

$20,000 Expenditure For New Fire Trucks Planned By Clark

Contemplates Buying 65-Foot Aerial And A Pumper; To Replace Present Aged Equipment

A program for the modernization of the town's fire-fighting equipment so that it will be prepared for any emergency in view of the industrial and business expansion is planned by Public Safety Director Clark.

An ordinance providing for the expenditure of $20,000 for the purchase of a sixty-five foot aerial truck and a 500-gallon pumping engine was introduced before the Town Commission Tuesday night and was unanimously passed. It will have a hearing for adoption on July 22.

Firehouses Favorite Food of Termites

The financial arrangement under which the new equipment will be purchased is unique. Mayor Williams stated at the pre-meeting conference that he believed that Belleville would be one of the first, if not the first municipality in the state to purchase fire equipment on a cash plan instead of issuing the customary five-year bonds.

Of the $20,000, $11,000 is provided from the 1940 capital reserve accumulated from down payments for capital improvements last year which were not expended. The balance of $9,000 will be provided through the issuance of short term notes which will be met in the 1942 budget.

To Replace Old Engines
Two aged pieces of equipment will be replaced by the new apparatus. The eighteen-year-old hook and ladder now at the headquarters in Washington avenue will give way to the new aerial truck, while the twenty-seven-year-old pumper which has served the Silver Lake area at the fire station there will be replaced by the new pumper. Whether the new machine will go to Silver Lake or one of the other pumps will be transferred there is still to be decided, Clark said.

The Public Safety head estimated that the aerial truck would cost approximately $15,000 and the pumper $5,000. The town will not be able to get delivery on the equipment for six or seven months, the commissioner said, should the board go along on the proposed purchases at the meeting on July 22.

Present equipment does not meet the needs of the town, the commissioner explained. The highest extension ladder now on the hook and ladder is forty feet. It takes five men approximately five minutes to raise it, the director said. Automatically controlled, the equipment on the modern aerial truck shoots to its sixty-five foot height in less than a minute with one man at the controls. The rungs on the present ladder equipment are loose and unsafe for the firemen, Clark said.

The trend in modern fire equipment is to paint it white. Director Clark said that the new apparatus would be white like the department's Ahrens-Fox pumper at headquarters and Chief Reid's car.

Draft Technicality Doesn't Phase George Jocher

Temporarily Ruled Out of Army Service Pending Congressional Action on Men 28 or Older, He Volunteers for Year's Service

George B. Jocher of Dawson place is one of those fellows who can't be bothered with taking advantage of technicalities. Uncle Sam wanted him for a year's service in the Army and that settled it.

Thirty-year-old Jocher was among the twenty young men from town who were scheduled to depart yesterday morning for induction into service. Late last week six of the group, including Jocher, who are twenty-eight years old or older, received notice from Draft Board Clerk Reid that pending action on legislation now before Congress they would be temporarily deferred for thirty days.

Jocher, his mind made up, tore up the notice and notified draft board officials that he was ready to serve his year—twenty-eight year limit or not. The board acquiesced and thus he becomes the town's first "over twenty-eight" volunteer to enter service under the temporary ruling.

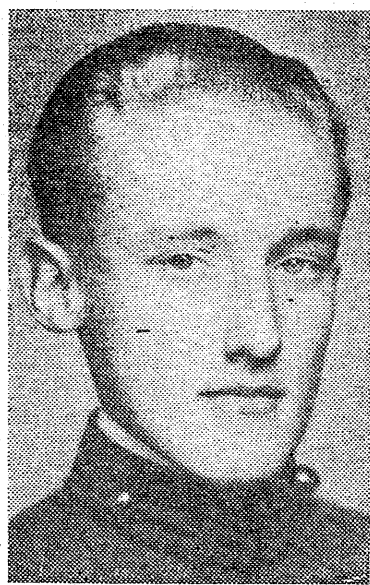

For his voluntary offer Jocher was designated as the leader of the group which left yesterday morning. Left behind at home for thirty days or perhaps forever are five men who because of their age have been temporarily deferred pending Congressional action on legislation which went before the House this week.

Those affected included Anthony Napoli of 105 Baldwin place, Anthony Angelo Stefanelli of 85 Franklin street, Herbert Windell Owens of 158 Belmont avenue, Salvatore Anselmo of 18 Naples avenue and Charles Bernard May of 222 William street.

Answered 22 Calls
Fire Chief Alex Reid reported to the Town Commission this week that during June the fire department answered thirteen telephone calls and two box alarms. The ambulance travelled 559 miles to answer forty-nine calls during the same period. Six of them were accidents.

He recently completed a post graduate course in military training at the Kentucky school, which he attended for two years. Prior to studying there, he attended the local high school.

Petrean Club Will Hold Moonlight Sail July 26

The Petrean Club will hold a moonlight sail on Saturday evening, July 26. Plans were discussed at Tuesday night's meeting of the group in St. Peter's School Hall. The entertainment committee under the temporary chairmanship of John Sullivan is in charge of arrangements and the handling of tickets.

Buses will leave the school in William street at 8:30 for the boat trip from Jersey City. The excursion boat will ply the river up to Ossining, N. Y. and then return. Buses will also meet the boat on return.

Joy Mingles With Sadness On Naples Street

Parents Mourn for 3½-Year-Old Daughter Crushed By Falling Brick Wall; Block Dance Held At the Other End of the Street

There was joy and sadness on Silver Lake's Naples avenue last night.

At one end several hundred young couples jived and swung and swayed for several hours under American flag bedecked decorations hung from poles. It was the Tripoli Park Political and Social Club's benefit block dance for the U.S.O. Tonight many more of them will be back for a good time.

At the other end of the street there was no joy — nothing but sadness. In a freak but tragic accident three and one-half year old Philomena DePalma was crushed to death when a brick porch railing fell on her. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James DePalma of 71 Naples avenue and had been visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Raphael Nigero at 50 Naples avenue when the accident occurred.

Philomena and her fourteen-year-old brother James were on the front steps of the aunt's home when the child told her brother that she wanted to go home, according to the version of the accident given to the police. The brother started to lift the small girl over the top of a four and one-half foot wall. As he leaned over it, the structure gave way under his weight and his young sister was buried underneath the falling bricks.

The little girl, unconscious, was pulled from the debris by neighbors. Fire Lieutenant Hanley, who is stationed at the Silver Lake firehouse a block away, summoned the town ambulance. The child was pronounced dead on arrival at Columbus Hospital.

Police said that on cursory examination there did not seem to be anything wrong with the construction of the wall.

Two More Kidde Employees Okayed As Special Cops

Acting on the request of the Walter Kidde Co., which is erecting a plant estimated to cost more than $2,000,000 in the northeastern part of town near Washington avenue, the Town Commission on Tuesday night granted permission for two more employees to be designated as special officers for duty on the company grounds. Approval for five employees to do similar work was given a month ago.

Those now designated as special officers are George Stalter and Clarence J. Magon.

'Pusher' Sewing Machines Appeared Quickly

John Charlton wanted three of the old-fashioned "pusher" type sewing machines for use in the handicraft at Camp Mohican, the Robert Treat Council Boy Scout camp, but he didn't know how to get them.

Last week he appealed to The News for help and folks were asked to look in the cellars or attics to see if any of the old-timers were still around.

Saturday morning Charlton had his three machines. One of them he strapped on the car and took to Mohican with him while the others followed this week and now the Scouts are merrily peddling away at their wood and leatherwork, thanks to some kind-hearted local residents.

PROPERTY SALES BRING $12,000 FOR THE TOWN

Gibbs Development Co. Gets Harvard Street Land; Isolantite Buys

Two public sales totalling $12,000 headed the list of those which were confirmed by the Town Commission Tuesday night. The Gibbs Development Co., headed by Joseph Gibbs of Ridgewood, purchased property in Harvard and Jefferson streets on which eighteen homes will be erected for $9,000 each. The Isolantite Co. paid $3,000 for property at 357-363 Cortlandt street.

The Gibbs concern was the sole bidder for the residential land. Two weeks ago the property provoked quite a debate at the Town Commission conference. James V. Padula, Newark real estate operator, representing Kirby Brothers, first sought the property which has since been purchased by Gibbs. There were differences between the town and the bidder over the amount of the down payment and the time limit for paying the balance.

Kirby Brothers withdrew their offer, but Padula told the board that he would attempt to persuade his client to renew his bid. He said that the concern proposed to erect small homes costing between $4,660 and $5,000. The builder, Padula stated, has also purchased a tract in Kearny on which similar houses would be erected.

Gibbs, who was represented by his son, stated that he would build houses ranging from $4,990 to $6,500. He said that the design of the structures would be varied and that the price range of the homes would be equally distributed.

Members of the board have been insistent that they would make efforts to keep out the cheap type of houses and that they would insist that builders vary the style of houses in large developments.

Junior Biker Cops Laurels In Twenty-Mile Grind

Ken Block of North Hudson Wins Event Staged By Belleville Bike Club; Locals Win Team Trophy; Was Tough Grind

A tousle-haired sixteen-year-old junior bike rider, Ken Block, sporting the colors of the North Hudson Wheelmen, pedaled his heart out to edge his bicycle across the finish line first in the gruelling twenty-mile handicap grind staged early Sunday morning under the auspices of the Belleville Bicycle Club.

Riding in a London-like fog for better than half of the distance, the field of seventy riders found the going pretty tough with only half of the starters being counted at the finish line.

Tongues were hanging out and legs aching after a little more than the first mile of the grind had been covered for the course led the bikers from the Town Hall in Washington avenue over the Passaic river and up the steep, cobble-stoned Belleville Pike to Kearny avenue.

Dangled in front of the three starting divisions—Class C, B and A—was a pair of racing shoes teardrop the bikers who led each group across the line first at the end of the mile sprint to the top of the big hill.

Winner of the Class C preme starting at 6 was John Schmidt of the Long Island Wheelmen. Three minutes later the B riders shoved off and Ray Frate copped the preme with Joe DeBacco leading the Class A riders who started at 6:06.

Lack of three watches to clock the finish robbed the Class B pedallers of the honor of having broken the twenty-four-year-old official record for the twenty-mile distance. They pedaled over the route in forty-nine minutes and seven seconds, shaving forty-eight seconds off of the old mark.

Finishing the grind near the George Washington bridge, the results showed how tough the course was for the Simon pure riders for Class B bikers did not catch those riding in Class C and the A riders did not catch up with those in Class B.

Following Class C across the finish line were Jack Heid of the Belleville Bicycle Club, Ed Little, Belleville Bicycle Club, third; Carl Anderson, Triangle Cycling Club, fourth; Bert Kremmer, Long Island Wheelmen, fifth; Joe Satterly, Alpine Wheelmen, sixth; Raoul Galle, French Sporting Club, seventh; Bob Schneckeburger, Belleville Bicycle Club, eighth; Marcel Quegezelec, French Sporting Club, ninth; and John Schmidt, Long Island Wheelmen, tenth. All of them were Class C pedallers. Little, thirty-four-year-old local amateur peddler, en-

MANUFACTURERS SUPPORT U.S.O.

Tiernan Names Committee To Solicit Funds; Short of Goal

The town's industries joined this week in the effort to put the U.S.O. drive over the top. Martin F. Tiernan, president of the Belleville Manufacturers' Association and head of the Wallace & Tiernan Co., appealed to all manufacturers to make generous contributions to the campaign.

Still far short of its goal of $4,500, the drive committee headed by Richard D. Shannon, extended it until next Monday night and indicated that if the goal is not reached by that time work would still continue. Treasurer Ernest H. Alden reported last night that more than $2,000 had been raised to date.

Returns from house-to-house workers in all parts of town are coming in daily, although many of them are experiencing difficulty in making calls in their districts because of the number of people who are out of town on vacation trips and visits.

Chairman Shannon again appealed last night to all citizens to join in the effort, emphasizing that through contributing to the U.S.O. is the best way that the public can show its appreciation and support of the sacrifice and effort being made by the men who are in the Army, Navy and Marines.

Hold Special Meeting

Tiernan, who was named by the U.S.O. campaign group as head of the manufacturers' division, called a special meeting of the Manufacturers' Association Tuesday. A committee of nine was named by the president to work with him in soliciting funds from the town's numerous industries.

Committee members have each been assigned eight to ten plants which they are expected to visit in the fund raising effort. Checks should be made payable to the treasurer of the U.S.O. campaign and should be forwarded to the executive secretary of the Manufacturers' Association at 1 Main street.

Members of the committee assisting Tiernan are Henry Specht, Eastwood Neely Corp.; Edward Yerg, Yerg, Inc.; Frank Chambers, National Grain Yeast Corp.; James B. Whitmore, Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.; Philip Dettelbach, L. Sonenborn Sons, Inc.; H. Willard Sawyer, Thomson Machine Co.; Ernest Wright, Jr., Hanlon & Goodman Co.; Clarence R. Lommer, Viking Tool & Machine Co.; Douglas Clark, Jr., Clark & Hammer, Inc.

Tiernan dispatched a letter to all members of the Manufacturers' Association yesterday. In it he said in part:

"At a meeting of the trustees of the Belleville Manufacturers' Association it was decided that the manufacturers of Belleville should get behind this drive and put it over."

"You already know of the need for funds to provide the proper recreational facilities for our boys now in camp. The cause is a most worthy one."

"You are urged to cooperate by not only making a generous donation as a company but also to solicit funds from your employees. Some companies are offering to match sums that their employees may give, — other companies may have other plans to encourage giving."

"Please do all you can to make this drive a successful one at an early date."

Although a number of communities in this vicinity have gone over the top in their drives, several which started at the same time as did Belleville's are experiencing the same difficulty. Nutley officially concluded its ten-day drive Monday night but had raised only fifty-eight per cent of its quota of $3,800. The committee in charge voted to continue the campaign for another two weeks.

Relief Director Hewitt Estimates 110 Are Now Employed; Some Already Applying for Help

Belleville along with many other municipalities felt the impact of the WPA job-slashing axe which in a state-wide sweep reduced from 42,000 to 27,000 those on the WPA payroll. State Administrator Robert W. Allan in an announcement earlier in the week stated that approximately 3,000 would be dropped from the rolls in Essex County, bringing the total now working down to the low-time mark of 5,573.

Local relief director John J. Hewitt said yesterday that twenty-four men had been laid off and that the seven-year-old WPA sewing project giving employment to sixteen local women had also been shut down.

Three supervising women and a number of workers from Nutley also were laid off in the sweep for the sewing project had been operated jointly for several years. Three other local women employed on other projects were also ousted from their jobs, Hewitt said, bringing the total of local women affected by the slash to twenty-two.

Hewitt estimated according to his figures that there are now 110 local men still employed by the WPA.

Some of those who have been laid off, the relief director said, have already applied to his department for assistance.

"Meritorious Cases"
"Most of those who are now being laid off," Hewitt said, "are viewed by this department as meritorious cases. The ultimate wind-up for most of them is going to be that they will be forced back on relief."

Those now being laid off, Hewitt said, are for the most part the older men who find it difficult to obtain employment in industry.

WPA white-collar projects are being completely eliminated in ten counties and construction work in all parts of the state reduced to essential operation, State Administrator Allan announced earlier in the week.

"National defense projects," Allan said, "as in all other cuts, will remain untouched."

He said there are slightly more than 10,000 persons employed on about 400 projects which have been certified by the War and Navy departments.

The bulk of these projects are in the construction line. Strategic highways, access roads, various types of buildings within military and naval reservations, and installation of utilities will occupy 7,767 persons during July, it was said. These projects come under a "mandatory" heading.

While it is true that the working force on these projects will not be cut, Mr. Allan warned that it did not necessarily follow that changes would not be made in personnel.

The remaining 10,733 workers allotted to the main WPA division—construction—will continue civic improvements of all kinds.

In reducing the construction division's force to 9,500 from the June quota projects were placed in three general classes, it was understood.

The first class includes all types of buildings, such as schools, libraries, municipal buildings, and repairs to such structures.

In the second classification are underground utilities such as sanitary and storm sewers, water and electric lines. After a survey to determine the economic value and degree of completion, the projects were broken down into small units which reduced crews

It didn't matter that his mother, sisters and brothers were driving down this week anyhow. Al envisioned a golden opportunity to do a bit of long-distance pedaling on his own. So, despite parental qualms, he plotted his course over the familiar route, and determined that short of a major calamity, his junket would be by bike and bike alone.

Monday of last week saw Al setting out on his first adventure, equipped with a knap-sack containing half a pair of pajamas, a tooth brush and a few other sundry necessities. One must travel light, you know. He pushed into Allentown, Pa., the first night, having left a good ninety miles behind him. He equalled his record the second night by putting up at Harrisburg. But on the third day, Al had to admit that heat and thunderstorms have a way of slowing a fellow down a bit.

The fourth day dawned and it is suspected that Al had a slight skirmish with temptation. He was happily breezing along with his goal within easy reach when he met it. Crossing the old railroad bridge at Harper's Ferry, one of the wheels caught in a plank, and with the hospital for another week or so. She added that she was sure that he was no longer interested in guns.

And stick to it, he did. Sticking to it meant that he had to hitch-hike thirty-two miles into Winchester, Va., with the mangled wheel to have it repaired. Then of course there was the matter of hitch-hiking back the thirty-two miles to his point of departure. That accomplished, Al mounted again, and breezed up to his destination just in time for dinner. The young pedal-pusher had done what he started out to do, and in four days—Al.

Block Dance Tonight For U.S.O. Benefit

The Tripoli Park Political and Social Club is doing its bit for the U.S.O. Last night several hundred young people attended a block dance sponsored by the organization in Naples avenue in the Silver Lake section. There will be a repeat performance tonight.

The Tripoli Club hopes to raise $400 to help swell the U.S.O. fund. Generoso Prezioso, the club president, and Salvatore Russo, chairman, are in charge of the two-night affair.

YOUNG HOLLAND DOING 'NICELY'

Youth Who Shot Himself— Is Expected Home In About A Week

Fourteen-year-old Paul Holland, who accidentally shot himself in the stomach on Monday evening, June 30, while he was examining a .32 calibre revolver, was reported last night as "coming along nicely."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Holland of DeWitt avenue, Paul shot himself with a gun belonging to his father which he found in a desk. His parents were not home at the time but his brother Fred, eighteen, and a companion, William Schemm, were on another floor of the house when they heard the shot.

They hurried to Paul's assistance and with the knowledge which they had gained in a Red Cross course gave him first aid treatment, summoned Dr. Joseph D'Angelo and called the town ambulance.

The boy was rushed to St. Barnabas Hospital, Newark, where he is now recuperating under Dr. D'Angelo's care. Mrs. Holland said last night that she did not expect that her son would be home to see the hospital for another week or so. She added that she was sure that he was no longer interested in guns.

Al Korn Is Young Man Of Real Determination

Thirteen-Year-Old Youngster Said He Would Pedal 300 Miles to Virginia — And He Did In Four Days, Despite Some Troubles

When Al Korn, age thirteen, of Adelaide street, makes up his mind to do something, he sees it through. There's that bicycle trip to Boyce, Va., a mere 300 miles, as a case in point. It all started when Al received a brand-new bike on the occasion of his graduation from School No. 5 last month. Al just itched to go somewhere, so when plans were discussed for the family to spend the summer with relatives in Virginia, Al got a brainstorm.

It didn't matter that his mother, sisters and brothers were driving down this week anyhow. Al envisioned a golden opportunity to do a bit of long-distance pedaling on his own. So, despite parental qualms, he plotted his course over the familiar route, and determined that short of a major calamity, his junket would be by bike and bike alone.

tered a protest on the judge's ruling on the finish of the race but as yet no decision has been made by the race committee on his claim.

Joe DeBacco, another Belleville bike peddler, led the Class A riders and Ray Frate, who also sports the colors of the local group, led the Class B division across the tape.

Placing of Heid, Little and Schneckeburger among the first ten across the finish line gave the sponsoring club the team trophy for the event.

Promoting Bond Sale

The first step in a program designed to get motorists to use glass banks in which to save money for the purchase of United States Defense Savings Bonds will be made here tomorrow when Postmaster Price, in charge of the Treasury Department's defense bond sales in this area places around a glass bank a band which urges the user of the bank to save his change in it for the purchase of the Government's defense bonds.

These glass banks are being distributed by Esso dealers who are cooperating with the Treasury department in an effort to induce motorists to save for the purchase of these bonds.

"If every motorist in this state would purchase one of these glass banks and save his change to purchase defense bonds the aggregate sales of these bonds would mount substantially," W. R. Stott, local representative of the concern said this week. "Our dealers have already sold three million glass banks to motorists throughout eighteen states and the District of Columbia."

Rock Garden; Rockery
The term rock garden is often misconstrued to mean a rockery, but in reality the two are entirely different. A rock garden is a garden constructed with the aid of rocks to form a natural habitat for a particular group of plants. It cannot be formal and it must appear natural. A rockery may be defined as a pile of rocks either loosely or carefully placed together which may serve as a support for climbing vines or other dry soil plants. Such gardens, if they can be termed gardens, are largely for the purpose of displaying rocks and they seldom have much ornamental value.

The Blues are the Berries—In a Pie!

FOR defense—against failure—make your pie "The American Way," when the big, true blue berries are in town! Fresh, sweet, and juicy—with the bloom still on them—there's no cooking required for the pie shown above. The big blues are heaped in a flaky pie shell, and tart red jelly, softened over hot water, is poured over them to make a patriotic combination—as well as a luscious one. Snow white roses and a red and white cloth make a table arrangement both appropriate and attractive. Directions for making the pie are given here, as well as other suggestions for serving these full-flavored blue berries without benefit of cooking, so the "true blue" flavor may be enjoyed.

True Blue Pie
Flaky pie crust 1 glass currant jelly
1 box big blueberries (or any tart red jelly)
Whipped cream (optional)
Wash blue berries; drain well; chill. Prepare flaky pastry, roll thin, and line pie plate. Prick well to prevent puffing; bake. Pour in berries. Soften jelly over hot water and pour over berries. Chill. As jelly cools it will glaze the berries.

It's there with an Extra Wallop in reserve

SOMETIMES in your automobile you want zip and ginger, sometimes thrift.

Just name your choice. In this high-stepping Buick straight-eight with Compound Carburetion you can have either, each in its proper place.

You can go about your business in easy, ordinary, everyday travel—and this frugal, two-carburetor system will keep you rolling smoothly with only the forward, thrift-size mixer on the job.

Yet any time you want life, lift, super-power it's there with an extra wallop in reserve—just step down on the treadle and you've got it.

That simple move sends the second carburetor into action.

It steps up not only fuel but the air supply as well. It opens up a reservoir of power no single-carburetor engine of like size can have.

Thus you have your fun—and frugality too.

For all the time, whether one carburetor only is working or both of them together, you get a more efficient mixture than a single mixer can supply.

Thus you go farther on each gallon—owners report mileage figures as much as 10% to 15% higher than on previous Buicks of the same size.

Which means, better go look at the engine that's both thrill-packed and thrifty too. You'll find it in a bigger, roomier, smarter-looking automobile that gives you more value per dollar than anything else you can buy.

PAYS YOUR GAS TAX FOR YOU

At present Federal tax rates, the savings on gasoline effected by Compound Carburetion are usually more than enough to pay Federal taxes on the gas you buy.

Nereid Senior Quad To Row At Minneapolis

Oarsmen To Depart Next Week; Triumph In Philly Regatta

Wilson-Siegler Intermediate Triumph Was Big Surprise; Quad Victory First In Club Annals

The blue and orange-tipped oars of the Nereid Boat Club will sweep the waters of the Mississippi on July 13 and 19 when the senior quad shell rowed by four strong-backed young oarsmen of the Passaic river rowing club goes to Minneapolis, Minn., for the national rowing regatta.

The oar-bending quartet — Al Walker, Warren Everson, and the Zink brothers, Homer and Darrell — wrote a new chapter in Nereid's illustrious sixty-six-year-old history on the Fourth of July; when they rowed to victory in the senior quad event of the People's Regatta at Philadelphia on the rain-swept but smooth waters of the Schuylkill river. It was the first time in Nereid annals that a quad shell had won in any regatta.

Victory over the Penn A. C. and the Fairmount Rowing Association, two of the nation's outstanding amateur rowing clubs, spurred the oarsmen on to enter the nationals events with good chances of bringing an even greater honor to the local club.

Thirteen-Second Lead

Victory alone before a river-bank crowd of 10,000 rowing enthusiasts was not the only outstanding feature of the Nereid's win. The quartet sent their 150-pound shell skimming over the Schuylkill in the fast time of six minutes and twelve seconds, thirteen seconds faster than the Penn A. C. oarsmen and fifteen better than the Fairmount entry. The Nereids nosed the prow of their torpedo-shaped boat across the finish line about five lengths ahead of the second shell.

Before the day was over local rowers were accorded the local club for a real surprise. First year man Howard Wilson and Frank Siegler, an in-and-out rowing enthusiast for the past eight years, teamed up to win the intermediate double shell event

Two More Trophies

Those who rowed in the quad and Siegler and Wilson were presented with wrist watches, on the back of which has been engraved the fact that they won their respective events. In addition, two new gold plated plaques will adorn the walls of the Nereid's well-filled trophy room attesting to the continued prowess of the club's oarsmen among the nation's rowing clubs.

Bill Fehon finished third in the junior single shell event while Guther "Whitey" Mader and Elmer Gibbs were second in the junior double event. Gibbs will be missed from the rowing ranks for a year since he left yesterday with the local contingent for a year's service in the Army.

There will be nine events on the program. Nassau, Nereid, New Rochelle and North Shrewsbury make up a four-club league which is engaging in inter-club meets this season.

PITTS PULL GAME OUT OF FIRE

Ninth Inning Rally Saves Day For Minors; Third Straight Win

Staging a three-run rally in the ninth, the Pittsburgh Minors pulled themselves out of sure defeat Sunday afternoon and downed the Santora Association at the Twentieth Century Field, Garfield, 7-6. In extending their own victory string to three straight games, the Minors also snapped the thirteen-game win streak of the losers.

Trailing 6-4 at the start of the last inning, Jim McDonald opened up the Pitts' rally with a single but was out at the plate when he tried to go home on Hank Lubben's long double to left. Ed Fiske then pulled a double which sent Lubben home. A single by Bill Lister put Fiske on third and he scored on Lynch's infield out. Lister brought home the winning tally when Frank Lynch reached first on an infield error.

Ed Gutman and Fiske were the batting stars, each getting three hits. The latter drove in two of the winners' runs. Pitcher Lister struck out eight men and won his third straight win although he was hit hard by the losers.

Among the leaders in Governor Edison's salt water fishing tournament is John Rossi of this town who leads the bonito class with a catch of six pounds and twelve ounces.

The contest closed on June 30 but entries were still being received by the New Jersey Council offices in Trenton late last week. The Salt Water Fishing Tournament Committee is expected to make its announcement of winners and to award certificates shortly.

First Percherons in America

Just when Percherons were first brought to America is not definitely known. Doubtless the early French settlers around Quebec brought their favorite horses with them, but records of any such importations are not readily available, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune.

Louis XIV sent some mares and stallions from the royal stables to the French colonies in America in 1665. These importations were followed by others from the same source in 1697 and 1707, but little is known of the breeding or subsequent history of these horses in America.

Records Were Shattered In Swim Campaign

Town Has Largest Number of Swimmers as Result Of Lessons; Girls Did Better Than The Boys In Distance, Report Shows; 229 Can Swim

The record set by Belleville children in the Learn-to-Swim Campaign broke all precedent, it was discovered yesterday when figures on the campaign were announced. This town had the largest number of boys and the largest number of girls ever to participate in the effort and at present the largest total number of swimmers any community has ever provided as a result of the campaign.

Of the 1,759 youngsters who took part in the 1941 campaign, 694 were from Belleville and the remainder from fourteen other communities in this area. 117 of the boys and 112 of the girls learned to swim at least twenty-five feet during the week and passed tests at the end of the drive. A total of 550 boys and girls in all were able to pass tests after a week of practice.

Of the 117 boys who learned to swim, sixty-three managed to swim fifty feet and the remainder twenty-five. Of the 112 girls passing the test, sixty-six were able to swim fifty feet and the remainder twenty-five.

Last year's high enrollment mark was 381 for Bloomfield, as compared to Belleville's 694 this year. Only 104 of the Bloomfield children learned to swim in 1940 as compared to the Belleville total of 229 this year.

As a whole, the campaign was highly successful for about one-third of the children enrolled learned to swim during the campaign. It was conducted by the Montclair Y.M.C.A. and several cooperating agencies as a means of helping to reduce the rising toll of death by drowning.

The reason for the increase in number of children learning to swim is believed to be attributable to the fact this year's effort was a daily affair over a six-day period while last year and in other years the campaign was over a six-day period but lessons were given on alternate days only.

Municipal governments and civic organizations got squarely behind the effort, supplying what little funds were necessary in many cases and providing transportation to and from the pools. The schools arranged distribution of entry blanks and the pools used, Montclair Y. M. C. A., Montclair Branch Y, Silver Lake Community, Montclair Swimming Pool and Elm Tree Pool in North Caldwell, were donated by their proprietors and owners.

Democrats Presenting United Front

Rumors have been fitting up and down the political corridors in recent weeks that there would be a bust-up in the Essex County Democratic ranks and that an effort would be made to oust James J. McMahon of Montclair from his post as the party leader. Despite these stories and numerous past differences which the various leaders in both Newark and the suburbs have had, indications were this week that the party would present a united front in the fall elections.

Whether they may personally like him and his policies or not, even the most professional Democratic politicians realize that in Governor Edison they have a vote-winning gem who through his acts in his first year in office has gained greater favor with the general public.

While it may not be an open gesture, Edison's views will undoubtedly go a long way toward shaping the ticket which the Democrats will put before Essex voters in the fall. Not since the time when they rode in on the coat-tails of the Roosevelt landslide in 1936 has the party stood as good a chance of upsetting the Republican control in the county as it does today.

This is not due so much to the increased strength of the Democratic forces but because of the rebellion and disunity within the Republican ranks. Clean Government has been a majority leader but never a unanimous one. Some of those who fathered and nursed the movement along eight or nine years ago have passed on or have lost interest in politics.

Distribution of the political spoils, which goes along with any successful political movement — Clean Government or not — has resulted in dissension. Still active in the political picture are a number who were schooled in their Republican politics by that old leader the late Jesse Salmon.

Pooling their strength with that of those who have been disappointed with Clean Government's leadership, they today represent at the least a strong minority which may cause Clean Government much trouble in the September primaries and which would be more of an aid to the Democrats than the Republicans by their attitude in the November election.

The Democrats may not register a triumph in the county in the fall but even Republican leaders realize that the opposition's position has been strengthened and that with a ticket representative not only of Newark but of the suburbs, they stand good chances of upsetting the G.O.P. applecart.

Some Do Not Understand The U.S.O.

The local U.S.O. drive has not progressed with the success which its local leaders had hoped for since it's still quite short of the goal of $4,500.

Those soliciting for funds claim that in spite of the tremendous publicity given in the newspapers, over the radio and in the movies, there are still many who are apparently ignorant of the campaign or its purposes.

Briefly, the U.S.O. stands for United Service Organizations made up of six nationally known organizations representing all faiths, which is seeking to better the recreational and leisure time of those young men who are serving in the Army, Navy or Marines.

The problem is a simple one but one that calls for immediate remedying if the morale, the health and other high standards of the armed forces are to be maintained. Picture a small town with a population of 1,000. It has the usual run of stores and perhaps one small theatre. It may even have a dance hall or some other place of amusement — but at the most it will be small. Suddenly, on the edge of town a tremendous Army encampment springs up. Between 20,000 and 30,000 soldiers are barracked there. What can the small town do for them in their leisure hours? Nothing. There are not the facilities and the organizations banded together under the U.S.O. have realized that it is time to step in and do something about it.

The illustration given above is not just an isolated case. It is typical of conditions throughout the country where the Army, Navy and Marines are stationed. These men are sacrificing a lot for this nation and every citizen should do his part. Give in nickels and dimes if you can't spare more, but there are many who could afford to deprive themselves of a dollar's worth of pleasure for the U.S.O.

The Federal government is supplying the funds to erect the buildings in which activities will be provided for the men. The U.S.O. has taken over the job of maintaining them. It will cost almost $11,000,000 annually. That is a gigantic sum and that is why every town such as Belleville must raise its quota. In our case it is $4,500 and those who have community pride will make the effort so that this town is not among the minority which has failed to reach the mark.

Keeping Out The Canvassers

Quietly the town commissioners for the past few months have been attempting to save housewives trouble and to help local merchants. One of the most unfair forms of competition against which local stores must compete is the house-to-house canvasser. To the housewife he is the pesky fellow who always rings the doorbell when she is up on the second floor and must make a trip downstairs to tell him that she's not interested.

There is some legislation which prevents the town board from refusing permits for certain types of businesses but in cases where it has been within its province to withhold granting of the permit to those out-of-towners representing either themselves or companies, the board has refused to grant a license.

It is through such efforts that business can be kept in town and the dollars which are spent may be distributed among local people who in the end are the ones who are paying the cost of local government.

Buying Fire Apparatus In Business-Like Way

Taxpayers may prick up their ears at the word that a proposal has been made to spend $20,000 for the purchase of new fire equipment but we think that sufficient reasonable and practical arguments can be presented to justify the expense.

Public Safety Director Clark says that it is needed. The commissioner is being quite modest. We will go him one better and state that it is most necessary in view of the fact that it is planned to replace equipment which has been in the town's service for twenty-seven years and eighteen years respectively.

Twenty-seven years old—remember, that dates back to 1914. That's when the Kaiser set out to conquer the world in World War I.

How many people are driving about town in 1914 models automobiles? We have not noticed any that we recall simply because people would not find a car of that vintage either practical or safe. Therefore, is there any logic to keeping in service antiquated equipment in an all-important branch of government—the fire department?

Of course not. It is not safe for the men who must drive the apparatus nor is there definite assurance for the public that it will always be ready when it is most needed.

In recent years there has been an expansion in the town's industries. With it has come greater fire hazards so the town must have the equipment to meet any emergency which may develop at these plants. Their location here has brought increased rates and more taxes into the municipal treasury. Jobs have been made for local residents. We should provide them with fire fighting service which will meet their needs if necessary.

Important to the taxpayers is the financial plan by which the Town Commission proposes to purchase the two new engines—an aerial and a pumper. It sounds like good, practical business-like handling of the situation—so often missing in municipal affairs.

It is customary municipal practice to bond the cost of the purchase of fire apparatus with a five percent down payment and the balance to be paid off over a five-year period. The total estimated cost of the equipment to be bought for the Public Safety Department is $20,000. It will be paid for in cash.

Of the total amount $11,000 will come out of a surplus from the 1940 budget which was placed there for contemplated public improvements but was not used and became a reserve balance. Short term notes for the $9,000 balance will be issued which will be liquidated after January 1 of next year when the 1942 budget is adopted. Delivery on the equipment can not be made until some time next winter.

Now what does this mean? It means that when the fire equipment is delivered it is completely paid for. It will not be a case of the town actually owning one-twentieth of it and the manufacturer nineteen-twentieths until the town should start paying the installments.

If the town were to spread the payment over five years, starting with a five percent down payment, the interest on the transaction would be $1,770—or putting it practically, just about the salary of one of the commissioners for a year.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

Essex County finds itself again the victim of the Trenton squeeze game. Highway Commissioner Sterner is rushing through Governor Edison's proposal for converting the old Hudson Tube bridge to highway use, not because he believes it good engineering but because he sees an opportunity to punish Essex. The million dollars appropriated and earmarked this year for the purchase of a right-of-way for a highway bridge in the vicinity of Bridge street will be used for the Park place make-shift. Newark will then have three inadequate bridges instead of two and Sterner will have nearly nullified the act of the legislature authorizing a high level bridge.

Why has Edison permitted himself to be used as an instrument for granting Sterner revenge on Essex? He must know that Sterner has followed a deliberate policy for years of depriving Essex of its rightful share of highway revenues. He must know also that the Sterner bloc did everything in its power to prevent the million dollars being earmarked for the high-level bridge. As an Essex man, it would seem that he would hesitate to take away about the only concrete achievement Essex has received in years in the way of highway authorizations.

There may be several answers. In the first place, Edison sincerely feels that some use should be made of the old tube bridge. But an unbiased engineering report would probably convince him that the present Sterner plan is of dubious worth. There are already too many low-level bridges over the Passaic. The traffic flow on such bridges will always be seriously interrupted. What is needed is a bridge high enough to permit traffic to flow without interruption. The main answer probably lies in an Edison plan to have Route 10 built during his administration. Such a bridge would divert most of the through traffic from downtown Newark. Such traffic as remained could continue to use existing bridges or else it would be up to Hudson and Essex Counties to provide a better bridge.

From an engineering standpoint this viewpoint is sound. Route 10 needs to be completed badly. But more than completion, its final route should be decided upon.

With the exception of Edgar Williamson, most of the present assembly slate will be backed for renomination. A definite decision has not been made regarding Honer C. Zink, but many believe that he will get backing along with the others.

Only six weeks remain before nominating petitions must be filed. That is an extremely short time for an opposition ticket to develop. As usual time seems to be playing into Arthur T. Vanderbilt's hands.

Wants Traffic Stopped

From Mrs. A. G. White, 110 Fairway Avenue.
To the Editor of The News:
We have written in the interest of public health and safety to the "powers that be" in Belleville and begged them to please do something to stop the unnecessary trucking and other traffic on Fairway Avenue.

Since the renovation of Franklin Avenue and the light at the intersection of Belleville Avenue, we have hardly been able to get any rest after 5 o'clock in the morning. This street also used to afford the small children living here a nice playground but now it is a danger zone.

We feel sure that the other residents will cooperate with us in sending this plea and we sincerely hope that something will be done very soon to help the taxpayers who are living on one of the highest assessed streets in the town. We moved here because it was quiet and we would like to have it continue to be so within reason.

Recipe Column

by Peggy Patterson

Paradoxical, as are most of the delightful things of life, is the fact that the lands which give us the calm of sunny skies in winter also furnish us with the ingredients for the coolest, most enticing menus and beverages in the torrid summer. Citrus fruits and their juices form the backbone for so many summer coolers that they should have a prominent place in the refrigerator, whether fresh or canned. Using canned or fresh grapefruit, try this salad on a blistering day when only something crisp and icy cold appeals:

Grapefruit Salad Bowl
Grapefruit sections
Tomato wedges
A ripe avocado
Salad greens
French dressing
Slice the fully ripened and unpeeled avocado into rings. Tuck a tomato wedge between two grapefruit sections and fit, with rounded sides up, into an avocado ring. Arrange the desired number of these on a bed of assorted greens in a salad bowl. A nest of olives with varied stuffings is a good addition. Serve right from the refrigerator and accompany with French dressing.

Tempting as a dessert or salad is this gelatine mold which also, of course, should be served firmly chilled:

Lime Grapefruit Mold
2 pkgs. lime flavored gelatine
2 cups boiling water
1 1/2 cups grapefruit juice
2 cups grapefruit sections
10 fresh, large red cherries
16 salted almonds
Dissolve gelatine in boiling water, add grapefruit juice and chill until slightly thickened. Place a ring of the fruit sections in the bottom of a nine-inch ring mold, cover with the gelatine mixture and chill until firm. Place the other grapefruit sections around the sides of the mold and add the remaining jelly mixture. When very firm unmold and fill the center with remaining grapefruit sections and the chilled cherries which have each been pitted and stuffed with a salted almond. Serve on a platter garnished with salad greens and pass mayonnaise or serve plain as a dessert.

Piloting New Steamer

Captain Frank V. Drake of the steamer "Mayflower" which made the trip from Hoboken to Bridgeport, Conn. each summer for many years announced that the "Mayflower" has been transferred to the United States Government but that the Steamer "Belle Island" will run from Hoboken to Roton Point Park in Connecticut during the summer season beginning tomorrow. The "Belle Island" will leave from the D. L. & W. Wharf in Hoboken at 9:30 each morning returning at 9:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rue of Adelaide street spent Saturday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weir and sons Morley and Gerald, also of Adelaide street, at their home at Greenwood Lake. Their son Joseph, 3rd, spent a few days last week with the Weirs at their summer home.

Batter Up

Instead of noise or shot and shell, we have a sound we know so well. The cry of "batter up, play ball," an angelus from Spring to Fall on baseball diamonds o'er the land of fine cut grass, clay, dirt or sand. Professional or amateur, baseball's freedom's barometer.

"Fill 'er up" or "tune 'er up" is the motorists call, and Brisk's Gulf Service, Main and Rutgers Streets, responds with all courtesy and efficiency. After our service, your car will "play ball." Call Belleville 2-4514.

MEET THE "WHATIZZIT"—WORLD'S QUEEREST AUTO

The world's queerest automobile is a '26 Dodge model operated by Ken and Walt Wilhelms of Yermo, Calif. The men are using the vehicle in exploring the Mojave Desert for minerals and fossils. Fitted with radio transmitter, and rigging suggesting a "sea-going hack," the Dodge has never failed to bring its owners back to camp.

"She's traveled better than a quarter million miles, through trackless desert sand, over rocky mountain crags and through about all the difficulties that ever beset a car," says Ken Wilhelms. "Once she rolled down a 300-foot bank. Yet she is going as strong as ever and still is remarkably saving on gas and oil."

Crawford Film at Capitol

Okay Vets' License

The Town Commission on Tuesday night granted a renewal of the plenary retail consumption license of the George Younginger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. It is for the headquarters at 17 Belleville avenue.

About a century ago a nationwide fight was raging in the United States over bathtubs. Ohio, Pennsylvania and some other states had passed laws forbidding the installation of a bathtub in any home because they were considered a menace to health. Physicians warned the people against the intemperance habit of bathing once a week and exposing themselves to pneumonia. In spite of all this opposition, it was estimated 1,500 bathtubs were in use in the United States in 1896—Capper's Weekly.

Bathbubs Once Banned
Record Narrow Street
Parliament street, in Exeter, England, where a broad-shouldered man has to turn sideways to walk in comfort, is one of the narrowest streets in the world if not the prize-taker itself. It is little more than a yard across at the widest point and the houses' front doors open on it. The story is told that 100 years ago a fat man made a bet with a thin athlete that he could beat him in a short race if he (the fat man) had a start of one yard and could pick his course. He picked Parliament street, and the athlete could not pass him.

Regular Kabbalah Shabbos services will be held Friday night. Sabbath morning services will be held at 9:30. This day is known as the Fast of the Seventeenth of Tamuz, but will be observed on Sunday. The significance of this day commemorates the time when the Babylonian army made the first breach in the Wall of Jerusalem in the year 586 B.C. It also starts a period of three weeks which is observed with sorrow and solemnity because these weeks coincide with the time when the enemy destroyed the Holy Temple of Jerusalem. Preparations are now being made for the high holy day services which fall on September 22 and 23, and on Wednesday, October 1. Reservations for seats can now be made.

"Sacrament" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday in all Christian Science Churches and Societies.

The golden text is: "A new commandment, I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another."

Among the lesson-sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "and he... spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing."

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "First in the list of Christian duties, he taught his followers the healing power of Truth and Love."
