

WELFARE BUREAU HAS RECEIVED OVER 10,000

Sixty-Seven Percent Of Total Is In, Charlton Reports; Praise Chambers

John S. Charlton, executive secretary of the Welfare Federation, reports that $10,093.27 of the Federation's 1941 drive fund was collected in cash. This amounts to sixty-seven per cent of the total. Of the $8,256.90 pledged, $3,309.70, or forty per cent also has been collected. The financial statement indicates that drive collections are now ten per cent ahead of last year's.

Credit for this accomplishment was noted in a recent resolution passed by the Federation directors praising Frank L. Chambers who drove chairman and regretting his resignation from the board of trustees because of his duties as chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter and chairman of the Belleville district, Boy Scouts of America.

The increased income has permitted the Federation to enlarge its allotments to its subsidiary organizations. The Belleville Red Cross will receive $800; Visiting Nurses, $200; Boy Scouts, $1,082; Girl Scouts, $1,062; Silver Lake Community House, $531; Community Service Bureau, $7,970.

Federation officers plan soon to meet with Mayor Williams and Commissioner King to discuss inclusion in the town budget a sum of money sufficient to care for the hospitalization of borderline indigents, those not able to secure relief through ordinary channels and yet in need of it in the matter of hospital care.

Led The Communicable Disease List In January; Far Ahead of 1940

Measles and influenza led the list of communicable diseases in Belleville in January and while not of epidemic proportions, shattered the January 1940 record when there were no cases of either, according to Health Officer Eugene T. Berry.

The list of 140 cases for the month reads: measles thirty-six, influenza twenty-three, mumps fifteen, chickenpox fourteen, whooping cough five, German measles three, pneumonia six, tuberculosis three, upper respiratory infection four, erysipelas two, asthmatic bronchitis one, gonorrhea one and syphilis six.

There were only ten cases of measles in December, twelve each of scarlet fever and mumps. In January 1940, however, there were eighty-one cases of mumps.

Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross, has issued a town-wide appeal for the volunteer services of technicians in the fields of X-ray, dietetics, orthopedic mechanics and female physio-therapy. This is but one indication that the local chapter is operating under war conditions and is in the forefront of Belleville organizations important in the scheme of national defense and preparedness. While as yet no duties confront technicians, the chapter announced at its meeting in the Woman's Club, 51 Rossmore place, Monday evening, that all eligibles should register with Mrs. Thomas W. Fleming of 120 Rutgers street, chapter secretary, to conform with national preparedness measures.

The Chapter will start a first aid class about March 1 under the direction of Fred L. James. Applications are being received by Miss Doris Schafenberg of 161 Cedar Hill avenue.

Miss Esther Adams, chairman of the Knitting Committee, reported that her group made 109 sweaters, sixty socks and fifteen shirts. The Junior Red Cross group reported that Schools Nos. 3, 8 and 9 had made three afghans, sixty caps, one blanket and one sweater.

Mrs. Fleming announced the need of more clerical and stenographic workers.

Miss Eileen Lynch of 175 Tappan avenue, vice chairman of the Junior Red Cross, reported that the town is being canvassed for qualified swimming instructors to teach children's classes this summer.

E. Thomas Aitken, Chapter vice chairman presided in the absence of Chairman Frank L. Chambers.

Services were held last evening at the Irvine Funeral Home, 276 Washington avenue. Rev. Edgar M. Compton of Wesley Methodist Church officiated.

Mr. Gavey had been ill for seven weeks. He was sixty-five years old. Born in Brooklyn, the son of the late Eugene S. and Sarah F. Mason Gavey, Mr. Gavey attended Brooklyn schools and was first employed by the Chauncey Real Estate Company there. He remained with the firm sixteen years. He came to Belleville in 1909 and after operating in real estate opened his own office at 162 Washington avenue in 1905.

Mr. Gavey held many town positions at various times. At one time he was assistant tax collector, at another tax assessor, and during 1912 and 1913 he was town treasurer and custodian of school funds. From 1913 to 1918 he was secretary to the Tax Adjustment Board and served three years on the Board of Health.

He was appointed register of vital statistics in 1917.

Mr. Gavey leaves his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Sweet Gavey.

ANOTHER GROUP OF STORES MAY BE ON WAY

Dr. Flynn Buys Property Opposite Woolworth Store Site On Avenue

Belleville's Cherokee Strip, the block between Rutgers street and Belleville avenue on Washington avenue which recently has seen the influx of a Sears Roebuck store, an A&P super market and several smaller shops and soon will have a Woolworth's, saw another land transaction on Monday when Dr. E. A. Flynn of 161 Washington avenue bought the easterly side property at 176 Washington avenue at a sale of town-owned land, the modern equivalent of buying from the Indians.

He bid $3,500 but was required to get up another $500 by the town commissioners Tuesday night. All land sales are subject to ratification by the Commission and when, in its judgement, the bid price is not sufficient additional money is asked for.

Dr. Flynn has not announced what he will do with his $4,000 property but real estate sources intimate that it will be the site of a large store to face the battery of new fronts across the street.

Three other land parcels were sold at the same sale, bringing the day's total business to $11,800 and this added to $11,000 in land sales on January 28 and land sales on February 24, anticipated to bring at least $5,600, will ring up a two months' total of $28,400 for the town.

Last year in the whole twelve months the town sold $46,833 of town-owned property and had 100 per cent more than in 1939.

The other parcels sold were: Seventeen lots on Parkside drive from No. 31 to 61 were purchased for $5,000 by Joseph M. and Pollogia Afiedzinski of 11 Brookline avenue, Nutley, for bungalow development.

Land at 176 Washington avenue went to Dr. Edward A. Flynn of 161 Washington avenue for $3,500. The Commission had previously been offered $3,200.

Harold M. Weir of 200 Watchung place, Bloomfield, bought lots on Mill street from No. 647 to 672 for $2,400, and William J. and Patrick J. Barrett of 16 Dawson street bought land at 39 Dawson street for $400.

S-3 Must Be Getting Some Place

Municipalities in this area were cheered this week by the fact that State Highway Commissioner E. Donald Sterner had received a low bid of $199,456 from Santaniello Bros. of Jersey City, for the grading and drainage with WPA labor of a 180 foot right-of-way over the entire section of Route S-3 from the Great Notch junction of Route 6 to Passaic avenue in Clifton, just north of the Nutley town line, to provide for the future construction of a dual roadway and to permit marginal roadside landscaping.

The bid was $43,107 less than the engineers' estimated cost. Commissioner Sterner has listed further construction of Route S-3, main cross state connection from Route 6 to the mid-town Lincoln Tunnel to New York for suburban commuters in Northern Essex County and Southern Passaic County, as a "must" for 1941. He has recommended to the Governor and Legislature the inclusion of a million dollars in this year's state highway construction program for future construction on Route S-3.

Grading of the Great Notch-Clifton section under today's bids is being included in the State Highway Department-WPA work relief program to provide 7,375 man-weeks of employment for labor taken from local relief rolls and paid by WPA. Materials will be purchased through the State's sponsor funds.

The project will extend from a new junction with Route 6 at Valley Road to Passaic avenue, Clifton, on an alignment parallel to and about 500 feet south of Stone House Plains Road, sometimes known as Allwood road. The paving will be done under future contracts.

Board Softshoes On Bagatelle Machines, But Takes Plunge For Bingo's Return

Washington avenue. Mayor Williams recited the results of a recent investigation of bagatelle proprietors conducted by Commissioner of Public Safety Clark. One of the proprietors admitted earning as much as $50 a week from his machine, other than to gamblers only a few nickels, but none of them was found after exhaustive secret investigation, the Mayor said, to be using or permitting the use of the machines for gambling purposes.

And, as Commissioner Clark has said, "If people want to push little balls around at a nickel a push, a rather silly sort of thing to do, why it's all right with the police department provided there is no gambling." And Commissioner Clark is rather rigidly slouching on all bagatellers.

However, for the time being, no more, or at least until County Prosecutor Wachenfeld has had an opportunity to present tangible evidence.

Bingo almost had a halo placed upon itself.

Edward J. Reilly of the Committee of 21, a group representing many fraternal and benevolent organizations in Essex County which would like to resort to bingo to raise money, recently wrote the commissioners asking them to help in lifting the bingo ban. In answer the commissioners passed a self-explanatory resolution which reads, in part:

"Whereas there is more than a tinge of hypocrisy contained in the fact that horse track betting is now legal in the State, but an amusement like bingo, even when conducted on a small scale for the benefit of charitable organizations, is banned in Essex although permitted in neighboring counties;

"Be It Resolved that the Commission go on record as favoring resumption of bingo in Essex County but only under regulations which shall assure sponsorship by church, fraternal or veteran groups as a means of raising funds for charitable uses and under such regulations as shall have been approved by the Prosecutor and in conformity with State law and subject to municipal ordinance."

However, there still won't be bingo in Belleville.

Enrollment Commences Monday To Secure Skilled Workers

Production Plan To Take Unemployed First; Will Hold Classes Five Nights Each Week

Belleville will step to the forefront of the nation's towns and cities in national defense when enrollment is begun on Monday at Town Hall of men desirous of taking courses in machine tool work. Classes will be held five evenings a week, eight hours each evening. Six will be devoted to shop training, two to theory. Preliminary classes may be held in the vocational work rooms in the high school where there are facilities for teaching mechanical drawing, blueprint reading and where there are enough small tools to develop a man's aptitude or discover his inaptitudes before setting him on larger, more intricate and more precise tools in some other classroom shop.

School budget balloting in the High School auditorium Tuesday evening hit an all-time high for recent years with eighty-six of the townspeople showing interest enough to vote "yes" and "no" on the 1941-42 budget of $671,577.67. The "yes" vote was seventy-eight to five. Three ballots were rejected as defective.

The ballot contained three items to be voted upon: current expenses, $344,536.39, which received seventy-eight yes, five no; repairs and maintenance, $18,000, seventy-seven yes, five no; manual training, $10,650, seventy-eight yes, five no.

A balance of $99,000 from the current budget, $141,035 of state funds and $1,500 from the state for manual training were not on the ballot.

The budget includes $11,000 for increases in teachers' salaries.

MAYOR TO TALK BEFORE LIONS

Club Plans Annual Card Party To Be Held April 1 At Meadowbrook

Mayor Williams will talk on town management and promotion this noon at the weekly luncheon of the Belleville Lion's Club at Forest Hill Field Club.

The Lion's are completing plans for their annual card party and dance to be held on Tuesday evening, April 1, at the Meadowbrook. George H. Meade, chairman of the committee in charge, has announced that Gene Krupa and his band will play and that the preliminary ticket sale indicates at least 150 tables.

The club's ninth annual party, the proceeds will go into its Milk Fund which is disbursed by the Community Service Bureau. Last year the fund was more than $300 which bought nearly 3,000 quarts for poor families unable to qualify for relief through usual channels.

So far this year the club has collected $224, which is a long start towards what will probably be the largest amount of money ever gathered together for milk. The amount accrued from estimates made on the stopping time of a gold watch that was wound and then left in a vault at People's National Bank for six weeks. The watch stopped in the third hour, tenth minute and fifty-eighth second and was awarded to A. C. Mueller of 17 Academy street, Newark.

Those assisting Meade in preparing for the dance are Charles A. Gebhardt, John R. Carrough, Harry Ziegler, Henry A. Dr. Phillips, Clarence Lommer, Dr. William Fabris, Luther E. Van Pelt and Commissioner Louis Noll. Lieutenant Wilson Starbuck of Brooklyn Navy yard will address the club next week.

Local Hudson Dealer Discloses Plans For Sales Drive

Hudson Motor Car Company will launch one of the most aggressive pre-spring merchandising drives in its history, R. G. Marr of the Blue and White Garage, 468 Washington avenue, announced today on his return from a conference with N. K. Vanderveer, Hudson Eastern sales manager, at the Hotel Astor. This drive will precede what is expected to be the most active spring market the automobile industry has yet known.

Marr disclosed that Hudson's domestic retail sales for the calendar year just ended amounted to 80,700 cars, representing an increase of twenty-two percent over 1939. "With the new year just started," Marr declared, "Hudson has already shipped in the United States alone a volume of 1941 model cars amounting to sixty percent of the entire 1940 model domestic production. The answer, of course, is found in the cars themselves as evidenced by Hudson's recent winning of awards in the field of safety and economy."

ST. MICHAEL DRIVE IS EXTENDED

Local Group Has Raised $2,374; Will Continue Campaign To February 18

St. Michael's Hospital campaign to raise $250,000 for a new maternity center has been extended to February 18, due to the recent inclement weather which hindered solicitation. Mrs. Frank A. Egan of 178 DeWitt avenue is in charge of the drive locally. All contributions should be sent to her or to any of the following eight captains:

John L. Sullivan, 146 Washington avenue; Thomas Lukowski, 61 Franklin avenue; William J. Friel, 132 Belleville avenue; Peter Barnes, 209 Ralph street; Miss Teresa K. Salmon, 81 Rossmore place; Miss Greta Kinneally, 35 Church terrace; Mrs. John Culen, 22 DeWitt avenue; Mrs. John Hudson, 18 Hewitt avenue.

The Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, pastor of St. Peter's Church is the drive director here.

Solicitation was originally limited to the parishioners of St. Peter's who have contributed $2,374 to date, but it is believed that others may wish to contribute in view of the fact that St. Michael's general and maternity hospital facilities are widely used, suburban patient care for instance numbering 15,000 days last year of which twenty-five percent was charity.

A 500 percent increase in maternity cases since 1934 has made a new maternity center an urgent necessity.

BELLBOYS MEET KEARNY HIGH TOMORROW

Quintet Bowed To Orange 29-25; Schedule Mix-up Postpones Irvington Game

The high school's Blue and Gold basketball team will travel to Kearny tomorrow night in the hope of gaining revenge for an early season setback handed them by the Cardinals. Although the locals failed to turn up a victory this week, they have high hopes of upsetting the Raiders who have been taking the bumps lately following an early season high-scoring victory over the Cardinals. The game was handiapped twice this week, by Newark Central and East Orange. Despite a late rally last Friday night the Bellboys bowed to the Orange High cagers 29-25. Next Tuesday night they will play hosts to the Union Hill quintet which is highly rated in Hudson County scholastic circles.

Not only did the boys lose another this week, but they were knocked out of a tussle with Irvington by a mix-up in schedule.

According to Coach Al McBride, he had a contract to appear at Irvington on Tuesday night. Apparently the Blue and White courtiers had it figured out differently for they showed up at the local high school gym about the time that the Bellboys were pulling into Irvington. The two teams got together by telephone and it was agreed that the Bellboys should return home.

When the two teams met together, they discovered that no one had arranged for officials and the whole thing was finally called off.

Irvington is now scheduled to appear here on February 23. Tuesday night's scheduled tilt may be played some time early in March.

Lacked Scoring Punch

The Orange setto was just another case of the Bellboys not having enough scoring punch to put over a victory when they had the other team on the run. Orange shoved off to a lead early in the second quarter but Johnny Calichio knotted the count at twelve-all with a basket just before halftime when they beeped. Orange, with Cal Irvin leading the way, stepped out again in the third period to lead 21-18. The Bellboys rallied briefly before the final gun but they could not overcome the two-basket lead which the Tornadoes had. Calichio led the locals with three baskets and a foul shot while Irvin ran away with high scoring honors for Orange, looping in seventeen points.

From The SIDELINES As Seen By The Sideliner

Along 'Cauliflower Alley, where the ten percenters and the rest of the prizefight muckers graze in their off moments, the lantern jaws and the plug uglies are guffawing over the latest episode in the merry madcap life of the Hibernian Hulk from Paterson, Patrick Edward Comiskey. Should mention of Patrick's moniker in the news columns have escaped your eye, we'll review a bit of it for you. Some time last Wednesday afternoon (February 4), Lieutenant Kep Smith and Copper Ed Holley were lying in ambush along Greylock parkway waiting for some leadfooted motorist to zip along Washington avenue so that they could take up their most loved occupation—that of nabbing an unsuspecting speeder.

All of a sudden like, Brothers Smith and Holley heard a muffled roar in the distance and then a blur shot past their eyes. Smith thought it went south. Holley wasn't sure. Finally, they decided to go north in search of what they thought might have been an astronomical phenomena—a meteor, or something. There in the distance ahead of them was a streamlined, blue speedster gunning towards the Nutley line hell-bent for some place.

They put the old gas pedal down to the floor beads, tore across the Nutley line, bounced over the railroad tracks at Centre street and then headed into the mile stretch. With the old speedometer needle doing a jitterbug dance up around 80 they crept up on the speeding orbit. The Yountakoh Golf links loomed up ahead. Word the speedster sped. He slowed up a bit and Smith and Holley pulled up along side.

Out of the blue speedwagon stepped The Great—yes—The Great Patrick Edward Comiskey. The cops were most impolite—neither one of them bowed—and they should have—before Patrick Edward. They merely handed him an invitation to come in and talk over old times with Recorder Everett Smith next Wednesday night.

If mention of Patrick Edward's Celtic handle does not ring the bell in your nook of memories let us sum it up for you by stating that Patrick WAS the Silk City Wonder Child, the "white hope" of the ages, who before he was old enough to vote was destined to knock Heavyweight Champ Joe Louis back into the cotton fields.

One day, according to legend, Brother Bill Daly, one of the smarter smarties in the pugilistic business, was ambushed along Market street, Paterson, enjoying his favorite nickel stogie when he espied a big hulk of a lad lifting a couple of packing cases with one hand. That boy, said Mr. Daly, could make a good fighter. And so began the Cinderella story of Patrick Edward Comiskey. Under the loving care of Brother Bill, Patrick Edward was nursed through a number of pushovers and two round lugo fights.

Comiskey is a big 200-pound hulk of a youth. He's got a beautiful build, making him the picture of the superb athlete. The map of Ireland is spread all over his puss and the publicity boys beat the drums that another Irish champion was on his way. Daly's honest-looking face or something must have sold the sports writers for they traipsed right along selling the public on the idea that Comiskey really had something. He had a wallop, but he couldn't box his way out of a subway crowd and he was either too dumb to be taught what to do with his mitts or else he just wouldn't learn. Well, he went around the country stretching out a bunch of bumps that nobody ever thought were any good and getting some fancy sugar for a short evening's work.

It was the old story of a light-headed kid with too much money. Fame went to his noggin and he started buying hats and the dough went to the dames. Patrick Edward, who had always ridden on buses or mooched rides from his friends took unto himself a flashy looking speedster. And then began a new chapter in Patrick Edward's life. Coupled with his hopes of becoming heavyweight champion of the world was the craving to be the champion speed limit law buster of the S. I. It didn't take cops long to find out that Patrick was sure of getting the latter title than he was of becoming the heavyweight kingpin. The Slamming Shamrock behind the wheel of his streamliner dusted off cops, frightened old ladies and sent most of the populous for cover when he went roaring down the highway.

Stop him? No, no. Not the man who was the Great White Hope. Not the guy who was going to make the world forget that Paterson was the Silk City and remember it as the home of Comiskey the World's Heavyweight Champion. Well, there's always an ending to all these stories.

One evening late last June they trundled Grandpa Max Bear into the ring over in Frank Hague's Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City for a fifteen-round session with Patrick. The small fry went for Patrick but the smart boys laid their sugar on Maxie. Grandpa stepped out of the corner, played

EASTWOODS NOW ALL ALONE

Command Factory Loop Lead After Shaking Off H. & G. Five 42-21

The Eastwoods took undisputed possession of first place in the Industrial loop's third and final round this week when they ran roughshod over the Hanlon and Goodman quintet 42-21, which was in a first place tie with them. Vandermark with twenty points led the Eastwoods in their one-sided victory. Wallace & Tiernan shook off the drolums to win from the Viking Tool five 31-24.

Federal Leather went into a second place tie with Hanlon & Goodman without even working up a sweat for the Sweeney five defaulted to them.

Well, a lot of the smart boys have already turned the page on Comiskey's ring career. They say he could have been great if he'd snuck the easy dough he made in the snow bank, forgot about the dames and paid attention to some of the boys who tried to teach him the tricks of the trade.

His episode here is not the first scrap he'd had with the law. There have been others—and the decisions have gone against him. In some of the places where fight folk get together—and it's not because they lost dough on Patrick but because they think it may do him some good—they hope that Recorder Smith slaps Comiskey with a kayo wallop that'll bring him to his senses.

Congregation Five Wins First In Two Years

Synagogue Basketeers Set Down Reformed Boys 27-21 in Surprise Game; Grace Baptist Keeps Ahead of Pack; Fewsmiths and Italians Win

Well, they say if you wait long enough the worm will turn. Then, there's the other one about every dog having his day. And so, it can be written down in history this week that the Congregation A.A.A. basketeers who have been kicked around the Church League without a triumph in the last two years, have finally won a game. They created some sort of a sensation at the high school Monday night when they knocked off the runner-up Belleville Reformed boys 27-21 and kicked them back into a third place tie with the Italian Baptist quintet.

Schwartz and Lustig had a good night under the basket, looping in six and eight points respectively for the Congregation boys. Sadlock and Knab with six markers each weren't good enough to overcome the A.A.A. scoring power.

Fewsmith's 31-15 win over the Wesley Methodist, which boosted them into second place, was completely overshadowed by the upset triumph. Grace Baptist kept up its winning pace by clipping St. Peter's 30-25, while Italian Baptist continued to show some of its old time form by knocking off the lowly Bethany Lutheran hoopers 23-12.

Sterner's Super Highway Proposal

For several years State Highway Commissioner E. Donald Sterner has been one of the leading proponents for the construction of a 400-mile super highway from Boston to Washington, D. C. Fantastic as this plan may have been to many when first broached, it seems more practical today with swift changing events taking place. In recent months Sterner has been joined by other highway experts of North Atlantic States in an appeal for action and money to proceed with the gigantic project. The estimated cost of one-quarter of a billion dollars is almost staggering when spoken of in relation to other highway expenses.

However, there is a practical and judicious argument put forward by those in favor of the highway. The North Atlantic states are the hub of this nation's industry. It is in these states that the bulk of defense materials, machinery and equipment are being wrought and manufactured. It is here that the Federal government and industry are pouring in millions of dollars to increase and expand the capacity of the manufacturing plants. Since it is the defense of this nation against future attack that we are now building, would it not be the wiser plan to construct a route which would permit fast movement of men, materials and equipment from one key point to another? That is the question which is put by those advocating the construction of this super highway.

Modern mechanized equipment — and the government is building or has on order thousands of pieces of it — can be of little use if there are not the highways over which it can be moved without delay, congestion or interference from everyday traffic which clogs most of our cities. The government, unless it includes a program to improve through highway routes, according to Commissioner Sterner, "will be in much the same predicament as a new railroad company which purchases enormous rolling stock but fails to provide rights of way or lay rails on which it can operate."

The European war, particularly the celerity with which the German Army moved across the lowlands and into France, has taught that speed is the important factor in modern warfare. It takes no military expert to realize that if an invasion of this country is ever attempted it will be on the vitally important industrial eastern seaboard that the attack will first be made. Once an invader has destroyed the supply lines for materials and food, and disrupted transportation and communication, the success of the attack would be much more likely.

If, as has been argued, such an invasion is not possible, why spend billions of dollars developing a modern army and a defense against it? The plan seems almost fantastic. The construction of such a road seems extravagant. But, we are in the midst of times when nothing which seems to affect the defense of the nation seems extravagant. Millions are being spent for men and machines and it would seem that there is a logic to the argument that the job is incomplete unless the roads are provided over which they can travel swiftly.

He Gave His Reason

Wendell Willkie spoke in Washington this week in support of the lend-lease bill for further aid to Britain not on any theoretical opinion or on what he had been told, but on what he had seen in a personal visit to England. Thus, more credence should be attached to the opinions of one who speaks from experience and observation than from hearsay or supposition. In urging that more destroyers and bombers be sent across the Atlantic, Willkie took a step further than many expected. In advocating that certain phases of the bill be eliminated that had been criticized as giving the President too much power, he sought to pacify the fears of some of those opposing it so that there could be greater unity in Congress on legislation.

There has been a growing opposition to Willkie's stand among Republican leaders. That many were not inclined to follow the titular head of the G.O.P. was indicated by the vote of a number of the party in the House of Representatives on the lend-lease legislation. As had been expected, in his appearance before the Senate committee, several of the isolationist-minded senators sought to make Willkie uncomfortable by referring to some of his speeches in the Presidential campaign in which he had criticized President Roosevelt's foreign policies. And in his answer to these remarks, Willkie made the statement which to us was the outstanding one in his appearance before the committee. He said:

"He is my President now." That summed up the apparent attitude with which Willkie has approached the subject of aid to Britain and the support of the Administration's program in general principle. It illustrated that Willkie has placed what he believes is the welfare of this country above partisan politics. He has done so at the risk of being scorned and sneered at by party die-hards. Still, we believe that the admiration and popularity of Willkie as a national leader has increased.

No More Wild Feathers

The use of feathers as adornments on millady's hat has been gaining in popularity. There was a time a few years ago when they were pretty scarce, but the trend back to them became so noticeable and popular that it sent the National Audubon Society into action. The organization discovered that plumage from a number of wild birds throughout the country was being used. This meant that these birds were being destroyed and where birds are concerned the Audubon Society can get excited. Last fall they condemned the practice after having made a thorough study.

Now comes the word that it won't be long before women will have to do without wild bird plumage on their chapeaus. The Audubon Society announced this week that they had reached an agreement with the Feather Industries, Inc., which claims to control ninety per cent of the trade of acquiring feathers for hats, that the practice will be stopped. By mutual consent they set six years as the time limit on the use of wild plumage since the feather merchants pointed out that they already had on hand many wild bird feathers on which they could not afford to take a financial loss. However, from now on the bald eagle, the golden egret, the pheasants and the other birds which have been favored for hat plumage by the fashionable ladies may fly without fear of being snatched to be turned into a decorative ornament on the top of some woman's hat.

The Audubon Society is tireless in the work that it does in the conservation of wild birds. Whether it be a robin or a bald eagle, they are just as vitally concerned to see that no harm comes to them and that they continue to flourish throughout the land.

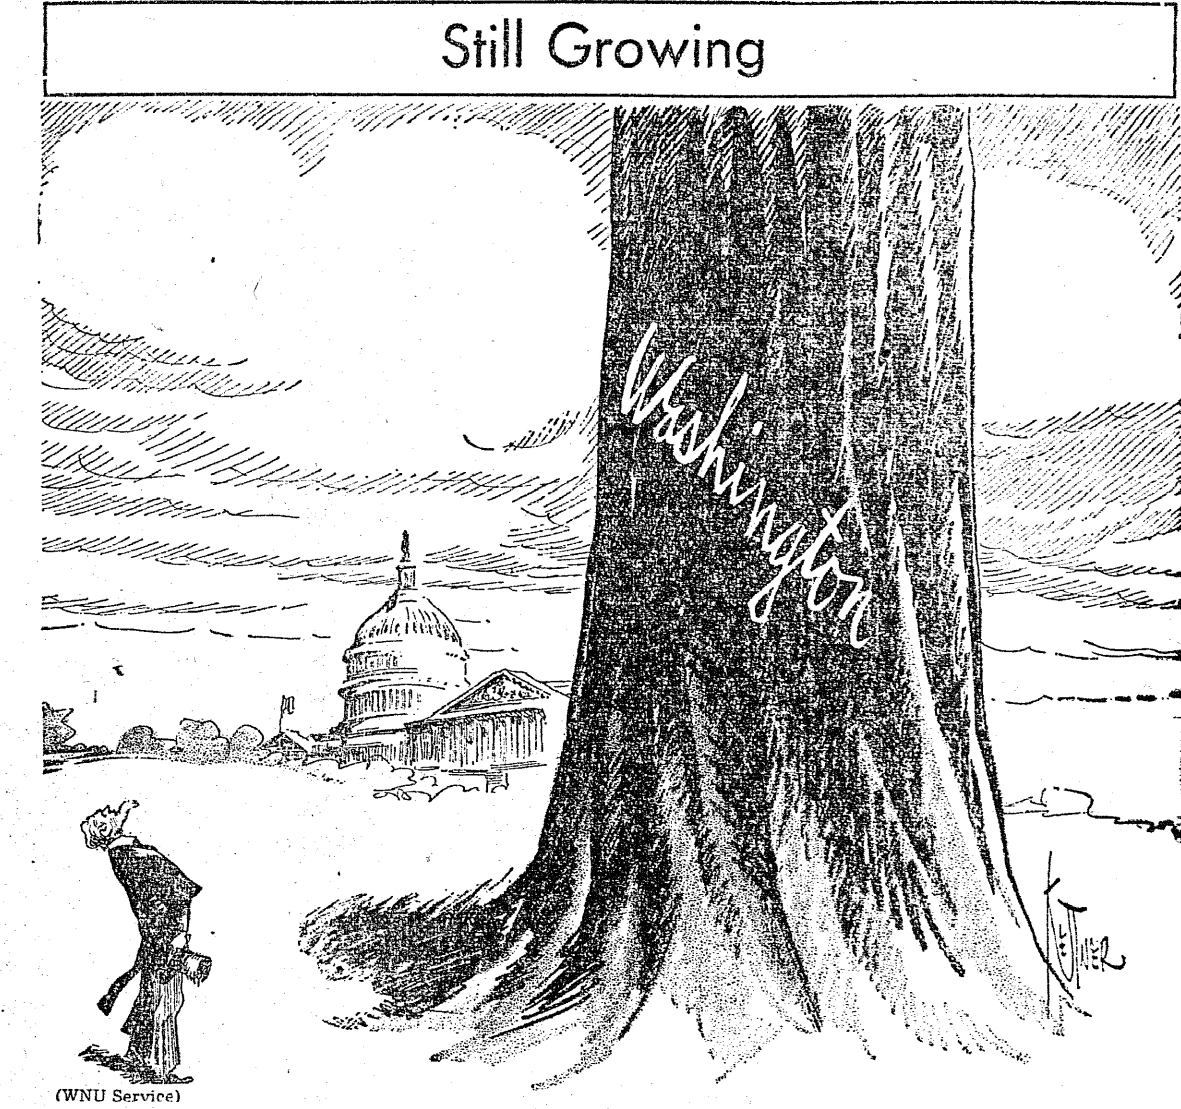

This Is Boy Scout Week

This is National Boy Scout Week and throughout the land young boys are participating in the thirty-third birthday celebration of this great youth organization. It is a fitting time to pay tribute not only to the founders of this movement but to the many men who today in our own community are giving voluntarily of their time and services to help this country build better young men.

A year ago we commented on the work that was being performed in Belleville among the Boy Scouts and we can once again say that this good effort has been continued. In the Boy Scouts, the Sea Scouts and the Cubs, all branches of the same organization, there has been notable progress and advancement not only in numbers but in the good that has been accomplished. More frequently we are confronted with the fact that the guidance and development of the youth is one of the important tasks of the nation. Not only must they be moulded for the future of this country, but their minds must be guided in light of present day events.

The increasing importance of recreation and organized play and instruction programs is realized by educators and community officials. Through the Boy Scout program we have an excellent outlet for many of the recreation problems which confront Belleville. Boys whose minds are occupied and who are being taught the true meaning of obedience, respect for others and responsibility never become community problems.

Manpower — The Basic Resource Of Defense

By Eugene T. Berry, Belleville Health Officer

Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of four articles on "Manpower — The Basic Resource of Defense."

Syphilis is a disease—a serious disease. Untreated, it may cripple or cause insanity or blindness. It may even cause death. But syphilis can be cured. In fact, for no other serious disease is there so sure a cure. First, of course, syphilis must be found. The earlier it is found and the sooner good treatment is begun, the better the chances for cure.

The first sign of syphilis is a sore called a chancre (pronounced "Shanker"), which comes at the place the germ of syphilis enters the body. The germs are called "Spirochetes." In the sore are Spirochetes. An expert can see them under a special darkfield microscope. After three to eight weeks, the sore disappears and sometimes a rash comes out on the body. Then this goes away too. This is an important fact. "Quacks" make suckers of people who don't know it. They sell a salve or bottle of "medicine," then when the sores and rash go away, they try to tell you syphilis is cured. That is not true. Syphilis has borrowed deep into the tissues of the body and unless it is found it will seriously damage many internal organs.

The blood test can find syphilis when there are no outward signs. The blood test is very simple. A rubber cord around the upper arm, a flex of the muscle, the pin-like prick of the needle—and in a moment it's all over. The blood is then put through laboratory tests. If the report is negative, syphilis is probably not present. If the report is positive, it probably means syphilis. Another blood sample should be taken and the person should be given a thorough physical examination. Then the doctor can tell for sure.

If treatment is begun during the first six months of the disease, most syphilis can be cured. Old syphilis is harder to cure. But even then treatment can keep it from getting worse. Even brain or other serious kinds of syphilis can be helped by a good treatment. For no other serious disease is there so sure a cure. Caught in time, syphilis can be cured! Good treatment means weekly shots in your arm or hip with special drugs . . . once a week for at least seven weeks. That seems a long time but it's a lot better than taking a chance of being crippled or insane—or dead! Remember these facts about syphilis:

1. Syphilis is a serious disease.
2. The first sign is a sore. You can know for sure if your doctor makes a laboratory test THEN.
3. The blood test will find syphilis.
4. Early blood tests and treatment will protect your unborn children.
5. Good treatment means shots in your arm or hip with special drugs . . . once a week for seven weeks. Only a doctor can cure syphilis.
6. For no other serious disease is there so sure a cure. Know for sure. Have a blood test now. See your doctor or go to the Health Department Rooms at Town Hall.

Bureau Required To Help Less During 1940

Improved Employment Situation Helped, Reports Mrs. Reiner, Community's Secretary; Families Sought More Than Cash Assistance

The improved employment situation in Belleville in 1940 resulted in a decrease of seven per cent in applications for help to the Community Service Bureau and an eleven per cent decrease in the number of families requiring aid, according to the Bureau's annual report. Summarized by Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, executive secretary, the report states that the Bureau received 233 applications for help, directly served 205 families at a cost of $8,071.59, of which $7,111.89 was received from the Community Chest and $1,381.05 from special gifts and projects. "Partly because of the improved employment situation in Belleville and Essex County our applications for the year were sixteen less than in 1939 and we helped twenty-nine fewer families," Mrs. Reiner said. "In approximately one-third of our cases cash aid was used as an adjunct to other services and a total of $2,168 was spent for this purpose, $250 more than in 1939. "In offering its services to the families who needed our help last year the Community Service Bureau acted as the agents of the citizens of Belleville who wish to aid their neighbors who were in temporary trouble. The term 'neighbors' is accurate, for people who came to us were representing up their homes because they couldn't get along with each other, parents whose sons or daughters were getting 'out of hand,' young men and women who had never had a chance to work for wages and needed help in preparing for the jobs that are now opening — these and people with dozens of other deep personal problems sought our help in finding a way out of their troubles.

"We have no magic formula for helping families. What the one case worker on our staff possesses is professional training in the understanding of family problems, and experience in working with families who were in trouble. The problems families brought us during the year were not new — many were as old as family life itself — but they were new to the individual family, and outside counsel was needed in finding a solution.

"Throughout the year we worked closely, as always, with the Municipal Welfare Department and with other social work and health groups in the community so we could avoid any duplication of effort. Many families were referred to us for supplemental help not offered by the Municipal Welfare Department. A great many families whom we were helping we sent to other private organizations for types of services they required, but we do not provide. For example, we sent twenty-six children, selected on the basis of a special need for a vacation from the town, to five different summer camps last year.

Aim To Strengthen Family

"Our principal aim in all our work was and is the strengthening of family life, the foundation of our community and of our American democracy. Now that it is increasingly clear that Belleville is going to play an important part in the national defense program, we feel that our program of restoring families to strength and self-support is more necessary than ever," Mrs. Reiner declared.

"The largest and most pressing problem confronting the agency was how to carry on with so small a staff and the limited funds available," Mrs. Reiner pointed out that because the Bureau is the only case-working agency in Belleville it is called upon to deal with a wide variety of difficult situations and has been seriously handicapped since giving up one worker in 1939. However, the outlook for 1941 is more hopeful, due to an increased Community Chest allotment, which will enable the Bureau to add a case worker to its staff for part of the year. So there is expectation of being able to provide more adequate services to the sizeable group which is asking for them.

"Our host of friends and supporters is definitely growing," concluded Mrs. Reiner, "and we need their continued interest so that the Bureau may be a community factor in maintaining and building strong family life. This kind of home defense is important to help preserve the family — that smallest unit of democracy which is so vital to all of us."

Zink Commends Board

From Senator Homer C. Zink, 26 Rossmore Place. To the Editor of The News: In your issue of January 2nd, you carried an editorial commending Mayor Williams and other members of the Town Commission for their success in advertising Belleville outside the town limits.

Great credit is due the administration for lifting the town out of the financial depths in which it was sunk several years ago, and for placing it high among the municipalities of the state. As one who has had ample opportunity to become familiar with Belleville's record during the past few years, I want to join in your commendation of those officials who have succeeded in giving Belleville its high standing, which is recognized throughout the state, and which has attracted industry to our town.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

by Meador Wright

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

Dr. Lester H. Clee is the topic of more political gossip in Essex than ever before in his career. For the first time Clee has assumed the leadership of a movement. Not only will he be a candidate for Commissioner of Newbury, but he announces boldly that he plans to lead a campaign to unseat the present regime. Clee's declaration leaves Arthur T. Vanderbilt no choice in the Newbury election. Either he must follow Clee's policies or risk a complete break with the Newbury minister. Four years ago there was a Clean Government ticket headed by Ernest A. Reed. While this ticket was defeated, it succeeded in blocking the Democratic slate directed by William H. Kelly, then county chairman. Only Kelly supported candidate to win was Joseph M. Byrne who had strong independent support. The late Themistocles Mancusi-Ungaro was the only Clean Government candidate to get close to the winning column.

Clee campaigned for the Vanderbilt-Seely ticket but was bitterly disappointed at the results. The net effect of Clean Government efforts was to leave Newbury under control of the Ellenstein-Franklin combination that had misgoverned it for four years previously.

Apparently Clee has made up his mind that he will have no part in such a negative victory this time. He wants to clean up the Newbury City Hall, not strengthen the Republican party in Essex. His criticism of the bill recently defeated in the Assembly to provide a run-off primary showed that he was taking his own advice and going his own way independent of Vanderbilt who had sponsored the primary bill.

Tells Vanderbilt To "Stay Out" This criticism together with his recent declaration of leadership can hardly be interpreted other than as a polite invitation to Vanderbilt to stay out of the Newbury fight.

Pointed as this action of Clee's may seem, it does not necessarily mean a personal break with Vanderbilt. Clee has great admiration for the Short Hills lawyer. But it does mean that from now on Clee is on his own. He wants to be the Republican nominee for governor in 1943 and he does not mean to permit this ambition to be stifled by any policy of "party harmony" such as resulted in his being sidetracked last year in favor of Robert Hendrickson. Clee believes that he could have been nominated last year against Harold Hoffman just as easily as Hendrickson was. Furthermore, he is convinced that Charles Ed-

Five Years Ago

Installation of five new water mains at a cost of nearly $62,000 was approved by WPA. They were scheduled for Garden, Belleville and Liberty avenues, Joralemon and Stephens streets.

Fire Chief Reid recommended the transfer of a small pumping engine to the Magnolia street firehouse to decrease fire hazards in Silver Lake.

Public Safety Commissioner Gerhardt ordered police to stop merchants and householders from getting rid of snow in front of their property by throwing it into the streets.

The Town Commission again denied a junk yard license to Giuseppe Resciniti for premises at 42 Clinton street.

The Board of Education budget was okayed by the "voters" by an 82-1 margin.

Ten Years Ago

A special meeting of the Commission, called to try once more to get the necessary four votes to pass the budget, was cancelled when Town Attorney suddenly reversed his decision and said three votes were sufficient.

The budget, which held a thirty-two point rise, was passed 4-1 on first reading; but at a public hearing in the high school Commissioner Carvagher reversed his vote and stood with Commissioner Williams in the minority. Then Brown also did a reverse. The 1931 budget called for expenditures of $827,000.

Williams declared that the town had "lost" 660,000 gallons of water during the previous three years. He offered two possible explanations: a leak in the system or residents receiving water and not being charged for it. The loss cost the town $52,000, Williams said.

The high school basketballs had a record of ten wins in twelve games.

Twenty Years Ago

The town was up in arms in the fight between the Board of Commissioners and The Belleville Times. The Commission insisted on sending its legal advertising to a Newark paper. Latest to jump to the defense of The Times was John D. DeWitt who published The Belleville Press from 1890 to 1895.

Announcement was made of the marriage of Mrs. Maude Aschenbach to Verner W. Forgie, superintendent of the local post office.

Walter Drake was finally assigned to duty as a patrolman by Police Chief Michael J. Flynn after the former had received a regular salary for nearly two years without going to work. Mayor Waters was against Drake's appointment but the rest of the Commission had voted to appoint him to the force. Waters was Public Safety Director and refused up to that time to allow Drake to go on active duty.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Four new streets were laid out and preparations were made to lay them in the near future. They were extensions of Overlook, Adelaide, Forest and Belmohr. The gigantic road-building program of the Commission also began calling for bids for paving of Floyd, Beech, Bremond, Preston, Linden and Bell from Hillside (now River) to William B. Watson was elected iera) Park south.

president of the Board of Health, succeeding Dr. Herbert B. Vail, who had served in that capacity for ten years. Other officers were Henry F. Mason, vice-president; John F. Flanagan, secretary; W. Brand Smith, health inspector; Hugh J. McGuire, plumbing inspector.

Heading the committees in charge of arranging the high school senior class' musicale and literary entertainment were Miss Amy Turner, Miss Marguerite Hayes, Roy Dickinson, John Campbell and Ralph Allaire.

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS
by Bill Myers

VOCAL-ooding is the latest rage of local night life. It isn't singing and it isn't humming. It's a nervous sputtering of lines from one or two popular songs, starting for apparently no reason and ending abruptly in much the same manner. Only Carnegie, one of the proprietors of Twin Cedars, West Orange, originated it, quite innocently, he admits, but now, it seems, everyone is going in for it. Actually, it is a nervous whistling of a melody put to a modern tempo vocally. A few bars of a popular tune, a sudden stop, a few more bars, and another stop. It is an very contagious, but quite definitely contagious. It ever breaks out in some of our big business and industrial plants. It is going to be a problem for the psychologists.

ONE of the most exciting episodes in current business successes is the sudden rise to popularity of the blue door, route 10, East Hanover. In a little over three months this miniature cafe-lounge and restaurant has taken a place with some of the leaders, its clientele representing some of the best families of Morris and Essex. Even the proprietors, Messrs. Carl and Frank Clements have been made wide-eyed by the increased patronage.

ANOTHER immediate success was the inauguration of Sunday afternoon cocktail hours at Twin Cedars, West Orange. With the Paramount Trio playing from 4 to 8, hot hors d'oeuvres to tickle your palate, and every so often an impromptu performance by a guest artist, Twin Cedars is destined to become an extremely popular Sunday afternoon rendezvous.

THE Well, West Caldwell, with an expert kitchen staff, is winning a reputation for its well-balanced luncheon, dinner and supper menus, and porch dining (enclosed, or course) is quite the popular thing at the popular West Essex resort. The Three Octaves entertain nightly (except Monday, when the Well is closed) and there is dancing, of course.

PALS' Cabin, which never stops doing things, has redecorated and refurbished the cozy dining salon between its Cabin Room and its new Pine Room, allowing a still greater seating capacity at Pals'. A telephone call to George, Pals' headwaiter, will reserve a table for you, and it is our suggestion that you make a reservation if you dinner party is planned through the weekend.

A NEW and better route from the Oranges to mid-town Manhattan has been put into effect by DeCamp Bus Lines, making a DeCamp bus the most convenient way to reach the shopping and theatrical area of the Metropolis. The new route is from main street and Essex avenue, Orange, down Main street to Roseville avenue, south to West Market street, to Raymond boulevard, over the Skyway, through the Holland Tunnel to 43rd street and Broadway.

IF a celebrity is in town the chances are you will discover him (or her) at the Robert Treat. This week it was him — Allan Jones — and a popular guest he was. Not so long ago Mr. D. W. Griffith was there; Martha Raye was another.

THERE is a divided group among the Alderney Milk Barn patrons these days and nights. One division sticks to Alderney ice cream whether it's blistering cold or moderate outside, while the other lines up for Alderney oyster stew. Ice skaters sent the oyster stew records soaring last week; but colder weather this week has given the ice cream enthusiasts the edge. The Alderney Barn has become the unofficial weather barometer along Route 10.

Casket Cost?

Truly in our profession value is not measured by the casket selected—for many people have chosen cheap merchandise with a view to economy, only to find after receiving an itemized statement they might have selected a far more impressive service. We sincerely try to give dollar for dollar value, for we realize only too well how pitifully dependent is the family whose circumstances have obliged to come to us. Our keen sense of responsibility forces us to conscientiously price our service within the amount which our client desires to pay. It is not to our credit to oversell or influence in any way, any individual who comes to us in time of need.

PLAN FATHER-SON ANNUAL DINNER

Grace Baptist Church Banquet
Will Be Held March 1;
Varied Entertainment

The Men's Club of Grace Baptist Church will hold its annual father and son banquet Saturday evening, March 1, in the church recreation rooms. Last year more than 100 attended. The affair has always had a wide appeal in Belleville and attracted fathers and sons from many churches.

Francis P. Morton of East Orange, Past Grand Master of New Jersey Masons, will speak on "Recognizing the Opportunities and Value of Life." Al Lange, accordionist, will play during dinner.

After Morton's talk Edward L. Chesley, club president, will show talking movies for an hour. The sons and fathers will then engage in bowling, shuffleboard, dart, baseball, quoits and volleyball contests.

Mrs. Dorothy Sheeley, past president of the Grace Baptist World Wide Guild, is chairman of the ladies' committee in charge of the dinner. Herbert Robinson of 29 Bremond street is handling tickets. Other committee members are Charles Buckley, Harvey Struble, Charles Thompson, Quinton Kiepe and George Karrer.

TO MARK JEWISH ABOR DAY

Children Will Participate Sunday In Program At Congregation Synagogue

A festival celebration will be held by the religious school of Congregation Ahavas Achim on Sunday at 10 to mark the anniversary of Chaimisho Osor B'Shevat, the Jewish Arbor Day. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, school principal, will be in charge. All pupils, friends and parents are invited.

Chaimisho Osor B'Shevat is also known as "Rosh Hashannah L'Ilanot," the new year for trees, because it is at this time that the trees begin to flower at Palestine, the Jewish national homeland. The holiday also marks the beginning of the spring planting in Palestine. The significance of the holiday brings before the Jews at once the world's importance of Palestine, and the custom of planting trees in one's name is observed on this day.

All these significances will mark the observance Sunday morning. There will be recitations by the children and a song fest, featuring Palestinian songs. The main portion of the program will be given over to the presentation of talking movies.

After the program all the children attending will receive candies and fruits of Palestine, which will be distributed by the Sisterhood of the Congregation. Mrs. Benjamin Jacobson, Mrs. Ida Lempert, Mrs. Anna Goldstein and Mrs. Pauline Gruhin are in charge of refreshments.
