BAPTISTS PREPARE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF CHURCH

Silver Lake Congregation
Proud Of Accomplishments
In Town

Plans are being made by the First Italian Baptist Church, Silver Lake, to mark its silver anniversary the week starting November 26. Mayor William H. Williams, this town, and Mayor Harry Newell, Bloomfield, will assist in the observance, which will include programs by state and national Baptist dignitaries.

Rev. Benedetto Pascale, pastor of the church, said that the community house for which the church has become well known in the county is now a "free speech center" where anyone can speak his mind.

Civil and religious freedom are inseparable, said the pastor, and defense of them is especially important in tense periods. Protestants, Jews and Catholics, he said, have been among the thousands of Essex residents who have used the recreational facilities of the house in the last twenty-five years.

The house is almost entirely the work of men of the congregation, and recent additions to the church itself were done by volunteer labor. Mr. Pascale, a tilesetter of some experience, helped to fashion the stone checkerboards which children use in the playground at the rear of the center.

A swimming pool, large gymnasium and outdoor shower for hot days are other features. All were built by members of the church. Many wrecked buildings, including Calvary Baptist Church in New York and the former National Newark and Essex Bank in Newark, supplied doors, windows and archways for the center. A switchboard for the entryway of the church recently was obtained from an abandoned Chinese restaurant.

ROTARY CONTINUES SERIES OF TALKS ON LABOR

Courteous And Tolerant
Attitude Disperses
Stuffed Shirt Idea

Belleville Rotary Club, following a time-honored Rotary custom, is listening courteously and with toleration to all points of view in a series of programs on labor problems.

Recently E. L. Howard, a sub-regional director of C.I.O., addressed the club, and yesterday Robert J. Watt, past secretary-treasurer of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor spoke. He is now delegate to the International Labor Office, Geneva, Switzerland, and is thoroughly conversant with European and American labor problems.

Concluding the series on Wednesday, December 6, will be Mrs. Elmer M. Henric, director of the Second Region National Labor Relations Board.

"It certainly is the first time we ever attempted such a series in Belleville Rotary Club," says President George Kaden, "and, perhaps, in the state. It should go a long way to dispel the notion that Rotary is a stuffed-shirt organization and jealous of its premier position. While it is difficult for a service club to take much official action on these projects, we can show courtesy and toleration in listening to all points of view."

PARENTS READY FOR "BACK TO SCHOOL NIGHT"

"Pop" On Poster
Proffers Teacher
An Apple

Belleville High School is preparing its third annual "Back to School Night," a snappy poster from High School, Principal Hugh D. Kittle announces. It will be observed on Monday with the tardy bell at 7:45 p.m.

The poster shows "Pop" presenting "An Apple for the Teacher," who observes him with a "mean" eye and switch.

"Dear Parent:—

"Will you please save this date for a visit to your son's or daughter's high school? On this evening you will be given an opportunity to follow their regular daily routine, visit their classes and meet the teachers who guide them through their daily work. I feel certain that your children, their teachers and the school will benefit by a better acquaintance with you. Your son or daughter will furnish you with a schedule of classes for the evening. May we count on you?" asks Mr. Kittle.

Assembly Candidate

Peter Niemiec

A member of the Essex County Democratic Assembly ticket, Peter Niemiec, who lives at 17 Rosehill place, Irvington, has been a life long Democrat and is well known in civic and fraternal circles. Born in Passaic, he went with his parents to Newark at an early age and in 1921 moved to Irvington, where he still resides. Educated in the parochial and public schools, he graduated from Frank H. Morrell High School with honors, receiving the athletic prize for being the most outstanding athlete of his class.

He attended Dana College majoring in economics. While there he helped to organize the Economic Research Association, and later pursued his studies in the law school of the University of Newark. Long a student of government, he began his political career as a member of the Democratic County Committee having been elected as a committeeman in 1935 and is at present a member of that body. Niemiec is past president of the Democratic Club in Irvington and after his term of office expired, was made a life time honorary member of that organization.

For the last ten years, Niemiec has been associated with the Engineering Department of Wallace and Tiernan Company. He is a member of the Edward D. Ballentine Association, Irvington Democratic County Committee, Essex County Democratic County Committee, and a member of Pitney Senate Delta Theta Phi, a national legal fraternity. He is a delegate to the United Democratic Clubs of Essex County and a member of the executive board.

At a recent rally at Belleville Gardens, Niemiec stressed "the need for proper legislation to encourage the development of the inherent and natural geographic advantages of Belleville."

"A thriving community," he said "is not only a blessing to its inhabitants but a benefit to the state at large."

DEMOCRATS PLAN RALLY TONIGHT AT VETS' HALL

Town Chairman Christie
Will Be In Charge
Of Affair

A rally of Belleville Democrats will be held in Veterans' Hall,

George Christie

Belleville avenue and Stephen street, this evening under the leadership of the town chairman, George Christie.

"It is the purpose of the Democratic County Committee to bring together all loyal Democrats and afford them the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the various candidates," said Mr. Christie this morning. "These candidates are soliciting your support on November 7 and you should know them."

There will be several vocalists and a capable band has been engaged for dancing. The rally is free and a cordial invitation is extended to townspeople to attend. County Chairman McMahon and Town Commissioner Patrick A. Waters will speak, as will several national figures. Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock.

Armistice Day Plans Of Vets And American Legion

Twenty-Eight Outfits Will Be In The Parade On November 11

With twenty-eight acceptances already in from posts and auxiliaries of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion, Belleville once again prepares for its Armistice Day celebration, November 11.

The observance will get under way Sunday evening at 7:45 when memorial services will be held in St. Peter's R. C. Church in charge of Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, who is chaplain of the local American Legion post. The posts and auxiliaries, veterans, their families and friends are invited.

Armistice Day morning at 11 there will be services at the World War boulders at the municipal building, St. Peter's Rectory grounds and V. F. W. home in Belleville avenue.

In the evening there will be a parade which will get under way from Greylock parkway and Washington avenue at 8 o'clock. The line of march will be south in Washington avenue to Belleville avenue, west to Union, south to William street, east to Washington avenue, north to Academy street and disband.

Doherty, Grand Marshal

Richard Doherty of the V. F. W. will act as grand marshal and his aides will be William LaBaugh, commander, and Otto Breunich, past commander of the local post of the American Legion; Ernest Alden and George Weston, both past commanders of the local V. F. W. post. These will be a judges' stand at the municipal building where three regular army officers will judge the marching and music.

The joint arrangements committee is as follows: V. F. W. Doherty, Howard Knapp, Weston, Joseph Costello and Alden; American Legion, Breunich, William Maser, Henry L. Denison, George W. Bingham and Richard D. Shannon.

Thomas W. Fleming, American Legion, is chairman of the joint committee, Herbert Scott, V. F. W., secretary; John F. Gannon, V. F. W., treasurer, and LaBaugh, assistant secretary.

Old Rip Van Winkle Bestirred Again

Legend Of Sleepy Hollow Applies To "Page 1 News"

Sunday Paper Digs Up Yarn
We Used Six Months Ago

Consistency, thou art a gem — or are you?

A prominent Sunday paper last week editorially expounded, we might note, its ideas of what constitutes "front page news" and then proceeded to use in the middle of its first sheet a story which had appeared last June — in fact June 15 — in The Belleville News.

Rip Van Winkle hied off to his mountain retreat and took quite a "snooze," the legend of an olden time tells us. Evidently the writer of the Sunday paper's article attempted to take a page from old "Rips" book, or one from a time worn copy of The Belleville News.

We took pride in that Jergens yarn because it was a special one, worked up for our anniversary newspaper.

It reminds us of a hard-boiled, two-fisted city editor who taught us our ABC's about newspaper work the way they should be taught.

One day we turned in what we thought was the latest chapter in the "Spanish Swindle" gag. It had made papers the country over since Hector was a pup.

"Listen, you," piped up this example of what the movies depict an editor to be, "This yarn went out with the bustle fad. What are you trying to get away with—a delayed steal, because you know something about baseball?"

The Spanish prisoner had offered a share in a fortune to those who were recipients of his letters from a prison in Spain.

"If only I could get free," he would say, "I could recover a fortune. Maybe you will take up my case and send $50 to hire an attorney to affect my release. Then you will share in it."

Not Far — But Mildewed

Rather meekly we went back to our niche alongside the wall where copy paper cluttered a battered typewriter desk and the telephone machine was chattering out its record of events from the far corners of the earth. Then and there it was decided some day to concoct a yarn that would travel as extensively as the "Spanish Swindle." So far our yarn hasn't gone far but it has arrived for second publication with a little mildew on it—in a Sunday paper from the likes of which, it is said,

What's Happened, Is Query As Regards Adult School

Where There's Smoke There's Fire, Reticent Folks
Declare

Belleville is wondering why the meeting scheduled for September 15 by the Adult Education Committee was called off at the last minute and no date set for another confab. And, too, it wonders about the future of the school.

And therein lies a story that has the Parent-Teacher associations this way about the adult school, which, come this date, is not scheduled to start its second session until the new year greets the old.

It seems that there has been considerable smoke about the school this fall and to quote a wit of ancient times "where there is smoke there's fire." It seems that the September 15 date was set by the Adult School Committee as far back in the dim distant past as last May when the first semester of Belleville's experiment ended with $314.04 in the "kitty" with all teachers paid and the Board of Education's $500 appropriation for the school unsullied.

It seems that Belleville's first "whack" at adult education was so successful that Webb Waldron, was sent of Connecticut's authors, was dean to Belleville to include note of that fact in an article which will soon grace the pages of Readers' Digest. Webb, it seems, will expound to some degree on Belleville's official family and its municipal activities—just like the Digest recently did, anent Montclair's garbage.

Be that as it may, we are drifting from the Adult Education story. When the first semester had filtered into the past tense, and it was found there were $314.04 in the "kitty," and that word "kitty" is used advisedly, there was considerable speculation as to whether $50 should be given to High School Principal Hugh D. Kittle for his part in promoting the school.

The Board of Education picked out a dark corner, or at least, it is said, a couple of the members did, and decided to proffer "Hugbie" this stipend. It was turned down. Then there was another huddle, so the story goes, in which there was talk of making "Hugbie" the magnificent present of $100. This, too, was turned down and the $314.04 still remains in the "kitty," unless one of the committee has mislaid it on September 15 meeting, which was called off by telephone September 14.

"When is the Adult School going to open?"

This seems to be the gist of hundreds of telephone calls to members of the committee and others.

"About the first of the year,"

Library News

Two of the newest fiction in the Adult Department will be of interest to those who like to read about New England: "Paul Revere, Square," and the "Owney Inn." The first, by Louise Kent, deals with Paul Revere Square, in Boston, and the rich and well satisfied Jocelyn family. The coming of Diana, a poor relation, causes many drastic changes in the staid and settled family, and makes an enjoyable story.

"The Owney Inn," by Joseph C. Lincoln, combines a Cape Cod hurricane with the thrills of a mystery involving the theft of a valuable book and a young fugitive from the law.

CHEST DRIVE OFF TO FINE START SAY LEADERS

Special Gifts Report
Shows Increase
Over Last Year

Preparations for the Community Chest drive which started yesterday to November 14, reached a climax Monday night when a dinner rally meeting was held in the chapel of the Reformed Church, Main and Rutgers streets.

Walter G. Price, campaign manager, presided, and introduced the guest speakers, Mayor Williams and Recorder Smith.

Floyd F. Bragg, president of the federation and chairman of the special gifts committee, made his first report on the advance canvass of $2,075 which shows an increase of about nine per cent over the average contribution of the same donors in the last year's drive. Mr. Bragg is quite enthusiastic as this total represents only a partial and not a complete return on his committee and it indicates a good sign toward reaching Belleville's goal of $16,000.

The Ladies Aid Society of the church served the dinner prior

The Lion's Club has donated a special pair of glasses to a local boy.

Director Of Public Safety Divulges Intricacies Of Job

DIRECTOR CLARK

Boys Are Being Schooled
In All Modern Methods

This special article has been arranged for our readers by Director of Public Safety William D. Clark, who today takes Belleville behind the scenes of police work. Here's what he says:

"Let me say, in the beginning, my pride and pleasure in writing you is only matched by my hopes for what this article may accomplish. If it is to follow brings to the reader a more comprehensive understanding of the Belleville Police Department in its service to the citizenry, the time consumed in preparing this article will not have been wasted."

"The importance of police work today may be considered as at least threefold: Primarily, the police are our first line of defense against criminals. It is knowledge of the presence of officers all about us that keeps the generalities of men from disorder. There are many persons ready to step over the narrow line between lawfulness and crime as soon as the pressure of immediate deterrence by the presence of the Police Officer on the post, is removed or relaxed. Next, the police are the only representatives of organized society charged with maintaining order whom some of us have acquaintance with. Our conception of justice is likely to be strongly colored by our contacts with our police officers. Thirdly, in recent years the police have begun to prove their worth as constructive agencies in preventing the origin and development of crime and of criminal careers."

"Two Branches of Duty"

"Efficient police work involves, roughly, two branches of duty, patrol and criminal investigation. The beat and its patrol still remain the first bulwark of society against open criminal aggression. To keep pace with changes in our social and economic transformations, much constructive imagination on the proper patrol of beats has been expended. A policeman is no longer able to know every man on his post or to identify a stranger to the beat since citizens move about so rapidly that it is impossible for the individual officer to know their identity. The children, as well as their parents, have ceased to spend more of their evenings by the home fireplace but by day and by night invade other areas in search for pleasure of a most varied nature. 'Not only have the social problems faced by the police become increasingly complicated but criminal activity has taken new and varied forms. We know that to enforce our laws intelligently and efficiently, we must first understand the law. It is reasonable to expect any ordinary citizen of a community who lacks any specialized training to become an efficient and intelligent police officer? Today, a police officer must act quickly and he should possess the requisite brains, education and training to enable him at least to interpret the law with a wholesome conception of the rights of our citizens. Let us consider another aspect of the police problem—the fact that contacts with the police, either directly or accounts of their doings are the sole contacts that the vast majority of us ever have with the agencies of justice. It is the public conception of the police that in the long run will determine their efficiency. The public has the right to expect a police force to be more intelligent and just in the detection of crime and the apprehension of criminals than the criminal class have in the commission of a crime. Only too often the officer, on the spur of a moment, must determine whether or not a crime has been committed, whether the seriousness of the offense constitutes a felony or a misdemeanor and within legally prescribed limits, the amount of force to use when making an arrest. There is no hard and fast rule that governs in each individual arrest but justice to be effectively enforced, every branch of police service must be efficient."

"Walking Posts"

"During the past year, I abandoned the system of patrolling the various posts or beats as they are best known to my readers, by auto patrol and have gone back to the old and proven system of 'walking posts.' While it is rather early at this time to definitely state the advantage the old system has over the car patrolling, we do know there has been a lessening of minor com-

FEWSMITH BEGINS ANNIVERSARY ON SUNDAY NIGHT

First Of Series On
Fifteenth Birthday
Scheduled

The beginning of the fifteenth anniversary programs for Fewsmith Presbyterian Church will be Sunday night.

The new memorial hymnals are to play leading roles in the service. Inscribed with the donors' names and the names in whose memory they are given, these books will stand as concrete evidence of the members' loyalty.

"I Believe," the theme of the service, will be a dedication of the books and a re-dedication of the congregation. Dr. O. Bell Close, who has been minister for fifteen years, will lead the first service. His message will incorporate this same theme.

A special program of music has been arranged by Arthur S. Ackerman, organist. Miss Myrtle Trowell, contralto, Point Pleasant, will be guest soloist.

On November 12, Belleville's educational leaders will bring the "schools to church" in a program that will interest young and old. Lawrence S. Chase, county superintendent of schools, will speak.

EXPECT 500 HERE AT RALLY OF C. E. SOCIETY

Local Unit Second
Oldest In State
Of New Jersey

The Christian Endeavor Society of Belleville Reformed Church announces that the Essex County Christian Endeavor Union will celebrate its golden anniversary in the old "First Reformed" Church here on December 1. It is expected 500 will attend.

The county group decided on Belleville because the local branch is a charter member of the union and the second oldest Christian Endeavor Society in the state, having been founded in 1883. The rally will be held at 8 p. m.

A regular meeting of the local group will be held Sunday evening in the chapel at 7:15 o'clock. Robert Wolf will be the speaker and Miss Ruth Wood will preside.

On Monday evening the society will hold its regular business session in the chapel at 8 o'clock. At this meeting James Lee, Jr., president of the society, will name the committees for the county rally.

This evening the society in a body will attend a Thanksgiving rally sponsored by the County Union in Memorial Presbyterian Church, South Orange avenue, Newark.

Party Planned By W. & T. Independent Employees' Union

The Independent Employees' Union of Wallace & Tiernan, Inc., will hold a monster party Friday evening, November 10, in the Belleville Elks' Club for the benefit of the welfare fund. Admission will be thirty-five cents. Tickets may be obtained from members of the union or at the door.

Andrew Jergens Appears Here And Upsets The "Apple Cart"

Here's a Hot Tip For Walter
Winchell's Sunday
Broadcast

FLASH — Mr. and Mrs. Belleville!

"I suppose you are just another of those fellows who says he's Andrew Jergens."

Thus spoke Patrolman James Smith Monday out at the Belleville Copper Rolling Mill when a man alighted from a sixteen-cylinder Cadillac to ask if he might inspect the historic old mill which is about to be levelled to make way for the new Jergens plant here.

"I am Andrew Jergens," spoke up the man.

"You can't kid me," replied Smith. "Everybody Mayor Williams sends up here says he's Andrew Jergens. But go ahead and look around."

"Thanks," said the man, as Smith ran as fast as he could to Parillo's Tavern, one-half mile away, to telephone the Mayor as regards the incident.

"Tut, my good man, don't be concerned," said the Mayor. "A. M. Kinney, Jergens' engineer, is here at my elbow and he informs me Mr. Jergens sailed for Europe at noon. It's 2 o'clock now."

The Real McCoy

"Listen, now, Mayor," said Smith. "I ain't kiddin'. This fellow says he's Mr. Jergens and he looks like him although I've never seen him. I let him in anyway. He looks like the real McCoy."

"I repeat, don't be bothered," said the Mayor as he and Mr. Kinney returned to their discussion.

Along about 5 o'clock that afternoon they were still going strong when Tax Assessor John Coogan burst into the Mayor's office and his dignified manner told the Mayor that Mr. Jergens stood outside.

"I wish you fellows would cut out this kidding, John," said the Mayor. "Why Mr. Kinney here tells me Mr. Jergens sailed for Europe at noon."

"I can't help it, Mayor," Mr. Jergens stands without... repeated Mr. Coogan, but Mr. Jergens now stood within.

It was Mr. Jergens in person. The only thing that stood outside was his sixteen-cylinder car and chauffeur.

"Don't let this little thing trouble you boys one mite," or words to that effect escaped Mr. Jergens, as he explained he thought his boat sailed at noon but it was scheduled to depart at 12 midnight.

"In the meantime I thought I would look over our new property here," he explained.

Mr. Jergens thanked the Mayor and all who had any part in bringing Jergens here for "splendid cooperation." He expects to have dinner with the Mayor and those who had anything to do with the deal when he arrives back from Europe in about three weeks.

Lotion Man's Name Fails to Soothe Mayor

Real Andrew Jergens Gives
Belleville Executive
Jolt

Mention the name Andrew Jergens to Mayor Williams of Belleville and he's almost sure to blush.

And, here is why:

The Mayor induced the Andrew Jergens Company of Cincinnati to construct a new $1,000,000 plant in Belleville. Thereupon job seekers, salesmen, engineers, et al., phoned the Mayor at home and office, stopped him on the street, all asking favors in connection with the new company. About every sixth salesman who tried to get his ear announced himself as "Andrew Jergens" or a representative of the company.

One day not so long ago, the Mayor was in conference with A. M. Kinney, consulting engineer for the Jergens company; John F. Coogan, Jr., deputy finance director of Belleville, and Matthew J. Sheehan. Mr. Kinney remarked that Andrew Jergens, head of the company, had sailed for Paris at noon that day. Mayor Williams told Mr. Kinney a chanceman had been stationed at the company's property to guard against vandalism. The Mayor's telephone rang. It was the chanceman who said a "man who says he's Andrew Jergens wants to look the place over—what about it?"

"Tell Him—"

"Tell him to go fly a kite," the Mayor hung up. The phone rang again. The chanceman said: "The man won't go 'way. He looks important." The Mayor told the chanceman not to bother him again.

Fifteen minutes later one of the girls in the Mayor's office entered the conference room, saying:

"Mayor, there's a man who says he's Mr. Jergens. He wants to see you."

The Mayor requested Deputy Director Coogan to get rid of the caller, but—

And Mr. Jergens

Instead of doing that, Mr. Coogan walked into the Mayor's office with THE Andrew Jergens.

Mr. Kinney explained. The Mayor apologized. Mr. Jergens laughed.

His boat, Andrew Jergens said, would not sail until midnight. He had planned to spend the afternoon looking over his new property.

"After all," he remarked pleasantly, "we're planning to spend $1,000,000 on that ground and I really think I should get a chance to look at it."

BLOOMFIELD WILL OPEN ART EXHIBIT WITH PROGRAM

Mrs. Everett T. Smith Will Act As One Of Jury

Among the jury members for the exhibit of local art and crafts at the Bloomfield Library is Mrs. Everett Taylor Smith of Belleville. Other members are Miss Virginia J. Fortner, Newark Evening News; Robert Petersen, Orange; and Cardwell Higgins, Bloomfield and New York.

The exhibit is part of Bloomfield's customary observation of American Art Week. The Woman's Club of that town is creating a program around the paintings of an artist who once attended Bloomfield schools and who now is president of the American Artists Professional League, Frederick Ballard Williams, Glen Ridge. Bloomfield Art League will present Charles S. Chapman, N. A., Leonia, noted painter.

The League's show was the first to open last night at 8:15 o'clock, when Mrs. Chester B. Lawrence, league president, introduced Mayor Newell for the formal opening address. Other speakers were Mrs. Frances A. Hackett, Bloomfield chairman of art week; Stephen Olszewski, chairman of the league exhibit; Mrs. Wallace J. Ellor, state chairman of art week the last two years; Mrs. Frank Stack, president of the Woman's Club; Miss E. Ruth Palmer, director of art in Bloomfield schools; and Miss Janet L. Melvoin, head librarian.

A studio talk was given by Mrs. Pearl Phelps Brown of Newark Public School of Fine and Industrial Art.

Artist To Demonstrate

The league will present Chapman tonight at 8:15. Noted for his experiments in painting, such as water-oils, he will give a lecture-demonstration, "The Mechanics of Picture-making." The exhibit, continuing through November 10, will be open daily from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 9 at a nominal charge to defray expenses.

The Woman's Club art section, under Mrs. Beckett and Mrs. Harold E. Liggett, exhibit chairman, will hold its informal reception for the guest artists at 4 p.m. Friday.

Sunday, November 5, from 3 to 5 p.m. the art committee hostesses will keep open house for all interested in viewing the paintings. The exhibit will continue weekdays from 2 to 4 p.m. through November 26. Miss Palmer will escort school children to the exhibit November 6. The following day the club's oil painting class will hold open house from 9 to 4, with Mrs. Grace D. Edwards as leader in the morning and various handicrafts open to visitors in the afternoon.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Carnie, Brighton avenue, celebrated their wedding anniversary with a family dinner. Miss Anne Carnie, Maplewood, a sister of Mr. Carnie, was among the guests. The table centerpiece was a cake which rested on the plate on which their original wedding cake rested. This year's cake bore the ornament that beautified the original wedding cake.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wiese, 97 DeWitt avenue, planned a surprise party and supper for them Friday evening in honor of their thirty-ninth wedding anniversary at their home.

Mrs. Philip Trich, Los Angeles, Calif., left for home yesterday after spending several days with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Donovan, Fairway avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fitzpatrick, 82 Ligham street, were host and hostess at a family dinner party Sunday. Guests were relatives from Brooklyn. The guests of honor were Mr. Fitzpatrick's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick, Brooklyn, who were recently married.

Mrs. Emma Fisher, mother of Mrs. Louis F. Geiger, 26 Jerome avenue, left Saturday to be a guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stobener, Jamaica, L. I., for two weeks.

Mrs. Christian Gabrielson and children, Helen and Billy, 8 Fairview place, were among the guests at the home of her sister, Mrs. Richard Richards, Maspeh, L. I., at luncheon Wednesday at a family gathering. Other guests were their mother and other sisters.

Carlyle Werner, Bridgeport, Conn., is guest this week of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Speicher, Continental avenue. He has returned from a five weeks' southern tour.

Mrs. Walter G. Price, 177 Malone avenue, was hostess at luncheon Friday afternoon for the past matrons of Areme Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. There were sixteen guests from New York City, Elizabeth, Nutley and Belleville. The out-of-town guests were former residents of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mosser, 20 Nulton street, have been entertaining for Mrs. Thomas C. White, Billings, Mont., for sev-

Honor Couple At Party

Mrs. Grace Blair and her mother, Mrs. C. C. Cooper were honored at a Halloween Party, Thursday. The afternoon was spent playing cards. Mrs. E. D. Miller had high score.

The Rummy Club presented Mrs. Blair with a brooch bearing her initials. Mrs. Cooper was presented with a bouquet of fall flowers from her grand-daughters.

Decorations were in keeping with Halloween and the party was held at the home of Mrs. Edward Pole, 20 Mertz avenue.

Those present were Mrs. Charles Hauck, Mrs. Joseph Schmidt, Mrs. Milton Peterson, Mrs. Harold Peterson, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. E. D. Miller and Mrs. Pole.

eral days. While she was a guest here they went to the World's Fair. Saturday evening they were guests at a party at which Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Runyon, Maplewood, were host and hostess. Mrs. Mosser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Chapple, Philadelphia, spent the weekend with the Mosser. They spent a day at the World's Fair.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Misses Lorraine and Dorothy Jane Pendlebury, 51 Park View avenue, were hostesses at a Halloween party Tuesday evening. There were eighteen or twenty guests, children from the neighborhood and schoolmates. They came in costume. The cellar was decorated in the Halloween colors, orange and black. Games were played. The children ducked for apples and tried to bite an apple that was swinging on a string. Refreshments to which all the guests had contributed something were served.

Miss Elizabeth Campbell, 31 Tiona avenue, was hostess at cards Wednesday evening. Guests were Mrs. Thomas Murray, Mrs. Frederick Saam, Mrs. Charles Van Doran and Mrs. Charles Tarbox. Honors went to Mrs. Murray.

Mrs. Hattie Attwell, Parisburg, Va., is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson, 500 Franklin avenue. She is planning to be here two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Van DeMark, 75 Perry street, entertained recently for their pinchle club. Saturday the club witnessed the football game between Rutgers University and Lehigh University at Rutgers Stadium.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Henry Riepe, Jr., was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party given to her by her husband with her parents as co-host and hostess, Saturday evening at their home. Guests were from Cedar Hill, Jersey City, Bloomfield, Newark and Belleville. Decorations were in pink and white. A large birthday cake with the greeting "Happy Birthday" graced the center of the table.

Mrs. Auble, Hillside, mother of Mrs. Harry Snyder, Belleville avenue, a member of the Monty gomery Players, entertained at a Halloween party Friday evening. Members of the group attended.

MOVING

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duffy and son, and Miss Julia, 18 Center street, are moving this week to Nutley.

SON BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Broid, 22 Van Riper place, formerly of Cedar Hill avenue, are the proud parents of an infant son born in St. Barnabas' Hospital, High street, Newark. Mother and son are doing well and came home last Monday. This is the couple's third child.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Miss Agnes Grossman and Miss Alma Barlow, Irvington, were hostesses at a surprise miscellaneous shower given in Miss Grossman's home in honor of Miss Irma Martha Enders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo E. Enders, 126 Cedar Hill avenue, who will become the bride of Robert Shaw Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Little, Hudson, O., at a church ceremony November 24 in Wesley Methodist Church, with Rev. Edgar M. Compton, pastor of the church, officiating. There were eighteen guests from Irvington, Nutley, Newark and Belleville.

The girls of the Young Women's Christian Association held a white elephant party Thursday evening and surprised Miss Enders.

The Fred A. Hartley, Jr., Association will hold a Halloween party tomorrow evening in Exempt Firemen's Hall, Stephens and Joramaleon streets. There will be a door award and awards for the most comical and prettiest costumes and balloon dance.

Woman's Club Hears Talks On International Relations

Was One Of Highlights Of The Local Club Season

One of the highlights of this year's activities was held at the Woman's Club on Monday when the International Relations Committee of the Eighth District held its Fall conference.

Mrs. Charles Underwood of the Little Falls Woman's Club, dressed in native South American costume, gave a talk on better understanding between North and South America. She had lived in South America a number of years and brought with her a display of old silver, rugs, textiles and prints from different sections of Peru.

Mrs. J. Murray Booth, vice-chairman of Program Assistance of Federation, spoke on various books and pamphlets on the European situation. Mrs. Stephen J. Francisco, Federation chairman of International Relations, spoke on the Embargo Act, national defense program and concluded by saying that the present European war will not be the last war—until the world finds a substitute for war there will be more of them.

Mrs. J. Claude Powers, Eighth District chairman of International Relations, was chairman of the conference, assisted by Mrs. Daniel T. O'Connor, chairman of International Relations of the local club, and her committee.

The regular monthly card party at the club will be held on Monday. Hostesses will be Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn, Mrs. William Entekin, Mrs. William M. Engleman, Mrs. William P. Adams, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield, Mrs. Frederick E. Dodd, Mrs. Raymond E. Mertz, Mrs. James K. Alexander, Mrs.

Frank P. Brohal and Mrs. W. H. K. Davey.

On Thursday, November 9, the Seventh and Eighth districts of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs will hold a district conference in the First Presbyterian Church, Arlington.

Mrs. Morris Rochlin, eighth district publicity chairman, will give "One Minute Forecasts" at the afternoon session.

Members of the Woman's Club who will attend the conference will be Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde, president of the Woman's Club, Mrs. John Denike, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Henry Squire, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Harvey Thompson.

The morning session starts at 10:30 and afternoon session at 2 o'clock.

Brothers, all you have to do is stick to this column and get in on all the scoops. You were told in advance about the alterations and also that 300 persons would attend our Fall dance. Well, these things were right on the line, weren't they?

Now, here is another one you may stick in your hatband and say in about six weeks: "I told you so."

There is a financial coup just hatching that will be a great help to the future of the club. Now stand by and watch it unfold. When it develops give three cheers for the trustees.

See by the paper — Belleville News — Brother Lou Noll, director of Parks and Public Property, has taken charge of recreation activities. Now, all you need commissioner, are a few footballs, a couple of baseball outfits and I'll bet you won't have any damage done about town by the youngsters.

I base my judgment on a little army experience. On a rainy day

FEWSMITH CLUB PREPARES FOR MINSTREL SHOW

Howard Fox Selected
As Interlocutor
This Year

Fewsmith Men's Club has secured Howard Fox as interlocutor for its second annual minstrel show, "Darktown Follies," to be held December 8 in Public School No. 8. Mr. Fox is director of public speaking in the Belleville High School and with his wealth of experience it is anticipated he will give an unusually fine interpretation to his role of a minstrel show interlocutor.

Edward Walker is director of the show. He is following a professionally written minstrel script in planning this entertainment. It introduces many novel ideas and has a pattern of exceptionally funny minstrel jokes and stories running through it. Frank Dowe and his orchestra will again furnish the music. Rehearsals are under full swing every Friday night at Fewsmith Church.

Recipe Column

BY AUNT FLO
Belleville News

Two tickets for the Capitol Theatre go this week to Mrs. Jean Dyson, 108 Belmoor street, for her very unusual but seasonal recipe:

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie

1 envelope Knox Sparkling Gelatine
1 cup cold water
1 1/4 cups canned pumpkin
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
3 eggs

To slightly beaten egg yolks add one-half cup sugar, pumpkin milk and spices. Cook in double boiler until thick. Pour water into bowl and sprinkle gelatine on top of water. Add to hot pumpkin mixture; mix thoroughly and cool. When it begins to thicken, add remaining sugar and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into previously baked pie shell. Chill in refrigerator or cold place.

Pie may be garnished with whipped cream just before serving. This is delicious served in a gingersnap crust made as follows:

Gingersnap Pie Crust

1 1/2 cups gingersnap crumbs
1/4 cup powdered sugar
1/2 cup butter, scant
Crush gingersnaps and mix with butter and sugar. Pat mixture firmly into pie pan. Place pie pan in refrigerator or cold place. Allow to stand for several hours, then fill with the above pie filling and chill.

Two tickets also go to Mabel H. Melroy, 51 Smallwood avenue, for a delicious dessert:

Orange Refrigerator Cake Filling

1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 cup orange juice
Juice of 1 large lemon
grated rind 1 large orange
1 rounding tablespoon cornstarch
3 egg yolks
Cook together in double boiler

Exclusively YOURS by Bill Myers

MOST interesting person of the week is DeForest Morehouse, veteran driver of an Alderney milk wagon, who will go down in local history as Newark's No. 1 sugar daddy to horses. Morehouse buys four pounds of lump sugar a week to hand into the mouths of his sweet-toothed pals. He's been feeding horses sugar lumps for seventeen years. Now he's taken on an additional hobby — feeding dogs along his route puppy biscuits. He buys two packages a week for them.

Morehouse's own delivery horse goes right into his pocket for the sugar if Morehouse doesn't hand out the lumps quickly enough. Some of the dogs along his route follow his milk truck for ten and twelve city blocks if he skips them with a puppy biscuit. At the Alderney stables many of the horses are so accustomed to getting sugar from Morehouse they pucker up their mouths at the sight of him and actually whinny to him. "I do it," Morehouse explains, "because I love animals. It gives me a great deal of pleasure. I sure do miss them on my day off." And you can bet they miss Morehouse!

WITH the cocktail lounges, luncheon tables and newspaper headlines ringing with European war talk, it is indeed an effective interlude that comes at noon from the brown steeple of the quaint, old Military Park Church when the chimes, in clear, certain notes, play "My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty!"

THOSE who proclaim that the old love for dining out has vanished from the scene should peep into the Kungsholm some dinnertime. Once inside the doors you find fathers, mothers, daughters, sons — even mothers-in-law — balancing plates full of delicate hors d'oeuvres as they proceed merry-go-round-like about New Jersey's most sumptuous smorgasbord table, and finally back to their tables where you may observe them enjoying their full-course dinners. Old-fashioned dining out is still a thrill at West Orange's Kungsholm.

AT The Condor you can relax in a home-like surroundings and go through the most delightfully-prepared Italian specialties this side of the Hudson, to the accompaniment of Jack Betzner's fascinating dance music. More and more folks are "discovering" The Condor each week, and fortunate they are, for here is a fast-moving retreat situated in the very heart of the natural beauty of West Essex, in Northfield road, Livingston.

I LIKE: The Robert Treat's lemon chiffon pie... The crowd on the 116 Bus that leaves Penn Station at 5:25... Toast soaked in rich Alderney butter... And Alderney's French vanilla ice cream... Jack Betzner's playing of his own composition, "Gypsy Violin" at The Condor... DeCamp buses to and from Manhattan... The genius of Nils Bruhns' tailor... The understanding smile of "Charlie, of The Condor"... The effervescent brightness of Peggy Porter's voice at Alderney's main office switchboard... Johnnie Connor's ready wit back of the Treat's registration desk... The fact Hitler hasn't been making any of those blustering speeches lately.

RECREATION IN 1940

Hoping to have the recreation program expanded here next year, Director of Parks and Public Property Louis A. Noll has held a conference with J. W. Faust, field representative of the National Recreation Association.

Playground administration, training of workers, improving facilities and a more complete adult program will form the subject of further conferences which are planned by the pair.

Director Noll believes that playgrounds should be established in various sections of town and each should have proper supervision.

"Unless last year's appropriation of $5,500 for recreation is increased this will not be possible," says the director.

Interested in the conferences with Noll and Faust are Charles Tedesco, chief clerk in Noll's department, and Edward Lister, recreation supervisor. Among plans for the future is the proposed organization of a Belleville band or orchestra.

Noll now has complete charge of recreation through abandonment by the Town Commission of the five-man recreation commission.

IN OUR TOWN

All over the United States a pattern is repeated again and again which the traveler is not likely to find anywhere else in the world. The American is so used to this pattern that he never gives it a second thought. But it's a good thing to look into the matter once in a while; it's a good thing to see what holds the pattern together.

The pattern referred to is that of the average American community. Whatever the surface differences, in the width of Main street or the number of stores in the central shopping district, there is some basic identity among most American towns. Perhaps it can be pinned down in the form of a question: "To what does this community owe its origin?"

Here is the picture again: a number of stores, serving the varied tastes of the town's population; some professional men, doctors, dentists and lawyers, to iron out the individual's difficulties for him; a school system to educate the young; and most likely, a busy factory or two.

And when it all boils right down, it is the last-named — the busy factory or factories — on which the pattern of this community is almost invariably based. It is the weekly payroll that generates the purchasing power which makes Main street prosperous. The money from that payroll is sent out through the stores and reaches the farmer many miles away, so that he in turn partly depends for his well-being on the factories in individual towns and cities throughout the nation.

No wonder that the dean of a leading midwestern university, in the course of listing the factors he considered most important in the development of a modern community, listed first of all the following:

"Factories, offices, mercantile establishments, in proper number to provide a regular and profitable employment."

In our town — in any town — the factor that creates the pattern of happy and successful living is not hard to find.

ISSUING BONDS TO PAY FOR RELIEF

When voters go to the polls on Tuesday they will see on their ballots a place to vote on a $21,000,000 bond issue. As the ballot will explain, the purpose is that the State borrow this sum of money to pay relief costs.

This is not the first time the voters have been asked to vote on a relief bond issue. The State issued $15,000,000 in bonds in 1933 and $10,000,000 in 1934 and $10,000,000 in 1935 — a total of $35,000,000 in bonds for relief during recent years.

While at first glance the practice of issuing bonds to pay relief costs appears to be an easy way out, a little thought will show that this method is actually the hard way for taxpayers.

Once bonds are issued, they must all be paid off, and in addition, interest must be paid just as long as any of the bonds are outstanding. Taxpayers are still paying off the bonds issued for relief in 1933, 1934 and 1935 and more than $13,000,000 of the principal must still be paid. To issue more bonds now on top of what we already owe would mean that much more principal to be paid off, and additional interest charges as well.

The wisest course for anyone to pursue, whether it be an individual or the state, is to get out of debt as promptly as possible. But in the case of these $35,000,000 relief bonds which were issued in 1933, '34 and '35, this is doubly true because relief is a current cost and should be paid out of current expenditures. The whole idea of borrowing for current expenditures is indefensible.

Fortunately, the proposed $21,000,000 relief bonds cannot be issued without the consent of the voters. New Jersey's constitution prohibits the Legislature from creating any debt which shall exceed $100,000 unless it shall have received the sanction of a majority of voters at a general election.

Under the leadership of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, the combined forces of the organized taxpayers in New Jersey have been campaigning vigorously to defeat the bonds. Their forces have been augmented by many other groups, including men's and women's civic groups, farmers groups, business men's groups, Chamber of Commerce, etc.

In this United Front Campaign, the Association has shown how relief funds can be secured without bonds; has revealed the weak points in the Legislature's fumbling; attempts to finance relief; has shown the indefensibility of issuing bonds to finance current costs, such as relief.

Equipped with the facts, the voters will have an opportunity to assert their rights and to forestall the attempt to load increased debt on the backs of taxpayers.

KEEP THE HOME FIRES BURNING

We Americans, being a curious people (probably because we are free to ask questions and speak our mind without fear of a firing squad), have quite naturally had our attention centered on European events in recent weeks.

But while we have been watching the war abroad, we have given too little thought to our own problems. As a result, domestic issues which are just as important today as they were when war began last September 3 have been let to slip into a category of second importance on the political list of "things to be done."

Until war commanded the headlines and public attention, the pressure of public opinion for a solution of these problems had begun to be felt in Washington. Now the pressure is eased and the question of recovery in America is left to an uncertain future.

This is a particularly unhealthy condition, not only because it leaves the problem unsolved, but because every day recovery is retarded the more difficult our problems become.

For instance: Every day the question of wasteful government expenditures is allowed to be put on, the nation's debt grows larger. Every increase in that debt adds weight to the burden (and potential burden) of the taxpayer. The heavier that burden becomes, the less money there is left to circulate in the normal economic channels. The less money there is in these channels, the fewer jobs there can be, the less the farmer can sell to the consuming public, and the less industry can produce in the way of living comforts.

That is only one phase of our recovery problem. There are others, all of which are sadly in need of attention. Events in Europe which capture the imagination of the American people must not be allowed, therefore, to become a smokescreen to black out our domestic problems.

WET LEAVES AND SKIDDING

Rain and a thin coating of wet leaves which reduces traction is the cause this time of year of many automobile accidents. During the coming weeks the hazard of wet leaves on our streets will become increasingly more serious. No matter how perfect the condition of automobile brakes, the combination of wet leaves and lack of due care will lead to accidents. For his own safety and the safety of others, motorists and pedestrians alike, the wise automobile operator will not permit his automobile to get out of absolute control when such conditions exist.

Musical Reviews

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock the seventh series of free chamber music concerts was inaugurated in the Newark Museum. Margaret Daum, former soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, and the Brauer String Quartet comprised the program. Rodney Sawyer, an eminent musician of whom New Jersey may well be proud, appeared in the capacity of pianist with the instrumentalists in a quintet, and as accompanist for Miss Daum. Sponsored by Mrs. Wallace M. Seudder, the concerts are scheduled for the fourth Sunday of each month, excepting December, through March, and are under the direction of Mrs. Rodney Sawyer.

Originating when musicians came together for an afternoon or evening of diversion, chamber music has since developed into one of the finest forms of musical composition. It has been said that to appreciate chamber music, the listener must have more of intelligence and musical understanding than for enjoying any other type of music.

During the eighteenth century it flourished especially. Under the patronage of royal personages it became quite the fashionable form of entertainment for musically inclined. It is still the custom in European countries for musicians to gather on a Sunday morning to play trios, quartets and quintets for the joy of making music together.

The American version of this practice is for instrumentalists to gather usually in the evening, to play for the pleasure of it, yes, but also with an eye to becoming at least partial professionals; for Americans must always have a goal, if there isn't one they make one.

Chamber music should be performed in a room, be it large or small, rather than in an auditorium. High platforms and large spaces were not designed for the projection of a blending of four stringed instruments. The hall of the museum lends itself particularly well to the cause of chamber music. A platform just big enough to enable the audience to see the performers, and walls hung with fine examples of art lend environment of a large private home rather than that of a public hall.

A widespread and growing interest in chamber music is apparent. It seems to fill a need for many people; it gives experience to the student, pleasure to the music hobbyist, and presents a definite field to the professional.

Belleville people who were seen in the audience included the Misses Sarah and Annabel Cullen and Adell Sutherland.

Open Every Sunday

Plans to keep the Newark Museum open to the public Sunday afternoons have been completed. Special programs designed to interest everyone have been outlined. The first Sunday of the month a program pertaining to art will be given. The second Sunday will present techniques.

Turning The Clock Back

FIVE YEARS AGO

Town Commissioner Joseph King was studying a plan whereby all food handlers in town would have to undergo a physical examination.

A contract for a new post office at Hackettstown was awarded the Bergen-Essex Construction Company, 44 Garden avenue, in the amount of $34,500.

The engagement of Miss Mary Ann Milne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Milne, Whitesville, Mass., and Walter W. Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cochran, Irvington, was announced at a party given in the home of Mrs. Annie Red of this town, Miss Milne's aunt.

TEN YEARS AGO

A meeting of the various societies was held at St. Peter's Church to plan for the annual bazaar which was scheduled the represented by the big men of Wall street, who use both parties to further their ends — the other a Democracy wherein the people are truly represented in the governing bodies of the country.

When Judge Gary, Charles M. Gehlbach and others returned from Europe they declared that Mussolini, the Italian Dictator, was the greatest man in Europe because he represented the supreme dominating power of a dictator, he added.

Jacob Hoffman and Albert Kerr were new postmen assigned to Belleville office. Belleville, in outlying sections, which had one delivery a day, was thereby assured of two deliveries.

Edward Kennedy, New York, spent the weekend with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy, 202 Linden avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Solomon motored to Paterson and Perth Amboy.

Lawin Van Demark, 54 Stephens street, had recovered from an illness of three weeks and was about again.

George Karrer and George, Jr., spent the week in Washington, D. C.

E. J. Moniot complained to the Town Council of the manner in which Bell street had been filled and the length of time taken on the job. The engineer promised to see the contractor and instruct him to complete the job on time.

The late treeholder, John H. Waters, former Mayor, asked the Council to consider a petition of residents of Main street requesting that it be taken over as a county road.

Angelo Domenick, Mayor of Silver Lake, complained of the brook that ran from Belmont avenue across Heckel street. Angelo's complaint was his liquor license transferred from Honiss street to Belmont avenue.

Bishop John J. O'Connor confirmed a class of 275 boys and girls and several adults in St. Peter's Church. The Bishop was assisted by Rev. Charles A. Smith, chancellor of the diocese, and Rev. Michael P. Whelan, assistant rector at St. Peter's. John A. Breen and Catherine Comesky were sponsors. A crowd that packed the church edifice and flowed out into the street witnessed the ceremonies.

SONG GROUPS MAP CAROL FESTIVAL

Glee Club, Women's Choral, Many Church Choirs Plan Huge Christmas Celebration

Belleville will be treated to a gigantic Christmas Carol Festival, if the plans now in the process of formation are carried through to completion.

A committee has been formed which has invited the Belleville Men's Glee Club, the Women's Choral Group, most of the church choirs within the town and the children of Belleville to combine into one huge choral group for the occasion.

While final plans for the affair, which will be the first of its kind in the history of Belleville, have not been settled, it is expected that the Festival will be held in one of the halls in town and will be free to the public. It will probably be held some time during the week immediately preceding Christmas.

Another meeting to further the plans was held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Women's Club, Rossmore place.

JUNIOR LEAGUE DANCE

The fall dance of the Junior League of the Hebrew Orphanage and Sheltering Home of Newark will be held on Sunday evening at the Essex House, Broad street, Newark. Andy Kress and his orchestra will furnish the music. The proceeds of this affair will be used to help clothe the children at the home.

Philip Cohen is chairman and Selma Greenberg, co-chairman. Others on the committee are Morris Schacter, Harry Levy, Sally Rabinowitz, Pat Cohen, Sylvia Miller, Pauline Schorr, Herman Buckner, Doris Starbman, Agnes Jacobs, all Newark; Sol Lempert, Belleville; Gertrude Jacobs, Newark; and Dr. Louis Butan, West Orange, in charge of publicity.

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

A little last-minute breath of life has come into the present election campaign. Part of this may be attributed to the natural election cycle. People become interested in elections because such interest is habitual.

It is the fruit of the propaganda efforts of many years past. But some of the present interest is due to the sudden realization of Republican leaders that the extreme apathy was dangerous to their cause. Since it looked as though the independent voter would always be the backbone of Republican strength — did not intend to participate in the contest, the matter would be decided by the rival organizations.

Neither organization is very strong. Until recently no serious effort had been made to create a Republican organization by the Clean Government wing of the party. The old organization died with Jesse Salmon. Within the past year Arthur T. Venter, and his associates have moved to correct this deficiency, but an effective political machine is generally the work of years rather than months. This realization has caused a sudden wave of apprehension among Republican candidates. They expected to win as usual, but they couldn't be sure. Hence the last minute flurry of campaign activity.

The status of the Democratic organization is not very different from that of the Republicans. Under the leadership of Col. William H. Kelly the Democrats won the election of 1931, carried the county for William H. Dill in 1934 and elected most of the County and Congressional ticket in 1936. Even so, the conviction became general that these victories were more the result of the Moore and Roosevelt landslides than of efficient organization work. This conviction was the ruling, although indirect cause of Kelly's treatment. Back of Kelly's failure was the hostility of the Newark group led by Mayor Ellenstein and Commissioner Duffy. Kelly's failure to build a sound organization was largely the result of his failure to work harmoniously with his Newark colleagues within the Democratic party.

The new Democratic chairman, James J. McMahon of Montclair, assumed the party leadership in 1938 with a reputation for efficient organization work. Long a close associate of Mayor Hague through his position as business manager of the Hudson Dispatch, McMahon had demonstrated an efficient leadership of the Democratic party in Montclair. Much was expected of him by the Democratic rank and file when he took office. But as far as last year was concerned there was disappointment over the showing.

This relatively poor showing may be explained, however, by two relevant facts. The first of these was the lack of time in which to get the fighting elements of Newark together. The second was the intense hostility at that time to Mayor Frank Hague. Both of these factors resulted in the so-called Barber landslide, in which the latter came out of Essex with a plurality of 51,861 votes. Part of this huge plurality can be attributed to the sensational desertion of Jewish voters, who apparently supported Barber because they resented Hague's violation of the Bill of Rights in Jersey City. But the average Republican plurality for General Assembly candidates was only 31,397. This plurality indicated more accurately the relative strength of the parties, although even here had Barber not been a candidate this plurality would probably have been smaller.

When Republican leaders a few weeks ago began to get reports of rather intense Democratic activity, they dug up these election figures and decided that while they didn't guarantee it, so the orders went out recently to get out the vote. But getting out the vote among independent minded citizens is a difficult task when the campaign has no dramatic interest. Such interest has been supplied in part by the 21 million dollar bond issue referendum, but generally the election is dismissed by a shrug. This gives McMahon at least an outside chance of sneaking over his ticket. I don't think he can do it, but he might.

The auxiliary is conducting a stocking club. Anyone wishing to join may do so by contacting any member or by calling Mrs. Kolinsky, telephone Belleville 2-1841.

There will be entertainment and refreshments for all at the culinary party which is planned in the Recreation House on November 27.

Mrs. Kolinsky takes this opportunity to thank all members and especially the October Committee for the grand support accorded her during the month. The November Committee members are Mrs. Ida Flannery, Mrs. Helen Laubach and Mrs. Ruth Delaporte.

On Sunday members of the unit will join with members of Belleville Post No. 105 to observe Armistice Day memorial services in St. Peter's R. C. Church William street at 7:45.

Hoffman requests all members to assemble in front of the church at 7:30, wearing white, if possible, and the auxiliary streamer.

Mrs. Joseph Huemer, membership chairman, has divided the members of the executive committee into two teams, the gold team and the blue team to see which team may obtain the most renewals and new members for 1940. Senior's dues are $2, yearly, and Junior's $1.

Junior Auxiliary will meet in Recreation House on Wednesday for regular business meeting at 7:30 p. m. Miss Ruth Shannon, Jr. president, will preside. The Juniors will make favors in keeping with the spirit of Armistice Day for the tables of Veterans at Lyons' Hospital. This is one of the activities carried on by the Juniors, to make favors for all holidays for the veteran's tables in the Government Hospitals thru out the United States.

RUMMAGE SALE
Belleville Chapter No. 262 will hold a rummage sale at 142 Washington avenue today, tomorrow and Saturday.

lv and seems to be out of danger.

Harvey Thompson, secretary of the Central Building & Loan Association, should be in line for considerable felicitations on having completed fifteen years of regular attendance at Rotary Club meetings. Any service club member will appreciate that such a record requires a great deal of sacrifice on the part of a man to make a regular dinner meeting fifty-two times a year for fifteen years. Congratulations, Harvey.

It was strange and, at the same time pleasant, to see a former active citizen of our town back on his feet at a public meeting. We mean former School Board President James DeRosset. Mr. De Rosset was his same forceful self in expressing opposition at last Tuesday's Commission meeting to the proposed change of the Zoning Ordinance to permit a restaurant in Belleville avenue. We believe his talk had much to do to sway the Commissioners' vote.

Has anyone in the town ever seen Mayor William H. Williams light a cigarette or cigar and not use two matches to do it? We do not know whether this is purely from habit or whether there is some strange superstition connected with the act, but frankly we have watched him on many occasions and have yet to see him use less than two matches.

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The golden text is: "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "The scientifically Christian explanations of the nature and origin of man destroy all material sense with immortal testimony. This immortal testimony ushers in the spiritual sense of being, which can be obtained in no other way."

P-T.A. COUNCIL MEETING

The Essex County Council, Parent-Teacher Association, held a fall conference at the George Inn Junior High School, Montclair, Monday. There were several representatives from Belleville schools present. Those who represented Passaic Avenue School were Mrs. George Harrison and Mrs. John Doyle.

Police Work

plaints by at least fifty percent. There is yet room for improvement and I am contemplating other changes that are now in a formative stage that should bring even more efficient results.

"Both the members of the Police Department and those of the fire department attend twice weekly, at Fire Headquarters, lectures on first aid and have been doing so for about two months. At this time I would like to extend my sincere appreciation and thanks to Dr. William Sullivan, who has given so generously and painstakingly of his time and effort to instruct the men of both departments in the application of first aid methods. The results of Dr. Sullivan's lectures are of an estimable value and I know the men of both departments would join with me in expressing their gratitude to Dr. Sullivan.

MORE ... MORE ... MORE

"Educating the Force"

"At the conclusion of the first aid lectures, it is hoped we will be able to have studies in legal procedure; evidence and other phases of the law as it applies to the police department. For this tutoring, we will be indebted to Recorder Everett Smith who has offered his services and we know much knowledge will be derived from his efforts.

"Realizing the need for an adequate complaint and reporting system in the police department, we have established a record bureau where is stored in systematic order, finger print files, statements and index records of each individual arrested. Without this adequate reporting system we could not function to the best of our advantage. When an arrest is made, triplicate finger print cards are prepared. Copies are immediately sent to the State Bureau of Identification and the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington so that within a day or two, a complete and accurate record of the criminal is obtained. Each applicant for a canvassing permit is fingerprinted and forwarded to the various co-operating agencies and before a permit is granted, we know definitely whether the applicant has a criminal record or not. By this means, we have rejected many applicants whom we feel on their records, do not qualify for a canvassing privilege.

Youth Predominates

"Youth predominates in crime. Poverty and the consequences of poverty, poor home environment, disorganization or family life, insufficient emphasis upon character training, mismanagement in school, undirected street play, dotting mothers, excessive use of alcoholic beverages—all of these are stated to be important components of the juvenile crime problem. School truancy, fighting and quarreling, untidiness, stealing, malicious destruction of property, cruelty, sex offenses, disobedience, negativism and rebelliousness are all behavior problems that our capricious Recorder Smith must pass on to the courts. A large number of these offenses are being committed by some form of psychoneurosis, many are definitely psychotic, others are psychopathic personalities with antisocial tendencies which present far more serious problems to society than do the mentally deficient delinquents. While it is true the County maintains a Juvenile Court which the more serious juvenile complaints are referred to, Recorder Smith, in his wisdom, often appeals to the County psychiatrist for cooperation where the nature of the offense is not deemed to be of sufficient seriousness to warrant incarceration.

"Many of these juvenile cases come before Recorder Smith need what we call situational treatment, that is to say, the treatment depends upon some adjustment in our community, in the home, in the occupational needs of the individual, or in the services of trained social workers. Our local Community service Bureau has been most valuable to us in many of these cases. Our Police department through the cooperation of Recorder Smith's office have found placement for over 125 unemployed since January first of 1935.

"Firearms and Their Use"

"The subject of firearms and their use is very close to us of the police profession. The contest between police officers and the underworld has become a duel to the death with each side having its choice of weapons. Belleville is prepared. This is indeed one accomplishment of the police department which I am justly proud. During the past month, the members of the police department, at their own expense, have purchased the most up to date quarter reloading machine obtainable and each day, it is a common sight to see members of the department, on their own time, busy engaged in the reloading of shells to be used on the target range. It is needless to add that our Belleville patrolmen are rapidly nearing that stage when they can compete with the most accurate shots in the state, for, even at this early hour of their target range experience, many of the men show remarkable ability at distances of from 50 to 75 feet, the required competitive shooting distances.

"Credit To Chief Spatz"

"To Chief George R. Spatz goes our unadmitted praise for it was through his efforts and the men under his command, that he secured and erected a most up to date rifle range that has received commendation from officials of other police departments in the state. The Eastwood-Neally Corporation have allowed the police department the use of one of its buildings and have cooperated to the last degree in its construction. To the company we are indeed grateful. This range has been erected at no cost to the taxpayers, the men having devoted their labor and equipment gratis and probably the most enjoyable aspect of this entire accomplishment is the fact that this entire project has been a voluntary act on the part of the members of the police department. It is any wonder that, Belleville differs from other municipalities in that there never has been an order given commanding the men to compulsory target practise. Their enthusiasm has led the way.

"In conclusion, may I extend an open invitation to those of you who may have found interest in this article and whose interest is piqued by a desire to visit the department of Public Safety. I am sure you are too."

William E. Dunkinson

Funeral services were conducted Monday night at the William V. Irvine Funeral Home, 276 Washington avenue, with burial Tuesday for William Edward Dunkinson Jr., seventy, a retired salesman who died Saturday in his home, 30 Floyd street, after an illness of three months.

Born in Fayetteville, Pa., Mr. Dunkinson had lived in Newark thirty-five years before moving to Belleville four years ago. He was a member of the board of directors of Newark Lodge No. 8, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, and a past grand of Pythagoras Lodge No. 118 F. and A. M. Newark Lodge of Elks and Newark A. C.

Active in Newark politics, Mr.

Dunkinson was at one time secretary of the Passaic Valley Flood Control Commission. For a while he was owner of the Vulcan Rubber Co. His hobby was inventing and included in his inventions were a fire extinguisher and a can opener. Surviving are his wife, May Coven Dunkinson; a son, William Edward Jr. of Newark; a daughter, Mrs. William C. Tobey Jr. of Florida and two grandchildren.

William T. McNery

A mass of requiem was offered at 9 a.m. Tuesday in St. Peter's Church for William T. McNery, sixty-nine, 176 William street who died Saturday in his home after an illness of six months. Burial was in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Born in Belleville, Mr. McNery had lived here all his life. He had been employed as a butcher. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's Church, Belleville.

Mr. McNery leaves his wife, Mrs. Alice McNery; two daughters, Mrs. William Carragher and Miss Rose McNery, both of Belleville; two sons, Raymond and Frank McNery, Belleville, and a sister, Sister Mary Philomela of the Sisters of Mercy, South Amboy. Mr. McNery was the brother of the late Rev. Thomas J. McNery, Caldwell and the late Augustin McNery, East Orange, formerly of The Newark Evening News.

Mrs. Emma Thomas

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. yesterday for Mrs. Emma Thomas, widow of William H. Thomas, who died Sunday in her home, 123 Beech street, after a long illness. Burial was in East Ridgeland Cemetery, Delaware.

Born in Bartley, Mrs. Thomas lived in Newark thirty years before coming to Belleville three years ago. She was a member of the North Star Chapter, No. 84, on the Eastern Star of Newark. Mrs. Thomas leaves three sons, Fred W. Irvington, William G. Andover, and Emile Thomas of Newark; a daughter, Mrs. Pauline Fuss, Belleville, with whom she lived, and five grandchildren.

Mrs. Bertha Roehm

Funeral services for Mrs. Bertha Roehm, eighty-nine, widow of Christian Roehm, who died Thursday night in her home, 50 Chestnut street, were held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the home. Burial was made in Vincent Methodist Church Cemetery, Nutley.

Mrs. Roehm, who had been ill six weeks, was born in Germany and came to this country fifty-five years ago. She had lived in Nutley before coming to Belleville thirty-five years ago. She was a member of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Nutley.

Mrs. Roehm leaves a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Heiman, Belleville; and four sons, George, St. Louis; Albert, Newark; and Harry and William Mueller, Belleville.

HARTLEY SPEAKS BEFORE HOUSE ON NEUTRALITY

Warns Against Taking
"First Step" On
"Road To War"

Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., yesterday outlined his views in the House on the neutrality question.

Due to the lateness of its delivery at the time of going to press, we regret that we cannot publish the speech in full. It follows in part:

"Since the President called Congress to a special session for the purpose of changing our neutrality act, I have received thousands of letters, cards, petitions, and wires on both sides of this most important and controversial issue. I have read every communication sent to me. Never have I given more intensive study and consideration to a problem, for I consider this to be the most vital issue to have faced the Congress during my twelve years as a member of that body. While I have specialized in other fields during my service in Congress, I believe that the study I have given to this question justifies the positive stand that I have taken.

"I regret exceedingly that there are those among my correspondents who felt that I would yield to political pressure, or that I could be intimidated by threats to annihilate me politically.

"This problem is far too grave to be affected by political considerations, and without attempting to be dramatic may I say, I would resign my job before I would vote on this problem contrary to the dictates of my conscience.

"This issue stripped of all excess verbiage is: Shall the United States supply the belligerents in the current World War with arms, munitions, and all other implements of war? And in a practical sense in view of the Allies' mastery of the seas, it means shall we change our neutrality act so as to become the arsenal of the so-called democracies?"

"To this end we are being subjected to the same propaganda methods that dropped us into the last World War and continued in relation to the questions of the foreign debts, the World Court and other European power diplomacy objectives.

"Between 1914 and 1917 this campaign to embroil us in war reached its zenith. Recall, for they will not be repeated, the atrocity stories, terrifying in every detail, since proved in large measure to be without authentic foundation. Remember the great moral issue that was drawn at that time between Democracy and Autocracy. 'Save the world for Democracy.' 'Fight a war to end all wars.' Recall the appeals to our self-interest: 'If you do not fight this enemy of Democracy on European soil, you will have to fight it in America.' Remember the flood of trained lecturers who over-ran the country delivering these very same arguments.

The Results
"The results that followed are well known. We lost the lives of 126,000 of our finest American boys, tens of thousands more wounded, permanently maimed, disabled or bereft of reason.

"I ask you to take a trip to any veterans' hospital and see these human wrecks of the last World War. Place yourself in my position. Would you cast any vote 'I'm not even going to say that I will—that MAY involve this nation in another European War."

"The last war has cost us sixty-four billion dollars to date. And we haven't finished paying the bills yet.

"We fed Europe's starving millions and we loaned them billions and now we can't even collect the interest let alone the principal. Instead they called us 'Uncle Shylock' giving living proof of the old Shakespearean adage, 'loan oft loses both itself and friend!'

"We also made 23,000 new millionaires in the United States through World War profiteering. The big fellows who make huge profits in wars are anxious to get in the game again. I am opposed to giving these merchants of death a chance to pile up their billions as they did before.

"Today history is repeating itself.

"The propagandists have already started to work as they did in the World War years, disseminating the same fallacies calculated to lead us into another world inferno. . . . he said.

"I have my sympathies and you have yours, but I conceive that during my sixteen years of public life, I have never had a more serious or solemn obligation to my countrymen than that which confronts me now, — the solemn duty and grave responsibility of keeping America from participating in the present European War."

"I do not approach neutrality from the standpoint of being pro anybody except pro-keeping America out of war. My ancestors came from the British Isles but I hold no brief for any government apart from the American government and the American people. I am a sincere believer, as most Americans are, in the American system of individual liberty, free enterprise, and constitutional rights of freedom of religious worship.

"What strange inconsistency, it seems to me, the Administration recommends that our ships be barred from war zones, loans to both sides forbidden, our citizens prohibited from travel in war areas — (May I add that I am indeed, in full accord to this point) indeed, every effort save one would be strained to effectuate an appearance of neutrality. Militarily, however, they demand in the name of neutrality one reservation: that one thing is the most dangerous, the most certain to result in trouble—namely, furnishing arms, munitions, and materials of war to the belligerents of one side.

"Furnishing one side with the deadly weapons of war is the most definite sort of favoritism, the rankest unneutrality. Does anyone contend that we improve and strengthen our neutrality by supplying either or both sides with tanks, gas, guns, ammunition, and other implements of war with which to kill each other?"

"To my mind, it is unthinkable that we can escape involvement in the European War, and at the same time advocate intervention. It is real intervention to threaten before or during a war to sell death-dealing instruments to one of the belligerents.

"If we start selling munitions on a cash and carry basis, and build up a huge industry with only two customers, this is what is going to happen.

"When the cash runs out, rather than lose our customers and dislocate our domestic business structure by allowing the munitions industry to collapse, we will substitute credit for cash.

"The next step will be to make loans to the Allies, to protect the credit that has been advanced."

A Horrible Mistake

"And then, finally, we will send American boys overseas again, just as we did in 1917. That would be a horrible mistake," he continued.

"Once we set our feet on that path, the result is inevitable. First, make war profits from cash sales, then give credit, then make loans, then send men. You doubt that?"

"Surely the sale of arms and munitions does not strengthen our neutrality."

"To the contrary, I charge that the proposed changes are unneutral and deliberately designed to aid Britain and France."

"And, this, I repeat, is the first step we are taking to war. I am not among those who believe our frontiers extend to the Rhine."

"Is there anyone who will deny that every plant in the United States making arms and munitions will immediately become a target? Do you remember the 'Black Tom,' 'Kingsland' and 'Morgan' explosions during the last war?"

"Are we not inviting retaliation?"

"Picture several booming munitions plants blown up, hundreds of workmen killed. The passions of our people aroused by skillful propaganda. Do you think we'll be able to resist the temptation to get into the war?"

"That is the situation invited by the cash and carry of arms, and munitions."

"Cash and carry is of itself a subterfuge. This war cannot be carried out on a cash basis. 'The proposed amendment itself discloses the handwriting on the wall.'

"The Johnson Act now the law of the land prohibits loans to those nations now in default on the loans of the last war."

"If we are not to repeat the mistake of 1917 why do the proponents of cash and carry now propose the first step to circumvent the Johnson Act? I refer to the amendment just added which exempts inland traffic with Canada over the Great Lakes and by rail from the cash and carry features of the bill. . . .

"I believe that if we will, we can keep America out of this war. It will require courage, determination, and planning for peace. It will require that we seek our prosperity in peace trade and in supplying the needs of our own people, not by trying to coin other people's blood into our gold. . . .

"Should Be Ready"

"America should be ready for any eventuality, however remote, which threatens the security of our ideals and institutions in the future; be prepared to meet any enemy, or any combinations of enemies which may seek to undermine or overthrow our American government. When the time comes to fight, and it will may, whether it be Nazism, Communism, or any other ism or power, in defense of American soil, American principles, and aspirations of freedom, equality and justice, let us be equipped to annihilate such aggressors. Till that day comes, while making ready for any challenge to our rights, let us be tolerant of others, neutral in word and deed, repel all smooth talk or propaganda hostile to our safety and continue ceaselessly to work to avert war and preserve peace."

"As a member of Congress, I conceive it to be my duty to think and act in terms of the well-being of the UNITED STATES FIRST, LAST, AND ALWAYS."

"I want no vote of mine to cause the youth of America to shoulder a gun in someone else's quarrel."

"In closing may I utter this fervent prayer — that the Congress will, in its wisdom and mature consideration of this grave problem, prevent future generations from condemning or indicting us as having betrayed the trust imposed in us by the American people," he concluded.

Polyphonic Club In Full Sway

Amy G. Stratton, counselor of the Polyphonic music club, was delighted and inspired with the October meeting, which showed students to be very interested and enthused in the study of the music masters and interpretation of compositions written by them.

In spite of the stormy weather, the club had an almost full attendance.

The Stratton Studio, from which the Polyphonic club branched, was decorated for Halloween, which gave the studio a festive atmosphere.

Ruth Rudge had a very interesting story to tell on the tragic and sad life of Beethoven, while Virginia Strauss depicted Mendelssohn's life amid moneyed surroundings and intelligent family circle.

A sonatina by Beethoven, arranged for two pianos, was played by Ruth Rudge and Kora Zaidigian. Betty Freed played Mendelssohn's Venetian Boat Song with much musical feeling, though only having studied piano a short time.

Refreshments were served by Miss Stratton and her assistant, Beatrice Mullin.

The November meeting will be based on the life of Mozart, of which David Cooper will have charge, while Eleanor Ledogar will play a Mozart minuet. Mary Lou Hayden, of Passaic, will talk on Rachmaninoff's Life, and will play his most popular "Prelude in C flat minor."

Arthur Poyner will play a cradle song. Miss Stratton and Virginia Young will also entertain the club with a two-piano number by Mozart.

Plans will be made for the Christmas recital, November 27 at the studio.

American Legion Notes

Belleville Post No. 105, American Legion, lists the following events for the attention of its membership.

On Sunday evening, November 5, at 7:45, a church service at St. Peter's Church, William street.

"Armistice Day" will be the subject of the sermon. Legionnaires are requested to assemble in front of the church at 7:30. This event is in conjunction with the local Armistice Day committee program.

On Monday evening, November 6, 8 o'clock a post meeting will be held in the Recreation House, Joramoleon street and Garden avenue.

The newly installed Commander, William I. Labaugh, will preside in that capacity for the first time. The membership will be particularly interested in learning about the plans relative to the Armistice Day celebration.

to the meeting. Other campaign division chairmen present and introduced were: Charles Thompson of the Parent-Teacher group; Walter Warrick, industrial chairman and president of the Community Service Bureau; Ruel E. Daniels, school employees; and Lester E. McCorkle, commercial.

The Little Theatre Guild, with Miss Louise Carissimi directing, presented five-minute skits, showing the proper approach to different types of prospects. Other guests were Mrs. Elmer Hyde, president of the Woman's Club; Mrs. Williams and Joseph W. O'Farrell, new assistant scout executive of Robert Treat Council.

Mrs. McCorkle, chairman of the house-to-house group, gave final instructions to the workers. Approximately 150 men and women of the 225 who have volunteered to solicit, were present in spite of the inclement weather.

Captains of the various districts were introduced by the chairman: Mrs. Mary Plunkett, Miss Edna Baun, Mrs. Alan D. Lundy, Miss Gertrude Kinnealy, Mrs. Mary Price, W. Douglas Clark, Jr., Harry Sturgis, Fred Woodward, Mrs. John Massarano, Belleville High School put on a Community Chest campaign Tuesday as a result of a study made by English classes during the last two weeks of agencies served by the Chest.

During the last two weeks an attempt has been made in English classes and public speaking classes to develop an awareness of Chest aims, according to Edward Glaspey, head of the department. Students have taken field trips to agencies and model campaign addresses have been given in public speaking classes.

PROGRESS CLUB TO DEDICATE SET OF FLAGS

Ceremonies Will Take Place Monday In Synagogue

A set of new flags will be dedicated and presented to the Congregation A. A. A. by the Progress Club at its next meeting, according to an announcement by Jack Steinhauer, president of the club. The ceremonies will take place in the social hall of the synagogue, 317 Washington avenue, Monday night at 9 o'clock.

The flags, an American and a Jewish flag, will grace the platform in the social hall. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin of the Congregation will bless the flags and dedicate them to the use of the community.

The flags will be accepted for the congregation by Edward J. Abramson, president. A color guard of honor composed of a patrol from the synagogue Boy Scout Troop will participate in the ceremonies. Samuel J. Kogan is chairman of the arrangements committee and will preside at the dedication ceremonies.

The flag committee for the Progress Club is Edward J. Ackerman, Murray Steinhauer and Mr. Abramson.

Weston's Appeal

An appeal for contributions was made this week by George H. Weston, chairman of the clubs and veteran organizations group, in individual letters sent from headquarters of the Welfare Federation. The letter follows:

"The Community Chest Campaign conducted by the Welfare Federation of Belleville will open on November 1 and close November 14, 1939 during which the residents of our Town will be asked to contribute towards the support of the various agencies of the Community Chest."

"The agencies that are maintained by the Chest are: The American Red Cross, The Boy Scouts, Community Service Bureau, Visiting Nurse Association, The Girl Scouts, and the Silver Lake Community House. Our Chest campaign last year raised $12,000 or 75 per cent of the quota and the various agencies this year have consequently operated on decreased budgets."

"Your organization in the past has given its whole hearted support and cooperation in this worthwhile movement. We are asking again for your financial support. Let's try to make our quota 100 per cent."

"Will you act promptly and send in your contribution?"

"Checks should be made payable to The Welfare Federation of Belleville, N. J., and sent to George H. Weston, 184 Tappan avenue."

Now At The Capitol

Lady Esketh Meets Major Saffi—Tyron Power, as the romantic high caste Hindu, Major Rama Saffi, and Myrna Loy, playing the amorous and beautiful Lady Edwina Esketh, meet and one of the most stirring romances in fiction is begun in "THE RAINS CAME" from Louis Bromfield's novel, now through Saturday at the Capitol.

Starting Sunday for three days English class decided they would like to put some of their theory into practice. So H. D. Kittle, principal, gave the students permission to go ahead.

Prepared campaign addresses were given in all English classes Tuesday. Workers contacted all students in the school and contributions were turned over to the town Chest.
