Do Not Expect That Men
Will Be Called Until After Holidays

Forty-one youths, the largest number sent from the local draft board in some time, were ordered to report to Newark yesterday for their pre-induction physical examinations. The draft board will be notified of the results of the examinations some time today. Those who successfully pass the examination will be inducted into service some time after the Christmas holidays, it was said.

Throughout the nation, the government has called off the sending away of draftees until after the holidays, but it has been intimated that if conditions warranted it, this ruling would be changed. It is generally customary that three weeks after the pre-induction examination, the men are sent to camp.

Those who were called for examination yesterday morning included:

HOLIDAY BUREAU READY TO HELP

CSB Clearing House Hopes To Avoid Duplication in Helping Families

The Community Service bureau is anxious that Christmas cheer be spread among as many families as it is possible. To help accomplish this, it has once again opened its holiday bureau, which serves as a clearing house for organizations and others who wish to help needy families so that there will be no duplications. Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, bureau executive secretary, is in charge.

The bureau checks the names on the list of one organization against those on all other lists to avoid duplications, encourage wider distribution of Christmas cheer and to help diversify gifts. It is a free service and is confidential. The holiday bureau is maintained annually by the Community Service and is financed through the annual contribution which it receives from the Welfare Federation as its share of the Community Chest drive.

The bureau suggests that those organizations of individuals planning to give make up an alphabetical list of names of families or persons to whom they intend to give, state what they intend to give each family or person and mail the list as early as possible to the holiday bureau. Sending in the list two weeks before Christmas is not too early, Mrs. Reiner points out. Each list should also have the name of the organization and the person who will be in charge of distributing gifts.

Urging people to give money as a gift, the bureau reminds that for people who have little money to spend at any time for anything, it is the best gift for Christmas to be used for what they wish.

Saved A Life

'PHONE COMPANY CITES WORKER

Arthur W. Weber Revived
Drowning Boy By Use of Artificial Respiration

The New Jersey Bell Telephone company this week commended one of its veteran employees, Arthur W. Weber, of 193 Forest street for the part that he played in saving the life of a young boy. In the presence of his associates, Weber, who is a telephone installer, was presented with a frame citation Tuesday morning at the central office in Washington avenue by Paul I. Langdon, Newark suburban equipment superintendent.

Weber was cited for his efficient application of artificial respiration to a young boy at Lake Hopatcong on July 5 last. The Forest street resident, who was in his bungalow at the lake, heard the cries for help and hurried to the scene where he found the boy, already rescued from the water by his father, lying unconscious on the ground. Without relief, Weber applied artificial respiration for an hour and 15 minutes until the boy regained consciousness and a doctor arrived to take over.

The telephone worker's knowledge of artificial respiration was gained through the Red Cross first aid courses which telephone company men take.

Invented Telephone Device
Weber will round out 25 years service with the phone company next year. He is well-known for his invention of the telephone device used in salvaging sunken submarines. Last year he came up with a new wrinkle when he introduced a bed-of-chair, a combined bed and chair for tired fishermen and campers.

He received a citation from the navy department in 1931 for his telephone device used in submarines, which gained considerable prominence when it was used when the submarine Squalus was sunk off the New Hampshire coast two years ago.

STUDENTS AGAIN RIDE BUSES

School Board Resumes Service
For Soho, Silver Lake
Pupils

Silver Lake and Soho students are again riding buses hired by the board of education to and from the high school daily. Resumption of the service on Tuesday afternoon followed a meeting of board members with student representatives from the two sections on Friday night.

Monitors will be stationed on each of the buses. Drivers are also requested to make daily reports on the pupils' conduct. The buses were cancelled at the order of Hugh D. Kittle, high school principal, on November 5 following the reports by Public Service Coordinated Transport that one of the buses had been damaged by the students.

Silver Lake boys and girls walked until last week when the Tripoli Park Political and Social club hired buses to transport them. Students, representing the two sections affected, who conferred with the school board and promised their cooperation were Miss Fanny Mustacchio of 82 Frederick street and Nicholas Cocco of 8 North Eighth street, speaking for the Lake students and Miss Eleanor Johnson of 31 Belleville avenue and Charles Howard of 657 Mill street speaking for the Soho group.

Six buses are now in service, the same number as was used previously. Four buses go to Silver Lake, one to Soho and one to both sections.

Defense Council Meets
The local defense council headed by Police Judge Everett B. Smith will meet at the town hall tomorrow night. It is expected that sub-committees which will function under the various council members will be appointed.

Glee Club Will Present Varied Program Tuesday

Opera, Folk Songs, Christmas Carols Will Be Offered
By Local Singers In Joint Concert With Nutley
Group; Florence Manning Is Soloist

The highlight of Belleville's musical season takes place on Tuesday night when the Belleville Glee club joined by the Nutley Glee club singers will present its annual winter concert at School No. 10. Weaving humor, drama, opera, folk songs and Christmas carols into its program, this year's presentation promises to rank with the best that the club has presented in past years.

Featured with the male singers will be Miss Florence Manning, lyric soprano, who is well-known to National Broadcasting and Radio City audiences.

The chorus will be under the direction of Arthur E. Jacobus, rapidly being recognized as one of the outstanding conductors of group singing in this section. Ably assisting him will be Miss Ruth L. Dautel, who is the assistant director and accompanist for the glee club.

One of the outstanding numbers on the program will be the club's offering of Sir Walter Scott's "Ballad of Lochinvar." It was written in 1907 by William G. Hammond, Brooklyn organist and accompanist. Popular with singing groups, the composer in setting the text has caught the spirit of ever changing moods in an exceptionally realistic manner. Incidental solos will be sung by Thomas G. Lynas and William G. Berry.

Program In Three Parts

The program will be divided into three parts. The singers will open with the singing of "Rolling Down to Rio" by Edward German, a poem by Rudyard Kipling. A Negro work song, "Po' Ol' Lazarus" arranged by John L. Work will follow with the first of the concert being concluded with "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust" by Gounod.

"Ballad of Lochinvar" will open the second part followed by "March of the Men of Harlech," Welsh national anthem, arranged by John Hyatt Brewer; "Suomis Song," a Scandinavian folk song, by Franz Mayer; "The Piper of Dundee," a Scottish folk melody, arranged by Homer Whiteford; and a Finnish folk number, "Lullatulla," arranged by Marshall Baytholow.

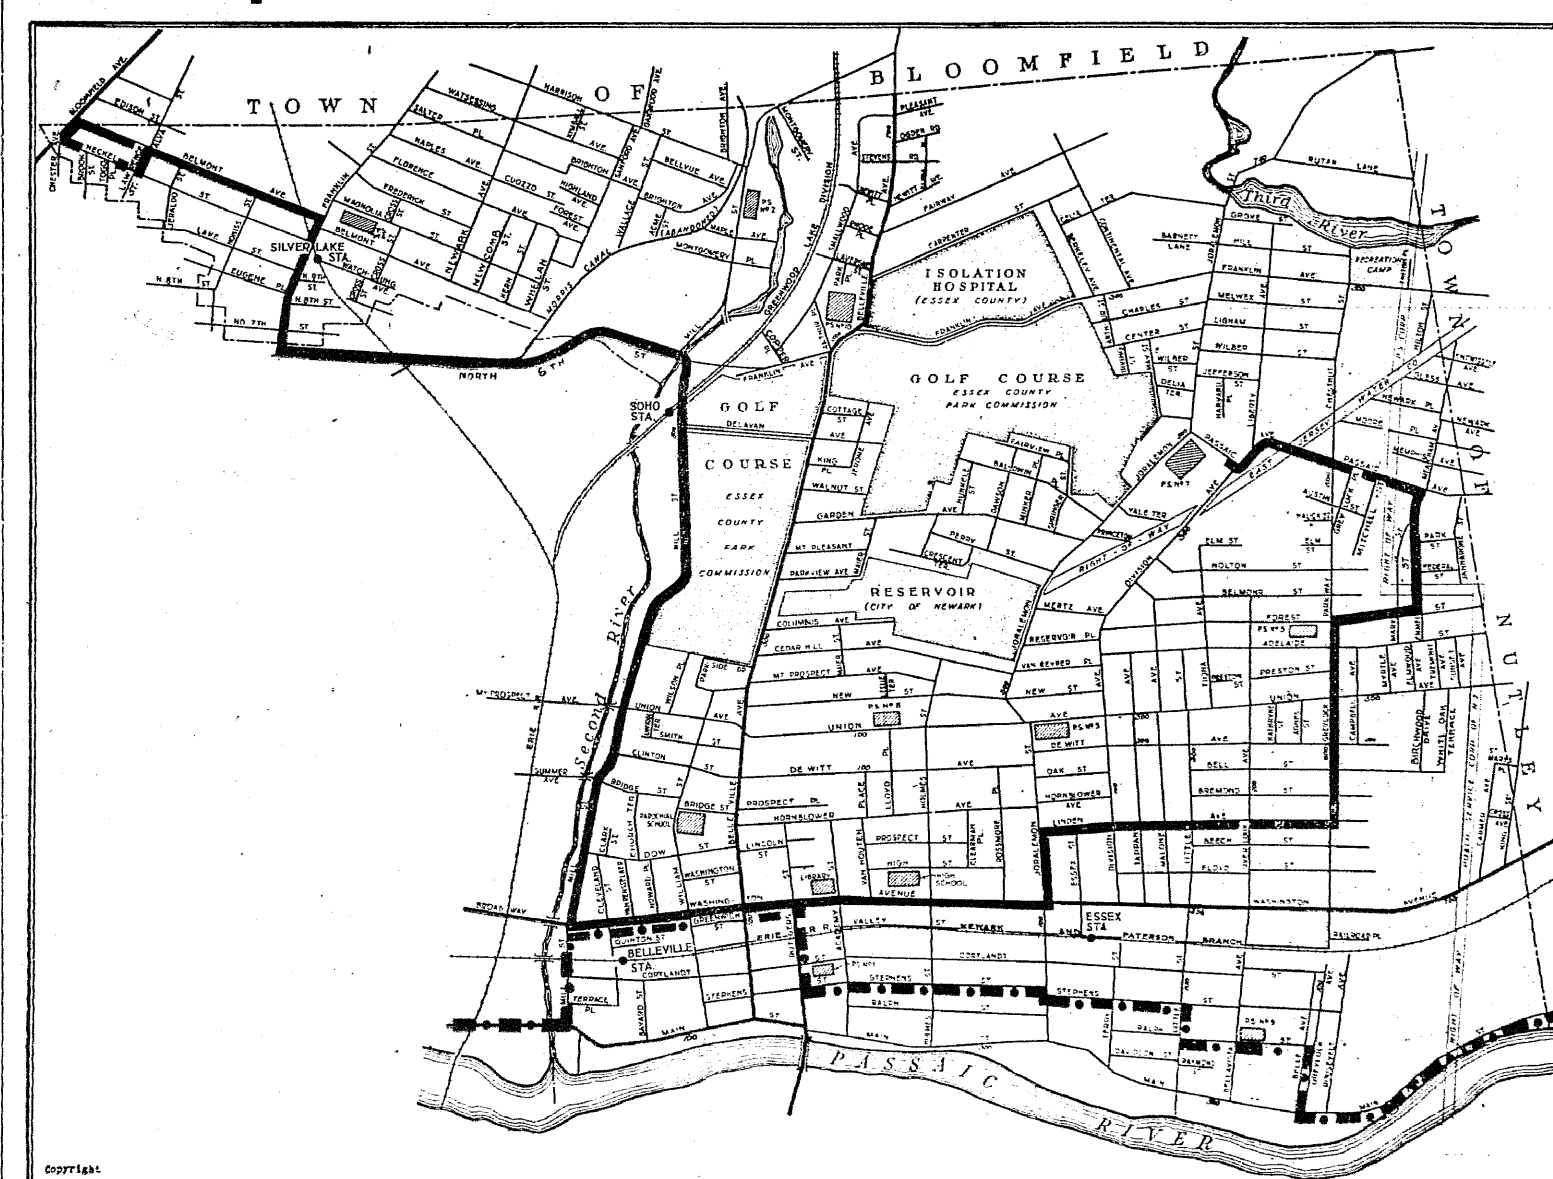

The Christmas numbers will be heard in the final group, opening with "The March of the Wise Men," from "The Babe of Bethlehem," by Harry B. Gaul; "Carol of the Sheep Bells," traditional Slovak carol, arranged by Richard Kountz; "O Holy Night," by Adolph Adam and arranged by Mark Andrews with an incidental solo by Miss Manning; and in conclusion "Adeste Fideles," by John G. Reading arranged by Ralph L. Baldwin.

School Board President Herbert C. Schmutz could not be reached at his home last night for comment. The names of several other teachers, most of them members of the high school faculty, have also been linked as possible candidates for the vacancy.

Local Detective Guarded Killer Who Got Chair

Detective Rudolph Zoeller of the Court House, Newark, who lives at 41 Fairview place, was guard for William ("Blackie") Zupkosky for the two weeks of his trial in Newark and transported him to State's Prison in Trenton where he was electrocuted Tuesday night at 8. William Harvey of Glen Ridge, another detective in the Newark office, accompanied them to Trenton. Zoeller was with Zupkosky until the criminal walked to the electrocution chamber unaided. Zupkosky was sentenced to death for killing a man in a Newark holdup.

DEFENSE BONDS FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS URGED

Handlon & Koodman Co. to Give Each Worker $25 Bond;
Retailers Sell Stamps

Urging people to give defense savings stamps and bonds for Christmas gifts and requesting more merchants to offer to act as retail stations for the sale of stamps is being pushed this week by the local defense savings bonds committee headed by Philip Dettelbach.

Coupled with the appeal to residents to bring Christmas cheer by giving bonds came the announcement that several local manufacturers were considering distributing bonds to their employees as Yule bonuses. Handlon & Goodman company, brush manufacturers, will give each of its workers a $25 bond and cash for Christmas.

The announcement was made Tuesday night by Ernest Wright Sr., president of the company, at the annual dinner meeting of the Manufacturers' association at the Yountakah Country club in Nutley.

Dettelbach and those assisting him in the drive will make an effort during the coming week to urge more manufacturers and other business firms to give bonds as gifts.

Santa Claus Posters
Special Christmas posters will be distributed to stores and banks by the trade committee headed by Wilfred Yudin. On the posters is a picture of Santa Claus waving a defense bond and urging people to buy them.

"Giving stamps and bonds for Christmas is a patriotic duty as well as a worthwhile gift," commented Dettelbach. "There is no better time for us to demonstrate the spirit of giving than at this season of the year, and it is the spirit of giving and doing our part to help this nation that is important at this time. Whether it be stamps or bonds, the spirit is there and all of us should try to do our part."

Trade committee head Yudin announced yesterday that five merchants had already consented to act as selling points for stamps. This is in line with the nation-wide program to get retailers in towns to serve as outlets for the sale of bonds and stamps. At present, bonds may be obtained only at the banks and the post office and stamps only at the latter. The defense savings committee believes the more outlets that are available to the public for the purchase of bonds, the better they will sell.

There is no profit for the retailers in offering to perform the service. They must pay cash for the stamps or bonds which they purchase and are entirely responsible for them. Those stores which have already agreed to act as selling points are:

Four Prominent Speakers To Talk On Defense

Institute Sponsors Affair Tuesday Night In Which
Authorities Will Discuss Industry's, Religion's
And Army's Position In Present Affairs

A program to better acquaint the public with national defense and the part which everybody must play, the first of its kind ever attempted in Belleville, will be presented next Wednesday night by the Belleville Institute of Public Affairs in the social hall of the Congregation Ahavas Achim in Washington avenue.

Speaking on the topic, "Frontiers in Our National Defense," three outstanding authorities in their respective fields will discuss the subject from the point of view of religion, industry and the armed forces.

Following the prepared speeches there will be an open forum.

Speaking for industry will be William D. Relyea, who has been loaned by one of the state's leading industrial concerns to the defense effort for the duration. Relyea is special representative for the New Jersey Defense council and liaison officer between the state and national offices of production management in charge of contract distribution.

Col. Voelter Army Speaker
Col. Theodore Voelter, a local resident and well-known in military affairs, state commander of the national guard, will speak for the armed forces. The approach to the subject from the religious viewpoint will be made by Captain Bernard Segal, post chaplain at Fort Dix, who was the first chaplain to be called up in the emergency. He is well-known throughout the army area for the program he has perfected in integrating the seectetes in army morale.

Arrangement of the program has been in charge of Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin of the Congregation A.A. The institute is the only adult public forum in town and its sponsoring groups in addition to the Congregation A.A. are the Sisterhood of the temple, Jen's Progress club and the Junior League banded together under the Belleville Jewish Community council. It was explained that the group was following the suggestion of Mayor Fiorelli H. aGuardia, civilian defense director, that a greater effort be made by local organizations to bring accurate information to the attention of the public.

Edward J. Abramson, Congregation president, will be the meeting chairman. A special display of the program set up by the civilian defense office will be on exhibition and literature and pamphlets concerning the part to be played by the average citizen in the emergency will be distributed. The program is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

TRAINING SCHOOL TROUBLES TOLD

Tiernan Tells Manufacturers That Getting Right Men Is The Problem

The biggest problem facing those conducting the local training school under the defense production plan is to get men with sufficient mechanical aptitude and interest to stay enrolled in the course until they have completed their study and training. This was the declaration made by M. R. Tiernan, president of the Belleville Manufacturers' association, at the annual dinner meeting of the association held Tuesday night at the Yountakah Country club. It marked the completion of the group's 10th year. Ninety-five attended the dinner.

"Even under the present method of selection," Tiernan said, "which is quite thorough, practically two men have either failed or quit to each man who has finished the course. The low enrollment would indicate that there is a shortage of men either available for this type of training or sufficiently interested to take the training course."

The school has trained 40 men, Tiernan said, and established them in machine shop. If it were not for the training school, he commented, these men would not be so employed.

The total membership of local manufacturers in the association is now 34. During the year, newcomers to the group included Andrew Jergens company, Bart Laboratories, Thompson Materials corporation, Tobacco Machine Supply Co., Inc., Coating Materials Laboratories incorporated, Resistoflex corporation, American Persico Products company and Walter Kilde company.

Tiernan said that as in past years, members of the association would again offer to help the town commissioners in preparing the town budget. "We feel," he stated, "we were helpful in preparing a sound budget for the town." He added that the commissioners had been most cooperative and responsive.

The president also remarked about the manner in which the manufacturers had cooperated in the U.S.O. drive, pointing out that through the efforts of its members over $2,900 had been solicited.

COMMUNITY CHEST TOPS 100% MARK IN CAMPAIGN

Kittle Reports $16,004.20 Raised; Will Divide Money Next Week

The Community Chest topped the 100 percent mark this week, according to an announcement made last night by Hugh D. Kittle, drive campaign chairman. He reported that $16,004.20 had been subscribed up until last night. Last week at the same time, the drive was short $10 of its goal. The total amount is represented in cash and pledges. It is believed that this is the first time in history that the chest drive has topped its goal.

Kittle said that he felt that this year's slogan, "Victory Through Unity," was a good choice. Veteran campaigners in chest drives have said that they can not remember when there was a more enthusiastic and cooperative spirit among the campaign workers. A new plan of house-to-house coverage was attempted this year. Kittle enlisted the aid of individual organizations and each was assigned to a section of town. The response of the manufacturers and the business men was also lauded by the drive directors.

"Every worker should be publicly thanked," Kittle said. "In fact, every citizen in town who repeated the words 'community chest' performed a valuable service."

Money Raised By Groups
The industrial division, headed by W. Douglas Clark, raised $7,904.26; special gifts, Clark, chairman, $1,359; out-of-town, Clark, chairman, $756; churches, Mrs. W. P. Adams, $103; clubs and veterans' organizations, George Westcott, $201; lodges, Frank Banger, $77; professional, Dr. George Kaden, $286.50; commercial, Lester McCorkle and Luther Van Pelt, $423; post office, Lester McCorkle, $16; isolation hospital, Lester McCorkle, $72.25; municipal employees, Mayor Williams, Arthur Ackerman, Charles Watson, $247; school teachers, W. R. Farmer, $105.50; school employees, W. R. Farmer, $88; school pupils, W. R. Farmer, $266.07; parent-teacher associations, $48.

DENTAL PROBLEM BEING STUDIED

Group Considering Clinic Plan Meets Again Wednesday Night

The dental health committee which is studying the practicability of establishing a permanent dental health clinic will meet next Wednesday night to discuss further plans. Dr. George Kaden is temporary chairman of the committee which is making a study of the problem and how it should be approached.

Several weeks ago a group met at the Community Service bureau headquarters, representing the board of education, parent-teacher associations, Girl Scouts, American Legion, Red Cross, Visiting Nurses' association and the health department.

The need for the establishment of a dental clinic was outlined by Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, executive secretary of the Community Service bureau. Her remarks were backed by Mrs. Homer C. Zink, chairman of the school board health committee; Miss Mary Miller of the board of health and Miss Emily Ross of the Visiting Nurses' association.

Since that meeting the committee headed by Dr. Kaden has been working on the problem from three phases: An investigating committee to determine the needs. An educational committee to map a careful and continuous program to make more people aware of the importance of dental care. A planning committee to plan a suitable dental service for indigents with special emphasis on such care for children.

Reports of the committee and further plans will be discussed at the meeting to be held next Wednesday night at the Community Service headquarters. Any person who is interested in the work is welcome to attend the meeting.

BUS LINES

ue on into Franklin street and return via the same route.

Newark Line Continuation

Bus No. 100 route would be a continuation of the McCarter highway line which now operates from Pennsylvania station along Riverside avenue, Newark, to the town line. It would start from the Newark line at Main street, continue north to Mill street, west to Washington avenue, north to Rutgers street, east to Stephens street, north to Little street, east to Ralph street, north to Greylock avenue, east to Main street and north to the Belleville-Nutley line.

The plea for the better local service, which has been waging for several years, reached a pitch in the summer of 1940. West Belleville residents who have been most persistent in their demands for better service were the chief complainants. The spark that touched off the first protest was the decision of the Public utilities board refusing the Garden States Bus Lines permission to pick up and discharge passengers on its line which runs through Belleville from North Newark to Brookdale.

In July, 1940, Mrs. Charles Roehm of 51 Malone avenue and Mrs. Anna Noonan of 199 Linden avenue presented a petition to public utilities with 127 names. The bus company refused to appeal the ruling by the board arguing that two appeals which had been made had been costly. In August, Michael Caruso of 218 Passaic avenue handed the town commission a petition with 489 signatures. Commissioner Noll said he would again go to the public utilities board to see if it could be persuaded to change its position. However, in October, Frank Reardon of the board told Noll that the commission's decision was final, giving the opinion that to permit Garden State to pick up and discharge passengers would be unfair to the Public Service company which already had lines operating in Union avenue.

Noll said yesterday that he would make every effort to have the public utilities board consider the application by P.S. for the two lines as early as possible. One of his main arguments for an early hearing will be the fact that the start of the bus services will help workers in getting to local plants that are important in the defense industry.

Roll Call Money Doesn't Help First Aid Work

Comment on a slightly misleading conclusion to the story published in the News last week which described the first aid branch of Red Cross work led to a statement by Mrs. Louis A. Noll, chairman of this department of the local chapter, on the financial status of the first aid groups.

"The fee of $1 collected from each person enrolled in a first aid course covers the cost of textbook and kit of material which is supplied him," said Mrs. Noll. Since auditors and instructors are furnished without charge there is no further expense involved. Red Cross funds, meaning the dues collected in Roll Call drives, are not called upon to bear any part of the cost of first aid instruction.

The Importance of Using Fresh MAZDA Bulbs

ELECTRIC LIGHT BULBS that stay in service too long become blackened—rob you of light—waste electricity. It's smart, therefore, to keep track of the bulbs in all your lamps and fixtures. Watch out for tell-tale blackness, easily noticed in daylight, and replace them with fresh Mazda bulbs when this occurs. Then you will have good light and not waste electricity!

Mazda bulbs may be obtained in cartons of six or more.

GETS HIS WINGS IN NAVAL RESERVE

Edward P. Wood Commissioned As Ensign At Jacksonville Training Center

Edward Parsons Wood, 24, of this town was recently awarded the right to pin the wings of a naval aviator on his uniform, the culmination of a successful training course at the U. S. naval air station in Jacksonville, Fla.

At the same time, Wood was awarded a commission as ensign in the naval reserve by Captain C. P. Mason, commanding officer at the big Jacksonville flight training center.

Ensign Wood reported at Jacksonville last March 6, after having undergone elimination training at the naval reserve air base at Floyd Bennett field, Brooklyn, N. Y. He enlisted in the navy in New York.

While at Jacksonville, he was one of the approximately 1,400 flying cadets. One hundred young Americans from almost as many communities enter training at Jacksonville every two weeks. After a short period of duty on the "receiving ship," they are admitted to the regiment as full-fledged aviation cadets.

Graduates must possess superior qualifications. To be commissioned, an aviation cadet must prove to the satisfaction of his instructors, not only that he is a good flyer, but also that he can make of himself a good military pilot. This means, for one thing, that the mechanics of flying must not occupy all of his attention while he is in the air.

The naval reserve student pilots at Jacksonville, and at Corpus Christi, Texas, and Pensacola, Fla., the other two flight training centers of the navy — must be between 20 and 27 years of age when they enter. They must be unmarried and must have at least two years of college training.

Picture Memory To Boys, A Winner To Cameraman

Someone once said a real work of art never dies. Members of the All-American Boy's club of Kearny, now defunct, believe that.

One day last February, the boys were sitting around the card table in their hand-built clubhouse in Belgrove drive. An old-fashioned oil lamp lit the dim atmosphere. The door swung open and a stranger stepped in. "I'm a newspaper photographer and I'd like to make a series of pictures showing how a typical All-American member lives," he said.

First of that series, the photographer decided, would be the picture that confronted him from that doorway. "I'll just place a flash bulb inside that oil lamp and you fellows can go right on with your game," the boys were told. A flare of light that seemed a million times brighter than the old oil flame and the cameraman, before they knew what happened, said: "That is that."

Came March, with its ill winds. The boys were horrified one morning to come across workmen demolishing their clubhouse. They were informed "the old shack is standing in the way of progress."

A modern building development would be built on that site. It looked like that was one masterpiece that had died.

That night in the news pages of a Newark paper some of the members were surprised when they saw a picture that refreshed memories. There was a picture of four familiar faces sitting around a lighted oil lamp playing cards. Above the photograph was this caption: "Card Game," by News Photographer Wins First Award.

Here was a "work of art" that is destined to live, members believed, for—didn't someone once say something to the effect that "a real work of art will never die?"

Larry Rordan of 65 Nutley avenue, Nutley, formerly of Belleville, was the photographer. "Card Game" had won first prize in the pictorial salon of photography conducted by Westinghouse Electric Co. The photograph was given third award last week at the exhibit of the New Jersey Press association at Rutgers university. It won another first prize this week in the state photographic salon at Trenton museum. The picture will be on exhibit at the museum until November 12. It also won a first place in competition of the Belleville Camera club of which Rordan is a member.

The mothers' group of the Greylock P.T.A. met recently in the school library. Mrs. Victor Hart, Jr., was chairman of the group of about 40 who heard an address by Mrs. Rowan Whealdon of Verona, health chairman of the Essex County P.T.A. Mrs. Whealdon discussed the physical health of the child and stressed the need for periodic examinations by a physician as well as a dentist.

The speaker also brought out the importance of the home assuming responsibility for the child's health and not relinquishing it to the school where adequate provision cannot be made. Health habits, she pointed out.

The Branded Product Is Always More Dependable

As early as the sixteenth century, Andrea Ferrara, Italian sword maker of great renown, distinguished his blades from all others by signing his name to them.

His product was superlative, and being recognizable by its trademark, was eagerly sought by all men.

The custom of identifying worthy articles by a distinguishing mark grew rapidly as soon as the benefits were understood. In the complexity of the present day with its numberless sources of supply the trademark has become an essential institution in commerce—a protective device for the buyer and the honest manufacturer alike.

In the footwear market famous footwear brands abound, many of them known and respected for generations, others of more recent origin, but equally dependable. Futile attempts to create good reputations for unworthy merchandise have demonstrated the acumen of accepting branded products of reputation as more dependable and stable.

No greater guarantee of stability in business exists than that given by the product which bears a recognized, respected trademark. It is always dependable.

Post Office Lists Dates For Foreign Christmas Mail

Also Releases Schedule For Mailing Letters, Gifts To Service Men

With Christmas less than a month away the post office department is preparing for its biggest yuletide landslide in years. With most of the world at war, infrequent ship sailings to many countries and bad weather for the airplanes which fly the sea lanes to contend with, Uncle Sam's postal workers are kept busy explaining to folks the why and whereof of the various rulings which have been handed down by the Washington office of the department.

Newark Postmaster John P. Sinnott has released schedules for mailing dates Christmas packages and letters to be shipped to foreign countries and for mail to be sent to men in the service.

For trans-Pacific countries, Sinnott's announcement states, because of adverse weather affecting airmail service at this season, Christmas mail should be posted as early as practicable, and not December 8 for the countries bordering on the Pacific, including New Zealand and Australia. It appears that articles for Hawaii may be mailed as late as about December 15.

Weather conditions plus the war make it wise to post letters and parcels for European countries as early as possible and not later than December 15 if they are to be sent by air.

Foreign Air Mail

Because of the irregular sailing of trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific ships, no sailing dates can be furnished, but those planning to send packages or letters abroad, should have them in the post office as early as possible. ## TOWN-WIDE SURVEY ON CHILD WELFARE

C S B Group Delving Into Problem of Mothers Who Are Employed

Problems of children whose mothers are employed was closely studied by the case committee, its sub-committee on child care and other citizens at a joint meeting Tuesday morning in the Community Service bureau.

Mrs. W. P. Adams, who presided, dispensed with the usual order of business in order to permit the sub-committee on child welfare to report its progress to date and to give it all the assistance possible in its work. It was brought out that the group has held a number of meetings. Preliminary plans have been worked out for conducting a study of local conditions in relation to the number of working mothers, the provisions made for the children during the mother's absence and the effects of this situation on the family individually and as a whole.

The purpose of the study will be to take stock of actual conditions, their extent and how best to meet them through the better understanding of the problem.

Although still in its early stages, the study indicates that hundreds of mothers are engaged in industry. Supervision of their children during working hours produces many problems. The members of the committee have recognized this responsibility and are planning to take an active part in a town-wide survey to begin Monday. Personal visits will be made to as many homes as possible. It is hoped that the fullest cooperation will be given them so that the survey will be completed quickly and in a thorough fashion. Any information submitted by the community will be held strictly confidential—the statistical information, rather than the names of individuals being the important consideration.
