

LABOR PROBLEMS ARISE AT TWO PROJECTS

Pickets Hold Fort
At Addition
To Plant

Belleville this week was in the midst of two labor situations, neither one of which seems to have caused more than a passing flurry about town. Pickets are walking near the new $20,000 addition to the O. B. Bart plant in Main street north of Rutgers. Police are on duty to see that the boys behave themselves and, according to reports, all is serene along the Passaic. The pickets object to the addition going up by non-union help. It is said some of those picketing come from the housing job near Branch Brook Park in Newark where, it is further reported, labor trouble existed recently.

Out by the proposed Jergens plant in Soho. Police Captain Robert Anderson unraveled Thursday what had the earmarks of labor difficulties when it came time to swing girders over the trestle leading to the site of the plant. The Erie workmen were permitted to swing the girders, it is stated, but union iron workers put them in place.

Work on the trestle to provide a siding for the proposed $1,000,000 plant got under way in a large way Monday. Traffic in Mill street, between Delavan avenue and Harrison street, was stopped.

The new trestle is expected to be completed today when the road will be opened to trucks less than nine feet high.

It is expected that work will start immediately by WPA under town supervision on new Mill street. The county is working on that part of the new street in Essex County Park, along Second River.

NO. 7 P.T.A. GIVES PARTIAL PLAN FOR WINTER

Progressive And Enjoyable
Evenings In Store
For Members

The Parent-Teacher Association of Public School No. 7, Passaic avenue and Joralemon street, plans progressive and enjoyable evenings during the winter. The entertainment committee, which is composed of Henry D. Riepe, Jr., chairman, Mrs. Rochau, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, Miss Robertson, Mrs. Di Sturco and Mrs. Denner, announces the following program as only a small part of all the entertainment that will be had:

Monday evening, November 12, a debate by the "Today's Club of New Jersey," "Can the United States Stay Neutral in the Present European War?"

December 11 — Charles H. Demarest, former Mayor of Bloomfield, will show pictures of his business and pleasure trips through China, Japan and a great many European countries, including views of the San Francisco World's Fair. A social evening will be arranged by Mr. Marsh for this occasion.

January 9 — Programs by "Bordens" (two new special pictures to be released in January, 1940, will be shown.)

February 19 — Afternoon meeting for the ladies to be arranged by Mrs. Katherine Hardwick and the teachers.

Conducts Memorial Service

RABBI DOBIN

MEMORIAL SERVICE BY JEWISH WAR VETS TOMORROW

Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin
Will Officiate In Bloomfield

The annual Armistice memorial service for departed veterans will be held tomorrow night at 9 by the North Essex Post No. 146, Jewish War Veterans, according to an announcement of Dr. Benjamin A. Jacobson, Post Commander.

The service will take place at Temple B'nai Zion, 430 Franklin street, Bloomfield. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, chaplain of the post, and pastor of the Congregation A.A.A., Belleville, will officiate.

Many state and national dignitaries are expected to attend. State Commander David Bockneck, of the New Jersey Department, will address the assembly, as will Commander Jacobson, Samuel Jack Kogan will read the memorial list.

Representatives of the various veterans' organizations from all over the State have been invited to participate in the Service. All are welcome to attend.

MEETING PLANNED BY P.T.A. SCHOOL NO. 10 SCHOOL

Mothers Of Second Grade Pupils Will Serve Refreshments

The Parent-Teacher Association of Public School No. 10 will hold its regular business meeting this afternoon in the school at 3:30 o'clock. There will be a social hour from 2:30 to 3:30 in the boys' play room. Refreshments will be served by the mothers of second grade pupils with Mrs. Raymond Vosburgh as hostess.

Decorations will be in keeping with Thanksgiving. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Julia Reiner of the Community Service Bureau, who will speak on "Citizens in Relation to Community Welfare."

The association held an executive meeting last Thursday when plans were started for a variety show to be held December 1.

Community Chest Is Over Twenty-Five PerCent Pledged

This Is On Plus Side Compared With Last Year

The 1940 Belleville Community Chest has realized twenty-seven per cent or $4,311.85 of its quota of $16,000. This is on the plus side in comparison with last year's drive for the same amount. Those in charge of the campaign believe it will be possible to obtain the anticipated goal of $16,000. Collections reported are:

Initial gifts	$3,438.25
Commercial	154.75
Churches and church organizations	20.00
Professional	156.00
Industrial	15.00
Clubs and veterans' organizations	70.00
Lodges	75.00
House-to-house	402.85
Total	$4,311.85

The second report meeting was held Monday night at the campaign headquarters, 338 Washington avenue, with Floyd P. Bragg, president of the Welfare Federation, Walter G. Price, campaign manager, and Mrs. Lester E. McKee, executive secretary in charge. Despite poor weather conditions on Sunday, which slowed up the house-to-house canvass considerably, the first report by this group showed an increase over the 1939 campaign. The next report for all committees will be held tomorrow from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Thompson, will be served from 12:30 until 1:30 for members of the club and their guests. Proceeds will be used for the work of the department on the club house grounds.

There will be a luncheon meeting on Monday at the club house. The Board of Trustees will meet at 10:30 a.m., the Board of Directors, 11:30, and a business session will take place at 2 p.m.

At the card party held in the club house on Monday the following women had high score: Mrs. William Brumbach, Mrs. N. G. Hunt, Mrs. E. G. Bagnall, Mrs. Charles S. Smith, Mrs. Louis A. Noll, Miss Esther Adams, Mrs. Roy Dickinson, Mrs. William Atkinson, Mrs. Charles Campbell and Mrs. J. Massarano.

PLAN REHEARSAL FOR CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL

Many Groups Offer
To Help Put On Gigantic Affair

The first rehearsal in preparation for Belleville's gigantic Christmas Festival will be held during the coming week.

The chorale group will be composed of the members of the Woman's Club chorale group, Belleville Men's Glee Club, the choirs of the churches throughout the town and the school children.

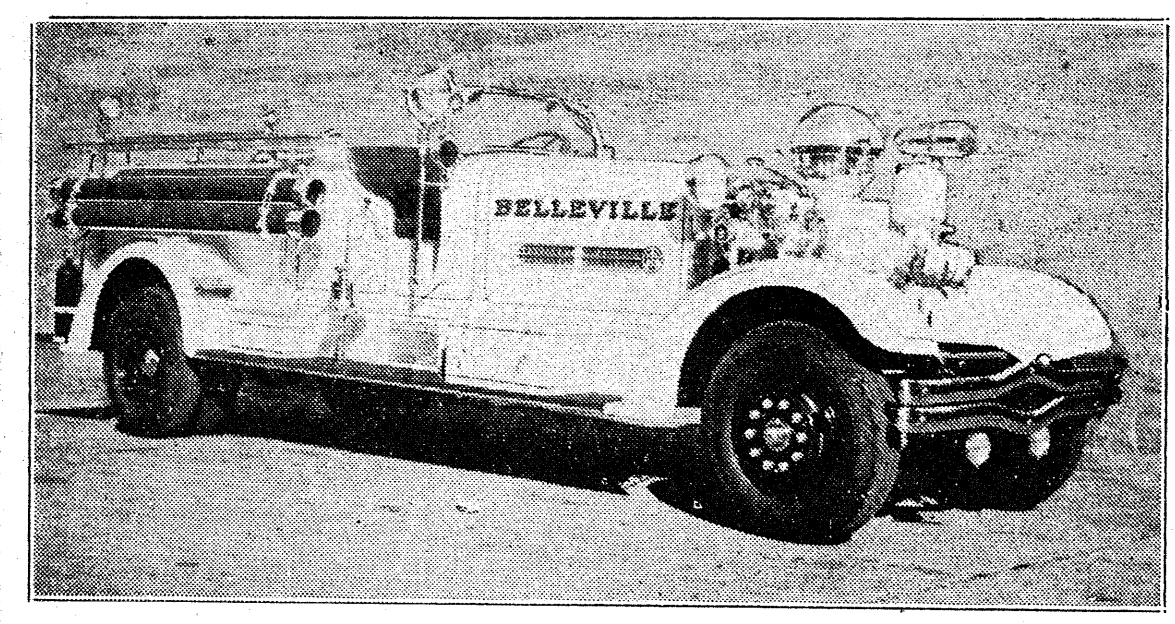

The Festival will be held in one of the public halls in town immediately preceding Christmas. Rehearsals will be held at stated intervals commencing next week.

The committee in charge is made up of the following: Belleville Glee Club, Harry Howard and Mark Main; Christ Episcopal Church, John Markoe; Grace Baptist Church, Mrs. Ruth Chesley; Wesley Methodist Church, Miss Mary Elizabeth Compton; First Presbyterian Church, Arthur Ackerman; Belleville Woman's Choral Club, Mrs. Lloyd Nunn, Mrs. J. Claude Powers and Mrs. Edward O. Glaspey.

W. & T. Party Tomorrow At Elks Club

A monster party will be held tomorrow evening in Belleville Elks' Club by the Independent Employees' Union of Wallace & Tiernan, Inc. Proceeds from the thirty-five cent admission will be used for the welfare fund. Tickets may be obtained at the door or from members of the union.

One Of The Finest In The County

Belleville's new pumper — an Ahrens-Fox — is rated as one of the best in the county. Fire Chief Alex Reid says a new aerial apparatus is needed and would put Belleville right on top with its fire fighting equipment. He is afraid the ladders on the old aerial may break. He cites danger to firemen if such occurs by using an example the untimely death of Fireman Thomas "Hickey" Woodruff, who was thus killed in Nutley.

Plan Series Of Seminars On Vocational Guidance

Dr. Simon Doniger Scheduled To Speak Wednesday At Synagogue

Dr. Simon Doniger, executive director of the Jewish Child Guidance Bureau of Essex County, will be the speaker at the first of a series of vocational guidance seminars to be sponsored by the Congregation A. A. A., according to Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, of the congregation. The seminar, open to all young men and women, will be held in the social hall of the synagogue, 317 Washington avenue, Wednesday night, November 15, at 8:30 o'clock.

Dr. Doniger will discuss "Planning For Your Future, Now." He has had many articles printed in educational and sociological journals, and has spoken over the radio on the subject of guidance for the child. The speaker is active in the New Jersey Welfare Council, the National Conference of Social Work, the Vocational Guidance Conference of Newark University, and the National Conference of Jewish Social Welfare. Dr. Doniger is a member of the Governor's Committee on Health and Welfare.

The P.T.A. of Public School No. 3 meets Tuesday evening when teachers will be in their classrooms at 8:15 p.m. to meet the parents.

A short business meeting will be held in the auditorium, with the president, George Irwin presiding.

Frank L. Chambers To Head Local Chapter Of Red Cross

Has Been Named As Successor To A. L. Boylan

Frank L. Chambers, executive vice-president of the National Grain Yeast Co., has been elected chairman of Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, succeeding Andrew L. Boylan. Mrs. Thomas W. Fleming has been named secretary succeeding Mrs. Charles G. Jones.

The executive committee has been enlarged from nine to seventeen members. New members, besides Chambers and Mrs. Fleming, include: Raymond Patrick, James T. Metz, Otto Breunich, George W. Cameron, Rudolph Deetjen, Clifton J. Smith, Fred Handlon, Miss Esther Adams, Mrs. William H. Williams and Mrs. George Kaden.

The committee plans to hold regular monthly meetings. The next one will be at the Town Hall December 7.

In accepting the Chairmanship of the Chapter, Mr. Chambers expressed the need of this committee becoming more active in local affairs. He said he hoped through the cooperation of the people of the town, with the committee, that the Belleville Chapter will be ready should an emergency arise.

Peter Linfante, twenty-six, 43 Heckel street, suffered lacerations when the car he was driving struck a pole in Kearny avenue near Stuyvesant, Arlington, early Friday. He was taken to West Hudson Hospital.

Women Republicans Meet

There will be a regular meeting of the Woman's Republican Club this afternoon in the Vroman's Clubhouse, 51 Rossmore place. The president, Mrs. David Sundheimer will preside at a short business meeting, during which Mrs. Joseph Kimble will give a report on the recent card party of which she was chairman.

Mrs. John F. O'Brien, Jr., legislative chairman, will speak on bills pending. Plans for the Christmas party will be discussed.

Mrs. Joseph Kimble, as chairman of the ways and means committee, will provide a movie show, following which there will be a social hour with refreshments under the direction of Mrs. Francis Lukowiak, chairman.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR PROGRAM ON ARMISTICE DAY

Over Thirty-Five
Units Will Be On Parade

All is in readiness for Belleville's annual Armistice Day celebration on Saturday. As usual the feature of the occasion will be the parade in the evening in which, it is expected, almost forty posts and auxiliaries will take part. Memorial services will be held Sunday evening by Private George A. Younginger Post, V.F.W., and Belleville Post, American Legion, and auxiliaries in St. Peter's Church.

As told last week in this newspaper, there also will be services Armistice Day morning at the Town Hall, St. Peter's grounds and the V. F. W. Hall in Belleville avenue.

Thomas W. Fleming has charge of arrangements. The line of march of the parade will be south in Washington avenue from Greylock parkway to Belleville avenue, west to Union avenue, south to William street, east to Washington avenue and north to Academy street.

Richard Doherty, V.F.W., will be grand marshal. His aides include William Labaugh and Otto Breunich, American Legion, and Ernest Alden and George Weston, V.F.W.

Besides Fleming, members of the committee on arrangements include: Herbert Scott, secretary; John F. Gannon, treasurer; Labaugh, assistant secretary; Doherty, Howard Knapp, Weston, Joseph Costello, Alden, William Massey, Henry L. Denison, George W. Bingham, Breunich and Richard D. Shannon.

BURDE HELPS POLL INTERNATIONAL SITUATION

Local Essex Junior College Student In
On Survey

Anthony Burde, 570 Union avenue, was among the sixty aggressive Essex Junior College students recently invading the downtown section of Newark and major suburban towns to conduct a survey on the present international situation. The project was sponsored by the Market Research Bureau at the college.

"Tony" was stationed in Broad street, to get as wide a variety of reactions as possible. This spot is frequented by office workers, shoppers, business executives, bankers, storekeepers, professional men, and the unemployed.

54.57 per cent of the 2,500 people polled in this survey, according to final tabulations announced by the college, were in favor of the Allies in the present war, and only 1.96 per cent expressed sentiments for Germany. The surprise was the large number, 43.46 per cent, who didn't care one way or the other which side was winning or would win.

A large majority of people in this area want America to observe a hands-off policy in the present embroglio as 58 per cent voted for complete isolation. 19 per cent would have us act as mediator; 10 per cent would give economic aid; 7 per cent would give military aid; and 6 per cent offered various schemes of isolation.

54.88 per cent were in favor of the newly enacted neutrality bill, while 36.93 per cent were opposed to it, and 8.18 per cent did not know what all the arguing in Congress has been about. 27.08 per cent advocated fighting if American possessions were attacked, and 35.10 per cent would fight if the United States proper were attacked. 20.69 per cent would take up arms if the Western Hemisphere faced German invasion, and 11.55 per cent thought we should send an expeditionary force to Europe if the Allies were losing.

liam Piravanti, son of Mrs. Gel-somina Piravanti, 332 North 10th street, Newark, took place last Sunday at St. Anthony's Church at 5 o'clock. Rev. Thomas A. Gil-lick officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown, princess style, with a long train and a pearl-studded cap and carried white chrysanthemums.

The maid of honor was Miss Margaret Zulla, Orange, who was attired in a blue satin gown, princess style, and wore a Juliet cap. She carried yellow chrysanthemums. Jerry Piravanti acted as his brother's best man.

Joseph Palmieri, Orange, uncle of the bridegroom, and Jerry Salvatorelli, Newark, a cousin, were ushers.

At 6:30 o'clock a reception for several hundred guests was held in St. Anthony's auditorium, 61 Franklin street.

The bride is a graduate of Silver Lake Public School No. 4 and attended Belleville High School for three years. Mr. Piravanti is employed with the A. & C. Works, Newark.

After a motor trip to Wash-ington and Virginia, the couple will reside at 66 Davenport ave-nue, Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manis-calco and their daughter Frances, Brooklyn, spent election day with Mrs. Frances Maniscalco, 14 Mag-nolia street.

Miss Geraldine Serritella, 46 Magnolia street, had as guests Thursday evening Miss Rose Uz-zolino, Belleville; Louis Acavello, Nutley; Joseph DiLarco, Newark, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ditti and their daughter, Josephine, Bloomfield.

Anthony Goglia, 67 Harrison street, observed his birthday Sat-urday.

Miss Josephine Rossi, 188 Hecker street, will be in the chorus when the New Jersey Opera As-sociation opens its series of op-eras at the Newark Opera House, Washington and Court streets, Newark, on November 14. The opera will be "Rigoletto." Wil-liam Spada, Newark, is musical director.

SEVENTY-FIVE AT DINNER GIVEN WILLIAM HOOD

"Doc" Was Honored
By Vets On His Birthday

Seventy-five guests attended the beefsteak dinner given to Wil-liam (Doc) Hood on Saturday evening in Veterans' Hall by members of George A. Younginger Post No. 275, Veterans of For-eign Wars, and the Ladies' Aux-iliary. The affair was held to help "Doc" celebrate his sixty-fourth birthday. Mr. Hood was the re-cipient of several gifts from the members of his family, the Post and Auxiliary.

The dinner was prepared and served by the Doherty Commis-sion under the direction of Dick Doherty. The entertainment was furnished by Victor Brostrom and his Veteran Burlesquers. One of the special features of the eve-ning was the presentation of a miniature saxophone to Jack Regh by one of the Burlesquers.

Pot Shots

On Saturday evening, Decem-ber 9, Younginger Post will cele-brate the twentieth anniversary of the forming of the post. This affair will be handled by a com-mittee consisting of Herbert Scott, Joseph Costello, Mr. Brostrom, Howard Knapp, Michael Maffia, Norbert Bertl and John Gannon. Now that Mr. Regh has started to improve his musical education by huffing and puffing on a saxo-phone, the local neat officer may be the recipient of complaints of howling dogs in his neighborhood.

"Shoe Horn" Paterson and "Al Day" Lundy have started a mem-bership drive contest of their own. Professor Alden is backing Pa-terson as the winner of the con-test and Jitterbug Kant is back-ing Lundy.

The Dubonnets met in the home of Miss Doris Hoonan, 36 Woodland avenue, Nutley, on Wednesday. Present were the Misses Florence Hagetter, Bettie, Wesley, Regina Stark, Marie Kastner, Hazel Meehan, Gertrude Meehan, Belleville; The Misses Virginia Pierce and Charlotte, Butler, Nutley; Miss Esther Jer-rell, Newark, and Miss Dorothea Stockton, Bloomfield.

Mrs. Viola Ferrell, 117 Beech street, will give a card party to-morrow evening for members of Good American Council No. 102, Daughters of America.

Mrs. Margaret Norris, Mrs. Sue M. Metz, Mrs. Victor Hart, Sr., Mrs. Victor Hart, Jr., and Mrs. William Hammacher were bridge guests Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Alvin Case, Orange.

WELL, we have settled one more thing (to ourselves, at least) and that is that the daily newspaper remains our only real news source, and not the radio by any stretch of the imagination. We are prompted to put down this decision here because we have ceased to be tolerant of the constant repetition by radio announcers each evening of dispatches we have long since read and dis-gested in the afternoon papers.

And then to hear them again at 8 the next morning with the same yesterday afternoon stories which they attempt to bring up to date as fresh news material. There is nothing so dead as yester-day's newspaper. There is nothing so exasperating as the feeble stale news rehash put on the air by manly-pamby radio announcers, who, chances are, never saw the inside of a news-paper office.

For important late news flashes we think the radio is Okay. Many of the special trans-Atlantic broadcasts have been excellent bits of reporting — but these, invari-ably, have been presented by American newspaper correspond-ents who know news, and broad-cast it in a professional manner.

Such news analysts as the fas-cinatingly keen H. V. Kaltenborn or the smooth, knowing Raymond Gram Swing paint a vivid and intelligent picture of things, but then Mr. Kaltenborn and Mr. Swing are star reporters, and not amateur rewrite artists.

Our quarrel is with the sad at-tempt of the radio news broad-casters to stretch an eighteen or twenty-hour-old news dispatch in-to a two-day running story. Boy, run out and get us a late paper!

BEST human interest story of the week is the one in which the mother of a little South Orange boy wrote to the offices of Alderney Dairy Company. Her little boy, the letter said, was feel-ing terrible because the Alderney billboard that had been situated near their home had disappeared while they were away, and that the youngster had actually been crying bitter tears because he no longer could watch the frolicsome Alderney calf do its mechanical performance on the signboard.

The letter caused quite a stir at the Alderney offices. Knowing how little boys feel about such things, they scouted about and found out pronto what the sign company had done with the bil-board. It turned out to be a mat-ter of better locations. So the Al-derney bosses wrote a nice letter to the little South Orange boy's mother explaining the new, not-far-distant location of the bil-board, suggesting that she inaug-urate a slight detour in the child's daily walks, should he still have his old love for the frivolous, friendly Alderney calf.

SOME of the news of life, news that does not get on the big press wires, is frequently news tremendously important when you consider its significance. What we have in mind, in this instance, is that a little lady — well, just eighty, celebrating her birthday anniversary, and her white-haired husband, several years her senior, got up and danced with steady steps at the Kungsholm restaurant in West Orange the other night.

Happily married for two score years, they were out for a bit of a fling, and unprompted by their guests, they still felt the urge to dance, forgetting, for the moment the problems and crises the half century past had presented to them. This was life on the half shell, the old-fashioned American way. The Kungsholm crowd was impressed and toasted to their continued good luck. In reality, it was news of life today, in a country free from hatreds.

Activities of Belleville Lodge, 1123, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks

I've often wondered how a per-son who has much to do with making laws would act when one of the laws "backed up" against him. Well, the other day this was answered. Brother Robert Ander-son was coming along Washing-ton avenue when, about fifteen feet from an intersection, the light, which was green, turned amber, then red. Now, nine out of ten motorists would just keep going, but not Brother Bob. He came to a stop, smiled serenely and was all set for the green. Bob only knows how many acci-dents these lights prevent. Cer-tainly they seem nearly always to be red, especially when one is in a hurry. But then, doesn't everything seem red then?

Speaking of lights, have you seen the lights in the Elks' new lounge? To say they are charming is putting it mildly. Funny how things break. A brother from Massachusetts, who happens to be in the tavern business, made a special visit to New York to look over a lighting effect for his tav-ern and whose effect do you think met his fancy? Belleville Elks! If you doubt this ask Murray Hous-man. I don't know whether Mur-ray sold him the idea or whether the prospect liked Belleville's set-up.

On December 9 there will be a show and dance with a few sur-prises.

It is reported in Elks' circles that Johnnie Mallack wasn't feel-ing so good last Sunday, so he went out and played eighteen holes of golf. This wasn't suf-ficient, so he took a bus over to the World's Fair, walked around a few hours and came home to bowl a few games on the Elks' alleys. He was on the job Mon-day, feeling fit as a fiddle, it is said. Last summer a few of the brothers thought they would start Tuesday night parties and this was continued into the fall. Now winter approaches and they con-tinue. This bunch of pilgrims cer-tainly "knocked the stuffing" out of the past two seasons. Let's see what happens to the third. When things pick up in industry, usually a night shift goes to work. The Elks are no exception. There are a few hands short to do the work on Tuesday nights. Jobs—without pay—are open to brothers.

Every once in a while an Elk sees some crippled child with a brace and smiles. Perhaps, the Elk thinks, "I had something to do with providing that brace—it's part of the crippled kiddies' work."

Want to Feel like a Big Shot?
WHAT we mean is, how'd you like to feel like you used to think a big shot must feel, cruising along in his big brawny Buick, envy of every youngster in town?
Fact is, a big brawny Buick — this year's beauty of a Buick — is within your reach right now.
A husky headlong 107-horsepowered giant valve-in-head straight-eight can be yours to command—you can roll around town in the staunch and steady carriage that's sure big, beautiful and a bearcat in action when its boss gives the word!
Yes, you can ride in the gentle lap of Foamtex-cushioned luxury—shift gears with a finger-flick, take bumps in BuicCoil Springing's "full float" comfort, even signal your turns by a touch on a lever.
And what do you pay for all this — budget-bursting prices?
Ix-nay! On the contrary, you can buy a Buick for less than some sixes! And you'll find when you look into what's included in these prices that they cover many an item that you will be asked to pay extra for elsewhere.
So lift your sights. This year, go after the car you really want—which means talking with your nearest Buick dealer—right now!

KEEP IT SACRED

With war rumbling in Europe can we forget the first Armistice Day? Remember the wild cheers and almost fanatical rejoicing at the cessation of the war? Peace meant a lot in those days. We forgot easily and, to some, Armistice Day became just another holiday. Recently, however, war clouds dulled the world's horizon and now every thinking person breathes a fervent prayer that peace in the United States shall be maintained. Armistice Day, you remember, was a holiday NOT in celebration of war but in celebration of the END of war. It is a holiday glorifying peace.

And, thus, to us comes a thought — for yesterday someone suggested that Armistice Day henceforth should be celebrated in a less solemn manner. This day will never be celebrated as suggested. To the veterans who now march in celebration of the victory there remains the memory of gallant comrades, buried in foreign soil, who will never enjoy the glory of the winning of the war.

Great as the victory was, it failed in its purpose to bring nations together and outlaw the legalized slaying of men. While Armistice Day should never be made too sombre, nevertheless the dead should be remembered. Let their ghostly forms stand ever before the faces of the war-makers to make them hesitate before they plunge the world and the youth of the world into another hell on earth.

If the first Armistice Day was a happy day for you, it was a glorious one for the wraiths who patrol the battle fields. "The living have not lost faith with the dead," they said. "This is a holiday to celebrate the end of war. See, we have not died in vain. This is a great holiday. It will ALWAYS be a great holiday."

A year passed — five years — ten years. The ghosts of those who made the supreme sacrifice still marched. "They are forgetting," was the sad chant. Twenty years passed — and some forgot, but not this nation.

"Remember," ghostly voices of the Phantom Army pleaded. "Remember that it was and still is a holiday to celebrate the end of war. Don't let it die. Keep it in honor of peace, that precious peace for which we paid so much. You wanted that first Armistice Day — and you should want a continuation of it and all it stands for. If you lose faith with us who die, we shall not sleep."

And, today, if everyone else in the world fails to heed the call of those whose words drift across the once blood-soaked field of Flanders in a challenge to all humanity, let us keep faith in the United States.

Our answer as Armistice Day, 1939, approaches should be:

They did not die in vain—we'll keep faith.

GIVE THANKS

Thanksgiving approaches again this year, and on this occasion the presence of war abroad makes more important than ever our American habit of pausing for a day and counting our blessings. Even the difference of opinion this year concerning the date on which the event will be celebrated points to something American for which we ought to be thankful—the democratic right to disagree about matters involving us solely as individuals.

What, in 1939, are some of the things for which we ought to be thankful? Surely it is worth while to pause in whatever we are doing at the moment and list some of the reasons why we are glad that we are Americans.

We should be thankful, most of all, for two precious heritages our forefathers gave us, heritages that it is worth everything in the world for us to preserve. These two fundamentals are freedom and opportunity. They are characteristic of America in a manner and degree not matched in any other land.

We should be thankful, in a world at war, that we are at peace with all nations, and that there exists in this country a public will to peace. We should be grateful for our system of representative democracy, which guarantees the fact that this public will to peace will be heeded.

We should be thankful for the high standard of living that this country possesses; for the fact that its real wealth, which is measured in terms of automobiles and radios and the material objects that all Americans can use and enjoy, is more widely distributed than is that of any other nation. We should be even more thankful that the system under which we live is designed to raise those standards even higher in the future.

While other nations are at war, or remain precarious neutrals with armies poised on their borders, we in America look forward to a future growing before our eyes in the laboratories of industry, where new products and new services are being developed that will mean more jobs and more payrolls.

But we must not merely be thankful. This opportunity is also an obligation. That obligation lies in our making every effort to use the advantages we have here to the utmost—not to be faint-hearted, not to neglect the opportunities that exist here, not to abuse the freedom we are granted.

Thus Thanksgiving this year ought at once to be a day in which we count our blessings, and one on which we remember the responsibilities that are ours.

DEPARTMENT OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT REPORT

In its first annual report, the Department of Local Government makes a number of important recommendations concerning municipal tax collections. Since many thousands of taxpayers are interested in this subject, the New Jersey Taxpayers Association uses this column to summarize several of the recommendations.

Shortage in the accounts of tax collectors is discussed in the report. During the past year or so, an unusual number of cases of shortage were revealed, especially in small municipalities, some of them resulting in prosecution of the guilty collectors. In most cases shortages accumulated over a period of years and far exceeded the amount of surety bond.

"In one case," the report said, "the shortage amounted to $28,000 while the bond was liable for only $2,000. In another case the shortage amounted to $90,000 while the bond was liable for only $20,000. In still another case the shortage amounted to $60,000 while the bond was liable for only $20,000."

To clear up this condition, the report recommends that tax collectors in municipalities too small to provide an internal check-up be relieved of the duty of receiving tax monies, and that taxpayers make payment to local banks most conveniently located for this purpose.

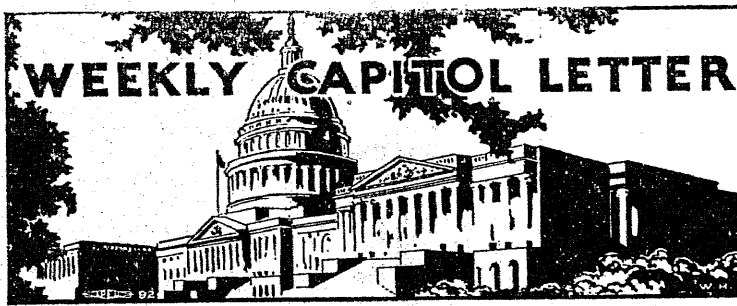

To reduce to a minimum the losses to a municipality from the sale of acquired real estate, the report recommends revision of statutes governing the redemption and foreclosure of tax title liens. Such revision would include shortening of the period of redemption of tax title liens and simplification of procedure and reduction in cost of foreclosure of tax title liens.

Penalties on delinquent taxes should not be reduced, the report states, adding that elimination or reduction of penalties might temporarily spur tax collections, but in the long run the policy is harmful and unsound. On the other hand, a high delinquent interest penalty, strictly and impartially enforced, speeds up tax collections.

The report points out the great lack of uniformity in assessment of real property, as reflected in the varying standards of valuation accepted by local assessing officials. Declaring that these varying standards result in inequality among taxpayers and municipalities, and have produced tax rates which are confusing and misleading, the report proposes a study of these various standards with the aim of presenting future recommendations for their improvement.

Many additional important subjects are discussed in the report, indicating that a great deal has been accomplished by the State Department of Local Government.

A TIMELY REMINDER

By United States Senator W. Warren Barbour

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Now that neutrality legislation is out of the way, legislative attention, almost before we know it, will be focused on the regular session of Congress convening January 3.

Next year will be a campaign year. Adherents of both parties will want to get away from Washington early in the summer to attend the national conventions or campaign for the party candidates. Perhaps both. That means there will not be a great deal of time in the regular session to consider any legislation other than the annual appropriation bills.

Though sometimes things do not work out that way and the Congress goes right on in session regardless of the National Conventions.

I hope the regular session will be a short one for I sometimes think the country would be better off if Congress and state legislatures were to have shorter sessions for the next few years, and concentrate on just appropriating the funds necessary to keep the government going, and give the country a rest as far as all these new and experimental laws are concerned, many of which these days are often unsound.

As I see it, we ought to tighten our laws against espionage, strengthen the national defense by giving the Navy the funds it needs for new or enlarged air, submarine and destroyer bases, and provide more adequate training for the National Guard while bringing the Army and the Guard up to their authorized strength. Except for this simple program, necessary in the national interest, I see no reason for passing a lot of new laws, and believe we would all be better off if we don't. It would give business a breathing spell and let us keep our minds on our personal affairs for a while and think of something other than what is going on in Washington.

Fortunately for all of us, the early excitement over the European war is dying down in this country. We have decided definitely to keep out of it. There is no reason why we should not, and every reason why we should. The only thing which would take us into it, so far as I can see, would be a direct attack on the United States or some other American country by a European power. Then we should have to fight, and I am confident would come out victorious as we always have.

It has been a source of pride to me to be a part of the national government at this time, and particularly to have a hand, as a member of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, in building up the Navy to its greatest peacetime strength and efficiency.

No More Unknown Soldiers
Armistice Day is but a few days off. It has been said the greatest tribute we could pay the Unknown Soldier would be to have no more unknown soldiers. I heartily agree. The way to do it is to keep out of other peoples' wars and be so strong ourselves that we cannot be successfully attacked.

To me all the territory in Europe is not worth the life of a single American youth. Our ancestors came to this New World to get away from the wars, persecutions, hatreds and tyrannies of the Old World. We have made of America a land of incomparable freedom and opportunity, and found here the "wealth of the Indies" which Columbus sought when he started on his momentous voyage to the other side of the world.

We need time to assimilate the legislation enacted in the last six years, get accustomed to the changes which have taken place in that time in our social and political life, and to study our needs for the future on the basis of our experience with the new order of things.

Eventually, if we are to recover economically and preserve the democracy of which we are so proud, we shall have to quit thinking of this simple program as something outside of ourselves—a Santa Claus who trims the Christmas tree every day for our special benefit. In a democracy every citizen is Santa Claus, and there is no other. The government is nothing but an administrative agency which we have created to perform certain services for us which can be better performed through collective action than otherwise. But we've got to get back to the idea of supporting the government and quit expecting the government to support us.

Air Base At Cape May
I am glad to say as to the simple legislative program outlined above, my own anti-espionage bill has passed the Senate and is now awaiting action in the House, and I have introduced legislation to carry out the Navy's recommendations for defense bases and added one of my own, in providing $5,000,000 for an enlarged base at Cape May.

The expansion of our air, destroyer and submarine fleets is going to make more bases necessary, and with Europe at war, we ought to be giving more thought to the protection of our cities and industrial centers on the Eastern seaboard, particularly in the New York-New Jersey area. A big air base at Cape May, with another in Connecticut, also provided for in my bill would provide the protection we need against possible raids on this part of the seacoast if the war should spread to the Western Hemisphere.

For the weekly feature, "A Weekly Feature For News Readers," we have a special section titled "Musical Reviews."

Belleville musicians have been watching with interest the development of the Nutley Symphony Society. In fact, some have done more than watch. A small wide-awake group is working to further the aims and ideals of the society, and there are six performers who play in the orchestra.

Best known of these, perhaps, is Carol Carswell, clarinetist, who was soloist at the pre-season "Pop" concert which took place early in October. Among the first violins is Mrs. Alice Hugely, while Marjorie Breen and William Dorman assist the second

U. C. C. REPORTS JOBS FOUND FOR 1,991 PERSONS

October Placements Are Encouraging, Says Manager Lawrence

The Unemployment Compensation Commission announced today that 1,991 persons, including 682 men and 1,309 women were placed in employment during October through the Newark Office of the New Jersey State Employment Service Division. This announcement was made by W. W. Lawrence, manager of the office at 309 Washington street.

In presenting the report of activity for the month of October, Mr. Lawrence pointed out that private employers hired 1,966 applicants or 93.7% of the total. Men received 657 private jobs, and 1,309 women were given jobs in private employment. Of the twenty-five jobs in public employment, one of the placements was on a public construction project at prevailing wages under P.W.A. grants. The report for the month of October shows an increase in jobs filled with private employers over corresponding placements in the month of September.

The following is an example of the type of positions filled for employers: Male — electrical engineer, millwrights, riveters, ship painters, budget managers, chemists, engraver and leather glazer. Female — radio tube workers, fruit canners, hat trimmer, legal stenographer and cashier.

Mr. Lawrence emphasized that the local office of the New Jersey State Employment Service Division is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to receive applications for employment or claims for unemployment compensation benefits. There is no charge for any service to either employer or worker, Mr. Lawrence said.

TO OPEN INSURANCE OFFICE

Miss Greta M. Kinnally, 35 Church terrace, recently appointed representative for the National Liberty Insurance Company of America, will open an office at 74 Washington avenue. She is a member of the board of trustees, Belleville Public Library.

Snoop's Snoops

We accepted an invitation to attend the "Back To School" night at Belleville High School Monday evening and certainly felt well repaid for the time spent. High School Principal Hugh D. Kittle, the members of the faculty and the Board of Education are to be congratulated for conducting such a program.

It was a very well-planned idea and carried out with the utmost of perfection and simplicity. From the assembly program (the opening activity of the evening) right on through the various class periods until the final dismissal bell, there was activity and interest.

About 800 were in attendance and while this seems rather a large crowd, it represented the parents of more than fifty per cent of the pupils attending school. If you want to get a good idea of what is done in the Belleville school system to try to give your sons and daughters an education, you should make an effort to attend one of these programs. We trust that the school authorities will arrange for another such program next year.

It was rather strange to see Clarence R. Lommerin president of the Belleville Lions Club, as a guest of the Belleville Rotary Club luncheon last Thursday. But on inquiry, we learned that he, as well as many of the other guests, were interested in the talk by the representative of the American Federation of Labor. From what we can learn, not only Larry's time but the time of the other guests of the Rotary Club was well spent, as the talk was most enlightening.

We wonder where Ralph Smith, president of the No-rail Boat Club, and Dr. George (Bud) Worthington were going early Sunday morning? Your guess is just as good as ours; but they both had their hound dogs in the car. We imagine they were on their way to do a little hunting. Have any luck, Bud?

We learn that Thomas Walker of Mt. Vernon, formerly assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Belleville, was in town Saturday on his way to the Princeton violin. Charlotte Harris is to be found in the cello section, and William Theford contributes his talents as trombonist.

The young people, grammar-schoolists, are putting their elders to shame by the enthusiasm they are showing in these concerts, due probably to the recent study of the symphony in connection with the music appreciation classes. It is gratifying, and not a little amusing, to hear the children urging their parents to attend the concerts, when always expected is the reverse situation.

To the Nutley Symphony Society, then, a happy and successful season.

Meador Wright's PIQUANT POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Not since 1930 had the smiles of Republican workers been so broad as they were Tuesday night at Newark headquarters. The favorite greeting was "Orange we eat Republican." And the reply was generally "Yes, for the first time since Dwight Morrow was a candidate." Rejoicing over Orange was symbolic of the Biblical parable about there being more joy in heaven over the return of the one lost sheep than of the ninety-nine who had never strayed from the fold.

The Republican elephant now had all of his twenty-one suburban lambs to himself. Only Newark among Essex municipalities went Democratic, and that by an Assembly margin of but 28,540 to 24,863. All of the depression gains of the Democrats had been wiped out. It seemed almost incredible that the county that only three years ago gave Roosevelt—and most of the other Democratic candidates as well—174,857 votes, could this year produce a high of but 53,182. Where were those 122,000 Democratic voters?

The answer to this question, in my judgment, rests more with the Democratic organization than with the Republicans. It is more correct to speak of Tuesday's election as a Democratic defeat than a Republican victory. Two basic reasons can be given for this. First, the sentiment against Mayor Hague so noticeable a year ago is still strong; second, the Democratic organization under the leadership of James J. McMahon didn't function properly.

Of these two factors, I am inclined to attach the more importance to the latter, and I believe this conclusion can be substantiated by consideration of the vote in Orange.

This city is not anti-Hague. It is strongly Catholic. But the Democratic leaders either couldn't or didn't control party members. The answer to this question, in my judgment, rests more with the Democratic organization than with the Republicans. Harvard football game. Tom looks well and spent a great deal of his time telling us about the new house he is building on the outskirts of Mt. Vernon.

We also met Hank Walters and the Mrs. on their way to the Army-Notre Dame game. Hank has not missed this game since they started playing in New York. Hank's brother, John, was formerly a member of the Army team, so Hank has to divide his affections between his own Notre Dame and the Army, but no matter what happens, Hank is on the winning side.

Commissioner W. D. Clark is as proud as a peacock over the new fire engine that has recently been delivered to headquarters on Washington avenue. From what we can see, he has every reason to be proud, as this certainly is a marvelous piece of machinery. The only thing we have to worry about now is to pay for it and to raise sufficient funds to keep the white paint looking as new as it does now.

Mrs. Walter Mathes, Lakewood, Ohio, recently visited Belleville, attended the twenty-fifth anniversary of Arene Chapter O. E. S., while here and then proceeded to Philadelphia to visit relatives.

A group of friends dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. Louis Noll Tuesday evening dressed in Halloween costumes and the usual guess-who game was played. Representing many famous people were Lillian Russell (Grace Kaiser), Gypsy Rose Lee (Greta Kinnally), Clark Gable (Rose Salmon), Sailor from Wyoming (Mona Grey), Father Divine (Kathryn Donohue), Hiawatha (Helen Donohue), Beulah (Emily Marshall McClinchy), the Latin from Manhattan (Ness Lally), the Laughing Clown (Agnes Jordan Leonard), Carole Lombard (Winifred Byrnes), Shirley (Maude Donnelly) and Jane Arden (Julie Byrnes). Mrs. Noll was the hit of the evening in her Madge from the Bowery outfit. After annoying the Noll family for a while, the visitors took to their heels and called on Peter Stevenson.

Does anyone know where Donald Duck came from? And how he got mixed up with the girls in Nolls house?

"In this, the first one of the messages I shall have the privilege of sending you as your county president, I am assuring you to sustain this effort, and even increase it, that the organization which we all delight to serve may enter on its New Year with the brightest prospects it has ever known, not alone for the sake of the Auxiliary, but in some degree for the sake of those who will come after me, and enjoy your favor and prove your loyalty."

"Come! Help your county slipper send our 'Good Ship Essex' on its voyage, and together we will wait and watch for its return!"

"Until we meet again,
CATHERINE C. ASHBY."

They either didn't vote or else strayed over to the Republican side. There were important local factors such as the dissatisfaction of such leaders as Walter B. Savage, former mayor. But generally the poor Democratic showing must be credited to McMahon. His leadership bogged down badly.

As I pointed out in this column last week, that it would be, the recent campaign was as a fair test of McMahon's leadership. Last year's defeat could be credited to factors beyond his control, but not this one. In view of the showing, I do not see how he can continue as chairman. I do not believe that Hague will entrust him with the direction of such an important campaign as the one next year.

Who will the new leader be? This question is easier to pose than to answer. It may be some young man like Donald C. Fox of East Orange, or then it may be Commissioner Byrne or Newark, or someone else from that city. McMahon may stay on as the titular leader while relinquishing actual control to others. But some such leadership is almost inevitable.

On the Republican side, Tuesday's victory strengthens considerably the already strong hand of Arthur T. Vanderbit. For the time being, at least, Vanderbit's leadership is not likely to be challenged. In this sense, the victory was very much of an upset to the plans of Harold G. Hoffman. The Hoffman camp has long contemplated entering a strong county state against Vanderbit's County Government candidates.

Unless there is a major rift within the Clean Government camp, however, it is going to be very difficult for Hoffman to persuade a strong state to oppose Clean Government. Only six months remain to get a rival organization going. I don't believe it can be done.

Legion Auxiliary

November 11, Armistice Day. Can we ever forget that first Armistice Day? Show your appreciation by reviewing the parade in your community if you do not parade yourself. Let us prove to the Legion we are with them 100 per cent.

Members of Belleville Unit No. 105 will assemble at 10:50 a.m. at the Town Hall on Armistice Day to hold memorial services at the monument at 11 a.m. and place a wreath there.

At 7:45 p.m. members will assemble at the cannon, Greylock parkway and Washington avenue, to take part in the parade which will leave that point at 8 p.m.

Unit county delegates, Mrs. Mae Hoffman, Mrs. Leona Kolinsky, Mrs. William Maser and Mrs. Helen Labaugh will attend the county session today at the Service Men's Club in Irvington at 8 o'clock.

The next regular business meeting of the unit will be held in the Recreation House at 8:15 p.m. Monday. Department Vice-Commander Charles Linfante will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Kant, child welfare chairman, will be grateful for any donations for the unit's Thanksgiving baskets.

Mrs. Helen Labaugh, Mrs. Ida Flannery and Mrs. Ruth Delaporte have been appointed by Mrs. Kolinsky to serve on the November committee.

The president, Mrs. Mae Hoffman, has received the following letter from the county president, addressed to all members:

"First of all, let me tell you that my family and I will always be grateful for the beautiful floral tributes and your kind expression of sympathy at the passing of my beloved father. Your love and thoughts were the props we needed to lean upon. Thank you very much."

"We have once more embarked upon a New Auxiliary Year. One of the surest means of making this year a happy and successful one is for you to put your shoulders to the wheel of The Good Ship Essex."

"You, the individual members of the American Legion Auxiliary, have been giving splendid support to your unit leaders. You have nobly done the work of the organization when that work was most needed. You have fed the hungry, clothed the naked, rendered community service and served our county as true patriots."

"In doing all these things you have endeared yourselves to your fellow citizens, and have made the name of the American Legion Auxiliary respected and honored in every community of our great Essex County. Your reward for all this is the increasing number of applications for membership, which is helping you to bring up your organization and mine, to greater strength."

"In this, the first one of the messages I shall have the privilege of sending you as your county president, I am assuring you to sustain this effort, and even increase it, that the organization which we all delight to serve may enter on its New Year with the brightest prospects it has ever known, not alone for the sake of the Auxiliary, but in some degree for the sake of those who will come after me, and enjoy your favor and prove your loyalty."

"Come! Help your county slipper send our 'Good Ship Essex' on its voyage, and together we will wait and watch for its return!"

"Until we meet again,
CATHERINE C. ASHBY."

A STORY ABOUT 'SAVING MONEY' That You Will Want to Read Twice!

This is not a "yarn." It's the true experiences of many millions of women, just like yourself — You may not realize it, but most families spend for food more than one dollar of every four dollars of income. You're probably spending on this basis, too. If you can spend less and get more, you know you'll have more money for other "necessities" or "frills".

6,000,000 value-wise women have learned by experience that they "get more for less money" at our money saving Super Markets. Merely telling you this is not as important as your seeing for your self how true this is. So we say "Come"! Just look if you want to, but we'll wager you'll do more than "LOOK"! 2000 compelling bargains await you. Start your family living better, eating more, saving more!

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.
The golden text is: "Henceforth know we no man after the flesh."
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an example. For from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ."
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "The great spiritual fact must be brought out that man is, not shall be, perfect and immortal. The evidence of man's immortality will become more apparent, as material beliefs are given up and the immortal facts of being are admitted."

MEETING HELD ON CONSOLIDATION OF FIRE SYSTEMS

Nine Municipalities Were At Confab Held In Bloomfield

Possibility of consolidation of fire services in Essex County so that municipalities may aid each other in emergencies was discussed Thursday at a meeting in Bloomfield of nine municipalities. Belleville, Maplewood, West Orange and Newark, did not attend although it is believed all think such a plan might be worked out.

Represented at the conference by commissioners or chiefs were East Orange, Orange, Glen Ridge, Bloomfield, Irvington, Montclair, Clifton, South Orange and Nutley. Each town's representative will explain the plan to his municipality.

William Jordan and Wilbur Olsen, fire alarm system superintendents of East Orange and Bloomfield, respectively, were appointed to draw up a map of the county fire alarm systems. The map will show the locations of fire stations with equipment and manpower and of fire boxes nearest to the fire alarm system of adjacent towns.

Newell Called Conference

The conference was called by Mayor Newell of Bloomfield to draw up a plan for mutual fire protection to replace the present gentleman's agreement among departments.

Newell outlined his plan for connecting all fire alarm systems and establishing a "running card" or schedule which would determine the actions of departments in fires where outside help is needed.

"This would cover all emergencies," he said. "Not only would we get aid on border fires but in the event of a big fire we would have help from other departments and we would also have other departments coming to 'cover in' at our vacant stations in case of other alarms."

This would mean, Newell said, if Bloomfield had a bad fire in the Brookdale section requiring all Bloomfield apparatus, East Orange would send an engine to occupy one of the vacant Bloomfield fire stations in case of another alarm, while Belleville or Montclair might also send engines to other stations.

Newell said such systems are now working successfully in Westchester County and in sections of Massachusetts.

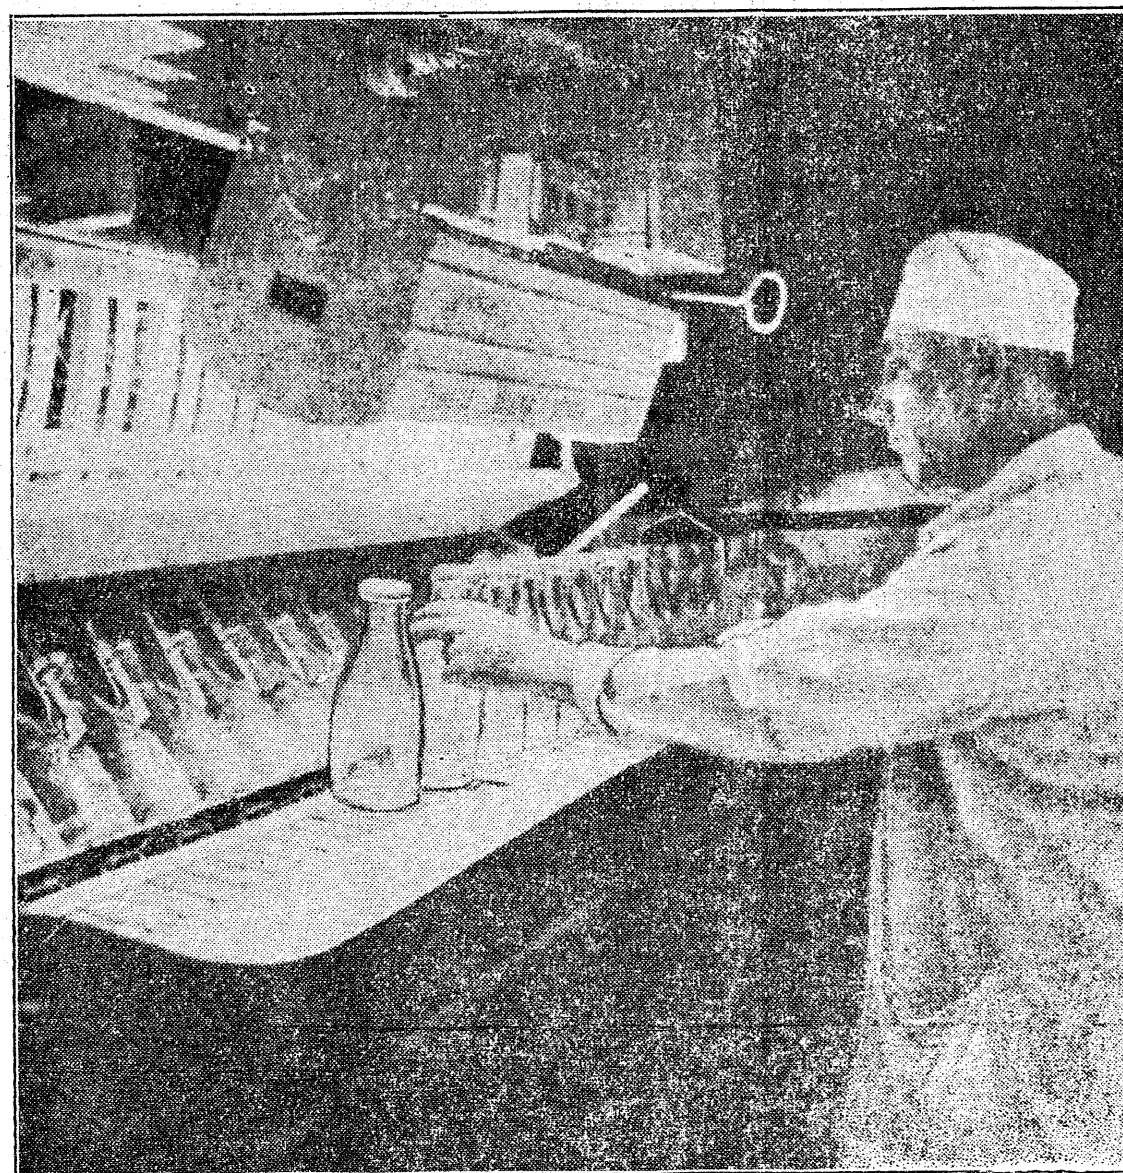

The Map

The map compiled by Jordan and Olsen will be accompanied by a report showing the approximate total cost and the cost to each town of connecting fire alarm systems. When this has been submitted to the committee which met last night, probably by the end of November, a committee of fire chiefs will draw up a running card.

Jocko Maxwell Will Broadcast Belleville Sporting News

Scores, sports news and coming attractions of any Belleville athletic team or club will be given free publicity over the air if the teams and clubs avail themselves of the opportunity, Jocko Maxwell announced yesterday. Maxwell, sports commentator for radio stations WWRL (1500 kilocycles) and WLTH (1400 kilocycles) and author of "Thrills and Spills in Sports," airs the local sports news over WWRL at 6 p.m. Saturdays and over WWRL the same day at 10:15 p.m.

Park Commission Affords Pleasure In Flower Show

Belleville Folks Are Close To The Annual Fall Display

With the arrival of the brightly colored foliage on the trees and shrubs of the countryside and with the arrival of the blooming season of chrysanthemums, the autumn season is doubly in full swing. To the employees of the Essex County Park Commission, the thought of chrysanthemums has been very much in their mind for several months and the culmination of this thought and effort is now to be seen in the Park Commission greenhouses in the northern end of Branch Brook Park, near the Heller parkway entrance.

All of this is intended to signify that the annual chrysanthemum show staged by the Essex County Park Commission opened for public inspection at noon on Saturday and will continue daily until Sunday, November 12. The hours during which the show is open are from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day.

Several years ago the Park Commission installed an elaborate lighting system so that the visitors to the show might enjoy the display during the evening hours. There are undoubtedly many people who are unable to come during weekday hours and who would prefer not to come during periods of congestion. The lighting system was installed to extend the hours during which the show would be open and to permit visitors at that time to enjoy the flowers more leisurely and with less congestion.

The display consists essentially of chrysanthemums, and two greenhouses as well as the large potting shed are devoted to showing these flowers in many types. In addition, one greenhouse is devoted to a display of tuberous begonias, which are especially interesting because they are grown out of their regular season. In this same greenhouse there is also a display of miscellaneous flowering and foliage plants, all of which have been attractively arranged with the begonias.

Noteworthy in this respect is a group of great speciosa lilies with their large expanding flowers which are white in color and mottled with dark pink spots on the petals. An interesting foliage plant is the caladium or elephant ear with its brightly colored leaves in all sorts of variations. Adequate parking space is available for visiting motorists.

and the facilities for reaching the show by public conveyances are also adequate.

NEARBY REALTORS WOULD INCLUDE THIS TOWN

Bloomfield - Glen Ridge Group Want Nutley And Belleville

The Real Estate Board of Bloomfield and Glen Ridge may become the Board of Realtors of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville. This change of name was suggested Monday at a luncheon meeting of the board in the Franklin Arms tea room, Bloomfield.

The board hopes for approval by the National Association of Realtors after which the change will be submitted to board members for adoption on November 13 in the office of Reilly & Weber, Bloomfield.

Associate members will be sought among officers of banks, building and loan associations, builders and building material supply firms, subject to approval by the membership committee. Associate members will take part in all board functions but will not vote.

Newark Junior College Notes

Newark Junior College has been allotted a monthly fund by the National Youth Administration to be used for the aid of needy students at the college. Students who qualify must work a certain number of hours per month at the college in order to receive the N. Y. A. assistance. Ralph Justin Kunis, business administrator of the college, has been appointed official in charge of the N. Y. A. project at Newark Junior College.

Miss Jean Potas, librarian of the college library, announced today the gifts to the library by Dr. Victor Lewitus, Nutley, and Dr. W. S. Washton, acting head of the science department at the college. Dr. Lewitus, formerly Professor of Toxicology and Materia Medica at Columbia University, has presented the college with a collection of books on scientific subjects.

At The Capitol

"The Women" with a cast of 135 actresses, headed by Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell, the drama which contains all of the elements of top adult entertainment with laughs and tears expertly blended, opens at the Capitol Theatre Sunday for a three-day engagement. Norma Shearer gives an excellent and sympathetic portrayal of the woman whose home is wrecked through the gossiping of her friends.

The fine list of supporting players includes Mary Boland, Paulette Goddard, Phyllis Povah, Joan Fontaine, Virginia Weidler, Lucile Watson, Florence Nash, Ruth Hussey, Virginia Grey, Hedda Hopper and Cora Witherspoon.

Based on the Broadway stage success by Claire Boothe, the drama has lost none of its effectiveness in being transcribed to the screen. The elaborate beauty shop, the fashion parade in technicolor, the night club and the individual wardrobes of the cast serve to dress up one of the most unusual love stories ever presented on any screen.

Espionage in the marine corps, with a red-headed gangster the focal point of action, is the theme of "Calling All Marines" on the same program, with Donald Barry
