

Police, Firemen Withdraw Referendum

FIRST COMPLAINT MADE IN STRIKE AT ISOLANTITE

Warrant Out For Arrest of Man; Leighton Denies
C.I.O. Charge

The Isolantite strike is headed for its first round in police court. Police Judge Everett B. Smith last night issued a warrant for the arrest of D'Annunzio Sici, described by one C.I.O. leader as a "gorilla." Sici must answer charges of assault and battery preferred by a girl picket, Gladys Moore of Livingston.

Charges that the police failed to act in a free-for-all disturbance at the Cortlandt street plant on Monday afternoon were hotly denied by Deputy Police Chief Elmer Leighton who has charge of the men who have been detailed to the strike.

Leighton termed as exaggerated the C.I.O. claims that 50 persons were involved in a fight outside of the plant on Monday. There were not more than five, the chief said, and the disturbance was quickly quelled by the police, he claimed.

In reply to the C.I.O. charges that the police were permitting undesirable persons to loiter in the strike vicinity, Leighton said that all questionable characters had been removed from the scene and that two C.I.O. men whom investigation showed had robbed and assaulted complainants against would be removed if they should put in an appearance.

Most seriously hurt of those to date involved in the scuffles was John Moschenos, who has a badly damaged black eye. Moschenos claimed that two men jumped on him as he left his car near the factory. The men grabbed his woman companion and pummeled him when he attempted to go to her aid, he claimed.

It is she who filed the complaint against Sici, who it is alleged is affiliated with the A. F. of L.

The strike is now in its second week. Isolantite, Inc. manufactures ceramic insulators and has numerous government contracts.

Nothing has been learned as yet on the decision of the national labor relations board as to whether or not an election should be held to determine whether or not the C.I.O. or the A. F. of L. should be the bargaining agent. An appeal was made to Washington for a decision. The facts have been placed before the board by Mrs. Elinore Herrick, regional director of the NLRB.

Unhappy vice-president Kenneth D. Hamilton claims that the plant is functioning at almost its normal payroll and turnout of a certain number each day. The A. F. of L. is the present holder of the contract with Isolantite. Its leaders promptly denied the C.I.O. charges that thugs had been employed by them for picketing or guard purposes.

The strikers said that they would stay out until the NLRB settles the case. More than 300, half of the usual number employed by the company, are reported to be working, according to company officials. Both the company and the A.F. of L. claim that operations are nearly normal, while the C.I.O. claims that more than 400 are on strike.

The C.I.O. is circulating a petition which is addressed to the mayor and the director of public safety in which it is urged that all known criminals be removed from town, and also raps the police action in the case. It is this petition plus statements made by several C.I.O. leaders which prompted Leighton's denial of the union's claim.

The petition states: "To the mayor, commissioner of public safety and all other Belleville officials responsible directly or indirectly for the maintenance of order and the safety of the people of the town of Belleville, New Jersey.

"In the interest of avoiding bloodshed and violence, we, the strikers of the Isolantite Company and residents of the town of Belleville, N. J. petition you to immediately remove from this town all the known criminals who have been imported here by the A.F. of L. and are now on the payroll of the Isolantite Company to provoke trouble with men and women who are striking for a democratic union, higher wages and better conditions.

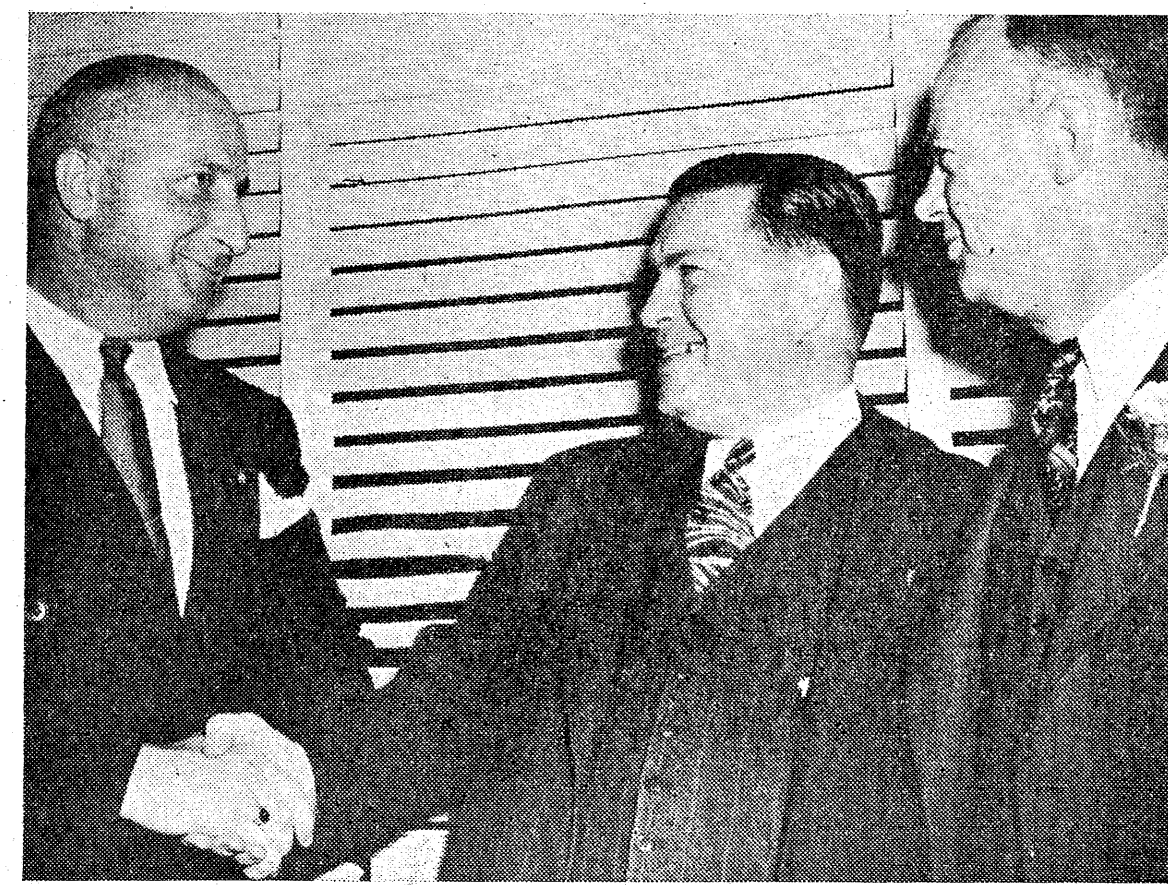

"We ask the immediate arrest and the prosecution of one D'Annunzio Sici who punched one of the girl pickets in the presence of a substantial number of witnesses and who remains free and unmolested. We feel the police of the town should certainly protect women from attacks by outside criminals and demand immediate action in this matter."

Handshaking, Chatting at Big Dinner

DOING LOTS OF HANDSHAKING was the pleasant penalty that Deputy Police Chief Elmer Leighton and Deputy Fire Chief William Dunleavy had to pay at Thursday night's dinner. Former Governor Harold G. Hoffman, principal speaker, is shown shaking hands with Chief Leighton while Chief Dunleavy (right) looks on.

CAUGHT BY THE CAMERA in an informal moment were former Governor Hoffman (left) and Mayor Williams. The mayor apparently had another word or two to get in before he lit that cigarette and Hoffman seems to be hanging on grimly for the last part of the sentence.

Two Face Manslaughter In Death of Woman

Washington avenue claimed its second auto fatality for the year this week when Mrs. Antoinette Evangelista, 50, of 141 Little street died in Mountsinai hospital Tuesday from injuries received when she was struck by a car Saturday night in Washington avenue while crossing in the block between Essex street and Division avenue.

Mrs. Evangelista, according to the report filed at police headquarters, was crossing from the east to the west side of the street about 100 feet north of Essex street, when a car coming north struck her and hurled her across the street into the path of the traffic going south.

She was rushed to Mountsinai hospital, Montclair, in the town ambulance by Patrolman Dunn and Fireman Bechtoldt where she was found to be suffering from numerous external and internal injuries. She succumbed Tuesday morning. Her daughter, Miss Florence Evangelista, who is on the staff at Mountsinai, was assigned to the case.

Two men are scheduled to appear before Police Judge Everett B. Smith tomorrow morning to answer charges of auto manslaughter which were filed Tuesday afternoon. They are Salie Goodman of 36 West 32nd street, Bayonne, who, police say, was the driver of the first car which struck Mrs. Evangelista and did not stop; and Vincent Grant of 235 Garside street, Newark, under whose car Mrs. Evangelista is supposed to have been knocked by the impact of the first car.

The charge of leaving the scene of an accident was filed against Goodman on Monday. A requiem mass will be offered tomorrow morning at St. Mary's church, Nutley, for Mrs. Evangelista. Interment will follow in Holy Cross cemetery, North Arlington.

NEARLY 600 AT CHIEFS' DINNER

Leighton and Dunleavy Are Honored at Newark
Affair

A crowd of nearly 600 attended the dinner last Thursday night at the Robert Treat hotel, Newark, honoring Deputy Police Chief Elmer Leighton and Deputy Fire Chief William Dunleavy. Both men were elevated to their posts by Public Safety Director Clark in June.

Former Governor Harold G. Hoffman was the principal speaker. Police Judge Everett B. Smith was the toastmaster. Others at the speakers table were Police Chief Spatz and Fire Chief Reid, Mayor Williams, Commissioners King and Waters and Rev Joseph M. Kelly, pastor of St. Peter's church, who offered the invocation.

Chief Leighton was presented with a shotgun and Chief Dunleavy a watch. The dinner was arranged by a committee headed by Police Lieutenant Kenneth Smith. Entertainment followed the dinner and speeches.

Deputy Fire Chief On Western Trip

Deputy Fire Chief William Dunleavy is in St. Louis, Mo. attending the International Signalmen's annual convention. He left by car Saturday morning with Mrs. Dunleavy and at the close of the convention will head westward for Denver, Col. where he will visit his brother-in-law, Police Captain James J. Pitt.

On the return trip home, the Dunleavys will stop in Chicago, Ill. to visit relatives. The couple will be gone about three weeks.

Chief Dunleavy did not go on his trip without his second love—his motion picture camera. For his western friends, he also took along some movie taken here so that they can get an idea what Belleville is like.

HARTLEY SCORES F.D.R.'S FOREIGN POLICY

If There's War To Fight,
We Should, Congressman
Tells Radio Audience

Congressman Fred A. Hartley, in the first public pronouncement that he has made on foreign policy in several months, told a nation-wide radio audience Tuesday night that if this country has a war to fight, it should fight and not merely pay the bills. Attacking the administration's foreign policy, he stated that it is a trail of broken promises and confusion. It is congress and not the president which should decide the nation's policy, Hartley told his radio audience, and expressed the fear that Roosevelt's present course is dragging the United States into an undeclared war.

The representative from the tenth congressional district, which includes Belleville, spoke from New York over WJZ and the blue network in a fifteen-minute broadcast at 9:45 p.m. His complete speech follows: "Some of you may not like or fully agree with everything I am going to say but I respectfully ask you to listen for the next few minutes while I discuss the most vital problem facing our country.

"The United States today faces its greatest crisis since the beginning of the Civil war. On our foreign policy, we are a house divided against itself. The manner in which we have pursued our foreign policy has developed the most bitter name calling we have ever experienced. Racial prejudice and religious bigotry once again rear their ugly heads. Such warped judgment is distinctly un-American and should have no place in our national life. In my judgment, it is wrong that anyone should incite such prejudice by labeling the Jewish and those of British ancestry as war mongers and equally reprehensible to point the finger of suspicion at those of our citizens whose ancestry is Italian or Germanic.

"While there may be a small minority in every group entitled to criticism, you will find that in the main they want this country to do that which in their judgment is best for America. To me, it is tragic, therefore, that such prejudices have arisen to disturb our national unity, especially at a time when most of us need unity. Just what is the reason for such discord?

Promises Been Broken

"It is because those who are formulating our foreign policy have constantly promised one thing and have done another. Step after step has been taken in the name of peace and yet after each step was taken, we have found ourselves closer to the brink of war. In order to preserve our traditional foreign policy of friendship for all nations, the congress unanimously passed the 'neutrality law' at a time when the congress and the president, and the American people were thinking in terms of what was best for the United States rather than the interests of some foreign nation.

"Our one thought was to preserve peace here by guarding against the influence, the propaganda and the pressure of any other nation. When the war broke out abroad, those who wanted to take sides immediately started a hue and cry for the repeal of the 'arms embargo' provision in the 'neutrality law.' Those of us who wanted to preserve our neutrality predicted that this would be the first step toward war. The proponents of repeal of the 'arms embargo' argued loud and long that this repeal would preserve (Continued on Page 2)

Board Will Approve Request Tonight; Conference Soon On Salary Raise Schedule

Everybody Pays 5-Cent Tax at Grid Games

You fellows holding passes to the high school football games aren't going to be any different than the rest of us from now on. When you go up to the gate at Clearman field and chestily flash the little white pass on the man he's going to make you fellows hand over a nickel. Yes, sir, starting with the Bloomfield game on Saturday, you Annie Oakley holders will have to pay through the nose just like the rest of us when it comes to federal taxes. This means the town commissioners, members of the board of education, school officials and others (including newspaper reporters). So, start getting up that nickel, boys.

The new federal tax went into effect this week and at a meeting of the athletic council Tuesday night it was voted that the new admission price for all school games would be 50 cents plus 5 cents tax. The tax on the 25-cent student tickets will be absorbed by the council. School Business Manager Ruel E. Daniels said that a similar policy and rate schedule would be followed by the other schools in this section.

1,400 VOLUNTEERS FOR CHEST DRIVE

Biggest Number Ever Will Campaign To Raise
$16,000 Fund

An army of 1,400 workers from 16 organizations, the largest volunteer group that has ever been organized for any local campaign, will do the house-to-house fund raising for the Community Chest drive, Hugh D. Kittle, campaign manager said yesterday.

"I believe the spirit which has been shown by these people in volunteering their help," Kittle said, "assures us that the drive will be a success."

The Chest campaign will open October 16 and continue for ten days with the raising of $16,000 as its goal. Organizations benefiting from the money raised are the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Visiting Nurses' Association, the Community Service Bureau and the Silver Lake Community House.

Several of the organizations that indicated that they would participate in the campaign have declined for various reasons, Kittle said. However, other clubs have been added to the list of those offering to help, he said. "By the cooperative effort of these various groups," the campaign manager stated, "the Community Chest becomes just what it should be—a real community effort."

The new organizations which have joined in the house-to-house campaign this week, according to Nova Bab, the division chairman, include the No. 5 School P.T.A. headed by Mrs. Charles W. Stewart; School No. 9 P.T.A.; Mrs. Nevin Gelin, president; and a neighborhood group of women in the vicinity of Joralemon street and Union avenue who will be organized under the supervision of Mrs. John Massarano of 359 Union avenue.

Hat's In Ring?

Arthur E. Mayer

MAYER LOOKS LIKE FIRST CANDIDATE

Real Estate Man Writes
Fricands He'll Be In May Race

The ice was officially broken this week on next May's commission election. The News learned late yesterday that a number of people about town had received letters from Arthur E. Mayer, Washington avenue real estate man, indicating that he would be a candidate. Efforts of The News to reach Mayer at his office or at his home, 240 Greylock parkway, last night were unsuccessful.

The letters were mimeographed and stated that Mayer wished to apprise his friends of his candidacy before making a public announcement.

The real estate man is well-known in local circles, being prominent in the local lodge of Elks and the Lions Club. Some years ago he was head of the now defunct Belleville Real Estate Board and is now a member of the Real Estate Board of Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley and Belleville.

Mayer is not a newcomer to the town commission parade for he was a candidate in 1934 when he received 451 votes.

The letter which was received about town on Monday stated as follows: "Dear friend: 'This coming May of 1942 there will occur in our town a function which, I believe, illustrates and expresses the 'American Way of Life' far better than the innumerable good things in life that we take for granted.' The Commissioners' election, your chosen representatives for community government. And in this great American Event, I shall compete with my fellow citizens for public office.

"Before making public my candidacy, I should like all my friends to know of my intention, and I shall be most grateful for your help, thankful indeed, if you, in turn, will tell your friends and neighbors that Art Mayer is a commission candidate.

"My heartfelt thanks for your kind cooperation."

Floyd Street Man Retires After 28 Years' Service

After twenty-eight years' service, James T. Phelps of 179 Floyd street retired this week as an employee at the meter division plant of the Westinghouse company in Newark. More than 100 co-workers honored him at a dinner party Saturday night at the Bay View Wheelmen club in Newark.

His fellow workers presented him with a gold watch and a smoker set. The presentation was made by General Foreman Cresswick. Phelps was lauded by Cresswick for the excellent work he had performed as a group leader in the screw machine department.

Other speakers were E. H. Elliott, supervisor of production; Arthur Mattson, foreman of the screw department; and David White of the inspection staff. Robert Wolfarth was master of ceremonies assisted by Howard Lipp, Joseph Daly, Val Johnson, Joseph Marra and Fred Newbuer. Entertainment and music was furnished by various workers in the department.

Phelps has been a resident of Belleville for more than thirty years.

The members of the police and fire departments have decided to withdraw their petitions calling for a referendum at the November election on the question of salary increases of $300 yearly for all members which would become effective January 1 of next year.

The announcement of the men's decision was made by Mayor Williams last night following a conference at his office which he and three other members of the town commission held with five members of the committee representing the police and firemen.

A special meeting of the board has been called for tonight to formally vote on a resolution requesting County Clerk Gates to remove the referendum question from the ballot. Williams said that he and the other three board members, Commissioners Waters, King and Noll, had informally agreed to withdraw the referendum.

Commissioner Clark, head of the police and fire departments, has been out of town on a vacation for several weeks but is expected to return to town late today in time for tonight's meeting.

The mayor said the committee told the commissioners that fifty-seven out of the sixty-two members of the two department had recommended that the referendum be withdrawn. Williams said that he understood that the other members were either on vacation or off duty and could not be reached.

Town Attorney Keenan was instructed to draw up the resolution which will be presented to the board tonight. Keenan attended last night's conference.

Requested Conference Williams said that the committee approached him yesterday morning and requested the conference. He said that the committee members were most conciliatory and that they were sincere in their discussion and presenting their viewpoints. There was a discussion of possible increases in minimum and maximum wages, a revision of the salary ordinance put into effect during Commissioner George R. Gerard's administration in 1935-36 and also about the pension fund.

The mayor would not comment on what was proposed in the way of possible increase for the police and firemen next year, although it is understood that they were prepared to make a request for the board to consider $100 raises with increase of a similar amount to follow in 1943 and 1944.

He said that a conference of the commissioners with the employees' committee would be held soon to discuss the question of pay raises.

The meeting of the board and the policemen and firemen came one week after the commission meeting at which Williams delivered his sixty-minute blast at the employees and urged the public to defeat the referendum. He argued that the town was not financially ready to give $300 increases and also charged some members of the departments with playing politics and making slanderous remarks.

Two weeks ago the employees filed through their attorney, Edward J. Abramson, petitions containing the signatures of nearly 1,000 voters requesting that the $300 pay raise question be placed on the ballot. Abramson said that actually nearly 8,000 signatures had been obtained but that it was not felt necessary to submit all of the petitions.

Alumni Association Meets At 'Rec' House Tuesday

The high school alumni association will resume its monthly meetings on Tuesday night at the Recreation house in Joralemon street. It is scheduled for 8 p.m. New members from the June graduating class will be accepted and plans for dances and other future events will be discussed. There are now 313 active members in the group and it is expected that the number will jump to at least 400 after the signing of new members Tuesday night.

Most of the discussion will center around the part that the group will play in the Community Chest drive and the reunion to be held near the end of December. The association was organized in April, 1940.

Cub Pack's Soapbox Derby Won By Bob Mayers

Perry Street Youngster Cops Mayor's Prize of a Camera; Fifteen Boys Entered in Event Held At Municipal Stadium Hill

With a crowd of laughing parents and other interested spectators to cheer them on, the boys of Cub Pack No. 350 staged their "mammoth" downhill soap box derby at the municipal stadium Saturday morning.

Bob Mayers Jr., of 28 Perry street was able to get most speed out of his home made, gasless special and edged across the finish line first to claim Mayor Williams' prize of a camera. Dieter Zimmerman of 58 Moore place "flashed" across second and received Commissioner Waters' prize of a football for his efforts.

Fifteen Cubs were entered in the contest, all of the boys having made their entries from odds ends of boxes, old baby carriages, wagons and scooters around the house. A few were streamlined. Some had snout noses and stubby tails, while others resembled a ferry boat more than they did a racing auto.

Bob McShane, Fred Solme, Kenneth Snook, Robert Sheldon, Zimmerman and Mayers were the winners in the first heat, with Mayers and Zimmerman copping the semi-finals.

Snappiest looking racer in the field ended in disaster. It was made and driven by Alan King. Painted blue with an aluminum hood, Alan had trouble controlling the steering mechanism and the soapbox special wobbled all over the course, finally getting out of control entirely and going off into the crowd.

Mayor Williams started each race by firing a toy cannon with the help of Cub Arthur Sholy. The staff of the engineering department, in charge of Town En-

Why Agencies Need Money From Community Chest

Boy Scouts Perform Important Job; Many Local Men Devote Much Time to Running The Program in Belleville

(This is the second of a series of brief articles about the organizations which benefit from the Community Chest drive. The purpose of these stories is to inform the public of the work which each of the beneficiary performs.—Ed. Note.)

Boy Scouts
Belleville district, Robert Treat council, Boy Scouts of America, has enjoyed a fine year of scouting. Summer activities included many camp days and nights at Scout Acres and Camp Mohican.

Troop 392, under the direction of Frank Chambers, Harry Gimble and Fred James, have almost completed a cabin for the troop at Scout Acres. Carl Hack, the chairman of the Scout Acres committee, reports that the Scouts from Belleville are camping in increasing numbers there. More Scouts than ever before attended Camp Mohican, the Council summer camp at Blairtown.

Scout Ship 303 conducted many cruises during the summer. Cub Pack 350, under the sponsorship of the Feiwsmith Presbyterian church, the largest Cub Pack in the Robert Treat council, participated in many Cubbing outings and activities.

In line with the emergency program, the Boy Scouts have set up an emergency service corps for Scouts 15 years of age and older who must qualify by training in order to be a member of the service corps. The emergency program is intended to train Scouts to be ready in cases of emergency, such as disasters, hurricanes, floods, etc. Training consists of: first aid, communication by movement and signal, outdoor safety, and preservation of human life.

The corps also trains in messenger service, orderlies, distributing notices, handbills, etc. An actual test of the emergency program was made at Camp Mohican when all the Scouts in the camp were assembled within three minutes, instructions given to find a lost Scout. The lost Scout was found within two hours and brought back to camp. As an additional test the Scouts were told that the boy had a broken leg. The Scout was treated for this and carried down the mountain-side to camp.

In the spring a successful camporee was held which dedicated the new stadium for the youth of the community, at which time the Scouts and leaders camped and cooked entirely on their own for three days. The Scout movement faces a very difficult task at the present time because of the loss of many of its leaders to serve in the army.

The program for the year ahead in scouting is an intensive one including: a public court of honor, under the direction of Fred Evans, chairman of the advancement committee, to be held some time in November; junior leaders' training conference to fit older boys for service; emergency service training course for leaders which will begin on Wednesday, October 15 at the emergency division of the police department in Newark.

Troops Listed
A survey in one section of the Robert Treat Council revealed that three out of every four boys want to be Scouts. In order that boys who are interested may have an opportunity of joining the Boy Scouts, Cubs or Sea Scouts, the following troops and meetings places are listed:

Troop 301, Wesley Methodist church, corner Washington avenue and Academy street, Wednesday; Troop 333, Wallace & Ternan Company, Inc. 111 Mill street, Friday; Troop 350, Feiwsmith Memorial Presbyterian church, Union avenue at Little street, Monday; Troop 369, Thomas A. Edison company, Belmont avenue (meets at community house), Thursday; Troop 375, St. Peter's R. C. church, William street, Thursday; Troop 386, Grace Baptist church, 171 Overlook avenue, Friday; Troop 387, St. Anthony's R. C. church, 55 Franklin street, Thursday; Troop 388, Christ Episcopal church, Washington avenue, Monday; Troop 389, Progress Club of Belleville, 317 Washington avenue, Monday; Troop 392, Belleville Recreation center, Garden avenue and Joram street, Friday; Pack 350, Feiwsmith Presbyterian church, Union avenue at Little street, first Thursday each month; Ship 303, Belleville Fire department, Washington avenue, Thursday.

Boys from 9 to 12 may become members of the Cub Pack; boys from 12 to 15 members of the Boy Scouts and boys from 15 to 18 members of the Sea Scouts and Emergency Service corps.

At the present time there are 86 Scouts giving leadership to merit badge program, as members of troop committees, scoutmasters, skippers, and cubmasters. Training schools are conducted during the year to train new men who have had no previous experience in scouting.

Scouts also assisted in the aluminum collection, distributed Community Chest posters, defense savings bonds posters, safety posters and many of the Scouts worked on the Community Chest.

District officers and committee members are as follows: John P. Dailey, vice-president; Frank L. Chambers, chairman; Hugh Kittle, vice-chairman; W. D. Clark, Jr., district commissioner; Luther Van Pelt, treasurer; Paul Jones, secretary; Joseph O'Farrell, assistant Scout executive.

our neutrality and assure peace for our nation. Let me read you some quotes in support of that statement:

"September 21st, 1939, the president sent a message to congress including the following quotes: 'At the outset, I proceed on the assumption that every member of the senate and of the house of representatives and every member of the executive branch of the government including the president and his associates both personally and officially are equally and without reservation in favor of such measures as will protect the neutrality, the safety, and the integrity of our country and at the same time keep us out of war.'"

Further on in this message, the president said: 'I seek repeal of the embargo through the repeal of the embargo provisions and return to international law. It has been erroneously said that return to that policy might bring us nearer to war. I give to you my deep and unalterable conviction based on years of experience as a worker in the field of international peace, that by the repeal of the embargo the United States will more probably remain at peace than if the law remain as it stands today. I say this because with the repeal of the embargo, this government clearly and definitely will insist that American citizens and American ships keep away from the immediate perils of the actual zones of conflict.'"

"How inconsistent is that statement with our present policy and the new proposal to arm our merchant ships. Further on in the same message, the president said: 'The step I recommend is to put this country back on a solid footing of real and traditional neutrality.'"

"Similar quotations and assurances for the preservation of our neutrality and peace at home on the part of proponents of the repeal of the 'arms embargo' in both the house of representatives, and the senate, as well as the cabinet, could be read ad infinitum, but time will not permit."

"Later on, however, the president of neutrality was dropped and the policy of 'lend lease' proposed in the 'lend lease bill.' Once again, however, the step was taken in the name of peace. Every proponent of the measure assured the nation that by giving Britain the tools with which to fight, we would preserve peace at home. This assurance is summed up by the statements of Congressman McCormick, majority leader of the house, and Senator Tom Connally, the present chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

"Representative McCormick said: 'The purpose of the pending bill is to keep our country out of war and to keep war from coming to our shores later on. Senator Connally said, speaking of the 'lend lease bill': This bill is not intended to get the nation into the war but it is intended to keep it out of war. It is the purpose of the bill by aiding Great Britain . . . to keep the war in Europe.' It is interesting to note that none of the proponents of the measure suggested convoys. And so, with such assurances, that the bill would preserve peace at home, the measure was passed. In doing so, we scrapped the Johnston act, which forbids loans to the defaulter nations, we scrapped our neutrality and then appropriated $7,000,000,000 of our taxpayers' money to carry out the provisions of the act."

"Then came the question of convoys, to which the president declared: 'Convoys mean shooting and shooting means war.' Once again the impression was created that all efforts were being continued to keep us out of war. However, the same round-about manner which had been used in previous steps was once again adopted and the word 'patrols' substituted for convoys. And, to give an excuse to convoy three-quarters of the way across the Atlantic ocean, we occupied Iceland, although troops of one of the signers were there and are still there."

"The congress is now going to be asked to further amend the 'neutrality act' to permit merchantmen to be armed. This along with our patrols in the name of freedom of the seas. Well, I am for freedom of the seas and always have been and would be willing to have this nation fight for its preservation but I do not like to see the term used as an excuse to perform some other task. Those who now shout 'freedom of the seas' were strangely silent when we were prevented from feeding starving millions in the lands of our former so-called allies in France and Finland."

"The time has come for those in authority to stop kidding the public. It is high time that frankness and truth take the place of deceptive campaign oratory. It certainly must be obvious to everyone that we cannot continue along the road we are traveling without definitely heading into war in all probability, an undeclared war. As long as we continue on this path, our war effort and that is what it is at the moment, will be impaired by internal strife and discord. The facts, costs and implications of our involvement in war should be made plain to all. Our people should be fearlessly told that the billions thus far allotted for 'lend lease aid' are but a 'drop in the bucket.' They should understand that the new taxes are but a fraction of those that will have to be levied to sustain a war effort. It should also be made plain that if we enter this war, that our boys' fighting will not be confined to the western hemisphere. Contrary to other assurances, they will be forced to do battle all over the world. The decision of peace or war should not be left to one man, and in the interest of national unity, the decision should be made without further delay before steps have been taken that will so involve us that we cannot retrace them."

"If we have a war to fight, let us fight it and not merely pay the bills. Let us go into it with our eyes open. Let us do it in the truly American way by a vote of the congress of the United States. As one member of congress, I am willing to assume my duty by voting on the question today. The congress should assume this responsibility and the others which have been delegated away should be restored to it. Such a vote should be taken by the congress without further delay in the interest of national unity and in the interest of national safety. Once such a vote is taken, our position will be clearly defined not alone at home but abroad as well. Instead of being divided into bitterly opposing groups as we are today, we will be united under the will of the majority. Once the congress has spoken, there is but one course that any true American can take and that is to accept the decision and give it wholehearted and all out support. Stephen Decatur once said: 'With other nations of the world, may she always be in the right, but right or wrong, my country, I am for her.'"

"It is more important that we prevent a one-man government at home than to defeat it abroad. If we are to preserve democracy and unity, let us start at home and make our decision in the truly American way by a vote of the congress of the United States. As Daniel Webster said: 'Let our object be our country, but our country and nothing but our country, and by the blessings of God, may that country itself become a vast and splendid monument not of oppression and terror, but of wisdom, of peace, and of liberty upon which the world may gaze with admiration forever.'"

OUTLINE PROGRAM FOR NUTRITION

John J. Hewitt Elected Chairman of Group To Conduct It

The Belleville nutrition committee was organized Friday morning at the Women's club when representatives of many local organizations met to hear the design and work of the committee outlined by Mrs. Margaret C. Sheppard of the Essex County nutrition committee. Mrs. Edgar Compton presided.

Delegates were invited from clubs and from those who responded officers were elected and committees were formed to undertake the initial work of establishing the plan. The committee will be a more or less permanent medium for the dissemination of instruction in nutrition which, according to Mrs. Sheppard, "even if it is not needed for defense will be all to the good."

John J. Hewitt, who was elected chairman, also endorsed the project remarking that "unfortunately, most cases of malnutrition are in the upper bracket." Miss Esther P. Adams was elected secretary and Mrs. Rudolph Luhrs, publicity chairman.

Fire Takes Its Toll In Loss Of Life And Property! Do All You Can To Prevent Fire!

The Scream Of Sirens--

The scream of a siren — another fire — with its attendant loss of property and possibly human life. And the saddest part of it all is that it could have been prevented.

Your Fire Chief can recount hideous tales of fires and their toll of property and human life. He has many ideas on Fire Prevention that he'll be pleased to give you — if you'll give him the opportunity. Remember — It is his job to "Stop Fires Before They Start." Why not give him the chance to help you prevent fire in your home or store?

Fire-Nation's Worst Enemy-

Millions of dollars go up in smoke every year — perhaps some of them will be yours unless you take every precaution to prevent fire in your own home or business. Do your part now — today. Check over every possible place in your home that is used for a "catch-all." Have competent workmen check heating plants, electric wiring, etc. It may pay you enormous dividends in property saved — as well as human life.

Check Your Own Home Or Business For Fire Hazards Today!

The surest way of preventing fire is with a periodical systematic check-up. This can be easily and quickly done by obtaining the aid of your entire family. Children should definitely help in this check-up . . . it will make them fully realize the dangers, causes and precautions of how to prevent fires.

1. CHECK all electrical wiring, units and appliances for shorts, faulty connections and overloads.
2. REMOVE all rubbish and waste from basement, attic, garage and around buildings.
3. USE non-inflammable cleaning fluids only! Keep any and all cleaning fluids away from excess heat.
4. KEEP matches away from children. Always be sure a match is completely out before throwing away.
5. HAVE all gas pipes and connections inspected periodically.
6. DON'T bring gasoline into a house.
7. TAKE caution with burning cigarettes.
8. KEEP your furnace, furnace room and coal bin clean and orderly. Keep them clear of any rubbish.
9. ALWAYS have a ground wire on your radio.

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

It was suggested at a recent open discussion by several of the nation's leading bankers that defense savings undertaken now might well be used when they have matured for the purpose of stimulating trade. Past events seem to indicate that post-war depressions come when the stimulus of defense manufacture has been removed from industry.

Since it is within the memory of most of us that the suffering and deprivation caused by such depressions is almost as great a menace as the actual griefs of war, it does not seem unreasonable that we should use any preventive measure at hand to avoid a repetition. Although the mounting reported government expenditures and statistical recordings are likely to cause great mental confusion, it does not take more than common sense for the homemaker to see that "purchasing power" is the most effective possible weapon for controlling the financial welfare of the nation and its individual homes.

The thrifty housewife probably sees at a glance that stored up purchasing power will be a fine remedy for the nation's lean pocketbook when defense work is over and when the first rush of buying those articles which are restricted during a war period has subsided. In other words, it will be a generous patriotic gesture for the homemaker to squeeze a few defense saving bonds out of her budget now and it will be just as patriotic of her mentally to mark them for the purchase of commodities at a time when fresh impetus to the market is needed.

Of course, ten years hence, there may be many things we will want to buy—home furnishings, electrical equipment and even fabrics which will presently either be impossible to obtain or prohibitive in price. If we have performed the dual task of investing money in the defense of our country today and preserving it for our own future needs we shall have much satisfaction. A dollar a week now toward the purchase of that lovely rug or chair which may spell the difference between attractiveness and drabness in your living room ten years from now gives the homemaker a new impetus for doing her bit toward the needs of the moment. She will have the satisfaction of contributing to the restoration of other American homes in future years when a curtailed purchasing power might spell ruinous unemployment.

We continue to give much thought to the problem of bicycle riding as a daily witness the near accidents which threaten many children. If no program is to be adopted in this and other towns which will effectively instruct and curtail the movements of bicycle operators, there is one simple rule which it seems, could be enforced without too far taxing the lethargy of citizens, parents and the law enforcing bodies of the municipalities.

We refer to the absolutely undefined area through which bicycles weave and spin. It hardly seems unreasonable for motorist or pedestrian to ask that on major streets and highways the path of the bicyclist be defined. When you have occasion to pull into the curb on your right, which must be swiftly and expertly done if the usual fast-moving line of traffic is urging from the rear, it is appallingly dangerous (and entirely unnecessary) to find that space suddenly filled with leisured bicycles which are coming toward you on the left side of the street.

It is no less nerve wracking to motorist and rider when it is necessary to turn right into a side street, which again must usually be done with a certain amount of swiftness, to be suddenly confronted with a curb-hugging bicycle, again on the left side of the street. The pedestrian who must step off the curb to hail a bicyclist who shoots past him with sufficient speed to upset him—a bicyclist who has come around the corner (on the left side of the street) and is going to proceed along the avenue in the opposite direction to oncoming traffic.

Since this "left side" riding is practiced by many riders and is yet not universal it appears that there is no real reason for it. Perhaps it is the consensus of opinion that the rider is safer there. Experience should certainly prove to all concerned that this is absolutely untrue. Messengers and professional riders, to whom the public has been accustomed all during the period when bicycle unpopularity made other riders scarce, are in the habit of riding with the traffic, as far as this writer can see; and surely their movements are more easily interpreted by the other occupants of the street and their lives in far less danger than the hordes of undisciplined riders who are in evidence.

Is there any good reason why, for the lack of instituting a simple regulation, a constant danger should stalk the streets? Millions of people are safely transported daily by the simple method of observing normal rules—rules of keeping to the right, stopping and starting. Sufficient requests to the directors of safety or traffic in any municipality should provide the same privilege for the bicyclist. For it is a privilege to obey laws which provide one with safety.

Belleville Youth At College

Jacqueline Snedeker, a sophomore at the New Brunswick College for Women at New Brunswick, is among the students who have been chosen guides for visitors at the tenth annual college day celebration. Miss Snedeker is the daughter of Mrs. Anne A. Snedeker of 572 Washington avenue. College day is sponsored by the State Federation of Women's clubs and approximately 1,000 club women and high school students will visit the New Brunswick campus.

Ten Colgate university juniors including Paul B. Thompson of this town have gone to Washington, D. C., to spend the first semester in close-up study of public administration and political control. Selected from among sixteen applicants, all members of the group are honor students.

Started in 1935 as an experiment in civic education, the Washington study program is now one of Colgate's most popular courses. Government officials and congressmen praise it as especially beneficial in promoting good citizenship. Each student receives fifteen hours of credit for his semester's work.

Three At Upsala

Dorothea Herrmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Herrmann; Frances Gorrin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Gorrin, and Catherine Mighionica, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mighionica, all of Belleville, have passed the entrance requirements and been accepted into the freshman class of Upsala college. All three girls were graduates of Belleville high school. Dorothea was a member of the Latin, German, science and chess clubs. Frances was on the editorial, advertising and business staffs of the high school year book. Catherine attended Essex Junior college for one year.

Local Women To Participate In Home Extension Program

Mrs. John Denike, newly appointed representative of Belleville on the council of the extension service in home economics has announced that the annual achievement day program will be held tomorrow in Christ church, Main and Burnet streets, East Orange, from 10:30 to 3:30. Demonstrations to illustrate how the study of nutrition in the past year helped homemakers to feed their families more adequately will be given by groups from Belleville, North Caldwell, Irvington and West Orange.

Under the leadership of Mrs.

Victor Hart the Belleville group has taken as its topic "Do You Check Your Menus for Calcium?" Mrs. Charles Speed, Mrs. L. R. Reeves and Mrs. Arthur Riker will participate in the demonstration.

Colored slides taken at classes where women have participated in extension service activities under the direction of the home demonstration agents, Mrs. Margaret C. Shepard and Miss Sally D. Splain during the past year will be shown as will be a nutrition film on "Health and Happiness."

Luncheon will be served by the church guild and all members of the board of freeholders have been invited as the guests of the home economics extension service.

Recipe Column

For a return to the hot savory meals which give zest to these cool evenings there is nothing more tempting than a pot roast of beef. Another advantage is that corn on the cob may still be served and makes a nice accompaniment in place of the usual carrots and browned potatoes.

4 pounds beef rump or chuck

1 clove of garlic

3 teaspoons salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper

3 tablespoons lard

1 cup hot water

1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1/2 cup chili sauce

Rub the meat thoroughly with the bruised clove of garlic. Rub in salt and pepper and brown the roast thoroughly on all sides in a heavy skillet in which the lard has been melted. Choose only a skillet which has a very tight fitting cover. Add water and sauté and simmer gently until the meat is done, about three and one-half hours. Turn occasionally. Only add water if necessary. When roast is done remove from kettle. Loosen the browned particles from the bottom of the utensil and sift a little flour into it. Mix into a paste. Return kettle to the fire and add rapidly boiling water stirring constantly to prevent lumps. When the desired quantity and thickness of the gravy has been reached cooked gently for a few minutes. Serve in separate bowl. Carrots and peas and corn on the cob will be nice side dishes. At better flavor peak than at any other season of the year are green peppers. When you have served one meal from your pot roast and perhaps used a few cold slices of the meat you will find that some remains. The following recipe is designed to cope with this situation.

2 cups cooked meat

4 tablespoons grated onion

1/2 cup mashed potatoes

1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning (optional)

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup catsup

1 1/2 cups gravy

6 green peppers

1/2 tomato

Chop or grind meat. Add onions, potatoes and seasonings with gravy to moisten. Remove seeds and membrane from peppers. Fill peppers with meat mixture and place a tomato section on each pepper. Arrange on rack in pan and bake in moderate oven for 45 minutes. Beat occasionally with the remaining gravy.

Former Child Hygiene Nurse Visits Friends In Town

Her husband is now American

Germany, and Vera Cruz, Mexico where he has acted in the official capacity of United States consul.

Here Are The Vitamins That Build Health And Energy

VITAMIN A is the anti-infective and growth-promoting vitamin. Its lack results in susceptibility to colds and other ailments... its insufficiency in children results in scrawnyness and stunted growth. Principal source, halibut-liver oil.

VITAMIN B is "the spark plug of the human system"... it tones the nervous and digestive systems, promoting growth, appetite and energy. It also helps to remove lactic acid from the bloodstream, thus eliminating the feeling of fatigue. Principal sources, yeast and wheat-germ.

VITAMIN C protects and feeds the capillaries under the skin; it helps to heal wounds, and prevents scurvy. Modern diet is usually lacking in this vitamin because it is easily destroyed by cooking. Principal sources, tomatoes and oranges when freshly picked.

VITAMIN D is the "sunshine" vitamin. Tests show that it remedies the disorders caused by the deficiency of ultra-violet rays in this climate's sunshine. Without it, normal formation of blood and bone ceases, resulting in rickets, sagging muscles and decay of the teeth. Principal sources, cod-liver oil.

VITAMIN E is the "anti-sterility" vitamin. It has additional important uses in that it promotes mental vigor and tones the muscles. Principal source, wheat germ.

VITAMIN G is the riboflavin factor of the B vitamin that improves stomach tone, remedies skin eruptions and loss of red blood corpuscles. Principal sources, yeast and liver.

Vitamin Capsules with Liver and Iron contain all the vitamins you need (A B C D E and G), plus liver extract and iron. Two of these tiny tasteless capsules will make a new person of you. Box of 80 capsules 1.79.

Halibut Liver Oil Capsules... each capsule contains as much Vitamin A as 4 1/2 teaspoons of cod liver oil, protects you against coughs and colds. Box of 50 — 49¢. Box of 100 — 89¢.

Cod Liver Oil Concentrate Tablets, the modern, easy way to take cod liver oil; children like the candy-flavored tablets. Each tablet contains as much Vitamin A and D as a teaspoonful of cod liver oil. Bottle of 100, 79¢.

Halibut Liver Oil and Viosterol Capsules... Each capsule equals 4 1/2 teaspoons of cod liver oil in Vitamin A, plus 3 teaspoons in Vitamin D. Box of 25 for 69¢. Box of 100 for 1.19.

A-B-D-G Vitamin Capsules, the original "all-vitamin" capsule, each one as good as 4 1/2 teaspoons of cod liver oil in Vitamin A, 3 teaspoons in Vitamin D, 2 cakes of yeast in Vitamin B, and a half-cake in Vitamin G. Take two a day for a healthy Winter. Box of 25, 49¢. Box of 100, 1.49.

High-Potency A-B-D-G Capsules, biologically standardized so that each capsule contains the recommended daily adult requirement of the five important vitamins. Just one a day for health and vigor. Box of 25 for 98¢. Box of 100 for 2.94.

Vitamin B Complex Capsules contain all five factors of the B Vitamin. You'll soon feel amazing energy and robust health when you start taking this almost-magic formula. Box of 30, 1.09. 100 for 2.39.

Viosterol, USP strength, contains 10,000 Vitamin D units per gram. 10cc bottle 39¢. 50cc bottle 1.69.

Halibut Liver Oil and Viosterol, each gram contains 50,000 Vitamin A units and 10,000 Vitamin D. 10cc bottle 49¢. 50cc bottle 1.98.

This Fellow's Business Is Thrills

If nobody told you that Al Santos was a midget racing promoter, you'd take the mild-mannered little fellow for a bookkeeper or maybe the Fuller Brush man. Least of all, if you waited into him at Broad and Market, you wouldn't think that his business was thrills. You can't tell a book by its cover, and you can't tell what ticks inside of a guy by looking at his face.

Mr. Santos is a thrill promoter of top rank and if he isn't running midget races, he's got a finger in big car races and when he has nothing else on his mind he tears about the country staging the Ken Butler thrill show.

Brother Al brings Butler and his troupe of daredevils to town tonight and to hear Santos tell it you'd think that it would be the most thrilling thing that Belleville has seen since George Washington marched down River road on his famous retreat through New Jersey.

Judging from the publicity releases that have been raining down on the desk for the past week or so, this Butler fellow isn't bothered by insurance salesmen. Any gentleman who's been in a hospital 28 times for occupational smash-ups isn't likely to be a favorite customer with any of the insurance companies that we've come up against.

Apparently, crashing motorcycles through blazing tunnels and making automobiles do loop-de-loops is not enough to keep Butler happy for when it's the off season for his thrills show, Ken heads for Hollywood and the directors who like to keep the movie-goers on the edge of their seats have a field day. Butler is the guy who's in the hero's place when his car plunges off a cliff into space when he's being pursued by holdup men. He's the "heroine" who crashes her car into the robbers who are making off with the old man's last dollar. If there's anything that Hollywood wants in the way of automobile or motorcycle driving, Butler's the fellow who can do it.

According to Santos, who speaks of Butler's feats as though they were quite ordinary events for a human being to be doing to keep him in food and clothing, Ken and his mob will show the folks everything in the book at the stadium tonight and tomorrow.

They Were Surprised

Among North Jersey Professional Football league moguls during the past month or so there's been considerable pow-wowing about the Iron Dukes. The boys raised their eyebrows when they heard that Santa Claus had left them a bankroll for new uniforms and all the other paraphernalia that goes into making a

Tri-Boro Spartans To Visit Stadium Sunday

Thrillers Stunt Tonight, Tomorrow

DAREDEVILS READY FOR STADIUM

Just One of The Thrills

Ken Butler and Troupe Here Tonight and Tomorrow; Expect Crowd

Ken Butler's Thrill Legion moves into the municipal stadium today for a two-night stand which advance tip-offs indicate will be the most spine-tingling show that Belleville has ever seen.

Midget racing promoter Al Santos, whose business it is to distill out thrills, says that as four-star attractions go it is a four plus and beats even his own midget races.

Butler, one-legged stunt man known from coast to coast for his hair-raising stunts, and his troupe of daredevils will go through a two-hour, seventeen-act show ranging from trying to make an automobile fall apart to riding a motorcycle through a twenty-foot tunnel of fire.

Both the show to be held tonight and tomorrow night will start promptly at 8:30. More than 6000 can be jammed into the stadium and Promoter Santos feels confident that local residents and those from surrounding towns will fill the place to capacity for the two nights.

Unlike many star performers, Butler, who hires himself out to Hollywood as a stunt man when not crashing automobiles, is not a one-act performer. He will be seen in nine of the seventeen acts. That Butler's chosen occupation is no soft touch is proven by the fact that he has been in the hospital for repairs and patching up no less than twenty-eight times.

The program will open with Butler driving a car in an automobile test doing half rolls and small jumps. Eddie Payne will then lead the troupe on a spring motorcycle jump off the rear and drag flatfoot through a sheet of glass. Butler will hop back into the limelight with his wall fire crash on a motorcycle. In another act Butler will drive a motorcycle with a sidecar at fifty miles an hour while Mere Cymbaluk changes a tire.

The husky member of the troupe, Stacey Pennington, will support a ramp on his chest while Butler rides a motorcycle over the top of it. Two of the stunters will do a bit of hedge hopping around the track on motorcycles, and then Butler will ride a motorcycle off a ramp and try to jump it over six members of his troupe on the ground. Ken will then get behind the wheel of a four-door sedan and sending it whirling off a ramp, making a complete revolution and righting it back on its four wheels. Pennington, riding on a motorcycle, will jump off a ramp and plummet over two automobiles parked bumper to bumper. As a final wind-up Butler will crash an automobile through a burning house. There will also be numerous stunt and clown events.

SCORELESS TIE

High School Frosh In Deadlock With Irvington Eleven

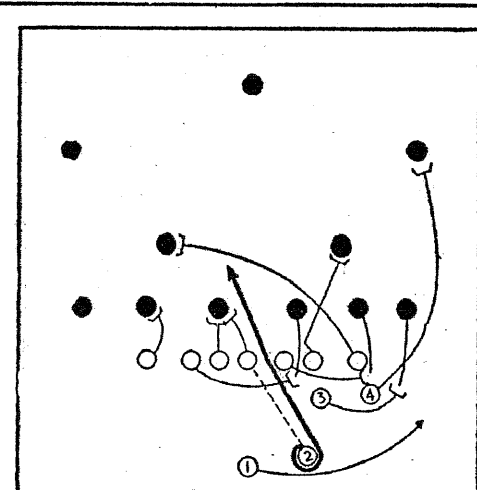

Although they completely outplayed the Irvington frosh for most of the game, the high school freshman eleven could not push over a touchdown in their tilt at Irvington park Saturday morning which ended in a 0-0 tie. For both teams it was their first game in the newly organized Suburban Freshman league.

Both elevens showed their best in the second half when the Campers marched down to the Belleville 17-yard line only to be halted and the Blue and Gold ran and passed the ball to the Irvington three-yard stripe where a fumble ended their scoring opportunity.

The locals chalked up six first downs to the Irvington team's two. Bill Chapman of the high school faculty is coaching the freshman team.

Blitzkriegers Win, 36-24

The Belleville Blitzkriegers trimmed the Victorias Thursday in a 36-24 game at Palooka Field. Captain of the Blitzkriegers is Eric Willette and star player, Lou Dejesse. Ted Lewis was referee. Captain of the Victorias is Buddy Baisley.

The junior football league is composed of eight or nine teams whose members are pupils of School No. 1 and the high school.

DASHING THROUGH A WALL OF FIRE is Ken Butler who will perform the stunt tonight and tomorrow night when he and his troupe of thrill riders appear at the municipal stadium in a seventeen-act daredevil show. Butler is one of the country's best known stunt performers. He was signed by Al Santos, midget racing promoter, for his appearance here.

Bloomfield Bengals Come To Town On Saturday

Teams Have Played Scoreless Ties Three Times In Last Four Years; Belleville Has Not Won A Game In The Thirteen-Year Series

The Bloomfield Bengals, who have been held to scoreless ties by the Bellboys three times in the past four years, will come to Clearman field on Saturday for the thirteenth clash in the annual rivalry between the two schools which started in 1929. Belleville has yet to win a game in the series while Bill Foley's teams have copped nine. The Bengals have rolled over the Blue and Gold for a total of 141 points to two for the locals.

Although not as impressive as they have been in some of the past years' engagements, the Foleymen will come to town with an eleven that boasts of eight players who played against the Bellboys last year.

In their first start last Saturday, the Bloomfielders had a hard job pushing a touchdown over the Newark East Side's goal line to win 7-0, while the Bellboys were absorbing a 20-0 drubbing handed out by Barringer.

The Bengals won on a pass and it is presumed that they will take to the air against the locals for the Blue and Gold showed a weakness against passes in the Barringer clash. Coach Larry Gates, however, has held several drills this week in an effort to correct the faults which popped up in the Barringer game and he hopes that his boys will be better prepared for a possible aerial invasion by the Bengals.

The line backer-uppers showed particular weakness in defending against passes, repeatedly permitting eligible receivers to get behind them where they could grab passes and trot goalward without any interference.

Marfuggi Is Back

The Bengals' backfield quartet will be led by Bill Marfuggi who was a big gun for the Bloomfield eleven last year. Bob Piefke, who saw some action against the locals last year, is a much improved back. Ken Miller is expected to start in the quarterback's role, with Frank Muehlhauser, a big boy who goes almost 200, in the fullback spot.

Six of the seven linemen scheduled to start Saturday saw action against the Blue and Gold last year. Veteran linemen are Walt Leonard and Bob McGowan, the tackles; James Santomier and John Delaney, the guards; John Howard, the center, and Dick Gorman, an end. Roy Lounsbury at the left wing post is the only

BARRINGER WINS IN 20-0 ROMP

Bellboys Show Little Offensive Power; Kee Star For Newark Eleven

A big Barringer eleven rolled into town Saturday afternoon and proceeded to roll merrily over the Clearman field turf and the Bellboys as it pleased. After chalking up a 20-0 lead in the first two quarters, the Newarkers rested on their laurels for the final two periods and contented themselves knocking down the occasional spurts of the Blue and Gold eleven to push over at least one six-pointer.

A crowd of about 3,000 saw the local high school eleven completely outclassed in every department. Lone bright spot in the home team's defeat was the work of the kickers who were on a par if not at times better than the visitors' booters. The Barringer Blues chalked up nine first downs, while the Bellboys gained their lone one through a penalty.

Kee Was Whole Show

A light-skinned dusky back, Vic Kee, was the whole show. His running and passing set the stage for two of Barringer's touchdowns while on another he took one of Hunkele's boots on the Belleville 45 and fancy-stepped and dodged his way through the whole Belleville team over the goal line. The Newarkers began their first goalward march after the opening kick-off. Starting from their own 35, Masino went through the center for 15 yards before he was downed. Kee, a little short on stature for a passer but not on accuracy, looped one to Masino that took the ball down to the Belleville 40.

The Negro heaver then pegged another one to Masino which he carried to the eight-yard line before being brought down. Kee then heaved one over the goal line which fell into the waiting arms of Wingman Poet. Tackle Al Parello converted.

Belleville took over on its own 12 midway in the second period when a Barringer attack was halted. Unable to gain, Hunkele booted to the Bellboy 45 and Kee grabbed it on the run and did a stop weaving and bobbing until he was over the goal line. Parello's placement was wide and the visitors led 13-0.

The Barringer second stringers then went in to show their stuff and while they did not stage any uprising against the Bellboys, they kept them deep in their own backyard. The varsity returned to action shortly before half time.

Kee opened up with a thirty-five yard heave from midfield to Cervasio which he carried over the goal line. Referee Oberdahn called the play back, ruling that Kee was not far enough behind the line of scrimmage when he let the ball ride. The little Negro lost no time, coming right back with a pass to Masino on the Belleville 30 and another to the same player over the goal line that chalked up the third and final Barringer six-pointer. Parello's placement was good.

The lone result of the between the halves talking that Coach Larry Gates and his two assistants, "Jitty" Wische and Wilho Winika gave the Bellboys was that the locals kept the Barringer offensive in check through (Continued on Next Page)

Aerial-Minded Dukes After Second Straight

The Belleville Iron Dukes will tackle their second North Jersey Professional Football league opponent on Sunday afternoon when they will tangle with the Tri-Boro Spartans at the municipal stadium. The visitors will be making their first league start against the aerial-minded Ironmen, who got their first win of the season under their belts Sunday when they smothered the Boonton Panthers 31-0.

Ex-college and schoolboy stars from Rutherford, East Rutherford and Carlstadt make up the Spartan eleven which is coached by Emil Kunz of Rutherford. The team finished third in the North Jersey loop last year and trimmed the Dukes 7-0 in a night game.

Leading their attack will be the highly touted Larry Eigenrauch, former Penn State back. Teamed in the backfield with him will be Mace Dabek, former East Rutherford high backfield ace.

Presenting a forward wall that will average about 185 pounds, the Tri-Boro's stoutest performers will be Charlie Esposto, a cunning guard, and Don Jackson, 205-pound tackle. Both boys played at East Rutherford high school. In a game played two weeks ago at Troy, N. Y., the Spartans lost 12-6 to the Troy Trojans, strong upstate professional eleven.

Pleased by the passing performance which the Dukes displayed against Boonton Sunday, Coach Joe Vollmer fed his charges some new and tricky pass plays on Tuesday night. The team also drilled on pass defense for Eigenrauch is rated as an accurate and long passer. On Charlie Crocco's bulky shoulders will rest most of the passing duties now that Bud Hollweg is lost for the season. However, Chet Kucinski showed on Sunday when he heaved a touchdown producer to Matty Grum that he can fling the pigskin, too.

The Duke management has not made any attempt to fill the gap left by Hollweg's loss. With Gene Dunham, Frankie Cardinale, Joe Rusignola, George Tietze, Buck Peraco, Crocco and Kucinski available, Vollmer thinks that he is well supplied with backfield material. The local eleven lost Harold Weischel, big tackle, to the army this week, but the Dukes were heartened by the showing Jack Morgans, a bull-necked 200-pound guard made on Sunday. Morgans is a newcomer, having come here about six weeks ago from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where he played both scholastic and pro-

Duke Aerials Smother Boonton Panthers 31-0

Bud Hollweg Fractures Left Leg; Three Touchdowns By Passes; Tietze Goes on 18-yard Run; Art Furlong Kicks 30-yard Field Goal

The Belleville Iron Dukes, unleashing a blasting aerial offense that completely baffled a visiting Boonton eleven, sent the Panthers back to their lair Sunday afternoon licking the wounds of a 31-0 shellacking. A crowd of 3,000 watched the two elevens playing their first North Jersey Professional Football league game at the municipal stadium.

Even in their victory romp there was a note of sadness for the Dukes. Bud Hollweg, star back, suffered a fractured left leg on a buck midway in the second period and was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, in the town ambulance where he is reported in good condition. Ed Lowrie, a Boonton player, fractured his right hip early in the game and was later taken to All Souls' hospital, Morristown, in the ambulance.

Three passes, an 18-yard run by George Tietze and a 30-yard field goal by Art Furlong accounted for all of the Ironmen's points.

The visitors opened the game with a flashy offensive that spelled trouble for the home eleven. Taking Reilly's kick on his own 15, Bill Holzworth returned it 10 yards until he was hemmed in by Duke tacklers and then laterally to the fleet-footed "digger" Bradley who sped down the left side lines to the Duke 43 before he was stopped. A Panther fumble gave the Dukes a momentary let-up but midway in the period Holzworth started on another passing flurry with heaves to Bradley and Fred Mitnicko, an end, that was finally halted at midfield.

Crococo Starts It

Taking over on their own 21 early in the second period, Fullback Crococo started the Dukes rolling toward their first score. The bull-necked little back heaved a pass to the left side line to the Duke 43 before he was stopped. A Panther fumble gave the Dukes a momentary let-up but midway in the period Holzworth started on another passing flurry with heaves to Bradley and Fred Mitnicko, an end, that was finally halted at midfield.

Holzworth was thrown for an 11-yard loss on the nine-yard scrum. A Boonton kick went to their own 40, where the Dukes took over and Hollweg zoomed through left tackle for eight yards. Bud, on a reverse pass, then caught the Panthers flat-footed with a long heave to Bob Snade who was waiting to take the ball over the goal line for the first six-pointer. Reilly's try for the extra point was good.

Chet Kucinski started the second drive when he intercepted a Panther heave on his own 40 and returned it to the 50 before he ward wall, but Art Furlong has done a good job there. If Soriano is ready Sunday, Vollmer means to use him for at least part of the game.

In John Reilly, Joe Collins and Ray Tenpenny, the Dukes have three of the strongest tackles in the league. In addition to being an offensive and defensive man, Reilly is valuable as a place kicker. Against Boonton he made three tries for points after touchdowns.

All of the backs showed more speed on Sunday. This was particularly true of Frank Cardinale, former all-stater at Nutley high, who proved to be a disappointment in his first appearance. Against the Panthers, the line tacker ripped off several long gains and Cardinale worked one of the best plays of Sunday's game just before the final whistle when Cardinale faked a buck and passed the ball behind him to Tietze who skirted right end for the final touchdown.

the third and fourth quarters. However, the Blue and Gold team could not get its own offensive machine rolling goalward with any success during either period.

Russ Flynn, Harry Mueller, Walt Antonick and Art Fin stood out on the forward wall while Willie and Findlay looked promising in the backfield.

eleven got off a poor kick which went out on their own 19. Cardinale bucked at the center of the line for two yards and then Tietze taking the ball around right end, as Cardinale sucked in the Boonton defense on a fake buck, scampered over the goal line for the final score. Pick the BEST time—to SAVE time

Note the sharp peaks in telephone traffic in mid-morning, mid-afternoon, and again at seven in the evening.

By making more of your out-of-town calls between the peak periods you will be more apt to find people free to talk; less likely to encounter service delay due to busy circuits; and you will be helping defense activities by spreading the telephone load so that everybody gets better service.

Fire Prevention Observance

The annual observance of fire prevention week starts on Monday. Belleville will join with communities throughout the nation in reminding its citizens of their important duty. Although each year the importance of fire prevention is stressed, it seems that now as never before it is vital, for fire prevention is of great and direct service to national defense.

To prevent losses there must be constant cooperation between the fire department and the residents. As important as the job of putting out fires is the department's effort to get people to eliminate hazards which will prevent fires from starting. Belleville is eager to provide the best protection that is possible for the public and the recent decision of the Board of Commissioners to spend $20,000 for the purchase of additional fire fighting apparatus is indicative of their belief that this town must be well protected.

However, good equipment alone is not the sole reason for a town having a small fire loss record. What most of us fail to realize is that it is the cumulative total of relatively small fires which is responsible for the bulk of the country's fire waste. Fire prevention, to be successful, must begin at home. Defective furnaces, defective wiring, accumulations of paper and rubbish, improperly stored inflammable liquids such as paint and cleansing solvents, cigarettes, matches — such little things as these are the cause of hundreds of millions of dollars of fire loss. A little knowledge, a little effort, a little care and perhaps a little money will make your home safe.

Belleville is fortunate in that it has not had any serious fires during the past year. This is a tribute to the work of the fire department and the citizens. Let's try to make this year an even better one in fire losses.

Every citizen should attempt to learn the causes of fires and how they may be prevented. Whether it be at home or at work, apply what you have learned. It will save you money, it will save the town money — and it may save a life. Also, it may save materials and buildings.

Above all, do not try to put a fire out yourself. Call the fire department. That is their job — and they would rather be called too early than too late.

Understanding What Is Done

The second in a series of articles concerning the activities of the groups which benefit from the annual Community Chest drive appears this week. It is the purpose of these stories to explain to those who contribute to the drive how their money is spent.

The story of how it is divided among the Community Service bureau, Boy and Girl Scouts, Visiting Nurses' association and the Silver Lake community house shows that contributions to the fund are spread over the entire community. No special group or section are special beneficiaries. It is town-wide in the work which it attempts to do and the residents should likewise respond by making the contributions to the campaign come from all sections.

The story of these organizations and how

The Decision of Dr. Clee

Politics and the church do not mix is an old saying, but during the past week the leaders of one group were just as anxious as the other about the decision which Dr. Lester H. Clee would make on leaving his Newark pastorate to accept a call to a mid-western church.

If anything, the politicians were probably more concerned than the churchmen, even though the record which Dr. Clee has established as the spiritual leader of the Second Presbyterian church is an enviable one.

The history of the Republican party in New Jersey during the past ten years has revolved around Dr. Clee. Whether as a candidate or merely as a spokesman, the Newark clergyman has been a key man in the ups and downs of the party. It has been during his time as a leader that the Clean Government faction has risen to power in Essex county and at various times to leadership or a strong minority in the state.

Dr. Clee has been the bellwether of the Clean Government organization. He is a leader who with his platform mannerisms plus his oratorical persuasiveness has done more to sell Clean Government to the people in Essex county than any other single individual. It was Dr. Clee who led the first successful Clean Government assembly ticket. Later, he headed the county slate again as its candidate for state senator and won. He was unsuccessful only in his effort to be

Well, You Can Still Breathe

This might be called national gloom week for yesterday morning the American public started to pay under the provisions of the greatest tax bill in the country's history. Although there will be plenty of grumbling about the new levies with the income taxes of most people being tripled or quadrupled this year, the experts say "you ain't seen nothin' yet, brother," claiming that this year's assessments are nothing compared to the taxes that will come next year, the next, and so on.

It's just going to be impossible to turn around without paying something to Uncle Sam. If you go to the high school football game or to the movies it's going to be ten per cent. Buy an electric light bulb and it's five per cent. Have some friends in for a game of bridge and the tax on a new deck of cards will be 13 cents. If you play pool, you'll pay $10 on the annual tax levied on pool tables. Go into your favorite tavern or liquor store and you'll find that there's a new tax there. Eat your breakfast, drive your car to work, buy a present for the wife or youngsters, make a telephone call, buy a camera — oh, what's the use — this could go on for paragraphs. About the only thing that is tax free is the air you breathe and you'd better watch out about that.

Mrs. William P. Hobby, chief of the women's section of the war department, laid the cards on the table for women when she spoke in New York. "Let us stop talking about the hard lot of our enlisted men," Mrs. Hobby said. "Every possible provision for the welfare of our soldiers is being made as quickly as is humanly possible. Let us also stop the 'Oh, you poor thing, so you're in the army and away from your family and friends?' Keep your handkerchief in your pocket. Instead, invite him home to meet your sons and daughters."

Just in case your pocketbook or your grocer has not told you, the department of labor claims that the biggest rises in food prices during the first part of September were in pork chops, lard, eggs and milk.

We can understand why it takes so long to make a tank. According to expert figures, a light army tank is made up of 17,000 separate parts, excluding parts for the engine and for special equipment such as guns and radio.

The Great National Pastime

Odds and Ends From Other Pens

Tax Cuts Begin at Home

Recently we suggested that the federal government could cut out some two billion dollars of annual expenditures, if it discontinued the CCC, WPA, etc., during the defense boom. We had not great hope that Congress would see the need of such economy while billions were being spent on war effort, but felt it would be highly valuable as an example to the people of such cuts could be made.

Economists say we will have inflation if all the wages now being earned are spent, in other words, a large part of the money should be salted away or taxed away so that there will not be more dollars than goods available to buy. It looks more as though they will be taxed away than that they will be available for savings.

We cannot greatly influence the federal government towards an economy move on non-defense activities, but we can begin economy at home. If federal expenditures are to be so tremendous and the income taxes so much heavier, taxpayers will be less able than ever to bear increased local taxes. It is not too soon to begin considering 1942 municipal budgets. A saving of $10,000 in a local budget would mean more to local pocketbooks than $10,000,000 pruned from the federal budget.

Cold-Shouldering Colds

With a wheezy "blow, blow, breathe and blow" enters the great American demoralizer—the common cold. Early Autumn days are especially inviting to the cold because homes and other buildings frequently remain unheated during the first few weeks of chilly weather.

More to be avoided than rumor-mongers are the sneezers and sniffers, since it is easy to be infected by the latter virus, while gossip can always be laughed off or ignored.

It should be the goal of every person when afflicted with a cold to isolate himself for a few days and thus help reduce the staggering total of respiratory ailments brought about each year, at tremendous cost to business and industry, by those who thoughtlessly subject others to infection.

The "good neighbor" policy was never more imperatively needed than at the outset of the season of head colds, because epidemics of major proportions may easily be developed as a result of the careless procedure of mingling socially when one should be in bed.

But in lieu of health co-operation, it pays to cold-shoulder everyone with a cold, and, if infection nevertheless develops, to admit it and give in. Civilians should take a lesson from the army in methods of fighting colds. When a soldier shows symptoms of sprouting a cold, he goes to the hospital.

Back to the Bicycle

Flocks of jokes have been cracked about the country going "back to the bicycle," in about the same tone as those about "giving it back to the Indians."

But, as so often happens, while the jokes are being made, the thing has happened. The country really has gone back to the bicycle. More bicycles are being built (for one, however, seldom any longer for two) than ever before. The pictures from the Bicycle Age in the Gay Nineties are still amusing, and nobody stops to think that more bicycles are built today and ridden than ever there were in the days when Daisy was being imported for her answer true.

Defense, steel and gasoline shortages have speeded up the building of bicycles, but the business was booming before that, and last year saw 1,330,000 bikes built. This year of 1941 will probably reach a million and a half.

Suggested slogan: "American pedals help beat Goering's medals."

Cost of Living

The cost of doing business and the cost of living is considerably enhanced by our government's widening control of industry, banking and business. As the alleged champion of the poor, the government demands so much data on numerous forms that every business of any size must employ clerical workers and executives whose sole work is to prepare such data. The government's printing and clerical bill in this connection is enormous, thus adding to every man's cost of living. A flow sheet showing what happens to all the data would make an interesting note.

Our Federal government is sincerely interested in the welfare of its citizens, but of late sees only industry, banking and business as the source of all economic and social evils. If, instead of concentrating solely on casting out the devils in industry, etc., it held congressional investigations to find out how to tax and control the business and industrial world most simply and efficiently, and at the least expense to both government and people, we should be getting somewhere if the committees' reports were not shelved. Research and blood-sweating of executives and their staffs do cut prices to consumers, but our benevolent government knocks out all the good work by itself seriously adding to the cost of doing business.

Girls Want H. S. Band To Get New Uniforms

From Jean Takash
285 Ralph Street
Jeanette Williamson
285 Ralph Street

To the Editor of The News:

Sure, we have school spirit—we have a team and we have a band. But what kind of an appearance does our band make on the field? Remarks heard on the bleachers last Saturday were anything but complimentary. Many loyal rooters went so far as to compare our band with the Salvation army. We guess that was because of the likeness of caps and capes.

Just what is it that makes our band lack "that certain something" which other school bands have as they march down the gridiron?

Uniforms! Yes, that's what we think it is. Of course, we may be wrong but that's what we're writing in to find out about.

Don't you think if they had more "snappy football-looking" outfits well, we'll admit that, but outfits that more students would be eager to join their ranks? This would then increase the number of our band and make it look like one that came from a progressing, well-populated town, instead of one that came from the "sticks" of some out-of-the-way village.

Truthfully, don't you think that Belleville high school's band deserves new uniforms? We think the band certainly does their share at the games to deserve a share of the proceeds collected so that they can buy more "Football looking" uniforms for a change.

Besides, at these games the majority of the people are not musically inclined and therefore do not take notice to the few sour notes hit by the musicians, in fact they never even hear them, but they DO take notice to what the band has on and how they march. Our band marches fairly well, we'll admit that, but don't you imagine they'd be more anxious to do even better if they had on better-looking costumes?

Our band lacks something or else it would be more favorably talked about, don't you think so?

Fans! Why is it that you and we don't rave more about our band as students of other schools rave over theirs? Is it because of their appearance; and if so, is it possible for the band to get new uniforms?

For Day Nursery

From Mrs. Julia O. Reiner,
Executive Secretary Bureau,
Community Service Bureau.
To the Editor of The News:

Thank you for your editorial in The News of September 25 urging the organization of a day nursery.

A recent special bulletin issued by the Child Welfare League of America on the question of substitute day care for children of working parents brings out some salient points.

1. "The need for day care of children is being currently reported as a growing one."

2. Care is needed for children from as young as six months to 13 and 14 years — and sometimes older.

3. The purpose of such care is to enable such mothers as need to work and should work, to do so without the necessity of either neglecting their children or precipitously or unnecessarily breaking up their homes.

4. Where such a plan is in operation foster parents are paid rates comparable with the local accepted board rate paid for dependent children.

5. Where the demand is so urgent and extensive that an adequate foster day care program cannot be expanded sufficiently rapidly to meet this increased need; day nurseries located with due regard to geographic convenience and programmed with sufficient elasticity to meet varying needs of parent and child as to hours of care, health, etc., may more quickly be set up to supplement the foster day care program."

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

New Jersey newspapers in the aggregate have carried hundreds of pages of editorials pointing out the necessity for a constitutional convention in New Jersey. Clubwomen and other civic-minded organizations have endorsed it. Arguments in favor of one have been advanced from every angle. The thinking element of the state's population is arrayed almost solidly against predatory political interests. So far as we have been able to ascertain there is no substantial minority of honest opposition. Why, then, cannot such a convention be called?

The answer, frankly, is not very flattering to the political leaders who have espoused the convention idea. The time has now come for action. It is up to men like Governor Edison, Arthur T. Vanderbilt, Dr. Lester H. Clee, Russell C. Gates and Dr. Thomas Bebout to show some game for the bullets they are using up. In his address before the Democratic county committee last week, Governor Edison by inference accused Mr. Vanderbilt and the Essex delegation of bad faith in their advocacy of a convention. This was unfortunate.

The Essex Republican leader has been one of the longest and most eloquent advocates of a convention. The governor knows this and should not use political expediency as an excuse for reflecting on the sincerity of his chief associate in his battle for the desperately needed convention. Neither should Mr. Vanderbilt permit the etiquette of position or the exigencies of politics to interfere with his efforts. Both men are committed to the idea too deeply to wiggle out from under as the seemingly rubber-backed Mr. Hendrickson has done. But both run the risk of being branded a couple of political Falstaffs unless New Jersey citizens are given action of some kind. We say this not unkindly, but as an honest warning that the present delay is likely to prove intolerable rather sooner than later.

Constitution Referendum

It can be stated as a foregone conclusion that the New Jersey senate will not vote for a convention. But there is no convincing reason why a resolution favoring a convention should not have been put through the assembly before now. Certainly such a resolution should go through the next assembly at an early date, and with that authorization Governor Edison should call for a referendum forthwith.

His authority to do so will be questioned in court. Everyone knows that. But let's find out where we stand in the matter. An adverse court decision might be the very thing that would make constitutional reform inevitable. We believe it is inevitable anyway, if our leaders will only give us leadership.

The scandal that has resulted from the testimonial dinner to Safety Director Keenan of Newark may have a salutary effect on the general political atmosphere. Everyone knows about these ticket-selling rackets. They are used as an excuse to shake down those who are deemed ripe for such a squeeze. The whole affair shows how demoralized is the atmosphere in Newark.

Raymond Berry, Democratic candidate for state senator, is one of the most able political campaigners who has appeared on the Essex horizon in decades. He does not possess the dynamic oratory of Dr. Clee but he has about everything else a candidate needs.

Drunk Driving Revocations Increase 10%, Magee Says

A total of 7,661 motor vehicle licenses, including 865 for drunken driving, were revoked in New Jersey as of September 1, according to announcement by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee this week. The increase in both total and drunken driving revocations was 10 per cent, over the corresponding period of last year.

Following is a comparative record of revocations:

Eight Months 1941	1940

SUCCOS SERVICES AT SYNAGOGUE

Feast of Tabernacle Will Be Commemorated Sunday, Monday and Tuesday

Special religious services commemorating the holiday Succos, the Feast of Tabernacles, will be held by the Congregation Ahavas Achim Sunday night at 5:15 and on Monday and Tuesday mornings at 9:30. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate at all services.

Succos, which falls on the fifteenth and sixteenth days of the Jewish month, Tishre, lasts for nine days. The final days of the holiday will be observed on Monday and Tuesday, October 13 and 14. The holiday is of agricultural as well as of historical importance to the Jew. While the Jews dwelled in their own land, Palestine, the adults made the tri-annual pilgrimage to the Temple in Jerusalem during the time of the fruit harvest. The festival is observed as a thanksgiving at the completion of the entire harvest.

Succos also commemorates the wanderings of the children of Israel in the wilderness after their deliverance from Egypt. During their trip to Palestine, the Jews lived in booths or succos. This is remembered by erecting booths in which appropriate prayers are said during the days of this festival.

One of the beautiful customs of the holiday is the use of the "Arboh Minnim," the four kinds of plants, the lulav or the festive palm branch; the esrog, a Palestinian lime; the hadassim, myrtle twigs; and the aravos, or the willow branches.

All these serve to remind the Jew of the agricultural significance of the holiday and of the eternal bond that exists between the Jew and Palestine.

A Succah, or booth is built on the side of the Synagogue and will be decorated by the Sisterhood of the congregation. After the services, appropriate prayers will be recited in the Succah. All are welcome to attend these services.

There Can Be No Curtailment of Dodge Quality
... No Substitute for Dodge Dependability

BOWEN, C.B.S.
THURSDAYS, 9 TO

The New and the Finest Dodge

EVERY MAN OR WOMAN who buys one of these new Dodges will get for his money the very finest car that Dodge has ever turned out. He will get it, of course, from a smaller total production, because the Government of the United States has first call upon Dodge factories and men. But, we repeat, every civilian buyer of Dodge motorcars will receive for his investment all of the traditional Dodge quality at higher levels of endurance, performance and economy than Dodge has ever supplied them before.

Power-Flow Engine—For All-Fluid Drive

He will get, literally, the climax value of twenty-seven years of fine car engineering. He will get the phenomenal success of Dodge All-Fluid Drive. He will get the new Power-Flow Engine, designed and adapted as the more powerful complement to the fluid smoothness of Dodge All-Fluid Drive. He will get a motorcar of lifetime lasting qualities, in which riding and driving have become almost the same thing—except that the driver gets the added joy of command.

Is This Asking Too Much?

People by the hundreds who have driven the new Dodge say almost the same thing. They say they could not, and would not, go back to the old way of driving. It is not asking too much, we believe, that you investigate these revolutionary Dodge qualities.

You should experience the ebb and flow of Dodge power, at any speed, in any traffic, with or without shifting gears as you may wish. You should measure its new economy against the old, and realize that Dodge, all by itself, has turned the corner into a new day of motorcar performance, long life, and Dependability.

Dependability—Forever the Watchword
It is unquestionably true that fewer cars will be built this coming year, according to your own defense requirements. But, above all, it is true that there can never occur any curtailment of Dodge motorcar quality—and no substitute, ever, for Dodge Dependability.

A new Dodge car is a basic investment for the years.
