUCATION

When School Board President Herbert C. Schmutz recently reported for the Text Books and Supplies Committee that a survey had been made by a committee of principals and a recommendation was made for the purchase of two additional talkie machines to be added to the two already in the system, School Commissioner Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., soliloquized: "I wonder how far this visual education is going?" Mr. Gebhardt said he did not know that any such survey was in progress and felt it should be taken up with the Curriculum Committee, which in correct phraseology is the Teachers' Committee. The purchase of the machines would involve an expenditure of about $800.

It doesn't seem so important which committee studies the problem as why Belleville doesn't quit dilly-dallying in such matters and decide on a plan of action. It is understood that to bring visual education up to par in Belleville considerable money must be spent on such machines. It was amazing to learn that school board members should further ask how many machines are needed. To do the job right Belleville needs a machine in each school. If it can't afford one for each school now that is another thing. But, if this visual education is a fixture, and it seems to be a splendid way of teaching certain subjects, why all the ballyhoo? The board knows it should expand the program. About the only thing to be debated is whether the funds are on hand—not little trifling matters such as who has been consulted and who hasn't.

WEDNESDAY CLOSING

A suggestion made today by a local storekeeper that agitation be started for Wednesday afternoon closing of stores during the Summer is a good one. The plan was tried two years ago and worked out splendidly for storekeepers and patrons, alike. Most housewives were pleased with the idea and offered full co-operation. Most of Belleville's storekeepers put in long hours six days each week with only Sundays off. That day, after working hard all week, they are too tired to derive any pleasure. It is a case almost of staying in bed all day to catch up on lost hours of sleep. One-half day in the middle of the week would work wonders for these tired folks. The only hitch last year was that two of the large food markets would not fall in line with the idea and, as a result, most of the stores remained open. With plenty of time between now and June to debate this problem local merchants should be able to arrive at some satisfactory solution. Now is the time to get busy.

LET'S SLAM ON THE BRAKES

An atmosphere of tension prevails at Trenton. The air is filled with talk of new taxes and gigantic bond issues. Legislators are meeting behind closed doors. Momentous undertakings are afoot, intimately affecting the welfare of New Jersey's 4,000,000 citizens and its future status as a good place in which to live and to do business.

It's a splendid and commendable thing to see the 1939 Legislature getting down to business and attacking its problems in an industrious and forthright manner. The relief problem is a perplexing one. It must be solved. Let's tackle it early, without dilly-dally.

But let's do something to snap the atmosphere of panic, haste, hysteria, and exigency which seems to prevail at the State Capitol. Let's attack our problems in a business-like and sane way. Let's slam the brakes on and move slowly before we take legislative steps which vitally affect this state's future.

From the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce comes a statement, sounding the need for moving slowly. The chamber urges that the Legislature take no precipitous action on the fiscal situation for at least one month and that this period be utilized for careful, calm and deliberative appraisal of our situation from every angle.

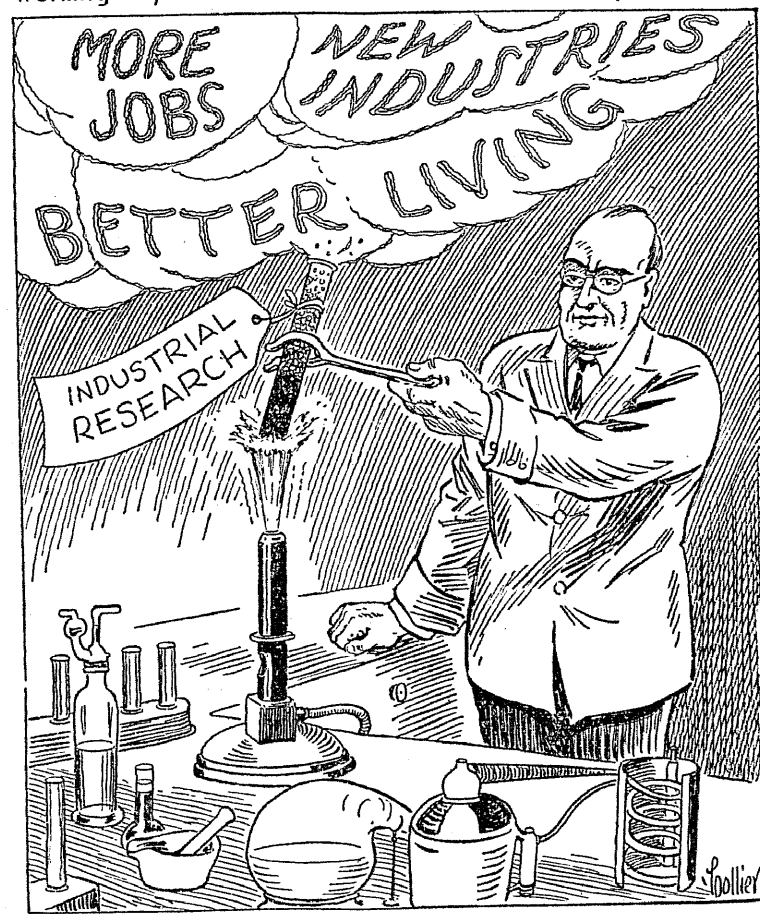

This sounds like good, common sense. Let's have our legislative conferences, by all means. They are necessary. Let's hear from our taxpayers, from our advocates of governmental economy. We've already heard from those who say the state must have more money, that we cannot get along on our present million dollar a day tax bill. Let's hear also from those who say cut the cost of government and live within our income.

But, by all means, let's move with care. Let's not permit our legislators to be intimidated and coerced into hasty action by so-called "hunger" marches, encouraged and, in some cases, actually promoted by extravagant local officials whose spending has landed them in hot water.

Let's be careful now, not sorry later. Let's not saddle this state with new taxes, destroying its bright future as a business and industrial state. Let's not permit the high taxers to tell us this problem must be solved over night and thus panic us into new and destructive burdens.

Again, let's apply the brakes. This is a time to move slowly. Relief, in spite of all our difficulties, is functioning. No one can say honestly that hunger and want are stalking our state. The relief and fiscal problems can and will be solved, in due time. But let's see to it that they are discussed in a clear atmosphere, free of the smoke of confusion and hysteria, deliberately set up by those whose selfish purposes would best be served by stampeding this state into hasty, ill-advised new tax legislation.

News Item: American industry spends $750,000 each working day for research to find new and better products.

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

All Hail to Pope Pius XII—elected by the College of Cardinals in a solemn conclave on the third ballot,—and by co-incidence on his 62nd birthday.

To Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli has come the greatest honor that the Roman Church can bestow,—many feel the greatest honor in the world, but an honor fraught with such enormous responsibility as to make one question if it really could be considered a birth-right. The whole world,—Catholic, Protestant, Christian and non-Christian—will wish him God speed!

The election of Pius XII manifests the biggest event of the week.

Locally the conviction of James J. Hines is big news. Tom Dewey, a crusading David, struggling against the Goliath of entrenched politicians and their alliance with the underworld, in bringing about Hines' conviction has earned the thanks of all thinking people. We know that this conviction between politicians and those seeking to evade the law, but it is a mighty step in the right direction and it will cause those seeking to do likewise in the future to stop, look and listen. More power to Dewey in his campaign against racketeers and crooked politicians. May he continue his good work!

The Senate continues to delay confirmation of Frank Hague, Jr. as a member of the Court of Errors and Appeals. So far nothing has developed to indicate that this young man is not a fine citizen but comments have been made as to his qualifications for such an important position and there continues to be an increasing murmur about it being a purely political appointment. It may be just a co-incidence that the Bill to reorganize our State Judiciary was introduced practically at the same time that the nomination was made but if anything was needed to act as a spur on Judiciary reorganization, this appointment will have served a good purpose. Probably Mr. Hague, Jr. will be confirmed because of the enormous pressure that will be brought to bear upon the Senate. It will be interesting to see what position the straight thinking, thoroughly independent Senator from Essex takes when the matter finally comes to vote.

Many times since the New Deal started its crusade of reform there have been occasions to say "Thank God for the Supreme Court!"

We can fervently reiterate that sentiment because of the determination by the Supreme Court this week that "Sit down" strikes are illegal and that the National Labor Relations Board has no right to interfere for sit down strikes because they have broken the law in taking possession of factories by their sit down tactics.

The Supreme Court ruled that the Pansteel Corporation did not need to re-employ sit down strikers that they had discharged, despite the fact that the Labor Board had ordered such re-employment. Every sensible friend of labor every sensible labor leader will applaud this decision. It opens a new day in labor relations and coming as it does co-incidental with the proposed meeting of representatives of the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. an endeavor to compose their differences, augurs well for labor.

So once again our hats are off to Dr. Lester H. Clew, who is leading the crusade in this State against this Amendment. We pledge ourselves to do everything we can to aid him and if you feel the same way about it, get busy.

Papers Must Be In Judges Hands By March 30

This week too, sees the practical cessation of hostilities in Spain and with recognition of Franco's regime by England and France, a diplomatic as well as a military victory for the Rightists. Very likely this country will take its time about recognizing the Franco Government for our traditional policy has been to go slow in recognizing new governmental set-ups as a result of revolutions. But after all if Franco's regime is the one the majority of the folks in Spain want to have in the saddle, that is their business and we should do what we can to hasten the establishment of a sound government in Spain that can bring order out of the chaos that has characterized that country for a decade.

In Washington the Senators are still talking about what the President said in his secret conference with the Military Affairs Committee. Why not let the whole cat out of the bag? The Democratic Party under Woodrow Wilson made a lot of "open covenants openly arrived at." Why not open the closet door and let's see what the skeleton looks like?

All citizens of New Jersey are going to have a chance the 20th of June to vote on an Amendment to the Constitution which will legalize betting on horse races, dog races, etc. We are positively and vehemently opposed to this Amendment—not that we don't enjoy gambling on occasion, but that we don't place a bet here or there on this or that, but because history has clearly proven that any community in the vicinity of a race track where legalized betting is permitted becomes impoverished.

It is just a matter of reasoning. On the average ten per cent of the amount of money wagered is deducted under the pari-mutuel system to cover operating costs, taxes and the like so ten per cent less money is paid out than is paid in. Anyone who wins, wins at the expense of those who lose and the folks that mostly lose are small businessmen, wage earners, factory hands, laborers—affected by the chance to make a big killing on a small stake. Everybody loves to gamble in one way or another and with the professional gambling set-up legalized by the laws of the State, the people in the community where the race track is located are the most persistent losers.

Recall what happened at Long Branch a few years ago when there was betting at the dog races there. Thousands upon thousands of dollars wagered every night and business so poor, debts so high in the Town of Long Branch as to create a very, very serious economic situation.

We are not appealing at all on the moral side of this issue. If anyone wants to gamble, that is his business,—but we do feel that the rank and file have so much trouble today getting along and making ends meet that we ought to do everything in our power to prevent legalized betting coming into this State which of a certainty will make it more difficult for the lower income groups to keep their heads above water.

So once again our hats are off to Dr. Lester H. Clew, who is leading the crusade in this State against this Amendment. We pledge ourselves to do everything we can to aid him and if you feel the same way about it, get busy.

COMMISSION ACTS

from all accounts I have read in newspapers of the way he works. This is no criticism of Director Hewitt. It is a general discussion of the whole set-up. He has to pay out relief money according to the standard set up by the State. There is no human incentive for some of these folks to seek jobs when they get more on relief than they could earn in other jobs for which they are fitted."

To Go After Lists

The board passed a resolution to seek cooperation from State and Federal authorities as regards lists of WPA workers in these folks to seek jobs when they get more on relief than they could earn in other jobs for which they are fitted."

Bog Job Starts

Work has started on the $400,000 WPA project to change the turf bog into a recreation center. According to Town Engineer Sheehan, forty men are grading a road into the bog from Nolton street, the first step in the project. The road will be used in carrying in fill, which will be the next step. Fill will be obtained from town-owned property, and will be transported in municipally owned trucks. In all 400 men will be employed on the project, which is expected to take a year to complete.

The board voted down a measure which had previously been passed on first reading, to permit establishment of a funeral home at 19 DeWitt avenue, a residential zone. The vote was recorded after thirty-eight residents in the neighborhood voiced objection.

The members also recorded unopposed objections to a proposed gasolene station at a property owned by Noia, which would erect at 714-718 Belleville avenue near the Bloomfield line. The matter has not yet officially reached the Town Commission, having been scheduled for a hearing before the Zone Board last night. Residents protested the station on the ground that six such stations between Washington avenue and the Bloomfield line now exist and are all that are required. Erection of the station would call for a change of zone.

Director of Parks Louis A. Noll re-appointed Mrs. Laury G. Stem, 214 Joramaleon street, for a five-year term as a library trustee.

Nereid Auxiliary Meeting

The regular meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Nereid Boat Club will be held tomorrow in the clubhouse. At the dinner-bridge to follow hostesses will be Mrs. Arthur C. Martin and Mrs. E. A. Rung.

Injured In Collision

Mrs. Sarah Foster, 353 Washington avenue, received a bruised head and was shocked Sunday when an automobile in which she was riding and which was driven by her husband, Thomas, was collided with another car driven by Alfred Molkenthin, 188 Lakeside drive, Nutley, at Hornblow or avenue and Holmes street. Mrs. Foster was attended by a local doctor and taken home in the car of a passerby.

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Failure of Governor Moore to re-appoint J. Victor D'Alia to the Essex County Board of Elections may turn out to be a political significance. The Governor named Democratic members to the elections boards of every county in the state except Essex. Word around the State House this week was that D'Alia would not be chosen.

Recognized as perhaps the ablest attorney of Italian descent in Essex County, D'Alia has been noticed as being more and more critical of the Democratic regime here for the past year. In the former prosecutor of pleas has criticized Democratic official after official. The exact direction and extent of D'Alia's insurgency, however, is not yet clear. But I would be willing to hazard a guess that he ends up by opposing the entire wing of the party here which takes directions from Mayor Hague.

Ripe for Revolt

Essex county like several others in the state is ripe for a revolt against the Hague leadership. Ordinarily, such a revolt would not come until next year when Moore's term as Governor will be nearing an end. But strife in Newark, or some other unusual happening, might set it off prematurely. As things stand now, the Democrats have no chance of carrying the election this fall except in the event of an independent Republican slate, or some other such upset. A number of Democratic leaders reason like D'Alia apparently does that they would have very little to lose by opposing the regular Democratic organization and might, in the event of a new Democratic orientation in the state, have a great deal to win.

Fortunately for itself, the Democratic organization in Essex has the capacity of settling most of its disputes without too much publicity. Because the public reads little about the strife in the papers, it is likely to assume that there is little strife. But such is not the case. The party was badly divided when James J. McMahony took over the reins of leadership last summer. Many party members hoped that the Montclair leader would iron out the difficulties, but it is doubtful if he has made more than casual progress.

Jewish Vote Loss

The sweeping Republican victory of last November left the Democratic camp in an atmosphere of hopelessness. Furthermore, the startling loss of Democratic support in the Jewish ward of the city left many thoughtful strategists wondering if the next comeback would be as quick as the party has been accustomed to expect. Something could break any time, and a few insurgent leaders of D'Alia's type would make it happen much quicker. He will bear watching, as will several other leaders heretofore considered more or less regular.

The legislature is having a hard time making up its mind about relief. Some progress was made last Monday when the Senate voted to have the state assume seventy-five per cent of last year's relief costs. But the money must be provided both for last year and this year. The tentative plan to have the municipalities pay a minimum of forty per cent of costs is almost sure to break down in its judgment. Cities like Newark and Orange just simply cannot pay such a proportion. Did relief in Orange last year amount to the staggering sum of $600,000. If that municipality had paid all of it, more than 10 points would have been added to a tax rate that is now very near to confiscation.

Zink Stand Foolish

Senator Zink's contention that the state government has no obligation to provide relief, which claims is solely a problem of the municipalities, is little better than nonsense. The very municipalities which need most for relief are the ones that can least afford to pay even an average share. The state must assume most of the burden in such cases or these municipalities face swamping in making a corrective change, since most cases and many other common ailments are directly attributable to wrong diet. Some of these diseases caused by incorrect feeding may appear in the later stages of the dog's life, when the condition has become so chronic that it is difficult and sometimes futile to treat. In order to prolong the life of and insure the health of your pet, follow these simple rules:

or even injurious to his health, thus it is sometimes difficult to change to correct feeding immediately. Often, since the correct diet is unlike what he has been eating, the dog will turn it down.

The owner should, however, be persistent in making a corrective change, since most cases and many other common ailments are directly attributable to wrong diet. Some of these diseases caused by incorrect feeding may appear in the later stages of the dog's life, when the condition has become so chronic that it is difficult and sometimes futile to treat. In order to prolong the life of and insure the health of your pet, follow these simple rules:

1. Avoid all starches, sweets and fats.
2. Do not feed the dog between meals.
3. Feed him (if he is grown) one meal a day preferably in the late afternoon, consisting of raw meat and vegetables.

PURIM FESTIVAL AT SYNAGOGUE

Celebration Will Start At Sundown Tomorrow

Purim, the Jewish Feast of Lots, will be observed by the Congregation A. A. A. with a series of special festival services and events, starting at sundown tomorrow, and concluding with sundown, Sunday. Yesterday was observed as the Fast of Esther, being advanced from the Sabbath on which it really occurs.
Purim marks the historic episode in Jewish life that occurred in the Eastern provinces of Syria during the reign of Axtaxerxes II, when Mordecai, a Jewish merchant, was held in high esteem by the king because he prevented the killing of the King by frustrating the diabolical plot to poison him.
Haman, an officer in the King's court, because of a grudge against Haman, wished to vent his anger against all of Mordecai's people, and induced the King to allow the pillaging of all the Jews. A (pur) was drawn, and the chance fell upon the fourteenth day of Adar.
The Jews of Shushan, the capital, fasted and prayed. Mordecai conveyed the information to his niece, Queen Esther, whose Jewish ancestry had remained unknown at court. She invited the King and Haman to a feast and pleaded for the life of her people.
A new law was passed giving the Jews the right to defend themselves. Haman was removed from his high position for this scheming. In commemoration of these events Purim was instituted.
Holiday services will be held tomorrow evening at 5, following the regular Sabbath evening services. The Megillah, the Biblical Book of Esther, will be chanted. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate, and Morris Rosen will act as reader. Special arrangements have been made for children at this service. The Purim service for Sunday morning, with the Megillah reading will start at 9. The Sisterhood of the Congregation held a Purim party at its

THESE ARE VOICE HIGHWAYS

You use them when you telephone. They are tiny strands of copper, in a leaden sheath, each wire covered with paper so that it can carry voice waves without interference from its neighbors.

The making of cable for telephone service began about fifty years ago. Early telephone cables were one-inch iron or lead pipes carrying less than a dozen wires embedded in gutta percha or paraffin. Today, cables carry as many as 3,600 wires in a space no larger than a man's wrist.

More than 4,000,000 miles of New Jersey's telephone highways are in cable. About 100 standard types are now made for use in your telephone system... each designed for its special task, and built—like the thousands of other types of telephone equipment—to provide service that will meet the Bell System's single standard of quality, "in every case... the best."

Telephoning today is clear, dependable, and cheap. You can call 18 miles for 15c; 42 miles for 35c any time in New Jersey. After 7 at night and all of Sunday reduced rates apply on calls of over 50 miles.

Edwin Meiele

Edwin Meiele, proprietor of "the little store of big bargains," in vegetables, 102 Washington avenue, was born in Brooklyn and attended schools there, graduating from DeWitt Clinton High School. He is married and before starting in business here seven years ago worked in an office, later becoming shipping and receiving clerk for the defunct U. S. Cutlery Co., for twelve years. His wife, Edith, is reticent to get her name into print, but she did tell this roving reporter her husband is an expert figure skater seeking out the ponds in the sticks, "where he won't be seen." He also likes to take a fishing rod in his hands. Mr. Meiele was disappointed Sunday when rain put an end to skating. He also enjoys a good baseball game at Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds. He is proud of his descendants—the Smiths of Flemington. A marker records his grandfather's name—Isaac Smith—at the Flemington bridge. His brother, Elmer S. Meiele, conducts a fish market at 72 Washington avenue.

Herbert O. Cory

Herbert O. Cory, proprietor of Bob's Service Station, 253 Washington avenue, between the Elks' Club and the High School, was born in Coryville, near Bradford, Pa., and attended grammar school there, later going to Eldred, Pa., High School, from which he was graduated to attend classes in accounting and banking in a business college at Jamestown, N. Y. Coryville was named after his great-grandfather. Mr. Cory, who lives in Orange, was at one time special representative for the Shredded Wheat Co., was employed by the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co., and Sinclair Oil Co. He operated in New York City, as proprietor, the Alliance Mercantile Agency and six years ago opened the service station here. He likes golf and played center on the high school basketball team. He finds the trailer business, in which he became interested three years ago, growing in "leaps and bounds."

Samuel Feldman

Samuel Feldman, proprietor of Feldman's Department Store, 115 Washington avenue, was born in Russia and came to live in Harrison at the age of five. He attended grammar schools there and Seward Park Junior High School, New York, graduating from the High School of Commerce, New York, where he played baseball and basketball. Lou Gehrig, New York Yankee star, was also a member of that school team. He is thirty-six years old, married Miss Helene Solomon, who was secretary to the credit manager of a large New York dry goods house with which Mr. Feldman was affiliated for ten years, and is justly proud of their three children, Murray Zander, four; Myron, seven, and Phyllis, eleven. He has been in business here for eleven years and has a capable secretary in Miss Anna Caputa, Arlington, who is related to the Malcom family, who have been residents here thirty-five years. Mr. Feldman is a member of the Belleville Merchants' Association, Newark Progress Club, Lincoln Club and Congregation A. A. A. He enjoys Thursday night bowling in Newark.

Frank C. Miller

Frank G. Miller, was born in Martinsville, N. J., and attended schools in Newark, then moved to New York where he attended Cooper Union. He studied the electrolysis of solutions and later opened his own electroplating shop in New York, coming to Belleville to open the first shop here doing electroplating, mostly on bicycles. Later he opened a shop in Newark, then again in New York. This last venture was very successful until styles changed in the jewelry and novelty lines and the demand lessened. He then opened his shop in Belleville in 1913. His shop was at first on his own property at 73 Belleville avenue. Later John and James Hozack, of the Essex Machine Co., erected a building for him to rent. He remained there for ten years and his business grew slowly but surely. His son, George, then having graduated as Chemical Engineer, at Newark Technical school, entered the business. They located in 1926 at the present address, 24-26 Belleville avenue where nine men are employed, eight living in Belleville.

BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

Tonight's the night and Belleville's chance of a lifetime. You know, a lot of people are saying that this is the greatest team that ever wore the zebra stripes—at least, they were saying that at the beginning of the season. Tonight's the time when the proof of the pudding is in the eating. If what they say about the '39 Bellboys is true, we'll really find it out tonight.

There is no reason why Belleville should feel backward about strutting its stuff in the Elizabeth Armory tonight. The Zebras will be playing before a packed house, the perfect setting for any artists to give an A-1 performance. This is no time to get stagefright like a bunch of kindergarteners.

Of course, there has been a lot said and written about the Bellboys' inability to get up any momentum when they are out of their own backyard. And there is a lot of truth in statements of this kind. Results of this year's away games: BHS 35, Orange 42; BHS 30, Bloomfield 29; BHS 34, Irvington 33; BHS 31, West Orange 33; BHS 29, Kearny 12; BHS 26, Good Counsel 27; BHS 38, Phillipsburg 43.

The only game away from home that seems to redound to Belleville's credit is the Kearny fracas. Yet up there on Holmes street, the Bellboys trimmed the lads from across the River by 45-16. Actually the only real feather is the win over Bloomfield—yet that was accomplished without Kostecka on the other side during the second half.

Naturally this point has had a nasty psychological effect on the Blue & Gold. But tonight they've got to forget it. The only point to remember tonight is that Weequahic has and can be beaten. Belleville can do it as well as anybody else.

Specifically Belleville has got to prevent Weequahic from getting in many of their set-shots. Close guarding every close guarding — is the answer. Without it, Belleville will have as much chance as a fly in a corn of floor 32 minutes of fight, 32 minutes of determination is what wins ball games.

The Belleville Merry-Go-Round
This dizzy whirl of tournaments which has cropped up all of a sudden all over the place this week has us somewhat in a dither. "Around and around she goes, and where she stops nobody knows."

With all the tourney merry-go-rounds currently spinning in and around Belleville, practically everyone is wondering just when he will be jounced off.

Take this State Recreation Basketball Tournament in which Belleville (the Rosery) is slated to play Bloomfield (Deico-Remy) next Tuesday. Off-hand that looks like a very simple matter; yet when you learn that it is really Belleville vs. Belleville, it is not quite so easy.

You see, all the men on the Rosery team are Bellevillites. Three of the five starting players on the "quint" are like-wise Bellevillites: Ned Dunn, Joe Groesch, Frank "Joney" Caragher. And these three are the scoring mainstays of the Bloomfielders. Without them, Delco would be nothing. So regardless of the result, Belleville has to lose Tuesday at West Side H. S.

Hot spot No. 1 is held by Joe Groesch. Joe works at Delco-Remy. Most of the season he has been one of the mainstays of the Rosery team. Now the Rosery has to go to the wars without him, and for him it's "Kiss the boys goodbye."

Then there is the little matter of the recreation leagues' play-offs. By the time they get finished playing off all the ties in the Intermediate they won't feel at all like going thru with championship play. By that time it will probably be the Fourth of July anyway.

Smartest team is that Wallace & Tiernan gang who believe in proving their championship early and getting it over with. They deserve some kind of a medal for their two rounds without a defeat—twelve straight wins.

And Basketball Isn't The Only One
If you close the book at the end of the basketball picture you miss half the story. Look at that little ping-pong-oops, beg podden—table tennis seto scheduled for W&T's recreation room next Wednesday. The Belleville championships, no less.

We'll never forget that tremendous upset Sid Summerfield pulled on Lefty John Dailey in the finals of the veterans' division last year. We don't know who was most surprised: John, Sid or the spectators.

Bouquets, Brickbats And Stuff
Lot of variations to the old "Local Boy Makes Good" theme when you talk of Belleville. Quite a few lads and lassies from this hunk o' Passaic Valley are hitting the spot in foreign fields.

Look at Louise Hunt who took third in the North American Ice Skating Championships early in the winter and last week won the high-scoring honors at Syracuse University's winter carnival. . . Then there's Wayne Farmer who is one of the main cogs in the ultra-successful Dartmouth Freshman quintet. . . Ruth Rader makes her fencing mark at State Champ Doris Kopsky (who is almost 17 now). . . Bob Botany is senior class vice-pres., basketball captain at Hobart. . . Captain Mark Wertz and Jim Campbell were Lehigh's mainstays on the fall cridions and Wally Hauber is a motorcycle referee and N. J. prep foils champ. . . Tony Zuzzio, Muhlenberg, was on Lehigh's all-opponent team. . . Lots of others, too.

Noted with regret the passing of Jimmy McCarron, one of the Velodrome's most popular racers. Just a kid, the Philadelphia driver returned Friday from racing in Buenos Aires, and cracked up at the Coliseum Sunday, died Sunday night. One of the really true-blooded sportsmen of the tracks.

"Twould indeed be the irony of fate should Belleville and Nutley both have their first round games tonight and have to play in the second round. There would really be some quick gulps among certain of our neighbors.

Rosery-Delco In State Tourney; W&T Cops Manufacturers' Title

Belleville Draws Bloomfield In Recreation Opener; Play-offs Start

So many important events are crowding the Recreation basketball calendar all at once that body is at a loss to know which is the most important.

One event of the first water springs on the horizon for next Tuesday. Belleville pops its head right into the lion's jaws in the opening of the State Recreation Basketball Tournament. Matched as first round opponents are Belleville, represented by the Belleville Rosery five, and Bloomfield for whom the great Delco-Remy quintet will play. Delco-Remy has made a laughing-stock of the rest of the Newark Industrial League all winter.

Because of Delco-Remy's great record this year, Belleville was grafted into the game on the short end of the betting. The record of the Rosery was not particularly impressive outside of the second round of the Senior League, when the Belleville representative was selected. The game will take place at 8:30.

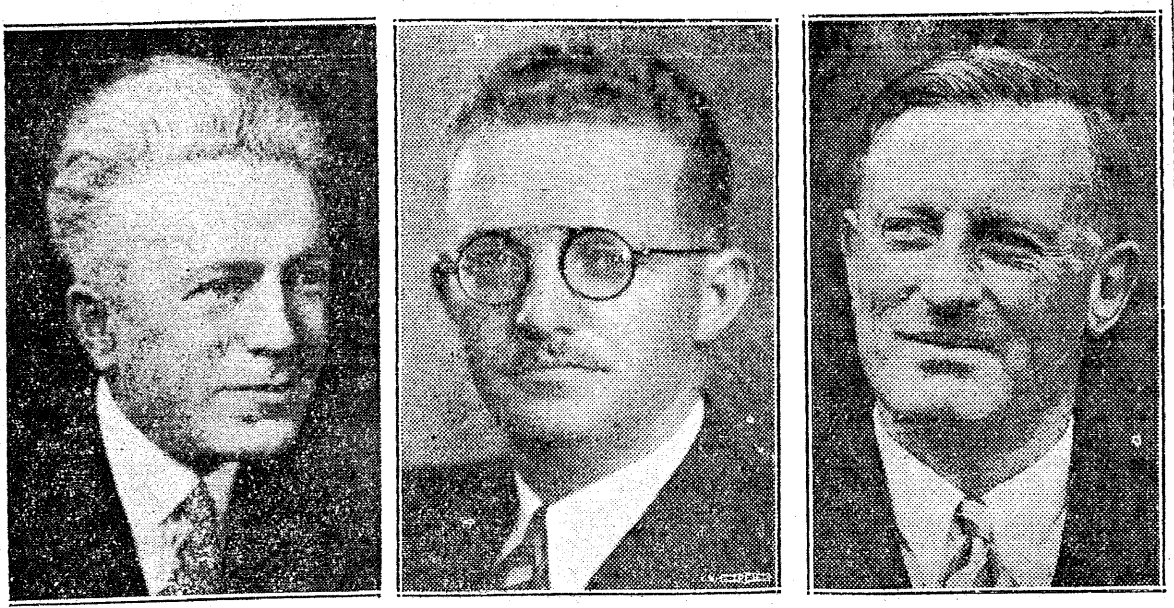

At 8:30, performances of this year was a heated record of the Rosery's scrappy play. The Watco boys swept both halves of the Manufacturers League without the loss of game, capturing both ends of

Lopsided Scores Characteristic Of Junior Basketball Contests

Ridiculously lopsided scores were the order of the day when the juniors of Belleville got together for their weekly basketball session at the High School Saturday morning.

With Ehresman and Norton leading the scoring parade, School Seven walloped Three, 46-2, while teaming the lone Three goal.

Cardura and Stanfield led Eight's A team in its 33-1 triumph over its B squad. Number One buried Five under a 26-3 score with Pal topping the scorers.

Representative Fred Hartley (center) will team with State Champion Tony Bungalow in a special 100-point match with Essex County Champs Hat Meel and Henie Kuzman. For the majority championship of Northeastern Essex County Belleville's Mayor William H. Williams (left) will stack up against Nutley Mayor Frederick H. Young (right). A large crowd is expected to jam its way into the Nutley rendezvous for the event, the like of which has never before been seen in this part of the county.

NEREID RE-ELECTS RALPH SMITH AS PRESIDENT

All Major Officers Returned To Office In Rowing Club's Annual Election Last Night

Ralph H. Smith, 357 Little street, last night was re-elected president of Nereid Boat Club at the annual election meeting and dinner held at the Nereid clubhouse on the river bank at the foot of Bayard street. This will be Smith's second term as head of Essex County's only rowing club and Belleville's oldest sporting organization.

Other officers re-elected for second terms were vice-president, Clifton J. Smith (no relation), 35 Reservoir place, and captain, Leslie Burnley, 72 Nolton street. Gearard Rhoades, 37 Prospect street, after serving a year on the Board of Trustees, was elected secretary, succeeding Hugh Kitcher, 221 Holmes street, who declined renomination because of the press of other business.

Named to assist Burnley in the management of the clubhouse were Lieutenant Alfred J. Walker, 133 Joralemon street, and Log-Keeper Darrell Zink, 26 Rossmore place.

C. Leverich Brett, 119 Hender parkway, Newark, was renamed to the Board of Trustees. The two new members (alho each has a long record of service in this capacity) of the Board are John P. Dailey, 188 Division avenue, who replaces Richard Gifford, resigned, and Legett Campbell, 121 Elmer parkway, Newark, who takes Rhoades' place.

John Boles Opens Today At Shubert In Newark

John Boles, who is appearing in person at Shubert Theatre, Newark, starting today, is heading his own Hollywood stage revue. John Boles was born in Greenville, Texas, the son of Dr. J. M. Boles of that town. He is Hollywood's favorite romantic singing star and his latest picture was "SINNERS IN PARADISE." He also will be remembered for his outstanding dramatic role in "STELLA DALLAS." John Boles served with U. S. Army in France during the World War and is considered by Airline officials as "Hollywood's champion cloud route traveler." He heads his own Hollywood Revue on the stage. Appearing with Mr. Boles are the twelve Aristocrats.

"Favorites of the Movie Stars," Steve Evans "In Hollywood Snapshots," Barry, Breen and Wiler "Movie Maniacs" and other motion picture stage star acts. Also on the stage will be Buddy Page and His Shuberteers. The Shubert Theatre also presents for the same week on the screen lovely Rochelle Hudson and dynamic James Dunn in "Pride of the Navy," which is a thrilling saga of the "Suicide Patrol." It is a full length first run feature picture. This show is the second to be presented by the Shubert theatre under its new low miracle price scale.

Rochelle Hudson, who plays opposite James Dunn in "Pride of the Navy," states firmly she never again will sign a contract with one film studio exclusively.

"I'm going to free-lance," says Rochelle. "Then I pick my roles and a studio can't just keep me or its contract list and forget about me."

John Boles appears in person at the Shubert, starting today.

Trio Of Stars Featured In "Gunga Din" Film

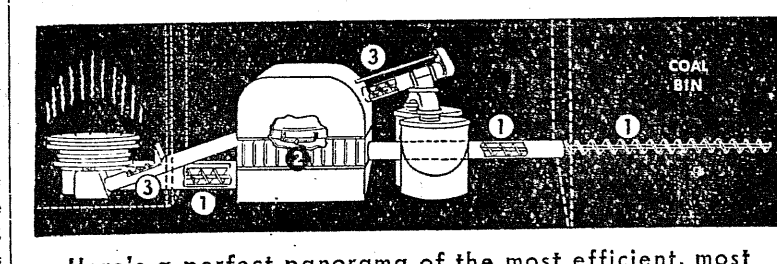

Cary Grant, Victor McLaglen and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., currently starring in RKO Radio's "Gunga Din," are seen as a trio of sergeants in the British Army whose fast friendship involves them in dangerous complications, which is being held over at Proctor's Theatre, Newark.

The background of this picture is Rudyard Kipling's immortal ballad in northwestern India in the 1890's. The story revolves around an uprising of Thugs, fanatics who murder according to religious rites, and depicts how the three soldiers and a native water carrier help to crush the revolt.

Joan Fontaine, Eduardo Ceanelli and Sam Jaffe head the supporting cast.

Here's a perfect panorama of the most efficient, most economical heating for your home—MOTORSTOKOR automatic anthracite heat. Thermostatically controlled, MOTORSTOKOR worms carry coal (1) as it's needed, from bin to furnace. On the way to the furnace (2) the coal is mixed with a scientifically measured draft. Coal and air are fed to a burner which gets all the heat from every nugget. Then they carry the ashes to sealed containers (3). Get the right viewpoint on trouble-free heat.
