

SCHOOL BUDGET WILL JACK UP RATE 9 POINTS

Salary Increases, Less Revenue From State, Help Bring About Rise

The proposed school budget for 1942-43, passed by the board of education on Monday night, which will be submitted to the voters at the school election on Tuesday, February 10, provides for a tentative rise in the amount to be raised through local taxes of nine points. If adopted by the voters, it would jump the school tax rate from $1.63 to $1.72.

In presenting the budget to the board, James M. Lynch, finance chairman, stated that the rise was due to a lower balance, a decrease in state apportionment of $9,000 and a slight increase in debt service payments.

Viewing the amount of money which would be received from the state, Lynch commented that there was no assurance of the receipt of any railroad tax money which is earmarked for the schools and that the board did not contemplate the receipt of any taxes from this source.

The total budget as set up by the trustees amounts to $685,860.59. Of this total, $514,860.59 will be raised in district taxes, $136,000 from state funds and a $35,000 balance from the 1941-42 budget.

$15,000 For Salaries

"The question of salary increases has been given further careful consideration," Finance Chairman Lynch said, "and the sum of $15,000 has been included in the budget for increases to the professional staff together with $1,500 for increases to the operating staff."

"State apportionment has again been reduced, this time in the approximate amount of $9,000 and we have no assurance of the receipt of any railroad taxes next year."

The amount of school bonds outstanding, Lynch said, is $1,150,000. The total budget is up $14,282.92 and the amount to be raised by taxes has increased $28,101.77.

The amounts which the public will be asked to vote on February 10 are $381,288.35 for current expenses; $10,100, manual training, and $14,143.31, maintenance.

Principal current expense items showing increases are: Teachers' salaries, $388,375 to $408,625; cafeteria directors' salary, $1,850 to $2,000; janitors' salaries, $35,485 to $36,180; janitors' supplies, $2,700 to $2,750; light, water and power, $6,000 to $6,500; clerk hire, $6,736 to $7,250; educational supplies, $7,200 to $8,500; art supplies, $2,200 to $3,000; attendance department, $1,300 to $1,500; medical inspectors' department, $700 to $750; compensation insurance, $1,000 to $1,100.

The principal reduction is shown in the maintenance account which has been reduced from $30,000 to $25,000. Other decreases are noted in compensation insurance from $1,350 to $1,250; high school nurse, $1,500 to $1,200; dental clinic, $2,700 to $2,000.

MARCH OF DIMES IS BLOCKED

School Board Won't Let Group Solicit Youngsters; Too Many Appeals

The board of education voted on the recommendation of its president, Herbert C. Schmutz, not to permit the local March of Dimes committee, raising money for the nation-wide infantile paralysis fund in connection with President Roosevelt's birthday, to solicit school children for funds.

The action followed receipt of a letter from Fred B. Handlon, police court clerk and March of Dimes chairman, asking the board's permission to appeal to the school children. Handlon estimated that if each school child brought a penny the town's quota of $750 would be almost raised.

"There are other ways of raising this money it seems to me," Schmutz commented. "Every week something comes into the schools seeking money from the youngsters. It gets to be embarrassing to the youngsters."

The president added that he did not think it was the purpose of the campaign to raise the funds in the schools and that "it was an easy way of raising the money." He said that he would talk to Handlon and tell him that the board frowned on the practice. He added that he thought fund raising efforts in the schools should be "absolutely discouraged."

NO OPPOSITION TO BUS PERMIT

Public Utilities Board Expected to Rule Favorably On Application

Since no opposition was voiced by any other bus concern to the application, it is expected that the public utilities commission will rule favorably on the petition of Public Service Coordinating Transport company for the extension of its No. 100 line into Belleville and through streets in the valley section.

A hearing was held Thursday morning at the utilities board offices at 1060 Broad street, Newark, which was attended by Commissioner Noll who had granted the company local consent for the line.

The present No. 100 line operates from Pennsylvania station, Newark, along McCarter highway to the Belleville-Newark line. If the public utilities board grants consent, the route will continue north in Main street to Mill street, west to Washington avenue, north to Rutgers street, east to Ralph street, north to Greylock avenue, east to Main street and north to the Nutley line.

In moving for the granting of the application, Noll had written the public utilities board that the new service would provide more convenient and faster transportation for many workers employed in plants in the valley area, particularly Eastwood Neally, New York Color & Chemical company, the Federal Leather company and the Walter Kidde company.

The utilities board will hold a hearing next Thursday morning on a Public Service application for the opening of another line. It proposes to establish a route from the Silver Lake section to West Belleville. On part of the route the bus would operate over Washington avenue.

NEED FOR BLOOD DONORS STRESSED

Must Have 50 Volunteers Before Blood-Taking Unit Will Come Here

More blood donors are needed immediately by the Red Cross for the local effort that is being made for the national blood bank. Fifty volunteers must sign up before arrangements can be made to bring the Red Cross mobile unit from New York to take the blood deposits.

Three physicians and three nurses have volunteered their services to help the mobile unit. The physicians are Dr. B. E. Failing, Dr. G. Rae Lewis and Dr. William Taffet. The nurses are Mrs. W. H. Orth, Mrs. J. P. Healy and Mrs. A. L. Knowles.

Twenty-six have registered to date and at least 24 more names must be added to the list before the mobile unit will be sent from the Red Cross headquarters in New York.

Those interested are asked to call Miss Esther Adams in the afternoon at Be. 2-4485 or other times Be. 2-1843; or Mrs. Benjamin Goodman, Be. 2-1618, or John Charlton, Be. 2-2266-M.

The cost of taking blood is so exorbitant that the Red Cross points out, that it could not be done locally, and the cost of operating the mobile unit is such that it could not be sent here for less than 50 people.

RATION BOARD OKAYS THREE TIRE REQUESTS

Police Department, Coal Concern Among First To Gain Approval

Approval of three requests for tires Tuesday night gave the local tire rationing board its first actual taste of its job of rationing out those suddenly precious rubber necessities for automobiles.

The police department had the honor of being the first to get tires. An application made for four passenger car tires and four tubes (6.00x16) was granted. Two tires will go on each of two police cruisers, it was stated.

The Smith Brothers Coal company was granted one truck tire (7.00x20) and one truck tube (6.00x19) for her passenger car. The tires were labelled as "obsolete," Ruel E. Daniels, tire ration board secretary, explained yesterday that under the national tire ration regulations, the board may issue applications to passenger car owners for tires and tubes of an obsolete type. More than 25 sizes are listed by the ration board regulations, it was stated. Daniels explained that Miss Oerkvitz's tires were for a car that is more than 10 years old and which is no longer on the market. He said that she had ordered the tires for the car in September and that they had been delivered to a local dealer prior to the tire embargo but that the dealer had neglected to notify her of the arrival.

Don't Run On Flats
The board received from Robert Johnson, state ration head, a letter this week urging the local board begin an educational campaign to inform automobile drivers how they may save tires. Copy of a suggested booklet on the conservation of tires was also sent to the board as an example of what could be used here.

Johnson also appealed to the board to secure the cooperation of the police in preventing automobile drivers from riding on flat tires. Johnson said that it was "an American habit" to run on flat tires to the nearest service station. However, he stated that it wastes rubber more quickly than any other way and urged that motorists be asked to pull to the curb when a tire blows out and take the tire off and carry it to the nearest service station.

Secretary Daniels sent a letter to Public Safety Director Clark asking for the cooperation of the police department.

CHILDREN'S CARE IS HELD VITAL

National Day Nursery Head Tells Service Bureau of Work That's Needed

The 12th annual meeting of the Community Service bureau was held Tuesday evening at the Woman's club. It was dedicated to the question of child care and protection in this time of national crisis. It was well attended by community leaders, representative of all local organizations.

The highlight was the address of Miss Elizabeth Woodruff Clark, executive director of the National Association of Day nurseries, in which she stated that Belleville is outstanding in its early recognition and active planning in behalf of children, particularly those whose mothers are being drafted in industry as a result of war time demands. Miss Clark emphasized that community plans for care and protection of children of working mothers should include as many forms of day care as are required to meet the needs of children of all ages for whom such provision should be made. In working out such plans Miss Clark stressed the necessity for having trained personnel to supervise children's activities and also pointed out that volunteers with special aptitudes could fill an important place in the program.

Miss Clark's talk was preceded by the report of the bureau's committee on child care, which brought out the fact that they are making a study of 500 working mothers of approximately 1,000 children of elementary and pre-school age. Though individual visits to the homes of working mothers information is being obtained as to plans which each mother has been able to make for her children. When the study is completed the committee will have available information from which to draw a comprehensive plan in Belleville.

With the need for immediate action becoming daily more pressing the committee is anxious to complete the study as soon as possible. It will welcome the assistance of all persons interested to contribute time. Volunteers may get in touch with the office of the Community Service bureau or with Mrs. R. L. Luscombe, committee chairman.

New trustees elected included Mrs. A. K. McBride and Rev. Marshall J. Whitehead for three-year terms and A. Birdsall Rowland, Jr., for one year. Trustees re-elected for three-year terms were: Rev. Edgar M. Compton, Mrs. Robert L. Lunsford, Harry Macaulay, Walter Price, W. R. Palmer and Adolph A. Sturges.

British ARP Officer Will Discuss His Experiences

Defense Council Gets Special Constable for Meeting To Be Held February 3 at High School; Was Subjected to Bombings For 21 Months

An eye witness account of bombings in England will be given to the members of the police and fire reserves, air raid warden patrol and other interested citizens by Special Constable Herbert Scott, British ARP officer, at the high school on Tuesday evening, February 3.

The appearance of Constable Scott, who is in this country to lecture on civilian defense and to give information to defense councils, has been arranged by the defense council. He has been speaking for a number of months in various parts of the country and will leave for a tour of Pacific coast cities shortly after his local appearance.

Constable Scott is a veteran of air raids in Britain, for 21 months including the period when the bomb-battered isles received some of their worst attacks. His lecture will include advice to civilian defense organizations and techniques of methods used by the British in fighting bombs. After his lecture he will show three sound motion picture films which have been prepared by the Ministry of Information in London including "War and Order," showing the organization and training of the British police reserve; "Stop That Fire," dealing with the handling of incendiary bombs; and "London Fire Rats," December 29-30, 1940, a film of the worst raids concentrated on the city sections of London.

A native of New Zealand and a veteran of the first world war, Constable Scott in peace time was a manufacturer of cork materials. His home was in Eastbourne on the southeast coast of England.

NAME MC CORKLE COORDINATOR

Communications Member To Work With All Defense Groups; Install Alarm Phones

Seeking to coordinate all groups so that the communications section can be of assistance to every branch of the defense council, Lester McCorkle, secretary of the communications division, was this week named the coordinator who will work with all committee heads and draft a workable plan for his group to aid all defense activities.

This move followed a meeting held by the communications group with Judge Everett B. Smith, defense council chairman.

The central point for the communications group will be the police headquarters where it is planned during an emergency to have men on duty 24 hours a day. All of its activities will fan out from that center with men assigned for duty in each of the five zone headquarters which have been established for the air raid warden.

Also put into operation this week was a system from police headquarters to each of the five plants which is equipped with one of the steam whistle air raid sirens.

If there is a warning signal or an "all clear" signal the men on duty in the boiler rooms of the five plants will be notified simultaneously. Should the telephone system circuit fail, alarm bells have been placed in each factory so that a code signal can be tapped out from headquarters which will give the alarm.

PHYSICIANS SET UP EMERGENCY MEDICAL PLAN

Doctors Turn Over Offices For First Aid Stations in Defense Program

An emergency first aid medical plan ready to be put into immediate operation in a local disaster was announced yesterday by Dr. Edward A. Flynn, chief of staff for the emergency medical service council recently created by Mayor Williams under the defense council at the direction of the state defense authority.

The plan was the result of a conference which Dr. Flynn held Tuesday with 16 other local physicians in which they agreed not only to contribute their services but the facilities of their offices, medical and surgical instruments and other equipment.

Permission has been granted by the county board of freeholders for the use of Soho Isolation hospital in Franklin and Belleville avenues as a emergency base hospital. Six first aid stations have been designated in certain parts of town and in addition there will be a number of fixed ambulance points from which first aid workers and stretcher bearers would operate.

Dr. Flynn explained that the present plan is an emergency set-up drafted so that the town would be prepared at a moment's notice to meet any disaster. A more elaborate plan, which calls for the use of the schools as first aid centers, is being studied. The physician said that no orders had been placed as yet for equipment for school first aid stations and that under present conditions there could be no definite guarantee as to when such supplies would be delivered.

A model organization has been established, that word of serious tragedy in one section of town could bring physicians from stations in various other parts of the scene with ambulances, first aid workers and stretcher bearers within a few minutes' time.

"It is important that we make the people understand that if there is a disaster and they are injured, they should go or be taken to the nearest first aid center and to the base hospital at Soho," Dr. Flynn emphasized. "If after emergency treatment, in the opinion of the physicians at the center, the patient should be sent to the base hospital, it will be done."

At Soho, Dr. Ellis Smith, superintendent, and his staff will be in charge. All of the facilities and available room in the institution will be at the disposal of the medical emergency council, Dr. Flynn stated.

In all but one case, the first aid stations listed below are the offices of physicians. The stations are as follows:

First Aid Station No. 1 — 154 Belmont avenue, Silver Lake, at Honiss street. Drs. B. C. Rossi and William H. Fost. Fixed ambulance point (1) St. Anthony's church, Silver Lake; (2) Florence avenue and Franklin street, Silver Lake. One floating ambulance.

The board of education on Monday night unanimously voted the appointment of Henry Minasian, high school commercial teacher, as acting principal of Schools No. 10 and 2. The recommendation to name the instructor to the position was made by Charles Gebhardt, chairman of the teachers' committee. His present salary is $1,950 and the board announced that there would be no further rise.

Minasian fills the vacancy caused in the fall when Fred W. Evans, resigned the principalship of the two schools to become supervising principal in Jamesburg. A group of parents in the vicinity agitated for the appointment of Mrs. Leona Reed as principal and secured names for a petition which they had planned to present to the board. However, the group later announced that at Mrs. Reed's suggestion they were withdrawing the petition.

Minasian has been a member of the high school staff since 1938. A native of Raleigh, N. C., he was graduated in 1930 from Boston university with a B.A. degree and in 1932 received his M.A. at Columbia university. They are Miss Ruth Emily Bonnet, 186 South 12th street, Newark; Miss Doris Elizabeth Mauer, 6 Beech street, Arlington; Mrs. Harriette F. Hall, 74 Tiona avenue; and Mrs. Jessie R. Fritts, 71 Bremond street.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Violet Hantoon a special teacher and granted leaves of absence to Mrs. Sadye C. Dante until September, 1943, and Mrs. Eleanor F. Cerato for the balance of the school year.

At each fixed ambulance point, there will be four first aid workers and four stretcher bearers. In addition to two or more physicians at each first aid station, there will be two or more graduate nurses, six first aid workers and six stretcher bearers.

The program will be directed by the medical council. Other members in addition to Dr. Flynn are Dr. James R. Irwin, representing the medical societies; Dr. Ellis Smith, Frank Chambers, chairman of the Red Cross chapter; Miss Ella Hasenjaeger, superintendent of nurses at Soho; Eugene T. Physicians Ready To Do Job

The physicians have taken their places among the ranks of those who are ready to do a job in town if necessary. The plan for going to work if there should be any disaster injuring residents or taking its toll in an industrial plant, which was presented yesterday by Dr. Edward A. Flynn, chief of staff of the emergency medical service council is a good one.

First, it is well done because it entails no great expense to the town. Second, it can be put into operation tomorrow just as easily as it could a year from now.

While we are pleased that the physicians have not only offered their services but the use of their equipment, instruments and office and house space, we hope that it will never be necessary to use it.

Belleville is also fortunate in that it has the Scho Isolation hospital within its limits and has been assured that its facilities will be available to it.

Many communities, particularly those in the suburban area, are confronted with the problem of what to do about a hospital. The accommodations of most hospitals in this section are almost always taxed under normal conditions and they fully realize that should an emergency arise they could not count on those hospitals to take care of their injured.

Let's Have 'Go Ahead' Signal

There was no opposition presented last week when the public utilities commission held a hearing on the application of Public Service Coordinated Transport company to extend its No. 100 bus line from the North Newark line so that it would be routed through the valley section to the Nutley line.

In view of this, it is hoped that the commission will lose no time in giving the Public Service the "go ahead" signal for the line would not only be a help to those working in plants in that vicinity but also to the many residents in the valley who now find that they have to hike up a steep hill to get to Washington avenue to go to Newark or to the center of town.

There is still another application for a local line before the utilities commission. It will hear the Public Service appeal next week for granting a permit for a bus to operate from Silver Lake to the West Belleville section. It is needed and it is hoped that there will not be any opposition heard to granting the application.

A Change In Living Conditions

Ever since there has been a depression, Silver Lake has been a problem because many of its people were in the income group which was most seriously affected by it. There was an interesting note concerning the annual report of Mrs. Martha Herkins, director of the Silver Lake Community house. She observed through her activity among young people in the Lake that the defense boom and the war have greatly changed conditions there.

Young men who before walked the streets idled around the community house rooms now have jobs — most of them paying wages far more than they had ever expected to receive. Today, they either do not have time for the community house, or because of their increased wealth, look to more amusing fields for their entertainment.

Mrs. Herkins also observed that this change in conditions has had its effect among the girls of 'teen age, pointing out that many of them who formerly participated in club activities are now either working or have become married in what Mrs. Herkins termed "war" marriages.

If this report of the change of lives among young people in the Lake section is also reflected among those in the older brackets, perhaps times are looking up for that section of town.

They Must Do Some Rationing

At every turn, we are faced with new and more expensive expenditures for defense. In the future, we must ration our own consumption. In direct and indirect taxation for the next year, many of us will give half of the money which we earn to the government.

The congress appropriates 50 billion dollars for war purposes. Fifty billion dollars — a figure that is incomprehensible and unimaginable to almost every one of us. We do not know how much it is, except that it is a lot more money than we had ever dreamed the government would spend, and we are all wondering how we will ever be able to pay for it.

More and more we learn every day of the sacrifices which we must make. We may be able to give half of our dollars, but can we give any more? It is hard to imagine that and we hope that we do not. But, there must be a stoppage point some place. If every available dollar that we can possibly afford to spend must be for war and defense, then we must cut and try to save some place else. If we must make sacrifices, as individuals, then some of the services and extras which we have become accustomed to in municipal, county, state and national governments must also be eliminated.

Economically, it will be impossible for our pocketbooks to stand both. We are in a spending era. Some are getting rich by it and aren't worrying about anything else. Some of the rest of us are too busy paying attention to what is taking place on the fighting fronts. It is the best time in history for "pork barrel-minded" legislators to wrought their handiwork.

But, we plead with legislators, as they have pleaded with us, to conserve and save where they can to do some rationing on their part when it comes to spending our dollars for non-defense expenditures.

The Real Inside Information

Even war has its humorous sidelights, and even though you may be weighted down by the seriousness of it all and the bumpy road that lies ahead, you can get a laugh out of it almost any time you want. Have you listened to the lunch room or bar generalissimos who have this whole war all figured out? If you haven't you've really missed something.

Unhampered by threats of censorship or pleas not to reveal military secrets such as are the radio commentators or newspaper columnists, they will give you the lowdown right from the front-line trenches or from the bridge of the commander-in-chief of the fleet. They are in constant communication with the chief of staffs not only of the American, British and Russian armies, but also those of Germany, Italy and Japan.

They knew that Churchill and Roosevelt were going to put their heads together more than a month before anybody else did. Winston (they're quite intimate, like old buddies) flew here in a bomber via South America, says one. Oh, no, that's wrong, pops up another with a most authoritarian air. Absolutely inside information. He came in a submarine that sailed right up the Potomac to the back door of the White House.

As to General MacArthur's battle plans in the Pacific, well, they expect a report from the general staff at any moment. It looks as if he's about to evacuate to Hawaii, or maybe he'll attack Tokyo. Where's the fleet? Why, just yesterday, half of it sailed through the Panama canal disguised as a Japanese fishing fleet and some day next week will attack Japan after refueling at the Aleutian Islands.

What about Lindbergh? Any day now (and this is real inside information) the president will name him head of the U. S. air force and he will personally lead an air attack on the Japanese navy which is now in hiding somewhere off the lower California coast. And here's one the papers haven't told, but it's absolutely the inside information. A German submarine sneaked into New York harbor and fired a torpedo to try and sink the Statue of Liberty but she was only slightly wounded.

If you've missed these elbow-on-chin commentators, it's worth a cup of coffee or a glass of something or other to get an earful of this "inside" "uncensored" information.

More Belt Tightening Every Day

Consumers are learning each day that there must be more belt tightening if this country is to win the war. Several weeks ago some of the stores began choking up a bit on the sale of sugar and most of them are now doing it out in one and two pound amounts to help make their supply last as long as possible.

Housewives, grocers, restaurant proprietors and others who sell and buy food are finding out that prices are going up and that some products are more scarce than they were several months ago.

Tire rationing and other restrictions are also affecting the situation. Some milk companies have already informed their customers that deliveries will be made every other day. The same practice is being followed by some baking concerns and it is certain that there will be more to follow.

While we may not hear any shooting yet, many of us are realizing more every day that there really is a war.

Odds and Ends From Other Pens

Around the Clock

This year will be a critical one for America. Everyone knows that. And everyone knows that we must work as we never have before to produce the weapons we'll need to begin the offensive that is planned for 1943.

Many companies are already working the clock around to speed up war production, and others will follow their lead. Money can't be voted into weapons, however, and plants can't change over night to a 168-hour week. There are enormous problems involved in such a shift. How can we get skilled labor where we need it most? How can we keep machinery in constant repair so that breakdowns do not delay production? Obstacles like these must be overcome before defense industries can operate full time.

Through its training programs industry is helping to eliminate the current shortage of skilled workers, and, in addition, it is breaking down many complicated jobs so that skilled men and women can learn to do them quickly. It is expanding industrial health programs in an effort to reduce accidents, illness and labor turnover so that employees can work full time. And it is taking extra precautions to keep machinery in constant repair.

All told, it's a complicated job, this 168-hour week. But indications are that industry is aware of the problems involved and is working out solutions as rapidly as existing conditions permit.

Cost of Total War

No one can visualize a hundred billion dollars. Such a sum of money does not exist in cash. Yet that is what we are to spend in the next two years on a gigantic victory program!

The Saturday Evening Post recently told what this will mean. The most money ever raised in a single year by the government, through both taxation and borrowing, was $17,000,000,000. That is but one-third of the amount that must be raised in each of the next two years. And no one knows what new demands the future will bring.

That does not mean the job cannot be done. It can be done. But, to quote the Post, "Let us not be deceived. It will hurt. We cannot give one-half of our total income to it and keep our present standards of living. Taxes will have to be increased until the beet is white, and borrowing may have to be carried to the point of compulsory lending, as in Great Britain; but when the money that can be raised by these means is not enough—and it will not be enough—then it will be necessary for the government to command labor and materials by further means, and the test of further means will not be whether they are sound according to the rules of money, but only whether they are effective."

We are in a total war now, and everything we have must be given to winning a total victory. The job of the American people is to think straight—to understand what must happen. And the job of the American government must be to establish a war economy that will prune non-defense spending to the very limit and will do away completely with pork barrels and logrolling and all the other costly techniques of politics. Not even a start has yet been made in that direction. Not one solitary tax nickel should be spent now for any non-defense activity that can be eliminated or deferred. We must accept unprecedented taxation—and at the same time we must know that the tax money is spent for purposes which are vitally necessary. Only if that is done can we win the war and avoid the bankruptcy that always comes to the profligate.

—Madison Eagle

We Still Need More Help

Each week sees the demand of the various emergency civilian defense groups for volunteers increasing. It becomes the duty of every able-bodied man and woman to do their part. We are in a war and it is not just the men who are at the fighting front or on the high seas who are going to win. It is the job of every one of us.

To be skeptical about the possibilities of this area being raided is foolhardy. Have we not learned by now that in this war nothing can be taken for granted? Thousands of lives have been lost through unpreparedness. Why take the chance here?

In town we have three important divisions which must be fully manned and trained immediately—the air raid patrol, the fire auxiliary and the police reserves. Women can take their place alongside of men in the ARP service. In recent weeks, we have made repeated pleas for volunteers. There are still not enough. Until the necessary quotas are filled, Nutley cannot and will not be prepared for an emergency if it should come.

—Nutley Sun

Pare the Budgets

These are budget-making days, days in which individuals would do well to figure up 1942 income and outgo, days in which they must figure out how much can be spent during the year and at the same time save enough to meet the highest tax bill in history. It is a duty which every individual should perform. It is a duty which must be performed by government units—city, county and state.

In the proper performance of this duty, it is necessary today as never before to cut not only non-essentials, but even to sacrifice what perhaps have become accepted normal services. We are at war with enemies determined to crush democracy. Sacrifice is necessary to meet the tremendous cost of defense and offense.

Government officials, all along the line from Irvington to Washington, must delete those items which are found to be unnecessary during a state of war. As individuals we must do it in our homes. Just as great is the duty of government to do the same thing. We can do without more shade trees, we need no additional park facilities. There is no department of city, county or state government which cannot find some place in which substantial savings can be made during the duration of the war. By so doing they will exhibit sound statesmanship. By so doing they will contribute another method by which the war will be won.

—Irvington Herald

Dark Days Coming

There are probably some events on the way for the American people that are going to be a little hard to swallow. The United States has had no military or naval reverses since the Civil War, and while we don't consider ourselves a military nation most of us nurture an outspoken conviction that Americans can take on just about anyone and come out on top.

We can, too. But we can't make up with bravery and hard, intelligent fighting the years of preparation we lack. Apparently we are not in a position—perhaps because of Pearl Harbor—to overcome the distances of the Pacific. It is quite evident that we haven't got enough planes in the Philippines and perhaps there is no way of getting them there at this time.

For better or for worse, we have thrown our lot in with the Chinese, the British and, of all people, the Russians. A plan of defense and then of attack must be worked out in the Orient. We must save our most useful and most easily defended possessions, and it is beginning to appear that Singapore will be more useful to the Allied cause than the Philippines, although things have just started to look ominous in the Philippines and there is no reason to count out this highly effective fighting force. But the idea of losing the Philippines is one that we probably will get used to. It went hard to lose Hong Kong, but there was probably no hope for it.

Japan is all over the present area of combat and enjoys many advantages. It must work fast to preserve these advantages, however, for with every passing month we will grow stronger.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

Clean Government leaders are not going to back Representative Fred A. Hartley for re-election. Or at least that is their present decision. It is seven months until the deadline for filing petitions for the primaries, and it is conceivable that events might occur that would change this decision. But as for the present the decision stands and the correct assumption is that it will not be altered.

It is not correct to assume that Clean Government leaders were influenced primarily by Hartley's isolationist views. These views were shared by a great many men influential in Clean Government ranks. Much of the support given Thomas E. Dewey in Essex was based on the belief that his opposition to the United States becoming involved in the War was sound and would meet with the approval of a majority of the voters of the nation. Except for some of the activities of his very youthful son in the America First movement, Hartley's activities and record in Congress were not much different from the average in Essex.

But the estrangement of Hartley and Clean Government anti-dates the European War. It was scheduled to have taken place two years ago, but Arthur T. Vanderbilt's strategy then was to avoid a primary fight. The influence of Representatives Vreeland and Kean likewise was thrown in Hartley's favor. Both were afraid that a primary fight against Hartley would become general.

This year most of these factors do not apply. Both Vreeland and Kean will probably be nominated without opposition. Vreeland is in the army and Kean was decorated for bravery during the last war. Kean is considered one of the soundest and most level-headed men ever sent to congress from this county, and Vreeland, an astute political strategist. Neither is likely to be unelected either in the primary or the general election. They are so sure of their respective positions that contests in rival districts do not disturb either them or their followers.

Groups Bitter At Hartley

Clean Government, therefore, has few reasons for avoiding a contest in the 10th district and a number of good ones for permitting a contest to develop. Certainly the strong British sympathizers and voters of the Jewish faith are bitter at Hartley for his isolationist views. British sympathizers feel that we should have been in this war all along and they are inclined to blame men of Hartley's attitude that we did not get in sooner.

Were Hartley to be endorsed, Clean Government leaders are fearful that his inclusion on the slate might hurt other candidates, especially Dr. Lester H. Clee in his prospective bid for the senatorship. They would prefer that Hartley not be on the ticket in the general elections, because then they would be compelled to endorse him along with other candidates. William H. Smathers has a consistent record for pro-British action and le-

Complains About Moore Place

From Mrs. Herbert Zimmerman 58 Moore place To the Editor of The News:

I would like to take this opportunity to bring to the attention of the street department that Moore place is very much in need of repair. The holes in this road are so deep and big that a boat is needed on a rainy day to get to the nearest corner.

The children don't have an easy time getting to school. They sink in mud and water up to their ankles and with wet feet have to sit in school all morning. This certainly is no way to protect our children's health.

Every sales and delivery man is complaining. Not even the milkman wants to come through here any more.

Furthermore, we are at war. We have to preserve our cars and tires. This cannot be done so long as streets are in a condition like this. Our men here are mostly employed in defense work and have to travel by car. (We have no bus up here, anyway). Broken springs and cut tires don't help our war effort. We all have to make sacrifices and cut our pleasure motoring, but we need the car to get to the defense plants.

We don't ask for a fancy pavement, but we want a street we can walk and travel on, and this can be done without a lot of expense. Complaints have been made at town hall by several neighbors. But we are still waiting.

Town, School Employees Start Buying U. S. Bonds

90% of School Workers Sign Up; 108 of Town Forces Agree To Deducting Amounts From Pay Twice Monthly; Is Voluntary Move

Both the town and school employees are doing their part in national defense through the purchase of U. S. defense savings stamps and bonds. A check of school workers, including teachers and other employees, this week showed that more than 90 percent had already signed pledge cards agreeing to the voluntary allotment plan, while at town hall yesterday it was reported that 108 out of 138 employees had agreed to have amounts deducted from their salary checks for the purchase of bonds or stamps.

In both the schools and the town, January checks of employees will be the first from which money has been deducted to be used toward the purchase of bonds. Town workers received checks last week minus the amount which they had indicated they would place into bonds, while the checks which school employees will receive before the end of the month will have deductions for defense stamps and bonds.

201 Workers Sign Up

Ruel E. Daniels, business manager of the board of education, who has had charge of the institution of the plan among school employees, stated yesterday that 201 employees had signed cards voluntarily agreeing to buy bonds under the payroll allotment plan. Approximately five percent of the monthly salary, or $1,600, paid to teachers, will be deducted.

100,000,000 of the year's total originated in New Jersey, an indication of the degree of participation of this state, despite its small size, in the war effort. The New Jersey total of toll messages
for the year was nearly 12,000,000 calls greater than in 1940.

Spent $16,500,000
The company's gross expenditure for a new plant in 1941 was approximately $16,500,000. It expanded its personnel to about 13,200, or 1,400 more than a year ago; enlarged nearly all of its 200 or so central offices; added more than 300,000 miles to its wire network; and provided and operated a new telephone exchange with nearly 1,000 private branch exchange telephone systems, some as large as medium-sized central offices, the great majority of which replaced smaller installations no longer adequate for the war task the industries have undertaken.

Metals and other materials used in telephone wires and equipment are also war necessities, and the company, during the year, cut its use of them as much as possible, employing substitutes and supplementing its supply of new materials by engaging in a re-use program, taking up old cable and copper wire in various locations and using it in others where need existed.

Total telephone revenues for the year, with December results partly estimated, were approximately $58,000,000 compared with $53,218,392 in 1940, an increase of about nine per cent. Total telephone expenses increased 13 per cent and were about $49,700, 000 compared with $43,916,138 in 1940. Of the total, $11,073,000 went for taxes, an increase of more than 29 per cent over 1940.
Total income for the year was approximately $8,250,000 compared with $9,330,000 for 1940, a return of about 3.55 per cent on the average assets of the company as against 4.14 per cent in 1940.

Many More 'Number Please'
Reported By 'Phone Co.

Belleville and Nutley reflected the trend in the record volume of telephone service throughout the state last year. Participation of nearly every community in the nation's defense task set a new high for the New Jersey Bell Telephone company, according to a preliminary report released yesterday.

W. A. Vanstort, manager of the Belleville-Nutley office of the company, reported that 750 new telephones had been installed in this district during the past year. The gain in the number of calls per day in 1941 over 1940 in Belleville was 2,000 and in Nutley 3,800. While the approximate number of calls in 1940 in Belleville was 16,900, it went up to 18,900 in 1941. In Nutley the average number of calls moved up from 21,400 to 25,200.

The company installed over 200,000 telephones and removed nearly 150,000, to end the year with a net increase of about 52,000 telephones and a total in service of approximately 825,000.
This total is over 90,000 more than were used two years ago, and more than 120,000 over the number in service three years ago.

The effect of war and New Jersey's key part in production for military needs is reflected in a heavy volume of telephone traffic which at the year-end was exceeding 4,000,000 calls daily through the switchboards, over a quarter-million calls a day more than a year ago. Toll messages topped the billion mark throughout the country and the southeastern states, and the year's total originated in New Jersey, an indication of the degree of participation of this state, despite its small size, in the war effort. The
New Jersey total of toll messages
for the year was nearly 12,000,000

H. S. FIVE WHIPS BENGALS 46-27

Lose To Orange 37-29; Meet Hillside Here Tomorrow; Play Paterson Central

The high school football team will be picking up soft touches in their next two foes. Tomorrow night at the high school gym, the Blue and Gold will entertain the Hillside club from Union county while next Tuesday night they will hit the road for Paterson where they will face the highly rated Central high five.

The boys got an even break during the past week to give them a four out of seven record for the season. The Bellboys found the smart Orange five led by Cal Irvin too much for them and bowed 37-29 Friday night while on Tuesday they thoroughly trounced their old rival Bloomfield on the local court 46-27.

Against Orange it was just a case of too much Irvin and Pat Cordova. Irvin accounted for 16 points while Cordova rimmed the basket five times for two pointers. In defeat, Maginness at center, was the shining light for the Bellboys. The local boy, who is pushing up among the state's high scorers, had five baskets to his credit for the night, but the basket eyes of the rest of the boys were way off against the smooth defensive work of the Orange team.

It was entirely different against the Bengals. The locals shoved off to a 21-10 lead at halftime and then really poured it on during the third period to lead 36-22 going into the final quarter. Maginness with 15 points led the Bellboy scoring parade while Licker's six points was the best that the visiting Bloomfield club could do.

The Jayvee quintet worked in reverse to the varsity. They defeated the Orange seconds 36-32 but were not strong enough to stave off the Bloomfield juniors who won 34-25.

Symphony Society Holds Third Concert on Tuesday

The third concert in the series being offered by the Nutley Symphony society this season will take place Tuesday evening in Nutley high school auditorium.

CHANGE NOTED IN LAKE AREA

While the year 1941 was little different from previous ones in the Silver Lake Community house, Mrs. Martha S. Herkins, who for 10 years has been its director, discussed in her annual report to the board of managers the changes which she has noted in the life of the young people there during the past year.

"The advent of defense and war," she wrote, "industrially speaking has brought about an economic transition in Silver Lake which made itself felt on our older boys. Unemployment has practically vanished. Boys with a will to work find little difficulty in obtaining employment.

and at undreamed of heights. Many of our boys, recently graduated from high school, earned as much as $35 a week working as apprentices in defense plants and after a few months' training get as high as $65 including overtime.

"With plenty of money in their pockets, we see less of them. Automobiles, theatres, dance halls and cabarets occupy their evenings. Then again, a great number of our boys are in Uncle Sam's service, either by way of the selective draft or by voluntary enlistment in the army, navy or marine corps."

The "war boom," Mrs. Herkins explained, has affected the community house in several ways. It has lost the WPA staff which assisted in directing the play programs and the club groups. The latter has been abolished because of the lack of supervision and the use of the facilities has been thrown open to all boys who are known as "house members." Clubs with girls between 16 and 20 have disappeared almost entirely since a number of them have secured working papers and are now employed or have been married.

Most of the activities which have had a part in the life of the community house in past years were functioning during 1941. Of the total of 45,119 who took advantage of the various activities during the year, it was estimated that more than 15,000 attended the playground.

Do YOU Keep to Schedule?

Doubtless you are running your home more efficiently than ever, now that you have taken on so many extra activities. Things have to be done by clockwork, if you are to get through the household routine and on to other tasks. . . . Electric appliances can be a big help. Probably you have some that are outmoded and not giving one hundred percent service. Why not have them repaired or replace them with new and up-to-date models? An electric clock is accurate to the second and needs no winding: an electric coffeemaker brews delicious coffee, whether percolated or made by the drip method. Toasters, waffle irons and electric grills all give excellent service. These appliances are moderately priced.
