

SUSPEND BUSES FOR SOHO, LAKE H. S. STUDENTS

Principal Kittle Acts After Bus Is Damaged By Students

High school students in the Silver Lake and Soho sections of town are walking or thumbing rides this morning to the high school at Washington avenue and Holmes street and they're going to keep right on doing it until some of them learn how to respect other people's property. This was the order handed down by high school Principal Hugh D. Kittle and it went into effect yesterday afternoon.

The students from those sections, who have been riding back and forth on buses to classes daily for the past 15 years, rode to school yesterday morning, but they tucked their books under their arms and hoofed it or hitch hiked their way home last night.

Repeated complaints and reports have been received from officials of the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport company about the damage which students have been doing to buses, Kittle explained last night.

"This condition has existed for nine or 10 years," the principal said, "and on past occasions we have threatened to take the buses off. The latest episode brought the matter to a head and we decide that it was time to take stern action."

Badly Damaged Bus
Yesterday morning Public Service men brought a bus to the school, which had been used by the pupils in the morning. Kittle said some of the floorboards had been kicked out, advertising signs had been ripped down and destroyed, seats damaged and writing scrawled over parts of the interior.

The principal's decision was supported by Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer and several members of the Board of Education who conferred with Kittle yesterday morning following the visit of Public Service men with the damaged bus.

The students are transported to and from school without charge. The board of Education contracts annually with the Public Service to furnish the buses. The board is reimbursed for three quarters of the annual expense by the state.

"Six buses are now used with all but one of them going to the Silver Lake section."

In his announcement to the pupils informing them that the service had been suspended, Kittle said that he might consider lifting the ban if those who had done the damage would come forward and admit their guilt.

"It is unfortunate," the principal said, "that all must suffer for the damage which has probably been done by a minority, but this condition has gone far enough and we must attempt to put a stop to it."

For all of the students affected by the ruling it means a walk of more than a mile to school and for some two miles and more.

PROMOTE DEFENSE BOND SALE

Committee Chairmen For Educational Drive Are Announced By Dettelbach

An educational campaign to better inform the public on the meaning and the benefits of the United States defense savings bonds and stamps plan will be opened here shortly. A committee chairman met with local executive chairman, Philip Dettelbach, and Mayor Williams, honorary chairman, at the town hall Friday afternoon and mapped preliminary plans for the formation of committees and plans for the work locally.

They heard Paul M. Canada, deputy state administrator of the defense savings staff, who briefly outlined the plan, suggested methods that might be used by the local committee and answered questions.

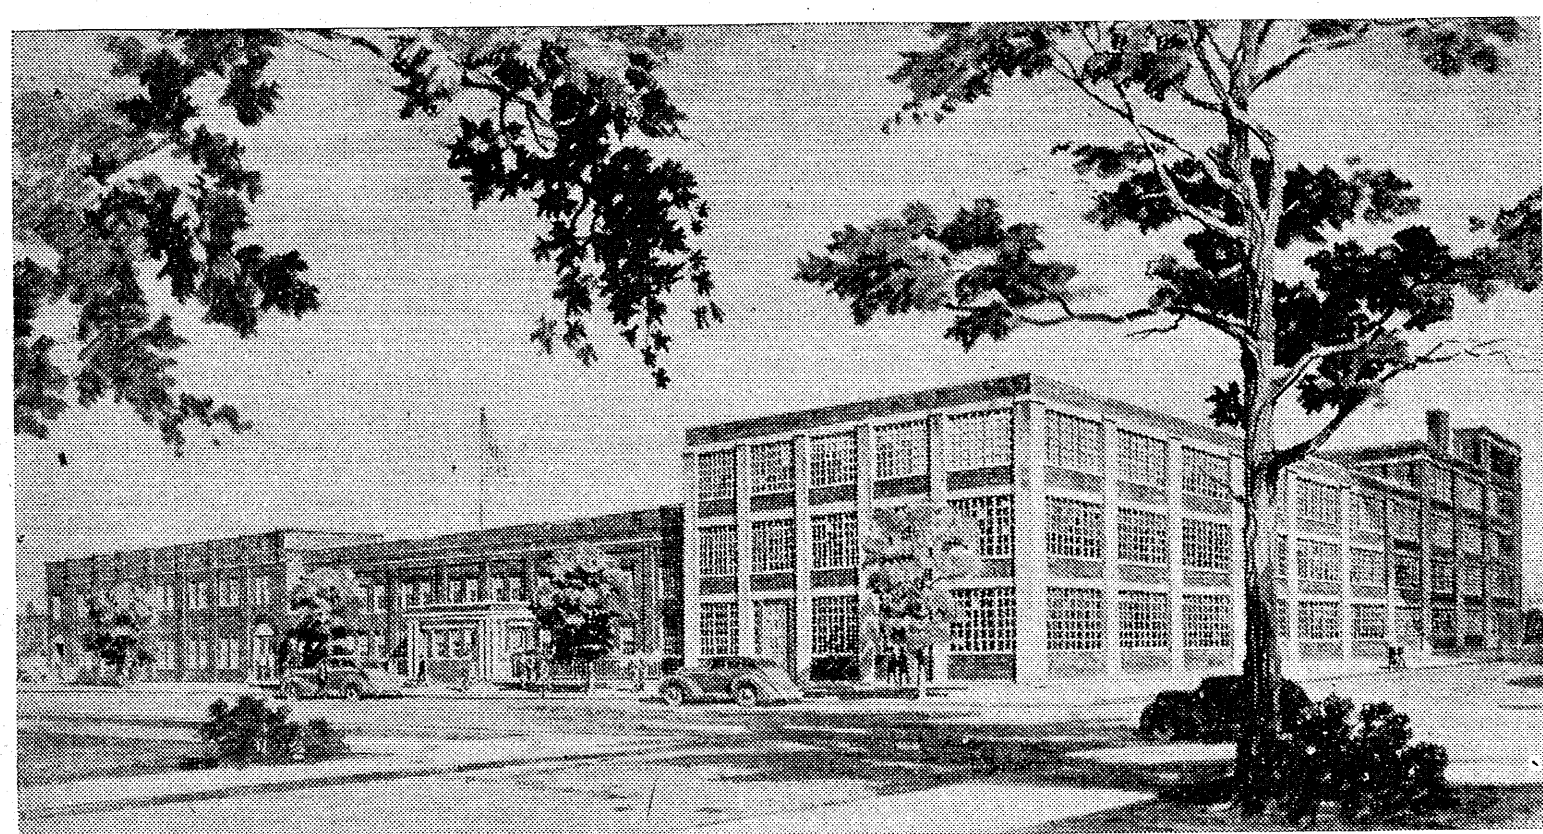

Those named by Dettelbach to head the various divisions include: Wilbur W. Brooks, First National bank, banking and finance chairman; and B. Thomas Aitken, People's National bank, vice-chairman; Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Parmer, education; T. Russell Sargeant, town treasurer, public employees; W. Douglas Clark, industries; Mrs. William Irvine, women's organizations; Rev. Edgar M. Compton, pastor of Wesley Methodist church; Norman Lauterette, men's organizations; Wilfred Yudin, trade; Walter L. Maloney, information; and William F. Price, superintendent of the local post office, who will serve in an advisory capacity and offer assistance to the committee.

The various chairmen are now forming their own committees which will carry on work in the various divisions. It was stressed both by Canada and Dettelbach that there will be no house-to-house solicitation.

"This is an educational campaign," Canada emphasized. "We are trying to tell the benefits of buying bonds and stamps and what it means to the country."

May Act Monday Night On Ordinance For Meters

The next meeting of the town commission will be held on Monday night instead of Tuesday because of Armistice day. One of the principal things scheduled for action is the introduction of an ordinance by Public Safety Director Clark permitting one-way parking on certain sections of Washington avenue.

Passage of the ordinance would pave the way for the installation of parking meters.

The board members agreed in conference last week to support Clark's recommendation that the meters be given a six months' trial in the block between Belleville avenue and Rutgers street. The meters will be installed at no cost to the municipality with 75 percent of the receipts going to the manufacturer and the remainder to the town.

Isolantite Plant Addition To Be Ready In Spring

Work Started On Million-Dollar Expansion and Renovation Project; Concern Biggest Maker of One Type of Ceramic Insulating Materials

Completion of a new addition and the renovation and remodeling of the present structure of Isolantite, incorporated, ceramic manufacturers, is expected by next spring. Construction of a new building at Cortlandt and Joralemon streets and remodeling and expansion of the present plant will cost approximately $1,000,000, including the equipment. The money has been loaned to the company by the Defense Plants corporation in Washington.

Detailed plans of the new building and other phases of the general improvement were released this week by K. D. Hamilton vice-president and general manager of Isolantite. The building is being constructed by the John W. Ryan Construction company of New York City and Parkinson & company of Newark is the architectural firm.

Eighty thousand additional square feet of floor space will be added to the structure which now has between 50,000 and 60,000 square feet. The needs of industry and national defense for quality ceramic parts have demanded the expansion, Hamilton said. The present capacity of the plant is being doubled, and with the addition of the new building its output will be raised to 10 times the level of a year ago.

The new building will be a three-story structure with a fourth story added on at the western end near the railroad tracks. The dimensions of the new structure, according to the plans, are 205 feet by 97 feet. The first floor will house the shipping and transmission lines departments, metal parts assembly line and a lunch room. The second story will be for inspection, grinding and the kilns, while the machine production department will be on the third floor. The fourth story will be used for storage.

Plans call for tripling of the present size of the present office, which will be extended to the north. All of the buildings fronting on Cortlandt street which now have hipped roofs will be remodelled into two-story structures. Most of the second story front of the renovated buildings will be taken up by the office staff which is now scattered about the plant. The personnel of the firm will be expanded somewhat, Hamilton said.

The main entrance will be approximately where the court is now between the main building and one of the auxiliary structures to the north. All employees will enter through the new entrance where in the main lobby will be located the employment office, first aid headquarters and a conference room.

Numerous Improvements
Numerous improvements are contemplated with the completion of the new building, Hamilton said. Straight line conveyor type production methods will be used. An efficient dust collecting system will be put into operation wherever possible and fluorescent lighting will be used to permit daylight working conditions throughout. The latest type equipment will be used in the plant, Hamilton said. He estimated that between 900 and 1,000 people would be employed with the new addition.

The new building will be of concrete frame with brick finish. The same general plan will be carried out in the present building which will be remodelled.

Hamilton estimated that the contractors would finish their work at the end of December with new machinery installed and ready for operation in March or April.

Isolantite is best known for its manufacture of steatite ceramic insulators. It is the largest producer of this type in the country and is generally recognized as the outstanding source of supply in the United States. Every branch of the service, particularly in radio transmission and receiving uses Isolantite products.

President of Isolantite is W. D. Waltman of Los Angeles. The

CHEST DRIVE 4% SHORT OF GOAL

Expect To Top $16,000 In Next Few Days; Need $788 More

The Community Chest drive officially ended at midnight last night $788 or approximately four percent short of its goal of $16,000. The drive's financial statisticians reported that cash and pledges received to date totaled $15,212.45, which put the present campaign $172.45 ahead of the amount which had been collected at the final end of the drive in December of last year.

Returns received last night, principally those in the house-to-house division swelled the campaign fund by more than $1,000. Campaign Manager Hugh D. Kittle announced that while the drive officially ended last night, work would still continue, and he urged house-to-house workers to do their "mopping up." It is anticipated that with known returns that are still to be officially reported, the drive will be over the $16,000 goal by the end of the week.

The industrial group led the various divisions, turning in $7,709.50. Reports from the other groups were as follows:

Special gifts, $1,160; out-of-town, $341; churches, $57; clubs and veterans, $188; lodges, $55; professional, $286.50; commercial, $348; post office, $16; hospital, $65; municipal employees, $246; teachers, $1,050.50; school employees, $88; pupils, $253.67; parent-teacher association, $2.50; and house-to-house, $3,037.78.

Two-Day School Holiday

Belleville public school students will have a two-day holiday on Monday and Tuesday. Many teachers will be in Atlantic City over the weekend attending the annual New Jersey State Teachers association convention which extends through Monday. Under state law, it is provided that public schools be closed on that day. In addition, they will be closed on Armistice day.

RED CROSS OPENS ROLL CALL DRIVE NEXT TUESDAY

4,500 Memberships Will Be Sought; Daniel Spillane Is Campaign Chairman

The American Red Cross roll call campaign will open here on Tuesday coincidentally with similar membership appeals which will start in communities throughout the nation. The drive will continue until November 30. A total of 4,500 memberships, the largest ever sought by the local chapter, is its goal.

Daniel Spillane has been named chairman of the roll call committee and with the assistance of a large group of workers from the Red Cross organization and the volunteer cooperation of a number of organizations has mapped plans for complete coverage of the town's homes, industries, commercial enterprises, public employees and professional men.

Both Frank Chambers, who is head of the local chapter, and Spillane stressed the importance of having the drive go over the top. They pointed to the increased demand that is being made upon the Red Cross organization throughout the country and used the activities of the local chapter as an example. Requests have come from Washington which speeded up the organization of a motor corps under the leadership of Miss Doris Scharfenburgh and the increase in the enrollment for first aid classes by the committee headed by Mrs. Louis A. Noll, Jr. Greater demands have also been made upon the chapter's production committee which works throughout the year, the two leaders pointed out.

Those Assisting

Assisting Spillane is Otto Bruenich, who is vice-chairman. Other division leaders are Miss Scharfenburgh and the motor corps members, the manufacturing group; Mayor Williams, town employees; B. Thomas Aitken, lodges and clubs; Miss Eileen Lynch and the members of the police department, commercial group; Rev. O. Bell Close, Rev. Joseph Kelly and Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, the churches.

District captains for the house-to-house drive who have been named include Mrs. Thomas Fleming, Mrs. Harvey Thompson, Mrs. Noll, Fred Evans, Russell Rose, William J. Horgan, W. Douglas Clark, Jr., Hugh I. Kittle and Rev. Esauende.

Organizations which have promised to cooperate by assisting in the house-to-house canvassing are the Belleville Teachers' Association, the Red Cross first aid class, Every Man's Bible class, American Legion and its auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Petrean club.

Sunday will be Red Cross day in the churches and all of the local clergymen have said that they would urge the members of their congregation to do their part for the Red Cross. Next week the Capitol theatre is running a short feature dealing with the activities of the organization and an appeal for people to contribute.

Charles Watson Is Named As New Tax Assessor

Charles W. Watson, for five years assistant to Tax Assessor John F. Coogan, Jr., was this week named to Coogan's post following the resignation of the official who had served in the job since 1930. The resignation of Coogan took effect on Saturday.

Watson will receive $3,000 annually, $600 more than his present salary. Coogan's salary was $3,500. The term of the new assessor will expire on July 1, 1946. It was explained by Mayor Williams, head of the revenue and finance department, who made the appointment that state law places the term of four years from July 1 following the appointment.

The new assessor, who was born in Irvington, has been a resident of Belleville for most of his life. He attended the local high school and was graduated from the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers. Prior to his appointment as a town employee, he was in the plumbing and heating business with his father.

Dealer Says 1942 Pontiacs Are Greatly Improved

Contrary to predictions and expectations, the new 1942 models offered by Pontiac are greatly improved over the previous years, according to Theodore Willand, sales manager of Tracey Motors, incorporated of 320 Washington avenue, local Pontiac dealers.

"Most people get a very pleasant surprise when they first see the new Pontiacs," Willand said. "They have been reading about various shortages in material and as a result expect to find that the manufacturer has skimped here and there and generally cut down on the quality of the product, but such is not the case. In the new Pontiac you will find the same high standards of quality that has always characterized Pontiac plus a number of new and additional features."

The new Pontiac, which is on display at the Tracey showroom, is now available for immediate delivery, Willand said.

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM SET

Thirty Units In Parade On Tuesday Night; Memorial Services Sunday

This town will celebrate the signing of the armistice at the end of World War I and pay tribute to its war dead in ceremonies which have been arranged for Sunday and Tuesday nights. Final details of the observance were worked out this week by the mayor's Armistice day committee.

More than 30 units are expected to march in the parade which is scheduled to start from Washington avenue and Greylock parkway at 8 p.m. Tuesday night. In the afternoon there will be a doubleheader football attraction at Clearman field with the high school freshman eleven taking on the Kearny freshmen in a game that will start at 1:15 and the jayvee eleven of the two schools clashing at 2:30.

Members of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars and their auxiliaries will attend memorial services which will be held in the Grace Baptist church on Sunday night at 8 p.m. Rev. Marshall J. Whitehead, who this week was ordained as the pastor of the church, will speak on "Blessed is the Nation." Members of both veterans' organizations will take part in the service with the Legion conducting a memorial service in honor of the war dead.

Grand Marshal Al Williams plans to have the units participating in the parade in line and ready to start at 7:30 p.m. From Greylock parkway the parade will proceed down Washington avenue.

Four members of the town commission and the committee representing the police and fire departments met in closed conference last evening in town hall to discuss possible pay increase for the employees in 1942. Commissioner Noll was not present.

Following the meeting Mayor Williams said that Noll had been telephoned at his home, but said that the director explained that he had a previous engagement. Arrangements to hold the meeting were made last week while Noll was out of town. The mayor said that he did not know whether the commissioner had been previously notified of the meeting or not.

The conference had been agreed upon some time ago by the commissioners and the police and firemen following the action of the uniformed men in withdrawing from the ballot the referendum asking for $300 pay increase to go into effect for employees in both departments in January of next year. The placing of the referendum on the ballot had been obtained by the securing of signatures of qualified voters numbering more than 4,000.

Board Confers Next Week

Mayor Williams said following the meeting, which ended shortly after 11:30 p.m., that there would be a conference of the town board some time next week to decide what action the board should take in granting raises, if any, to the employees.

The mayor said that no specific request had been made of the board by men. However, it is generally understood that the police and firemen would like to have a raise of $100 next year with an increase of $100 annually coming in the next two years.

When reached at his home early this morning and about his failure to attend a meeting, Commissioner Noll stated:

Resents Hate Invitation

"I resent being asked at the last minute to attend a meeting that had been previously planned."

Noll said that a policeman called at his house at 8 p.m. and asked him if he would attend the meeting and the commissioner replied no, stating that he had a previous engagement which he wished to keep. A few minutes later, he said, he received a call from the mayor.

WARNS MOTORIST ABOUT NEW LAW

Haslam Points To New Financial Responsibility Laws

George W. Haslam, of Davidson and King, Incorporated, real estate and insurance agents issued a warning this week to car owners of drastic changes being made in the New York and New Jersey financial responsibility laws which will become effective on January 1.

The New York law says briefly that if a person is involved (as owner or driver) in a motor vehicle accident in which anyone is injured, or anyone's property damaged in excess of $25, that person must be able at once to show financial responsibility for that accident, and future accidents, or their driver's license and license plates will be taken away. It does not matter who is to blame for the accident.

While not quite as strict as the New York law, the New Jersey law now provides that the commissioner of motor vehicles shall require proof of financial responsibility from any person involved in an accident covering bodily injury or property damage to the extent of $25 or more. Formerly the amount was $100. The New Jersey law now provides for license revocation of any person, failing to satisfy a judgment of $25 or more after the judgment has been awarded. It also provides that bankruptcy proceedings shall not relieve him of the requirements of the financial responsibility act. If judgment is rendered proof must be filed that the judgment has been satisfied and also proof of financial responsibility for future accidents before the car can be driven or registered.

It is also urged that motorists, when they obtain their insurance, ascertain the financial security of the company in which the insurance is being placed and also whether or not the company is licensed to do business in the states requiring proof of financial responsibility.

Bits By And About Boys In The Service

Seven Local Youths Work In Motor Transport Unit

Seven Belleville youths are members of Company B, 71st quartermaster battalion, Camp Livingston, La. They are Pvt. first class Joseph Piscopo, 511 Jorammon street, Pvt. first class Oscar Strieb, 380 Stephens street; and Privates Benjamin Perkowski, 40 Harrison street, Carmine Olivo, 44 Magnolia street; Edward Henris, 306 Washington avenue; Arthur Burke, 577 Washington avenue, and Felix Clark, 53 Smith street. The men were inducted on May 13 and have been together since then.

The company to which they are attached is engaged in light maintenance of motor vehicles and is in effect a repair garage or machine shop on wheels because all of its equipment is mounted on trucks and its function is to operate as a mobile unit which can set itself up in the field and repair wrecked or damaged vehicles without outside assistance.

The organization is self-sufficient and carries its own spare parts, tool supplies and equipment such as lathes, electric welding machines and body-straightening jacks. Many of the company's fifty-one vehicles are mounted with cabinets and drawers, battery chargers, spark plug cleaning and testing machines, brake relining machines, drill presses, automatic grinders, air compressors and other portable machines and equipment of all sorts. The company also has six big tow trucks or wreckers which can operate in any terrain. During the September maneuvers in Louisiana the company played an important part in keeping army vehicles in repair.

Of the Belleville boys in the company, P.F.C. Piscopo is a clerk in charge of parts requisition. Pvt. Perkowski is a cook and P.F.C. Strieb and Pvt. Olivo, Henris, Burke and Clark are motor vehicle mechanics.

SWEAR IN SOLDIER AS ATTORNEY

Pvt. Joseph Piscopo Sworn In By Justice Bodino While On Furlough

Private First Class Joseph Piscopo, of Camp Livingston, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Piscopo of 511 Jorammon street, was sworn in at Trenton as an attorney at law on Wednesday, October 29. Pvt. Piscopo took the state bar examinations in April, and then left for camp, where he was notified that he had passed the exams.

Because his military organization was on maneuvers, he was unable to attend the swearing in ceremony in September, but made arrangements with the supreme court for an individual swearing in ceremony while he was home on furlough. He was sworn in by Supreme Court Justice Bodino in the justice's private chambers in the state house annex in Trenton.

Pvt. Piscopo also signed the roll of solicitors in chancery and was then sworn in as an attorney, solicitor and proctor in the United States district court by Federal Judge Forman in open court in the post office building, Trenton.

Piscopo was graduated from Belleville high school in 1933 and from Newark University, School of Law, in 1940, where he received his degree of LL. B. He served his clerkship with the law firm of Farkas & Samuels of Newark.

Piscopo returned to his military base today where he will resume his duties as a clerk in the Quarter Master Corps.

That is all. Special emphasis will be made in the trade and industrial groups. Efforts are being made to have employers put into force the voluntary payroll allotment plan under which a percentage of the employee's wage, depending on the amount he wishes it to be, will be deducted each week and placed in a defense savings fund which will go toward the purchase of bonds. Among the tradesmen, an effort will be made to have merchants agree to sell defense stamps so that customers may buy them as they wish or take them instead of change for purchases.

Both High-Priced Car Owners and Lowest-Priced Car Owners are Switching To Pontiac this year

THIS YEAR, the ratio of new Pontiac Torpedoes being bought by former owners of high-priced cars and lowest-priced cars is greater than ever. Expensive car owners are finding that the 1942 Pontiac enables them to reduce their motoring costs and still enjoy the ownership of a car that is big, impressive, comfortable and of the finest quality. Lowest-priced car owners are switching to Pontiac because the difference in price is so slight that they say it's hardly noticeable—and Pontiac gives them finer performance, a better ride, greater handling ease and increased safety plus record, all-around economy. Naturally, Pontiac engineers were able to achieve such quality without interference with critical materials essential to national defense.

Your present car may cover part or perhaps all of the down payment on a 1942 Pontiac. The balance may be paid in monthly installments.

Proud To Be Doing Our Part

Pontiac is doing its part for National Defense by building a new type of rapid-fire cannon for the United States Navy. Two plants, covering 426,123 square feet of floor space, have been devoted to the manufacture of these cannon. Thousands of craftsmen have been trained for the highly technical machines. This means building fewer cars—but Pontiac places defense work ahead of everything else.

Not Enough To Spread Around?

One of the phases of the work of its police department which Belleville has been able to point to consistently with pride has been the control which it has exercised over motorists. Throughout the state it has become generally known that Belleville is one place where it is advisable to go easy on the gas and to keep a steady hand on the wheel.

Coupled with the effort which has been made by the men who are assigned to traffic duty and patrol is the excellent task that has been performed by the police court judge who has dealt sternly with all comers without favor.

Frequently, it has been said that the police department did not have enough men to go around when they were most needed. In other words, if an emergency arose, some branch of the department's regular work would suffer. More than a month ago a strike was called at the Isolantite plant and since then regular members of the police department, including superior officers, have been keeping a constant watch on the plant and the strikers.

Meanwhile, the traffic force has suffered and motorists using Washington avenue, Union avenue and other main thoroughfares have seen little or anything of the familiar white car patrolling the streets. It may be only a personal opinion, but it appears to us that automobile drivers have been stepping up the pace along Washington avenue in the last month. And maybe, it is only mere coincidence, but Belleville has had three fatal accidents during the past month. A woman was fatally injured on Washington avenue, a man on Joralemon street and a motorist died this week of injuries received on Franklin avenue.

True, these accidents could have happened whether the streets were being well policed or not, but we think that the white car and other methods which have been so well used by the police to keep motor vehicle and pedestrian traffic under control have had a psychological effect which has had a tendency to keep down possible tragedies.

If we must come face to face with the fact that we do not have sufficient men properly to police Belleville, even in emergencies, then it would seem that now is the time to consider it.

Helping The American Red Cross

These are times when all of us are being asked to make greater sacrifices and to give as liberally as our pocketbooks will permit. Billions are being spent for war and defense. The end of this spending is not in sight. It will grow even greater as the battle between nations for supremacy increases in its fury.

In the midst of it all we can not forget or neglect those organizations which constantly stand by ready to be of service to people suffering or in distress.

Next Tuesday, the American Red Cross opens its annual nation-wide roll call. Greater demands are being made upon it for help and service every day, and consequently the national headquarters in turn challenged the individual chapters to secure more memberships than ever before.

In Belleville, 4,500 memberships are being sought. That means about one out of every six must contribute $1 to make the drive a success. It seems almost needless to review the story of the work of the American Red Cross. It is universally known and respected for its help to the suffering. It is the first on the scene in time of disasters. The effort of this country to put itself at war-time strength has further increased its work for the assistance which the Red Cross has given to the army, navy and the marine corps has been great.

Not all of the money which is collected by local chapters is sent to national headquarters to dispose of as it sees fit. A portion of it stays here for the work which the chapter carries on throughout the year.

Typical of the part which the organization is playing in the defense effort throughout the nation is the activity which is going on right here in Belleville. Foremost has been the work that has been done to train people in first aid. Currently, more than 300 people are enrolled in classes sponsored by the chapter under the leadership of qualified instructors. While still in its infancy, the recently organized motor corps will undoubtedly become a permanent fixture which will be of value in an emergency. Constantly working but seldom in the limelight for praise is the production committee which, working on orders from national headquarters, spends many hours making surgical dressings and other articles which are needed for the organization's work.

Greater is the need for us to give freely today, and there is no greater need than that of the American Red Cross.

No Place For Bargain Hunting

It is near time for the Town Commission to consider a new refuse collection contract since the present one will expire on December 31. The commissioners are already aware, and the public might as well be let in on it, too, that it will cost more to collect garbage during the next year than it did this year or any prior year.

As has been the case with everything else, those in the scavenger business are finding their costs mounting, ranging from increased wages for labor to higher prices for equipment.

No bargain hunting in refuse collection is a bad business. Some neighboring towns have suffered much from accepting bids that were well below the prices quoted by other concerns. The result has been that the public has suffered through poor service and the town through having to put up with almost persistent complaints.

Montclair Fire Warning

The tenement blaze in Montclair last week was one of the most terrible tragedies of its kind which a suburban community in this section has suffered. The ill-fortune of the neighboring town should be a warning to every municipality to check its possible fire hazards.

The crowding of 25 persons into an eight-room tenement is a definite example of bad housing conditions, and wherever it is permitted to exist there is the chance that there will be a duplication of the Montclair disaster. Fire prevention authorities should not be hastily blamed for the tragedy. It is difficult for them to check every detail or to make a survey repeatedly.

Fire prevention depends largely on independent thinking and initiative. The public must understand that they have a definite responsibility as do the firemen—keep destruction through fire as low as possible. The best possible guarantee against it is precaution and safety on the part of all.

Montclair is not the only community in which such conditions can be found. In our own town similar conditions may exist and it is the task of the fire department to eliminate these hazards as quickly as possible so that there is not another loss of lives in which the death toll is as heavy as it was in Montclair.

Wanted—A New Constitution

The state senate has often been described as a "patronage mill." Most of its members spend their efforts on horse-trading jobs rather than on the legislative needs of the state. And some very lucrative plums fall to the most politically successful senators.

The governor of New Jersey cannot succeed himself in office, consequently his influence is of little avail over the politically minded members of his party and some one other than the governor is usually the boss of the party, and often of the state, just as Hague has been.

The courts of New Jersey are picturesque survivals of another century, confusing in their variety, and not conducive to efficient justice.

There is no central financial control of the state's many departments. No one can tell from the state budget just what is going on. This is a happy situation for those who may profit therefrom but an unhappy one for the taxpayers.

These are only a few details of our expensive state government that indicate the need for a complete overhauling of our fundamental law. A new constitution to replace the 1844 document is necessary, and Governor Edison has espoused the calling of a constitutional convention to draft a new document and submit it to the people. Most of the Democratic party doesn't want it, most of the Republican party doesn't, because it has been its senators who have blocked Edison's appointments and apportioned the lucrative positions among its own members.

The rural counties are afraid a new constitution might take away their equal representation in the senate irrespective of population, although the Essex county Republican delegation, which is in favor of a Constitutional Convention, has assured South Jerseyites that this would not be so.

Probably only a public opinion, educated to the needs of a new constitution and aroused to demand it, can force the politicians to agree to call a convention.

The Army—First

Many are the stories about what the army is doing to the flower of our youth, the low ebb of morale and the lack of equipment. We have listened to and read them all, so here is a report on a local cross section of the army in the person of a leave-of-absence member, of the staff.

He blew in last Saturday and we had to look twice. If his physical and mental condition was rated at 100 when he left with his draft contingent, the score today must be 150. He never looked as well in his life; he was cheerful, enthusiastic, and his description of his Army experiences would have been pleasant hearing for any American mother.

The food is good, there is plenty of it, they work regular hours and they sleep regular hours, which is even more important.

Maybe the fact that he now wears the chevrons of a sergeant colors his viewpoint. He seems to think that any American boy can be as miserable in the army as he can be anywhere, as he perhaps was at home. He also thinks that the army is about what you make it. If one man can be miserable there are hundreds who can be happy about the whole experience. We certainly expect to welcome back a lot better man than left us—and don't get the idea that he was ever any slouch either.

The whole point is that there are lots of things wrong with the army, but they are the things we all hear about. We don't hear the good things and we don't have many chances to see what the army is able to do for, with and to the draftee they start out with.

After all when the best army in the world gets the best potential soldiers in the world you expect some good news and it is our observation that this good news is becoming more and more noticeable with every furlough.

Parking Meters

The most revealing answer to parking meters which we have seen yet, appeared recently in the Asbury Park Press. Quoting from the Press:

"There will be no tears shed over the removal of 1,200 parking meters from Asbury Park streets. They have served merely to complicate the parking problem and drive business out of the city. Experimenting with 300 meters that are to be left standing at strategic points will reveal a more satisfactory system of metered parking. Asbury Park has learned, however, that the indiscriminate installation of parking meters was a mistake.

"... It became obvious that a great mistake was made in installing some 1,500 meters in a city of this size... with the remaining 300 meters, the council will experiment by metering every parking space on a few streets and every other space on others..."

"Equally important to the elimination of meters will be the strict enforcement of the parking rule and the prohibition against parking in the business area before 9:15 a.m. This should discourage all-day parking and provide facilities for the patrons of business houses. Doubtless had the parking limit been enforced in the past there would never have been even the faintest excuse for parking meters."

These automatic policemen may be fine for an isolated community where the customer has to shop, but in these suburbs where a half a dozen shopping centers are available with no great added inconvenience, we feel that parking meters would be a handicap. Especially is this true when few communities have such splendid parking facilities, present and potential, as East Orange's two major shopping centers, Brick Church and Central avenue.

—East Orange Record.

Time To Re-Adjust These Tolls

One matter hitherto undisposed of that will come up again before the Legislature when it meets for its post-election session on November 13 is the demand so insistently and logically made by Motor Carriers' Service bureau for relief from the single toll charges insisted upon by Port of New York Authority from users of Hudson river crossings.

It is asked that patrons of these crossings (the two tunnels and the George Washington bridge) be granted the same concessions now enjoyed by patrons of the Staten Island crossings operated by the same Authority. Application of the commutation and combination rates of the Staten Island bridges to the Hudson crossings would eliminate one of the serious "bottlenecks of commerce" Chairman Ferguson talks about.

Here is a pointer from W. H. Connell, chairman of Motor Carriers' Service bureau:

"The single trip toll charge exacted by the Port Authority for use of the Holland and Lincoln tunnels, and the George Washington bridge, is particularly hard at the present time on any worker in defense industries employed at a basic wage of 50 cents an hour. If he happens to be a resident of New York city, and is employed in a New Jersey defense industry, he is required to pay to the Authority two single trip tolls of 50 cents each, the equivalent of two hours' work per day. A resident of Staten Island, in the same circumstances, enjoys the use of the Bayonne bridge, Goethals bridge, or Outerbridge crossing, by paying two commutation tolls of 23 cents each, or less than the equivalent of one hour's work per day."

In the ten years since it was opened, 71,000,000 cars, trucks, and buses have passed over the George Washington bridge and from them approximately $40,000,000 in tolls has been collected. The Holland tunnel is a gold mine, and the Lincoln tunnel's business has greatly increased.

There would seem no valid reason why the concession asked should not be granted.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

Republican solidarity and Democratic confusion both slightly exceeded expectations Tuesday, hence the Republican majority in Essex was somewhat larger than had been anticipated. It ranged from approximately 25,000 in the contest between Roy V. Wright and J. Raymond Berry to 40,000 for some of the Republican freeholders. The average Republican Assembly majority was approximately 31,000. My election forecast placed the average Republican majority at between 20,000 and 30,000.

Two racial groups voted as I had anticipated. The usually strong Democratic hold on the Italian populated 5th Ward was broken when Republican candidates all won. The 3rd Ward, largely Negro, likewise went Republican. The 9th and 16th Wards, on the other hand, both largely Jewish, showed a strong Democratic trend. Italian populated sections in the suburbs did not produce their usual Democratic vote.

The results are likely to be interpreted as rebuke to Governor Edison. To a certain extent this seems merited. The Biblical admonition that, "He who taketh up the sword shall perish by the sword," applies to the Governor. He left his high office to toss political brickbats, and those same brickbats came back at him in a barrage. In Essex he set out behind a motley and hastily formed array of candidates and party leaders to battle a well organized Republican group led by one of the most skillful political strategists in the state. Moreover, this Republican group had a record for cooperation with him that is rare in New Jersey government. In the face of this situation, his appeal for support from independent voters for the Democratic aggregation sounded hollow and insincere. After looking over the rival slates and platforms the independent voters decided to stay with the Republicans. To make matters worse, the Democratic organization fell down as many had anticipated. Between these two forces, Edison's slender personal following was crushed. Berry made a strong campaign for the senate seat. Otherwise, the campaign was a dismal failure.

True, the governor faced a cruel dilemma. Had he not worked openly for the Democratic party he would have been accused of political treachery. His big mistake, as I see it, was in not taking complete control of the Democratic party machinery in Essex as soon as he made his break with Frank Hague. The party was his for the asking. He should have installed his own county chairman and as many of the ward leaders as seemed practical. His ticket should have been composed of the ablest candidates, selected without regard to racial or geographical considerations. It should have been an Edison ticket, running on an Edison platform and backed by an "Edison" party. A few Republican names on the ticket would have done no harm. Even this ticket might have lost, but it would have preserved the governor's independent following intact. Now

Non-partisanship of the type that prompted Edison to name Frederic R. Colie judge in the early days of his administration is his only course now. He should get back to that position immediately.

Bundles for Britain Sponsors Card Party Nov. 14

A public card party will be conducted Friday evening, November 14, at the Masonic Temple by the committee for Bundles for Britain headed by Miss Mary Billar and Mrs. James Miller of Essex street. Play will begin at 8 p. m. A good part of the proceeds will be used for new supplies of knitting yarn for the volunteer workers who have responded so well that it has been difficult to meet their demand.

Those in charge also report a good response to calls for clothing. They have been asked by the authorities, however, to limit their contributions at present to woolen articles. Cottons are not being shipped to England during this period. Miss Billar quoted an incidence of correspondence from relatives in England citing the case of a mother whose clothing needs as well as those of her new-born infant were supplied by Bundles for Britain.

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Ritchy of Sanford avenue have returned from their wedding trip. Mrs. Ritchy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Connolly of Wallace street. The young couple were married in St. Anthony's church of Belleville, September 28. The newlyweds motored to Washington, D. C., and toured the southern states.
