

Leading Manufacturers Commend Town Board For Budget Program

Tiernan, Dettelbach and Chambers Laudatory in Comments on Management of Town

Martin F. Tiernan, president of Wallace & Tiernan and president of the Belleville Manufacturers' Association, and Phillip Dettelbach, general manager of L. Sonneborn Sons, commended Mayor Williams and the town commissioners for faithful performance of duty at the meeting of the commissioners Tuesday night when the 1941 budget was approved. Frank L. Chambers, general manager of National Grain Yeast Company, was present and concurred in the remarks made by Tiernan and Dettelbach which won loud applause from the nearly fifty interested taxpayers present.

Edmond Burns of the Belleville Property Owners Association consumed more than an hour going over the budget item by item in an obvious attempt to find discrepancies. Mayor Williams patiently explained each point to him and so thoroughly illuminated all items which he failed to understand, that Burns finally resumed his seat patently non-pulsed.

After Tiernan's speech Burns rose and said that he agreed heartily with the manufacturer, and what had pertended to be a hot, stormy budget hearing reminiscent of the early thirties, turned into a veritable tea-party and mutual admiration society.

The budget totals $1,937,265.06, an appreciable drop from last year's budget. It includes more than $200,000 for debt retirement. The tax rate is tentatively set for $4.60, an eight-point drop.

Speaks as Former Member

"As a former commissioner," Dettelbach said, "and as a business man, I wish to commend Mayor Williams and all the commissioners for their honest, efficient management of the Town of Belleville."

"Out of the morass of the early depression years, when script was used to pay town employees, when only forty-five per cent of the taxes were collected, when rates were more than $4,000,000 greater than today, they have built a solvent town."

"I should like the citizens of Belleville to know that the board deserves high praise."

"Further, I should like the citizens to know that any criticism of the board individually or collectively is undeserved."

Tiernan said that Mayor Williams' preamble to the budget should be carefully studied by everyone. He said that the one paragraph which particularly interested him was that headed: "Requests for expenditures for various new projects."

He read out for everyone to hear from a printed copy of the budget (everyone there had been given such a copy):

"Submitted by many well-intentioned folks have been considered as worthy projects by the Board of Commissioners, but only those considered very needful have been approved as your Board deems it imperative to constantly keep in mind that Federal taxes are due to make heavy demands on all citizens and operators of business houses during 1941 and several years thereafter."

Continuing, Tiernan said, "that is a very clear statement. The commissioners do not intend to expend monies on unnecessary improvements merely because they have the money. It means that, under their management, the Town of Belleville one of these days soon will be out of debt. And what other town hereabouts can point to such a program?"

Is Against Sudden Drop

He asked the commissioners to carry on the good work and particularly asked them not to drop suddenly the tax rate; to keep it fairly steady and build up a reserve to cushion the shock sure to follow this era which Mayor Williams calls "Profitless Prosperity."

"Under the Mayor's management this town has had some fine industries come into it. And once here they all want to stay. Promises made to them are never broken. And I know of no better spot to live in or to do business in than Belleville," Tiernan concluded.

John Kilpatrick questioned the Mayor on the point of debt retirement and Williams showed him how the town will be completely in the black by 1967 and at no great burden to the taxpayers.

Mrs. Samuel Tiger, representing the Valley Improvement Association, again appeared before the board at the conference preceding the main meeting and requested that something be done to improve the appearance of the 100-foot strip along the Passaic river between the end of the county park project and that of the plant of the New York Color and Chemical Company.

"Green grass has put many an adjacent community in the red," Mayor Williams said, pointing out that it would cost at least $2,000 to make the improvements requested. Commissioner Waters said that he would see what his department could do to clean up the spot with his present staff.

Miss Jane Donnelly was appointed Registrar of Vital Statistics by the Town Commission Tuesday. Her term will start on April 1 and is for three years. She takes the place of the late Eugene M. Gavey.

HARTLEY WILL SPEAK SUNDAY AT FEWSMITH

Congressman Will Discuss National Defense At Evening Service

Congressman Fred A. Hartley will speak next Sunday evening at Fewsmith Memorial Presbyterian Church at 8 o'clock on national defense. The program is one of a series of quarterly evening services directed by the Board of Deacons. It is open to the public.

Members of Fewsmith have been prepared for a program based on the general theme that the hope of the world requires the abandonment of Hitler's race-view and the triumph of the religious view of humanity as one family, living together in a spirit of brotherhood and mutual helpfulness, not in brutal conflict of race supremacy.

Following Hartley's talk, Dr. O. Bell Close, pastor, will briefly explain how war is challenging the mission of the church as well as the country and how defense machinery must necessarily be correlated to religious duty.

During the service, the local post of the American Legion plans to dedicate a new American flag and a new Christian flag, which have been offered to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kristen.

The dedication will follow the American Legion ritual. In addition to the American Legion, the Board of Commissioners will be guests and participants in the program. Mayor William H. Williams will introduce Congressman Hartley. Other special groups invited include the local chapters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Daughters of American Revolution, the Order of U. A. M., the Daughters of American Liberty, Board of Education and the Boy, Girl and Cub Scouts. Special music has been prepared by the church choir and the girls' choir.

NUTLEY CHURCH PLANS BAZAAR

Local Folks On Committees Arranging Affair For Holy Family Church

The Holy Family Church in Brookline avenue, Nutley, of which Rev. Anthony Di Luca is pastor, is planning its annual bazaar to be held in the parish hall from May 6 through 10. A number of local residents are co-operating in arranging this third annual event for the church of the neighboring town. Proceeds will be put toward the fund to reduce the indebtedness of the church building and rectory which was erected several years ago.

Salvatore Sarli of Nutley is general chairman with Thomas Apicella, assistant chairman, and Miss Cleo Lugano, secretary. The latter two are from Belleville.

The chairman of the various committees are as follows: Miss Adeline DeFuria, tickets; Mrs. J. S. DeFuria, booths; Miss Grace Vitillo, children's bazaar; Miss Marie Fulcoli, billboard; and Mrs. C. Benis DeCapua, publicity. All of the church organizations are participating in the conduct of the bazaar. The following will be in charge of booths:

Groceries, Rosary Sodality; aluminum ware, Mt. Carmel Sodality; luncheonette, Young Women's Catholic League; cigarettes, Holy Name Society; novelties, Mrs. Salvatore Sarli; blankets, Mrs. A. Theodore DeMuro; cards, Miss Marie Fulcoli and Miss Liano; toys, Children of Mary Sodality.

Still Looking For Workers To Fill Job Demand

Boys and girls in Belleville who want to work need go no further to look for jobs than to Earl W. Seibert, guidance director and psychologist, at the high school.

Some weeks ago he announced that he was in possession of more jobs than he could fill and, while the flurry of applications somewhat satisfied the demand, it was not strong enough to buck the steady current of continually incoming job requests.

Bluntly, Seibert's problem is this: He does not have enough candidates for the requests that come to him for workers.

Legion Will Attend Flag Services At Fewsmith

Belleville Post 105, American Legion, will attend flag dedication services Sunday evening at Fewsmith Church. Members of the Post's dedication team are William LaBaugh, Richard Shannon, Robert P. Smith, Otto Breunlich, James Haverman, William Kenep and William D. Maser.

Measles Still Going Up

The number of cases of measles in Belleville jumped to 422 yesterday, an all-time high. The epidemic is by no means peculiar to the town alone, for all surrounding towns find themselves with a proportionate number of cases.

Piscopo, who was graduated from Belleville High School in 1931, received his degree from the Newark College of Engineering in 1936, rating fourth in his class of 136. Guerilla Warfare Common Here During Revolution

Many Bloody Battles Were Fought on River Bank; Some Leading Dutch Settlers Remained Loyal To British; Hangings Were Plentiful

Families were divided and brother ranged against brother in Belleville over the issues of the Revolutionary War, according to a history of Belleville written by the New Jersey WPA Writers' Project, now in the hands of the Belleville Town Commission, for publication. Then known as Second River, Belleville witnessed much of the guerilla warfare that accompanied the Revolution. American and British troops faced each other across the Passaic River and made frequent sallies into each other's territory. Sniping became a fine art with both sides.

"Belleville residents at that time were principally Dutch settlers," said State WPA Administrator Robert W. Allen. "In addition to the grievances American colonials in general had against the British crown, the Dutch settlers felt they had been signally picked out for abuse. The promises of free trade with their native Holland and of duty-free imports were forgotten and even their churches lost some of the free government that had been granted them."

Loyal To British

Despite these wrongs, some of the leading Dutch residents remained loyal to the British. Their loyalty often proved costly because confiscation of property and other retaliatory measures were common. On January 27, 1777, the New York Gazette and Weekly Mercury published an account of "rebels who lately plundered the Store of Captain Drummond at Aquaninac Bridge," and further:

"About the same time, these or some others of the Fraternity, robbed the House of Captain John Richards of Second River and carried off seven young slaves, with his sheep, oxen, horses and cows to a very considerable value. Daily accounts are received of the ravages in the back country." The same newspaper later re-

DEFENSE TRAINING CLASSES START MONDAY NIGHT

Sessions Will Be Held Five Nights Weekly At W. & T. Plant

The machine shop training program conceived and sponsored by the Belleville National Defense Production Plan will be inaugurated on Monday evening when the first of the classes will be held in the Wallace & Tiernan plant in Main street. Designed to give skilled labor workers the opportunity to better acquaint themselves with machine shop and tool technique so that they may answer the demand for more trained workers, the opening class will consist of twenty-two or twenty-four men. Classes will start at 10:30 p.m. and will be held thereafter five nights per week for eight hours.

The course will be for eight weeks. Since many more men have enrolled for the classes, it is planned to shortly start another one with thirty men in it. Those taking the course are men who are not presently employed but who have had some previous machine shop experience. Two instructors have been selected by the committee to train the men. They are Stephen J. Petro of this town, who has had over twenty years' experience as a machinist and toolmaker, and Robert Grosch of the Essex County Vocational School staff, a toolmaker and machine shop foreman.

All Local Men

The men chosen for the course are all from town. They were selected by the committee on preliminary training and selection including Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Palmer, chairman; Earl Seibert, and Henry C. Von Weigand. The men were examined by the New Jersey State Employment Service. The shop training committee includes Commissioner Waters, chairman, James B. Whitmore, H. Willard Sawyer, Howard J. Pardee and Robert M. Dobbin. They will supervise the course of instruction.

The local school will be operated by the committee under the direction of the Essex County Vocational School and the state. The expenses of the school will be paid out of Federal funds appropriated for such purposes.

There is also being conducted at the Wallace & Tiernan plant a blueprint reading course by the vocational school. Any man presently employed in a plant doing national defense work may enroll in the course which is held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Three tracts of town-owned land will be sold at public auction on April 4 in Town Hall for an aggregate minimum sum of $12,300. Nos. 133 and 135 Beech street will be started at $500; Nos. 34 to 42 Watessing avenue, inclusive at $800; and Nos. 515 to 521 Washington avenue at $11,000.

The town still holds about $500,000 in land either deeded to or acquired by it through tax liens. So far this year it has disposed of nearly $100,000 of such property.

Conforti Home Builders Report Increased Activities

The Conforti Engineering Company, developers of the Evergreen homes tract adjoining the golf links of the Forest Hill Field Club, report enlivened activity. Currently the organization is producing seven homes in Ogden road and in Fairway avenue. They are of six and seven rooms each, for the most part of brick and stone.

Rotarians Hear Zink Declare Opposition To Wage-Hour Bill

State Senator Favors Minimum Wage Clauses, But Is Against Hours; Talks About Relief Situation

Relief and its relation to numerous measures now pending before the State Legislature was the chief topic of the talk given by State Senator Homer C. Zink yesterday noon before his local business and manufacturing acquaintances who are members of the Rotary Club. Speaking at the club's weekly luncheon at the Forest Hill Field Club, the Senator stated the provisions of the much-debated Wages and Hours Bill proposed by Essex Assemblyman Samuel Ferster are "sound, fair and workable," but that he is strongly opposed to the sections of the measure regulating hours.

ZINK SUPPORTED PAROCHIAL BILL

Senator Favored State Paying For Transportation of School Children

Senator Homer C. Zink was one of the leaders in the Senate's passage on Monday of the bill which provides for the transportation of parochial as well as public school children throughout the state. At present, parochial school children are taken to school at the expense of their families or the church sponsoring the school.

Replying to the charge that the bill violated the state constitution, Senator Zink said that it was not breaking any statute and that passage of the measure would be the only human thing to do.

He also pointed out that it would cost the state far more to educate all of the children now in parochial schools. In Essex County alone, he declared there are 328,000 youngsters in parochial institutions. The measure was passed eighteen to one by the Senate and will come up before the Assembly on Monday.

The Girls' Glee Club will sing three selections and the Boys' Glee Club will entertain with a dramatization of "Old Zip Coon." The upper grades will present a comedy, "I'm Terribly Sorry." Leading roles will be taken by Alex Hanford, Robert Powers, Helen Murrin, Jean Walker, Ned Becker, Alyce Es-sayan, Betty Lewis, Jean Adel-helm, George Moyes and Eugene Leininger.

All the scenery for the play has been painted by the boys of the 7th and 8th grades. They include several panels taken from the famous nursery rhymes. The boys are: Lionel Ehrenworth, Robert Hoff, Thomas Malcolm, Chester Podgorski and James Wierable.

The executive committee of the local chapter of the American Red Cross recently contributed $5 to the cigarette fund established by the Summit Chapter several years ago. This fund was set aside for the purchase of cigarettes and tobacco for distribution to the veterans at the hospital at Lyons.

Miss Esther C. Adams, vice-chairman of the production committee, announced that twenty-five sweaters had been donated to the Veterans' Facility at Lyons, together with a large number of magazines, which had been collected by members of the Junior Red Cross.

It just Breathes a little Deeper and Wades In!

EVER stop to figure why Nature gave you both a nose and a mouth to breathe through?

Your nose, barring colds, does all right for ordinary purposes.

But go up against some heavy exercise and you can open up your mouth as well and increase the intake of oxygen.

Your 1941 Buick with Compound Carburetion* works something like that.

Its "nose," which is the forward one of your two thrift-size carburetors, does a grand job of supplying "breath" for your engine on normal jobs.

But when the time comes that your engine has to dig in for a tough pull or a burst of power, then your extra foot-pressure on the gas treadle opens up the "mouth" and your engine "breathes" through two carburetors.

Simple, isn't it? Yet look what happens:

Your engine always consumes gas according to the need, never overfed by a carburetor too large for light jobs or underfed by one too small for the big ones.

By simply taking it easy when easy does it and breathing deep when the work piles up, your power plant gets as much as 10% to 15% more mileage from the same gasoline.

That, in these days, is nothing to be sneezed at.

So why don't you get the whole story from your Buick dealer?

From The SIDELINES

As Seen By
The Sideliner

The dwindling of interest here in baseball by both fans and players has been puzzling. We've popped the question to many and none has fired back a logical off-the-shoulder answer. Most of the reports have been small-potatoes excuses. Being a dyed-in-wool baseballer at heart, we hate to see the game wiped out in favor of this new-fangled softball, which has captured the interest of everybody from the four-year-old kid next door to the retired old zanie on the other block. Understand now, we're not putting softball on the pan, because there's nothing sissified about it. But, we hate to admit that an honest-to-goodness baseball game can't draw as big a crowd as an old maids' croquet match.

It isn't so far back that the American Legion-sponsored twilight baseball league cracked them in at Clearman Field as many nights a week as the boys wanted to play. And even though they had their ups and downs, the local entry in the Essex County Baseball League provided some good Saturday and Sunday afternoon ball. But that's all gone now. Last year the Cardinals, the Triangles, the Senators halfheartedly and a few others we haven't got at our fingertips stuck it out and tried to keep the town on the baseball map.

As far as sports followers were concerned, these boys just didn't exist.

With the Turf Bog Field all ready to blossom out in its spring glory, and a half dozen other ball lots to be used, it just doesn't seem right that seven or eight, or even ten good ball clubs can't be turned out of the town's ranks of young athletes.

A few paragraphs back we mentioned the Essex County League. Well, since Belleville bowed out of the circuit there's been some revision there. Nutley lost its manager who had held the boys together and they finally broke up. For a couple of seasons only independent clubs were seen on Nutley diamonds. Last year some of the high school alumni banded together—and with a little financial help from some of the real baseball fans—they put a team in the re-organized Lackawanna League. And to burn up local folks a bit, they stole a couple of Belleville baseball stars. Tony Paul was their ace moundman. Well, to make a long story short, they copped the Lackawanna League bunting from such clubs as were put out by Irvington, Millburn, Madison and Summit.

We're not saying that if a Belleville team entered this league it would win the pennant. But, there are as good ball-tossers in town as there were on any of the teams which played in the Lackawanna circuit last season. And what's more, entry of a team into this sort of league would assure a lot of folks of week-in and week-out ball games.

We don't think so-called sandlot baseball has died in Belleville. It just lacks a leader or the push and support to get it started again. If some of those teams which have had so-so seasons the past few years would put their heads together they might come up with at least one team which would put Belleville back on the sport page in baseball.

The old Nutley Velodrome, which is getting to look like a dilapidated washtub, may not have drawn its last breath as yet. Angelo Pucci, who lives a stone's throw over the town line in Nutley, is toying with the idea of promoting several fights there this summer. Pucci is one of the veteran fight managers and promoters in this section. He's the manager of Tippy Larkin, Mickey Piskin, Frank Duane and a half dozen other lesser name boys.

Last summer he staged weekly bouts at Belmont Park in Fairfield. While the cards were good, the "Pooch" took the nine-count on the financial end. He's one of the few who still thinks that fights will go at the 'drome. His connections in the fight game not only in this section, but in New York and elsewhere, are numerous and if anybody can make a "go" of the old bike track as a fight mecca, Pucci is the fellow.

There have been several attempts to put boxing on a paying basis at the Nutley track. A few years ago, when the bikes were still popular, a Newark combine got a permit and opened with a Lou Halpern-Tony Fisher match. After a bloody battle, the ref lifted Halpern's mitt and the Fisher fans nearly tore the ring and the track down. The cops wielded their nightsticks and for about ten minutes there was a general free-for-all.

The Nutley town fathers looked down their noses and gave the promoters the "heave." About a year later Harry Mendel staged a battle between Al Ettore of Philadelphia and Tony Galento. It started Two-Ton on the way up the heavyweight ladder financially and in prestige for the flattened Ettore—and so did it flatten Mendel's pocketbook. Two summers ago Mendel's ex-stooge, Carmine Biloti, took a stab at fights there. He put on several good cards, including a Lou Pastor-Freddie Fiducia bout and a Gus Lesnevich-Dave Clark one-rounder, but there was no crowd.

All of this ancient history shows that Pucci has a big job ahead of him if he tackles the 'drome for fights.

SENIORS CAPTURE COURT TITLE

Homeroom No. 308 Winner;
More Than 400 Boys
Participated

Senior Homeroom No. 308 was the winner of the intra-mural basketball tourney at the high school in which an estimated 400 boys playing on forty teams competed. It was the fourth annual tournament and was supervised by Herman Wische, physical education director. He estimated that during the four games which were played more than 1,500 students had watched. Because of the number of teams the tournament was divided into two brackets with juniors battling seniors and freshmen opposing the sophomores for the play-off berths.

In the final clash on Monday, the No. 308 boys were pitted against a scrappy bunch of sophomores representing Room No. 108. To even up the game, the sophomores were given a twelve-point handicap. Slowly the seniors cut down the handicap margin with Pico finally tying the count at 34-41. Both teams scored two-pointers, making it 36-41 and then Rodomski of the seniors settled it with a final basket, 38-56.

Grosch, Guard At Montclair, On All-State Quintet

Joe Grosch, sophomore at Montclair State Teachers College who lives at 435 Cortlandt street, has been selected second team guard on the All-State Teachers College basketball team, a poll conducted among the sports editors of the six teachers colleges in the state reveals.

The scrappy 150-pound back court man was outstanding for the Indians all year long in retrieving the ball from his opponents' backboard in spite of his lack of stature. Although not regarded as a frequent point-maker, the eager courtster has risen from an unimpressive contributor as a freshman to third ranking scorer on the present five. A junior next year, Grosch will be one of the mainstays around which Coach Chet Pittner expects to build his next court team.

On the scholarly side, the All-State nominee has picked business education as his major field, while minoring in physical education.

'SMITHS CLINCH SECOND PLACE

Christ Church Boys Bow
34-11; St. Peter's Takes
Third Position

The Fewsmiths clinched second place in the Church League this week when they sailed through the Christ Church boys for a 34-11 triumph. St. Peter's swept up the third place by clipping Bethany Lutheran 24-21, and the Italian Baptist boys took fourth place away from Belleville. Reforming by nosing out the Dutchies 38-37, Congregation A. A. made a desperate attempt to win its second game of the season but fell short in losing to Wesley Methodist 23-21. The championship Grace Baptist quintet was idle.

Pension Fund Is Unsound

There is nothing singularly alarming in Mayor Williams' revelation about the unsteady position of the Police and Fire Pension Fund. The problem of an annually increasing deficit which is frowning the brow of the local finance director is similar to that confronting most municipalities in this state. The difference between that which is being paid in by the beneficiaries — in this case, the police and fire employees — and the taxpayers, and the amount which is paid out continues to grow. Viewing the situation along purely technical lines, it is the town or the taxpayers who will have to bear the load. That is, unless the police and fire employees are willing voluntarily to contribute a greater percentage of their annual salaries to the fund.

Years ago when the Pension Fund formula was put through the Legislature no municipality apparently sat down and figured out where it might be headed about thirty years later. Today, many know that the fund is not founded on a sound actuarial basis. At various times in recent years, attempts have been made to have the law changed, but the state-wide organization representing the employees has a strong lobby in Trenton and the efforts of the municipalities have not met with success.

Recently we read the detailed report of another New Jersey community in which an insurance expert had made an actuarial analysis of the police and fire pension fund. In part, he commented as follows:

"We might cite the case of a man in private enterprise who wishes to provide a retirement benefit from his own savings. If we assume a man age thirty wishes to retire at age sixty, he may purchase from an established life insurance company a policy which will provide at age sixty, in event of his survival to that time, a monthly income of $100 at an annual cost of something over $400.

This contract would provide payments to his wife, assuming she is two years younger than he, ranging from about $38 per month in case the man dies during the first year to about $66 per month in event of death during the twenty-fifth year. If the man should die immediately prior to age sixty, the policy would provide a monthly income of approximately $96 to the widow with payments guaranteed for ten years certain.

"In other words, it would require in private enterprise, annual contributions of almost double those provided by law in the pension fund to provide retirement at age sixty for the member, and on the average, smaller benefits for the widow."

He then added a statement which to us seems the crux of this entire situation. He said: "What cannot be done in private enterprise can no more certainly be done in the realm of public finance except by invoking the taxing power of the municipality involved."

In contrast to the annual premiums that a private citizen would have to pay are the payments made by the police and firemen and the possible benefits which are available. The men pay four per cent annually, which in the case of a man receiving $2,500, represents $100. After twenty years' service a man may retire at half pay at age fifty-five. In event of his death, his wife is entitled to receive $1,000 per year for life or until she marries again. If a policeman or fireman is disabled, he is placed on half pay, regardless of the number of years of service. The contrast between benefits under private insurance and the pension fund is easily seen.

Mayor Williams has asked the men in both departments to consider a voluntary increase in their annual contributions. Such action on their part would be one of good will for if they should insist that they are paying enough at present — and they are within their legal rights — the taxpayers will have to bear the additional load.

Commendation From Important Source

The manufacturing interests in this community have been increasing in their importance in recent years. They are big taxpayers and it is to safeguard their investments in property and equipment that they should be watchful of the men who are governing the community and spending the taxpayers' money. No more pleasing tribute to the efforts of the town board—collectively and as individual administrators—could have been paid them than that which they received Tuesday night at the public hearing on the budget.

Three manufacturers, representing several of the town's major industries in their own right and many more as officials of the Manufacturers' Association, appeared before the board to commend them for the budget for 1941 which had been prepared and the manner in which the affairs of the town are being administered. These manufacturers are business men and whether it be in appraising their own interests or those of a public nature, they view the matter from the viewpoint of an executive who is primarily interested in an economical but well operated business.

Mayor Williams admitted in the course of the hearing, as he had stated in his preamble to the advertised budget, that the tax rate could have been dropped more than eight points. But to give taxpayers a false feeling of saving money one year and then to send the rate shooting sky high the next year is bad. Industry, the small home owner and prospective buyers lose confidence. A constantly fluctuating tax rate which soars up and down with the rapidity of an elevator is no asset. This is one of the features to be considered in viewing this town's financial policy.

Aviation Becoming More Commonplace

The interest in aviation and flying is growing in leaps and bounds. The war, the campaign of this nation's armed services for more flyers and the continued advancement of commercial aviation have all contributed to make this means of transportation more commonplace. A visit to any of the nearby flying fields on a weekend will further illustrate the increasing enthusiasm for flying.

People want to learn to fly even if they do not have the money to buy an airplane. More small, light planes are being placed on the market. More small fields are springing up here and there. Only last week it was announced that an aviation enthusiast had secured permission to establish a base on the Passaic River in Nutley, where people would be given instruction in piloting seaplanes.

It may be a fantastic thought, but just think of taking the family down to the Passaic River and bobbing off for a weekend to some spot along the South Jersey shore without having to worry about crawling along at a snail's pace in a traffic jam. This may cause you to guffaw but perhaps it won't ten years from now.

At least, that is the opinion of one of aviation's foremost experts and authorities,

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker. He recently wrote an article in which he discussed the advancement that he foresees in private aviation within the next twenty years. There will be hundreds of small airfields dotting the countryside. Planes will be so constructed that they will be able to take off and land within small areas. The air lanes will be so crowded that there will be air traffic cops to control the situation and there will be regulations and other provisions which might be termed as comparable to the many which affect driving today. Planes destined for a particular distant point will be required to fly at a high level so that they will not interfere with local traffic.

Fantastic, you say? Yes, it is to the average person who has little foresight or who is not completely sold on the possibilities of aviation. Yet, twenty-five years ago any person who visualized the automobile industry as it is today was termed a crackpot. Automobiles were something for the adventurous or the empty-headed.

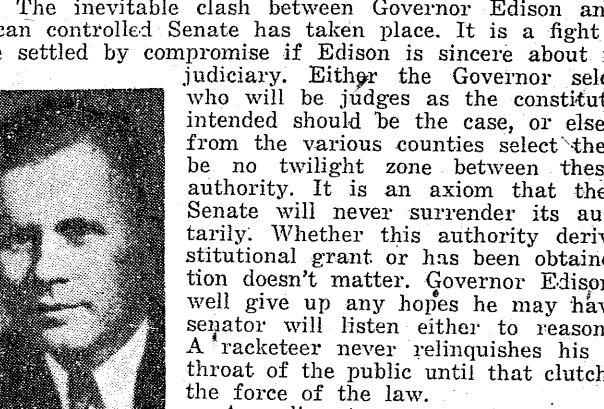

Aviation has passed the adventurous stage. It is in the advanced experimental stage. It will annually play an increasing part in the lives of more of the Mr. and Mrs. Average Folks.

THE ADVENTURES OF OZZIE

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The inevitable clash between Governor Edison and the Republican controlled Senate has taken place. It is a fight which cannot be settled by compromise if Edison is sincere about reform of the judiciary. Either the Governor selects the men who will be judges as the constitution originally intended should be the case, or else the Senators from the various counties select them. There can be no twilight zone between these spheres of authority. It is an axiom that the New Jersey Senate will never surrender its authority voluntarily. Whether this authority derives from constitutional grant or has been obtained by usurpation doesn't matter. Governor Edison had just as well give up any hopes he may have had that a senator will listen either to reason or morality. A racketeer never relinquishes his clutch on the throat of the public until that clutch is broken by the force of the law.

According to our constitution the Senate is a law-making body with the additional power of vetoing gubernatorial appointments. But here the legitimate authority of a senator ends. What additional authority he seeks to exert on the body politic through its legitimate representative, the governor.

There are various degrees of rackets and types of racketeers. Not all racketeers can be sent to jail but all should be subject to punishment of some kind, else the public has no protection against them. The usual remedy for political rackets is defeat at the polls. When the public becomes sufficiently aroused against its exploitation by public officials it can usually replace them by others pledged to discontinue the objectionable practices.

Theoretically Possible

Theoretically this is possible with the New Jersey Senate. Actually it is practically impossible. Less than fifteen per cent of the population of the state elects a majority of the twenty-one senators. Exciting public opinion among this fifteen per cent of the population is extremely difficult. This does not mean that voters of these eleven counties are less moral than those of the other ten. But it does mean that the potential moral indignation of the people is so restricted that it cannot exert itself normally.

Instead of New Jersey having a government with reasonable checks and balances as was originally intended, it has become a government in the grip of rackets in government, which seemingly can not be broken, and which are no less vicious by reason of being hallowed by time.

Governor Edison hit the nail on the head in his inaugural address when he declared a constitutional convention necessary for the reforms which he pledged. The recent clash should convince him that there is no substitute for constitutional reform, and the quicker he puts his plans for such reform before the public the better.

SCHOOL NO. 1 WILL PRESENT 'FIESTA'

Pan-American Flavor To Program Which Will Be Given April 4 and 7

The teachers and pupils of Greylock School are rehearsing for the pageant, "Fiesta Pan-Americana" to be held two nights, April 4 and 7, in the school auditorium. The performance is in observance of national Pan-American Day and includes nearly 100 pupils from the kindergarten to the eighth grade. The artists of the school are painting a special backdrop featuring a South American scene, while the music, dramatic and physical training departments are collaborating to make a unified program of plays, songs and dances, all built around a central theme.

The sequence calls for a tour through the Americas with the first stop in Mexico, then on to South America, culminating with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the entire cast in a grand finale.

The program includes:

Scene 1—Travel Bureau: James De Vany, Helen Haley and Ralph Metcalfe by Grade 7; Scene 2—Mexican Fiesta: "Fiesta Singers" and Flower Sellers, "Ellen Mink and Shirley Condit"; "Pedro," Cyrus Moreno; "Pedro and Cita," John Armstrong and Alice Sadlock; "Mexican Speakers," Cynthia Cooper, by the third grades. The fourth grades offer "Fiesta Dancers," and a solo dance by Bernice Brophy. The kindergarten, first and second grades, present a "Serenade," "To-morrow," and a "Spanish Clapping Dance," accompanied by the kindergarten Troubadours. Chief troubadour is Warren Kimble and Marie Prieto as the senorita. Scene 3 features a lively and exceedingly dramatic play, "Of Long Ago," from the Pampas of the Argentine; a dance, "La Compa," by a large cast of eighth grade boys and girls and a solo dance by Albertina Horstman.

Scene 4—The seventh and eighth grade glee club will sing "Cabelella," "Lovely Cuba," and "Syrin is so Sweet," with special solo dances. The fifth and sixth grades present a play, "Estaban," and the dances, "Argentine Ranchero," "Peruvian Marinera," and "Santitas," intermingled with the songs, "Yellow Rose," and "In the Plaza." The finale presents the songs, "Through the Americas," and "Children of America."
