

SCHOOL BUDGET UP FOR VOTING ON TUESDAY

Voters Aren't Expected To Swarm To Polls; Calls For Slight Raise In Rate

While it is not likely to create any sensation among the voters, the election at which the school budget will be balloted on will be held on Tuesday. The polls will be open from 5 to 9 in the high school cafeteria to enable any who are interested to cast an affirmative or dissenting opinion on the budget which has been approved by the school board. Last year there was not a negative vote when sixty-seven approved the budget.

The expense sheet for 1941-42 provides for an increase of $5,457.25 in the amount which the taxpayers will be asked to pay. This represents less than a two-point rise in the tax rate. The total budget calls for expenditures of $671,577.67, of which it is proposed to raise $486,758.86 by local taxation. The difference between the total budget and that to be contributed by the taxpayers is made up through a $39,000 balance from the current year's budget, $141,035 in state aid funds and $4,500 from the state for the manual training department.

Increase for Employees

Included in the current expense appropriation is an increase of $11,000 in salaries for teachers and other employees. The teachers had requested more but the board replied that it could not be done at this time. Expansion of the present manual training program to take in the elementary schools has increased the amount sought through public taxation about $4,000, raising it to $10,650. The total amount to be expended in the new program will be slightly more than $20,000 with the remainder being provided by the $4,500 in aid from the state and a $5,000 balance.

The ballot which the voters will receive will show the following items to be voted on: current expenses, $344,836.39; for repairs and maintenance, $18,000; for manual training, $10,650. Harry Taylor will be chairman of the election board, with Mrs. Mary W. Blake, secretary, and Rev. W. H. Borchers and Henry J. Waters, tellers. The Board of Education organization meeting will be held at 8 on Friday 17 at School No. 8, at which time a president, vice-president and district clerk will be elected. The present incumbents are Herbert C. Schmutz, president; Charles A. Gebhardt, vice-president, and Ruel E. Daniels, district clerk.

PETREANS PLAN SHOW FOR MAY

Weekly Meetings Will Start At 8:30; Winter Dance February 21

The Petrean Club of St. Peter's Church has set May 2, 3 and 4 as the dates for the presentation of its annual show. Bill Brady, who won the club's silver cup as the best actor last year, has returned the trophy to the clubrooms to be gazed upon by this year's best actors. A date of more immediate interest to the Petreans is that of the club's annual dance to be held on February 21 at Forest Hill Field Club.

Hereafter the weekly meetings will start at 8:30 rather than later as has been the custom, to provide more time for use of the clubroom facilities and to engage in open forum discussions similar to those radioed from Town Hall which it was suggested by Vincent Hurley would provide entertainment as well as amusement.

BLANCHE WELLS WINS CONTEST

Legion Oratorical Contest Gold Medal Goes To High School Senior

Miss Blanche Wells, high school senior, won the oratorical contest at the high school Thursday night which was sponsored by the local post of the American Legion in conjunction with the nation-wide contest the Legion is conducting. Miss Wells will now move on either to the sectional or county eliminations. The final details have not been worked out as yet.

The winner took as her subject "Youth in a Democracy." She recently won the state secondary school oratorical contest, speaking on the same subject. For winning Thursday night she received a gold medal. Dorothy Thompson, who was second, received a silver medal; Harold Valentino, third, a bronze medal, and Ann Ushakaryts, honorable mention. The students were helped in preparing their speeches by teachers in the high school history and English departments. L. Howard Fox, public speaking instructor, coached them in the delivery of their speeches.

Richard Shannon, past county commander of the American Legion, was the contest chairman, assisted by Thomas W. Fleming and William L. Labauch.

Barbour To Name Another Man For Annapolis

Senator Barbour has announced that he will hold, under the auspices of the Civil Service Commission, an open, competitive examination to nominate a principal alternate for a vacancy now existing at the Naval Academy at Annapolis. This additional vacancy for the class of '41 has just been provided for by recent legislation, repealing a clause in the current Naval Appropriation Act which limited the quota for each Senator, Representative and Delegate to four appointments. The designation examination will be held February 21 and the regular or substituting examination on May 7. It will be open to all boys who are within the age limit and who are bona fide residents of New Jersey. For the 1941 appointment, the candidate must be sixteen years of age and must not have reached his twenty-first birthday on or before April 1, 1941.

TO TRAIN MEN FOR SKILLED LABOR JOBS

Plan Is Outlined Under New Defense Production Program

Establishment of classes to train men as skilled workmen was proposed this week under the new Belleville National Defense Production Plan. The organization of it is the outgrowth of several conferences between the members of the Manufacturers' Association, the Board of Commissioners and school officials. The plan was first outlined by A. L. Tiernan, president of the Manufacturers' Association, at a meeting of the group Tuesday night.

It was proposed that men who have natural aptitude or ability for mechanical work be given the opportunity to develop the ability at a time when it would not interfere with their present work and at no expense to them. The plan would consist essentially of establishing preliminary training and observation classes in mechanical activities such as the reading of blueprints, handling of calipers and simple measuring instruments, the use of simple tools such as the hammer, chisel, files and other similar tools for a limited period of time. During this time instructors could single out the men who displayed the best aptitude for the work.

They would then be singled out and given a machine shop training course for actual work on machine tools such as drill presses, lathes and milling machines under supervision. These courses would be held at a time that would not interfere with their normal working hours. The training, it is believed, will help prepare them for better jobs and also solve the shortage of skilled labor found in many plants. The Wallace & Tiernan Co. at present has a training shop in operation during the day and has volunteered to offer its facilities for evening use or at times when not being used for regular training.

Three specific objectives have been outlined by the committee: every manufacturing plant in Belleville is urged to cooperate in national defense work, every able-bodied man in Belleville should be working at as good a job as is possible in national defense production, and every boy in Belleville who has the aptitude and desire should be given an opportunity in town for training along mechanical lines.

Police Nab Newark Man In Quick Change Racket

"The change of a twenty-dollar bill racket" caused the arrest of John P. Orr, twenty-three, of 349 Mount Prospect avenue, Newark, and police detention this week. Captain Leighton said Orr would telephone a merchant and order goods to be delivered at a real address, requesting the delivery boy to bring change of $20. Then, Leighton said, Orr would meet the boy a short distance from the given address and ask for the change, telling the boy to carry the goods to the address. According to Captain Leighton, Orr is wanted in Kearny, Elizabeth and Newark. Orr was arraigned before Recorder Smith and sentenced to three months in the County Penitentiary. When he gets out he will be faced with detainers from Newark, Kearny and Elizabeth.

Rotarians Hear Lawyer Talk About Abraham Lincoln

Nathan Whitfield, Montclair lawyer, talked on Abraham Lincoln at the Belleville Rotary Club meeting yesterday noon at Forest Hill Field Club. He read excerpts from little-known speeches of the Great Emancipator and related incidents known only to students of Lincoln's life.

Alphonse M. Hart, C.P.A., was admitted to membership.

Here's The Tale Of The Night-Sticks—Now You Figure Out How The Boys Make All The Ends Meet

The authoritarian night-stick can't do much swinging in Belleville. Because of the jam.

Not one of the biggest places in the world, yet it can muster bigger crowds per night-stick than any other municipality of its size in New Jersey, according to police statistics.

One night-stick in Belleville has to account for 750 heads. In Jersey City, to cite an extreme example, there's one night-stick for only 375 heads. And it's not hard to imagine what little damage one night-stick, in general parlance known as a patrolman, can do wedged and jammed among 750 heads.

To make matters worse, according to police experts, not all members of a police department can be accounted as night-sticks.

What with a chief, two captains, two lieutenants and four sergeants necessary for supervision and sleuthing, Belleville has a maximum of thirty-one patrolmen and, on closer scrutiny fewer than that even.

Take Off Ten For Schools

Three times a day, five days a week, ten patrolmen leave their beats to supervise traffic at school crossings, which leaves twenty-one patrolmen. That ten of them are essential to school traffic supervision may be noted in the somewhat extraordinary fact that since such supervision was instituted eleven years ago Belleville has had not one school crossing accident.

Facing A Long Vacation Behind The Bars

This blank, innocent looking pair are Alfred (on left) and Albert Welder, twenty-four year old twins, who are accused of more than sixty sex crimes. They were tracked down by Captain Elmer Leighton and Detective John McGinnis after they attacked a twelve-year old girl here two weeks ago. Photo was taken at the local headquarters.

Twins Face Long 'Stretch' For Sadist Crimes

Welder Twins Will Be Charged With Murder If North Arlington Girl Dies; Sleuthing Of Local Cops Trapped The Pair

Pasty-faced bespectacled Alfred and Albert Welder, queer-minded twenty-four year old twin brothers, sit sullenly in the Newark Street Jail, Newark, today while the law decides the quickest and surest way to make them pay for their sadistic crimes in which they have confessed and attacking more than a score of young children in Hudson, Bergen and Passaic counties. Methodical, detailed sleuthing by Captain Elmer and Detective Charles McGinnis trapped the twins last week and forced them to spill their fantastic tale after several hours of grueling at local headquarters. An endless number of attack cases are charged against them and although Belleville police caught the pair, it is probably the Bergen county authorities who will get them first for prosecution. Against them local police have only a charge of atrocious assault which could send them to jail for a year at most.

May Face Murder Charge

In West Hudson Hospital lies a nine-year old North Arlington girl still near death because of their ravenous attacks. Should she die, the Welder twins face murder charges. If she lives, they will be charged with rape and face a seven and one-half to fifteen year prison term. Trailing after this are numerous other instances of attempted rape or attack.

One of the strangest cases they had ever dealt with was the way local police put it after they had listened to the twins tell their story and had pieced together the various parts of the case. Youths of what they termed "almost" normal intelligence, they are grammar school graduates with a smattering of high school training. One brother, Albert, is married while his twin is engaged to another girl.

Both were employed in the General Electric plant in Bloomfield. Quiet, plodding workers was the way their foreman spoke of them.

The attack which eventually caught them took place in Cortland street on a Thursday night

Automobile License Plates On Sale March 1

Although 1941 automobile license plates will not go on sale until March 1, reservations will be accepted after February 15, according to an announcement made yesterday by William Abramson of 500 Washington avenue, local motor vehicle agent. The plates may be put on any time after March 1 but must be picked up before midnight March 31.

Belleville has been given the L-1 and F-A series of plates from No. 100 to 999. The 1941 licenses will have white numerals on a black background. Abramson's office handled more than 8,000 registrations from Essex County last year as well as many from outside the county. During the rush period in March his office will be open from 9 to 6 daily, including Saturdays.

FOUR VOLUNTEERS GO TOMORROW

Eighteen To Enter Army For Year's Service; Another Group February 21

The contingent of eighteen who will leave tomorrow morning for Fort Dix was brought to full strength yesterday when Edward Reed, chief clerk of the Selective Service Board, announced that two volunteers had passed their medical examinations and will join the group.

The two new members of the fourth call are John G. Arthur of 254 Greylock parkway and Frank A. DiGiorgio of 114 Cedar Hill avenue. Both are volunteers as are three members of the squad: Angelo M. Buccino of 86 Gless avenue, Joseph C. Duval of 197 Linden avenue and Stanley W. Goglia of 67 Harrison street.

If Belleville's entire contingent of eighteen is passed at the Newark induction station in the Essex Armory tomorrow, it will bring to fifty-six the number of local men conscripted into the armed forces. Of these, eighteen will have been volunteers. A total of twenty-eight have volunteered since conscription began, six of whom were rejected for physical reasons.

The fifth call has been set for February 21, Reed said yesterday. At that time eighteen more young men will be called to the colors.

How To Pay For 'Bessie'

That's The Problem Facing Board; Waters Says By 20-Year Bonds; Mayor Thinks New Roller Should Be Paid For In Cash; To Cost $3,000

A wheel fell off the town's steam-roller a week or so ago and plunged the Commissioners into a mess of economics. Little more than a jalopy after eighteen years' service caressing the asphalt patches along Washington avenue and elsewhere, it is still ponderous enough to have flattened the Commissioners with the weighty problems of 100 per cent cash operation versus deferred payment via the bond issue, and to raise or not to raise the tax rate by a point.

A new five-ton steam-roller is a necessity and undoubtedly, purchase of one will be authorized at next week's Commission meeting. But how it will be financed is the problem.

Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, head mahout of town steam-rollers, in requesting a new one recommended that the $3,000 purchase price be amortized over a period of twenty years.

Mayor Williams figured out with his fast percentage pencil that a twenty year debt retirement would cost the town an additional $1,200 in interest, ordinance advertising cost and legal opinions.

"$3,000 represents approximately one point in the tax rate," the Mayor said, "but at the end of the year the steam-roller would have been paid for and the tax rate depressed to normal."

"100% cash operation of the town is my financial ambition, an ambition of all the commissioners, and I shall recommend that we take a one point tax jab on the chin for a year so that, at the end of twelve months, we can look the new steam-roller in the face and say, 'you're all ours, Bessie!'"

Cedar Hill Avenue Youngsters Collide With Car

Robert Huemer, thirteen, of 179 Cedar Hill avenue, and Vincent Miller, ten, of 166 Cedar Hill avenue, suffered injuries Thursday when, running out of a lot at Mount Prospect avenue and Leslie terrace, they collided with a truck driven by Emil E. Rose, forty-five, of 121 High street. The Huemer boy was treated for bruised muscles and Miller for a bump on the head by Dr. McEhan, and taken home.

SIGN ON MAYOR'S PROPERTY HAS FOLKS GUESSING

Williams Says Theatre Will Be Built; But Who, When And Why?

Mayor Williams has everybody along Washington avenue guessing and asking plenty of questions. Early this week a couple of workmen erected a large sign on property on the western side of the Avenue just north of the Congregation A. A. A. which, in foot-high letters announced that a theatre would be erected there and that there would be stores and offices to rent. The sign was all the more impressive because of the layout of the proposed building, which was also shown. The Mayor admitted that he had purchased the property at 335 Washington avenue, which has a 195-foot frontage, three months ago from the First National Bank. The price was not revealed. Last week the Zoning Board amended its 100-foot depth restriction on Washington-avenue business properties to 146 feet for No. 335.

In answer to all questions the Mayor says that the sign speaks for itself. Inquiries in movie circles have failed to turn up any report of a theatre chain or an independent planning to locate in Belleville. The proposed site is a short block south of the Warner Brothers' Capitol Theatre. All inquiries, according to the sign, should be directed to Herman Haines, attorney, in the Woolworth Building, New York.

According to the tentative building plans, entrance to the theatre would be at the south end of the property, the auditorium itself facing northerly and extending the full length of the land along the backs of the six stores which would front on the Avenue.

The Mayor has been the moving force in the recent business developments which have been made along Washington avenue. He owned the land on which the Sears, Roebuck store, the A&P Super Market and the Belleville Liquor Store were recently located. He is also the owner of the land on which the F. W. Woolworth five-and-ten-cent store is being erected.

WHAT TIME DID WATCH STOP?

That's What Lions Club Find Out Today When They Open It

The gold watch that was set a-ticking six weeks ago by the Belleville Lions Club and placed in a vault at the Peoples National Bank, will be taken out today by Albert Luscombe, the bank's vice-president, and carried into the judicial presence of Recorder Everett B. Smith, to the weekly luncheon of the club at the Forest Hill Field Club.

There its face will be unclosed to the awed assemblage and note made of the position of the hands when they came to rest at the spring's final gasp. Then there will be a great rustling through cards inscribed with the names of Belleville residents who had made judicious surmises as to the exact time of the watch's suspended animation to determine the best surmiser who, of course, will be presented with the time-piece.

Mayor William H. Williams will address the club next week.

New Men's Club Formed

A Men's League was formed at Montgomery Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon under the sponsorship of Rev. Frank J. Millman, Ph.D., the pastor. Rev. Paul R. Hook of Forest Hill Presbyterian Church addressed the group and Lawrence Vail of Westminster Church in Bloomfield led the singing.

The second Thursday of each month has been selected for regular meetings. Officers chosen were Julius R. Meyer, Jr. of this town, president; Edward Revere of East Orange, vice-president; Edward Church of Bloomfield, treasurer; Winfield Hayes, also of that town, corresponding secretary; and Edward Rochau of this town, recording secretary. Future meetings will be held in the church recreation rooms at 8.

Bagatelle Leniency Over, Clark Warns Operators

Director of Public Safety William D. Clark warned the forty tavern, restaurant and confectionery owners operating pinball games, in letters received by them today, that he will summarily close their places of business on the slightest evidence of gambling in connection with the machines.

"I will not tolerate gambling in any form in connection with pinball machines," he said, paralleling Prosecutor Wachenfeld's pinball machine warning.

"I have been lenient, realizing that many people get pleasure from playing them, but my leniency is at an end."

BOYS SHOW LESS INTEREST IN CCC

More Jobs and Enlistments In Army, Navy Thought To Cause Drop

With unlimited quotas allotted Belleville for enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps, only five town youths availed themselves of the January enlistment opportunity, Miss Julie Chalmers, assistant to Overseer of the Poor Hewitt, said yesterday. Four places available for colored boys went unfilled.

Miss Chalmers ascribed this enrollment drop to the locally improved employment situation and increased Army and Navy enlistments, and said that it was a continuation of the enrollment decrease noted throughout 1940 when only eighty-three youths signed up.

Those enrolled during January and now stationed at Highbridge, are: Angelo Di Bartola of 231 Stephen street, George William Tampe of 136 DeWitt avenue, Joseph Francis Weiner of 5 Davidson street, Ralph Jerry Zecca of 370 Lake street, and John Anthony Risoli of 42 Gerald street.

Last January forty youths enrolled.

Miss Chalmers announced that Civilian Conservation Corps enrollment periods, January, April, July and October, have been added to now include these four periods also: February 18 to 26, May 20 to 31, August 20 to 30, and November 20 to 30.

Colored youths will now be admitted in unlimited numbers, she said, and changes in disbursement of enrollee's pay of $30 a month have been made. Whereas $22 of an enrollee's pay was sent to his parents, now only $15 will be sent to them. Eight dollars will be retained by the enrollee and $7 will be put aside for him by the camp authorities against the termination of his enlistment period or periods.

Read what happened when we asked 5,000 Dodge buyers to wire what they like most about their 1941 Luxury Liners!

WE wanted to know how the big 1941 Dodge is going over with the nation's new-car buyers. And did we find out! When we asked 5,000 Dodge buyers to telegraph what they like most about this great car, telegrams fairly rained in!

TENNESSEE MAN... "Hard to express my personal reactions on any one or two features of my new 1941 Dodge. I never realized real auto comfort, that feeling of security while operating, and pride of ownership could be combined in one automobile. There has been no claim made for it that the car itself has not more than fulfilled."

But how can you blame Dodge owners when there's so much to praise! For here's a car that has greater value everywhere you look. It's bigger...roomier...with all the benefits of Dodge famous engineering in greater measure than any Dodge ever built! One Solution For Strikes

In The News' sister newspaper, The Nutley Sun, Johnson Foy, former publisher of The Sun and one-time publisher of The Belleville Times, which joined hands with this newspaper, keeps his hand in the trade by writing a weekly column of personal opinion. Since strikes are about as common as the weather these days, we were quite interested in his personal dissertation on the subject and were quite taken by the pet idea which he put forth as a possible cure-all for these holdups which are hindering the national defense program and general business. We thought it was worth reprinting and so here is what Mr. Foy had to say about it:

"What this country needs right now is a box score on strikes. It should be printed each day in every newspaper in the land, as a patriotic service. I know quite well that every strike is reported by some newspaper. If it is important enough it may get into all the newspapers in the state or region. If it is very important it makes practically all of the papers of the country. But it is a case of in today and out tomorrow. We have no running picture of industrial stoppage, in a period when it is pretty close to treason.

"What I propose is a box score that will list in tabular form the name and location of the plant, the product it makes, whether it has defense orders, how urgent these orders are, (which could be shown by a key number or letter), the number of men involved, the name of the labor organization, the name of the labor official who called the strike, the name of the manager of the plant, the cause of the strike (as stated in one sentence by the labor official and by the plant executive), whether or not either side had refused to negotiate.

"The very first objection to this plan will come from the newspapers. They will say that they cannot afford the space, or that they have no way of securing the tabulation. Both contentions — if made — will be tosh. The A.P. and U.P. should do their part by preparing the tabulation, and every newspaper I have ever seen prints in every issue plenty of flapdoodle that could make way for something both important and interesting.

"The labor officials — who are responsible for most strikes — would not like this tabulation. Nor would unfair employers. For with such a box score thrust before the newspaper readers of the country every day it would not be long before everybody learned that certain companies, labor organizations, and men kept re-appearing in connection with industrial strife. Public opinion would do what the law doesn't seem able to accomplish — stop the opportunists of both labor and industry from using a national crisis for their own enrichment."

Ridding Society of a Menace

Sex maniacs are one of the most dangerous enemies of society. Possessing fiendish, twisted, perverted minds, they satisfy their personal lusts mainly through attacks on women and children. It is doubly difficult to apprehend them for they walk among us in apparent normalcy until suddenly seized by some desire. No criminal presents a greater problem to a police department for they attack and run. Clues to them are usually few. Their victims generally can give only an incoherent account because they are panic-stricken or too young to comprehend.

In arresting two young men last week, who by their own admission have fiendishly attacked many young children in this section of the state, Police Captain Elmer Leighton and Detective Charles McGinnis have performed a public service which is worthy of the gratitude of every parent, not only in Belleville but throughout this section.

The Same Old Story

Not being one to make any rash predictions, we hesitate to second guess on the number of votes that will be cast at next Tuesday's school budget election. Based on the returns in past elections, it is safe to say that the vote counters will not have to burn any midnight oil. Last year sixty-seven folks were sufficiently interested to go to the polls and tell the Board of Education that they thought the budget was all right. No one voted against it.

This is most unusual and except that we think that it does not represent the true picture of public belief, we would say that the Board of Education should have been awarded some sort of medal for presenting a budget which pleased everybody. It was not a case of satisfaction but one of indifference. And, unless these remarks arouse some ire, the story will undoubtedly be the same on Tuesday. The rise in the school budget is slight. Still, we think any branch of the government which spends several hundred thousands of dollars annually should be of interest to more than sixty-seven people.

What will probably happen next Tuesday is representative of the general apathy which, as we have said previously, the public has about the schools in general. Budget time is the time for complaining — not after the tax bill comes. However, those who believe that they still have a civic duty to be interested in the various branches of the government that spend their money should vote whether they approve of the budget as proposed or not.

Local Cooperation For Defense

The Manufacturers' Association has taken the lead in awakening this town to the part that must be played in national defense. It is well that this organization, comprising the leaders of the community's major industries, should take such action. For, Belleville with its multitude of various industries, as the days go by will play an even greater role in the nation-wide program which is increasing in its momentum every hour.

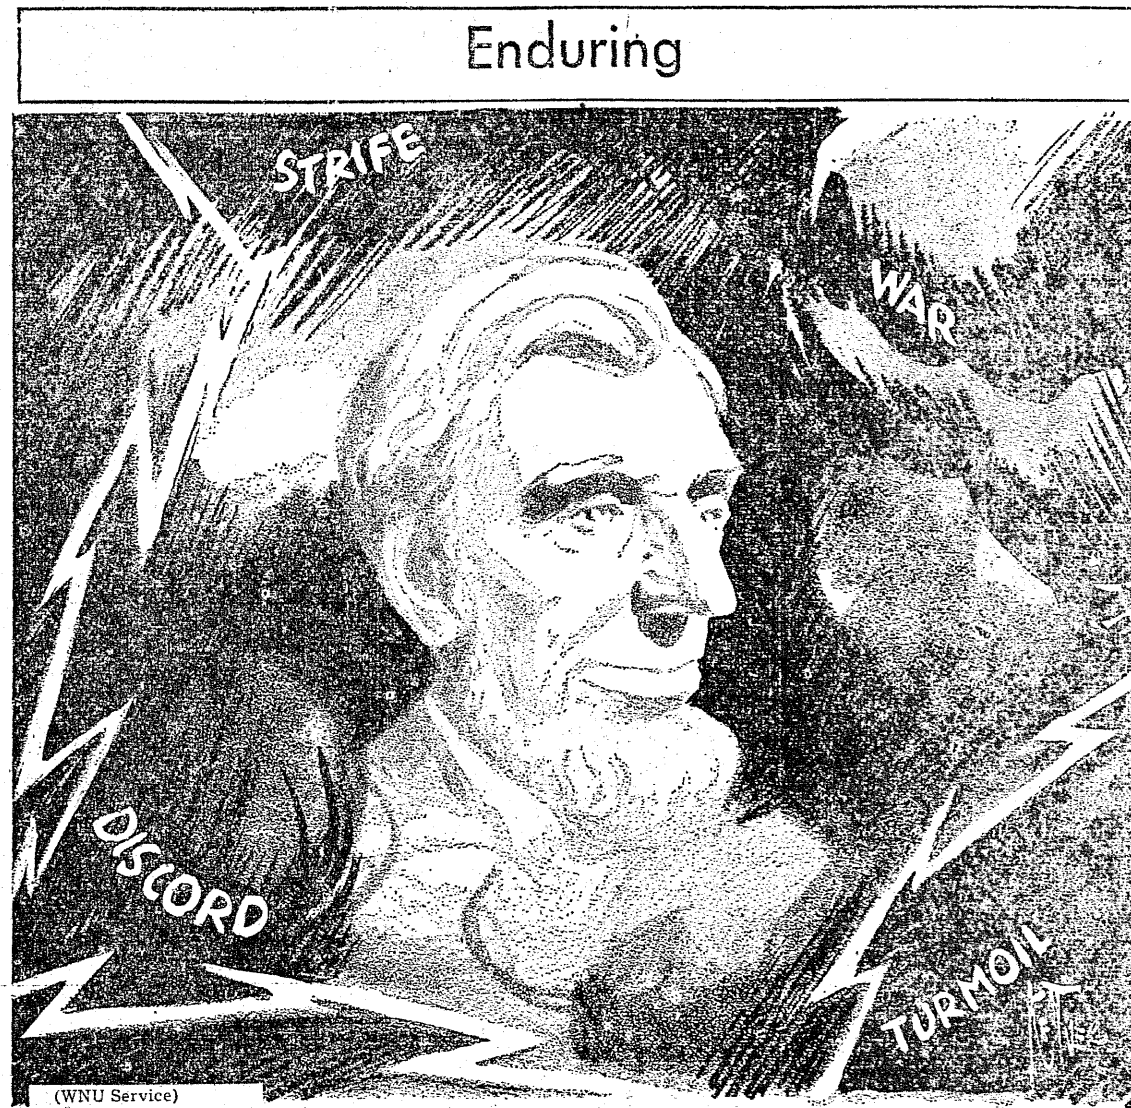

As the statement of the Manufacturers' Association of this week points out, the average citizen has still failed to realize the endless number of problems which are before the nation today and the part which everyone must play in the progress and success of the defense program.

Naturally, every one of these men represents an industry which is vitally concerned about the labor problem and the shortage which today is to be found in almost every branch of manufacturing that requires skilled labor. That they are desirous of employing as many local people as possible as the tempo of their business increases, is indicated in the fact that they have already conferred with the public school officials. Wisely, they realize that it is from the schools that many of those must come who will be needed.

As the curriculum of the local schools and of most other systems stands today, there is little which they offer to prepare students for jobs in industry. Daily the problem of how to prepare young people for production jobs is increasing. The vocational schools have reached their saturation point. It is impossible for them to train more than they are now — by holding both day and night sessions. Industry is looking toward the public schools and so are many young people who know that while there will be many jobs to be had when they graduate, they will not get them because they are not prepared for the work.

It would be too expensive and too much of a task for the public schools to prepare their students completely for a variety of industrial trades. However, they can give them an introduction to vocational studies and training. They can teach them so that they will acquire the knack of working with their hands as well as their heads. It is the elementary training which they require first. The development of such a program is one of primary concern and is important to a community such as Belleville.

Enduring

Five Years Ago

The first step in the restoration of salary cuts meted out to all town and school employees in 1933 was taken by the Board of Education which announced that all teachers receiving less than $1,200 would be given their full contractual wage and those earning more than that figure would be given back half of their cuts.

Commissioner King announced that a per diem arrangement had been entered into with St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic, whereby the institution would care for Belleville's accident victims and indigent patients. The $3 per day charge was split: $1.25 paid by the town, $1.75 by ERA.

The high school was enjoying one of its greatest seasons, having won eight of its ten games played to date.

Ten Years Ago

More than 1,000 excited citizens thronged the high school auditorium as the 1931 budget came up for first hearing, which it passed after more than five hours of discussion. The budget called for expenditures of $844,044 which would boost the rate from 4.06 to 4.38 cents, before it passed an item of $139,000 to pay off interest on capital improvement bonds was thrown out. Commissioner Carragher at first supported Commissioner Williams on the item but before it came to a vote there was a solid line-up against the latter.

Previous to the budget hearing a hot skirmish at Town Hall heard Mayor Kenworthy and Commissioner Williams call each other "faker" and "four-flusher." The fight started when Williams wanted an appropriation of $30 to mail out budget hearing notices to 1,500 taxpayers. Town Attorney John B. Brown ruled the item illegal because the notices "solicited personal support" for Williams and were not sent to all taxpayers.

Dr. James L. DeRosset was elected president of the Board of Education after John P. Maher, the former president, and William W. Stewart had declined the post. Mrs. Porter Sheldon was named vice president.

All the churches of town eliminated their usual Sunday evening services to hold a mass meeting in the high school where the problems of unemployment were explained by Mayor Kenworthy.

Twenty Years Ago

The Board of Education expressed disapproval of the slow progress in the construction of the school being built to replace old School No. 1.

The Belleville Rifle Association signed a five-year lease on a plot of ground east of Passaic avenue and began preparing plans to erect a range house there.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

The Democratic Club established a savings fund and elected the following officers: Mayor John Waters, president; Richard F. Flanagan, secretary; Town Assessor Frank A. Neary, treasurer; Town Treasurer LeRoy E. Vermuele and Town Auditor Henry W. Underwood, auditors.

Belleville Council Jr. O.U.A.M. was busy preparing for its twenty-second anniversary dance and entertainment.

Will Receive Gold Key

John Clinton Alpaugh of 67 Bremond street, a member of Sigma Pi Fraternity at Newark College of Engineering, where he is in the third year, has been notified by national headquarters of the fraternity that he will be given a gold key. The key is given annually to scholastically top ranking undergraduate members of the society.

Manpower — The Basic Resource Of Defense

By Eugene T. Berry, Belleville Health Officer

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of four articles on "Manpower — The Basic Resource of Defense."

"... In the difficult days ahead for this Nation, as we arise to gird democracy for its defense, let us not for a moment forget that we must have both military defense and a prepared people —

Dr. Irvin Abell, former president of the American Medical Association, is chairman of the committee. The other members are the Surgeon General of the Army, Major General James C. Magee; the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, Dr. Thomas Parran; the Surgeon General of the Navy, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntyre; and the Chairman of the Division of Medical Sciences of the National Research Council, Dr. Lewis H. Weed.

Health defense is protection and development of our manpower — the basic resource of any defense. The nation's safety requires that the man in overalls be kept in the same pink of condition as the man in uniform.

Veneral disease threatens these men. Among the sixteen and one-half million men registered under the Selective Service Act, for example, there is much communicable syphilis. In this group there are probably 300,000 men with infectious syphilis. Discovery and treatment of syphilis and gonorrhea among these young men would increase for the future the reservoir of healthy men available for efficient and active duty both in the armed forces and in industry.

To quote Surgeon General Parran of the U. S. Health Service: "Today we have a surplus of men. But we have no assurance that this condition will exist even a year from now. We must consider the health of our reserves. The job of treatment for those men not called for training and of those men in defense industries falls squarely on the shoulders of state and local health departments. They will need every support of governmental authorities and the entire civilian population."

This series of articles is written to give the citizens of Belleville an idea of what the problem of veneral disease defense is, how it affects each of us directly, and what all of us together must do if we are to defend ourselves from these plagues.

Next week: "What You Should Know About Syphilis."

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Church of 479 DeWitt avenue celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary quietly yesterday with a family gathering.

Mrs. Peter Johnson of Smallwood avenue entertained yesterday afternoon at two tables of bridge. Her guests were Mrs. Alexander Ross, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. John E. Hudson, Mrs. George Newman, Mrs. Robert J. Armstrong, Mrs. George Carter and Mrs. Harold Leiss.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The controversy over the proposed Republican deal whereby W. Stanley Naughton would replace Frank J. Murray as state comptroller is one of those unexpected reactions that arise now and then to confound politicians. Arthur T. Vanderbilt and his associates know that they have a bear by the tail that will be difficult either to hold on to or to let go. Just at present they are hoping the bear will doze off to sleep, thus making either course they decide upon easier. My own belief is that they are deluding themselves here just as that they were originally. They were betting then that the public would take only casual notice of the deal. Now they are betting that the public will soon forget that it did take more than casual notice of it.

This attitude fails to take notice of the profound influence the election of Charles Edison has had on public opinion in New Jersey. Whether Republican leaders like it or not, we are back psychologically where we were in the spring of 1911 when Woodrow Wilson was beginning his momentous term as governor. The public is looking for reform and is impatient with all practices that appear counter to this spirit of reform.

He's Not Indispensable

There is nothing inherently wrong with replacing an official by a new man. Murray is by no means indispensable. He has conducted his office well, but it is not a particularly hard job to fill due largely to trained subordinates. Naughton presumably has the ability to handle it successfully. He has been reasonably successful with other public jobs. But the deal was obviously cynical in that a public office was to be used to pay the salary of a political party official. This practice has been going on ever since the American republic was founded. Under normal conditions no protest would have been expected, but conditions today are not normal. Newspaper editors are inclined to realize this fact much more clearly than politicians. However, if Vanderbilt and other Clean Government leaders do not sense the change pretty soon they are likely to have a rude awakening.

The statements of Dr. Lester H. Clee and W. Warren Barbour repudiating the deal are both significant. Barbour is in an unusually favorable position to upset present party control in the state and Clee is similarly situated in Essex. A second primary ticket led by Clee, if properly organized, would very likely sweep Essex if Vanderbilt backed the present Assembly slate. It has been pointed out again and again that the Essex delegation lacks a single member with the requisite ability for leadership. One doesn't expect too much from assemblymen, but twelve mediocrities we speak of leadership, not faithful service — in a row is rather startling.

Not Too Imaginative

If James J. McMahon has the discernment to agree to the selection of twelve outstanding candidates for the Democratic slate an upset at the general election would be possible. But McMahon has never demonstrated that he has more imagination than the average politician and would probably insist on party service as a basis for most of the selections. He might agree to two or three such candidates for window dressing but "the boys" would be found trudging along behind as they have for generations. Imagination is not one of the attributes of a politician.

Clee, however, is quick to sense public opinion. He would not break with Vanderbilt unless he had good personal reasons for so doing. But they are obviously divided over the replacement of Murray by Naughton, and my guess is that Clee's viewpoint will prevail.

Shake-up Fails To Produce Winning Combination That Was Sought; Jayvees Also Lose

After a brief flare-up, Belleville High's hopes for some salvage of a disastrous season were dashed this week. Spirits were revived somewhat when the Bellboys smacked Paterson Central the day after the Great Pruning. This week they were dashed, however, by successive trimmings at the hands of Emerson and West Orange. Both were repeat victories and in each Belleville's margin of defeat was greater than when they lost to the same rivals earlier in the season. Practically the whole team, which had dropped a 26-24 decision to Emerson and which was set for revenge, had disappeared from the striped jerseys when the teams met here Friday. The visitors this time beat the Blue and Gold 24-20.

Tuesday afternoon it was West Orange's turn to play the same role and, at the Cowboy gym they tripped up the makeshift Bellboy five 39-28. The Cowboys had won the previous decision 20-20.

Emerson took a commanding lead early in the game and maintained it to the end. Ebbly Leonard started a one-man spurge in the final quarter to bring the score up to 22-20 but Len Golumbowski tied up the decision with last-minute field goal. Leonard marked up five straight points in the rally.

Lost Early Lead

In the game with West Orange the Bellboys worked up an early 5-2 lead but lost it by the end of the first quarter. Thereafter the Cowboys increased their advan-

Now, I'm Telling You

It looks like Melvyn Douglas is being pretty tough about it in telling Myrna Loy. This is a shot from their latest picture, "Third Finger, Left Hand," in which their marital complications reach a new high. The picture will start a three-day run at the Capitol Theatre on Sunday with "Chad Hanna" starring Henry Fonda and Dorothy Lamour as the companion attraction.

Expect 'Spring Dance' Will Be An Audience Pleaser

Cast of High School Seniors Has Worked Hard To Put Over Barry Play; Will Be Presented At School Tonight And Tomorrow

"Spring Dance," a comedy by Philip Barry, will be presented tonight and tomorrow night in Belleville High School auditorium by the senior class. In rehearsal since Christmas time under the direction of Miss Eleanor Rush, director of dramatics, the play bids fair as evidenced in the dress rehearsal last night, to be as hilariously excellent in its Belleville setting as against its Broadway background.

Barry is famous for good plays, "The Philadelphia Story," now playing to SRO crowds in New York is his work. "Liberty Jones," which just opened has been acclaimed a winner.

The curtain will go up at 8 tonight — tomorrow at 8:15. Playgoers will be first greeted by a display of posters made for play advertising purposes by the members of the senior class. The winning poster was drawn by Jack Gibbs; second place was taken by Jean McDonnell; third by Elsie Butler; honorable mention by Jeanne Frazier. The work was done under the supervision of P. Webster Diehl, art instructor.

The next point of interest will be the program, printed on the school press and bound by the school bindery under the direction of John S. Charlton, printing instructor. Robert Mellon cut the program and illustration from the program and Robert Mellon, John Mellon, Robert Mellon and William Vogel did the printing and binding.

Work Hard "Plugging" Play

All in all the senior class put a tremendous amount of work into the production of "Spring Dance." They made twenty-three public addresses advertising it, addressed to the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, church groups, and to elementary school assemblies. They sold tickets. They conducted many singing contests.

The play will be the thirty-second annual production of the drama school, far out-distancing any other extra-curricular activity in point of time. The senior play is older than football, baseball or basketball.

"Spring Dance" concerns a number of new England college girls and one, Alex Benson, in particular. She sees her heart on a teacher, a Yale man who is planning an extended trip. His companion knows everything about women except how to get along with them and so things begin to happen.

The feminine lead is Claire Drexler, the male lead, Harry Brumback. Others in the cast are Lydia Mosier, Harold Valentino, Jack Weber, Edward Donerty, Edward Graward, Adele Konco, Betty Jane Fisher, Madeline Williams, Sam Alvino, Mary Lou Bradman and Dorothy Danna.

Those Behind The Scenes

The boys and girls who won't be seen tonight are as important to the play as the actors, are Marilyn Jacobson, student director; Virginia Gowie, assistant; Donald Hartley, stage manager; Alice Cunningham and Harry Danna, costumes; Ian Boyd and Harry Fleming, lighting; Mildred Barnard, props; John Danna, make-up.
