PUBLIC UTILITIES TO SPEED ACTION ON BUS LINES

Noll Gets Word They Will Hurry Investigation of Applications

The public utilities commission this week informed Commissioner Noll that it would investigate with all possible speed the applications of the Public Service Coordinated Transport company for two cross-town bus lines. Last week Noll granted the P. S. local consent for the start of a West Belleville-Silver Lake bus line and the extension of Bus Route No. 100 which now runs from Pennsylvania station, Newark, to the Belleville-Newark line.

The commissioner said that he had received many calls from residents who said that they were pleased at the granting of the application and that they would personally appeal to the utilities commission for the granting of the permits. Most of the comments had come from people in the outlying sections who will be helped by the bus.

Both Pass Town Centre

Both lines in the route they follow pass through the town's Washington avenue business center in the vicinity of the town hall. The No. 100 line goes from Washington avenue down Rutgers street and into the valley section street near the Walter Kidde plant and ending at the Belleville-Nutley line. One of Noll's principal pleas to the utilities board for speed in considering the applications was the fact that the No. 100 line would be used by a number of workers going to and from industrial plants in the valley area.

The West Belleville-Silver Lake line would start at Division and Passaic avenues and follow a circuitous route through the Greylock section, on to Washington avenue and then west on Mill street, past the Jergens plant in Franklin avenue, the P. S. subway station at Heller parkway and then west in Franklin street and into the Silver Lake section. Fare on both lines would be five cents.

NO WORD YET ON WAR RELIEF

Red Cross 'Standing By'
For Part in Drive For Fifty Million Dollars

Frank Chambers, head of the American Red Cross chapter, said yesterday that as yet no official word has been received from national headquarters in Washington on the part which the chapter may play in the raising of a $50,000,000 war relief fund.

Chambers said, however, that the chapter "is standing by" ready to go to work at fund raising or any other work which the national office directs.

Norman H. Davis, national head of the Red Cross, in a short radio address on Monday night announced that there would be a $50,000,000 drive throughout the nation. The local chapter is now completing its annual roll call.

TO OWNERS OF DOGS

Dog owners are urgently requested to obey local and State Laws covering control of dogs.

New State Laws on keeping dogs place a severe responsibility on persons permitting their dogs to go without muzzles or roam at large.

Four (4) definite cases of rabies have developed in Belleville during the past month, and several persons have been bitten by dogs proven to have rabies.

The co-operation of all thoughtful dog owners is necessary. Police action is imperative against dog owners who violate ordinances and laws, or permit their dogs to endanger the lives or safety of other persons.

Four Rabies Cases Prompt Warning To Dog Owners

Commissioner King and Health Officer Berry Warn
Public; Two Rabid Animals Discovered
Over Weekend; Must Muzzle Dogs

Dog owners received a sharp warning from Health Officer Eugene T. Berry and Public Affairs Director King this week about the prevalence of rabies among dogs locally. King told the town commission at its conference Tuesday night that since November 1 there have been four rabies cases in town. Health Officer Berry, reporting that there were two cases discovered over the last weekend, reminded residents that it is a violation of the state dog law to permit unmuzzled dogs to roam the streets and that the owners face possible prosecution.

Mayor Williams recommended that the police department be instructed to pick up all unmuzzled dogs.

Commissioner King emphasized that the health department must have public cooperation, explaining that it is possible for a rabid dog to come in contact with a number of people and do possible fatal harm to them. Ten persons came in contact with one rabid dog in the past week. All are now being given the Pasteur treatment for rabies, he told the board.

Since the state dog law went into effect on November 1, the commissioner said, he has seen only one muzzled dog on the streets.

Health Officer Berry is now checking on the travels of two local dogs which were found to be rabid over the weekend. A dog belonging to Joseph Gartlan of 170 Delavan avenue died Saturday night and when its head was examined at a Newark laboratory, it was found to be rabid. The dog, which was licensed, first disappeared on Thursday. That night a woman in Glen Ridge telephoned Mrs. Gartlan, Berry said, and told her that the dog was there. Mrs. Gartlan is reported by the health officer to have said she had no way of getting to Glen Ridge and suggested that the woman release the dog and the animal would find its way home. This she did and the next day the dog was heard from it was in a gasoline station in Kingsland road, Nutley on Saturday afternoon. Patrolman Joseph Demgard went and got the animal and took it home where shortly afterward it either bit or clawed the Gartlans' two small children, James, two, and Donald, four.

To Treat Policeman

Berry said that he felt that Patrolman Demgard would have to take the Pasteur treatment in addition to the members of the Gartlan family. He is also seeking the gasoline station proprietor and the identity of the woman in Glen Ridge who had first kept the dog after it left Belleville.

The second dog, a brindle bull owned by James Rutledge of 124 Carpenter street, was shot and killed by Montclair police late Saturday afternoon after it had attacked and clawed or bitten four people. Berry said that from his checking of the case, the dog disappeared from Belleville on Thursday night and was not reported again until it was shot in Montclair. He said that it is also possible that the dog was in Bloomfield and Nutley and said that he had advised health departments in both towns to check to learn if any people had been bitten between Thursday and Saturday night by an unidentified dog. He said that three of the four persons bitten at Montclair had been located and are now taking the rabies treatment. The fourth is a girl and health officials here and in Montclair have been checking every source in an effort to tell her that she may be a rabies victim.

Berry issued the following statement, giving dog owners symptoms of the rabies disease to watch in dogs. He warns that

Were You Bitten By This Animal?

With health officials anxious to learn the identity of the girl bitten in Montclair on Saturday by a brindle terrier, owned by James Rutledge of 124 Carpenter street, which has since proven to have been rabid, Health Officer Eugene T. Berry last night released a description of the dog since he believes that it may be possible that other persons were bitten or came in contact with the animal.

The male brindle terrier was dark brown and had a white chest and white front paw. It weighed about 30 pounds and had a long bushy tail. It wore an old harness and had a brass plate triangle license tag.

Any person bitten on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday in Belleville, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Nutley or Montclair by an unidentified dog should get in touch with the Belleville health department immediately for their probably are in immediate need of the Pasteur treatment to avoid serious illness or even death from the rabies disease.

When a dog shows the first signs it should be isolated immediately, but not handled, and the health department or a veterinarian called. His statement follows:

"Due to the prevalence of rabies in town, four cases being reported since November 1, the department of health finds it necessary to warn dog owners of its prevalence and to list the following symptoms of the disease: "Sudden change in disposition, unusual nervousness or irritability, tendency to leave home, change in voice, difficulty in swallowing, particularly of fluid food, tendency to snap or bite without provocation, weakness or paralysis of the legs or lower jaw, an increased flow of saliva and swallowing abnormal substances, such as wood, stones, etc.

"The first of Prodromae stage is one of melancholia. The dog is apt to hide away in dark corners, avoid noise, and obey the call of its master unwillingly. There may be a remarkable uneasiness, a frequent changing from place to place, walking uneasily around, suddenly stopping and often a moment of attentiveness, barking and biting at the air without cause. Already in the melancholic stage reflex excitability is decidedly increased, the dog will become excited and snarl at the hand of his master when approached and especially when teased. Often the dog may show excitability towards strange dogs or persons, while yet friendly with his master.

"The early stages of the disease are the important ones to observe. Should your dog develop any of the above symptoms do not handle him but isolate him immediately in a safe place, call your veterinarian or the Department of Health. Also obey the muzzling law by keeping your dog muzzled at all times when at large."

Postpone Routine Business

Transaction of routine business was postponed by the town board Tuesday night because of the defense council meeting with its sub-committees in the town commission chambers. Business that was left undone by the board will be taken up at the meeting to be held next Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m. The usual board conference will start at 7 p.m.

COURT TO HEAR REFUSE CONTRACT ARGUMENT

Review of Roselli Writ
Before Justice Parker
Saturday Morning

The town will learn Saturday morning if the stumbling block which prevents the opening of refuse collection contract bids will be continued on to a higher court or not. A hearing on the application of Pietro Roselli, East Orange contractor, will be heard by Supreme Court Justice Parker. The justice signed an order two weeks ago directing the town to show cause why Roselli should not be permitted to bid on the contract.

The application for the writ was made by Edward McGlynn, Newark attorney for Roselli, after the health department refused to give Roselli specifications so that he could bid on the contract. The department has refused to date to state its reasons, explaining that if it were given publicity, it might damage the town's case at this time.

The town will be represented at the hearing by Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan.

The board of commissioners on Tuesday night postponed until December 30 action on the opening of bids which four concerns were ready to submit on Tuesday night. Those companies which have been permitted to bid are Charles Cuzzo of this town, the present contractor; Thomas J. Viola & Sons of Nutley; Capasso and Picullo of Ridgewood and LaFera Greco Contracting, Inc., of Newark.

Day-To-Day Basis?

Bids are being sought by the town on three and five-year contracts. The present contract expired on December 30, the date which has been set for the opening of bids.

If it should be impossible for the town board to let the contract on December 30, it is presumed that the work will be carried on by Cuzzo on a day-to-day basis until a new contract is let.

Red Cross Executive Board Will Meet Tonight

The annual meeting of the Belleville chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at the Woman's club, 51 Rossmore place, on Monday evening at 8. It is imperative that all executive board members be present.

Motor Corps Meeting

The motor corps unit of the first aid department of the Red Cross met Monday evening at the home of Miss Doris Scharfenberg on Cedar Hill avenue. They are preparing three Christmas baskets for needy families. Plans have been made for a second mechanic's course under the direction of the corps which will be started on approximately January 15. John Robertson will again conduct the instruction at the Davidson and Robertson service station on Washington avenue.

Local Parents Are Anxious About Boys In Hawaii

None Have Received Word From Those In Army Or Navy; Most of Them Are Stationed At Pearl Harbor, Which Was Bombed

Parents of at least six local youths, serving in the army or navy and believed to be at the Pearl harbor base in Hawaii bombed on Sunday by the Japanese, were anxiously awaiting word last night from their sons. None of them have been able to receive any information as yet on the whereabouts or safety of the young men.

Stationed at Fort Shafter, Hawaii, for anti-aircraft duty is James J. McCann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCann of 136 Belleville avenue. He was drafted into the service on April 16 and was sent to Fort Eustis, Va. In July he was shipped to Hawaii. He has always resided in Belleville and has one brother and five sisters.

Howard Cullen, 19-year-old son of Fire Battalion Chief and Mrs. William Cullen of 140 Belleville avenue, is reported to be at Schofield barracks, Honolulu, where it is known a number of soldiers were killed or injured on Sunday when the Japanese dropped bombs there. He is a member of the 24th infantry in which he is chief typist. He was a volunteer in the service and was first stationed at Fort Slocum, L. I. He has been in the army one year today.

It is also reported that John Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paul of 380 Belleville avenue, is on the island but his family could not be reached to confirm it.

Three Are In Navy

Three local youths are in service with the navy and were last reported to be at Hawaii. Lieut. Romondt Budd, the son of Mrs. Benjamin Budd of 169 DeWitt avenue, is at Pearl Harbor. A native of Belleville, he attended School No. 3 and was graduated

Two industrial firms stepped forward this week to help the town in its effort to furnish more equipment for its defense program and to give better protection to the manufacturing areas.

The Eastwood-Neely corporation through its vice-president and general manager, Harry Specht, Mayor Williams said would contribute $1,000 for the purchase of a new police patrol car.

The National Grain Yeast corporation will donate to the town a 1940 Ford half-ton panel truck which will be used for an emergency wagon. Norman Lauterette of the firm, through whom the offer was made, said that the truck would be ready to be turned over to the town on Saturday.

The town board will provide the funds for it to be equipped.

AIR RAID SIGNAL TEST TOMORROW

Residents were warned by the defense council last night that a special test of the two signals to be used in event of an air raid would be held tomorrow night at 8:30 so that all may have the opportunity to acquaint themselves with the signals and the council may learn if complete coverage of the town is being given from the four air horns which are being installed.

Deputy Fire Chief William Dunleavy was instructed yesterday afternoon to immediately install four air horns atop buildings in strategic points of town. They will be located at:

1. William street firehouse.
 2. Silver Lake firehouse on Franklin street.
 3. Recreation house at Jorammon street and Garden avenue.

Mayor's Proclamation

Every person is urged to calmly view the serious conditions prevailing today, and the many problems due to arise. Clear thinking is most essential in the face of danger. An understanding of the rules of the Civil Defense Council and sound thinking on the part of citizens will avoid panic or hysteria.

Efforts will be made by thoughtless or unpatriotic persons to confuse understandings and actions of everyone supporting defense activities of our National Government. I urge all to refrain from passing rumors along. Our President has assured us our Government will keep us posted on actual news when such news will not aid enemies of our country.

TELEPHONE CALLS—All are urged to make telephone calls brief and specific as offices and equipment are heavily burdened.

FIRE HAZARDS—Every resident is urged to eliminate fire hazards by removal of any debris or highly combustible materials from their premises.

Volunteers are urged to continue reporting names, addresses and telephone numbers.

The Belleville Civil Defense Council and Committee members are daily studying ways and means of coping with every possible contingency. Your officials are co-operating with the Defense Council. I urge every citizen to respect the rules and regulations of the Belleville Civil Defense Council as all rules are based on National, State and Municipal laws. Disrespect or violation of such rules or regulations must be considered as violation of such State and National laws.

Fair treatment must be extended to people of racial extraction whose native countries are at war with us. In the event of actions on the part of any such person warranting any investigation, please give information to Chief of Police—Belleville 2-1361.

Bulletins will be issued as deemed necessary by the Civil Defense Council.

M. H. Williams
Mayor.

Belleville is mobilizing its man and woman power today for the most important period in its history—the protection and safeguarding of its community and its citi- zens. Since word was flashed on Sunday afternoon of the Japanese attack, municipal leaders and the defense coun- cil have been working tedi- ously to plan this commu- nity's preparedness and to organize its people for volun- teer service in many branches which may prove to be vital during the coming months.

Chief of operations is Everett B. Smith, chairman of the defense council, who with its members and Mayor Williams, who is the honorary chairman, other members of the town commission and municipal employees have been working steadily to organize the machinery which will be necessary in the defense of Belleville.

The many industrial plants which are busy with defense contracts present an added problem for Belleville and one of the steps taken by Smith was to confer with police and fire officials and manufacturers and their representatives to assure that protection and guarding would be given to every plant 24 hours a day. More chancemen and cameramen to supplement the regular fighting force were sworn in Monday.

ROLL CALL GOES OVER $3,200

Red Cross Chapter Expects That Nearly 4,500 Members Will Be Enrolled

In excess of $3,200 has already been turned in to the local Red Cross chapter, with some workers still to make their final reports. It is expected that the final total will be not far from the goal of 4,500 memberships.

Members of the executive committee and the roll call chairman,

Daniel Spillane this week extended their thanks to those workers who volunteered their services for the campaign.

The chapter announces that any and all manufacturing concerns in Belleville desirous of sponsoring a first aid course for their employees should contact Mrs. Louis A. Noll, chairman of the first aid committee, advising her of the number of employees willing to take the course, and the time at which they want the course given, and Mrs. Noll will make the necessary arrangements for instructors and materials.

In this time of crises, the chapter states that the motor corps is ready for service and will be completely uniformed and officered in the near future. Any woman interested in becoming a member of the motor corps are asked to telephone Miss Doris Scharfenberg at 161 Cedar Hill avenue and she will advise the necessary requirements for membership in the motor corps.

Town Will Buy $50,000 More In Defense Bonds

The town will buy $50,000 more in U. S. defense bonds after January 1. The board of commissioners at its conference Tuesday night approved Mayor Williams' recommendation and authorized him to go ahead with the purchase.

Several months ago the town bought $50,000 worth and was commended by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau for its action. The bonds were bought through the two local banks, Peoples and First National.

Clear $704 On Stadium

Mayor Williams reported to the town board Tuesday night that the net receipts from the rental of the stadium this fall amounted to $704 which had been turned over to Town Treasurer Sargeant. The mayor said that he believed that it is possible to operate the stadium so it would be a self-liquidating proposition with annual bond payments being met through the receipts from rentals.

that there would be something which they could do.

Shortly after 9 a.m. yesterday morning nearly 250 Boy Scouts under the supervision of W. Douglas Clark, scout commissioner, and transported by members of the Red Cross motor corps headed by Miss Doris Scharfenberg, distributed circulars to every household appealing to residents to enroll immediately in the volunteer program.

Less than an hour later the switchboard at town hall was buzzing with incoming calls from residents wishing to serve on the various committees. Some stated a preference, others were willing to do almost anything just as long as they had the opportunity to be of assistance.

Hundreds Are Needed
Detailed instructions of how residents may enroll in the program are carried elsewhere in the paper. No limit is set on the number. Hundreds are needed for service in the police reserves, the fire auxiliary, air raid patrol wardens and as first aid workers.

People may register with the committee chairman of the group for which they feel that they would be best suited and the most valuable or they may sign up for general service by calling Arthur W. Clark, secretary to the mayor and secretary of the executive council at town hall during the day or at his home during the evening.

The present emergency, Judge Smith told those who turned out for the defense council meeting Tuesday night, calls for the utmost in patriotic instincts. He admitted that the town is not organized to meet the situation but that organizing is now going on.

"The job is yours and that of your committee," he told his listeners. "This is no time for hysteria or panic and it is no time for smugness or complacency."

"We are all working just as hard as we can," he said, "for a common cause."

Following a conference which was held on Monday with manufacturers' representatives, the defense council issued a five-point bulletin which was sent to every industrial plant in town. Including suggestions for protection, it stated as follows:

(1) Inform Police Chief Spatz of the precautions you are taking to guard your plant through the use of alert and vigorous watchmen. The chief will furnish supplemental aid.

(2) If possible enclose your area with fencing.

(3) Keep your plant and grounds illuminated all night.

(4) Practice a careful routine of examining all incoming shipments immediately upon arrival for possible inclusion of instrumentalities of sabotage.

(5) Observe rigidly all rules for fire prevention through elimination of carelessness, and a street firehouse is already in operation since it blows nightly at 9.

The air raid warnings will be as follows:
1. Alert signal—a short series of blasts lasting two minutes.
2. All clear—a steady, sustained blast lasting two minutes.

These two signals have been set by the defense council following the signals which have been established by the state defense council.

Tomorrow night's test will take place at 8:30 with the "all clear" signal to be sounded at 8:30. During the test members of the defense council will scatter to different parts of town to determine if all of the town will be adequately covered.

Residents were further urged not to start any outside fires without permission of the fire department. Property owners were especially warned about brush fires, which waste much of the fire department's time, and parents were requested to be sure that their children do not play with matches and start unnecessary blazes which mean extra work for the fire department when it may be urgent that they be elsewhere at the same time.

COMMUNITY CHEST DISTRIBUTES FUNDS

Participating Groups Get All That Was Originally Agreed Upon

The Community Chest officials made a 100 percent distribution of the amount which had been sought in its drive to participating organizations at a meeting which was held in the Welfare Federation headquarters Tuesday night. It was reported that $81.20 more had been raised above the $16,000 goal and that it was expected that a contribution of $50 more would be received shortly.

The funds were distributed as follows:
Community Service bureau, $9,000; Boy Scouts, $2,000; Girl Scouts, $1,250; Silver Lake Community house, $750; Visiting Nurses' association, $600; emergency reserve, $1,000; and campaign expenses, $500.

In the report of the house-to-house division receipts last week, it was stated that District 3 captain by Halley F. Hickok of the Community Service bureau had raised $46. It should have read $146.

T. B. PREVENTION NEED CITED

Berry Says It's Necessary Now More Than Ever Before

Defense industry and prosperity as the result of it make the need for tuberculosis prevention greater than ever, Health Officer Eugene T. Berry stated yesterday.

"People who are working long hours inside of industrial plants are not taking care of themselves as well as they might," the health officer said, "and thus make the possibility of tuberculosis greater than during ordinary times. Those who are making more money are also inclined to forget about their health, spend longer hours out and punish their bodies to such an extent that they make themselves an easy mark for the dreaded tuberculosis germ."

"It is our task to guard against the spread of tuberculosis and to prevent it wherever possible. It is only through the sale of Christmas seals that we can raise funds. I urge every person who has received stamps to mail their contribution immediately to the Belleville-Nutley Tuberculosis association. Berry is the chairman of the drive in Belleville.

The association is seeking $2,500 as Belleville's share. Last year $1,875 was raised. More than $6,000 worth of stamps were mailed out to local residents two weeks ago.

It was reported by association headquarters yesterday that $309.95 had been received in the day's mail, bringing the total seal sales to date up to $1,024.70.

Long Distance Calls

on

Christmas Eve and Christmas Day
may meet serious delays

TELEPHONE CALLS this Christmas Eve and on Christmas Day are expected to jam the nation-wide Long Distance network beyond its capacity to give good service.

Extra operators will be on duty and every available circuit will be in use, but it is impossible to expand the system sufficiently to meet the extraordinary rush of this one day of the year. Congestion will be greatest on the lines to the Far West and South and to Canada, and many calls may be delayed or may not get through at all.

TO AVOID DELAYS on calls to far-away friends or relatives, we suggest that you plan to make them before the holidays — on Sunday December 21, or after 7 p. m. Monday or Tuesday. Regular reduced rates will be in effect at those times.

IF YOU DO CALL on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day, please call by number if possible, instead of by name and address as connections can be made more quickly.

With your cooperation as suggested, there will be fewer delays and disappointments on calls made during the holidays.

WILLIAMS RAPS BOARD CRITIC

Mayor Calls Cop During
Silencing of Edward Burns;
Won't Let Him Talk

The town commission's most persistent critic, Edward Burns of Hill street was shut up with-out being permitted to let out a single peep at Tuesday night's town commission conference by the sharp words of Mayor Williams, who called for a policeman as he started remarks directed at Burns.

As Commissioner Clark got to the end of one phase of his discussion about police radio, Burns started to rise with a "Mr. Mayor..." and that was as far as he got.

Leaning forward in his chair, Williams shouted:

"Mr. Burns, as far as I am concerned this board is through listening to things out of your mental rag bag." Pausing to call for a policeman who was standing in the hall, the mayor instructed him to eject Burns from the town hall if he said another word. Burns sat through the rest of the conference without making any further remarks while the policeman stood at his side.

"You haven't given one constructive thought," Williams said in continuing his tirade at Burns. Until I am satisfied that you can come into this hall in such physical condition that you can present thoughts of a mental and constructive nature, I will not listen to you."

Hours Are Important
"Hours are too important at this time," the mayor continued, saying that he did not propose to waste one minute of it. Although Burns has frequently said in his appearance before the board that he represented the Belleville Property Owners' association, Williams insisted that he did not and that Burns' neighbors did not have any respect for the man. The mayor stated that Burns has repeatedly tried to influence the board with the thought that he represents a group of citizens.

"This man has brought ill comment toward the town of Belleville," Williams concluded.

Minister Tells Rotary Japs Were Forced Into War

Rotary members were addressed yesterday noon at their luncheon meeting at the Forest Hill Field club by Rev. Charles Iglehart, recently returned from 32 years residence in Japan. His observations included the opinion that Japan was forced to go to war to add necessary territory for the survival of her subjects. He referred to the statistics that Japan's population of 28,000,000 50 years ago allowed only two and one half acres of tillable land for each family.

The present population of 80,000,000 gives ready explanation of Japan's need of land. The speaker offered the solution that there was hardly any possibility of natural surcease of wars due to economic causes until better distribution of natural resources was provided to meet rapid increase in population.

Arthur Hoyer, a Rotary member, was felicitated on winning the first prize in a roller skating competition recently. Members are, of course, in accord with the activities of the Belleville Defense council and ready to lend all possible cooperation.

Alumni Tomecoming Dance To Be held Tuesday

Plans were completed Tuesday night for the second annual holiday homecoming dinner-dance of the Belleville Alumni association to be held at Parrillo's, 104 Harrison street, next Tuesday evening.

James J. Tully, president of the association and chairman of the affair, stated that bids have been going rapidly and a large crowd is expected to attend. Any graduate or guest who is planning to attend and has not secured a bid may do so by getting in touch with Tully who resides at 143 Bell street before Saturday. The affair will arrange the tables in banquet form, and the turkey dinner will be served at 10 p.m. Dress will be semi-formal.

Mathew Ryan Announces Program For Festival

Matthew T. Ryan, tenor, has announced three selections which he will sing at the third annual Community Christmas festival at the high school December 22 at 8:15. "Gesu Bambino" by Petro Yon, "Ave Maria" by Rosewig and the lively "There's a Song in the Air" by Aley Speaks. The combined chorus will render an arrangement of Massenet's "Agus Dei" which has been prepared by Arthur S. Ackerman, conductor. This selection has been chosen for one of the concluding numbers of the concert.

The final rehearsal of the combined groups will be held at the high school Friday evening, December 19 at 8.

Red Cross Opens Additional First Aid Classes

The Red Cross is speeding up its pace to train first aid workers. Mrs. Louis A. Noll, local chairman, announced yesterday that three new classes would be opened.

One will be conducted on Saturday mornings at 10 at the firehouse at Washington and Division avenues for young women of 17 years of age or over. Another class will be held on Tuesday nights at 8 at the same place. West Belleville residents will be accommodated at a class to be held on Thursday nights at 8 at the Recreation house. Classes will start immediately and any person interested should report for the first meeting.

Hold Services Tomorrow For Young Accident Victim

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 at the William Irvine Funeral home in Washington avenue for Ewald

Grosskreutz, 20, of 84 Ralph street, who was killed yesterday in an accident at the Reilly Tar and Chemical company in Dorcas avenue, Newark. It was reported that the young man had fallen down a shaft and fractured his skull.

Rev. John A. Struyck, pastor of Belleville Reformed church, will officiate at services with interment to follow in East Ridgewood cemetery. The deceased is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grosskreutz.

BIDDING LIVENS PROPERTY SALE

Joralemon St. House Brings $3,550; Dispute Over Continental Ave. Land

The Town Commission on Tuesday night confirmed the sale of a town-owned house at 417 Joralemon street for $3,550, which highlighted the public sale held at the town hall last Friday afternoon. In the most spirited bidding seen at a sale here, with the opening bid starting at $2,500, Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan in the role of auctioneer led the bidders up to the final $3,550. Realtor John F. Coogan Jr., former tax assessor, prompted the bidding for the property by originally offering $2,500. He was one of the bidders, representing a client, but dropped out after the price passed the $3,000 mark.

Coogan protested the putting up for sale of another piece of property at 35-45 Continental avenue. All offer had been made for $190 for a 50-foot lot at 35 Continental avenue, but none had been made on the extra 100 feet of the adjoining two lots which was also put up for sale. Keenan explained the town commission had felt that there might be a possibility of getting a buyer for the three lots instead of just one.

Is A House There
Coogan asked if it was not true that there was a house on the property, stating that he believed the Bennington family homestead was there. Keenan said he did not think there was any house there and Tax Assessor Charles Watson said he didn't think so either. Watson went in search of town records and came back to report that there was a house there.

Coogan added that a widow, Mrs. Sarah Bennington, resided there and that it had been her home for the past 45 years. He said that she had been given any notice of the proposed sale of the property and he requested that the sale of all three lots be postponed until the Bennington family had the opportunity to bid. Keenan said that he did not have the right to postpone the sale, but Coogan asked that his protest be committed to the board.

At Tuesday night's board conference, the board accepted the offer of $575 from Fred Poggi for the lot at 35 Continental avenue. Coogan's name was not mentioned and no report of his protest on the sale was made. Commissioner Noll did ask why a display advertisement had not been used since there was house on the property and it was explained that there had been no offer made for the land on which the building was located and the town had put it up only to see if anyone was interested. It was stated that the property would be put up for sale again if some person would make an offer.

FIRE APPARATUS DELIVERY OFF

Government Demands Postponement Until Later Date; Name New Chancemen

The declaration of war and the demand by the government for all materials and equipment which is possible postponed the delivery of the town's new fire department aerial hook and ladder truck and pumping engine. It was expected that the two pieces of equipment for which $20,000 was appropriated some months ago would be received by the end of this month.

It was announced at the defense council meeting Tuesday night that this would be impossible and that until the new delivery date, which is not known, the department would have to get along as best it can with the present equipment, including two engines of old vintage.

While the fire department needs more equipment, the police department needs more man power because of the demands from industrial plants for more protection. Twenty-four chancemen and six call men for the fire department.

IRVINGTON FIRM COMING HERE?

Report F. C. Kent Company May Come Here; Town Hall Is Silent

While there was no official comment at town hall this week, it was reported that representatives of the F. C. Kent company of Irvington, manufacturers of airplane parts, would purchase property at 525-543 Main street from the town tomorrow afternoon at a public sale to be held in town hall at 4 p.m. The Irvington concern has been the center of a controversy in which nearby residents have blocked the expansion of the plant which was requested by the navy department because of increased demand for materials manufactured by the concern.

The Irvington town commission went along with the residents and refused to grant the company a navy's request that the zone regulations be lifted to permit plant expansion.

At a special meeting of the town board last week, it was voted to put the Main street property up for sale. Mayor Williams admitted that much would not reveal who would be the prospective buyer.

JEWRY OBSERVES CHANUKAH FEAST

Celebration of Annual Festival
Starts Sunday Night and Ends December 22

The annual observance of Chanukah, the Jewish festival of lights, will begin Sunday night and extend to Monday, December 22. The holiday is considered one of the minor festivals in the Jewish calendar because its observance is not mentioned in the Bible.

Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin of Congregation A. A. A. in explaining the meaning and customs of the holiday said that according to the Jewish calendar, Chanukah falls on the 25th day of Kislev. It is celebrated in commemoration of the courageous campaign waged by the Maccabees of old against the overwhelming hordes of Antiochus Epiphanes when he sought to conquer Palestine in 165 B.C. The holiday is also known as the feast of dedication, to remind of the purification and re-dedication of the holy temple in Jerusalem three years after it was desecrated by the Syrian general and king. It is observed eight days because of the miracle wrought when a flask of holy oil for the temple, which under ordinary circumstances should last but one day, burned for eight days until new oil could be obtained.

Reminder To Jewish People

The observance of the holiday was ordained by Judas Maccabees among the elders of that age to bring to the minds of the Jewish people the courageous and victorious stand made by the Jewish armies against the tyrants of Greece and Syria. It is a constant reminder of the steadfastness and firmness so characteristic of the Jewish people.

Chanukah is principally observed in the home and synagogue by the lighting of Chanukah candles set in an eight-branched Menorah, with an additional holder for the "Shammos" or the servant candle. The custom is to light one candle the first night, two the second night and so on. The lighting is preceded by the chanting of appropriate blessings and the singing of the popular hymns, "Haneiros Hallalu" and "Moses Tsar."

Many interesting customs are observed during the holiday. The children receive gifts and play a game, "Dreidel," a teetotum, with Hebrew lettering on its sides. It is a tradition to eat "Latkes," small potato pancakes on the evening of the holiday.

Among the observances planned for the local Jewish Community are a Chanukah holiday entertainment by the young people's group, a newly formed club, to be held Sunday night. A holiday party will be held for the children of the religious school on Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. Chanukah lights will be kindled lightly by the pupils of the daily Hebrew school. The climax of the local observance will take place in the social hall on Sunday, December 21 when the annual Chanukah festival will take place.

Recipe Column

by Peggy Patterson

Let's not forget that a spicy, heartening dessert will tempt and comfort our families at meals which must already be considered in the first line of morale builders. The two which follow have the added advantage of being economical and digestible — two factors which are rising in importance. A steamed pudding follows whose spicy flavor belies its simple ingredients, and a pie with the fragrance of mince and the nourishment of eggs and milk.

Steamed Molasses Pudding

1 cup water
1 cup molasses
1 cup flour
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 level teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1 small cup raisins, chopped
Beat the egg, add sifted dry ingredients gradually. Combine water and molasses and add to the first mixture slowly. Stir in the raisins. The mixture will be very thin and smooth. Pour into the well buttered top of a double boiler and steam, tightly covered, over boiling water for two hours. Turn the cake with a straw. It is important not to remove cover during cooking. Water may be added if necessary to the bottom of the boiler by lifting the top section off carefully. The pudding should be served hot in slices with hard sauce.

For a variation from mince or pumpkin pie here is another unusual recipe. Both desserts, incidentally, are authentic, treasured items handed down from generation to another of good cooks. They are not commercial cookbook products.

Sour Cream Pie

1 cup sour cream (or milk)
1 cup chopped raisins
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cornstarch
2 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Combine these ingredients by beating the egg yolks until fluffy and adding the sugar, salt, cornstarch and spices sifted together. Add milk and raisins and cook in the double boiler until thick and creamy. Cool. Pour into a previously baked, cooled pie shell; top with meringue made from the two egg whites and two tablespoons powdered sugar and brown in a 400 degree oven.

Mrs. William Cross of New street entertained Tuesday afternoon at bridge for guests from East Orange and Belleville.

Even Recreation Basketball Is Bothered By War

May Be Forced To Suspend Leagues' Regulations Because of Number of Players Being Drafted Or Enlisting In The Service

The war threatens to make its way even into the Recreation department basketball leagues. Director Edward Lister revealed yesterday that the number of boys who are being drafted, those in plants which will now be working on longer shifts and others who are planning to enlist in some branch of the service will undoubtedly riddle the rosters of the senior, industrial and church circuits.

A possible change in the rules, which now forces a team to forfeit a game if a player is used who is not on the roster may be necessary, he said. "We may just have to play games and forget about the roster," Lister commented.

Wallace & Tiernan continued to skate along without much trouble on the top of the heap in the industrial circuit, taking the measure of the Eastern Tool quintet 49-26 for their fourth straight win. Handley's 17 points led the way.

GET INSTRUCTIONS FOR STUDENTS

Recommend To Schools That They Disperse Uniformly From Buildings

Instructions on the conduct of school children in event of an air raid were received yesterday afternoon by Everett B. Smith, defense council chairman, and he said that he would immediately forward the information to Superintendent of Schools Wayne R. Farmer and Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, pastor of St. Peter's church, who has charge of the parochial school there.

The recommendation on what should be done by school children came from Mayor Vincent T. Murphy of Newark, who has been named New Jersey chairman for the regional conference of mayors in the civilian defense setup. "In event of an air raid alarm," Murphy's telegram said, "school children should be dismissed uniformly throughout the county (meaning Essex) singly rather than in groups. Such procedure will foster unity of effort and maintain orderly plan of evacuation."

Favor Dispersing Them

This concurs with the thoughts expressed Monday night by Superintendent Farmer and Father Kelly, both of whom are defense council members, at the group's special meeting at town hall. They declared that they favored dispersion rather than confining children in the school building.

The school superintendent said yesterday afternoon that as soon as he received "official word" from Smith he would transmit the information to all principals and teachers for them to pass on to the children.

Farmer said that he felt that some arrangements would have to be made for practice sessions so that school children could familiarize themselves with what they would do in the event of a real alarm.

He said that following the air raid alarm in New York on Tuesday afternoon all children were told to go home directly after school. Teachers, he added, have continued to emphasize that fact to the pupils.

Nutrition Council Asks Help Of Red Cross Chapter

At a meeting Thursday morning of the Belleville Nutrition Council, committee research reports were made by William Kenopp on manufacturers' cafeterias and by Mrs. John Denike, president of the Woman's club on nutrition courses and first aid. The group adopted a resolution asking the local Red Cross to incorporate nutrition instruction courses under their direction aligning them with the first aid courses under the leadership of Mrs. Louis A. Noll Jr. The nutrition council intends to lend its active support.

To this end a survey is being made of the dieticians and home economists who are residents of the town and who will be enrolled for instruction service. Through the parent-teacher associations and other women's groups it is hoped that those capable of giving professional instruction may be located. The nutrition council will meet at the Woman's club again on Thursday morning, January 15, at 10. John J. Hewitt, relief director, presided.

Henry Stephan Is Married To East Orange Resident

The marriage of Miss Mae Butler, daughter of Mrs. Emma Butler of East Orange, and Henry Stephan, proprietor of the Stephan music shop at 476 Washington avenue, was solemnized Sunday in Connecticut Farms Presbyterian church in Union. Mr. Stephan is also the owner of a music store in that city. Miss Butler was given in marriage by her brother, Louis Butler of East Orange, and attended by a niece, Mrs. Louise Dilley of Whitehouse. Best man for Mr. Stephan was Joseph Montano of Newark.

The bride was gowned in a formal wedding costume of white satin and lace with train. She wore a fingertip tulle veil and carried calla lilies. Mrs. Dilley's gown of peach satin was matched by a peach flower veil. She carried peach gladioli and cornflowers. The couple will live in East Orange. Mr. Stephan, who has had his business in Belleville for about three years, is leader of the municipal band.

MANY COOPERATE IN CHILD CARE

Organizations Give Assistance To CSB In Town-Wide Survey

A number of organizations have responded and offered workers to assist in the town-wide survey being made by the case committee of the Community Service bureau in studying the problem of child care in families where the mothers are employed. Mrs. Robert L. Lunsford heads the group in charge.

Among the organizations which have joined in the effort are the Woman's club, Belleville Welfare federation, Girl Scout council, American Legion, Wesley Men's club, Sisterhood of Congregation A. A., Belleville Teachers' association, Young Judeans, Girl Scout Mothers' club, Everyman's Bible class, various parent-teacher organizations, Colored Women's Welfare council, Order of Eastern Star, Belleville Nursery school.

A number of housewives and working mothers are also taking part. Families in which mothers are being visited to obtain statistical data for the study. The information will be accepted in strict confidence and will upon completion of the survey be tabulated, analyzed and carefully studied.

Many of the families being visited are providing adequately for their children. A CSB representative said yesterday, but nevertheless their cooperation in submitting the information requested by the committee is of extreme importance if the study is to be truly indicative of the actual conditions in Belleville. All families visited are urged by the bureau to cooperate. The survey will continue through the next two weeks.

PUSH PURCHASE OF POLICE RADIO

Defense Council Recommends It; Clark Starts Survey; Modulated Type Preferred

Keeping its promise to support financially the defense council's program, the town commission on Tuesday night paved the way for the purchase and installation as early as possible of a three-way police radio system. Belleville is the only municipality in Essex county, Public Safety Director Clark told board members Tuesday night that does not have a police radio station.

Clark was authorized by the commissioners to proceed with an immediate study and survey of the town's needs and present a proposal to the board as early as possible. The defense council at its special meeting on Tuesday night passed a resolution recommending to the town board the immediate installation of police radio.

The police and fire head said it had not prompted his action for the question has been studied for some months by members of the department. He said the Deputy Fire Chief William Dunleavy had surveyed the field of firms which furnished ultra high frequency equipment for police work and that during his vacation when he went to Denver several months ago, he had stopped in Chicago and inspected the plant of the Motorola concern, manufacturers of frequency modulated police radio transmitters and receivers, the latest type now being used.

Clark read to the board a proposal which had been submitted to him by the Motorola concern offering to install a three-way frequency modulated main transmitter and transmitters and receivers for the police cars, those of Police Chief George Spatz, Fire Chief Robert Reid, the ambulance and the new emergency truck, for $4,015. Clark said the Motorola company "is a very large substantial concern" and that their equipment is used by many police departments in the midwest.

The Boosters' club met Thursday night at the home of John Stewart of 20 William street and elected officers. Stewart was named president, Pat Tortorella, vice-president; Estelle DeLarke, secretary and treasurer, and Nick Candura, business manager. Another meeting will be held tonight.

Better Late Than Never

Last night the Town Commission moved for the immediate purchase of a police radio system. It acted on the recommendation of the defense council which advocated it at a special meeting on Monday night close on the heels of the declaration of war and the knowledge of all of us that we must be prepared in every way for the days that lie ahead.

No one can be congratulated for the action, for the installation of police radio is one branch of police work in which Belleville has been well behind the parade compared with almost every municipality in Essex county. Early this year we editorially suggested that police radio equipment be purchased and gave our reasons why. The present method of summoning policemen via flashing red lights and call boxes is outmoded and far behind the speed in which we travel and do things today.

Belleville is a town of considerable area for a police force of its size to cover. It has innumerable industries that are vital to the defense program and it has a reservoir, communication and other utilities which must have constant watching. It can not be properly done under the present system and it would be unfair to think that the police department could accomplish as good a job as it could with the aid of police radio which enables the men in the field to keep in constant touch with headquarters and vice versa.

Now, that the town has finally recognized the fact that police radio is needed no time should be lost in installing a station and equipping the cars with the equipment. Based on purchase costs for stations and receivers in other municipalities, it should be approximately $5,000 and it should not exceed $6,000.

We cannot afford to delay in these times and we trust that there will be none in deciding the type of equipment which will be purchased for the use of the police department.

We've Got A Job To Do

The fooling is all over now. The "it can't happen here" folks have shut up, and by this time all of us should realize that we have a job to perform. We are in this war and it has become as much the responsibility of those on the home front as it is of those men in our fighting forces.

Despite repeated pleadings and warnings we must admit that we have sadly neglected the task of preparing for this day that has come when we will have to protect ourselves our homes and our industries. But, reviewing the apathetic state from which most of us refused to budge won't do any good now. We have work to do and there's no time to be lost.

It's a great opportunity for speech-makers, but we don't need them. It's a great opportunity for personal glory-seekers, but we must not have that. Personal jealousies and ambitions must be pushed aside for we are all in this together and we can only accomplish ultimate victory by constant cooperation.

Belleville is a combination residential-industrial municipality. We have to think constantly of protection of the 30,000 people who live in it and we must also protect the many industries within its borders which are now humming on a 24-hour-a-day basis grinding out materials and machines which are being produced for war.

Let there be no mistake about it, we are far from prepared for the days that are ahead, and still we must make ourselves ready as quickly as possible.

The responsibility for the protection of Belleville against saboteurs, fifth columnists, air raids and any of the other atrocities of war rests with the Belleville Defense Council—and let it be clearly understood by every resident, every organization and every manufacturer that by law

Help Out The Post Office

Just as we feel it's our duty annually to put in a good word for the American Red Cross, the Community Chest and other similar organizations, so do we feel that we should say something for Superintendent William Price and his post office boys.

They are at the starting mark of the toughest two weeks of the year for them. It's Christmas time and for the post office that spells work and more work. While it's a part of their job, all of us should try to make it as easy for them as possible. Mail your cards and gift packages as early as possible. You will be helping yourself be-

Poor Interest In Training Schools

Industrial training schools have been opened in increased numbers since the pace of the defense production program was stepped up. Skilled workers were at a premium when America turned toward building armaments and other materials, which are vital to war. Manufacturers, realizing their position, were among the first to offer not only cooperation but financial assistance in establishing these training centers.

It was surprising to hear from one manufacturer, a leader among those in this town sponsoring the training program, the other last week that the biggest problem facing those conducting the training was at least the one in which he is interested is to get men with sufficient mechanical aptitude and interest to stay enrolled in the course until they have completed their study and training.

Although care is used in selecting those who are permitted to enroll in the course, that body and only that body, as we are organized today, has the legal authority and power to direct and dictate what should or should not be done. It is a committee of 15 members with powers and it cannot be ignored.

Under the direction of Police Judge Everett B. Smith, who has been selected as its chairman, the defense council this week set about its tremendous task. Members of sub-committees, numbering approximately 100 were called in and told what their job would be and instructed to get to it as quickly as possible.

But, this is not the job of a committee of 100. It is the job of hundreds, even of thousands. Police reserves, fire auxiliary men, air raid precaution wardens, nurses, first aid workers, motor corps workers and many others are needed. The defense council has asked every resident who is able to register immediately with the committee in whose work they believe that they would be of the most use.

Protecting Belleville will be a 24-hour, seven-day a week job. It will mean sacrifices. But will it not all be worth it to protect our homes and our community? Read the full-page advertisement which appears on Page 4 and check the work in which you believe that you could do the best job. Do it now. Don't wait. Call the chairman of the committee you wish to serve with immediately now, tomorrow or Sunday. Time is valuable. Be one of those to do your part for your country, your town and yourself.

Each succeeding day will bring new instructions and orders to the public. Follow them. Above all else, do not believe in rumors and do not become hysterical. You may not only cause yourself but others about you harm.

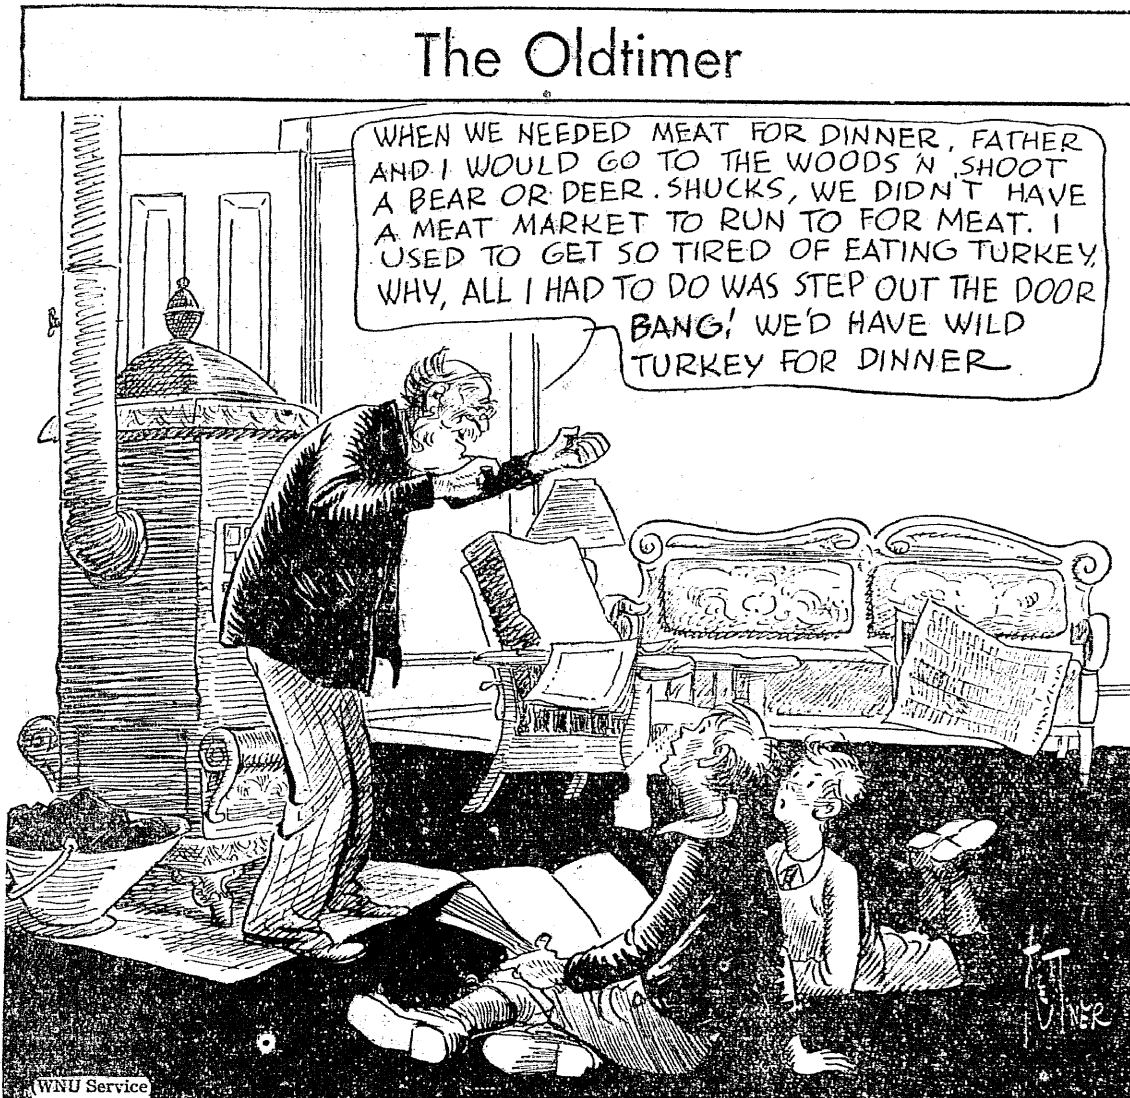

cause you will be assured of better service than if you wait until the last minute.

You will help a lot if you will write addresses plainly. If you can't write well, print. Remember the postman is no hieroglyphist and he does not have time to sit down and decipher the address on every other letter or package.

If you are in doubt about the amount of stamps that should be used or some other regulation dealing with the mails, don't take a chance and possibly disappoint yourself or the person to whom you are sending greetings or a gift. Call at the post office and they will try to help you.

he pointed out, practically two men have either failed or quit to each man who has finished the course. The low enrollment would indicate, he believes that there is a shortage of men either available for this type of training or sufficiently interested to take the training course.

To the average citizen who hears about the good wages which are now being offered for skilled workers in factories, this seems surprising. However, perhaps this condition of indifference, the lack of push or ambition to better themselves is a throw-back to the depression era. Some of the population became most dependent on the rest of us to look after them, give them a job at which they did little work for what they received. That sort of life may not have been the best to live, but it was good enough for some and they're having a hard job attempting to re-kindle the ambition that once burned in them to stand upon their own two feet and earn themselves a good living.

Odds and Ends From Other Pens

Beyond the Pale

The hit-and-run motorist is an offender against all decency and all too frequent recently along the highways in this vicinity. Such are deserving of scant sympathy whether the motive of escape is cowardice or lawlessness. It is the act of a poltroon totally lacking in simple humanity to leave an injured victim suffering at the roadside. The minions of the law have a way of catching up with these cases and usually do. When such are landed at the tribunal there should be little consideration when the facts are established. Clever defense technicalities might well be ignored if the lesson is to be driven in that this sort of fiendishness is in a hateful class by itself, beyond the pale.

Crowded Institutions

The overcrowding of New Jersey's mental institutions should be remedied as promptly as possible. Our state has an enviable record regarding its care of the mentally afflicted, and its doctors and nurses render faithful service far from the pleasantest of associations.

Now that we are generously helping people in foreign lands who could take care of themselves if they had wished to use their brains and bodies and not sold their birthrights to politicians having selfish and ruling complexes, we should not hesitate properly to house, clothe and feed our own people who, through no fault of their own, cannot take care of themselves. Overcrowded buildings for the mentally afflicted not only hamper and retard possible cures, but add to the duties of doctors and nurses, and are fire hazards. As we talk in billions of dollars regarding less worthy purposes, let us not be niggardly regarding the protection of the wards of our state.

Jobs for Negroes

Governor Edison asks for the elimination of prejudice and discrimination in defense employment. He urges that "race, color, creed or national origin" be disregarded and that the only test for employment in defense industry be loyalty and ability.

The problem to which he refers is most acute in the case of the Negro, for whom President Roosevelt has already made an appeal. Negroes are denied industrial jobs for which they are qualified, but it is a mistake to assume that employers are wholly responsible for this. Many employees object to working with Negroes.

It does no good to denounce this prejudice. Only increasing understanding that a person's color is no measure of his worth can dissipate it.

Meanwhile, all Americans must consider the effects of discriminatory employment policies, which help to keep up relief costs, dilute the patriotism of 10 per cent of the population, deny the nation the services of a race with great manual skill and adaptability and thwart the Negro's brave efforts at self-improvement.

The Negro doesn't enjoy being a charity case. He isn't lazy and he doesn't lack ambition. He has simply never had the opportunity to use his talents to best advantage.

The Time We Spend Eating

A man sleeps away about one-third of his life, and considers it time by no means wasted.

Even more cheerful is the news that a man reaching 70 has spent just five whole years in the joyous task of feeding his face. He has consumed by that time more than 100 tons of food of all sorts, from soup to nuts, including about 9,000 pounds of potatoes, 6,000 loaves of bread, 300 chickens, three oxen, 2,000 large fish, 12,000 quarts of coffee, and 1,000 pounds of salt.

We are indebted for this information to one Carl Sorby, of Rockford, Ill., who likes to figure out such things, and based his logic in this instance on the normal average time spent by a person in consuming three meals a day.

There is probably no significance in the fact that he made this revelation at the 23rd annual convention of the American Gas association.

And we thank him for failing to take advantage of the opportunity to rub it in on us all that we eat ourselves into our graves.

But Mr. Sorby didn't tell us everything about how we spend our time, for in a Canadian newspaper, the Campbellton, N. B., Graphic, we find the following observation:

"A psychologist has estimated that the average 70-year life consists of 25 years of work, 20 years of sleep, seven years of sports and walking, five years of shaving and dressing, seven years pleasure, three years of waiting, two years eating, one year telephoning, 30 hours annually looking in mirrors, and four hours annually wiping one's nose."

We should say the anonymous psychologist here quoted erred on the short side as to sleeping and eating. As to the feeding element, we elect our Illinois expert as probably more voracious as certainly he is more voracious. Who in 70 years of life would wish to spend a mere two years in eating? Our New Brunswick psychologist must be a snack-down-and-run feeder. He would do well to cut down on his shaving and dressing, his mirror-gazing, and his nose-wiping. Eating is so much more pleasant!

Seven years of "pleasure" and only two of eating—what sort of pleasure is that?

Fortunate Youth of Today

The boys who are in the Ridgewood high school today can consider themselves more fortunate than were the boys of a decade or less ago because of the provisions now made for vocational guidance, of which the conference of last Friday night was a shining example. Such advantages were not afforded the youth of yesterday. On this occasion excellent advice on the subject of choosing an occupation, and on helping the men-of-tomorrow to plan wisely for the future while tackling their scholastic problems of today, was handed out to pupils and parents by Dr. Harold Hand of Maryland university. The warning he uttered against the misleading propaganda and fallacious theories that are being circulated via radio and magazine, and that may prove pitfalls to young seekers after truth, should be heeded.

The conference was only the beginning of a program which will include follow-up discussion groups at the school and at the Y. M. C. A. Both Mr. Foley of the high school faculty and Secretary Mease of the "Y" stand ready and eager to advise youngsters or their parents with regard to this important question of finding one's niche in the world structure, which is undergoing considerable modification and adjustment at present. For any who may wish to interview men recognized as authorities in specific fields, Mr. Mease will make such men available through the Y. M. C. A. committee.

It is encouraging to know that a larger number of boys attended the conference this year than were present at the first one last year.

It is to be hoped that each of the 225 profited by the suggestions and the inspiration he received that evening from one source or another. It is to be hoped that all of them, together with others who did not attend, will make full use of the fine opportunities afforded them to gain the help they may need in choosing wisely their course of action during the coming crucial years.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

War casts its grim shadow over politics along with every other phase of American life. While fundamentally an instrument of government, politics is likewise a game. As an instrument of government it will continue to function. As a game, it will be largely suspended until the last Japanese battleship hauls down the last Nipponese flag. The national government during the next few months is likely to be largely coalition.

I rather expect to see a reshuffling of the president's cabinet that will put Republicans in place of some of the rather shopworn Democrats like dear Fanny Perkins. I don't expect to see the congressional elections suspended next year as some have suggested, but there are likely to be many coalition candidates. Certainly the politically astute Mr. Roosevelt isn't going to repeat the historic mistake of Woodrow Wilson and ask the country to return a Democratic Congress. Nor will he use the patronage potential that totalitarian war will give him. For once the country is likely to have an honest election in the true sense of that word.

Generally, this moratorium on the game of politics will favor the status quo. Men now in office will in many cases be returned. Groups like Clean Government in Essex which have records for good government will be continued in power. Predatory organizations that keep their grip on government through the indifference of the citizenry are likely to find the going tougher than usual. Civic conscience will be at a new high, and candidates who depend upon the sympathy votes of their constituents will find that sympathy more widely diffused. Opportunity will be at hand for candidates who have ideas that capture the public imagination.

The man with a message can have his thousands of followers. Unfortunately, however, this message need not be fundamentally sound. War is the breeding ground for demagogues, and false heroes as well as true. In some cases important local matters will be lost sight of by voters absorbed in the national picture. But a sense of duty will influence others to a more careful consideration of government as a whole.

Smathers Not Popular

Thus, as we said before, politics as an instrument of government will function much as usual. New Jersey must elect a United States senator during the coming year and this election will hardly be taken lightly. William H. Smathers will make a brave plea that he should be returned because he has supported President Roosevelt. But this argument will have less weight than usual when every Republican incumbent can point out truthfully that he, too, is locally working with the administration. Smathers, in my judgment has always lacked the popularity that would insure his re-election and the war is not likely to change the situation.

The Republican primary election that must nominate an opponent, however, is likely to be much less lively because of the Japanese rendezvous with destiny at Pearl Harbor. The parade of a half-dozen millionaires each tossing leaves to the hungry will most probably be called off. There will be other roads to roads to glory and other recipients for the leaves and fishes.

High School Girls Learning How To Bind Books

Bookbinding Class Proves To Be Money Saver

High School Class Instructed By John Charlton Helps School Library And Other Classes; Make Old Books Look Like They're New

Few are the courses in high schools in which students can learn work which will pay dividends to other students and in its small way help to keep down the cost of operating the school system. Few are the schools that offer a course in bookbinding. Here in Belleville is the only high school in the state which offers such training to its students.

As a part of the printing course given by John H. Charlton of the school faculty boys are learning bookbinding and doing an excellent job of it, too.

They do not have a monopoly on this training for a number of girls who act as assistants in the school library took time to learn the art of repairing damaged and worn books so that they look like new. Many dollars in repair bills have been saved through this training.

Students learn bookbinding from the ground up and every step they take in the repair of books is done by hand. In addition to recovering and repairing many books, they recently started printing titles on the covers.

Not only the high school library has benefited from the bookbinding course. When books used daily by classes are worn with age, they must either be sent out for repair or discarded and new ones purchased by the board of education. The bookbinders have already helped to eliminate some repair bills or new book costs by the work which they have done at a small cost for materials.

Holy Family R.C.

Masses: Sunday, 7:15, Italian; 9:15, 10:15, 11:15, English. Daily, 7:30 and 8. First Friday, 6:30 and 8. Confessions, Saturday afternoon, 3 to 6; evening, 7 to 9. Communion Sunday, first Sunday of the month, Children of Mary; second Sunday of the month, Young Woman's Catholic League and Holy Name Society; third Sunday monthly, Angel Society and Dominic Savio Society; last Sunday monthly, Mount Carmel Sodality. Baptisms, Sunday, one binding. Its results are so pleasing.

"You would have felt complimented as well as amply repaid for your efforts in our behalf had you been present to hear the expressions of praise and gratitude that were voiced. Since you could not hear for yourselves, we want to tell you in this way of our great appreciation for the fine job you did for us."

"Letters like that to the boys are worth all of the time that they put in learning the trade and doing the work," Charlton said. Learning how to do the work, the instructor said, is something which he believes can be invaluable to any youth. In addition to teaching him how to use his hands, the youngster learns something which can be of value to him as a start toward a trade or in doing work at home as a pastime.

Because of the good work that the class has done in a number of cases, repeated requests are coming in to Charlton for the boys to repair other books. So, there's no chance that they won't have enough work to learn the trade well.

Girls on the library staff who took the course in bookbinding were Della Sommers, Florence Heffernan, Catherine Anderson, Bernice Doolittle, Dorothy Weber, Barbara Struges, Lois Burrington, June Belden, Joyce Shannon, Dorothy Cunningham, Betty Wier, Doris Struble, Jane Emele, Jane Bartlett and Jean Roberts.

Speaking of the re-binding of seventeen English books, Evans wrote to Superintendent Parmer in part: "The original paper covers were completely gone in some cases and badly worn in others. It is needless to say that Mr. Charlton readily agreed to do the job."

Better Than Originals
"It gives me great pleasure to inform you, Mr. Parmer," Evans' letter continued, "that I have now received the books from Mr. Charlton, and to say the least, they are in better shape than originally. They were bound in a hard cover, pages trimmed and cover neatly lettered with the title of the book. We shall be able to get a good many more years' service from these particular books."

"I thought that you would be glad to learn of this splendid service rendered to us by Mr. Charlton."

From Leona Reed, teacher, and the seventh grade youngsters in School No. 10 came another complimentary letter for Charlton and his boys.

"No brand new books," the teacher and class wrote, "coming into our class ever caused a greater stir of admiration and interest than did the English drill books which you recently re-bound and returned to us. It seemed as though someone had made us a present, for they look better now than when they were new. You not only have preserved the life of the books for many years but you have roused a desire in many to learn book-

The Woman's Desk

by PEGGY PATTERSON

The question "what can I do?" which has for many months loitered in each citizen's mind urgently demands an answer now that national emergency has set in. The simplest and most effective reply is still the resolve to do whatever you are now doing with added attention and efficiency. For the housewife this means a broad program of research and revision in the many items which compose her daily routine — notably the items of feeding and clothing her family and heating and maintaining their home. Economic operation of the family car may also fall into her province.

The consumer's pledge for total defense which many housewives have signed surely has far greater significance than it did five days ago. And even those who did not have an opportunity to manifest their willingness by a signature should not feel exempt from the vital task of garnering every possible scrap of benefit from their purchases and preserving to the utmost their possessions. Armed soldiers and a fighting navy directed by able statesmen are the manifest tools of war; but even these are useless they are backed by a citizenry which is kept on the most normal possible standard so that all the avenues which lead to supplying our defenders may be kept wide open and smoothly functioning.

To this end consumers (housewives for the most part) are officially warned to watch the trends of advertising and merchandising. A persistent ignoring of "care" advertising or rumor by which people are tempted to create a shortage in stocking up heavily on one item, is one good way to stop a rise in price on that item. A rise in price in some commodity, like bread, which is not justified can be overcome by the housewife by making her own bread since it is often the cost of manufacturing and not of ingredients which cause the increased charge.

Control Heating Costs

The home manager is also urged to control heating costs and electricity as much as possible. If this encourages more active play out of doors for the children and the substitution of an outside activity on pleasant days for the adults it will have the added benefits of health. A long walk outdoors, if you are able for it, will rest and invigorate you more than an afternoon of reading or loafing in an overheated room. And fuel can be saved thereby if the source of heat is checked for the period when you are not at home.

Extra care in laundering the fabrics which will gradually replace the silks and woolsens to which we are accustomed is also recommended. Rayon is subject to shrinkage and distortion of shape but experimentation and care to observe printed instructions will make it possible for you to launder it without loss.

Perhaps you have never raised the hood of the family car and looked inside; but you surely can watch carefully by means of dashboard instruments and by keen listening so that little defects will be at once detected. A loose belt or a faulty cooling system may cause serious damage and inconvenience just when your car is needed most. It might be well, if you have never done so before, to investigate your heating system too. Flues which are dirty and radiators which need emptying not only retard heat and waste coal and oil but sometimes cause floors and walls to be marred. Then there is the added cost of redecoration.

It is gratifying to know that recent polls conducted throughout the nation show an awareness of food values that is higher than expected. This is perhaps the greatest major item which the public connects with war. And surely the housewife surpasses everyone else, even the army chef, when it comes to the buying and preparing of food. What we have chiefly learned is that the balanced diet, without fads of any kind, is the greatest insurance for health that a nation can have. Eliminating all red tape and reducing the elements of diet to their simplest form will be the housewife's best way of feeding the nation for a superlative defense effort. And there is not a home magazine on the market today which does not incessantly repeat the fundamental rules. It is simple to learn them. Make it your special answer to the question "what shall I do?"

Sunshine Card Party Proceeds For Christmas Baskets

A card party will be held at the Woman's club on Rossmore place Wednesday evening, December 17, at 8:30 by the Roof-tree Branch of the International Sunshine Society. Mrs. Harry Williams will be in charge and proceeds will be used for Christmas baskets for needy families. At the organization's December 3 card party 30 tables of players enabled the group to provide substantial help for a needy family.

A Gay Table Setting That Will Please

FRUIT AND FLOWERS combine in the seasonable table setting shown above, and neither is overbearing. Huge red and pale green grapes fill the crystal footed bowls and a chain of dainty yellow chrysanthemums makes a delicate line of color down the center of the table. Repeat their color in the slender candles.

There's something luxurious about the solid square bases of the glassware and the sturdy ball candlesticks. The latter are pinpricked with tiny interior bubbles which add just the proper sparkle to the setting. This is an ideal season for investing in new crystal and other requisites for gracious meal serving. There is no better expression of holiday greetings than a fine meal, nicely served. It is one that will fill our friends, this year, with more gratitude and a finer sense of security than ever.

Superintendent Parmer's Son Dartmouth Senior Officer

William Parmer, son of Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Wayne R. Parmer and graduate of the class of 1938 of Belleville high school, was elected last week to the executive council of the senior class of Dartmouth university. Out of 23 candidates, seven were elected for a five-year period.

Parmer, who is also a member of the varsity basketball team, will play at Seton Hall college, South Orange, on January 3.

Bell-Nu Club To Give Children Christmas Party

The Bell-Nu club, a social group with headquarters at 157 Stephens street, will hold a Christmas party for children Saturday evening, December 20 at 7. This is an annual affair at which the little guests enjoy entertainment, gifts and refreshments. Count Artell of Mt. Prospect avenue, magician, will present a program.

Parrillo Association Will Elect New Officers

The Parrillo association will conclude a successful year on Monday evening when election of new officers will be held at the Harrison street club rooms. An ample balance of funds in the treasury indicates, according to John Lanza, secretary, one of the club's most successful years.

Other officers whose terms are ending are Bob Scott, president; Freeman Barnett, vice-president; John Lindgren, treasurer, and Thomas Figurelli, sergeant-at-arms.
