War Keeps Local Instructor Away On Opening Of School

Miss Indra Bryant, Music Teacher, Is Delayed "Somewhere At Sea"

Belleville's schools opened yesterday, with more than 5,600 children in attendance. Of this number, approximately 1,700 are registered at the high school, with many more expected within a week, as delayed vacationists return from shore and mountain. Of the entire teaching staff of the town's system, only one, Indra Bryant, supervisor of music in the grade schools, was delayed in returning from Europe due to present war activities. Miss Bryant is at present en route home on an unknown liner and is expected to arrive tomorrow. She had been attending classes at a conservatory of music outside of Paris. Preceding the opening of school, the entire teaching and official staffs of the town attended organization meetings at School No. 8, Tuesday. The various principals met with Wayne R. Parmer, school superintendent, at 10 a.m., and the teachers met with their respective principals at 11 a.m. in the auditorium of School No. 8. Following the meetings, the group attended a luncheon in the high school cafeteria, at which members of the Board of Education were guests. Hebert C. Schmutz, board president, addressed the group. Ruel E. Daniels, clerk of the board, stated that all school supplies and equipment were at the various buildings and full class supplies are on hand for the coming term. Complete schedules for classes at the high school will be arranged within a day or so. Mr. Parmer spent practically all day yesterday interviewing parents of prospective pupils at his office in School No. 8. He stated that all principals were to report their full registration to him late yesterday afternoon and that a complete official registration figure would be issued at a later date.

Belleville Jewry Prepares Observance Of Year 5,700

High Holyday Services Will Start On Wednesday At Sundown

Belleville Jewry, in consonance with their co-religionists all over the world, will mark the observance of the New Year 5700, commencing Wednesday night at sundown and continuing Thursday and Friday, September 14 and 15. Rosh Hashonah, the Hebrew name of the holiday, literally means "the head of the year." It is celebrated on the first and second days of the Jewish month Tishre. The day marks the anniversary of the creation of the world, which, according to tradition occurred 5700 years ago. Rosh Hashonah inaugurates the Ten Days of Penitence, "Aseres Y'me Teshuvah," the most solemn season in the Jewish calendar, which has been set aside for introspection and self-examination by every individual Jew. Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, which ends this period falls on Saturday, September 23. In the Bible, the Holyday is referred to as the Day of the Blowing of the Shofar, "Yom Teruah," the Day of Remembrance, "Yom Hazikaron," and the Memorial of the Blowing of the Rams' Horn, "Zichron Teruah." It is also considered as the Day of Judgment, "Yom Hadin" when all mankind is to be judged by the Creator, and the fate of each individual is to be inscribed in the Books of Life. The High Holydays, or the "Yomin Noraim," as they are known in Hebrew, differ from other Jewish festivals in that they are neither historical or agricultural in origin. They concern the Jew primarily as an individual rather than as a member of a group, and are therefore universal in character. Their observance is characterized by a feeling of solemnity. Jews everywhere gather for and participate in communal worship. With the arrival of this period every Jew becomes spiritually moved. Under the inspiring influence of Rosh Hashonah, all Jews begin to take an accounting of their acts during the past year. They commence to make preparations for the searings of these solemn days. New resolves are made, better lives are planned. The philosophy of Rosh Hashonah stimulates a desire for the greater and the more meaningful life.

World Peace - Underlying Note

This year, special emphasis is being laid on the responsibility of the individual Jew to his people and to all humanity. The disturbing situations in which his brethren find themselves in other parts of the world are being brought to his immediate attention.

DODGE DEALER TELLS OF 1940 MODELS PREVIEW

Motorists Will Receive Surprises In Features, Says P. A. Fort

One man whose knowledge of what new automobiles a lot of motorists will drive for 1940 is up to the minute, first-hand and authentic, is P. A. Fort, of Fort Motors, Co. of N. J. of Belleville. Mr. Fort has just returned from New York where he participated in a field conference called by sales officials of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Motor Corporation and attended by a large gathering of Dodge dealers and dealers' sales and service executives. "The meeting had several important purposes," Mr. Fort reports. "First there were interesting reviews of the wide public acceptance of the 1939 Dodge models. These reviews were followed by discussions of sales and service plans for 1940 and by presentations of advertising, sales promotion and new-model demonstration procedures designed to acquaint the public with the unusual attractions of the 1940 Dodge models."

Fort said on his return, "by reports read at the meeting, of large numbers of orders for 1940 Dodge cars that were being placed not only by the dealers, but by customers who have still to see the new cars for which they have already signed up. I regard this action on the part of so many motorists a significant tribute to the manufacturers and as a sign that the future is bright for Dodge." "Naturally, the most interesting part of the meeting," Mr. Fort admits, "was the dealers' preview of 1940 Dodge passenger cars, factory samples of which had been specially shipped to the conference. Though the cars impressed the dealers who saw them by their obvious, eye-filling beauty, no public statement of mechanical changes and innovations is authorized just yet. These details will be revealed at announcement time when the whole story of the new Dodge will be told to the public."

NOLL WOULD PUSH WPA PROJECT AT LOCAL CAMP

Director is Tired Of Technical Holdups

It is believed that Belleville application for a WPA project at the Recreation Camp along Third River may soon be ready for submission to WPA officials in Washington. Technicalities have held up the project, it is said, and the camp this summer was quieter than the Dies Investigation Committee would have German Bund activities at Stockholm. The project calls for construction of a field house and an addition to the swimming pool near Franklin avenue. The pool has not been in use this summer. Parks and Property Director Noll, who is tired of delays in submission of the application, said he signed papers for such a project last fall. No appropriation was made in the 1939 budget for the town's share, however, according to Noll. There has been doubt at the Town Hall regarding the status of the project. Inquiries made by Town Engineer Sheehan of county WPA officials revealed a detailed plan of the field house would be required before the project was submitted to Washington. Sheehan said such a plan would be forwarded within a few days. Sheehan explained further that the project had been delayed because of routine revisions in the application form, required by county officials. Besides construction of the field house and the swimming pool addition, the proposed project calls for construction of a retaining wall, a chlorinator shed, penetration paths and grading. The total cost was estimated in the application at $16,008.46. Of this amount, the town's share would be $6,292.50.

READY HOT WATER }
CLEAN HOT WATER } by
CHEAP HOT WATER } GAS

Hot-water-cleanliness is the basis of beauty treatments. Frequent use of hot water prevents pores from clogging. That's rule No. 1 for maintaining a clear complexion.

Simplify things—by putting a modern automatic gas water heater in your home. Then hot water will always be ready when you want it. This hot water is cheap. For instance, a family in Verona, Essex County, pays about $2.97 per month for Automatic Hot Water Service by Gas, based on a comparison of gas bills before and after installing an automatic gas water heater. Ask Public Service or your plumber for a cost estimate based on your hot water usage.

Magee Warns Motorists

With school days at hand, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee today warned of increased responsibilities for automobile drivers.

"I said that the presence of hundreds of thousands of children on the streets, particularly during the morning hours that coincide with the heaviest volume of traffic, imposes upon drivers the duty of exercising extra care to avoid accidents."

"Drivers of school buses should, of course, exercise the greatest of care," said Commissioner Magee, "although the drivers of these vehicles have set a high standard of safe driving in the past."

"Motorists can contribute vastly to this form of transportation, used by so many of our school children today, by being meticulously watchful in overtaking moving buses or passing buses which are unloading or loading their precious cargoes."

Commissioner Magee adds that New Jersey set an admirable record during the vacation season in child safety.

Activities of Belleville Lodge, 1123, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks

Seems we are going to have quite a busy season, starting with our outing on September 24, to be followed by a fine sit-down dinner October 5, of which more will follow later. Then there will be the grand opening of our new lounge room — truly a gala occasion scheduled for about October 15.

Seen around the grille over the weekend: Brother and Mrs. Bernice McManus, Brother and Mrs. Edward Bechtoldt, Brother and Mrs. Harry Hyde, Brother and Mrs. William Gerhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Al Remington and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer.

With everyone back from vacation looking fit as a fiddle and full of pep, things should take on a brighter hue. A dance or two may be arranged for Elks and their wives for the near future. At least the entertainment committee is debating this.

Charlie Gebhardt made a final report of work done last year at the Elks' parties — and were the brothers amazed, startled and electrified to hear his figures. There was wonder as to how he accomplished the job. A few more reports such as "Gebby's" and the boys will be right back in stride.

The M. D. Says

Health Question: What is the typhoid fever situation in the United States?

In ninety-three large cities of the United States the death rate from typhoid fever declined from 0.82 per 100,000 population in 1937 to 0.74 in 1938. In 1910 the death rate was 20.54 per 100,000 population.

Twenty-nine of the ninety-three largest cities reported no deaths from typhoid fever in 1938. The death rate from typhoid fever in 1938 in cities in the Middle Atlantic States, which include New Jersey cities, was 0.44 per 100,000 population which compares favorably with the national rate.

In 1936 there were 225 cases of typhoid fever in New Jersey with twenty-six deaths. This was a case rate of 6.2 per 100,000 population and a death rate of 0.6 per 100,000 population.

Practices which should reduce the death rate from typhoid fever still further include: continued emphasis upon sanitation and a pure water supply; immunization of inhabitants of areas under flood conditions; examination of food handlers to detect carriers; immunization of people who travel extensively; and carrying pure water on picnics and outings or boiling water obtained from unknown sources.

WHAT WOULD THEY SAY?

As war broke out over Europe last week-end with reverence and respect we recalled the memories of some of our buddies who died in a war to end all wars. We remember that their lives were similar to ours in experience and vicissitudes. We wonder what they might say to us if they could speak from the farther shore? What would be their words of advice to us in the present troubled world?

The men of the World War could speak with a mighty voice from the Valhalla of the brave.

They could tell of the high ideals which mantled their banners as they marched into the river of fire that ran across France. The slogans and the bands, the uniforms and the glory — and the death on a nameless field.

That was only yesterday when they died, comparatively, and on those same fields men today are again in arms — at war — or in nearby fields and the democracy that they so cherished has all but disappeared from the earth.

What would they say if they could speak?

Those who made the supreme sacrifice at Chateau Thierry, at St. Mihiel, in the Argonne and in the hundreds of other sections of the long, long battle of 1917-1918, would undoubtedly bid us watch and wait before we enter the struggles of war-mad Europe again.

And to remain at home, to cherish our native land, to protect her from all enemies and to keep inviolate our blood and our treasure from the storms over the remote horizons.

And to remember, eternally, that they died not in vain if this be done.

NO GLOOM HERE

Instead of evacuation to other places Belleville children, like others in this good country of ours, went back to their regular schools and classes yesterday. There is no particular cause for gloom here, for, thank goodness, war has not touched our shores. Let's hope that the condition stays thus and each year — for all time to come — our youngsters will start off in September with no more fear in their little hearts than ten months of books.

For most people the last two weeks wound up summer and bathing. The lucky families who have been vacationing at the seaside and in the country have about completed the trek back home. School is in session and families will settle down to ordinary life again. Thus comes fall, one of the most glorious seasons in this section. In fact, the visitors to this section this fall may out-number those who came here during the summer en route to the World's Fair. The fall months are generally always ideal here.

SUPER HIGHWAYS

Gliding along in comfortable chairs at the General Motors exhibit at the World's Fair, one is inclined to think deeply about the super-highways of the future, roads which would stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific in one long parkway. There has been much said and written about the super-highway, but a survey by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads indicates that super transcontinental highway is only a dream and is very unlikely to be realized. If such highways would have tolls, and the survey has shown that all part of the present tolls could be at least partially covered by tolls. Only one of the bureau's surveys would be self-sufficient. The 172-mile stretch from New Haven via our New York and Connecticut looks as if the realization is financially impossible.

FORECLOSURE OF TAX-DELINQUENT PROPERTIES

In its second report, the New Jersey Commission on Tax Law Revision makes several proposals to improve a situation that has long perplexed municipalities — that of foreclosing properties for unpaid taxes.

It is indeed gratifying that the Commission has made an effort, in the second phase of its work, to produce some worth while recommendations for the correction and improvement of the many baffling problems surrounding municipal tax collections. The Commission's first report, it will be recalled, proved to be a fiasco, principally because it embodied proposals for new and additional taxes such as the three per cent gross receipts retail tax and tax upon capital and surplus of industry and business.

Municipalities have long looked for a way to deal satisfactorily with the subject of foreclosures, but with little success. Taxable property that is in arrears does not, of course, help to pay for current governmental costs. Yet municipalities are required to pay county, state and school taxes on the basis of the entire amount of tax assessments, regardless of whether tax payments are in default.

Theoretically local governments can get relief through tax sales and subsequent foreclosures. Relief does not always come, however, for several reasons. One is that foreclosure of properties is expensive and often costs the municipalities more than the foreclosure is worth. Another is that foreclosure does not offer readily marketable titles. Inability to tender complete title to a buyer is a serious obstacle to selling tax-delinquent property. Title companies are not disposed to insure such titles and mortgage companies hesitate to take them as security.

Because of these difficulties many properties in default of taxes are dead wood to the municipalities. While they are carried on the books as an asset, they have all the earmarks of a decided liability. Individual municipalities are practically helpless in the matter, since state legislation is necessary for any change in the procedure of foreclosure of properties for delinquent taxes.

One of the recommendations of the Tax Law Revision Commission provides for mandatory tax sales of real property in the year succeeding the date on which the taxes first become delinquent, and when the delinquency is more than twenty-five dollars. Enforcement of this provision would be placed in the hands of the Commissioner of Local Government. Another recommendation provides that an inexpensive procedure for acquisition of title be followed in cases where sub-marginal and vacant land of low value do not warrant the expense of regular foreclosure procedure. Further recommendations for simplification of foreclosures are embodied in the report.

It is to be hoped that constructive action will arise from the recommendations in the Commission's second report. The New Jersey Taxpayers Association has received many communications from local taxpayers' associations that report upon the urgent necessity for corrective action. Readily marketable titles are desired in order to strengthen the administration of tax laws and to enhance the credit standing of the municipalities, which would be an important step in the direction of reduced taxes.

How often we find that there are really only two classes of people in the world — workers and shirkers! We all know what they are without any explanation. There are those who "do their bit" without a word of excuse or complaint and there are those who slide gently out of everything that they possibly can. The shirkers flatter themselves that they are having an easy time and that no one knows it but themselves. After all they are only receiving censure and soon they will find that their little circle is moving industriously on without them. It is said that for every conscientious person who is doing the right thing and filling his place in life there are half a dozen who are floating along carelessly like straws on the current of a river. But these shirkers can never have the satisfaction and the knowledge that they are "doing their bit" and that is worth more than all the prizes of ease and idleness.

NEW DEFENCES

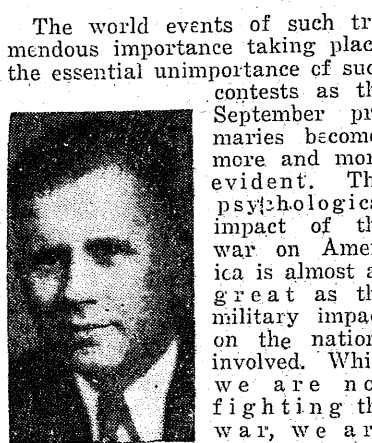

Perhaps the threat of air bombing of London will not look quite so dire now that the new anti-aircraft guns have been set up. A line of these guns rings London now and crews are ready at all times to swing into action. The guns, which must be marvels of mechanism, are aimed by an electric eye and can hurl 56-pound shells at the rate of fifty per minute. Aim is taken automatically and takes into account the speed of the airplane which is the target. Every airplane that approaches London by day or night is now "covered" by the guns.

ON THE SPOT

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The world events of such tremendous importance taking place, the essential unimportance of such contests as the September primaries becomes more and more evident.

The world events of such tremendous importance taking place, the essential unimportance of such contests as the September primaries becomes more and more evident. Way of The Trend

If the Democratic party should win the next election because of the war, New Jersey might elect a Democratic governor, senator and congressmen along with the national ticket. To put it another way, the very evident trend away from the Democratic party of the past year or more may be suddenly reversed — or possibly accelerated. Political uncertainty in America is as pronounced as military uncertainty in Europe. Anything can happen in either place.

History Repeats Itself

There is a striking similarity in conditions today and those of twenty-five years ago. The outbreak of both wars found the Democratic party in power in the United States. Both wars found the United States suffering from an economic recession, widely blamed in each case on the Democratic party in power. The 1914 war came two years before the United States Presidential election, that of 1939 only one year. But the behavior of the stock market in shooting skyward immediately, indicates that the American war boom of the Second World War (if it comes) will

Civil Service Commission

As before noted in this column, the oldest "improved road" in New Jersey, and believed to be the oldest in America, was the "Old Mine Road." It led from the Pahaquarry Copper Mines in Warren County to Espous (now Kingston), N. Y., a distance of about 100 miles.

The demand for more and better highways has continued, but in spite of the splendid State system that has been developed, construction has never quite caught up with the increasing demand due to industrial growth and a steadily mounting population.

be at a similar stage in 1940 as the first boom was in 1916.

Can President Roosevelt capitalize the situation next year as creatively as Woodrow Wilson did in 1916? Only time will tell accurately, but I would say that the indications are just now that he very well may. Wilson was elected on three basic issues: 1, the admitted soundness of the reforms of his first administration; 2, the popularity in the West of his neutrality efforts; 3, prosperity. That he barely escaped defeat when he had all of these factors with him may be credited to the majority status of the Republican party at that time and to a candidate of unusual ability.

Not The Majority Party

Today, the majority status of the Republican party is questionable, and no candidate as strong as Charles E. Hughes appears on the horizon. Thus, while the Democratic victory of 1916 was close, given the same combination of circumstances it might be a landslide in 1940.

Will the same set of conditions prevail? Curious as such a coincidence would be, it looks now as though they might, at least in basic essentials. If Roosevelt plays his political cards shrewdly during the next twelve months, the public may feel about his earlier reforms very much as they did about those inaugurated by Wilson. The economic picture may very well, from present indications, parallel that of 1916. Again, President Roosevelt's neutrality policies appear to be following very closely the initial pattern set by Wilson.

Isolation Popular

But history is not supposed to repeat itself so completely. Some were along the line there is almost certain to be an upset. The war in Europe may assume an entirely different outcome. Roosevelt's neutrality policies might continue along the Wilson pattern, and yet public reactions might be very different. Even though Roosevelt may have kept us out of war as Wilson was credited with doing, the Republican party next year is more likely to be the recognized party of isolation.

But no one knows whether isolation, itself, will be popular or unpopular a year from now. And no one knows whether the Democratic ticket in New Jersey and Essex will ride to victory on a Democratic landslide as in 1936, or whether the political pattern of the past year will continue to develop into a close election, or a Republican triumph. Nothing remains but to read war bulletins and the stock market ticker — and wait.

Snoop's Snoops

All signs indicate that fall is with us. Many, many new faces were seen in town over the week-end, indicating that vacation season is over and that summer travelers are back on the job. Among them were:

Pho Hargrave, mixologist at the Elks, who looks tan and well rested after a couple of weeks at Spring Lake.

Doc Dougherty, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, hanging the pines of his summer home at Lake Esing, but he indicated he was happy to be back in town to look after the activities of the Post.

Bill Hunt, right hand man of Cliff Smith at Smith Bros., also is ready for a busy winter.

Don Morris Kochin brought his family up from Bradley Beach and stated that he expects to "tend to his knitting" from now on.

Harry Ziegler, secretary of the Lions Club, returned from his summer home in Pequannock; Jenn (Pru) Ray from Camp Maine; James (Pru) Lynch, member of the Board of Education from his summer home at Lake Mohawk.

Philip Dettelbach of L. Sonnenborn Sons also returned and figures he will now be able to get in some more golf before the cold weather actually sets in.

A. K. McBride, physical director at the High School, returned from Astabula, O., where he and his family spent the summer, with great stories of the large ones that he caught on Lake Erie and during his fishing expedition into the northern part of Canada.

"Mac" always has a good story about the fish he caught and also about those that got away.

Frank Smith, coach of the High School football team, also arrived in town over the week-end. While Frank is his pleasant self, he is very down hearted about the prospects of the football team. Frank can't seem to understand why Belleville grows the boys so small. He is expected this year to meet a tougher schedule than he has had for some time, starting out with Barringer and Bloomfield and followed up by Irvington, Kearny, West Orange, Hillside, West Side, South Side. This is enough to give any coach gray hair, when you consider that he has only two ends and one experienced backfield man reported for this year's team. There are some few likely looking line men, but the fact that he will be unable to use Slavin is going to handicap the team. But Frank says despite this we will be in there fighting and our opponents will know the team is in the ball game.

While on the subject of football, we are reminded that three of Belleville's last year team have been enrolled at St. Benedict's Prep. in Newark and should be a great help to them. Those who have reported for the team are Albert Zuzzo, Ray Kempenny and Chet Kuchinski.

Indications are that a real effort is being made to complete the Hoyer Products new plant at Little and Cortlandt streets before the winter sets in. It is remarkable the progress that has been made to date.

Great Allentown Fair Scheduled Five Days

The Great Allentown Fair, which this year will be held September 19-21-22-23, will again live up to its well earned reputation as America's Greatest County Fair. All in all, this year's Great Allentown Fair will be by far the biggest and most outstanding exhibition of its kind ever presented in the East.

The management of the Great Allentown Fair has spared no expense to make the 1939 event a most outstanding one. One reason for the unusual preparations is the fact that this year, 1939, the Great Allentown Fair is celebrating its fiftieth year in the same location which is now in the very center of the city of Allentown. However, the Great Allentown Fair, as an institution, is much older in years, for this year it celebrates its eighty-fifth year.

Again for the lovers of horse racing the racing program — which will be staged Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons — will bring to Allentown some of the fastest harness racers in the country. The same holds true for the running races which will bring entrants from all over the East.

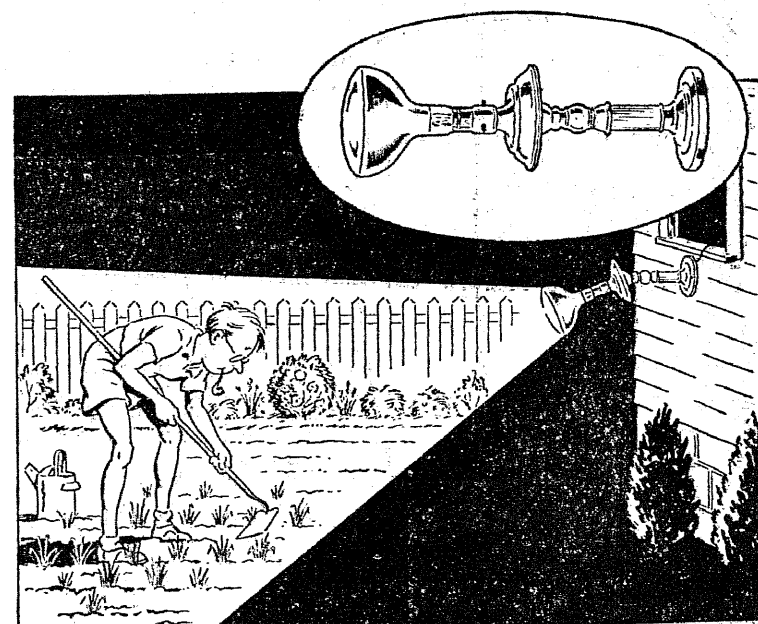

To those interested in the farm and agricultural fields the Great Allentown Fair will offer one of the finest agricultural exhibitions ever seen in the East. This will hold true particularly in the poultry department, for there is no other poultry show anywhere which ranks in importance with that of the Great Allentown Fair.

Entries have been received from all parts of the country, and again one of the big exhibitions will be Phil Plant's South Sea fowl which he houses in his well-known Oswegatchie Farms in Connecticut.

Likewise, the live stock competition will be especially keen since many of the country's largest breeders have recognized the Great Allentown Fair and are sending their prize live stock to it.

It is a good time for everybody at the Great Allentown Fair what with the very attractive Midway and its shows which rival those of the world's greatest amusement centers.

Business Man Becomes Night Gardener

JUST as Paul Revere's signal lamp once announced a fight with the British; so, each evening the appearance of Mr. Tuttle's out-door lamp prefaces his war on the Japanese beetles.

Mr. Tuttle is a business man but a gardener at heart. More than any after-office sport, he enjoys donning his trunks and "puttering" in the garden. Begrudging the summer's dusk, Mr. Tuttle devised an ingenious plan.

He inserted a 150 watt floodlight bulb in an ordinary portable lamp and hung it on the side of the house nearest the garden. The extension cord of the lamp was passed through a window and attached to an electric convenience-outlet inside the house. Result — a beam of clear light illuminating the garden for a distance of approximately 100 feet. The light is sufficient for spraying, pulling weeds, setting out plants and even pruning.

Now Mr. Tuttle can do night-gardening to his heart's content or until he becomes too sleepy to work.

this country, are included in the Allentown Fair program.

Again one of the big features of the Allentown Fair will be the spectacular night revue which this year is termed the "World's Fair Revue." This extravaganza will be staged every night in front of the vast grandstand, and will include the famous Gae Foster girls who are coming especially from New York's well-known Roxy Theatre to stage their unusual dances for those who attend the Great Allentown Fair. This "World's Fair Revue" is resplendent with beautiful scenery, costumes and lighting effects and included among its cast are many well-known Broadway stars.

On Friday afternoon, September 22, the big feature will be Lucky Teter and his Heil Drivers, the world renowned aggregation of automobile and motorcycle stunt stars. For two solid hours Lucky Teter and his death-defying auto drivers will perform in front of the large grandstand.

Again on Saturday, September 23, the last day of the Great Allentown Fair, will be staged the A.A.A. auto races under the direction of Ralph Hankinson.

Those desiring grandstand reserved seats for any of the racing programs, night revue or the Saturday afternoon racing events are urged to mail in their requests as early as possible.

HOME STORAGE OF VEGETABLES IS SIMPLE

Home storage of vegetables is a simple procedure by which any gardener may increase the benefit he derives from his garden. Special facilities and equipment are not needed.

Observance of a few details, however, is essential, according to Gordon Morrison, vegetable expert of the Perry-Morse Seed Breeding Station.

First, he says, vegetables to be stored should be allowed to mature. Second, vegetables must be handled carefully to avoid cutting or bruising. This is especially true of squash and pumpkins. Third, temperature and humidity of storage room must be suited to the vegetables stored. Squash and pumpkins keep best in a relatively dry atmosphere with a temperature of fifty degrees with conditions similar to those in an unfinished room or attic. Onions should be stored in a dry place with a uniform temperature just above thirty-two degrees. Freezing may injure the keeping qualities of onions. Cabbage and root crops (carrots, beets, turnips), on the other hand, should have a more moist atmosphere with a temperature of thirty-two to forty degrees — similar to conditions found in many cellar fruit rooms.

A further caution must be taken with cabbage and onions left in the field to mature, if they are caught in an unexpected early freeze. These crops are not destroyed by freezing and will be as good as ever if allowed to thaw. Under no circumstances should they be moved while frozen.

Crisp texture of root crops is often better retained, Mr. Morrison states, if they are covered with moist soil.

Now It's Fish Season

FISH is in season and in style. There is a great demand for good recipes and suggestions for new flavorings.

Fish, a pale food, needs a bright garnish. Use parsley, watercress, radishes, lemon slices, small lettuce leaves, paprika, hard-cooked eggs, slices of cucumber, beets or tomato.

Broiled Fish
Fish which are to be broiled can be divided into three classes: (1) Small or medium-sized fish. (2) Larger fish which have been cut into fillets or (3) fish steaks. Small fish may be broiled whole. Medium-sized fish are split down the back and broiled whole. Larger fish are cut into one-inch steaks for broiling, or they may be cut into fillets. Preparation: Wipe the fish dry and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Always when broiling fish, the broiler of the gas range should be greased and heated thoroughly before the fish is placed thereon. Lean fish should be brushed with butter or French dressing before broiling. Recipe: Place the fish, skin down, on broiling pan or on a large taffy pan and see that broiler is placed two inches below the heating unit. When the fish is browned thoroughly on one side, turn it carefully and brown it on the other side. Then either lower the flame or place the broiling pan farther away from the flame to finish cooking more slowly. Loosen the fish carefully and remove to a hot platter. Immediately after removing from broiler, spread fish with Lemon Butter Sauce. Garnish with slices of lemon and watercress.

Lemon Butter Sauce
½ cup butter 1 tbsp. chopped
2 tbsp. lemon juice 1 tsp. parsley juice Paprika
Melt butter and add lemon, parsley and paprika. If a thinner sauce is desired, two tablespoons of boiling water may be added.

Baked Filled Haddock Fillets
2 lbs. Haddock 1 tbsp. butter fillets 1 tsp. flour
2 cups diced onion 1 cup milk
1 cup grated cheese
2 cups diced celery 1 tbsp.
1 small clove chopped
garlic parsley
½ cup bread Salt and pepper
crumbs

Cut fillets into two-inch squares. Sprinkle each piece with salt and pepper. Put one-half the number of fillets into a shallow baking dish. On each piece of fish put the mixed celery, onion and garlic. Put another fillet on top of this mixture. Hold together with a toothpick.

Cheese Sauce: Melt the butter, add flour and cook until mixture bubbles. Add the milk and cook for five minutes. Add grated cheese and stir until smooth. Pour the sauce over the fish and sprinkle the top with bread crumbs. Bake at 325 degrees F. for one and one-quarter hours.

Crabmeat Special:
½ lb. cream cheese 2 cups flaked
1 small can crabmeat evaporated Green salad
milk Rolls

Melt the cheese in the top of a double boiler with the flame of your gas burner turned to "simmer" to give low heat. Add the milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add the crabmeat, heat again, and serve in individual seafood casseroles, with green salad and rolls.

To Remove Odor
All utensils used in the cooking of fish should be washed in salted water to remove odor.

CAPITOL THEATRE PRESENTS ALEXANDER DUMAS' "MAN IN THE IRON MASK"

Lightning action, thrilling romance and exciting adventure are in store for moviegoers when they witness the film version of Alexander Dumas' "The Man in the Iron Mask" which opens Sunday at the Capitol Theatre, Belleville, for a three-day run.

The film stars Louis Hayward and Joan Bennett, with Warren William, Alan Hale and Joseph Schildkraut. Louis Hayward appears as the arrogant and overbearing King Louis XIV of France and his gay, light-hearted twin brother Philippe. Joan Bennett, looking more beautiful and arresting than ever in her brunette tresses, plays the part of the quick tempered Marie Therese of Spain, betrothed to Louis to cement the two countries and maintain the balance of power in Europe.

The story revolves around the fears which are awakened in Louis' brain when he learns that he has a twin brother who was brought up secretly in the province of Gascony by his father's faithful Musketeers. Fearing that he will be dethroned, because already the people are grumbling and muttering about the excessive taxes, Louis decides to silence his brother forever by imprisoning him in the Bastille after his head is encased in the iron mask to which he alone in all France holds the key.

Infant charm, hilarious comedy and romantic intrigue are combined in the second picture "Unexpected Father" which stars Baby Sandy (the wonder baby of "East Side of Heaven") with Mischa Auer and Shirley Ross.

"SUBSTANCE" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 10.

The Golden Text is: "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed." (John 6:27).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." (Hebrews 11:1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God.

"These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle Love. No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows." (p. 275).

SPORTS

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

ONCE MORE Nereid Boat Club has jumped into the public eye and threatens to become almost a mote there. Several times in the past the Belleville oarsmen have entered a crew in the Middle States regatta, with very little success.

This year they sent three crews to Baltimore and two of them came back dignified with the labels of champions. This was far more than had been expected and twice as much as the Orange & Blue had dared hope for. The third shell, the intermediate quad, lost but was far from outclassed.

Nereid feels that winning the Metropolitan Championship on the Harlem Sunday would put a fitting climax to what is generally considered its greatest year so far.

To this observer the fight for the championship, far from being the usual runaway for New York A. C., is going to be a three-cornered daylight for the title. Nereid has been drawing closer and closer to N.Y.A.C. each year. Sunday the Belleville boys have their best chance in years to knock the crown from the A.C.'s head.

But quite suddenly into the picture this summer has come the resurgent Ravenswood Boat Club of Long Island. Always a strong club, Ravenswood this summer has rapidly become a real contender for the throne. Joe Angyal, Ravenswood's No. 1, is almost sure of two victories himself. That's what he did Sunday at Baltimore — and one of the laurels went to him when he handed peerless Joe Burk the Philadelphia's first defeat in 37 starts!

Yessir, it looks like a three-cornered squabble with N.Y.A.C. coming out on the short end, unless the New Yorkers can muster greater fighting strength than they spoke of at last month's meeting of the NYRA.

CLARK ALBEY won again Sunday night at the Velodrome.

That makes two amateur motor-paced events in a row the Belleville lad has topped. An orchid not only to Clark on his triumph, but also to Carmine Bilotti who is giving the kids a chance to learn the difficult tricks of following a motorcycle around the dishpan.

Some of Belleville's ex-gridgrats have found new fields of endeavor and are making out quite well, thank you. Al "Skippy" Pascal, who exhibited his wares in town about seven years ago, is now civil service commissioner in Washington, we hear.

Three of the boys who helped Frank Smith not end last year, viz and to wit, Chet Kuchinski, Al Zuzzio and Ray Tennyson, are now footballing at St. Benedict's Prep. At least two of them are expected to be varsity starters this fall. Ed Doyle, 26 Park street, is entering Panzer College this fall. There, as at Belleville High from which he was graduated in '38, he will play end. Ed attended Cumberland College for a while last year.

Poor Conditions And Poor Management

DORIS KOPSKY'S defeat out at Columbus does not, in my opinion, make her any less the best feminine bike racer in the country. As nearly as I can make out it was the combination of poor conditions and poor management which dethroned the queen.

In the first place the racers almost unanimously condemned the condition of the track. In fact some say it was not even a track, but just a path in a park in Columbus — and a rough path at that. There was too small and narrow to permit freedom of action. Naturally there was also the old army game of ganging up of the favorite. Twenty-one girls were allowed on the track at one time, so that Doris was very neatly boxed. It is a wonder she was able to get second.

Now that the Australian Davis Cuppers have won their important war they can go home and get ready for another war to end all wars.

Three Runs in Ninth Sufficient; Cards Win Two Others

A three-run uprising in the ninth inning, when they combined three singles and a double, gave the Senators a 4-1 victory over the Cardinals Saturday in another of those rarities, an intra-town baseball game.

The Cards won their two other games over the weekend, dropping the Washington Eagles 8-4 and the Lyndhurst Ludas Club 6-4.

HATTEL'S FAMILY TO GET PROCEEDS OF MIDGET RACES

Wife and Baby of Driver
Killed at Nutley to Benefit
From Paterson Meet

Midget auto stars and racing fans will join in a tribute to the late Carl Hattel, driver who met his death at Nutley, when the biggest meet of the season is staged at the Hinchliffe City Stadium in Paterson tomorrow night.

The event was arranged by Promoter John Kochman for the special purpose of making it a benefit meet. All the proceeds of tomorrow night's meet will be turned over to Hattel's wife and baby.

Fans from all over the east are planning to make the trip to Paterson for this benefit meet, and many drivers who never before have appeared on the Stadium track will be on hand to compete in this program of competition. The ranks of the speedsters will include several additions from the New England and mid-west states.

Heading the field of aces who will be in the field on Friday night, Babe Bower of Philadelphia will be aiming for his third consecutive victory. The popular ace, who recently captured national championship honors when he won the 150-mile event at Roosevelt Raceway, has hit his stride on the Paterson track and he demonstrated as much in taking the last two main events on the Stadium oval.

A star-studded field also will include such drivers as Mel Hansen, Henry Renard, Charley Breslin, Joe Chitwood, Hal Robson, Bill Holland, Walt Fusco, Harry Pelton and Cliff Hemmingsway. The meet will start at 8:15 o'clock.

O'BRIEN PROTESTS DECISION IN NUTLEY BIKE RACE

"Cocky" Feels He Reached The Tape
Before Debaets

The last race under protest with Pat Mulvey, chairman of the National Cycling Association, by Henry O'Brien, the motor-paced championships will swing into the seventh race of the series at the Nutley Velodrome Sunday afternoon. The five starters will ride over the twenty-five mile route, with Champion Tino Reboli, Gerard Debaets, Mike De Filippo, Sal Barone and O'Brien battling.

Debaets was awarded last Sunday night's race by the judges, but O'Brien, who was given second place, protested to the N.C.A. chairman that he should have been given first place. This is the second race under protest with the governing body, Reboli putting in a protest after the second race at the Coney Island Velodrome five weeks ago.

Reboli's case differed from O'Brien's. Reboli punctured a ten-mile post and when unable to get back on the track after six allowed laps, Referee Reggie McNamara declared him out. Reboli claimed that after the six laps he should be allowed to return but penalized each lap after six. The points from these two races will continue until the N.C.A. board reaches a verdict after hearing both sides of the story.

With six races over the standing reads: Debaets 19, De Filippo 16, Reboli 16, O'Brien 7, Barone 6. Reboli didn't gain any points in last Sunday's race, but through no fault of his, as he spilled at the 27-mile post and was forced out with lacerations of the right arm and leg.

The pros will swing into the next to last championship race and George Shipman, holding a comfortable lead over Mathias Engel, can clinch the title by just placing in the finals. George has eighteen points and Engel nine. Amateurs also will meet in a championship event.

Nereid Intermediates, Juniors Middle States Doubles Kings

Siegler And Minion, Jones And Salomon Triumph At Baltimore

Special to The Belleville News:

Baltimore, Sept. 4 — Yesterday Nereid Boat Club of Belleville again took occasion to prove that it is one of the coming powers in the realm of eastern rowing.

Nereid, arriving here Friday unheralded and still comparatively unknown, amazed the experts by walking off with two Middle Atlantic States championships in the annual regatta held on the Patapsco River here yesterday.

Frank Siegler and Ed Minton captured the junior double shell title by so wide a margin that the second boat, Penn Barge of Philadelphia, was almost lost in the distance.

Siegler and Minion's margin in length was variously estimated at ten, twelve and even fifteen. Actual time difference between Nereid and Penn Barge was 47 seconds.

Scarcely had this championship been stowed away than Bill Jones and Sid Salomon, also of the Belleville club, stepped out smartly to beat Penn Barge and Malta Boat Club of Philadelphia and Potomac Boat Club of Washington to the finish line by a length and a half in the intermediate double shell race.

Nereid's intermediate quadruple shell of Warren Everson, Andy McMaster, Bill Fehon and Barney Swain, figured in the closest race of the day. Undine Boat Club, Philadelphia, won the event by a half length from Argonauts of Baltimore, with Nereid less than a half length behind the south-easters.

Nereid's Greatest Year
Officials of the Nereid Boat Club said here yesterday that the two smashing triumphs of the Orange & Blue at Baltimore Sunday were more evidence that the local club is in the midst of one of its greatest years to date.

The Nereid clubhouse was jubilant over the showing of its members on the Patapsco and on all sides confidence was felt that the Metropolitan Championship is in great danger of crossing the Hudson for the first time in many years.

KOPSKY CROWN GOES TO OWENS IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4 — Gladys Owens of New York yesterday upset the dope and succeeded to the throne of the women bike riders in the nation. Gladys finished a sprocket ahead of Doris Kopsky of Belleville, N. J., who has been queen of the spinning wheels for the past two years.

As in the past, there were three races and total points were counted for the title. When the final scores were tabulated, Miss Owens had eleven, Miss Kopsky nine, the rest of the field trailing along behind.

Miss Kopsky was nipped at the tape in the first race of the day when Miss Owens put on a terrific sprint. The second race saw the Belleville girl, riding nicely near the front, lose much valuable ground when another rider spilled directly in front of her. She finished fourth despite the mishap.

The fourth form of the New Jersey lass was exhibited in the final race when she rode away from the others for an easily-gained first place.

Stan Saarloos III

Stanley Saarloos, 73 Cortlandt street, who was also slated to compete at Columbus, is reported to have been taken sick just before the party was to leave and was unable to make the trip.

Softball League Champions
Meet At Terry Field
Tomorrow Night

The softball championship of Belleville is the stake for which the Valley Crowns and Wallace & Tiernan will be fighting when they meet tomorrow evening at 6 at Terry Field.

The game has long been under consideration, although until last week the actual opponents were not known.

The Crowns are the champions of the Senior Recreation League. They went through the first round of the season in easy fashion, ending with an undefeated record.

They were upset in the second round and came into the final game one game behind West End, whom they promptly proceeded to defeat to throw the situation into a deadlock. West End won the second round playoff, but in the final season championship series the Crowns took two straight from the West Enders to grab the title.

The Nereid clubhouse was jubilant over the showing of its members on the Patapsco and on all sides confidence was felt that the Metropolitan Championship is in great danger of crossing the Hudson for the first time in many years.

KOPSKY CROWN GOES TO OWENS IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 4 — Gladys Owens of New York yesterday upset the dope and succeeded to the throne of the women bike riders in the nation. Gladys finished a sprocket ahead of Doris Kopsky of Belleville, N. J., who has been queen of the spinning wheels for the past two years.

As in the past, there were three races and total points were counted for the title. When the final scores were tabulated, Miss Owens had eleven, Miss Kopsky nine, the rest of the field trailing along behind.

Miss Kopsky was nipped at the tape in the first race of the day when Miss Owens put on a terrific sprint. The second race saw the Belleville girl, riding nicely near the front, lose much valuable ground when another rider spilled directly in front of her. She finished fourth despite the mishap.

The fourth form of the New Jersey lass was exhibited in the final race when she rode away from the others for an easily-gained first place.

Stan Saarloos III

Stanley Saarloos, 73 Cortlandt street, who was also slated to compete at Columbus, is reported to have been taken sick just before the party was to leave and was unable to make the trip.

CROWNS, W&T PLAY FOR TOWN CROWN

Softball League Champions
Meet At Terry Field
Tomorrow Night

The softball championship of Belleville is the stake for which the Valley Crowns and Wallace & Tiernan will be fighting when they meet tomorrow evening at 6 at Terry Field.

The game has long been under consideration, although until last week the actual opponents were not known.

The Crowns are the champions of the Senior Recreation League. They went through the first round of the season in easy fashion, ending with an undefeated record.

They were upset in the second round and came into the final game one game behind West End, whom they promptly proceeded to defeat to throw the situation into a deadlock. West End won the second round playoff, but in the final season championship series the Crowns took two straight from the West Enders to grab the title.
