

ZONING PROBLEMS FOR TOWN BOARD ARE PLENTIFUL

Ritter Hearing Tuesday Night; Bowling Alley Decision Is Near

Zoning problems for the Town Commission and the Board of Adjustment to wrestle with are popping up with increasing regularity. Most of the cases involve the change of zones to permit the construction of business or industrial buildings. Currently frowning the brow of the Adjustment Board is the zone change application for property on Overlook avenue which would be a part of the tract that a corporation proposes to take over for the construction of a $90,000 one-story building to house a sixteen-alley bowling academy and stores.

A number of Floyd street residents are opposing the change which would permit the erection of the building unless there are assurances that the structure will be sound-proof so that no noise from balls striking pins will be heard outside. Because the residential area being considered for a change to business is within 150 feet of another business district, the Adjustment Board is the final local deciding authority in the case.

Far Into The Night

The town commissioners are anticipating that they will sit far into the night on Tuesday when they will act on a zone change for property at 307-319 Main street to 94-108 Ralph street so that the H. R. Ritter Trucking Co. may erect a garage there. Based on the number of protesting residents who appeared at the Adjustment Board hearing nearly a month ago, it is expected that there will be a full house when the town board starts to consider the matter and that verbal objections will be plentiful.

The opinion favoring the zone change was given to the Town Commission by the Adjustment Board recently despite the vigorous protests by nearby property owners. The Town of Belleville is the actual applicant for the zone change since the property on which the trucking company proposes to erect its new building was owned by the town and purchased by the Ritter concern contingent on the granting of the zone change. The company at present has a garage at 21 Joramalem street.

Protests of Residents

Property owners and residents appearing before the Adjustment Board argued that the structure would increase the traffic hazards, trucks would shake the buildings on Ralph street and there would be oil, grease and other waste material strewn over the street and sidewalk. These charges were denied by the company's attorney who insisted that property values in the vicinity would eventually be raised.

It is possible that the testimony on the bowling alley case may be concluded by the Adjustment Board tonight and that a decision will be reached. The hearing last week was adjourned until tonight so that the applicants for the zone change, Emil Casperson of Caldwell and Archie Fine of New York, could submit plans showing the soundproof qualities of the building. Julius Krill of Caldwell represents the applicants while Edward J. Abramson, local attorney, is appearing for the Floyd street residents.

Several residents argued that it would not be possible to make the alleys soundproof and said that they were objecting on the basis of what they had seen and heard in visits to other properties.

The sale of the L-shaped land, which is owned by the town, to the corporation for $11,000 is contingent on the zone change for the frontage on Overlook avenue. The applicants said the area there would be used for parking.

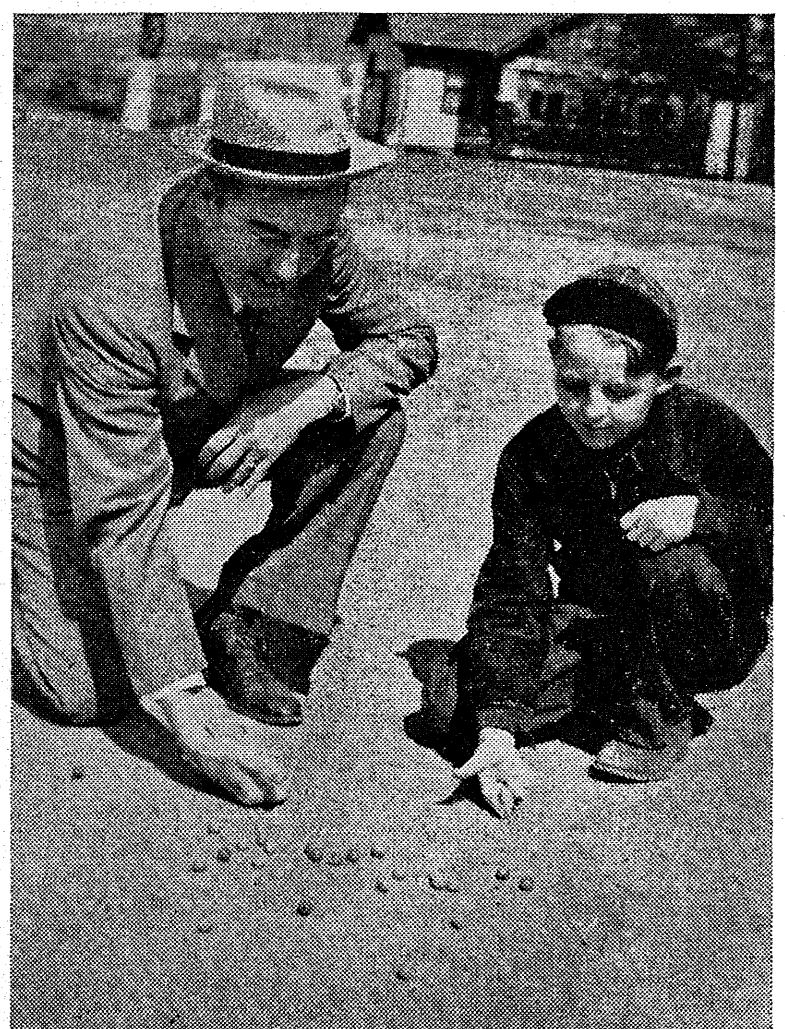

Bowling Expert Testifies

Krill insisted that his clients' building would have four walls and that noises from the alleys could not be heard on Floyd street. M. C. Weller of East Orange, representing the Brunswick-Balke Collender Co., manufacturers of bowling alleys, said that in buildings similar to the one planned for Washington avenue, the noise of the balls striking the alleys or pins could not be heard fifteen feet from the building.

Among the objectors were Mrs. George W. Bingham of 90 Floyd street, Mrs. Claire A. May of 77 Floyd street, Herman T. Hanchka of 21 Overlook avenue, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hooper of 79 Floyd street, Mrs. Marie C. Katter of 70 Floyd street, Mr. and Mrs. Emil H. Brauer of 85 Floyd street, Mrs. Anna Jarrar of 32 Overlook avenue, Mrs. Frederick Ebel of 90 Floyd street and Alfred Gesinger and William J. Kearney representing the National Guaranty Co. of Newark, owner of 509 Washington avenue; and the Associated Company of Newark, owner of 529 Washington avenue.

Louie's No Marble Champ

Commissioner Louis Noll, director of recreation, may know something about the job of running the town but when it comes to playing marbles he learned that he was no match for the newly crowned town agate king, thirteen-year-old Richard Oxley of School No. 1. Even pushing his hat back a bit didn't seem to help the commissioner's shooting eye.

Hot School Election Fight Reaches An End Today

Number of Candidates in Field for the Jobs As Town Commissioners; Sit on Tuesday; It's All Part of National Youth Week Program

There'll be an important election in Belleville today, beating Newark to the punch by several days. The high school seniors will elect five commissioners with each of the history classes serving as a polling place. The voting will end a furious week of campaigning, which has been punctuated by mud-slinging, parades, soap box oratory and even rumors of "floaters." It is all a part of the local school's participation in National Youth Week.

Mayor Williams announced last night that in response to a request from Herbert C. Schmutz, president of the Board of Education, he would invite the five "commissioners" who are scheduled to take over the town to sit in at the Commission meeting on Tuesday night. They will also be invited to attend the board's conference which will precede the regular meeting.

Choose Other Officials

Following tomorrow's election, the successful Commission candidates will hold a conference and choose a mayor, town clerk and a town attorney. The mayor in turn will appoint a school board of five members which will name a superintendent of schools and a district clerk.

It was necessary for those wishing to become commissioners to submit a petition containing ten signatures. After this, an assembly was held to properly introduce the candidates. The auditorium was decorated with hastily constructed signs reading, "Vote For Us," "Lifts For Commissioner," "Vote For Calicchio," and others.

Fusion Passes Out Gum

With Harold Valentine as chairman, each candidate stepped up to the speaker's stand accompanied by a "harmonious" chord from the band. The first speaker, distributing chewing gum generously throughout the audience and running on the Fusion ticket, was Clifford Litts. Others on that ticket are Charles Schlecker, Jack Malcolm, Bill "Red" Smith and John Calicchio.

The second speaker, Harry Hammon, an independent candidate, represented the "Secret Seven," a society for the betterment of student affairs. This organization was disbanded in February but seems to have sprung up again. Jack Malcolm, speaking on the Fusion ticket, voiced his desire to become Commissioner of Public Safety, stating that his experience as a police boy for three years in grammar school had well equipped him with the necessary knowledge for the position.

Jack Weber, another independent candidate, who, after pointing out to all the members on the Fusion ticket belonged to either the basketball or baseball teams, flung the questions at his audience, "Are you electing commissioners or an athletic association?" and whether they wanted "brain or brawn." Weber referred to his recent trip to Washington where over a period of three days he acquainted himself with the political situation.

Two Girls Running

Other independent candidates are Lillie Albert and Blanche Welles, the only feminine contenders, and Robert Brown. Nancy Lynch made a rousing campaign speech for Lillie Albert. Other speakers were Roger Volpe, speaking for Schlecker, when the latter was temporarily silenced by a laryngitis attack, August Bechtold for the Fusion candidates, Irving Berkowitz and Ian Boyd speaking for Robert Brown and stating that there would be no "idle talk and false promises" by his candidate. A male chorus, singing to the tune of "There'll Be Some Changes Made," predicted radical improvements if their candidate, Brown, were elected.

Emergency Corps May Work

If plans of Mayor Williams and the Civilian Defense Committee materialize, the emergency corps of 200 men, which will serve as an auxiliary to the police and fire departments, will receive its first workout. The Mayor is hopeful that the group being organized under the supervision of officials of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be ready for duty by that time. Their participation in the blackout would be in cooperation with whatever part the police and fire departments play in the experiment.

Newark Defense Chairman Wa-

WILL CLASSIFY ALL ELIGIBLES FOR THE DRAFT

Board Starts To Send Out Over 100 Questionnaires Per Week

The local Selective Service Board has received orders to classify the remainder of the registered men as soon as possible. Following this procedure, Chief Clerk Reid announced yesterday that starting this week more than 100 questionnaires addressed to the town's draft eligibles are being placed in the mail each week. There are 3,705 men registered with the local board. Nearly 1,100 names have been combed for 163 men who have been designated for service, including those who are scheduled to leave next Tuesday morning.

Those scheduled to report at 8 Tuesday morning are: Charles A. Rashedi, 15 North 8th street; Joseph P. Piscopo, 511 Joramalem street; Oscar Strich, 380 Stephen street; Arthur Burke, 577 Washington avenue; Edward R. Harris, 306 Washington avenue; Benjamin E. Perkowski, 40 Harrison street; Anthony Androschlo, 26 Columbus avenue; Carmine Olivo, 44 Magnolia street; Felix J. Clark, 53 Smith street; Clifford C. Frederick, 33 Montgomery place; Edward J. Doyle, 26 Ralph street; Herman F. Paul, 44 Columbus avenue; Frederick W. Adelman, 57 Ralph street; Paul Riotti, 103 Union avenue; Arthur Primavera, 43 Hechel street; and Edward J. Dunn, 6 Smith street.

With the dispatch of more questionnaires to draft eligibles, the Selective Service Board officials once again reminded those who must fill out the questionnaires that they may secure advice from the members of the Draft Advisory Board which is headed by Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan. A complete list of the men who can be of assistance is included in this issue. There have been several changes since the original list was published in November.

Must Answer In Full

It is important, Chief Clerk Reid explained, that the questionnaires be answered fully and correctly. Those who fail to do so, he said, will be the ones who will suffer for they will be called to the board office in the Town Hall to explain the statements or their failure to answer them. This will have to be done during the draft board hours from 1 to 5 daily and on Saturdays from 9 to 12. In many of the cases, Reid said, it would mean that the man would lose a day or half a day's pay.

A supplemental questionnaire has been added to the regular one which it is important that the registrants answer, Reid explained. Some of the men, he said, neglect to fill out the answers to the questions contained in it. Every item that applies to the individual must be filled out. Each dependent over eighteen years, except the registrant's wife, must swear to the affidavit.

The supplemental questionnaire applies to those claiming dependents. If a man is married it wants to know if his wife is working, name of the employer and weekly earnings. If she is not working, it wants to know the date when she was last employed.

Most important question of those in the supplemental group which those draftees claiming dependent brothers or sisters fail to answer, are full name, age, marital status, home address, occupation and place of employment, average weekly income from all sources, net value of property owned, including bank accounts but excluding household furnishings and amount contributed weekly toward support of persons listed as dependents in regular questionnaire.

Park Commission Men Moving Big Magnolia

By sundown tonight the much-prized big magnolia tree which has spread its limbs over the property at 329 Washington avenue recently purchased by Mayor Williams will be placed in its new spot in the Mill Street Extension of Branch Brook Park.

Early yesterday morning a crew of Essex County Park Commission workmen started the job of digging up the big tree and found that its roots entwined their way through the earth, spreading over as great an area as the tree's limbs.

The Mayor presented the tree to the Park Commission after announcing plans for developing the property for business purposes. Within the next few weeks work will be started on razing the old three-story dwelling on the property which has towered over Washington avenue and the surrounding neighborhood for a number of years. No definite plans have been announced yet as to the type of business that will be located there, although there have been reports that a theatre would be erected.

F. W. Woolworth Store Opens In Two Weeks

The family's shopping paradise will soon be here. In other words, the new F. W. Woolworth five and ten cent store will shortly open at Washington avenue and Rutgers street. A score of workmen are rushing to completion the finishing work on the structure in hopes that it will be ready within the next two weeks.

The Woolworth officials had hoped that work would be completed so that the store could be opened for business by May 15 but it now appears that it will probably take another week or so. Already much of the stock for the new store has arrived and has been stored in the second story of the new building.

The company has opened an office in the rear of the building from which the pre-opening details are being directed by company executives. The Woolworth store is the latest addition to the town's ever-growing business centre on the west side of The Avenue between Rutgers street and Belleville avenue which was started less than two years ago with the erection of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company's super market.

WHISTLE TOOTING TO RALLY MEN

Plan for Summoning Men Worked Out by Local Defense Group

Some thing between now and May 22, every fire whistle and bell and a whole symphony of factory whistles will blast away for nine good toots. Don't be worried—the town won't be invaded or there won't be an air raid. It will be the signal to arouse the town's new Civilian Defense corps of approximately 200 men in their first "test" emergency drill. Police Chief Spizz and Fire Chief Reid will be in charge.

The date of the test is a state secret and nobody will know about it until the whistles beep off their nine blasts.

Plans for the test were discussed and decided upon at a meeting held in Town Hall on Tuesday night. It will be a preliminary drill to the one expected to take place on Sunday night, May 25, when a section of the town will be darkened by Newark's blackout test.

The whistle plan was chosen in favor of that of calling the men together via a telephone alarm system.

Men are still wanted for the corps which will act as an auxiliary unit to the police and fire departments in event of an emergency. Application blanks may be obtained within the next few days at police headquarters and those who are enrolled will be fingerprinted and photographed. They will also be sworn in as special officers to serve during an emergency.

CUB HERR WINS KITE CONTEST

Thirty Pack 350 Members Compete In Contest At Stadium

Conrad Herr of Den 6 is the kite flying champion of Fawcett Church Cub Pack No. 350. Of the thirty boys who participated in the contest held Saturday morning at the Truf Bog Stadium, Conrad had the best flying kite. He also entered the best miniature plane.

Jackie Meyer of Den 3 had the best kite while the second best flyer was entered by Robert Sheldon of Den 5 and third best, Robert Gnatz of Den 7. Richard Orr of Den 4 and Richard Herman of Den 5 trained behind them.

Emile Minette of Den 4 had the second best male kite with James Rutton of Den 6 after him. The judges were Cubmaster Harold F. Ross, A. E. McFried, Harold Snook, Nicholas Hagroft, Wilbur Riker, Robert Gnatz and Arthur Day.

At Thursday's Pack meeting at Fawcett Church, Frank Bianchi and Joseph DeGeorge were graduated to Scout Troop No. 392 and Richard Peterson and Robert Stephens moved up to Troop No. 350. Robert Gnatz joined as a new Cub.

The Cubs are now planning for the circus which they will stage as a part of the district camporee to be held at the Bog Stadium on Saturday, June 7. Boxing matches in which the Cubs will take part will be one of the evening features. One-round exhibitions will be given by John Waliser, Vincent Woznick, Nicholas and Thomas Hagroft, Edmund Cotton, Martin Bucco, Martin Barone, Anthony Iannarone and Robert Sheldon.

Student Wins Scholarship

Howard L. Wilson of 25 Essex street, a high school student, is one of the three young men who have been awarded a scholarship for Columbia College in New York by the Columbia Alumni Club of Essex County. The announcement was made yesterday by Frederick W. Henderson, the club's scholarship committee chairman.

Industry Survey By Mayor Is Requested By Members Of Manufacturers Group

Mayor Accepts And Will Seek To Determine The Facilities Here for Defense Work

The Belleville Manufacturers' Association is interested in having as many local industries as possible humming with activity on defense work. Having already sponsored a school at which unemployed men are being trained for skilled mechanical work in industry, the association through its president, Martin F. Tiernan, president of the Wallace & Tiernan Co., yesterday asked Mayor Williams to conduct a survey of local industries to determine what facilities they may have available which might fit them for defense manufacturing work either directly or indirectly.

The letter from Tiernan to the Mayor stated that the association members felt that not only because of his wide acquaintance with industry in Belleville but because of his broad experience in the field the local chief executive was well qualified to do the work.

The Mayor released to the press last night a copy of his reply to Tiernan's letter in which he agreed to accept the task of conducting the survey. The Mayor said that he would set to work immediately and attempt to conduct his survey as quickly as possible. Williams said that he would not only view the executives of both large and small plants but that he would personally inspect their plants for first hand information on the facilities which they have available for defense work.

"About the first of April, the Mayor and commissioners of Belleville, the Manufacturers' Association, and certain other citizens, organized the Belleville National Defense Production Plan, the objects of which were:

- (a) To provide special mechanical training for unemployed Belleville residents.
- (b) To try and place such trained men in good jobs and, if possible, in National Defense Production.
- (c) To urge and assist every manufacturing plant in Belleville to get into the National Defense Program.

"There has already been established a training school in which twenty-one students are now being trained five nights a week. "Manufacturing industry in Belleville is probably doing its share but in these most critical times that is not enough. The trustees of the Belleville Manufacturers' Association are most anxious to have every industry in Belleville, either directly or indirectly, intensely active in national defense work. They feel that the time has come to have a survey made of our industries in town so as to determine just what available facilities each industry has and the type of work each might do.

Has Broad Experience

"After very thorough consideration, the Manufacturers' Association would like you to conduct such a survey in Belleville. You are not only well acquainted with industry in this town but you also have broad industrial experience, which makes you peculiarly qualified for this job. The manufacturers who are members of the Association will be very glad to cooperate with you in every way possible so as to have this work done efficiently and promptly.

"Belleville has quite a diversified industrial activity, with some highly specialized plants. It is quite possible that many of our manufacturers, particularly the smaller ones, are unaware of just how their plant best fits into the national defense program. We feel that there is an opportunity now for you both as Mayor of Belleville as well as an active participant in the Belleville National Defense Plan to render an unusual service to the Town of Belleville in further developing our industries, but more especially to the public at large in aiding in the national defense program.

"Therefore, in behalf of the Belleville Manufacturers' Association and for the welfare of Belleville in general, I would urge you to favorably consider acceptance of this request."

In reply to the letter received from the president of the Manufacturers' Association, the Mayor said:

"Your request on behalf of the Belleville Manufacturers' Association to have me conduct a survey of Belleville industries to determine available facilities in each industry and the type of work each may be capable of doing is respectfully acknowledged.

"I heartily agree with the viewpoints of you and your members that our national emergency warrants the utmost capacity of every citizen and every productive machine.

"Appreciating the confidence of you and your fellow manufacturers and the assurance of cooperation in this important work, I will begin our industrial survey Friday morning of this week."

St. Peter's H. N. Society Breakfast On Sunday

Seventeenth Annual Event Will Be Held Following 8 O'clock Mass; Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, Church Pastor, Honored Guest; Several Speakers

Four speakers will be featured on the program for the seventeenth annual communion breakfast of the St. Peter's Holy Name Society to be held on Sunday morning in the New School Hall following the 8 o'clock mass. Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, pastor of St. Peter's Church, who is a retired R. S. Army chaplain, will be the guest of honor. Local police and fire department members will attend in uniform. Because of the number of the Society's members who are already in the armed service, special tribute will be paid to them.

Speakers in addition to Father Kelly will be Rev. William Field, Rev. John S. Nelligan, curate of St. Peter's Church, and Charles Scanlan, president of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church, Nutley. Oliver Brown will be the toastmaster.

Neaman Manning is in charge of arrangements assisted by the following committee:

- Frederick J. Andrews, John Bane, Eugene Barnett, Peter Barnes, John Callahan, Anthony Dileo, James Dunleavy, Joseph Higley, Robert Joseph Kinney, Thomas Leonard, Thomas Lukowick, Thomas McLoughlin, John Maczure, Harry Sullivan and John L. Sullivan.

Music will be played by Ed Smith's Blue Stone orchestra while the St. Peter's Choral Society under the direction of Thomas Haney will offer several selections. The officers of the Society are Nicholas J. Comesky, president; George Urcioli, vice president; and Private James McCann, secretary.

The meal will be prepared and served by the members of St. Peter's Social Society and the young women of the parish.

Joe DeBacco Places Second In 65-Mile Grind

The colors of the Belleville Bicycle Club waved gloriously in the annual 65-mile grind from Camden to Atlantic City on Sunday when Joe DeBacco pedaled home second in a field of forty-five pedalists. He lost out to George Edge of Philadelphia by less than a wheel's length in the final sprint.

Four other cyclists from the local club competed with Ray Frate, Bud Wille and Bob Schneckemberger finishing. Ed Litting was forced out of the grind at the twenty-mile mark with a flat tire.

Jackie Meyer of Den 3 had the best kite while the second best flyer was entered by Robert Sheldon of Den 5 and third best, Robert Gnatz of Den 7. Richard Orr of Den 4 and Richard Herman of Den 5 trained behind them.

Tulip Festival Will Be Held Despite Invasion

School No. 9 Finds That English Bulbs Are As Good As Those From Holland; Play Will Feature Program For Tomorrow Night

The war which has taken Holland in its grip has not stopped the tulip festival which has become an annual festival at School No. 9. When word was received that Hitler's legions had marched into the Netherlands, the faculty and the pupils at School No. 9 who take great pride in their collection of tulips feared that the show curtailed because of a shortage of bulbs.

In past years, most of them have been obtained from Holland, but Principal Thomas Gryzka was determined that the school would have its tulip festival come what may. A check of florists and horticulturists turned up the information that tulip bulbs could be purchased in England.

And so, the cup-shaped flowers of varied shades are now bursting forth in all of their brilliance about the school and according to those who have seen past displays, the flowers from England are just as beautiful as those which have been obtained in the past from the Netherlands.

Will Present "Cinderella"

The blossoming of the tulips is the sign for the pupils to stage their annual spring festival. Tomorrow night they will present their program at the school which will be featured by a two-act performance of the children's interpretation of "Cinderella." It has been directed by Margaret Norman with Kathryn Conklin and Indra Bryant in charge of music. There will be an exhibition of the children's art work on the second floor of the school.

The presentation of the fairy tale play will start at 8. Dorothy Williams is cast in the principal role of Cinderella with Betty Gerow as her stepmother and Alison Pitman and Leona O'Droney as her step-sisters.

Will Honor Two Teams At Friendly House

Two victorious teams will be honored at the annual sports dinner which will be held tomorrow evening at the Friendly House in Silver Lake. Rev. Benedetto Pascuale will be master of ceremonies and a trophy will be presented to the basketball team which won third place in the Protestant Gold Medal Tournament conducted last Wednesday night at the Second Presbyterian Church in Newark.

Miniature replicas of the trophy will be given to the members of the team who are Michael Morotti, Mario Russell, Arthur Peterson, Joseph Eliasi, Ernest Brunetto, Arthur Pico, Andrew Polito, Julio Mosco, Frank Grumela and John Lococo. Morotti and Peterson will receive special notations for outstanding plays. The Church League championship was won this year by the bowling team captained by Rocco LePond and composed of Anthony Longo, Nicholas Longo, Michael Renga, Guy Renga, Joseph Mantorelli and John Don. Don is director of athletics at the Friendly House.

Miss Lillian Cullen Given Surprise Shower

At The Brook in Summit on Saturday afternoon Miss Lillian Cullen of Academy street was surprised by twenty friends at a luncheon and miscellaneous shower. Miss Cullen will wed Harold Burger of North Bergen in July. The Misses Constance and Muriel Connolly of Belleville were the hostesses. Guests included Mrs. L. Elizabeth Cullen, Miss Florence Cullen, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. Leo Budd, Mrs. James McCann, Miss Edna Baum and Miss Mary Grimme of North Arlington, Miss Sadie Maher and Mrs. Charles Payne of Montclair, Miss Florence Payne and Miss Alice Mitchell of Union City, Miss Virginia Krick of Newark, Mrs. Louis Keller of Irvington, Mrs. Harold Seiger of West Caldwell, Mrs. Helen Burger of North Bergen and Miss Miriam Kidd of Irvington.

Mr. and Mrs. Domenick Olivo and family of Magnolia street were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Dams of Union.

A surprise party was conducted Saturday evening to celebrate the twenty-second wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cronshey at their home in Ralph street. Mrs. George Fritts and Mrs. William Taylor of Belleville and Mrs. Paul Huber and Mrs. Edward Guttman of Newark, sisters of Mrs. Cronshey, arranged the affair which was attended by fifty guests from this town, Newark and Nutley. The Cronsheys' daughter, Clella Jane, observed her twelfth birthday on the preceding Wednesday. Guests at her afternoon party were Madge and Betty Reigler, Marie Cafone, Allison Pitman, Gertrude Johnson, Leona Odroneic, Claire Winfield and Dorothy and Ruth Williams.

Mrs. Joseph Graziano of Belmont avenue celebrated her birthday on Tuesday evening at a family dinner.

Choral Is Well Received In School No. 10 Concert

Conducting by Reuel Lahmer, Solo Work by John Meade and Piano Accompaniment by Mary E. Compton Lent Excellent Support to Program

The Choral of the Woman's Club of Belleville was enthusiastically applauded by a sizeable audience in the No. 10 School auditorium Tuesday evening. Reuel Lahmer conducted in his usual restrained and musicianly manner and Mary Elizabeth Compton, accompanist, provided excellent support for both Choral and baritone soloist, John William Meade.

The signal for the concert to begin came with the pinging of the curtain, displaying the members of the Choral seated on the platform, gowned in pastel shades like a veritable flower garden. Appropriately, Bach's "The Glory of the Spring" was the first number to be sung, followed by two other early seventeenth century compositions.

Mr. Meade then sang his first group of three songs, which were so well liked that an encore was demanded. It was "To Mothers" dedicated to his own and all other mothers. Schubert's "To Music" next occupied Mr. Meade, with the Choral supplying an obligato. Then followed "Tomorrow" by Strauss and the melodious "On Wings of Song" of Mendelssohn to bring the program to the intermission.

Trio Is Heard

Two rollicking airs opened the second half of the program with Gertrude Hewitt, Irene Schofield and Mary Davis giving solo advice in "An Old Man Came Courtin' Me." Holst's "Hymn to the Waters" concluded the group.

Mr. Meade contributed three Negro spirituals and an Irish tune which so caught the admiration of his listeners that three encores were needed to satisfy, the "Figaro" aria from "Barber of Seville," done by request, Maria-Zucca's "I Love Life" and "Beautiful Dreamer" by Stephen Foster. Another composition wherein Mr. Meade sang the solo and the Choral added the background was Mr. Lahmer's "Down in the Valley," an effective piece of writing.

It is interesting to note that on every program of the many Choral concerts that have been presented this spring, at least one patriotic number has been included. This was true of Tuesday's program, too, for Aaron Copeland's "That's the Idea of Freedom" was the final offering, with speaking parts taken by Mrs. Willard Strange, Mrs. Andrew Salkeld and Mrs. Fred Honstrater. The audience joined in the national anthem closing the concert.

The concert marked Mr. Lahmer's last appearance as a choral conductor. He has been appointed instructor in composition and music theory for undergraduate students at Cornell University and will go to Ithaca, N. Y. in the fall to begin his duties there. This is the fifth annual Choral presentation which Mr. Lahmer has conducted for the Belleville Woman's Club group. The members presented him with a traveling bag as a mark of their affectionate esteem.

Zoning Nightmare Returns To Haunt Town Board

Belleville Avenue 1939 Case Involving Restaurant Back Again; Eating Place Abandoned; Bianchi Now Wants to Build Gas Station

The ghost of an old zoning nightmare has returned to haunt the Board of Commissioners and the Zoning Adjustment Board. Remember the Bianchi case and how the Belwood Park residents stormed and raved when they learned of an application for a zone change for the property at 729 Belleville avenue so that a restaurant could be erected there?

The Adjustment Board in September, 1939, recommended to the town board that the change from Residential "A" to business be granted but the town board turned thumbs down on it.

The property owner, John B. Bianchi of Montclair, took the case to the State Supreme Court and the learned jurist gave a ruling in favor of Bianchi.

Well, the plan for the restaurant to be erected there by Jean Saville of Bloomfield fell through, but Bianchi informed the Adjustment Board this week that he wishes to erect a gasoline station there. Bianchi's application was made by Paul Lustbader, Newark attorney. Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan told the zoning body that the Supreme Court has ruled that the property can be used for business purposes. The board set a hearing on Thursday night, May 15.

On Thursday night the Adjustment Board unanimously voted, with one member absent, to refuse the application of Mrs. Marie Palmieri of 35 Franklin street, Bloomfield, for a change from residential "A" to "B" zone for property at 642-644 Joramemon street. Mrs. Palmieri wished to build a two-family residence there. A petition bearing the signatures of thirteen nearby property owners was presented by Mrs. Frederic Boyes of 13 Melvex street opposing the granting of any zone change.

College Alumni Searching For Oldest Living Grad

The Alumni Association of Rider College is searching for the oldest living graduate or former student of the school. When found, the oldest alumnus will be the guest of honor at the alumni banquet to be held in conjunction with the College May-fair-Alumni Weekend May 9 to 11. The oldest located to date are William Howell and G. W. Manning of the class of 1876.

carried out, is proof of its urgency.

"The way every home owner can cooperate is for each to see that houses are so darkened that no trace of light can be seen from the outside. Car owners can best assist in the success of the affair by not driving during the period of the blackout, which will not be a hardship in view of the late hour set for the experiment.

"The success, however, depends upon the full cooperation of every resident of the city. If successful, the Newark plan will be the pattern that will be followed in every other municipality in the country. More than 4,000 volunteers will assist in making it a success, and all that remains to make it a perfect success is for every resident to contribute the assistance he is being asked to give."

Musketeers Win Again, Beat Montclair 15-6

The Musketeers continued their winning ways on Saturday afternoon when they invaded Montclair and pasted the Tigers 15 to 6 at Commonwealth Field. Red Wille was the individual star, hurling no-hit ball in his three-inning trick on the mound and getting three hits in four trips to the plate. One of his clouts went for a home run. The only other extra base blo was a triple by his brother, Pete. The locals will take to the road again on Saturday when they will travel to Nairn Field in Kearny where they will oppose the Kearny Senators. Leo Scanlan is expected to start on the mound with Pete Wille behind the plate. Belleville r. h. e. Tigers r. h. e. Blue and Gold Bowlers Win From Bloomfield

The local high school pinners beat the Bloomfield High entries 2 to 1 in the first round of the high school bowling tournament being sponsored by the Essex County Junior College. With Joe Becker setting the pace with a 175, 201, 140 series, the Blue and Gold mapletoppers took the first two games 787 to 692 and 798 to 750. Bloomfield came back fast in the third game to win the final one 778 to 735.

Mrs. Anna Gravel

Last rites will be held here at ten o'clock this morning for Mrs. Anna Gravel, Salvation Army member who succumbed Monday to a four-year siege of illness caused by a fall that injured her hip.

The services will be conducted at her husband's home, 94 Washington avenue, and burial will follow at the Tranquillity cemetery. Officiating at both ceremonies will be Major Ralph Miller, divisional commander of the Salvation Army in New Jersey, and Captain John Lyons, another army head.

Both Mrs. Gravel and her husband had been members of the Salvation Army for over 40 years, and currently were affiliated with the Salvation Army Passaic Corps.

GRADE-LABELING BY THE MUTUAL

Chain Grocery Firm Announces System To Make Buying of Food Simpler

Convinced that grade-labeling of canned goods is the most important single step that can be taken to make food buying simpler and more reliable for home-makers, it was announced today by Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co., owners and operators of Mutual and Big Chief Markets and Mutual Stores, that grade-labeling has been adopted for two of its lines of canned vegetables.

The company is the first major chain in New Jersey to tie in with the widespread consumer movement by actually designating grades on individual cans in accordance with standards established by the Department of Agriculture, for the information and protection of food buyers.

Concurrent with the announcement, the Wilkinson company made public its plans for an educational campaign on graded merchandise to be conducted through newspapers, women's clubs, schools and civic organizations.

It will be directed and administered by American Consumers' Institute, a division of Consumers Relations Service, New York City.

C. T. Leland, general merchandising manager of Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co., made the following statement regarding the planned educational campaign:

"In adopting grade-labeling of canned vegetables which we confidently expect to open a new era of more intelligent and dependable buying of food products in northern New Jersey, we realize that henceforth we must accept some of the responsibility for educational work on grade-labeling, heretofore carried on only by the government and consumer leaders.

"The service will be comprehensive, informative and of practical value. Planned for consumer education group leaders and teachers, it will include student projects on grade-labeling, bulletins on grade-labeling and an informative service."

RED CROSS AIDED BY YOUNGSTERS

Number of Them Make Afghans, Infants' Wear For Production Committee

The school students are helping the production committee of the Red Cross chapter in a big way, according to Miss Esther Adams, vice-chairman of the committee.

Four afghans have been made by pupils in School No. 3, taught by Miss Helen Canouse, 5B; Miss Virginia Rue, 7B; Miss Ethel Joule, Grade 8, and Miss Martha Dunlap, 8A. The afghan made by Miss Dunlap's class, in blue, maroon and white shades, was made by eleven girls.

Pupils in Mrs. Marburger's grade class made eighty-nine squares and in Miss Hess's 6B room twenty-two squares. These have been turned over to the production group and will be sewed together in another afghan.

The youngsters at School No. 10 have made two afghans; School No. 7, five, and School No. 9 students, one.

Fourteen beanies were made by the students in Mrs. Murphy's special classes in School No. 8, while all of the pupils there contributed toward a large box of buttons which was sent to the Red Cross headquarters in the Woman's Club.

Make Infant Wear

Miss Eileen Lynch, vice-chairman of the Junior Red Cross, reports that a large quantity of infants' garments have been made by pupils at School No. 10, while the high school students contributed over 300 magazines which have been sent to the Soho Isolation Hospital for distribution.

The regular monthly meeting of the Red Cross will be held at the Woman's Club Monday evening.

Newark Faces Manslaughter; Claim He Hit Localite

Joseph Malgeri of 157 Newton street, Newark, is being held in $1,500 bail by the order of the Essex County prosecutor's office for appearance before the Grand Jury on a manslaughter charge. The Newark man is alleged, according to statements made to Caldwell police, to have struck Carl Lockie of this town on January 4 during an argument. Lockie died April 23.

Both men were employed on a WPA project in Caldwell at the time of the incident.

Here's Something Different

Pert cap sleeves and flattering round collars distinguish these cotton pique jumpers from the usual variety with square, overall tops. Excellent fitting through the waist also lends style and makes these dresses ideal for mother and daughter to wear at home at any hour of the day. They are easily made even by amateur seamstresses.

Two Work On Committee For British Aid Dance

The Misses Blossom McLaughlin of New street and Marie Kane of Malone avenue are serving on the committee for the entertainment and dance which will be given by the East Orange Chapter of Bundles for Britain on Saturday evening, May 17. It will feature Broadway stars, exhibition dances, Scottish bagpipes and a Negro quartet followed by dancing from 10:30 to 2. It will be held at the Elks Club, 44 South Munn avenue, East Orange. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of a surgical unit for Britain. Tickets may be obtained by calling Miss McLaughlin at Belleville 2-3843.

Loan Corporation Opens Office On The Avenue

The General Public Loan Corporation, a national service institution with offices in thirteen states, has opened an office at 140 Washington avenue. This office will be under the management of W. J. Marsh of Roselle. Marsh has had fifteen years' experience in this particular field and has been with the General Public Loan Corporation for the past five years.

Marsh states that the business covered will be personal loans of every description — both family and individual. The opening of this local office provides residents of Belleville with a loan service which, heretofore, they were forced to go out of town to secure.

No Women Allowed

The King Association members will hold their monthly meeting on Saturday night at Washington avenue. Following routine business, there will be a stag card party.

Church Choir Will Sponsor Dance On May 16

The choir of the Belleville Reformed Church will hold a May Frolic on Friday evening, May 16, at the church, Main and Mill streets. Miss Edna Baum is in charge, assisted by the Misses Alice and Sadie Lynas, Kathryn Bungo, Verna Holly and Dorothy Newton, and Robert Lee, Walter Martin, George Price, Thomas Lynas and William Saarloo.

Principal Gryczka Named To Scholarship Group

Thomas Gryczka, principal of Public School No. 9, was elected to a two-year term as a member of the scholarship committee of the Polish University Club of New Jersey on Monday night at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark. He is also editor of the club's Bulletin.

More Than 200 Youngsters Attend Youth Symphony

More than 200 children of the Belleville Grade Schools attended yesterday afternoon's performance of the Youth Symphony Orchestra conducted at the Mosque Theatre in Newark by Frank Black, director. Rudolph Serkin, pianist, was the soloist. Records of the compositions selected for this program, loaned to the school system by the Griffith Music Foundation, had previously been heard by the children in their classrooms. The effects of this preparation were proved highly satisfactory on the occasion of the November and February concerts of the series which were each attended by 150 or 200 Belleville children.

Smetana's Overture To The Bartered Bride, Concerto No. 1 in G Minor for piano and orchestra by Mendelssohn, On The Trail from Ferde Grofe's Grand Canyon Suite, Voices of Spring by Strauss and the Finale from The Fourth Symphony by Tchaikovsky constituted the program. Tickets were sold under the sponsorship of Miss Margaret Bunce, music supervisor for Schools No. 4, 8 and 10; and Miss Indra Bryant, music supervisor for Schools No. 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9. Teachers chaperoning the children were Miss Ruth Brohal, Miss May Murray, Miss Ruth Miller, Mrs. Aline J. Hall, Miss Helen McNair, Mrs. Harriet Becker and Miss Agnes Galey.

Students Will Participate In Job Finding Institute

Lynn Brumbach and Beatrice Cory are the leaders of the group of students from the high school who will take part in the Job Finding Institute to be conducted at the Newark YMCA on May 14, May 21 and May 28.

The speakers at the first session will be Mrs. E. Louise Holden, personnel manager for the American Insurance Co., and G. Hayes Markley, controller of the Howard Savings Institution. The topic for the second in the series on May 21 will be finding jobs in industry and the speakers will be Miss Helen Bircher, employment manager at the Harrison RCA plant, and Charles L. Searles, public relations assistant at the Eastern Electric Manufacturing Co. Philip W. Schindel, employment manager for L. Bamberger & Co., will speak at the final sessions.

All meetings will begin at 8 in the evening.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

Whether John A. Brady is high man among Newark commission candidates is problematical. But there can be little doubt that a majority of Newarkers believe he will be. A few give Joseph M. Byrne the favorite spot and still fewer Vincent J. Murphy. Byrne's status depends mainly upon how well the bracket of which he is a part fares. Some observers believe there is a strong undercurrent in the direction of the bracket. Those with this view predict Byrne, Untermann and Keenan will be elected. I have heard no one who seriously believes that Guthrie will win.

Strangely enough, there is developing considerable skepticism over whether Ellenstein will be re-elected. Franklin has been considered a doubtful number from the start. But until the past few days Ellenstein had been thought a sure winner. Those who think Ellenstein may be nosed out are probably influenced by the powerful newspaper attack on him. There can be no doubt about the effectiveness of the campaign led by The Newark News and The Sunday Call. Even the Star-Ledger is not any too enthusiastic for the mayor.

This newspaper opposition will probably defeat Ellenstein if it doesn't place him near the end of the procession. Much will depend upon the attitude of racial voters. If Newark Jews support Ellenstein has a serious chance of being elected. Villani's prospects depend much upon the strength of the common Brady-Elstein-Franklin vote. If this vote comes up to expectation Villani has a good chance of being elected.

Giuliano must depend largely upon Italian racial votes and what support he can get from Clean Government Republicans. Dr. Lester H. Clee is for him and this fact gives his candidacy prestige, but it is uncertain just how many votes it will give him. At the best a Giuliano victory is doubtful, although it cannot be ruled out.

Among other independents Reginald Parnell is considered strong, but not quite as strong as Murphy. Dr. Clee's influence is against Parnell, although this opposition has not been given public expression. Murphy is considered the strongest independent, and most pressure to date and probably will observers think that he will be elected.

At this writing I am inclined to pick Brady, Byrne, Murphy, Ellenstein and either Keenan or Villani in that order. Another combination that you hear of often is composed of the following order: Byrne, Brady, Keenan, Murphy and either Parnell, Ellenstein or Giuliano.

So much for the statistical side of the matter. As to the moral side, no one yet seems to have emphasized properly the need for drastic retrenchment in personnel. Newark has too many employees of all types. What needs to be done is the reduction of city employees by at least twenty-five per cent. This would cut the tax rate radically, and nothing else will.

With the United States apparently standing on the brink of war, there is a tendency in state and county politics to wait and see. If war actually comes this trend will become more and more pronounced. There will be coalition tickets and harmony moves. Politicians have a keen sense generally of what the public wants. They know that the public doesn't want petty partisan fights when the world is being turned upside down. All long range predictions must take this important factor into account if they would be either interesting or instructive.

Semi-Pro Nine In Debut Sunday

Newark Team Plays Locals At Stadium; Want Home Talent

Team Won First Tilt Sunday At Glen Ridge; No Local Players on Roster Yet

Belleville returns to the big-time circuit in semi-pro baseball on Sunday afternoon when the hometown team will make its local debut in the Essex County League. Victorious in their first tilt at Glen Ridge last Sunday, the Belleville nine will be hosts to the Newark team at the Turf Bog Stadium on Sunday afternoon. The "play ball" cry will be heard at 3:30. Up until last night Managers Joe Lanning and his assistant, "Babe" D'Ambrosia, still minus local talent, were hopeful that they would lure in some diamond artists who would start against the Newarkers on Sunday afternoon.

Sunday's game will mark the first time that a Belleville team has played in town in an Essex County League tilt in several years. Interest in semi-pro ball faded here some time ago and after starving along without much local support for several seasons the last nine entered in the county circuit threw up the sponge.

Strange names to Bellevillians were well sprinkled through the line-up which represented the town in Sunday's encounter at Glen Ridge. D'Ambrosia insisted that it was no fault of the management's claiming that they have made numerous attempts to get the names of local lads well-known in baseball circles on the dotted line.

Practice Session Tonight

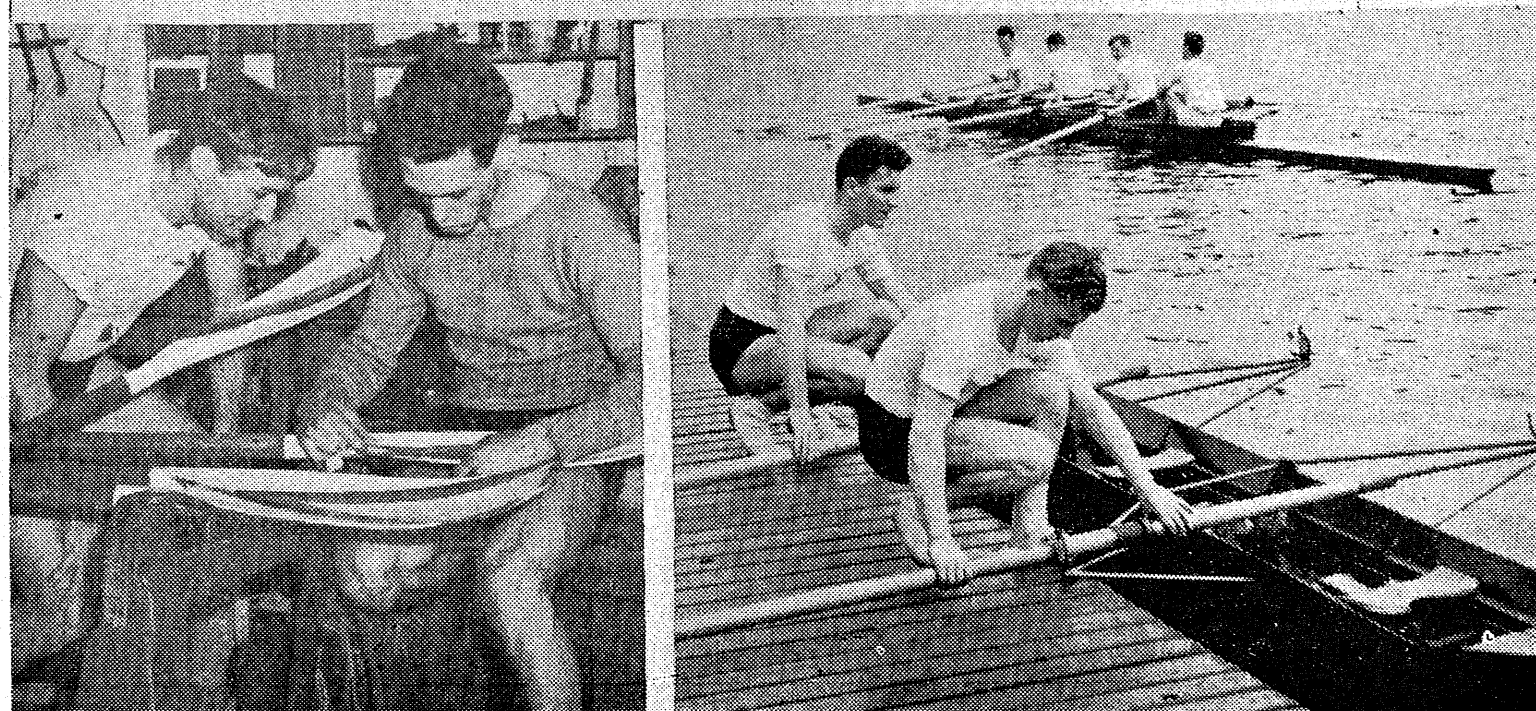

The squad will hold a practice session tonight at 5:30 in the middle division of Branch Brook Park between Park and Bloomfield avenues. Newark. Any ball players interested are invited to come out and show their stuff at that time. If it is impossible for them to be there and they are interested in bidding for one of the places on the squad, or any fan knows of a young ballplayer whom they think would make the grade, they should call D'Ambrosia at his home, 116 Ellington avenue, East Orange. His telephone number is ORange 3-1480 and he can be reached any evening after 5, except on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

Although there are several weak spots on the roster which has been lined up for Sunday's game, there will be a number of players who have shown first-class ballplaying ability on past performances. Their names are familiar in both collegiate and club circles. Either Jackie Harrington or "Moosh" DeLoia will get the call to start on the mound. Twenty-three-year-old Harrington comes from New York state where he made a name for himself on the sandlots as a fast ball pitcher. DeLoia, one-time St. Benedict's Prep hurler, is at his best when his slow, tantalizing curve ball is breaking well. Coaxing them along behind the plate will probably be Manager Joe Lanning, formerly caught with the Franklin A. C. If he does not start, there is either Reggie Hiner of Newark or seventeen-year-old Bobbie Laria, who shows good promise, ready to fill in for him.

Ex-College Players

There will be an array of ex-collegiate and prep school talent in the infield with Vic Zazzali scheduled to start at first and Al Sedo of Seton Hall at second. D'Ambrosia, who is the captain and former pitcher, will start at shortstop with Jerry Belmonte of Seton Hall at third base. Patrolling the outer gardens will probably be Jackie Konowitz in leftfield. He was formerly a member of the championship Newark Annotole softball club. Joe Gialanella, one-time Long Island U. boy, will be in centerfield with Herbie D'Ambrosia, who formerly trotted in the outer pastures for Seton Hall in night games. There will be no Sunday games. Following their set to with Newark, the locals will be here on Sunday, May 18, for a tilt with the highly rated Caldwell club. On Memorial Day, they will play

Nereid Oarsmen Start Training For Sixty-Sixth Year

One of the first signs of spring—the Nereid Boat Club oarsmen getting ready for the rowing season ahead and holding their first workout on the Passaic River. That is not a torpedo that the four young stalwarts are carrying in the picture in the upper left-hand corner, but the four-man shell which is the pride of every Nereid member. Average four-man boat weighs 150 pounds, costs between $850 and $900 and has a life of about ten to eleven years. Lugging the shell up the ramp into its clubhouse berth are Frank Siegler and Homer Zink, Jr. nearest the camera and Al Walker and Andy McMaster in rear.

Club members of Nereid isn't altogether just a case of rowing. Touching up equipment and keeping it in good condition plays a big part. Here Frank Siegler (left) and Al Walker are busy repainting the two and one-half pound oars with which they propel the shells over the water.

To be a real Nereid member one must be steeped in all of the traditions of the sixty-six-year-old organization. In the club's trophy room President Andy McMaster (right) and Warren Everson in the rear, both long-time members, are explaining the story behind some of the trophies to a new member, Ray Coagwell.

Nereid oarsmen row single, two-man and four-man boats. Elmer Gibbs (left) and "Whitey" Meder are shown getting ready to haul in a two-man shell after a workout on the river.

Former Cardinals Clout Way To Victory At Port Monmouth

Maybe, the change of names helped, but the Belleville B.B.C. which, for four years played under the name of the Belleville Cardinals, got off to a rousing start on Sunday afternoon when they clouted their way to a 9 to 5 triumph over the Port Monmouth Cardinals at the losers' home lot. Piling up a three-run lead in the first two innings on a pair of doubles in the initial canto and two errors, a single and an infield out in the second, the locals gave Pitcher Red Handley a good start.

After having the Monmouth boys hanging on the ropes for four innings, Red suddenly weakened in the fifth and the Cards hopped on him for three runs and then went ahead by a one-margin in the sixth. Richards jumped into the frames, allowing only two hits and two unearned runs. The BeeBeeCes started their shelling again in the seventh inning, scoring three more runs and topped the performance off in the eighth with another trio. Dom Piccolini led the hitting barrage collecting four bingles in five trips to the plate while Emmett Ryder had two. Richards was the winning pitcher.

The locals will take to the road again on Sunday afternoon when they will travel to Roseland to take on the Roseland A. C. The game will start at 3.

Rowing Club To Open Season Memorial Day

Here in Belleville close to the shores of the Passaic River is the home of an organization that actively carries on one of the oldest and most traditional of all sports. Few groups such as the Nereid Boat Club still exist and there are none which can look back on a more glorious or history-telling background. Once again this spring has been the case for many since 1875 when a small group of rowing enthusiasts formed the organization, the oarsmen are churning up the waters of the old Passaic with their white-bladed oars topped by the well-known brightly colored blue and gold stripe of Nereid.

The opening of the sixty-sixth year sees a group of young men just as enthusiastic as those who have preceded them and looking forward to the first meet when they will have the chance to pit their brawn, skill and cunning against the rowing enthusiasts of the other dozen or so rowing organizations which are scattered along the Atlantic seaboard.

Bank employees, clerks, salesmen—in fact employees in almost every walk of life for five or six days a week—they all have one common interest on Saturdays and Sundays—a love for rowing. Good fellowship, an eagerness and desire to keep good health through rowing and a willingness to do an equal share of work are chief among the factors that have helped the Nereid club to maintain its high reputation and to live on where others have failed.

Started in Nutley and not Belleville—that the Nereid was started. A group of men from both towns met in Barney's Store then located in Passaic avenue one night in July and formed the club. The first clubhouse was located on the banks of the river just north of the Avondale bridge on property owned by G. R. Hill. Seven years later, the club having grown considerably, the boat-house owned by the old Woodside Rowing Club on the east side of the river south of the present site was purchased. Some years later it was moved by barge to the present club property.

Nereid is the only one of the many rowing clubs huddled along the banks of the Passaic which have survived the years. Although the pollution of the Passaic River

Passaic County Boys Here Tomorrow; Beat Caldwell; Lose At Bloomfield

Two meets within the next week are on tap for the Belleville High cinder path specialists. Tomorrow afternoon the Clifton spikes-shod boys will come to Brookdale Park, the home oval for the Blue and Gold. Tuesday afternoon Weequahic High of Newark will be there. The Bengal trackmen shaded them 4 1/2 to 4 1/2 at a meet held on Friday at Foley Field, while Tuesday afternoon the Bellboys won as they pleased in defeating Caldwell High 7 1/2 to 3 1/2.

Outstanding performances for Belleville against Bloomfield were turned in by Harold Ross, George Baldwin and Johnny Higgins. Two hairline decisions enabled the Bengals to get the three-point lead which spelled victory. In the mile run, Maslin of Bloomfield broke the race in 5:03.5 to nose out Dan DeTufio of three yards. The other event was the pole vault. Morse of Bloomfield had cleared the bar at 8' 8". Higgins then took his leap. He jumped high in the air and slightly shook the bar. It wavered and fell, giving Morse the five precious first place points.

Andrew McMaster is the present Nereid head with Gerald Rhodes as vice-president, T. Russell Sargeant, treasurer; Dr. Brainard Swain and Darrell Zink, captains; and Frank Siegler, log-keeper. The trustees are Brett, Sargeant, McMasters, Cornelius DeJonge, Ralph Smith, William Bennett and Gerard Rhodes.

From The SIDELINES As Seen By The Sidelineer

Not A Native In Sight

The Belleville team in the Essex County League is a pretty close kin to the French Foreign Legion from the looks of the roster. In that blood-curdling, romantic band of supposed cutthroats that roam the desert outposts, they once said that there was everything in it but Frenchmen—and of the local nine in the Essex County circuit it can be said that to date there's everything in it but Bellevillians. This situation has led some of the drugstore corner cowboys to toast one nickel's worth of strong raspberry soda to the semi-pro moguls who are running Belleville's newest entry into the county baseball picture. But we never like to hang a man before we're dead sure that he's wrong.

And besides we have sort of a mania about unsigned letters. In the last week or so over the desk have come several pen scratches from some of the leading local baseball satellites claiming that they were not given a chance to even try out for the team.

And so, when Joe Lanning and his chief assistant, "Babe" D'Ambrosia, were in the other day weeping over the fact that none of the local boys wanted to play ball, we threw this yarn up, accusing them of not giving home talent a break. They showed that it was a dod-blasted, down-to-the-earth, no-good unmitigated—falsehood. They demanded that we bring the rapscallion who said such a thing out of the closet. They wanted to have it out with him man to man—and if they didn't have him signed up for the ball club in two minutes the drinks would be on them.

When talk first went out about the team, this corner commented that the success or failure would depend on the amount of local ballplayers in the lineup. After all, who wants to see a bunch of fellows play whom they never heard of or don't give two hoots in a barrel about.

No Philanthropist

Well, this fellow Joe Lanning isn't anybody's dope and he's not exactly a philanthropist. Oh sure, his first love's baseball and all that sort of bosh but after all he isn't one of those fellows who would stand on the corner of Broad and Market passing out silver dollars to every blonde cutie that would come tiptoeing along. In other words he isn't tossing money into this ball club just to see how much he can spend. He knows he's not going to make enough to pay his weekly life insurance premium but he doesn't want to go to the cleaners for too much.

Consequently, he's smart enough to know that the ball club is likely to go up in smoke if he does not get some local ballplayers. He says that he wants all that he can get. He even wants some of the illustrious sons who have won the diamond whom he had approached and offered suits.

South Side And Barringer Next Foes For Locals

Returning to the home diamond after a disastrous two-game road trip, the Blue and Gold diamond squad will entertain two Newark schools during the coming week at the Turf Bog Stadium. Harnessing by Hillside, 1940 Greater Newark Tourney champs, on Friday 9-1 and then drubbed 8-1 by the Harrison nine on Tuesday, the Bellboys do not look too happily toward meeting the next two visitors. Both South Side and Barringer are currently rated as the two strongest scholastic nines in Newark.

Biggest feather in the cap of the Sunnysiders to date is a 1-0 no-hit-no-run triumph recorded over Nutley High. Barringer's Big Blue always puts a formidable nine on the field.

In bowing to Hillside and Harrison, the Bellboys lost to two of the strongest teams in this section of the state. While Coach Larry Gates' biggest worry is the inexperience of his nine, getting a pitcher who can go the route is one of the real headaches. Not only did the hurling not hold up in both of these tilts, but the hitting was pretty weak.

Although Harrison scored eight runs, only two were earned. Jack Gibbs started for Belleville and yielded seven hits and two walks. Bill Hunkele took over the mound in the seventh and was chased for two hits and two runs in the last two innings. Meanwhile Walt Bagdzinski scattered seven hits for Harrison.

Decision Causes Trouble

Belleville's best summer of a big inning came in the fourth. With one man away, Smith, Volpe and Bechtold singled to fill the bases. After looking over two pitches, Ed Dunleavy slashed a drive over first base which headed for right field and seemed labeled for extra bases. The umpire watched it and after a few moments waved the blow four bases. Coach Gates stormed from the bench and protested vigorously. Dunleavy "beefed" so loudly the umpire threatened to expel him from the game. After several minutes the contest resumed. Riled by the decision, Dunleavy was eventually a strikeout victim. Flynn struck out also and the threat was ended.

Harrison broke into the scoring column in the second inning and assumed a commanding lead in the third inning when they pushed over three more runs on a pair of Bellboy errors, two hits and two walks.

Harrison scored its last two runs off Gibbs in the sixth inning. Picarelli singled and Dorf was struck by a pitched ball. Orban's single scored Picarelli and sent Dorf to third. Gibbs balked in an attempt to catch Dorf off third and the umpire waved him in with the sixth run for the Hudson County boys. The Bellboys couldn't seem

MINORS ROUTED AT RIVER EDGE

Local Nine Blitzed 20-11 By River Edge A. C.; Two-Big Innings

The Pittsburgh Minors found that their bats were no match for the River Edge A. C. rifers on Sunday afternoon when they were shelled 20-11 at the winner's home lot. It was a close ball game up until the end of the fifth with the River lads having a 7-5. In the sixth inning the roof fell in as the winners piled over six runs and then rubbed it in some more in the seventh by pushing over seven more. The Minors made a fruitless effort at a rally in the eighth inning when they scored six more runs.

Frank Borkowski, making his second start on the hill for the Pittsburghs, found the going easy until early in the sixth when a sore arm developed. Jim Cavanaugh, Ed Gutman and Bill Lister all took their fling on the mound but were unable to muffle the batting guns of the River Edge hitters. Bill Lister with four hits led the hitting parade for the winners.

Orioles Back In Win Column, Beat Mohawks

The Orioles got back on the winning side of the ledger on Sunday when they clouted the Mohawks 11-6 behind the six-hit pitching of "Bud" Wheeler. Takash opened the game with a double and later scored the first run. By the end of the third inning the Orioles had piled up a 5-0 lead. Then the Mohawks got the range with their guns and fashioned themselves six runs between the fourth and seventh innings.

The final winners came back in the eighth inning to send six runs across which sewed up the game. The Orioles will meet the Hawks Sunday afternoon at 2 in Belleville Park.

Traffic Light

It seems to us, that all this fuss, every morn and night, could be avoided if we had a modern traffic light. The place is Main and Rutgers, and you will all agree, the sooner that we get this light the safer we will be.

There is a special place for you to have your car repaired. This is, of course, Brisk's Gulf Service, Main and Rutgers Streets. All of your car needs will be taken care of here, including a Motor-Tune-up. Telephone Belleville 2-4514.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

In a city where three-quarters of the plate glass show windows have been demolished it is amazing to discover that fashion, which certainly has display for one of its essential characteristics, can still endure. This is true in London, however, where great, gaping holes are neatly boarded up and display is dispensed with except for choice articles which may be seen.

In the tiny windows which break up the expanses of wood, we have become accustomed to the fact that inhabitants of cities which are seeing active combat and destruction continue to work, go to church, shop for provisions, go to the movies and automatically do other things which are either of necessity or for which their spirits cry as a release from fear and depression.

But to find British manufacturers of clothes, undaunted and to see the practical attempt they are making to establish a new market, for the clothes for which their own citizens have neither the funds or the zest, is really startling.

When we say a "new market" we do not mean to imply that America is not in the habit of wearing British clothes; but the medium priced market in this country which has not before been touched by imported designs and fabrics may now be benefited by sports clothes in woolen and tweed which are being sent here to enter the $15 to $25 class. The boom for American women is the fact that even at these prices the expert tailoring for which British clothes are noted has not been sacrificed.

No War Influence

As for war influence on the designs intended for the American market, it is practically missing according to the reports of those who have seen these garments. They are colorful and characterized by smart flaring skirts with hip length jackets or other versions of the two-piece ensemble—dress with three-quarter coat and dress with redingote. Lovely colors like yellow, lime, blue and orange as well as smart adaptations in black and red are mentioned.

Here seems a field of new interest for women buyers in America, a first chance for many to own the coveted English type clothes without paying a premium and an ideal way to sustain one of the most important trades in a country which is struggling to maintain normal conditions against great odds.

Clean-up Week, officially designated in this town for this week, follows this year a period of unusual warmth which has probably inspired most of us to begin tasks ordinarily postponed until much later. Presuming that interior rehabilitation is already well under way, suppose we turn to the outdoors and make the most of added trash removal facilities which will be supplied. In addition to the usual debris perhaps there are shrubs or plants in your yard which are not an asset. Pruning or complete removal may be the best solution.

This opens the way for planting and we would like to echo a plea made annually by horticulturists for an increased use of summer flowering bulbs. Two excellent reasons make them, in our eyes, ideal for small landscape use: first, their dependable habits, and second, their ability to fill in ugly spots with attractive foliage and unusual bloom. One reason why the spring blooms in our yards bring such solace after the drabness of the winter landscape is that they faithfully renew themselves without our aid. Back-breaking labor is not necessary before we can reap the satisfaction they bring. The same is true of later flowering bulbs.

Arrangement Factor

Arrangement is another prime factor which recommends the use of bulbs. While we would not disparage the largest planting you can accomplish of perennial and annual flowers grown from seeds, we cannot but feel that much gardening is poorly finished, or never begun, because the care of tiny seedlings, the transplanting and cultivation around their delicate roots proves entirely fatiguing to those who have a limited time to devote to them.

Tucking these nuggets of beauty away in the earth, however, is a task which approaches a pleasure. One can prepare a separate hole for each bulb or a bed which will accommodate an arrangement of them. Depth is regulated by the variety and always indicated on the directions for planting. A layer of stones for drainage, a covering of sand to hold the fragile combs above moisture, and you are ready to place them.

Covered carefully with an adequate soil, they are ready for their period of incubation. When the straight, green spikes which are so easy to distinguish and cultivate, make their appearance your pleasure has only begun. Many varieties of leaves make cool backgrounds for the trembling white bells or the gay, sparkling colors of other blossoms.

One of the most desirable growing habits of these plants is their desire for a cool shaded place for their roots and an opportunity for their tips to reach through to the sun. Here then is an ideal chance for you to plant around the bases of your evergreens wherever they may be damaged or broken. Most familiar are the dahlia, gladiolus and the hardy lilies. But a bulb catalogue will introduce you to summer daffodils.

A. & P. Changes Standards For Flour Brand

As a further step in its program of cooperation with health authorities in the national defense program, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company today announced a change in its "Sunnyfield" brand family flour to conform to the new "enriched" standards.

Frank M. Tully, in charge of flour-buying operations for the A. & P., explained that family flour packages now moving to retail outlets are labeled "enriched" and carry a statement that the flour contains more than 1.66 milligrams of Vitamin B-1, or thiamin; 6.15 milligrams of nicotinic acid, the pellagra-preventive found in many common foods such as liver, kidney and other wholesome meats, and 6.15 milligrams of iron.

This change in the flour follows closely the company's action in placing its bread in the "enriched" product class through the addition of corresponding amounts of the vitamin and mineral properties.

Americans' preference for delicate white bread, Tully pointed out, has brought about milling processes which have given an extra-fine product, but which have been responsible for the loss of much of the vitamin and mineral values of wheat flour. This loss is now counteracted by addition, after the milling process, of the "B complex" properties that bring the white flour closer to parity with whole wheat flour.

Rotary Elects Officers

The Rotary Club held its annual election of officers last week at the weekly luncheon in the Forest Hill Field Club. Wilbur W. Brooks, vice-president of the First National Bank of Belleville, was elected president. He succeeds Recorder Everett B. Smith who joins the board of directors.

Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer was named vice-president. B. Thomas Aitken and Vincent T. Mount were also named directors, replacing Arthur P. Heyer, William V. Irvine and George Kaden. Brooks and Parmer will also serve on the board of directors. Edgar S. Peieris, secretary, and Arthur Dent, treasurer, were re-named.

Mrs. Leonard Roelaw of Campbell avenue was hostess last evening at cards for Mrs. William Konrad, Mrs. John Ellesworth and Mrs. Horace Miller.

Mother-Daughter Combination

After these blazers have served their spring function, teaming with light woolen skirts, they will be smart and serviceable for mother and daughter during cool summer evenings and on rainy days when some protection is needed over light frocks. Their white buttons and piping give a fresh coolness to the navy or dark green flannel of which they are made.

To Admit Service Men Free At Stadium Concerts

Men in uniform will be admitted free to the stadium concerts of the Essex County Symphony Society it was agreed unanimously recently at a meeting of officers of the Society and representatives of eighteen cooperating organizations. Army and navy men will be admitted at any of the gates of the City Schools Stadium, Newark, on concert nights and presented with tickets for seats.

The stadium concerts of the Essex County Symphony Society open June 3rd with a symphony orchestra conducted by Dr. Frank Black. Paul Robeson will be guest soloist.

Women Learn What They Should Wear At Concerts

A woman must be smartly dressed for concerts, the members of the Woman's Club learned last week. The local organization is one of the eighteen groups cooperating with the Essex County Symphony Society in the presentation of the annual stadium concert series in the City Schools Stadium, Newark, in June.

A fashion parade showing the smartest thing in summer wear for the concerts was presented by the Kresge Department store at the Rossmore place clubhouse on Monday.

Dresses, hats and shoes suitable for outdoor evening wear in June and throughout the summer were included in the show. There were frocks with jackets for cool evenings, prints and smartly styled cottons, as well as the small type "concert hats," and halo hats with brims that can be turned down to enable one's neighbor to see the stage.

The concerts open on June 3 with the symphony orchestra under the direction of Dr. Frank Black of the National Broadcasting Company and Paul Robeson as guest artist. Robeson will sing the "Ballad for Americans" and selections from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," accompanied by the Eva Jessye choir. Subsequent concerts will be given each Tuesday during June.

"HE SAVES MOST NOW WHO SPENDS ENOUGH"

THERE'S a rule for your guidance
You may not find in the copy-books—but that doesn't subtract one whit from its truth.

Because when you buy a new car this spring you want one that will see you through many a summer.

So while you're trading it's good sense to trade up—up to something solidly good through and through.

Trade up, for instance, to the FIRE-BALL power of Buick's more efficient valve-in-head straight-eight.

Trade up to the thrift of Compound Carburetion† — exclusively Buick's, and as much as 10% to 15% more economical of gasoline than last year.

Trade up to a splendiferous big Body by Fisher—to Buick's all-coil springing that is forever cushiony yet forever free from service attention—to stout, ride-steadying torque-tube drive with nothing about it to go wrong.

Buick's bodies are roomier, its frames huskier—its steering gears go three to four times as long without adjustment and its main bearings have half-again the service life in them.

Things like that really count these days—yet they're yours in a Buick for a trifle more at most than you'd spend in any event.

So this year spend enough to get something good—you'll find if you'll call on a Buick dealer now that it's less than you'd think.

†Available at slight extra cost on some Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

Turf Bog Doesn't Sound Well

Now that the Turf Bog Stadium is a going concern with the high school baseball team using it as its home field, Cub Scouts holding their kite flying contests there, a semi-pro ball team calling it home, the Boy Scout Council planning to hold its annual camporee there and talk of an official dedication, it seems opportune to bring up another subject.

There's nothing attractive, nice-sounding or community representative about the words Turf Bog Stadium. For one, we guffaw at the thought of some high official standing up on a flag-bedecked platform and spouting: — "In the name of the community of Belleville, and dedicated to its youth not only of this generation but of those to come, I christen this beautiful structure and its grounds—Turf Bog Stadium." Ugh!

A bog is a quagmire, a swamp — wet, soft, spongy ground that oozes with mud and slime. That's what a bog is — and that is what the Turf Bog is not, and we certainly don't want anybody to go around thinking that it is. Then, there might be some wise-cracking reporter or newspaper headline writer (and there always is one some place) who'd start off a story with something like this: — "Bellboys Bog Down in The Bog" or "Blue and Gold Swamped 40-0 in Own Swamp."

This stadium is the most important community project that has risen in Belleville in the last decade. It represents close to a half million dollars in public funds contributed by the Federal government. The local taxpayers gave $50,000 more, all of which has helped to make it one of the most attractive structures and play areas of its kind in this section of the state.

It does seem to us that a more attractive, a more representative name could be found than "Turf Bog." Belleville is rich in historical lore. It has many citizens, both living and dead, who have given much toward making this a progressive and growing community. Out of this welter of names of people and events we think that some distinctive and representative designation could be chosen. Before an official dedication is held, it is our opinion that this should be done.

What Happened To The Horses?

It is almost two years since a majority of the people who went to the polls voted for the establishment of pari-mutuel betting on horse racing in New Jersey. To date, not one horse has run a race on a Jersey track. In fact, there isn't a track in the state for a racing horse to gallop on. Not even a spadeful of dirt has been turned for the erection of a track.

This condition exists in spite of the beautiful pictures of tracks which were drawn for the public before the vote on the pari-mutuel bill. As yet, not one cent of the two million dollars which was to have been the state's annual share of the pari-mutuel revenues has come into the state's coffers. None of the thousands who were supposed to have secured jobs has gone to work. About the only group that is making money are the gambling and horse race betting syndicates which are doing a thriving business handling the bets of those who get a thrill from placing a few dollars "on the nose" of a horse whether it is legal or not.

Those who are profiteering are the same groups who the proponents of the pari-mutuel legislation insisted would be ruled out with the coming of legalized betting. Last year the word was that at least one horse racing track and maybe more would be opened this season. And now, the story is that at least one and maybe more will open in 1942. Almost as frequent as the weather reports are the rumors or "dope" stories which appear telling about some mysterious, anonymous group of "public spirited" citizens who are about to ante up a few million and construct the most palatial horse racing mecca in the nation.

We are not peeved because the horse racing tracks have not opened, but since a majority of those who did vote, said that they wanted the "sport of kings" and since it was going to "help further the breed," we think something should be done. Also, we happen to be one of the few million who are helping to pay the bills that keep this state in business and we would like to see some of that two millions in revenue which it was alleged would find its way into the coffers at Trenton.

And in all of this delay, we sometimes wonder if there is any connection between it and those who profit handsomely from horse race betting now but who would probably find their income cut considerably should there be legalized betting under state control.

Do Not Be A Star Gazer

The State Motor Vehicle Department is repeatedly issuing warnings to automobile drivers and urging them to be more careful on the highways. In spite of these precautionary statements, the accident rate in New Jersey is stepping ahead of the corresponding period for last year and it is a bad sign with the real reason for the automobilist — particularly the weekend and Sunday drivers — now opening.

Each Saturday afternoon and Sunday as the weather gets warmer and both the country and seashore become more beautiful, there are more cars on the road and the main highways are once again black with cars on late Sunday afternoon and evening returning to the city and suburban areas.

One of the worst traffic hazards and a danger to himself and to other motorists is the star gazing driver. Heavily trafficked roads are no place for the motorist who lets his gaze wander everywhere, drinking in the beauties of nature and paying no attention to the road ahead of him. Weekend driving on highways is work that requires the full attention and concentration at all times of the person who is behind the wheel.

Do not gape and gaze while driving along the road. If you must admire some site, pull over to the side of the road and take all the time you want. Do not wander aimlessly over the highway, being a nuisance to the cars that are both in front of you and behind you.

Paragraphs From Here and There

From the newspapers, the radio and what is heard other places, one would think that the united effort of virtually every industry in the nation is bent toward arming for defense. But, 'tisn't so and the Office for Emergency Management in Washington, which should know, is the authority. According to their statisticians England is using at least fifty per cent of its efforts at the moment for direct defense manufacturing. Canada is putting forty-four per cent of its manufacturing effort into defense, and this year the United States will employ about twenty-two per cent for the same purpose.

It takes 163,600,000 miles of wire annually for about 160,000 uses in the daily life of this country — everything from paper clips to piano wire, according to the National Association of Manufacturers.

The soldiers and sailors in this country's rapidly expanding Army and Navy are not going hungry, the OPM states. The soldiers and sailors are better fed than at least sixty per cent of the country's population and better than any other fighting man in the world. Every man receives 5,000 calories a day, the agency says. The Army alone uses daily 1,000,000 pounds of meat, 600,000 pounds of potatoes, 700,000 quarts of milk, 125,000 pounds of butter and $50,000 worth of bread, the OPM reports.

Even though State Highway Commissioner E. Donald Sterner is on his way out of office, if the State Legislature ever gets around to acting on Governor Edison's recommendation for the appointment of William Dill to the post, he is still "plugging" hard for some action on his "dream road" — a super highway from Boston to Washington, D. C. Pressing now more than ever for the construction of the New York to Philadelphia link, Sterner says it would be a vital safeguard to the heart of the nation's defense industry belt.

Chairman of the National Defense Super-highway Committee of the North Atlantic States and a member of the Highway Traffic Advisory Committee of the War Department, Sterner claims that the Army's plans call for the motorizing of five streamlined divisions with approximately 3,500 vehicles each, and the expansion of the armored tank or "panzer" divisions with 11,000 men each, from four to six units.

The Community Service Bureau From The Inside

Although the chief aim of the Community Service Bureau is to enable people to manage their own lives independently, the net result of such individual treatment is often two fold. The first important benefit is in increased family solidarity. The second is conservation of public money which would otherwise have been required to maintain a family on a long time basis where the breadwinner had become permanently incapacitated.

When the X. family first came to the attention of the Community Service Bureau the outlook was anything but hopeful. Mr. X, formerly a good father and provider, had been told that he had a chronic respiratory ailment and would never be able to work again. With illness his disposition had changed greatly,—he quarreled with his wife, threatened and beat his children and had even ordered his fourteen-year-old daughter out of the home.

With the doctor's statement of permanent disability it might have been assumed that the only solution would be to assist the mother in obtaining a public grant for her four dependent children. However, careful study of the whole family situation led the case worker to interest Mr. X, in securing further medical opinion. It was arranged for him to be examined and treated by a specialist in his particular ailment. Mr. X. proved to be a most cooperative patient, following directions faithfully as outlined by the physician.

Troubles Smoothed Out

At the same time consultations between Mrs. X. and the case worker helped to smooth out many difficulties facing the family, and during this period financial assistance was used to reinforce the weakened fabric of the household. The oldest boy, sixteen-year-old John, was interested and helped to enroll in a vocational course which has qualified him for a skilled trade. Now at last both father and son are at work and the family is managing happily and independently.

We had occasion recently to congratulate the physician who had given Mr. X. such skillful care and he turned the tables by telling us that without the co-operation and encouragement of our case work service there could not have been such a totally satisfactory outcome in this situation.

Symphony Achievement Award Goes To Raymond Massey

Raymond Massey, star of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" and the current "Doctor's Dilemma," has been chosen to receive the 1941 Achievement Award presented by the Essex County Symphony Society, it has been announced by Mrs. Parker A. Griffith, president.

Massey was selected for his outstanding work in the theatre and his contribution to the study of history as signified in his portrayal of the Great Emancipator in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." "RIGHT THERE'S THE TROUBLE" said the telephone maintenance man, although "RIGHT THERE" was in a telephone cable fifteen miles from his desk.

Policing the four million miles of wire in rugged, lead-covered cable in New Jersey's telephone system is the job of highly-trained maintenance men in six different cable locating bureaus covering the State.

Should trouble develop in any part of the cable network, sensitive measuring devices make it possible for these experts to put their finger on the spot, electrically speaking, in minutes—and direct field repair forces to the scene.

The swift, accurate locating and clearing of trouble anywhere in the Statewide telephone system is an important part of the work of keeping telephone service ready for every need of National Defense.

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, in all Christian Science Churches and Societies.

The Golden Text is: "If by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ."

Among the Lesson-Sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils; for wherein is he to be accounted of?"

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "The denial of material selfishness aids the discernment of man's spiritual and eternal individuality, and destroys the erroneous knowledge gained from matter or through what are termed the material senses."

Police On Alert In '40 For Stolen, Lost Goods

Fine Sleuthing Helps Department Recover $11,841 In Property Last Year, Annual Report By Chief George Spatz Shows

Sharp eyes, good memories and some fine detective sleuthing helped the police department to recover stolen and lost property valued at $11,841.50 during 1940, Police Chief George Spatz states in his detailed annual report of the force's work. Of the total amount of property, $8,970 was represented in automobiles which had been reported missing by their owners. Twenty-seven autos and one truck stolen in other towns were recovered by the local department. Of the thirty-one cars reported missing by local residents, thirteen were stolen. One was recovered by the police here and twelve were retrieved by other police departments.

Twelve of the thirty-one cars, it developed, had been taken by friends, and in five other cases, the owners later found the car themselves. One car is still missing, Spatz said.

The total amount of stolen and lost property recovered by the department is made up as follows:

Jewelry, valued at $900; bicycles, $280; tools, $165; tires, $75; auto parts, $183; cash and checks, $425; musical instruments, $250; miscellaneous, $593.50; and stolen cars, $8,970.

Were 239 Accidents

During 1940, the chief said in his report, there were 239 accidents in which 179 were injured. Of the total hurt, 107 were injured in cars, forty-four were pedestrians, four were injured on bicycles, four were in train accidents, one injury was in a horse-drawn vehicle, six were hurt in crashes with fixed objects, several were hurt in accidents with buses, two with trucks and three with motorcycles.

The town ambulance was kept busy during the year, responding to 470 calls. Of the total, 297 were to take sick to hospitals, thirty-six were to take those injured in accidents, forty-four to take people hurt in town to hospitals and fifty-two of the calls were to transport people from hospitals to their homes. In fifty-eight cases, the chief said, the police were used to take patients to the hospital.

The Detective Bureau did not have any time to let grass grow under its feet during 1940. The bureau handled 503 investigations. There were sixty-five reports of articles being stolen. Of this total figure, only two cases remain unsolved. Of the eighty-four reports of breaking and entering, only eight cases had not been solved at the year end. Twenty-five of the B. and E. cases were house entries.

There were twenty-one attempted breaks during the year, which fourteen have been solved. The department batted 1,000 in the holdup report column, according to Chief Spatz. Six cases were reported, one was an error and the department solved the rest. The murder of Frank Frederick, local lunchwagon operator, in a tavern is also noted in the report as is the apprehension and prosecution of his slayers Buhrig and Rost, who have since been sentenced to prison. There were two attempted holdups and three pocketbook snatches also listed in the 1940 records.

Only One Still Missing

Only one person out of the forty-three reported missing during the year is still unaccounted for. Twenty reports of lost persons were handled by the department. All were found and returned to their homes. Taking on the atmosphere of a hotel, the department gave night's lodging to 801 transients last year. There were 1,072 requests for escorts to the bank. Of the eighty-one fire alarms pulled in 1940, twenty-three proved to be false. Ten of these cases remained unsolved at the end of the year, Spatz said. Fifteen were examined for drunken driving in 1940 and eight of these were brought to trial, Spatz's report concluded.

FIVE TIMES BUSIER THIS YEAR

Communicable Diseases Keep Health Officer Berry On The Jump

The Health Department is five times as busy as it was a year ago, according to the report of Health Officer Eugene T. Berry, which has been submitted to the Town Commission. Berry's review of the department's work for March shows that there were 549 cases of communicable disease which were reported and investigated. For the same month a year ago there were only 101 cases and in February of this year there were 237.

Measles is the cause of the big jump. There were 464 cases reported in March. In the other communicable diseases German measles accounted for thirty, chickenpox, fourteen; scarlet fever, fourteen; syphilis, seven; whooping cough, six; mumps, four; bronchial pneumonia, two; and lobar pneumonia, one.

The Associated Humane Society, the town's official dog napper, reported that in March he had picked up thirty-one live dogs and nineteen dead ones, and had also taken eighteen live cats and twenty-two dead ones.

Measles also kept the child hygiene nurses busy. Because of the prevalence of the disease among the school children, they kept a close watch over all classrooms. A total of 7,715 youngsters were examined in the classrooms. The nurses made 832 home visits in the month. They examined 292 babies under one year old and reported an attendance of ninety-two at the baby-keep-well stations. Fifty-one cases were terminated.

Plumbing Inspector Edward O'Connor in his report for March said that he had made 307 calls.

Parents Urged To Send Girls To Scout Camp

Letters Distributed This Week Urging That Troop Members Be Sent to Bloomfield's Camp O-At-Ka, Which Is Officially Designated For Belleville

Parents of Girl Scouts and younger girls who are members of the Brownie Packs were urged in letters written this week by the local Girl Scout Council to send their daughters to Camp O-At-Ka, Bloomfield Girl Scout summer quarters, which is the official camp for Belleville. It is scheduled to open on July 2 and a girl may attend for any or a number of two-week periods from then through August 13. The camp will close on August 27.

Those planning to send Scouts or Brownies to camp are urged to have them register as early as possible. The charge per week for Scout members is $10 and for non-members $11. If possible, it is best to register prior to June 1 to be sure that a girl will be able to attend the period which the parents have selected. Any person interested in securing information should call Mrs. Lillian Long of the camp committee at Belleville 2-1022.

The Council is planning a mother and daughter evening to be held some time before activities are closed down for the summer season.

RIORDAN IS CLUB CONTEST WINNER

Photographer Takes Several Prizes In Camera Groups' Exhibit

In the general contest arranged by the print committee, Larry Riordan walked off with the principal honors. He was awarded first and second places for two of his prints and also received an honorable mention. Ray Drew was third with John Drendau and Robert Parker also receiving honorable mention.

Arrangements for the first annual dinner to be held at the Forest Hill Field Club some time in July is in charge of a committee composed of John Landauer, George W. Haslam and J. T. Burns. The final show of the season at which the grand prize winner will be announced is scheduled for June 2.

An election of officers will feature the next meeting to be held at the Recreation House on Monday, May 19. A number of members are planning to attend the annual convention of the Metropolitan Camera Club to be held in New York on June 7.

BOYD RE-ELECTED TRUSTEE HEAD

Fewsmith Church Holds Annual Meeting; Gifts Presented To Two Officers

Frank Boyd has been re-elected president of the board of trustees of Fewsmith Presbyterian Church. Other officers re-named with him were Henry C. Naylor, secretary; Winfield H. Stone, treasurer; and Nicholas Burde, a member of the board of trustees. New trustees selected for three-year terms include William M. Aierstok and B. S. Rowland. Mr. J. Gladys Craven was re-elected a deacon and George Newman and William D. Maser are new deacons. Elders chosen to continue in office were John Charlton, Harold Snook and Fred Holland. Raymond Mertz was re-elected to the sinking fund commission for another three-year term.

The election of officers was recently held in the church school hall. The dinner was prepared and served by the women of the parish.

Following his financial report for the year, Winfield H. Stone was presented with a radio for his seventeen years of service as church treasurer. A brief case was presented to Naylor for his service as secretary for this same length of time.

Dr. O. Bell Close surprised the group with an announcement of the drawing of the first bond to be retired. The payment was donated by an unknown member of the church. Winfield H. Stone, who held a group bond of $100, was the winner.

A report was given that on Palm Sunday, the church witnessed the largest pre-Easter congregation in its history. Thirty-three new members were admitted to church membership.
