FREAK ANIMAL AMUSES SOHO RESIDENTS

Causes Uproar Among Animal Fanciers Trying To Identify It

Belleville, today, is the home of one of the queerest creatures ever seen by man. Not even the famed Frank Buck can claim credit for bringing back anything more breath-taking than this animal now resident within our borders. On a tip supplied by a casual acquaintance, this writer took a trip to the Soho section over the weekend to get a look at what proved to be the oddest thing on four legs ever seen in these parts.

One could call it a cat. But, one would only be half right in placing the animal in that category, for it is part cat and part something else. Just what the other half is, no one knows. It would probably take the combined study of science and several veterinarians to identify the animal, and they might be wrong in the final decision.

The oddity, owned by Mrs. Carmen Dellegro, 102 Harrison street, was brought to Belleville last week from Tupper Lake, New York State, where Mrs. Dellegro was visiting her mother, Mrs. Lemar, who is the manager of a summer camp in that section.

According to our information, Mrs. Lemar found the animal when it was in its infancy, behind one of the out buildings on her property. Noticing the obvious difference in the animal's general make up, she took it to her home and raised it as a pet. As the creature increased in size, Mrs. Lemar noticed that she had what seemed to be a cat on her hands and at the same time was not a cat.

The creature is about the normal size of a two-year-old tabby, with nose, ears, hind-quarters and tail of some animal faintly reminiscent of a musk rat or perhaps a beaver. Whatever it is, it presents an interesting specimen for local veterinarians to observe.

Although thoroughly domesticated, the creature is by no means friendly toward other members of the feline family, even going so far as to attack dogs if given half a chance to do so. On the other hand, it is friendly with humans. A lengthy period of observation has failed to explain the mystery of its origin, for it occasionally meows in approved cat fashion and, at other times, it makes other queer noises that can only be likened to the squeak of a member of the rodent family.

House Bombed

Police today are investigating the "bombing" by unidentified persons, of a house at 81 Clinton street, Sunday night. According to Acting Chief of Police Robert Anderson, a person or persons not known to the police drove by the residence owned by Patrick Calaviti, late Sunday night and threw the contraption, immediately speeding from the scene.

From all reports the incident was a practical joke, as the "bomb" turned out to be a small affair, similar to danger flares used in railroad construction or signal work. The fragments of the "bomb" consisted of several pieces of chemical substance and the remains of a fuse. This was about as big around as the average shotgun shell and contained a wooden base, indicating that it may have been one of the flares in common use by railroaders in their work.

Calaviti claimed he knew of no one who might have thrown the object and denied knowledge of any reason for the action.

Gets New Contract

Jerome F. Cox, manager of Acme Window Display Service, 540 Washington avenue, announced yesterday, he had completed negotiations with the Schaefer Brewing Corporation, Brooklyn, N. Y., to handle all window and inside display work for the state in connection with the Brooklyn concern's latest advertising campaign. The contract was signed last week by Mr. V. Schmitt, general advertising manager of Schaefer Brewing Corp. and Mr. Cox.

The contract, placed with the local agency, following a week inspection tour of the state during which all features of the campaigns were discussed, will provide employment for at least twenty persons. The contract involves an investment of approximately $8,000 and will run for about six weeks.

Rawcliffe's Celebrate Their 50th Wedding Anniversary

Old Couple Well-Known In Belleville-Nutley; Live Here 44 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rawcliffe, 368 Washington avenue, were guests of honor at a party, Saturday night, marking their golden-wedding anniversary. The fifty-fifth anniversary celebration was held in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Howard J. Delhagen, 22 Elmwood avenue.

The couple were both born on Park avenue, Nutley and were childhood sweethearts. Both are now seventy-three years old. Mrs.

Rawcliffe celebrated her birthday July 18, and Mr. Rawcliffe celebrated his two days later. Following their marriage in the House of Prayer, Newark they resided for a short time in Nutley and then came to Belleville, where they have resided for the past forty-four years. They lived for many years on Cortlandt street, later moving to the north-west corner of Little and Cortlandt streets. They recently were forced to vacate this house, as it has been demolished to make way for the erection of a large industrial plant.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rawcliffe are descendants of families numbered among the first settlers of the Nutley-Belleville section. Mrs. Rawcliffe is the daughter of the late Henry Van Winkle, the first postman of Nutley, whose post office was located at that time in Chestnut street, that town. Her great-grandfather was Richard Joralemon, a lieutenant in the Revolutionary army. A cousin of the latter was Richard Varick, secretary to General George Washington and, later, mayor of New York City.

Guests at the party besides their daughter and son-in-law, were: three sons, George, John H. and Charles; four grandchildren, Grace, Irene, Charles and Loretta Rawcliffe and many relatives and friends.

A drive for new members was also planned for the fall. This move will be discussed further at the fall meeting, in mid-September. Mrs. William Aristok heads the committee preparing the constitution. She is being assisted by the following: William Conrad, Paul DeHagara, Walter Newton and Edward Ackerman.

No Trip For Chief

Members of the Board of Commissioners meeting in informal conference, Tuesday afternoon, nixed a request of Fire Chief Alex Reid, to attend the National Firemen's Convention at the San Francisco World's Fair, the latter part of this month. The request was made through William D. Clark, director of Public Safety. Chief Reid wanted to attend the convention and at the same time, visit a sick relative on the coast. He stated that inasmuch as he was rounding out twenty-five years service with the department, he would appreciate the special leave, with expenses paid, as a sort of celebration of the event. He offered to take the time used for this trip, off his vacation time. Commissioner Joseph King felt that he could not vote to use the taxpayers' money for such a trip, in view of the present financial conditions. Mayor Williams and other members of the board concurred in this.

"Tell the chief we are for him spiritually, but not financially," said Williams.

PALS LOSE FIRST GAME IN STATE CROWN SERIES

Winner To Go To St. Louis, For National Meet

The Hillside Mohawks Softball team, took the Belleville and Essex County champion Pals, over the diamond, Tuesday evening, to the tune of 8-1 to take the first in a series of three games for the State Championship and a trip to St. Louis, Missouri. The winner of two out of three in this series, will travel to St. Louis to represent the state in the national games, August 15 to 18, inclusive.

The second game in the series was played last night, too late for the result to appear in the News. If the local team manages to cop this game, the third and deciding contest will be played in the near future.

In connection with the national tournament, Private George A. Younginger Post, V.F.W., sponsor of the Pals, is now conducting a campaign for funds to send the boys to the Missouri city if they should capture the state crown. The Vets have enough money on hand to send the lads to Boston, where the games were originally scheduled to be held. In view of the additional expenses that will be involved if the local team wins this series, they are forced to request donations from local businessmen.

If the Pals do not represent the state in the national games, all monies contributed will be returned by the Veterans to the donors.

ANNOUNCE GRAND OPENING DATE

Pete Stevenson's Bar And Grill To Open Tomorrow

After several weeks' preparation and numerous difficulties during which he remodeled the entire interior of the building, Pete Stevenson is at long last ready for the grand opening of his new tavern at 170 Washington avenue, tomorrow night. Belleville's latest nite spot will be known as Stevenson's Bar and Grill.

A preliminary opening last Friday night, showed that Pete has worked wonders with what was the old Chateau. A completely new horseshoe bar graces the place occupied by the old straight bar that saw service for the past several years. Pete has turned out a swell job of interior decorating in two-tone blue and silver, lending an atmosphere of swankiness to the new tap room.

His modernistic back-bar and blue and silver chrome furnishings make for an attractive setting for the newly decorated tavern. Pete is proud of his fine stock of wine, liquors and premier beer, which will be served direct from the keg via the Kooler-keg system. He announced that luncheon will be served daily from 12 to 2 p.m. and that the new blue room will specialize in sea food and sandwiches.

Pete will be assisted behind the bar by the well-known, genial Bill Brady.

THIEVES GET CIGS, OVERLOOK MONEY

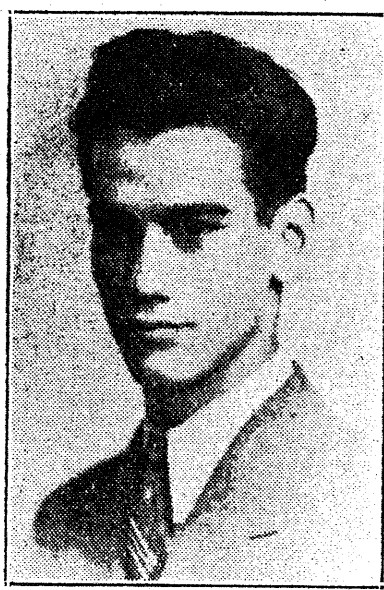

Eddie's Meat Market Robbed Of Cigarettes, Money Safe

Thieves early Tuesday morning broke into Eddie's Meat Market, 499 Washington avenue, stealing four cartons of cigarettes and about a dollar and twenty cents in cash. Local police are of the opinion the break was the work of youngsters or inexperienced persons, as they carelessly missed about $53 secreted in other sections of the store.

Edward Sadlock, proprietor of the store, stated that the culprits entered the store by prying loose a rear screen and entering through the stockroom. The money, $18 in bills and about $35 worth of silver in an old can, was secreted in two hiding places in the front of the store. Nervousness probably caused the thieves to give the place a careless going over in their haste to finish the job and be on their way.

If the guilty party or parties are unfortunate enough to read this item, let it be a lesson to them. Crime Does Not Pay!

St. Peter's Excursion Plans Are Completed

Fifth Annual Boat Ride Will Be A Success, Reports Show

Latest reports from the various committees on arrangements for the fifth annual outing of St. Peter's Church, show that the affair will again be a tremendous success. According to the committee on tickets, many requests have been received this week and the total number of sales to date far outnumber the amount for the same period last season.

The excursion will again visit and spend the day at Rcton Point Park, Conn. The fine bathing facilities and numerous forms of amusements at this Long Island Sound resort proved so popular last summer that the committees in charge again voted for this site. Many of those who attended last year have already made reservations for the sail. And, numerous "first-trippers" are anxiously awaiting the arrival of Thursday, August 24, to enjoy the trip in store for them at this beautiful park.

Many businessmen and prominent citizens have purchased blocks of tickets in order that many who would ordinarily be unable to attend, may do so. Buses chartered for the occasion will leave the church on ten-minute intervals between 7:45 and 8:30. Tickets for the round trip to and from Port Newark must be obtained in advance.

The Steamer "City of New York," which has been chartered, will leave Port Newark wharf, Newark, at 9 a.m. sharp. There will not be any charge for children up to five years old. While the boat, which has been chartered, is much larger than any in previous years, accommodations are limited. Tickets may be had from Mrs. Thomas McNair at Belleville 2-3209-J.

Special music has been engaged for dancing for the young folks and for the amusement of everyone. An excellent program, including group singing by the young people also has been arranged.

COMMISSION ISSUES NEW BONDS

Will Complete Improvement Of Cortlandt Street; Meeting Short

With no arguments or lengthy discussions to mar or delay the proceedings, the Town Commission, Tuesday night, breezed through its regular bi-weekly meeting in less than an hour. Only routine business came before the board and only one of the eleven citizens present took opportunity to address the group.

The Commissioners authorized the issuance of a total of $7,700.00 in Bond Anticipation Notes, to take care of various general improvements to be made in the new Mill street, old Mill street and North Sixth street section, in connection with the development and rearrangement of that section. Embodied in five ordinances, the improvements provided for the laying of sanitary sewer pipe, additional water pipe line, storm sewer, retaining wall and grading; all in the same section.

The above five ordinances passed the group on first reading. They will be presented for second and third reading two weeks hence. Commissioner Patrick Waters, sponsor of the ordinances was absent on vacation. Matthew Sheehan, town engineer, represented the director at the meeting.

Fix Cortlandt Street

An ordinance providing an additional $900.00 for the improvement of Cortlandt street from Mill street to Little street, excepting that section between Belleville avenue and Joralemon street, passed second and third readings. It was introduced to the board for first reading, July 26.

Objects To Wall

Claiming the Newark Housing Authority was planning to erect a wall along the Newark-Silver Lake line, isolating that section around Newark and Naples avenues and endangering property values in connection with the vacating of several streets in connection with a low cost housing project, Herbert H. Fost, Newark attorney objected on behalf of several citizens in that section.

The matter was referred to the town's legal department for investigation with the possibility of a protest being lodged either with the Newark Housing Authority or the Newark Board of Commissioners. Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan will handle the matter and report to the groups at a later date.

Rebates

A total of $82.80 in veterans tax exemptions was returned to three tax payers. Those receiving the rebates are: John F. Flynn, 44 Clinton street, Ralph DeGuerico, 46-48 Franklin street and Theodore P. Voelter, 374 Union avenue.

Seventeen alarms were answered by the fire department during the month of July, according to the monthly report submitted to the board at this meeting. This total was split into ten telephone calls and seven box alarms, five of which were false. The town ambulance answered 39 calls for the month, seven of which were accident cases.

TAVERN NOISE AGAIN WORRIES JEWELER

Board Appoints Two Special Police For School Work

From all appearances, the Greaves-Stevenson controversy will be with us for some time to come. The Board of Commissioners, Tuesday night again received a communication from the Greaves family, 172 Washington avenue, stating that Peter K. Stevenson, owner of Stevenson's Bar and Grill, 170 Washington avenue, was violating the conditions of his recently renewed license.

This controversy has been raging off and on over a period of more than a year, with the Greaves family the complainants. Despite several conferences and lengthy discussions on the matter, it seems the local board has not heard the last of this case. The letter, signed for the family by Thomas Greaves, Jr., listed three specific infractions of the rules on the first three nights the tavern was open.

It claimed Stevenson violated the conditions of his license on his opening night, last Friday, by having a static machine playing as late as two-thirty in the morning and he was not closed at three in the morning, as the law called for.

The second complaint stated that on Saturday night, August 5, the music was going as late as 2:45 a.m., Sunday, and that an officer was compelled to order the lights out and the place closed, at 3:05, five minutes after closing time, Sunday morning. This order, it further claimed, was not carried out until several minutes after the warning.

Complaint number three, covering the third night the tavern was open, stated that music was playing in the tavern after the midnight time limit set on the grill by the terms of its renewal.

The complaints were referred to Mayor Williams as chairman of the Essex Board, by director of public safety William D. Clark. The mayor will personally look into the matter and attempt to get Stevenson's version of the charges before taking action.

Special Police

The board appointed two special police officers to act only in connection with Board of Education business. They are: John Fullerton, 126 Belmont avenue and John Hunt, 162 Belmont avenue, both school janitors. The appointments carry no salary and state that these men will in no way be entitled to emure, pension or other benefits permitted to members of the regular police force.

Bond Anticipation Notes

for general improvements, totaling $75,000.00 were renewed on order of the board.

HYGIENE NURSES MAKE MANY VISITS

Berry also reported the attendance at the Baby-Keep-Well station, located in the town hall, stood at 109 babies under a year old and twenty-seven children of pre-school age for the month. No contagious diseases were discovered in these cases.

The nurses visited and attended 148 expectant mothers during the course of the month. They tended 299 babies less than a year old, 238 children between the ages of one and six years old and 312 school children.

THOUGHTS while strolling: Wonder why the taxi people don't do something about flat rates to the suburbs? ... Seems to me they might after their revenues by giving the customers a bit of a bargain on long pulls such as Caldwell. ... Now if the cabbies would forget the meter and offer a regular amount to points like the Oranges, Bloomfield, Nutley, etc., there would be these always-in-a-hurry folks (or a little late-for-dinner folks) who would rejoice in a fast-service taxi ride and would be willing to pay a fair amount for the accommodation. ... The present rate to Caldwell from Newark, for instance, is far too high for the average man to make a practice of taxiing up there, but, if the companies would only fix a profit-making rate that wouldn't be too breath-taking then business would bristle and the late customers in the cocktail lounges might reach the family dinner table before the lamb chops shrivel and curl!!!

IT is getting to be quite the thing to make a stop at the Alderney Milk Barn on Route 10. Thousands of local people have visited it, and hundreds and hundreds of folks from other States, too. Compliments have been many and the Alderney officials, quite naturally, are pleased, no end. After all, the Milk Barn is an Alderney achievement, and people talking favorably about it is the best form of advertising. So let us add our compliments to the Alderney chiefs who conceived the Milk Barn idea, and to the Alderney architects who did such a swell job of it.

ALSO out Route 10 way at the Livingston traffic circle is another popular spot of another sort — Charlie English's Circle Garden — a spot with a bit of the Continental atmosphere with its sidewalk cafe, brightly-colored table umbrellas, and soft-lighted cocktail lounge. And some time when you're there have Benny Fairbanks play "I'll Follow My Secret Heart" for you — or, better, still, have him play your own favorite number. A popular spot, with popular Mr. English and popular Mr. Fairbanks ready to grant your any desire!

SPEAKING of transportation as we did on the top of the column, have you ever made the delightful trip from Newark to Caldwell via De Camp bus? Here is a trip that gives you some idea of the rural beauties of Essex County, besides a cool, comfortable ride, for the buses are all virtually new. And, of course, the bigger buses to Manhattan are really THE THING when making a trip to mid-town New York.

ASIDE, to Robert E. Baxter: Mr. Lena Harris, superintendent of Alderney Dairy's Brooklawn Farm, is in charge of the Alderney Milk Barn. H. R. Wester: Both the cocktail lounge and the coffee shop at the Robert Treat are air-conditioned. Ann Carlin: You are thinking of Eddie Clifford and his orchestra at The Condon.

COLOR IS INDEX TO VITAMIN CONTENT

Each year more and more gardeners are selecting vegetable crops especially for their value as sources of health-giving vitamins. Many gardeners are unaware, however, that the color of vegetables is often a reliable index to their vitamin content. Vegetables with deep, intense color have greater vitamin content than those that are pale and colorless, according to experts.

CASUALTY CO. LISTS FOUR DANGER PERIODS OF MAN

Lists Causes Of Accidents Throughout Average Life Span

Special to Belleville News:

Chicago — Analysis of the 12,500 pedestrian fatalities and 275,000 pedestrian injuries caused by automobiles in 1938 brings out a counterpart of Shakespeare's "Seven Ages of Man," according to a report issued today by the Lumbermen Mutual Casualty Company of Chicago.

There are "four ages of pedestrians." Each has its typical dangers.

First is childhood, intent on play, inattentive to passing vehicles. Children accounted for 2,250 of the pedestrian fatalities. Second, youth, inclined to "show off" and take chances. More than 750 young persons between the ages of fifteen and twenty-four died on the streets last year.

Third, middle age, concentrating on affairs, sometimes forgetful of hazards. Because there are more people in this age group it accounts for the largest number of those on foot who were killed by automobiles — 5,950.

Fourth, old age, with diminished sight and hearing, with slower motions and reactions. In the group over sixty-four years of age there were 3,550 pedestrian fatalities during 1938.

Per 100,000 of our population in each age group, seven children, four youths, nine middle-aged persons and twenty-one elderly people were killed.

"The pedestrian of every age must be reminded of its particular perils," concludes James S. Kemper, president of Lumbermen, "and the motorist must remember not to take any pedestrian's actions for granted." Posters dealing with the dangers faced by pedestrians have been developed by Lumbermen's Automobile Safety Committee and distributed to civic officials throughout the country.

Crossing the street against the light at intersections, inattention, and crossing the street between intersections, particularly from behind parked cars, are the great mistakes for which thousands of pedestrians pay with their lives.

Rotarians Report Own Meeting

The following article, is a verbatim report of the regular meeting of the Belleville Rotary Club, held at the Forest Hill Field Club, Wednesday. We are printing the report as it appeared in the Rotary "Megaphone," weekly member publication of the local organization, in the belief it will be of interest to local residents.

The publication, printed to cover each weekly meeting of the group, is edited by William Sweeney and Wayne R. Parmer, secretary and Megaphone reporter. Here it is!

Meeting Wednesday, August 2, 1939 Vol. 2 No. 382: Program: — Following today's meeting a golf tournament was held. What it lacked in numbers was offset by the enthusiasm and fun.

Bill Brooks, in complete golf regalia and with consummate perspicacity, succeeded in rounding up a goodly number of the boys for this tournament. All of the boys had golf form — some bad, some worse. No golf magazine representative was present to record for posterity the style, rhythm and "follow through" of any of our players. Perhaps that's just as well. Why burden posterity with any further woes?

The scoring was a sort of fast and loose affair, but after much subtle and sometimes violent maneuvering, it was reluctantly agreed that Willard Sawyer posted the low net score, Ed Yerg the low gross score and that the kicker's prize belonged to Cliff

Smith. To the already great load of golf obloquy some of our members carry, an additional burden was added by reason of conversation, not always elegant, when boys were putting and other improprieties usually present at duffers' golf games. This tournament should be repeated some time in the Fall, following vacations, when a greater number can participate.

Next week: — "Esso Market-eers," Talking Moving Picture, "News in the Air." The dramatic suddenness with which history-making News can happen and the rate at which news is disseminated, is sure to provide a period of interest, information and entertainment.

"Pot-Pourri": — Phil Dettelbach's "even tens" were symphonies of hooks, slices and out-of-bounds. The sinking of a two-foot putt was considered master golfing, shorter putts were conceded. Frank Chambers welcomed six visiting Rotarians and guests. Alec Berne "no show up." Bill Brooks refused to lead the singing without the piano accompaniment, apparently endeavoring to save his voice for hollering on the golf course — and this he did expertly. Anyhow, it was an ideal party and this event should be repeated because many fellows who desired to participate were unavoidably prevented from doing so. So long for this time. Ever thine.

Unemployment Bureau Makes Monthly Report

The Unemployment Compensation Commission announced today that 1,473 persons, including 396 men and 1,079 women, were placed in employment during the month of July through the Newark Office of the New Jersey State Employment Service Division. This announcement was made by W. W. Lawrence, manager of the local office, 309 Washington street, Newark.

In presenting the report of activity for the month of July, Mr. Lawrence pointed out that private employers hired 1,442 applicants, or 97.7 per cent of the total. Men received 363 private jobs, and 1,079 women were given jobs in private employment. Of the 33 jobs in public employment, twenty-one of the placements were on public construction projects at prevailing wages, under PWA grants. The report for the Newark office reflects a 2.5 per cent increase in jobs filled with private employers over corresponding placements in the month of June.

The following is an example of the type of positions filled for employers: Male — steeple jack, timber scouts, pharmacist, tractor operator, boiler maker, woodworker, crane operator, and office manager. Female — stenographers, winding machine operators, electrical goods inspectors, bookkeepers, beauticians, and bath plaster.

Mr. Lawrence emphasized that the local office of the New Jersey State Employment Service Division is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to receive orders for help from employers or to serve workers by receiving applications for employment or claims for unemployment compensation benefits.

There is no charge for any service to either employer or worker, Mr. Lawrence said.

Dr. Cecil Gates Aids Kearny Police

Kearny police this week had to call on Dr. Cecil L. Gates, veterinarian, 10 Washington avenue, to aid them in the removal of a pet chow dog from the feet of its dead mistress.

"Toki," the chow, was a loyal pet for many years of the late Mrs. Lillian Bauer, aged widow, 102 Linden avenue, Kearny.

When Mrs. Bauer passed away in her sleep, Sunday night, Toki placed himself at her feet and stood guard until police, called by a neighbor, forced an entrance to the house. Sensing something was amiss, the faithful animal would not permit police or anyone else to approach the body. It was then someone thought to call the local veterinarian. Dr. Gates, who had treated the dog for a tumor of the leg sometime ago, arrived and was greeted with happy barks and a wagging tail by the watchful pet.

Dr. Gates took the animal to his kennels, located in the rear of his animal hospital at the Washington avenue address.

Rosicrucians To Seek "Philosopher's Stone"

The ancient alchemical search for the "chemical marriage" of the elements and forces of the Universe, will be resumed by Rosicrucian Scientists in modern laboratories. Catherine Calichio, R. N., 500 Joralemon street, local member of the Rosicrucian Order, A.M.O.R.C., has received a communication from the grand lodge of the ancient Philosophic order, to the effect that the prejudices which have existed toward the veiled writings of the alchemists will be put aside and a serious attempt made to prove their contentions in fully equipped laboratories, using the facilities of modern science.

It is further claimed that the "Philosopher's Stone" was but a popular term used by the alchemists for a "prima materia," an energy out of which it was said all matter evolved; even the lower forms of life. The transmutation of one form of matter into another was thought possible in past centuries by the discovery of the "prima materia" and controlling of its development. Modern physics has proven transmutation possible, but has heretofore scorned the belief in a universal, an element or force which binds together into a complete unit, living and inorganic matter. It is the hope of the order to vindicate the ancient alchemists who were often persecuted and executed for their bold beliefs.

WEEK-END DUTY
Motorists starting out for happy pleasure over this week-end have an extremely important duty. It is imperative that lighted articles, such as cigars, cigarettes and matches, be not dropped on the roadside. The woodlands are ready to spring into flames because of the many days of dry weather. A great deal of fallen timberland, now thoroughly dried out, is lying in the woodlands of New Jersey, not so far from Belleville, and experts are fearful of a great catastrophe if a forest fire of any major proportion should get under way. A little thoughtfulness and such a catastrophe can be averted.

HIGH-SALARIED COMMISSIONERS
At the end of 1938 New Jersey's state government included approximately 175 boards, bureaus, commissions and agencies. These range all the way from commissions with special, limited duties, such as the Good Will Commission, to large, complex departments such as the State Highway Department.
The many departments are managed in several ways. Some of them, for example, are directed by non-salaried board members who serve as a public duty. Other boards are directed by state officials connected with some other branch of the state government.
Many of the boards, however, are made up of highly paid commissioners. A study by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, of salaries paid to state commissioners and board members reveals that these salaries combine to make a staggering total.
Picking a few at random, we find a board of six members, each receiving $12,000 annually; another of four members, each receiving $4,500 annually, with a commissioner receiving $10,000 annually; another of five members, each receiving $7,500 annually; still another of five members, each receiving $7,000 annually, and a commissioner receiving $15,000 annually. Many of these have salaried secretaries and assistants who likewise receive liberal compensation.
Now plans are being considered for another commission to be added to the already long list of state units. Proposed plans to regulate race tracks and pari-mutuel betting, framed by a special legislative committee, bring an emphatic reminder of the ease with which expensive bureaucracies can be built up. They provide for a four-member commission, each to receive $7,500 annually. Added to these would be the salaries of a secretary-treasurer, possible assistants and other staff members.
Many observers are questioning the necessity of continuing to pay commission members the high salaries they now receive, since there is little to justify the present liberal compensation. Certainly salaries are not warranted unless members devote full time to their jobs. The duties of board members are comparable to those of directors of banks and industries who as a rule receive fees of $10, $15 or $20 to attend meetings, and the manager is paid the salary.

Large potential savings would result from an adjustment of commission members' pay to a per diem basis. New Jersey might well consider a recent enactment in the State of Tennessee, that discontinued the payment of salaries to members of the State Civil Service Commission and substituted the payment of $15 per diem while in attendance, and further provided that no member shall receive more than $500 in any one year.

LOCAL TAX COLLECTIONS
Efficient control of tax collections by municipalities is of extreme importance to taxpayers. Needless to say, if tax payments are delinquent, or if collections are handled incompetently or dishonestly, the taxpaying public is compelled to assume a greater burden.
Reports published recently about irregularities in the collection of local taxes and alleged embezzlements by tax collectors in New Jersey municipalities have caused many people to wonder how it is possible for collectors to get away with such brazen offenses before they are caught. In the opinion of one well-known state official: "If a state deliberately set out to make laws which would make it easy for a collector to steal money, they could not do a better job than New Jersey has done."
A check-up by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association of the facts about a recent case of alleged embezzlement brings to light the astonishing ease with which a collector can fleece a municipality of thousands of dollars by clever manipulation of his funds.
In the municipality involved, it was the practice to have the books audited once each year, authorized by a municipal resolution. The tax collector, who was short in his accounts, was the man who drew up the resolution, and consequently, was kept informed as to the approximate time his books would be inspected. Forewarned, he would go to the bank and borrow enough funds to cover his shortage. After the audit was completed, he would repay his loan by taking more money from his tax collections.
Finally his operations were exposed when it was reported to officials that he was gambling and losing up to $1,000 in a single night, although he was paid a salary of $2,300 a year. An unannounced audit caught him unprepared and unable to borrow money to cover his thefts. It was found then that he had stolen practically all his receipts since the previous audit.
Part two of the report of the New Jersey Commission on Tax Revision, recently issued, makes several recommendations that are intended to bring about more effective control of tax collections. Among these are the following:
"After August 1, 1940, the tax collector in each municipality shall be appointed and not elected.
"That all tax collectors be compelled to furnish a corporate surety bond, to be paid for by the municipality, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties.
"That all real property upon which taxes are delinquent except where the amount of tax assessed against the property for the last delinquent year does not exceed twenty-five dollars, shall be sold by the tax collector in the year succeeding the date on which such taxes first become delinquent.
"Upon failure of the tax collector to comply with recommendations (to hold tax sales), the Commissioner of Local Government shall forthwith appoint a municipal accountant or other person to act in place of the tax collector and such appointee shall proceed immediately to conduct such tax sale and execute tax sale certificates.
"That the Local Government Board be empowered to remove any tax collector from office for dereliction of duty upon written charges after a fair and impartial hearing."
It is important to bear in mind that a tax sale is one of the best forms of tax verification.

VETERANS OF RELIEF
Colonel Somervell, WPA administrator in New York City, after going over the case histories of WPA workers prior to enforcing the thirty days layoff required by the law for those who have been eighteen months on the rolls, reports that, in the first batch of cases examined, he found many who are veterans of public aid.
He cited cases of men who had been steady on relief rolls for eight and nine years—from the start of the depression until the present.
It may be well that all these persons were truly in need of relief. But it is rather remarkable that they should have such continuous success in getting public aid with so many persons unable to get on the various rolls, though deserving.

THIRTY YEARS
In 1909 the War Department authorized the purchase of a biplane for use by the army. Exercises throughout the country this year celebrated the event as the introduction of the airplane as part of our military equipment. In the history of the world thirty years is not a long time. It is almost infinitesimal.
In 1909 United States army biplane is a continuously-appearing craft today. Yet it is a runner of a branch of military flight into which the world's eyes are now pouring many millions in three years—the most imaginative and foresighted could not tell what would develop from that biplane.

One Man's Work
Above is picture of the "Angus" built by James Watson, 572 Washington avenue, in his spare time over a period of three years. Mr. Watson, a former sailor, constructed the 27-foot craft without outside aid. Although not yet christened, the cruiser will be named the "Angus," when the ceremony takes place in the near future.

Snoop's Snoops
During the past weekend we stopped in the upper part of Division avenue and were surprised to see that the tennis courts formerly used by the Belleville Tennis Club were no longer in use. In fact, two houses had been constructed upon the court. With the closing of these courts and the closing of the Board of Education courts in Union avenue, we were wondering what the tennis players in town were using for courts these days.
It seems a shame there are no courts available and that the youngsters do not have a place to use. Belleville has always had a fairly good supply of tennis players, some of whom could be considered of top rank. We are not sure, but perhaps it is planned to build some courts in the new athletic field being constructed on the "bog." If not, we hope that arrangements can be made to include at least half a dozen tennis courts.

It certainly looked like old times Sunday when the Nereid Boat Club held its regatta on the river. The banks of the river from the Rutgers street bridge to the Nereid Clubhouse were lined solid with people. There hasn't been such a crowd at any regatta held by the Nereid since the National Canoe Championship meet was held in conjunction with the Active-Nereid regatta in 1928. It is too bad that the Nereid will not have another regatta on the Passaic this year.

Senator Homer Zink was very much in evidence Sunday, rooting for his two sons, both crack armers of the Nereid. Homer, Jr. was unfortunate in being forced to race against the national champion, but he made a good try at that. Darrell Zink was more successful. He and his partner, Al Walker, won their race with quite a little to spare.

We observed two former Belleville residents at the regatta, both not only interested but still active in the rowing game. We mean Schuyler "Cap" Webster, one of Nereid's first oarsmen and a member of the club for almost fifty years, and "Lev" Brett, former oarsman and coach of the Nereid crew.

Conspicuous by his absence at the last few Rotary Club meetings was the Rev. Peter Deekenbach, who is vacationing at LaVallette. Pete has earned a well-deserved rest after being relieved of his duties as District Deputy of Rotary.

Congratulations are in order for John Burke, who has recently celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary. John certainly does not show his age. He is as spry and active as he was the first day we met him.

Commissioner Joseph King seems to be happy again. On inquiry we found that his genial, ever-smiling right hand man, George Haslam has returned from his vacation at Manasquan.

Missing at the Lions Club meeting last Thursday were Norman D. "Shorty" Lauterette, traffic manager of the National Grain and Seed Corp., and Luther E. Van Pelt, cashier of the Peoples National Bank & Trust Company. Upon inquiry we found that both of these Lions were vacationing. We have been unable to find their address, but trust they are having a good time.

James Watson Former Sailor Constructs Craft Over Three Year Period
Friends today are congratulating James Watson, forty, 572 Washington avenue, upon completion of a twenty-seven foot cabin cruiser, built entirely without aid over a three-year period. Mr. Watson, a painter by trade, built the boat in his yard, during the time he and his family resided at 131 Main street. The boat was launched about ten days ago and is now anchored off the Newark Boat Company, just below the North Newark line.
Mr. Watson, an American citizen, is a Scotsman by birth, having been born in Dundee, Scotland. Although not a ship builder, he has followed the sea for many years. He was an able bodied seaman in the British Merchant Marine and served the Crown in the Navy during the war. Since coming to this country he has also served in the United States Army. During his service with the Merchant Marine, he worked on various passenger liners and travelled the world over.
Mr. Watson received plans for the boat from J. G. Hanna, Dundee, Scotland. He followed the plans and completed the entire boat on his own, even to the installation of the Palmer marine motor, which is a two horsepower affair. He plans later to outfit the boat with a sail, thus giving himself a dual powered craft.
He is married and has two children, a boy, James Jr., nine, and a girl, Margaret, six years old. He has lived in Belleville for the past nine years, during which time he has been employed by the Eleventh Ward Building and Loan, Newark.

EUGENE T. BERRY REPORTS DECLINE IN S. FEVER
Increase In Whooping Cough And Tuberculosis Over Previous Month
Eugene T. Berry, local health officer, in his regular monthly report to the Board of Commissioners, Tuesday night, informed the board that there has been a decided decline in the number of Scarlet Fever cases in town during the month of July. The report shows the presence of but one case of scarlet fever, over eight cases for the month of June.
There was an increase in Whooping Cough cases, for July, however, with twenty-five cases reported as compared with thirteen for the previous month. Tuberculosis also showed a definite increase for the month past, there being eight patients in town compared with but one case during June.
The report further stated that forty-two stray dogs were picked up in July, with but one being claimed by the owner. There were seven complaints of residents being bitten by dogs in the past month. All animals were held for observation by the department, none showing any signs of being rabid.
The number of communicable and reportable diseases reported for July is as follows: Whooping Cough, 25; Scarlet Fever, 1; Chicken Pox, 2; Lobar Pneumonia, 1; Pulmonary Tuberculosis, 8; and Syphilis, 1.
Five licenses were issued during July for the handling of milk, two for ice and one each for plumber, chicken market and ice dock.

Second Valley Dance A Success; Plan Third Affair
The second Valley block dance, held a week ago at Stephen and Little streets, was a successful affair, according to reports by David Lamb and Committeemen Mrs. Elsie Lundy, Mrs. Hazel Breen and Mrs. Bessie Gray. About 400 people attended and the committee has decided to hold an amateur contest preceding the third block dance, to be held Wednesday night, August 23.
Any Valley child desiring to enter the amateur contest should register with David Lamb or committee women.
The contest will start at 7:30 and dancing will start at 8:30. Addresses of committee members are as follows: David Lamb, 88 Holmes street; Mrs. E. Lundy, 384 Stephens street; Mrs. Bessie Gray, 345 Stephens street, and Mrs. Hazel Breen, 380 Stephens street.

Marriages Up; Births Down
Young Dan Cupid had the edge on Mr. Stork in town during the month of July. According to figures available at this time, "Danny Boy" captivated nineteen couples and walked them down the aisle. On the other hand, the count to date for the long legged bird with the Durantian plubiscis, accounted for but six newcomers within the town's portals.
Figures are not complete on births, as the above figure only covers those babies born within the confines of the town. Those newly-arrived Bellevilleites, born in Newark and other out of town hospitals, during the month have not been listed as yet with Eugene M. Gavey, our genial keeper of statistics.

Local Man, 70, Jumps Into Passaic River
Robert Munroe, 70, of 73 Prospect place, was rescued from the Passaic River Sunday after he jumped from the Rutgers street bridge in what police said was a suicide attempt.
Police said Munroe jumped from the bridge on the Main street side when the river was low. He landed in the mud and then began to wade in to the river.
Joseph Powell, 789 Mt. Prospect avenue, Newark, who saw Munroe jump, notified attendants of the bridge who took the man from the water. He was taken to police headquarters in the patrol wagon and treated for bruises. He is being held for investigation.

Mrs. Charlotte Downey Dies In Hospital
Mrs. Charlotte Oese Downey, sixty-three, wife of Edward J. Downey, 197 Stephens street, died last Wednesday at St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, following eight months' illness. Mrs. Downey was injured in an automobile accident several months ago and had not been well since that time.

Cut-Rate Drug Store, 120 Washington avenue, is a staunch advocate of advertising in your local newspaper. Coming to Belleville in 1928, Mr. Karlin took over the former John N. Klein Clover Pharmacy, oldest in town. Since that time he opened another store at 531 Washington avenue, which he recently turned over to a former employee.
Mr. Karlin believes that his constant advertising in local newspapers has contributed greatly to his success as a pharmacist and tradesman. He is of the opinion that his weekly advertising in The News has had a large part in the development of his present volume of business and exceptionally well-stocked store, located just south of Belleville avenue.

Asks Protection
As a follower of softball at Terry Field and an ardent fan all the time, I think it's about time something should be done about protection, following the riotous affair between the Crowns and West End Clubs.
I blame neither team's players, but object to the teams' rosters' actions and fist fights before and after the umpire's decisions.
For fans to start fights right on the field and pick up bats for weapons is going too far and police protection should be on hand. The umpire stopped the play six or seven times to chase the crowd back off the side lines.
Why not run these affairs in an orderly manner and give the fans who are interested in the league a chance to see the games played in an orderly manner without interference from these so-called hot-heads who couldn't umpire if given the chance.

Mr. Watson, an American citizen, is a Scotsman by birth, having been born in Dundee, Scotland. Although not a ship builder, he has followed the sea for many years. He was an able bodied seaman in the British Merchant Marine and served the Crown in the Navy during the war. Since coming to this country he has also served in the United States Army. During his service with the Merchant Marine, he worked on various passenger liners and travelled the world over.
Mr. Watson received plans for the boat from J. G. Hanna, Dundee, Scotland. He followed the plans and completed the entire boat on his own, even to the installation of the Palmer marine motor, which is a two horsepower affair. He plans later to outfit the boat with a sail, thus giving himself a dual powered craft.
He is married and has two children, a boy, James Jr., nine, and a girl, Margaret, six years old. He has lived in Belleville for the past nine years, during which time he has been employed by the Eleventh Ward Building and Loan, Newark.

EUGENE T. BERRY REPORTS DECLINE IN S. FEVER
Increase In Whooping Cough And Tuberculosis Over Previous Month
Eugene T. Berry, local health officer, in his regular monthly report to the Board of Commissioners, Tuesday night, informed the board that there has been a decided decline in the number of Scarlet Fever cases in town during the month of July. The report shows the presence of but one case of scarlet fever, over eight cases for the month of June.
There was an increase in Whooping Cough cases, for July, however, with twenty-five cases reported as compared with thirteen for the previous month. Tuberculosis also showed a definite increase for the month past, there being eight patients in town compared with but one case during June.
The report further stated that forty-two stray dogs were picked up in July, with but one being claimed by the owner. There were seven complaints of residents being bitten by dogs in the past month. All animals were held for observation by the department, none showing any signs of being rabid.
The number of communicable and reportable diseases reported for July is as follows: Whooping Cough, 25; Scarlet Fever, 1; Chicken Pox, 2; Lobar Pneumonia, 1; Pulmonary Tuberculosis, 8; and Syphilis, 1.
Five licenses were issued during July for the handling of milk, two for ice and one each for plumber, chicken market and ice dock.

Second Valley Dance A Success; Plan Third Affair
The second Valley block dance, held a week ago at Stephen and Little streets, was a successful affair, according to reports by David Lamb and Committeemen Mrs. Elsie Lundy, Mrs. Hazel Breen and Mrs. Bessie Gray. About 400 people attended and the committee has decided to hold an amateur contest preceding the third block dance, to be held Wednesday night, August 23.
Any Valley child desiring to enter the amateur contest should register with David Lamb or committee women.
The contest will start at 7:30 and dancing will start at 8:30. Addresses of committee members are as follows: David Lamb, 88 Holmes street; Mrs. E. Lundy, 384 Stephens street; Mrs. Bessie Gray, 345 Stephens street, and Mrs. Hazel Breen, 380 Stephens street.

Marriages Up; Births Down
Young Dan Cupid had the edge on Mr. Stork in town during the month of July. According to figures available at this time, "Danny Boy" captivated nineteen couples and walked them down the aisle. On the other hand, the count to date for the long legged bird with the Durantian plubiscis, accounted for but six newcomers within the town's portals.
Figures are not complete on births, as the above figure only covers those babies born within the confines of the town. Those newly-arrived Bellevilleites, born in Newark and other out of town hospitals, during the month have not been listed as yet with Eugene M. Gavey, our genial keeper of statistics.

One Man's Work

Above is picture of the "Angus" built by James Watson, 572 Washington avenue, in his spare time over a period of three years. Mr. Watson, a former sailor, constructed the 27-foot craft without outside aid. Although not yet christened, the cruiser will be named the "Angus," when the ceremony takes place in the near future.

Snoop's Snoops

During the past weekend we stopped in the upper part of Division avenue and were surprised to see that the tennis courts formerly used by the Belleville Tennis Club were no longer in use. In fact, two houses had been constructed upon the court. With the closing of these courts and the closing of the Board of Education courts in Union avenue, we were wondering what the tennis players in town were using for courts these days.
It seems a shame there are no courts available and that the youngsters do not have a place to use. Belleville has always had a fairly good supply of tennis players, some of whom could be considered of top rank. We are not sure, but perhaps it is planned to build some courts in the new athletic field being constructed on the "bog." If not, we hope that arrangements can be made to include at least half a dozen tennis courts.

It certainly looked like old times Sunday when the Nereid Boat Club held its regatta on the river. The banks of the river from the Rutgers street bridge to the Nereid Clubhouse were lined solid with people. There hasn't been such a crowd at any regatta held by the Nereid since the National Canoe Championship meet was held in conjunction with the Active-Nereid regatta in 1928. It is too bad that the Nereid will not have another regatta on the Passaic this year.

Senator Homer Zink was very much in evidence Sunday, rooting for his two sons, both crack armers of the Nereid. Homer, Jr. was unfortunate in being forced to race against the national champion, but he made a good try at that. Darrell Zink was more successful. He and his partner, Al Walker, won their race with quite a little to spare.

We observed two former Belleville residents at the regatta, both not only interested but still active in the rowing game. We mean Schuyler "Cap" Webster, one of Nereid's first oarsmen and a member of the club for almost fifty years, and "Lev" Brett, former oarsman and coach of the Nereid crew.

Conspicuous by his absence at the last few Rotary Club meetings was the Rev. Peter Deekenbach, who is vacationing at LaVallette. Pete has earned a well-deserved rest after being relieved of his duties as District Deputy of Rotary.

Congratulations are in order for John Burke, who has recently celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary. John certainly does not show his age. He is as spry and active as he was the first day we met him.

Commissioner Joseph King seems to be happy again. On inquiry we found that his genial, ever-smiling right hand man, George Haslam has returned from his vacation at Manasquan.

Missing at the Lions Club meeting last Thursday were Norman D. "Shorty" Lauterette, traffic manager of the National Grain and Seed Corp., and Luther E. Van Pelt, cashier of the Peoples National Bank & Trust Company. Upon inquiry we found that both of these Lions were vacationing. We have been unable to find their address, but trust they are having a good time.

"Daughters Courageous" at Capitol

All the charm, all the humor, all the pathos, all the simple, human and folksy quality of last year's memorable "Four Daughters," have been recaptured by Warner Bros. in "Daughters Courageous," starring the same "Four Daughters," the Lane sisters and Gail Page, with John Garfield, Claude Rains, Donald Crisp, Fay Bainter and May Robson. The picture opens at the Capitol Belleville Sunday for three days. Claude Rains is again the father of the four girls, but this time they have a mother, too, in the person of Miss Bainter. Miss Robson is a faithful old servant. Garfield, Jeffrey Lynn, McHugh and Foran are again suitors of the girls. Crisp is a solid and respectable business man of considerable means who is a suitor of the girls' mother. Yes, she has been divorced from her father, for plenty of cause. On the eve of his former wife's marriage to her wealthy suitor, the errant ex-husband returns and throws the household into considerable turmoil. His daughters feel they should hate him, but he is such a charming fellow that they don't. The same warm glow of sentimental happiness, tinged with a little sadness is inherent in this picture which also abounds in bright and witty comedy. On the same program, adventure, romance and thrills make up "Tell No Tales" starring Melvyn Douglas, Louise Platt, Gene Lockhart.

FORMER BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL PLAYER COACHES LOCALS

Joe Lozier Mentor Of Crack Cardinal A. C. Ball Club

If anyone has been wondering at the exceptionally good brand of baseball displayed by the Cardinal A. C. these past few weeks, we have recently learned the cause of it. Joe Lozier, 401 Cortlandt street, businessman coach of the local nine, we find, was at one time in big league baseball.

We learned this week that Mr. Lozier is a former regular second baseman with the Baltimore Orioles, with which team he played during the seasons of 1921-22. Former Asbury Park High School and Lafayette College diamond star, Lozier went with the Baltimore team early in 1921 and stayed the full two seasons. Unfortunately, Joe, a diminutive lad, could not hit big league pitching and was forced out of the top brackets.

Joe at one time was also on the payroll of the New York Giants but stepped down, after several months in which he could not master the steam displayed by the various hurlers in that league. He later went with Asbury Park in the Atlantic League, where he remained until he gave up the sport in favor of business. While at Lafayette, Joe was coached and guided by the famous Fred Snodgrass, former big league player and coach of the Lafayette team at that time. It was Snodgrass who got Joe his chance in the big-time.

Mr. Lozier is married and has one child, Ronald J., Jr. He came here with his family from Long Island, about a year ago.

BIKE RACING MAKES BIG COMEBACK

Sunday night saw the successful return of bicycle racing to the Nutley Velodrome, when more than 4,000 fans witnessed exciting races by some of the finest riders in the business today. Manager Carmine Bilotti, former sports columnist for the News, was more than pleased with the turnout and predicts a return of the sport to its former glory in this section. Sunday night's card marked the first time since July 1927 that the steel steeds have rolled over the boards at the local saucer.

Although the "name" riders thrilled the crowd at this initial meet, local fans were more pleased with the showing of Angelo De Bacco, local pedal-pusher, who captured the five-mile pro point race, with a total of thirty-one points. Dannie Esposito, of Newark and John Eiler of Ridgewood tied for second round honors in the Senior Softball League.

Only cool heads prevented injuries, as many supporters of the defending team took to the field in the latter part of the game, waving bats and other instruments in an effort to come to the collective aid of their own supporters.

Disorderly conduct was prevented by the police, who kept the crowd in line. The game was a close one, with the home team winning the 25-mile paced event in 38:27.

Crowns Win As Fans Riot At Terry Field Tuesday

In the most riotous affair witnessed at Terry Field this year, the Crowns, Tuesday evening, defeated the West End Club in the eighth inning by a 4 to 3 score, to go into a tie for second round honors in the Senior Softball League.

Shown crossing the finish line ahead of the Ravenswood boat are: Ed Minion and Carl Hagert, Nereid oarsmen, who took the club double gig event in Sunday's regatta on the Passaic.

Nereid-Ravenswood Regatta On Passaic Draws 5,000

Local Club Drops Six Of Nine Events In Revival Of Rowing

For two hours last Sunday an old "greaser" named Father Time seemed to have turned back to the days of the Gay Nineties, converting an otherwise placid Passaic River into a colorful, racing stream — with shells skimming swiftly over its waters, banners flying from the Nereid clubhouse and a joyous crowd on the banks, lustily shouting words of encouragement to the straining oarsmen. The fact that the visiting Ravenswood Boat Club of Long Island defeated Nereid, sweeping six of the nine events in registering the victory, is, by this time, passe. But the fact that rowing can still be successfully promoted on the Passaic, as in the days when the river was the rowing center of the East, was the general impression left with many of the 5,000 persons who lined the banks of the river from the Belleville turnpike bridge to the Nereid clubhouse.

The Long Islander's with its premier oarsmen, Joe Angyal setting the pace, pushed off to an early start, winning four events while Nereid could only take one. Angyal, who is national 145-pound senior single shell king, had no easy sailing rowing against Homer Zink in the senior single shell, being pressed throughout the three-eighths-mile course. Near the finishing line however, he exhibited an astonishing last-minute "kick" and rode across in front in 1:40.

Angyal returned to competition later in the day and, rowing in stroke position, paced his teammates to victory in the senior quadruple shell. The time was 1:30. At the finish of this race, Ravenswood was a boat length ahead of the Nereid shell manned by Bill Bennett, Les Burnley, Andy McMaster and Gerard Rhodes.

After Ken Hoehn, rowing for the visitors, beat Gunther Meder in the novice single gig, an unfortunate mishap deprived Nereid of victory in the event which followed the club double gig. With Carl Hagert and Ed Minion seemingly sure of a triumph, leading their opponents practically all the way, the Belleville scullers suddenly lost control of their oars. John Van Hulse and Otto Jadamousky capitalized on the accident, and shot across in the lead by a scant four feet.

Hagert and Minion returned later and copped the novice double gig with ease. In the Junior single gig Howard McMaster, substituting for George Paganelli, rode home a length and a half ahead of his rival, Paul Sayevich, in 2:00.

The intermediate double gig was a thriller, with the Nereid duo, Alfred Walker and Darrell Zink, skimming across first. It was a nip-and-tuck battle, with the Ravenswood club on even terms most of the race. Near the finish, Walker and Zink, who are metropolitan junior 145-pound doubles champs, were strongest and won by a boat length. Warren Everson encountered unexpected competition in the club single gig, bowing to Gene Sonntag of the winners.

WOODSIDES TRAVEL

The Woodside A. C. will travel up the Hudson this Sunday, to play a return engagement with the Ossining B. C. C. at Ossining, N. Y.

Despite three double plays and a triple, the locals were bested in the first encounter, 9 to 8, early in June. Coach Andy Ambrose has selected "Sonny" Ryan for mound duty, with the veteran speedball exponent Johnnie Woods. "Ace" Chalmers will be used in reserve. Either Les O'Reilly or Ray Gregory will be on the receiving end.

Little Johnny Ritter After Mel Hansen's Scalp On Nutley Track

Diminutive Driver Out To Break "Jinx," Will Use New High-Speed Motor

Boiling mad through every inch of his small stature, diminutive Johnny Ritter has launched a quest for a new hot motor which he intends to harness to victory in his private war with Mel Hansen, the Los Angeles star who has been beating him across the finish line with too much regularity to suit the Detroit ace.

On Saturday and Wednesday nights at the Nutley Velodrome board speedway, Ritter will step into these next two races prepared to turn the tables.

Also scheduled to compete in the meets Saturday and Wednesday nights are listed the leading "A" drivers who will be bidding for further honors in the midget auto racing competition on these banked Velodrome boards.

The programs will start at 8:30 o'clock with the qualifying trials being presented at that time, followed by the elimination heats, semi-final and consolation races, and the main event set for thirty-five laps.

Cardinals Win Two

The Cardinal A. C. returned home last weekend with their first double win of the season. On Saturday they traveled to Livingston to score a 9-7 triumph, while Sunday they took the measure of the Roseland A. C., 8-3.

After a bad first two innings at Livingston, Richards settled down and held the opponents in check throughout the game. The Cardinals, after five innings of hand given him by race followers, is anxious to make good. And he is so determined to click off a string of triumphs with which he can score sweet revenge over Hansen that he plans to put a new lightning-fast engine under the hood of his machine. He feels that given that mechanical assistance, he can lick the Pacific sensation.

Ritter is burned to a crisp over the way Hansen has been licking him and to make the reaction rankle even more, the fates have seen to it that whenever Ritter finishes up in the money, the Westerner is ahead of him in crossing the finish line. Tired of that far, the Detroit mite will step into these next two races prepared to turn the tables.

Doris Kopsky Still The Queen Of Nation's Girl Bike Racers

State Champ Defended Her Title Against Expert Field Last Sunday

Doris Kopsky, Belleville's "Queen Of The Wheels," successfully opened defense of her state women's crown, yesterday, at the State Amateur road bike championship meets, Brookdale Park, Bloomfield. The meet was sponsored by the Amateur Bicycle League of America. In winning this race, Doris also up-held the family honor, as she defeated Mildred Kugler, daughter of Frank Kugler, old-time bike rider, who it seems, is a friendly enemy of Joe Kopsky, Doris' father; also an old-timer in the game.

From all reports, Kugler and Kopsky were hotter than the recent weather as the girls took their places at the start of the race. Kugler, it is claimed was all confidence that the local Miss would relinquish her state women's crown to his daughter. On the other hand, Kopsky was just as sure his pride and joy would win with ease. Events proved the local man had a real champion in his daughter, as she romped home over the two-mile course in 5:58. The Kugler lass placed second with Theresa Gormley bringing up in the rear.

In the second senior men's race, a five-mile scratch event, Joe De Bacco also of Belleville, placed fourth. Stanley Saarloos received a second and a third in the two junior races. "Slug" Bryan and Frank Messerindine lost out via the crash route while both were in a contending position in the first sprint of the ten mile race.

Summaries:

Senior Five mile open: Won by Furman Kugler, Plainfield Wheelmen; second, Charles Logan, Alpine Wheelmen; third, Allan Gormley, unattached; fourth, Joe DeBacco, Belleville Bicycle Club. Time: 15 minutes 13 seconds.
