

SCOUTS CAMPAIGN FOR BIG SEASON AT MOHICAN

Seek To Interest More Boys In Attending Camp Near Blairstown

The local district of the Robert Treat Council of Boy Scouts is joining in the effort to make the twentieth season of Camp Mohican, the Council's summer haven for boys, near Blairstown, its most successful one. Throughout the Council, which embraces Newark, Irvington and Belleville, an effort will be made to convince not only the boys but their parents as well that a stay at Camp Mohican is worth while. A census of all the troops in the Council area will be taken to determine as early as possible how many Scouts will be going to camp. In the past, the Elizabeth scout district has contributed 500 boy weeks, but they will not participate in Mohican this season. The campaign is to have each of the ten districts of the Robert Treat Council increase by fifty the number of boy weeks which they can be counted on for the summer.

O'Farrell Is Director

Mohican will be under the supervision of Scout Executive Joe O'Farrell of this town. The 1700-acre summer mecca for boys is situated seven miles from Blairstown and is rated as one of the finest camps in the country. An increase of over $35,000 is represented in the buildings and equipment of the camp which will accommodate over 900 Scouts and their leaders at one time. The camp is scheduled to open on July 6. The rates will be $10.50 per week for each boy, but there will be a saving for early reservations. For a two-week limit if the reservation is made before May 15, the rate will be $8.50, and $9.50 for two-week limit if reservations are made between May 16 and June 16. The rate for out of town Scouts will be $12 weekly.

Complete details concerning the camp and arrangements may be secured from any local scoutmaster or Director O'Farrell. The executive committee of the local district will meet with Frank Chambers, chairman, on Monday night at 8 P. M. at 8 P. M. Wednesday evening there will be a general meeting of all Scouts, including troop, ship and pack committees, scoutmasters, cubmasters and skippers, at the home of District Commissioner Douglas Clark, Jr., at 20 Clearman place. They will discuss plans for the district camporee to be held at the Turf Bog Stadium on the weekend of June 6, 7 and 8.

First To Sign Up

The first Belleville Scout to sign up for Camp Mohican is James Ferguson of 140 Academy street. Scout Ferguson is twelve and recently joined Troop 301 in the Wesley Methodist Church.

John Charlton has been selected as the craft director for Camp Mohican. The craft shop is one of the business places in camp. Charlton is a member of the high school faculty.

The Order of the Arrow, the camp fraternity, will visit every troop in town to tell them about Mohican and the camp reunion which will take place on Wednesday, May 7.

STADIUM TROUBLE NEARING END?

General Activity At Field Indicates That Such Is The Case

There was no official action this week on the Turf Bog Stadium but from general comments and activity at the field, it now seems as though the troubles over the Bog Field may soon be at an end. Men from the relief rolls under the supervision of the engineering department have been busy all week laying out a diamond in the southeast corner of the field so that it will be ready for the first high school baseball game scheduled to be played there Tuesday afternoon.

The watchmen who had been temporarily hired by Commissioners Noll and King following the layoff of the WPA men have been replaced by relievers. Noll estimated last week that it would cost almost $5,000 annually for watchmen to guard the stadium twenty-four hours a day, citing several instances of vandalism which have already been committed there.

While there has been nothing official said, a decision on the maintenance of the stadium is expected shortly. There has been no official action by the Board of Education on the use of the field by the high school team. Tentative arrangements have been made for a semi-pro baseball team entered in the Essex County League which will be managed by Joseph O'Farrell of Newark, to use the field. Noll said the board had not authorized him to make any permanent arrangements with O'Farrell.

No money was appropriated for stadium maintenance in the budget, some provisions will have to be made by the board, probably through emergency legislation.

Don't Worry About Magnolia Tree

Mayor Williams Hopes To Have It Moved; May Persuade County To Take It

Those who have been troubled about the fate of the big magnolia tree at 327 Washington avenue need not worry any longer. Several months ago it was announced that Mayor Williams had purchased the land and a few days later a billboard sign was erected which stated that a theatre and stores would be built on the property. There has been no definite information given out as to how soon this work may start.

The possibility that the tree might be hacked down to make way for a business development has bothered a number of Washington avenue strollers, especially some of the womenfolk. Mayor Williams said yesterday he was just as much interested in the tree as they are and has inquired from nurserymen about the cost of having the tree moved.

The lowest quotation that the Mayor has had was about $400. He said that he did not know where he would get the money but commented that he might offer it to the Essex County Park Commission to be placed in the Branch Brook Park Extension. Anyway, he added, the tree won't be chopped down and will live to blossom in another spring.

CLAIM FACTORY JARS HOUSES

Commissioner Clark To Confer With Officials of Cosgrove Concern

Commissioner Clark will confer with the officials of the Cosgrove Wire Cloth Co. of 112 Ralph street about complaints made by several residents of Ralph and Main streets at Tuesday's Commission meeting. Several complaints alleged before the board that the jarring caused by the heavy machinery in the plant cracked the walls and jarred windows of houses and made it impossible for those in the vicinity to sleep. Miss Genevieve G. Zmuda of 122 Ralph street and Robert Joiner of 333 Main street explained the residents' grievances to the board.

Miss Zmuda said complaints had been made to both the police and health departments but nothing had happened. She asked Mayor Williams if the residents could expect some action by the board or if they should take their case to the Court of Chancery. Replying for the town, Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan stated that any complaint involving charges of property damage was a civil matter and that it would have to be taken to court and could not be considered a board matter. When the health of the residents is involved, Keenan said, the town then enters the picture.

Waters Understands Problem Commissioner Waters, who has been associated with the manufacture of wire cloth and similar products for many years, said that he could understand the condition which was confronting the residents. He said that in the area in which the Cosgrove plant is located there is a sand strata and that the vibrations from the heavy machinery used carry much farther than they would under ordinary conditions. He said that the concern with which he is afflicted, the Eastwood Wire Works, had had the same trouble. He said the company had spent over $25,000 in an effort to correct the condition and that it was not entirely successful. He said that he did not know what the Cosgrove concern could do.

Miss Zmuda admitted that on numerous occasions Cosgrove had had engineers and others examine the building in an effort to cut down the vibrations, but said that the condition was still the same. Commissioner Clark said that he would confer with the company officials between now and the next meeting of the board, May 6, to learn the extent of the condition and what could possibly be done.

End To Arguments Of 'Who Hit Who?'

Trying to understand "who hit who" and "which car was going which way" is one of the headaches of a police judge hearing an accident case. Even the witnesses and the lawyers get confused. Judge Everett B. Smith has something now which eliminates all of this and is a big improvement over the paper sheets marked with street intersections on which accident witnesses explained their case. Purchased for the police department this week was an accident demonstration board. All types of street intersections are marked on the board. The board is magnetized and there are little cars and trucks which are also magnetized which can be used to illustrate the case. The board is equipped with a direction indicator and traffic blinkers and other traffic markers. It is the invention of C. J. Nagle, police magistrate of Herkimer, N. Y.

MORE EQUITABLE SEWER CHARGE IS SOUGHT

Commissioners Agree With Mayor That Present Fee Plan Is Unfair

An effort toward a more equitable levying of charges for the inspection of sewer connections by the town will be provided for in an ordinance scheduled for introduction at the next meeting of the Town Commission Tuesday evening, May 6. Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan, with the cooperation of the engineering department, was instructed by the town board Tuesday night to draft the measure.

Declaring that the present fee system permits the charging of an excessive amount, Mayor Williams told the board at its Tuesday conference that he favored some adjustment. The ordinance at the present time provides that the charge for each sewer connection be based on the square foot area of the property served. The Mayor illustrated to the board members what he termed the unfairness of the plan. Citing the new Walter Kidde plant now under construction, he said that under the present law they are being charged about $327 for the inspection of one sewer connection. For a one-family house, he said, on a 50x100 foot lot, the fee is about $15.

Doesn't Cost Any More "It doesn't cost the town any more to inspect the connection at the Kidde plant than it does at a one-family house," the Mayor said. "I think it's unfair to charge on square foot basis."

Commissioner Waters stated that he favored a revision of rates just as long as the costs of the service rendered by the town is covered.

"We should charge for the specific work done," the Mayor said, "and should not penalize the public for services not rendered."

Commissioner King, also favoring an adjustment, said that there should be some distinction between the charge for a one-family house and an apartment or an industrial structure. The rest of the board agreed.

The commissioners were unanimous in recommending that a $10 fee be set for one and two-family houses and $25 for multi-family houses, apartments and industrial buildings.

Park Was Jammed Sunday For Cherry Blossoms

Police Kept Busy Handling Cars Which Came Through Mill Street; It Was a Field Day For Camera Fans; Wind Hit Blossoms

All roads pointed to the Branch Brook Park Extension — and Mill street in particular — on Saturday and Sunday for a look at the cherry blossoms. It was the New York World's Fair all over again for the camera fans. It was the Sunday night traffic jam coming home from the shore for the motorists. And for more than two score policemen from the Essex County Park and local forces, it was two days of headaches keeping the endless line of cars moving through the blossom-bordered thoroughfare.

The unexpected warm sun of Wednesday and Thursday beating down on the budding Japanese cherry trees plus an early morning shower brought out the blossoms in near full bloom on Friday. Even the Essex County Park Commission officials were a bit off in their predictions for in the middle of the week they had estimated that blossoms would not be fully out until about the middle of this week.

Win 'Did Damage' The spectacle was cut short somewhat by the high winds Sunday night and Monday which blew many of the blossoms away. Several particular spots were the favorites of the camera fans, especially the trees with the double blossoms at the eastern end of Mill street near Mount Prospect avenue.

A silver tea for the benefit of the Music department of the Woman's Club was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Hyde on Rossmore place. Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn, chairman of the department, presided.

Bending Low Among The Cherry Blossoms

There wasn't any better place for two attractive young girls to stroll this week than among the Japanese cherry blossom trees of Branch Brook Park extension in Mill street. It was great fun even if you had to duck a low branch now and then. Shown above are Emma (left) and Gerry Goldacker, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Goldacker of 170 Washington avenue. Both are students at the high school, Emma being a junior and Gerry, a freshman.

Calls Off Kite Contest Because of Measles

Measles in particular and a scattered case of scarlet fever have forced the postponement of the kite flying contest planned by Cub Pack No. 350 until Saturday morning, May 3, according to Cubmaster H. F. Ross. It will be held at 10 in the morning at the Turf Bog Field. Prizes will be given for the best made kite. Awards will also be made for the best glider and plane and for the one which flies the longest.

Four Cubs will advance to Scouting at the meeting on May 1. They are Richard Peterson and Robert Stephens who will move up to Troop 350 and Frank Blanche and Joseph DeGeorge who will join Troop 392. Richard Gnatz will join the Pack as a new Cub. Baseball games are played every Saturday morning at the Turf Bog.

SIDEWALK CASE IS UP AGAIN

Keenan Recommends That Town Seek To Avoid Cost Of Litigation

The old case involving the construction of a sidewalk around the southeast corner of Franklin avenue and Joramelon street is back in the news again. Several months ago John Alcamo of 215, Littleton avenue, Newark, owner of property fronting on both of the streets, appeared before the Town Commission demanding that the town seek to avoid the cost of litigation. Frank Gerino, who owns the corner property where a gasoline station is located, he required to put in a sidewalk. The board declared that the sidewalks were not compulsory.

Alcamo and his wife have now applied to the State Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus compelling the town to lay the sidewalks. A hearing of the suit is scheduled for Saturday morning before Justice Parker. Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan advised the town board Tuesday night that the cost of litigation would be greater than that of laying the sidewalks. Following his suggestion, the town will notify Gerino that he should construct the walk. Keenan said he will apply to Justice Parker for a thirty-day stay of the writ.

GIRL SCOUTS USE THEIR CABIN

Many Had Great Time In Reservation During Easter Week

For the Girl Scouts Easter week meant a chance to use the cabin in the South Mountain Reservation and many of them went there with their leaders to have a bang-up time doing their own cooking over a fire and hiking through the woods exploring the first signs of spring and summer. A large group from various troops was there on Monday followed on Wednesday by Troops 3 and 11 under the leadership of Miss Helen Brown, Mrs. C. L. Cox and Scout Director Mrs. May T. Holden. The girls tried their hand at fire making, cooking and then made it complete by cleaning up. The younger girls blazed trails through the woods which were followed by the older girls. Troops 5 and 6 with Miss Angela Pucillo in charge were at the cabin on Friday. On Saturday Troops 9 and 19 cooked and ate out of doors. They studied trees, identifying the different trees. They also split up into two teams and played softball after which they went on a long hike. After cooking and eating their supper, a tired but happy bunch of girls returned to Belleville. They were led by Miss Edna Baum.

"Fly Up" Service

During the absence of Mrs. Edith Mason, who has been called to Massachusetts because of illness in her family, Troop 21 meeting weekly at First Church on Mondays will be in charge of Miss Lucy Alden.

Local Baritone Is One Who Saves The Day

John Meade, Choral Concert Soloist, Has Acquired Reputation of Being Always Dependable In Operatic Circles; Announces Program

John Meade, young local baritone who will be the soloist at the Woman's Club choral concert on May 6, in musical circles is acquiring the reputation of being a so-called "lifesaver." Mr. Meade comes by his title because he not only knows all of the leading roles in standard operas but because he has also learned the minor parts as well. This makes him an invaluable singer to an impresario.

Recently at a coast-to-coast broadcast of the opera "Faust" he was a guest at the studio. Five minutes before the broadcast was scheduled to go on the air, Meade was asked to substitute for another singer. Without any rehearsing he went on the air and sang the aria Deo Possente from "Faust."

On another occasion he memorized the entire concertata finale of the opera "Aida" in two days and sang it at the Convention Hall in Asbury Park with a complete cast, chorus and orchestra.

During recent months the young baritone has been singing in concert in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Recently he sang in the opera "Carmen" in which Michael Bartlett made his debut as Don Jose. Meade has sung in concert and opera in most of the important cities in the East, having sung in roles with the Boston Opera Co., the Chicago Opera Co., the New York Opera Co. and the National Opera Co.

His program for the choral concert will include "O Del Mio Amato ben," Donaudy; "Beau Soir," Debussy; "Aria" (O Vin Disappe La Triteuse) from the opera "Hamlet," Thomas; "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," Frey; "Mah Lindy Lou," Lily Strickland; "The Rose of Tralee," Glover, and "G'wine to Hebb'n," Wolfe.

School Music Festival Scheduled For May 1

Program Under The Direction of Mrs. Alice Wagner To Feature Musical Comedy Presenting Some Of the Outstanding Student Talent

One of the important extra-curricular events of the spring season at the high school is the annual music festival featuring the combined musical units which will be presented Thursday evening, May 1, in the high school auditorium. It is the thirteenth program and will be under the direction of Mrs. Alice Wagner, head of the music department. Divided into three parts, it will feature the glee clubs, the high school orchestra, band and talented students in an original musical comedy.

More than 150 students will participate in the first part with the glee clubs and orchestra. Outstanding in their group of selections will be Jean Sibelius's "Finlandia" with Prayer Song. The school band directed by Robert Parker will feature the second part while the musical comedy "On Parade" will be presented as the finale.

Three members of the faculty, H. Robley Saunders, P. Webster Diehl and Sheldon Henry are designing the scenery and props. Anne Kelsall will be the piano accompanist with Virginia Young and Marian Butler as assistant accompanists.

"On Parade" takes place in camp. Action begins in the early morning taking the audience through a day's routine of serious work, pranks, hostesses' problems and arrival of the new recruits or "jeeps." Visitors' arrivals and a colonel's past romance enliven the play. The plot is light and amusing and the day ends with a camp show, proving the old legend that there is plenty of talent in the high school.

Solos and duets will be given by Mary Ahern, and Bobby Kimble who will clown and dance as a new recruit. June Reynolds will present a new version of a graceful ballet dance. Katherine Haffner will sing "The Waltz Song" from the opera "Romeo and Juliet." New voices to Belleville audiences will include Alice Griffin, Betty Begley, Margaret King, William Akers and ten of the school's prettiest girls who play the part of hostesses. The boys' chorus will sing for the first time and the Bandettes will try to top their fine performances of the year.

Chorus numbers include: "The Desert Song," Sigmund Romberg; "Make Believe," Jerome Kern; "The False Prophet," John Scott; "I'll See You Again," Noel Coward; "Hallelujah," Vincent Youmans; "On Parade," Victor Herbert; "I Pledge Allegiance to My Flag," Bridges.

Spring-Like Program Lent To Success Of Concert

Choice of Numbers Provided Excellent Background For Selections by Soloist, Earl Spicer, Baritone, Who Was Well Received by Audience

By Margaret Brown

None of the spectacular selections which have marked previous programs of the Belleville Glee Club were chosen for the joint concert presented by the local organization and the Glee Club of Nutley in the Nutley High School auditorium Monday evening. Instead ballads, negro songs and selections pertinent to the spring season formed an appropriate setting for the numbers selected by the baritone soloist, Earl Spicer. The large audience was sympathetic and generous in its applause for the male chorus under the direction of Arthur E. Jacobus, while the performance of Mr. Spicer captivated his listeners with its complete informality.

English versions of colorful folk songs opened the program and were sung with spirit. The negro songs which closed the first section were widely varied with the rhythmic grace of "Swing Along" by Will Marion Cook being followed by the religious hush of the spiritual "Were You There?" which was excellently done. Slightly disappointing was the club's rendition of Jerome Kern's "O! Man River" which lacked some of its familiar volume.

"A May Day Carol" and "Now Is the Month of Maying" by Thomas Morley prefaced the climax of the opening group in the second half of the program. "The Year's At Spring," a musical arrangement for voices from Browning's "Pippa Passes," was one of the highlights and ended on a note of triumph. The stately beauty of Tchaikowsky's "None But the Lonely Heart" was impressive. A Mark Andrews composition, "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal" reminded the audience once more of the melodious genius of the familiar conductor. Particularly noticeable was the gusto with which the group sang, unaccompanied, their encores, two sea chanteys from a collection by Bartholomew.

Spicer Pleased Audience

Mr. Spicer's disarming manner and brisk pantomime called forth unlimited applause from the audience. After introducing his vocal powers in "Non Piu Andrai" by Mozart he set the stage for each of his selections with a brief verbal explanation. A group of old English ballads, some in dialect, was his first presentation. American folksongs were his contribution to the second half of the program. Spirited piano work by his accompanist, Robert Fisdale, in the western ballad, "Old Zip Coon," was greatly relished by the audience. Mr. Spicer concluded with a humorous monologue, "Morrow."

Miss Ruth Dantel, assistant director and accompanist for the combined glee clubs, was joined at the piano in the final selections by Miss Evelyn Hancher. Mr. Jacobus' earnest direction drew forth the best efforts of the group. Previous to the closing number an appeal was made to Nutley men by their president, Ernest Pulsford, to swell the membership of the Nutley club which has been encouraged in its restoration by the sympathetic efforts of the Belleville group. Nutley men singing, who form the nucleus for a new club, were James F. Gregg, David Jackman,

Charles S. Hammond, J. T. Jauman, Jerome Rusby, Walter Romlein, R. C. Schmidt, J. H. and Maxwell, C. George Wern Albert W. Meyer, W. H. Wheeler and Mr. Pulsford.

Belleville men were, first, ors, Edward G. Burnett, J. Brierley, Harry F. C. Howa James McCall and James Walker; second tenors, Hugh Callery, Russell Walker, Ha Williamson and George Woodling; first bass, Frank Ash Vincent DeGroat, Edward Diller, Jr., Paul H. Dowe, J. Gleim, Millard Hallenbeck, W. Kratsch, Thomas G. Lynn Carl Struble, Mark Mein, c president, and Gary Vanderb second bass, William G. Ber Albert J. Brodack, Charles Cocks, Robert G. Cocks, Sylvester Denison, Louis T. Doell, S art Hand, Charles E. Schick, W field H. S. one and Benjamin Spencer.

GARDEN DISPLAY FOR CHILDREN

Exhibit At Library Features Display of Books; Two New Novels

A garden of paper flowers features a display of books on gardening in the juvenile department at the Public Library. The exhibit is colorful and designed to arouse the interest of young would-be gardeners.

The books in the display are specially written for children, in simple and easy-to-read detail. Among them are: Little garden for boys and girls, Higgins; When mother lets us garden, Duncan; A little gardening book for a little girl, Martin; The children make a garden, Jenkins; Beginner's garden book, French.

Two recent historical novels in the seven-day collection are: The Inner voice, by Nina Wilcox Putnam, the story of the Southern Quakers of Carolina whose religious convictions ordered them to free their slaves and migrate westward. They settled first in Indiana; later in Kansas, and suffered through attacks by Indians and raids by the anti-freestaters.

The Silent drum, by Neil H. Swanson, the exciting tale of the events that brought the first armed American rebellion against the British authority two years before the outbreak of the Revolution. ## More Telephones Jangling In Belleville District

Telephone Traffic Has Reached Record Level, William Vanstory, District Manager, Reports; Added 259 'Phones in First Quarter

There are more 'phones jangling, more requests for "number please" and more busy signals in the area served by the local office of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. for the first quarter of this year than for the corresponding period in 1940, according to W. A. Vanstory, manager of the Belleville office. Telephones in the area served by this office which includes this town and Nutley increased 259 during the first quarter compared to 218 on March 31, 1940. There are 9,992 telephones in Belleville and Nutley, Vanstory said, divided as follows: Belleville, 4,915; Nutley 5,077.

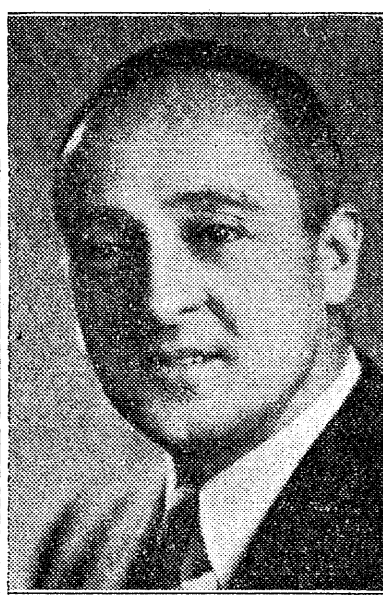

The first quarter demand for telephone service is without precedent in the state, according to the telephone company. More than 16,000 'phones have been added to the number already in use, raising the telephone traffic to record levels.

The heavy volume of business is quite general throughout most of the state, although greatest in areas where defense production industries and homes of their employees are concentrated. To meet the situation the company has added to its organization and is carrying on an extensive program of construction to provide adequate new facilities for defense projects and industries, and to replace reserve central office equipment and outside telephone plant being drawn upon increasingly from day to day.

During January, February and March there was an inward movement of 41,299 telephones and an outward move of 24,964, the company states, resulting in a net gain of 16,335 telephones for the quarter, and bringing the total served by the company to 789,352 on March 31. The first quarter gain in 1940 was 11,484 telephones, and in 1939 was 8,605. Telephone traffic so far this year has averaged 3,481,200 telephone calls daily, 278,200 more per day than during the first quarter last year, and over 500,000 a day more than in the first three months of 1939.

Congregation Is Planning Publication of Book

What amounts to an entirely new departure in community-wide cooperation will be started by the groups affiliated with the local synagogue when it continues the publication of its literary annual, known as "Kolenu," which means "Our Voice" in Hebrew. A special plan to enlist all the support of local people was started last night by Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin who is the originator of the project and spiritual leader of the congregation.

"Kolenu" will publish literary items submitted by members. Included will be poems, stories, essays, ballads and editorials. All the material will be based on general Jewish interest. The publication will be issued during the second week of June and will be distributed to all who make a request for it. The office for the publication is at 317 Washington avenue. This issue will include special articles by the foremost men of Jewish letters in America and will be illustrated. Material for the 1941 issue will be accepted until May 5.

No Clothespin on this Car's Nose!

WOULDN'T a sprinter or a long-distance runner look silly trying to race with a clothespin firmly clamped on his nose!

Yet, in a sense, something fairly close to that happens in nearly every car that lacks Buick's sensational Compound Carburetion.†

For your engine has to breathe in huge quantities of air to be mixed with gasoline before it is burned in the cylinders.

The faster you go, or the more power you call for, the more air your engine needs for smooth, efficient, top-economy operation.

But single-carburetor fuel supply systems handle only a given air volume.

This volume can't be entirely enough for top-range performance or it would be too much for low-range travel, giving a thin, inefficient power-light mixture.

To that extent, then, an ordinary engine has a clothespin on its nose — a limitation on air supply for big power operation.

We remove that clothespin very simply — by having two carburetors; one that handles all casual driving smoothly and efficiently, another to jump in with more air and more fuel when you call for extra power by stepping on the gas treadle!

Simple? Very simple indeed.

And simply marvelous in the extra FIREBALL wallop it gives you and in the gas savings you get — as much as 10% to 15% over previous Buicks with the same-size engines.

Maybe you'd better go see your Buick dealer now.

Green Club To Open Season On Tuesday With Vocational '9'

Only Two Veterans Will Start: Gates Is Making His Debut As Baseball Mentor

The high school baseball team studded with new faces will ring up the curtain on its eleven-game season on Tuesday afternoon when Irvington Vocational will come to town for the opening day battle at the Turf Bog field. The contest will have added lustre in that it will mark the debut of Larry Gates as the high school diamond mentor and will also be the first interscholastic encounter to be played at the Turf Bog. Gates' task of putting together a varsity nine has been handicapped by the lack of a suitable playing field and by the scarcity of veteran performers. Only Johnny Calicchio and "Pie" Piccolino are returning from last year's club.

The sod has been turned over at Clearman Field so that the boys have been unable to work out there. Until this week there was no semblance of a diamond cut on the Turf Bog greensward but a crew of town workers went to work on Monday fashioning out a diamond after the Board of Education signified its willingness to have the high school teams play there.

Returning veterans are Calicchio and Piccolino, who are slated to start at centerfield and shortstop respectively. Some of the other promising players who appear to have won starting berths are "Red" Smith, Bill Hunkele and Gus Bechtoldt. Smith has apparently clinched an outfield post on the strength of his heavy hitting. Hunkele will be one of the pitching mainstays. He has come along nicely in practice to date and will probably be Coach Gates' choice for the opener. Bechtoldt's weak hitting is overcome by his superior catching ability.

Russ Flynn and Will Radler are waging a close battle for the first base post, but Flynn has the inside track because he is only a junior and will have at least one more year of varsity play. The second base job is a tossup between "Bubs" Schlecker and Roger Volpe. Sophomore George Ferro lacks the all-around ability of either of the other two, but appears to be a fine prospect for the key-

MINORS TO OPEN SATURDAY

Clash With East Orange Nine In Opener; Win Practice Tilt 11-1

The Pittsburgh Minor Leaguers will open their season on Saturday afternoon when they will cross bats with the East Orange Tigers at Elmwood Oval in East Orange, on Saturday they will take to the road again, travelling to Emerson to meet the Jolly B. C. Manager Hank Lubben thinks his club is ready for another long season, pinning his hopes on the showing they made on Sunday in a practice game with the Belleville Night Owls whom they trimmed 11-1.

Allston, Borkowski and Gutman, all of whom worked on the hill for the winners, just had too much stuff on the ball for the Night Owls who were held to four scattered hits. Jimmie Lynch led the Minors' hitting attack with a four-bagger while Gutman and Hoske poked three-baggers and Sotelo and Bill Lynch lifted for two-base blows. Fabio's two-bagger was the best clout for the losers. Gutman allowed three hits and struck out five. Borkowski sent the Owl batters down swinging twice while in his short turn on the mound Allston held the opposing team hitless and fanned two.

Getting Into The Swing of Spring

The high school will soon be fairly bursting with sports activity. The divot diggers have already gotten away to a glorious start with a victory over Montclair High's highly rated golfers who last year won their way to the state championship. Working under hardship, Larry Gates is rounding the 1941 baseball edition into shape and Wihlo Winika is busy conditioning the aspirants for the Blue and Gold track team. It now looks promising for the high school teams to be using the Turf Bog Stadium during the coming months.

Town forces are busy cutting a diamond out of the green turf and if they can iron some of the hills and dales out of the outfield, it will be the home lot for the baseballers.

The same goes for the running track. As it is now, the cinder path specialists won't be breaking any records on it. In other words, there's still plenty of work to be done to put the big field in A-1 shape.

The Forest Hill Field Club should be given a word of thanks for permitting the high school golfers to use the field gratis. The boys are just bubbling over with appreciation for the honor of being permitted to call Forest Hill their home course. That's the way to make young golfers and to create good will without a lot of bickering, hesitating and red tape.

The baseball bargain hunters will have their first big day Sunday afternoon when the Newark Bears will clash with the Buffalo Bisons at Newark City Stadium. The three-day visit of the Bisons will complete the first home stay of the Newark. Following Tuesday's game, the Bisons will depart for a northern jaunt that will keep them away from the home lot until May 19.

Removable Bridges No Longer Barrier To Joining Army

Col. Harvey H. Fletcher, Recruiting Officer in charge of the Northern New Jersey District, announced this week that removable bridges would no longer bar a man from the army. In the past, army doctors have been interpreting the regulations in such a way that men with removable bridges could be rejected. The colonel pointed out that the regulations haven't been changed, just their interpretation. At present regulations call for three biting surfaces so opposed and three back teeth so opposed as to properly perform the function of mastication.

H. S. GOLFERS WIN THEIR OPENER

Montclair, 1940 State Champs, Trimmed 7 to 5 At Forest Hill

Beating baseball and track to the season inaugural, the high school golfers took to the links this week and opened their campaign on Monday auspiciously by beating the Montclair High golf team, 1940 state champions, 7 to 5 at Forest Hill, the home links for the Blue and Gold golfers.

Johnny Calicchio burned up the 72-par course with a 79 which is good shooting for so early in the season. Helping along in the victory were Team Captain Fred DeFuria, Nick Calicchio and Bill Radomski who went around the eighteen-hole jaunt in the low 80's.

The boys will tee off in their second match on Monday afternoon when they will travel to Greenbrook to meet the Verona High golfers. High School Athletic Director Al McBride is the team's coach. Substitutes who did not play on Monday but will get a chance in succeeding games are Arthur De Furia, Orlando Paterno and Angelo Malino.

People Respond To Advertising Of Oldsmobile Features

How newspaper advertising can stimulate public interest in a proved and outstanding development has again been convincingly demonstrated to the Oldsmobile management, according to D. E. Ralston, general sales manager of this division of General Motors Corporation.

"Oldsmobile for the past several weeks has featured the many exclusive advantages of Hydra-Matic Drive in its nation-wide newspaper advertising campaign," said Ralston. "During this period considerable emphasis has been placed on the fact that all gear shifting and clutch operation is eliminated; that driving a Hydra-Matic equipped Oldsmobile is simplified to a matter of starting, steering and stopping. Our newspaper advertisements also stressed the information that Hydra-Matic Drive, built by General Motors, is fully automatic and unlike any other 'drive' in the world.

"Motorists have accepted our statements and responded with demands for 1941 Oldsmobiles with Hydra-Matic Drive in great volume than at any time since this sensational feature was introduced. The number of Oldsmobiles with Hydra-Matic Drive now in the hands of owners is rapidly nearing the 100,000 mark. Approximately forty-five per cent of all Oldsmobiles built are equipped with this feature. No other development in Oldsmobile's impressive list of automotive 'firsts' has received a more genuine and wide-spread public acceptance."

Home Defense

It's time for us to understand how truly great is the demand for this nation's home defense. So let's use our common sense, and realize this country's need for greater action and more speed in building ships and gearments to strengthen national defense.

Do you realize your car's need for a Spring Change-over? Take no chances with poor car performances. At Brisk's Gulf Service, Main and Rutgers Streets, you are sure of friendly, efficient service. Phone Belleville 2-4514.

The Senator Speaks Out Again

The independent position taken by State Senator Homer C. Zink has been a thorn in the side of many of the so-called professional politicians not only presently but over a period of years that the Senator has been a prominent figure in state politics. That there are certain groups in the Republican party which would like to waylay Zink before the Primary election next September is no state secret.

Of those who are representing the people of this state in the Legislature we can think of none who has served more loyally and with greater sincerity than Senator Zink. From time to time he has been a party to or sponsor of legislation which could do him nothing but harm politically. But, from his actions, we think that the Senator has been more mindful of his obligation to the people than he has been of protecting any political group.

The election of Governor Charles Edison is something from which some Republicans will never fully recover. And since that day their every move has been bent toward erecting barricades which would hinder or halt the Governor's efforts in the interests of the people of this state. There has been talk of "ripper" legislation, political moves to bar Edison's choices for state positions and other plans which reflect not an interest in public welfare but in the preservation of a political machine.

Senator Zink's statement in Trenton this week pledging support to Edison is one which undoubtedly has already made him unpopular in a number of places where Republicans gather. But, the fact remains that the right-thinking people of this state want Edison to be given a fair opportunity to demonstrate what he can do as the chief executive. However, efforts of many Republican legislators are steadily bent toward hog-tying every move which the Governor makes. The majority has ruled that Edison is the man whom they wish to conduct the affairs of New Jersey for the next three years. The legislators should recognize this fact.

How much more the public would think of them if they would state as has Senator Zink:

"You are the Governor; I am merely a Senator. It is your duty and privilege to make appointments; it is my duty to confirm such appointments as I believe to be fit and to oppose those I consider unfit—if there are any such. I have no right to dictate appointments, even in Essex County, and I shall not try to do so."

That is spoken by a legislator who places the welfare of the state and public benefit before party or personal political gain.

Blossom Time In Belleville

Each year the blossoming of the cherry trees in the local extension of Branch Brook Park attracts more attention. Even though Mother Nature crossed up the Park Commission this time and had the trees blooming in their full glory a week or ten days ahead of the predictions of the horticultural experts, thousands were attracted there over the weekend.

The blossoming of these beautiful trees is as much a sign of spring's arrival in Belleville as is the announcement of the seeing of the first robin. Each year they become more beautiful and more people come to see them. Many who have viewed the local trees and those which border the tidal basin in the nation's capital say that Washington has nothing on Belleville except a tidal basin.

It would seem that both the town and the Essex County Park Commission should make an effort to mark this blossom time with some type of ceremony or observance. It is a natural wonder which few places in this country can boast of and in years to come it will become an even greater rarity. In several recent instances in which cities or park boards have sought to bring the trees into this country from Japan the State Department of Agriculture has ruled against it for several reasons.

Therefore, with hundreds of trees, the Belleville park becomes a rare spot of beauty already known to thousands and in the future to many more who will make annual visits here during blossom time. We think it's worthy of some observance.

Charging The Public A Fair Price

Probably most municipal law books are cluttered with laws and regulations which are outmoded and should be stricken off the books. Either the situation which they sought to legislate no longer exists or the provisions no longer suitably provide for the condition. The local commissioners uncovered one the other night when Mayor Williams brought to their attention the inconsistency in charging for the inspection of sewer connections. One sewer connection is seldom different from another — and therefore there is not much logic in charging one person $15 and the other several hundreds of dollars for the same amount of work.

Fees and costs charged the public should be commensurate with the services which are rendered. The present system of levying sewer charges is a carryover from the old days when money was more plentiful and it was a lot easier to charge excessively for work done.

That the public should pay only for the services which are actually received and no more was a well-taken point. The days of "soak the big fellow" are past. There is no logic to the town charging one man more than another for the same sort of work. Recently, we read a report on a town in which they collected almost $2,500 in dog license fees but they spent only $400 yearly to control the dog situation. To us, this seems entirely out of proportion. The fee levied for licenses for animals is to help pay for the control of them and when six times as much is collected as is spent, it's a bit excessive.

Commendation For The Physicians

Many are being called upon to make some sacrifice or contribution in the present national defense program. One group which has not had its just share of praise and is deserving of it for a noteworthy effort are the physicians who give so much of their time to the local draft boards in examining those called for duty under the Selective Service Act.

While many may not realize it, the members of the medical profession give their services absolutely free. This work takes up much of the valuable time of these men.

The physical condition of those who are accepted for Army duty is important both to the service and to the applicant himself. That these physicians give willingly and without thought of personal gain of their knowledge and time is worthy of public recognition.

How different the attitude of those in this profession is from some of the other crafts and trades who seem to be attempting to take advantage of a national emergency for a "holdup" and personal gain and reward.

Laurence Torley Talks About Dogs

The dog's reputation for fidelity is so old that no one can tell accurately when it first was mentioned. It is believed to antedate the oldest written records, for it is connected with some of the oldest legends. Many of these legends are mentioned in the article, "Dogs of the Ancients," by Cecil G. Trew, which appears in the April issue of the American Kennel Gazette, official magazine of the American Kennel Club. He writes, in part:

"As dog has entered into the daily life of man practically since the beginning of things" it is not surprising to find that he had an effect on early religious beliefs. It is interesting to find that from the very start his faithfulness seems to have been the thing which impressed people most. . . . A very ancient legend tells that after He had created the world and all the animals, God made man as His masterpiece. But man did not come up to God's expectations and his behavior was such that God, in disgust, caused a great chasm to open in the ground between man and the other beasts.

"Among the beasts stood the dog, gazing wistfully across the slowly widening gulf, until, unable to bear it any longer, the dog took a mighty leap, and landed by man's side, where he has remained, more faithful than any other living creature ever since. . . .

The Community Service Bureau From The Inside

"The function of the Community Service Bureau is broader than that of a family agency in a larger community," Mrs. Julia Reiner, Executive Secretary, reported yesterday. "We do not limit our work to family difficulties but also deal with many child welfare problems — because there is no other children's agency in Belleville. We are called upon to be concerned with the many and varied needs of the child, which in a slightly larger community would be handled by child caring agencies which do not exist here," she said.

"For example, we have been at hand ready to answer when the telephone rang to tell us that two small girls had run away. From what? We do not run away from happiness and love. Nor they, Night after night these motherless children had lain awake listening to the drunken brawls of their father and his friends. The morning showed a filthy house, no decent food. The 12-year-old finally revolted. She had heard that 'there were ladies who took care of you.' She asked the officer on the beat to bring her and her 9-year-old sister to us. A good foster mother took them under her wing. After a week of two, we saw them, — children again instead of small, worn women. They didn't mention the new and becoming clothes, or the regular, bountiful meals. 'But we each have a bed of our own, with two sheets and we have pajamas to sleep in!' they told the case worker."

Take Care of Children

"And we were ready when Dr. D. asked for a visitor within the hour. His patient, a young widow, must have immediate admission to the hospital. Her treatment would require months. She was desperately refusing because she could trust no one to care for her two young children, one nine and a half years, the other three and a half years. After talking with our worker, she asked us to place the children. The worker went with her to the hospital, visited her frequently bringing her news of the children, who were placed in a suitable foster home. Six months have passed and Christmas found them together. The doctor was right; Mrs. X. is in much better health and is now planning with our worker for a new start. She now does not consider herself without a friend.

"Both of these parents could pay the actual board needed for the children. Mr. Y., though a heavy drinker, is a wage earner and responded when the worker insisted that he pay $10.00 a week. Mrs. X. has a pension from the employer of her late husband. But neither could pay for the experienced service which the Bureau has maintained for eleven years, supported by the Community Chest, a service ready to meet the tragedies of our community with kindness and skill. Many parents turn to us and are glad to pay what they can."

Woman's Place in Defense

Voluntary service questionnaires in the hands of patriotic organizations constitute the typical American approach for the participation of women in our present defense program. Couched in simple phrases, the representative questionnaire enables every woman to contemplate her official capacity and should inspire many to perfect themselves in special skills. Outside of nursing, which to many still seems to be woman's only logical field of service, the activities are broadly divided into things which must be done in groups or individual efforts which may be made at home.

Everything from executive office work to mending and cooking is included in the skills which are classified. If one cannot locate herself in any other of the broad classifications she can volunteer to assume the care of children whose mothers are eminently fitted for some defense work. It is to be hoped that all women in this country will soon have an opportunity to read such a form so that the answer to the perpetual query, "What can I do?" may begin to formulate itself in our minds.

Once more we have the unique American privilege of making our services voluntary — an attribute incidentally which does more to guarantee the success of a venture than any other one thing. There is nothing sinister in the registration of women, rather it is comforting to feel that the menacing thoughts of possible conflict are greatly minimized by intelligent preparation and participation.

Room for Talent

When a general registration is offered by some group in our locality you will find that many of your forgotten or unexplored talents and skills will find release. Perhaps you have talents which you can use in organizing entertainment for military units; maybe your household budgeting whets an appetite for bulk purchasing. This could be put to good advantage in the case of ordering supplies for any large group. Even if you are mechanically inclined and would secretly love to repair the defects in your

by Meador Wright

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The reported decision of the New Jersey Senate not to confirm the appointment of William L. Dill as highway commissioner is a challenge to constitutional government that may well become historic. Many gubernatorial appointments in recent years have failed to get confirmation, but none of them for the reasons that seem to prevail in the case of Dill. The latter is to be refused confirmation not because he is unfitted for his job or lacks integrity, but because his very integrity is feared. The Senate is not fearful that he will fail to perform the duties of his office satisfactorily, but that he will perform them too well.

What is really taking place is passive ripper legislation. Fearful of the reaction of voters to a law that would in effect keep Highway Commissioner Sterner in office, one branch of the legislature is brazenly seeking to accomplish this same end by failing to confirm the Dill appointment. It is the Senate's way of saying "the public be damned."

With a budget of more than fifty million dollars, the highway department is a potential grave yard of gigantic proportions. While outwardly having the appearance of correctness, the Sterner administration has used its enormous budget in a way best calculated to get Senate "cooperation." This doesn't quite mean that a trail of graft leads from the highway department offices to the Senate chamber. Mr. Sterner is too subtle to offer bribes and the Senate is too experienced to accept them even were they to be offered. But the two departments of the government understand each other perfectly. What exists is a working arrangement that is not susceptible either to Grand Jury investigation or the displeasure of the voters of the state generally.

No Technical Violation

It is not susceptible to Grand Jury investigation because technically no laws have been violated. Popular sentiment cannot make itself felt normally because as Mr. Edison has pointed out, less than fifteen per cent of the population of the state elects a majority of the twenty-one senators. A wave of popular indignation might engulf the seven and one-half per cent of the votes which constitute a majority in these eleven counties.

But until such a wave of indignation appears Mr. Sterner or some one who employs his technique will continue to direct the spending of some two-thirds of the state government's total revenue. It is a game of the great highway gravy bowl. The Senate is afraid Mr. Dill will not play that game, hence the refusal to confirm.

The Newark election appears to be going strongly in favor of the Ellenstein - Franklin machine. Commissioner Byrne's bracket has not been accepted very favorably. Probably Byrne is enough content personal strength to be re-elected, but it is the consensus of trained observers that he cannot carry his ticket with him. The Newark Evening News is making a desperate effort to create the impression that strong independent forces are back of the Byrne ticket, but the information that I can gather does not bear out that viewpoint.

Since the election of the Byrne profit make silent inventory and be prepared to list intelligently any information which you think will best locate you in whatever community preparation is conducted. Pre-enrollment discussion with our friends may help us all to really answer the question "What can I do?" should we be called upon to make a concrete demonstration of our American loyalty.

These are Pressure Days for telephone engineers

EVERY UPSURGE in New Jersey's effort for national defense brings new demands for telephone service—and multiplying problems for hundreds of telephone engineers who are working night and day to keep the system ready for every need. Defense naturally is "No. 1" on their program.

Hundreds of telephone construction projects are now under way throughout the State. Hundreds more are in the manufacturing, blueprint or study stage—new buildings, new switchboards and additions, new facilities for expanding industrial plants, new cable lines. Each brings problems not only of installation but of production under rising pressure.

All have a basic part in the effort of New Jersey and of the Nation to meet promptly the requirements of national defense.
