

ALL'S BEEN QUIET ON ISOLANTITE STRIKE FRONT

Mass Picketing Is Halted By Temporary Injunction; CIO Answer Tuesday

All was quiet this week on the Isolantite strike front. From four to 10 pickets tramped up and down in front of the Cortlandt street plant daily under the eyes of the police, but there was no outburst of any kind following the granting of a temporary injunction by Vice-Chancellor Bigelow in Newark on Friday.

The company, through their attorneys, Pitney, Hardin & Skinner, had applied for the writ to prohibit mass picketing and other acts which it has been charged by Isolantite officials the strikers have committed.

The strike of members of the United Electrical, Radio and Marine Workers of America, CIO affiliate, is now in its fourth week and appears outwardly to be no nearer settlement than it was three weeks ago. Meanwhile the plant, which holds a contract with the Chemical and Oil Workers' Union of the American Federation of Labor, is continuing operation. Most of its work is in defense contracts.

A. F. of L. members working in the plant went to and from work this week without being disturbed by pickets or strikers as had been previously charged by both company officials and some of the employees. Barred from mass picketing, some of the strikers congregated at their Stephens street headquarters.

The CIO will have its day in court next Tuesday when Vice-Chancellor Bigelow has ordered the union's representatives to appear and show cause why the injunction should not be continued. Samuel L. Rothbard, Newark attorney, is the lawyer for the union. Rothbard intimated over the weekend that if Bigelow should continue the injunction, the CIO would carry the case to the Court of Errors and Appeals. "We do not believe," Rothbard stated, "that the vice-chancellor has a right to issue any kind of a restraint under the anti-injunction acts."

Prohibits Injunctions
The attorney said that the state law prohibits injunctions, and that United States Supreme Court cases hold that picketing is constitutional providing that there is no violence. He contended that the only testimony given before Vice-Chancellor Bigelow to substantiate the company's charge of violence were several allegations of name calling, face slapping which he said that he did not think could be classified as violence of such a kind that it would warrant the issuance of an injunction.

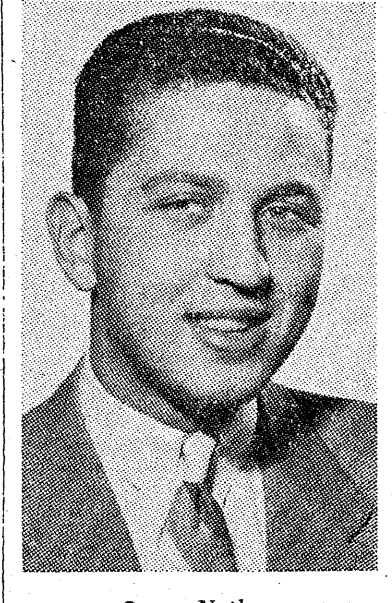

Both Kenneth D. Hamilton, vice-president and general manager of Isolantite, and Deputy Police Chief Elmer Leighton testified before Bigelow on Friday that there had been several cases in which employees had been struck since the strike started. Chief Leighton said that policemen had been attacked on several occasions. Several employees also testified that they had been struck by strikers.

None of these cases have been tried as yet. All are scheduled for a hearing before Recorder Evert Smith in police court Friday morning. They were scheduled to be heard on Tuesday but Attorney Rothbard said that it would be impossible for him to attend.

Vice-Chancellor Bigelow's order provides that not more than 10 pickets shall be on the picket line at one time and that they (Continued on Page 2)

Woman's Club Is Observing Its 25th Anniversary

Silver Tea and Reception Will Be Held Oct. 27; Organization Was Formed in 1916 as Belleville Improvement Association; Have Led in Affairs

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Belleville Women's club is being marked this year. The first of numerous events scheduled for the silver anniversary will be held on Monday afternoon when a tea and reception will be tendered the presidents of the various local women's organizations and the past presidents and original officers of the Woman's club.

Organized in 1916 as the Belleville Improvement association, the group had as its first president Mrs. Herbert B. Vail, who is still a member of the club. Mrs. William Jacobson, who is now chairman of the clubhouse trustees, was the first treasurer.

In the original outline of its activities, the club stated that it had as its object: "to render the members helpful to one another and useful to society and to cooperate for the betterment of social conditions."

The organization had a three-fold purpose at the outset—the promotion of the health and beauty of the town, and the improvement of moral conditions of the community.

It was not long before the women took a lead in local activities. When war was declared in March, 1917, the members quickly responded to the appeal of the Red Cross for assistance and took an active part in its work for the duration. Through its hospital auxiliary after the Armistice, the club supplied food, fruit, candy, tobacco and other articles to the County Isolation hospital.

In 1919, when a campaign was started to raise funds for the war memorial which now stands in front of the town hall, the women's organization was one of the first to contribute.

Step Toward Service Bureau
Throughout its early existence the club women showed an active interest in promoting a public welfare program. Through their efforts a trained case worker was obtained from the Children's Aid society to work among the town's needy and sick families. This was the first step toward the organization of the present Community Service Bureau.

In 1923, the social service department put on an urgent campaign for the appointment of education nurses. The board of education finally named three nurses for the work. In February of the same year, a nurse was engaged for part-time duty by the social service department, which later (Continued on Page 6)

Leonard Willette Refinishes Newark Church Painting

Leonard Willette, son of Lieut. and Mrs. Lawrence Willette of 137 Stephens street was assigned the task of doing over completely the life-sized picture of "Christ The Good Shepherd" which covers the wall in the rear of the altar of St. James' church, Union street, in Newark.

The painting was done 35 years ago, and dedicated to the ministers of the Methodist denomination who served the St. James church. Many of the members and officers were reluctant to entrust the work to an artist so young as Willette, who is 18. But others who had seen his work urged that he be given the opportunity to show his ability. The picture was under the brush of the young artist for seven months. Sunday afternoon it was unveiled before a large assembly and rededicated.

Willette is a former pupil of P. Webster Deihl, art instructor at the high school. Leonard attended the Art Students league in New York for two years, and is now attending New York university evening school for a degree. He is also interested in military training and attended the dinner given last night in honor of Captain William D. Nabors, who is in America on leave from his post as United States military advisor to the Republic of Liberia. Young Leonard accompanied his father, who is a personal friend of the visiting advisor.

Shades of Old Erin Will Be Seen At Petrean Dance

Annual Irish Dance Will Be Held Tomorrow Night; Roller Skating Party Tonight; Recordings By Strauss To Be Heard By Music Group

An assortment of Irish reels and jigs with some modern American favorites tossed in will be seen tomorrow night as the Petrean club members, their girl and boy friends and others swing out at the annual Irish night program to be held in St. Peter's hall.

In addition to music by Shaun Hayes' Irish-American orchestra, there will be entertainment by the nine Comerford sisters, ranging in age from four up, and Irish ballads by Michael O'Toole, Petrean club member.

Rev. Joseph M. Kelly is the honorary chairman assisted by a committee headed by Gilbert Howley with Edwin Byron in charge of tickets. Other committee members are Thomas Dowd, Petrean president; Andrew Monaghan, James Donachie, John Monaghan, Joseph Heggins, Edward Matt, Robert Petrella, Richard Matt, James and William Salmon, William Brady, Eugene Barnett, James Kennedy, Eugene Neary, Philip O'Toole, Doris Neary, Dolores Hanley, Helen Jones, Doris Smith, Kathryn Donahue and Rose Salmon.

The dance is for the benefit of the entire parish.

Those planning to attend the roller skating party tonight at the Highway arena in Union will leave in cars from the club rooms at 7 p.m.

The music appreciation group in charge of Frederick Fischer will hold its first recordings concert program Sunday afternoon at 3 in the club rooms. Strauss waltzes will be played and a five-minute lecture will be given on the composer and the theme of his music.

The first aid class conducted by instructors provided by the Red Cross held its weekly session last night. Originally planned for Monday night, it was postponed because of Columbus day.

The entertainment committee will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 to make plans for the Halloween party and social to be held Tuesday, October 28.

The club has started a subscription fund for those members in the service. There are now 12 Petrean boys and one girl in the army. The fund will be used to buy Christmas gifts which will be sent to them.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN WILL OPEN TODAY

Kittle Urges Wider Participation In Drive of 1,500 For $16,000

More than 1,500 Community Chest workers opened their drive today to raise $16,000 for the fund during the next 10 days. Under the chairmanship of Hugh D. Kittle, high school principal, the fund-raising campaign to secure money for the five participating organizations is scheduled to run until Sunday, October 26.

The drive got off to a good start yesterday afternoon, when W. Douglas Clark, Jr., and Clarence Lommerin, joint chairman of the industrial, out-of-town and special gifts division, reported to Campaign Manager Kittle that they had already raised $5,000 among these three groups.

Kittle took this opportunity to make an appeal to the townspeople for wider participation in the drive.

"The Community Chest should be the responsibility of all of us," he said, "not just a minority group. Our records show that the Chest in past years has depended too much on the industrial, special gifts and out-of-town contributors to make it a success. This is a drive to benefit the people of Belleville and as many of them as possible should make a sincere effort to do their part."

Records of the Welfare Federation which annually has charge of the campaign, show that $13,432.66 was raised in 1939. Of this amount, $7,785.25 came from the three divisions which were named by Kittle. The same groups did even better last year when they contributed $929.62 out of the total of $15,043.47 which was raised.

Only 20 Percent of Total
The figures show that the house-to-house canvassing was responsible for only about 20 percent of the amount which was received. In 1939, residents gave to house-to-house workers $2,958.37 and last year, $3,071.55.

A new plan is being attempted by Kittle this year in the hope that a greater amount of money will be obtained by the house-to-house division. When drive plans were first announced, the campaign manager appealed to local organizations to offer to take over the work of the house-to-house workers. A number of groups volunteered and the town has been sectioned off with organizations assigned to each section.

Kittle is hopeful that the campaign will top the $16,000 mark, even being optimistic enough to feel that it is entirely possible that the $20,000 mark will be reached.

"Although we have asked the townspeople to contribute only $16,000," Kittle said, "the need of every one of these organizations is greater. In estimating their needs, they and the budget committee of the Welfare federation pared their figures down to the minimum at which they could afford to conduct their programs."

The Community Service bureau is scheduled to receive $9,000; Boy Scouts, $2,000; Girl Scouts, $1,250; Silver Lake Community house, $750; Visiting Nurses' association, $600; emergency fund reserve, $1,000; and campaign expenses, $500.

The town commission on Tuesday night passed a resolution that the following division leaders and committee heads are assigned: (Continued on Page 2)

H. S. Musical Organizations Elect New Officers

Officers selected for the governing body of the high school's seven major musical organizations were announced this week. They are Miss Kathryn Haffner, president and Kathryn Haffner, George Stalter, secretary and William Akers, treasurer. This group, under the guidance of Mrs. Alice Wagner, music director, will have charge of all musical endeavors for the coming year.

Instrumentalists and singers under the leadership of the high school's band of which William Kindt is president, the orchestra headed by George Stalter; girls choir, Miss Begley, president; boys' choir, William Akers, president; Monday and Tuesday glee clubs, Miss Haffner and Thursday and Friday glee clubs, Alice Griffin.

The annual musical survey of the school has just concluded during which 1,000 students filled out questionnaires and 400 were given interviews and auditions.

During the course of this survey many students, who might not have come forward voluntarily for musical participation, have been enrolled in the various groups. The exchange and purchase of new instruments for beginners has also been arranged.

SALARY QUESTION CAUSES FLURRY

Mayor and Waters Tangle With Burns Over Raises; Deny Promises

The question of pay increases for the police and firemen provided the only excitement at an otherwise quiet meeting of the town commission Tuesday night. Mayor Williams and Edward Burns of 31 Hill street, a regular onlooker at most commission gatherings, got into one of their frequent word tussles with Commissioner Waters finally jumping in for a few words.

The flurry wound up with the statement by both Williams and Waters that they had made no promise of a $100 increase to the police and firemen, which had resulted in the employees' committee requesting that the $200 pay increase referendum be removed from the ballot.

The mayor had previously denied that any commitment had been made to the police and fire committee outside of an understanding between the group and commissioners that there would be a meeting to discuss the salary ordinances which affect the members of the two departments. After the meeting, Commissioner Waters denied reports that he had met with the committee prior to its meeting with the board. He said that he had said that he was favorable to a $100 per year increase for the men would be suitable, but that he had not made any promise and that "anyone has a right to make a suggestion."

It would be a lot easier on the taxpayers, the commissioner said, to give the men a $100 increase than it would a $300 pay jump had the referendum stayed on the ballot and been passed at the November election.

Burns started the ball rolling at the board's conference with a query directed at Mayor Williams as to whether or not any promise had been made by the commissioners to the police or firemen that they would receive $100 raises.

Committee Took Initiative
"I believe and think all other commissioners believe," Williams replied, "that the initiative was taken by the committee."

"The action of the town commission deprived me and other citizens of the right to vote on the question. I think we should have that right. You, Mr. Mayor, have expressed yourself and I wonder if the other commissioners have made promises to the police and firemen."

"I've always believed in high wages," Commissioner Waters injected at this point, "and if a committee came to me and said rather than put $28,000 on the public tax bill in one year, it would favor $100 per year per man, I say open that if conditions hold up I'm in favor of this method. I think they deserve more money, but I thought $300 was too much at once."

"Oh," popped up Burns, "you mean that you are one of the parties who approached the committee? I heard such reports."

"No, no, no," retorted Waters. "I have made my statement. I approached no one. I was willing to sit down with the committee." (Continued on Page 7)

DRAFT OFFICIALS HAVE PROBLEM

Board Doesn't Know What To Do With One-Year Army Men

Draft board officials had a new problem added to their many ones this week when two men were mustered out of the army after a year's service and the board was puzzled about what to do with them. Are they now eligible for another hitch in the army under the selective service act? If not, how should they be classified?

A search through the pages and pages of rulings which have come from national and state draft headquarters did not shed any light on the situation, so yesterday afternoon the board had two registrants on their hands with whom they did not know what to do.

Domenick Federici of 146 Heekel street and Bennie Giordano of 147 Heekel street were among the 99 men who were discharged from the 44th division rear attachment at Fort Dix during the past week.

These men enlisted for one year in October, 1940, prior to the enforcement of the provisions of the selective service act. At that time, the army was accepting enlistments for one year. They do not come under the eighteen-month extension law, which prolongs the service of selectees and regular army reservists.

Put In Rear Detachment

The rear detachment of the 44th division was formed when the 44th went to North Carolina on first army maneuvers three weeks ago. Those who were eligible for discharge during the maneuver period were assigned to the detachment.

The men were registered by the draft board this week but whether or not they should be classified according to their present status or should be placed in some special classification, the draft board did not know. Disposition of their cases is being held up by the board's pending advice from national headquarters in Washington, which as yet has not ruled on cases of this type.

Creylock Parents To Hold Mock Wedding Tomorrow

A dress rehearsal was held Tuesday evening for the comedy wedding and entertainment which will be presented tomorrow evening by 50 members of the Greylock Parent Teacher association. Mrs. Armando deArango is director of the affair which is open to the public.

Members of the cast of the mock wedding ceremony and impersonators of attending celebrities have not been revealed as their identification will be part of the surprise for the audience. A group of attendants surrounding the principals of the wedding party promises a continuous series of laughs. Distinguished guests will represent the town's leading educators.

Fred Mason will sing during the performance. Games afterward will be led by Lewis Canarrell a member of the recreation department of the Newark board of education. Refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. Wilbur Riker, hospitality chairman.

John F. Coogan, tax assessor and deputy director of the department of revenue and finance, has resigned, was learned by The News last night. Coogan tendered his resignation to Mayor Williams, his superior, on Tuesday morning. The tax assessor admitted late last night that he had resigned from his $3,500-a-year position and the mayor confirmed it at an early hour this morning.

Coogan's term as tax assessor would not have expired until July, 1942. He was first appointed tax assessor in 1930 and has held the post continually since then. He has been deputy director of revenue and finance for the same period.

The tax assessor's resignation will take effect on November 1. Mayor Williams' only comment following the receipt of the resignation was concerning the selection of a successor.

"We will endeavor," Williams said, "to follow the usual policy of promoting worthy employees. The selection of a successor to Mr. Coogan is now being studied."

Charles Watson, who has served as assistant assessor to Coogan, has been in the department for five years. While no inference was made by the mayor that he would be Coogan's successor, he is the best acquainted of those in the department with the assessing office.

Coogan would not make any comment prior to the statement given out by the mayor. "In deference to the head of the department," Coogan said, "I do not wish to make any comment until after he has been afforded the opportunity to comment."

Comment In Coogan Letter
Early this morning following the mayor's revelation that Coogan had resigned the office which he had held for the past eleven years, the retiring tax assessor released the letter of resignation which he had submitted to the mayor.

In it he said in part: "Both of us, I am sure, recognize the fact that too frequently we are not in accord."

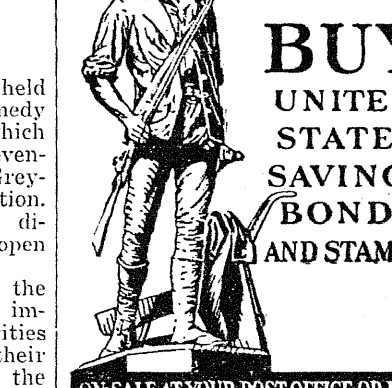

It is understood that Coogan is contemplating the acceptance of several offers of private employment.

Coogan, who is 43 years old, was born in Harrison, N. J., five years ago. He has spent the past 18 years and now lives at 1 Elm place with his wife and two children, John, 3rd, and Regina. His father, John F. Coogan Sr., who is 82 years old, resides at 114 Adelaide street. He was educated in the local public schools and then held his first job in Wall street.

At the age of 18 he enlisted in the U. S. marine corps. After being honorably discharged from service he took a position as advertising sales representative with the Knapp Co., a subsidiary of the American Lithograph company.

Why Agencies Need Money From Community Chest

Community Service Bureau Outlines the Work Which It Is Called Upon to Perform; Breaks Down How It Can Spend $10,000 Annually

(This is the fourth and final of a series of brief articles about the organizations which benefit from the Community Chest drive. The purpose of these stories has been to inform the public of the work which each of the beneficiaries performs.—Ed. Note.)

COMMUNITY SERVICE BUREAU

In Belleville, as in most American communities the family agency (Community Service Bureau) was one of the first social services to be developed. This is no accident. The institution of the family is basic to our civilization. No disaster frightens us more than the threat of its disintegration, either in the individual case or in the mass. We are certain of one thing, that in the year to come the Community Service Bureau will use the funds raised by the Community Chest to assist at the cross roads—those who need help with their personal problems.

In the future as in the past the Community Service Bureau will do its part in helping families meet their difficulties in a way that renews their capacity for happiness and useful living.

Certain radio programs purport to solve the problems of five to 10 families inside half an hour. Magazines and newspapers are full of easy advice to the troubled. Small wonder, then, that the real activities of welfare agencies, particularly those engaged in family-service have not been clearly understood.

Yet all of us have had the experience of taking well meant advice and finding, in the long run, that it has done more harm than good. Sooner or later we have come up against the realization that we must carry our own responsibilities, shouldering them as best we can.

Nothing To Fall Back On

The Community Service Bureau offers no "mass remedy" for no two people and no two problems are alike. Unless we help each person get at the real core of the difficulty he brings, then in the long run we can give no lasting service. Most of these who seek the Community Service Bureau's help have no friends or relatives or resources to fall back upon. They have only themselves. We cannot take their troubles away, but we can help them search out new directions to wards happiness and independence. A family welfare agency is concerned with the fabric of family life, with keeping alive its spirit and strength. And this can only be accomplished through a thoughtful, painstaking process which involves close understanding and joint planning between the case worker and each person in trouble who comes to the Community Service Bureau. It is this very participation of the case worker in the plans, efforts and realistic hopes of the person seeking help which eventually gives him the will and ability to find a way ahead in spite of obstacles. This is what we mean by "case work"—the technical name which describes our services. In essence case work is a confidential, intimate, person-to-person means of helping people discover ways out of trouble. The case workers at the Community Service Bureau are specialists in understanding human life and in knowing how to help. They have studied in graduate schools of social work and in addition have a real interest in people as well as in their difficulties. Workers have at their finger tips a knowledge of community resources. They are familiar with the workings of public agencies, with the procedures of referral to hospital clinics. They know the specialties of employment agencies and about activities available for recreation.

BACK TO WORK—WITH GOOD VISION

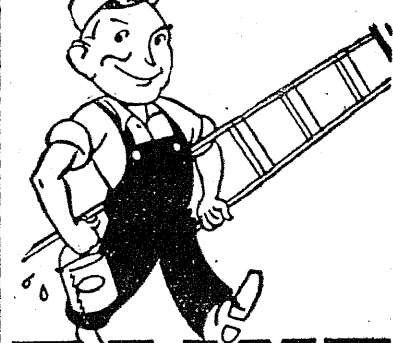

Have your vision checked before the long months of winter work begins. Good eyesight means work more easily performed—more work accomplished—better work. It means more energy left for pleasure in the leisure hours after work. It means better looks, better dispositions, better income, better living.

Have your vision checked—now—before the long months of winter work begins.

PAINT

When cooking fumes turn kitchen walls yellow...

Don't worry. That happens in nearly every kitchen. And, if you've used a good paint, it's probably not the paint that's turned yellow but it's the accumulation of cooking greases.

What to do? Well, if it happens to be a cheap paint that can't be washed satisfactorily—then all you can do is to repaint the kitchen.

If that's necessary, this time use a good WASHABLE wall paint like Devoe Velour Gloss or Semi-Gloss. Grease, fingerprints, pencil marks, etc., are removed easily, quickly with mild soap and water. And washing will leave repainting.

Keeps The Flavor Better

EVEN FURTHER PROTECTION for the family's coffee supply has been perfected and glass jars with patented seal-tight covers will soon be in evidence. It has also been discovered that coffee's flavor is better when stored in the refrigerator.

Perhaps the perfect preservation of its precious oils has something to do with that. At any rate if a beguiling sniff of coffee greets you each time you open your closet door, you know you're sacrificing some of the flavor. Try the new glass container for better vision, too.

Fitzgerald-McCann Wedding Takes Place Saturday

The marriage of Miss Helen Marie McCann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. McCann of Belleville avenue to James T. Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Fitzgerald of Smallwood avenue will take place Saturday morning at 10 with a nuptial mass at St. Peter's church. The pastor, Rev. Joseph Kelly will perform the ceremony.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Thomas Hane of Montclair will play the organ and Mrs. Gertrude Dillon of this town will be the soloist.

Miss Mary McCann, of this town sister of the bride-elect, will be the maid of honor, and another sister, Miss Peggie McCann and a cousin, Miss Kathleen Ryan both of this town, will be bridesmaids. Robert H. Fitzgerald, brother of the bridegroom-to-be will be best man, and John McCann, brother of the bride-elect, and John Fitzgerald of Clifton, brother of the bridegroom-to-be will usher.

The bride will wear a gown of white faille taffeta made princess style with a sweetheart neckline and a long train. She will wear a fingertip length tulle veil in sweetheart bonnet style. She will carry a prayerbook with a white orchid.

The maid of honor will be dressed in romance blue moire taffeta with a net skirt over the moire and will wear a matching sweetheart bonnet. She will carry an old fashioned bouquet of fall flowers. The bridesmaids will wear gowns of dusty rose moire taffeta made in similar style, and will also wear sweetheart bonnets. Their bouquets will also be old-fashioned fall flowers. The bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother will both be dressed in defense blue crepe with matching accessories and will have white chrysanthemum corsages.

For traveling, the bride will wear a defense blue woolen suit with matching accessories, and an orchid corsage. Following the ceremony, a reception and wedding breakfast for 45 guests will be held at the Parmer house in East Orange. After a week's motor trip in the south, the couple will reside at 329 Joralemon street.

Both Miss McCann and Mr. Fitzgerald are graduates of Belleville high school. They are active in church activities.

REPUBLICANS OPEN DRIVE

Dr. Cleo Sounds Keynote At Newark Meeting; Plan Intensive Campaign

An intensive, three weeks' campaign was begun by Republican candidates last evening at a reception and buffet supper at the Robert Treat hotel, Newark. Roy V. Wright, candidate for state senator, was host. Former Senator Lester H. Cleo made the keynote address. Several hundred Republican leaders from throughout the county attended.

The campaign will be run on the same lines as that of a year ago when more than 500 meetings were held. There will be individual gatherings in almost every district in Essex, with hundreds of canvassers at work.

The determined effort of Essex legislative candidates to bring about a constitutional convention is to be stressed, as is the record for constructive achievement of the county government and the Essex legislative bloc.

One of the important meetings of the campaign will take place Monday evening, October 27, at the East Orange Elks club when United States Senator W. Warren Barbour and Representative Albert L. Woodard will speak along with state senate candidate Wright and George H. Becker, candidate for sheriff, and C. Colburn Hardy who seeks a seat in the assembly.

Program On First Aid At High School P.T.A.

Tuesday evening the High School Parent Teacher association will hold its opening meeting in the school auditorium at 8. There will be a show business meeting and Mrs. Willard Y. Strange, program chairman, will outline the subject matter of forthcoming programs.

The first aid committee of the American Red Cross under the chairmanship of Mrs. Louis A. Noll, will present a speaker whose topic will be "First Aid as a Phase of National Defense," and three motion pictures illustrating artificial respiration, bandaging and splinting and dental pressure.

Mrs. Christian Hansen and her committee will serve refreshments at the conclusion of this and all meetings of the season. Mrs. Carl Hack, assisted by Mrs. George Kelsall, heads the membership committee for the 1941-42 season.

Left off the hook after a call... "OUT OF ORDER"

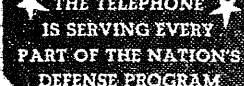

These days, replacing the telephone receiver properly after every call, is more than ever important.

SOMETIMES a book or tray prevents the receiver from being replaced completely. More frequently it is left off after answering at one telephone and then picking up the call at an extension telephone at another location.

When this happens we put a "howler" noise on your line to attract your attention and, if this fails, send a repairman to your premises. Until the trouble is corrected, no one can call you. Your telephone is out of order. This situation may last a few minutes or even hours.

"OFF THE HOOK—OUT OF ORDER" cases happen 2,000 TIMES a week in New Jersey. Reducing the number will help to make the telephone serve everyone better.

From The SIDELINES As Seen By The Sideliner

Some football coaches are like women. They must be in step with the current fashions. If the vogue is to wear a rabbit, a squirrel or a bird cage on the top of chapeaus, some femmes will try it even if they look like something that just stepped out of the circus sideshow.

Football's no different. Shaughnessy at Stanford was the coach of 1940 because his Indians walloped everything in sight with the T-formation. George Halas and his Chicago Bears were likewise grid greats because they romped away with the professional football championship via the T-formation.

What happens? School coaches, most of them fellows who haven't been having too much luck with their grid teams, junk their old systems and turn to the T-formation as the cure-all. As if there was some great mystery about it, they let it be known that they're going to use the T-formation and every opponent is supposed to start shivering in his respective boots.

Sports writers hear that Coach so-and-so at such-and-such a high school will use the T-formation. They bow toward the east with a couple of salaams and "Allah be praised," and crawl out on the limb with the prediction that coach so-and-so will turn up with the wonder unbeatable of the Year.

But, something goes wrong somewhere along the line. Coach so-and-so's unbeatable are set back on their fannies in the first game and they look more like a wandering herd of sheep in trying to emulate the T-formation than they do a football team.

T-formation, double wing, single wing, Notre Dame, Columbia or just pick up the ball and run, no system is any better than the players and the coach. Of course, that's just one man's opinion, but we think there's more to back it up than the argument that you can just send a team out there with a fancy hoop-dee-doo grid style and expect them to win games. It just won't work.

Take the case of Bill Foley at Bloomfield. Long before the national sports writers started to rave about the T-formation, Foley was using it and turning out bone-crushing eleveners. There was nothing secret about it. Annually, the teams used the same plays and the opponents generally knew what was coming. But Foley had brute power, and that's what won him football games. Without power and plenty of it, we don't think the T-formation is any 100% guarantee of grid victories. Foley hasn't had the material the last two or three years that he had before, and by the same token he hasn't had the teams that rolled up one-sided scores.

We watched a nearby school eleven using the T-stuff on Saturday. It had been built up as a great team. We didn't see it. Their execution of the T-formation turned into a sloppy, run and hope sort of play. Just because the Chicago Bears win games with it doesn't mean anybody else can. We think a football team has to be built around the material available.

Since the article last week in which we advanced the idea that it might be good to ease up on the schedule of the high school team, thoughts have been coming as up and down. However, whichever way it goes, we'll stick by our opinion.

Writes a "True Fan": "Getting digs from a sports columnist, who just sits on the sidelines, doesn't help the team or the coach very much. Just because Belleville loses to the best teams in the state doesn't mean that we should stop playing them. Stop on the side lines."

Bless us, and keep us. We thought we were on the side of the team and the coach. We don't see what good is being done by asking the team to go out week after week and take a drubbing. We think proof of our argument that the schedule should be eased up on was the Clifford Scott game on Saturday. Belleville won and never saw a more joyous bunch of kids anywhere. Not alone the players, but the school students who are supporting them.

From a "Belleville Follower" comes these thoughts: "You had some good points in your discussion on easing up the high school schedule. I've been watching Belleville high school games for a number of years. I think many of the players and also boys who can play football but will not. I think that it might help football a lot if there was some easing up on the schedule and only one or two of the big traditional rivals were kept on the schedule until the coach has a chance to build the team up again."

MINOR FIGURES

Frank Lynch Led Ball Club With a .432 Average

The statisticians for the Pitt Minor Leaguers, one of the best known sandlot ball clubs in this section, show that the Minors in their twelfth campaign just ended won 18 out of their 30 games, 27 of which were played away from home.

Frank Lynch, veteran infielder was the batting leader, hitting the ball for .432, which was a high mark that was topped only in 1932. Only four players have hit more than .400 in the Minors' existence. Paul Drexler hit .431 in 1932. Al Heinzenberg hit .429 in 1934. Art Costello and Bill Lister .416 and .413 in 1936, and Lister again in 1938 with .400. Lynch also carried off the runs batted in honors with twenty-one and poled the most home runs and doubles.

Ed Gutman, runner-up to Lynch, with 41 bingles, had the most hits. Bill Lynch, who won the batting championship last year with .333 and recently signed a contract with Milford in the Eastern Shore league, hit .351 this season. Gutman and Bill Lynch were tied with the most triples while Henry Lubben with 16 free trips had the most passes and also struck out 19 times.

Working in 19 games and winning nine and losing five, Bill Lister had the honor of being the winning pitcher. Bill Lynch with three wins and one loss was the runner-up.

H. S. ELEVEN WINS FIRST; HALTING SCOTT 12-6

Russ Findlay Stars In Final Quarter Rally; Plenty Of Fumbles

The victory song rang out over Clearman field Saturday afternoon as the Bellboys chalked up their first triumph of the current grid season by downing a stubborn Clifford Scott eleven 12-6. Coming from behind after the East Orange team tallied a six-point early in the fourth quarter, the Blue and Gold pushed over two touchdowns with Russ Findlay the individual star of the afternoon by scoring both of them.

With both the linemen and the backs looking better than they had in the three previous games, the locals were on the offensive for the better part of the game, registering 18 first downs to Clifford Scott's eight. Wille and Findlay were the running stars with Flynn and Mueller the line standouts.

The Scottmen started on their goalward march late in the third period after a Belleville drive had been stopped on the visitors' 13-yard marker. Jack Foner tried to punt for Scott but it was blocked by Russ Flynn. Clifford Scott recovered on its own 17 and taking quick advantage of the break Jack Savage romped 27 yards for a first down. Tony Bruno then heaved a long pass to Jack Toner who was stopped on the Blue and Gold 45. The ball was advanced to the 22-yard stripe by Dick and then Young fumbled a pass thrown by Savage. Bellboys bounced on the ball, but it popped away from them and Haugh recovered for Scott on the Belleville 14. Savage plunged through to the 7. Cavanaugh went to the 3 as the period ended. The Red and White fumbled but Walthour recovered on the 9-yard mark from where Toner galloped over the score.

Findlay Goes Over

The Bellboys lost no time getting back into the game. Starting from his own 35, Bud Wille in four plays worked the pignick down to the Scott 8-yard stripe. Findlay plunged to the four-yard line, but Wille fumbled on the one-yard marker on the next play. Johnny-on-the-spot Findlay recovered and tunneled his way through center for the score to tie the game. Findlay's try for the point was wide.

After the Bellboys kicked off, the Scottmen started on a pass-in gatack from deep in their own territory which was quickly ended when Findlay intercepted one of Savage's heaves on the 22-yard marker. Russ spun and twisted his way through tackle to the two-yard line and bucked over for the winning score on the next play. His try for the point was blocked.

The first half saw a punting duel with the Bellboys keeping the Clifford Scott 11 well back in its own territory playing for a break, which came early in the second period when Young fumbled one of Hunkele's boots from midfield on his own 20. Cataldi recovered for the home eleven on the 11-yard mark and the Belleville stands went daffy.

Couldn't Put It Over

Walker advanced the ball for two yards but here the Bellboys dilly dallied around with two incomplete passes and gave the ball up on downs. Clifford Scott marched back to its own 27 where he gave the ball up on downs and the Bellboys started pounding goalward again only to be turned back by the stubborn Scott defense. Just before the period ended Findlay on heaves to Walker and Maginess took the ball down to the Clifford Scott 11-yard marker but the half-time whistle ended the drive.

H. S. Cheerleaders Like Their New Uniforms

Their new swing cheers and additional blue and gold uniforms are a source of pride to the high school's 10 cheerleaders. Their number has swelled this year due to the excellence of the recruits which made it impossible for judges to keep the quota to the usual eight when eliminations were being made.

First year members are Doris VanMarter, Rita Ferguson, Janet Baureis, Virginia Young and Hugh Kittle. Robert Kimble, captain, has been a cheerleader for three years and second termers are Mabel Harris, Jeanne Salmon, Roy Wagner and Charles Weber. Paul Jones, history instructor, is their moderator and the group meets for practice and also goes into action when "pep assemblies" are held on the Fridays preceding football games.

IT WAS A GREAT NIGHT FOR THE KIDS

School No. 10 Fathers, Sons Had a Big Night

Red Cochran, Phil Rizzuto, Al Mamaux, Earl Harper, Mike Kochel and Joe Donovan Give Youngsters First Hand Information

It was celebrity night at the Father and Son program held at School No. 10, Thursday night.

Those who appeared before some 125 fathers and 200 sons were Phil Rizzuto, star shortstop for the New York Yankees, world's baseball champions; Freddie Red Cochran, world's welterweight boxing champion; Earl Harper, well-known baseball sportscaster; Al Mamaux, who pitched for Brooklyn in the 1920 World Series against Cleveland and now is baseball coach at Seton Hall college; Mike Kochel, one of the original Blocks of Granite of Fordham university, and Tony Zuzzio, of Belleville, former Muhlenberg college star as well as Joe Donovan, of Belleville, who is sports editor of the Newark Star-Ledger. Donovan introduced and "interviewed" each celebrity.

Rizzuto told the fathers and sons that "I was as nervous as a cat playing the first game against the Brooklyn Dodgers, but once I got at bat I felt better. I owe my success to keeping good hours, sticking to a diet and listening to my parents and my manager, Joe McCarthy."

Cochran informed the group that "his lowest purse for boxing was $19. and received his largest when he defeated Lew Jenkins, world's lightweight champion, a purse of close to $7,000. "Boxing is no cinch. You've got to like it," he added, "and if you boys want to box remember one thing: Be ready to take the bumps as well as the boos. I got them early in my career, but I am realizing the profits and the cheers now. Of course, I expect to box a few years more, get all the big money I can and then retire."

Cochran is due to join the naval athletic corps at Norfolk, Va., soon. Harper related the handicaps of broadcasting baseball, fights and football games. He was very interesting and the youngsters asked many questions, which of course, he answered.

Mamaux, great major and minor league pitcher, told some humorous stories and then warned the youngsters "to be prepared, physically. America needs you in good shape, all the time. Play some kind of game, be interested in sports and be prepared. Whether we ever get to war or not, good condition means good health," he commented.

Kochel and Zuzzio, who are playing professional football with the Newark Grid Bears of the American Association, took a few.

Motion pictures of sports were also shown by Principal Fred Evans. It was strictly men's night with the fathers taking the place of the women officers of the parent-teacher association. Commissioner Noll served as temporary president with George Lynch as vice-president, George Havis, secretary. George Stickle, who played the piano, was in charge of refreshments with the assistance of a group of class mothers.

How're Bellboy Enemies Doing

The Bellboys will be idle this week following their four-game stand and will not return to the grid battlefield until Saturday, October 25, when they will travel to Irvington to tangle with the strong Camptown eleven. They will also be on the road for the two games following that tilt, playing at Hillside and Kearny on successive Saturdays.

Some of the Blue and Gold opponents have been romping merrily along the grid highway in games to date while others have been enjoying just so-so success.

Lyndhurst, 6-0 conqueror of the locals in the opening game, was set back by Rutherford 14-0, and then defeated both Ramsey and James Ferris of Jersey City 13-0.

Barringer since its auspicious 20-0 opening against the Zebras has not been able to register a touchdown, losing to Phillipsburg 14-0 and playing a scoreless tie with Newark East Side.

Bloomfield still stands among the undefeated whose goal line has not been crossed. In addition to socking the Bellboys 25-0, they've halted South Side 20-0 and trimmed Newark East Side 7-0.

Irvington has won two and lost two. Vineland trimmed them 13-6 and Garfield squeezed by 7-6. The Campers edged out a 2-0 win over West Orange and tripped Thomas Jefferson 19-6.

On scores to date, Hillside is not the team of last year. They lost to Kearny 21-14 and were stopped by Orange 6-0.

Kearny, although highly rated in pre-season, has not shown any power. They lost to Columbia high of South Orange 7-6, trimmed Hillside and then were slammed down by Montclair 25-14.

Newark East Side looks like as stubborn defensive eleven. They lost to Bloomfield 7-0, to Newark South Side 7-6 and held Barringer to a scoreless tie.

South Side's strength is still a question mark. After losing to West Side 6-0, they got by East Side and then were shellacked by those Bloomfield Bengals 20-0.

Teaneck may not be any soft touch. They walloped Cliffside Park 40-13 and then trimmed Tenafly 2-0.

Blue and Gold Jayvees Trim Columbia 13-6

The Blue and Gold Jayvees rushed over touchdown in the first and final periods at Clearman field Tuesday afternoon to trim the Columbia high sophomores of South Orange 13-6.

Anthony Piccolino went over for a score in the first period on a pass from George Wheeler. Thalheimer added the extra point on a plunge through center. In the fourth period, George Baldwin galloped around end from the 10-yard stripe for the second six-pointer.

Columbia's score came in the second period when Columbia kicked off, the ball rolled over the Belleville goal line and one of the Gem's ends fell on it for the score.

All-Negro Gridders To Visit Stadium Sunday

The Belleville Iron Dukes are getting set to tangle with not one Brown Bomber but 11 of 'em when they clash with the New York Brown Bombers at the municipal stadium on Sunday afternoon. A collection of ex-collegiate Negro grid stars, the Bombers have barnstormed up and down the Eastern seaboard for several years meeting all comers in the pro ranks.

It will be the dark-skinned gridmen's first appearance in Jersey in two years. In their last showing in this state, the bombers bowed to the Newark Grid Bears.

Most of the players are drawn from southern Negro colleges, and although seldom heard of in national football circles, are the equals of many of their white brothers in playing football. The New York team won nine of its 10 games last year and has copied two out of the three played this season.

Knowing little if anything about the visitors' offensive strength, Coach Joe Vollmer drilled his Duke 11 Tuesday night for a wide open game and tonight will feed the Ironmen more new pass plays which he hopes will befuddle the Negro gridders. Most of the touchdowns which the Dukes have scored in chalking up 31-0 win over the Bonton Panthers and a 33-0 victory over the Tri-Boro Spartans were by aerials with Charlie Crocco and Chet Kucinski doing the passing and dusky Bob Shade, Bill Furlong, Matty Crum and Ed Slavin catching them.

The home team's running attack, which showed improvement in their clash against the Tri-Boros will be centered around George Tietze, Frank Cardinale and Crocco.

Negro All-Americans

Two former members of Negro All-American elevens will be in the Bombers starting line-up. Leon Davis from West Virginia State, named three times on the dusky national team, will star at guard and Tom Comard from Morgan, twice an all-American, weighing 200 pounds, will be in the full-back spot.

Presenting a fast backfield, averaging about 170 pounds per man, the Negro team will also have Dan Sulley of North Carolina State, rated as one of the South's outstanding Negro passing and kicking players; and Hank Evin, broken-field specialist from Virginia State, who will be making his first appearance with the Bombers on Sunday.

Other colleges represented in the Bombers' line-up are Southern State college, Howard university, Lincoln university, Hampton university, Western Reserve college, Tuskegee institute, Brooklyn college, New York university, Bordentown military academy and the 10th California Regiment of the army.

The team is coached and trained by H. H. Johnston, who for 10 years was trainer for the grid elevens at the University of Pittsburgh. Davis is the manager. The Bombers will wear blue and white uniforms.

On the line, the visiting gridders will outweigh the Dukes more than 10 pounds to the man, averaging about 190 pounds, while in the backfield, the two teams will be about even.

Seeks Fort Hancock Game

Sunday afternoon's game is scheduled to start at 2:30. Manager Joseph Reilly is endeavoring to book a game with the Fort Hancock team to replace the Fort Dix team which was unable to come here for any of the dates.

Mrs. Albert Owen of Belmont avenue had as guests on Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rothrock of Mt. Prospect avenue, Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Szweczyk of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. have recently moved here for 17 Bloomfield avenue.

Mrs. Christina Wiest, Former Resident, Weds Leo Ahrens

The marriage of Mrs. Christina Wiest of West Point Pleasant, formerly of Union avenue in town, to Leo Ahrens of Manasquan took place Sunday afternoon at 2 P. M. at the Presbyterian church in Point Pleasant.

Mrs. Wiest had as matron of honor, her daughter, Mrs. Edward Rafter of West Point Pleasant, formerly of this town. William Ahrens of Union acted as his father's best man. Arthur Ahrens of Jersey City, another son of the bridegroom, ushered.

The bride wore a solid blue and a corsage of orchids. The matron of honor was dressed in light blue chalis with solid blue accessories. She wore a corsage of tea roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Hotel Arnold in Point Pleasant for 24 guests. After a two weeks wedding trip in Virginia, the couple will reside on Allentown Road in Manasquan. Mrs. Wiest and her family were residents of this town for 10 years previous to moving to West Point Pleasant 10 months ago.

Bernice McCann Is Betrothed To Charles L. Christell

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCann of Chestnut street announce the engagement of their daughter Bernice Alma McCann to Charles L. Christell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Christell of Catherine street at a family gathering Saturday evening. Both are graduates of Belleville high school. Miss McCann is employed by the British Purchasing commission in New York. Mr. Christell is with Dupont in Arlington.

Do You Want The Pattern?

THE NEWS can offer you once more a short series of crochet pattern directions of which the first is the charming, practical rug shown above. It is easy, and not expensive, to purchase cotton yarn in colors to blend with the color scheme of any room in your house; and the rug, once finished, will be a permanent furnishing since it can be laundered.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to The Belleville News, 328 Washington avenue, for your direction sheet. Also yours for the asking are instruction sheets for the beginner in crocheting. Specify if you desire both.

The Woman's Desk by PEGGY PATTERSON

John Robert Powers, whose name is synonymous to most of us with advertising, says that simplicity in dress, make-up and manner is one of the first requirements for which he looks in the lovely girls to whom we have all become accustomed in leading magazine and billboard advertisements. His models, it is claimed, are as important a criterion for beauty and style with the women of today as were the Gibson girl and the Ziegfeld girl.

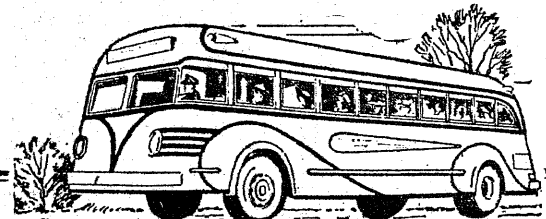

Even though women today claim a much higher standard of individualization it can be readily admitted by most of us if we are honest that the inspiration of a successful woman goes a long way toward influencing our own ideas.

"Mystery Pair" Audience Mystified At Hotel Barbizon Plaza in New York City

Count Artell, Aristocrat of Magic, who was such a sensation at the magicians' convention held at the Hotel Robert Treat recently, scored again Tuesday night at the Barbizon Plaza Hotel where he again proved that the hand is quicker than the eye. His ease of operation and unusual skill have made him one of the outstanding sleight of hand artists of today.

Count Artell is assisted during his act by the charming Miss Ann Lorey. Miss Lorey was presented with a beautiful corsage of orchids at the Parent Assembly No. 1, by the Society of American Magicians. Count Artell performed at the Maplewood Country Club Monday night. His present address is 54 Mt. Prospect Avenue, Belleville.

Funeral Held on Saturday For P. Henry Stier, 63

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for J. Henry Stier, 63, of 254 Little street, who died Wednesday following a short illness. Rev. Edgar M. Compton, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, officiated at services held there. Masonic rites were held on Friday night at 8:30 P. M. in the Irvine Funeral home at 276 Washington avenue.

Born in Newark, Mr. Stier had resided here for 18 years. He had been employed by the Wright Aeronautical corporation for four years and prior to that had worked for 39 years for the General Electric company.

Mr. Stier was superintendent of the Wesley church Sunday school for 13 years and was a member of the Copstone Lodge, F. & A. M., of Kearny.

Surviving him are: Mrs. May Piper Stier; a brother, George of Newark, and five sisters, Miss Margaret, Miss Effie and Miss Elizabeth Stier of Newark, Mrs. John Elliott of East Orange and Mrs. Victor Mandoff of Framingham, Mass.

Interment in Fairmount Mausoleum following the services.

Mrs. Abby L. Hahn Sayer

Services were held Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Abby L. Hahn Sayer, widow of Frank B. Sayer, who passed away last Thursday at her home at 31 Rutgers street. A native of Newark, Mrs. Sayer had resided here for two years.

Rev. George E. Dawkins, pastor of First Baptist Peddie Memorial church, Newark, officiated at the services. Interment followed in Fairmount cemetery.

Mrs. Sayer is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Macrina I. Ackerman, and a step-daughter, Miss Alma E. Sayer, both of Belleville, and a stepson, Coulson B. Sayer. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Cornelius Phillips of Haddon Heights.

Thanksgiving Eve Dance Is Planned By Calverts

WOMAN'S CLUB

became the Community Service bureau.

The club was among the first to join the movement for the establishment of a community recreation center. In 1921, a donation was given the building fund of the Silver Lake Welfare association, which sponsored the erection of the Silver Lake Community house.

In 1922, the association joined the New Jersey State reclamation and the name was changed to The Woman's Club of Belleville. Its primary purposes and objects remained the same.

Mrs. Frederick E. Dodd was the first president after the re-naming of the group. She was followed by the late Mrs. A. Newton Streeter, Mrs. William F. Adams, Mrs. R. Clifford Whitfield, Mrs. Charles S. Smith, Mrs. William T. Entekin, Mrs. William M. Engelmann, Mrs. Lloyd C. Nunn, Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde and the present leader, Mrs. John E. DeNike. "Unity in the community" has been chosen by Mrs. DeNike as the theme for her administration.

At present there are 168 active members in the club with one honorary member and nine associate members.

Get Free Phone Service

The club has not confined its community activities to social welfare interests for through the years, it has spoken out on several occasions concerning municipal situations and other efforts of interest to the town at large. In 1922, the civics department began a campaign to get Newark department stores to give free telephone service to their stores for local customers and it was finally obtained.

The police department drew their attention in 1927 and the civic department suggested to the town commission that the patrolmen wear white belts and gloves. After it was tried, the Woman's club records show, the town received a letter from a South Carolina community asking for information about the "luminous" belts worn by the police.

In 1928, the civics group interested itself in bus service and wrote to the town about the promise which had been made for the continuation of the Summer avenue bus line from Lincoln park, Newark, to King street, Belleville, thus avoiding a change of buses in Newark. The service was finally obtained. In 1932, the same group urged closer supervision by police of closing streets in the winter months and persuaded the town to designate restricted streets for coasting.

The Minnie Burke Memorial fund, from which money could be obtained for local girls to help them through college, was started in January, 1927. It later became the student loan fund, and the club contributed to it from 1927 to 1932.

At Christmas time in 1932, the women cooperated with the fire department in sorting, repairing and distributing more than 800 toys to needy children. This work has been continued through the annual Christmas party for members. To gain admission, the women must bring toys and canned goods, which the social service department distributes among the local poor families.

Under the senior group's sponsorship, the Junior Woman's club was formed in 1933 and cooperates with the older women in their annual activities.

Sponsor Christmas Festival

For the past two years at Christmas time, the music department has sponsored a community Christmas festival in which local music groups have participated. A silver collection taken up at each of the annual programs has been turned over to the Community Service bureau to be used in its holiday work. Plans are now being made for the program to be held this December.

From 1933 to 1939 the club supported convalescent to local unimpaired youngsters. Always ready to contribute toward local funds, the club during 1940 and this year has made donations to the following funds: Red Cross, Fredericks fund, Community Chest, Veterans' hospital at Lyons, Yardley foundation, British ambulance fund, Tuberculosis association Christmas seals, James Murphy benefit and the Vineland research.

Belleville Community Chest Drive

An Open Letter To The Citizens Of Belleville--

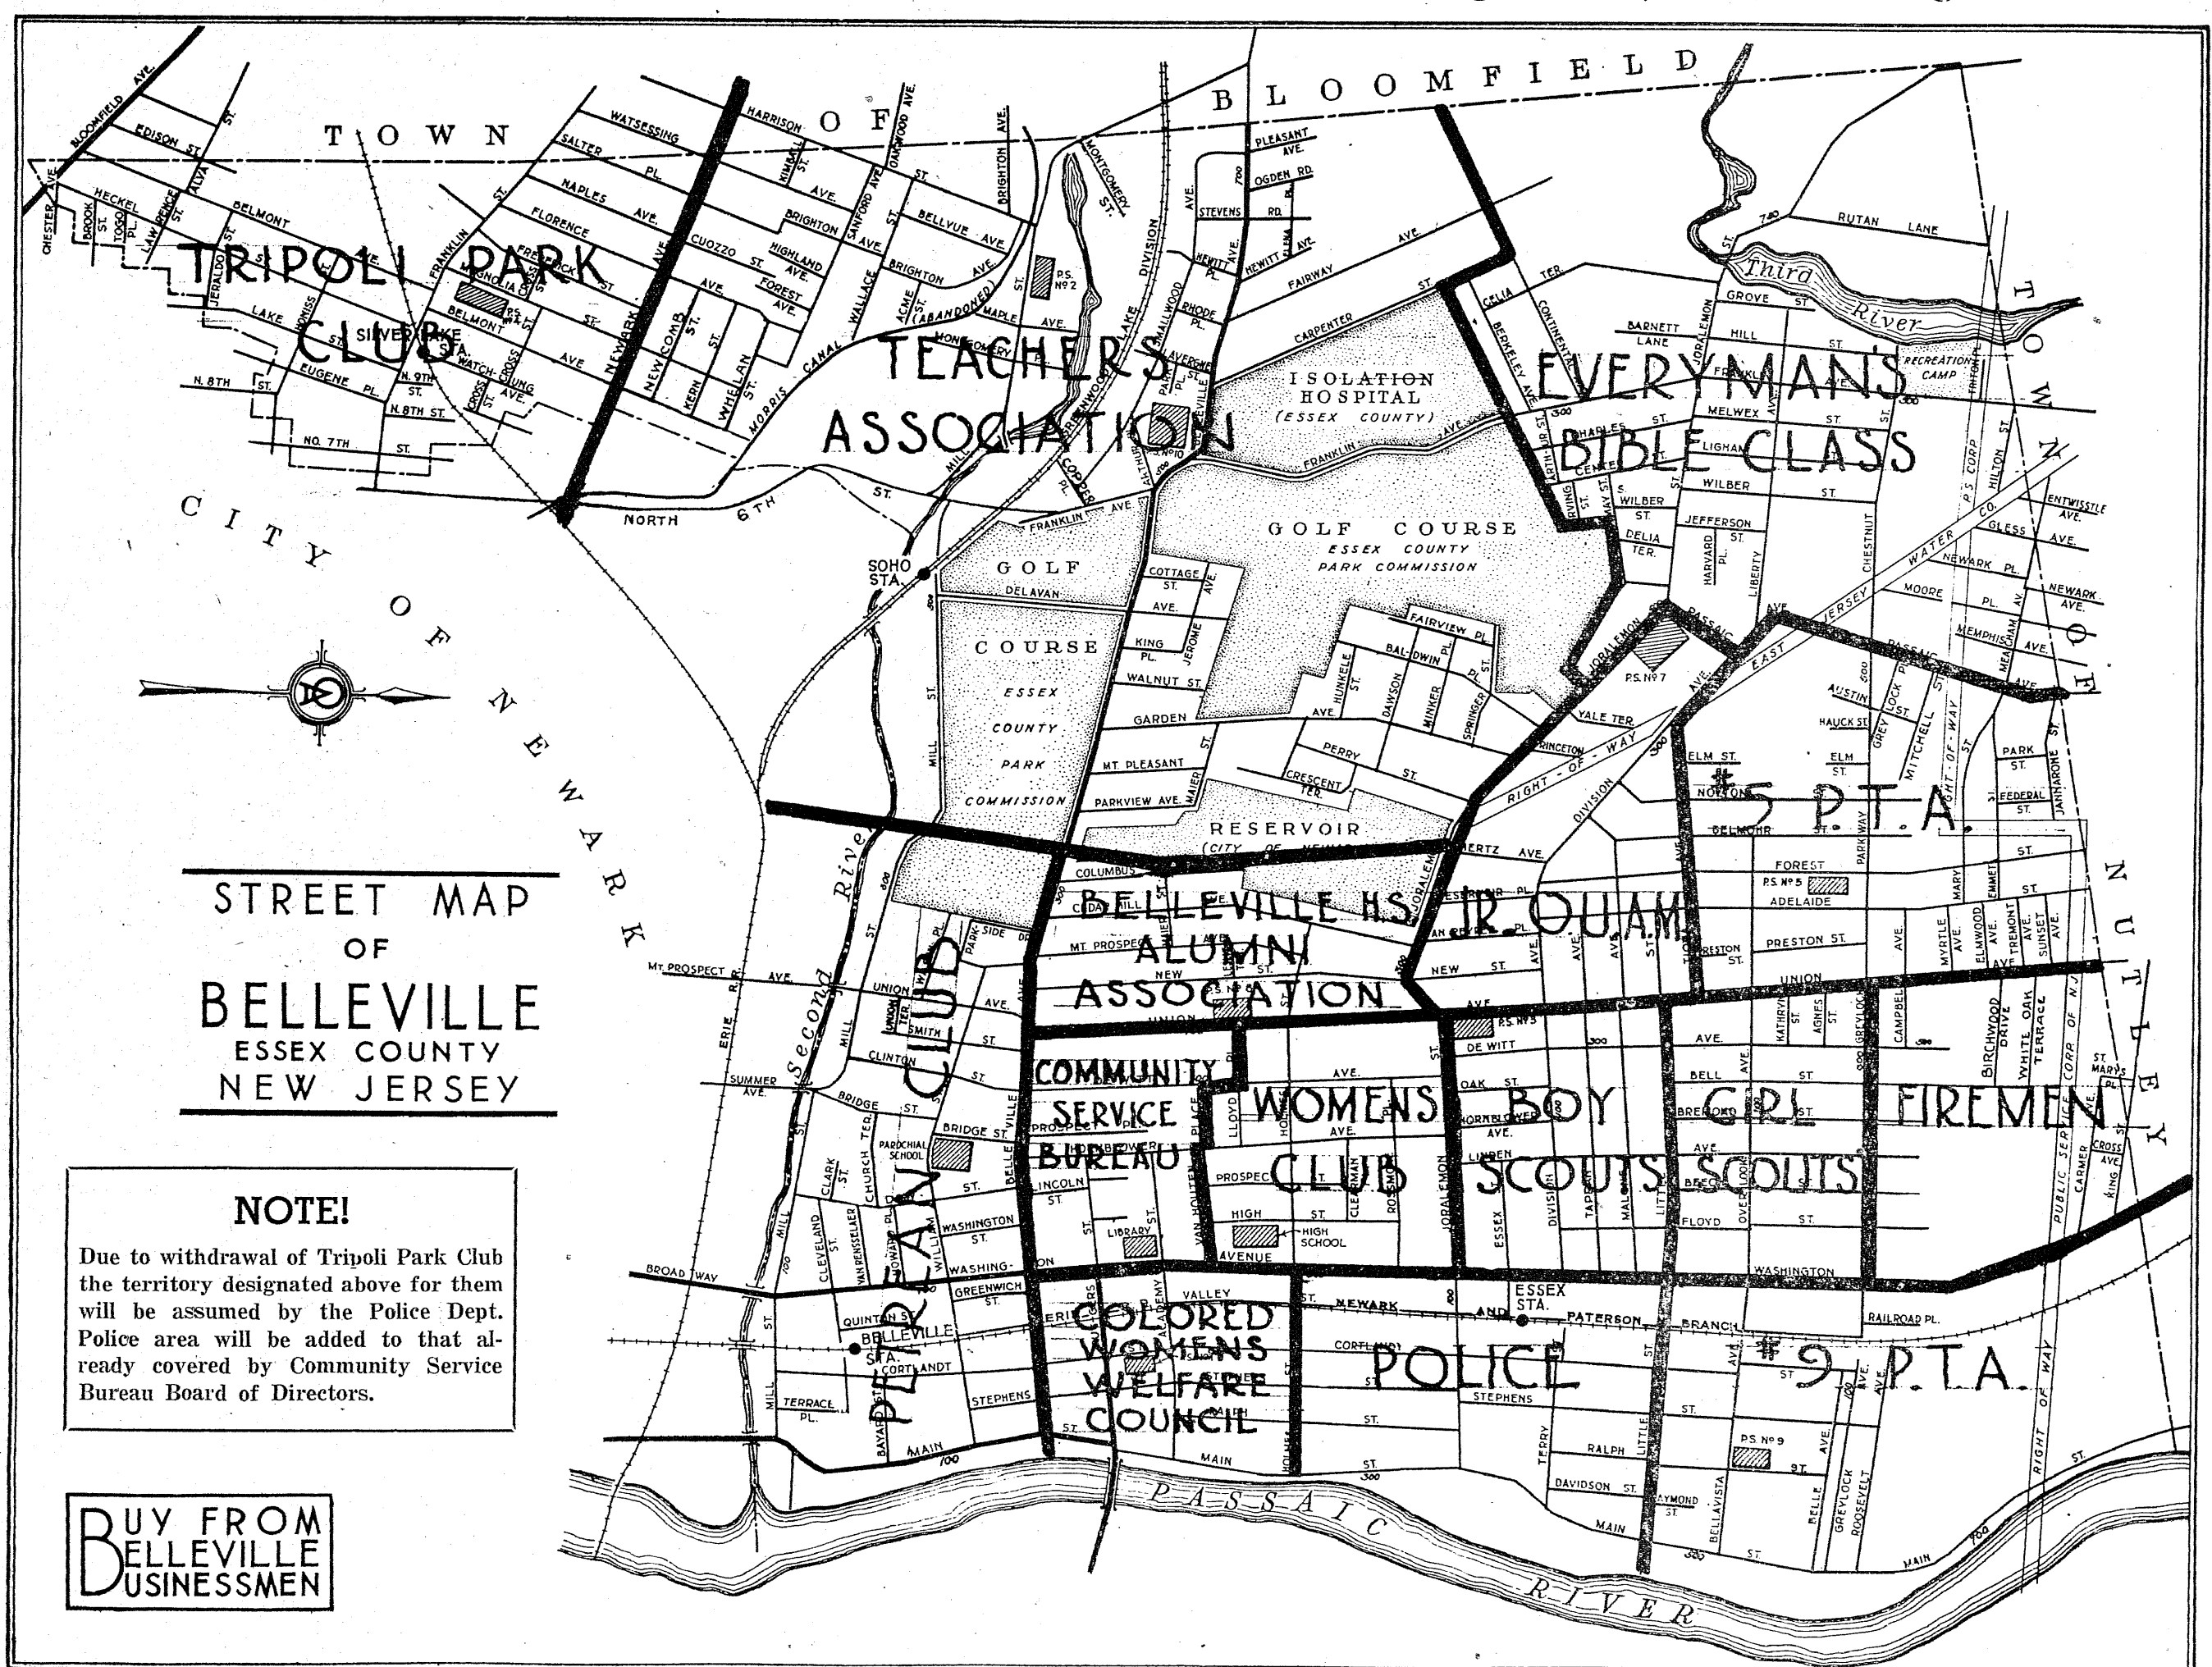

Very soon your friends and neighbors; your Police and Firemen; your children's Teachers; and your fellow church and club workers will be ringing your door-bell to ask you for a contribution to the Belleville Community Chest.

These friends of yours are giving their time and energy in addition to their own contributions to you and to our town.

All we ask of you is that you receive them graciously and give to the best of your ability.

If we all do our part, this drive will surely be one we can all be proud of and we can really say with pride that "WE LIVE IN BELLEVILLE--'THE TOWN THAT PAYS AS IT GOES'".

Changeabouts for School

Two jackets and one skirt will make many changeabouts for the high school miss. A bright plaid over camel-colored wool and a plain camel wool make the costume which it takes the two girls above to exhibit. Sweaters and shirts are the logical and comfortable accompaniment. Such an outfit with a topcoat is a warm winter ensemble.

Three Motherless Pups Being Kept Alive Through Efforts of Woman Dog Lover

Local Resident Takes New-Born Puppies Found In Cardboard Box

Even though medicine droppers, kitchen cutlery and nursing bottles have taken the place of their mother, three damp, rat-like little mongrel puppies are alive in Belleville today to kick, squeal and testify to the inhumanity of their supposed former Nutley owner.

The trio was found in a small, soiled grape basket in a vacant lot near Centre street and Union avenue, Nutley, just three weeks ago, when a band of small boys stumbled on it while playing. How it got there no one knows. But since the sightless, shivering little lumps were soaking wet and apparently not more than a few hours old, it is probable someone tried to drown them, got "cold feet" and dumped them in the lot to let nature do what he or she lacked the courage to complete.

In any case, the surprised boys picked them up with loud squeals and whoops, and then began to wonder what to do with them. The cop on the corner looked in, but aside from cautioning that there be "no abuse," was little help. That's where Mrs. Mildred Murray of 350 Jorammon street, entered the picture.

Returning home from a shopping tour, she was on the corner waiting for a bus, and heard the commotion. A professional canine fancier as well as the soft-hearted mother of a 13-year-old son, she doubted that the pups could be saved, but volunteered to take them and "see what I can do."

She did plenty. Reaching home, she inaugurated a program of feeding that has given her no peace since. Every two hours, kneeling beside the bed she made for them next to her warm gas range, she dropped a mixture of karo and warm milk from a medicine dropper into their whimpering, eager mouths.

The process is simple for one of her experience—but try any arrangement that requires repetition every two hours, day and night, and by the third week odds are you or anyone else would rather pulverize than get its cause. Whatever her reactions, however, Mrs. Murray continued the unprecedented fight for life, and slowly saw it bear results.

Graduate To Bottle

After three days the dropper gave way to a nursing bottle, and karo and milk to cream, milk and egg yolk. Helpless moans and whines acquired direction, and their volume increased or faded with arrival or departure of hunger. Flabby immobility was replaced by an aimless but energetic tendency to crawl beneath anything, especially each other, and last week, one by one, their closed eyes began to blink open.

They're Bottle Babies, Too

Bottle feeding is common enough for human babies, but Mrs. Mildred Murray, local dog fancier, is probably the first to use it to wean puppies. She's seen with one of the three orphans found in a vacant lot on Centre street a few hours after their birth three weeks ago. Medicine droppers preceded the bottles.

So it looks like the battle will be won. Mrs. Murray says it's not over yet, because the little male is much weaker than his two sisters, and may not pull through. In addition all are at least a week behind in their development. Considering that pups taken from their mother so soon after birth rarely live, at all, though, victory seems already to have arrived.

Mrs. Murray's main problem is keeping them clean. "Imp," her silky-haired young spaniel, has adopted the newcomers as her own, and dutifully labors them with her tongue when the spirit moves. Judging by the aroma near their bed the spirit is rather unpredictable, however, and "Imp" is so possessive that she snaps at her own mother and won't allow that experienced canine matron to get them near to finish the job.

As a result Mrs. Murray must use cotton wads and warm water frequently, and even this is not enough. "It's a job for their mother," she declares vehemently, stating, "the person who would take such helpless creatures from her care, before they can live on their own," is despicable.

Recipe Column

One of the stable fall refreshment items is cider and soon, at Hallowe'en if not before, you will have occasion to serve it. Doughnuts, brownies and other "hand-sized," crunchy delicacies are the natural accompaniments for this tangy, richly sweet beverage. Akin to them are:

Glazed Gingerbread Bars

¾ cup shortening
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
¾ cup molasses
¾ cup bran cereal
1 cup strong coffee
1½ cups flour
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon ginger

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat fluffy. Stir in molasses, bran and coffee. Sift dry ingredients and add to first mixture. Bake in greased pan in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Frost immediately with brown sugar glaze. Cut in bars.

Brown Sugar Glaze

Cream 2 tablespoons butter, add 1 tablespoon hot cream or top milk and mix thoroughly. Add two thirds cup brown sugar and beat well. Spread on warm cake.

For those who are fond of banana flavor there is a new version of bread which may be used for fancy sandwiches or other refreshment purposes. It is more delicate in texture than the date, nut

G.O.P. WOMEN BACK MAYOR ON COPS

Publicity, Constitutional Reform Discussed At Group's Meeting

Following an address and book review on the subject of publicity by the publicity chairman, Mrs. Katherine Ferguson, at the Thursday meeting of the Belleville Women's Republican club an open discussion on constitutional reform was led by Mrs. John J. O'Brien, Jr., legislative chairman.

After considerable deliberation, members held their opinion that any structural change in the legislature would be inadvisable and that specific amendments could be created to care for the requirements of the state constitution.

The civics committee, headed by Mrs. Ruth Reynolds, reported on local problems. The organization expressed approval of Mayor Williams' reticence in approving wage increases for the police and fireman at this time. Many suggestions including diagonal parking and the institution of a municipal parking lot were advanced on the subject of the parking problem. Unanimous approval met the suggestion of a municipal cross-town bus which might be operated between west and northwest Belleville. The theory was advanced that such a bus could be routed through the valley which would facilitate travel to the shopping center during the week and partly eliminate the weekend automobile rush.

Two new members, Mrs. Sara VanHouten of Holmes street and Mrs. Swen Gelin of Stephens street, were admitted to the club. Mrs. David Sundheimer presided. The civics committee will hold a card party at the home of Mrs. Reynolds, 12 Overlook avenue, Tuesday afternoon.

and orange breads which are often used for this purpose.

Banana Tea Bread

1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 cup mashed bananas (fully ripe)
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
2-3 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten

Sift together dry ingredients. Beat shortening until creamy and add sugar. Continue to beat until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat again. Then add dry ingredients alternately with mashed bananas whipping smooth after each addition. Bake in a well-greased bread pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for one hour and 10 minutes.

Two Surprise Showers Held For Miss Kay MacDonald

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Budd To Be Hostesses At Bridge; Miss Helen Weiss, Mrs. John Hewitt Are Hostesses for Evening

Miss Kay MacDonald of Perry street, who will wed Walter Van Nostrand of East Orange on November 15, is being surprised plenty these days. Miss MacDonald was guest of honor at a meeting of the J. A. B. girls at the home of Mrs. Adele Sullivan of Jersey City Thursday evening. She received a number of handy kitchen utensils. Attending from town were Mrs. Anna Ross, Mrs. Catherine MacDonald, and Miss Alice Wilkens.

At the home of Mrs. Francis Spatcher of Glen Ridge Miss MacDonald was given a surprise shower on Friday night. There were 25 guests from Plainfield, North Arlington, Bloomfield, Hillside, East Orange, Newark, Glen Ridge, Elizabeth and this town, all of them co-workers of Miss MacDonald's at the Prudential Insurance company. Table decorations were in pink and blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Budd of Reservoir place will entertain Saturday evening at bridge for Mr. and Mrs. George Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of this town, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stager of Nutley.

Miss Helen Weiss of Hornblower avenue was hostess Thursday evening at two tables of bridge for Mrs. Herbert Foley, Mrs. Robert Bartholomew and the Misses Mildred Monahan, Carol Byrnes and Nora Spillane of this town, Miss Marjorie Kaufman of Glen Ridge, Miss Rose McNulty of Clifton, and Mrs. I. H. Hermance of Bloomfield.

Mrs. John Hewitt of Stephens street will entertain Saturday evening at supper bridge for Mrs.
