

TURF BOG'S USE FOR FOOTBALL STILL BIG ..?*Noll Thinks Commissioners Should Have Control; Fence Complete Next Week

The status of the Turf Bog Athletic Field and Stadium as far as the high school football team is concerned is just where it was a month or two ago — no place. The Board of Commissioners are not talking about it and the board of education members are making believe that the WPA's $100,000 effort is just a mirage. Commissioner Noll, who has charge of the Recreation Department, opened up a bit on the subject Monday night before the Wesley Methodist Church Men's Club but didn't say much that hadn't been said before. He thinks the Board of Commissioners should keep control of the field and that it should not be handed over lock, stock and barrel to the Recreation Department or the school board. If either of them wants to use it, they can ask and the arrangements can be made by the commissioners. Each of the town's five departments could take a hand in running it, he thinks.

Fence Up Next Week

Commissioner Patrick Waters says the new fence the town bought to encircle the Turf Bog will be up before the end of next week. The baseball diamond will be removed and portions of the playing field are being re-scoped. The high school eleven will be at the same old stand at Clearman Field when they play Barringer on Saturday. After that they will travel for a couple of weeks and won't be home again until Saturday, October 19. Up until now they are planning to play at Clearman Field.

Noll outlined to the Men's Club on Monday his aims in the Recreation Department. "My ambition is to put into workable condition a five year plan so that each of the various sections of the town will have a first-class recreation center with all of the recreational facilities."

"For the first time the Municipal Athletic Field has been put to use during the summer months. We have there provided a series of softball activities which provided recreation for hundreds of youngsters."

Expanding Play Facilities

During the past few months we have leased for five years property located in the Silver Lake section to give that section first recreational field. We are at the present time placing facilities there and hope within the next few weeks to officially dedicate this field."

Noll stated that he plans to use the high school, St. Peter's Hall and the Friendly House in Silver Lake for indoor recreational activities during the winter. He asked all churches to cooperate with his department in the use of their facilities for properly supervised recreation.

"The problem of recreation is one of vital importance to each and every one of us and it is only by real cooperation that the best possible recreational facilities can be obtained. It is my purpose to devote every energy to give Belleville a recreation system of which she will be proud. It will take time, for it is impossible to expand within the course of a few months; but over a five-year period, I assure you, we will be proud of the recreational accomplishments throughout the town."

Remember—Today Is Last For Voting Registration

Belleville may have the largest number of registered voters in its history if the expected last-minute rush develops today. Mrs. Florence S. Moore, town clerk, said yesterday that approximately 700 have registered in the past week, making a total of 1,200 since the primary election in May at which time the registration was listed at 13,125.

Today is the last day for registration for the Presidential election in November. Mrs. Moore's office will be open from 9 to 4 and 7 to 9. No registrations or transfers will be accepted after today.

Mrs. Moore again requested voters to refrain from calling the clerk's office for the location of polling places. That information as well as the ward and district in which the voter lives will be included on the sample ballot which will be sent out during the last week of October.

LOTS OF COURSES OFFERED ADULTS IN SCHOOL*Registration At High School Tonight And Tomorrow For Classes

Whether you are thirsting after knowledge of world affairs or are disappointed in your summer's fishing, whether you want to cut a few strokes off your golf score or are a man wanting to know how to cook, whether you want to learn all about blueprints and mechanical drawing or to find out just how to make a little clam, there is a course listed in the curriculum of the Belleville Adult School for it. Tonight and tomorrow night several hundred local men and women are expected to go to the high school to register for the third year of the adult school. Registration hours are from 8 to 10 and classes will begin next Thursday night at 7:45. Twenty-six courses will be offered during the first ten-week semester according to Hugh D. Kittle, director of the school. Some of the outstanding courses include:

Maurice O'Connor, pro at Branch Brook, will give elementary and advanced golf instruction. Beginners' class will be held the first hour, advanced the second.

F. Allan Morgan, A.R.P.S. will give the course in advanced photography. Included in the subjects of study are modification of negative, reducing and intensification, retouching, toning and cropping, home portraiture, still life and table-top pictures, landscapes, marines, genre, architecture and various printing processes.

Americanization Course

For the first time a course in Americanization and naturalization for aliens will be offered, to be taught by Ruth Anne Stewart. It will include instruction in the use of written and oral English, practice in writing, and elementary principles of history and government.

Air Force Gives England Confidence, Says Briton*Northumberland School Superintendent Writes That Morale of All Is Wonderful; Says Churchill Has Complete Confidence; Stresses U. S. Friendship

The calm, unbroken spirit of England was reflected in a letter from Britain received by Mrs. William Patterson of 81 Adelaide street. The letter was written by her brother, Robert Ramsay, who is superintendent of schools in Walsend-on-Tyne in Northumberland, on August 22. At that time Britain was already suffering the heavy blows from the air arm of Adolf Hitler's mighty war machine. But the letter exhibits the maddeningly-calm resolve that England will win in the end. It says in part:

"I was pleased to receive your letter of the 16th instant, and rather amused to learn that your papers report us as all to be evacuated from our homes — this is all nonsense as we are living wonderful normal lives. Of course, we have to meet the menace from the air but, thanks to our magnificent Air Force and adequate anti-aircraft defences, we have every confidence that we shall be spared."

Get Used To Raids

"It is wonderful how one gets used to spasmodic air raids but the morale of everyone is splendid, right from the young children to the aged people. I like my hat off to them all and am proud to acknowledge the heroes and heroines I meet each day."

"It is very kind of you to suggest taking two of your relatives. Of course, I cannot speak on behalf of the others, but so far as Doreen is concerned we certainly prefer her to remain in the Old Country."

"It is marvelous how everyone is responding to the national effort; the country is wholly united, people are cheerful and confident of victory. Winston Churchill is most inspiring and has the complete confidence of the whole country. In this little island we usually produce the man at a time of great crisis."

"When this war is over and we return to the piping times of peace I should love to have a trip across to the States as I think there will be a greater bond be-

The Blue and Gold Probables For Saturday's Opener

These are the boys who will probably start for the high school when they play hosts to the Barringer team at Clearman Field in the season opener at 2:30 Saturday afternoon. In the usual order on the line are Russ McDermott, left end; Johnny Jocher, left guard (who somehow got out of position when the photographer snapped the picture); Harry Heimrich, left tackle; Danny Del Tufo, center; Vito

CONCERT DEC. 9 FOR GLEE CLUB*'Hallelujah Chorus' From Handel's 'Messiah' Highlight; Nutley Singers Participate

The masterful "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah" will be the highlight of the annual winter concert of the Belleville Glee Club, scheduled this year for Monday, December 9. It is expected that the scene of the concert will be shifted from School No. 10 to the auditorium of the high school.

The reason for the change is that it will be a joint concert with Nutley and it is expected that at least seventy men will be singing. The added attendance expected from Nutley will also necessitate the larger auditorium, Mark Main of 69 Wilber street, president of the local group, said Monday.

Ernest Pulsford of 38 Vreeland avenue, Nutley, president of the singers of that town, declared that at least twenty-two men from his group will participate in the concert. The joint recital will be under the baton of Arthur E. Jacobus, regular director of the Belleville Glee Club. It is anticipated that the winter recital will be held here, the spring concert in Nutley.

Jacobus has selected few of the numbers which will eventually appear on the program, but did start the men on the "Hallelujah Chorus" last week. Rehearsals are held every Monday night at the Grace Baptist Church, Overlook avenue and Bremond street.

High School Hopefuls Open Saturday Against Barringer*Only One Regular From 1939 Will Be In Line-up For Grid Clash With Barringer Blues; Team Does Well in Practice Scrimmage Monday

The town joins the pigskin parade Saturday afternoon when the high school's untied Blue and Gold eleven opens its eight-game schedule at Clearman Field against the powerful and veteran Barringer High gridders of Newark. Lighter than the 1939 team which won two of its games, tied two and lost five, the locals will bump up against Barringer with only one regular in the line-up from last year's eleven. The Blue Boys come to town with nine of the vets who played on the teams that have knocked off the Bellboys in their last two meetings. In addition to having weight and experience on their side, the Newarkers will have been under fire this season. Barringer bowed to Phillipsburg High last Saturday 7-6.

Not only will the game be a starter for most of the lads in the Blue and Gold line-up, but it will mark Larry Gates' debut as the team's grid mentor. Signed late last spring, Gates has worked hard with his green material for nearly a month to build them up for the heavy season which is ahead of them. Only chunky Art Jocher remains from the 1939 team. Harry Leiss, in a sub role during 1939, is the only other youngster who has had any varsity experience.

Dusky Back Missing

Missing from the Barringer line-up will be the flashy, dusky ball carrier Jim Robinson, who was the eleven's big ground gainer last year with his swift end run scoots. Although those who have seen Barringer say that the team man for man weighs more than the Bellboys, Charlie Allen, the Newarkers' coach, insists that his team will average about 165 pounds to the man. Gates, according to the weights recorded when the boys bounced on the Fairbanks this week, figures that his eleven averages about 168 pounds.

Some sort of an idea on how the locals may shape up Saturday was gained on Monday when they scrimmaged against the Newark Academy team. While the Academy boys are no whizzes in football, they outweighed the Bellboys and offered them plenty of opposition. When the scrimmaging was all over, the locals had rung up two touchdowns to one for the Newarkers, which was scored via the aerial route. Gates was quite pleased with the showing of his charges and has been working during the past few days on some of the rough spots that were observed during the afternoon's scrimmaging.

Belleville pushed the city boys around quite a bit. While Vito DeFranza and Danny Del Tufo, guard and center respectively, were proving themselves the most aggressive linemen with many tackles, the backs did well skirting ends, bucking lines and tossing passes.

Bill Hunkele put on quite a running and passing exhibition. He tallied about eighty yards for the Bellboys and did most of the passing. On the receiving end most of the time was a newcomer, Russ McDermott, who proved a good pass hawk. Defensively, he did some swell tackling.

Another fair ball-toter who showed promise was Johnny Walker who criss-crossed all over the field on one thirty-yard sprint. With the aid of some good blocking and a little sidestepping he also managed to plow some nice holes through the line. The punting by McDermott and Leiss was somewhat better than had been expected. Gates has been drilling both and may alternate them in the kicking spot if they are in the game at the same time.

There is some doubt as to whether Ted Metz will start in his scheduled fullback position. He twisted an ankle Monday and may be replaced by Bob Rubino. Saturday's game will start at 2:30.

RAIN SLOWS DOWN HEYER STRIKERS*Picketing of Plant Called Off; Walked Out Tuesday; Want A Union Contract

Yesterday's heavy rain stopped picketing at the Heyer Products Company plant at Cortlandt and Little streets but about twenty-five striking employees took up stations in automobiles surrounding the plant. The members of the Chemical and Oil Workers' Union, Local No. 22,026, A. F. of L., went on strike Tuesday after charging that company officials had refused to negotiate a new contract with them.

James B. Dillon, one of the union organizers, said yesterday that no negotiations had started and he did not know when they would. The employees seek pay increases, vacations with pay and seniority rights.

Benjamin F. W. Heyer, president of the company, stated Tuesday that the company has for the past five years met with the employees' council once a month. He said that he is willing to confer with the council and that union officials may sit in on the conferences but that he refused to negotiate with the union alone except under orders from the National Labor Relations Board.

Heyer said that the company had given one-week vacations with pay during the past summer to all employees with at least six months' service with the firm. Dillon declared that Heyer made the concession only after months of battle and that such provision should be incorporated into the new contract.

The factory force has walked out one hundred per cent but the office staff is still working in the plant. Despite the fact that the strike vote, taken Monday night, was unanimous, Heyer said Tuesday that he does not believe that all the employees are in sympathy with the walkout.

Heyer was not available for further comment yesterday. Other officials at the plant said that he is the only person qualified to speak for publication and that he had "left town on business for several days."

Variety of Complaints Made To Town Commissioners*Another "Beef" Heard From Belwood Park About Noise at Eastern Tool; Greylock Avenue Folks Don't Like To Be Covered With Soot, Either

Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Commissioners was a clearing house for complaints. Three citizens appeared to protest factory noises, hawkers and illegal parking, and a petition from "soot-covered" was read. Complaints about noise and bright lights at the Eastern Tool Company plant in Belwood Park were again heard. It was the third meeting in a row in the past month at which protests have been made. The latest was by William H. Reid of 163 Smallwood avenue who claimed that despite previous complaints and promises, the condition there is continuing unabated. Neighbors, he said, are irate because of "noisy machinery operating all night and bright lights shining into bedrooms."

In response to a question by Commissioner Waters, Town Attorney Keenan said there is no ordinance governing factory noises at night but that "there might be something to cover it in the health code." The matter was once more referred to the Department of Public Safety for investigation.

Joseph Granes appeared to object to a hawk pulling his cart onto private property and remaining there for "four or five hours." He argued that, by staying in one place so long, the man should have a restaurant or mercantile license and should come under the Department of Health regulations.

Residents of Greylock and Roosevelt avenues sent a petition asking for relief from "smoke and soot" emanating from the Eureka United Laundry at 65 Bell street. The complainants charged that houses are continually filled with

Two Liquor Applicants Will Make Appeals On Town Action*Board Says There's Enough Package Stores; Lawyers Say There's No Legal Limitation

An appeal will be filed shortly with the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission by the attorneys for two applicants who were refused package store liquor licenses by the three to one vote of the Town Commission Tuesday night. Bernard McBride, attorney for the Capitol Liquor Store which sought a license for 353-360 Washington avenue, and Calvin Koch, who represented Samuel Gordon for premises at 76 Washington avenue, said late yesterday afternoon that they would protest the action of the Board of Commissioners in refusing to grant the licenses.

SENATOR BARBOUR AND HENDRICKSON HERE MONDAY*Republicans Will Hold Big Rally For G.O.P. Ticket Leaders

The big rally of the local Republican campaign will be held next Monday night when the heads of the state ticket, State Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, candidate for governor; and U. S. Senator W. Warren Barbour, candidate for re-election, will appear here. The pair will make a vote-seeking tour of the northern part of the county on that night and with other candidates will appear at a rally which will be held at the King Association headquarters.

Local Republican leaders are making an effort to bring out the largest crowd that has attended a political gathering in recent years in town. Hendrickson visited here during the Primary campaign in May but for Barbour it will be his first visit since the last time that he was up for re-election. The rally will be the signal for the G.O.P. to start its last month campaign to put Belleville in the Republican column with a big majority in November.

The meeting is scheduled to start at 9 with Hendrickson and Barbour appearing at about 10. They will visit Glen Ridge, Bloomfield and Nutley before coming here. They will be met by a police escort in Washington avenue at the Nutley town line. The entourage will be accompanied by Senator Barbour's band.

Others who will appear at the meeting include County Clerk Russell Gates, Assemblywoman Olive C. Sanford, Assemblyman Hunt and Joseph Bonnet, Freeholder candidate.

W. D. Coburn Completes Long Service With Pru

William D. Coburn of 247 New street will be feted by his family tomorrow night at 393 Franklin street. He retired last week after serving forty years with the Prudential Life Insurance Company.

Coburn started as a clerk in Division A of the company on June 11, 1900 and rose to associate manager of Division B at the time of his retirement.

Other Dealers Opposed

Herbert H. Post, Attorney for the Belleville Retail Dealers' Association, represented them as opposed to the granting of the licenses. The dealers made a similar protest last month when the Commission granted licenses to the Belleville Liquor Store for 163 Washington avenue and to the Simon Liquor Store at 574 Washington avenue. These licenses were granted after the board repealed the ordinance which limited the number of package stores.

McBride was more caustic in his remarks to the board, inquiring whether their action last month was "sincere or facetious." "Is it a general or specific ordinance?" he inquired. "Is it for the general public or for a particular person?" he asked. "The ordinance is sincere," replied Commissioner Waters, "but I think that seven liquor stores are enough."

Before the attorneys tangled with the board over the applications, Waters made it clear that he did not intend to vote to grant the licenses. Commissioner King also took a negative stand, stating that he foresaw a continuous flow of applications when the board lifted the ban last month. Commissioner Noll said that he wanted every man to have a chance to earn a living and was for the licenses, while Mayor Williams strung along with King and Waters. Commissioner Clark was not present at the meeting.

TOWN GETS SET FOR DRAFT*Estimate 3,928 Are Eligible For Conscription; Election Boards Volunteer

The mechanism for setting up the local conscription organization is gradually taking shape although definite work on the personnel of the local draft board is not expected for at least another week. Seventy of the seventy-six election workers have definitely promised that they will be available for duty on Registration Day, October 16, according to Mayor Williams. The six other places will be filled by members of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Polling places in the nineteen districts of the town will be open all day and evening October 16, on which date every male Belleville between twenty-one and thirty-six must register. It is estimated that there are 3,928 local men liable to conscription, according to army figures which list fourteen per cent of the total population as eligible. Of these, however, it is probable that only ninety-four will be called in the first draft.

SERGEANT LOSES BID FOR JOB*Municipalities League Votes 11-10 For Linden Official As Kenworthy Successor

By the narrow margin of a single vote Town Treasurer T. Russell Sargeant of 134 Adelaide street was prevented from succeeding the late Samuel S. Kenworthy, former Mayor of Belleville, as executive secretary of the New Jersey League of Municipalities. The election was held by the executive committee in Trenton last week.

Sargeant, who has been town treasurer here for the past fourteen years, lost an 11-10 count to James J. Smith, city treasurer of Linden for eight years. The job carries a salary of $5,000. The vote was made unanimous after the result was known. Kenworthy held the post for eight years prior to his sudden death May 18. Previously he had been commissioner and Mayor of Belleville.

White Oaks Builders Purchase More Land For Houses

The White Oaks Corporation has purchased an additional section of the Volant road and is developing another street in the White Oaks section it was earned this week. The new street, which will be called Crest drive, will be parallel to and north of White Oaks drive and will run between Union avenue and Bell street.

The new street will have fourteen building lots on each side, the smallest having a forty-eight foot frontage. The commissioners' Tuesday night passed on first reading ordinances providing for the construction of a water main and installation of laterals in the street at a total cost of $2,200.

More Power, and more miles per Gallon

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU'LL like the size of this trim new Buick SPECIAL for '41—its room, its softer ride, its Permi-firm steering, its fresh smart style and all that.

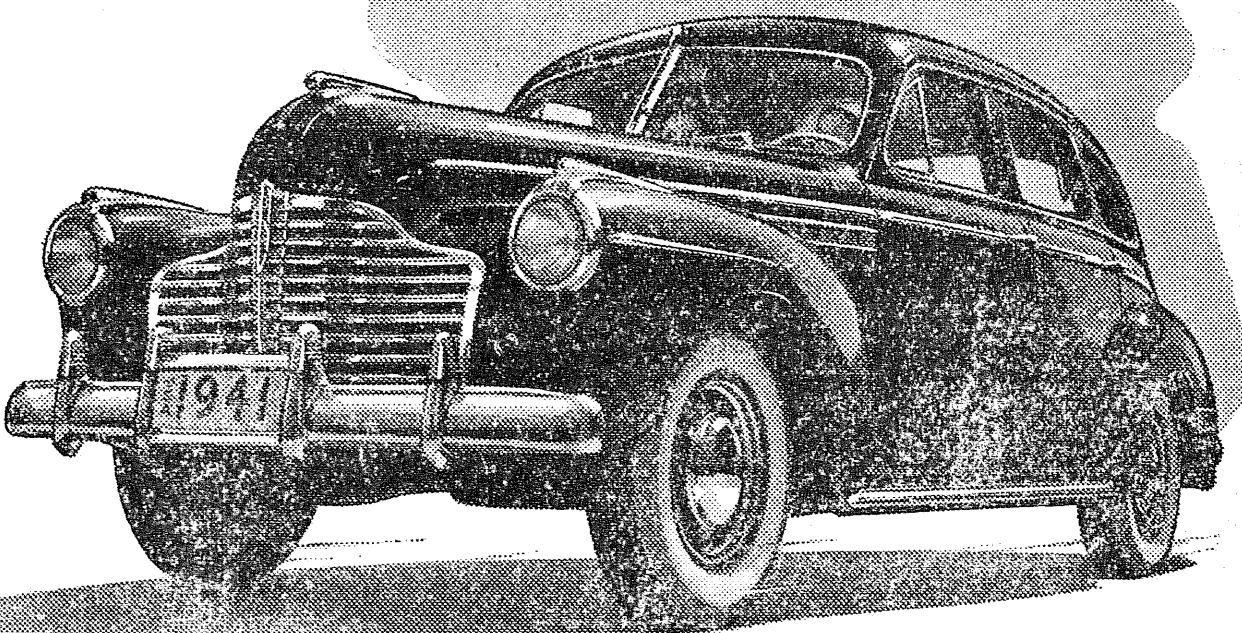

But what you'll go for is what happens under that broad bonnet—the thrill and the thrift you get from that husky, big, 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL® Eight.

For in each flame-packed cylinder of that silk-smooth power plant a flaring ball of fire is set off with each spark-leap.

Packed to higher compression than ever before, fuel gives up more power and more mileage—power when you need it, economy throughout the whole driving range.

Indeed, so great is the power at your command that at 30 you use only one-eighth of the energy at your disposal. All the rest is there waiting for pick-up, hill-climb and sudden getaway.

Even at 50 you use less than one-quarter of your available power, and at 75 still have nearly a half "on call" for emergency use.

*According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, a super meteor which travels with a series of explosions like the shock waves of a great projectile is called a "FIREBALL."

More than that, to this engine you can likewise add Compound Carburetion—and step up both power output and your mileage. At 30 you'll get nearly one and one-half more miles per gallon, at 50 almost two, and at 70 an extra mile and one-fifth.

But that's just one side of the story—the facts side. Only one thing will give you the stirring feel of Buick's thrill-packed behavior on the road.

That's a demonstration—and it's yours for the asking. When will you be in to ask for it?

The Football Season Is Here

Locally, the football season will be opened Saturday when the high school eleven meets its first opponent. There is added zest to the inaugural for the pigskin followers in that it will mark the debut of Larry Gates as the coach of the school team. In recent years the youthful gridders have not reaped for Belleville what might be termed its just share of football glory. In newly appointed Mr. Gates some of the citizenry attempt to visualize a wand waver who with a flip of the wrist will send Belleville zooming to the crest of the football heights.

How grand it would be if it were as simple as that. But, building a consistent football winner is just what the game attempts to teach young boys — hard work, patience, cooperation, persistence, ability and a will to win. In fairness to the new coach who starts the season with a group of boys, many of whom have never played football before, we think it best that the fans should not expect the impossible. Then each victory will be something to really cheer about.

We have gained the impression that Gates is as intent on seeing Belleville take its place in the football sun as quickly as the most ardent rooter. And so, if the Blue and Gold does not win all of its games this season we do not want fans berating the coach and the boys. And what fans should remember is that the greatest lesson youngsters can learn from football is to take the good with the bad. You can help them by being on the sidelines for the kick-off on Saturday.

Arrival of Realistic Propaganda

During the coming fall and winter we will be subjected to a varying amount of propaganda produced in the form of motion pictures. The extent of it will be dependent on the tempo of events abroad and the part which this nation will play. Films intended to guide public opinion have been coming out of Hollywood for the better part of a year, but up until now they have been veiled in their purpose and have in a roundabout way sought to influence the public. With American sympathies in the world crisis more definitely aligned as reflected by the course pursued by the national administration, motion pictures with a propaganda message have become more blunt and direct in the message they seek to convey. In the past week or so several of these films have been released which seek not only to crystallize opinion but make us more alert to the seriousness of the situation and the future dangers which may confront this nation if the forces opposing an empire upholding the principles of democracy are triumphant.

Most stirring and realistic of these motion pictures is one which was not produced in Hollywood — "The Ramparts We Watch." It is a narrative interspersed with historic newsreel shots of what took place in this country between the years 1914 and 1919. Chronologically unreeled the events of the last World War in order, it is a warning note that history can easily repeat itself. The picture reaches its climax in presenting a portion of the Nazi government's pictorial propaganda of the invasion of Poland.

No one says that it is not propaganda. But its presentation of the actions of the American public in the last war and the rise of German power in the present one, bluntly puts the predicament facing this country on the screen. For the story of World War I there is no similar document, written or in pictures, which we have seen that so vividly illustrates American reaction to events here and abroad. And somehow, there's much in it which seems to be happening all over again today.

Maybe He Will Improve

It is difficult for those of us in this metropolitan area to judge whether the tempo of the Presidential election as evidenced in these parts is indicative of the feeling throughout the nation. At home we are in a section that is saturated with Republicanism while a good stone's throw to the east is an area which is just as strongly Democratic. Even in our suburban atmosphere we find a feeling which gives rise to the belief that Mr. Willkie has slipped in popularity in recent weeks. Some insisting that it is so much so that the election is as good as in Mr. Roosevelt's pocket at this moment.

Folks who have travelled in the west recently, where Willkie has been stumping, report that in some sections he is definitely out of the running. He has talked himself right out of the Presidency, some say, with remarks such as "to hell with Chicago," down to their level chats with plant workers and other incidents that do not fit a candidate for President. The large crowds have flocked not to hear a White House aspirant, one visitor from the west opines, but the latest sideshow that the Republicans have conceived.

It might be said that Willkie has made the mistakes that any man inexperienced in appearing before large public audiences would make. It is pointed out that as he has gone farther west he has changed his tactics and that he has developed a greater finesse in dealing with the crowds. Certainly, his speeches of the last week have improved and have had more "meat" to them than his earlier efforts which flitted hither and yon without saying much in defense of himself or in an attack on the New Deal.

His speech in San Francisco in which he charged that the New Deal Administration has contributed to the downfall of European democracy and that it must bear a direct share of the responsibility for the present war rang with more fervor and realistic criticism of the New Deal than any of his previous efforts. His deftness in using Winston Churchill, the man of the hour in Great Britain, as his chief weapon in an attack on President Roosevelt for what Willkie charged national suffering, was a charge that Roosevelt and the New Deal will find difficult to answer.

Maybe the experiences learned on the western jaunt have taught Willkie a valuable lesson — one that may help to carry him from what at the moment is not too bright an outlook for the future.

War Is No Campaign Issue

To run a political campaign in this country with the war in Europe as the sole issue is a political absurdity, but it is not without precedent. A few years ago Chicago had a politician called Big Bill Thompson who won several terms as mayor by the violence of his attacks on the late King George of England. Unless the King subscribed to a press clipping bureau he probably never knew he was under fire, and would have been deeply mystified about it all. But Chicago voters took it seriously. It doubtlessly would have been just as effective, and perhaps more amusing, if Big Bill had attacked the law of gravity or the evils which stem from having only twelve inches in a foot. That such procedures still work shows that we Americans haven't yet grown up politically, and that politicians are glad to take advantage of it.

Both candidates for the presidency, two-thirds of our senators and congressmen, four-fifths of our people, are in precise agreement on every phase of the European war and on the necessity of our getting ready to defend ourselves. There is no issue here. Nothing to fight about. Yet the present Administration has dropped all consideration of national affairs. The President is even pretending that he is paying no attention to the campaign.

The big important questions before this country, since there is no division of opinion about national defense, and we are doing all we can about it—remain just what they were. We ought to be making up our minds on whether we believe in the philosophy of abundance or scarcity, whether we prefer higher taxes to bankruptcy through deficit financing, what to do about getting ten million people back on the payroll. These are the issues of this campaign, not national defense.

There is more drama in doubling the navy or buying a batch of island airbases than there is in these annoying problems. But we cannot escape a decision on them, while the decision on national defense already has been made, and everybody is in agreement.

The task of every Republican candidate in this campaign from Willkie right down to the Congressman in this district, is to make national affairs dynamic enough to get their share of attention in competition with front pages and airwaves that are full of war.

It was decided to pave Cortlandt street from Rogers to Little instead of stopping at Jorammon street when it was learned that the bid of the Jananone Company of this town on the shorter distance was the lowest since the war and low enough to permit sufficient savings to pave the entire length.

Harry Machette and Patrick Waters were officially reelected town chairmen by the Republicans and Democrats respectively.

The Belleville Little Theatre Guild chose "Post Road" for its fall production.

James Fusaro made application for a club liquor license for premises at 85 Roosevelt avenue but it was decided to make a careful investigation before issuing it.

Oldsmobile this week launches its 1941 season with a display of six new series — three sixes and three eights — that present the widest variety ever offered in the forty-three year history of the company. There is now both a six and an eight-cylinder Oldsmobile in each of the three price fields. Oldsmobile's exclusive Hydramatic Drive, that eliminates clutch, clutch pedal and shifts gears automatically, is again optional, at extra cost, on all models, and, due to enlarged production facilities, promises to be a decidedly greater sales factor in 1941. Increased room and comfort, greater engine power, striking new body designs, and scores of detailed improvements all bear witness to the genius for progress that carried Oldsmobile in 1940 to the highest sales marks the company ever reached.

Fourth Black Widow Spider Found in Local Yard

The fourth black widow spider discovered here in the past few years was killed last weekend by David Briden of 135 DeWitt avenue in the yard of his home. The unwelcome stranger to Belleville is of a deep black color covered with a fuzzy down of hair. On the abdomen is a pale yellow spot in the shape of an hourglass. The black widow spider is said to be poisonous.

Since these spiders are found most commonly in heaps of leaves or piles of wood or rubbish, gardeners now cleaning things up for the winter are cautioned to disturb such collections thoroughly with a rake or other implement before plunging into it with their hands.

Packard's New Models Will Be Ready In October

Rolling successfully toward the close of the 1940 model season, Packard Motor Car Company officials today expressed satisfaction with the sustained, late season buying trend which promises to liquidate current new car stocks in time for October announcement of new models. Steady movement of dealer stocks has been considerably accelerated due to anticipated increases in car prices as indicated by rising steel costs and other defense created shortages.

Summarizing at the tapering point of the current model year, vice president of Distribution W. M. Facker said: "The Packard Motor Car Company is now entering the last month of a highly satisfactory sales year. Factory stock is down to a few hundred cars and production is well underway on 1941 models. We have managed to maintain a highly satisfactory balance between our sales program in the field and the exacting requirements of production at the factory."

Alderney Milk Barn Remains Open For Winter Months

The Alderney Milk Barn at the intersection of Routes 10 and 202, Morris Plains, will remain open throughout the fall and winter, it is announced, and has just completed a summer that was even more successful than its first in 1939. Built to resemble a real barn, the Barn appealed to many motorists as one of the most colorful refreshment spots in the State. Inside, the mechanical devices for serving milk drinks and ice-cream are of ultra modern design.

Alderney attaches, checking license plates of motor cars parked outside during only the last month or so have seen cars from Manitoba, Maine, Minnesota, Florida, Iowa and Oregon. Since the opening in July, 1939 it is estimated that cars from every state in the Union have parked at the Alderney Barn.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The importance of the Presidential election on the outcome of the gubernatorial contest in New Jersey has been emphasized so much that repetition would appear unnecessary. But facing the country is a situation so extraordinary that no analysis of the local condition is possible without consideration of the larger picture. Due to the candidacy of Charles Edison, the Democrats seem to have an even chance to elect the next governor provided they are not handicapped by an adverse Presidential vote.

This condition is within keeping of recent election trends in New Jersey. A. Harry Moore won by a landslide in 1931, but both elections since then have been remarkably close. Hoffman defeated Dill by a few thousand votes in 1934 with the national trend very much against him. Dr. Clee lost to Moore in 1937 when public sentiment as between the parties was at the crossroads. By 1938 the state was definitely in a Republican mood and W. Warren Barbour won by more than 100,000 majority.

Effect of Foreign Situation

Sentiment in New Jersey reflected very closely that in the nation as a whole and the Republican party seemed headed for a sure comeback. Then Adolf Hitler entered the picture. Foreign policies superseded domestic policies in public attention and Roosevelt decided to make his handling of foreign relations the test for seeking a third term. This decision in a sense compels the American people either to elect him or to repudiate those policies.

Vainly does Wendell L. Willkie seek to change the election emphasis from foreign to domestic policies. But public attention is centered on the foreign situation and there it almost certainly will remain until after November 3. Thus, if we would guess what majority Nutley, for example, will give the Republican six weeks hence we must cast our eyes to such strange places as Singapore and Dakar. This is a long way from the days when elections were determined by what simple things as whether Jesse Salmon would be a candidate for re-election as county chairman or whether Hague favored William H. Kelly as Democratic chairman or wanted someone else.

As this is being written newspapers carry headlines indicating a defensive alliance between Germany and Japan. Hitler in effect says to Roosevelt: "If you help Britain in the Atlantic you must fight Japan in the Pacific." The answer that must be made to this challenge is terribly complicated, but so important that it could cost or defeat Roosevelt by a million votes. And the Republican majority in Nutley will fluctuate helplessly within that ten million radius.

ALUMNI DANCE PLANS COMPLETE

Homecoming Event Will Be Held October 19 At Elks Club

Final plans for the first annual homecoming dance of the High School Alumni Association will be mapped at the general meeting of the association at the high school Wednesday night. The meeting will be held in the school auditorium and will be followed by dancing in the gymnasium.

The dance is scheduled for the local Elks Club October 19. It is expected that many of the alumni will attend the Belleville-Irvington football game in the afternoon. Music will be furnished by Frank Richlan and his New Yorkers.

Resignations of two officers were handed in at the executive meeting of the association last week. Both will be replaced at an election to be held at Wednesday's general meeting. Vice-president David Martin handed over his office since he has returned to Franklin & Marshall College after a year's absence. John Ryder, a trustee, was forced to resign because of business.

At a meeting of the board of trustees last week two new corresponding secretaries were named. They are Genevieve Holland of 178 DeWitt avenue and Margaret Walker of 133 Jorammon street.

START SHOWING FORDS TODAY

1941 Models On Display At The Local Ford Agency

The new Ford line is being released today for public inspection and may be seen in this vicinity at Griggs & Mead, Inc. of 190 Washington avenue. There has been a lot of advance gossip about changes in the Ford cars. There are some including a considerable increase in the size for the Ford V-8's DeLuxe and Super DeLuxe.

Designers have taken full advantage of increased wheelbase and overall lengths to give added spaciousness, and Ford engineers have worked right up from bigger tires through to luxury seat cushions and new softer springs for the solid enhancement of riding comfort.

A new four-cylinder truck and commercial car engine is part of the economy features included in the Ford working line.

The wheelbase of the new DeLuxe and Super DeLuxe Ford V-8's is longer and the overall length greater. The designers have taken advantage of this extra length to increase the inside body length both in foot room and seating width. The front seat of the sedan is seven inches wider than last year. Running boards have practically disappeared from sight, due to the width of the new bodies. But they are there to step off when the doors are opened.

The new Fords have twelve inch hydraulic brakes for quick smooth action and long service. The emergency, or parking brake, is on the rear wheels and operated by a steel cable. The brake lever is under the instrument panel, at the left of the driver. The new hood knob is located under the instrument panel near the brake lever. This protects the engine, battery and accessories from theft.

Are Still Seeking Hearing On Garden State Line

The problem of the Garden State short line over Hornblower and Linden avenues is marking time while Commissioner Noll and Town Attorney Keenan are still seeking an appointment with Frank Riordan of the Public Utilities Commission.

Riordan has been out-of-town during the past week, Noll said Tuesday, but may listen in the near future to Noll, Keenan and leaders of the citizen groups who are trying to lift the restrictions on the line. Garden State is now prohibited from picking up and discharging passengers in Belleville.

BEFORE YOUR EYES

By Joe Duval

Precision is the keyword for the Belleville-Barringer opener Saturday afternoon at Ye Olde Clearman Field. As a matter of fact, it is the new battle cry in the whole football set-up from team to stands. Everything has been pepped up to put on a real show and a good one. The team most of all will probably set a new high for precision all the way through. Watching the boys go through their paces Monday against Newark Academy, we were surprised at the way the first and second stringers alike snapped into each play with precision.

There were no unnecessary steps, most of the boys knew exactly what they were supposed to do and did exactly that. Larry Gates has done a good job, as far as we can see before the first whistle blows.

Precision has also been carried to the sidelines with the cheerleaders making a real effort to attain it this year. The new uniforms for the arm-wavers ought to help some. The band has been drilling and things look good from that angle. The student body had a rally last Friday and another is slated for tomorrow.

Now, if the Bellboy rooters can only be induced somehow to make a little noise when the other team has the ball on Belleville's two-yard line...

Frankly, we think that the Bellboys are going to make up in spirit, enthusiasm and good coaching what they lack in weight and experience. Larry Gates, Jitty Wischo, Wilho Winika and Tony Zuzzio haven't wasted time crying the blues. They could see the drawbacks and, unlike a lot of coaches we have listened to, they kept away from crocodile tears and went to work.

The Belleville spirit this year is something to be marvelled at. There seems to be a certain something in the air which was missing in previous years. They charge hard and tackle clean and on the offensive they're not afraid to batter. That enthusiasm should carry them through a schedule every bit as tough as last year's and make their games interesting.

Civil wars can do more than cause mere nations distress. They can also put Mr. Sports Fan up a tree for fair. Such a sports civil war destroyed a perfectly good treat for bike fans when the Belleville-Alpine Wheelmen meet, scheduled for last Sunday, was broken up at the last minute by threatened expulsion.

It seems that the Amateur Bicycle League of America and the National Cycling Association don't like the color of each other's hair. It also seems that every competitive biker must join one or the other, and if you're an A.B.L. man you must have the sight of an N.C.A. and so forth.

Now it develops (and stick close to this one, kiddies) that as near as we can figure the jumble out, that all the Bellevilles except Joe DeBacco are A.B.L.'s and all the Alpines except Allan Gormley are N.C.A.'s. The feature of the afternoon was supposed to be DeBacco-Gormley, which threw just about everything out of kilter.

We say, in the words of FDR and a few other worthies, "A plague on both your houses." What kind of stuff is it that keeps sportsmen from competing against each other simply because a few brass hats can't see eye-to-eye? As Joe Kopsky explained the picture to us the other day, we couldn't help wondering where the American and National baseball leagues would be today if they prohibited games between them.

An innocent query in last week's column about the rumored foldup of the Hilltops brought back an emphatic "Yes!" The Hilltops of the past few seasons have disintegrated into space and may be found in the line-ups of elevens as far away as Morristown.

However, the torch has been caught up by the younger generation. The Hilltop Juniors have organized this year and will play every Sunday in Belleville Park. Reason given for the failure of the more aged Hilltops was the ban on passing the hat at the park. You can't keep a team going on handclaps.

Jack Meyer Wins Cubs Kite-Flying Contest

Jack Meyer, a member of Cub Pack No. 350, won the pack's kite-flying contest at the Turf Bog Saturday morning. There were forty-five youngsters in the competition. Jack won in the best-made class with Richard Peterson and Robert Abel second and third. Richard Sheldon copped the honors in the best-flying division, beating out Arthur Scholtz, Joseph Cordova Jr. and Robert Meyer.

Four other members of the Buhrig gang will also go on trial on twenty-nine indictments. The hearing was originally scheduled for Tuesday, but Common Pleas Judge Daniel J. Brennan on motion of Assistant Prosecutor Donal C. Fox postponed it.

ZINK RECAPTURES NEREID SINGLES ROWING TITLE

Holder of Title in 1937 And 1938 Defeats Sid Salomon

Homer Zink Jr. of 26 Rossmore place regained his Nereid Boat Club single gig championship Sunday when he turned back the challenge of the defending champion, Sid Salomon, of Newark, and crossed the finish line three-quarters of a length ahead. Zink held the title in 1937 and 1938 but did not defend it last year. He rowed an exceptionally high beat and was clocked at one point at forty-two strokes to the minute. No time was taken for the event but old-timers on the dock said that they believed it to be a new course record. Salomon made a terrific last-minute sprint but Zink had enough left to win out. For the third time Zink had his name engraved on the C. Leverich Brett Trophy and received the gold medal emblematic of the club supremacy.

A fast tide and a strong following wind made all times in the seven events fast. Of the seven races, there was less than a boat-length difference between first and second in six of them. Al Walker, Vic Cooke, Elmer Gibbs and Bill Fehon teamed together to win the quadruple shell club crown. It was the third year in a row that Walker has been in the winning quad.

A special test race between a quad and a four-oared gig found the former overcoming a length-and-a-half handicap to win by six inches. During the afternoon Dr. Brainerd F. Swain, of Newark, club lieutenant, presented to the club a single gig which he made in his home during the past four months. The new boat will be named the "Lev Brett."

Homer Zink defeated Sid Salomon by 3/4 length. Bill Fehon defeated Frank Siegler by 1/4 length. Gunther Meder defeated Gerry Rhoades by 1/2 length. Ed Minion and Carl Hagert defeated Meder and Elmer Gibbs by 1/2 length. Quad A (Walker, Cooke, Gibbs and Fehon) defeated Quad B (Rhoades, Siegler, Gibbs and Fehon) by 2 lengths. Quad A defeated Quad C (Barney Swain, Casey DeLoane, Meder and Carl Hagert) by 1/2 length. Single Race Quad C (Jones, Bob Shriver, Siegler and Hagert) defeated Quad D (Swain, Fehon, Fehon and Rhoades; Meder, Cox) by 6 inches.

High School's Grid Brain Trust

These are the five men who have been drilling the Blue and Gold footballers during the past month for their clash on Saturday with Barringer High of Newark at Clearman Field. Local hopes would be somewhat brighter if a couple of them could be put in the line-up. Anyway, from left to right they are Bill Chapman, who is handling the newly formed frosh squad; Jitty Wischo, Coach Larry Gates, Wilho Winika and Tony Zuzzio, former B.H.S. gridder, who is now lending a helping hand.

BERNIE BARNETT BACK HOME

Pitcher Returns After Good Season With Yankee Farm Club

Bernie Barnett arrived home Sunday morning just in time to climb into his baseball clothes again and pitch for the losing cause of the All-Stars against the Newark Bears. The young Akron pitcher, who lives at 11 Baldwin place, came home sporting an 11-6 record for the season with the Ohio club, a Yankee farm.

Barnett, who was started on the way to a professional baseball career in the 1938 Belleville-Nutley series, won eleven of his seventeen decisions. His record last year was ten and six.

Akron won the Middle Atlantic pennant by eight and one-half games, beat Youngstown in the first play-off series and Dayton in the final. Barnett let the latter down with four hits and beat them 3-2 in the deciding game. In Sunday's game with the Bears he twirled one inning. He gave up a walk, a hit, and ground-out and struck out the last two. No runs were scored on him.

Several dancing exhibitions by professional entertainers and a jitterbug contest open to patrons will be featured. Music will be furnished by the Cottage Club orchestra of Anson Scott.

The general committee includes the following sub-committee chairmen: Raymond Pecattello, vice chairman; Matthew Gram, secretary; Thomas Marshall, treasurer; Patrick Canio, music; Charles Miznelli, reception; George Jordan, tickets; James J. Holland, wardrobe; and Salvatore Veitri, publicity.

POST-SEASON WIN FOR TRIANGLES

Playing As Substitutes They Cop Double Bill From Passaic Braves

The Triangles officially closed their baseball season last fortnight. Sunday, however, the Passaic Braves were without a game due to a cancellation, so the Triangles filled in and took both ends of a doubleheader, 7-2 and 14-4.

Red Handley pitched and batted the locals to victory in the opener. Besides hitting the Passaic team to five scattered hits, he laced out a homer and two singles to drive in three runs and score a pair himself. The Triangles shoved any doubt as to the outcome of the nightcap out of the Braves' minds with a seven-run rally in the sixth. Charley Phillips, John Zoppa and Phil Hickey each came through with three hits.

PLACES We Like: The Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, because, having been a day-time resident there for three years, we happen to know the kind of service, food and personal attention you get there from the manager to the headwaiter to the bellhop. Here is one of the best operated hotels in America. The Wald-Bloomsfield avenue, West Caldwell, because here they have the Three Octaves, the liveliest musical trio this side of the Hudson, a young and enterprising management that thinks of the customer first, and a group of star barmen who have the happy faculty of working under capacity conditions with a smile! . . .

The Alderney Milk Barn, at the intersection of Routes 10 and 202, Morris Plains, because Alderney milk and ice cream are our favorites, the sales force is extremely polite and efficient, the atmosphere is artistically pleasant, and the surrounding countryside exquisite at this time of the year! . . . Busch & Sons' jewelry store at Broad and William streets, Newark, because it reminds us of the days when our grandmother took us on jaunts to Manhattan, and always ended in a stroll through Tiffany's with its wide aisles and showcases that sparkled with brilliant gems. Busch's has that same glamorous effect upon us now, in a more streamlined way, of course, but always the trip through Busch's now brings back the memory of that grandeur of Tiffany's of the early century. —Oo—

SPEAKING of the Alderney Milk Barn, we must tell you about the Hartmans — Grace and Paul — the satirical dancers who have been appearing as the principals at the Maplewood Theatre. They are ice cream fiends, and when they discovered the Alderney Milk Barn was within handy motoring of the theatre they took that highway enroute for home. Paul goes for Alderney coffee (as most men do) and Grace (who must keep slim) leans to Alderney fresh peach, although she did sample the banana, too. —Oo—

SHORT, Shorts: Manager Lloyd Robinson of Hotel Robert Treat is instituting a newspaper advertising campaign for "permanents" with special illustrative art work. "Joyce" is the name of the chubby newcomer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. (Handsome Harry) Missbach . . . If "Nick," The Well's veteran barmen, ever plays the races he should not overlook the horse named "Speed to Spare," because that is what Nick has most . . . Alderney's new homogenized milk spreads the cream of the milk throughout the bottle — it's a new process which breaks up each drop of cream into tiny particles . . . Ask your Alderney man to leave a bottle — and try it! —Adv.

Montgomery C. E. Presents Play Tomorrow Night

The Junior Christian Endeavor

Society of Montgomery Presbyterian Church will present a play, "Triple Trouble" at the church tomorrow night at 8:15. It will be under the direction of David Demarest.

Included in the cast are Anna and June Carnie, Phoebe Minard, Doris Leinech, Hugh Dunlop, Irvin Schuyler, Forrest Fredericks, all of Belleville, Frank and Isabel Low of Bloomfield.

In some years, some cars take a big jump ahead. The Ford does that for 1941.

It has jumped ahead in size. It's the biggest Ford we've ever built, inside and out. It's wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Its seating room is wider by as much as 7 inches. It has new wide doors and semi-concealed running boards.

You'll notice also a new beauty, achieved by a skillful blending of mass with longer flowing lines. Larger windshield and windows give better vision all around.

One of its biggest advantages is the new soft ride.

New, slower-action springs give a slow, gentle, gliding movement. A newly designed stabilizer helps absorb road shocks, and maintains balance on sharp curves and in cross winds.

More rapid acceleration to match its familiar speed and power makes this new Ford an even livelier car to drive.

These are only a few of this new car's outstanding features. It represents all the rich experience gained in building more than 28 million motor cars.

Any Ford dealer can give you many good reasons for making this your 1941 car.

Campus Shops Are Filled With Scads of Clothes

Young College or High School Miss Will Have No Trouble Finding Something Gay and Attractive For Fall and Winter

Stocks are still ample for the college girls who have delayed choosing their fall and winter wardrobes. The high school Miss, who doesn't have to rush selection of her wardrobe, will find campus models much to her liking, too. The demands of school life, be it local or away-from-home, often make it impossible for a young lady to change during the day or even at dinner time. She should, therefore, be as well dressed as possible before the day begins. We could not help but notice how beautifully this is provided for in the one-piece dresses and the skirt and jacket sets which fill the campus shopping centers.

Sheer woolsens and jersey are the choice for dresses; also a new and less "hairy" rabbits hair material. Of the first mentioned there are beautiful blue and coppery tones in simple collarless styles which depend on high pockets, novelty buttons of dull gold or silver and smart belts for their snappy, smooth effect. The skirts in these are cut circular or gored and many of them are pleated with a stitched down effect all around or so that a fan is formed in the front. At any rate, following the welcome American trend in design, they are kept full enough to be flattering.

Jumper Dress Charming

The simple, almost old-fashioned jumper dress is charmingly young in soft jersey. Prettiest of those we saw was a hunter green worn over a pale lettuce green silk blouse with its long graceful sleeves ending in tight cuffs. Peter Pan collar and emerald green buttons, more like studs, finish it off.

The rabbit's hair material has been used in one of the most versatile successes of the season. A two-piece outfit to start with of dress and full-length coat, it can easily become three or four costumes in any girl's wardrobe. To illustrate we will choose the ensemble in shades of gray, although it can be obtained in any of the fall colors. Soft, pearl gray dotted with red makes the simple short-sleeved dress with a tiny rolled collar and circular skirt. The bodice closes to the waistline with darker gray buttons matching those which are a feature of the full length coat. The latter is done in a dark gray and by virtue of its buttoned-all-the-way-down front, four pockets, beautifully cut yoke and smart belted back this garment makes a splendid dress in itself. Its collarless neck fits snugly under the collar of the gray dress when they are worn together. Being fully lined the coat can be worn over any other dress also.

A style note which persists in this type of clothing is the garment which has sleeves and back made of contrasting color. Take the two-piece dress, for instance, of wool, whose skirt and bodice (the latter hip-length) are a beautiful deep rose. The sleeves, back and collar of this belted blouse, however, are light gray. Dipping smartly down into the back is the rose colored yoke of the blouse front. Shown in conjunction with this outfit is a smart, quite long, collarless plaid jacket in tones of rose, gray and brown. It is an appropriate running mate for the dress or may be worn with separate brown skirt and beige blouse. It is matched by a large handbag cut out of the identical plaid wool and worn over the shoulder with a long brown strap. Brown sports oxfords and a rose felt hat are perfect accompaniments no matter how you match these various mates. The two-colored dress also comes in brown or green with beige contrast.

Plaids Galore

No need to mention the enormous assortment of plaid and plain color skirts and blouses. To mate or not to mate them is no query for they are acceptable both ways. Red seems to predominate in them all and red in this case means "scarlet." Plaid coats to cover them are numerous and the college girl's favorite, the plain boxy camel's hair coat, abounds. Fuzzy felt hats are more shapely and individual looking than they have been for the young Miss in some seasons. Deep reds, greens and blues are popular as well as cocoa brown and gray. There are soft feathers on some. Velvet makes the scarlet jockey caps and vari-colored berets which sport feathers at a rakish angle. Semi-dress occasions will find the crepe afternoon dress in great demand. These are self-trimmed to a great extent with simulated pockets of self-flowers or other designs above and below the waistline. They are slimmer in effect than the sport clothes but without the decided draping of adult dresses. Beaded and nail-head trimmings are used with restraint. All the new blues, reds and browns are seen and a surprising quantity of black. Black velvet with white lace trimming in demure fashion appears here and there and velvet, again popular, is rich and lovely in the darker shades of red, green and brown. It lends itself well to two-piece models without trimming other than metal buttons or trapunto work. It even goes on to the most formal kind of evening dress like the one whose top is pale gray with tiny sleeves and deep, square neckline and whose full skirt is done in a darker shade of gray. The narrow belt and neckline clips are fashioned of hammered silver in a flower design which is very fetching.

Dress coats on princess lines come in brilliant colors like tomato red as well as black and are discretely furred with small collars and cuffs of leopard, caracul and other short-pelted furs. The chubby fur jacket is no longer so chubby, but hip length. It goes equally well to football games and other formals. When she does have a chance to slip out of these clothes the schoolgirl can study or relax in warm, sturdy clothes designed for just such moments. Most attractive among them are the chenille robes which zipper all the day up the front, have high, collarless necklines and trim waists or the slack suits of fine wool corduroy. The latter have short, butcher boy jackets and here again contrast is employed. Dusty rose slacks, for instance, are worn with a beige jacket. Many other attractive combinations are available.

They Go Together

The beige wool dress on the right, besides being the most wearable in a high school girl's wardrobe, is a perfect foil for the brilliant plaid coat under which it is designed to be worn. Tomato red and sage green are combined with beige in the plaid. Note the plaid belt of the dress which carries out the theme.

for different seasons, temperature and measurement guides.

Corn Chowder

- 1 quart diced raw potatoes
- 1 pint boiling water
- 4 tablespoons diced salt pork
- 1 onion, chopped
- 2 cups canned corn
- 1 pint milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley or celery leaves

Boil the diced potatoes in the pint of boiling water for ten minutes. Fry the salt pork and onion for about five minutes, and add these and the corn to the potatoes. Cook until the potatoes are done. Add the milk and the salt and pepper, bring the mixture to the boiling point, and add the parsley or celery leaves. Serve very hot in soup dishes and place two or three crackers in the dish before pouring in the chowder.

Onion Soup au Gratin

- 6 medium-sized onions, chopped fine
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 pint boiling water
- 1 quart meat broth
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 4 tablespoons cold water
- Salt to taste
- Pepper
- Toast
- Cheese, finely grated

Cook the chopped onions in the butter until yellow, add to the hot water, and simmer for twenty minutes, or until tender. Add the meat broth. Blend the flour and cold water, add some of the hot liquid, mix well, and stir into the soup. Add the salt and pepper, and cook for a few minutes. Pour the soup into bowls of soup plates, place on top of each a slice of toasted bread, sprinkle the cheese over the bread and soup, and serve at once.

There is high nourishment in either of these soups and not to be overlooked is their ability to combat the chill in these fall days. Followed by some of the substantial salads and hot breads described in Aunt Sammy's cookbook they would make a satisfying meal.

In a short time these cook-books will be available to you in a limited quantity. Watch this column!

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

Bewilderment, as we have said before, is probably the saddest note which has been sounded for the thousands caught in the European conflict. Women and children particularly have been and are in a position of utter helplessness as a result of the fast moving, unannounced action of their respective countries. In some cases this has been planned, diabolic action on the part of their leaders. In most cases the result of a nation's having to plunge into conflict without sufficient preparedness.

There is another sort of bewilderment, not so spectacular but with potential danger concealed in it, which pricks at the consciences of a lot of us as we attempt to follow the daily reports of the international situation. It is a bewilderment which tugs at our better judgment because it is one which can be forestalled or overcome and we realize this even as we do little about it.

Women in particular are prone to throw up their hands and say "What is the use! I cannot be sure of anything I read about the war. I will think of something else." We are thereby, however, passing up an opportunity to practice at first hand a mental trick in which we will all have to perfect ourselves if we are to survive as individuals. This sounds like a strong statement, but a little analysis will quickly show that the unwillingness on the part of individuals to digest such situations as the one in which we now find ourselves reflects itself as an enormous force of ignorance which will bear its weight against us in the same way that ignorance of fact has led to the downfall of the innocent in warring nations.

Must Cultivate It

The mental agility referred to above is the ability which we must cultivate to sift the news clean of propaganda before forming our opinions and thereby be in possession of real facts when we face ourselves with the urgent question, "What do we wish America to do?" In spite of the defeatist attitude, which we should all have the courage to ignore, America can and will do what we wish her to do.

A few simple rules have been suggested by those who have studied the problem carefully to make the reading of the news a much easier and more profitable procedure. First, consider the organ which supplies the material. If you are reading excerpts from a foreign newspaper consider whether the country is totalitarian or democratic. Newspapers in the latter are in business for their own sakes and want to attract readers, wherein those representing the former will give you practically a government report. Secondly, think about the man who wrote the article. Did he see it himself? How much censorship did his story have to undergo?

You can answer these questions yourself if you will use your imagination and knowledge of history and geography to advantage.

Reading Meaning Into Things

You might also examine the "literal" meaning of the descriptions employed. If a city is "occupied" does that necessarily mean that it is teeming with belligerent soldiers? Resist the temptation to read meanings into things. Also ask yourself why a story has been allowed to pass the censors. Is it only for purposes of arousing sympathy? Remember that what you are aiming at is a clear picture. And remember that all the compulsion training you give yourself in this way will stand you in excellent hand, when it comes to the analysis of our own country's need.

Rosh Hashanah Observance Starts Next Week

Period Marks Start of Year 5701; High Holyday Service by Congregation A.A.A.; Educational Information Offered Local Jews by Synagogue

The Jewry of Belleville, with their co-religionists in all parts of the world, will mark the advent of the new year 5701 commencing Wednesday night at sundown, October 2, and continuing Thursday and Friday, October 3 and 4. Services for all the days of the holiday will be held locally at the Congregation A. A. A. of 317 Washington avenue. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate at all services and will be assisted by Morris Rosen. Evening services will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 5:30, and Thursday and Friday mornings at 8.

Rabbi Dobin will preach at the morning services. His sermon topic on Thursday morning will be "The Challenge of These Times." Friday morning Rabbi Dobin will discuss a program for moral defense. Edward J. Abramson, president of the Congregation, will greet the worshippers on the first day of the holiday. Special services for the New Year will be held under the auspices of the Junior Congregation Thursday morning at 10:30 in the social hall of the synagogue. Rabbi Dobin will deliver a special sermon for the children.

Selichos Service Saturday

This Saturday night at 12 midnight the time-honored Selichos services will be held. It consists of many prayers, poems and essays written by great rabbis and sages of former years and prepares for the solemnity of the High Holy Days.

Rosh Hashanah, the Hebrew name of the holy day, literally means "the head of the year." It is celebrated on the first and second days of the Jewish month Tishre. The day marks the anniversary of the creation of the world, which according to tradition occurred 5701 years ago. Rosh Hashanah inaugurates the Ten Days of Penitence, "Aseres Y'me Teshuvah," the most solemn season of the Jewish calendar, which has been set aside for retrospection and self-examination by every individual Jew. Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, which ends this period, falls on Saturday, October 12.

In the Bible, the holiday is referred to as the Day of the Blowing of the shofar, "Yom Teruah," the Day of Redoubtance. "Yom Hazikaron," and the "Memorial of the Blowing of the Ram's Horn, Zichron Teruah." It is also considered as the Day of Judgment, "Yom Hadin," when all mankind is to be judged by the Creator, and the fate of each individual is to be inscribed in the Books of Life.

Differ From Other Festivals

The High Holydays, or the "Yomim Noraim" as they are known in Hebrew, differ from other Jewish festivals in that they are neither historical or agricultural in origin. They concern the Jew primarily as an individual rather than as a member of a group, and are therefore universal in character. Their observance is characterized by a feeling of solemnity. Jews everywhere gather for and participate in communal worship. With the arrival of this period, every Jew becomes spiritually moved. Under the inspiring influence of Rosh Hashanah, all Jews begin to take an accounting of their acts during the past year. They commence to make preparations for the searchings of these solemn days. New resolves are made, better lives are planned. The philosophy of Rosh Hashanah stimulates a desire for the greater and the more meaningful life.

This Year's Responsibility

This year special emphasis is being laid on the responsibility of the individual Jew to his people and to all humanity. The disturbing situations in which his brethren find themselves in other parts of the world are being brought to his immediate attention. The desire for world peace and understanding will be the underlying note of this year's New Year message. The Jewish people will be admonished to remain steadfast in their faith, and to keep their courage in face of all difficulties. They will be encouraged to carry aloft the bright banner of world freedom and justice resolutely and consistently.
Among the many traditional customs observed during Rosh Hashanah are the exchanging of New Year greetings on New Year Eve, the blowing of the shofar, the ram's horn at the synagogue

Rabbi Dobin and Mr. Abramson have announced that these "kits" will be distributed without charge to all the worshippers who attend the divine services of Rosh Hashanah.
