

COMMITTEE OPENS DRIVE TO SELL CHRISTMAS SEALS

Nearly 4,000 Letters Go Out Tomorrow; Are Seeking $2,500 Dollars Here

The Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis association will open its annual campaign for the sale of Christmas seals tomorrow when nearly 4,000 letters containing the double-barred red cross stamps will be put into the mail. Funds derived from the seal sale provide the medical treatment and care for tuberculosis sufferers here and in Nutley, and also for the educational and preventative program which is constantly conducted in the schools, industries and among organizations.

It is the hope of the committee to raise $2,500 in Belleville this year. The office of Eugene T. Berry, who is the Belleville chairman, said yesterday. A total of $1,875.55 was raised last year, Berry reported. The sheets of stamps will sell for $1. It was reported that $6,084 worth of stamps have been sealed in envelopes to be placed in the mail.

Other members of the local committee assisting in the seal sale and tuberculosis work in addition to Berry are:

Local Committee

Lunsford, James M. Lynch, Wayne R. Farmer, Dr. Morris Rochlin, Mrs. William H. Williams, A. A. Buckley, Mrs. Georgia Edwards, Mrs. William J. Irvine, Philip Riedel, Mrs. Andrew Salido, Mrs. Laura G. Stem, Mrs. William Starnes and Mark Yudin.

Those wishing to contribute should make checks payable to Wilfred Yudin, treasurer, at the health department office in town hall. Other officers are Wallace H. Gibson, member of the Nutley board of education, president; Floyd Bragg, first vice-president; Florence Lunsford, second vice-president; Mrs. William H. Williams, third vice-president; Mrs. William J. Vail, secretary; and Miss Elizabeth F. Smith, R. N., field nurse.

"The forward looking program of life saving made possible through Christmas seals deserves the moral and financial support of every individual," Berry said.

"The fact that the organized campaign against tuberculosis has brought about a marked reduction in the death rate is proof that the disease can be conquered. But there is considerable work ahead. I am sure we can count on the generous cooperation of the people of Belleville in carrying on the year-round fight against tuberculosis."

FURNITURE SENT TO FORT DIX

Women Furnish Room To Be Used By Soldiers From Here and Nutley

The furniture donated by local and Nutley residents in the campaign of the Women's clubs in the two towns and the Belleville junior women's groups to furnish a room for the soldiers at Fort Dix has been delivered.

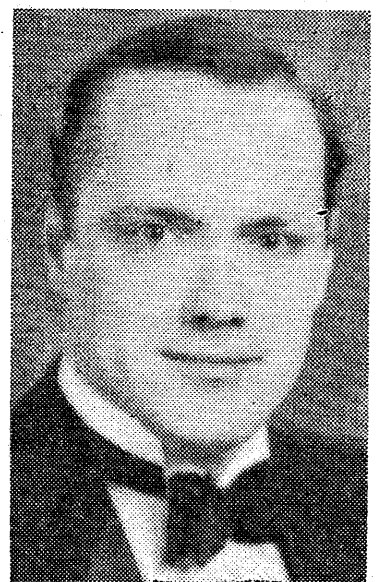

A truck donated by Commissioner Noll, who is in the trucking business, took it to the fort yesterday and a committee of women from the clubs in the two towns visited there to see that it was put in the right place. Commissioner Waters arranged for a town truck to pick up the various articles about town and have them stored in the public works department garage.

Miss Estelle Powers, chairman of the committee, reports the collection of the following articles: three victrolas with records, two radios, one leather chair, one large red chair, one morris chair, one large rocking chair, three rugs, two sets of Adirondack furniture, one dining room table and five chairs, eight card tables, seven floor lamps, 20 chairs of the dining room type, one ping pong table and equipment. Through cash donations, sufficient durable coturne was purchased and made up into curtains for the 11 windows in the day room. Through cooperation of the local merchants, rods and equipment for the hanging of the curtains were obtained. Other articles collected include books, magazines, puzzles, games, cards and a few small colorful pictures. The Junior Women's club supplied metal wastebaskets and a quantity of aprons.

Miss Powers has announced that the company day room assigned to this club is that of Company D, 118th Infantry, mainly occupied by boys from Belleville and Nutley. Mrs. John Denike, president of the Women's club, accompanied by Mrs. Willard Strange and Mrs. J. Claude Powers of the local club, and Mrs. Albert F. Beh and Mrs. R. E. WRIT DELAYS REFUSE BIDS

East Orange Contractor Gets Order For Refusal of Right To Bid

Action on the awarding of a new refuse collection contract was delayed this week when Pietro Roselli, East Orange contractor, obtained an order from Supreme Court Justice Parker directing the board of commissioners to show cause why he should not be permitted to bid for the contract.

The opening of the bids will probably be delayed until after Saturday, December 13, for that is the date that has been set by Parker for the hearing before him on Roselli's application presented by his counsel, Edward McGlynn of Newark.

Following a closed conference the town board directed Town Attorney Keenan to take the names of those contractors who were ready to bid and added that no additional bids would be accepted. Those who appeared with bids were Charles Cuzzo, present holder of the contract; Thomas J. Viola & Sons of Nutley; Capasso & Pucillo of Ridge wood; La Fera Greco Contracting, Inc. of Newark and Roselli.

The board voted to postpone the acceptance of bids until December 9 but Town Attorney Keenan intimated that at that time it would be continued until after the December 13 hearing before Parker.

It is understood that Roselli was refused the right to bid following an investigation by Commissioner King, director of the department, and Health Officer Eugene T. Berry.

First Aid Work Important In Red Cross Activities

Drive Being Made Among Women Here To Get Them To Take Courses; New Classes Being Formed This Week; Would Act During Emergencies

First aid is one of the oldest Red Cross services. Since it was first started in 1910, more than three million people have been trained in it by the Red Cross. Uncounted numbers of persons have been saved from death and injury because of the training. The accident prevention and water safety service of the Red Cross is supported from membership dollars, given by enrolling during the roll call.

A group of women in the Belwood park section will start their first aid training, tonight under the direction of Miss Kathryn Conklin, a qualified Red Cross instructor. Twenty-five women will meet weekly for the ten-week course in the recreation room of Mrs. Frank Thalheimer's home on Fairway avenue.

Mrs. Louis A. Noll, chairman of the first aid committee, reports that this is the first group of women in a particular section of the town to take the course. The women realize the importance of such training and have banded together so that in times of emergency they will be prepared to turn to good account what they have been taught in these courses, she said.

The purpose of such a detachment is to make available and effective in emergencies, the service of persons trained in first aid and supplementary emergency procedures.

Through such a detachment, these trained persons will be known and identified and will be an important part of an organization prepared to function under adequate leadership. It is expected that they shall be willing, if they are available, to give assistance in times of emergency.

Classes In All Sections
It is planned to have classes formed in every part of the town, and anyone with a large recreation room, willing to donate its use, is asked to communicate with Mrs. Noll, who will make the necessary arrangements. Any group desiring to form a unit is asked to contact Mrs. Noll, at Belleville 2-2277 and she will assign the necessary instructor and materials in order that the classes may get under way immediately.

Monday, Miss Filomena Pomponio gave the first of a series of lectures comprising the junior first aid course at the Silver Lake Community house. This course is designed for boys and girls from 12 to 16 years old, or beginning with the seventh grade through the tenth grade. The time required is 1 1/2 hours and a certificate is awarded upon satisfactory completion.

Miss Pomponio will also conduct a standard course for women of the Silver Lake section at the community house starting tonight and continuing weekly.

Mrs. Noll is now considering plans to conduct a day class so that women with children at school may take the course between 9:45 and 11:45, or be missed from school ETA ETAO between 1 and 3, thus enabling them to return to their homes by the time the children are dismissed from school.

The first aid service is financed through funds drawn from membership dues. To meet the greatly increased need of this activity, the Red Cross hopes for a greater enrollment than ever before.

Briefs In The News

Two-months-old strike at Isolantite, incorporated ended Saturday when officials of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, C.I.O., decided to call it off. This followed Vice-Chancellor Bigelow's action in Newark in continuing the injunction secured by the company to restrain picketing and other strike practices. "The odds were against us," said Neil Brant, representing the C.I.O. The strike was called when C.I.O. affiliated workers at the plant walked out demanding a vote on whether their union or the A.F. of L., which holds a contract with the company should represent them.

Veteran town hall telephone operator, Ada Donnelly, was renamed for another two years by Public Works Director Waters at Tuesday night's town commission meeting.

School No. 10 principal, Fred W. Evans, leaves Belleville on Saturday to take up his duties as supervising principal of schools in Jamesburg. The board of education is considering a successor, including several local teachers, it is reported.

Frederic William Ashworth, 76, former resident, died Tuesday in Newark Memorial hospital. He was one-time chairman of the township committee, for many years superintendent of the Eastwood-Neally plant until he retired 30 years ago. A member of Christ Episcopal church, he was the oldest living past master of the local Masonic lodge. He left here five years ago to reside in Florida.

Howard M. Byles of 297 Union avenue and James L. Davidson of 263 Joralemon street are members of the grand jury panel which was drawn before Common Pleas Judge Hartshorne on Monday. The jury for the first half of the December term will be sworn in December 9.

The Belwood Park zone case goes back before the State Supreme Court. Justice Parker has allowed a supreme court review of the refusal of the town commission to permit the construction of a gasoline station at Belleville and Smallwood avenues. The board had disapproved the recommendation of the zoning board of adjustment which favored the granting of the permit.

PUPILS PROPOSE PARLEY ON BUS SITUATION

Tripoli Park Group Provides Transportation While They Seek Board Conference

Silver Lake boys and girls, attending high school rode to and from school again this week and at the same time drafted a plan which they hope to submit to the board of education for consideration so that school bus service may shortly be resumed.

Several weeks ago Hugh D. Kittle, high school principal, withdrew the buses transporting pupils to and from the Silver Lake and Soho sections after reports of rowdiness and damage to the buses had been made by officials of Public Service Company, Transport company. Kittle's action followed a conference with Superintendent of Schools Palmer and several members of the board of education.

At that time it was announced that the service would not be resumed until the students had proven that they knew how to behave or would report the names of those who had damaged the buses.

Association Hires Buses
Silver Lake residents took the matter in their own hands over the weekend and on Monday morning there were two buses and several private cars in service which took the students to the high school and called for them in the afternoon. The Tripoli Park Political and Social club chartered the buses and would continue daily for two weeks. It is the hope, club officials stated, that some plan can be worked out by that time. If the board of education still refuses to put the school buses back in operation, a plan to make a small charge for the service and also stage events to raise money will be attempted to defray the cost of the buses which have been hired from John J. Polcastro of company of Newark.

Two buses leave from Franklin street and North Belmont avenue at 7:30 a.m. with the boys residing in the Lake section and return to pick up the girls at 8 a.m. Frank Zarro Jr., vice-president of the club and chairman of its school bus committee, resides at 145 Harrison street and is a funeral director. Ernest Evangelista of 43 Naples avenue has charge of the buses.

On Tuesday, bus passes were issued to 269 pupils, the club officials stated. Zarro stated that the students were made to understand that they must behave and that if they did not, their passes would be revoked and they would be refused the privilege of riding to and from school.

It was reported yesterday that the pupils had drawn up a proposal of their own which they wished to submit to the board of education and that they had requested a meeting with Herbert C. Schmutz, board president, and also the head of its transportation committee.

The report of the students' plan was made by Louis Gintilli, of 49 Lake street, who last week appeared before the board of education urging that the service be restored. He said that 90 percent of the students had agreed to the program which had been proposed. As outlined by him, the program would be:

A total of six buses, three for girls and a like number for the boys, with each student assigned to a specific bus.

Any student missing the bus to which he had been assigned could not board another bus.

Any outspoken vulgarity or mutilation of buses to be reported in writing to Kittle by the students.

If any student disobeyed or did any damage, all on the bus would be punished and not all on all buses.

The hiring of more buses to transport students from the Lake section. It is claimed that overcrowding was one of the main reasons for the trouble.

It was voted by the students, Gintilli said, that a group of 30 students should attempt to meet with board of education members with Anthony Rossi of 154 Belmont avenue and Rose Mustachio of 82 Frederick street as their spokesmen.

PHONE CO. OFFICE MOVES MONDAY

New Business Headquarters At 270 Washington Avenue, More Room For Central Office

The New Jersey Bell Telephone company's business office which handles Belleville and Nutley accounts in relation to the company's building at 270 Washington avenue to larger and more attractive leased quarters on the other side of the street in a new building erected at 235 Washington avenue. W. A. Vansory, manager for the company announced yesterday.

Removal of the company's business office will provide additional space in the telephone building for central office equipment when needed, Vansory said. In common with most exchanges in New Jersey, particularly in communities where production for national defense is under way, the Belleville central office is being enlarged to care for growth.

Addition of 360 subscriber lines and two switchboard positions now in progress with miscellaneous other changes also being undertaken will increase the capacity of the exchange nearly 14 percent.

Telephones in Belleville and Nutley topped the 10,000 mark for the first time this year in April, he said, and now number approximately 10,250, of which more than 500 have been added so far this year compared with 683 during all 1940 and 513 in 1939.

National Defense Forum Planned By Institute

The Belleville Institute of Public Affairs, the only adult public forum in town, will sponsor a session on Wednesday night, December 10, devoted to the theme, "Frontiers In Our National Defense." Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, moderator of the institution, has announced that three speakers representing industry, the armed forces and religion, will discuss the question from their various attitudes. The session will take place in the social hall of the Congregation A. A. on Washington avenue starting 9 p.m.

The institute is sponsored by the Congregation, Sisterhood, Men's Progress club and the Junior League banded under the Community Council of Belleville. Cooperating with Rabbi Dobin are the presidents of these organizations, Edward J. Abramson, Mrs. Byrde Jacobson, Martin Kabot and Mrs. Jeannette Goldblatt.

All are invited to attend.

Have $10.80? That's All Community Chest Needs

Does anybody have a spare $10.80?

If they do, the Community Chest people would like to have it for that is all that is needed to reach the drive's goal of $16,000. It was reported last night that 99.93 percent, or $15,989.20, had been received in cash or pledges to date.

Campaign Manager Hugh D. Kittle expects that the $10.80 will dribble in during the next few days. The officials of the Belleville Welfare Federation, which annually conducts the campaign, will meet Tuesday evening, December 9, to apportion the money among the five organizations which participated in the campaign, the Community Service Bureau, Boy and Girl Scouts, Visiting Nurses' association and the Silver Lake Community house.

EARLY OPENING IS DEFEATED

Williams Heads Move Against 12 Noon Sunday Opening; Two Are Tried

The greater part of Tuesday's liquor business took up the greater part of Tuesday night's meeting of the town commission as two tavern owners were tried on charges preferred by the state department of alcoholic beverage control and Mayor Williams led the move to turn down the application of a number of tavern and liquor store owners to permit Sunday opening at noon instead of 1 p.m.

James McGrory, proprietor of the Shamrock Cafe at 227 William street, was found guilty and his license suspended for 10 days on the charge of filling a bottle with whiskey other than that named on the bottle. John Lawlor, who operates a tavern at 66-68 Washington avenue, was found not guilty of permitting the sale of lottery tickets and gambling on the premises. ABC agents claimed they found a book of church raffle tickets on his back bar near the cash register.

Williams' stand against letting liquor establishments open an hour earlier on Sundays followed on the heels of letters of opposition from Howard Virtue, secretary of Wesley Methodist church, stating that he spoke for the congregation and from Harry Simon, who operates a liquor store at 501 Washington avenue. The mayor's feeling of taverns and package stores was found on Page 6.

CHARITY SISTER DIES AT 79

Sister Zita Vincent Taught at St. Peter's School For 38 Years

A high mass of requiem was celebrated Saturday for Sister Zita Vincent who died in St. Anne's Villa, Wednesday, after an illness of ten years. She was 79 years old. Burial was in Holy Family cemetery at Convent.

Born in Ireland April 24, 1862, she was the daughter of the late Thomas and Margaret Wright in Athboy, County Meath. In early years she taught in Catholic schools in Ireland. To complete her studies Sister Vincent was brought to this country by an older sister, and after graduating from St. Aloysius academy, Jersey City, she entered the novitiate of the Sisters of Charity at Convent, becoming a nun a few years later.

Her first assignment was at St. Aloysius School in Newark, one of her pupils being the late Father John Preston, who, for a number of years prior to his death, was the pastor of that parish.

From St. Aloysius she was later transferred to St. Vincent's academy, also Newark, where she taught for a period of six months and finally transferred to St. Peter's school here, where she taught for 38 years, retiring 10 years ago to convent status at Convent. Prior to her retirement she was mother superior for a quarter of a century.

Her span of service bridged three generations, and she taught many sons and daughters of her former pupils. During her many years in Belleville, her entire activities were centered around the Catholic welfare and education of the children under her charge. She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Richard Houten of Oak street, and William Lyons, a nephew, of Long Island.

ROLL CALL LAGS $3,100 BEHIND GOAL OF $4,500

Drive Leaders Urge Worker To Make Last-Minute Effort For Red Cross

With the roll call scheduled to end on Sunday, the Red Cross drive for 4,500 members is lagging far behind its goal according to the report released by local Red Cross officials yesterday. Only $1,400 had been reported by the campaign workers.

Frank Chambers, chairman of the chapter and Daniel Spillane Jr., roll call chairman, appealed to all workers to make a last-minute effort to help bring the returns nearer the goal of 4,500 members. Special pleas were made to the leaders of the various divisions, representing numerous local organizations, which took over the house-to-house solicitation.

It is believed that not all sections of town have been covered as yet by workers and it is hoped that during the next three days considerable "mopping up" will be done in all divisions. This is the first year in many years that the chapter has conducted an independent campaign. In the past it has been assisted by the Community Chest. However, the move to pull out of the chest drive was recommended by national headquarters in Washington. The chapter received $90 from the chest campaign last year.

The Red Cross campaign ended on November 11. Armistice day, with leaders reminding residents that there is a greater need this year than ever before for the money which is contributed through memberships. Of the amount which is raised, half of it goes to Washington to aid the national organization in its work. The sum which remains in Belleville is used to support the activities of the various Red Cross agencies including the first aid, production, home service and motor corps committee.

OWNERS OF LOWEST-PRICED CARS HAVE LEARNED IT'S WISE TO INVEST A LITTLE MORE AND GET A PONTIAC

GENERAL MOTORS' MASTERPIECE
THE FINE CAR WITH THE LOW PRICE

Two Great Plants for Defense Work Only

Pontiac has two great plants—one in production, the other being rushed to completion—devoted solely to Defense building rapid-fire cannon for the U. S. Navy. Thousands of Pontiac skilled craftsmen are now at work turning out this cannon which naval authorities say is "the most effective weapon of its size ever produced."

The only changes that have been made in the 1942 Pontiacs are improvements. For example, Pontiac's exclusive built-in oil cleaner. It is good for the life-time of the car—requires no new "cartridges" to keep oil clean and pure. In 1942 its efficiency has been increased from two to three times over that of last year's cleaner!

NO WONDER OWNERS of lowest-priced cars in all parts of the country are again switching to Pontiac this year.

They've learned that Pontiac not only costs no more to own and operate, but also they're paying no more in the long run. They're simply investing a little more because they've found Pontiac owners get the few extra dollars they pay back again at trade-in time—thanks to Pontiac's great reputation for dependability and the tremendous demand for it as a used car.

And, in times like these, aren't dependability and long life the two things you want most in a car? They're still yours in Pontiac because Pontiac pistons, bearings, crankshafts and other vital parts are unchanged in 1942. This has been accomplished without interfering with defense needs.

See this new Pontiac today. Check local delivered prices and see how close to lowest-priced cars Pontiac prices really are! Your present car may cover part or all of the down payment on a 1942 Pontiac. The balance may be paid in monthly installments.

Owls Win First Game

The Belleville Owls, an aggregation of 11 to 14-year-old boys, won the first basketball game in their schedule Monday afternoon at the playground of School No. 1. Their opponents were boys of that school. John Brenner was umpire. The score was 44-13.

Stacks Up Against Dukes

ALL-STATE AT MONTCLAIR two years ago, Tony Lombardi will be at end Sunday for the Bloomfield White Horses when they tackle the Iron Dukes at Foley field in a North Jersey league contest. The American Legion will benefit from the proceeds of the game.

Dukes Play White Horses Sunday At Bloomfield

The Belleville Iron Dukes will play their first game away from home Sunday afternoon when they will clash with the Bloomfield White Horses at Foley field, Bloomfield, in a North Jersey league contest. It is a benefit clash with a share of the proceeds being turned over to the Bloomfield American Legion drum and bugle corps.

Much is at stake for the Dukes in the game for if they win from the White Horses, they will be tied with the Camptown Pros for the North Jersey championship. Whether the two teams will play it off is still to be decided.

The Bloomfielders have their share of former schoolboy and college stars. Two of the backfield speed merchants are Jim Ayre and Charlie Solamito, former Woodside star, purchased early in the season by Manager Bill Clarken. With Solamito being rated as a fine passer, it is expected that a passing dual will take place between Solamito and the Dukes' Charlie Crocco who has been helping the locals roll up long gains and touchdowns all season with his flinging.

Have All-State End On the line, the Bloomfield club has Walt Stefanacci of Passaic, playing at either tackle or center; Bob Englund, who played end for Bloomfield during the height of its power and is now working at tackle where his 220 pounds comes in handy. The end standouts are Tony Lombardi, an all-state wingman at Montclair high several years ago, who has been a big help to the White Horses both offensively and defensively.

Others in the lineup are Carl Goldschrafe, Caldwell boy; Johnny O'Brien, a back on the little All-American team two years ago with Sewanee (Tenn.) college and Russ Frederick, who played football at Newark academy and former Bloomfield high players including Casimir Kamas

COURT LEAGUES GET STARTED

Grace Baptist Team, Church Champs, Toppled By Reformed Quintet

The industrial, senior, church and intermediate basketball leagues opened last week with all of last year's winners starting off the season with wins except in the church league where the Grace Baptist boys were turned back on Monday night by the Reformed team.

The champs in both the senior and industrial circuits had a tough time winning their games. The Roserys managed to squeeze by the Eagles 28-26 on the shooting of Tortorella and Carragher who looped the net for six points each. In the factory loop, Wallace & Tiernan had a hard time turning back the Viking Tool quintet 19-17.

Starting next week, the News will publish the results of the church, senior and industrial leagues for the current week.

HOLD SOUTH SIDE IN 0-0 DEADLOCK

Both Teams Play Defensive Game; Halt Three Newark Drives

Belleville's Blue and Gold and Newark's South Side battled to their fifth tie in the five-year Thanksgiving day series between the two schools at Clearman field on Thursday morning. Outside of working up a good appetite for the turkey, neither team went any place, both playing good defensive ball.

South Side marched three to Belleville's 30-yard stripe only to be stalled while the locals made a second quarter march which took the ball down to the Belleville 39-yard stripe. While the kicking of Captain Bill Hunkele for the Bellboys and the Sunnysiders' Don Williams kept both elevens far from the other team's goal line, it was the line play of both elevens that counted heavily.

Belleville fans had a scare in the first period. South Side punted over the Bellboys goal line and the locals put the ball in play on their own 20. The Blue and Gold moved up six yards on Jim Findlay's ploy through guard but could get no further. Hunkele attempted to punt and the kick was blocked. Local hearts were in local throats until the referee signalled that Hunkele had recovered on the 14-yard stripe. He quickly booted it out of danger.

B. H. S. Drive Halted

Early in the second period the Bellboys took over on their own 20. Findlay romped off tackle to the 29 and then Hunkele tossed a pass to George Ferrer which was good on the South Side 45. Antonik grabbed a short pass from Hunkele on the 39, but there the drive stopped.

South Side's first drive started early in the third period when Ray Hobby took Hunkele's boot from the 28 on his own 80 and returned it seven yards. George Stepler skirted left end for 20 yards to the Belleville 40. John Jarosinski galloped around the same end to the locals' 28 but there the drive was completely stalled by the Belleville forward wall.

Early in the final quarter the visitors started on their second drive, taking over on their own 20. Jarosinski took the ball to the Sunnysider 43 in two plays. He then passed to Connors to put the ball at midfield. Stempier then sped around right end for 16 yards, bringing the ball down to the Belleville 34. A short pass from Jarosinski to Bordeleau was good for four yards but on the last down Russ Flynn and Joe O'Toole in the Belleville line made sure that Jarosinski did not get his needed four yards.

Still undaunted, South Side started a belated drive with Will P. Parker and Jarosinski moving the ball from their own 27 to the Belboy 32 on running plays. Jarosinski then dashed the visitors' hopes intercepting Jarosinski's pass intended for Bordeleau his own 20.

Williams Explains Stand On Sunday Opening

"In reference to requested amendment to permit dealers in alcoholic beverages to open at 12 o'clock Sunday noon, I am primarily concerned with the effect Sunday noon hour opening will have from the social aspect. Conceding many users of alcoholic beverages will not permit their desires to interfere with the opportunity to enjoy their Sunday home life, certain users of alcoholic beverages, either by temptation presenting itself or by so called good fellowship, fail to make available to themselves and their families the pleasure of being together.

"I am aware of many instances where mothers and wives having prepared dinners are harassed by failure of the husband and father to return home, and further embarrassed by the ensuing situation when he does arrive, in several cases, to my definite knowledge only after the mother has appealed either by telephone, personal call of herself or one of her children at the tavern to urge him to leave.

"To the sensible users of alcoholic beverages, opening hours mean little or nothing. To the good fellow type, 10 minutes become 10 hours of anxiety to his family, I believe many of this type will appreciate having less temptation in their path, particularly when enroute home from religious services.

No Public Demand

"A second factor — is that no public demand from any section of Belleville has been presented to the mayor and commissioners to change the Sunday opening hour. We should bear in mind repeated changes of liquor regulation at the request of a limited number of dealers may undermine public confidence in the regulation of this particular business which has so important a bearing on the social life and even the economic life of many persons.

"Thirdly, 40% of the Belleville dealers of alcoholic beverages have not indicated any interest in this requested earlier Sunday opening, four dealers have advised me they are opposed to earlier Sunday opening, and a detail survey I have had made during past weeks indicates quite definitely the so-called loss of business to Belleville dealers by Belleville citizens patronizing dealers beyond Belleville borders is entirely insignificant. Obtaining alcoholic refreshments beyond some Belleville town limits I am advised, has not been difficult, regardless of Belleville opening or closing hours, therefore, adjusting Sunday hours in Belleville offers no guarantee that even a few additional sales will be made available to Belleville dealers.

"A fourth factor — may be of some slight interest to officials, but should be of substantial interest to manufacturers and retailers of alcoholic beverages, that is the slow but definite trend of local option both in New Jersey and in Pennsylvania. Many responsible persons believe the liquor dealers in certain communities should not antagonize public opinion by flouting the written and unwritten laws governing their business unless they desire to view an increasing resistance to all sales of alcoholic beverages in those communities.

Been Fair To Dealers

"A fifth factor — many liquor dealers realize and appreciate, but which is known to, but apparently unappreciated by some dealers, and which holds true in Belleville is that:

Belleville's license fees are modest. Belleville was one of the first municipalities to establish a limit on the number of taverns, thereby assuring tavern operators of no increase in competition in Belleville, and the wisdom of industry and business assured them of greater sales opportunities.

Belleville has eliminated 13 licenses and 13 competitors by abolishing the type of licenses permitting delicatessen and drug stores to handle alcoholic beverages.

Belleville liquor dealers total cost of obtaining licenses has been only the official legal fee. Even though I have given keen attention to enforcement of local and State alcoholic beverage laws, regulations and conditions, I have not been able to learn of any unethical actions on the part of any dealer, public official or subordinate in the issuance or renewal of liquor licenses in Belleville.

"Sixth factor — in 1932 our board of commissioners determined to act as the official ex parte board. Your mayor and commissioners recognized that theirs was the responsibility to supervise sales of alcoholic beverages and determined not to delegate the authority to another group to be called an ex parte board, and the wisdom of that action has been proven by the avoidance of some criticisms developing where authority was delegated and responsibility apparently avoided in certain communities. This procedure has been helpful to local dealers in alcoholic beverages.

Your analysis of the above statements is respectfully urged because I feel it is my duty as your mayor and chairman of the ex parte board to place before you a study of every question involving the interests of so many, whether they are dealers, consumers, or wives and children, which latter two groups cannot be considered beneficiaries of any further expansion of liquor sales privileges. Based on above reasoning, I proposed to vote against any change in Sunday hours."

Early Opening

to be of substantial interest to manufacturers and retailers of alcoholic beverages, that is the slow but definite trend of local option both in New Jersey and in Pennsylvania. Many responsible persons believe the liquor dealers in certain communities should not antagonize public opinion by flouting the written and unwritten laws governing earlier opening hour.

Commissioner King said that the board had been fair with the liquor dealers right along but that he did not favor the earlier opening. Director Clark said that he had been of an open mind when the matter was first broached and that he intended to be guided by the townspeople's thoughts. He said that he did not believe an hour's difference in opening would make or break any dealer and that because of the apparent opposition he would vote against the ordinance.

It is those taverns which are close to the Newark and North Arlington lines where there is earlier opening on Sunday that are objecting, Commissioner Noll said. He reminded the board that sticking to the 1 p.m. opening would not change the minds of those who want to drink.

Commissioner Waters said that he had been in favor of the amendment when it was introduced but that he had had six calls from tavern keepers who were opposed to it but had not received any from those who were in favor of it.

Both of the tavern owners faced ABC charges as the result of visits made to their establishments by investigators Walter R. Moss and Harry J. Wierenga on September 11. McGroarty denied any knowledge of how a liquor different from the kind listed on the label had gotten into the bottle. ABC agents said their tests proved it and that further analysis at state laboratories had borne them out. McGroarty's closing goes into effect on December 1 and will be lifted on Thursday, December 11.

Lawlor was not present when the agents discovered the church raffle tickets behind his bar. The tickets were on cars which were to be raffled off by St. Rose of Lima's church in Newark. It was stated that Lawlor's bartender, Leo Jackson, had admitted selling one of the tickets and buying one himself. In finding Lawlor not guilty, the board warned tavern and liquor store owners to be careful of the technicalities of the law and to keep chance books and other similar things out of their places of business.

Yurek-Dopart Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dopart of 20 Belleville avenue announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Dopart, to Louis Yurek, son of Mrs. Anne Yurek and the late Mr. Yurek of Bayonne, Saturday. Miss Dopart is employed by the Westinghouse corporation of Bloomfield, Mr. Yurek with the Rheem Manufacturing company of Newark.

John Coogan Outlines Plans For His New Business

John F. Coogan, who recently resigned as tax assessor, this week issued a statement in connection with the opening of his real estate office at 136 Washington avenue. In it, Coogan said:

"In opening my real estate and insurance office it is my purpose to build an organization, able by experience and training, to render a complete real estate service to all concerned with real estate matters and problems.

"Fifteen years of intimate relation with Belleville real estate and appraisal work, plus two years of theoretical training with the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, enables me to render this service.

"After my resignation, terminating my 11 years as a Belleville official, I am very sure, from direct and indirect comments, that my conduct in public office has been approved by a great number of people, and that I do enjoy the confidence of the people whom I have had occasion to contact in attempting to solve their problems, and in the execution of my official duties.

"My new business will be built upon the sound principles of integrity, confidence and candor, which I value as personal characteristics. In my real estate organization I will have under my employment men who will be trained in real estate matters, and whose activities will conform to my standard of ethics in real estate dealings.

"In designating myself a real estate consultant, I do so as one regarded as qualified in that field, and because I recognize there is a need for such a service where persons, not too familiar with current real estate values and proceedings may obtain impartial and qualified real estate advice to protect their own interest before committing themselves to real estate contracts.

"All inquiries regarding real estate, real estate values, or mortgage financing, will be welcomed at my office, and service rendered will be predicated on the best interests of the party seeking advice."

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

Children's book week has recently been celebrated with library exhibits, window displays and unusually fat "book review" sections in our Sunday magazines. Among all these manifestations the thought has been expressed that children need now, more than ever, the solace and stability which solid reading can give them. Solid reading does not in this case mean factual reading. Voluntary delight in biography or scientific material is rare among growing children.

It is on the basis of legend in prose or poetry that the young mind forms its real acquaintance with the past. Characters, it is pointed out, like Hector, Roland, King Arthur, Robin Hood and Don Quixote have far more power to make the child mind grasp the high motives for which men live and die than incessant reading of current exploits can do.

The child, in other words, wants to retire often into his own ruminations about the principles of life. If he journeys during these periods in the skilled hands of authors who seemed to know better how to deal with the elemental things of life than we do today he will emerge always enriched, always more courageous. It is not only legend but the story-with-a-moral which satisfies the young reader. He can understand far better the right and wrong of things when impressed by the outcome of a simple animal or child story.

And there is the fairy tale with its flights of imagination which may seem exaggerated in youth but are actually the portals through which the individual often travels into creative invention. For he sees that the surface of things is not unchangeable. A pumpkin may not actually turn into a gilded coach but the swelling, graceful lines of that vegetable may someday direct an artisan's hands as he molds or carves an object of beauty.

Give Them Some Poetry

Poetry too — not the slick, abrupt rhyme of today — but the richer phraseology of former periods should not be denied the young reader. Sometimes the very weightiness of the words maintains better for him the rhythm he needs to get into his soul and paints more brilliantly the pictures which should be etched on his mind than any modernized version can do.

So let us take pains to investigate before we select the gift or gifts for a child — his Christmas book. Of the hundreds of late works many are superlative examples of color printing and illustrations but they do not carry between their covers the riches which the youthful mind seeks. If the literature of the past has more to offer than some of the current amalgamations of fantastic adventures and comic characters let us have the courage to choose it.

Booksellers have helpful catalogues and libraries are good sources of guidance if you are uncertain of the suitability of your choice. Let's select books which will help our children feel that they have a solid moral and educational rock on which to set their feet while they look over the transitory chaos of the present into the precious heritage of the future.

Some People Just Don't Care

Proof of the claim that there is a great need for the establishment of dental clinics or some similar service for people has been illustrated many times in the past year. In the medical files of those examining men for the army or navy, it is shown that more men are rejected for bad teeth than for any other single reason.

It is probably true, that clinics would help many of these people, but on the other hand we know of many who just won't go to the dentist—and it is not because they do not have the money to pay him. While surveys among both adults and children may show that there is a great need for some program, every case which is turned up cannot be marked as one that has developed because of the inability of people to pay.

The way many parents do not give proper care to their teeth is the way in which they regard those of their own children. They're indifferent until there is a yell about a toothache and some floor walking is done before a trip is made to the dentist. A report was submitted at the recent clinic conducted by the Community Service bureau at which dentists, health officials and a number of interested citizens met. It showed that more than 4,000 children had been examined and each had an average of more than five cavities in their teeth. Reports were sent home, and out of the total number, only 217 reports were returned to the school showing that children had visited the dentist.

Surely, no one can be expected to believe that the rest of them did not have the money to go to the dentist. It was simply a case of the parents having neglected to do anything about it. If parents take this attitude, how can children be expected to think otherwise?

Just as it has been shown that other types of clinics are advisable because they provide health service for those in the lower income groups who would be neglected otherwise, so we will agree that there is room for a dental clinic. But, if there is public agitation for the establishment of a clinic and something will be done about it, it's just as important that a forceful educational program be put into operation in hope of reaching those who are now neglecting their teeth or those of their children and should not be permitted to have clinic treatment should one be established.

Your Support Is Urgently Needed

The Red Cross drive is nearing the end and reports from leaders show that it is still far short of its goal of 4,500 members. A review of the Red Cross work should not be necessary. It is daily present, ready to be of assistance in any emergency. It is true that today we are being asked to contribute more than we ever were before, but we should be able to find somewhere a dollar which can be contributed to the Red Cross.

In the nation, as well as in our own community, the work of this great organization cannot be carried on without the support of all. In time of need, we would all turn to its many facilities for assistance. Of all private agencies, it is doing the greatest work to arouse and prepare people for their part in the national defense preparedness effort.

If you have not contributed to the Red Cross, and even if a worker has failed to call at your home to ask you to contribute, you owe it to yourself and to Belleville to do your part. These are times when we must work hand in hand, so mail your one dollar for a membership to the Red Cross headquarters at the Woman's club on Rossmore place.

Odds and Ends From Other Pens

An Editor In The Assembly

The ideal legislature is one in which all legitimate interests have courageous spokesmen and in which all shades of public opinion are represented by members not afraid to express their views.

Railroad men, medical doctors, oil men, farmers, jobholders, manufacturers and storekeepers have sat in the legislature; but newspaper publishers, in spite of their important place in the affairs of the nation, have had, as a rule few representatives there.

John W. Clift newspaper editor, sat from 1922 to 1928 as one of the useful assemblymen from Union. Senator Harry T. Haganan of Ocean, newspaper publisher, served from 1920 to 1922.

Assemblyman Thomas M. Muir of Plainfield, blind, popular dean of the legislature, just elected for the twentieth term, was a newspaper man before he became motor vehicle agent. Assemblyman John G. Shill, Gloucester county assemblyman, writes for a series of newspapers and, like Muir, has been re-elected as a member of the Republican majority.

But there comes now on the scene Assemblyman-elect G. Colburn Hardy, editor of the East Orange Record, and from him newspaper publication interests will expect much. He is a young man, capable, likeable and apparently fully alive to the vital interests that the free press has at stake in Trenton.

In fighting courageously and vigorously the vicious bills—so often appearing nowadays—to curb the press, Mr. Hardy will be serving not only his own interests as an editor but also New Jersey's millions who have a right to know what is going on about them through fair and truthful reporting of the news, and to know—through proper advertising—what is at their disposal in the way of goods, commodities and efficient professional services.

These public rights will be denied if some politicians and other selfish groups—which, in their desire to control the press, would even destroy it to gain that end—have their way in legislative bills.

The Toy World

Young people enter a new and wonderful world at Christmas time. When a youngster is taken into the toy department of a store it is a pleasure to see his eyes sparkle and his lips expand in a joyous smile. And when the clerk wraps up a few of those things for Christmas his dancing feet and excited hands reveal how deeply he longs for those treasures of childhood.

Some parents regard toys as merely something with which to keep the child mind occupied so that its restless nature will not constantly be getting into trouble and creating new problems. Toys do serve that useful purpose. Many tots have been diverted from acts of mischief by the fascinations of the jumping jack, the toy railroad, the appeal of a set of tools. The remedy for juvenile misbehavior is found in giving the young mind occupation.

But toys should be more than a means for diverting youth from mischief. They are the natural tools with which the child begins his work in the world. He likes to do things with his hands. When given a toy hammer or saw or box of building blocks, or anything resembling the things used by grownups, he begins to use his little hands, and they soon become skillful.

The funny little mechanical toy stimulates his imagination, and he asks what makes those wheels go around. He inquires into the operation of machines that the older people use. Given the implements of athletic sport, he is equipped with the means by which he can hold his own in the child world. The child without toys should be pitied. Generous people owe it to themselves to see that no youngster has a doleful Christmas because he is excluded from the wonderful world of toys.

Experiment In Applied Socialism

An experiment in applied Socialism has been inaugurated by the Federal Government in a small New Jersey community. Five hundred residents moved recently to the town. Mostly shipyard workers, they needed a place to live for themselves and their families.

The financial arrangements which Uncle Sam has made do not provide for individual ownership of the home, even when the full price has been paid. After 33 years of regular monthly installments—no less!—the householders then living will have acquired a participation in title to the town as a whole, and to that extent indirectly in their own homes.

The community is Audubon Park, down in Camden county. The scheme was evolved by Federal Works Administration. The building project is handled by a U. S. corporation which will amortize a mortgage of $1,500,000 held by the Government. This indebtedness is regarded as that of the village, and will be the burden of the home tenants.

After all Washington's interest has been paid off, the settlement will be free and clear of Federal entanglements. So a later generation in 1974 can determine how collectivist ownership of a village compares with individual ownership of homes.

Boy Scouts At 15

Dr. James E. West, chief Boy Scout executive, wishes Girl Scouts would call themselves something else. He thinks it would be a good idea for the Girl Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls to merge, dropping the Girl Scout name.

"Boys like to feel they are men when they become Boy Scouts," he says. "They don't notice there are Girl Scouts until they get around 15 years old, but when they do notice it they usually don't like it."

Dr. West undoubtedly has an extensive knowledge of what boys like, but in this instance most fathers of pre-adolescents will challenge him happily. It is true that males begin noticing females at 15, but who, besides Dr. West, thinks they don't like what they see? If they have any criticism of the Girl Scouts it is that their uniform isn't snazzy.

At 15 the average Boy Scout would probably vote to merge his troop with the Girl Scouts. Dr. West really ought to get around more.

Comments on When to Play The National Anthem

From Mrs. Mary E. Biller
12 Essex street
To the Editor of The News:

I have been amazed to learn during the past week that at a bridge given for the Bundles for Britain last February, some of those present were shocked because the "Star-Spangled Banner" was sung after an English song, instead of before it.

May I explain through your paper to the objectors, whose names I do not know, that this was due to no oversight nor lack of patriotism. The committee, composed of 12 good Americans, who may be found connected with every patriotic or civic movement in town, placed the national anthem at the climax or the end of the program because that is the correct procedure.

I would suggest to anyone who questions this that they tune in their radios to the army, navy or marine band programs and keep tuned to the end.

State Traffic Fatalities May Be Lower Than in 1940

If traffic fatalities continue to decrease in November and December on the same scale as October, New Jersey may yet finish the current year with fewer casualties than the 911 reported in the year 1940, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee announced today.

The final October death figure is not yet available but there is every reason, Commissioner Magee says, to believe there will be a saving of approximately 25 lives. October fatalities a year ago totaled 102.

Approximately two-thirds of the month's fatal accidents occurred during hours of darkness, showing the need for extra vigilance on the part of drivers and pedestrians after sundown. Commenting on the favorable October record, Commissioner Magee who recently predicted 336 traffic deaths during the last three months of the year "unless the unusual happened," said:

"The unusual has happened! Deaths have started a downward trend and I appeal for the same cooperative spirit on the part of highway users during November and December which months last year recorded a total of 219 deaths, the highest two months of the year."

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm W. Bendall of 396 Washington avenue left Thursday on an automobile trip to the west coast. They will visit points of interest between this coast and Hollywood, Cal., their destination.

Miss Gertrude Wilson of Overlook avenue will be hostess this evening to the Debonnaires, the Misses Shirley Nielsen, Dorothy Newman, Gloria Scelliano, Doris Stickle, Marion Watson, Barbara Woodhall and Vivian Murray.

Jewish Community Group Joins Essex County Council
Two new agencies, the Belleville Jewish Community council and the Federation of Jewish women's organizations, have been named as affiliate members of the Essex County Council of Jewish Agencies, it was announced at the monthly meeting of the board of trustees held at the council home in Newark. Samuel I. Kessler presided.

Kessler said that the inclusion of these two agencies is part of the council's program of enlisting the support of suburban groups in its general activities.

The council succeeded the conference of Jewish charities last year when communal leaders decided to seek greater suburban participation in Jewish affairs. In addition, it was felt that a county-wide organization would be better able to extend much needed services to the neighboring areas.

Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, chairman of the Committee on Education, reported that the Jewish Education Association of Essex county is considering affiliation with the National Association of Jewish Education. Rabbi Dobin also said that his committee is planning for a major conference to consider the problems of Jewish education for the youth and adults.

It's Christmas in the Kitchen
Some of the nicest things about Christmas originate in the kitchen — all those delicious cookies and candies — the rich fruit cakes and plum puddings. Of course, you will want to make them, for your own family and some for your friends. Your modern gas range will give you successful baking and cooking results and our Home Economics Department will be glad to furnish any recipes. Just call the Public Service office nearest you.

Jewish Community Group Joins Essex County Council
Two new agencies, the Belleville Jewish Community council and the Federation of Jewish women's organizations, have been named as affiliate members of the Essex County Council of Jewish Agencies, it was announced at the monthly meeting of the board of trustees held at the council home in Newark. Samuel I. Kessler presided.

Kessler said that the inclusion of these two agencies is part of the council's program of enlisting the support of suburban groups in its general activities.

The council succeeded the conference of Jewish charities last year when communal leaders decided to seek greater suburban participation in Jewish affairs. In addition, it was felt that a county-wide organization would be better able to extend much needed services to the neighboring areas.

Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, chairman of the Committee on Education, reported that the Jewish Education Association of Essex county is considering affiliation with the National Association of Jewish Education. Rabbi Dobin also said that his committee is planning for a major conference to consider the problems of Jewish education for the youth and adults.

Miss Miriam Lanno of Crest drive entertained Wednesday evening the Misses Jeanne Brown, Doris Cassidy, Kathleen Fitzsimmons, Dorothy Gemeinhardt, Jeanne Hack, Ethel Hilton, Winifred Lincoln, Jane Littlewood, Jane Lukowiak, Claire Preister, Ruth Shannon and Blanche Trommel.
