GRADES FEATURE ART EXHIBIT AT LOCAL LIBRARY

Supervising Principal Parmer Asks Parents To View Work

"I wish that every citizen of Belleville would take off enough time to observe and study the exhibit of art from the grades of Public Schools of Belleville, which will be held in the Belleville Public Library from April 17 to April 20," says Supervising Principal Wayne R. Parmer.

"Miss Helen Simpson, our efficient art supervisor in this work by training and experience. She made the following comments in respect to this excellent work:

"The exhibition should do much to correct a long-standing misconception that children's art should be judged by adult standards. Many parents do not understand that a child's work has its own validity, that his work differs as his thoughts and feelings differ from those of a grown-up.

"The basis for improvement in any art is the opportunity to experience it. We have a striking example of this in the widespread appreciation of good music attributable to radio broadcasting in recent years. Whether the children ever achieve excellence of performance in any art form is of little importance as we now think of art education. Once boys and girls have participated in an activity which they have acquired an understanding which is of the greatest importance for the future of art in America.

Art a Fundamental

"Art is now recognized as a fundamental branch of the educational system. Formerly lessons in the history of art, trips to galleries, classroom drawing from 'still life' and special instruction for talented pupils were thought to be sufficient. Elective art courses are now by no means neglected—the gifted pupils are encouraged to develop his special talent—but instead of confining instruction to the few, it has now been extended to a place in the lives of the many.

"In the Belleville public schools, for example, instead of a few hundred pupils 'taking art' every boy and girl has an opportunity to create in graphic form. It is required in the elementary division.

"The children are surprising in the remarkable interest and ability displayed in the art work. Metal work, clay modeling, finger paintings, etc., are evidence of charcoal, water colors, tempera paintings, etc., evidence of what they are doing weekly in their classes through the fine efforts and cooperation of our principals and teachers.

Reiner, executive secretary of the Community Service Bureau, summarize the rehabilitation service program of the Bureau, which is one of the participating agencies in the Community Chest, for 1938.

She said that 209 families received direct service on personal and family problems during the year, representing 1,021 persons, with a total of 1,266 office interviews and 1,084 home and collateral visits made. These families came to the Bureau through personal applications, the Board of Health nurses, schools, private agencies, state agencies, clergy, board members, hospitals, physicians, mental hygiene clinics, employers and recorder.

Personal difficulties, health, economic and conflict with environments were the principal reasons why they applied to the Bureau. She explained that the Community Service Bureau was introduced here some time during 1928, just prior to the organizing of the Belleville Welfare Federation.

CHIEF ANNOUNCES FIRST AID COURSE AT FIRE HOUSE

Policemen And Firemen May Study For Twenty Weeks

Police Chief George Spatz today informs this newspaper that starting Monday policemen, as well as firemen, will be schooled in first aid work at fire headquarters in Washington avenue. The course, which will be given by Dr. William T. Sullivan, will extend over a twenty-week period with classes each Monday and Friday afternoons from 4:45 o'clock on.

"I would like to see not only the callmen and chancemen take up this course, but all patrolmen and officers," said the chief. "It would be a sad commentary on this department if someone failed to take the course and then, through lack of first aid knowledge was in a position where someone's life were lost. If only one life is saved the course will be well worth while. Each one who takes the course will be given an American Red Cross First Aid text book and Red Cross certificates will be given those who complete the course. 'We will put Belleville on the map yet."

Wants Pistol Course

"This course is one more forward step in the department. Next I hope we may be able to get a reloading machine so that our men may be schooled in pistol work."

"And, speaking of rabid dogs," said the chief, "just look at this batch of literature. This department is reading up. And, contrary to general belief, not every dog that is said to be rabid is in such a state. The hot weather, for instance, has a lot to do with dogs having fits, frothing at the mouth, which is sometimes mistaken for rabies. See that implement over there for catching rabid dogs. It's about the best outfit I've seen. And, believe it or not, our own boys made it. Here's some more information on rabid dogs." It's about the best it pertains to an anti-rabic inoculation for dogs."

Thus an interesting few minutes with the chief disclosed that Belleville's finest is an up-to-the-minute force, preparing itself with all modern information and training to maintain a high degree of efficiency.

ST. PETER'S CLUB GIVES CARNIVAL

Social Society Presents Three-Day Affair; Dramatic Club Plays "Mimick"

The Social Society of St. Peter's Church will present its annual spring carnival in the parochial school buildings next Wednesday through Friday.

The carnival promises to top previous affairs by a big margin. Under the chairmanship of Miss Teresa K. Salmon, this year's committee has gone to great pains to present the best entertainment possible.

St. Peter's Dramatic Club will start the proceedings Wednesday night with the production of the three-act comedy-drama "Mimick" by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber. Thursday the Social Society will put on a minstrel show and the carnival will end Friday with a giant party.

Joseph C. Duval

Two of America's outstanding playwrights combined their talents in writing the story of old man Mimick, a lonely old man hurled out of the placidity of his life in suburban Bloomington into the turbulence of Chicago. The Kaufman-Ferber team has ringed the telling of the tale with their own highly-effective treatment.

Joseph C. Duval and Marguerite Mann Babitch head the cast, the former as the weary old man, the latter as his daughter-in-law. William J. Brady plays young Fred Mimick; Mary McCann and James Leonard portray the Jim Coreys, friends of the younger Mimicks.

A SPLENDID IDEA

While it will require considerable of their own time and effort, many Belleville policemen, firemen, chancemen and callmen are expected to take advantage of the first aid course which is made available to them starting Monday for about twenty weeks at Washington avenue fire headquarters. Dr. William T. Sullivan will be in charge and the American Red Cross first aid text book will be used.

Belleville's firemen and policemen pride themselves on their efficiency and modern methods. Here is one more idea that will place them right up in the front rank with any other force in the Metropolitan area. All who see fit to take this course, for which there is no pay, will find that they have done themselves a distinct service, as well as the taxpayers. The two departments should feel elated that such a course has been made available. From our observation of the myriad of life-saving tasks assigned policemen and firemen it seems needless to say that many lives will be conserved by those who decide to improve themselves under Dr. Sullivan. The guardians of the law and smoke eaters do many tasks outside the realm of duty, and a vote of thanks will be forthcoming from taxpayers to those who decide the course may better fit them for the jobs in which they have been placed. Chief Spatz says that if "only one life is saved it will be worth while." The chief is ultra conservative — many, many lives will be saved over the years — and that's not an idle guess.

DR. H. B. VAIL PASSES

A kindly gentleman, Dr. Herbert B. Vail, town and school physician and police surgeon, died on Monday. His loss will be felt by the town, particularly among those old-timers, who were wont to meet occasionally to discuss with the doctor Belleville as it "used to be." A great triumvirate was formed by Dr. Vail, the late Dr. Edward O. Cyphers and the late Charles Granville Jones, architect, and much of the civic growth of the town had been attributed to them. Dr. Vail entered into relief work during the World War with a zeal and served as chairman of the Belgian Relief Fund, which listed most of the prominent men of the town on the committee. He took part in the various war activities here, among which was the Red Cross relief work and Liberty Loan drives. Many came to know and revere him through his activities in public life, especially in police circles. Always a keen follower of events in town, he was out to vote three weeks ago on the school referendum as regards Public School No. 3. Dr. Vail's death is a shock to Belleville. His interest in the town and his accomplishments will be recorded among the finer things in Belleville.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Belleville music lovers are in for a rare treat Wednesday night when the Belleville Glee Club will present another of its inspiring concerts in Public School No. 10. Among the stars scheduled is Frances Blaisdell, the first woman flutist to appear as a soloist with a major symphony orchestra in the United States. As usual, Arthur E. Jacobus will direct and Miss Ruth Dautel will be accompanist.

The club has done much to bring credit to our town in musical circles and deserves the support of residents. The members sing for the love of singing and, oftentimes, the concerts are produced with a financial loss to the individual members. Belleville, therefore, has an opportunity next week to lend encouragement to the singers by turning out for the concert. A large gathering would prove profitable to those who enjoy fine music and most certainly would demonstrate that Belleville folks are behind the endeavors of any group that seeks to bring favorable publicity to our town. All who can make the concert should do so.

THE EASTER SNOW

A dozen years from now we shall look back and say, "Remember the Easter Sunday when it snowed?" There have been cold Easters and rainy ones. But the snow was the limit. Not alone to the women and men who prepared to march forth in Spring raiment, but to all who look upon Easter as the gateway to Spring, the day was a bitter disappointment. But it was heartening to note that the weather did not curtail the throngs attending church services. In all edifices the crowds surpassed the usual Sunday numbers. Clearly this indicated the people did not forget the true meaning of the day. And, fortunately, all was not lost. The new clothes will look just as well this Sunday. The setting for the show should be much better. By that time more flowers will be in bloom, the grass will be greener and the robins will be able to sing without their beaks chattering.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH SMALL BUSINESS?

New Jersey essentially is a state of small business men. More than ninety per cent of our 8,000 manufacturers employ less than 500 workers. Of our 59,000 or more retailers, an overwhelming majority are small merchants.

So, naturally, there is bound to be considerable interest in the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce announcement that it is undertaking an extensive survey of small business in New Jersey.

No group has been hit harder by the dislocations of the past few years than the owners of small enterprises. Many are struggling for survival against an adverse economic tide. Can they be helped? Can a program be developed which will make it possible for these small enterprises to improve their competitive conditions, obtain adequate credit and widen their markets?

The State Chamber is confident such a program can be formulated. It is now studying the obstacles preventing adequate financing of small business in New Jersey, problems relating to advertising and development of wider markets, the effects of Federal, state and local taxation and of legislation adversely affecting the growth and success of small enterprises.

Small business needs such a program. It needs help. As Robert T. Bowman, state chamber president points out, any program which helps small business in New Jersey will be of tremendous aid to the economic welfare of the state as a whole. When we help business and industry, we help ourselves.

Not only small business men but citizens of the state generally will wish the State Chamber well in its latest undertaking.

"—AFTER THE HORSE IS STOLEN"

There isn't much comfort to be found for the taxpayer in the official Washington announcement that no increase in the National debt limit will be sought at this session of Congress.

As Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau so well put it—it is just about as comforting as a padlock on the stable door after the horse is stolen.

The National debt is now at the $40,000,000,000 level. The present legal limit to which it can grow is $45,000,000,000. Current budget estimates will carry the debt to within an eyelash of the forty-five billion dollar figure by next year.

Even if a new limit is not sought at the next session of Congress, there is not much to cheer about in the present situation. The debt has to be paid, and it can be paid only through taxation.

But there is no assurance that a higher debt limit will not be asked for next year. In fact, all indications point toward a bigger debt. This indication comes from the apparent Washington policy of "let's spend and spend and spend some more."

It is about time for economy to be made a word of actuality and action instead of just a seven-letter word that sounds good in conversation. It is past time for a recognition of the fact that you can't spend a country out of debt and depression.

And it is about time for the taxpayer-worker to start figuring out how he is going to make his earnings meet living expenses and government expenses at the same time.

GET THOSE FEET OUT OF HIS FACE

THIS WEEK

by "Guardian"

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

It is the purpose of this column to create during its existence a commentary on important current events of prime interest to the citizens of Belleville and neighboring communities who read this paper. To conform with that purpose, it is again necessary this week to dwell on the situation in Europe, and particularly its effect upon us.

The outstanding development of the week was Signor Mussolini's violation of all his promises in the occupation of Albania by Italian forces — in violation of treaties and agreements, — and the proposed setting up in that small country of a dummy government which will make Albania, like Ethiopia, a part of the greater Italy.

There can be little question but that this expansion of Italy by force has a direct connection with the expansion of the German Reich by force. Whether it is because Dictator Mussolini became jealous of Dictator Hitler's position in the international limelight and determined to do something to focus attention upon himself, — or whether Hitler said to his friend Mussolini "I've gotten mine, now you go and grab something for yourself" — doesn't matter much. It is but another instance of armed intervention and of armed might for the Prime Minister Chamberlain said "has shocked the world."

And so England and France protest the seizure and announced a pledge to support Greece and Roumania against aggression in order to throw their might against further expansion of Germany and Italy and further eclipse of the European democracies.

Now why should we be concerned about all this? — Because the standard of living in this country, the future of our children and their children is very much at stake. These aggressive nations are practically bankrupt so far as dealings with foreign nations are concerned, because they are in the midst of a "cash famine." The twenty-five billion dollar worth of gold in the world, nearly sixteen billion dollars or 64% is now in the United States. Throughout the ages gold—because of its value and relative indestructibility — has been the medium of exchange between nations. These nearly bankrupt nations, without gold to purchase necessities which they do not produce, have turned to barter—a swapping of things they do produce for things they do not produce — and by so doing, are going back to the crude fundamentals of human relations that existed before monetary systems were created.

Even our own United States this past week has proposed the exchange of cotton and wheat — of which at the moment we have more than we need — for rubber, tin and other war materials, of which we would like to have more. This despite our super-abundance of gold. Just so soon as the nations of the world get to trading commodities one with another without relation to the gold value of these commodities and their cost in terms of gold in the country where they are produced, just so soon will there begin a leveling of the standards of living bringing our living standards down to the level of the living standards of these bartering nations. That is certainly our concern.

And then suppose war does come in Europe — and certainly it must come if these aggressions by might continue. What concern is that of ours? That question demands a double headed answer. The first result of a major war in Europe would, in all probability, be the sudden liquidation of foreign investments in American securities and property — said to amount to five and a half billion dollars.

We have a law in this country, known as the Johnson Act, which prevents any nation which has defaulted on its debt to this country incurred during the World War from buying anything in this country on credit.

There can be no major European war without this country being a vital source of supplies for food and war materials. Under the Johnson Act, there is practically no way in which Europe, except for cash and so the first step would be to liquidate this five and a half billion dollars of foreign owned American securities and property which, if thrown on the market suddenly, would depress all prices in this country and be of serious import to every citizen.

Then too, it is reported on estimates of Government fiscal agents, that European countries—France, England, Netherlands among others—have about eight billion dollars in this country available for use in case of war and that better than a half billion dollars of it is "cash marked gold."

The spending of that money would, of course, give great impetus to many lines of business in this country: would increase employment; would give us a "fake" prosperity and pull us out of the economic doldrums to a degree that the World War, starting in August of 1914, pulled us out of the depression which immediately preceded it.

But what followed then and what would follow now? Home may be where the heart is but interest follows the pocket-book, — and just as that interest led us into the World War in 1917, so would such interest lead us into the next world war and the sacrifices that would be entailed would make the return that foreign war spending would give, insignificant in comparison.

And so we feel very earnestly that the time has come for a very firm stand against the further expansion by might of these dictator nations — or of any nation. We hope that out of the declarations of yesterday and today will come a clean cut, unequivocal statement from England and France to Germany and to Italy—"if you take another foot of property anywhere in the world, we will fight!" and to have that followed up by a clean cut statement from our President to the effect that in such event he would recommend that the Congress of the United States support England and France to the limit of our economic ability.

That, in our judgment, would stop Hitler and Mussolini dead in their tracks. And they must be stopped.

Yours 'til next week,

Girl Scout News

Members of various troops enjoyed a fine all-day hike on Wednesday, accompanied by the local director, Mrs. May T. Holden.

The Mothers' Club, consisting of the mothers of Girl Scouts, has chosen these officers for the coming year: Mrs. Frances Jones, president; Mrs. Ray MacPherson, secretary, and Mrs. J. L. Hermann, treasurer. The Mothers' Club hopes to extend its scope and usefulness by the addition of new members.

The local council met last Thursday at Scout Headquarters in the Elks' Club. Mrs. Stanley Gibson was chosen commissioner, with Mrs. Frank J. Ackerman and Mrs. William P. Adams acting as deputy commissioners. Mrs. McKay L. Long was re-elected treasurer, and Mrs. George R. Gerard will act as secretary.

Several troops have enjoyed overnight trips to the Belleville Girl Scout Cabin located in the South Mountain Reservation. The cabin will be the center of much activity during the coming outdoor season.

Troop No. 11 enjoyed a hike and camping at Camp Canagah recently. Several new members were initiated into the joys of outdoor cooking.

As a delightful way of celebrating their leader's birthday, Troop No. 8, with Captain Gladys Reyle, enjoyed Saturday at the Girl Scout Cabin in the South Mountain Reservation.

The Court of Honor of Troop No. 9, accompanied by the captain, Miss Edna Baum, will spend a weekend at the Girl Scout Cabin early this month. Included in this group are Jane Buchanan, Marion Watson, Margaret Revell, Betty Reif, Estelle Lee, Betty Lee, Jean Podgorski, Louise Holland and Gloria Huber. These girls will spend some of the time working on the nature and the outdoors program.

Appropriate to the season, this troop held a jelly bean hunt, with prizes for the finder of the most jelly beans and for those girls who located the gold or silver eggs.

The swimming class, held weekly at the Friendly House of the Italian Baptist Church in Silver Lake, is enjoyed by girls from the various troops and has an average attendance of twenty-six.

The annual Easter workshop at Scout Headquarters, under the direction of Mrs. May Holden, hummed with activity. Each troop had given time and money to make almost 1,000 Easter cards. Not ordinary cards, these. Of various colors, with a small chenille chick with its toes stuck through the card, each carried "Easter Greetings from the Belleville Girl Scouts."

The cards were sent to patients at nearby hospitals, including the Essex County Hospital at Soho, to the children's wards in St. Barnabas', St. Michael's, and St. James' Hospitals, and to the Children's Hospital, Newark; to St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, and to the Pleasant Crittenton Home, Newark. The cards appeared on the breakfast tray of each patient Easter morning.

Forum

Editor, Belleville News:

At this particular season thought is directed on the sins of the world and special effort is made by many to square their accounts. It is by far better to consider one's own failings than to point out the shortcomings of others.

There are sins of commission and sins of omission and who is to say which do the greatest harm? To be passive and negative, and stand aside in aloofness instead of offering a helping hand may look innocent enough but may give impetus to destructive forces which cause endless suffering, which a kindly attitude and assistance at the proper time, could have prevented.

Perhaps many garing offences have been committed because others omitted to do the right thing at the right time and so they share definitely in the guilt. We must never forget that we are all important factors, wheels within the wheels, which make this world go one way or the other.

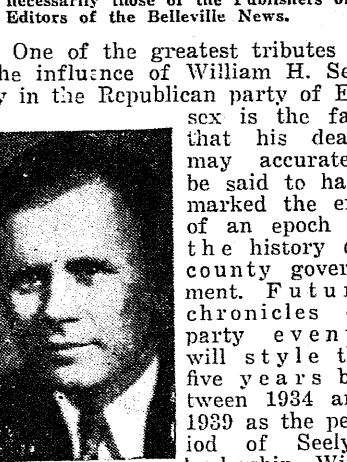

Let us hope that this particular season will quicken the understanding of all mankind and give them the wisdom and strength to rise above the encumbering rubbish in the sunlight of nobler perception and so bring new peace and joy into the hearts of men.

PIQUANT POLITICS

his death a completely new chapter has begun.

As a prelude to an analysis of the factors that will influence the new chapter, it is fitting to review briefly the past twenty years of Essex political history. This twenty-year period began with a new deal in county government as a reaction to a scandal involving the county engineer and a number of other officials. Leader of the movement was a young lawyer named Arthur T. Vanderbilt who had just turned thirty. Archie D. Ball, Philip Lindeman, Henry Hines, William Mungle and Zenas Crane were fireholders elected in 1919 and 1920.

Smooth Twelve Years

This first period of Vanderbilt's leadership lasted roughly from 1919 to 1931. During this twelve-year period no primary or general election was lost, although there were some compromise tickets in two or three of the primary contests. During this period Vanderbilt perfected his peculiar technique of leadership. This technique was not that of the typical political boss who, if he is successful, gives orders and sees that they are obeyed. Vanderbilt was more the chairman of a board of directors.

He made suggestions, but rarely insisted in having his own way if a majority of his advisers felt that another course would be more advantageous. Crane, Mungle, Ball, Hines and later, Reginald T. Blauvelt and Ernest A. Reed made up the board of directors. Lindeman attended the conferences but was rarely active in leadership. When a policy had been decided upon, specific duties were assigned to certain men. So effective were these methods that many primary contests were won with expenditures of less than $10,000.

The first person to challenge successfully Vanderbilt's leadership was one of his own protégés, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Harris of Glen Ridge. Bad blood had developed between Vanderbilt and Mrs. Harris over the management of the Verona Sanatorium, involving its superintendent, Dr. Harmon. This resentment was fanned into an open flame in 1930 when Mrs. Harris barely escaped defeat in the primary election, due, she claimed, to Vanderbilt's secret opposition. In 1931, she and many women followed her lead. Vanderbilt camp to join forces with Jesse R. Salmon. The defection was not large numerically, but it brought defeat to the Vanderbilt ticket.

Worms

It is a fallacious notion that only puppies have worms, although as a general rule worm infestation in young dogs is a greater source of trouble than in older dogs.

This is probably due to the fact that worms cause a predisposition to rickets and skin diseases, and also weaken a dog's resistance to such an extent that he is more subject to distemper than a normal or healthy dog. There are many types of worms, of which the most commonly recognized is the his condition and to retard his recovery, if he recovers at all, if possible, it is advisable to have a veterinarian worm your dog for you.

Tapeworms

It is a little known fact that ninety per cent of the tapeworms in dogs are caused by fleas. The tapeworm must always have a host or carrier—in the dog's case it is the flea which carries the tapeworm egg. When the dog bites himself and swallows these infested fleas the eggs hatch in his body and develop in the intestinal tract. It is readily seen that a dog afflicted with fleas is more than apt to have tapeworms. These worms grow rapidly and may become three to five feet in length. They appear flat, about one-quarter of an inch wide, and are segmented. These segments may break off and pass from the dog, adhering to the hair around the rectum, and resembling pieces of dried rice.

As a rule, a dog which is infested with tapeworms has not one, but many. It often takes many wormings before they can be said to be entirely eliminated, since the head of the worm, or one of the tiny segments, has the power of reproduction quite independent of the rest of the body. Since tapeworm medicine is necessarily a very drastic purgative, and not a drug which dopes or affects the worms (as are other types of worm medicines) it is the most dangerous of all the remedies to handle and should be administered by a thoroughly competent person equipped to administer an antidote, should the occasion arise. An underdose of tapeworm medicine will fail to get the worms, and an overdose may kill the dog.

Keep in mind the fact that there are more dogs killed every year by worming than by worms.

INFORMATION, PLEASE! ABOUT New Jersey Railroad Taxes

- Question: What New Jersey railroads owe the State back taxes?
Answer: Every railroad in the State has paid a substantial part of its taxes. The Central Railroad of N. J., Lehigh Valley, Erie, D. L. & W., New York Central, New York, Susquehanna and Western, New Jersey and New York, Reading, and New York and Long Branch, altogether have paid $47,427,992 on their tax bill since 1932, but are contesting an additional levy of $34,834,312 as excessive.
- Question: Why have these taxes not been paid?
Answer: (A) The railroads have not had, do not have, and cannot get the money with which to pay them. They had to borrow money to pay a large portion of the taxes already paid. (B) The taxes assessed against them are based upon excessive valuations of their properties.
- Question: What do the railroads propose to do about their back taxes claimed by the State?
Answer: They are offering to pay to the full limit of their ability. In addition to the $47,427,992 they have already paid, they offered to pay $12,266,375 which would bring their total payments for the years 1932 to 1938 up to 72½% of the original levy. Of this amount, they can pay $4,261,344 in cash and the remainder in installments over a period of years. This offer has been rejected by the State.
- Question: Why should such a compromise of railroad taxes be made by the State?
Answer: For the purpose of giving the State the largest amount of additional railroad tax money that can possibly be secured, namely, $12,266,375, as offered by the railroads. If the offer is refused, some of the railroads owing the money are certain to go into bankruptcy, which means that the State may get nothing from them for an indefinite period of time.
- Question: Suppose some of the railroads go into receivership, what of it?
Answer: The State would get less money than if it compromised the taxes on the basis proposed. As soon as a railroad goes into receivership it cannot be compelled to pay more in taxes than the Bankruptcy Court orders its receiver to pay.

Receivership means more than reduced or lost tax payments. It means more unemployment for railroad workers, less business for railroad supply houses, reduced railroad service. When railroads are in bankruptcy, stations are closed, trains taken off and branch lines eliminated. This reduces the value of homes in all of the affected areas. If more New Jersey railroads are allowed to fail, the blow will fall hardest on citizens who own real estate of any kind.

The only way these consequences can be avoided is through a prompt settlement of the New Jersey railroad tax problem, which is now before the Legislature for consideration.

BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

H EY! DID you realize you have only one more week to get in your entry for the bowling sweepstakes? Yessir, that's all there is left; one week from tomorrow the registrars quietly fold their tents and steal away to make up the schedule.

Can you imagine a broker, when he learns that a certain stock is sure to leap twenty times its present value in a few weeks, putting off buying it until it is too late? Bring, mail or ship via parcel post those entry blanks to the Bowling Academy or to The News NOW. Don't let it wait any longer.

A few of the baseball teams are showing a little life now that the season is here. Most of the teams may be going to play again this year; but if they are they're probably keeping it a secret.

The High School starts off Tuesday on a tough 17-game itinerary. Whether they will steam into port in June under their own power or will limp in at the end of a tow line remains to be seen. No one can say now, because the whole team is new. But if numbers count the Bellboys shouldn't fare so badly; they still have enough left after the first pruning to make four nines.

Bernie Barnett is off on what can easily be a glorious baseball career. We add our voice to all those others wishing him bon voyage and happy landings.

Smatterings From The Sports Front
In the short period of a single winter Elmers' (Nutley) Tavern has become one of the chief shuffleboard centers of this territory. Due chiefly to the initiative of the Elmers and master promoter Fred Duxbury. When those boys collaborate on a match it's always worth-while going to see.

They'll have the Essex Co. champs Hal Mead and Henie Kurzman defending their titles there Monday. Ed Hohenstein and Frank Eposito are challenging after trimming Roy Thomas and Roy Hadley by 20 points this week.

The Vets of Foreign Wars will benefit from the big match "Dux" is throwing on May Day. For his headlines he has teamed Congressman Hartley with Kurzman and put Mead with Walter Gorman. For heart-throb interest has, thru the cooperation of genial Leo Scanlon, employment agent at Public Service, arranged two matches between the best of the county's lassies; viz, e.g., and to wit, Peggy Bartsch and Marge Kopach v. Marie Adolph and Anne Dunn and Audrey Hohenstein and Rose Vogel v. Mary Lingle and Marion Noehling. Ah, me!

The State Fish & Game Commish is in again with more of its figures: how those boys can stat! Look, fellers, they've put out 535,000 trout for us to catch any time now beginning tomorrow. But they're not thinking only of the anglers. They've just stocked up the pheasants (5,500 of them), quail (2,000 out in mated pairs) and chukar partridge (500). Meat on the table.

But don't start out with the fowling-piece in the spring. It's the trout season that starts tomorrow, it's not time to lay in your Thanksgiving dinner.

RCA's Jim Timiney hit the peak Friday night in the Manufacturers' League. He smashed the pins for a 701 total, starting with a 244 in the first game, 267 in the second and 190 in the third. . . . Kooler-keG's Howard Byrnes did a little slugging too to help the Keggers beat Wallace & Tiernan. Byrnes rolled three games over 200 and garnered a 641 total.

BOWLING BLANKS MUST BE IN MAIL BEFORE APRIL 23

Choice Starting Times Rapidly Being Filled; Immediate Entry Urged

Only a week away, seven days from midnight tomorrow, is the closing date for entries for the handicap bowling sweepstakes sponsored by the Belleville News. April 22 is the date.

Wise bowlers have taken advantage of the four weeks since the early announcement, but already there is the beginning of congestion since The News, seeking to please all, gave the entrant the liberty of stating his preference in starting time. These times have been doled out to the entrants in the order of their application.

Those who took advantage of the early announcement have been able to choose their own time for rolling. Those who let the matter slide will face the necessity of taking the times which are still left when they hand in their entries.

The sweepstakes will be rolled on the alleys of the North Newark Bowling Academy, 90 Verona avenue, the evening of May 5. Should the number of entries necessitate further time the event will be carried over to Saturday evening and as much longer as is necessary.

Entry blanks with complete entry fee must be brought or mailed to "Doc" Haycock at the Bowling Academy or to the Sports Editor of The News, 11 Mill street, Belleville, before midnight next Saturday night.

Guaranteed Prizes

The News has guaranteed first prizes totaling $45-$15 singles and $30 doubles. Other prizes will be awarded in proportion to the number of entries.

The entry fee is $1.50 per man. This entitles him to roll three games, his total score to count towards the singles prize besides being combined with that of his partner for the doubles award. Thus each man has a chance of multiplying his original investment twenty times—a fair return in these days.

To give every man an even chance the committee has worked out a plan to offset the belief that some alleys are more advantageous than others. Contestants will draw for starting alleys, bowl one game on their starting alleys, then move to the alleys to the right for each of the other games.

Starting times and other cash prizes will be announced in The Belleville News two weeks from today. Watch this page for further developments.

Winning Is A Habit With Them

The Junior Pals won the championship of the Friendly House League giving the Pals' organization its third title in two years. Sitting: H. Bennett, T. Candura, J. Rhodes, J. Yingling, G. McNally; standing: Manager H. Candura, J. Lawlor, R. Kastner, M. Marotti, J. Leonard, R. Woods.

Four years ago a group of youngsters who were used to playing together around "The Hill" in south Belleville decided to organize themselves into an athletic club and call themselves the Pals.

Today the Pals' Athletic Club is the most inveterate winner of basketball championships in Belleville. Three they have taken in the last two years and the prospects for future crowns are very bright.

The Pals cleaned up the vacant lot beside the William street firehouse and spend most of their time out there, summer and winter, tossing balls at baskets and playing complete and incomplete games among themselves.

There are twenty-one members in the Pal organization, and they have formed themselves into two teams. The older of the two entered the Intermediate League of

Pittsburgh Minors Acquire Mel Behney From Normals

The Emeralds, who are henceforth the Pittsburgh Minor Leaguers, have acquired three players from the Newark Normals, completing their roster for the Millett Circuit. Henry Lubben, manager of the team, announced this week.

The latest to be taken from the Normals is Mel Behney, leading hitter of the Newark nine and former member of the Gems. The acquisition of Behney brings the team's roster to fifteen.

Lubben said the Pittsburghers hope to open their season Sunday and are scheduling games up to April 30, when they open their league season at Port Jervis. For games, write Lubben, 38 Lincoln avenue, Newark.

BELLBOYS OPEN, DUNHAM TO PITCH AGAINST CENTRAL

Smith Cuts Squad To 35 But Only Three Veterans Remain For Tuesday

Coach Frank Smith is planning to send his veteran southpaw Les Dunham to the mound in the leadoff game with Newark Central High on the Clearman Field diamond next Tuesday afternoon. All home games are scheduled to start at 4 p.m.

Dunham has been a star twirler for the high school for the past two years. Now a senior he is looking forward to his best year.

Only three veterans remain from last season's squad but around them Smith has developed a likely looking outfit. He cut his squad to 35 Tuesday but plans even further cutting in the near future, probably right after the beginning of the season. The other vets are Captain Howard Byles and Pat Tortorello. The majority of the others played on the scrubs last year, but there are also quite a few freshmen faces coveting on the bases.

Starting Lineup

It is possible that Jack Avazier may also see mound duty Tuesday. He has impressed Smith with his control. The remainder of the starting lineup will be Joe Sullivan behind the plate, Red Hanley, Ralph Lilors, Tortorello and Byles around the infield, Bob Gihler, "Zooky" McKay and Al Zuzzio or Pete Torre in the outfield.

Also on the squad at the present time are Norman Crocker, Russ McDermott, Dolphy Paul, Irad Gow, Aiello and Peacock, pitchers; August Bechtold, Jim Carr, Red Smith and Daniels, catchers; Ted Debrovski, Naylor, Miller, Tierney, Alex Dudek, Red Byrnes and Cafone, infielders; Fred Paaz, Bob Litts, Jack Clark, Chet Kuchinski, Wheeler, Vanderhoff and Peterson, outfielders.

Smith is far from optimistic over the first game; he knows that Central has a team of seasoned veterans. Further their new coach is Bob Reilly who tutored West Side to the semi-finals of the state tournament last year.

More than that Central has the added advantage of having played several practice games so far this year, while Belleville, for one reason and another, has had no actual competition. Smith plans a game with one of the independent teams in town tomorrow.

Bill Cross To Defend His Titles In Northern New Jersey Tournament

The coming weekend will be a busy one for young Bill Cross, 134 New street. He will defend his three North Jersey table tennis crowns in the championships starting tonight and carrying thru Sunday at the Evergreen Table Tennis Center, 39 William street, Newark.

In addition to the singles crown, Cross will put the men's and mixed doubles titles on the block. He also holds the State singles championship but this is not at stake in the weekend's tournament.

The cream of New Jersey paddlers will challenge for Cross' titles. Among those competing are Scott Stickle, Short Hills, former

PLAN TOURNAMENT FOR YOUTHFUL KNUCKLE-DOWNERS

Town-Wide Marbles Championships Start On Monday

The Recreation Commission is planning its annual town-wide marbles championship tournament, which will begin Monday. The tournament will be open to boys and girls under fifteen years, according to Edward J. Lister, director of recreation. Each school will qualify one winner to play in the finals to be held at Clearman Field, Saturday, May 6. The Recreation Commission will award a bronze medal to the winner of each qualifying competition. The Belleville Lions Club will award a sweater to the finals champion. Entry blanks will be distributed next week among public and parochial school students.

Shuffleboard Match

A team composed of the Headquarters men of the Newark Police Department will play a shuffleboard match at Neary's Tavern Monday evening against the Square Wheel Club, state champions.

Some time ago the Square Wheels issued a challenge to a picked team of all Belleville municipal employees, but to date they have not received a reply. George Schuyler, 69 Washington avenue, is manager of the team.

Monotony: W&T Wins

Wallace & Tiernan's undefeated paddlers won their tenth straight table tennis match Monday night in Newark where they defeated the Oxweld Acetylene Company 8-4. The winning combination was composed of Bob Edelman, Nick Candura, Frank Cosgrove, Tony Aloia and George Orsulak.

Belleville, N. J.

Mrs. Margaret McNeese
and Daughter

With these two biographies the first in a series of "Know Your Business People" concludes. The Belleville News hopes to continue this series with a new idea. We appreciate the interest which has been shown in the present series. Watch this page for a novel plan next week.

Raising of tropical fish as a hobby started William McNeese and his wife, Margaret, in the Pet Shop business. And thus the Belleville Pet Shop at 558 Washington Avenue, where canaries warble, ducklings waddle, baby chicks peep, bunnies wiggle their noses, thoroughbred dogs woof, monkeys climb, fish swim and, oh, too many interesting things happen to mention here.

For seven years the McNeese family, which includes a daughter, Charlotte, eight, who is a tap dancer of note, have been in the pet shop business, previously in Kearny, Newark and North Arlington, and the last two years here.

Mrs. McNeese was born in Philadelphia, raised in Newark and attended schools there and Rockaway High School. Later she went to Fawcett Art School, Newark, where she studied designing and illustrating, intending to draw heads for magazine covers.

But the tropical fish hobby got her. Mr. McNeese was born in Scotland and like so many of his countrymen settled across the river in Kearny — Little Paisley, it is to those of our readers, who are uninitiated. While "Bill" kicked a football around in soccer matches for the Eagles, Independents and Senate Boys, Margaret started with the fish. Then came many friends, who wanted to know if they had fish to sell — and why not? They had twenty-seven aquariums. The answer was in the negative, but an avenue for a new business was opened up.

A fellow, like this writer, who loves animals, could write a book about the Belleville Pet Shop with its shelves of assorted animal foods, rubber boots, bones, crullers, doughnuts and what have you. But perhaps most interesting is Jitterbug, a Red Diner, which has taken three ribbons in puppy competition. Jitterbug jittered so well in Brooklyn, Newark and New York that he stole the matches. This dog is like chain lightning and it received its moniker due to the fact that it bounds along in a swift manner. Jitterbug is only a handful, too. The shop is equipped to care for pets while folks are away and is modern in all respects.

Mrs. Helen M. Smith

Mrs. Helen M. Smith, who has taken over management of the Capitol Pharmacy, 338 Washington Avenue, since the death of her husband, Raymond, recently, was born in Newark. She moved to Southington, Conn., as a child and then to Belleville, attending Public School No. 1 here, the local high school, from which she was graduated, and Newark State Teachers' College, also from which she was graduated. She taught school in Nos. 1, 4 and 8. While in high school she played on the basketball team and today is an ardent golfer, playing a round in about 100. She plays Bloomfield, Belleville and Passaic courses.

Mrs. Smith is assisted by two registered pharmacists and her modern, up-to-date store specializes in prescriptions rather than the ordinary counter trade. The store is replete with the best of merchandise and equipment.

Honolulu At Capitol

Eleanor Powell, acknowledged to be the world's most accomplished tap dancer, proves her title again in "Honolulu," which opens Sunday at the Capitol Theatre, Belleville, for a three-day engagement. The lavish new musical has all that the Broadway shows of modern times can offer, and more. Robert Young has the male lead. Comedy is provided by George Burns and Grace Allen, and featuring Keala Holt, Hawaii's champion hula dancer, with Andy Tona's Islanders, the most famous of all Hawaiian orchestras. Eleanor Powell offers a series of new and brilliant dances against the exotic background of Hawaii. Music, mirth and melody is the by-word for "Honolulu."

With Alice Faye, Constance Bennett, and Nancy Kelly in the starring roles, "Tail Spin" is a romantic melodrama of adventure telling the story of three women who fly, the thrills that come with their split-second escapes and the heart-throbs behind their spectacular lives. An exceptional supporting cast features Joan Davis, Charles Farrell, Jane Wyman and Wally Vernon.

Spring Dance Plans

The date of the annual spring dance of the Progressive Judeans has been changed from May 27 to May 6 at a meeting Thursday night. Final plans for the affair were made, and committees were appointed, with Abe Haber as the general chairman. Following are the committees: Tickets, William Smith and Shirley Eitenberg; refreshments, Mollie Leites; Sam Magnus, Marion Shapiro, Lillian Albert, and Bernice Loesser; entertainment, Beatty Berkowitz, Barney Shapiro and Paul Schmitzer; door, Irving Levine and Edward Kolodin, and publicity, Miss Albert and Jack Levine.

The proceeds of the dance will be sent to Palestine to aid in the furtherment of the Jewish Boy Scouts in that land. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin talked to the group during the meeting on assisting refugees en route to Palestine. Miss Pauline Rosenblum is leader of the Judeans.

with classroom studies, the work of play or make believe. The encouragement of the teacher is that of a helpful adviser.
"During the past four years, we have made an honest effort to bring this department of our work up to the standards of the best schools in the country. In spite of the fact that Miss Simpson's supervision covers the work of more than four thousand children, excellent work is being done. She has expressed to me her deep appreciation of the fine cooperation that has been accorded her by the many teachers who carry on this work and also by the principals of the several schools."
"I personally take this means of congratulating all who participate in making this so successful a part of our educational program."

American Legion Auxiliary

Belleville Unit No. 105, American Legion Auxiliary, held its regular business meeting Monday evening in the Legion Chateau, 170 Washington avenue, with Mrs. Joseph Huemer, president, in charge. Mrs. Harry Kendall, Irving, Essex County president, and the county staff attended.
Mrs. Huemer and Mrs. William P. Adams attended the Case Committee meeting of the Community Service Bureau last night.
A card party will be held at 8:30 this evening in the home of Mrs. Huemer, 170 Cedar Hill avenue, for the benefit of the auxiliary. All members and friends are invited.
The Junior Auxiliary, under direction of Mrs. Arthur Christie, spread Easter cheer among the older children at the Babies' Hospital, Newark. Miss Maude Christie, past president of the Junior Auxiliary, is in training at the hospital and recently resigned as junior secretary. Miss Alberta Allen has been elected in her place. Miss Virginia Ackerman is president. Mrs. William Kant has completed the afghan started by the juniors last year, under her chairmanship.

DR. VAIL

where he had resided and practiced since 1899.
During the World War Dr. Vail entered into relief work with a zest that made him a leader among the men of the town. He served as the chairman of the Belgian Relief Fund which listed most of the prominent men of the town on its committee. He took part in the various war activities in the town, among which was the Red Cross relief work and the Liberty Loan drive.
Among the men whom Dr. Vail gave credit for a large amount of the success of the various drives was the late Charles Granville Jones.

Dr. Vail was appointed surgeon of the clinical staff of the Hospital of St. Barnabas. In 1908 he was made attending surgeon of the hospital. He was later the senior attending surgeon. For sixteen years past he had been president of the attending staff of the hospital.

During the war he, with Dr. Charles L. III of Newark and Dr. G. H. Palmer of East Orange, conducted the entire work of the hospital. All out patient work was suspended. The staff was reduced as all the younger physicians had enlisted in the army.

Dr. Vail had been a member of the Belleville Lodge of Masons since 1899, joining the lodge when the late Richard C. Jones, father of the late Charles Granville Jones, was worshipful master.

He also was a member of Belleville Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution.

Dr. Vail was married in 1900 to Miss Beatrice S. Harvey of Belleville and had one son, Alva, who died in 1925 at the age of twenty-one.

Had Early Phone

Dr. Vail had one of the first seventeen telephones in town when the line was extended from Newark to Belleville.

An interesting instance of the doctor's foresight was the building of his residence at its present location at the corner of Holmes street and Washington avenue, where it has a splendid view of the Passaic Valley. He was told at that time by a prominent citizen that while it was a good corner with a fine view of the hills and fields on the east side of the river, "it was not wise to go so far out of town." The town at that time had about 5,000 inhabitants.

Dr. Vail came of a family prominent in Hyde Park, N. Y. His father, the late Alva Vail had been deputy collector of the Port of New York.

He was a member of Essex County and state medical societies and the American Medical Association.

Dr. Vail had a jocular manner and loved to discuss politics. He found considerable pleasure in his annual visits to Bailey Island, Me., where he had a summer home.

Recently, in a talk with a reporter from this newspaper, he remarked of old-time political feuds, always conducted, however, in a sporting manner.

The Political Jockeying

The political complexion of Belleville township changed with a large degree of variability in the days before this community became a town, according to Dr. Vail.

It seems that in those days of a township government he and the late Dr. Edward O. Cyphers alternated almost consecutively in serving as one time as president of the Board of Health, health officer and town physician. Nearly every election, which occurred every two years, saw a change in the politics of our town.

When a Republican majority was returned at the polls then it was Dr. Vail's time to be appointed to these public offices, and when it was the Democrats who were in power, then Dr. Cyphers was named.

This went on until the township became a town and politics demanded a change in the political layout. There was at all times a fine feeling of friendliness between the two physicians for each knew that although he was not in office his time would come very shortly.

of the old man; Doris Tracey, Marie Barnett, Ramona Gray and Mary Bisco, members of young Nettie Minick's committee of the Women's Civic Aid of Chicago.

Minstrel Show

The Minstrel Show will open with a tableau on the making of the first American flag. Mrs. James Mooney will take the part of Betsy Ross while Katherine Grace Frick and Joan Dacey will also take part in this act.

The remainder of the program will be made up of specialty numbers, dances and songs. Jack Smith and company will put on a hillbilly program followed by a specialty by John Connors.

Mrs. Helen Thalhimer will sing "The Old Gang of Mine" following a song and dance number by her daughter Helen. Teresa O'Neill, Anna Hahn, Helen Kiernan, Virginia Anderson, Winifred McCoy and Jean Byron will present their 1939 version of the Virginia Reel.

Songs will be sung by Barbara Kroeder, Maude Donnelly, Andrew Brady, Charles Christell and Charles Weber. Miss Donnelly and Joseph Distasio are scheduled to conclude the evening with a specialty dance. Distasio will be master of ceremonies.

The party in the new school basement Friday night is expected to be one of the largest ever to be held by the Social Society.

Duval will play the title role in the play "Minick," to be presented by St. Peter's Dramatic
