

FIRE PREVENTION WARNING GIVEN BY CHIEF REID

Don'ts For Residents to Guard Listed; Annual Fire Week Starts Monday

"You wouldn't leave the safety of your children's morals entirely up to your preacher," said Fire Chief Robert A. Reid yesterday in a statement as he urged town-wide cooperation in the observance of National Fire Prevention Week which starts Monday. "Why leave their fire safety entirely up to the Fire Department?"

"We are always ready to rush men and apparatus to your assistance if flames attack your home, but it is to your advantage to prevent fires yourself," Reid spoke for Public Safety Director Clark who is vacationing in Tennessee.

Reid then outlined common hazards which are found in every home.

"Let's start with hazards found in the kitchen. Leaking gas stoves are an explosion and fire hazard. Have a plumber make the necessary repairs when you smell gas. Don't take a chance looking for any gas leak with a lighted match or candle. To avoid spontaneous ignition fires, keep oily cleaning cloths or rags in a tight-closing metal container.

"We all use electricity so much that we sometimes forget it presents a serious hazard if misused. If any of the fire cords on lamps or appliances are worn and frayed, it is best to replace them before they cause a short circuit that may result in fire. Outside aerials for radios should be connected to a ground deep enough in the earth to reach permanent moisture and be equipped with a lightning arrester.

Warns About Fuses

"Don't put a coin behind a burned-out fuse, as this permits any overload of current to flow through the wires until they become white-hot, possibly igniting a fire. All new wiring and extensions should be done by an expert electrician.

"When you purchase electrical appliances, look for those that are safe, rather than for bargains. Unless your heat-producing appliances have an automatic shut-off to prevent overheating, it is best to pull the plug when leaving the room.

Unseen Dangers

"Attics usually are the storage place for discarded furniture, old clothing, cartons overflowing with miscellaneous articles and piles of papers. This is all out-of-sight and often undisturbed for considerable time.

"Spontaneous combustion sometimes breeds in such material. When anyone does go up there, a small drop of oil on a lighted match may start a fire. Yet you probably will never use any of this old material. Why not clear it all out this week?" Reid warned of the same condition existing in cellars and mentioned particularly that "paint-stained cloths cause spontaneous ignition fires.

"Furnaces and stoves cause a great number of fires because of neglect. Here are my suggestions for them:

"Clean out soot every year.

"Check over and replace all broken or rusted-out parts and pipes.

"Protect any burnable material too near hot parts of the heater with asbestos or metal, with an air space between it and the material.

"Clean the chimney and repair cracks and loose bricks or mortar. "Never" force your heating plant in cold weather. It is best to call in a furnace expert if you don't get enough heat.

Hollow Walls

"Many fires that your Fire Department could ordinarily put out with little damage, quickly spread to involve the entire building. This is because the flames are drawn up through hollow walls.

"You can prevent this happening by installing a coating of gypsum plaster on metal lath in your cellar, extending from foundation to foundation or at least in the furnace room. Added protection will be gained by putting fire stops of incombustible material between the studs in the walls at floor levels and by means of a heavy door at the head of the cellar stairs.

"All citizens are urged to do their part to conserve the nation's resources. This is especially important this year because of national defense plans. The destruction of materials and thereby endanger national defense. Cooperate with your Fire Department by preventing fires in your home."

ONE DROPS PLAN FOR APPEAL

Kearny Liquor Dealer Won't Go Before ABC Board; McBride Will

Samuel Gordon of Kearny, unsuccessful applicant for a "package" liquor store license here last week, has decided to drop his appeal to the state Alcoholic Beverage Control, he said yesterday. Bernard E. McBride of 108 Tappan avenue, attorney for Capitol Liquor Store, which was also rejected, is still planning his appeal but has not yet presented his papers to the ABC.

"We saw we could not come into Belleville on a sporting basis," Gordon said, "and we do not want to force our way into town. We have perfect basis for an appeal and I am sure we would win, but we do not want to make trouble for some people who would be embarrassed by the appeal. We will continue to serve our Belleville clients from our Kearny store."

Gordon is to be married Sunday and had planned then to move to Belleville and operate only the local store, which he had planned to open at 76 Washington avenue. His application and that of Capitol Store were rejected on the grounds that seven liquor stores are sufficient for Belleville at the present time. Gordon said last week that he would appeal immediately but has since changed his mind.

McBride did not know just when his appeal would go before the ABC but expressed himself as "confident that we will win. I would feel that I was not being true to my client or to myself as an attorney if I did not exhaust all possibilities," he said.

SCOUTERS MEET ON THURSDAY

Local B.S.A. Activities For Year Will Be Planned

A general meeting of all scouters in the Belleville District of the Boy Scouts will be held in the Division avenue firehouse next Thursday at 8, District Commissioner W. Douglas Clark, Jr. said yesterday. Preceding this meeting there will be a commissioners' staff meeting at Clark's home at 178 Floyd street to discuss plans and programs for the year.

Clark said that Camp Mohican, the Robert Treat Council's summer camp at Blairstown, had a successful season. Serving on the staff from Belleville were Joseph W. O'Farrell, camp director; John W. Charlton, craft director; Ted Close, assistant waterfront director; James Price, assistant scoutmaster, and Jack Lawson, craft department.

Scout Acres, also operated by the council, was used by the local troops for weekend and long-term camping. In addition, some troops conducted their own troop camps on different Jersey sites. All the scouters in the district will assist in the Community Chest Campaign, November 1-14.

Heyer Strikers, Company Reach a Stalemate

Union Won't Accede to Heyer's Demand That Public Address System Be Used During Negotiations; Appeal Made to Frances Perkins, William Green

The proposed use of a public address system during negotiations continued to be the chief stumbling block to the start of conferences as the strike at the Heyer Products Company plant in Cortlandt street dragged into its second week with both management and labor determined not to give in on the question, Benjamin F. W. Heyer, president of the company, sent telegrams to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, and William F. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, asking for their opinions on the use of the loudspeakers but up to yesterday afternoon had received no reply from either.

Heyer also proposed on Tuesday that the strikers return to their work pending an election under the National Labor Relations Board to determine if the Chemical & Oil Workers' Union, Local 22,026 A. F. of L., which called the strike, represents the majority of the workers. John Volosin, organizer of the union, had no comment to make on the latter suggestion.

In a letter mailed to each employee Saturday, Heyer denied flatly the allegation that the company had laid off a number of employees after receiving notice that a union contract was desired by the employees. After saying that a Mr. Riley, the "union representative," made the statement Friday and then refused to listen to a denial, the letter stated that the "temporary layoff was made September 13," that the request for a conference with the union was not made until four days later.

Heyer enclosed with the letter a photostatic copy of a letter from the union's attorney requesting the conference "at any reasonable time or place at your own convenience." The letter was dated September 16 and received the next day.

ADULT SCHOOL PUT OFF

Kittle Postpones Until January Because of Poor Registration

Opening of the Belleville Adult School was put off until January when registration for the fall semester was deemed too small to warrant conducting the school. The school was to have opened tonight in the high school but only 150 persons signed up for the twenty-seven courses, Hugh D. Kittle, director of the school, said Tuesday.

"Because of the many requests it was decided to try to have an adult school in the fall in addition to the usual winter session," Kittle said. "However, in view of the fact that only 150 persons registered for this school, it is obvious that the majority of the people interested in adult education are not in favor of a fall term. Therefore, we have decided to postpone the Adult School to the usual date in January."

The school started in 1938 with a tremendous flood of students, more than 700 registered in a short time. Last year the enthusiasm waned to 250 when the school opened in January. This was to have been the first year to have two ten-week semesters.

DEDICATE CHURCH ON SUNDAY

Four Services Will Mark the Opening of Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Edifice

The new edifice of Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church at Joralemon and New streets will be dedicated Sunday, Rev. Mr. Wilbur H. Borchers, pastor of the church, announced yesterday. The dedication ceremonies will take place in three services Sunday and another Monday evening.

Rev. Dr. Paul A. Kirsch, supervisor of missions of the United Lutheran Synod of New York, will preach at the service of dedication at 10:15. Pastor Borchers will perform the dedication. Patsy Adams and John Faber of Montclair, builders of the church, will also be present.

Rev. Mr. John H. Wagner, president of the New Jersey Synod, will preach at a special conference service at 3:15. He will be assisted by Rev. Mr. J. Henry Meyer of Elizabeth, Rev. Mr. Cyrus M. Wallick of Maywood and Rev. Mr. Edwin H. Knudsen of Rutherford.

Youth Service at 7:30

William Blohm, Jr., counsel to the Jersey City Housing Authority and treasurer of the New Jersey Conference, will speak at a special youth service at 7:30. This service will be led by Miss Dorothy Herrmann, acting president of the Luther League. Miss Ruth Thober, Ernest Jordan and Edward Stumpe will also participate. A community service in which the local clergymen of other denominations will participate is scheduled for Monday evening at 8.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE STARTS SATURDAY

Service Bureau Will Receive $9,000 of $17,000 Being Sought

The Community Service Bureau will receive the major share of the $17,000 which the Welfare Federation hopes to raise in the Community Chest drive this year. The house-to-house canvass will begin November 1 and continue for two weeks but Frank Chambers, campaign manager, said Tuesday night at the Federation meeting that all other divisions of the drive will start Saturday.

The CSB has asked for $9,000 of the Chest funds for the coming year. The Visiting Nurse Association requested $900; Red Cross, $900; Boy Scouts, $1,900; Girl Scouts, $1,200; Silver Lake Community House, $600; administration, $500; and the emergency fund, $2,000. Allotments will be made on a percentage basis on the funds actually raised.

Chambers and W. Douglas Clark Jr. will head the industrial division committee; John Charlton is chairman of the house-to-house group and Lester E. McCorkle will solicit the postoffice employees, stores and employees of the Isolation Hospital.

TOWN NOW HAS 14,968 VOTERS

1,334 Added to Registration List Since Election In 1939

More Bellevillites will be eligible to go to the polls November 5 than at any time in the history of the town, it was learned yesterday from the Essex County Board of Elections. There are 14,968 voters now on the registration rolls of the town.

The registration for the general election of 1939 was 13,634. Since that time 1,334 new names have been added to the books. Registration and transfers were particularly heavy during the last few weeks before the closing date last Thursday. Florence R. Morey, town clerk, estimated that 1,200 entered their names since the primaries last May.

Mrs. Morey pointed out that voters who move within the town limits between now and election day may cast their ballots by going to their old district and signing an affidavit.

Bart Laboratories Complete Big Job For Government

O. B. Bart of Bart Laboratories, 227 Main street, said yesterday that work on the $84,000 order for searchlight reflectors for the war department is virtually completed and will be delivered shortly.

Announcement that the contract had been awarded was made by the War Department this week. Bart said that the contract was actually given out several months ago.

Hartley On Air Monday To Answer 'Smear' Tactics

Congressman Speaks Over WHBI at 8; Says Foes Have Waged Campaign of Suspicion and Innuendo; Expects to be in Washington During the Winter

In the first major speech of his drive against what he regards as a "campaign of smear" engineered by political enemies, Representative Fred A. Hartley, Jr. will lash out at his foes over the air Monday night at 8. Hartley will deliver his aerial attack over Station WHBI of Newark. Held at his post of duty in Washington by the many ramifications of defense legislation, Hartley has encountered on a few flying trips home in recent weeks the effects of the widespread crusade of suspicion and innuendo directed against him by his political opposition. Taking full advantage of his absence from the home political front, Hartley's foes, he says, have let no single day go by without smearing him with false accusations, underhanded innuendoes and malicious suspicion.

For example, the Kearny Representative points to the frequently repeated allegations made by his enemies, in the press and on the public platform, that he opposed the nation's defense program. Hartley voted for the entire eighteen billion dollar defense program of the government. Not once was his voice raised even to question a single item of the unprecedented appropriations. On the contrary, in the knowledge that they had the approval of our military general staffs, Hartley points to the fact that he did everything within his power to hasten their passage through Congress.

Will Discuss Conscription

On the radio, Hartley will discuss with open frankness and candor his stand on conscription, including his fight to increase army pay to $30 a month and reduce the enlistment term to one year from three, both of which are now in effect. The Kearny lawmaker is particularly incensed at what he terms the "premeditated and wilful falsifying" of his motives by opposition politicians with respect to the nation's man-power problem.

Hartley states his foes have also resorted to deliberate falsehood regarding his Congressional record on domestic affairs, and cites the charge made in the press

Howdy Joe -- Hello Bob

State Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, G.O.P. candidate for governor, is shown handshaking with Commissioner Joseph King at the rally for the gubernatorial choice and U. S. Senator W. Warren Barbour here Monday night. Hagueism Target of Barbour And Senator Hendrickson

Republican Ticket Leaders and Senator Zink Lash At Jersey City Mayor, Using Poll Book Episode As A Springboard For Their Attack

The power of Frank Hague in New Jersey is finished, Senator Robert C. Hendrickson, Republican gubernatorial candidate, told the crowd that jammed into the Willie-Hendrickson headquarters at Washington avenue and Essex street Monday night. "When the time comes that any county with a great voting population can, by means of manipulation and fraud, override the will of the people of the rest of the state, the time has come to take action," Hendrickson stated, U. S. Senator W. Warren Barbour, who is running for reelection, and who preceded Hendrickson on the program, also attacked Hagueism, saying that "good Democrats want real democracy as much as do good Republicans."

State Senator Homer C. Zink came to the meeting directly from Newark where he had participated in the investigation of the recently-burned election books in Hudson County and intimated that "we are going to get rid of some of the evil influences over there (in Hudson County) even before election day."

Commissioner Joseph King was chairman of the rally, the biggest Republican affair in Belleville since the start of the campaign. The only other speaker on the program, which was heard by more than 100 persons, was Mrs. Olive Sarford of Nutley, who represented the Republican Assembly ticket.

Both Barbour and Hendrickson stressed the "contrast between the two parties and their candidates." Barbour spoke of the "clashing contrast" between the two national conventions and said that at the Republican convocation in Philadelphia the "voice of ordinary individuals pushed through like lava in a volcano," and resulted in the nomination of Willie.

"Wendell Willkie is a man who came up the hard way," Barbour said, pointing out that he was a dishwasher and a steel puddler on his way up. "He typifies the axiom that every boy has a chance to be president."

Attacks Cromwell

He flayed his Democratic opponent, James H. R. Cromwell, specifically on the latter's testimony before the House of Representatives in which he advocated repeal of the inheritance tax. "Now he says that he wouldn't do it," Barbour said, "that he didn't mean it," Barbour said.

Hendrickson began his attack on Hague, whom he never mentioned by name, by observing that "we all want common honesty and simple decency in government. We are sick and tired of the humbug and fraud in government in the state and the nation."

"We are much concerned with the dictatorships abroad and think too little of the dictatorships right here at home," he said. He warned against viewing with calmness the "encroachment of power in Washington."

Then he spoke of the contract between the candidates for various offices. "Willkie is willing to give up everything he gained in life to serve the people. Contrast that to the opposition which has an insatiable desire for power and glory and to take credit for everything."

The contrast between Barbour and Cromwell was noticeable, he said, in the fact that "Barbour kept his employees on the payroll throughout the depression that the men might live. Cromwell's chief claim to fame is that

WON'T LIFT BAN ON G. S. LINE REARDON SAYS

Noll May Recommend Re-Routing Lines; Nutley Fight Affects Bus Service Here

The numerous local transportation problems developed new angles on several fronts this week both in and out of town. The prospects are that there will be a long drawn out contest between the town and the Public Utilities Commission over the routes to be followed by both the Public Service Coordinated Transport Company and the Garden State Lines. Chief developments during the week were:

Public Utilities Commissioner Frank Reardon once again rebuffed the attempt of Commissioner Noll to have the restrictions on the Garden State's line to North Newark lifted and indicated that if there was an appeal it would go against the town.

Noll said that he would make a study of all lines in town with the possibility that he would recommend to the town and the Public Utilities Commission that some lines be re-routed.

In Nutley, Commissioner A. Theodore DeMuro, who is in charge of transportation there, acted on two lines which vitally affected Belleville.

He asked Public Service officials to adopt a "passive" attitude concerning the Garden State's North Newark line which runs through Nutley and then on to Belleville.

The Nutley executive also balked on issuing a local franchise to the Public Service for the line running from North Sixth street and Heller parkway over Franklin avenue in this town and on to Nutley.

Won't Give Up Fight

Noll said yesterday that he would not give up in his fight to have the Public Utilities Commission lift the restrictions which they have placed on the Garden State's line prohibiting them from picking up and discharging passengers within town on their trip to and from North Newark. He will so report to the Town Commission Tuesday night. The commissioner, Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan and Charles B. Tedesco conferred with Public Utilities Commissioner Reardon on Monday.

Reardon told them that if the town should file another appeal with the Commission it would be turned over to him for a hearing. He said that he would reject the application on the grounds that there has been no new developments or facts presented to alter the case which he has already turned down twice.

"While I have the greatest sympathy for those who are inconvenienced," Reardon said, "because of the enforcement of the general rules, I would refuse the petition without new grounds."

Noll will also report on the conference to the leaders of the group who secured the names on the petition to have the Garden State bus pick up and discharge passengers there east of Franklin avenue. At a conference with Public Service officials, Commissioner DeMuro asked them to re-ent on their opposition to the line both in Nutley and Belleville. The company's representatives denied that they had been responsible for the Public Utilities Commission's action, DeMuro said.

Balks On Franchise

The Nutley Public Safety director refused to give the company a local franchise for the line which they would run from Heller parkway to North Sixth street and Franklin avenue in this town and on to Franklin avenue. Nutley, with its northern terminal at Glendale loop. The bus would connect with the P. S. subway trolley service, getting the people using the line to Newark much faster than by any of the present lines.

DeMuro asked the P. S. to permit riders on other lines in Nutley which would cross the fast route to transfer to the line being contemplated without paying an extra fare. The P. S. representatives refused.

The commissioner has called a public hearing on the matter in the Nutley Town Hall for tomorrow night. He intimated that unless Public Service changes its attitude he will not grant the franchise. Belleville has already given local consent.

Community Thanksgiving Service For Wesley M. E. Church

The sixteenth annual Community Thanksgiving Service will be held this year in Wesley Methodist Church at Washington avenue next Thursday. The Ministers' Club of Belleville decided at its luncheon-meeting in the high school Tuesday. The Rev. Peter R. Deekenbach will preach the sermon.

The service will be held at 10 a.m. November 21.

FOOD FESTIVAL FOR MUTUAL

Company's Annual Big Sale Opens Today; Will End October 9

Local housewives will be afforded an opportunity to share mutually in the advantages of mass buying with Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co., owners and operators of the Mutual Super Markets, Mutual Food Stores and Big Chief Markets starting their annual Fall Food Festival today. Lasting until October 9, this savings event brings with it nationally advertised food products at unusually low prices. Every department in every store has outstanding values.

Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co. have served the residents of New Jersey with quality food products for seventy-six years. Operating wholly within the state through their Mutual Stores, Mutual Super Markets and Big Chief Super Markets, the company has dedicated itself to the principle of bringing food savings to customers through low prices. The company was among the first to bring housewives further food economies with the advent of the super markets first in New Jersey to make Tenderay Beef of guaranteed tenderness available to its customers, the company has been successful in proving that Tenderay "takes the gamble out of beef buying."

In addition to their large array of nationally advertised brands all the company's stores feature Ideal Brand products — and a private brand belonging exclusively to Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co. and sold only through stores operated by them. Ideal Brand represents a complete line of products all carefully selected and subject to high and rigid standards of quality and purity.

the true facts were made evident," said Heyer in his Saturday letter to the employees. "Mr. Riley made a statement which was not true and refused to allow us to bring the truth to your attention."

Heyer has stated several times that he is ready to meet at any time with the original Employees' Council which has been the intermediary between management and labor for more than five years. He said that he would not talk to the union representatives alone unless there is an election.

In a previous letter to the employees, mailed Thursday, Heyer claimed that the April request of the Council for vacations with pay had been granted and said that "the Council, after consultation with the employees, advised us that this request . . . would constitute the entire additional demands for the current work year of 1940."

He said that the strike was called without previous warning to the management and "we should have been given an opportunity to discuss this matter before such drastic action was taken."

Wrote To Miss Perkins

Heyer's wife to Miss Perkins requested a statement of her views on the public address question.

"We were advised yesterday by Mr. Frank J. Sheehan of your Conciliation Department that he could not assist us in settling our strike and thus making it possible for our employees to return to work, if we insisted on allowing the employees and other citizens concerned in this matter to hear the negotiations over a public address system."

"I cannot believe that the Labor Department of this free country of ours will refuse its services simply because all those concerned are to be included at the meeting. If this decision of your Mr. Sheehan is based upon the official attitude of the Labor Department, it means that labor disputes cannot be handled in the same manner as they are in the same American way used in all matters of community or national interest, such as legislative sessions, our courts or our halls of Congress."

"Your official statement in this important matter of labor policy, either made to the press or sent to us, will assist in breaking the deadlock now existing between our employees and ourselves over the method of negotiation. Your reply will be greatly appreciated."

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dunworth

Eckerson—Brown

Miss Dorothy Louise Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown of Stephens street, and Norman Eckerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eckerson of Nutley, will be wed Saturday afternoon at 4 at Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church by Rev. Edgar M. Compton. The church will be decorated with white gladioli. A reception at the home of the bride will follow the ceremony.

Miss Gertrude Eckerson, sister of the bridegroom-elect, will be Miss Brown's only attendant. A brother, Stanley, will be Mr. Eckerson's best man. Miss Brown's taffeta wedding dress will be made in princess style. Her fingertip veil will be held by a tiara of lilies of the valley. She will carry a bouquet of white roses with baby's breath. Miss Eckerson will be gowned in pink tulle taffeta and will carry pink roses.

Miss Brown was graduated from Belleville High School. After a trip in the New England States the couple will live at 25 Jefferson street.

Plan Mystery Ride

Final plans for a mystery bus ride will be discussed at tonight's meeting of the Henry Vreeland Woman's Relief Corps No. 32 at Montgomery Church Hall. Mrs. Gertrude Revere will preside. The ride for the benefit of the corps is scheduled to leave the church at 7:30 October 18.

Skyscraper Corn at Alderney Farm

Look to your laurels, Nebraska! Rising eleven and a half feet — and higher — the corn on Alderney Dairy Co.'s model Brooklawn Farm, Route 10, Morris Plains, has been attracting attention. Here is shown a measured stalk, picked at random, along the roadside, with Miss Dorothy Johnson, herself five feet eight, looking pretty tiny beside it. Nearby were stalks even higher — twelve to thirteen feet tall. Could it be that some day New Jersey will be having its annual corn-husking contests like the corn-belt region? Miss Johnson holds an ear of corn from the measured stalk. It's a meal-in-itself! —Adv.

DUNWORTHS WED FIFTY YEARS

Couple Will Be Remarried At Church Ceremony On Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dunworth of 27 Bremond street will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary Wednesday by being remarried at a mass in St. Mary's Church, Nutley. That evening their children will give them a big party in the home of the Irvington Elks.

Bill Dunworth and Mary Higgins were friends as children in Ireland. In 1885 she came to this country and he followed her two years later. In 1890 they were married in St. Joseph's Church, Newark. At that time he was working as an insurance agent.

In 1902 in Theodore Roosevelt's administration Dunworth was appointed to the post office in Newark. There he remained as a carrier until 1922 when he was transferred to the Belleville branch. His first assignment here was to the Joralemon street route, at that time mostly fields. After a few months, however, he was shifted to the Greylock section, where he remained until his retirement November 1, 1932. During his days as a letter carrier he estimates that he walked more than 85,000 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunworth now live quietly in their Bremond street home, spending much of their time putting in their garden. They have five children and eight grandchildren living in Irvington, Livingston and Maplewood.

Budd-Bennington Wedding Saturday at 3

The marriage of Miss Lillian Mae Bennington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bennington of Belleville avenue, and George Joseph Budd of Newark, will take place in St. Peter's Church Saturday at 3. Rev. Joseph M. Kelly will perform the ceremony after which a reception will be held at the Budd home. Thomas Brady of Stephens street will be vocalist.

Gowned in brocade satin with her long veil falling from a crown of white roses and lilies of the valley, Miss Bennington will carry a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. Her sister, Mrs. Eric Mayer of Bloomfield, as matron of honor, will wear an aquamarine blue costume with accessories and floral crown exactly matching her sister's. Miss Jeannette Guiren of Irvington, bridesmaid, will be identically dressed in pink. Both attendants will carry tea roses.

Miss Bennington was graduated from St. Peter's High School and Mr. Budd from Good Counsel High School in Newark. The latter is employed by the Manhattan Rubber Company of Passaic. After a short wedding trip, the couple will reside at 368 Belleville avenue.

Mrs. Steven A. Chevey of Malone avenue entertained at a desert-bridge this week for Mrs. William Aierstok, Mrs. Joseph Dunne and Mrs. M. J. Fox.

Annual Reminder About Fires

National Fire Prevention Week starts on Monday. It is the period annually set aside to remind the public of the dangers of fire and the losses which can be suffered through being careless. Fortunately, this is one of the communities in which the fire loss is comparatively low but we must constantly guard against the imminent danger. The pathetic thing about fires is that about seventy-five per cent of the blazes which occur annually in which millions of dollars' worth of property are destroyed and many lives are lost could be prevented.

Carelessness of the public is the most important cause of fire loss, but only slightly less in importance is the fateful mistake that many people make of waiting until it is too late to call the fire department. Fire is dangerous and regardless of how small a blaze may be people who are inexperienced in fighting fires and do not have the proper equipment, should not attempt to extinguish it. The fire department is paid to put out fires and they would rather be called out to put out a fire when it starts than be forced to battle unsuccessfully when it is too late.

Destroying Faith in a Privilege

From England in recent weeks have come stories of the bombing of Buckingham Palace. Instead of demoralizing or throwing fear into the English people, the incident rebounded against the Nazis, making the British more determined and united in their effort to stave off and eventually overcome Hitler and his armies. And why? Buckingham Palace represents the seat of the British Empire. Because it is the home of their King and Queen it is sacred to them and is a memorial to a tradition for which they have fought and striven to preserve for centuries.

There was nothing that the Nazi airmen could have done which would have more thoroughly aroused the ire of the British people than to have attempted to destroy the home and even to kill their King and Queen.

Democracy and the freedom which we enjoy under it is a tradition which we love and are willing to fight for in this county. The right to vote as we see fit is one of the freedoms which we are supposed to have. It is one of the foundations upon which democracy is built and when that privilege is infringed upon or tampered with, the democracy of which we so proudly boast is a mere sham.

Not as epochal or far reaching in its repercussion as the Buckingham Palace, but important to the people of New Jersey because it indirectly affects their daily lives, was the revelation, this week that in Hudson County the poll books for 1936 and

This Is Our Week

This being National Newspaper Week, we are supposed to pat ourselves on the back and tell the readers what a swell job we are doing for them. We would not get much satisfaction out of that. Our pleasure comes from knowing that this newspaper is being read. If the readers like what we print we seldom hear about it, but if they disagree with our views and what we have to say, we usually hear about it many times over again.

That is what we like. Our only measure of whether or not we are doing a good or a bad job is by the criticism which we receive. Sometimes the readers request from us that which is impossible, but more often than not their suggestions are worth while and we have attempted to abide by their wishes.

Praying For Day of Peace

Local Jews joined with their brethren throughout the world last night at sundown in the observance of the High Holy-days. Today is Rosh Hashonah, which marks the start of the Jewish year 5701. We add our hopes to those of others that the year to come may bring peace not only for those of the Jewish faith but for their fellowmen who sympathize with the oppression and suffering of which they have been the victims.

The Jews pray in their synagogues during this holy period in the hope that there will be peace in Europe. Jewish history has repeated itself many times during the past centuries. They have repeatedly been the object of oppression and suffering. Most

In a community like this it is impossible for us to realize the losses which this country suffers annually because of fires. The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that the annual fire loss in America is in excess of a quarter of a billion dollars. This is a staggering sum. The statistics of the Fire Underwriters show that among the causes which are listed as preventable are chimney fires with an average annual loss of $25,000,000; fires from hot ashes, coals and open fires with losses totalling $6,000,000; from matches and smoking the loss rises to the amazing sum of $35,000,000; from sparks on the roof losses are over $15,000,000; rubbish and litter accounts for losses of more than $2,000,000, and fires started because of defective furnaces, boilers and pipes amount to $23,000,000.

This town has a good fire prevention record which is a tribute not only to the residents but to the members of the Fire Department whose quick action in fighting those blazes which do occur has prevented heavy losses.

1937 had been burned. Many times the finger of guilt has been pointed toward the county which is dominated by Mayor Hague of Jersey City but seldom has it been backed up by tell-tale evidence.

Before this week is out the legal wizards of Hudson may uncover some loophole in the law which may permit them to wriggle out of theoretical guilt, but stamped on them is the unanswerable fact that they must have had something to hide. Hudson County and its elections have been the target of Mayor Hague's political opponents for years. In 1937 they alleged that Hague had stolen the gubernatorial election from Rev. Lester H. Clee by the wholesale dumping of illegal votes into the ballot box for Governor Moore. If, as Hague has long contended, the elections in Hudson County were honest, then why hide and burn the poll books from the critics? Why did he not throw the books open to them so they could have a look for themselves?

In the latest of the surprising moves in Hudson County which has repeatedly thumbed its nose at the rest of the state, Hague has provided the people with something not only to think about but do something about on November 5.

Honesty in elections is one of the privileges which we have been granted. But how can there be an honest election when one of the most heavily populated counties votes as one man dictates and casts the number of votes which are required to assure their interests victory in an election?

A newspaper's only value is estimated by the interest that it creates among its readers. Our primary job is to be of value to the community and the parts of it which make it worth while. If we have been helpful to them, we feel that we have done a good job.

We do not attempt to pattern ourselves after our bigger brothers, the daily newspapers, although our paths frequently cross. Ours is a community task.

It is our duty to judge each week the news which is most interesting and of importance to Belleville. When stories do not appear it is caused by one of two things — lack of space because of the use of more important stories or that their content is such that they do not belong in a community newspaper.

invariably their punishment was an excuse to satisfy some ruler foe with a lust for power. In the last two centuries the fortunes of the Jews have been better but early in this decade they once again saw suffering with the rise of the Nazi regime in Germany. They were the stepping stone for Hitler in his appeal to a nation fraught with misfortune. Upon them was heaped the abuse for the economic troubles of Germany. The feeling against the Jews has spread into every country where dictators rule.

The world joins with them in the hope that the day is not far off when the Jews once again may live in all parts of the world without fear.

EMPHASIZE YOUTH AT FEWSMITH

Sesquicentennial Sunday Program To Re-Establish Christian Influence Among Youth

The culmination of the Sesquicentennial Fund will come for the Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church on Sunday. At this time every Presbyterian Church in the land will offer its members an opportunity to have their share in an effort to re-establish Christian influence among college youth. Sesquicentennial Sunday is an effort which originated four years ago in an appeal made by the Board of Christian Education to promote Christian education through the Sesquicentennial Fund. A goal to raise $10,000,000 was set to undergird the Presbyterian colleges and Westminster Foundations. Its ultimate purpose is to make certain that the young men and women attending college will be provided with an adequate opportunity for a Christian relationship.

In the Church School and Youth Bible Class at 9:45 "Christian Training for Christian Living" will be the theme. Holy Communion will be offered at 11 and the Communion offering will be placed toward the Sesquicentennial Fund. At 6 the Fewsmith All-Youth will meet for a cafeteria supper, followed by the Young People's Fellowship at 7. The Edwards Gospel Singers will be the guests of the young people and will informally discuss their work and acquaint the youth with the history and problems of their own church, the Second Baptist Church located at Stephen and Academy streets.

A special Sunday evening service at 8 has been arranged by the Board of Deacons to complete the program. To demonstrate the effect of Christian education upon youth, three Fewsmith young people will speak briefly. Their topics will be "Body, Mind and Spirit" with Ted Close, Jane Horvath and Harold Fairweather presenting the messages. Motion pictures depicting the "Log Cabin Schoolhouse" will supplement their talks. The musical service will be conducted by the Edwards Gospel Singers.

The other officers to be inducted are George Beasley of Arlington, vice-grand; Chester Chinnock of 173 Cedar Hill avenue, financial secretary; Hely F. Hickock of 200 Greylock parkway, recording secretary; Howard A. Holmes of 479 Union avenue, treasurer, and Richard A. Van Esselstine of 379 DeWitt avenue, trustee.

Three More Entertainers For Petrean Dance

Patrick Ormsby, juvenile protégé of the Bayonne Elks Club, has been added to the list of entertainers who will perform at the Irish-American dance of the Petrean Club in St. Peter's Hall October 11. Sue Healy and John Cavanaugh will also be on the program.

Patrick Ormsby is only twelve but has already acquired considerable reputation as the featured soloist on Nick Kenny's World's Fair radio program. Healy and Cavanaugh are well-known exhibition Irish dancers in the metropolitan area. Matthew Ryan of Jorammon street will sing several baritone solos. Shaun Hayes' orchestra will play for dancing.

Applications for membership are again being accepted. William Connolly is chairman of the membership committee. Any young man or woman over seventeen will be considered. Six applications were received Tuesday.

The club has voted to enter a team in St. Peter's Holy Name Basketball League. Games will be played Saturday afternoons in the school auditorium. Miss Grace Kaiser, entertainment committee chairman, announced that arrangements have been completed for a roller skating party to be held at the Highway Arena, Hillside, October 20.

FREDDIE POLO COUNTED OUT

Well-Known Welterweight Boxer Succumbs After Illness of Two Years

A solemn requiem mass was offered in St. Anthony's Church, Silver Lake, Tuesday morning for Frederick DiPaolo of 96 Magnolia street, better known as Freddie Polo, one of the well-known welter-weight boxers. Freddie died Friday night in Columbus Hospital, Newark, after an illness of two years. He was thirty-five.

The high point in his fistic career came in 1927 when he won twenty-five fights, all but three by knockouts. In 1931 he was forced from the ring because of an eye injury and became a chanceman here. He tried a comeback but a knockout at the hands of Teddie Yarosz in 1933 influenced him to retire permanently.

Freddie's greatest ambition was to become a member of the police force as a regular patrolman but his ill health prevented attaining it. He had undergone many operations in the past two years, which drained heavily on the money he made in the ring. Since 1933 he had been employed in Federal Leather Company at 681 Main street.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lucy DiPaolo; two sons, Fred J. and Thomas; a daughter, Theresa; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore DiPaolo of 99 Franklin street; three brothers and five sisters. Interment was in Glendale Cemetery.

Father of St. Peter's Church Priest Passes at 84

Timothy Nelligan, father of Rev. John S. Nelligan, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Church, died Sunday morning after an illness of several months. He was eighty-four and was a resident of Pittsburgh, Pa. Besides Father Nelligan, he leaves his widow and ten children, all living in New England.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

By Meador Wright

The most certain thing about the present campaign — state as well as national — is its uncertainty. A month hence, when voters are nearly ready to go to the polls, it may be possible to make an intelligent prediction. Today such a prediction would be nothing more than a guess. New Jersey looks close, with the odds favoring the Republicans, due largely to the scandal of the burned election records in Hudson County. The national outlook veers between a large popular majority for Roosevelt and a small electoral majority for Willkie. But a large psychological advantage the Republican party might have in New Jersey. Hence, if Roosevelt is conceded a definite advantage on the national stage, an even break is about the best that can be accorded the Republicans in New Jersey. But a substantial majority for Roosevelt, in my judgment, depends upon the continued belief of the American people that his foreign policies have been wiser than might have been expected had Willkie or some other Republican leader been president in his stead. Events have proved that Roosevelt's policy of excommunicating Hitler and Mussolini and extending aid to Britain was more popular than his opponents believed it would be. Which is but one more example of the President's uncanny power for understanding popular trends.

Japanese Pact Is Watched

But as Arthur Krock pointed out in the September 29 issue of The New York Times, the Nazi-Japanese pact may produce an opposite reaction. There can be no doubt but that this pact was an ultimatum to the United States not to take too active a role in the war between England and Germany. To ignore that ultimatum makes the foreign policy of the United States more dangerous than ever. To yield to it even slightly involves a possible serious loss of face on the part of the administration.

But those who have opposed Roosevelt's foreign policy have done so largely on the ground that they believed those policies extremely dangerous. These same policies now become even more dangerous. Ordinarily this should strengthen the opposition to his foreign policies and therefore work to the advantage of Willkie. But war sentiment — or at least an aggressive non-belligerency — may have developed such momentum that even a new danger in the Pacific will not deflect it.

Full speed ahead and damn the torpedos is still likely to be the motto of a young giant like America which has not tasted defeat in 160 years, except for a little squabble with Great Britain in 1812 which neither side took too seriously. But the new pact has not been pulling long enough at its writing for one to be sure of the reaction. Hence uncertainty still towers over certainty.

As to the gubernatorial contest in New Jersey, the glare of the burned poll books in Hudson has tended to obscure even the national picture. There are rumors that Charles Edison is thinking about a public denunciation of Hague's entire election technique.

Such a denunciation, in my judgment, would make Edison the most popular man in the history of New Jersey and would all but guarantee his election. Under present conditions it wouldn't cost him more than 10,000 Hudson machine votes and would gain him 200,000 independent votes. He would take courage to make the denunciation, but failure to make it may prove to be more disastrous. Pressure from Washington may be exerted to restrain Edison on the theory that if no cars are upset, the inertia of the expected national sweep will carry New Jersey along. But the West Orange man has been put in the position where the Nazi philosophy of living dangerously is forced upon him.

Since the Republican county ticket in Essex is considered almost certain to win, regardless of the presidential or gubernatorial outcome, speculation has turned to the three congressional contests in Essex. In the Eleventh District, Albert L. Freeland is assured of wide support among all groups and should win even in the face of a Democratic landslide. Fred A. Hartley won in the race of the Roosevelt sweep of four years ago. Few observers believe there will be such a Democratic majority there this year due to the fact that nearly a fourth of the total vote of the district is Italian-American. These Italian voters will ballot strongly for Willkie if present signs are borne out. In doing so they should put Hartley in, regardless of general sentiment. Some criticism has been leveled at Hartley because of his vote against conscription, but most observers believe he has retained the loyalty of most of his former supporters.

Twelfth District Analysis

In the Twelfth District Robert W. Kean should win easily unless the same Democratic landslide should engulf the district as did in 1936. The Republicans lost the district there largely because of the attitude of voters in the Ninth and Sixteenth Wards, predominantly Jewish. Two years ago these wards swung back in the Republican direction. But if the Jewish vote goes to Roosevelt again anything can happen in the congressional contest.

The strong shift in sentiment in the Ninth and Sixteenth Wards which gives the vote for congressional candidates for the last three elections:

	1934	1936	1938
Republican	7,630	9,790	9,591
Democratic	12,037	23,285	13,953

Demo. maj. 4,361 13,495 4,362

In 1934, the Republicans carried the Twelfth District, of which the wards are a part, by 7,000 votes. In 1936, they lost it by 300 votes. In 1938 they carried it

YOU meet the most interesting people!

... And usually they are the most genuine ... Take Col. Bill Kelly, the ex-Collector of Internal Revenue, probably the most colorful of men-about-town, who so casually tells you at noon-time in the lobby of the Hotel Robert Treat that he will be having dinner in Chicago, and then will push on, by air, of course, to the Coast ... Or Glen Gray, whose Casa Loma orchestra's appearance is virtually a command for the younger set, wherever you find a more splendid naturalness and a celebrity more willing to listen than talk; they'll all tell you that the "Well, West" in Caldwell, where Glen and a party from the Meadowbrook dropped in as the guests of the "Well, Bob Wyder Sunday night ... Or Sally Rand, who was to the San Francisco Fair as much of the theme as the Tylon and Persphere was over on the Flushing Meadows. As a guest of the Treat in Newark during her local professional appearances, she was rated by all the most pleasing of the hostelry's house guests since the visit a year ago of Martha Raye ... One of the best-liked patrons of Alderney Dairy's milk barn on Route 10 is a prominent Manhattan corporation lawyer who has business interests in North Jersey and never misses an opportunity to drop into the Alderney barn for ice cream sodas. His name is Edward J. Welch.

Another intermittent Newark visitor who has all the weight of his illustrious late father's estate on his shoulders, but who is tops with gellhops, room clerks and all the rest is Victor Herbert, Jr., son of the famed American composer ... You can't say Charles Edison, Jimmy Cromwell, ex-Gov. Harold Hoffman, Representative Fred Hartley aren't regular fellows ... And F.D.R., when he was last in Newark, sat around the Treat as informally as you or I.

IT'S the old story — the bigger they come, the nicer they are ... And the smaller they are the bigger they pretend ... D. W. Griffith, producer of America's first super-motion picture "Birth of a Nation," was so quietly reserved during a recent stay in Newark the newspapers never knew he was here ... Rudy Vallee is another who will stop to chat even if he has a train to catch ...

AT Busch's jewelry store at Newark's Broad and William streets, the other day, a gentle giant, slightly less than $300 worth of jewelry trinkets in the time it takes to have a carton of cigarettes wrapped up. He paid in cash and left with a pleasant good-day. One of the clerks explained later that he is one of Manhattan's biggest financiers, who in a moment of generosity had decided, while passing through Newark, to pick up some presents for members of his secretarial staff.

ICE cream cone eaters at the Alderney Barn include a retired U. S. Army General, and an ex-Governor of New Jersey ... They have the cones carried out to their cars and they revel in them like schoolboys on a lark ... A local police chief makes weekly Sunday trips to the Alderney Barn for a glass of buttermilk ... Incidentally, have you tried Alderney's new homogenized irradiated vitamin D milk? ... Alderney homogenized literally "explodes" the milk under tremendous pressure and breaks up the butter fat globules into tiny particles which are easily digested and distributed throughout the milk. The milk is creamy to the very last drop, and every drop is the same. —A.V.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

Most statistics bring in their wake deductions which bear thinking about and which sometimes are significant of progress. No exception to this is the figure recently compiled which shows that a much greater percentage of men and women in the past ten years have gray hair. No alarming conclusion is to be instantly drawn that worry and economic pressure are the causes, even though the figure is as high as ninety per cent. A not so obvious, but definitely encouraging reason is given. Women, we are told, are no longer making such efforts on a large scale to conceal their "turning" locks; rather, they are realizing the flattery of a silvery sheen and playing it up with expert grooming and immaculate cleanliness.

Since this is a subject which eventually concerns most women, it bears thinking about. For those who are quite young it is a comforting thought that one bugaboo of the future may be dismissed; for those whose hair is actually graying there is the realization that a gentle frosting will actually do wonders for the texture of their hair and will go a long way toward softening facial characteristics which may be getting more angular.

Clever hairdressers encourage this "vague" with which gray hair softens the features by suggesting at all times a fluffy, fairly loose coiffure. This does not mean fuzzy or uncombed hair. But it does mean that stiff waves and curls should be avoided. In the latter the white hairs stand out in sharp contrast and make the hair appear coarse. The hair must be kept very clean, of course, and lightly blue.

Don't Dye It

Golden glints are a characteristic of all young hair with the possible exception of the very dark brunettes. It is a cheerful thought that the silvery sheen of later years may do quite as much for a woman's general attractiveness if they are spared the ugly artifice of dye.

The day will be a happy one for women when all shops offer a color analysis test. This consists of the donning under strong daylight of a number of big ruffs or collars in varying tones of all the popular colors. They are arranged so that they frame the face and give the effect of the color both above and below the eyes. The same performance is repeated under an artificial light so that the best colors for evening wear are also detected.

How many of us buy a gown in an artificial light and trust to luck that the effect in daylight will be just as charming? And how many times are we disappointed even though we may hardly admit it to ourselves? Are we not also prone to buy a hat in our favorite color or simply to match a particular dress when this color may have an utterly unflattering effect worn above the eyes? Lots of these false convictions of ours can be eliminated by tests such as the one described, and many regrets and unworn hats and dresses can be saved thereby.

Shop For Color

In the luxury shops where these details are attended to the shopper is provided with swatches of the colored fabrics which most flatter her complexion and eyes. If she is willing to abide by them her most troublesome problem is solved. A little ingenuity while shopping will enable most of us to buy more successfully. Shop for color!

Along this important line comes the suggestion also that we women surround ourselves at home with our most becoming colors. We should not make the mistake of choosing furniture upholstery and draperies in shades which we ordinarily do not wear because we know them to be unbecoming. Is it sensible to eschew rust because it makes your skin appear sallow and then choose a sofa upholstered in it on which to sit when you would most like to impress your guests? It's not a far-fetched or selfish idea to ensemble your home and your wardrobe, either. It's only an ingenious method of fulfilling your most important role as creator and guardian of the beauty with which you long to surround your family and friends.

Donating money to the Red Cross, especially when it entails sacrifice or labor on our part, is commendable enough; but there is work being done in our nation today that seems to bring us even closer to the cardinal principles of humanity and charity behind this great endeavor. Those who cannot contribute money are finding the highest satisfaction in converting their own old clothing or knitted goods into wearable protection for the refugees of Europe. A torn sweater may yield enough wool for several of the pointed peasant shawls which many European women prefer to any other head covering.

Baby blankets are being pieced from odds and ends of woolsens; dainty collars are added to little girls' dresses by means of discarded handkerchiefs; hooks and buttons that were almost thrown away are being salvaged for use; and sturdier things like army blankets and nurses' capes are turning into outer clothes and undergarments for boys and girls.

Honey Articles Appreciated

There is something fine and strong about this typical American resourcefulness. It is something each individual can do without resorting to group work with ready cut materials. Unless we are a very poor judge of human nature these honey articles will not be confused by their recipients with the factory made garments which they will also receive. The courage and hope which has been sewn and knitted into them will encase the forlorn bodies of the needy as effectively as their warm materials and add impetus to the great organization which bears the heavy burden of getting them to their destination.

Recipe Column

One of the cheeriest notes of this colorful season is the glow of the vari-colored piles of apples which may be seen in fruit and vegetable displays everywhere. Many varieties of green, yellow and red cooking apples are available and they are a logical selection for desserts while they are at their prime. Chosen from our fascinating Department of Agriculture Cook Book are two desserts which we have tested and found delicious and satisfying.

Apple Sauce Cake

1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 cup unsweetened apple sauce
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup chopped raisins
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream the butter and sugar together, add the apple sauce. Mix the raisins with one-half cup flour, sift the rest with the spices, soda and salt and add the dry ingredients to the liquid mixture. Beat well, pour into a greased pan, and bake in a very moderate oven (300 to 325 degrees) for about one hour.

Apple Turnovers

Pastry: 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
5 or 6 tablespoons fat
About 2 1/2 tablespoons water

Mix the flour and salt and work in the fat with the fingers or a biscuit cutter. When the flour and fat are "grainy," add the water slowly and use no more than absolutely necessary to make a stiff dough. Roll on a lightly floured board and cut in rounds about the size of a large saucer.

Filling: Sliced apples
Sugar, cinnamon and salt combined
Butter

On one-half of a pastry round arrange slices of apples in layers keeping well away from the edge of the pastry. Sprinkle with the mixture of sugar, cinnamon and salt and dot with butter. Moisten the lower rim of pastry, fold the top portion over it and press the two edges together firmly with the tines of a fork. Prick the top crust thoroughly so that the steam can escape. Bake in a moderate oven (375 to 400 degrees) for about 20 minutes, or until apples are tender. Serve piping hot with a hard or foamy sauce.

Popular Fall and Winter Choice

Large, almost invisible plaids such as the one which makes the woolen suit above are a popular choice for fall and winter. None of the advance style notes are missing from this design—the long jacket, the beautifully cut skirt, which gives a slim line and yet retains the freedom of a slight flare, and the rich dark brown coloring which everyone wants to own this fall. It is warmly interlined and may be worn well into the winter with the addition of a topcoat.

Autumn Is Open Season For Sports Clothes

Two-piece Wool Outfits Worn Under Camel's Hair Topcoats Are Just The Thing For Football Games; Many Brilliant Fall Color Combinations Offered

Fall is the time of year above all others that makes every woman yearn for trim sports clothes even though her activities may be limited to witnessing an occasional football game. At no other time of the year either are nature's colors borrowed so lavishly and so effectively. The rich browns, greens and gold highlighted with plenty of red make every woman determine to take advantage of them before we go into the more sophisticated black for winter. A very representative costume containing all the essentials of a good fall outfit is a two-piece woolen dress worn under one of the new camel's hair coats. The dress of soft plaid woolen is brown and white. Notice that white backgrounds are especially good this year.

The numerous fine lines of brown which alternate with the blocks of brown give the plaid an almost misty appearance. This dress is made with short sleeves and a frankly flared skirt. The neck is designed to be worn tightly closed or in an open casual "v." The waist length below is of solid brown with long, fitted sleeves for comfort and style. Worn with alligator brown suede shoes and a plain brown sports hat the attractiveness of the dress is brought out without being overshadowed.

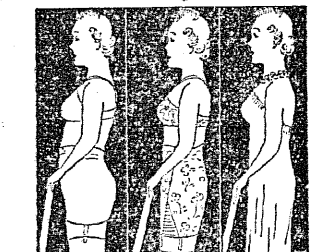

A big, soft leather bag with handles goes carelessly over the arm. It contains the trick of the season in the presence of a little gold slot half way down one side which matches the gold clasp. This little catch pulls out exactly as the coin receiver in a bagatelle machine performs only you are surprised pleasantly to find a nickel reposing there. Refills come from the interior where you put in seven at a time. Even if you never have to commute on a bus this irresistible gadget is handy for phone call nickels.

Best Buy For All

Best buy of all, in our opinion, is the topcoat which finishes off this ensemble. It retains the features we have always loved in our sports coats such as the notched collar and belt; but it has a subtle fullness beginning above the waist, where darts take away the "flat-chested" appearance, and running right down into the large patch pockets. This gives a ripple to the skirt and the soft note is carried out in the "tied" belt which is not nearly so harsh as the buckled effect.

It's getting so we love to run over the names of the colors used in this season's dressy coats: Yukon Gold, Jersey Sand, Mystery Blue and Firehouse Red, to name only a few. Lovely brown furs

The Scream of Sirens—

The scream of a siren — another fire — with its attendant loss of property and possibly of human life. And the saddest part of it all is that it could have been prevented.

Your Fire Chief can recount hideous tales of fires and their toll of property and human life. He has many ideas on Fire Prevention that he'll be pleased to give you — if you'll give him the opportunity. Remember — It is his job to "Stop Fires Before They Start." Why not give him the chance to help you prevent fire in your home or store?

Fire—Nation's Worst Enemy—

Millions of dollars go up in smoke every year — perhaps some of them will be yours unless you take every precaution to prevent fire in your own home or business. Do your part now — today. Check over every possible place in your home that is used for a "catch-all." Have competent workmen check heating plants, electric wiring, etc. It may pay you enormous dividends in property saved — as well as human life.

Check Your Own Home or Business for Fire Hazards Today:

The surest way of preventing fire is with a periodical systematic check-up. This can be easily and quickly done by obtaining the aid of your entire family. Children should definitely help in this check-up . . . it will make them fully realize the dangers, causes and precautions of how to prevent fires.

1. CHECK all electrical wiring, units and appliances for shorts, faulty connections and overloads.
2. REMOVE all rubbish and waste from basement, attic, garage and around buildings.
3. USE non-inflammable cleaning fluids only! Keep any and all cleaning fluids away from excess heat.
4. KEEP matches away from children. Always be sure a match is completely out before throwing away.
5. HAVE all gas pipes and connections inspected periodically.
6. DON'T bring gasoline into a house.
7. TAKE caution with burning cigarettes.
8. KEEP your furnace, furnace room and coal bin clean and orderly. Keep them clear of any rubbish.
9. ALWAYS have a ground wire on your radio.

Like Grandmother, Like Granddaughter Except...

Grandmother used a kerosene lamp, which provided the best kind of illumination that could be had in her time. Granddaughter can use an I.E.S. Better Sight lamp, the best lamp for home lighting made today.

I.E.S. Better Sight lamps are made to specifications of the Illuminating Engineering Society. They provide a combination of direct and indirect light that is soft and restful for eyes.

Note that the I.E.S. lamp (above right) and the kerosene lamp (above left) are similar in styling... the crystal pebble glass font, the "wick key" and the marble base. The beauty of the old kerosene lamp is retained in this model I.E.S. table lamp.

I.E.S. table and floor lamps are made in many beautiful styles. They add beauty to rooms and bring lighting up to modern standards. Use I.E.S. Better Sight lamps in your home.
