Local Women Are Joining Molly Pitcher Brigade

Group Being Organized Nationally Among Women To Learn What To Do In Case Of A National Emergency; Chapter In Newark

Several local women plan to join the Essex County Unit of the Molly Pitcher Brigade, according to Miss Gladys Reyle of Stephen street who attended Monday evening's meeting at the Hotel Riviera in Newark. Drill in first aid treatment and the use of firearms will be carried on weekly. Captain of the Newark Unit is Mrs. Otis Haven of Summer avenue, Newark. The Brigade, which has active units in the forty-eight states, has as its purpose the training of women in minor war duties. Those interested are invited to enroll with the Essex County Unit.

Exclusively Yours by Bill Myers

VAGABONDIA... We guess that is what you'd call it when you start out to buy a newspaper and then motor through three States in less than six hours... Yes sir, the other fellows watched The Ford go by that day!... First stop, Governor Haines Inn, Hamburg, along Route 23, one of the friendliest resorts we know, and where, incidentally, we were spellbound by the most beautiful natural blonde this side of Hollywood. If she would only take a day off and present herself in person to John Robert Powers, 247 Park avenue, Manhattan, we feel sure he would promptly start her off on a professional beauty career that would pay dividends in fame and fortune...

Then to High Point State Park where, at the Inn, the roast beef is thicker and sweeter, and the Biscuits Tortoni the best we've ever tasted... One less of a vagabond would have remained at High Point for the day, for there is no more wonderfully restful area anywhere in the State, unless it is the little stretch of beach at Pinewald on Barnegat Bay with its snow-white sand, its graceful sea gulls and the gentle breaking of its miniature waves... Off to Port Jervis, N. Y., with a swing-around to Delaware Water Gap, and slowly back again to New York State through Goshen, Chester, Monroe, on to Bergen County and, via Route 23 again, for home.

With the clock registering only 7:15 P.M., we headed the car south, and paused at Sea Bright for dinner at the Yacht Club on the wide veranda overlooking the placid Shrewsbury, then home by midnight via Rumson, Fairhaven, Red Bank. Tired? And how!!!

COOLEST spots in Newark during hot-air week were the Robert Treat's cafe-lounge; Busch & Sons jewelry store at Broad and William, and Alderney Dairy's ice cream plant on Bridge street. At the Treat you could further cool off with a tall one; at Busch's you were intrigued by the cool sparkle of brilliant white diamonds; at the Alderney plant it cooled off passers-by just to peep through the windows.

THE Busch store, incidentally, has about the most polite sales gentlemen we have ever encountered... Most popular of the cooling-off places was Alderney Milk Barn, Route 10... Double lines of tots and adults last weekend at the Alderney ice cream silo, with the cones popping up with machine-like speed... The ice cream cone devotees at the Alderney Barn the day we watched included one tiny, white-haired lady well past seventy; six typical business men in a Packard sedan, and a swarthy gentleman well over 300 pounds who should, by all means, enter the next cone-eating contest he encounters... Oh, yes, we had a round of Alderney cones, too.

SHORT, shorts: Luminaries in the Robert Treat cafe-lounge included: Former Congressman Edward W. Gray; State Finance Director Barney Lamb; popular, debonair George Busch, Jr.; LeRoy Long, Alderney Dairy Co.'s general manager, back at his desk after several weeks' illness... They are calling Caldwell's John McGrath "Lucky Jack" because he wasn't present the other night when his name was called at the local theatre and he missed the couple of hundred dollars the management wanted to give him.

WHAT'S NEWSICAL?

Down and Around

The worst has happened... Benny Goodman has finally given up the musical ship and the Goodman band no longer swings. In fact it no longer does anything. Scitica no longer does anything. The King of Swing and forced him into the May Clinic for treatment with the hopes that September will see a new, renovated Benny with a bigger and better band, if that's possible. Plans to have Ziggy Elman front the present edition of the great Goodman fell through as bookers nixed the idea of booking the band without the real front man in there pitching. The news gets worse as we go on...

dening or maddening than to see five of Benny's men taking jobs with the Artie Shaw band? But when there's bad news there is usually good news and we're happy to report some. Benny Goodman has kept several of his key men with which to build his new and even greater outfit upon his recovery. Lots of luck, Ben, and hurry back to musical circles which for us will be rather empty without that band of yours.

The philosophical side... coupled with the humorous touch is always in order and while we've just been saddened by the disbanding of the Goodman orchestra... we add: it may be just as well in a peculiar sort of way... wonders never cease... one of the band's last recordings was a waltz... played as a waltz... horrors... and to think Goodman would stoop to that.

Looks like we're not the only pebble on the beach... our raving concerning the Raymond Scott swingers... are finding much company. We and fine group have booked into the Panther Room of the Hotel Sherman, out there in the Windy City beginning August 2 and running until Labor Day. With a goodly portion of wires emanating from this mid-western nitery we should be in for some good musical fare.

Don't be misled into believing Frank Dailey could have done better in his choice of band for his Meadowbrook. We took in Cab Calloway's opening a week ago in the beautiful, romantic outdoor gardens and heard some splendid sockeroo coming forth from the cabana-furnished bandstand. Cab is alone in his special entertaining technique which had all the boys and girls packed in front of the band like the proverbial sardines. Cozy Cole, the East Orange drummer boy, is definitely one of the best we have seen so far and "Chub" Barry on tenor sax doesn't mince matters when he once starts.

The New or Old Sea Girl Inn... as you prefer... is turning into another name band rendezvous and this is particularly true with the new band Jackson Teagarden has assembled and taken into this salt water spot. We have been very critical of their broadcasts via WOR-Mutual and can safely say the band accredits itself remarkably well. The arrangements are unusually good and of course the Teagarden trombone is a welcome highlight. David Allen, the new male warbler for the band, is definitely a find and has a style that is reminiscent of a cross between Bing Crosby and Jack Leonard. Occasionally a slight huskiness brings about the Croisian tone and from some other quarter comes the throaty tone of T. Dorsey's ex. We note this new outfit as an up and coming group if they can get enough work to stick together...

Miss Grace Matting of Cortlandt street spent the weekend in Pequanook as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Clark, Jr. of Floyd street.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kraft and Mrs. Kraft's mother, Mrs. Julia Zabriskie of Ralph street, are home from a three weeks' stay in Pinebrook.

Mrs. Charles Kanouse of New street, a teacher at No. 3 School, left Tuesday on a month's trip to Yellowstone Park. Her son, Robert, will spend August at Camp Minnesink in Stillwater.

Miss Florence Breen of Preston street has as her guest for a week Miss Matchetti of Moorestown.

Miss Breen entertained Monday at luncheon for Mrs. Bradford Blauvelt of Elizabeth, Mrs. J. Everett Nestle and Mrs. Harold Banks of Nutley, Mrs. Robert Little of Jackson Heights, L. I., Mrs. Robert Hertz, Mrs. Robert Metcalfe, Mrs. R. G. Sutherland, Mrs. Raymond Weyer, Mrs. John D. Boyd, Mrs. Ansley Kime, Mrs. James Dunn and Miss Marjorie Owens of this town.

Harry Phillips of Forest street is spending a few weeks in Damascus, Pa.

George W. Haslam of DeWitt avenue, vice president of Davidson and King and secretary-treasurer of the Joseph King Association, will spend next week in Manasquan.

Youths Invited To Join Nutley Welding School

Robert Quinlan of 66 William street, Nutley, yesterday invited local youths to take advantage of the new welding school which he has opened in his shop, at the William street address. Young men from the age of eighteen up are eligible to enroll.

Classes will be held three nights a week and the course will be thirty hours in length. At the completion of the course the employment service of the shop will be at the disposal of the students. In making the announcement Quinlan stressed the need of welders in today's industry and the fact that good welders are scarce.

Requiem Mass Tomorrow For Miss Helen R. Byrnes

A solemn requiem mass will be offered tomorrow morning at 9 in St. Peter's Church for Miss Helen R. Byrnes of 80 Division avenue who died Tuesday at her home after a two-week illness. Interment will be in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery, East Orange.

Miss Byrnes was born in Newark thirty-nine years ago and had lived in Belleville eighteen years. For the past ten years she had been secretary to Joseph Kahrs, a Newark lawyer, and previously held a similar position with Harry Osborne of Osborne, Cornish & Schick of Newark.

She leaves her mother, Mrs. James J. Morris of the Division avenue address, and a brother, Thomas A. Byrnes of Nutley.

who does the heartstring ballads in a manner that's... well... you know what we'd like to say, is more than an asset to the band... she's a requirement. That goes for the Masters' Voices, a swinging, singing quartet that doesn't have to bow its head to any other similar group... yeh... the Modernaires or the Merry Maes... that's who we had in mind for comparison... credit for the arrangements goes to Jack Allison. Comes a flash that this great outfit may be replaced and it isn't such good news, either. If the deal goes through September 15 will find Shep Fields and his orchestra seated on the bandstand... let's hope the Masters' band remains here in New York for a greater period of time. As an afterthought... we'd like to praise the work of Woody Keffer, the young man who takes the credit for that marvelous boogie piano playing.

Talk is still circulating about the recent one-nighter of Jimmy Dorsey for the record price of $5,800. We have concluded long ago that sponsors of musical radio shows are definitely asleep but Life Magazine and Time Magazine both recognize the worth of America's great Jimmy Dorsey and Company. These two publications are running articles on the famous one-nighter and Life sent a photographer to cover the birthday party of young Jimmy Gardiner, society youth, who insisted on the Dorsey band over any other and had his mother write the check for that record-breaking sum. Jimmy has never gotten the justified break, either, in publicity or on the air and now it seems his star is about in the right place.

A hot tip from a reliable source has it that Gene Krupa auditioned for the Beechnut people and Tommy Dorsey did for Coca-Cola. Don't confuse this item with remarks made above because both these organizations are fine bands and people's choice. We'd still like to see Jimmy get a crack at one of these auditions.

Radio

Looks like Information Please will be sold in the very near future. Chances are it will go to Campbell Soup... a good tie-up... noodles being used for more noodles... or if the soup man doesn't sign up Lord and Thomas, huge New York advertising agency will probably sign the dotted line for one of their accounts. Anyway, Mr. Fadiman will probably not have to worry about his next paycheck, we feel certain.

More Bands

Looks like this youngster Bobby Byrne really has something after all. For a while this group seemed to be going nowhere fast but of late the quality of the music has come up to a point where we now can predict a future for this gang. According to the NBC, whose wires make it possible for us to hear the orchestra unless we take a spin for us that way to Glen Island Casino to hear them in person... and that isn't such a bad idea at that... Bobby is running very close to the records that Glenn Miller set last season while getting his build-up. If things get any better for Bobby, Miller's record will be eclipsed and that wouldn't displease us at all. We're of the opinion there's always room for another good band.

We feel sorry for the poor telephone operators at the Pennsylvania Hotel in little old New York. Reason: Glenn Miller's Bluebird recording of Pennsylvania 6-500 has flooded the switchboard with calls from curiosity bound persons who just want to satisfy themselves as to the authenticity of that now famous telephone number.

Going on Record

POM POM and SERENADE TO A SARONG — by Benny Carter and His Orchestra. First is played by this fine colored band at a medium tempo and possesses a strong drive. Reverse is creepy as one might expect from the title. Tempo is moderate, arrangement very nice and ensemble band work is neatly executed. — Decca 3262.

HOUR OF PARTING and COCONUT GROVE — Benny Goodman and His Orch. Nothing but raves from this reviewer for this super colossal release. Toots Mondello's alto sax is beyond description. Vernon Brown's trombone back of Ziggy Elman's trumpet brings the records to a point where it comes close to eclipsing perfection. Reverse smacks of strictly Harlemiana.

HERMAN AT THE SHERMAN and JUNKIE — Woody Herman and His Orchestra. First is decidedly well done by this extremely understated band. Herman's clarinet and some rather provocative tenor sax plus a few bars of out of the world piano take top honors. — Decca 3272.

ONE ALONE and HUMORESQUE — John Kirby and his orchestra. This one little band keeps its battling average at 1,000 with this new release of theirs. "One Alone," a rather undependable tune, is played excellently well and further on in the record is taken a part by the piano, trumpet and sax which are really great. "Humoresque" gets off nicely to a driving start. Here again ensemble playing by this remarkable crew is flawless. — Vocalion 5016.

Mrs. Henry F. O'Brien

A requiem mass for Mrs. Henry F. O'Brien of 52 Harrison street was said in St. Peter's Church Monday morning. Interment was in the church cemetery. Mrs. O'Brien died Friday in the Newark Eye and Ear Hospital where she had been a patient for a week and a half.

She was born and had lived all of her life in Belleville. She was the former Helen Martha Hett, daughter of Mrs. Henry Hett and the late Mr. Hett. Besides her husband and her mother, she leaves a son, Henry F. O'Brien, Jr., and two sisters.

In the Convenience of Your Home or Office

Your bills come in. You sit at your desk and pay them off one after the other in a few minutes' time. Stamps and a check book save you all the time required to go to points far removed to pay your bills, to stand in line perhaps, to wait for your change. Then, too, in your file of checks returned at the end of each month you have receipts good in any court of law.

We solicit your checking account, whether personal or business. The small service charge we make on accounts with a low balance makes all accounts desirable. We do not dictate how large your account must be. That is your business. We do not care how small your account is because the slight service charge makes you independent, because you pay your way.

Only One Real Problem

When people have had time to think about something besides the weather this week they talked about the Compulsory Military Training Bill which is now up before Congress for debate. There is probably little room for contradiction if we say that this is the most important legislation that has come up for the consideration of this nation since it was decided to take part in the last World War. The realization that within the next year more than one million of the youth of the country would be in military service has jolted the public.

Maybe President Roosevelt's talks about national defense didn't sink in. The billions to be spent for an enlarged navy, air force and defense weapons as told over the radio and in the newspapers may not have been comprehensive. But, when it finally appeared that the government planned to approach the military preparedness program on an enlarged scale without delay, the public awakened. There have been grumbings about the proposals. Pacifist and isolationist-minded people doggedly holding out for some of their principles meekly talk against the proposals now before Congress, but generally the public seems to speak with a "if we've got to do it, we've got to do it" attitude.

We are learning, as others have during the past year, that the sacrifices are many that have to be made when there is war. From those who may be eligible for service if the bill passes and those who would be affected by their absence, comes only one real question. What about their jobs when they come out?

As written in the original bill, this is pretty clearly stated. It must be. The government must be able to make this guarantee to the youth of the nation for there is not only the present but the future to reckon. Employers may argue that it is unjustly fair to them, but isn't the world condition in which we find ourselves unfair to all of us?

Those who would be eligible for military training under the act with whom we have talked do not complain about the possibility that they may be called upon for military service. They want only a promise that they will get their jobs back when their service with the government has expired. To that they are entitled and in return for their duty, the country—government and industry—should make the guarantee foolproof.

Trying Hard To Keep Tourists

An important part of Canada's annual income is contributed by the thousands of American tourists who flock over the border. The country has been a traveler's mecca from the western slopes beautifully picturesque with their natural beauty to the eastern provinces teeming with historical lore and echoing much of the custom and tradition of the Old World. In trying to keep her equilibrium while playing the role of a nation at war, Canada is striving to gain as much of this tourist trade as is possible. It is a tough job. Many travelers who might have headed northward have turned to other directions because of the many fantastic stories which have been spread about concerning what is going on within Canada and the difficulties encountered with the customs officials when passing in and out of the country.

The stories are gross exaggerations and Canada, realizing that it stands to lose millions through the loss of tourist trade, even though the summer is half over, is making every effort to convince Americans that they are just as welcome as they were before the war and that there has been no change in the routine when passing in or out of the country. Not only the government itself has taken a hand in this fight, but hundreds of business firms, stores and hotels have written letters to people in this country telling them to disregard the rumors.

Most persistent of the rumors circulating through the States was that Americans needed passports to get in and out of Canada. This is not so. As in past years, Americans must be able to give proof to customs officials that they are citizens — through birth certificates, certification of the fact that they are registered voters or some similar proof. Automobile driver's licenses or Social Security cards will not suffice.

The Canadians blame the spread of the rumors sought to damage the tourist trade on two groups—the Nazis and interests in this country which are aiming to disrupt the friendly relations between this country and Canada. They argue that as a back-handed way of making Canada suffer, the Nazi propaganda machine through its American agents has been largely responsible for the spreading of the reports.

Bandwagon Jumping Done Professionally

When it comes to bandwagon jumping, you have to go some to beat the professional politicians. They have been stepping on each others' necks during the past month to see who could get over the fence and into the Willkie pasture first. It's great the way a fellow can be a heel one day and a hero the next. But that about sums up how the professionals had Mr. Willkie tagged when the Republicans gathered in Philadelphia for their convention in June. And now, they all want to play ringmaster and get the biggest piece of the cake for boosting Willkie into the nomination. Politics is a funny game, and it's even better than that when you realize that it's quite Emily Post-like to cuss and damn a fellow one day and be his bosom pal the next.

With the group who make their living by doing the voters' thinking and also the spending of their money, Willkie didn't count for peanuts when the G.O.P. convention got started. Be that as it may, Mr. Willkie got the nomination and that made all the difference in the world.

What has been happening in this state in the intervening weeks has been multiplied many times throughout the country. The boys who generally run the political shows have been trying to outrun each other to get to the doorstep of Willkie's amateur promoters first. They all want to pump their hand, give them a cigar and a slap on the back, take them into the political camp, gag them and then run the show. That's about the way it looks in some spots. And the part that causes the burning up is that some of these birds who now want to steer the ship are fellows who didn't know on June 1 whether Willkie was the name of the butcher, a new kind of squash or an island in the mid-Pacific.

We happen to be a part of the public that thinks Mr. Willkie was the product of a lot of folks who have grown tired of the way things have been run in Washington and decided to do something about it. They weren't politicians, brain trusters or Mugwumps. They were business men and wage earners who went around ringing their neighbors' doorbells to talk to them about Willkie. They wrote letters to the editors of newspapers and started a "Willkie's the man" mouth-to-mouth campaign which was rolled up into a terrific crescendo that was blasted on the convention at Philadelphia.

The professional politicians may have an important part to play in the coming campaign, although we often doubt if some of them control their own vote. With all of the good that they may be able to do for the Republican candidate, we hope that the Willkie advisors will not permit him to become too closely aligned with them for all of the "bad" political bosses and their mobs are not in the Democratic party.

Praises Town Service

From Andrew Lightbody
263 Hornblower Avenue
To the Editor of The News:

I would like to give credit where credit is due in the instance of a recent kindness and service rendered to my family by the Town. While vacationing last week at Seaside Park my sister, Miss Louise Lightbody fell and broke her hip. X-rays showed that she must return to Belleville and be taken to the hospital, but her condition was such that she could not be transferred in an automobile.

I telephoned the Belleville Fire Department last Friday evening and told them of my predicament. Within ten minutes the town ambulance driven by Fireman George Ketterer had left for Seaside Park. Harry White, another Belleville fireman, who was also at Seaside Park, came to assist in moving my sister to the ambulance. We were brought quickly and comfortably to Belleville and thence to the Montclair Community Hospital.

I take this occasion to thank Commissioner Clark, through whose well-functioning department such service is made possible, and Mr. Ketterer and Mr. White for their kindness. Most of all I would like to call to the attention of the residents of Belleville their privilege in living in a town where such cooperation in time of necessity is forthcoming.

Telephone Company Reports Gains In Calls and Phones

A gain of 30,470 telephones in service, and an increase of 234,000 calls a day in the average daily volume of traffic over the state-wide telephone line network, were recorded by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company during the first half of 1940. The gain in telephones, part of which is seasonal and will be lost when vacation time ends, was 4,318 larger than in the first half of 1939. The total number of telephones served by the company was 764,452 at the end of June, and the average volume of calls daily during the six months was 3,254,000.

The increase in telephones was general in all parts of the state, according to W. A. Vanstory, manager for the company in this section, who said that there was a six months increase of 364 telephones recorded in his office, which handles accounts for subscribers served by the Belleville 2- and Nutley 2- telephone exchanges.

ville has far fewer than the surrounding communities. We have the right to put in as many taverns and liquor stores as we wish."

The Mayor then said that he wished to make a statement: "Long before I ever came to Belleville I was interested in civic affairs in other communities and I have watched how the excise boards there acted. Commissioner Burnett told me that the liquor dealers of New Jersey had learned absolutely nothing since 1917 and if we have prohibition again it will be their fault."

"The sooner we clean up some of the despicable places which are now handling liquor in this town and the sooner the retail liquor dealers stay out of Town Hall and stop trying to put pressure on public officials the better we will be. And I am referring particularly to two of the dealers sitting in the front row." The only dealers in the front row as the Mayor spoke were Harry Byrne and Barney Miller.

The ordinance and the application of Harry P. Simon for a license for the premises at 547 Washington avenue were passed unanimously by the three commissioners present. Commissioners Noll and King were absent. On the application of the Belleville Liquor Store, Waters and Clark voted yes, the Mayor did not vote.

Silverstein said after the meeting that he did not know whether or not his clients would want to appeal the decision. He claimed that the vote was not legal on the final application because there were only two votes. Town Attorney Keenan stated that the vote was in form since it had been carried by a majority of the quorum.

W. & T. Will Supply Army With Water Purifiers

Wallace & Tiernan pioneered during the first World War in the field of water purification for armies in the field. The mobile chlorinator developed then and used extensively abroad won for the Belleville firm a citation from the federal government.

Service Charge On Apportionments Rescinded By Board

by Meador Wright

The rapid rise of the Willkie movement is one of the most unusual occurrences in the history of Jersey politics. The movement is the more unusual in that the man most responsible for the Willkie clubs here was totally unknown — had lived here such a short while, in fact, that he was unable himself, to vote for Willkie in the primary. Who is this Donald J. Smith of Montclair? Seeking the answer to this question I sought an interview with him last week in his home at 125 Upper Mountain avenue. I found a middle sized, alert man who has a very keen sense of organization and publicity. And one who knows more about politics than he will admit.

About the hardest thing Mr. Smith has to explain is the fact that while Willkie is forty-eight Smith is only forty-four. This discrepancy may explain some of the hero worship he has for his former Indiana neighbor. For Willkie had already become a tradition at the University of Indiana when Mr. Smith was old enough to enter. This was in 1914. Willkie had graduated the session before and was teaching school in Kansas. But he came back to study law the next year and until war was declared Smith, Willkie and Paul McNutt lived together in the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house.

Life-long Friendship

Willkie entered the army the day war was declared and Mr. Smith followed him in September. Neither went back to the university but the pact of life-long friendship had already been sealed. After the war Mr. Smith married Eleanor Scattergood and settled in her home town of Philadelphia in the securities business.

Twenty Years Ago

The battle between Greylock avenue residents and the Erie Railroad came to recriminations. The residents had long fought for a right-of-way across the tracks. A railroad construction gang dumped sixty tons of girders across the path. The people worked for hours with jacks and crowbars trying to topple the girders onto the tracks. When that failed they ripped up one section of track and greased another. Mayor Waters finally persuaded them to repair the damage.

The Board of Commissioners passed a resolution asking the Public Utilities Commission for public right-of-way across the tracks at Greylock avenue.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

Each year finds women taking a more important part in the functions that surround politics and government. The coming Presidential campaign—and the gubernatorial race which we will have in this state—will find women playing the most active role that they have in any political campaign since they were given the right to vote. This is as it should be. For, while women had gained the voting privilege of what value was it to them if they did not participate actively in public life?

Consequently, we have seen the development of women's organizations which today play a vital part not only in the lives of the women who are included in the membership lists, but also in the influence which they are able to wield on public opinion and in the legislative halls.

When grandma was in her prime such things as the League of Women Voters, the American Association of University Women or the Woman's Club were unheard of. Woman's place in the home was then more than just an expression—it was an established and thoroughly adhered to fact. Women's duty in the world was to have children and to live in the kitchen. Politics, government and the exchange of opinions and knowledge with others was left to the menfolk.

More Learned Than Men

Times have changed that. Through organizations, radio, the newspapers and magazines women now keep thoroughly abreast with the times and are just as much up on the world as are the men. In fact, we may even say more so in many cases for we have chatted with many women who are far more learned in governmental affairs or problems which affect all of us than are the men.

Women learn today through the activities of the organizations to which they belong and we can not commend too highly women's groups such as those which were mentioned above. For the woman who has the time to spare at least one afternoon or so a week, we think that a group such as the League of Women Voters is an excellent pastime. And you will find your husband, if he's at all broad-minded and interested in seeing you improve yourself, flattered to think that you can discuss important problems of the day with him or his friends.

Have Produced Leaders

The League of Women Voters and the Woman's Clubs have both given to this state some of its most valuable women leaders. Close by in Nutley resides one of the state's most capable and progressive legislators, Assemblywoman Olive C. Sanford, who by the numerous excellent legislative measures she has sponsored during the years that she has been in Trenton, has greatly helped to prove the value of woman's place in government. For several years before she associated herself with politics, Mrs. Sanford was president of the New Jersey State League of Women Voters and prominent in Woman's Club work.

How many people tell you that they don't know what to do with themselves on these warm days? Yes, we have said it, too. A shower, a dip in a pool or a nice, cooling drink may help to shake off the heat for a while, but you can't do that all day. We've found, and some of our friends have, too, that one of the best ways to keep cool is just to relax in a play suit in some shady spot and read a book or a magazine.

We've been surprised at the reading which we have caught up on during the past few weeks. If you've already gotten by the latest of the best sellers, then we suggest that you trot down to the library and wander through the book stalls. We're sure that there are lots of fine stories that you have missed.

DOGS

by Laurence Torley

Because pure-bred dogs come from so many corners of the earth, there are many misconceptions held by the general public concerning the 108 breeds recognized by the American Kennel Club. The names of the breeds seem to be particularly puzzling to most people, and few can understand why some are capitalized and others are not. This confusion is increased because foreign words often seem like proper nouns.

A visit to the library at the headquarters of the AKC sheds light on the derivation of the names of the breeds and reveals that mistaken meanings are taken even from English names. For instance, the bloodhound is not so-called because he can scent the blood of criminals. In the past he was called the "blooded hound," meaning simply that he was an aristocrat among dogs.

Resembled Butterfly Wings

The French word "Papillon" was given to a toy breed because its fringed ears resembled the wings of a butterfly. Also from France comes the basset hound, and its name means merely that it is low to the ground. The shipper originated in Belgium. It earned its Flemish name, which means "little captain," because it was found so generally as a guard on the canal boats.

The Hungarian breed Kuvasz, received its name because of its traditional occupation as the "famed guard of the nobility," which is the translation. The German breed called the "schnauzer" was so-called because of his bearded muzzle. Also from that country comes the boxer, and the name was given because the breed fights with its paws. The cairn terrier was thus named because he was small enough to hunt through the Scottish cairns once used to mark warriors' graves.

From Wales come two breeds, the Cardigan Welsh corgi and the Pembroke Welsh corgi, both of which were used in driving cattle. The Welsh word "corgi" translates into "little dog," and he was thus described because he could crouch low enough to avoid the kicks of the cattle. The Russian wolfhunting breed's name of "borzoi" means simply "swift."

Smartly Styled Accessories

By Genevieve Holland

The main topic of conversation these days is the waether. Being rather tired of it and guessing you are too, we decided that a few tricky little accessories like these might take us out of the rut.

Number one on our list is a most unusual white summer bag with raffia embroidery in red, yellow and green. It is just exactly the thing to wear with your South Sea Island print dress that's stumped you since you bought it, because nothing seemed to harmonize. Even if you've only a white dress from last year, it will give your ensemble a lift.

Number two is a very simple off-the-face hat of pastel felt with a wavy ribbon band that matches. We suggest it for those moments when you want to look naively feminine and innocent. Even the most cynical male can be taken in by a pair of wide open blue eyes (or whatever you have) shadowed by a halo and tied under your chin with a pert little bow.

Number three fascinate us. What do you think of an umbrella that you can put your rubbers into? We thought it was a darn good idea. This one is of black oiled silk with bright red trim. The handle is actually built so that with a mere flip of the wrist you can deposit your rubbers inside and no one will be the wiser. A big improvement or

Your own are best!

Artificial dentures can be surprisingly comfortable and efficient, but your own teeth, if kept sound and free from infection, are the best.

Timely visits to your dentist permit him to fight the ever present menace of decay, and to successfully preserve your teeth in healthy condition.

Neglect and delay make his task more difficult and add greatly to final expense. It is sound economy to see your dentist frequently.

the paper bag idea, don't you think?

Four is a white lace dutch cap. This is something that won't suit all of you. But should you be the type — well — Helen of Troy had nothing on you — probably get picked up as public menace number one.

Five is a tiny watch set in a flowerpot of enameled posies. Just pin it on your lapel; you'll have no excuse for being late. Extremely decorative, it has the added attraction of keeping good time.

When you pat a little powder from number six on your shiny nose you'll get a thrill of patriotic pride. Red, white and blue, a blue and white denim like this. To finish it off add a self-material square off-the-face hat and a bag of the same tied onto a bamboo handle and well... are you going places?

Inside our group of accessories we sketched an ensemble you'd like to wear right now. It is simple yet subtly flattering in the way the skirt is handled. Bias cut stripes fall nicely and have a very slenderizing effect. The sleeves, too, are unusual because they are bracelet length, something new and different for

An Unpublicized Service

Like other professional men, funeral directors often provide service without cost to needy families. And like the doctor, the dentist, the optician, we avoid any public mention of such charity cases.

It is our contribution to humanity, gladly given, offered quietly without thought of credit or reward. We mention it now only because so few people are aware of this phase of our profession.

That this firm has such a policy is not unusual among funeral directors, for our code demands that we consider first, not personal profit, but the right of every human being to a funeral service that is reverent and in accord with the burial standards of a civilized people.

BEFORE YOUR EYES

All Part of the Game

Now that Old Man Upset has stepped into the picture, the tourney for the softball championship of the town should be more interesting. Things which go along entirely according to form seem to lack that certain appeal; but just let the unexpected happen once and right away there is a gleam of glamor about the whole thing. It will be impossible to call the victory of any of the teams in Saturday's semi-finals an upset. The pairing is perfect as far as the two games are concerned. The battle between the Crowns and Federal Leather should be a honey and will try once more to settle the old question of the relative strength of the Senior and Industrial circuits. You couldn't pick the winner with a crystal ball.

The battle of the B's which will precede it also will be close. The Bellevilleites may have the edge in pitching but the Bellboys have enough batting punch stored up in their bats to rock the best of them. The latter, a combination of present and past high school baseballers, showed little trouble in switching from hard to soft-ball.

Maybe it was the heat that got the Pirates and West Ends last Saturday. This has been a mighty strange year on weather — cool for a long time, well into July everybody was wearing sweaters, then a sudden heat wave that has flooded many of us and just made the rest groggy.

Of course, through it all most men are still trying to stick to the foolishness of male dress — collars, neckties and coats. The more sensible have gone modern and done away with the blasted things but it is still considered conventional to wear them in "polite society."

Seems about time to start up the bicycle safety campaign again. The Veterans of Foreign Wars began a bike club for the youngsters some time ago, but little has been heard from it in more than a year. The long battle of juvenile bikers vs. autos and pedestrians is becoming more acute each day. There have been several injuries and a couple of near-deaths to bicyclists in Belleville since the first of the year. The latest was Thursday afternoon when two Newark boys came close to the payoff at Mill and Bridge streets when they tangled with a Mack truck.

The bikers are at a disadvantage when they drive on the streets because the auto has the upper hand. When they drive on the sidewalks they have the upper hand over the pedestrians — and there has been an increasing amount of sidewalk driving, particularly around Washington avenue. Most people think that kids take to bike riding by instinct and therefore learn the rules of safety the same way. Actually driving two-wheelers know the fundamental rules of safety.

Many towns are now considering steps to meet this serious

CARDS CONTINUE WEEKEND HABIT

They Win and Lose, as Usual; Eke Out 6-5 Triumph Over Orange Nine

The Belleville Cardinals, still playing their give and take method, broke even in a pair of games over the past weekend. On Saturday the Cardinals defeated the Orange Triangles 6-5. Next day they traveled to Somerville where they were shut out by the Somerville Bears 4-0.

On Saturday the Cardinals put on a "Frank Merriwell" finish by coming from behind with two runs in the last of the ninth to secure the victory. Bob Jackson was the hero as his hit drove in the winning runs.

The Cardinals scored twice in the first but this was quickly nullified as the Triangles came back with a pair of tallies in their half of the second frame. Again in the second the Cardinals pushed over a pair of markers only to have this lead overtaken as the Triangles retaliated with a single run in the third and two additional runs in the fourth.

In the ninth the locals loaded the bases on a pair of base hits and an infield error. Jackson then lined a hit to deep short which he just managed to beat out. Bob Martin scored easily from third and George McKay dashed all the way home from second with the winning run.

On Sunday the Cardinals were helpless against the offerings of Jack Peterson, who allowed but two hits throughout the game. The Bears on the other hand took advantage of Van Dyke's early wildness to score all their runs.

Saturday the Cardinals will play host to the Vailsburg Shamrocks at Clearman Field. On Sunday they will travel to Port Monmouth.

TRIANGLES SPLIT AT MATAWAN

Loose Opener 6-2 But Hurling Of Dunham Helps Them Cop Nightcap

The Triangles traveled to Matawan Sunday to split a double-header with the Morganville Barons. The Triangles dropped a 6-2 count to the Barons in the opener but came back to wallop them 9-1 in the abbreviated nightcap.

John Costa, on the hill for the locals in the first game, gave up only four hits but his wildness lost the game. He issued five free passes to first, each of which later crossed the plate.

The Triangles returned in the finale with a complete reversal of form and, backing up Les Dunham's fine pitching, walloped out eleven hits for a total of eighteen bases. The Belleville nine found the going easy after the first inning as Dunham whiffed eight men in the seven-inning contest. The box scores:

First Game	Triangles	Barons
Triangles	6	2
Barons	9	1

Second Game	Triangles	Barons
Triangles	9	1

O'Connor Sets Hectic Pace In PGA Qualifier

Branch Brook Pro Beats Par By Five Strokes As He Whips Around Upper Montclair Golf Course With A 70-69-139

Maurie O'Connor of 18 Fairview place, Branch Brook pro, continued to be the state's No. 1 golfer of the year with his brilliant stroking Saturday to lead the field in the qualifying round for the national PGA championships late this month. O'Connor whipped around the course at the Upper Montclair Country Club in 70-69-139 to beat par by five strokes and second place Johnny Kinder of Plainfield by three. The national pro tourney will be held at the Hershey (Pa.) Country Club August 26 to September 1. There were six qualifiers from this section, O'Connor, Kinder, John Hector of Locust Grove, Al Esposito of Florham Park, Tom Harmon of Montclair and Frank Walsh of Rum-

Among the surprises in the field of non-qualifiers were Johnny Farrell of Baltusrol, Clarence Clark of Forest Hill, Francis Coakley of Gallopings Hill and Jack Forrester of Henssack.

O'Connor played as though he realized fully that this has been his year for the golf headlines. On only two of the thirty-six holes did he go over par, but played the majority of the holes in straight par figures.

He began the morning round with six pars, then dropped a six-foot putt for a birdie on the seventh, repeated on the eighth and parred the ninth for a 34.

He sailed along on the breath of par for five holes on the way in and sank a nice thirty-footer for a birdie on the fifteenth. His only bogie came on the seventeenth when he missed from six feet, but a par eighteenth gave him a 36 for the back nine and a tie with Harmon for the lead with a total of 70.

An eagle three on the seventh of the afternoon round started him on his way to a beautiful 69, three under par. He shot birdies on the tenth and eighteenth of the back nine and every hole in between was performed in par figures. He wound up with 34 for the nine.

The scores of Maurie's two rounds:

Upsets Change Picture In Softball Tourney As 'Bel' Nines Win

Favored West End And Pirates Both Bumped Off; Crowns To Clash With Federals Saturday

Upsets hit the Belleville Softball Championship Tournament for the first time Saturday as the two independents blasted the favored West Ends and Pirates out of the running for the title and fought their way into the second round. The Bellboys whipped the Pirates of the Senior League 8-3 and the Bellevilleites nipped West End of the West Belleville League 1-0. The winners will meet in the first game at 2:30 this Saturday afternoon at the Turf Bog to fight it out for a spot in the finals. The game will be followed by the clash between the Valley Crowns and Federal Leather. The latter promises to be one of the best battles of the tourney. The Crowns are the defending champions of the Senior circuit while Federal has the title in the Industrial League just about in the palm of its hand.

The upset of the West Ends was the more startling in that Ted Checkovitz, on the mound for the Bellevilleites, held the champs of the West Belleville loop to two small singles. Both came with two out, in the first and fifth innings, and the side was quickly retired after each.

The lone run came in the third inning when Joe Prunzi and Tony Fantacone both smashed doubles, the former crossing the plate with the winning run. John Yuhasz was the fielding star. He handled nine chances perfectly at third base, making four putouts and five assists.

The Pirates seemed on a fair way to winning their game when the Bellboys lightning struck in the fifth. Ed Kimble had held the independents to a lonely hit, a first inning single by Joe Sullivan, up to that time. Then a pair of walks and four hits, including a double by Stan Litts, broke up the game.

With one out, Tom Gray and Gus Bechtoldt singled and Nick Zuzzio flied to Pete Walker at short center. Ed Gorman and Ted DeBrowski drew free tickets to first, forcing in Gray and narrowing the margin at 3-2, still favoring the Pirates. Then came Litts' double to put the game in the icebox.

In the sixth the Bellboys made doubly sure of the decision. Two singles were followed by three successive walks to put two more runs across. The Bellboys timed their hits to perfection since they had the same number as the Pirates and committed three more errors.

It was reported last week that the balk, which gave the Valley Crowns a run and permitted them to tie the score in the first round game with the Washingtonians, was committed by "Eddy" Leonard. The balk was marked down to Pat Tortorello, who started the game for the Washingtonians. The Crowns went on to win the game in two extra innings.
