

BOARD HAS HECTIC SESSION ON ZONE ORDINANCE

Belwood Parkers Win Point Against Restaurant

More than 150 residents of the Belwood Park section of town moved in on the meeting of the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night to protest an ordinance to change a section of Belleville avenue, from a class "A" residential to a business zone. The ordinance, up for second and third readings in the interests of John Bianchi of Glen Ridge and Jean Seville of Bloomfield, was defeated after two hours debate between the citizens group and Edward Abromson, attorney for Bianchi.

Extra seats had to be set up in the council chambers to provide for the largest group of citizens to attend a commission meeting in many months. The change of the zone had been recommended by the Zoning Board on application of Bianchi who wishes to lease the property in Belleville avenue near Smallwood avenue to Seville for restaurant purposes. Abromson will appeal the decision in the Supreme Court, if necessary, he says.

George Beach, 188 Smallwood avenue, spokesman for the property owners, was the main stay in presenting their argument to the board. He was aided in his attack on the ordinance by James De Rosset, former president of the Board of Education and Arthur E. Chiappari, president of the Belwood Park Association.

Beach claimed if the ordinance passed and the application was issued to build in that section, it would be useless as the section was protected by a permanent injunction secured in the courts some years ago against business structures. This injunction is in effect until January 1940. He further pointed out that all deeds in that section contained clauses prohibiting the erection of business buildings. As the neighborhood is strictly residential, Beach claimed

FEW SMITH PLANS CELEBRATION OF 15TH ANNIVERSARY

Jubilee Program Series Has Been Arranged By Church

Have you seen that "15" in front of Fewsmith Presbyterian Church? Perhaps you've wondered what it means.

This year marks the fifteenth anniversary of the church and its pastor, Dr. O. Bell Close. To celebrate this event the church is planning a jubilee series of programs.

In addition to its regular services, a distinctly different program will be offered each Sunday night, beginning November 5 and ending on Christmas Eve. The meetings are open to everyone. Fewsmith extends a cordial welcome to all.

One night teachers and local school members will take over the service. Another evening that stirring play, "Simon the Leper" will be presented.

The Ukrainian choir in its colorful native costumes will sing on the same night that Rev. S. Franklin Mack, the favorite with all young people, is the speaker.

On December 3 Recorder Everett B. Smith will be the guest speaker. There will be a "Young American Parade."

Christmas Eve there will be a beautiful candlelight service. A social hour will follow each meeting of the series.

"If you like to sing... if you want inspiration and good fellowship... don't miss one of these eight programs," reads a notice from the publicity committee.

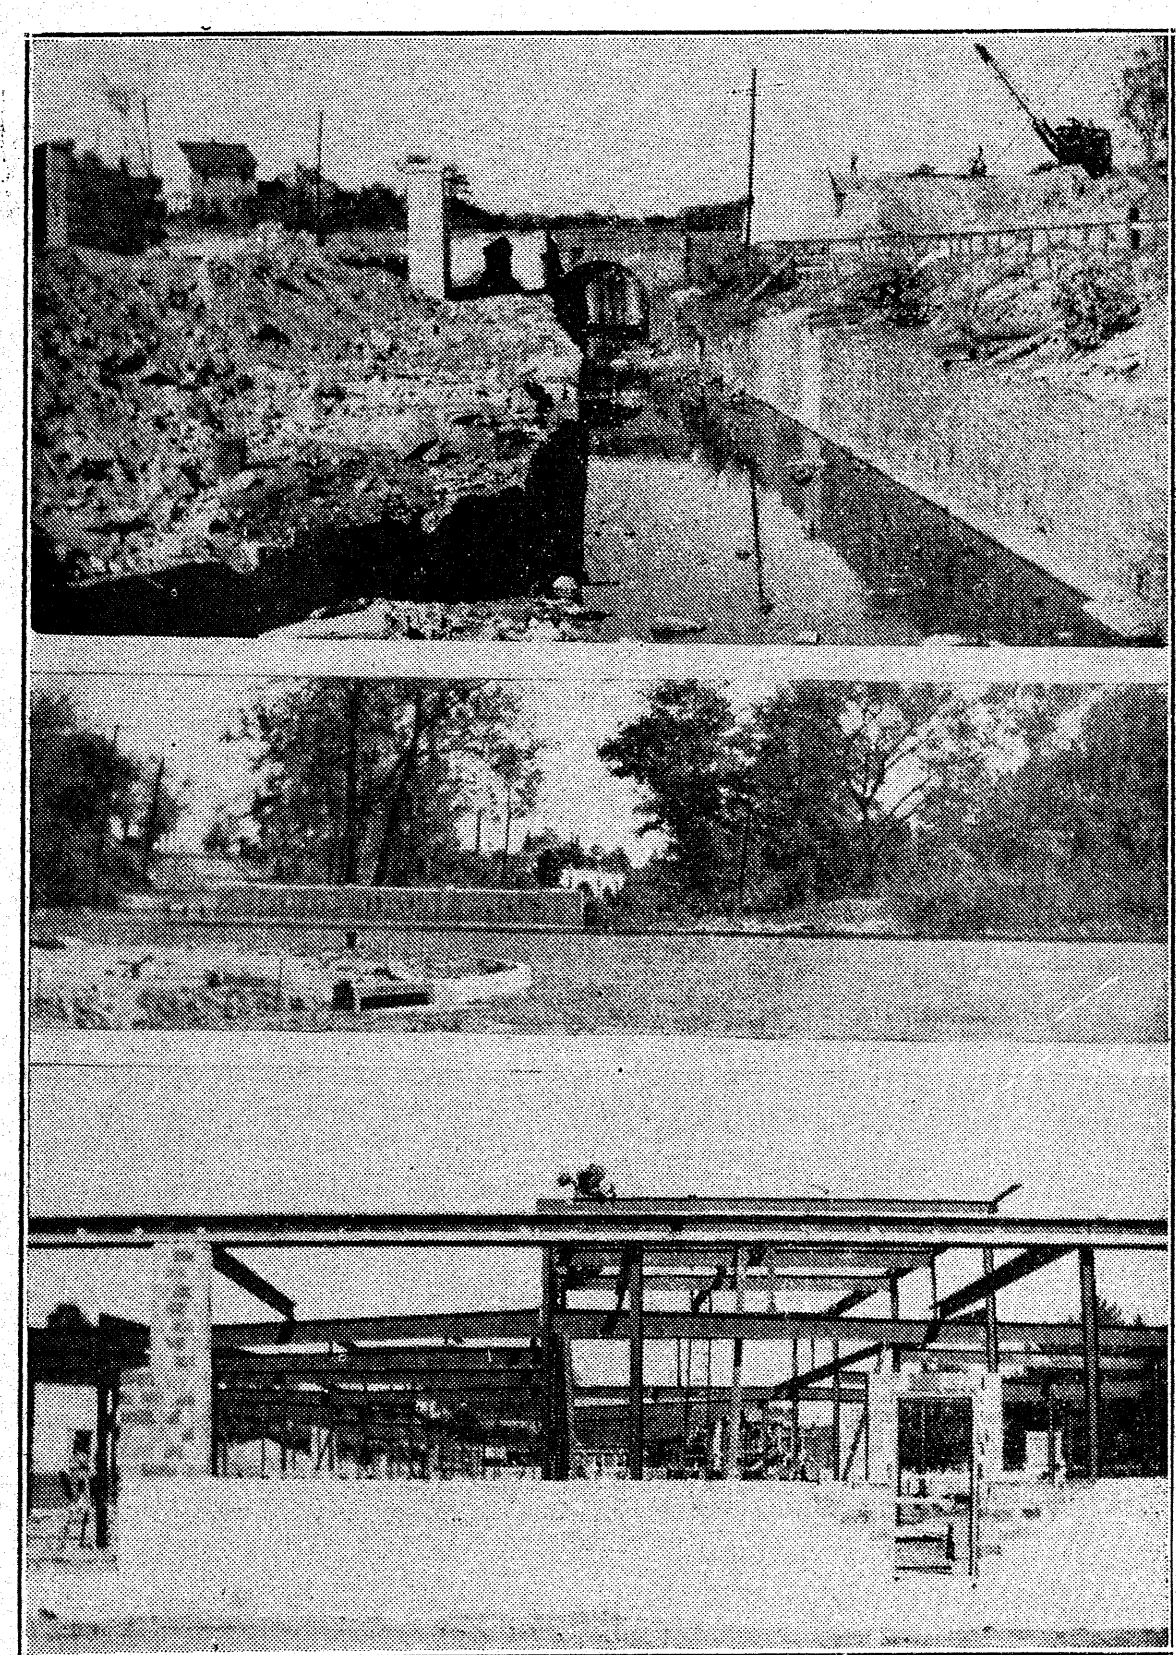

Former Mayor Kenworthy To Debate Relief Bond Issue

Samuel S. Kenworthy, former mayor of Belleville and executive secretary of the State League of Municipalities, and Donald R. Stevens of Ridgewood, president of the State Taxpayers' Association, will debate the merits of the $21,000,000 state relief bond issue at the Newark City Hall tomorrow night.

Kenworthy will urge the approval of the bonds at the November 7 election. Stevens will oppose approval. Alvin A. Burger, representing the State Chamber of Commerce, will make a factual statement of relief costs and state finances prior to the debate. The State Chamber of Commerce is neither favoring nor opposing the bond issues.

Start Community Chest Drive On Wednesday For $16,000

Drive Will Be Conducted By Nineteen Divisions of Canvassers

Building activity of nearly one-half million dollars is under way here with workers hammering away on the new $150,000 Heyer Products Co. plant at Little and Cortland streets, the new $120,000 office and administration building of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., Silver Lake, and permits granted for a new $110,000 plant of Eastern Tool & Manufacturing Co., Bloomfield, in Montgomery street extension at Villet street, and the $20,000 proposed new building of the Bart Laboratories adjacent to its present building at 227-321 Main street. The tool concern building will be approximately 45,000 square feet in a one-story structure near the Belwood Park section of the Erie Railroad. It is expected work will begin immediately and the building may be finished by February 1. It is expected that about 100 men and fifty women will be employed at the plant, says Harold Buckingham, chief engineer. Some of this help will be used at the Bloomfield plant at 129 Bloomfield avenue, which will continue to operate.

Searchlight reflectors and floodlights are manufactured by the Bart concern, whose new structure will add 12,000 more square feet to the plant. This plant will be completed, it is expected by O. B. Bart, general manager, by early December. About twenty will find work in the new building, most of whom have already been engaged.

Activity Near Jergens Site
Meanwhile the groundwork for the start of building operations by the Andrew Jergens Co., on the site of the old Belleville Copper Rolling Mill is being completed. No definite date has been set as to when building operations will be started by the Jergens concern. Abutments have been constructed for a railway siding and the straightening of Mill street near the proposed plant and a new bridge for Franklin avenue extension from Essex County Hospital for Contagious Diseases, across Second River through Branch Brook Park

Extension, has been completed. The roadway of the extension has been completed toward North Sixth street, Newark, as a part of the entire Jergens plan and curbs have been placed setting out the new line of Mill street, which will follow a course south of Second River instead of north as at present.

MAYOR SEEKS AID FROM STATE IN RELIEF MATTERS

Problem Is Getting To Be Serious, He Says

Soundly criticizing the State Legislature on its failure to arrive at a constructive plan to aid the relief situation in the state, the Board of Commissioners Tuesday evening took the lead in what is believed may become a county and state-wide move on the part of municipalities to force the state body to take definite action to relieve the tension.

Mayor William H. Williams set a precedent when he suggested that the local board invite State Senator Homer C. Zink and a group of Essex County Assembly representatives to sit in caucus with the local group for a frank discussion of the apparently badly "bungled" relief question. At the conference of the Board of Commissioners Mayor Williams stated that in addition to the 1939 budget item of $65,000 for relief, the town has had to issue anticipation notes to the extent of $88,000 to meet the load. He stated that if the state did not soon arrange to take care of its share of municipal relief, Belleville and other municipalities would be faced with an "acute" situation.

Serious Problem
"If the state does not meet its share of this burden and we cannot get permission from the state to fund this amount over a five-

OPENING MEETING HELD BY LOCAL SCOUT COUNCIL

New Scout Executive, Robert Treat Council, Lives Here

The first meeting of the fall season of Belleville District, Robert Treat Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held in the Town Hall Monday evening.

A report of the camporee held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Clearman Field was made by District Scout Commissioner Douglas Clark. A program for a leadership and training course to be conducted during the winter for the scoutmasters in the troop committee was outlined by John Denike, chairman of this particular activity.

John P. Dailey, chairman of the local District Committee, introduced to the members Joseph W. O'Farrell, formerly of Brooklyn, who has been appointed Assistant Boy Scout Executive to fill the vacancy left by Harvey V. Maden who, earlier this month became Scout Executive of the Paterson Council. Mr. O'Farrell began his duties October 1 and comes to the Belleville-Newark-Irvington area after having held a similar position in Brooklyn since 1927. He served there under H. MacNeil Privette, formerly of the Eagle Rock Council, Montclair, who two years ago became key man in that district of the Boy Scout Foundation of New York.

For nearly ten years Mr. O'Farrell has been associated with the Foundation's Ten-Mile River Camp in New York State, which has a capacity of 3,200 youths in the area, the largest Boy Scout Camp in the world. Mr. O'Farrell first served for eight years as Assistant Director of the Brooklyn unit, which housed over 900 boys. In 1937 he became director of that council division.

Circle Sponsors Turkey Dinner

The Fellowship Circle of Fewsmith Church is sponsoring the turkey dinner this year.

The co-chairmen are Mrs. A. E. Babcock and Mrs. A. G. H. Scholtz, working with a large group. Reservations can be accepted for 200 and although present returns are very encouraging, it is hoped that all reservations are made well in advance. This not only helps the committee in planning but assures those who want to enjoy this occasion a place for them.

Relief Confab

Mayor William H. Williams announced this week that State Senator Homer C. Zink had accepted the offer of the Commissioners to attend a meeting to discuss ways and means of getting definite action on the relief situation from the State Legislature.

The Senator promised to interest as many members of the Essex County delegation of the Assembly as he could in the meeting. This meeting was suggested at a conference of the Board of Commissioners Tuesday night.

Local Boy Scouts Conclude Second Annual Camp-o-ree

Over 125 Camped Out 'Till Rain Came At Stadium

Over 125 Boy Scouts went home Saturday night after camping a night in Clearman Field, where the district held its second annual camporee. The event ended following a religious program at 9:30 a.m., Sunday, directed by a committee headed by Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church. All the town's clergymen co-operated. Some of the boys stayed Saturday night despite the heavy rain.

An added feature of the camporee was the participation of the new Sea Scout Ship, supervised by the personnel of Fire Headquarters. Saturday night skits by

NOLL SEES NEED FOR ADDITIONAL RECREATION FUNDS

Holds Conferences With National Recreation Association Head

Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll is taking time by the forelock to see that recreation gets its proper recognition in the making of the 1940 municipal budget. Last year when the municipal paring knife had cut "to the bone" all items, recreation activities in town were allotted $5,500 — a paltry amount when the size of Belleville is taken into consideration.

Certainly 6,000 children will require a larger amount than that if they are to get proper recreation supervision and facilities, to make no mention of recreation which should be made possible by the town to adults, explains Noll.

At the present time Noll and his chief clerk, Charles Tedesco, and Recreation Supervisor Edward Lister are conferring with J. W. Faust, field representative of the National Recreation Association, as to Belleville's needs. Noll is not going into budget conferences this year unprepared in the recreation plan or things. He is going in to see what Belleville may do to make the lives of youngsters, as well as grownups here, more worth while.

"Belleville needs to keep its purse strings tightened," he says, "but this recreation business augurs well for a lot of consideration."

Let us repeat — playgrounds now mean smaller jails later.

NOLL GETS CHARGE OF RECREATION ACTIVITIES

Is Result Of Action To Abolish The "Rec" Commission

The Board of Commissioners Tuesday night passed a resolution turning over all phases of the town's recreational activities to Commissioner Louis A. Noll, director of parks and public property. This action followed that taken by the board several weeks ago, abolishing the former recreation commission.

The board also rescinded an ordinance establishing salaries for various positions under Civil Service. This ordinance was passed previous to the defeat of the Civil Service question at the polls some time ago.

Mayor Williams pointed out it was necessary to rescind the existing ordinance so that, in cases of death or retirement of public employees, replacements, not yet experienced in the jobs, would be started at a smaller salary and gradually worked into the full salary the position carried.

An ordinance providing $10,000 for additional work on the athletic field at the turf bog passed on second and third readings. Also passed was a resolution of condolence to the family of John J. Daly, former town clerk.

Verona Girl Becomes Bride Of John Herbert Hozack, Jr.

Ceremony Took Place In The Holy Spirit Church, Saturday

Miss Dorothy Amatus Zink, Verona, attired in a brown traveling suit with matching accessories and wearing an orchid corsage, became the bride Saturday of John Herbert Hozack, Jr. The ceremony was in the Episcopal Church of the Holy Spirit, Verona, with the rector, Rev. John Thurston Travis, officiating. Miss Zink was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Zink, Verona, who was attired in a Suez orchid afternoon dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink sweet peas. Robert Hozack was his brother's best man.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Zink, Linden avenue, Verona. Mr. Hozack's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Herbert Hozack, Belmoor street, this town.

Miss Zink attended Verona High School and Mr. Hozack is a graduate of Belleville High School and Cumberland University of Tennessee. After a motor trip South they will reside in Baltimore.

Fifty Years Of Wedded Bliss

With many, many friends, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mueller, 60 Little street, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday at the Irvington Elks. Mr. and Mrs. Mueller were born in Budapest, Hungary, in 1866. When they met at the age of twenty-two, a case of deep affection was followed by love and, as the old saying goes, "and so they were married."

Mr. and Mrs. Mueller came to this country and settled in Belleville, in 1921. A daughter, Mrs. Albert Klein, 152 Ralph street, was an only child and, with the wheels of progress turning, they found they were grand parents ere long. Now they are great-grand parents. The youngest great-grand children are a set of twins, eight months old.

Mr. Mueller runs a grocery store at the Little street address.

Every Man's Bible Class

The Every Man's Bible Class will serve a free breakfast to all men Sunday morning at 8 o'clock in the basement of Masonic Temple, Joralemon street. The menu is pancakes, sausage and coffee. Following the meal the group will go upstairs for the regular Sunday meeting where, after song and worship will follow an interesting lesson on the Bible given by its teacher, George Tranter.

club yesterday: Mrs. H. Leiss, Mrs. John E. Hudson, Mrs. Robert J. Armstrong, Mrs. A. Ross, Mrs. George Newman and Mrs. William Russ, Montclair. Honors last week went to Mrs. Hudson and to Mrs. Leiss, who was hostess.

Mrs. Joseph J. Donovan and Mrs. Vincent Dundee, both of Fairway avenue, were guests at a party of which Mrs. William Griftenberg was hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rude and George Suydam, Wilber street, were guests Saturday at a birthday party given in honor of Miss Frances Evans, Arlington. Sunday they spent the day at the World's Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Riepe, Jr., and daughters, Edna Ann and Betty, Wilber street, spent the weekend in Brooklyn visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Miller, Wilber street, spent Sunday at the World's Fair.

THIS COLUMN has no desire to be caustic, smart-alecky or to have anyone ever suspect us of being too know-it-all, but as much as we admire energetic, terse Time Magazine, we are compelled to reprimand it for its adopted title for the present war in Europe. Time refers throughout its pages to the current difficulties abroad as "World War II." We insist that Time errs in calling it World War Two. To us the fantastic war going on over there is a struggle between England and France on the one side and Germany on the other. That certainly cannot, with even the widest stretch of the imagination, be a "World War II." Even with the very vague possibility of it developing into a greater, graver international situation, there appears to us no reason in the world why Time should be overzealously far-sighted in a matter of this kind. We wish they would stop calling it "World War II" because it isn't!

NOW that we have Time off our mind we'd like to give some tips to those with time on their hands. First, your date should be at the Kingshore restaurant Friday evening the 27th, when Mr. Nils Bruhn is again presenting those popular Swedish folk dancers in their native costumes. We suggest reservations, for three weeks ago when the dancers appeared, many anxious patrons were unable to obtain tables. At Fairbanks and his orchestra play for the floor attraction and as well, and supper dancing, as well.

TIP No. 2 is Jack Betzner's dance music at The Condor in Northfield road, Livingston. If you have a partner and you both have ordinary, average feet, the Betzner music defies you to remain seated at your table. Betzner, himself, is a genius at the piano, his guitarist is a master, and the orchestra en masse about the smoothest, most rhythmic and most dance-compelling we have yet heard in North Jersey. Betzner, who is a song writer in his own right, is planning a song writers' night for the Condor, and the tentative date is Friday, November 3. Authors of many popular songs will be his guests. The Condor, with its new Horse-shoe Bar, and its Italian menu specialties, augmented now by the Betzner music, is really a stop worth while.

FOR Tip No. 3 we suggest a drive up Route 10 to witness Fall, 1939, in its most colorful glory. Not even a New York World's Fair, 1939, could produce such unbelievable beauty, and no artist could even come close to painting it. In the heart of this pageant of color you can stop at the also colorful Alderney Milk Barn in Morris Plains where a glass of fresh-from-the-farm Guernsey milk is in natural harmony with the beautiful surroundings. The Alderney Milk Barn, with its adjacent model Brooklawn Farms (450 acres of rich, magnificent country) is easily New Jersey's No. 1 beauty spot at this season.

HERE AND THERE: Delight your palate with Chef's Pepper Steak at the Robert Treat ... Alderney Dairy is featuring special Halloween ice cream molds ... De Camp Bus Lines has completely redecorated its Livingston terminal ... A new Wisconsin watch is made of steel ... Read Henrik Van Loon's open letter to the dictators in the current Red Book ... Alderney Dairy is trying out the new White Horse motor delivery truck — will it succeed the white horse usually associated with old-time milk delivery? ... The Treat's new main dining room is a mecca for numerous business luncheons ... Alderney cottage cheese weather is here ... Less than eight weeks to Christmas! —Adv.

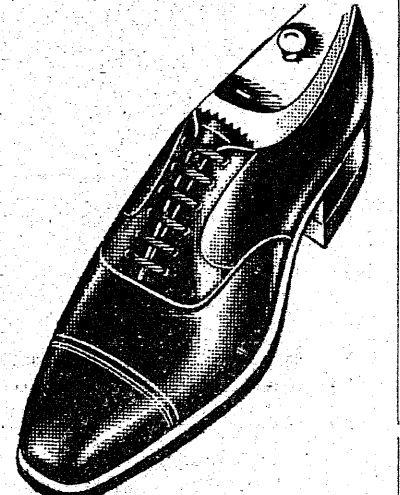

Activities of Belleville Lodge, 1123, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks

Any brothers, who missed the Fall dance, missed something worth while. It would be easier to account for those who missed out on the affair than to name those who attended. Bill Priestman has started to map another affair, so all may be prepared to hear from him in a week or two. Maurice O'Connor, Branch Brook golf pro, became a baby Elk on Monday night and some baby, too. As this columnist reported a week or so ago, the officers covered themselves with glory during the ritual. It was very impressive and well done on the occasion of the official visit of District Governor Grand Exalted Ruler Andrew Polite, Madison Lodge. The occasion should have a lasting effect on Brother O'Connor, as much as the hole in one he made.

But bet no one can guess the pet hobby of Elmer S. Hyde, of the Board of Governors. Being quiet and retiring you might say he likes baseball, tennis or bridge. You're wrong there, pals, you're as far off as the European War (maybe that's too close). Elmer picks 'em big and rough. He goes in for boxing and not the little fellows either. The heavyweights are his pride and joy. Recently Elmer traveled to Philadelphia with Phil Hargrave to watch the Galento-Novak bout. Two nights later Elmer had quite an audience showing the different blows. He didn't miss a blow. Now, if any of the brothers are going to bet a cigar on the next heavyweight bout, get the dope from Elmer and pay no attention to sports writers' pickings, especially Bill Cronin of the New York Journal. He hasn't picked a winner since the Chicago fire, but a grand picker — just the same.

Tom Mac Nair is still picking up easy money on the golf links. He had Frank McGee in his net Sunday. He gave Frank twenty strokes — then proceeded to take him like Grant took Delawanna.

We can't spare you!

The "key man," the valued executive, doesn't want a common cold to bar him from his desk. He can't be spared for frequent minor illnesses.

COMMON, says Webster, means of recurring, and it means vulgar, low, polluted. Now, doesn't that describe a cold? Immunization, administered by your physician, enables you to overcome susceptibility and to build up a strong resistance against colds.

Leonard Zacone is chairman of the dance committee.

ROSETTI-RINALDI WEDDING

Miss Rose Rosetti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louise Rosetti, 29 1/2 Norfolk street, Newark, became the bride of Angelo Rinaldi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Rinaldi, 50 Magnolia street, this town, on Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in St. Augustine Church, 160 Sussex avenue, Newark.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white lace gown, princess style, with a bustle back and puffed sleeves. She wore a tulle veil, held in place by a heart-shaped crown of the same material. She carried orchids and lilies of the valley.

Attending the bride, as maid of honor, was Miss Florence DiCathrine, Newark, who was out-fitted in a white-dancing lady embroidered taffeta gown, princess style and wore a halo crown made of tulle and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Anthony Nisovoci acted as best man.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Lucille Rinaldi, sister of the groom, and Mary Goglia, who is a cousin of the groom. Both were outfitted in similar gowns of the maid of honor and carried orchid chrysanthemums.

Miss Margie Nisovoci, a little flower-girl, wore a white gown similar to the rest of the gowns of the bridal party and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Louis Rinaldi, brother of the groom and Edward Tranchetti, Jersey City, cousin of the groom, ushered.

Mrs. Rinaldi wore a royal blue chiffon velvet gown and wore a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Rosetti wore a black chiffon velvet gown and wore a corsage of red roses.

After the church ceremony a reception for several hundred guests was held at the White Eagle Hall, 41 Broughton avenue, Bloomfield.

After a week's stay in Virginia Beach, the couple will reside at 29 Norfolk street, Newark.

Mr. Rinaldi graduated from Silver Lake Public School No. 4 and is a graduate of the 1932 Belleville High School class and is now employed with the Diana Ice Cream Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Calabrese and his daughter, 16 Bloomfield avenue, went to the Hotel at the Madison Square Garden on Sunday.

MOLLY FOGGIO BRIDE-TO-BE

Mrs. Richard Quodamine, 83 Floyd avenue, Bloomfield, was hostess at a bridal shower last week for Miss Molly Ann Foggio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Foggio, 59 High street, Newark, who will be married on November 12 in St. Michael's Church, Newark, to Paul Abbasso of Brook street.

Miss Margaret Alfieri, Newark, will be maid of honor and the Misses Nettie and Margaret Foggio, sisters of the bride-elect and Julie Corbo and Angela Cecere, all Newark, will be bridesmaids. The best man will be Michael Foggio and Charles Foggio will usher. Both are brothers of the prospective bride.

After a trip the couple will reside here.

Bond Issues Opposed By Former Governor Hoffman

Tells Taxpayer's Association Here It Is Costly, Cowardly Way

Paul de Hagara, local lawyer and president of the Belleville Taxpayers' and Civic Association made public today a report received from Wilfred Yudin, chairman of the Defeat the Bond Issue Committee, containing a letter from former Governor Hoffman in which Hoffman expressed his opposition to the bond issue.

Declared the former Governor: "I have always opposed borrowing against the future, as I feel that postponements of debt paying merely store up trouble for a later day which will have its own pressing problems to solve."

"During my administration as Governor, I insisted upon a pay-as-you-go basis in State finances. Through putting this principle into practice and balancing the State budget each year, the bonded indebtedness of the State was reduced over $25,000,000. Not a single dollar was borrowed for either capital improvements or current requirements. Furthermore, the over-all costs of State government were reduced more than $40,000,000 annually."

"The ills of our municipalities have been due largely to the vicious practice in the past of borrowing on the future to meet present-day needs. Bond issues represent the costliest—and most cowardly way—of meeting today's obligations."

"The association is continuing its strong opposition to the new State bond issues. The directors ratified the resolution adopted by the association at their recent meeting, to vote 'No' on bond issues and to campaign actively in cooperation with the United Front Campaign to Defeat Bond Issues, which is led by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association."

de Hagara announced that detailed campaign information had been received from the State Taxpayers' Association giving complete plans for carrying the cam-
