MORE INDUSTRIES JOIN RED CROSS FIRST AID DRIVE

Formation of Volunteer
Groups Expanding; Train
More Instructors

Constantly expanding its first aid program, the local chapter of the American Red Cross this week announced the formation of numerous volunteer first aid detachments in local industries. The program is under the supervision of Mrs. Louis A. Noll.

Because of the increase of the number of those who want to take the ten-week first aid instruction course, there is a demand for more instructors. Seven more are now being trained and when they have completed their studies in first aid and advanced work they will be able to assist in these classes.

Any person who is interested in the work may call Mrs. Noll any day between 11 a.m. and 12 noon at Belleville 2-2277.

The program which the local chapter has inaugurated is in line with the cooperative plans which have been made by the national Red Cross headquarters and industry. It is believed that through the organization and training of volunteer detachments in various plants, they will be of valuable service in plant emergencies.

The primary responsibility of these corps will be to be available for service in the plants in which they are employed. However, it might be possible that in a major emergency they would be called out for duty elsewhere if needed.

Study Ten Weeks

Those who sign for the course must agree to take two hours of instruction for a 10-week period. As fast as classes are organized, an effort is being made to furnish them with instructors.

Instructing a class which meets at the firehouse on Washington avenue on Monday nights is Frank Struck of Paterson. It includes employees from the Walter K. A. and Westinghouse plants. He also conducts a class for a group of 30 employees of the Sweeney Lithograph company on Tuesday afternoons at 5:30. Another class is being organized for instruction under Frederick James of 1 Essex street.

Mrs. G. J. Johnson will shortly start instructing a group of women in first aid who are desirous of joining the Red Cross motor corps. Most of the members are housewives. If they pass the standard first aid course and the course in mechanics, they will be admitted to the motor corps.

One of the largest groups, members of the Petrean club, are meeting weekly on Monday nights at St. Peter's church hall. They are under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Liming of Bloomfield. Assisting them are Albert J. Hollahan and Amand Richey, who recently qualified as first aid instructors.

INJURY DOESN'T STOP SCOUTER

William Willits Is Directing
Troop 350 Activities
Despite It

Even a broken leg won't keep Scoutmaster William Willits of Boy Scout Troop 350 at Fawcett Church from keeping an active interest and directing the affairs of the troop. Willits is recuperating from his fall in Newport, R. I., and is not expected to get about for another three months.

In his absence, William Schemm and Milton Evenson, assistant scoutmasters, and James Price, junior assistant, will be in charge. Willits has outlined a three months' program for the troop to follow.

The Scouts met on Monday night at the church when Alvin A. Buckley, chairman of the troop committee, and John Charlton, district leader, attended and participated in the program.

A feature was the presentation of a tenderfoot certificate to Martin Barone, a new Scout.

In the outline sent by Willits this is to be organization month with the recruiting of new members, the initiation and organization of the patrol system and the cleaning of troop equipment. October will be featured by an overnight hike and speakers on nature and camping. November is first aid and safety month so there will be test passing in these two activities and a school on the subjects held each week.

Glee Club Is In Need Of Some First Tenors

The Belleville Glee club is short on first tenors. The singers held their first rehearsal of the 1941-42 season Monday night at the Grace Baptist church.

There was a good turnout and Director Arthur Jacobus led the men through three numbers.

First tenors interested in joining are invited to attend next Monday night's rehearsal at the church.

Two Women Candidates For Teachers' Presidency

Miss Frances Williamson and Mrs. Alice W. Wagner Seeking Office; Election Will Be Held Oct. 6; Both Stress Importance of Cooperation

Two women teachers, both the choice of the nominating committee, are engaged in a lively campaign for the post of president of the Belleville Teachers' association. Miss Frances Williamson, lifelong resident of town and a member of the staff at School No. 4, is opposing Mrs. Alice Walters Wagner, who is head of the high school music department. The election will be held October 6 at School No. 8.

In campaign statements released yesterday, both candidates emphasized that the teachers must be well organized to accomplish their aims and to promote goodwill and understanding among the townspeople and with the board of education.

The apathy which has marked recent elections of the association prompted the nominating committee to recommend two candidates for the office. The committee believed that a contest for the presidency might enliven interest in the organization.

Miss Williamson has been a member of the School No. 1 faculty for the past 14 years. For four years she has served as a member of the governing board of the school's parent-teacher association, being a member of several important committees. She was co-chairman of the benefit lecture performance which the teachers' association staged three years ago. She has also been a member of the association's salary committee and has represented the teachers at several meetings of the board of education.

Miss Williamson is active in a number of local organizations and church work. She received her master's degree from Rutgers university.

In commenting on membership in the teachers' association and the responsibility of the group she stated:

"The aims of the Belleville Teachers' association have been to promote goodwill between teachers, board of education and townspeople; to try to work for those improvements that would be to the best interests of pupils and teachers; and to try to further the recognition of teachers' service by the taxpayers."

Should Feel Confident

"To make such a program effective, it is imperative that all members should feel confident in the efforts to accomplish those aims for which they have banded themselves together. It is only reasonable to ask of teachers their willing cooperation in the work undertaken by the association so that the results may be for the good of all."

Mrs. Wagner is best known among the public for the annual spring concert of the various musical groups which she directs. Those supporting her candidacy point to the number of town activities and community programs to which she has lent her support. They emphasize that she has always been willing to cooperate with all groups which have called upon her for assistance.

In her statement released yesterday, Mrs. Wagner said:

"The Belleville Teachers' association should be an organization which is outstanding in promoting good will not only among teachers, schools, and school organizations but with all town groups and individual citizens. Teachers should be proud of their association and realize that only by full cooperation and sincere equitable efforts can their aims be realized. Each teacher should benefit from a strong association always realizing that for the good of the group personal desires must sometimes be subordinated."

"Any adjustments which will be beneficial to all teachers cannot be discussed with the board of education individually. A strong central organization will automatically strengthen our positions as individuals."

A native of Buffalo, N. Y., she came to this state thirteen years ago when she accepted the music teachers' post at the local high school. She is a graduate of the Fredonia school of music and the Eastman school of music at Rochester, N. Y.

Leighton-Dunleavy Dinner Will Be Held Tonight

A crowd of 500 is expected to attend the dinner tonight at Robert Treat Hotel in Newark for Deputy Police Chief Elmer Leighton and Deputy Fire Chief William Dunleavy. Police Judge Everett B. Smith will be the toastmaster and Harold G. Hoffman, former Governor, the principal speaker. The town commissioners and numerous police and fire officials have been invited to attend.

Lieutenant Ken Smith heads the committee in charge of the affair.

Police Cases Discharged

Health Officer Eugene Berry reported yesterday that both of the local poliomyelitis cases which broke out shortly before school opened had been discharged from the East Orange Orthopedic hospital. The two youngsters were taken there after their cases had first been diagnosed and treated at the Soho-Isolated hospital.

G.O.P., Democrats Organize

At quiet organization meetings held Monday night, the Republican and Democratic county committees re-elected their chairmen. Harry Machette was re-named the G.O.P. town leader and George Christie was again chosen head of the Democratic group.

Mayor Williams, for the third straight year, presided as chairman at the organization meeting of the Essex county Republican organization.

To Mark Wedding Anniversary

The 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dingwall of 41 Preston street will be celebrated Saturday. Members of their family will accompany the couple to New York for a dinner party to mark the event.

ORGANIZATIONS OFFER TO HELP IN CHEST WORK

Kittle Invites All To Lend
Aid; Asks Churches
For Assistance

Additional organizations responded this week to the invitation of Hugh D. Kittle, campaign chairman, to cooperate in putting the Community Chest drive over the top. Eleven leading groups were asked last week to lend their support by taking over the house-to-house solicitations for funds and by last night all of them had indicated their willingness to lend their cooperation.

The groups included the Woman's club, Everyman's Bible class, Petrean club, Belleville Teachers' association, Kewsmith Women's guild, Lions club, police and fire departments, Tripoli Park club and Boy and Girl scouts.

These other groups came forward this week volunteering their assistance. They were the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, represented by Andrew Lightbody; Colored Women's Welfare council of Belleville, Mrs. Margaret VanPelt; and the board of trustees of the Community Service bureau, Halley F. Hickok.

"It was not our intention," Kittle said, "to confine our invitation to any special groups. We welcome the assistance of as many organizations as wish to join the campaign. The funds which are raised through the Community Chest are spread out over the entire town and we want the contributions to this endeavor to be as town-wide as possible."

Leaders of other groups which may be interested in participating in the house-to-house drive should get in touch with Kittle, who is high school principal at his office or in the evenings at home.

Asks Churches for Help

The goal of the chest campaign will open on October 16 and continue for ten days to October 26, is $16,000. This week the drive chairman sent an appeal to all churches asking the pastors to set aside a Community Chest day, requesting that they stress the importance of local welfare and cooperate in making the drive a financial success.

J. D. Berliss was this week named assistant chairman of the house-to-house division by Kittle to assist Nova Babb, who has agreed to take charge of the workers.

The high school students were added this week as a group which is lending a helping hand. A junior speakers' bureau has been organized under the direction of L. Howard Fox, public speaking instructor and publicity chairman for the drive. Well informed on the importance of the Community Chest campaign and how it benefits various organizations, the speakers will be available to speak to groups interested in learning more about the drive.

Members of the high school alumni association who have had public speaking experience are welcome to join the group by registering their names at the high school office.

The school art and mechanical drawing departments are also doing their part. Under the supervision of P. Webster Diehl, art instructor, and H. Robley Sauners, mechanical drawing teacher, students are making ten large signs reminding the public of the drive. The signs will be put up at prominent places in town.

Petrean Club To Hold
Breakfast On Sunday

The Petrean club will hold its annual communion breakfast Sunday morning in St. Peter's school hall following the 8 a.m. mass. Members, parents and friends of the church's young people's group have been invited to attend.

Rev. Thomas Long, O.S.B., of St. Benedict's Priory school in Newark and Rev. John S. Nelligan, curate at St. Peter's church, will be the speakers.

Seventy-eight club members and friends attended the picnic held Sunday at Springer's grove in Springfield. Prizes were won by Grace Kaiser Maguire, Florence Petrotzky, Grace Monahan, Bob Kiegan, Andrew Monaghan, Miles Monaghan.

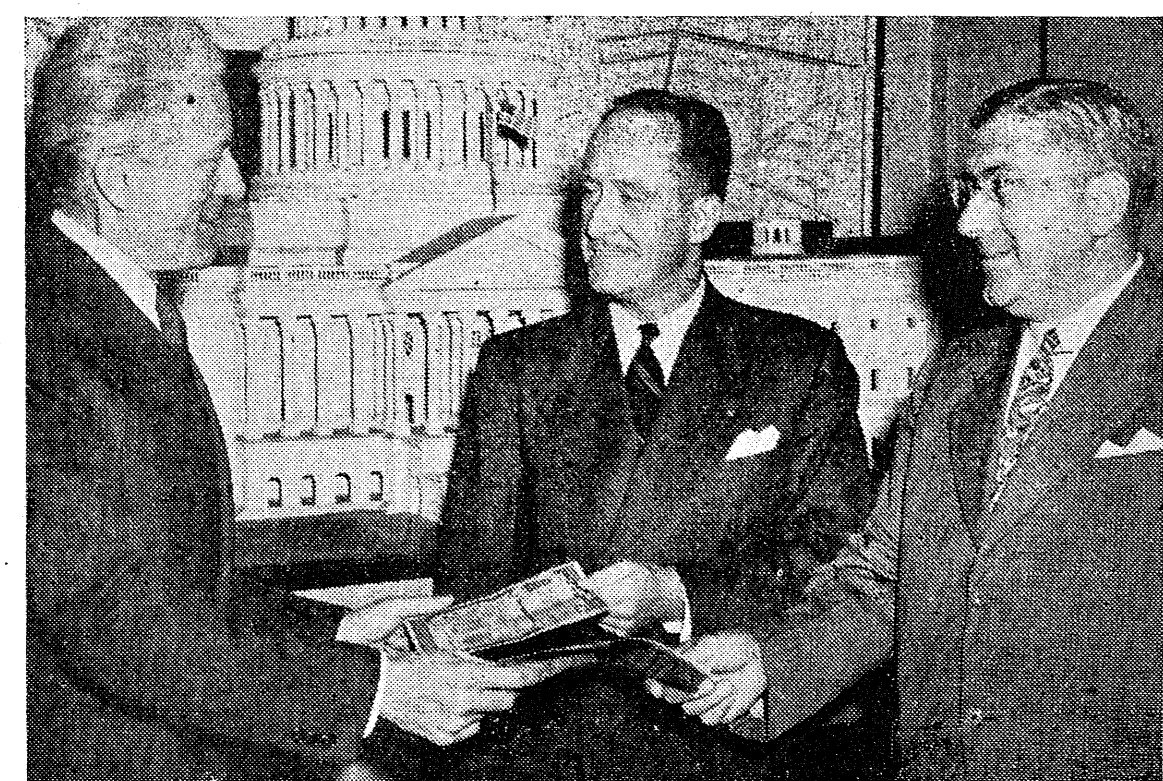

John Denike On Committee
Planning Bible Class Picnic

John Denike of this town is a member of the committee which is arranging the tenth annual picnic of the Essex Suburban Federation of Men's Bible classes to be held at Hickory Springs in Northfield road, West Orange.

Following the afternoon program of softball, horseshoe pitching and other recreational activities, a box luncheon will be served. The installation of officers will take place in the evening with Wendel Woodside of Summit, state president of the Federation of Men's Bible classes, in charge. The speaker will be Rev. Walter Gilliland, pastor of Olivet Congregational Christian church, of Livingston. His topic will be "Loyalty."

Town Is Not 'Out of Financial Woods'; Charges Police, Firemen With Playing Politics, Slandorous Statements

Mayor Buys $50,000 In Defense Bonds

REPLICA OF THE NATION'S CAPITOL building furnished a suitable background for Mayor Williams' acceptance yesterday morning in his office of $50,000 in United States defense bonds which he was authorized to buy several weeks by the town board after his recommendation.

Handing the bonds over to the mayor (left) are Luther Van Pelt, center, cashier of the Peoples National Bank and Trust company, and Wilbur W. Brooks, vice-president of the First National bank. In twelve years, when the bonds will mature, they will have increased in value to $67,500.

RAISE NOMINAL, SAYS ABROMSON

Police, Fire Attorney Points to Uniform Cost, Long Hours
They Work

The $300 wage increase being sought by the policemen and firemen is exceptionally nominal, Edward J. Abromson, attorney for the uniformed men, said last night following the speech made by Mayor Williams at the town commission meeting.

In dollars and cents, Abromson said, the $300 increase for the sixty-two members would represent six or seven points in the tax rate. It would cost the taxpayer $3 and $3.50 on a piece of property which is assessed for $5,000, Abromson said.

"There is a misunderstanding among the taxpayers with respect to the amount of salaries which the policemen and firemen are getting. The existing scale is from $1,800 to $2,500.

The existing scale starts from $1,800 and increases $100 per year for seven years until $2,500 is reached. From that point on it remains stationary. From their salary the men must pay for uniforms.

"On appointment they receive no more than $34. They then receive a raise yearly which amounts to less than $2 a week for seven years until their gross income is $47. It then remains stationary."

"This of course," he continued, "when the cost of uniforms is deducted, brings the wage scale down accordingly. The policemen under state law are not supposed to work more than eight hours per day. Here they worked in 1940 a total of 900 hours overtime without seeking extra pay for time off to which they were entitled in lieu of payment for overtime."

"It means that the taxpayers receive the benefit of the fact that the policemen elected not to take their time off, which would mean that chancemen would have to be hired, thus resulting in a saving to the taxpayers."

"A breakdown of the fire department shows that firemen receive approximately 40c an hour, which certainly is not high salary for a man charged with the important duty of the safety of life and limb."

"The other town employees' salaries," Abromson added, "are not confined to the four corners of an ordinance as is that of the policemen and firemen. The commissioners may individually withdraw a resolution or ordinance in case their employees' salaries, the only ceiling being the existing budget."

Recreation Department Had Record-Breaking Season

Report on Summer's Work Shows That Nearly
37,000 Attended Playgrounds; Edward Lister
And Six Assistants Handled Program

The recreation department has completed a record-breaking outdoor season, according to Commissioner Noll who is the head of the department. Nearly 37,000 youngsters participated in the program which was conducted at four playgrounds under the supervision of Edward Lister who had a staff of six assistants, Noll said.

Play centers were located on Bridge street, the recreation house, Edison field and School No. 1. Softball was the most popular sport with 35 teams, made up of 541 players participating. Games drew more than 5,000 spectators, the report said.

The activities at the various playgrounds consisted of free play, handicraft, volleyball, basketball, horseshoes, quoits, various tournaments, and various shows. For the first time movies played a prominent part in the summer activities, there being a series of two pictures exhibited at each of the centers.

The season also marked the inception of an inter-playground softball league consisting of teams representing each playground and known as the Louis A. Noll playground league. The title was won by the recreation house team.

In addition there were five other softball leagues in operation throughout the summer, all games being played at the municipal stadium and Edison field. The leagues and the winners of each league were: Industrial, Carson-Newton; senior, Ferrara association; church, St. Peter's; West Belleville, Art Mayer's West Ends; midgets, Belleville Braves.

Mrs. Anita Spenceley of 120 Rutgers street was injured Tuesday when her car collided with the preceding one in the Jersey City underpass to the Holland tunnel at 8:30 a.m. Another accident some distance ahead caused the sudden halting of cars which resulted in a torn fender and punctured front tire on Mrs. Spenceley's car.

She was treated in St. Francis hospital, Jersey City, for contusions of the left side and was able to return to her home Tuesday evening.

Fellowship To Meet

The Methodist Youth fellowship will hold its weekly meeting at Wesley Methodist church Sunday night at 6:45. Jean McDonough will be in charge and will explain the history and background of a number of well-known hymns.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, JEWELRY, at prices always in line with the quality of the merchandise offered. Victor Hart, Jeweler, 457 Washington avenue, Belleville, N. J.

Mayor Williams, the town's finance director, in a 60-minute blistering and pointed speech last night before the Town Commission urged the "taxpayers and rentpayers of Belleville" to defeat the police and fire pay referendum providing for $300 salary increases which will be voted on at the November 4 general election.

Stating that it was his duty as the revenue and finance director "to place the facts before the board and the people," Williams addressed his hour-long remarks to the three other members of the Town Commission present, Commissioners Waters, Noll and King, and a small group in the audience.

Reviewing the financial status of the town during the 11½ years in which he has served as its finance director, Williams stated that Belleville is not yet out of the financial woods.

The mayor's remarks were spiced with charges of political activity by the employees, particularly on the part of "a minority group in the police department" which he attacked viciously.

Get On The Job

In a virtual order to the police department, he told the members to get on their jobs and to stay on them. He recommended that they read the books of rules concerning the conduct of policemen and the responsibility which they face for making "distasteful" and "unfavorable" remarks about public officials.

He charged that the employees in securing signatures to force the referendum on the pay increase at the November election have misrepresented the facts to the public and that during the past week he had many calls from residents desiring to learn the full story about the situation.

He charged that those securing signatures on the petitions have told the public that it would mean only a one-point rise in the tax rate. Actually, Williams claimed, if 300 raises are granted to the policemen and firemen it will represent six or seven points in not only the 1942 tax rate but that of succeeding years unless the referendum is repealed.

The mayor's remarks came shortly before the board voted unanimously to ask County Clerk Gates to place on the ballot in the November election the question of whether or not they should be granted their increases. Previously, the commissioners had voted unanimously to repeal the resolution for a non-binding referendum which was adopted by the board two weeks ago.

Williams said that it would not be fair to the public to have both referendums on the ballot since it would be confusing to the voters.

"I have taken particular pains," the mayor said, "to see that every lawful and moral right of the policemen and firemen should be granted."

He said that every effort was made by Town Clerk Fawcett R. Morey in cooperation with Superintendent of Election Miele's office to speed the certification of the 4,000 signatures secured by the police. Slightly less than 1,800 were needed to force the board to put the question on the ballot. Mrs. Morey certified the legality of the petitions last night.

The mayor attacked what he termed "the lack of courtesy" shown by those representing the police and fire departments in the salary question. He said that he had suggested that the employees' committee and the town commissioners sit down in conference and talk over the situation.

"I believe," he said, "that there was a lack of courtesy on the part of the police and fire committee."

Williams remarked that several months ago when they were seeking salary adjustments, the men willingly sat in with the Public Safety Director Clark and worked out a plan that was satisfactory to all.

Politics Has Entered

"It is my further understanding," Williams stated at this point in coming out with the most hotly wanted part of his speech, "that politics has entered into it."

Burde Enters Annapolis

Nicholas Burde, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Burde of 570 Union avenue, has been appointed midshipman to the United States Naval academy at Annapolis by Congressman Fred A. Hartley after successfully completing a competitive examination.

Burde was graduated from Belleville high school in 1939. He entered John Marshall college in Jersey City after winning the Alexander Ormsby scholarship and was graduated from that institution in June with a pre-law qualifying certificate. He has already commenced his classes at Annapolis.

Palmer Burde, the Burdes' eldest son, returned this week to the University of Pittsburgh where he is a third year student in the College of Dentistry.

Services for Charles Schmidt Were Held Last Night

The sudden death Tuesday of Charles Tracy Schmidt, 46, of 85 VanHouten place followed a heart attack he suffered at his home. Born in St. Louis, Mo. he was graduated from the University of Missouri and was a construction engineer. He was president of the Associated Construction company of Newark with which firm he had been connected for twelve years. He had lived in Belleville for fifteen years, was a member of the Wesley Methodist church and a 32d degree Mason.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Mildred Cornwall Schmidt; two sons, Robert C. and William H.; a daughter, Jean Phyllis; and three brothers, William T. and John R. Schmidt of Detroit and Albert B. of Newark.

Greylock Parent Group Holds Tea and Reception

The first regular meeting of the season of the Greylock Parent-Teacher association was held at the school Monday afternoon when a tea and reception for new teachers and new mothers followed the business session. A program of entertainment was provided by Edward Bergamini, accordionist, Joan Kintzing, who recited, and Mrs. Sidney Sneed, who sang two vocal solos with the accompaniment of Miss Helen McNair. Twelve delegates attended the Northern fall conference of the State P.T.A. at South Mountain school in Millburn Tuesday. Mrs. Charles H. Speed, Mrs. Lloyd Reeves, Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Victor Hart Jr., Mrs. Armando deAraujo, Mrs. William William Hammacher, Mrs. Gustave Klauing, Mrs. Robert Hayes, Mrs. George Cooper, Mrs. Robert Banta and Mrs. Rudolph Luhrs.

The Greylock association has plans under way for one of its major projects, an entertainment scheduled for October 17. Mrs. deAraujo, general chairman, held the initial meeting of her committee at her home on Greylock parkway last week.

Members who will join their efforts for the affair are Mrs. Speed, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Harold Ford, Mrs. Wilbur Riker, Mrs. Irene King, Mrs. Roy Hunt, Mrs. Allen Robinson and Mrs. Americo Dalatri.

ISOLANTITE

Continued from Page 1. bership applications, he claimed. The A.F. of L., through John Volosin, organizer, declared no action is planned by the union and said all its members are working. The company in a statement contended the disputed contract was approved by employees, and said it will be maintained "without deviation".

The company also explained that dismissal of the employee referred to by McDonough was because he had been dismissed from the A.F. of L. for agitating against the union in the plant. Anyone in good standing with the A.F. of L. must be dismissed under contract terms, it was explained.

The army, navy and OPM have been notified of the strike, since nearly 80 percent of production is allegedly devoted to federal orders and the strike might cause serious delay in meeting these.

Mrs. McCorkle Renamed Legion Auxiliary Secretary

Mrs. Lester E. McCorkle of the Belleville Unit 105, American Legion auxiliary, was appointed secretary of the Essex County auxiliary for the year 1941-42 by the county president, Mrs. Howard B. Shuster, of Nutley at the installation meeting held Tuesday night at the Forest Hill Field club. It is the second year for Mrs. McCorkle to hold this office.

She will assume her duties at the first meeting of the fall season to be held Thursday evening, October 2 at the sheriff's room, Essex County Court house, Newark.

Mrs. McCorkle is a past president of the Newark Unit 10 and Belleville Unit 105. She has served as chairman of many of the major committees of the auxiliary, both county and local, and will serve for the coming year as constitution and by-laws and Pan-American study committee chairman for the local unit, these appointments having been made at the meeting of the Belleville unit held Monday night at the recreation house.

Mrs. McCorkle earns her membership in the auxiliary through a Gold Star Service. She is the daughter of the late Capt. Arthur D. Marsh and Mrs. Annabelle Marsh. Capt. Marsh served at the time of World War No. 1 as Captain of Co. D, 29th Division, 113th Infantry and was killed in action in France October, 1918. Mrs. McCorkle has been active in the local Community Chest campaigns for the past few years and was executive secretary of the Belleville Welfare Federation until January of this year when she resigned.

Why Agencies Need Money From Community Chest

Visiting Nurses Association Makes a Number of Free Calls To Those Who Are Sick; Belleville Does Not Pay For All It Receives

(This is the first of a series of brief articles about the organizations which benefit from the Community Chest drive. The purpose of these stories is to inform the public of the work which each of the chest beneficiaries perform.—Ed. Note.)

VISITING NURSES' ASSOCIATION

During this year 4,000 calls will be made on local families by the staff of the Visiting Nurses' association. The slogan of the association is: "first line of defense when accident or illness comes to the home."

The work of the visiting nurses and the child hygiene nurses who have their headquarters in town hall differs in that the former care for the sick and give bedside care and treatment, while the hygiene nurses confine themselves to children's cases and in educating the mothers in child care.

Nurses are on call to anyone who is under the supervision of a private physician or a clinic. The cost of each call, according to association headquarters, is $1.25. Of the 342 free calls which have already been made in Belleville this year cost the association $427.50. From Belleville, only $397.48 was received for that period and the balance was paid by the Newark association. The staff of twenty-seven nurses cover Newark, Kearny, Arlington, Harrison and East Orange in addition to this town.

Belleville is served by two of the staff of 27. Both are on full-time duty and are provided with automobiles. They are on call

From January to June of this year, records given out by the association office in 292 Broad street, Newark, show that 2,139 calls have been made, 1,736 calls were paid by the patient or an insurance company, 41 were partially paid for and the remaining 342 were free.

Listed in the budget of the Community Chest prepared by the Belleville Welfare federation is $900. The money turned over to the agency from the drive goes for visits by nurses to people who are unable to pay themselves and whose visits are not paid for by an insurance company.

Belleville, as was explained above, does not pay for all of its calls. However, the community should, the association states, believing that the responsibility for paying for local cases which can not pay should not fall on the

Fewsmith Mothers' Group To Have Bible Lessons

The Mother's club of the Belginners' department of Fewsmith church, which meets on the fourth Tuesday evening of every month will have a new field opened to it in October when a series of morning Bible classes will begin. Rev. Dr. O. Bell Close, Fewsmith pastor, will conduct the classes at his home, 19 Tiona avenue, on Tuesday mornings from 10 to 11. The club has purchased two playground tables for the classroom and library at the church which are devoted to the religious instruction of their young children.

Freshen Up for Fall

Rooms receive double use as the days grow shorter and you want them as bright and as attractive as possible. To keep furnishings in good order, clean them regularly with an electric vacuum cleaner. The Hoover (illustrated) loosens and removes the sharp nap-cutting grit and brushes up the surface lint and dust. . . . It is easy to clean upholstered furniture and draperies with a hand cleaner. The Magnetic is light in weight and easy to handle. These appliances are moderately priced.

Starts Sunday at Capitol

GUNS THAT WROTE HISTORY — Wayne Morris, Dennis Morgan and Arthur Kennedy as the famous Younger brothers, bandit-heroes of pioneer days, in the action hit "Bad Men of Missouri," starting Sunday at the Capitol for three days. On the same program is "Ringside Maisie" starring Ann Sothern and George Murphy.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

The initial meetings of the season in many women's organizations of Belleville and other towns are scheduled for this month and October. It seems a fitting time to ask oneself, if one is a member of such a group, just what significance this membership carries. It is unnoticed, but it is nevertheless very true, that where several persons are gathered together in pursuit of the same occupation a new importance is attached to the individual. No matter how trivial the impetus, the very act of assemblage sets aside the little group from its fellows and makes a new pattern of conduct necessary.

For instance, you may do a great deal of handwork in your own home and your thoughts, while so occupied, may wander at random on a number of inconsequential things and on things which are sometimes personal or vindictive — a thoroughly human trait. If you are seated in company, however, pursuing the same handwork, either for pleasure or for charitable purposes, your thoughts will naturally take the form of words. They will be exhibited and shared and you will at once begin restricting them to those which you are positive are fitting opinions to share with others. This very discipline of thought and expression is the real value of association with others. It is more than that — it is the essence of community life.

Think of its far-reaching possibilities where the scope of activity widens from a small group of sewers or knitters to a church organization, a comprehensive woman's club or a national philanthropic group. The obligations of individual members as to their conduct and expression increase with the size and effectiveness of their material endeavors. The more good they do the more highly they are rated by their townsfolk and of each individual is expected the measure of integrity which is in proportion to the prestige of the group.

A Generous Thing
Compensating for the obligations is the satisfaction which every woman may take to herself who has had the impulse to identify herself with some society in her community. She has thereby done a generous thing for she knows that it will often be at inconvenience to herself that she attends meetings, performs little charities and even lends the sustaining force of her character and opinions to situations where they will do the most good. These are not as insignificant as they may seem. And there is one sure thing about these apparently small items; they would never be performed at all in the exclusive privacy of one's home.

Few organizations resent publicity; but many of them do not realize how keen is the kindly curiosity of the reading public about their endeavors and activities. From the journalistic standpoint the publishers of newspapers and other journals serving the communities in which such groups are located find it difficult to convince many groups, and women's groups particularly, that publicity is something more than cursory notices of meetings and appeals for patronage.

To this writer the answer seems rather simple and should meet a response from any woman's group in the town. The golden rule operates with the utmost ease and effectiveness in this matter. Unselfishness is the keynote, it seems to me, and the women who are the most willing to publicize their programs, offer opportunities to

NOTICE
PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the following ordinance was passed on and adopted by a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville held Wednesday evening, September 24th, 1941, having been read in its final form at least one week prior thereto and is therefore now a law and hereby published according to law.

ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE VACATION, RELEASE AND EXTINGUISHMENT OF ANY AND ALL PUBLIC RIGHTS IN AND TO THAT PORTION OF DELAVAN AVENUE LOCATED BETWEEN BELLEVILLE AVENUE AND MILL STREET.
The Board of Commissioners of the Town of Belleville in the County of Essex and State of New Jersey, do ordain:

Section 1. That the portion of Delavan Avenue located between Belleville Avenue and Mill Street be and the same is hereby vacated and any and all public rights or rights therein arising from any dedication of the said portion of Delavan Avenue by deed or otherwise, are hereby released and extinguished.

Section 2. This ordinance shall take effect immediately after final passage and publication in accordance with law.

Warm Days Over Weekend Found Many Folks Away

Peter V. Goldschmitts and Family Visited at Longwood Lake; Cornelius DeJonges Were at Their Cottage at Swartswood Lake

The warm, sunny weekend found many local folks headed for their summer vacation spots to get in another day or so of the fun that they enjoyed during the summer months. Mayor Hits Referendum the issue. It is my personal opinion that men in high places and men seeking high places have initiated this issue. It is common talk along the streets that the firemen and policemen state that they will take care of the commissioners and Mayor Williams next May.

"At this time," he continued, "Mayor Williams has no plans for the next election. I have never failed to stand four square on issues, as a candidate for office or as a citizen I certainly will be interested in the welfare of the town to which I have contributed at least sixteen years of service.

"In 1933, when this town was devastated," he explained, "we found our employees of these two departments, not all of them I am happy to say, but a minority, who said most unfit and ungracious expressions to the point that would be the determining influence in the next election.

"I say to all the members of the police and fire department of the Town of Belleville, tonight as mayor," he warned, "this is my order as the mayor to those that are on their job and doing good service on behalf of the taxpayers I express appreciation, and to several members of the department, and most particularly the police department, I now say tonight get on your job and stay on your job during those hours in which the taxpayers expect you to."

Diverting from his attack on the department momentarily, Williams urged the voters to take an interest in the election. He said that many people fail to vote for candidates or items listed on the voting machine and warned that if a "substantial number is appealed to vote for the pay increase" and others do not vote at all, it may be that a verdict will be rendered which would not be the desire of the majority of the residents.

Claiming that if the referendum is passed, and if at some future time because of economic conditions it would be advisable to cut the salaries of the employees, it could only be done by referendum, Williams said.

"Who is going to initiate such a referendum?" he asked. "Not the police? Not the firemen? Not the public officials? Maybe, the citizens. The history of public officials in this county does not bear out the fact that they would be the ones to start it."

Declaring that the employees have made the statement that the wage scale of local police and fire employees is the lowest in the county, Williams replied that it compares favorably with other municipalities.

Didn't Pay Here, He Says

Obviously referring to the Bloomfield situation in which allegations have been made that police department employees paid politicians to secure appointments to positions, the mayor said that to his knowledge no local policeman had paid for his job or for a promotion.

The mayor said that every effort had been made by the town to go along with the employees. He said that in 1936 50 percent of their salary cut was restored to them and that the following year the rest was returned. Offering as a contrast the policy of other municipalities, he said that one Union county town had only recently returned the last cut—more than five years after Belleville. Some places have not yet fully restored cuts, he claimed.

"If the taxpayers desire to spend money," he commented, "it would be better to spend it on the department."

There is a shortage of policemen, Williams said. It would be better, he added, to spend the money for more men or for the installation of a $4,000 police radio system which has been talked about frequently.

"Before I would advocate paying the 62 men (total number in the police and fire departments) $300 more, I would advocate paying for more men."

Returning to his attack on the group which he charges has been making malicious statements, Williams said:

"My 11½ years in public life should have taught some men that I care not for their slanderous remarks, nor their unkind expressions. And furthermore, I recommend that they read the book of rules on distasteful expressions by police officers and unfavorable political comments concerning their officials and superiors."

Returning to the economic side of his argument against the passage of the referendum, Williams stated that "the average wage paid to policemen and firemen substantially exceeds that of the average private wage earner in Belleville."

He cited the new federal income tax and other hidden levies which the public will be required to pay.

Taxes To Have Effect

"It is reasonable to believe that increased taxes will have an adverse effect on the percentage of tax collection in municipalities," the mayor stated. The inclination of the public will be to pay federal taxes first, he said.

Some elements in next year's budget must be increased, he warned, pointing out specifically to the refuse collection contract, which based on what is taking place in other municipalities will go up. Belleville's present garbage collection charge is one of the lowest per capita in the state.

The passage of the referendum would be a mandatory order for the board over which it could exercise no control regardless of the developments between the time of the election and budget planning early in 1942. Stating that some of the policemen and firemen "have been gentlemen and good sports about it," Williams said they told him that they felt the action of the police and fire committee was unwise and that the matter should have been discussed with the board.

Tackling the statement of Edward J. Abramson, attorney for the policemen and firemen, who in The News last week stated the employees whom he represented "had no desire to put the commissioners on the spot."

Belong on Curbstone

"The counsel (meaning Abramson) states," Williams commented, "that they have no desire to put the commissioners on the spot. No self-respecting official wants to be taken off the spot that state law demands he stand on. That man does not belong in public office. He belongs out on the sidewalk with the curbstones attorneys, some of which type have been advising the members of the police department."

Williams added that his remarks were in no way directed at Attorney Abramson, whom he said he had high respect for as a member of the legal profession.

Police and firemen have guaranteed continuity of employment, the mayor added. The men went through the depression better than many other people, he continued, pointing out that their standard of living had not been changed.

One of the most valuable assets which they possess, he continued, is the pension fund. He has recommended, several times, he said, that the employees' annual contribution be increased from four to six percent of their salary. Each year, he said, there has been a shortage in the fund and the losses have been made up in the capital budget. In the past three years, the finance head stated, the employees have contributed $18,000 to the fund and the taxpayers $30,000.

"Who is the fund for?" he queried. "You? Me? The taxpayers? No. The police and firemen and their widows and children."

"Why," Williams continued, "nobody in this room has that kind of insurance," explaining that after being on the force for twenty years, the men can retire at half salary. In addition, he said, employees widows are paid $1,000 annually and provision is also made for partial care of any children.

"No wonder almost every pension fund in the state is practically bankrupt," the mayor commented.

In addition, Williams pointed out that the employees receive two weeks' vacation and sick and injury benefits.

"They have a moral responsibility to pay six percent in justice to the taxpayers," he stated. Williams raised the point of whether or not the taxpayers would vote for the referendum if they knew that one member of the police department would receive an $800 wage increase during the next year if the measure passes on November 4.

Receives Increases

He then reviewed an ordinance passed by the Town Commission earlier in the year providing for salary adjustments for a number of policemen and firemen. To each, he added, the $300 increase which would be granted should the referendum pass. During this year two members of the police department will receive $200 increase, 11, $100, one, $400. In 1942, nine will receive $100 and three, $200. In the fire department $100 raises will be paid to nine men this year, while five will receive $100 increases in 1942 and one will get a $200 raise.

"Between this and next year,"

Williams concluded, "forty-one increases of from $100 to $400 will be granted in the two departments in addition to the $300 increase if the referendum should pass."

He said that he would present at the next meeting of the board, which will be held in three weeks, a comparison of wages paid police and fire employees with those received by the local public school teachers.

In ending his hour-long speech, the mayor said: "The policemen and firemen should reflect and come to the board with the proper mental attitude and tell the commissioners that they've made a mistake and that their action is a little too advanced."

No other member of the board had any statement to make after the mayor ended his talk.

Two citizens, Edward Burns and Edward McFadden spoke briefly. McFadden earlier in the evening sought enlightenment on the situation and thanked the mayor for his explanation. Burns took the stand that the employees were right in asking for the increase, pointing out that many workers are receiving or had already been given increases.

JEW OBSERVE YOM KIPPUR

Day of Atonement Starts Tuesday at Sundown; Special Services

Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement, which is the holiest day in the Jewish calendar will be observed from sunset Tuesday to sunset Wednesday. The Jewish date of Yom Kippur is the ninth of Tishre, and is the end of the Ten Days of Penitence. The holiday is referred to in the Bible as the Sabbath of Sabbaths.

In ancient times, the Temple services in Jerusalem on this day were most elaborate and imposing. In modern times this "Sabbath of Solemn Rest" is a day when all Jews congregate in the synagogue for prayer and meditation. It is customary to abstain from all food and drink throughout the day of Atonement. This fasting is in the form of repentance for all the transgressions which the individual may have committed.

Among the customs observed are the lighting of a large taper in memory of departed ones.

The light should be sufficient to burn for 24 hours. It is also deemed appropriate to wear white garments, since white is a symbol of purity, and since the high priest, during the times of the Temple, wore white garments on Yom Kippur.

The Yom Kippur eve service is preceded by the traditional chanting of the Kol Nidre prayer. This prayer is reminiscent of the Marranos, the secret Jews of the Spain of Inquisition, during the 14th and 15th centuries. The chant is considered to be over 1,000 years old and is best known of all the Jewish liturgy.

The Kol Nidre is a formal abrogation of all vows made under the influence of great emotional strain and is intended to guard against oaths which may remain unfulfilled through negligence or forgetfulness. This dispensation from vows refers only to those which an individual voluntarily takes upon himself alone, and concerns his relation to his conscience and heavenly judge. No other oath or promise involving another person, a community, or a court of justice, is implied in Kol Nidre.

Seek Forgiveness

The ritual of the Day of Atonement is replete with petitions for forgiveness for all sins and transgressions. These prayers for pardon, however, are uttered in behalf of all Israel. According to Jewish tradition, a person will not be forgiven on the Day of Atonement for any sins committed against a fellow being, only if he rights the wrong and makes amends to the individual involved.

Services will be held at the Synagogue of Congregation Ahavas Achim at 317 Washington avenue on Tuesday night at 5:30. This is the Kol Nidre service. This service on Wednesday will start at 7. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate, assisted by Morris Rosen. Rabbi Dobin will preach at the Kol Nidre Service on the topic, "The Jewish Position—5702" on Wednesday the rabbi will preach on the topic, "And Thou Shalt Teach Thy Children." The Yiskor memorial service will be held on Wednesday at 10:30.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS PROGRAM

Senator Barbour's Appearance Will Be One of Season's Highlights

Highlight of the year's activities outlined by the program committee of the Woman's Club this week will be the appearance of United States Senator W. Warren Barbour here to speak before them on February 9. The legislator will talk on "International Affairs." The program has been arranged by Mrs. John F. O'Brien, Jr., chairman of the club's legislative committee.

Other events have been outlined for the club year running from October through next May. The bazaar to be held on October 1 and 2 will open the season while the annual breakfast listed for May 25 will close it.

At the first business meeting to be held October 12, a fashion show will be presented, followed on October 27 by an anniversary celebration and reception to the presidents of local women's organizations. Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde, chairman of the program committee, is in charge. Benjamin A. Javits, president of the Fair Return League, Educational Foundation, New York, will speak on "Democracy." Mrs. Daniel T. O'Connor and Mrs. Henry Squier are in charge of a bridge and fashion show which will be held at a Newark department store two days later.

The Social Service department headed by Mrs. Leslie Woodruff will have charge of the program to be presented on November 10 following a business meeting. The speaker will be a representative of the American Red Cross from the Newark office. At the November 17 meeting of the American home department, Miss Elizabeth Frost will discuss "Silver Contributions to Gracious Living."

December Important Month

Two important events are scheduled for December 15. In the afternoon the annual Christmas party will be presented with Mrs. Dwight N. Streeter and Mrs. Hyde in charge of arrangements. In the evening it will be followed by the annual community music festival to be held in the high school. The music department, headed by Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn, is in charge, and will invite all local musical organizations to participate.

Miss May Lee, speaking on "New Jersey—Know Your State," will talk at the January 19 meeting which will be in charge of the American Home department. Scheduled for an appearance on January 26 is a Maplewood author, Mrs. Agnes Sleigh Turnbull, who will be presented by the literature group.

A play for local school children to be presented by the Junior League of Newark will be given some time in February. Mrs. Streeter will be in charge. Mrs. Louis A. Noll is chairman of the annual spring dance which is planned for March.

The membership tea on March 23 will be in charge of Mrs. Squier with Mrs. Nunn handling the music department's part of the program. The annual business meeting, reports and installation of new officers will take place on April 13 with Miss Marion Salter scheduled to give a talk on "Nairn Color Corner" at the American home department meeting on April 20.

The activities of the garden department will come to the fore on April 27 when Mrs. Joseph T. Ryan, department chairman, will present Mrs. W. L. Rae of Caldwell, eighth district garden chairman.

Delegates, officers and members will be attending the annual spring convention in Atlantic City on May 19 through 22.

John A. Teufels Celebrate 15th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Teufel of 14 Oak street celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary on September 16. Guests at their home were Mrs. Mary Kershaw, Mrs. Frank Teufel and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ferguson of this town, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Noll and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Malley of Newark and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmon of Livingston. Mrs. Malley sang "Because" as she did at the couple's wedding.

Youngsters Are Heading Back To The Library

Business in the children's department at the free public library has been picking up rapidly since the beginning of school. Many children have applied for cards and others have resumed their reading after the summer. There has been quite a number of youngsters transferring from the juvenile department to the seventh and eighth grade group in the main library. The special display in the children's room of new books for young readers is popular. These books are attractively and colorfully bound and the stories are chosen especially for children.

The newest of reading matter, and an atmosphere which awakens the interest through gay pictures and decorations, helps to promote the child's desire to read and to use the library.

Miss Margaret Crystal, daughter of Mrs. Lena Crystal of 185 Holmes street and pupil of School No. 8, returned last week from a vacation trip through Vermont as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heinrichs of New York. Heinrichs is one of the foremost painters of American life whose pictures are nationally exhibited. The party were guests of Governor William Wills of Vermont to whom Miss Crystal was presented.

The Women Take The Lead

The women have taken the lead in organizing for whatever effort is to be made in the interest of local defense and preparedness. While the defense council appointed during the summer by Mayor Williams still must hold an organization meeting, one of the feminine members has taken the initiative and has called the women together to explain to them one of the tasks which they can perform.

We may be accused of being "hipped" on the subject of a defense council, but with many communities around us far progressed in organizing we cannot help but feel that way. No one can deny that the President's speech of two weeks ago and Secretary of the Navy Knox's statements last week, plus the movement in Washington to arm this country's merchant vessels, brought us nearer to an actual state of emergency. We may want to believe otherwise, but practical thinking overrules this idea. Once it was regarded as a matter of years or months when this nation might become involved in a "shooting" war, but with swift moving international events, it can now be a matter of days or even hours.

We are not faced with a food shortage or are we likely to be. But, many housewives are already discovering that prices being asked for some products are out of proportion to their family budgets. Finding a substitute, which will be more reasonably priced and still keep the family satisfied, is the problem. That is why there has been so much talk recently about nutrition classes and clinics where housewives could learn about food values.

Keeping the stomachs of the nation well filled and its people healthy and contented is just as important as building airplanes or battleships. Tackling this problem is one of the jobs which the women can do and which many of them have decided they should start doing now. From the department of agriculture and other similar agencies have come warnings that now is the time to start the job.

The American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Red Cross, the Elks, the Woman's club and other groups have been called upon by their national headquarters to work in the interest of defense. No organization can do it alone and unless these activities are coordinated under the leadership of one leading group which can advise them, it may be found that the well meaning efforts of these people will be working at cross purposes.

One of the primary aims of the defense council is to serve as the central point around which these groups and their activities will revolve. With organizations resuming their programs after a summer layoff and anxious to do their part, it is important that a central defense group be ready and working to give the best program possible.

What — No Santa Claus?

Three months from today will be Christmas. It is looked forward to with the greatest of wide-eyed eagerness and anticipation by a big part of the population — the nation's youngsters. More than any other group, the modern Christmas is their day — the one they think and dream hopefully about for months on end.

Johnny will look for that tricycle, that wind-up train. Or maybe, if he's been especially good, it will be an electric train. Mary expects those dishes, that miniature stove and a doll carriage to complete her little dream house.

But, Johnny and Mary may be in for some disappointment. Something which it will be difficult for them to understand. War has taken its hand in their annual enjoyment. As has been the case with almost every other commodity which the general public buys, there is now a toy shortage and a sharp rise in prices seems imminent.

Many materials which have been used in the manufacture of toys are now urgently needed in making defense products. If counters will not be bare at Christmas time of some of the best-known toy products, the prices which will be asked will be prohibitive for the pocketbooks of many parents.

What about Johnny and Mary? Will they blame Hitler, Churchill or the President because their wishes may not be fulfilled? Will the priorities board in Washington mean anything to them? Will they understand that materials which usually go into the making of playthings are needed to make airplanes, guns and munitions?

Whom will they blame? It won't be any of those who have been named. It will probably be good old Santa Claus. Unless there are some tall stories told, Santa's stock is due for an awful drop and there probably will be many youngsters who will sell him out completely. Maybe they will fall for the idea that Hitler has taken the North Pole and won't let Santa Claus out.

If nothing else, the toy shortage is one more thing that drives home the plain fact that we are in the midst of an all-out effort for national defense. No privilege or enjoyment of ordinary life is so important that it cannot be sacrificed completely, or at least partially, for defense and war.

Should Have Been Decided Before

The decision of the board of education not to use the municipal stadium for the high school football games is disappointing, but as has already been said the handling of such matters rests with the board. Offering no objections to the stadium itself, a board official said that the principal objection raised was that much of the playing area that would be used for the football field was taken up by the baseball diamond.

This may be true, although the professional team will probably play there through its season without finding the diamond too much of an obstacle or a hindrance.

It is worth while pointing out that the diamond was put there at the request of the board of education in the spring so that the high school team could play there. If the school board at that time had intentions of using the stadium for football, it would seem logical that they would have pointed out that they objected to having any of the diamond on the playing surface of the football field. But, perhaps it does not rest entirely with them. Months ago when the stadium question was being booted about we commented that the town commission and the school board members should sit down and iron out all the details. This was not done. Instead, it was a last minute proposition and then the board raised an objection which could not be corrected at this late date.

We think that the people want town-wide activities to take place there. The argument that the stadium is out of the way and can't easily be reached was more or less disproved on Sunday when 4,500 people found it to watch a football game.

Taxpayers' money is invested in the project and the stadium should be used as much as possible. It is hoped that before another year is out, arrangements can be made so that the high school eleven will be able to play its games at the field.

Is A Day Nursery Needed?

In her quarterly report to the Community Service bureau trustees, Mrs. Julia Reiner, its executive secretary, stated that one of the most important problems facing the welfare organization was that of providing care for children whose parents are working. The increase in demand for workers has sent a greater number of both men and women back to work. Having a number of industries, Belleville is one of the communities in which a number of mothers are employed. Children without parents to care for them during the day may present a serious health and social problem, Mrs. Reiner has warned.

Getting volunteers to do anything is difficult enough, but getting them to take care of somebody else's children would seem even harder. If, as Mrs. Reiner says, the situation is serious, then why not establish a day nursery?

Such a condition goes along with most every place that has a large amount of manufacturing in which women are employed. Volunteer foster mothers might prove helpful, but it would seem to us that the more logical solution would be the establishment of a nursery in which the children would be cared for under the supervision of one head and a staff which has been trained in the care of children. There would be no cases of the children not being cared for on certain days because somebody had to leave town or some other unforeseen situation had developed.

Other communities have been forced to establish nurseries to meet the problem. If we are going to have industry, we must accept all that goes with it. Therefore, we think that this condition becomes a community problem and should be approached from that viewpoint.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

Next year's battle for the United States senate seat now held by William H. Smathers has begun to develop interest even this early.

With his usual thoroughness, Arthur T. Vanderbilt is quietly sounding out sentiment with the idea of building up a candidate who can win without a hard primary fight. Whether the Short Hills leader has his eye on a given candidate or is merely trying to act as honest broker to the field is not yet certain. Reports which seemed extremely reliable reached me last summer that Vanderbilt had offered his support to Dr. Lester H. Cleo with two reservations: 1) that Dr. Cleo not oppose the Clean Government ticket in this fall's primary; 2) that he get enough financial support pledged to insure an efficient senatorial primary campaign should one be necessary.

Dr. Cleo went along cheerfully with the Vanderbilt ticket and this support was little less than a guarantee that here would be no hard primary fight. But raising money to create the state organization that would be necessary to run successfully for the senate is another matter. Nor is it certain that the Newark minister wants to go to Washington. It may be that his mind is set on being the Republican successor to Charles Edison. Certainly he would have to demonstrate that he could campaign as brilliantly for national as for state office.

Aside from Cleo, three other men loom as strong G.O.P. senatorial possibilities. They are Albert W. Hawkes of Montclair, Congressman Robert W. Kean of Livingston and Harold G. Hoffman, Joseph A. Bowers of Montclair and several men outside of Essex loom as lesser possibilities. Hawkes has had a brilliant career as an industrialist, first with the predecessors of the Allied Chemical company and later as president of Congoleum-Nairn. In this capacity he has developed a philosophy of labor relations that has won wide praise both from labor and capital, and has applied it successfully in his own plants. This policy is now undergoing a severe test since, as president of the National Association of Commerce, he must not only look at the problem from the widest national viewpoint but must put his views on record.

His recent firm stand against the position taken by the labor leaders of the Kearny shipyard strike produced much criticism from labor extremists. But the stand was fundamental and inevitable and my guess is that Hawkes is stronger politically by reason of having taken it.

Would Like to Be Senator

Kean would like to be United States Senator very much. His record in congress has been good although not spectacular. He is far from being a brilliant campaigner, but generally makes a good impression. His past three

Says 'No' On Pay Increase; Wants More Men

From Sidney A. Browne
45 Van Houten place
To the Editor of The News:
In a recent discussion with Commissioner Clark and Police Chief Spatz, I was told that a great deal of efficiency was lost in the police department due to its being "under-manned." If this is true, it then becomes the duty of The Belleville News to inform the people of this town of that situation.

I further believe that if The News has the best interests of the people of Belleville in mind, it will advocate that the voters vote "No" for increasing the salaries of the firemen and policemen, but aid the situation by suggesting to the "town fathers" that they increase the department's extent of what the increase of salaries would cost; and if they are afraid, put that suggestion on the ballot, too.

Yours for more efficient police and fire departments rather than a more costly one.

(Ed. Note—The News has on several occasions pointed out that the police department could use more men to properly police the town.)

Keep Muzzle Loose

From L. M. H.
Belleville, N. J.
To the Editor of The News:

Will you please publish an appeal to dog owners who muzzle their dogs to be sure the muzzle is loose enough to permit the dog to open his mouth to breathe if he should get warm. A dog went by our home the other warm morning muzzled so tightly he couldn't pant and was obviously in distress. Please be sure the muzzle is as comfortable as possible, giving the dog a chance to pant as that is his only way of perspiring.

Says Police Should Wait

From Citizen
To the Editor of The News:
Relative to the petition now being circulated by the Belleville police leading to a raise in salary for them, I couldn't sign it for the reason that the town of Belleville is not yet "out of the woods" financially.

In 1937 the mayor made a statement that the commissioner of accounts insisted he include a certain large debt in that year's budget. The mayor further said if he did that it would raise the tax rate too high — almost $10 a hundred. In order not to burden us with such a high tax rate, he obtained special permission to spread the debt over a period of five years.

We are still paying it. Therefore, the Belleville police force should wait until there is a chance to get that tax out of the way before incurring any more debts.

In 1937, the police salaries as indicated in the budget amounted to $85,500; police department maintenance, $5,000; police and fire department pensions, $5,840.

We taxpayers have had hard sledding to meet our obligations the last ten years.

'World At War' Topic For Mosque Town Hall

A symposium on "The World at War" with four distinguished speakers will open the Town Hall of Essex County series of lectures and forums at the Mosque theatre, Wednesday evening, November 2. Speakers will include Major George Fielding Eliot, well-known authority on military affairs; Paul Schubert, Mutual Broadcasting company naval authority; Major Alexander P. deSeversky, world famous airplane designer and pilot; and Wythe Williams, leading war correspondent, political writer and radio commentator. The symposium will discuss the influence of the various elements of warfare in the present struggle — the army, the navy, the air force and propaganda.

A JOB IS BEING DONE FOR DEFENSE

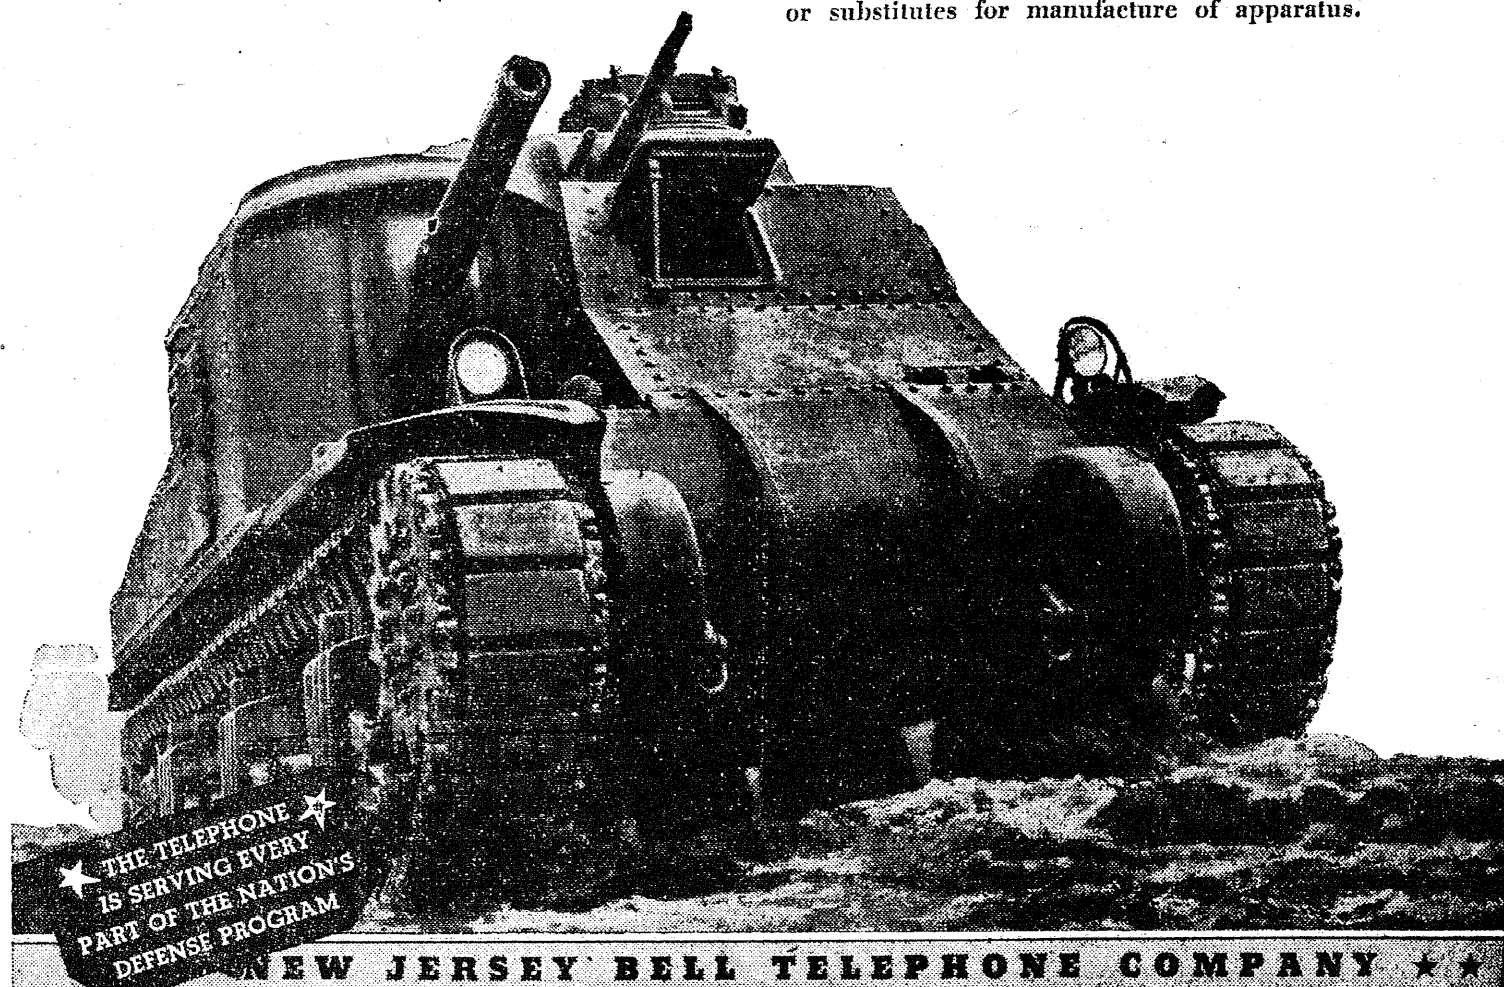

DAY by day our Nation is moving, more and more powerfully toward its Number One objective of arming for defense . . . and quickly.

There is no part of the defense program which the telephone does not serve and the rising curve of calling, and increasing demand for service clearly tell the story of what is happening in New Jersey and throughout the country.

New Jersey today has more telephones, and is using them more often, than ever before. More than 350,000 more calls are being handled daily than only a year ago. Out-of-town calling is 20% greater. Margins of spare equipment are being rapidly used up. Enough cable, switchboards and other parts have been rushed into use in the last twelve months to serve the normal requirements of a city of a quarter of a million people.

America is forging ahead on its biggest job and the telephone is doing its part—despite unprecedented demand for service, crowded production and installation schedules and increasing difficulty in getting raw materials or substitutes for manufacture of apparatus.

The Town Wants Sunday Football

The proof's in the gate receipts, and that's what we're pointing to in emphasizing that this town wants and will support a Sunday football team. Even the most optimistic of those connected with the Iron Dukes were bowled over Sunday afternoon when the crowd started to pour into the gates of the municipal stadium at a big rate. When the job of counting noses had been finished it was figured that the crowd hovered somewhere around the 4,500 mark.

As further proof that the Dukes drew exceptionally well, several usually reliable sources report that the locals and the Campdowners outdrew the Newark Bears who clashed with the Providence Steamrollers at Newark City Stadium. Anyway, it's safe to say that the Bear management probably did not do any cartwheels when it heard that a crowd of 4,500 fans was watching a game between two pro eleven's in Belleville.

To have been beaten by the Campdowners was no reason for the boys to go hide in the corner. Football, like almost everything else, calls for teamwork and familiarity with the style of those with whom you are working. The Campers have that for they have been rolling up and down gridirons for some years now.

The Dukes had a momentary letdown when they gave the Campers the break which they quickly converted into a touchdown. According to the grid informants, Frankie Cardinale never punted more than three or four times during all of the time he played in high school. For that reason we can't understand why he should have tried the job on Sunday.

Campers Harry Rospond caught Frank's short, slanted boot on the run and was doing a whirlaway toward the goal line before the Dukes knew what was up. True, he was halted one yard from the goal line but it was too much to expect the Dukes to stave off a touchdown from that point.

The home lads had a chance to score in the closing minutes of the game and the talking which has gone on about the touchdown play which Referee "Jitty" Wische called back will be heard for a long time.

On a "team back" play to the right, Bud Hogg was headed for the goal forty yards away. Meantime, Wische was standing there blowing his whistle loudly. He called Hollweg back, insisting that one of the Campers had violated one of the rules in the book by not wearing a helmet. The lineman did have his helmet on but had thrown it to the sidelines a play or two before Hollweg's dash. Wische refused to alter his stand and the Dukes saw their hopes of scoring go aglimmering.

Touchdown, or no touchdown, the bull-charging block that dusky Bob Shade put on one of the Campers who was trying to cut down Hollweg on his run was one of the most beautiful that we've seen in a long time and was worth the price of admission.

The Dukes won't be going to any tea party Sunday afternoon when they square off against the Boonton club. Watch that boy in the backfield, "Jigger" Bradley. If what the upstarts say about him is true, he should be one of the hotshots of the league this season.

If nothing else can be said of the high school eleven, it must be charged to their credit that they do not go in for soft pickings. While they lost at Lyndhurst in the opener on Saturday, the real fun begins this week. They stack up against a tough, veteran Barringer team at Clearman field on Saturday. Then follows Bloomfield, which is reported to be rolling in high gear again. After that comes a newcomer to the grid ranks, Clifford Scott of East Orange, which has a big, veteran eleven, and then follows Irvington, which is said to be plenty tough, even though Vineland took the Camper eleven in Saturday's opener 13-6.

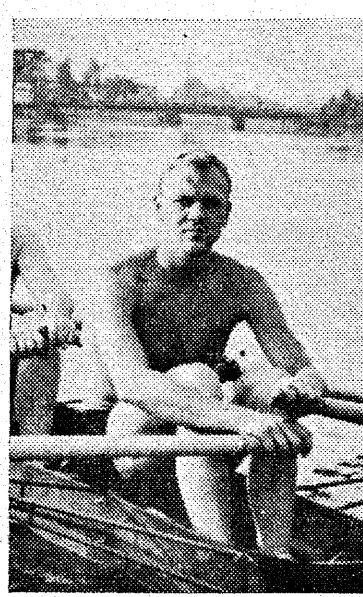

After wading through these "toughies" the Bellboys will keep right on with Newark East Side, Hillside, Kearny, South Side of Newark and Teaneck as opponents. And we must admit, that out of the whole lot of them, the only one that even sounds like a soft touch, and may turn out to be otherwise, is Teaneck.

Well stocked in new players, Coach Larry Gates is not faced with any easy task. Most of his men are small, somewhat lighter than the boys on most of the teams, which the Bellboys will face. With weight against them, it looks at this moment as though the passing attack which failed to click against the Lyndhurst club on Saturday, but almost did, might be the locals' salvation. We hope it will turn out that way.

HAGERT TAKES NEREID SINGLES

Defeats Al Walker For Club Title; Brett Presents Medal

Blond-haired Carl Hagert was crowned the Nereid Boat Club singles champion on Sunday afternoon when he defeated Al Walker in the final event of the series run off on the Passaic river.

Rowing steadily and smoothly from the start, with smooth water and little breeze, Hagert pulled his boat across the finish line one and a half lengths ahead of Walker.

Homer Zink Jr., the 1940 titleholder, was unable to defend his laurels because of a recent tonsilectomy operation. Hagert became the fifth Nereid oarsmen to have his name inscribed on the trophy donated by C. Leverich Brett, one of the club's oldest and most active members. Hagert was presented a gold medal by Brett.

Frank Lynch Poles Run Producing Double To Defeat Varsity A. A.

Blasting out two runs in the last half of the ninth inning, the Pittsburgh Minor Leaguers came from behind Sunday afternoon to defeat the Varsity A. A. The final score of the tilt played at Branch Brook park extension was 6-5.

With two out and Ed Gutman and Bill Lynch parked on the base paths, Frank Lynch poled a double to send the winning runs home. Gutman with two hits led the winners' attack.

The Minors were out nine to eight but bunched their hits and took advantage of three infield errors to get their six runs. Each team had only two earned runs.

Jerry Zuzzio on the hill for the Pitts struck out five and walked three while Paul Mulcahy hurling for the Varsity A. A. fanned ten and walked five.

SOAP BOX DERBY ON SATURDAY

Cub Pack 350 Will Hold Racing Event At Municipal Stadium

Saturday will be a big day for the boys in Cub Pack No. 350. More than thirty youngsters are putting the finishing touches on their wooden racers which have been entered in the first annual soap box derby to be staged at the municipal stadium at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Mayor Williams is scheduled to fire the starting gun which will send the first batch of youngsters rolling down the stadium hill towards hoped-for victory. Cubs winning in the first heat will receive white cards entitling them to enter the semi-finals, winners of which will get blue cards admitting them to the grand finale.

To the winner will go a box camera presented by Mayor Williams with Commissioner Waters donating the second prize, a football.

The next Cub meeting will be held at Fawcett Church on Thursday evening, October 2 with an original play "School Days" by the members of the Den 6 as the feature. Robert Davis, William Connors, Donald Duffy, Hugh Murphy, Jack Meyer, Kenneth Snook and Robert McShane will graduate to scouting.

THRILL LEGION WILL PERFORM AT STADIUM

Al Santo Signs Ken Butler's Daredevil Troupe For Oct. 2 and 3

The municipal stadium will attract a ne vventure for local sport fans on Thursday and Friday night, October 1 and 2 when Ken Butler's thrill legion of daredevils will be presented in a seventeen-act show featuring performers that have played state fairs and other places from coast to coast. The troupe performed last week in Red Bank and are showing tomorrow and Saturday at Nyack, N. Y.

Arrangements for the use of the stadium were completed by Albert Santos, well-known midget auto racing promoter and manager of the Butler show, with Mayor Williams early this week.

Combining automobiles with motorcycles, Butler, who has been tagged the one-legged king of the crash world, does almost everything with an automobile. In Hollywood, he is known as one of America's ace stunt men and is constantly in demand for movie rolls requiring some daring performance. He comes from Cranford.

There will be such acts as the automobile roll-over, crashing a stock sedan through two walls of a burning building, crashing a motorcycle through a solid board wall and piloting the same cycle through a pyramid of flaming barrels. In all the mentioned events, Butler will be performing.

Stacey Pennington will drive an automobile up a ramp doing about 55 miles an hour and crash fly into another car broadside parked in the path in an act called the flyin' T-bone crash. Eddie Payne will leap off the back of a motorcycle, drag with feet flat on the ground and crash with the motorcycle through a sheet of heavy glass and then jump back on the saddle in another act.

Another daredevil will leap from the rear of a speeding sidecar doing not less than 60 miles an hour. Clowns will also be on hand to amuse Spectators in uniform will be admitted for half the admission price.

FIRST HALF LAG BEATS BELLBOYS

Lyndhurst Gets Jump To Win 6-0; Zebra Aerials Fail To Hit Mark

Permitting Lyndhurst's Golden to completely dominate the situation in the first half and push over a touchdown, the Blue and Gold bowed in for the 1941 grid season at the Bergen County school's field Saturday afternoon. Pushing over a six-pointer in the first quarter, the Lyndhurst eleven rested on its laurels and staved off a desperate second half rally by the Zebras.

Showing little offensive power in the opening half, the Bellboys didn't get rolling until the final two quarters when they filled the air with passes in hope of tying or overcoming the Bergen eleven. Bellboy eligible receivers were able to shake off Lyndhurst defenders easily but pass heavier Johnny Walker just could not hit the mark or the receivers let the pigskin slip through their fingers.

Late in the game, Bill Hunkele dashed the hopes of Blue and Gold fans when standing on the Lyndhurst goal line he missed one that looked like a sure six-pointer. While Lyndhurst's T-formation did not befuddle the Belleville defenders, the Bear machine got off to a fast start early in the first quarter. A bad kick by Jim Findley which gave Lyndhurst the ball on the locals' 35 set the stage for their touchdown march. Cardillo passed to Wingham Charlie Curcio for fifteen yards and a first down on the 20. Coming right back with another heave, Cardillo sent one into the waiting arms of Bill Jarvis on the one-yard line, and Jarvis plunged over for the next play. The place kick for the extra point was wide.

The Bergen eleven threatened again in the second period when they took the ball over on the midfield stripe and Cardillo and Jarvis pounded away to the Belleville 15: Cardillo then passed to Monaco on the 6 where the left halfback was hit hard by a Belleville tackler, the ball bouncing out of his arms. McGinnis recovered.

Duke Booster Movement Is Started By Fans

Proof that local fans are becoming enthused about the new pro eleven, the Iron Dukes, even after one game was shown this week in a movement which was started for the formation of a Dukes' booster club.

Joe Negra of 26 Hilton street is the fellow who started the ball rolling and has already lined up a number of rooters who will guarantee that they'll support the Dukes at both home and away games. Those interested in the organization should communicate with Negra at his home address.

Signing for Local Appearance

SIGNING ON THE DOTTED LINE is Ken Butler, stunt movie specialist, who will bring his thrill legion troupe here next week for a two-night appearance at the municipal stadium on Thursday and Friday nights.

In the rear in the usual order are Carmine Bilotti, Martin Krugman, attorney, and Mike Cymbalick, assistant to Butler.

Zebras Entertain Barringer In Home Clash Saturday

Newark Eleven Will Have Eight Men Starting Who Played Against Locals Last Year; Blue and Gold Drilling Hard For the Game

The high school eleven makes its home bow on Saturday afternoon when Barringer high's Big Blue eleven invades Clearman field for its annual clash with the Zebras. Basting of a veteran eleven, with eight men who faced Belleville last year in the starting line-up, the Newarkers should prove to be one of the toughest opponents on the locals' long and tough schedule.

City champions last year, Coach Charlie Allen of Barringer is not only hopeful that his eleven will repeat in the Newark school race, but will be among the leading contenders for the state title.

The outlook has not deterred the spirit of Coach Larry Gates' Belleville eleven. The boys realize that they won't be attending any Sunday school picnic Saturday afternoon and that they must make a better showing than they did against Lyndhurst if they are to stay in the fight.

The pressure has been on at Clearman field this week for Coach Gates and his three assistants, "Jitty" Wische, Whilo Winka and Bill Chapman, hope to profit from the mistakes which they observed the young players making on Saturday. Blocking and line charging have been constantly drilled on.

While the actual strength of the Barringer eleven is an unknown quantity, the locals expect a fast, hard charging eleven. The four backfield men who played against the Bellboys last year are listed to start on Saturday. Leading them will be the fleet-footed Negro, Vic Kee, who will have as backfield running mates Al Masino, Mario DeMarco and Harry Wheeler.

Running Attack Is Worry In tripping the Bellboys 12-0 last year, the Newarkers showed that they were a fast starting eleven for they pushed over their two scores early in the clash. They also demonstrated that they did not have to depend on aerials to win for them, which makes the Belleville gridirons think that they have more to worry about in halting the invaders' running attack than they do in the passing department.

Missing from the Barringer forward wall will be one important cog, their star end, Bill Westphal, who was voted all-state over most teams last fall. Scheduled to start on the line for Coach Allen are Rocco Cervasio and Robert Poet at the ends, Al Parello and Harold Doris at the tackles, Fred Ferrari and Nick Commisa at the guards with Charlie Fischer at the pivot spot.

DUKES DO WELL AGAINST CAMPERS

Poor Kick In Third Period Paves Way For 7-0 Irvington Win

While 4,500 sunburned spectators looked on the Belleville Iron Dukes held the powerful Irvington Camptown eleven to 7-0 on Sunday afternoon at the municipal stadium. Playing in a near 90-degree heat, the two eleven's battled on even terms for the first half with neither side getting close to pay-off dirt.

A poor kick by the Dukes' Frank Cardinale midway in the third quarter gave the Campers the break they had been looking for and they quickly capitalized on it.

Cardinale's boot, which rolled off to the right, did not travel more than twenty yards. Halfback Harry Kantor running at full speed grabbed it on the fly and scampered down the sidelines to the one-yard stripe before the Duke tacklers could bring him down. Rudy Choborda, the Campers' star back, then stepped back and passed out to the left to Kantor who sneaked over for the six-pointer. With his brother, George, holding, Rudy booted the extra point.

The locals staged their big rally in the closing minutes of the final period. After taking over on their own 30, the Campers started on a downfield march with Rudy Choborda legging it for 11 yards and a first down. The big fellow then flipped a pass to Marty Schwartz which was good for 15 yards. Here the Dukes stiff and with the help of an Irvington offside penalty, held for downs.

Taking over on their own 40, the Dukes plowed back to midfield and a first down with George Tietze's gallop making most of the yardage.

2 More Men Signed By Pros For Contest

The Belleville Iron Dukes will make their debut in the North Jersey professional football circuit Sunday afternoon at the municipal stadium when they will tackle the Boonton Panthers, 1939-40 Morris County champs. Unbowed by the 7-0 defeat they suffered in their opening game Sunday against the Irvington Camptowners, current North Jersey loop champs, and spurred on by the crowd of more than 4,500 who turned out for the tussle, the Dukes worked hard at Tuesday night's practice session at the stadium with Coach Joe Vollmer scheduling another three-hour drill for tonight.

Two new faces will appear in Duke uniforms Sunday afternoon. Veteran local griddier Matty Grum was signed to play end while mite-sized "Rusty" Rusignuolo of Nutley was taken on for a trial.

Grum starred in the backfield at Belleville high back in 1934 and for several years played back and end with the Newark Wood-sides, who are also in the league. Coach Vollmer, with an eye out for good pass catchers, was well pleased with the pass-snatching performance that Grum put on at Tuesday night's drill and said that he may start him at one of the end positions against the Boonton eleven.

Rusignuolo is an oddity of football. Weighing only 130 pounds and measuring not more than 5 feet 3 inches, the bandy-legged little fellow is rabbit-like on the gridiron. Despite his size, he was one of the sparkplugs of Nutley's high's championship eleven last season and starred in the inter-sectional game which the team won at Jacksonville, Fla.

Vollmer frankly admitted that his big worry was whether "Rusty" would be too light for some of the league's heavyweight eleven's, but recalled that he had seen the little fellow bowl over 200-pounders.

Boonton Strong Eleven The Dukes are not underestimating Sunday's opponents. Reports coming out of Morris County indicate that the Panthers, new to the league, will have a strong eleven. In their opening tilt last week, they bowed 12-10 to the Manville Yellow Jackets at Plainfield. They use the famed T-formation with one man in motion, similar to the style employed by the Chicago Bears. The eleven is coached by Tony Ciardi, who starred at Muhlenberg several years ago.

Featured in their backfield is "Jigger" Bradley, a speedy back, who was a standout with Boonton high last year. Bill Holzworth at fullback is rated as one of the best passers in North Jersey. Also in the backfield are Alfie Genesoro, who was an all-state man in 1937, and Fred Mitchko. The latter's brother, Ed, will play end with Jack Kline starting at the other wing post. Kline is a place-kicking specialist and against the Yellow Jackets last week booted a thirty-five-yard placement.

The golden-clad eleven will bring a band of more than 300 rooters from the Morris county town and vicinity. They also expect to have a band. In 1940, they won nine games and lost one, that to the Plainfield Saracens, 13-12. The Dukes beat that club last season, 7-0.

Leo Jay Margolin, Foreign Observer, Will Speak At Synagogue Forum

Returning only a few weeks ago from a prolonged visit in war-torn Europe, Leo Jay Margolin, foreign correspondent for the newspaper PM will speak at a special lecture forum, which will be held in the social hall of Congregation Ahavas Achim, 317 Washington Avenue, Thursday night, October 2 at 8:30. The forum is sponsored by Suburban Essex Lodge of B'nai Brith, which is the oldest Jewish fraternal order in the world.

Margolin toured the continent for PM and had a series of articles and dispatches about the war printed in that paper. During his visit abroad, he made a special study of the connection of the activities of foreign agents in the U. S. with governments of Germany, Italy and Japan.

The speaker has become noted for his expositions of Nazi machinations in the U. S., particularly the real workings of the Nazi consuls in this country.

He was the first to expose the activities of the Italian consuls and his articles were instrumental in breaking a number of foreign money raising projects. Margolin's topic for the discussion on October 2 will be, "Enemies Within and Without."

S. Herman Cohen of Bloomfield will be chairman. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin of the Congregation will deliver the invocation. Edward J. Abramson will greet the audience. A question period will follow under the leadership of Alexander Goldberg of Nutley. The event was arranged by a committee headed by Cohen and composed of Samuel J. Kogan and Edward J. Ackerman of Belleville, Leonard Kann of Newark and David Rapaport of Bloomfield.

There will be no admission charge.

Lutheran Church Commences 10th Anniversary Celebration

Local Lutherans celebrated the tenth anniversary of the organization of Bethany Lutheran church at a dinner Tuesday night in the church hall. Rev. Willard H. Borchers, the pastor, was in charge.

Rev. J. Henry Meyer of Elizabeth, president of the New Jersey conference, and Henry Beiler, treasurer of the United Lutheran Synod of New York, were the speakers.

The dinner marked a series of events celebrating the anniversary which will culminate in a special religious service to be held on Sunday, October 19.

Everyman's Bible Class Will Open October 5

The Everyman's Bible class will open its 1941-42 season Sunday morning, October 5. George W. Tranor, who is well-known as the leader of past Bible groups, will again serve as the leader.

The classes will meet every Sunday morning at 9:30 in the Masonic Temple in Joralemon street.

Generals of the red and blue armies are both planning for a heavy turnout on the first Sunday and are appealing to the members of their respective divisions to help by bringing out new members.

Valley Improvement Group Will Meet Tonight

The Valley Improvement association will hold a social meeting tonight at the Valley House home on Stephens street.

ple's Union, 8 p.m. The Friendly Midgets (boys 8 to 13), every Tuesday at 7 p.m.

ered for the Blue and Gold and momentarily saved the day.

A between-halves pep talk must have charged up the Bellboys for they came out for the third period with more zip and pep than they showed in the opening periods. Taking the kick-off on their own 10, the Zebras with Bill Hunkele and Johnny Walker setting the pace, marched down to the Lyndhurst 30. There, the offensive attack bogged down after an offside penalty and three pass attempts failed. Early in the first quarter the locals were again back knocking at opportunity's door. A poor Lyndhurst kick gave the Blue and Gold the ball on the 40. Walker passed to Captain Hunkele for a first down on the 30. Fullback Jim Findley crashed through to the seventeen and then added another 2.

Miss Golden Opportunity

Hunkele then missed the goal line pass which might have spelled victory for the Zebras. The rally ended when Hunkele was tossed for a five-yard loss on the fourth down.

According to the statistics, the Bellboys played twenty-seven passes and completed eight. They wound up with a minus in the rushing department compared to Lyndhurst's eighty-three yards gained. The Bergenites chalked up seven first downs to the Bellboys' five.

that will work well together. Tuesday night he tried out the combination of Frankie Cardinale, Bud Hollweg, Charles Crocco and little Ruginuola. Against the Campers Sunday, Hollweg's kicking was good and repeatedly set the Irvington club back on their heels when they seemed on a goalward march.

Sunday's game is scheduled to start at 2:30.

ered for the Blue and Gold and momentarily saved the day.

A between-halves pep talk must have charged up the Bellboys for they came out for the third period with more zip and pep than they showed in the opening periods. Taking the kick-off on their own 10, the Zebras with Bill Hunkele and Johnny Walker setting the pace, marched down to the Lyndhurst 30. There, the offensive attack bogged down after an offside penalty and three pass attempts failed. Early in the first quarter the locals were again back knocking at opportunity's door. A poor Lyndhurst kick gave the Blue and Gold the ball on the 40. Walker passed to Captain Hunkele for a first down on the 30. Fullback Jim Findley crashed through to the seventeen and then added another 2.

Miss Golden Opportunity

Hunkele then missed the goal line pass which might have spelled victory for the Zebras. The rally ended when Hunkele was tossed for a five-yard loss on the fourth down.

According to the statistics, the Bellboys played twenty-seven passes and completed eight. They wound up with a minus in the rushing department compared to Lyndhurst's eighty-three yards gained. The Bergenites chalked up seven first downs to the Bellboys' five.

The line-ups:

that will work well together. Tuesday night he tried out the combination of Frankie Cardinale, Bud Hollweg, Charles Crocco and little Ruginuola. Against the Campers Sunday, Hollweg's kicking was good and repeatedly set the Irvington club back on their heels when they seemed on a goalward march.

Sunday's game is scheduled to start at 2:30.
