

VETERANS HONOR
GEORGE WESTON AT BANQUET

Retiring Commander Sees
Get Top Hat
John F. Gannon

Approximately seventy-five veterans, wives, sweethearts, auxiliary members and friends attended a testimonial dinner Saturday night in Veterans' Hall, Belleville avenue, for George F. Weston, Jr., retiring commander, whose virtues were extolled by several speakers among whom was Mayor William H. Williams.

While Weston's testimonial was the highlight of the occasion, John F. Gannon, who had presented the past commander with a camera as a gift from his admirers, brought down the house when Mayor Williams handed Gannon a top hat.

"All I need now is the clay pipe," wittily replied Gannon as he donned the headgear. And therein lies a story.

It seems that John, who henceforth will be known as "top hat," celebrated with a group of his pals at the Top Hat night club in Union City recently.

"Come on in," John

John arrived in Belleville to knock on the door of his home, for a long time and with quite a gusto, it would seem, for, so the story goes, "the missus," who heads the Veterans' Auxiliary, told friend hubby to "walk right in, the door is open." The story got out among the vets and thus John was the recipient of the hat.

Mrs. Gannon tared better than that. It was the privilege of Mr. Weston to present her with a bouquet of flowers for her "splendid co-operation and loyalty to the post members and officers."

Among those who were called upon by Postmaster Victor Bystron, in his own inimitable and entertaining manner, were Commander Richard Doherty, Mrs. Gannon, the Mayor, Mr. Weston and Walwin H. Masten, editor of The Belleville News.

"Vic" didn't miss a cue when it came to giving the "boys" a send-off" before each one spoke. And, why shouldn't he? He is an old minstrel emcee.

New Jersey Department Commander Earl A. Dougherty and Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., were unable to attend due to other engagements and former Post Commander J. R. and Mrs. B. A. Jacobson sent a wire that they regretted they could not attend.

Introduced from the floor were Mr. Weston's wife and mother, Anna Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Fleming, Fred B. Handion, court clerk; Adjutant Herbert Scott, who blushed when "vic" expounded a story about "Herb" in Boston; Senior Vice-Commander Joseph Costello, Quartermaster Ernest Alden, Public Relations Officer Norbert Bert, who was also unmasked by the demon "Vic" and Post Chaplain Knapp.

The veterans plan a beefsteak dinner on November 4 which will also be a birthday party for William "Doc" Hood, who it is said is "just this side of sixty." To be exact, "Doc," who "keeled" an over in the Spanish-American War, is sixty-four.

Following that party the post will celebrate its twentieth birthday, the exact date of which will be announced later.

Hartley Halloween Dance

The Fred A. Hartley, Jr., Association of Belleville is planning a Halloween party in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Stephens and Jerusalem streets, on Friday evening, November 3.

There will be awards for the prettiest and most comical costumes and the balloon dance.

New P. S. Line

Public Service Coordinated Transport began operation on Monday of a new bus route, to be known as the McCarter Highway Route No. 100, from the Newark-Belleville city line to the Pennsylvania Railroad Station in Newark.

Buses on this route will operate from the Newark-Belleville city line by way of Route 21 highway, Riverside avenue, Chester avenue, Herbert place, Broadway, Harvey street, Ogden street, McCarter Highway, Raymond boulevard to the Pennsylvania Railroad Station.

On the return trip buses will follow the same route, operating by way of Oriental street instead of Harvey street, however, because of one-way street regulations. Fare will be five cents, one way.

More Cops Needed To Protect
Schools From Vandals' Raids

Police Can't Be Blamed For Breaks Says Pres.
Schmutz

With a shortage of policemen to assign to follow up breaks at the local schools, President Herbert C. Schmutz of the Board of Education plans a conference with Director of Public Safety William D. Clark to see what may be done to stop the vandalism; the most recent outbreak of which occurred at Public School No. 9 in the valley, where a stockroom was looted.

President Schmutz Monday night told the school authorities the blame could not be placed on the police because they are short-handed. It was reported that someone entered the school and proceeded directly to the stockroom where a tool was used to pry off a lock and the door stop.

"Hundreds of pencils and all the stock disappeared," said Mr. Schmutz. "It is either someone going to the school now, a former pupil there or someone who knows the lay of the land. I can't say

"Orphan Annie" School Stays
Pat—There'll Be No Addition

Seventh And Eighth Grade
Pupils Must Go
Elsewhere

Declaring that the "door is still open" for the future enlargement of Public School No. 2, Soho, Belleville's "Little Orphan Annie," School Commissioner Charles A. Gebhardt, Jr., Monday night told the Board of Education it "is not advisable at the present time to shift to the school seventh and eighth grade classes" which go principally to Silver Lake No. 4 School and Belleville Avenue No. 10. Soho pupils taboo Belleville schools and go to Bloomfield and parochial schools for education past the sixth grade at No. 2 due to the transfer.

Thus the appeal of Soho residents that the grades be established "now as they must eventually come" was temporarily rejected.

SUGGESTS STUDY OF FIRE PROBLEM
IN ESSEX

Bloomfield Mayor, Too,
Dreams Of Partial
Consolidation

Following Mayor William H. Williams' recent talk before the Newark Real Estate Board, in which possibility of consolidation of certain services might be brought about by Essex municipalities, Mayor Harry E. Nowell, Bloomfield, has invited other Essex municipalities to take part in a conference in his office October 26 for the "consideration of public fire protection as a common service."

Copies of a letter suggesting the conference were mailed to mayors of Newark, Glen Ridge, Montclair, Belleville, Irvington, Nutley, Clifton, East Orange, Orange, South Orange, West Orange, Millburn and Maplewood.

Newell said: "When a map of the total metropolitan area showing the number and location of the various fire stations is studied, the possibilities of emergency mutual aid at once become evident. Further study of equipment and manning of these departments shows that undermanning and lack of important equipment prevails.

"For this reason, a well thought out plan or system of mutual aid in case of fire will go far toward offsetting the deficiencies in men or equipment. At present there exists a 'gentlemen's agreement' among fire chiefs in the metropolitan area to help one another in serious fires but there is no definite arrangement as to the character and extent of response or as to the summoning of such aid."

Newell said he had discussed the idea of a set plan for emergency aid with several Essex fire chiefs recently and their enthusiasm prompted him to call the conference. He suggests in his letter the mayor and governing body empower the fire commissioner and fire chief to attend.

Gebhardt pointed out that only one room is available now at No. 2 and to make the change two would be necessary. The room now available, he added, is used on rainy days for physical education.

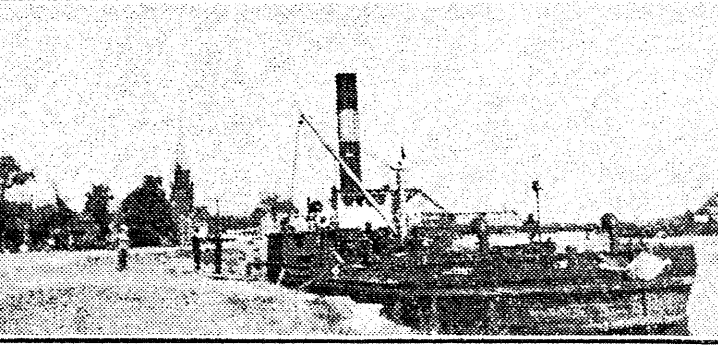

He also said that departmental work would not be possible because additional teachers for the classes would have to teach all subjects. This brought an explanation that Belleville is hiring teachers now on the basis of specific jobs — departmental subjects rather than general teaching knowledge.

It was shown that distances travelled by pupils who now go to No. 4, but who might attend No. 2 is less than that traveled by others from Silver Lake who attend No. 4.

The petition was presented September 18 by Alphonso Bonaiuto of 233 Brighton avenue. Signers felt their children should have

Rites Observed Yesterday
For Former Clerk J. J. Daly

Well-Known Resident Here Had Been Ill But Short Time

A requiem mass was offered yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Peter's Church for John J. Daly, former town clerk, who died Sunday in Hasbrouck Heights Hospital following an illness of less than four days.

Mr. Daly, who was forty-nine, suffered a heart attack last week. He lived at 119 Adelaide street. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery.

It had been said of John J. Daly, town clerk, that he always sent one away smiling. He didn't always accede to one's wishes or requests but in his good natured way he pointed out the humor in what one said and made one feel good. Jovial John Daly! That was his being.

He was a keen business man and had a clear insight into the intricacies of political life.

Mr. Daly was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Daly, who lived at 536 Mill street from the time of their marriage. Mr. Daly was born at this place and lived there until a few years ago when he moved to 17 Smallwood avenue, more recently moving to Adelaide street. He was educated at St. Peter's School, the Public schools No. 2, No. 3 and No. 1.

His first job was as a plumber's helper for Berla Brothers, Newark, at which he earned $3 a week. He learned the trade. He worked as a conductor for the Public Service Railway Company for six years. He was named town clerk in June 1918 and held this office until December, 1920.

For the next two years he was secretary to the late Mayor John H. Waters. In 1922 he was again appointed town clerk and has held that office ever since. In 1920, 1921 and 1922 he ran for the general assembly being defeated each time. He had been a member of Democratic county committee for eighteen years, secretary for fourteen years and leader for two years.

In his younger days he ran the half mile for the Belleville Catholic club and played basketball for the Brightons and the Montgomery teams of Soho. He also played for the Belleville club whose home court was at St. Peter's school. Others on the team at that time were former Commissioner Frank Neary, John L. Sullivan, John Flynn, patrolman, and Philip Ward. Their greatest rivals were the Entre Nous of Harrison.

Mr. Daly's grandfather, Patrick Daly, settled in Soho 100 years ago, living in Canal street. It is told now he was accustomed to walking from Soho to the Barclay Street Catholic Church, New York City, in order to attend church on a Sunday morning. This seems almost impossible but Mr. Daly at one time said that it is absolutely true.

In November, 1912 Mr. Daly married Miss Anna Becker of Johnson avenue, Newark.

Mr. Daly was treasurer of the Motor Club of New Jersey and an advisory agent and member of the advisory committee of the municipal clerk's association. He was intimately acquainted with such men as William L. Dill, Thomas N. McCarter, Mayor Ratings will be made in four main divisions, personal, campcraft, scoutcraft and projects or competitive activities.

Scoutmasters are to schedule boys in events so that each scout has participated in at least one event. Patrols will be entered as regular or picked units.

Particular stress will be placed on campfire programs for both nights. Skits and demonstrations are being prepared in secret to heighten the entertainment. The public is invited to attend both Friday and Saturday night campfires.

Each scout will be expected to prepare or assist in preparation of each of the five meals during the pow-wow but the boys will not be required to cook for the Friday night meal.

Taps will be sounded at 9 p.m. Friday and 9:30 Saturday. Reville and color ceremony is scheduled for 6 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

On Monday, October 23, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, Northwest District, Andrew Volite will pay his official visit to Belleville Lodge. What we do on this night is carried around the circuit. What kind of an example are we going to set? We can do two things for the benefit of the lodge and the town. In the first place, we can take off the night and go to the meeting, which, in the second place, will lend encouragement to the officers.

Now this should be incentive enough to come out, but the officers are not taking any chances. Headed by Exalted Ruler, Emil Kastner, the following officers went into a huddle. Leading Knight Wallwin H. Masten, Loyal Knight William Priestman, Lecturing Knight Andrew Kenneth, Esquire Ted Sadlock and Chaplain Victor Hart.

Breaking the huddle Emil was seen talking to our new chef, "Tommy." He had a long talk with our steward, Tom Kiernan. Next interviewed was Charlie Oliver. Holzhauser, Mrs. William Kent, Mrs. Edward V. Huyler, Mrs. Thomas McGeachen, Mrs. Albert Kleiner, Mrs. William F. Kull and Mrs. George R. Meyer. Games were played and refreshments served.

Mrs. Harry Roth, 28 Ligham street, attended a surprise miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Gertrude Handler, Newark, at a Newark restaurant, by the Misses Florence and Doris Handler, Newark, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roth were host and hostess at a card party Friday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Danzig, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hirsch and Mr. and Mrs. William Blasko.

Miss Johnson's only attendant. The bride wore an afternoon dress of duobonnet velvet, a duobonnet felt hat and a corsage of white chrysanthemums. Miss Shannahan wore an afternoon dress of green velvet on the same style as the bride's. She wore a green felt hat and a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums. The best man was a brother of the bridegroom, Leonard Gould, Jr. Miss Mary Elizabeth Compton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Compton, was organist.

Following the ceremony there was a reception for the families at the home of the bride. After a wedding trip the couple will live at 132 Division avenue.

The bride is a graduate of Belleville High School and has been an employee of the Prudential Insurance Company of America. Mr. Johnson is associated with the Public Service.

Engaged

The engagement of Miss Minnie J. Bonavita and Anthony Belfiore was announced at a family dinner Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonavita, 96 Hecker street, by Joseph A. Delisio, brother-in-law of the bride-elect.

The house was decorated and the dinner table was arrayed with beautiful roses and orchids. Miss Bonavita is a graduate of Belleville High School and is employed with the Prudential Life Insurance Company. Mr. Belfiore is a graduate of the Newark schools and is in the tile contracting business.

In the evening there was a buffet luncheon served at which time more than 100 intimate friends and relatives attended.

The wedding will take place sometime next fall.

Cp Gas Ranges

MAKE COOKING EASIER

CP means Certified Performance and that is what these ranges give you. The ovens are correctly insulated and have automatic heat control and burner lighting. They hold a temperature as low as 250° and they will reach a high temperature quickly. Inexpensive cuts of meats cooked at a low, controlled temperature are delicious and there is less shrinkage. Broilers are more efficient and have larger broiling area than those of the old type range. All burners light instantly and automatically. Top burners give a variety of cooking speeds. Prices are from $99.50 up. Terms are as little as a dime a day.

Oddity — "Fall" Lilacs

Mrs. Charles Rhodes, 92 Terry street, has a wonderful garden surrounding her beautiful home of which she is justly proud. But one of the oddities, which sprang up over night, to give the garden "just that touch" were four clusters of lilacs — a spring flower in full bloom — and many green buds. She is shown displaying what is left of the blooms to a reporter who chanced on the story last Sunday.

GEORGE WESTON, JR., TESTIMONIAL

As usual each year George A. Younginger Post, V. F. W., fetes its retiring commander with a dinner in which prominent folks and veterans, their wives, sweethearts and the auxiliary participate. Saturday evening was one of those occasions at Veterans' Hall in Belleville avenue, where George F. Weston, Jr., was thus honored.

As we sat there we thought back almost one-quarter century — to 1917 when George and all those who had gathered to honor him were youngsters. The thought struck us that as the years have slipped rapidly by, changing the youngsters into middle-aged men and women, the veterans and their friends have taken their proper places in the communities in which they live, as business men, leaders in industry, and professional men and women. They are citizens — good citizens, of whom we are all proud. George Weston was extolled Saturday night and all Belleville knows that he deserved such splendid recognition. He is always out front for Belleville and his cheering hand and pen have helped many a Belleville resident through rough times and events. He is a friend, neighbor and all-round good citizen.

A NINE-YEAR HIGH

Things are looking up in New Jersey. The New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce has just issued a memorandum on industrial wage levels in this State. It shows, among other things, that the average weekly wage paid to industrial workers here has just hit a nine-year high.

According to the Chamber's figures, the average industrial weekly wage in this State for the quarter ending June, last, was $26.42. Robert T. Bowman, Chamber president, says it is probably slightly higher today. Thus, the pay envelope of the New Jersey factory worker is higher today than at any time since September, 1930.

This is encouraging news. Another interesting point stressed in the Chamber's memo is the fact that the average weekly wage paid today to New Jersey industrial workers is above the average now paid in the nation as a whole.

Today's average industrial pay of $26.42 contrasts sharply with levels prevailing at the bottom of the wage slump in March, 1933, when the average New Jersey factory pay envelope contained only $19.56. New Jersey has come a long way up from depression wage levels.

The Chamber notes further that today's average New Jersey pay envelope is only nine per cent below the "boom" high of December, 1928, when the average industrial weekly pay check was $28.97. And, the Chamber points out, this $28.97 in 1928 actually bought less goods and services than the $26.42 being paid today.

MORE VANDALISM

President Herbert C. Schmutz of the Board of Education views with alarm recent breaks in local public schools, one this week at No. 9 School in the valley where the stockroom was broken into and supplies stolen. He said it would have required a truck to cart off the supplies.

The unfortunate part of the situation is that Belleville is under-manned as far as policemen are concerned, there being one to about each 750 of population. Of consequence, police cannot be detailed to watch for the vandals, who should be caught pronto and placed in the hoosegow. It is evident that someone right here in Belleville is in on the jobs, else why should they go straight to the point of robbery without disturbing anything else in a school building as happened at No. 9 School? These vandals will be smoked out, without question, then the law should clamp down with all its power. All kinds of "snooping" tactics have been employed by the board to catch up with those responsible, even to board members hiding near schools but, it seems, as if in mockery, the intruders pull jobs right under their noses. Mr. Schmutz, be a little patient and sit tight a little longer. Give these fellows enough rope and they'll hang themselves.

JOHN J. DALY

With the death of former Town Clerk John J. Daly Sunday Belleville lost one of its most colorful political figures of a few years ago, and certainly one of its citizens who tried to help the other fellow. Mr. Daly won a host of friends with his genial smile, which was present through his political career and after — the last few years when he stepped into private enterprise. All who knew John J. Daly came to like him. If you want to call it a failing, his worst fault was that he couldn't or rather wouldn't say "no" when someone asked him for a helping hand. We've seen him bend over backward to help the other fellow. Perhaps this action might not be so terrible in others of us. It might soften the stern realities of life. As a friend we knew none better than Mr. Daly. Rugged roads were made a little easier to traverse through his assistance. When the political history of Belleville is written John J. Daly will aspire to considerable space.

He started as secretary to the late Mayor John H. Waters from whom he learned the rudiments of Belleville politics. His was the old school politics. Then he came along in great style to not only rule Belleville in Democratic circles for years, but other places in the county, Nutley included. When Mr. Daly assumed the reins of Nutley Democratic boss there were only a handful of Democrats there. He stirred up sufficient interest — and, incidentally animosity — to start off what has developed into a real Democratic organization. John J. Daly played the political game as hard as he played basketball and other sports, at which he was excellent. He not only made it a profession for a while, but it was his hobby, out of which, as he often remarked, he got a "kick."

NEW JERSEY — A HAVEN

These New Jersey residents who traveled to other parts of the country during the past summer have good reason to rejoice in New Jersey's freedom from many of the taxes imposed upon the people in other states. As they passed from one state to another they found, probably with a great deal of annoyance, that there are a number of these taxes. They were reminded time and again of the many ways state governments can reach down into the pockets of the taxpayers and extract the revenue to meet the huge cost of governmental spending.

So many states have adopted these new levies, as "base-broadening" taxes, as "experimental" taxes, or as an undisguised method to swell the tax "take," that New Jersey is conspicuous as a "stand-out" state against them.

A check-up shows, for example, that twenty-four states in this country impose a retail sales tax, gross receipts tax, gross income tax, or consumer's tax of a general nature. Besides this, twenty-two states levy special taxes on tobacco, twenty-four states tax imitation butter, and five states tax soft drinks. Twenty states have special taxes on amusements. Fortunately, New Jersey has none of these tax levies.

Although the transient visitor to other states would escape them, several other important taxes not levied in New Jersey are found throughout the country. Notable among them is the state-levied income tax, which is imposed in thirty-six states. In addition, there are a number of special taxes on particular types of business and industry, that are not levied in New Jersey.

New Jersey's favorable tax situation has been a tremendous asset to this state. Because of it, hundreds of new manufacturing plants have moved into New Jersey during the past several years. Coming from other states that impose "base-broadening" and "experimental" taxes, they have created jobs for thousands of New Jersey's residents, many of whom have built or bought their own homes.

It is not by accident that this favorable tax situation exists. For nine years the New Jersey Taxpayers Association has fought vigorously to keep new taxes out of the state. For several years the "economy bloc" in the Legislature has refused steadfastly to permit the adoption of the many new tax proposals that have been offered.

To maintain and improve New Jersey's favorable tax position, it is necessary to continue to resist new tax proposals, to avoid further increases in the bonded indebtedness by the defeat of such proposals as the $21,000,000 relief bond issue, and to oppose excessive governmental spending. So strong is the pressure of the "spending" interests that constant effort is needed to keep governmental costs under control.

Musical

Reviews

Monday evening, at the Newark Athletic Club, the Music Educators' Association held its annual dinner, the first affair of the 1939-40 season. Gertrude Hale, president introduced guests and committee heads. Members, who also belong to the New Jersey Federation of Music Clubs, sat at a "Federation" table. They were introduced by Hazel Burleigh. Among them was Eleanor Bacon-Peck, Belleville, corresponding secretary of the Federation.

Roy D. Welsh, professor of music at Princeton University, was guest speaker. A clear and witty speaker, Mr. Welsh echoed the sentiments that seem to be heard so often today: that Americans must consider the arts their birthright, and must attend concerts and carry on their work as if there were no conflict across the ocean. For the musical part of the program, members of the organization performed: Helen Kanouse, pianist; Joseph O'Toole, tenor; and the Haydn Trio composed of Hazel Burleigh, violinist; Eleanor Davies, cellist; and Irving Randolph, pianist.

Socially it was a brilliant evening. The Newark Athletic Club does have something of the glamour about it for most people. Practically everyone, men included, was dressed formally. Belleville people who attended were Mr. and Mrs. George Birmingham, Margaret Akers, Amy G. Stratton, Mrs. Peck, Adell Sathcrand, Hazel Ellsworth, and Donald Gauss.

Eleanor Bacon-Peck gave the first in a series of six lectures before the Piano Ensemble of the Contemporary of Newark, Wednesday morning, in the lounge of the club rooms, Griffith Building, Newark. This is Mrs. Peck's third engagement with this club. The subject of the talk was "The Art Song and Its Composers." This proved equally interesting to singer, accompanist, and layman who wishes to know and understand the background of the songs he hears. Mrs. Peck followed the lecture with a question period and general discussion. This talk will be repeated before the Music Department of the Bloomfield Woman's Club next Wednesday morning.

More than 100 musicians, music teachers and laymen from Essex County have subscribed to the series of Selma Stark Music Appreciation lectures, "Creative Listening to Wagner," which started last Friday morning at 11 o'clock in the Griffith Auditorium, under the auspices of the Griffith Music Foundation. The series consists of ten lectures to be held each Friday morning through December 15.

Subscribers from Belleville include: Mrs. Anna M. Tompkins, 193 Greylock parkway.

Turning The Clock Back

FIVE YEARS AGO

Private George A. Younginger Post, V. F. W., elected the following officers: Commander, E. H. Alden; senior vice-commander, N. J. Dertl; junior vice-commander, H. H. Knox; quartermaster, John E. Cannon; chaplain, George Buchanan; post advocate, H. J. Scott; officer of the day, J. J. Barry; delegate Essex County Council, R. M. Doherty; and alternate, M. J. Atkinson.

The Belleville Taxpayers' Association was planning a card party in the Recreation House, Garden avenue and Jerusalem street. Howard Virtue was chairman, assisted by the board of directors. Charles Keir was in charge of refreshments and Gustave L. Tenkerer, awards. C. H. Thompson headed the publicity committee.

Harry Steuber, Rutherford, a career engineer of the late Essex County Castle which sank off the Jersey coast, was scheduled to address members of Wesley M. E. Church Men's Club. The meeting was in charge of President George Davies.

TEN YEARS AGO

Miss Marjorie Taylor, 49 Van Houten place, was guest of honor at a stocking shower given by Mrs. Raymond Libbey, Athens road, Clifton. Miss Taylor, who was a teacher at Public School No. 8, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor of the Van Houten place address. Her wedding was scheduled for November to Ernest J. Rhoades, 79 Prospect street, Nutley, son of Mrs. Sarah Rhoades, Rossmore place.

Director of Streets and Public Improvements Patrick A. Waters was definitely opposed to any further pollution of the Passaic River.

Thomas Reilly, Russell Sandford, Jr., Charles Bakalian, Gordon Chané and Wilbur Hart had charge of a masque ball which was planned by Tau Epsilon chapter of the Phi Sigma Chi fraternity.

15 YEARS AGO

John Comiskey was in charge of marchers from St. Peter's Holy Name Society who paraded in the annual Holy Name society parade in Newark. William Waters represented St. Peter's as aide to the Grand Marshall.

The first meeting of the committee for the Community Halloween party which was being arranged by the Recreation Commission was held in the Recreation House. A grand march, dances by various groups, fortune tellers, side shows and refreshments were scheduled to keep townspeople busy on the night of mysteries. The committees were: Decorations, Harry Brumback; Harry Hood and Miss Jessie Bennett, refreshments, Boy and Girl Scouts, the latter being supervised by three members of the council, Mrs. Clifford Whitfield, president, Mrs. Leroy Long and Mrs. A. H. Stoner; entertainment, Miss Bennett and the Recreation Commission; music, Mrs. F. P. Brodal, and policing, Mr. Dennis.

20 YEARS AGO

The Board of Education at a special meeting awarded contract for the erection of the new building to replace Academy Street School No. 1. The bids totaled $131,000 and work was to start immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Wieser, 97 Devitt avenue, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Wieser, to Mr. Frank Hanger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanger, Arlington, formerly Newark. The engagement of his sister, Miss Anna Hanger, to Herbert Groner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Groner, was also announced.

With the addition of several hundred names to the register, the November election this local had reached 2,207. This was a record mark for Belleville as the largest figure prior to that time had been slightly over 2,100.

25 YEARS AGO

Julius A. Ripple & Co., Newark, and Harris, Forbes & Co., New York, took the $125,000 bond issue of the board of education. The bonds carried five per cent interest and the financial concerns bid a premium of 1.90 on $1,000.

The play committee of the Class of 1915, Belleville High School, selected "The Dream That Came True." Nineteen members of the class were scheduled to take part.

Miss Anna Turner of the junior class succeeded Miss Anna Holme as high school accompanist.

Patrolman James Hannan and family moved from Washington avenue to 52 Quarry street, now Union avenue.

Snoop's Snoops

A very persistent but unconfirmed rumor as been circulating in town during the past week to the effect that Frank Smith, coach of the high school football team, has resigned. The story has been checked with a very reliable source and it is believed that there is some truth to the rumor. The school officials say they know nothing of it. Frank has been quoted as having resigned on previous occasions, but up to date each of these rumors has proven false. As an outsider looking in, we know of no reason why Frank should resign, unless he has obtained a better position, but there may be something under the surface with which we are not familiar.

Speculation has been rife among the jitterbug second guessers as to Frank's successor. Among those mentioned are Herman Wische, present assistant coach; Paul Short, now assistant coach at Lehigh University, formerly of Belleville High School, renowned as a high scorer (he was part of that famous passing duo of Schweiker and Short); John Daly, who now coaches at Atlantic High and High School, last year assistant coach at Belleville High, and honorable mention to All-American end while captain at Manhattan College. We think it would be a good idea to wait until there has been some definite announcement that Frank Smith has resigned before appointing his successor.

While speaking of Johnny Daly, we note with a great deal of regret that Johnny's father, John J., passed away on Saturday from a heart attack. John was well known and popular in Belleville, as town clerk and as Democratic leader. John had a host of friends and we are sure they'll mourn his passing.

We have been informed that a group left town Saturday for the wilds of Canada on a hunting trip. In the party were Chris Gabrielson, Rowe Manufacturing Co.; Clarence L. Place, local truckman, and Captain Elmer Leighton of the police department. It is a good thing for the other boys that they have Captain Leighton along because he will be able to keep them in tow and at the same time show them how to shoot straight. Anyhow, we have been promised some deer, moose and bear. Uh! Huh!

We had a chance to chat with Bill Frevert over the weekend. Bill is a former member of the Lions Club and is now in business in East Rutherford. He has practically retired and is spending the greatest part of his time at his home in the wilds of the Adirondacks. Bill looks well — outdoor life is certainly agreeing with him.

John Lindstrom and Clarence Lommerin, president and treasurer of the Viking Tool & Machine Co., respectively, spent a most interesting two days in Washington last week, where they were the guests of the United States Government at the Ordinance Department Exhibition of the latest type of government guns, tanks, airplanes and aeroplanes. The exhibition took place at Aberdeen, Md. From what we can gather, not only John and Larry were surprised out even those attached to the government service were out in their praises of the advances made in our preparations for any emergency that might arise.

Another odd one: We think the mail box at the Town Hall is in a most peculiar spot. On a holiday, Sunday, after the building is closed or the day, the iron gates at the front entrance are locked and the mail box is inside the entrance where it is impossible to be reached. In order to mail a letter, you must walk a block and a half in either direction.

The next time "Doc" Fabris takes his golf clubs in hand, he is going to play a course far removed from the one on which certain men-

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

No election within my memory as a correspondent, which goes back more than ten years, has been so completely devoid of interest as the one to be held on November 7. In Essex County there are important offices to be filled. Four freeholders, a supervisor or a surrogate will be elected, as will 12 assemblymen. Outcomes of the election is taken for granted. Both sides practically concede a Republican sweep. Only a small percentage of voters even know the names of the 16 Democratic candidates, and were it not for the practice of sending out sample ballots these voters would not know them until they would read the lists on the voting machines. Since every Republican candidate save Eugene Hoffmann of Bloomfield, who seeks to be surrogate, is standing for reelection, their names are more familiar throughout the County. This fact gives them a considerable advantage, but they would probably win even though all of them were new. It is a Republican year — or so it looks now — and there is very little the Democratic leadership can do about it.

But the likelihood of Republican success this year will not necessarily prevail in 1940. Republican leaders in every section of the nation are reading the various polls of public opinion with the deepest concern. Three years ago in Essex, local sentiment was decidedly Republican, but the Roosevelt landslide of that year swept to victory every Democratic candidate save the supervisor, three freeholders and a lone assemblyman. It was only the extreme weakness of the Democratic state of that year that prevented a complete Democratic sweep.

The present Democratic leader, James J. McMahon of Montclair, is not likely to enter the campaign next year without adequate preparations to take advantage of a second presidential landslide. The remarkable shift in sentiment in President Roosevelt's direction has certainly been noted in Jersey City and Montclair. A state of candidates will be available to attract every personal follower possible, and the campaign will be conducted with extreme thoroughness. McMahon has now had time as chairman to perfect his technique of getting out the vote, and the margin of Republican success two weeks hence may be somewhat smaller than Republican leaders generally expect. But I see no possibility of Democratic success. Their stronghold is Newark, now hopelessly divided. Every second ward and district leader has his eye on the Meadowland trial which will be in full swing at election time. It is barely possible that a referendum on council manager government will have been ordered also by November 7. This would detract still more attention from the election.

But the results of the trial and referendum should clarify Newark's cloudy political complexion long before November of next year. As I have pointed out in this column before, decisions that must be made by Newark voters are tremendously important to the county as a whole. They will very likely decide whether Essex is to become overwhelmingly Republican or is to remain more evenly divided as during the past eight years. Arthur T. Vanderbilt is betting heavily that coming events will strengthen his group. He is much deeper involved in Newark than he will admit openly, or desires the public to realize. He has at last become convinced that a formidable Republican machine to counteract the Hague organization in Hudson is necessary if the latter's grip on the State government is to be lessened. Up to recently, Vanderbilt has not attempted seriously to build a machine. All he wished was to exert a veto on Republican policies through control of the County Board of Freeholders.

He felt that a thoroughgoing machine would discredit those associated with it, and would therefore defeat rather than abet the type of government he visualized. But now, for better or worse, that policy has been scrapped. It may be that he now feels that he has reached a station in national importance that will enable him actually to be a boss without suffering the ignominy that usually goes with that position. However this may be, his technique and that of the Clean Government or more orthodox.

For the time being at least, it is likely to become more efficient.

NEW JERSEY TODAY

New Jersey has been so busy making modern history and keeping in the van of industrial and social progress that it has not capitalized as much as it might on its historic associations.

As a matter fact, eleven years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock or in that vicinity (the exact spot has long been in dispute) and launched a publicity campaign that is still going strong, Henry Hudson, master of the famous "Half-Moon" visited our shores and upon reflection reported that what is now New Jersey "is a very good land to fall in with and a pleasant land to see." This testimonial which has not since been questioned, was made in spite of the fact that one of his crew was laid low by an arrow from the bow of an Indian who probably mistook the white men for a new and possibly dangerous species of game. John Coleman, the victim, was buried at Sandy Hook.

According to records Giovanni Da Verrazano visited these waters in 1524, but it is not clear whether he came ashore. Hudson, pursuing his quest for a short route to the Orient, entering Delaware Bay, sailed up the coast and on September 3 of 1609 anchored inside Sandy Hook. Captain Samuel Argall visited Delaware Bay in 1610, naming these waters after his friend Lord De La Ware.

Whatever may be said of the vices that the Indian learned from the white man, it appears that it was the natives who introduced kidnapping among the fur traders. Trading posts were purchased from the Indians had sprung up at several points when in 1616 the Indians took into what they may have defended as "protective custody," three Dutch fur traders and held them until Captain Cornelius Hendrickson sailed up the river as far as what is now Philadelphia and paid the ransoms demanded.

It is said that Indians never laugh, but if it is true as some writers insist, that occasionally they were "short-changed" by the white fur traders, something like a smirk must have lighted the red faces when the "exchange" with the white men of the "exchange" "Onrust" was whispered about the campfires of the Aborigines.

The M. D. Says

Certain medical terms often seen in newspapers sometimes confuse the lay reader. An understanding of them gives medical articles greater significance. Some of these terms are therefore defined below:

Pediatrics — The branch of medicine practice concerned with diseases of children.

Orthopedics — Medical practice which is confined to treatment and correction of deformities of and injury to the skeletal system.

Obstetrics — The branch of medicine which deals with pregnancy and childbirth.

Ophthalmologist — A licensed physician who is qualified by training to detect and treat diseases of the eye.

Dermatology — That branch of medical knowledge which concerns the skin, its diseases, and their treatment.

ON CRUISE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Chiappari, Fairway avenue, and daughter Jacqueline, are cruising to Santo Domingo and other islands near San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Members of the Lions Club play "Doc" will not know it until he reads this that the tail twisters gave away his fourteen-stroke attempt at a par three hole last week. Well, "Doc" you have lots of company. Some of the lads who turned this "snoop" in need a pad and pencil and then a "checker-upper" to see that the pad and pencil record the right figures.

116 Linden Ave. Be. 2-3129-J.

The Junior Woman's Club entertained at a Fathers' Night party, Tuesday. Mrs. Walter Mack, president, greeted the members and guests, and introduced Miss Barbara Tate, program chairman. A very interesting sound film was presented through the courtesy of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, and a representative of a tobacco company gave a short lecture.

The hospitality committee, under Miss Agnes Stewart, chairman, served refreshments.

The drama department recently met in the home of Miss Dorothy Gardner, chairman, and formulated plans for the card party to be held November 21. The members of the department are constructing a model stage to be used for the various productions that will be presented during the course of the year.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

276 Main Avenue, Passaic, N. J.

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The golden text is: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Preserve me, O God: for in thee do I put my trust. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "As man falleth asleep, so shall he awake. As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change. Mind never becomes dust. No resurrection from the grave awaits Mind or Life, for the grave has no power over either."

Safe-guarding Alderney Milk Enroute

A fleet of express cars and motor trucks which are actually giant thermos bottles—glass-lined and insulated—rush Alderney milk from the country creameries to the big Newark plant. After the milk is chemically analyzed in the company's testing laboratories, delivery is made to North Jersey homes in immaculately clean white motor trucks by men chosen for their courtesy, efficiency and reliability. Above are shown one of the special milk cars, the tank trucks and a typical delivery truck.—Adv.

Library News

This week the Adult Department will introduce a Pay Collection of newest fiction, which will be circulated at the rate of two cents for each day the book is out. In this manner, the use of these books will make possible the purchase of the latest works of fiction.

In the group are the following: "Children of God," Varian Fisher, an American epic, true story of the mormons in America, and the leaders, Joseph Smith and Brigham Young.

"Christ in Concrete," Pietro Di Donato, the story of a young Italian-American bricklayer and his family, and their struggle for life in a big American city.

"Queen Anne Boleyn," Francis Ricketts, the tragic story of Anne, wife of Henry the Eighth of England, her fight against the traditions of the English court, her secret loves, and her death on the block.

Also in the collection are "Black Narcissus," Golden; "The Brandons," J. H. M. J.; "Watch for the Dawn," Cloete; "Escape," Vance; and "Folly Island," Deering.

Among the most popular books in the Adult Department, are four which have a bearing on the present conditions in Europe. The first three of the following are non-fiction; the last is fiction:

"Days of Our Years," a biography by Van Paassen, describes the impressions of a foreign correspondent regarding political movements in France, Germany, Spain, Palestine and Ethiopia.

"Not Peace But a Sword," by Vincent Sheean, is an eye-witness account of the events of the past year in Germany, Czechoslovakia and Spain.

"Reaching for the Stars," by Nora Wall, is a woman's view of the Germany of today, based on four years' residence abroad. The author stresses the contrast between the simple, friendly German people, and the harsh military government.

"Passport For a Girl," by Mary Borden, is the thrilling story of an English girl's efforts to save her young lover, who is a fugitive from Nazi terror in his native Germany.

Calvert Club Notes

Rev. Jarvis, professor of English at Seton Hall College, South Orange, addressed the Calvert Club, Nutley, and guests at the regular meeting on Sunday afternoon. He spoke in place of Dr. James F. Kelley, president of Seton Hall, who was unable to be present because of illness.

"The Mainstay of Catholic Action" was the title of Rev. Jarvis' address. This was one of interest to members of the club inasmuch as the Catholic Action program is to be more fully developed during the year.

The regular business meeting of the club was continued after Rev. Jarvis' address at which time a resolution was passed to have future meetings on the third Sunday of each month instead of the third Tuesday.

Miss Miriam Sims, Nutley, was appointed chairman of the Music Group. Miss Mary F. Donlon, Belleville, was elected to the office of member-at-large to fill the vacancy left by Miss Irene Millington, Nutley. Miss Marjorie Alfio and Harry Chenoweth, both Nutley, were elected as co-chairmen of the annual Fall dance which will be held on Thanksgiving eve.

The Dramatic Group will meet in the home of Miss Margaret Dougherty, Nutley, tonight to select the cast for the one-act play to be presented before other Catholic Clubs in the vicinity.

BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

Rough Riders Ride High

AT THE BEGINNING of the season Jitty Wische made the statement that Belleville's first three opponents this year were all of sufficient caliber to finish among the top six in the state. Whether they will or not remains to be seen, but the fact that they are considered that highly — and not only in the Belleville camp but all over the state — indicates that the Bellboys are not picking any soft spots to fall in.

Mr. Colliton said the same thing when he released his list of relative difficulty of the high school schedules. With all the figures at his fingertips he showed that the Blue and Gold schedule was the toughest in New Jersey.

Now a lot of people are saying: "Well, so what? Suppose you do have the hardest schedule in the state. What does it matter if you lose all your games?"

In the first place, Belleville hasn't lost all its games — yet. Secondly, there is more to competition than the mere fact of winning. Granted it may look nice on paper to have eight or nine wins against no losses, but we might ask them: "Why not pick on someone your own size?"

Teams like Bound Brook, Butler, Paterson Central, Dumont, Hackensack, Nutley, Union, Washington, have all managed to run up between 55 and 155 points each in two or three games, but have done it mostly by playing teams from a lower class. What is that but empty glory?

Of course, one advantage in going out Saturday after Saturday and running up 60 or 40 points is that it always gives the rooters something to gloat and gloat about. But, although they haven't won a game yet, the Bellboys can boast that there is not a school in this territory with more rabid and vociferous backers.

So now the Rough Riders come riding high on the crest of a nice record to date. With eleven veterans in the squad and many more experienced men to throw into the breach, the Green and White is naturally expected to repeat their triumph of last year. But before the final whistle blows they will know that they have been in a nice scrap.

Ye Prognosticator

THE OLD AVERAGE jumped six points to .708 last week when Mustapha picked 36 right — he missed on 14. Palm of the week goes to Temple for its little publicized feat of holding for downs when Texas Christian had a first down on the Owls' one-foot line with three minutes to play, was not known for a loss, but lost the ball after four line-bucking plays after having gained only six inches. Probably the defensive highlight of the year so far. Now for this week:

EAST — Columbia should take Princeton but not by much. Rutgers' reported power seems to have fizzled — they probably won't be able to summon enough of it to help them against Maryland. We've seen Army play and weren't impressed; we'll take them over Yale but we're not sure of it. Harvard is going to have plenty of trouble with Penn's Quakers but should win. Temple will take Boston College — unless they have another 26-26 tie like last year's. Georgetown should keep its record intact against Bucknell. We'll pick Holy Cross over Brown, Boston U. over Upsala, Cornell over Penn State, Dartmouth over Lafayette, Auburn over Manhattan, Carnegie Tech over N.Y.U. (Andy McMaster et al. to the contrary), Colgate over St. Lawrence, Princeton over Duquesne, F. & M. over P.M.C., Muhlenberg over Ursinus, C.C.N.Y. over Susquehanna, Catholic U. over West Virginia Wesleyan.

SOUTH — Vanderbilt's up-and-downers are too unpredictable so we'll pick Georgia Tech. Tennessee gets its first test against Alabama and the Vols are gonna be sorry. North Carolina has the stuff but not quite enough for Tulane. As for the others: Duke over Syracuse, Kentucky over Georgia, V.M.I. over Virginia, Centre over V.P.I., Wake Forest over Western Maryland, L.S.U. over Loyola, Florida over Tampa, Mississippi State over Southwestern.

MIDWEST — Ohio State vs. Minnesota is the big game there, and we're picking the Buckeyes. Another humdinger finds Nebraska getting the nod over Baylor. The others: Notre Dame over Navy, Michigan over Chicago, Indiana over Illinois, Wisconsin over Northwestern, the disappointing Wildcats, Purdue over Michigan State, Ohio U. over Xavier, Missouri over Kansas State, Iowa State over Drake, North Carolina State over Detroit.

SOUTHWEST — Texas A. & M. and Texas Christian will put on the show there; T.C.U. has lost three close ones, this will be the fourth. Texas over Arkansas, Oklahoma over Kansas, Rice over Houston, S.M.U. over Marquette, Tulsa over Centenary.

PACIFIC COAST — Washington State over California, Montana to drop one to U.C.L.A., Oregon and Oregon State to trip Gonzaga and Washington respectively.

Smatterings From The Sports Front

THE RECREATION Department finally got permission to use the High School gym for basketball for the winter. Looks like another hot season on the court because, without an exception, every team claims to have strengthened itself.

The hopeless look in the eyes of Ruel Daniels, John Coogan, Gus Bechtold and a few of the other boys is not due to trepidation over the coal bill: it's just that fall and winter, with their early dusk, mean no more horseshoes.

Frew's .291 Batting Average Leads Woodside—New Bedford In Successful 51-Game Schedule

Jim Frew, veteran first-sacker of the Woodside, finished the baseball campaign with a batting mark of .291, top of the club championship. Four other men had higher averages but had not completed in the necessary twenty-five games.

The Woodside men decided on six of their eight games at Branch Brook Park as well as their lone Belleville appearance. All told they played fifty-one games, including such teams as Ossining, Port Jervis, Hyde Park, Glens Falls, New York A. C., the Brooklyn Tiltons.

During most of the season they played under the name of the New Bedford Baseball Club, having taken over the playing schedule of the New England club when it disbanded early in the summer. Next season, with the consent of the circuit, the name of Second River will be adopted.

Among the Belleville players with the team were Matt Grum, Johnny Woods, Mac Lamb, Hank Sullivan, Bo Rotundi and Jack McNally.

COURT LEAGUES TO ORGANIZE AT MEETING TUESDAY

Manufacturers List Seven Entries, Seniors Five, For Recreation Basketball

Recreation basketball, Belleville's leading winter sport, will have its initial impetus Tuesday night when an organization meeting of all teams intending to enter the different leagues will be held at the Recreation House, Joramelon street and Garden avenue, at eight o'clock.

Playing nights for the various leagues will be the same as last year, Edward J. Lister, director of recreation, announced this morning.

The Manufacturers' League will start off each week on Monday night. Thus far seven teams have signified their intention of entering the loop.

They are Federal Leather, Sweeney Lithograph, Isolantite Corporation, National Grain Yeast, L. Sonneborn & Son, Wallace & Tiernan, last year's champion, and Eastwood Neally.

Five teams, the Eagles, Royals, Senators, Belleville Rosery, who run the title last winter, and Baldwin Frush, have already signed up for the Senior League, which will play Tuesday nights.

No definite entries for the Intermediate and Girls Leagues, which will play Wednesday and Friday nights respectively, have been received but it is expected that the rosters will be filled Tuesday.
