DINNER RALLY FOR COMMUNITY CHEST WORKERS

Affair Will Be Held At End
Of Month

Plans for the annual Community Chest drive are under way. The drive starts November 1 and concludes on November 14. The goal is $16,000. A dinner rally for workers will be held at the end of this month, when final details will be made in full for the appeal. The special gifts committee, with Floyd F. Bragg, chairman, will start the advance canvass on October 20 and end October 30.

In order to successfully put across the drive more house-to-house workers are needed. Mrs. Lester E. McCorkle, 134 Forest street, chairman of this division, estimates there are about 4,500 homes to be canvassed comprising approximately 8,000 personal contacts, exclusive of the apartment areas, and that a volunteer service of 300 to 400 solicitors will be needed to cover the town thoroughly. It is planned to have the canvassers report each three days of the appeal to captains, who in turn will report at the same intervals to the chairman. Cards for each contact will be returned with notation of reaction to the appeal for a definite gauge of opinion as to the chest. Cards will be analyzed after the campaign.

The town has been divided into eighteen districts. Miss Ethel Akers, of the Baby Clinic at the Community House, is captain of the Silver Lake section which will be known as District No. 19. Anyone desiring to solicit in any district may do so by contacting the chairman. This plea for volunteer workers through the columns of this newspaper is extended to all kindhearted, conscientious citizens in Belleville who feel it their duty to be of some service to the welfare of the 1940 Community Chest Campaign.

If each man and woman will give a little of their time by consenting to canvass ten homes in the neighborhood in which he or she lives, this division work of the campaign will not be burdensome to a few willing workers and the effort by the house-to-house group to help attain the goal of $16,000 will be easy.

VETERANS READY FOR DINNER TO GEO. WESTON, JR.

Congressman And Mayor Listed Among The Speakers

John F. Gannon, chairman of the committee for the testimonial dinner to George H. Weston, Jr., at the Veterans' Hall on Saturday evening, has announced that Mayor William H. Williams, Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., and Wallwin Masten, editor of The Belleville News, will be the guest speakers. Mr. Weston has completed his term as commander of the post and at the present time is rehabilitation and service officer.

Pot Shots

With the new Army uniform to be slate blue, Veterans Doherty and Costello will have to carry an oar to let the public know that they belonged to the Navy.

A presidential decree changes the date of Thanksgiving this year. The Armistice Day committee is hoping F. D. R. will not decide it was a mistake to end the World War on November 11.

According to "Top-Hat" Gannon, he saw the newly adopted U. S. Army uniform back in 1918. The letters "P.G." were painted on the back.

The U. S. Army is experimenting with radical changes in infantry drill regulations. Rubberboot Alden favors a regulation that will require top sergeants to voice all commands in English.

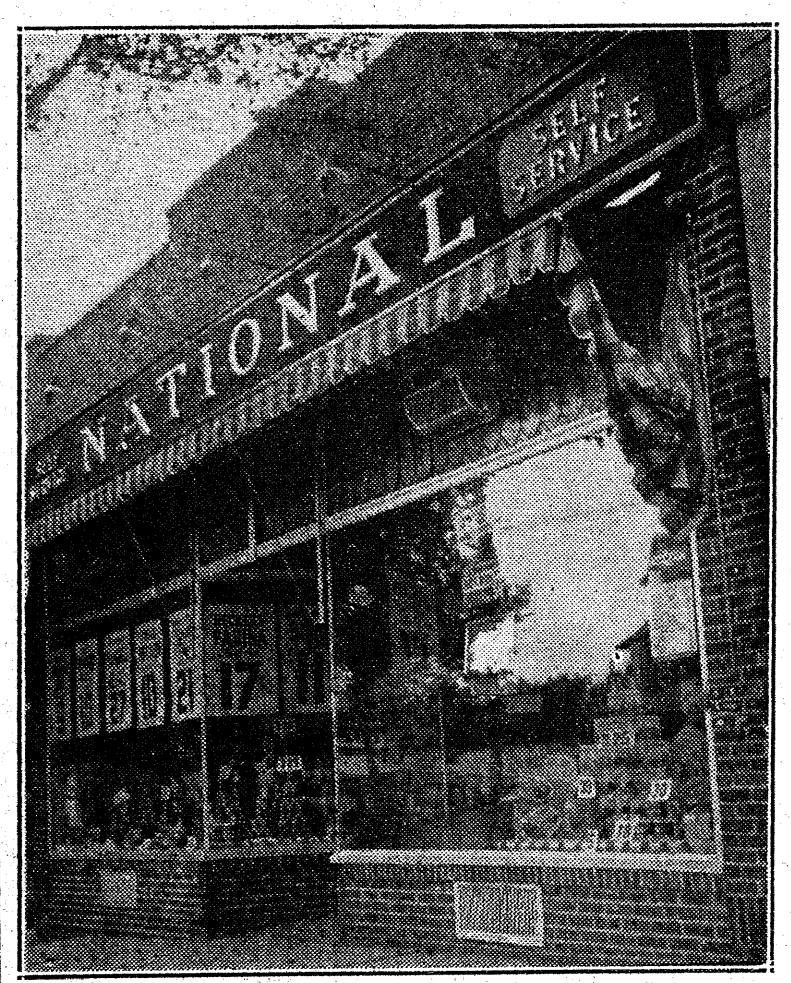

Scotty: When does the party begin Saturday night?
Gannon: Eight-thirty, sharp.
Scotty: Standard Time — or V. F. W. Banquet Time?

VET DROPS DEAD LISTENING TO HITLER SPEECH

Edward Helmstaedter Was Employed At City Hospital

While listening to a broadcast of Hitler's speech Friday, Edward Helmstaedter, fifty-nine, 67 Wilbek street, night engineer at Newark City Hospital, Newark, dropped dead. Helmstaedter had gone to the boiler room of the hospital to hear the broadcast. He was stricken while sitting in a chair.

Patrick J. Connell and Timothy Murphy, boiler room employees, tried to revive him. Helmstaedter had been employed at the hospital since 1926. He formerly was employed at the Newark Bath House and Newark Pumping Station.

Mr. Helmstaedter was born in Newark and had lived in Belleville thirteen years. He was a member of James W. Hennessy Post, V. F. W., and Franklin Camp, United Spanish War Veterans.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Martha Helmstaedter, and his mother, Mrs. Annie H. Helmstaedter.

Elks' Cocktail Lounge And Bar

The B. P. O. Elks have streamlined their bar and cocktail lounge and it is now opened to the public. It will be a delightful spot to wine, dine and dance at moderate cost.

The decorators have created a Mexican atmosphere. The walls have been treated with a color scheme of red, blue, gold and black, a specially designed wall paper. There are comfortable chairs and benches of bleached wood covered with blue leather and trimmed with chromium nails.

MAYOR TOUCHES ON CONSOLIDATION AT R. E. BOARD

Convinced, He Says
That Municipalities
Are Opposed

"Consolidation is a subject as controversial as the neutrality question now being debated in Washington. It should be studied carefully and fully before action."

Thus spoke Mayor William H. Williams at a meeting of the Real Estate Board, Newark, in the Essex House on Thursday. The Mayor said he did not favor consolidation of municipalities, but many common services might be merged with savings to taxpayers.

Mayor Williams suggested consideration of garbage control, health services, traffic control and systems, joint purchase of supplies, relief and social service, police and fire departments and lighting facilities might be studied for possible unanimity of thought and action by various municipalities acting as one.

Must Study Costs

"For one thing," he said, "we must find out why service costs more or less in one community as compared with another; we must know the standards of each community and endeavor to raise the common standard to the level of the highest existing."

"Who really and sincerely want rigid public economy? Many talk it. How many will sacrifice for it? Job holders and their relations do not want rigid economy where their jobs are jeopardized, even though they be taxpayers."

The Mayor said that statistics given him show that one in seven workers of the state are in public employ or related to others on the public payroll.

"After a careful study," said the Mayor, "I am convinced the majority of residents in Essex County do not want consolidation."

The Speech

"Consolidation or Cooperation" was the subject of the talk which in part follows:

"The basis for discussion of public services and costs is usually a desire for lower taxes, and a desire for better standards of

FALL TERM BEGINS BY PROGRESS CLUB WITH DINNER

Theatre Party Planned
For Some Time
In November

The Progress Club has started its fall term under the leadership of the following officers who were elected at the last regular business meeting: Jack Steinhauer, president; Martin Kabot, vice-president; Herman Kesner, secretary, and Bernard Holzman, treasurer.

The first event on the fall program is a testimonial dinner which will be tendered to the past president, Edward J. Ackerman, at the Park Restaurant, Verona. A theatre party is also being arranged for some time in November.

The Progress Club is continuing its sponsorship of a Boy Scout troop in Belleville which was organized last year and which now boasts over twenty Scouts.

Circular Ban Sought By Town Residents

NOLL SEES NEED FOR MORE FUNDS FOR RECREATION

Almost Impossible, Says
Director, To Help Youngsters

"I would like to establish playground facilities in various sections of town and provide proper supervision at each," declared Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll Thursday night in a talk before the P. T. A. Council, "but proper supervision could not be accomplished on a budget such as we have had this year."

Louis A. Noll

The director said that the year's budget totaled $5,900, from which must come salaries of the director of recreation, Edward Lister, custodian of the Recreation House in Jorammon street and maintenance expenses. This leaves $1,300 for activities of 6,000 children, he explained, "except that we have had to budget $700 for rental of the high school gymnasium for basketball, so that only $600 is left to provide recreation for the 6,000 youngsters."

Last week the town commission passed on final reading an ordinance which had been prepared by Noll, abolishing the five-man recreation commission.

Representatives of Newark's recreation system also spoke and said they felt the recreation program of a town was an educational problem and should come under the jurisdiction of the Board of Education or a department under the board.

Cluttering Of Lawns, Doors Porches And Walks Cited

Lost

A recent check of materials and supplies in the department of public safety showed that the town is shy exactly five pairs of crutches and two wheel-chairs, loaned to various persons who at the time could not afford to purchase these articles. Fred Handlon, court clerk, stated this week, that inasmuch as the list covering these articles has been lost, it is impossible to tell who has them.

He further stated that the department would appreciate it very much if those persons having in their possession any of the missing articles would contact him at police headquarters so that a complete record of their whereabouts can be made. If any one has borrowed a pair of crutches or a wheel chair in the past year or so and is now finished with them, Handlon stated they should be returned to the department so that they may be used in other cases.

Throwaways Seen As Aid To Crooks Who Spot Empty Homes

A movement on the part of a group of citizens interested in banning circulars in town on the grounds this type of advertising creates a nuisance, is gaining momentum. The group presented petitions requesting the board of commissioners to pass an ordinance prohibiting such practice in the future at the weekly conference, Tuesday night.

On recommendation of Mayor William H. Williams, the board agreed to defer the matter for two weeks so as to give members ample time to study the request. Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan was directed by the board to make a survey of all such laws covering this problem now existing throughout the state and report back to the board at its next meeting, two weeks from Tuesday night. It was also thought that this delay would give merchants and all other parties concerned in this matter a chance to present their side of the question.

The group favoring the banning of this type of advertising claimed that the circulars are frequently found on lawns, in rose bushes and other plants and that often times several of these papers are stuck on each porch and any wind may scatter them all over the neighborhood. It was further pointed out that the presence of circulars on porches and in door handles over weekends is often a tip-off to thieves that the homes are vacant.

Indecent Literature

The fight against indecent literature that is being carried throughout the nation is to receive the full support of the board of commissioners, which, upon suggestion of Mayor Williams, unanimously agreed to do all in its power to aid this movement and drive all such literature from the stores and newsstands in town.

Commissioner of Public Safety William D. Clark stated that instructions would be given this week to Police Chief George Spatz, that every member of the local force was to aid the drive in every manner possible. The police, acting as censors, may not be able to confiscate indecent literature on the stands throughout town, but, they will be able to hold such literature as evidence and as complainants, bring charges against the offending store keeper.

Moral Issue, Too

"It is not only a religious movement, but a strong moral action that demands the full cooperation of the board," stated the mayor in broaching the subject to his colleagues. "The town of Belleville spends in all schools, libraries, recreational activities and other forms, over $700,000 annually to build the minds of and educate our children to become decent citizens. You have no idea as to the type of literature now existing on various stands where it can be easily handled and read by our school children," he added.

"This type of salacious literature must go and I recommend that this board take definite action to aid the present drive being conducted by the various religious groups throughout the country, and to insure the complete banning of said literature," said the mayor.

Woman's Club Holds Meeting Of New Home Department

Talk Will Be Given On "Home Furnishings On A Budget"

The first meeting of the newly organized American Home Department of the Woman's Club will be held in the clubhouse, Rossmore place, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. William Mafet, a very interesting speaker, will talk on "Home Furnishings on a Budget." Mrs. F. Kenneth Mase is chairman and all members are asked to attend and bring a guest.

The first meeting of the Social Service Department will be held in the home of the chairman, Mrs. J. Claude Powers, on October 19 at 2 p.m. All members of the committee are requested to be present so that the year's activities may be planned.

The local club is represented in the State Federation by Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde, president, who is chairman on resolution. Mrs. Powers, chairman of international relations and Mrs. Morris Rochlin, chairman of publicity.

An invitation has been extended by the State Federation to the local club and high school pupils of the town and their mothers to attend a program at the New Jersey College for Women, Saturday. The morning will be given over to a tour of the grounds and buildings. In the afternoon guests will attend the football game in the new Rutgers stadium.

3-CAR CRASHES SEEM TO BE THE THING HERE

Two Such Accidents
Were Reported
Recently

Three-car collisions seem to be the thing in Belleville these days. Early Saturday afternoon Carlo Spiniello, 88 Madison avenue, Paterson, pulled to a stop in Union avenue at Holmes street while the crowds poured into Clearman Field for the annual Bellboy-Bloomfield football tussle.

Nonchalantly Spiniello waited the nod from a policeman to proceed. Before the nod came he was thrown forward in his seat when a machine, driven by William Kupper, 523 Springfield avenue, Newark, bumped into him. Police say Kupper's machine was forced ahead by one driven in third position by Matthew Horman, Passaic. The only casualty, according to the authorities, was Horman, who was treated by a Passaic doctor for a slight concussion.

Three other cars tangled Thursday in Rutgers street where Miss Frances Rizzolo, a passenger in one of the three cars, which was driven by Nathan Janos, 111 Belleville avenue, was shaken up. Janos was driving north in Cortland street when his machine and one driven west in Rutgers street by Chester Cutler, 440 Belleville avenue, collided. Harold Seywert, 14 Sanderson avenue, Newark, who was going south in Cortland street, also got mixed up in the collision in which one of the cars attempted to hurdle another one.

Repulsed

Swarming into Belleville in automobiles from the general direction of Bloomfield from whence appeared last Saturday the Bengals to trounce the Bellboys 6-0, 300 invading youth were turned back by the local police as they neared Clearman Field.

Police Chief George Spatz and Captain Robert Anderson received a tip that the automobiles — loaded to the gunwales — were moving toward the objective with malice aforethought. It is said that Belleville's goal posts were the prime objective. Others aver, from inside information, that the town was to be daubed with paint — as never before.

Be that as it may, Belleville guardians of the law cut short any antics that might have worked to the town's disadvantage and two chancemen got in a night's work patrolling the gridiron at the field.

Jack Fullarton, janitor at Public School No. 8, sensed something wrong when the first contingent unloaded from the cars and made for the iron gates at the field.

NATIONAL GROCERY

Rochow, who has been with the company for twenty-two years, the last sixteen at 547 Washington avenue, will manage the new store, replete in modern fashion with its meticulous appointments.

"Thereby Belleville gets another splendid market where housewives may shop in comfort, handily and be assured of quality merchandise at lower food prices with courteous treatment," said Mr. Rochow this morning as he showed a reporter about the store with its neatly arrayed shelves. "This store," he added, "is one of the best hereabouts, convenient to all and stocked with such splendid and varied articles that it will be a treat for the good folks of Belleville to shop here."

"The store is light, airy and in keeping with the National Grocery Company idea of service to its customers," said Mr. Rochow. "This store will produce a tremendous saving to customers because selling expenses are reduced to a minimum. This is a self-service market, where Miss, Mrs. and Mr. Belleville may take time to look over the great assortment of goods and serve themselves. We want the folks to feel at home here."

"Just a few of the ideas for Belleville's families—the freshest, most luscious vegetables you've ever tasted—brimming with delicious, rich flavor—right from the farms and at budget-wise prices. Lower prices on top quality foods—the fine quality folks like—all at the thrifty budget prices they all want. Many will join the crowds that will visit our store for the super values."

"We've jammed our store with the finest produce to give Belleville the best of good eating at the most tempting of low prices."

"There was a time when a woman had to know her groceries. But with today's more effective merchandising methods, it's enough to know your grocer. If he's reliable you're assured of competent services, fine, fresh foods, assured savings on real quality and rigid cleanliness. National Grocery Company stores are a boon to the buyer's confidence to know of the constantly improving service."

"Here are values at the height of the season 'red hot values' in cool foods that will take your breath away with fine savings. This is truly an opportunity to do some effective, profitable and money-saving shopping. We're waiting to serve all our friends."

"Zipped to our refrigerators from the market, these fruits and vegetables retain all their garden freshness and flavor. Belleville folks will enjoy the added zest they impart to each meal—it's low cost health," he added as he proudly showed the well stocked store.

Woman's G.O.P. Club

The Woman's Republican Club will meet this afternoon in the clubhouse, 51 Rossmore place. There will be a short business meeting at 1:30, followed at 2 by an open meeting to which the public is invited. Candidates seeking election at the general election are invited to speak. Refreshments will be served.

The Club is planning a public card party to be held at the clubhouse Thursday evening.

Miss Edna A. Gallagher Weds John E. Burns At St. Mary's

After Motor Trip South, Couple Will Reside In Kearny

Miss Edna Ann Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gallagher, 242 Greylock parkway, and John E. Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Burns, 207 Devon street, Kearny, were wed at a nuptial mass in St. Mary Church, Nutley, Saturday. Rev. James M. Grotzbach officiated. A reception followed at Forest Hill Field Club.

Miss Miriam Gallagher served her sister as maid of honor, and Miss Florence Burns, a sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Joseph Stanley, Bloomfield, the bride's cousin, was best man, and Charles Rithers, Kearny, cousin of the bridegroom, ushered. The bride was attired in a white figured satin gown with a square neckline, long sleeves, tight bodice and a full skirt with a long train. Her tulle veil was fashioned with a cap and caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet of white roses was showered with lilies of the valley.

The attendants wore bengaline gowns made alike with square necklines, short puffed sleeves and full skirts over flounced petticoats. Their small hats, trimmed with white roses, had shoulder-length veils. Miss Gallagher was in ashes of roses and Miss Burns in electric blue. Both carried old-fashioned bouquets.

Following a motor trip south and a week at Virginia Beach, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Burns will reside in Kearny avenue, Kearny.

A Personal Loan Financed The Discovery Of America

Christopher Columbus sold Queen Isabella on the possibilities for Spain if he should sail West. He needed ships, supplies, and crews. He had no money and she not enough.

So Queen Isabella, who was a modern in her day, made a substantial personal loan, and America was discovered.

Perhaps you need only a few hundred dollars to grasp some opportunity, long desired. Discuss your needs with us. We are able to make loans on some bankable basis to a majority of those who apply.

No Minimum Balance REQUIRED AT ANY TIME!

For a trifling cost, you enjoy all the conveniences of paying by check, without ever having to "keep up" ANY balance in the account! It's better to pay by check than cash, because it's risky to keep money on hand or carry it around. It's also easier and more economical to issue a check than bother with a money order. Your check for a dollar or $1,000 costs you just a nickel.

Compare: A money order for $2.50 costs 6 cents; for $10, it's 11 cents; a $25 money order costs 15 cents; and so on up to 22 cents for $100.

Besides the economy and convenience, a check is more business-like and makes a better impression than cash or money order — and your CheckMaster check looks just like any other check.

Ginger Rogers Billed At Proctor's Theatre In "Fifth Avenue Girl"

Said to be even funnier than her recent "Bachelor Mother," Ginger Rogers' new starring vehicle, "Fifth Avenue Girl," comes to the screen of Proctor's RKO Theatre, Newark, for a week's engagement, beginning today. It follows "The Rains Came," which last night concluded a three weeks' run.

The associate feature on the new bill will be "The Escape," starring Kane Richmond with June Gale. Miss Rogers' new role is that of an unemployed girl who takes the job of bringing a rich and careless family to its collective senses.

Mirrored glass, giving a vista of space that adds much to the general attractiveness, are among the other high lights that should bring nice friendly comments to the club.

Indirect lighting has been used throughout. Bamboo plays an interesting part, as the club has built an orchestra space to represent a Mexican shack of bamboo and has carried the same idea of bamboo venetian blinds on the windows.

The Murray Housman Co., 40 East Bigelow street, Newark, held the general contract. Mr. Housman is well-known throughout Jersey and stands in the vanguard of the contractors who are setting a new pace in changes that mean "new atmosphere" and "new convenience" in wining and dining.

Florenz B. Burke Co., New York, were the interior and architectural designers, collaborating with the Murray Housman Co.

they too, have a reputation for doing the unusual in decorations as they have designed and decorated many outstanding hotels, bars and cocktail lounges in the country, at the present time specializing in bars and cocktail lounges.

FRANKLIN THEATRE CHANGES HEAD

Herman McCann Says "Tops" In Bookings Are Scheduled

The Franklin Theater, Nutley, now under management of Herman McCann, who succeeds James Cherry, who resigned, plans to release features as quickly as any suburban theater. The last complete shows from now on will start at 8:45 o'clock evenings in the Nutley playhouse and at 9 Saturday evenings.

One of the attractive drawing cards of the Franklin is the free parking facilities provided by the management for patrons.

In connection with the new set-up the Franklin offers to its patrons the new American Encyclopedia, complete in eight volumes, and Webster's new American Dictionary, complete in five volumes.

"Every man, woman and school-child should have this reference library," says Mr. McCann, adding, "Starting Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, October 19, 20 and 21, any patron of the theater may get one volume a week for ten cents additional above the regular evening admission price of thirty-five cents. After the first week the volumes will be available each Thursday and Friday evenings.

Mr. McCann was elevated to his new post in recognition of his services to the theater. He has been there five years, is married and lives in Nutley with his family.

An infinite variety and almost an endless number of talented kiddies, from the toddling stage to their early teens in age, will be seen with Bing Crosby in the "Star Maker" starting a three-day run at the Capitol, Sunday.

The kiddies were required by the story which revolves around the career of that grand song-writing, star-making showman Gus Edwards. Many old and new songs are sung and danced to in the picture, including "School Days," "In My Merry Oldsmobile," "If I Was a Millionaire," and the new hits, "An Apple for the Teacher" and "A Man and His Dreams." Also featured in the cast are Louise Campbell and Ned Sparks. Walter Damrosch also makes his motion picture debut in the picture, conducting the Philharmonic Orchestra of Los Angeles. On the same program is Elsa Maxwell's "Hotel For Women." Featured in the cast are Ann Sothorn, Linda Darnell, Jean Rogers, James Ellison, Lynn Bari, June Gale and Elsa herself.

Starting Wednesday for four days is the celebrated novel by James Hilton, "Goodbye Mr. Chips," starring Robert Donat, who gives his greatest performance, and Greer Garson, hailed as the most sensational screen find in years. The story, with a romantic love theme, has a new

Announcing
THE NEW
FORD CARS FOR 1940

22 important improvements, added to fundamental Ford features, represent the most advanced engineering in the low-price field

WHAT do the Ford cars for 1940 offer to match their brilliant new beauty? New comfort, convenience, quiet, safety—and the roomiest, richest interiors ever designed for a Ford car.

They have a host of interesting new features. Finger-Tip Gearshift on the steering post. An improved transmission, unusually easy to shift. New Controlled Ventilation. Improved shock absorbers. Softer springs, improved spring suspension and a new ride-stabilizer.*

A combination of new features makes the new cars quieter in operation. They have big, powerful hydraulic brakes. They have new Sealed-Beam Headlamps that are safer, stronger and stay bright longer. They have the famous Ford V-8 engine (85 hp in the De Luxe Ford. Choice of 85 or 60 hp in the Ford)—which blends 8-cylinder smoothness with economy.

You've never seen cars with so much performance, style and comfort at such a low price. Get acquainted. You'll enjoy the experience!

We carry all leading brands of evaporated milk. But the overwhelming choice of A&P customers is White House... so tremendously popular that over 225 MILLION cans were sold last year. This is undeniable evidence that its fine quality finds favor with American housewives. Only fine fresh milk from tested herds is used in White House. Our own dairymen and graduate chemists keep strict supervision over the evaporating process. Thus you can be confident of its goodness for infant feeding, cooking, baking and beverages. The seal of acceptance of the American Medical Association's Council on Foods is further assurance of its quality.

SPORTS

BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

IT WAS a good job pretty well done and the Bellboys have nothing to be ashamed of losing to a supposedly far superior Bloomfield outfit Saturday. If we had listened to the forecasters we, too, would have given Belleville and twelve points.

Of course, we did say last week that, after two scoreless ties, there would be points scored Saturday and that we didn't think they would all be scored by Bloomfield. In that we were wrong, for we didn't then realize that Belleville's high points were all on the defense, that they just have no offensive plays to speak of. There wasn't a Belleville play exhibited throughout the entire game that had any real offensive power connected with it, let alone scoring punch.

All afternoon the Bellboys tried to run the ends and the ends refused to be run. To this observer it appeared that the principal point of end-running was missed: hard, fast charging. All told it seems that Belleville has a team that is good on the defense and fairly alert taking advantage of the breaks, but a minus quantity on the offense. This is nothing new, because for the past few years, if Belleville scored 80 points in a season they considered themselves lucky.

It must be realized that what we said in the beginning and have repeated several times is true: that Belleville's Zebras are green. That is no disgrace nor is it an unsurmountable obstacle. So far they have acquitted themselves very creditably and have nothing to be ashamed of. Last year opponents' points were held to a minimum because there were men on the team who had enough experience to diagnose plays on the other side of the line and could act accordingly; this year the enemy scoring has been held down through sheer grit and fight. The experience will come with time and the Bellboys are determined to hang on for all they are worth until that time comes.

One of the most creditable of all features of their play to date is that in two complete games they have yet to draw a single penalty. That shows clean sportsmanship and that is a quality possessed by few teams in the heat of battle. If they lose every game and are still able to boast of that fact at the end of the season, they will have gained laurels far greater and more lasting than an undefeated schedule.

The Ghost Walks Again

FOOTBALL season being here again the old specter of Belleville-Nutley football relations is walking again. That thing just won't be allowed to die a peaceful death. It is always being revived on the slightest excuse and sometimes without an excuse.

This time it was a Nutley cohort who buttonholed us the other day and wanted to know if any progress was being made along those lines. Naturally we had to tell him no, and he expressed the opinion that someone was being very foolish. All the old arguments stirred in their sleep and got into action again during the contest, the whole thing ending up with the conclusion that it was a small or organized minority in Nutley that refused to raise the bars even though the majority of the citizens of both towns were all for calling off the childish pouting without further ado.

Our contention of last year that Belleville plays a tougher schedule than Nutley, which contention was denied so vehemently by the Nutley coach, was well borne out by the Colleton rankings last year and again last week when Colleton mathematically proved that Belleville's schedule is the toughest in the state, ten places above Nutley. Nutley has a fine team this fall, from all the reports we have heard and read, and that is the way it goes. Both schools have that funny human characteristic of rising and falling in the football picture, so no one need feel that a series between the two schools would be one-sided.

We still feel, as does almost everyone in Belleville and the majority in Nutley, that the natural rivalry between the schools should be fostered instead of trammelled by petty personal jealousies and ambitions.

Ye Prognosticator

OLD MUSTAPHA ALI repaired his damaged reputation slightly last week by picking 37 out of 53, bringing his total for the year to 66 wins, 28 losses, 702 average. He says the ones hardest to bear are Louisiana State's swamping Holy Cross, Furman defeating tradition with Georgia, Nebraska-Minnesota, Oklahoma-Northwestern, Texas-Wisconsin. Then, with a brave shake of his head, he spoke as follows (first named are his selections):

EAST — Penn-Yale, Texas Christian-Temple, Columbia-Army, Boston College-Florida, Western Reserve-Boston U., Brown-Colgate, Bucknell-Albright, Detroit-Catholic, Scranton-C.C.N.Y., Cornell-Princeton, Dartmouth-Navy, Pitt-Duke, Duquesne-Manhattan, F. & M. Lebanon Valley, Syracuse-Georgetown, George Washington-Butler, Holy Cross-Georgia, Georgia Tech-Howard, Lafayette-Muhlenberg, Penn State-Lehigh, Rutgers-Richmond, Villanova-Texas A. & M.

SOUTH — Alabama-Mercer, Auburn-Mississippi State, Mississippi-Century, Centre-Transylvania, Furman-Citadel, Davidson-South Carolina, Tulane-Fordham, Kentucky-Oglethorpe, Rice-Louisiana State, Virginia-Maryland, North Carolina-N.Y.U., Tennessee-Chattanooga, Vanderbilt-V.M.I., Wake Forest-North Carolina State.

MIDWEST & SOUTHWEST — Baylor-Arkansas, Carnegie Tech-Case, Harvard-Chicago, Kansas State-Colorado, Indiana-Wisconsin, Michigan-Iowa, Nebraska-Iowa State, Michigan State-Marquette, Minnesota-Purdue, Missouri-Washington (St. Louis), Northwestern-Ohio State, Notre Dame-S.M.U., Oklahoma-Texas.

PACIFIC COAST — Oregon-California, Idaho-Gonzaga, Southern California-Illinois, St. Mary's-Loyola, Oregon State-Portland, Santa Clara-San Francisco, U.C.L.A.-Stanford, Washington-Washington State.

ITEM: Two 1,000 scores have been rolled thus far in the Manufacturers' Bowling League, both last Friday night and both hit 1,000 on the nose. They were rolled by teams playing against each other, Kooler-keg doing it first, National Box coming through in the last game to win their only victory in nine starts this season.

Lackawannas Of 1929

Tripped By Woodsides 10-7

The Woodsides turned the clock back ten seasons when they outdistanced and outlasted Ed "Pop" Williams' 1929 edition of the old Lackawanna P. C. Sunday afternoon at Branch Brook Park.

The old-timers jumped off to a four run lead in the opening inning only to have it gradually wilted by opportune base hits and creaking muscles.

Walker, F. Lynch, O'Reilly and Behney proved the big men with the willow for the upstarts while Smith, Frew, Clark and Costello provided the fireworks for the bearded giant.

Bellboys Rest For West Side After Holding Bloomfield 6-0

Bengals Break Scoreless Jinx, Zahnle Plunges Over In Third

The football forces of Belleville High dug their cleats in deep Saturday and surprised the experts by holding powerful Bloomfield High to a 6-0 victory. In many ways it was a moral victory for the Bellboys, who pitted an inexperienced, light team against the heavy Bengals with nine veterans in the line-up.

Belleville was outplayed when the statistics and the football ability are scanned, but they were not outplayed. It was a bitter battle from the beginning, both teams trying to break the scoreless jinx which had hung over the game since 1936.

The Bloomfield power was present and clicked briefly from time to time, but the Bellboys staved off two touchdown threats before succumbing to the lone score of the afternoon.

The first half was a punting duel, both teams feeling each other out and waiting for a break. All the play was in the center of the field with the exception of Bloomfield's one penetration to the Blue & Gold 14-yard line.

Here Adams fumbled and, by the time the boys stopped kicking the ball around, it belonged to Belleville on its own 28.

Zahnle Scores

The scoring thrust came early in the third period. Following the kickoff, Bloomfield was unable to gain and kicked to Belleville's 9. Faas' kick was poor, travelling only to Belleville's 32.

The Bellboys held for downs, but again the kick was poor sailing only to midfield and being returned to Belleville's 38. From here it took the Bengals only three plays to put the ball over.

Adams tossed a long pass to Landrum for a first down on Belleville's ten-yard line. Vesterman shot through the line for three yards and Zahnle hit the same spot for a touchdown.

From there on the teams returned to their punting duel, neither team being able to go anywhere either on the ground or in the air.

The Zebras have an extra week of rest before returning to the wars. They have an open date this week and will meet West Side on Saturday.

Clifton lost its second game, to Passaic 31-6.

South Side absorbed a 32-0 beating from Nutley.

West Orange was nosed out 6-0 by Paterson Eastside.

West Side laced Newark Central 33-0.

Irrington lost a close one to Garfield's state champions 14-12.

Hillsdale and Kearny, played on the Belleville card, played each other, the latter winning 6-0.

MAYOR TOUCHES

public service at lower or existing costs.

"Any quality of public services cost dollars. Increasing volume of service or constantly raising standards usually cost more dollars."

"Analysis of costs of 22 Essex Communities shows 21 different tax rates—

"Comparative analysis of a number of services rendered indicates wide variation—further comparative analysis shows wide variation in quality of services—and further analysis shows wide variation in cost per capita of similar services in different communities."

"Demands for particular services vary in different communities. Small substantial representative groups of one community be denied a high standard of education or other public services, if these groups are willing to absorb higher costs?"

"A discussion of consolidation of municipalities of Essex County can be as controversial as the national neutrality question, but we can approach this question with the hope of developing constructive thinking towards the real problem—lower public costs and improved public service."

"Do we want consolidation of communities, bringing with it the possibility of leveling down the standards of all branches of government of some communities even though we concede raising slightly the standards of others? Have we any assurance standards will be improved in any way by consolidation?"

"We can call objection to consolidation of communities provincialism, parochialism or simply local pride, but experience of many communities does not warrant even discussing consolidation without great deliberation."

"The great majority of citizens of Essex County's 22 municipalities do not want consolidation, and will not consider consolidation until the average standard of all approximately the standards of the best operated municipalities, and this looks to me like a political will-o-the-wisp."

"We, in Belleville, determined on a set of standards we believe are within the reasonable paying capacity of our people. Group pressure has caused many increases in municipal costs—public officials have had little made miserable at times and suffered political defeat because of activities of pressure groups opposing practical economies."

"Who really and sincerely wants rigid public economy? Many talk it—how many will sacrifice for it?"

"Job holders and their relatives do not want rigid economy when jobs are jeopardized—even though they are taxpayers. Dealers in supplies and manufacturers of equipment do not want rigid economy—many are the methods used to put pressure on Boards, Commissioners and public officials to purchase supplies and equipment."

"Contractors and engineering corporations are anxious to show public officials how and where new streets can be placed, why a swimming pool is imperatively needed, why a new recreation center is almost a necessity, even to the point of developing a fine propaganda campaign to stir up pressure groups for their project within the municipality. Some bond houses waited but a short time after municipalities became financially rehabilitated to show public officials how easily new bonds could be sold."

"As taxpayers, all the individuals of these groups join in the call for lower government costs—as job holders and business men seeking business orders they prove themselves to be quite ordinary human beings."

"Will consolidation develop a remote type of government control that now makes our Freeholders, our independent Commission members, our County and State Boards and Local Government Finance Commission, persons difficult to see and more difficult to have see local viewpoints?"

"May consolidation develop a political entity that might become a political Frankenstein with no assurance of increased benefits or lower costs? Many mergers of the past proved this may happen."

"If certain folks of all Essex fear Newark may dominate if all Essex is consolidated, will consolidation offer any assurance that Newark's burden of 58% of Essex costs will not give ground for Newark asking for 55% of county control?"

"Will County assessors be more competent to discuss local assessments than local assessors? Many of you gentlemen, realtors and appraisers, I believe prefer to sit with local officials, both see local facts more clearly."

"Do State Tax Board members know local values as well as qualified local assessors? Do they and the experts and so-called experts know local values intimately?"

"Comparison of tax rates is no criterion of quality or cost of public service."

"Local operating costs have decreased substantially in many places while total budgets have increased very substantially, due to passage of certain State Laws, due to decreasing assessment rolls, due to assessment policies in communities where said communities' high percentage of county taxables is very high."

TRIBUTE TO CHARLES A. GEBHARDT, JR.

When 200 prominent Elks and townspeople gathered Thursday evening in the Elks' Club to honor School Commissioner Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., who is a member of the lodge, there was a demonstration of how our civic-minded leaders recognize the untiring efforts of their fellow townsmen. "Gebby," as the school commissioner is affectionately known to his friends, who are legion, has quietly and effectively contributed much to the betterment of Belleville. Not many know it, for the commissioner never toots his own horn, but whenever a worker is needed in Belleville's behalf he is right up in the front ranks. Not only did he do a splendid job for the Elks, contributing much in time and effort to get the lodge off on a well-founded financial basis, but he has offered his legal training gratis to the school authorities in many and sundry cases. If it is a community chest appeal, a problem of the Lions Club, a Boy Scout requirement, a crippled kiddie, personal advice and aid, or any one of the many things that need someone to lend a push to the wheel, "Gebby" is there. And, thus is explained why 200 odd persons, Elks and townsmen, paid tribute to him at a banquet. "Gebby" is one of those fellows who never wears an enlarged hat. More power to him. Belleville could stand a few more Charles Gebhardts.

A TIMELY ANALYSIS

The question of municipal and county costs and services as discussed by Mayor William H. Williams before the Newark Board of Realtors at the Essex House last Thursday, has created considerable interest in Essex municipalities.

Mayor Williams' discourse developed much food for thought among those favoring consolidation of municipalities as well as those opposed to consolidation. The Mayor exhibited a broad grasp of his subject and received a splendid tribute from the audience of over 300 realtors, attorneys and appraisers present. Elsewhere in this issue is printed the discourse of the Mayor.

Our readers are urged to study his interesting discussion which develops a practical procedure for approaching a difficult problem.

The Mayor's intimate knowledge of public finance and governmental costs has been widely recognized and his enthusiasm in reducing the technical phases of public operations to the language of the man in the street is indeed a real public benefit.

GIVE OUR YOUTH A CHANCE

Limited to $5,900 for the year to carry on recreation work for 6,000 Belleville youngsters, Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll has been faced with what might be classed as an insurmountable problem. Out of the meager pitance must come salaries of Recreation Director Edward Lister, the custodian of the Recreation House in Joralemon street, Michael Carragher, maintenance expenses and $700 for rental of the high school for basketball. It does not require much stretch of imagination to realize that the $600 balance left for the children of this town for recreation is inadequate.

6,000 kiddies trying to get recreation on a $600 allowance should shame each one of us into trying to better these conditions. It is true that we have ample park space in Belleville, maybe a little too much of it for the good of our rateables books, but the park land is so situated that not all of Belleville's children may make use of it. Take for instance Greylock section of town. Where do most of the children there play?

In the streets, of course, from the hill to the valley — and south to Belleville avenue in most sections.

Belleville needs some play centers — it needs some school buildings thrown open to the public in the evenings — it needs to wake up to the fact that the kiddies of the town are entitled to a break. To try to take care of the recreation needs of 6,000 children on $600 a year is a joke. If this situation continues, it might be better to save the paltry amount now spent. This is not a suggestion, however. We say spend more for the play time of the town's children. Give them some playgrounds so that they may get off the streets, which are unsafe.

Play centers built now will call for smaller jails in years to come.

ATTACKING BASENESS

Mayor William H. Williams and the Town Commission intend to stamp out the sale of salacious and obscene literature from the stands of Belleville. This is a fine move and in keeping with the movement of the churches. Belleville sent its quota of marchers to the Holy Name parade in Newark, Sunday — a demonstration for decency and therein lies a lesson. Our entire civilization is built around the churches and those who give their lives to teach us to think right — whatever our creeds may be. In a world in which religion is being attacked by self-seeking war lords, the lesson driven home by Sunday's parade becomes more apparent. Clean living and clean speech is good for body and soul. But, the drive here against improper literature is not only a religious one, but it has its moral aspects. Each parent owes it to those in the churches who are crusading against such literature to cooperate. Belleville is to be congratulated for its stand. The Mayor says he has no sympathy for those who want to keep improper literature in stores, but all sympathy for those who would ban it.

COLUMBUS DAY

This Columbus Day — 1939 — and no more fitting time to take stock of what this auspicious anniversary means to us. Christopher Columbus discovered America after sailing the hazardous seas in tiny vessels to reach the shores of our land. It was his discovery of a new land that has given us the freedom we so cherish. Perhaps some brave man or woman might have discovered later what Columbus found in 1492. Who knows? But the fact remains he discovered this fair terrain and it has come down to us through privations of our ancestors. Over seas, from whence came Columbus, all is in turmoil. Over here, aside from the jitters which come to us from reading or hearing what our neighbors across the waters are doing and saying, we seem to be going about our manner of living much as always. And so we take stock today of all the freedoms we have. This is a great country, the best on the face of the earth. We owe it to Columbus and his band of hardy, seafaring discoverers. Let's treasure it and not make too light of Columbus Day. It is a priceless heritage.

SEVEN RULES FOR SAFETY

The outstanding fire prevention authority of the nation has issued a set of seven fire prevention rules which, intelligently observed, would go a long way toward keeping the fire demon under control.

1. Use electricity safely. That means that all electric wiring and equipment should be installed in accordance with the National Electrical Code, and that repairing and installation should be done by an expert workman. Amateur electric work is one of fire's best friends.
2. Smoke in safe places only. That goes for your home, your office, the factory in which you work, for the outdoors and everywhere else. Carelessness with matches and smoking materials destroys untold millions of dollars worth of property yearly.
3. Remember that great fires were small fires to start with. Proper building construction, plus good fire protection, would make it possible to prevent almost any fire from seriously spreading.
4. Fire breeds in oily waste — keep all such waste in a closed metal container.
5. Carelessness and ignorance are often the cause of explosive fires. Here is a rule especially applicable to workmen in industry, who should thoroughly understand the possible fire dangers involved in their particular jobs.
6. In many factories and places of business special fire hazards exist, which require unusual precaution and vigilance.
7. Cleanliness is a basic aid to fire prevention. Keep your basement, garage, attic and closets clear of litter.

IN HIS OWN BACKYARD

Musical Reviews

Just about anybody hereabouts who is interested in music knows Henry Mutschler, proprietor of the Delemon Music Store in Central avenue, Newark. His cordiality and spirit of helpfulness is known to many. An artistic atmosphere seems to pervade his shop.

Three years ago Mr. Mutschler brought Dr. John Thompson, leading music pedagogue of Kansas City, to Newark to give two talks on teaching material for piano pupils. There were just fifteen in his audience. Last Wednesday and Thursday mornings Dr. Thompson was again in Newark to give the same type of lectures, so that time before over 200 interested piano teachers.

A good thirty per cent of the audience was comprised of young teachers. Six teachers from Belleville attended: Eleanor Bacon-Peck, Adell Sutherland, Hazel Ellsworth, Margaret Akers, Amy G. Stratton and Mrs. E. J. Hayward.

Audiences are funny things to watch. There were the two friends who sat with a seat between them, then stage-whispered their ideas across the empty space, so that a considerable group sitting around them had the benefit of their opinions whether they wished to hear them or not.

Then there was the woman who dropped a package three times in half an hour. One young teacher, looking around for the moving friends, and smiling at them when she had gained their attention. Of course, three people had to leave before the lecture was over and, of course, they had been sitting in the front row, so that they had to tiptoe awkwardly the full length of the hall.

But in spite of all that, Dr. Thompson had an interested and enthusiastic audience. He is doing a fine work in giving assistance to music teachers; and there is no doubt that he is raising the standard of the profession considerably.

NEW JERSEY TODAY

Our Earliest Inhabitants

With the return of "school days" it may be appropriate to review the early known history of New Jersey with which every young person should be made familiar and of which some of their elders may not be too well informed. Who first discovered that this area was a good place in which to live, no one pretends to know but archaeologists tell us that the "Trenton Graves" just south of Trenton, furnished evidence of human habitation at least 10,000 years ago. From this, some have claimed that the "First Western Man" made his home here.

When the first Europeans arrived, what is now New Jersey was occupied by the Leni-Lenape Indians, a friendly people belonging to the great Algonquin tribe. One historian while admitting a few Indian massacres following the white invasion, says that the occasional uprising of the natives occurred only when they were goaded beyond endurance by the foreign usurpation of their heritage of land and stream.

"Invariably treated as inferiors and cheated of their lands by all-too-elastic European consciences, they readily fell prey to the white man's greed, brandy and disease." It also seems that there are records indicating that some Indians were made slaves. From which it would appear that aggression was not a modern invention. From whom the Indians had taken the land earlier, can only be surmised.

One may wonder whether the Indian, who loved and revered the wilderness, warned the newcomers that their descendants would regret the destruction that soon began, of natural resources, history said. However, the country-wide planning that is now being done to restore forested areas and to conserve water supplies and other resources that have been largely wasted, is grim evidence of the ruthlessness of the Europeans in introducing a new civilization.

The mission of planning agencies such as the New Jersey State Planning Board now in its sixth year, is to overtake so far as possible, the mistakes of the forefathers by the conservation of the gifts that nature so generously bestowed upon us and to plan the future in such a way as to assure the maximum in welfare and happiness of the millions who survive the "First Western Man."

The wisdom and foresight of the Governor and Legislature in providing funds for the continuation on an even wider scale of State Planning in New Jersey for the current year, cannot fail to encourage all those interested in the future of New Jersey and its people.

By United States Senator W. Warren Barbour

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—There is one thing we Americans have to learn in this world crises, if we ourselves are to keep out of war. That is to keep cool.

I'm not going to be rushed off my feet by those who get excited and hysterical over each fresh development, and I hope the country as a whole will develop a habit of thinking and acting calmly as new crises occur. If we ever do get into the war, it will be because Congress succumbs to a wave of hysteria sweeping in from the country, or to group pressures now being exerted and to be expected in the future from those who think we ought to be pursuing a different course.

My own position in favor of the so-called cash-and-carry policy, which from the beginning seemed to me to be wise, seemed clear last week. Some of my friends were impatient to have me speak sooner, and I was besieged by anxious friends on both sides of this issue during the interval before I felt justified in saying how I would vote. But I am sure on reflection all must agree that in matters which might involve the lives of our youth, and in reaching decisions on issues which, if we decide wrongly, may wreck what is left of democracy and give Communism the "go" signal throughout the world, no one in my position or with responsibility should act on snap judgment or speak without mature thought, no matter how strong his own thoughts and convictions may be. And the fact remains that all this study simply justifies my own original views.

As to the immediate issue of retaining or lifting the arms embargo, and allowing our ships to enter the war zones or prohibiting them from doing so, I look at it this way:

We got into the First World War largely because our sympathies inclined us strongly in that direction from the start, as it became apparent that Hohenzollern Germany was casting one civilized concept after another into the discard, and because, finally, they began sinking our ships as a phase of unrestricted submarine warfare. And those are precisely the dangers which confront us now.

If we can keep our ships out of the danger zones, hard as that will be on our shipping, as proposed under the revised neutrality program, which I intend to support, we will have largely eliminated that particular danger of involvement. As between the mythical principle of the "freedom of the seas" as this involves the right to carry war supplies to all belligerents, and the lives of thousands or millions of young Americans, I think we'd better let someone else carry the war materials to England and France. And please remember that almost every product actually is an "implement of war."

Then if we can just keep cool on top of that, we can at least stay out of the war longer than we could under other circumstances, and if we definitely make up our minds to it, can stay out altogether.

In the meantime our national defenses will be tremendously strengthened by the expansion of our war production, particularly in the vital fields of aircraft, so that if war should be forced on us by others in spite of all we can do to keep it away from American shores, we shall be better prepared to defend our own country and its institutions of freedom and democracy.

That is the way I see it. To paraphrase the old verse! "We don't want to fight, But by jingo, if we do, We'll have the planes, We'll have the ships, We'll have the money, too!"

There is certainly some basis for the thought that our present lopsided neutrality law was in some degree a contributing cause, however slight, to the present world war. Hitler knew we could not sell planes and other war materials to anyone, and that this would work to the disadvantage of France and England. He probably figured that he could win the war before they could get under way or overcome their inefficiency in aircraft and other equipment which he had and could rely on getting from Communist Russia.

I am even more convinced that Stalin got into the war on the side of Germany for one end only: To spread Communism.

Stalin knew there would be no war now anyway if he aligned himself with France and England, for Hitler would not have dared invade Poland as he did without an understanding with the Soviet. By encouraging Hitler, Stalin not only gets half of Poland without cost, but starts a new and costly war which, the longer it lasts, the more it leads to widespread pagan Communism and possible revolutions in other countries of Europe. All of which would play right into Stalin's hands.

pathies inclined us strongly in that direction from the start, as it became apparent that Hohenzollern Germany was casting one civilized concept after another into the discard, and because, finally, they began sinking our ships as a phase of unrestricted submarine warfare. And those are precisely the dangers which confront us now.

If we can keep our ships out of the danger zones, hard as that will be on our shipping, as proposed under the revised neutrality program, which I intend to support, we will have largely eliminated that particular danger of involvement. As between the mythical principle of the "freedom of the seas" as this involves the right to carry war supplies to all belligerents, and the lives of thousands or millions of young Americans, I think we'd better let someone else carry the war materials to England and France. And please remember that almost every product actually is an "implement of war."

Then if we can just keep cool on top of that, we can at least stay out of the war longer than we could under other circumstances, and if we definitely make up our minds to it, can stay out altogether.

In the meantime our national defenses will be tremendously strengthened by the expansion of our war production, particularly in the vital fields of aircraft, so that if war should be forced on us by others in spite of all we can do to keep it away from American shores, we shall be better prepared to defend our own country and its institutions of freedom and democracy.

That is the way I see it. To paraphrase the old verse! "We don't want to fight, But by jingo, if we do, We'll have the planes, We'll have the ships, We'll have the money, too!"

There is certainly some basis for the thought that our present lopsided neutrality law was in some degree a contributing cause, however slight, to the present world war. Hitler knew we could not sell planes and other war materials to anyone, and that this would work to the disadvantage of France and England. He probably figured that he could win the war before they could get under way or overcome their inefficiency in aircraft and other equipment which he had and could rely on getting from Communist Russia.

I am even more convinced that Stalin got into the war on the side of Germany for one end only: To spread Communism.

Stalin knew there would be no war now anyway if he aligned himself with France and England, for Hitler would not have dared invade Poland as he did without an understanding with the Soviet. By encouraging Hitler, Stalin not only gets half of Poland without cost, but starts a new and costly war which, the longer it lasts, the more it leads to widespread pagan Communism and possible revolutions in other countries of Europe. All of which would play right into Stalin's hands.

Above all, let us think and act in these days as Americans.

HEALTH QUESTION: What efforts are made to detect and control tuberculosis?

1. Increasing numbers are having tuberculin tests, followed by X-rays of the positive reactors, to find active cases of tuberculosis.
2. When cases are discovered they are followed up to determine whether there are other cases in the family.
3. In some communities food handlers are examined to eliminate tuberculous handlers.
4. Dairy herds are tested for tuberculosis. Infected animals are disposed of.
5. Much of the milk consumed is pasteurized.
6. Sanitary regulations and inspection help to assure the sale of pure, uninfected meat.
7. Improved housing and elimination of slums are leading slowly to cleaner, better heated, and better ventilated living quarters for those in the low income brackets.
8. Emphasis upon nutrition among the undernourished is increasing their general resistance.

The semi-annual rummage sale of Christ Episcopal church under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild will be held in the Parish House, 395 Washington avenue on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday November 13, 14 and 15.

Snoop's Snoops

We were glad to notice on Saturday that the snare drums in the Belleville High School band had been tightened. Apparently someone reads this column and took the criticism to heart. Now, if they would feed the bass drummer an extra case of Wheaties so that he would at least make himself heard, there would be a decided improvement in the band. Musically they are doing pretty well, but the drum section could stand quite some improvement.

While on the subject of the game, it seems that everyone in town was on hand Saturday to see Bloomfield score their first point in three years. Too bad it had to happen that way, because the Belleville team, although outweighed thirteen pounds to a man, put up a very good exhibition. Better luck next time.

The testimonial dinner tendered to Charles A. Gebhardt, school commissioner, at the Elks Club on Thursday of last week was a "howling" success. Charlie seemed well pleased with the turn-out and with the gift that was presented to him by the toastmaster, Herbert Schmutz. It is indeed a pleasure to know that when one gives of their time, it is recognized. Congratulations, "Gebby."

We had a chat last week with Conrad Neibel, who has been driving the American Railway Express truck in Belleville for so many years that we can't exactly remember when he started. When we first remember Conrad he was driving a team of horses, and although we're sure he has been in town over twenty years, he doesn't look a day older today than he did when he started. Neither does he seem to gain or lose any weight.

According to the reports in the paper, the Recreation Commission is dead. By that we mean that the Town Commissioners at the meeting last week abolished the five-man board which has been operating the recreation activities for a number of years. The entire responsibility has been placed in the hands of Commissioner Louis A. Noll. We wish to congratulate the Recreation Commissioners for the good job that they have done, when it is considered that their budget has been extremely limited. These men gave of their time without any compensation. Their names should go down among the citizens of Belleville who have contributed to the town's welfare. We trust that Commissioner Noll will carry on the good work and that he personally may be able to convince the Commissioners that more money should be made available for this important phase of town government.

We notice that ground has been broken in the Silver Lake section for an addition to the Edison plant; also that construction is well along on the Heyer Company plant in Cortlandt street. From the looks of the property in the vicinity of the old Copper Mill, work will be started very soon on the Jergens plant. With these three important manufacturing building programs under way, Belleville should be in line for a good industrial boom.

Here's another odd one: Silver Lake, although part of Belleville, cannot be reached from Belleville proper by automobile without going through either Bloomfield or Newark. There is no street connecting the Silver Lake section. Our fire engines and police cars must detour through either of the above mentioned towns. This situation will be corrected, we hope, when the County extends Sixth street to meet Franklin avenue.

School Commissioner Lynch did not say that which were being to the structure of No. were going into an No siree, sir! He said body must be used school bricks for a ne

Belleville And Nutley Are Westinghouse Plant Guests

Visitors See Lamps And Radio Tube Bases Manufactured

Hundreds of Belleville and Nutley residents were guests of Westinghouse employees at the Belleville Base Plant Saturday at a Community Day celebration observed simultaneously in three New Jersey plants of the Westinghouse Lamp Division. Lamp works of the Division at Bloomfield and Trenton also were open to visitors.

Public officials, business and industrial leaders of the community, friends, neighbors and members of the families of Westinghouse employees were among invited guests who visited the Base Plant during the day.

Distinguished guests headed by Mayor William H. Williams, Belleville, and Mayor Frederick H. Young, Nutley, were among those invited. Others included Commissioners Patrick J. Waters, William D. Clark, Joseph King and Louis A. Noll, and Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer, Belleville; Commissioners Raleigh S. Rife, George A. Rogers, Edgar H. Bostock and Joseph Blum, and Superintendent of Schools John A. Spargo, Nutley, as well as other town, fire and police officials of both towns.

J. B. Whitmore, superintendent of the Belleville Base Plant, was chairman of the Community Day committee for that plant.

Manufacturing aisles where skilled workers and almost human machines produce more than a million lamp and tube bases daily were open for inspection, and many of the machines were in actual operation.

What the visitors actually saw was a major segment of the electrical industry under working conditions; the modern industrial surroundings in which Westinghouse employees work; a hobby show in which employees displayed the diversified products of their leisure moments, and the wide range of activities carried on by the company in behalf of its personnel.

Intricate and Uncanny

Guests at the Belleville plant saw intricate and uncanny automatic machines, and at almost unbelievable speed, cutting and shaping brass bases for lamps; watched huge eighty-ton presses transform powdered bakelite "pills" about the size of golf balls into shiny black bases for radio tubes.

They saw the huge "Bright Dip" machine, only one of its type in existence, which automatically cleans and brightens the brass lamp bases. This machine has a capacity of nearly 250,000 bases an hour; took nearly a year to build; includes thirty-five different controls which operate automatically; uses about 3,000 gallons of water an hour. It is served by an air cleaning system which removes more than 8,000 cubic feet of air per minute, to prevent acid vapors from escaping into the room in which it is housed.

Another almost-human machine which attracted the attention of all visitors was the Glass Batch Mixing Machine, which automatically weighs out four different materials in the correct proportions, thoroughly mixes those materials, and delivers them ready for the glass furnaces.

Automatic control glass furnaces were in operation for the visitors. These furnaces automatically maintain the molten glass at the exact temperature required, deliver it in bright, steady streams, and allow just the right amount to flow into each brass lamp base shell.

Huge "pill-rolling" machines were at work in another department compressing powdered bakelite into golf ball-like pellets for delivery to the big presses. There, visitors discovered, also were marvels of manufacturing precision, and human ingenuity.

Powdered bakelite pills in trays were placed in the presses, and within a few minutes what had been pills emerged as accurately shaped black bases for radio tubes. After the removal of burrs formed during the moulding operation, the bases were taken to other machines which insert the required number of metal contact pins in each.

Sharp-eyed inspectors, it seemed, were everywhere, seeing to it that all lamp and radio tube bases produced meet the company's rigid specifications and proving that Westinghouse makes no compromise with quality, no matter how small or inexpensive a particular product may be.

Hobby Show

Among outstanding exhibits in the spacious cafeteria at the base plant was the Hobby Show, where needlework, stamp collections, photographs, models and dozens of other examples of the sparetime activities of employees were on view.

In the cafeteria, too, the visitors saw displays of lamps and electronic tubes produced at the Bloomfield and Trenton Lamp Works, exhibits illustrating vividly scientific progress in the electrical industry; products of numerous other Westinghouse plants elsewhere; a complete array of Westinghouse appliances showing how the homemaker can put electricity to work to lighten household tasks and make for a more comfortable life.

New lamps on display were developed by Westinghouse engineers especially for the York Works Fair, and have been termed the greatest spectacle of light in history. These included a special water-cooled high intensity mercury arc tube which produces light rivaling the sun in brilliance from a quartz tube little larger than a cigarette.

The visitors saw "Black-Light" lamps which produce invisible ultraviolet rays capable of bringing out beautiful hidden designs in fabrics, on walls, floors or ceilings, by the phenomenon known as fluorescence; the new tubular fluorescent lamps which produce light by the roundabout method of first creating invisible ultraviolet rays, then transforming them to visible light by means of fluorescent materials or "phosphors" on the inner surface of the tube. These lamps are available now in five sizes and seven hues, a veritable palette of color in light for the engineer, architect, home designer and decorator.

New lamps for other than lighting purposes also were shown. These included the Westinghouse Sterilamp, which kills germs and mold spores by bombarding them with ultraviolet "darts." Others included X-Ray tubes, a lamp-like steam generator which can convert cold water into superheated steam in fifteen seconds; heating and drying lamps; the "Electric Eye" which has relieved human hands of numerous monotonous or dangerous tasks in industry, and numerous others.

Hobby Show Winners

Needlework and crocheting: First prize, Seraphina Haug; second, Ruth Bouquet; knitting and crocheting: First, Antoinette Melnick; second, Harriet Weichselbaum; novices: First, Edward Hackrath; photographs: First, Robert Hubbard; handicraft: First, Ernest Moore; miscellaneous: First, Mrs. Tillie Scheper; second, Frank A. Newcombe; meritorious service: Walter Godfrey.

Chief Returns From Trip

Fire Chief and Mrs. Alex Reid and the chief's brother-in-law, James Hozack, have returned from a twenty-eight-day trip to Washington and California and return on which they covered 8,444 miles.

While in Washington they visited at Tacoma two brothers of the chief, John and Walter, formerly of Belleville.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN PILGRIMAGE TO OYSTER BAY

Will Visit The Grave Of Late President Theodore Roosevelt

More than 6,000 Boy Scouts from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Massachusetts will make their twentieth annual pilgrimage to the grave of Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, L. I., on Saturday, October 21. The late President, known to the Scouts as "Chief Scout Citizen," was active in Scouting.

Led by National Scout Commissioner Daniel Carter Beard, now eighty-nine years old, the Scouts will march to Youngs Cemetery headed by a massed formation of Scouts carrying United States and Scout troop flags. Also at the head of the line of march will be a group of Scouts and Scout Leaders in authentic Indian and buckskin regalia together with delegations from the Explorers Club, Campfire Club, the Buckskin Men and the Range Riders of the West.

The Scouts will assemble at the Oyster Bay High School shortly after noon. At 1:30 they will form their lines and at 2 o'clock the column will start for Youngs Memorial Cemetery, one mile away, marching to the music of Boy Scout bands and drum and bugle corps. New Jersey Scouts will head this year's march to the cemetery, followed by Greater New York, Suffolk County, Nassau County, Westchester County, New England and those from other states.

When the pilgrimage reaches the cemetery entrance, Commissioner Beard and his party will halt and review the Scouts as they file up the hill to the former President's gate-enclosed grave. Each Scout contingent will halt briefly at the grave and come to a salute as one of their members places its wreath on the grave.

The Scouts will then enter the large natural amphitheatre on the grounds for their annual memorial exercises which will open with an invocation.

Commissioner Beard will then introduce the distinguished visitors, many of them were close friends of the late President.

During the "Ceremony of Roses," a ritual by which all present pay their respects to Scout leaders who recently died, a Scout will toss rose petals into the air as the names of the late leaders are called.

Scout Program

Following "Uncle Dan" Beard's annual address, the Scouts will recite the Scout Oath and Law. Then four buglers, blowing to the four winds, will give the Church Call. Then Scouts of Stamford, Conn., will put on an Indian ceremony of the "Four Winds," "Gates of Yesterday" and "Gates of Tomorrow."

The blowing of "Taps" by an Eagle Scout will end the pilgrimage.

The annual Roosevelt Pilgrimage of the Boy Scouts of America on Saturday before the late President's birthday, October 27, has become one of the most important annual Scout events in the east. Last year more than 6,000 Scouts and leaders participated.

Theodore Roosevelt, as the first Honorary Vice-President of the Boy Scouts of America, did much to further the public's interest in the Boy Scout Movement since its inception in this country in 1910. He held the title of "Chief Scout Citizen" until his death in 1919. In that year, Commissioner Beard and 150 Scouts made the first pilgrimage to Theodore Roosevelt's grave. In each succeeding year more and more Scouts turned out for the annual tribute.

The late President's interest in Scouting was a personal one for he was a Troop Committeeman of Troop 39, Oyster Bay, his home community. On several occasions he accompanied his boys on Scout hikes. His family continues his interest in Scouting. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, the eldest son, became a member of the National Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America and since May, 1935, has been a vice-president of the movement.

This year's pilgrimage will feature a ceremony of rededication to the principles of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, with particular emphasis on the "Bill of Rights." This will be led by Boy Scouts of Greater New York.

Activities of Belleville Lodge, 1123, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks

Brother Frank Smith has started another year coaching our High School football team. From reports his team lacks weight from the chin down, but the boys have what it takes. You may expect to see a lot of razzle, dazzle football this year. It certainly is much more thrilling to see a youngster making a wild dash down the field hoping to snare a pass out of the ozone for a substantial gain than to see a lad run his head against a stone wall of humanity in a line plunge to gain a yard or two.

So, brothers, whenever possible get out and give Frank and his boys a big hand. They deserve all the encouragement that comes their way. If Belleville looks small against its opponents, remember Albie Booth, the Yale mite, who startled the football world and Davie O'Brien, T.C.U.'s miniature buckaroo. These fellows only weighed in the neighborhood of 150 pounds, but how they used their heads to fool other fellows.

It would be more simple to throw a forward pass over Butch Sandford's noggin than to tackle Belleville's big-about-the-waist, 2-ton pinochler.

Many of the brothers sat around the table enjoying a little party given Brother Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., school commissioner, last Thursday. This was in recognition of his faithful service during the last few years.

Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr.

Brothers Art Mayer, Herbert Schmutz, president of the school board; Past Exalted Ruler Ed Mathes, dean of Elks, and Joe McGrath, of the Board of Governors, worked hard on this affair. Joe writes for this column and, in case some of the brothers may accuse him of self-praise, although they should know Joe better than that — this was written by another brother. Joe will tell you he had nothing to do with helping in arrangements. Modest Joe!

When the boys—Herb Schmutz, Recorder Everett B. Smith, whose dad, W. Brand Smith was one of the Elks' first exalted rulers; Mayor Bill Williams, past exalted ruler; Brother Louis A. Noll, director of Parks and Public Property, Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Farmer, Exalted Ruler Emil Kastner and many others got through telling "Gebby" what a "great guy" he is, the school commissioner had to borrow a mirror to see if he was the one all the talk had been about. Charley really deserved the praise and the wallet which was presented to him.

The party was replete with a beef steak dinner and all the trimmings. Incidentally, over 200 were in attendance and all enjoyed a pleasant time in the new cocktail lounge, which is an example of the best in the state. Mayor Bill said that "the lounge is a credit to the town and the Elks," and that "townspeople may well feel proud of the improvement." He lauded Charley for his loyalty and efforts in behalf of Belleville and the Elks.

Party Planned

On October 21 the Elks' auditorium will be thrown open for the first venture of the fall — a party, dance and general good time, the price of which will be $1 per couple. Brother Bill Priestman says he has booked one of the best bands around this neck of the woods.

Senorita Carranza, a talented star, will vocalize accompanied by Pedro Martinez. This pair have been around the big-time and wherever they appear a return engagement is always assured.

Some time ago it was pointed out that after alterations were completed the old place would not look the same. This still goes double. Murray Hausman and his interior decorator, Miss Burke, have transformed the grille so that by comparison the high spots of New York would take a back seat.

Belleville started out to have the neatest grille in Belleville or surrounding communities and wound up just that way. Drop in, folks, and see that the Elks have fulfilled this pledge. The judging is up to you.

Tuberculosis League Gives Accounting Of Year's Work

Mantoux Tests Were Given In Belleville And Nutley Schools

The Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association, Inc., which has sponsored three Christmas Seal sales, reports that "1938 has been a good health year. All reports indicate a lower tuberculosis case reporting and death rate."

The nurses' report continues: "A great step in the prevention of tuberculosis was accomplished when the youth of both towns received skin testing in the schools. Belleville and Nutley showed the largest number of children tested in the county under the supervision of Dr. Byron M. Harmon, superintendent of Essex Mountain Sanatorium. The number of active cases reported in Belleville was twelve, eight male and four female. In Nutley the total was thirteen, five male and eight female. Belleville reported four deaths and Nutley seven. All of the Belleville deaths were females and in Nutley three were males and four females."

Clinic work was as follows: Number held, Belleville 30; Nutley 30; cases examined, Belleville 230; Nutley 108; new cases, Belleville 104; Nutley 52; X-rays, Belleville 125; Nutley 71; contacts examined, Belleville 48; Nutley 26; visits, Belleville 48; Nutley 26.

Mantoux Tests

In the Mantoux testing in Belleville High School, 1,284 were tested, with 616 or forty-seven per cent positive reactors; Belleville grade schools, 836 tested, positive reactors, 327, forty-seven per cent; Belleville teachers, 98 tested, positive reactors, eighty per cent; St. Peter's Parochial School, 98 tested, positive reactors, twelve, fifteen per cent; Nutley High School 336 tested, positive reactors 189, fifty-six per cent; St. Mary Parochial School, 85 tested, positive reactors, twelve, sixteen per cent.

Public school children who were positive reactors were X-rayed at Essex Mountain Sanatorium. Transportation was arranged by the boards of education. Parochial school pupils were taken by private car. X-ray findings of all pupils were mailed to parents by the superintendent of schools and the school physicians.

Nutley — 31 pupils showed signs which needed careful check-up by private physicians or clinics. One active case was found in the High School. Sanatorium care was arranged and after months of curing, pupil was classified as an arrested case and returned home.

Belleville — There were no active cases found in the Belleville schools, although 134 High School and 90 grade school pupils and one St. Peter's School pupil showed signs to be watched carefully by private physicians or clinic.

St. Mary School — Assisted school physician, 545 physical examinations twice a year. Seventy-five toxoid injections against diphtheria were given.

Public Health Work

Assisted physician at Nutley Department of Health at 125 vaccinations against smallpox and examination of eighteen colored boys for camp entrance.

The association nurse, Miss Elizabeth F. Smith, R.N., is sincerely grateful for the assistance received from the Departments of Health and the hygiene, school and Red Cross nurses; the Lions, Elks and the Woman's Clubs; social service workers; the staff of the Essex Mountain Sanatorium; police and fire departments for their kindness in handling the very sick who are taken in ambulances; Dr. E. L. Smith, superintendent of Essex County Isolation Hospital, for permission to hold clinics on the second, third and last Mondays of each month, and the local physicians, and to all who have helped in one way or another during the year.

Christmas Seal Sales

The clerical details of the Christmas Seal sales were handled in the departments of health through the committee in charge and the Woman's Clubs. Belleville and Nutley High School pupils addressed the envelopes. St. Peter's Commercial School pupils folded and inserted the mail.

The returns of the Christmas Seal sale work are: Belleville, $1,818.08, and Nutley, $1,016.31. It is by means of this sale that the tuberculosis work is carried on in the two towns.

The association leaders are: J. L. Buckley, M.D., president; Eugene T. Berry, first vice-president; Mrs. Henry Conover, second vice-president; Mrs. Frederick Idenden, third vice-president; Mrs. William V. Irvine, treasurer; Mrs. William J. Vail, secretary, and Miss Smith, field nurse.

The board of directors is as follows: Belleville: Wilfred Yudin, Miss T. K. Salmon, Halsey Douglas, Mrs. Harry Fredericks, Theodore Wells, Thomas R. Mc Hale, Frederick Case, Rev. P. R. Deekenbach, Herbert C. Schmutz, Joseph King, Rev. J. M. Kelly, August Plenge, William Taffet, M.D., Floyd Bragg, Martin Meenan, M.D., Morris Roehlin, D.D.S., John A. Drentlau, James R. "Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The golden text is: "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the righteous."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God."

A three-story building of English architecture will be erected shortly at 24 Rector street, Newark, between the Fireman's Insurance Company and the University of Newark, to house the Newark Episcopal Diocese and the offices of Trinity Cathedral, it was learned yesterday.

The building will replace the old Trinity House, demolition of which was started Monday. Among its features will be an auditorium seating 550 persons, a gymnasium and quarters for Trinity Choir.

Offices of the diocese will be transferred to the new Diocesan House, as it is called, from 99 Main street, Orange. The diocese has been at that address since 1929, when its building at 21 Washington street, Newark, was sold to the American Insurance Company. Proceeds of that sale, it was disclosed, are more than sufficient to defray the cost of the new edifice. The plot was deeded to the diocese by Trinity Cathedral.

During the period of construction, Trinity Cathedral offices, including the studies of Dean Arthur Dummer and Rev. Isaac Northrup, curate, are situated at 37 Rector street.

Provision will be made in the new building for Dean Dummer and his assistant, as well as for the officers of the diocese: Bishop Benjamin M. Washburn, Suffragan Bishop Theodore R. Ludlow, Rev. W. O. Leslie, Jr., canon missionary, and Rev. A. S. Hogenauer, field secretary of the Board of Religious Education, and for diocesan organizations.

John H. and Wilson C. Ely are the architects, and the Walter Kidde Company the contractor.

The building, of fireproof construction with steel framing and reinforced concrete floors, will have an exterior of special face brick with ornamental limestone panels and trim. It will be 100 feet wide and 106 feet deep.

The main entrance on Rector street will lead into a foyer, directly opposite the chapel. A reception clerk adjacent to the entrance vestibule will direct visitors. Opening off the foyer will be stairways, an elevator and rooms for the diocesan organizations—the Women's Auxiliary, Altar Guild, Girls' Friendly Society and others. A kitchen will adjoin the auditorium.

On the second floor will be a library with built-in shelves, the office suite of the Dean, his assistant and his secretary; four classrooms and kindergarten.

Offices for the Bishop and his secretary will be on the third floor, along with four private offices, two secretarial rooms, the board room, a mimeograph room and a guest room.

For Trinity Choir, a ground floor suite has been provided, including choir room, reading room, choirmaster's office and a separate entrance.

The gymnasium, with shower room and spectators' balcony, also is on the ground floor, having a direct entrance from the rear yard. A clubroom and storage space are on the same floor.

Two oil heating boilers, pumps and hot water tanks will be in the basement, while the ventilating equipment will be on the roof.

A penthouse apartment, containing living room, bedroom, kitchen and bath, will be provided for the janitor.
