

Town's USO Campaign Is Scheduled To End Tomorrow Evening

No Official Report Yet But
Indications Are Favorable;
Petreans First Organization

The town's U.S.O. campaign committee of more than 200 workers are driving today toward the goal of $4,500 which they hope to reach tomorrow night. A general meeting at Town Hall of all workers, captains and committee chairmen has been called by General Chairman Richard Shannon to receive reports and tally figures on the returns. Treasurer Ernest H. Alden was unable to give a report on money collected up until last night because many of the house-to-house groups and other committees, including the industrial, merchants and fraternal groups, have not as yet completed their work.

Both Alden and Chairman Shannon said that from reports trickling in from various parts of town the drive is progressing well in spite of the difficulty that workers are experiencing because of the number of people who are out of town.

Chairman Shannon reminded those who will be leaving town for the weekend or several weeks' vacation that they can mail their contributions direct to Treasurer Alden at his home, Prospect street, or leave the donations at either the Peoples' or the First National banks.

More Volunteers Wanted

Despite the number of volunteer workers that are now in the field, more are wanted and those who are willing to serve are asked to contact Shannon during evenings at his home, 28 Bremon street, or John Charlton, house-to-house leader at 125 Bell street.

The Petrean Club, young people's organization of St. Peter's Church, became the first organization to make a contribution to the fund. On Monday night, their representatives turned into the committee at Town Hall a contribution of $56 from the club. In addition, fourteen members of the organization are working in the field among the 200 or more campaign committee people.

Erected this week in front of the Town Hall was a large sign appealing for aid to the drive. On it is a clock with hands showing how much has been contributed to the drive in cash to date.

A number of towns in this area which started the drive several weeks before Belleville have gone over the quota which was set for them by the national headquarters. Belleville's is $4,500 and it will be turned into the national fund, which it is hoped will reach $11,000,000, to operate the U.S.O. program, which would provide recreational facilities for the soldiers, sailors and marines during the next year. The government is providing the buildings.

Offer Mass This Morning For John J. Culkin, Sr.

A solemn high mass of requiem will be offered at St. Peter's Church this morning at 9 for John J. Culkin, Sr. of 62 High street, who died in St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic. He had been ill but a short time.

Mr. Culkin had moved to Belleville fourteen years ago with his family. He was born in Scranton, Pa., sixty-nine years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Agnes Kearney Culkin; three daughters, Mrs. Oliver F. Brown and the Misses Agnes and Rosemary Culkin, all of Belleville; five sons, Ambrose, Albert and Leo of this town, John, Jr. of Paterson and a Corporal Eugene Culkin stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C. He is also survived by two brothers, Michael F. and William Culkin of Scranton, and two sisters, the Misses Elizabeth and Agnes Culkin, also of Scranton. Interment will be in St. Peter's Church Cemetery.

Charlie No Hat Wearer— He Gets A Check

Charles Schleckser, a high school student, doesn't wear a hat so he wasn't interested in claiming the prize of a hat offered by Mayor Williams and the Town Commission during Youth Week for the best composition written on the reaction to a town meeting by those high school seniors who sat in as members of the Town Commission at that time.

Schleckser went to see the Mayor about it on Monday and explained that he was one of the no-hat wearers. The Mayor quickly settled matters by giving Charles a check for an amount equivalent to the cost of a good hat.

Edith Williston, who was one of the students who served as members of the Board of Education at the same time, was chosen as the winner of the $5 award offered by the board members for the best composition on the Board of Education.

Recreation Staff Playing Host To 2,000 Kids

Program Now in Full Swing at Four Areas; Will Continue Under Lister's Supervision Until August 30; Varied Activities Listed

More than 2,200 of the town's youngsters are having a swell time whooping and hollerin' at the town's four play centres which are being conducted under the supervision of the recreation department headed by Commissioner Noll and supervised by Edward Lister.

Taking care of half of the town's kid population for eleven hours a day, five days a week, and three hours on Saturday, is handled by a staff of seven workers directed by Lister, who has planned a daily program of activities which has been going on for the past week and will continue through August 30 when the summer events will wind up with the awarding of prizes, a handicraft festival and folk dance festival at the Municipal Stadium.

At 10 in the morning, when the playground supervisors start their day, more than 100 youngsters are to be found ready and waiting at each of the centres. With one the whirl of events, except for an occasional dash home for a bite of lunch or some lemonade, keeps up until 9 in the evening. After supper some of the adults join in the fun and there's as much competition and excitement among them as there is among the youngsters when it comes to pitching horseshoes or playing checkers.

Pet and Doll Show

The events in which the entire playground takes part range from pet shows to doll shows. For those boys interested — and girls, too — there are Knot Hole Days at the Newark Bears' Stadium. On hot afternoons everybody who has a bathing suit — and some who don't — get cooled off under the showers.

At each playground there are baseball and softball games, volleyball, handcraft classes, a harmonica band, folk dancing classes and various kinds of playground parades. There are also inter-club tournaments which keep up an all-summer rivalry. On August 8 there will be an inter-playground field day.

In the evenings the senior, industrial and church softball loops play, at the stadium with Dave Lamb of the recreation staff in charge.

The neighborhood play areas are well scattered about the town. In charge at Edison Field in Franklin street, Silver Lake, is Pete Federici. Howard Gorman and Mildred Lee supervise at the Bridge street centre, while the program at the Recreation House in Joralemon street is handled by Winifred Finnegan and Anthony Zuzzo. Geraldine Ferrara and Agnes Culkin, also of Scranton. Interment will be in St. Peter's Church Cemetery.

Those who received certificates were Miss Eileen Lynch, Mrs. Paul Baxter, Miss Katherine Conklin, Mrs. Estelle Cox, Mrs. George Cooper and Miss Doris Scharfenberg, who is the head of the corps.

The certificates which they will receive have not as yet been received from national Red Cross headquarters in Washington.

The girls were given their mechanical instruction by John Robertson, partner of the Davidson & Robertson Service Station, at Washington and Overlook avenues.

Others took the automobile training course but they will not be eligible for certificates and official recognition until after they have completed their first aid work. Another course in training will be for more familiar with automobiles and also in first aid will be started late in September.

German Measles In June Totalled 179 Cases

The health department report for June shows that there were 179 cases of German measles during the month. While "just plain" measles set a new record for the local bureau during the early months of the year, the German type kept Health Officer Eugene Berry busy during May and last month.

Two Scouts Will Operate 'Ham Station' At Mohican

Doug Sharp of Sea Scout Troop 303 and Irvington
Boy to Be Operators; Will Help The Camp
Overcome Troublesome Traffic Problem

Boy Scout Camp Mohican at Blairstown will be prepared for almost any emergency when it opens on Sunday for its two-month season. Supplanting every other precaution which the Scout executives take to assure the safety of the hundreds of boys from the Robert Treat Council will be an amateur radio station.

It will be operated by fifteen-year-old Doug Sharp of the local Sea Scout Ship 303 and another youth to be selected from Irvington. Both of them are licensed amateur operators and will be at camp for the entire summer as members of the regular staff.

Not only will they maintain a regular schedule with other Scouts in this area, but they will help the camp to overcome an obstacle which has been bothering the staff for some time. To reach Mohican, cars must travel over a steep four-mile road. Between one and one-half and two miles of the route is through a narrow stretch which is wide enough for only one car.

A Traffic Problem

In the past, camp executives have had a great deal of trouble, particularly on Sundays when parents of the boys would visit. Cars traveling in opposite directions would meet and then traffic would be snarled and it would mean that some backing up would have to be done before the trouble could be straightened out.

For a time a field telephone was used with men stationed at each end to give the signal when cars should start or stop from one end or the other of the canyon-like stretch. The system was not only costly but it had to be kept in constant repair because of heavy storms and had to be carefully inspected every day or so for breaks.

For a time it was considered that this would again be attempted but it would cost about $100 and the limited camp budget would not permit the expenditure unless some benevolent person would come along and offer to contribute the $100 in the interest of public convenience.

To Use Portable Sets

But all those headaches can be forgotten now. For Doug Sharp and his radio "ham" friend from Irvington will rig up two portable radio sets which they will put into operation at each end of the troublesome road. When traffic is heavy, particularly on visiting days, they will be on duty to keep the cars from becoming snarled up.

In addition, the main transmitter which they will operate from high aloft on the Kittatinny Mountains will be used for emergency tests with Scouts in this area and for transmitting other traffic which the camp may wish to send to this section.

Doug's thirteen and one-half watt portable transmitter, operating with the call letters W2-NLL-2, was one of the features of the Sea Scout exhibit at the recent local district Camporee which was held at the Municipal Stadium. He built both the receiver and transmitter himself.

Local Scout Commissioner W. Douglas Clark, Jr. said last night that he had granted scholarships for Mohican to eleven deserving Scouts. These are boys who have shown good work in Scouting and who want to go to camp but do not have the money. They try to raise some of the cost if they can through odd jobs. The remainder comes out of the fund which is raised through the contribution of numerous citizens interested in Boy Scout work.

According to the Robert Treat Council headquarters in Newark yesterday, nine local Scouts had begun for the first week at Mohican.

ZIEGLER NAMED LIONS LEADER

Club Also Elects Other
Officers at Luncheon
At Forest Hill

The Lions Club elected Harry Ziegler president at its weekly luncheon held on Thursday at the Forest Hill Field Club. He succeeds Victor Hart. Moving into the first vice-presidency post vacated by Ziegler is Luther Van Pelt.

Other new officers who were named include: Henry DePhillips, third vice-president; Edward Lister, secretary; William E. Rivola, lion tamer, and Norman Lauterette, tall twister.

Those officers re-elected were: Dr. William Fabris, second vice-president; Arthur Mayer, treasurer; W. Brand Smith, chairman and Henry Charrier and Elbert Carrough, directors.

To Watch T.B. Cases

The Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis Association will keep a check on the one active and four latent cases which were reported as a result of the recent tests made in the high school. Miss Elizabeth Smith, association nurse, will do the checking.

Mrs. Homer C. Zink, member of the Board of Education, reported at the last meeting that 1,500 tests were made at a cost of about $444.60. The costs for doing the examinations about two years ago was approximately $800.

Have A Sewing Machine You Don't Want?

Does anybody have an old sewing machine they don't want?

Not one of those fancy modern electric contraptions, but one of the "pusher" type.

In Belleville attics or cellars there must be enough of these machines to fill the need of the Boy Scouts for their Camp Mohican at Blairstown. Local Scout official John Charlton says he doesn't intend to go into the tailoring business on the side but he needs them for camp.

If any person is willing to give a machine that they no longer have any use for, they are asked to get in touch with Charlton at his home, 125 Bell street, or call Belleville 2-2266-M. He'll make arrangements to pick up the machine.

YOUNG HOLLAND'S CONDITION FAIR

Red Cross, Boy Scout Training
May Have Helped Youth
Who Shot Himself

Fourteen-year-old Paul Holland of 176 DeWitt avenue may greatly owe his life to the Red Cross first aid and Boy Scout training and quick thinking of his older brother, Fred, eighteen, and his chum, William Schemm, also eighteen, of 45 Division avenue.

Paul was reported as in fair condition at St. Barnabas Hospital, Newark, last night where he was rushed on Monday night after he had shot himself with a .32 calibre automatic revolver which he found in his father's desk.

The bullet from the gun pierced the young boy's abdomen and came out of his back. His parents were not home at the time but his brother, Fred and young Schemm were on another floor in the house. They rushed to him when they heard the shot.

Remembering their Boy Scout and Red Cross training, neither became panicky. Dr. Joseph C. D'Angelo of Reservoir place was quickly summoned. In the meantime the two youths ripped apart a sheet for bandages to help stop the bleeding. The police were also called and young Holland was rushed to the hospital in the town ambulance by Patrolman Livo and Fireman Bechtoldt after Dr. D'Angelo had examined the wound and given the boy emergency treatment.

Both Active In Scouts

Although Dr. D'Angelo could not be reached for comment last night, Police Chief George Spatz, who was on the scene shortly after the accident, said that he believed the quick thinking of Fred, who is a member of Sea Scout Ship 303 and Schemm, who is an assistant at Troop 350, probably did help the youth considerably. Paul is also a Boy Scout, being a member of Troop 350.

Two blood transfusions were given yesterday by Bernard Close and by Paul's brother Fred. Calls went out for more blood donors early yesterday morning and High School Principal Hugh Kittle and Teacher John Charlton, both Scout officials, rounded up ten or twelve Scouts who were willing to give blood within less than half an hour. None of them have been called as yet.

ANOTHER FIRM LOCATES HERE

American Tag Co. Taking Over Overman Tire Co.
Plant in Rutgers Street

Another industry was added to the town's growing list of manufacturers this week when it was announced that the American Tag Co., now located in Sussex avenue, Newark, had purchased the property and building formerly owned by the Overman Cushion Tire Co. at the southwest corner of Rutgers and Cortlandt streets.

Announcement of the sale was made by Joseph L. Garibaldi, industrial real estate broker, of Hoboken. The building has 35,000 square feet of space and two and one-half acres of additional vacant land. It is situated close to the Erie Railroad with a siding which runs into the plant property.

The company has been located at its Newark address for the past fifteen years. Its main plant is in Chicago.

LOCAL TRAINEES ARE SCATTERED ABOUT COUNTRY

Seven Go To Georgia Post;
Eight Now at Fort
In Kansas

Each week finds more young men from Belleville who have been inducted into the Army for one year's service being scattered to military posts throughout the country. From the headquarters at Fort Dix, which is the Army post with which local draftees first have contact, come reports almost weekly of shipment of these men to other places.

After the men arrive at Dix, they are interviewed and classified at the reception centre, take aptitude tests and receive uniforms and equipment. Through their quizzing an effort is made to learn the branch of work for which they are most adapted.

Among the small group of men who were sent this week to Fort Jay at Governors Island to be assigned to the 4th Signal Service Company was Robert V. Harris.

Seven to Georgia
Seven local men were among the 300 trainees who left during the past week for Camp Wheeler, Ga., where they will be assigned to the Infantry Replacement Center. In the group from town were James Sarcone, Stewart B. Worthington, Edward J. Byrnes, Ernest Caruso, Francis Heon, Joseph F. Filaci and Archibald W. Mac Innes.

Anthony M. Alvino, George E. Muller and Lewis L. Scala were among the 100 trainees who have been transferred from Dix to Camp Lee, Va., where they have been placed with the Medical Replacement Center.

Now stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., are Francis F. Bruno, Caloggero G. Cicci, Konrad Kruger, Joseph LaSala, Frank J. Lee, Jr., Arthur S. Murray, William Starfink and Fred P. Underhill.

They were among the 170 who were shipped by train from Fort Dix last week for service with the Cavalry Replacement Center. One more Belleville youth left for training with the Infantry at Camp Wheeler, Ga., over the weekend. He is Otto W. Geelyow who was among a group of 304 trainees who departed.

G. O. P. SENATORIAL TALK IN JULY

Both Zink and Williams
Mentioned; Mayor Denies
He's Interested

The coming of July finds the Republican politicians in their usual mid-summer sweat about who to run for what in the Primary Election which will take place about two and one-half months from now.

More than in any recent summer, there has been talk of strong opposition breaking out to Clean Government's power in Essex County. Belleville's and its numerous leaders is not being overlooked in this political chatter.

For one thing, a person who is being talked about considerably, State Senator, Homer C. Zink, comes from town. Having been one of the most staunch leaders of the Clean Government flag not only as the county's representative in the Senate but prior to that in the Assembly, it would seem probable that Clean Government would again place his name on the slate for the post when it comes up in the fall.

Displeased With Action

However, some of the Republican politicians have been thinking otherwise. Zink's stand on some legislative matters has rather displeased them and they haven't seen anything to smile about in his support of some of Governor Edison's efforts. In addition, there are always lurking in the woods a certain number who would give half of anything they own to have the word "Senator" tacked on to the front of their names.

Zink has been more or less mum to date on his position. There is the possibility that the group which is organizing in opposition to Clean Government and planning to enter a complete ticket in the fall will ask Zink to string along with them.

From some place in the political heavens this week dropped the yarn that Mayor Williams might be asked to run for the State Senator's job on one of the anti-Clean Government slates. This brought a quick, snorty "No" and "not interested" from the Mayor. Although he has been friendly to Clean Government at various times and has even permitted them to use his name in several campaigns in support of their candidates and program, Williams has dabbled little in state or county politics.

He said yesterday that at no time has he been consulted on the possibility that he would be interested in running for state senator and that he would not if the offer was made to him.

With the biggest majority of them being registered during the final three hours, this town's draft board yesterday signed up 180 men who had reached their twenty-first birthday since the first call for Selective Service was issued last October.

The office, in charge of board officials, was temporarily moved to the second floor of the Town Hall for the day while the first floor office was closed for routine business.

WARNING NOTE FOR MOTORISTS

Chief Spatz Quotes Safety
Council in Urging Them
To Drive Carefully

Police Chief George Spatz issued a stern warning note to those who are joyfully looking ahead to a weekend at some vacation resort and are planning to drive to and from there.

"This Fourth of July weekend," Spatz said, "according to the National Safety Council, will bring the biggest traffic jam in the nation's history. More important and tragic, they added the prediction that it will also bring the biggest holiday traffic toll in history — unless every motorist will meet the extra hazard by extra caution."

Spatz, who is anxious to drive the lesson home to every local automobile driver who will be on the highway during the holiday, pointed out that the Council estimates that more than 30,000,000 vehicles will pack the highways over the three-day period. They will travel four billion miles, the greatest total ever rolled up on the nation's speedometers in any one weekend.

The Fourth of July warning statement from the Council which was released by Spatz last night, says in part:

"This all-time high will result from the fact that full-time production means full pocketbooks and full gas tanks. More people are driving more cars more miles. And over the Fourth relatives and friends by the thousands will be visiting the boys in uniform. The vacation season will be in full swing. Traffic will be rolling along in high gear."

To meet the threat of a record-breaking traffic toll, the Council calls on every driver and every pedestrian to enlist in a nation-wide effort to avoid accidents.

Other Groups Join

"Thirty national organizations are joining with the Council in a campaign to cut the holiday toll on the highway. On the beach, in the home and from fireworksmen."

"Last year these same organizations united in a similar drive, and the nation's traffic toll came down in July — the only month in the last nineteen to show a decrease. The keynote of this year's campaign is 'We can do it again!'"

"Even with its lower traffic toll, July in 1940 brought death to 9,900 persons through all types of accidents. More than 900,000 were home and injured in accidents, and the economic cost was $300,000,000. In traffic alone, 2,790 lives were lost."

"Each year," the Council said, "America ironically celebrates the birth of its independence by staging a jamboree of carelessness. There is no rhyme or reason to this wholesale slaughter. It must be stopped. It can be stopped if every one of us uses caution and common sense. The things that cause these tragedies are things we can control — haste, selfishness, thoughtlessness, the desire to show off."

"In this time of great national emergency, when the nation is mustering its vast resources of wealth and manpower, accidents are more than ever a needless and dangerous waste. They amount to unintentional sabotage."

"Don't join the Fourth Column. Stay out of that long column of casualties that will be left in the wake of the Independence Day celebration."

"Take it easy on the Fourth. Be alive on the Fifth!"

University Extension.
The university extension movement began in England more than a century ago. It was brought to this country in 1887 through a discussion at a library conference in Albany N. Y. Very shortly centers were established in several cities, and in 1890 a society known as the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching was established in Philadelphia.

Summer Black Is Growing In Favor With Women

Black Shantung and Linen Will Be Seen More On Streets; Hats, Shoes and Other Accessories To Match Are Also Offered

By Peggy Patterson

The charming little hat at the right is appropriately called a butterfly hat and is designed to settle comfortably behind the pompadours which are popular with so many girls and women now. Matched by a capacious bag, it is made in colorful printed silk. It seems to us that every woman should find some excuse for including a printed bag in her wardrobe each summer. While they are taboo with figured dresses, there are so many times when we can use them. Plain pastel silks call for them and all white or the navy sheers we wear for travel. At the moment they are being shown, however, to go with summer black.

Each year the inroad made by summer black is deeper. Formerly, only a few daring gowns appeared in August and yet, of course, thin black is the best thing for city or town wear. Very delicate black satin and black sheers with lace are holding their own now for town dining and dancing, although parties at the shore or in the country are certainly opportunities no one would miss for wearing the crisp and dainty cotton formal of sprigged lawn and velvet embroidery. Evening peasant skirts of printed silk and plain blouses seem to be worn everywhere for informal evenings.

But we digress from summer black which undoubtedly will be more and more seen on the streets. Black shantung and linen are probably most used by business women and they unquestionably do more than any other dress to give the illusion of slim, tailored coolness on sweltering days. If one has already even a slightly tanned, these dresses should be relieved with plenty of fresh white.

There are, of course, only a few women who can wear unrelieved black satisfactorily. Those who tan without a blush of color beneath the skin surely cannot. One of the nicest versions of black and white is the fine checked silk which makes such lovely suits. Even cotton seersucker in bars of black and white is snappier than the colored versions.

Accessories To Match

These black and whites are smartly matched by gleaming patent step-in shoes and cool black balbrunn or rough straw hats. Severe perhaps, but a new incentive for perfect grooming which is absolutely necessary with all black — and therefore, they do say, a splendid way to keep cool. The sheer black stockings, black gloves and other accessories which are now so numerous are still slightly dramatic and most women, in our opinion, can more successfully wear warm-toned hosiery and sparkling white gloves.

An interesting feature article points out that almost every famous painter has painted an outstanding woman in black and that most noted actresses and women of beauty choose it for special appearances. The secret, of course, is contrast. The face and hands, eyes and hair become intensified and the figure smoothly silhouetted. Consequently the choice of black carries with it a warning. It shows up defects as well as attractive features and can undoubtedly make one appear not to advantage.

If you choose it, however, and handle with care, you can apply to a filmy summer black dress or tailored shantung suit the same rule of many accessories with which you are in the habit of highlighting your basic black fall or winter frock. Changes of bags, gloves, belts, jewelry and hats can be purchased in dainty pastels, colorful prints or snowy white.

Leon Carson Musical Silhouettes—A Commentary On Music

"True, the great talent and the great artist are among the most beautiful manifestations of the human spirit, and it is just that the nation should feel proud of its men and women of talent and lend them every encouragement."

—Alfred Mirovitch

Two Letters:
It is always interesting to read letters from musical celebrities, especially when their writers are in foreign lands dominated by the ruthlessness of war. Thoughts may not be freely expressed, but somehow and sometimes one catches a little of the old spirit of these great men.

Leonard Lieblich, editor-in-chief of Musical Courier, has in his possession a couple of letters from abroad, which, while of no great musical importance, are still simple, human messages from two of our greatest living composers as to their present condition and spirits.

The first is from the Finnish composer Jean Sibelius, originally written to Hendrik Willem van Loon, who has passed it on for public consumption. It reads as follows:

Jarvenpaa, April 19, 1941

Dear Master and Friend:

It was a great pleasure to me to receive your kind letters of February 17 and March 17. The postal communications between our two continents not being of the fastest nowadays, your letters have not reached me until a few days ago. Nevertheless I was very glad to hear from you and I thank you cordially for your messages.

I am very happy the President has inquired about my welfare. I see in it a sign of sympathy towards my country and I fully appreciate the great importance of the President's courtesy.

My wife and myself have been deeply moved by your and Miss Castagnetta's intention to send us a package across the Atlantic and I most cordially thank you for remembering us in such a kind way. It would have been a great pleasure and honor to receive such a present from you, but I do not wish to trouble you, especially as I think that at present "I shall not want."

With many cordial greetings,
Your admiring friend,
(signed) JEAN SIBELIUS

Everyone who is interested in the inimitable music of Richard Strauss will be glad to learn that in spite of desperate war conditions in Europe he is well and living at his home in Garmisch in the Bavarian Alps. We well remember spending a part of a summer in this idyllic little hamlet nestled at the foot of the Austrian and Bavarian Alps, and surely if there is a geographical Heaven on earth, this is the place. It is little wonder that Strauss at the age of seventy-six can here still find inspiration to compose. The letter, written to Arthur M. Abell, was set up in Strauss' own handwriting and seemed to come through the mail's uncensored. Here it is:

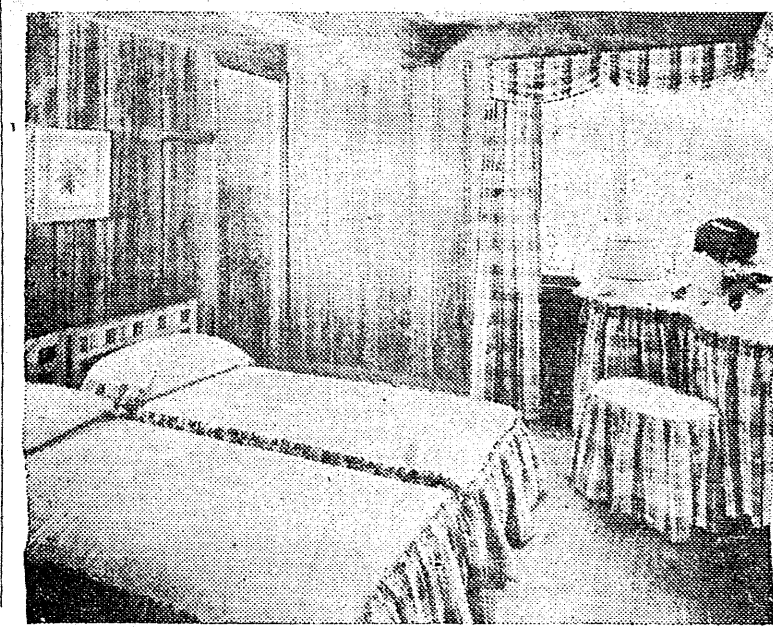

Garmisch, Germany

February 23, 1941

Dear Mr. Abell:
I thank you for your friendly letter and the good news from the U.S.A. Please express for me my warmest thanks and greetings to Messrs. Koussevitzky, Barlow, and my old friend Fr. Stock, of whose concerts in Chicago I still love to think. I always read in the Musical Courier about the American musical life.

I am well. I have finished the score of one opera and have completed the piano sketch of a second one. I recently heard model performances of my opera "The Egyptian Helen, The Woman Without a Shadow and Arabella

Fresh For Warm Weather

It's Not So Hard To Keep Bedroom Cool Now

Among the many things that the homemaker can contribute to the comfort of her family in excessively hot weather are the attractive refurbishing of their bedrooms and the family dining room. People live casually on porches and terraces these days and, except for occasional rainy spells, the living room takes a back seat. But unless the dining room seems as spacious and airy as possible and the bedrooms as immaculate and crisp as they can be, the necessary functions of eating and sleeping become irksome.

The cool bedroom pictured above owes a great deal to its light, crisp draperies and bedspreads. The smooth boxy top with generous ruffle is never more appropriate than during the summer. Pure white, soft gray and restful green are the best choices for your summer bedroom decorations. Eliminate every possible piece of furniture, if you have not already done so, drape double windows as one wherever possible to avoid a stuffy look, use bare floors or grass mats and the sheers of glass curtains, if any.

Plain Materials and Plaids

Plain materials and plaids are less confusing to the eye than scroll and flower designs. These colorful patterns in chintzes and cretonnes give the house a warm cheerful look at other times of the year, but become a little overbearing in the summer. Sailcloth, which makes the tops of the bedspreads above, cuts evenly, tailors neatly and lends a smooth, firm appearance to anything it covers. Although the plaid in this case is soft green and yellow on white, there are many others from which to choose.

Perhaps events in the family prevented you from making as many changes as you desired in the early spring. Do not postpone them longer. There is no slipcover, window arrangement or bedspread that you cannot copy with patience and ingenuity. Appearance goes a long way in soothing ruffled tempers and creating a composed attitude. Members of your family will find it easier to dress and sleep in a cool looking bedroom.

MULLER-KOPSKY CEREMONY

Doris Kopsky Wed Sunday To Paul Muller At St. Peter's Church

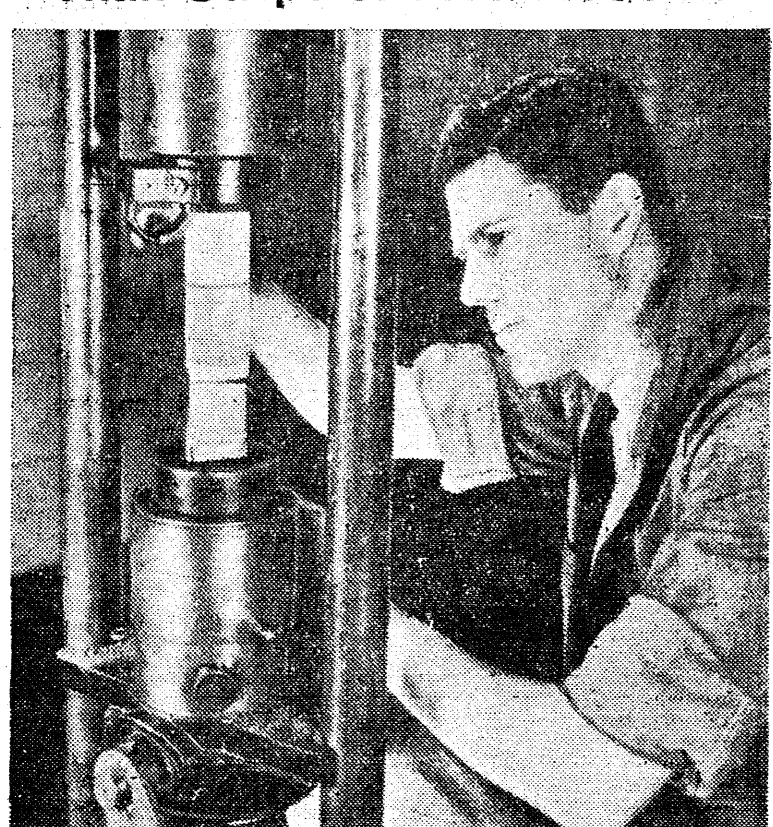

The wedding of Miss Doris Kopsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopsky of 306 Washington avenue, and Paul Muller, son of Mrs. Hypatia Muller of Newark, took place Sunday afternoon in St. Peter's Church. Rev. John S. Nelligan performed the ceremony. A reception followed at the Elk's Club.

Miss Pearl Kopsky was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Helene Seig of West Englewood, Norma Rinelli and Gabriele Kirwin of Long Island and Ruth Stellpflug of Cliffside. Michael D'Astici of New York was his cousin's best man and Roy Knox of this town, Dominic Rinelli, Thomas Kirwin, Robert Casey of Jersey City and Lucian Sari of Cliffside ushered. The bride's gown of ice blue chiffon over white satin was embroidered with seed pearls and finished with a formal train. Her fingertip veil descended from a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley and a pearl rosary and wore a pearl cross. Her sister's gown of starched chiffon in lady pink had insets of lace and was matched by her halo hat. Delphinium, red roses and bachelor buttons made up her bouquet. The bridesmaids costumes, in the same style, were lotus blue and they carried pink larkspur and red roses. Mrs. Kopsky wore aquamarine and Mrs. Muller dusty pink filmy gowns with matching hats.

Middle Age Men Small

In the Middle Ages men were small. The suits of armor in the Tower of London indicate that the people who wore them were not more than 5 feet 6 inches or 5 feet 8 inches in height. The families of the upper classes had to undergo a severe physical training.

Test Shows Adhesive Stronger Than Strips of Metal It Joins

Two pieces of metal can now be bonded together without rivets or bolts in a union that is stronger under some circumstances than the metal itself. The photo shows the result of a laboratory test in which two strips of steel cemented together by this method are being subjected to terrific tension. The break can be seen well below a spot where the bars are joined. The adhesives that provide this remarkable bond are made from "vinylite" resins and are of the same family of plastics that form the tough, transparent windshield of an airplane, the coating for the paper liner inside the cover of a cold cream jar, or the interior coating of a beer can. Because they are odorless, tasteless, non-toxic and resistant to acids and alkalis, these plastics go into the most diverse manufacturing processes. But in bonding metals, of course, strength is the most important factor.

Joining metal to metal with "Vinylite" resin adhesives has a good deal in common with using a jar of library paste. The principal difference is the use of heat, and of course far greater pressures until the bond is made. Experiments have shown that sample joints have a shear strength of approximately 6,000 pounds per square inch. In addition, they are capable of withstanding sharp blows without parting. Plastics have long since caught the public eye with their colorful and rich appearance in many applications. Few realize the service they are rendering in unseen places such as adhesives, bonding materials and numerous component parts of machinery and apparatus of all kinds.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

Again we return to the subject of youth hostels located at strategic and beautiful spots of the United States and to our admiration for this sort of travel which might well form the summer occupation of many high school students, especially older boys and girls who are entrusted to undertake a trip themselves.

Naturally, as we pointed out last week, the business of hostels is particularly suited to a certain class of young people, namely those whose parents can afford a moderate fee for a vacation.

Although the first route was established in the White and Gr Mountains of New England and the headquarters are still located there, the beauty spots of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Tennessee and the middle and far west also have been charted.

The distance of fifteen miles between hostels in these areas is calculated not to put too much hardship on the traveler. It is understood, of course, that the hosteler buys and cooks his own food. And in most cases he travels on a rented bicycle with only the most essential protective clothing and supplies in his pack. Places to buy provisions are conveniently located near the rest houses so that carrying them between stops is not necessary.

Write to Headquarters

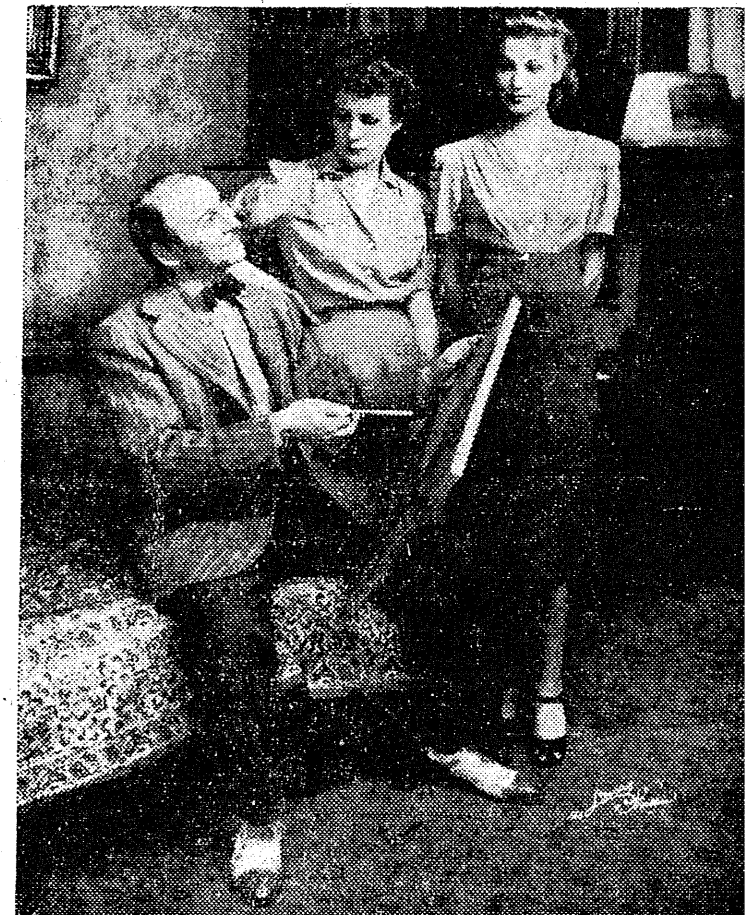

The person who wants to investigate the possibilities of such a trip has merely to write to AYH Headquarters at Northfield, Mass. Information and a pass are supplied. The pass, insignificant though it may seem, really sets the stamp of safety and desirability on hosteling. It must be presented at each stop and returned when one is ready to leave the next morning. Since it will not be approved by the house parents unless the traveler has met the requirements of neatness and cleanliness which their standards call for, it promptly eliminates anyone who is undesirable.

This has been a rare occurrence in the past six years for it is only natural to suppose that those who are willing to travel under their own power, depend on their own resources and provide their own meals, are quite above undesirable conduct. Reversing this supposition, it becomes evident that those, who

Various Trips Offered

One can roam far afield travel by horseback in Canada, collapsible flatboat on the Connecticut River or even take a week's trip across the continent in a Rolling Youth Hostel. In all, we think, would be a trip made by a father and who do not see a great deal each other during the busy year. Girls, too, make these trips groups of four and five and come home tanned and well with an interesting diary account or bundle of snapshots. It is experience not to be passed up if a young person is to get a feel of living in this great nation.

Best Comedy Hit of Season

One of the comedy hits of the Broadway season is M. Gordon's "My Sister Eileen," which the well-known playwright George S. Kaufman staged from the antic opus written by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov.

Acclaimed by many critics, the season's best comedy, it is now in its eighth month at the Biltmore Theatre in New York and seats are now being sold through Labor Day.

Colors For Sunburn

If you insist on getting a ruddy sunburn or deep tan watch out for the colors you choose for your costumes. Avoid green, as it will make your skin look a lot redder than it is. The best colors to wear are white, a good shade of red, warm gray or greyed blue. A clear yellow is also good.

But more important than colors, is your hair. For the warm weather it is best to wear it in a neat permanent. Your hair will be correctly styled, if you come to the Angela Beauty Salon, 447 Washington Avenue. Telephone Belleville 2-1051.

PEEK-A-BOO... A Corner For Little Folks

"Loafers" may be the mode in shoes and "Sloppy Joes" in sweaters, but Ray Healy of Van Houten place is not an advocate of this theory. He has energetically renovated his scooter bicycle with a fresh, cool coat of green for the summer... Sure 'twas a breath of old Erin when Colleen, Billy, Mary Ellen and Sonny Flannery, grandchildren of the former Chief of Police James Flynn, argued over one red balloon at a local toy counter... The Charles Gaccones of 47 King street are happy because their small son Charles is home again after three months in St. Giles Hospital in Brooklyn. Charles severed a muscle in his shoulder... Audrey Stefanelli of Ralph street is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. P. J. Fullman of Irvington... Louis Parker of 86 Broadway street will spend the summer at Camp Cedar Crest near Toms River... The cluster of golden ringlets which covered and tumbled over the head of "George Porgie" Andrew Harold Weinss of 128 Hornblower avenue are now tied with a ribbon of blue and tucked safely away. George has had his first haircut... Ask Carol Ann Dolan who reigns supreme in her affections and you may be sure her answer will be Dr. G. L. Yates. Carol Ann was severely burned early this spring but is now coming along nicely...

Winsome Joan Doyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Doyle, enjoys commuting. Her mother took her to Brooklyn and she had great fun on the bus, tubes and subway... Lucy Natal, two and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Natal, stumbled last week from a flight of stairs at Singac and fell into the water... At thirteen months most kiddies are learning to crawl but not Jane Piella! That's a thing of the past. She is learning to swim... Patricia Anne Mallaack adores animals. Puppies best, although she has none of her own... James Lewis of 42 Stephen street likes nothing but Lone Ranger guns... Estelle Denner celebrated her sixth birthday... Jacqueline Ludmer, petite daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ludmer, is musically inclined. Her latest instrument is the harmonica... While most children are busy playing with pots and pans, chubby little Robert DeBello of William street is ransacking his grandmother's refrigerator... And now for the new arrivals... Patricia Ann Costabile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Costabile of 992 Franklin avenue... Joyce Rose Anzalone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Humbert Anzalone... Anthony Arthur Becaker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Arthur Becaker of 36 Clearman place... Mr. and Mrs. Robert Francis McGough have a new son, Robert James McGough at 330 Franklin avenue... Peter Aloysius Lukowiak, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Lukowiak of 354 Stephen street... Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benenoti of 300 North Belmont avenue have a son named Joe... Alfred Meier Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meier Hanson of 320 Franklin avenue... William Francis Meirbaw is the new addition in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Meirbaw... It's a boy! for the Mr. and Mrs. John G. Youngs of 14 New street... Richard Joseph Clautier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian David Clautier of 15 Bell avenue... Of course we wanted a girl! Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anderson of 137 Garden avenue now have two children... And last but not least, Violet Ann Schroeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schroeck.

NEREID OARSMEN COMPETE FRIDAY ON SCHUYLKILL

Bank on Senior Quad To Score Win In People's Regatta

Nereid Boat Club oarsmen will head for Philadelphia tomorrow to compete in one of the most outstanding of the annual rowing classics — the People's Regatta on the Schuylkill River on Friday. Four crews will be entered in various of the twenty-eight events by the local club.

Counted on most heavily for victory is the senior quad with Al Walker at bow, Homer Zink, Warren Emerson and Darrell Zink at stroke. Rated as one of the strongest rowing quartets that Nereid has put on the river in some years, the disappointment of the oarsmen will be great if this combination does not skim over the smooth waters of the Schuylkill to victory.

A win for the senior quad in the Philadelphia event would indicate that they would have a good chance of coping the national events later in the summer.

Conducted by the Schuylkill "Navy" under the sponsorship of the City of Philadelphia, the regatta annually draws rowing clubs from New York, New England, Baltimore and New Jersey, in addition to the eight Philadelphia clubs. More than 10,000 rowing enthusiasts usually swarm the banks of the mile and one-quarter course over which the oarsmen compete.

Those who win in the various events are presented with gold wrist watches.

Others Competing

Other Nereid crews which will compete, in addition to the senior quad group are:

Junior double shell, Gunther Moder and Elmer Gibbs; junior single shell, Bill Pehon, and intermediate double shell, Frank Siegler and Howard Wilson.

In last year's regatta at Philadelphia, the Nereids won two second places and a third and a fourth.

Defense Bond Quiz

Q. What is a U. S. Defense Savings Bond?

A. This Bond is proof that you have loaned money to the United States Government for national defense. Your Bond bears interest at the rate of 2.9 percent a year, if held to maturity (ten years).

Q. Why should I buy Defense Bonds?

A. Because money talks. To dictators it speaks defiance. To friends of freedom, it says, "Here's my hand." Note: To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

VAILSBURGH TIGERS BOW TO PITTS

Bill Lister Hurls Four-Hit Ball For Winners; Get Sixteen Hits

The Pittsburgh Minor Leaguers scored their second straight win on Sunday when they trounced the Vailsburgh Tigers 9-2 at Olemar Field in Irvington. For Hurier Bill Lister it was his second consecutive triumph. Striking out fourteen Tiger batters, he limited them to four scattered bingles.

Bill Lynch with two triples, Marty with three hits including a homer, and Ed Gutman with three bingles piled up the big majority of the winners' sixteen hits. Catching for the Tigers was that fifty-three-year-old veteran sandlot ball, Charlie Weber, who manages and coaches the Tigers. Showing that he still can stand up against younger players, Weber threw out two Pitt runners who attempted to steal second.

Imperials Lose To Cards, But Beat Crowns Again

The Imperials split in two affairs, during the past week. For the second time in a row the Valley Crowns were blasted, this time 7-0. DelGuercio on the hill for the winners limited the Crowns to four hits.

In the other tilt, the Cardinals squeezed out a 6-5 win over the Imps. Byrnes and Finn led the winners with three hits each.

U. S. Soldiers Get Fresh Milk For First Time Since 1776

NEW YORK—U. S. soldiers in the vast army maneuvers now under way will fight their peacetime battles with fresh milk in their daily diet.

More than 350,000 quarts of fresh fluid milk per day will be consumed by the maneuver forces, plus the new trainees in cantonments. Fresh fluid milk has been added to the daily ration to provide America's soldiers with the best possible diet, according to the Milk Industry Foundation.

In addition to fluid milk requirements, over 20 tons of butter, more than 10 tons of cheese and large quantities of other dairy products are consumed daily. This means that more than 1,000,000 quarts of milk from American farms are required every day for pasteurization and distribution or processing into dairy products for the army.

The milk industry has been in close touch with army requirements to see that soldiers receive fresh milk of the same high quality as that delivered daily to consumers' doorsteps.

This milk distribution required building up the supply system in thinly settled areas where fluid milk demand has been slight, and properly forecasting requirements for thickly populated areas. Without the well organized U. S. milk distributing system it is doubtful if fresh milk could have been so readily supplied.

The army ration, which means food provided for one man for one day specifies among other things 8 oz. of fresh milk, 2 oz. of butter, 1 oz. of evaporated milk and 1/4 oz. of cheese.

In the Revolutionary War the ration called for a pint of milk per soldier per day — the only time fresh milk even appeared on the ration until the present. It is doubtful, however, if Washington's soldiers ever got milk unless they surreptitiously milked cows near the bivouacs.

Army officials believe fresh milk provides health-giving and body-building values of the highest order. Lt. Col. Paul P. Logan, Subsistence Office, War Department, recently said:

"All of us in subsistence work are acutely aware of the value of milk and dairy products in the ration. We know that milk solids are indispensable and that milk is the nearest perfect food."

With this in mind, let's make this day, joyous and happy in every way.

Early Sunday Bike Riders Shove Off In 20-Mile Race

Mayor Williams Scheduled to Fire Starting Gun In Belleville Bike Club's First Annual Grind More Than Sixty Pedallers Will Ride

Sun-up time Sunday morning more than sixty amateur pedal pushers will shove off from in front of the Town Hall in Washington avenue in the Belleville Bicycle Club's first annual twenty-mile handicap grind. Mayor Williams has promised to roll out of bed to fire the gun (which will probably jolt him out of his sleep) and send the bikers pedalling on their way over a tough course which will wind them up near the George Washington bridge.

Prizes will be plentiful for the rider who pushes his rubber-tired steed across the finish line first will be presented with a light-weight bicycle, a huge trophy donated by Babb & Smith of Paterson, and a large picture of the race finish in addition to the bikers' customary bouquet of flowers and a five-pound box of candy.

Entrants will be divided into three groups, A, B and C. The C riders will start at 6 with the B boys following three minutes later and the A pedallers at 6:06.

On the official bike record books the twenty-mile handicap record is held by Glenn A. Baxter of San Bernardino, Calif., who set a mark of forty-nine minutes and fifty-five seconds for the distance in 1917. Ray "Slug" Bryan, proprietor of the Belleville Bicycle Shop, has offered $50 worth of merchandise to any rider who can smash the record.

Joe Kopsky, and during the past year or so by Ray Bryan, this is the first open race that the local club has ever sponsored. Heading the club team entered in the grind is Joe DeBacco. Other members planning to ride are Ed Litig, Bud Wille, Bob Schneckenburger, Ray Frate, Frank Miserindino, Martin Corbo, Jack Heid, Secondo DeBacco and Milt Bator.

Schneckenburger is president of the club and Bryan is the secretary-treasurer.

In Charge of Traffic!

Use The Progressive Merchants' Guide To More Sales Volume-- The Belleville News

THE PROBLEM of getting sufficient customer traffic into a store is recognized by every merchant. With few exceptions, the life and success of a business is in direct proportion to the number of possible buyers who daily pass through the doors. Similarly, every established merchant realizes that the customer who enters his place of business is in search of certain quality at a certain price. The successful business man stocks the items in the quantities and qualities desired by his customers.

But after a merchant stocks the right merchandise and recognizes the need for customer traffic, what shall he do then?

He can follow the lead of successful merchants still further! He can advertise! He can tell the families living in Nutley about his business and his merchandise. He can make them special attractive offers to increase his store traffic.

How can he reach those necessary families for the least amount of money and with the greatest amount of certainty?

He can advertise in THE BELLEVILLE NEWS, the newspaper that is read and accepted by 8200 Belleville families weekly!

SKEET CHAMPIONSHIP FOUGHT AT LORDSHIP

ONE of the most interesting skeet events ever held took place recently when Mrs. M. L. Smythe of Aurora, Ohio, again won the Lordship Great Eastern Women's Skeet Championship at the Remington Gun Club, Lordship, Conn., retaining this title and matching her last year's score of 99 out of 100.

Close runners-up were Diana Bolling of Greenwich, Conn., North American Women's Champion, who broke 98 targets out of 100, and Patricia Laursen of Akron, Ohio, North American Women's Champion with a score of 97 out of 100.

Mrs. Smythe, shown above at the upper left, is an ardent shooter. She holds all long run women's skeet records which means that with each gauge gun used (different gauges are required for different events), she has broken more successive targets without a miss than any other woman skeet shooter. Only registered target shot at official meets, are counted in compiling such records.

Mrs. Smythe also loves deep sea fishing. In addition to sports, her chief interest is her home. She has a son Jay, ten, and a daughter, Marcia, six.

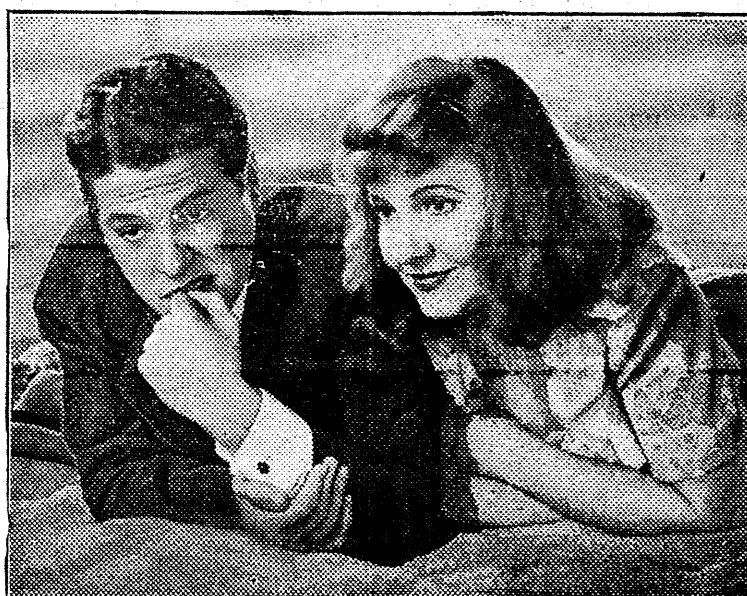

Diana Bolling, upper right, is a pretty young girl of quiet demeanor, sweet in looks and manner. She is engaged in research in biochemistry at the Medical Center, New York City. She also holds championships in archery but has largely given up this sport in favor of shooting.

Pat Laursen, center, has held the title of National Women's Skeet Champion for three successive years. Miss Laursen, a blue-eyed blonde with a winning smile, learned to shoot with her father in the field in Wisconsin. About four years ago, she took up skeet, winning the National Women's Championship in 1938 at the age of 17. Shooting is her chief interest. She says she loves its social side. At the Lordship event she shot in the squad with Dick Shaughnessy and Bob Canfield, two of the top shots of the country. Miss Laursen also likes ice skating and flying. She expects to get her pilot's license soon.

Eighteen women competed at Lordship as compared with 276 men, an all time field record for skeet. (Incidentally, more than a thousand women have taken up this game, in which clay targets are thrown from the target house at an angle—starting at a speed of sixty-five miles an hour.) Many of the women at Lordship mentioned that they like skeet not only because of the sport itself but because it helps them in wing shooting.

Capitol Feature Starting Sunday

Robert Cummings and Jean Arthur rest on the sands after a day at the shore, in this scene from "The Devil and Miss Jones." It is a laugh-padded story of working people in a big city of today. The co-feature stars Marlene Dietrich in "The Flame of New Orleans."

Digestive Tract of Fishes

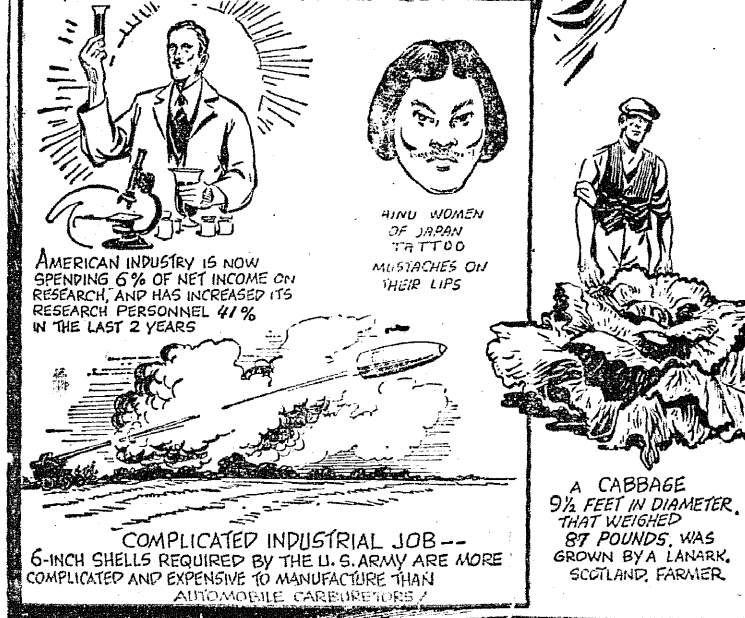

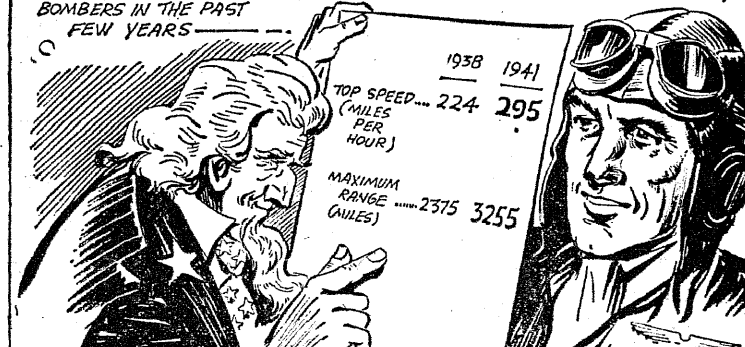

The digestive tract of fishes varies according to habits. Food in reaching the stomach passes over a rather ineffective tongue. The stomach in general is a simple sack-like organ in which food is partially digested before passing into the intestines.

Size of Some Skulls

The average man has about 1,450 cubic centimeters of brains and woman's capacity is 1,250 to 1,300. Daniel Webster's skull measured close to 2,000; Bismark's, 1,965; the poet La Fontaine's, 1,950; Beethoven's, 1,750, and Kant's philosopher, 1,740. With one exception, these were the biggest heads ever measured and all fell short of the skull of an Aleut, who is thought to have lived several hundred years ago. The exception was the skull of the Russian writer Turgenev, which had a capacity of 2,030 cubic centimeters, for No. 1 ranking.

arising from them, the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company reports. There was a net increase of 40,000 telephones in the first half of the year compared with a gain of 30,470 during the first half of 1940. About 815,000 telephones, an all-time high, are now in service and 3,550,000 calls are being made daily, nearly 300,000 more calls a day than a year ago. A new element in the telephone situation in the state is the rapid rate at which the margin of reserve facilities is being used

It Should Be An Indelible Reminder

There is no year in modern times when the Fourth of July has held a greater meaning to the millions of Americans who make up our nation. To all of us it should be an indelible reminder that we should rededicate ourselves to defend and perpetuate those inalienable rights which found true expression in the immortal Declaration of Independence.

More than to just the people of this nation, it serves as a lesson to millions of others in the world that a determined people can overcome the shackles of tyranny and oppression, that they can triumph and be free.

In the signing of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, declaring the Colonies free and independent states, this country's early statesmen told the world that man possesses an inalienable right — that of being free to live, work and think as he pleases.

No statesman of today could better state the position of this country, the rights of its people and its views toward present-day world events than did those who were the authors of the Declaration of Independence. The beautifully phrased yet simple language remains as vivid today as it did 165 years ago. It is well worth repeating at this time, not alone as a reminder to each one of us of the obligation to our country but as to the course we should pursue in our daily lives, never forgetting service to the nation. The Declaration in part says:

"When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

"We hold, these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these, are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to affect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown, that mankind are most disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But, when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. . . ."

Could these words have a deeper, more forceful meaning to us than they do today in a war-shaken world brought on by forces bent on seizing from mankind the right of freedom?

Will Soon Feel The Pinch

Most of us as yet have not felt the full meaning of the government's priority action on certain commodities which are vitally needed in the manufacture of defense materials and machines. That the time will come is not just an idle soon-to-be-forgotten threat from Washington.

While the prospective young bride-to-be will not be called unpatriotic because she buys aluminum cooking ware, there soon will not be any to buy if the government's priority plan works as it should. In fact, under Civilian Defense Director LaGuardia a nation-wide appeal is now being made to have people turn over to the government all of their unneeded aluminum.

New York's Mayor, who has approached this new job with his customary rolling-up-the-sleeves manner, appealed this week for local help from every town in the land. He is hopeful that 20,000,000 pounds of aluminum — which is a lot of pots and pans — will be collected. This will be sufficient to build 2,000 fighter planes.

Automobile owners are being advised to buy rubber tires now for the government is planning to curtail the amount of crude rubber which manufacturers will be allowed to make into tires for private sale. Government and automobile association officials are urging motorists to be more economical in the use of gasoline.

Weekly, every family in this country is bound to become more conscious of our position in the war. Things that could be purchased a few months ago cannot be purchased today. Prices of many commodities are already on the rise and will continue to increase to some extent as new taxes are levied, labor and shipping costs rise and the scarcity of each product becomes more apparent.

Getting Too Involved For Us

Maybe we just never get the chance to talk with an average American. It may even be that our mind is constructed a little bit differently from that of all the rest of you. But, we're getting a bit tired of picking up the newspaper every night and finding the front page and half of the inside jammed with stories about a lot of places that are as unintelligible to us as some of the dishes on the $3.50 dinner menu.

Germany's fighting Russia. They're beating the life out of each other and that's all we give a hoot about. But whether the Nazis have burned down every house and wiped out the population of Grodno, Vilna, Brestlitovsk, Pinsk, Lwow or Viiturpi doesn't mean anything to us. Just the same it's all a blank to us that the Russians are still holding Novograd, Volynsk, Shepetovka, Minsk, Luck, Dubno or Kiev.

In other words, while we're no isolationist, we think that the newspapers are wasting a lot of good newsprint going into detail about a lot of places most of us don't know about. Just a box score every day that either the Russians are winning or the Germans are beating the stuffings out of the Reds would do for us.

We got a lot more kick out of reading

The Place For The Youngsters

The season when the work of Commissioner Noll's recreation department should be most appreciated has arrived. Those who are staying in town for all or part of the summer, either by choice or necessity, will find that the playgrounds are the answer to what to do with the children.

Under the supervision of trained play directors the youngsters may wile away the hours free from the streets and possible injury.

A visit to any one of the playgrounds will give parents an insight into the efforts of the department under the supervision of Edward Lister. Not only will they see that the youngsters enjoy themselves by playing but learn through programs such as that offered in handcraft.

A youngster whose mind is occupied and whose energy is being used up can be forgotten about. It is when they have nothing to do that they get into trouble. Recreation is the best answer to this problem and time and again it has been proven that where there is a well-balanced and well-directed play program, juvenile delinquency, vandalism and accidents are on the decrease.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

Events of far-reaching importance have taken place in state and county politics during the past month. Governor Edison has broken with Hague, openly over the railroad tax compromise issue and probably secretly over the question of legislative support for a constitutional convention. Edison and the Republican-controlled Senate have come to an open estrangement over who shall control the powerful Highway Department. Arthur T. Vanderbilt and Dr. Lester H. Clee came to the parting of the ways over a legislative deal that would have made John Evans of Passaic ABC Commissioner and W. Stanley Naughton comptroller in place of Frank J. Murray of Orange. Democratic County Chairman James J. McMahon was ignored significantly by Edison when he appointed Assistant Prosecutor Joseph Conlon chairman of the state

Arthur T. Vanderbilt

utilities commission without even McMahon's knowledge. All of the above facts are highly significant. That all of them should happen within a period of one month indicates the approach of a climax—or a series of climaxes—in the government of the state and county. Primary elections are now only two and one-half months away. Generally few issues or rivalries are settled in the primaries, but this year may be an exception.

Clee and Vanerbilt in Break

Tension between Clee and Vanderbilt was lessened by the complete failure of the deal to which Vanderbilt was a party. The Newark minister told me personally that if Evans and Naughton were elected in joint-session he intended to issue a statement saying that he was no longer a member of Clean Government. Presumably he told others the same thing.

The complete failure of the deal to go through—with Naughton the weakest link—must have convinced Vanderbilt any revival of it would not only be futile as far as helping Naughton was concerned but downright dangerous to his leadership in Essex. There are reports that the Short Hills lawyer intends "to hit the compromise candidate who would eliminate both Naughton and Murray, but my guess is that Murray eventually will be re-elected."

"All the King's Horses"

Selection of an ABC commissioner is a more difficult matter to predict. But when one is eventually chosen, it is more likely to be a selection on merit than was the case before the Evans-Naughton-Freund-Albright deal fell through. Lute Pease in a cartoon in the Newark News hit the nail on the head better than any other. Pease pictured the G.O.P. elephant as Humpty-Dumpty and left readers to supply the missing line: "All the king's horses and all the king's men can't put Humpty-Dumpty back together again."

Having shown itself unable to make a dishonorable choice and unwilling to make an honorable one, this same G.O.P. elephant may give Pease the opportunity for further cartoons on the Humpty-Dumpty theme early in November.

I am not ready to predict a Democratic sweep at this stage because one can never be sure that the Democratic slate won't look worse at election time than the Republican, however much in disgrace the latter may be. The voter's choice between legislative slates in New Jersey is sometimes about as difficult as now confronts statesmen in deciding between Hitler and Stalin. But this prediction is safe: The Republicans stand a good chance of losing if the Democrats don't act in such a way that the public will conclude that a Republican victory is a lesser evil than their defeat.

Emergency Training Head Disputes Caruso Claim

From Robert N. Dobbins, Supervisor, Emergency Training Program, Essex County Vocational School, Bloomfield, N. J.

To the Editor of The News: I have just had brought to my attention a letter written to you by Mrs. Margaret Caruso of 218 Passaic avenue, Belleville and published in your issue of June 19.

In her letter Mrs. Caruso is very critical of the Belleville Center of the Emergency Training Program and, among other things, makes the statement that her son, as well as other students who took the training with him, have been unable to secure employment.

In fairness to the Emergency Training Program and to those Belleville citizens through whose sincere community interest this program was instituted, I feel that they should be made acquainted with the actual facts as they exist.

Was Employed

Mrs. Caruso's son, John R. Caruso, finished his training on the Emergency Training Program on schedule time, attaining an average grade of proficiency. Within ten days of the time of his graduation John was referred to and employed by one of the major manufacturing shops in the Newark area as an apprentice tool maker. A recent check indicates that he is still in the employ of this company.

On June 8 John filled out and mailed a questionnaire to this office from Newark. In it he stated that he was still working at the plant with whom he had originally been placed and that he had "learned the essential facts of machine shop work" on the Emergency Training Program and had been benefited by this instruction.

Our records show that placements of graduates of the Belleville Center of the Emergency Training Program parallel the average placements of other centers throughout the state, namely, eighty percent of the students completing their training.

In fairness to all concerned it is my sincere hope that this letter be given a very prominent place in your publication.

Dorothy Worts Wed Sunday To John Monroe of Mahwah

Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church was the scene Sunday afternoon of the wedding of Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Worts of 322 Stephens street, daughter of William E. Worts of Newark and the late Mrs. Worts, and John Edward Monroe of Mahwah, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Monroe. Rev. Edgar Compton performed the ceremony at four o'clock. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. The organ was played by Miss Mary Elizabeth Compton. Miss Worts' gown of white mouseline de soie made in princess style was covered with a long illusion veil draped from an orange blossom tiara. She carried a round, old-fashioned bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. Blue organza with pink accessories and an old-fashioned bouquet of blue and pink sweet peas formed the costume of her only attendant, a cousin, Miss Jane Conway of the Stephens street address. William Carlock of Waldwick, was Mr. Monroe's best man.

The bride was graduated from Belleville High School. The couple will live in Mahwah.
