

SATURDAY NOON
TEST FOR AIR
RAID ALARM

Alert at 12:01 With All
Clear at 12:05; Ordered
By State

If the collective ears of Belleville are blasted one minute after noon on Saturday, it will be because the defense council will be giving its alarm system the first official tryout.

Deputy Fire Chief William Dunleavy has been putting the finishing touches on the testing and installation of the five steam whistles at the Eastwood-Nealley, Westinghouse, Andrew Jergens, Wallace & Tiernan and Edison plants during the past week.

Saturday's test is in compliance with a recommendation from the state defense council that air raid alarms in all municipalities be tested at 12:01 with an all-clear signal to be sounded at 12:05.

The warning will be a series of short, successive blasts lasting two minutes with the all-clear a

Limit Those to Hear
English A.R.P. Man

The defense council believes that the scheduled appearance of Special Constable Herbert Scott, British A.R.P. officer, at the high school next Tuesday night will be a sellout so they have been forced to limit the people who will be admitted to those who are members of one of the 10 defense council groups.

Although the council would like to have the general public hear Constable Scott's story, it was explained that it was felt that it would be most important that the police and fire reserves, air raid wardens and other civilian defense workers hear him.

Constable Scott, a veteran of air raids in England for 21 months, has been lecturing for some months before civilian defense organizations in this country on his experiences, suggested methods used in fighting bombs and the formation of defense forces.

In addition to his talk, he will show several films dealing with bombing and fire raids which were prepared by the ministry of information in London for his use in this country.

Call If You Don't Hear It

Police Judge Everett B. Smith, local defense chairman, said that men would be stationed in various sections of town to note the volume of the signals. Any person who does not hear the signal, Judge Smith said, should report it to the police department or Arthur Clark, secretary of the defense council, so that a check can be made by Chief Dunleavy immediately.

On Saturday, the communications division will also test out the various means which it has planned to function in an emergency if other means should be cut off.

Next Wednesday night the members of the police reserve will see a picture, "War and Order," dealing with their work, which will be shown at the high school.

Board To Meet on Monday
Instead of Tuesday

The next meeting of the town commission will be held on Monday evening, February 9, instead of Tuesday night. It will be preceded by the usual board conference at 7 p.m.

Mayor Williams announced Tuesday night that budget conferences would be held tonight and Saturday.

Major Burns Reports Sunday
For Service With Army

Hill Street Resident Rose From Private Ranks In World War; Makes Comment on Mayor's
Past Attacks on Him at Meetings

Maj. Edward J. Burns of 31 Hill street was this week directed by the headquarters of the 3rd military area of the U. S. army to report Sunday to the New York port of embarkation in Brooklyn, N. Y. for active duty. Burns, who was one of the organizers and officers of the Belleville Property Owners' association, has been a frequent critic of actions of the town commission and has had numerous verbal skirmishes with Mayor Williams during the past year.

Burns, who is chairman of Adopted Daughter Lodge No. 3 of Jersey City of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, received his notice to report for duty on Saturday morning.

The Hill street resident, who has resided here since October, 1939, has come up through every rank from private to the high one which he now holds. Burns, who was born in Scranton, Pa., enlisted in the regular army in July, 1913, entering the service as a private in the field artillery.

His first taste of action under fire came during his service in Mexico from March, 1916 to February, 1917, when he was attached to the 7th cavalry. It included an Easter morning skirmish with Pancho Villa's fighters in Chihuahua.

At the outbreak of the world war, wearing the chevrons of a sergeant on his sleeve, Burns entered the officers' training school and was promoted to a second lieutenant in the regular army in July, 1917, serving with the 15th regular field artillery.

Was At St. Mihiel

In service on the fighting front in the world war, Burns saw action with the 4th, 15th and 21st field artillery. Throughout the war he was a commander of a headquarters battery at the front. Following his action at the battle of St. Mihiel from September 13 to 15, 1918, the local man was made a captain in the field artillery.

At the close of the war, Burns served nine months with the army of occupation in Luxembourg.

Constable Scott, a veteran of air raids in England for 21 months, has been lecturing for some months before civilian defense organizations in this country on his experiences, suggested methods used in fighting bombs and the formation of defense forces.

BOWLING ALLEY
DEAL IS OFF

Town Refunds $2,200
Deposit For Land Purchased
In Washington Avenue

Plans for a bowling alley to be erected in Washington avenue near Overlook avenue were formally scrapped this week when the town commission voted to refund first payment money for land purchased to the men who planned the project.

Last spring Elwood Casperson and Archie Pine of Caldwell announced that they would erect a 16-alley academy at 515-521 Washington avenue. Residents on Floyd street and Overlook avenue protested against a necessary zone change for the town-owned property, claiming that a bowling alley would result in continual noise, but the board granted the zone change at the time of the sale.

Couldn't Get Materials

Julius Y. Krill, attorney for the two men, wrote the board Tuesday night asking that the money be refunded, claiming that materials could not be obtained for the building. Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan said there had also been some difficulty in obtaining mortgage money for the project. Both Mayor Williams and Commissioner King first contended that there should be some penalty against the buyers since the town may have lost another sale through the holding of the land for many months with a $2,200 deposit. The total sale price was $11,000.

Commissioners Waters and Noll moved that the money be refunded with Noll commenting that the nearby residents should be quite satisfied with the board's action since there would not be an alley there.

Urge Residents To Send Back Questionnaires

Of the thousands of civilian defense questionnaires which were sent out by the defense council to learn what local residents would volunteer to do in an emergency only half of them have been returned, according to Arthur Clark, secretary of the council.

A self-addressed stamped envelope was sent with each questionnaire and those who failed to reply are urged to do so immediately to help facilitate the work of the council in determining how many people are ready to do their part in event of a disaster.

DISPUTES COUNTY
ON ASSESSMENT

Williams Quotes Law, Court
Case In Claim Defense Plants
Corp. Is Exempt

Mayor Williams disputed the opinion of the Essex County tax board this week and set out with the aid of a law book and a court decision to prove that that body was wrong.

At a meeting in Newark Monday, the county board instructed Tax Assessor Charles Watson to include as assessable $50,000 worth of personal property which is owned by the Defense Plants corporation, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and which is housed in one of the units of the new Walter Kidde plant.

Williams told the town commission Tuesday night that he had instructed the assessor not to include the Defense Plants' machinery as taxable property and that his action was based on Public Law 408 passed by congress last June which included it in the list of exempt properties, and also on a state supreme court ruling in the case of the City of Clifton vs. the Reconstruction Finance corporation in which the court had ruled that the property could not be taxed. The mayor said he was placing all available data in the hands of the county tax board to uphold Belleville's contention.

CUT TIRE QUOTA
FOR FEBRUARY

Only 15 Passenger Car Tires
Allotted; More Allowed
For Trucks

The local rationing board was informed this week that its quota of tires for February would be 15 tires and 12 tubes for passenger cars, and 30 tires and 52 tubes for trucks. For the present month Belleville was allotted 17 tires and 15 tubes for passenger cars and 45 tires and 37 tubes for trucks.

Assess Land, Buildings

The controversy centers around the first unit of the Kidde plant, which Williams later explained actually belongs to the Defense Plants corporation and not the Kidde company. On October 1, 1941, when machinery and other equipment was then being moved into the plant, the value of the building was fixed by the assessor at $196,800 and the land at $18,700. Williams said. This is assessable, the mayor explained, but $50,000 in machinery owned by the Defense Plants corporation is not.

Waters Says Newark Place
Sewer Health Necessity

Public Works Director Waters was given permission by the town commission Tuesday night to prepare an ordinance for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Newark place. Originally, it had been listed as a project for the WPA, but since improvement work by the agency has been halted, the work will have to be done under private contract.

While the department is anxious to keep capital expenditures down to a minimum this year, Waters explained that present conditions there are a health menace.

He said that the street is the last partially improved street in town which has no sewer facilities.

It Isn't Patriotic
To Count Names

National draft headquarters recently relinquished its ruling prohibiting the publication of the names of those being called in the draft or when they would be sent away. However, they continued in effect the clause which prohibits a board from telling how many would depart in a contingent.

In other words, the people can read who is going to leave in the next call but being patriotic they will not count them to determine how many will be called. Local draft officials are a little bit puzzled about this last ruling but it's something which has been handed down by Washington and Trenton and they're not going to tell how many there are in the group which is listed this week.

Either national headquarters thinks the public can't count or won't.

HEARING TODAY
ON LAKE BUS

P. S. Second Application On Local Service Before
Utilities Board

The hearing on Public Service's second application to operate a cross-town bus service here will be heard this morning at 11 a.m. by the public utilities commission at its offices in the industrial building at 1060 Broad street.

The commission two weeks ago heard without opposition the P.S. application for an extension of its No. 100 line which would run from the North Newark line in Main street to Mill street, to Washington avenue, to Rutgers street and then back into the valley section and along Main street to the Nutley line. It is expected that there will be a decision shortly by the utilities board on this request.

This morning's hearing will be on the application of the company for a West Belleville-Silver Lake service.

Start Near Skating Rink

The starting point for the line would be at Passaic and Division avenues, near the town skating rink. It would go north in Passaic avenue to Emmet street, east to Forest street, south to Greystock parkway, east to Linden avenue, south to Joramelon street, east to Washington avenue, south to Mill street, west to Franklin avenue, south to Belmont avenue, south to Lawrence street, west to Hechel street, and south to Bloomfield avenue.

On the return trip it would leave Bloomfield avenue and cross the Bloomfield-Belleville line on Belmont avenue and then continue on into Franklin street and return via the same route.

State Approved Arm Bands
Cost Council Lots More

Because the firm did not have a license issued by the state defense council, Belleville was this week forced to pay 24 cents for arm bands for civilian defense units instead of 7 cents. At its meeting Monday night, the council authorized the purchase of 2,165 arm bands from Nat Schorser of West New York for $519.60.

Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, supplies chairman, reported that another bidder had offered to supply the same number of bands for $151.55 but did not have a license from the state council. While the less expensive arm bands were of different material, they would have served the purpose, he stated.

PARKING METER
BIDS STUDIED

Two Companies Make Offers;
Clark Decision Expected
Shortly

Commissioner Clark is studying two bids which were received this week for the installation of parking meters in Washington avenue and is expected to award the contract shortly. Twenty-nine meters will be put in operation on the avenue between Belleville avenue and Rutgers street for a six-month trial period.

If they prove to be a help in easing the parking problem there, they may be tried elsewhere along the street.

Bids were submitted Tuesday night by the Parking Meter company of New Jersey with offices in Passaic and the Dual Parking Meter company of Oklahoma City with offices in Newark.

Since the town is considering the installation of meters which would permit parking for 12 minutes for one cent and five cents for an hour, both companies submitted quotations for meters operating on an hourly basis and on the 12-minute and one-hour system.

Prices Quoted

The Passaic concern offered to install meters operating for an hour for five cents at a price of $50 each plus $2.50 installation. For the 12-minute and an hour meter, $55 plus $2.50 installation charge was quoted. The Dual company offered to install the nickel meters for $56.50 and the penny-nickel meters for $60.

Like Groundhog, Candidates
Should Soon Pop Out

They'll Stay Out. But He May Not; Two Officially
In Race; Unlikely That Present Five Will Run
As Ticket; Announcements Expected Soon

The proverbial popping out of the groundhog is expected to come next Monday, and according to the local political prophets, who are about as accurate as the weather forecasters who hang their predictions on the groundhog, the coming out of the hole of some of the commission candidates won't be far behind.

Not that the appearance of the groundhog and candidates have anything in common, except that both would like to know what's going to happen in the net couple of months.

In fact after the popping out of the hole, there the similarity ends. For while it's a six, two and even (or quote your own odds) bet that the little furry fellow will burrow back into his hole for another six weeks' snooze, the candidates won't.

From now until the midnight of May 12, which is election day, they'll be doing little snoozing.

At present count, there are of the field—Arthur L. Mayer, Washington avenue real estate broker, a veteran of past campaigns as either as a candidate or a lieutenant to another, and James Tully, a political babe in the woods of 25 years who has the backing of the high school alumni association.

Field To Be Small

How large the field will be when all of the petitions are in the hands of Town Clerk Florence R. Morey is a debatable point, but from present rumoring in the best political alleys, it appears that the field will be small and may be less than the total of 14 which sought the five $1,800-a-year jobs in 1938.

From town hall, there's been no official comment by any of the present five commissioners that they would hang their hats on the political tree for another four-year fling. In certain hall quarters there have been reports ground out in favor of having the five run as a ticket, but Commissioner Noll, while hedging on his definite plans, appears to be out of step with the rest and probably would not consent to be a part of the ticket. If he is a candidate, Noll is far behind the schedule he maintained in the 1938 campaign when he announced his candidacy two years before election.

The local draft board is busy this week preparing the final details of the departure of the 22nd call of men on Friday morning, February 13; preparing for the preinduction medical examinations of a new group next Thursday in Newark and arranging for the registration of an estimated 2,500 men between the ages of 20 and 45 in the new national draft on February 14, 15 and 16.

The names of those who will report for induction at 8:30 a.m. February 13 were released this week after national headquarters had lifted its ban on the publications of the names of draftees shortly after this country entered the war.

Charles P. Conklin of 563 Washington avenue, a sergeant in the national guard for three years, has been selected as the group's leader with four assistants named to aid him. They are Robert Wilson, 3rd, of 125 Overlook avenue, who will enter the service that day with his brother, Alfred John; Richard A. Bruegman of 63 Campbell avenue, Jerry Fuselli of 135 Belmont avenue and James Vincent Iovino of 24 Naples avenue.

After the contingent has been sworn in here in the presence of draft board officials at the town hall, they will board a Public Service bus and be taken to Newark where they will take a train for Fort Dix to be formally inducted into the service for the duration.

Medical Exam. Feb. 5

On February 5, the next group of draft eligibles is due to report to Newark armory for their examination by army physicians. Notices were sent to these men last night and they should receive them in the mail today.

As far as A-1 candidates, those who are eligible for immediate call for service is concerned, the local board is reaching the bottom of the well in its effort to obtain sufficient men to fill the quotas. Draft Clerk Edward Reed yesterday admitted that a re-examination of men in classes 1-B and 4-F would start shortly in an effort to obtain more men who might be reclassified in 1-A.

No orders have been received from Washington to reclassify those who are now in groups 3-A or 3, the draft board said, as yet he stated. While there has been no change in the economic standards affecting cases, the barriers have been let down on physical requirements and that is why those now in 1-B and 4-F are being called up for re-examination.

In filling quotas, the board has also been handicapped by the number of registrants who have volunteered for some branch of the service such as the air corps, navy, marines or coast guard. No hard and fast rule has been set, Reed said, on when a man is no longer eligible to volunteer. However, most of the branches are now requiring that men obtain permission from their local board before being considered. Once they have been notified that they are to report for a pre-induction medical examination for the army it is doubtful if they will be taken by any other branch of the service, the clerk said.

3-Day Registration

The registration of those between 20 and 45 will take place over the weekend of February 14, 15 and 16. As yet, no place has been set aside for the registration, but Reed indicated that it would be in one of the schools and that all registrations would take place at one office. He said that the teachers have already been asked to volunteer their services as clerks for the three days. The registration office will be open from 9 to 5 on Saturday and Sunday and from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday. Detailed plans will probably be announced next week.

Those who are scheduled to report for induction in the 22nd call on February 13 are:

- 2841—Anthony Amato, 115 Passaic avenue; 2704—George L. Anderson, 94 Rogers more place; 5241—Anthony Charles Borodine, 12 Frederick street; 2747—William A. Braun, 431 Washington avenue; 2867—Russell Brown, 48 Chester avenue, Newark; 2888—Richard A. Bruegman, 63 Campbell avenue; 2588—Edward Danks Buist, 419 Joramelon street; 3221—Eugene Antonio Canzavento, 18 Overlook avenue; 2691—John Carcinio, 49 Lake street; 2722—Gilbert Edward Calmiche, 174 Cedar Hill avenue; 2665—Ernest Paul Christian, 741 Washington avenue; 2741—Charles P. Conklin, 563 Washington avenue.

2878—William Henry Cross, 185 New street; 2854—Louis Rocky Deleoro, 679 Mill street; 915—John Anthony DeLauro, 122 Cortlandt street; 2774—Edward J. Town Gives Engineer Leave
To Join Uncle Sam

"Matty" Sheehan, Vet of Last War, Reports to Raritan Arsenal; Expects Captain's Commission Soon; Will Not Be Replaced, Waters Says

Town Engineer Matthew J. Sheehan this week became the first town official to volunteer for service with the army. A veteran of the first world war, Sheehan is already at work at the Raritan Arsenal as a civilian employee, awaiting receipt of his commission as a captain which is expected shortly.

At Tuesday night's town commission meeting, the board on the recommendation of Public Works Director Waters, Sheehan's superior, voted to grant the engineer a leave of absence and to pay him in full through April 30.

The commissioner said the vacancy in the engineering staff would not be filled, other workers having agreed to carry on while Sheehan is away from his job. Waters was high in his praise of the engineer for the sacrifice which he is making. He said that in the last war, Sheehan had enlisted at 17, when he was actually a year too young for duty, while in this war he is entering the service a year too old. The army has waived its age ruling, he stated, because of its need for engineers.

The engineer, who is married and the father of two children, 13 and nine years old, has been in the employ of the town for the past 18 years. It is expected that he will be stationed at Raritan for the next three months. Waters said that during that time he would be available for consultation on local engineering matters with town officials.

MAJOR BURNS

at town meetings and has been in numerous verbal encounters, particularly with Mayor Williams, over certain policies or plan under consideration.

"In leaving Belleville for duty with the army, I feel called upon to make a statement because of the publicity which has been given to me personally and to my name in the newspapers. For the past year or more my name, my purpose and my background has been attacked in several places.

"Since the first time that I spoke at a town commission meeting as a taxpayer and property owner, I have been repeatedly criticized by Mayor Williams on several opportunities he has had to make personal uncalculated remarks about me. Several times he has threatened to have me thrown out of the town hall by calling a policeman and telling the officer to put me out if I said another word.

Couldn't Talk

"About the last time that I attended a town meeting, the mayor refused to let me speak, saying that when I was in a fit condition, he would hear me. He also stated in speaking of me that he was not interested in the viewpoints of a mental rag bag.

"Because I have been called back to duty I will not have the opportunity to personally take up with the mayor his efforts to attack me, my name, or my American citizenship. Although I had consulted with my lawyer about Mayor Williams' repeated personal attacks on me, my being called to duty means that I can not carry this any further, but I want to take this opportunity to clear my name and that of my wife so that she can go about Belleville without being pointed at by people who have listened to Mayor Williams' attacks which have gotten him lots of space in the newspapers.

"I am proud that my country has called me back to service. For one who has been so quick to label one of those whom the U. S. army has given the rank of major as being a 'mental rag bag' I wonder if Mayor Williams can point to an equal record of service to his country? I wonder if he still thinks that I am a 'mental rag bag' or is just relieved to see me go?"

RESIDENTS BLOCK SALE OF LAND

Want Assurance From Town Houses Would Be In Same Price Range

A request of $5,300 for lots in Lloyd place and DeWitt avenue was turned down by the town board Tuesday night on the advice of Mayor Williams. The offer for lots at 46, 48, 54, 55 and 60 Lloyd place and 105 DeWitt avenue was made by David Wilensky of Passaic, a builder who has erected a number of homes here.

Mayor Williams said that several residents in Lloyd place had protested against the sale of the land, contending that there was no assurance that the homes which would be erected there would be of the same price range as those now there.

A resident of the area, Robert Jackson, representing his father, who is a builder and has erected homes in that area, submitted a plan to the board for taking up the lots at $20 per front foot. He offered to acquire the lots one at a time, but stipulated that the town should not sell the lots which the company might agree to acquire in the future to any other person.

Houses Would Cost $8000

Mayor Williams said that while Jackson's offer was not entirely acceptable because it did not conform with some legal requirements the town is forced to follow, he believed that a plan could be worked out. Jackson had stated in his letter that homes costing more than $8,000 would be erected. Wilensky, in turn, replied that he intended to erect similarly priced houses there.

Commissioner King suggested that the property should not be sold unless plans and specifications were submitted by the buyer assuring the town that $8,000 homes would be built.

The board approved the sale of a lot for $600 at 5-7 Arthur street to Vincent Martin, who was represented by John F. Cogan, Jr. At the same time an offer of $8.20 per foot for 195 feet of frontage in Charles and Arthur streets made by Alfonso Pepe was rejected by the commission. The board also turned down $500 for a lot at 64 Continental avenue made by Harold M. Winn of Bloomfield.

Two parcels were put up for public sale by the board. At a minimum figure of $2,000, 10-12-14-14A and 56-58 Mt. Pleasant avenue and 10-16 Maier street were offered. For $100, 14 King street was also put up for sale.

MACHETTE AUTO KILLS E. O. MAN

Another name was added to Belleville's auto death list early Tuesday night when Charles E. Walker, 71, of 82 Fernwood road, East Orange, was fatally injured by an automobile driven by Harry M. (Stoney) Machette of Lincoln terrace, local Republican town leader and a clerk for the county board of elections.

Police were told by Machette that Walker was crossing Main street in front of the Wallace & Tiernan plant when he walked into the left door of his northbound car. The man, a Wallace & Tiernan employee, was rushed to St. Mary's hospital in the police ambulance. He died three hours later.

FIREMAN BUSY WITH LECTURES

Fireman William Gilchrist is becoming quite in demand as a speaker on what to do with an incendiary bomb. Saturday night at the Hotel Commodore in New York Gilchrist and Lieut. Harold Boylan of the Irvington fire department demonstrated the fighting of fire bombs at the annual convention of the North Sea Mine Patrol association. Gilchrist and Boylan were shipmates in the navy during the last world war.

Today the fireman will speak before a state agricultural group at the Stacey-Trent hotel in Trenton. Locally, he has appeared before the Elks, St. Peter's school, Wesley Methodist church men's club and the Joseph King association.

Improve Main Street Quickly

While many local residents may not realize it, Main street running along the Passaic river is one of the town's most travelled streets. Many heavy trucks pass over Washington avenue each day, but there is an increasing number which are using Main street.

For the passenger motorist going through town to or from Newark, it is a faster means of going through Belleville than by using Washington or Union avenues.

We consider that it is an important thoroughfare and that the neglect of its maintenance should not be permitted to continue any longer than is absolutely necessary. Whether it is in constant use or simply that repair will do no good, the street for some time has been in bad condition.

The state highway department cannot move any too fast in complying with the Essex County board of freeholders' request that money be provided for the Town of Belleville to go ahead with the immediate improvement of the road.

When state highway S-3, linking this area directly with the Lincoln tunnel is opened, we believe that Main street will become one of the main routes for people and trucking companies in this section to use in reaching the direct route to the tunnel. For this reason alone, the road should now be put-in first class condition. As can readily be seen, industry is picking up in the valley section. Those plants which are already there are now working at capacity or are enlarging their plants, and others are now being opened or will be within the next few months.

Tying Up Town-Owned Property

After many months, a purchaser of town-owned property who had paid an initial installment but made no further payments requested the town this week to call the deal off and return his money. In his particular case, it was claimed that neither mortgage money or materials could be obtained to go ahead with the project.

We have no arguments with the statements, but we do think that it is not good policy for town-owned property to be tied up for a number of months by an individual who in the end decides that he does not want the land and is no worse off than the day he started, financially.

In private business, it just would not work out that way, we do not believe, unless some special stipulations were made. In this case there were not.

While the town commission may have been benevolent in permitting the prospective purchaser to worm the way out of the deal, especially since residents in the vicinity were not in favor of the project, we trust that the practice will not continue. There is no reason why one man should be permitted to tie up town land for a long time when there may be others standing on the sidelines waving money which they would be glad to pay for the property.

They've Got Big Rationing Job

Some weeks ago we commented that the rationing of ties would be only the beginning and it is apparent from the reports coming out of Washington this week, that it is now a fact. The boards which were originally set up as tire rationing bodies are headed for an even bigger job. This week it was learned that they will no longer be known as tire rationing boards—but as rationing boards, which means that they will have the job of doling out to the public everything that the government puts on its shortage list.

This means that in the months to come the local board will have supervision over the sale of sugar and many other food commodities, automobiles, clothing and perhaps many other items on the family list which we have not yet learned to recognize as important to national defense.

Dispelling A Much-Talked-Of Story

The other night we heard a well-known foreign correspondent answering questions at a discussion and one of the important ones which was put to him was that old one which is so frequently heard—when are the English going to start fighting? They're letting everyone else fight their battles.

The correspondent, who has visited widely in foreign capitals and on the fighting fronts in almost every part of the world, labelled the question as one of the effective bits of Nazi propaganda in this country which has gained a foothold among many peoples—a belief that the English are sitting back and letting everybody else do the battling.

He declared that he felt it was far from so. He said that the thousands of bodies which he saw being dumped into common graves in parts of Britain were those of English soldiers. The bodies which he saw strewn on the battlefields of Libya were those of English soldiers. When such ships as the Hood, Prince of Wales, Repulse and others went to the bottom, there were English officers and men who went down with the ships. Actually, he declared, a heavy toll has been taken on England's young manhood and the impression that English lives are being spared at the expense of their allies is a mistaken conception.

Don't Be Lulled To Sleep

The Russians can be expected to capitalize to the fullest on every inch of ground that they regain from the Nazis. But, let us not be lulled to sleep by the stories of repeated successes which scream at us in headlines from the front pages of newspapers or over the radio. Before you become sold on the idea that Hitler has been driven begging to his knees take a good look at the map of the Russian fighting front.

How much of it is still in Hitler's hands? Unless the Reds have picked up several hundred miles unknown to us since when we studied it last night, there is a lot more still clutched in the mailed fist of the Nazis than the Russians have regained in their valiant fight to get back what they once lost to the invaders.

Likewise, we cannot swallow, bones and all, the heart-rending tales of most of Hitler's armies battling in chest-deep snow in their B.V.D.'s or his entire general command walking out on him, leaving the Nazi empire to crumble beneath him. If it is true that some of his generals have been recalled from the fighting front or that a few of them have died in one way or another, it is not likely that this would bring about the immediate collapse of the army. Did our army and navy fall apart because several of the gold-braided heads of both branches were ousted after Pearl Harbor?

Every newspaper header must remember the starting point of all these stories which are daily being fed to us. And furthermore, do not forget that the Nazis, and even the British will admit this, have been masters at spreading false propaganda to create confusion and catch the enemy off guard since the first days of the war.

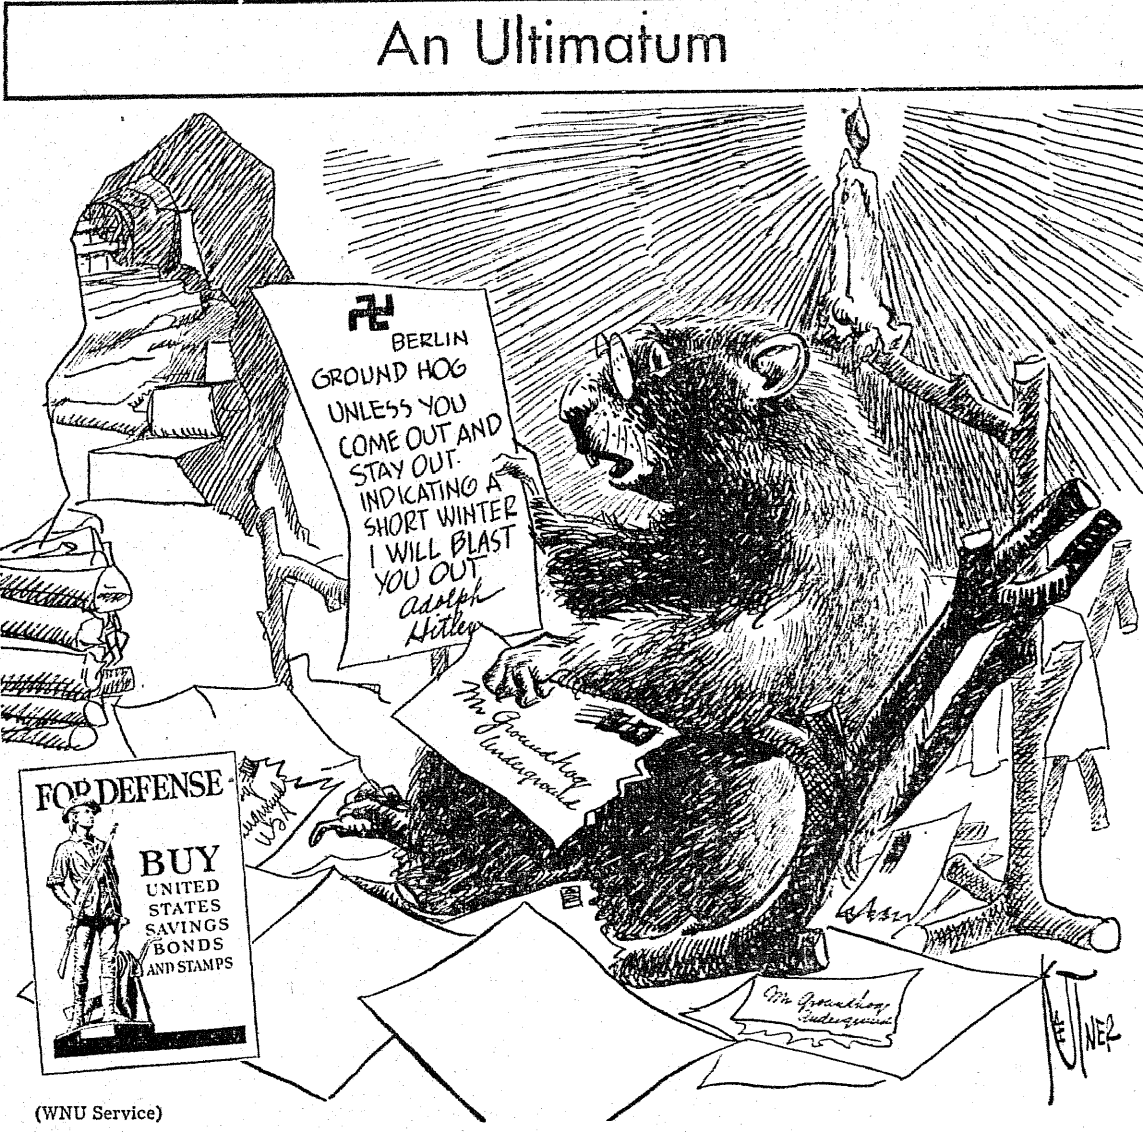

Germany may be suffering some setbacks, but we do not think that the American public should fall prey to any colorfully worded, lulling communiques that Hitler has been routed down to his last soldier. The Nazis, we must admit, still hold several trump cards. And in the midst of this output of propaganda we should not forget the words of both President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill that this will be a long, hard war and that there will be many reverses for the allied nations before they march on to final victory.

Changes In What We Do

There will be a great change in what a good many of us do during the coming year. Tire rationing, the rise in the price of gasoline shortage of other automobile accessories and parts means that the family car will not be used as frequently, if at all, on those weekend or vacation trips or Sunday afternoon rides about the countryside.

The hint from the government that there will be probable rationing of train transportation for pleasure or vacation purposes cuts off another means of getting to shore, lake resorts or the country.

We will have to find other ways of occupying our spare time and it is likely that we will turn to more at-home activities in

ACCIDENT CURB PLEA BY CLARK

Public Safety Head Gives Four Tips To Those Who Walk

The climb in accidents, not only locally, but throughout the nation this week promoted Public Safety Director Clark to call upon all residents for cooperation to stop the steady stream of injuries and deaths.

Aiming his remarks at the pedestrians, the group in which the rise has been sharpest, the commissioner gave four warnings.

1.—Walk only on sidewalks wherever they are available. Along roads and streets without sidewalks, always walk on the left facing traffic and step off the pavement for approaching vehicles.

2.—Cross streets only at crosswalks and use extreme caution at all times. Cross roads at right angles and wait for approaching vehicles.

3.—Never depend on the driver seeing you at night. Wear or carry something white that will reflect light and take no chances with approaching traffic. Cross at intersections and in areas well lighted wherever possible.

4.—Obey traffic lights. Do not cross an intersection against a red light. Failure to obey this may result in fatal injury. If you are injured, it may prevent you from securing compensation if litigation becomes necessary.

"Many unusual conditions exist in traffic today," the commissioner pointed out. "Streets and highways once clear of traffic now have a continuous flow of vehicles. With all the efforts

Scouts Show They're Busy Collecting Waste Paper

Eugene Leininger and Edward Meeker, Troop 333 tenderfoot scouts, did their part Saturday morning in the collection of waste paper for defense.

By noon they were passing The News' office with half a dozen tightly packed cartons piled high on a collapsible baby carriage. Deciding to publicize the cause they came in to call the attention of the newspaper to their load.

The boys, who attend School No. 1, will soon be second class scouts and were spotlessly uniformed. Total collections of the troop were loaded on a truck Saturday afternoon for disposal for defense purposes.

National Red Cross Leader Tells Chapter Materials Must Be Conserved

The Red Cross production committee was urged in a letter from national headquarters this week written by Mrs. Cordelia D. Wolf, director of volunteer special services, to conserve on materials as much as possible.

Many chapters are already faced with the problem of the lack of materials to keep volunteers working. Not only are manufacturers having difficulty in filling orders but transportation has slowed down the delivery of materials.

The chapter was urged by Mrs. Wolf to do its utmost to cooperate with the OPM and keep records of all materials which are given out. All volunteers making woolen or knitted garments are requested to return their scraps to the chapter.

Groups from the Bethany Lutheran church directed by Mrs. Samuel Sheldon and from the Sisterhood of the Congregation A.A.A. under Mrs. B. A. Jacobson are working with the chapter production committee.

Members of the women's groups at the Reformed church and the Christ Episcopal church are now entitled to wear the Red Cross service pin for each of them has given over 100 hours to work for the chapter.

Mrs. Harry Leiss of Van Houten place entertained yesterday at two tables of bridge for guests from Montclair, Bloomfield and Belleville.

FIRST AID POINTS AGAIN LISTED

The emergency medical service believes that it is necessary to again remind residents what they should do in event of an air raid. The group, which is headed by Dr. Edward Flynn as chief of staff, reminds people that if any person in the family is injured, there are two important "don'ts" which should be observed:

Don't telephone for help; Don't try to take the patient to a hospital.

If the patient is slightly injured, he or she should be taken to the nearest first aid or ambulance station. If the person is too badly injured to be moved to a first aid station, an ambulance will come for him.

Remember the location of the nearest first aid station to your home and go there for help.

First aid station No. 1, 154 Belmont avenue at Honiss street, Silver Lake. Ambulance station—(1) St. Anthony's church, 63 Franklin street, Silver Lake; (2) Florence avenue and Franklin street, Silver Lake.

First aid station No. 2, School No. 10, Franklin and Belleville avenues. Ambulance station—(1) Harrison and Mill streets; (2) Franklin avenue and Chestnut streets; (3) Passaic avenue and Jorammon street.

Christ Episcopal Pre-Lenten Concert on February 6

A pre-Lenten concert will be held in the parish house of Christ Episcopal church Friday evening, February 6, at 8:15. Selections will be given by the junior choir of the church, J. T. Nicholson of Union, a former resident of Belleville and member of the church, will conduct his band and the guest soloist will be nine-year-old Eunice Allen of Newark, harpist.

The little girl, who uses a full-size harp with pedals, attends the Juilliard School of Music under a part-time scholarship in addition to instruction with a New York teacher. During the past year she received a musical award from the Federated Women's Clubs of New York.

The concert, which is open to the public, has been arranged by members of the church Altar Guild under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. Harry Edwards.

Annual Jewish Arbor Day Celebration Monday At Congregation School

The annual Jewish Arbor day celebration will be held by the Religions School of Congregation Ahavas Achim Monday afternoon at 4 in the synagogue social hall.

The festival will mark the observance of Chamisho Oso B'Shevat, which falls on Thursday. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin, school principal and in charge of the celebration, announced that all children, their parents and friends are invited to attend.

Chamisho Oso B'Shevat, the Jewish Arbor day, is also known as Rosh Hashonah L'lonos, the New Year for trees, because it marks the time that the trees begin to flower in Palestine, the Jewish national homeland. The holiday also symbolizes the start of the spring planting in the land.

The festival reminds Jews all over the world of the importance of trees to the development of Palestine and all countries. The program will include selections and recitations by the children, a song-fest featuring songs of Palestine. The main portion will be given over to the presentation of a group of sound films on various subjects. A campaign among the children for planting trees in Palestine will also be started.

Every child who attends will be given a bag of Palestinian fruits and nuts. A committee from the Sisterhood is helping Rabbi Dobin make the arrangements. They are Mrs. Ida Lempert, Mrs. Robert C. Gruhin, Mrs. George Cherin and Mrs. Edward J. Abramson.
