

THE VOLUNTEERS WILL FILL FIRST DRAFT QUOTA

Eleven Men Will Leave For Camp Next Week; 220 By June 30

The first contingent of Belleville men who will leave for military training camp a week from Friday will be composed entirely of volunteers, it was indicated yesterday by the local Selective Service Board. Belleville's quota has been set at eleven men to be called November 29 and there have been twelve volunteers to date.

Preliminary reports are believed to indicate that all the volunteers passed their physical examinations. Examinations began last Thursday night and continued Friday. Dr. Edward A. Flynn, chief medical examiner, said yesterday that examinations would be held on Friday this week at 7:30 instead of Thursday, because of Thanksgiving.

The town will send 220 men between now and next June 30, according to the quotas announced Friday by the State Draft Headquarters at Trenton. The local board has sent out 250 questionnaires and will continue to send them out at a rate of 100 a week until the first of the year.

The eleven men who will go to camp next week will be inducted into Army service at the Sussex Avenue Armory, Newark. The twelve men who have volunteered thus far are:

Edmund Strzykowski of 466 Joralemon street; Bernard S. Barnett, 11 Minker place; Kenneth H. Bedford, 33 Perry street; Theodore P. Sanok, 16 Montgomery place; Joseph D. Moraski, 24 Hilton street; Carmen Cerlingione, 13 Brook street; Lucian A. Bailey, 125 Bell street; Joseph S. Nowakowski, 357 Washington avenue; James A. Finnegan, 93 B. Mohr street; Thomas J. AMERICAN WAY IS HOPE OF WORLD

Freedom and Tolerance Must Be Instilled In Youth; Rabbi Tells Parents

The American way of life is the hope of the world. While civilizations are crumbling on all sides, the American way follows the principles of freedom and tolerance and these are the principles which must be instilled into the youth of the nation daily by parents, teachers and clergy. This was the message of Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, spiritual leader of Congregation A. A. A., when he spoke Sunday night at the union service of the Parent-Teacher Associations in Belleville. The service, at which more than 500 persons were present, was held in Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Dr. O. Bell Close, pastor of Fawcett, introduced the Rabbi. The Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach of Christ Episcopal, the Rev. Walter J. Lake of Grace Baptist, the Rev. Dr. John A. Struyk of Dutch Reformed and the Rev. Edgar M. Compton of Wesley Methodist also participated in the service.

Rabbi Dobin had chosen as his topic "Character Building in the American Way." He listed different tests of character and asked his listeners to remember the mutual assistance necessary among children, parents and instructors to train the nation's youth in the proper channels.

Lists Necessary Tests

One test he offered was the ability to do "the right thing at the right time, to lay the stress on the correct things in life." The "privilege of living in one's own sphere" was another test; of knowing one's proper place in the democratic way of doing things and the privilege of doing one's part in the whole social scheme of things.

Obedience to properly constituted authority is necessary, he declared. It is also essential to "follow through an action once begun, to follow through on the principles on which our nation was founded." "Lengthen your ropes and strengthen your stays," he said, meaning to get the proper knowledge and gain a firm foundation in life.

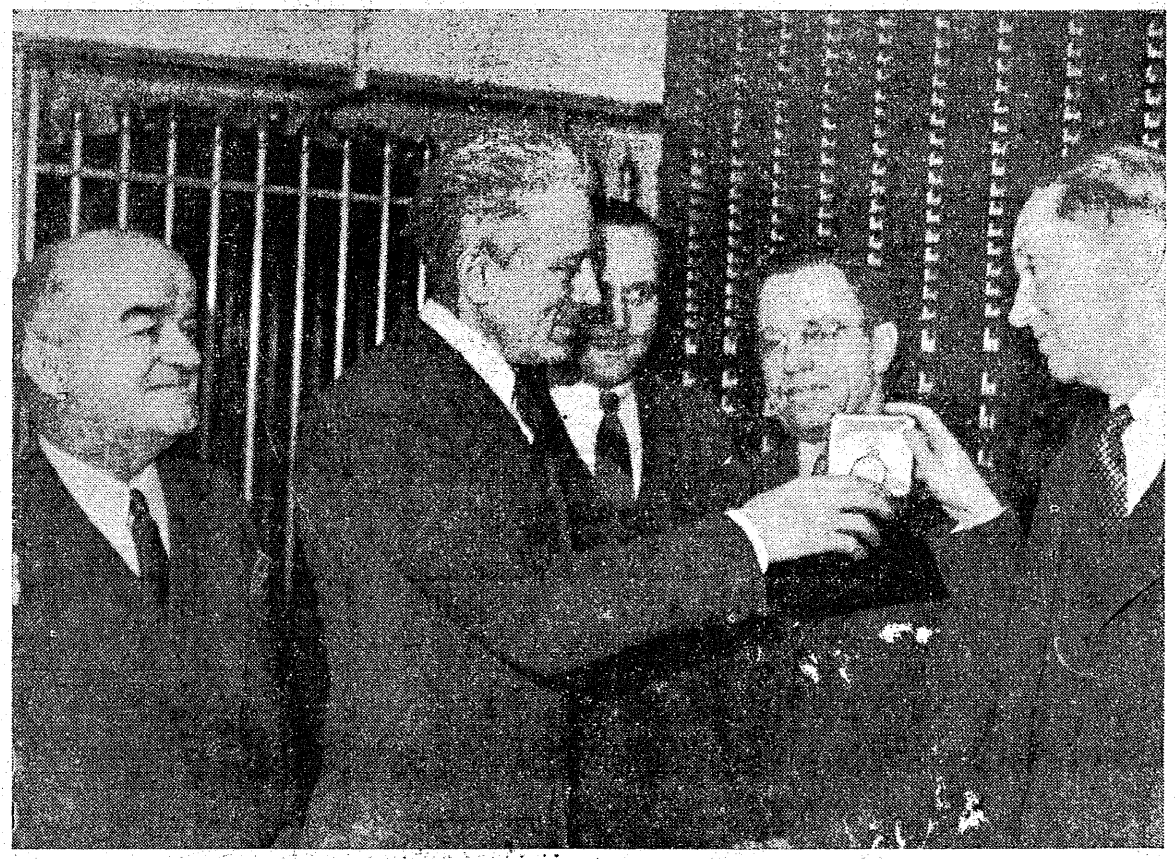

A fifty-voice chorus composed of members of the junior choirs of several churches sang several selections. Charles Watson sang a tenor solo, "Seek Ye the Lord." Arthur S. Ackerman was at the organ.

The union service idea was inaugurated by Mrs. Lloyd E. Reeves. A brief address of welcome was made by Charles Thompson, president of the Belleville Council of Parent-Teacher Associations. William E. Rame was in charge of the musical program.

Now, Who'll Get The Watch?

Yesterday morning at 10 Mayor Williams wound up a brand new watch in the vault of the People's National Bank and set it for 10 a.m. Victor Hart, president of the Lions Club and a Washington Avenue jeweler, attested to the fact that the timepiece was in good working order. The watch was then handed over to Recorder Everett B. Smith who placed it in a safe deposit box in the bank's vault. It's all part of the Lions' program to raise money for underprivileged children and to aid youngsters who have defective vision.

The watch will be removed from the vault on February 6 of next year. The person who comes closest to predicting the time at which the watch has stopped will be presented with a timepiece.

PRINCETON HONORS M. J. TIERNAN

W.T. President Is Named Member of University Fund Committee

The appointment of Martin F. Tiernan, of Essex Fells, president of Wallace & Tiernan Co. of Main street, to the Princeton University Fund was announced this week by Albridge C. Smith '03, of South Orange, chairman of the fund.

The Princeton University Fund was organized early this year as a permanent department to coordinate and conduct all money-raising activities of the university. Its membership is composed of three trustees of the university, of which Mr. Smith is one, three alumni, one faculty member, one undergraduate and one representative of the parents of Princeton men and other friends of the University who are not alumni.

Mr. Tiernan, an alumnus of the University of Rochester and of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will represent on the fund the group of persons who are interested in Princeton but are not directly tied to it as alumni, undergraduates or officers. Mr. Tiernan is the father of three Princetonians, Martin T. Tiernan '39, a former Princeton football player, Charles W. Tiernan '41 and John W. Tiernan '44.

A number of committees of the fund are now at work, under alumni leadership, to increase the material assets of the university and to meet the needs of the educational program. Most active of these groups is the committee on annual giving which, under the chairmanship of Harold G. Helm '20, of Montclair, is developing a program of regular yearly contributions from alumni to provide funds which the university can use to meet immediate needs.

Grapevine Says Belleville Is An Okay Place

Vagrant Tells Judge That Town And Cops Have A Nation-wide Reputation For Being Very Hospitable To The Night Lodgers

Belleville has a nation-wide reputation for hospitality to vagrants and the local police are known from here to Texas as a "bunch of swell guys." This has been known for some time, but it came from authoritative lips Monday morning as Police Recorder Smith sentenced David Bell of 268 Market street, Newark, to thirty days in the county jail for loitering in an intoxicated condition in a local house.

"Word has gone out over the grapevine that Belleville is a nice place to flop," Chief Spatz told Judge Smith. "Yeah, I heard that, too," Bell said, adding "None of these other places around here will put a guy up for the night." Spatz added that men have come to the local headquarters from as far away as Texas saying that they had been tipped off that "the place to go in the East is Belleville."

Overnight lodging was given to forty-four men between November 1 and 10. Then, the chief said, new policies went into effect. Bell will be given to men passing through while in search of a job or whose character can be attested to. There will be no more free lodging for "bums."

Sleeping In Hallway

Bell was picked up last week when a frightened woman at 88 Washington Avenue telephoned police headquarters that there was a man asleep in her hallway. Police said that the man was "dead drunk." He was jailed here until the hearing Monday.

Bell admitted having been arrested twice in Rochester, N. Y., and "several times" in Newark. Every time for intoxication. Later, when questioning, he admitted doing time for petty larceny — "but that was when I was young and it didn't amount to anything."

CHRISTMAS CLUBS WILL PAY OUT $165,000

3,077 Members To Get Checks Monday From Two Banks; Best Year Since 1930

Christmas Club checks totalling $165,000 will be sent to 3,077 members by the town's two financial institutions the Peoples Bank and Trust Co. and the First National Bank. This is the largest amount that has been distributed since 1930 when the two banks issued checks for $185,000. The amount is nearly $25,000 ahead of last year when checks totalling $140,471 were sent out.

The postmen will play Santa Claus on Monday according to the announcement by both banks. Checks will be put into the mail on Saturday night. The First National will mail 1,771 checks amounting to $105,000 while the Peoples' National Bank club members will receive 1,300 checks with a value of $60,000.

The Christmas Club plan locally hit its low point in 1934 when only $107,000 was distributed. It has been steadily on the rise since then. Here is how the figures compare for the past ten years:

1940—$165,000	1934—$107,300
1939—$140,471	1933—$126,000
1938—$126,000	1932—$140,500
1937—$125,000	1931—$162,500
1936—$123,478	1930—$185,000
1935—$106,500

Increase Nationally

Herbert F. Rawll, president of the Christmas Club national movement reports that 4,800 banking and savings institutions throughout the country are distributing $365,000,000 to more than 7,500,000 members during the next two weeks. The total distribution for the year is in excess of 1939 by about four and one-half percent. The average distribution per member amounts to $48.50 as against $48.80 for last year.

While it is difficult to tell what members will do with the money which they receive, it is estimated that between thirty-five and forty percent of them will use it to make Christmas purchases. Others place it in permanent savings accounts, to pay year end bills taxes and insurance premiums.

Christmas Club members in New Jersey will receive about $26,000,000. New York leads the states with $106,000,000 to be distributed.

AMERICANIZATION NIGHT AT ELKS

Mayor And School Superintendent Among Principal Speakers

A crowd of 325 witnessed the ceremonies and listened to the addresses at the Americanization program conducted at the Elks' Auditorium Friday evening by the local B.P.O.E. Chapter. Rev. Walter P. Lake of Grace Baptist Church pronounced the invocation and massing of colors was performed jointly by the American Legion, V. F. W. posts and the Boy and Girl Scouts. Music was supplied by the high school band.

William J. McCormack of West Orange, deputy grand exalted ruler of the New Jersey North-west District, traced in his address the participation of the Elks in national defense from the time of the formation of the order after the Civil War through all the national and international conflicts down to the present day.

Mayor Williams spoke on the possible needs of this locality as regards defense measures in case of national emergency and outlined the steps which could be taken in organizing for the protection of industry. He also stressed the need for caution on the part of citizens who had reason to suspect others of unfriendly actions toward this democracy. False rumors should not be started, he said, but all suspicious actions should be reported to the proper authorities.

The continued urgency of educating youth in the principles of democracy was discussed by Wayne Farmer, superintendent of schools and the high principles of citizenship maintained by the Elks was discussed by William Jerneck, past exalted ruler of Nutley Elks Lodge. He also cited the charitable efforts of the local lodge which is now supervising the care of sixty-seven crippled children either in their homes or in institutions.

The meeting was concluded with benediction by Rev. Willard Borchers, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church. John Deeny was chairman in charge of arrangements.

Junior High School Is Needed, Expert Tells School Board

O. P. Dales Informs Officials It Is A Necessity; The High School Is "Terrifically Overcrowded"

Belleville's crying educational need is a junior high school, the Board of Education was told again last night when Dr. O. P. Dales, school survey expert, made his long-awaited report on his study of the local school system from A to Z and from School No. 1 to School No. 10. The junior high school is practically a necessity, Dales said, to relieve the "terrific overcrowding" in the high school. "I never saw a town so completely set for a junior high," Dales declared as he condemned the use of the cafeteria, library and auditorium for study rooms in the high school. The fifty-page report will be studied by the school board and Dales will be asked to come back at a later date to explain any unclear details.

THREE INJURED IN CAR CRASH

Two Trucks Sideswiped In Belleville Avenue Collision Thursday Night

Three persons were injured, one seriously, in an automobile crash at Cortlandt and Academy streets Saturday morning. Miss Amelia Gunther, fifty-one, of 162 Academy street suffered bruises on the face and chest, a lacerated leg and possible rib fractures.

Her brother, Edward Gunther, fifty, of the same address complained of an injury to his back but said he would see his own doctor. Daniel Stefanelli, twenty-nine, of 297 North Belmont avenue received a gash over the left ear and was ordered to bed for several days.

Stefanelli was driving north on Cortlandt, police said. The Gunthers were passengers in the car driven by Raymond Gunther, twenty-two, of 108 Davis avenue, Kearny. As a result of the impact Gunther's car was thrown into the side of a truck parked on the north side of Academy about thirty feet from the intersection. The owner of the truck is Joseph Udansky of 352 Belmont avenue, Newark.

Other Accidents

Leo M. Bichakjian, forty-four, of 124 Floyd street, had Walter Van Riper, fifty, of 1177 Broad street, Bloomfield, examined for sobriety Thursday night after their trucks collided in Belleville avenue. Van Riper was declared by Town Physician Martin M. Meenan to be fit to drive and not under the influence of liquor. The trucks sideswiped each other in Belleville avenue near Hewitt place. Both had to be towed away.

Both drivers were injured and both cars had to be towed away after a collision early Friday morning at Washington avenue and Rutgers street. William Lot, nineteen, of 340 North Maple avenue, East Orange, suffered a laceration behind the right ear which required a clamp. Morris Friedland, thirty-two, of 679 High street, Newark, suffered abrasions of the head and knee.

SCHOOL NO. 4 CROWDED

The outstanding example of overcrowding in the elementary schools is in School No. 4. There the situation is "pretty serious." There is an overload of twenty-two in the first grade and twenty-nine in the second. Dales suggested the hiring of two more teachers to eliminate the crowding.

The average traveling distance to each school is between a quarter and a half mile. For that reason there is no need for restricting on account of excessive distance. Nor is there any hazard which pupils have to face on the way to school that would warrant the setting up of new school districts. The overcrowding also is not sufficient reason as yet for redistricting.

The only cause for redistricting would be the changing of School No. 8 into a junior high and the consequent redistribution of No. 8's pupils into other schools. He said that No. 8 could easily be transformed into a junior high with the addition of five or six more classrooms.

High School Needs Relief

"The high school needs relief and relief quickly," the Passaic High School guidance director said. He condemned the use of improper rooms for study halls and pointed out that there is no good health room there. "A junior high school would help the situation there."

Board President Herbert C. Schmutz asked then about School No. 2. Dales said that there are ninety-two empty seats there but only twelve could be used without overcrowding. The school is too small to be economical or to place pupils properly in classes. The school could be eliminated "if the boards needs the money" by arranging the pupils in Schools 4, 7, 8 and 10. If that were done, he said, the building could be used as a juvenile correction bureau for backward students.

Dales said that he expects a decrease of 366 in the school population in the next five years. The elementary school population is nearly static, however. "Every one of our schools is a credit to the board," he declared. "Your setup here is really fine."

The Home Manager

The good home manager budgets her expenditures in relationship to her income and so, is worry-free.

But her budget will not always balance. Expenses come in groups sometimes, just as callers do. Particularly true is this in the fall — when she has the cost of fuel, fall and winter clothing, school bills, and replacements in connection with fall housecleaning.

A timely loan may be the answer. Feel free to consult us any time.

More Power to Thrift— more Thrift from Power

MAYBE you wonder what a big car like Buick is doing talking about economy.

All right, we'll tell you.

Most people would be willing to spend a little extra for what Buick has to offer—style, size, room, steadiness, durability—if part of that extra could be paid back through lower operating costs.

Especially they would like really satisfying performance—quick take-off, easy hill-climbing, sure power, fast response—if they could have it in a car that's stingy with gasoline.

That's what we've given them—through the extra power in this 1941 Buick.

The added wallop of FIREBALL engine design and Compound Carburetion lets us use more thrifty gear ratios, saving money without complicating extra gears or mechanisms.

And the tremendous reserve-power in these Buick engines—at 40, for instance, you have as much as 85% of your power "on call"—still permits the flashing get-away, the swooping hill-climb, the sure lift out of pinches you once had to buy with heavy gasoline consumption.

So we say—more power to thrift—it helps put Buick thrill and comfort within easy reach.

And the reason is—more thrift from power—from abler engines.

It all adds up to the sensation of the year—the car you ought to see first—the brilliant, able beauty your Buick dealer has waiting for you.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $935

for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

Christmas Clubs Are Bigger

Belleville's two banks will distribute next week $165,000 to 3,077 Christmas Club members. The club plan has become a convenient method for getting through the Yuletide season without having to spend the following month dodging bill collectors. Of importance in the banks' announcement is the total sum that is to be distributed. It far exceeds the amounts paid out in recent years and is a big step in the return to the amounts annually invested in the Christmas Clubs in 1928 and 1929. It tops that paid in 1931.

The increased popularity of this form of saving shows that the public not only has more money to save but also is more conscious of the value of saving. If the hard years taught many of us nothing else, it was an excellent lesson in the saving of extra dollars for some future time.

It will be interesting to note if there is any reflection in local business after the mailmen deliver the Christmas Club checks. We trust that many of 3,077 members will spend a portion of this money with local merchants just as they have entrusted their savings to Belleville banks.

Meaning Changed For Some

Thanksgiving is one of the annual holidays on which families hold their reunions. In many cases, it is only on days such as the one which will be celebrated on Thursday that members of families see each other. They talk over what has happened since they last saw each other, compare the growth of one child with the other and reminisce over the past Thanksgivings. For many, Thanksgiving does not hold the meaning that it did several years ago — before the date was moved up from the last Thursday. And, this is not just to be controversial or contrary.

In thirty-two states Thanksgiving will be observed on Thursday, but sixteen of them, including all of the New England States, will stick to the tradition of having Thanksgiving on the last Thursday of the month. This means that some of the family reunions will be broken up — some will be missing from their usual places at the dinner table. The folks who live in Pennsylvania can't come because they don't officially carve their turkey until next week. Some who live here can't go to Connecticut for the customary family feast because they won't observe the holiday until November 28.

And so it goes through many families. All of which leads up to the point of what has actually been gained by moving Thanksgiving ahead one week. It was done, so it was announced at the time of the first change, at the insistence of businesses

They Are Poor Losers

The Republican legislators or the G.O.P. leaders who are talking out loud about taking away from Governor-elect Edison some of the executive powers which would permit him to name some important state officials will find the rank and file opposed to their plan. In politics, just as in war, to the victor belong the spoils. Mr. Edison was elected Governor and to him belongs the honor of naming the gentlemen whom he wishes. The Republicans lost and instead of trying to creep in through the back door, they should take their medicine and set about the task of finding out why they lost.

Some of the very people who propose that Edison's hands be tied are the principal causes of the present disruption and lack of unity in the Republican ranks. They are poor losers and if they publicly move to carry out the threat to remove from the Governor some of his present powers they will find themselves increasingly unpopular with the public.

If the shoe was on the other foot, there would be cries from the Republican ranks of "Hagueism" and "machine politics." What some Republicans propose to do is "cheap politics" which will lose for them the respect and admiration of thousands in the state. In politics, like many other fields, one of the first lessons to learn is to be a good sport and be able to take the good with the bad.

A Problem To Be Considered

The application which was recently made to the Zoning Board of Adjustment for permission to convert a house in Rossmore place from a one-family to a two-family dwelling brings up a problem which Belleville has not as yet had to do much worrying about but which has troubled some communities. Big houses for the most part have seen better days. They are no longer an asset but a liability to their owners.

They are outmoded in architectural design, costly to heat and expensive to furnish. Many people do not want them and the owner who places a large home on the for sale list soon finds that if he offers it at an exceptionally low price he is unable to find a buyer. However, the taxes on these houses do not as a general rule decrease in proportion to their saleability. If the owner is unable to bear the cost of upkeep and the annual tax levy, he often loses the property. Some of them have even gone as far as demolishing the homes, salvaging from them what money they could. They have found that they then had a better chance of getting a good price for the vacant land.

But what about the homes which are left standing, many of them empty? In some communities, the governing body has decided that a change of policy was a necessity. The owners have been permitted to convert their big houses into two, three and even four-family dwellings. It is granted that this may not be the best thing to do from the civic standpoint. But, what are these people to do if they cannot sell these homes? Are they to lose them? Is the town going to find it any easier to sell them if they foreclose? Much against the will of some of the people in the vicinity, some towns have decided to let the barriers down and have permitted owners to convert their homes so that they could be used by more than one family. Zoning regulations have been made stringent so that the house when converted would still be in keeping with the rest of the neighborhood.

In the Rossmore place case, the Board of Commissioners may have been wise in revoking the recommendation of the Zoning Board. However, it is not the last time that they will hear the plea of some property owner to convert a big house. It is a problem which will crop up frequently in the future.

Tuberculosis Association Will Mail Seals November 27

Nearly nine million "T. B. stamps" will be mailed out November 27, by the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association, Eugene T. Berry, president of the association, announced yesterday. Funds received from the sale of the Christmas seals will be used for the furtherance of the fight on the dread disease.

Berry said he expects the circulation of the seals to be at least as great as last year. There are 100 stamps on each sheet and in 1939 there were 4,814 sheets distributed in Belleville and 4,066 in Nutley.

George W. Tranter

It is a glorious Thanksgiving time for Lloyd G. Robinson, vice-president and general manager of Newark's Hotel Robert Treat, because the popular hostelry is running at top speed, with banquet, guest, lunch, dinner and cocktail hour business operating at peak figures . . .

For Bob Wyder, proprietor of The Well, West Caldwell, because in a year he has transformed what was once Rhineland Caverns into an ultra-smart dining, dancing and drinking spot that can hold its head high among the better fun spots in the East . . .

For George Busch, president of Busch & Sons, jewelers, Broad and William streets, Newark, because the new Busch store has been acclaimed as one of the most beautiful in the Metropolitan zone — and also because business has been far beyond all expectations . . .

For the officials of Alderney Dairy Co., because their popular Alderney Milk Barn, Route 10, Morris Plains, has, in less than a year and a half become a landmark for those who love good milk drinks, fine ice cream, pleasant surroundings and exceptional service . . .

For Carl Mau and Frank Clements, owners of East Hanover's Blue Door, Route 10, because in less than two months they are able to boast that their dinner patronage has doubled, and that real success is assured by the steady stream of new faces "discovering" their Blue Door . . .

For "Exclusively Yours," because the column now is featured in eleven newspapers, covering Essex County like a fine-tooth comb — and for the generous increase in our fan mail . . .

For Manhattan's new newspaper "PM" because its energetic and fearless editorial policy has brought it national recognition and admiration . . .

For Leo Howland, because his personalized cab service in West Essex has won for him countless steady followers who are legion . . .

For gorgeous Claire Ackerman, whose drum majorette routines have made her the No. 1 Glamour Girl of New Jersey . . .

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

The public surge of thankfulness to be expressed in so many ways this Thursday for our American well-being in the midst of world disaster will be closely allied, if we are not mistaken, with a desire on the part of most of us to help the less fortunate. Families will gather on this day over the traditional, savory dinner who may not be reunited until Christmas is celebrated. One feast is the natural precursor of the other and most of our active arrangements for the latter take their impetus from the former.

If this is true in a family way — if the presence of those who are dear to you, but with whom you do not have daily contact, inspires you to begin plans at once for their Christmas happiness — should it not be equally fitting for us to start plans at this time for our contributions to the Christmas cheer of the less fortunate?

Lake all other forms of investment, and perhaps even more so, the disposition of the funds we have for charity should be carefully considered to give the most benefit in the most unobtrusive and kindy fashion. Any personal touch that can be added to seasonal charity is priceless. A visit paid between now and Christmas to a needy family will put you in a position to supply them something which will meet their individual needs and will consequently bring them more comfort and joy than if your contribution was dissipated in a more commercial way by an organization.

Shop For Children

Unique among such endeavors, and much admired by us, is the project conducted by women in a number of Long Island towns where a shop has been established which is supplied with toys of every description, books and other gifts suitable for children of all ages. At least 1,500 children are provided for in the enticing stocks of this establishment.

These objects are the results of gifts of money and the gift of labor which goes into the restoration of discarded toys until they are as good as new. People who can afford to supply the shop with new articles; others supply the worn out toys, and organizations of all kinds as well as private individuals give ingenuity and time to making them attractive. Thus each group of citizens has an opportunity to enjoy the thrill of preparing for a child's Christmas.

Best part of the program, however, and a thing which should be emulated wherever possible, is the arrangement whereby the parents of the children go to the shop and select their children's gifts exactly as though they were purchasing merchandise in any store. This insures the happiness of the whole family for the presentation of gifts can then be entirely personal between parents and their offspring, conducted in their own homes and safeguarding the sensitive child from the embarrassment which is sometimes caused by public gift-giving.

Another point worthy of mention, in our opinion, is that these children can enjoy receiving their gifts on Christmas morning instead of previously. While no one more highly esteems the organization who supply festivities for underprivileged children, preceding the feast of Christmas, still we feel that the magic of Christmas morning surprise should be made available to every child if it is humanely possible.

Not Overnight Job

Since this idea, operated successfully for three years in the towns mentioned above and copied by some of the western and northern cities, takes the co-operation of large groups, it is, naturally, one that cannot be inaugurated overnight. But it will bear a great deal of "wishful thinking" and this is an excellent season to start with the hope that wishing may eventually make it so. No one can appreciate the special significance of this charity more than mothers and homemakers. And while it would urge everyone to spend the time immediately after this Thanksgiving in the usual preparation for charity to others at Christmas, still we cannot help but hope that this particular form of charity may appeal as a project for the future in our town.

Gathering of the clans, including many young people home from schools and colleges, will mark this weekend. Conversation at these times usually throws a great light onto the understanding of parents for their children and relatives for each other. Elders evidently are concerned in these troublous times over the frankness of their children's remarks and their attitude toward national problems and the international war.

We admire very much the advice of psychiatrists who warn parents and older friends to maintain an attitude of calmness toward the impending world events and to answer their children's problems carefully and without too much opposition. For smartness' sake young people will often make extravagant claims and, for example, profess admiration for one of today's leading dictators. Flying off the handle will not satisfactorily handle the situation; but a painstaking inquiry into Johnny's exact knowledge of the individual in question will soon reveal to him that the wonderful display of brute strength on the part of his hero is not balanced by his "smallness" in point of view.

Another topic will undoubtedly be the feelings of youth over their conscripted services. It is not too difficult to point out that the price of our freedom is the feeling of individual responsibility toward our nation. If this feeling of responsibility is best fulfilled by a donation of services the resentment can be changed into a rightful pride.

But the best general practice is to remember with tolerance and calmness that the young view our problems with an urgent desire for immediate solution. Their motivation is the highest and their ideas are crudely and startlingly expressed only because they have not felt the detaining hand of time on their shoulders. If their conversation is therefore highly flavored do not be distressed and give way to destructive criticism but pull your own conversational punches neatly and they will go away with some ideas into which they can sink their teeth.

Recipe Column

This is surely not the year for innovations and it is almost a certainty that the majority of families will sit down to the traditional Thanksgiving dinner on Thursday. Taking it for granted then that you will serve a golden brown turkey, mashed turnips and potatoes with rich giblet gravy and a sparkling cranberry relish, let us suggest two luxury items for the introduction and and finale of your dinner.

Cream of Mushroom Soup

1 pound mushrooms
1/2 cup melted butter
1 quart milk
2 slices onion
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup cream
Salt
Pepper

Wash and skin the mushrooms. Chop them fine and saute for about ten minutes in two tablespoons of the butter. Heat the milk in a double boiler with the onion. Blend the remaining butter with the flour, add to the milk and cook until thickened. Remove the onion, stir in the mushrooms and cream and season to taste with salt and pepper. When hot served with chopped parsley sprinkled sparingly over the top.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatine
1/4 cup cold water
1/4 cups canned pumpkin
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
3 eggs

To slightly beaten egg yolks add one-half cup sugar, pumpkin, milk, salt and spices. Cook until thick in double boiler. Soften gelatine in cold water. Add to hot pumpkin mixture, mix thoroughly and cool. When it begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which the other half of the sugar has been added while beating. Pour into a previously baked pie shell and chill for several hours in the refrigerator. Serve with whipped cream if desired.
