

STATE HIGHWAY OKAYS MONEY FOR MAIN ST.

Money Available Soon For Concrete Street North of Joramelon Street

Belleville climbed to the top of the heap in the scramble of Essex municipalities to get their hands on state aid money to be used in constructing roads during the coming year.

State Highway Commissioner E. Donald Sterner announced in Trenton yesterday that he approved the earmarking of funds for Belleville to be used for the improvement of Main street from Joramelon street to the Nutley-Belleville town line.

Seventeen Essex communities, it was learned, have applied to County Engineer William Stickle for a share of the money which is allocated to the town, township, village and borough state aid fund for roads. In applying for Belleville, Mayor Williams stressed the need of industrial plants in the area for better road facilities.

Under the maintenance of the town from year to year, the street has been kept up through piecemeal repair, but because of the heavy trucks which use it, the foundation of the roadbed crumples in the winter months leaving big holes which cars using the street find it difficult to dodge around.

The total estimated cost of a 40-foot concrete pavement street is $66,666. Of this amount, the town will pay only $6,666, Mayor Williams stated yesterday. When the current year's state highway budget is approved by the legislature, the town will get $25,000 for the road. The $35,000 will come from balances for the years 1938, through 1941, which are due Essex county from the highway department funds.

No official word was given out by Trenton nor could Mayor Williams make an estimate as to when the improvement project would start. It is expected that it will be shortly after the legislature has approved the highway department budget.

In announcing his approval of the project in Trenton yesterday, Commissioner Sterner bore out the principal arguments for the road enumerated by The News last week in an editorial advocating the road. Sterner stated that the road would provide traffic relief for motorists and truckmen as well as a future direct connection with Route 3-S and the Lincoln tunnel.

Main street is being used by a steadily increasing volume of trucks engaged in shipping defense materials. Motorists going to and from Newark find it a faster means of going through Belleville than by using Washington or Union avenues.

With the completion of Route 3-S, which will link Belleville directly with the Lincoln tunnel, Main street will become one of the main routes for motorists and trucking companies to use in reaching the tunnel road.

John Coogan Enters Ranks For Town Commission Post

Mayor Williams' Ally For 12 Years Says He Thinks "Experience and Observations" in Former Town Job Qualify Him to Represent Public

John F. Coogan, Jr., for nearly 12 years deputy director of revenue and finance, tax assessor and political advisor and ally of Mayor Williams announced last night that he would be a candidate for the town commission at the municipal election on Tuesday, May 12.

Well-known in municipal and political circles, Coogan caused a stir last October when he resigned his $3,500-a-year tax assessor post and entered the real estate and appraisal business with offices at 192 Washington avenue. In submitting his resignation to Mayor Williams, Coogan remarked in part: "Both of us, I am sure, recognize the fact that too frequently we are not in accord."

The statement came as a surprise to many who remembered the close alliance which had existed between Coogan and Williams since the mayor was first elected a commissioner in 1930. Coogan's appointment as deputy collector of revenue and finance and tax assessor followed shortly after the election, and in years since then he had been one of the principal figures in the finance department and had handled many details of Williams' campaign at election time.

Announcement Brief

The former town executive's announcement that he was in the race followed the briefness which marked his letter of resignation from his town post last Fall. In the statement which he gave out to the press yesterday afternoon, Coogan said:

"I wish to announce that I will be a candidate for the office of Commissioner for the Town of Belleville at our municipal election next May.

"My experience and observations, during my 11 years as tax assessor, deputy director of the department of revenue and finance, and in charge of sales of town owned properties, would enable me, I am confident, to conduct myself as a member of our governing body as one conversant with municipal matters, in a progressive and constructive manner, to the benefit of our municipality and its citizens.

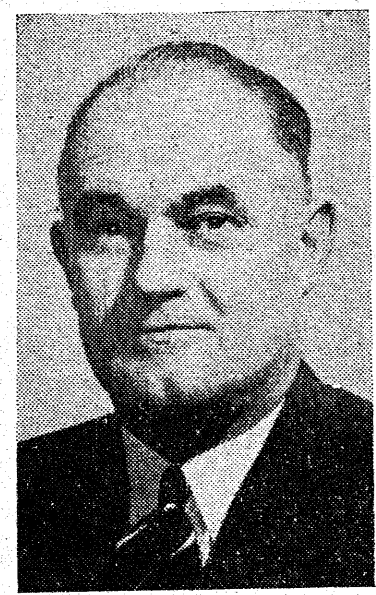

"In announcing my candidacy, I do so as an individual, independent candidate, with a feeling of assurance that my official conduct and attitude throughout my 11 years as a public official has met with approval.

"I earnestly ask for consideration and support of my candidacy by the people of Belleville."

Lived Here 38 Years

Coogan, who is 43 years old, was born in Harrison. He has resided in town for the past 38 years and now lives at 1 Elena place with his wife and two children, John, 3rd, and Regina. His father, John F. Coogan Sr., who is 82 years old, resides at 114 Adelaide street. He was educated in the local public schools and then held his first job in Wall street.

Out To Win

At the age of 18 he enlisted in the U. S. marine corps. After being honorably discharged from service he took a position as advertising sales representative with the Knapp Co., a subsidiary of the American Lithograph company.

In 1922, he ventured for the first time into the real estate field when he started the John F. Coogan Co. with offices at 494 Washington avenue. He continued in this business until 1930 when he was named tax assessor.

Well-known in assessing circles, he has served two terms as the president of the Essex County Tax Assessors' association and has twice been president of the New Jersey Municipal Assessors' association. He has also held the state chairmanship of the National Association of Assessing Officers for two terms and during the term of Governor Harold G. Hoffman was appointed by him as state representative to the national association's convention.

In his post at town hall, in addition to the job of tax assessing, he has had charge of the sale of town-owned property and the assessment of improvements.

UTILITIES BOARD DELAYS ACTION ON BUS SERVICE

Trackless Transit Co. Is Expected To Protest On Silver Lake Line

The public utilities commission postponed until Friday, February 13, action on the Public Service Coordinated Transport company's application for a bus line to run from Silver Lake to the West Belleville section.

Commissioner Noll, who attended the hearing in Newark last Thursday at which the board announced its decision to delay the hearing, said yesterday that he understood that the Trackless Transit company which runs a line via Belleville avenue, Mill street and Harrison street from the North Newark line to Bloomfield would file a protest.

The commissioner, who granted the Public Service local consent to its line, said that he would make every effort to have the public utilities board act favorably on the P. S. application. It is understood that several manufacturing firms in the Silver Lake area are interested in seeing the line operate since it would make it more convenient for their workers to reach the plants.

To Start Shortly

According to Public Service officials, the extension of the No. 100 line from the North Newark line north to the valley section and on to Main street, stopping at the Nutley-Belleville line will start shortly. The public utilities board has already given its consent to this line, and service which now starts at the Pennsylvania station in Newark and continues along McCarter highway to the North Newark line.

The West Belleville-Silver Lake line would start at Passaic and Division avenues near the municipal skating rink. It would go north in Passaic avenue to Emmet street, east to Forest street, south to Greyclark parkway, east to Linden avenue, south to Joramelon street, east to Washington avenue, south to Mill street, west to Franklin avenue, south to Franklin street, west to Belmont avenue, south to Lawrence street, west to Heckel street, and south to Bloomfield avenue.

On the return trip it would leave Bloomfield avenue and cross the Bloomfield-Belleville line on Belmont avenue and then continue on into Franklin street and return via the same route. The No. 100 line will continue north in Main street to Mill street, west to Washington avenue, north to Runyon street, east to Ralph street, north to Greyclark avenue, east to Main street and north to the Nutley line.

Loan of First Aid Books Sought By Red Cross

The first aid division of the Red Cross chapter is still seeking loans of instruction books for the hundreds who have enrolled in recent classes.

The paper shortage has made it impossible for national headquarters to fill the demand for books which has been made by chapters throughout the country. Mrs. Louis A. Noll, first aid chairman, made a second appeal this week to those who have already taken the course to turn in their books to be used by others. They may be left at the free public library where the first aid section has opened a headquarters.

Mrs. Noll said that every effort would be made to get the books back to the rightful owners after they have been used. She suggested that those lending books print their names and addresses inside the front cover.

MORE FIRST AID CLASSES ADDED

Class Will Be Held Sunday Afternoons For Air Raid Wardens

Summarizing the first aid instruction courses which are open for new registrants, Mrs. Louis Noll, first aid chairman of the local Red Cross chapter announced yesterday that a class started Tuesday evening at the Silver Lake community house with Miss Filomena Pomponio directing; a second afternoon period will be inaugurated today at the Smith church from 4 to 6 which will be taught by Miss Catherine Conklin.

Paul Baxter will open a course this evening at 8 at the first house at Washington and Division avenues. This class has been arranged for the convenience of residents of the valley section from whom many requests have been received for further instruction. Tomorrow at 8 p. m. Miss Conklin will undertake another class at Montgomery Presbyterian church.

Those who wish to enroll in any of these courses may do so by attending the first or second session or telephoning Mrs. Noll at Be. 2-2601 daily between the hours of 10 and 5. Mrs. Noll may also be reached after 5 at Be. 2-2277.

A Sunday afternoon first aid class will also be given for air raid wardens. The time will be from 2 to 4 but the location has not been decided.

Mrs. Noll has also announced the formation of two home nursing courses which will consist of 10 two-hour sessions. Anyone over 17 is eligible to register. Personal hygiene, general individual health and care of the family, especially the sick and the aged, will be the subjects covered. It is anticipated that lack of hospital space in case of an emergency will find many patients who might ordinarily be hospitalized being cared for at home. These courses aim to qualify the individual better to assist the physician in charge and carry out his orders for home care. The courses will be given on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Anyone desirous of registering will be required to contact Mrs. Noll.

ROTARIANS HEAR OF NEW CHINA FROM EDUCATOR

Dr. Banganee A. Liu Tells Joint Meeting That Country Has Three Main Objectives

A new China whose slogan is "Resistance and reconstruction" was portrayed for the Belleville and Bloomfield Rotary clubs at their joint luncheon meeting held yesterday at Forest Hill Field club by Dr. Banganee A. Liu, former president of the Chinese Training Institute in Nanking.

Editor of the Chinese Institute Bulletin in America, and member of the faculty at Columbia university, Dr. Liu claimed that China, in spite of her exhausting struggle, shows no signs of collapse. With the backing of an army in which morale is high, due to better equipment and experience, the country is developing, in the interior, the speaker claims, new industries, businesses and railroads.

This program, he said, is part of a three-fold objective and is building a new economy during its years of war.

Foremost Objectives

China's foremost objectives in her struggle, Liu stated, are first, the destruction of Japanese militarism because it is obnoxious to Chinese philosophy which emphasizes the values of peace. Secondly, "China means to preserve, continue and develop a democratic form of government", the speaker declared, "because democracy has always been a political and social ideal."

Finally, said Liu, it is a fight for the restoration of law and order in a system of mutual respect among nations, according to the speaker, who observed that under the philosophy of the Axis powers, all treaties are worthless. China feels that there must be established, a functioning organization to clear international relations, he maintained.

Dr. Liu was the guest of, and introduced by G. R. B. Symonds, program chairman of the Belleville club.

William Theifelder, who has charge of the Jersey City police department's police academy physical training course, spoke and John McCluskey showed the reserves some of the tricks of jiu-jitsu. A gymnastic exhibition was given by Patrolman Arthur Morrissey, Samuel Schleski, Charles Schaeffer and William Schussler.

Last night, Lieut. James Jones, a fingerprint expert lectured. Chief Spatz said that he expects to have more experts from the Jersey City department appear at future meetings. The speakers have been obtained through Daniel Casey, who is the director of public safety in Jersey City.

FIRST RENT KICK MADE TO TOWN

Tenant Files With Consumers' Group Protest On Raising Of Rent Charge

The first complaint has been filed with the consumers' interest committee by a local tenant objecting to the raise in rental for his home. Checking on rent charges is one of the important tasks to be performed by the consumers' division.

Any person feeling that he has a justifiable complaint because his rent has been raised in recent months may file notice with Arthur Clark, defense council secretary, at town hall and the committee will investigate. It is headed by Dr. E. A. Nyiri.

More than 900 attended the meeting for members of defense council groups held in the high school Tuesday night when they heard Herbert Scott, British A.R.P., who told them of experience in England since the start of the war. One of the first lessons that the British learned, he said, was that coordination and cooperation among civilian defense groups is vital to a successful program. He also showed several films furnished by the British Ministry of information.

Defense Council Chairman Everett B. Smith said this week that he was highly pleased with the results of the air raid warning test held last Saturday noon when the town's five steam whistles whooped out a two-minute warning signal and five minutes later sounded the "all clear" blast. The whistles are located atop the Eastwood Neally, Napier H. A. T. Westinghouse, National Grain Yeast and Edison plants.

An additional division to the defense council was named this week by Mayor Williams when he announced the appointment of a salvage committee headed by Robert G. Sutherland.

Other members are Norbert E. Berl, Andrew Salkeld, Richard Shannon, Max N. Schwartz, Dr. O. Bell, Close, Hugh Welsh, George Weston, Charles M. Nutt, Mrs. Daniel O'Connor and Miss Jane Donnelly.

William J. D. Lynch has been named co-chairman of the vulnerability and industrial plants committee to fill the vacancy created when Town Engineer Matthew J. Sheehan took a leave of absence to enter the army.

Local Girls May Enroll In N.Y.A. Machine Shop

Beginning this week, Belleville girls will be eligible to secure work experience at the national youth administration's machine shop located at Runyon street and Belmont avenue, Newark, it was announced today by Bernard S. Miller, state youth administrator.

The step is in line with N.Y.A. policy under which all defense projects are rapidly being opened to young women, Miller said. Action was taken concurrent with the war production board's announcement that 10,000,000 workers will be needed shortly for war effort industries, and that women must help swell the total.

Plans are being made to run bus lines to several centers in Northern New Jersey to transport the youth workers. A Belleville bus may be scheduled if there is sufficient demand.

Girls must be at least 17 years old to enter the shop, and must not have reached their 25th birthday. They work 160 hours a month under conditions of industrial production, together with related training, and receive from $21.20 to $25.20 per month. The length of the work-experience training period depends upon the type of work done and the initiative shown by the trainee.

Proclamation

THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA, incorporated February 8, 1910, and chartered by Congress June 15, 1916, is celebrating its thirty-second anniversary during Boy Scout Week, from February 6 to 12. In the past 32 years it has rendered notable service to our community and our nation. Now that our country is at war, the Boy Scouts of America are rendering noteworthy service. They have placed over 1,700,000 posters announcing the Savings Bonds and Stamps; they have collected over ten million pounds of aluminum or eighty per cent of all collected; they have collected tons of sorely needed waste paper, scrap metal and old rubber at the request of the government.

In times of distress from floods, hurricane, tornado and other disasters, they have demonstrated the effectiveness of organized boy service. During the period of economic stress they contributed in many ways to the relief of the suffering.

The Boy Scouts have also contributed to a deeper appreciation by the American people of the higher conception of good citizenship.

THEREFORE, I, WM. H. WILLIAMS, MAYOR OF THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, do hereby recommend that the citizens of the Town do whatever they can to observe Boy Scout Week, and give their support in strengthening the work of the Boy Scouts of America, particularly through the Robert Treat Council which administers the Boy Scout Program in this Community.

I earnestly recommend that our civic organizations, our churches and our schools cooperate in carrying out a program for a definite recognition of the effective service rendered by the Boy Scouts of America, in order that the work of the Boy Scout Program may be extended to a larger proportion of the boyhood of this Community.

The Boy Scout Movement offers unusual opportunity for volunteer service. It needs men to serve in various capacities as leaders of boys. I hope that all who can, will, through the organizations with which they are connected, enlist for such personal service. Anything that is done to increase the effectiveness of the Boy Scouts of America is a genuine contribution to the welfare of this Community, the State, and the Nation.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of this Community to be affixed.

Done this fifth day of February, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-two.

Wm. H. Williams
Mayor

Fire Reserve Needs More Men

Those who attended the meeting at the high school Tuesday night when a British air raid patrol official addressed the civilian defense workers heard and saw the damage which fire can do in war time. While explosive bombs can strike terror into the population of a city, can take many lives and destroy millions of dollars' worth of property, fire can do the same thing.

Well aware of this is Fire Chief Reid and that is why this week he is appealing to more local men to offer their services to the fire reserve force which is now in training under the direction of members of the paid fire department who have been especially schooled in the functions of a fire fighting force in handling incendiary bombs and the fires which they may cause.

One plane, loaded with many incendiary bombs, could turn Belleville and much of the surrounding territory into a roaring furnace in an hour's time. As impossible as

Start In Its Own Back Yard

Paper is regarded as an essential material by the government and all of us are being asked to conserve on it and avoid as much waste as possible. An appeal has been made to retail merchants to use a minimum of paper in wrapping parcels and to go light on the use of bags.

Housewives are told that they should not throw away or burn newspapers, cardboard and all other papers, but should save them to be turned over to some waste conservation agency.

This is all well and good, for like other people who are in the newspaper, periodical, publishing and printing business, we are trying to look ahead and figure out what may happen in the distribution of various kinds of paper in another year. But, as we have written before, the government itself loads us up with more paper every week than all letter writers, publicity agencies and other groups combined. All war-time federal and state agencies turn to the news-

Little Doubt About Its Need

The question of a traffic light for Franklin avenue and Joralemon street has come out numerous times during the past year or two. It is not entirely a local problem, for the county controls one of the thoroughfares and unless it and the state motor vehicle department agree that there is a real need for a stop-and-go signal there, the town can do little or nothing about it.

Both, Franklin avenue and Joralemon street are used by many automobile traveling commuters going to and from Newark, New York and other places of work. There have been a number of collisions there, some in which people were injured.

The increase in the traffic flow at the intersection has been noticeable in recent months since more motorists have grown accustomed to using the extension of Frank-

"Be Prepared" Means Something

"Be Prepared" has been a slogan of the Boy Scout organization for the past 30 years. While through these three decades leaders have been training these young boys to be good citizens they have also been given instruction which today they find serves them well.

This is not alone true of those who today are Boy Scouts, but also the many who have outgrown the Scout ranks and have taken their places in the fighting forces or some branch of civilian defense. They have found that the teachings of their leaders and the advice contained in every Boy Scout's bible, the handbook, means even more to them now than it did when they were trying to earn that first class scout emblem or a merit badge.

With the opening of Boy Scout week tomorrow, it is well that we should pay tribute to this movement which has not only performed exemplary work in the past but which today is earnestly doing its part to promote the tremendous program which this country has undertaken.

Typical of the effort which the Boy Scout organization everywhere is making is that in our own community. While in each troop young boys are being urged more than ever before to learn first aid,

The Government Must Be Right

Billions of dollars are being expended by national, state and municipal governments for civilian defense—the protection of those on the home front. In the midst of this tremendous program of training and preparedness we have those who openly scoff at these efforts and ridicule the money which is being poured out as extreme wastefulness.

It is folly to follow the "it can't happen this may be for us to imagine, it is nevertheless true and is just another one of the incomprehensible tragic wonders of this war which we cannot understand.

Incendiary fire fighting requires special technique and training different from that in ordinary fire fighting. While Belleville has a well equipped paid fire department it could hardly be expected to cope with the blazes which might be started in an incendiary bomb raid. The help of hundreds, in fact every householder, would be needed.

If you are one of the many men who as yet have not volunteered for a part in the local defense program, volunteer immediately for the fire reserve. Those between 18 and 65 who are physically fit will be accepted. This is your town and it is your own home which you are interested in protecting. Do your part now by enrolling for immediate training and duty.

papers as an outlet for much of their material. Truthfully, if we printed nothing, else but that which is received weekly from Washington and Trenton, we would not have room enough for another story—yes—even a social item—in a month's time. In addition to the pages and pages of releases which come through the mail, there are always some expensively printed booklets done on the best of paper which almost every printing firm finds it hard to get these days.

The pitiful part is that most newspaper people do not have the time in a day to read this mass of stuff. Even if they did, much of it would be material in which neither they nor their readers would be interested. It is a pretty fast around-the-bases play from the mailman to our desk to the waste basket. When it comes to paper conservation, Washington could easily start right in its own back yard.

lin avenue as a shorter route to and from Newark. This not only applies to local and Nutley residents but to many from more distant places as a check of automobile license plates will show. We agree with those who petitioned the town commission last week that the intersection is one of the few much-used traffic points in town that does not have a light. In fact, we can think of some places where a light is in operation that is much less needed than at Franklin avenue and Joralemon street.

The county board of freeholders are in the process of setting up their new budget for 1942 so maybe there's a chance that local officials will be able to strike while the iron is hot and get the county to agree to pay its share for the installation of a traffic signal at that corner.

signalling, firefighting and other training which may help them, a special emergency service troop has been formed, which when it has completed its training will stand ready to work side by side with any number of the civilian defense units. In the emergency communications plans which has been set up for Belleville in a disaster, the Boy Scouts will play an important part.

During the past year, the defense council has called upon the scouts to perform numerous tasks. When the town was asked in cooperation with a nation-wide appeal, to collect old aluminum, it was the Boy Scouts who were largely responsible for the success of the campaign. Currently, many of them are collecting waste paper which will be turned back to the government. Several times troops have turned out in full force to distribute handbills and other civilian defense information to residents. Small though these activities may seem to many, they are vital in making the entire program a success.

These young boys are being made to realize that the success of this country in the war is just as dependent upon them and what they do as it is upon the efforts of their parents. And when you have instilled that spirit and that belief in young Americans, this country can and will win.

here" belief for this war has taught us constantly to anticipate the unexpected. If our national government leaders believe that it is necessary for us to spend this money, and that likewise we should be trained to meet any emergency, then we should do it. If we believe that they know best what should be done on the fighting front, then we should be willing to follow their judgment on the home front.

Odds and Ends From Other Pens

The Place to Start Cutting

If the war won't wake up New Jersey's lawmakers — what will?

In one breath the legislators vow to cooperate with Governor Edison to curb unnecessary expense, so that the state's utmost attention and resources can be devoted to defense.

In the next breath, the House steering committee reverts to the pork barrel of old.

This committee parcels out among seventeen faithful Republican counties almost fifty appointments as "legislative employees," at total salaries of $20,000 — the bulk of it for persons who will perform no service to the state, are not expected to, and would only be in the way if they tried.

Some are designated as "committee clerks", others as "pages" and "doorkeepers".

Individual salaries range from $225 to $500. But the titles mean nothing.

Under this old practice, there are often "clerks" for committees that don't exist!

For these legislative appointments are simply a genteel political racket for "rewarding the faithful."

It's nothing new. But there was never a better year to end this form of "legalized" chiseling which reflects upon the respectability of lawmakers.

They wouldn't tolerate it in their private business — why in the state's business?

The $20,000 involved is but a drop in the bucket, compared with the $100,000,000 or more in total state appropriations, which these same lawmakers will be expected to safeguard.

But the "little" racket in legislative patronage is symptomatic of the kind of waste that has driven the cost of state government out of all proportions to the services rendered.

This small but enlightening batch of pork is a criterion of what's wrong in the state's governmental structure.

A place where political graft is so perceptible to the naked eye is certainly the place to start applying that modicum of good business that will save, not thousands, but millions in the cost of state government.

The Paper Shortage

We're facing a serious paper shortage in our country today, and the government is asking newspapers like ours and civilians like you to be conservative and not waste our present paper supply.

We're willing to do our part to save paper for military and national defense uses, and we're sure you're willing to do the same. But we should like to see the government lead the way in this paper conservation move, instead of indulging in the extravagant waste of paper.

For instance, the government, which asks us to be sparing with our paper stocks, is having its postmen deliver at our doors and mail boxes not one but several duplicate copies of large, newspaper-size circulars advertising defense savings bonds. The same government, which asks us to carry home our groceries unwrapped in order to save paper, has sent our local tire rationing board several hundred application blanks for the borough's quota of six passenger and 14 truck tires. And the government, which has asked us to save scrap paper, recently sent our defense council large quantities of publicity material and a number of gaint posters for a nationwide civilian defense week, which had been observed by the country a week before Madison received the material.

Such needless waste of paper by the federal government seems inexcusable at a time when the conservation of paper is so vital. As patriotic citizens we are glad to economize in our use of paper in order to help this nation win the war. But we feel that it's time the government set the rest of the country an example in the paper conservation drive, instead of recklessly wasting paper at the same time it is asking the rest of us to conserve it.

—Madison Eagle.

It Is Everyone's War

This war is not being fought only by soldiers on far-off battlefields, whose maneuvering is reported in the daily press. More than any previous war, it depends upon the sum total of individual effort — in war industries, in Red Cross work, in the buying of Defense Bonds, in the paying of taxes. You and I can exert ourselves in these activities. We will have to pay the taxes, though perhaps if we exert ourselves on these also, we can reduce them some.

The Brookings institution has made a survey which indicates that the federal government could lop off $1,800,000,000 of civilian activities such as WPA, CCC, farm aid, etc. without impairing the war effort. Certainly in view of the billions to be spent on the war, we should all write to our senators and congressmen urging them to vote for curtailment of non-war expenditures.

But the federal government is not alone in enormous spending of taxpayers' money. In 1938 state and local governments spent $10,500,000,000 compared to the federal government's $7,700,000,000. It is on our state and local governments, that we can have the most direct influence. New Jersey's income, according to some estimates, will drop $8,000,000 this year due to the curtailed use of automobiles and so the receipt of less money from license fees and gasoline taxes. The state too will have unusual expenditures to protect vital state functions and property. How great these expenditures may be, no one can foresee. But certainly the state should curtail its non-essential appropriations. In this respect, our delegations in the assembly and the state senate will listen if enough taxpayers tell them they want economy.

County and municipal budgets have many items that are made mandatory by the state laws and they must meet fixed charges for the amortization of debt and interest on the debt, but there are still many departmental items that could be reduced, and few should be increased. There has been too much talk of the increased cost of living. So far it has been slight in comparison to the first World War, and the cost of living is still well below the level of 1929. Again it is up to the citizens to let their county and municipal officials know that they want tax reduction. There is always the tendency of certain groups to ask increases for their pet projects and cuts in other departments. Again let us recall that this is an individual war—we all must feel the pinch in many ways before it is over.

Let's hear from our readers where they think economy can be practiced in local government. Such letters not only would be of interest to other readers but also would give some indication to municipal officials in what details citizens would be willing to have their services curtailed.

Will Clee Run?

Formal announcement of the candidacy of the Rev. Lester H. Clee of Newark for the Republican nomination for United States Senator is expected soon. Other candidates mentioned are Reeve Schley of Far Hills and Albert W. Hawkes of the State Chamber of Commerce, both of whom are said to be out of the race. The only other person who might challenge the Doctor's right to the nomination is Joseph H. Bower of Montclair, who wouldn't probably worry Brother Clee very much.

Should Clee decide to make a campaign, it will be full of glamour with torchlight speeches on the curbs and packed auditoriums from Cape May to Sussex. It will be one time the Hon. William H. Smathers of Margate City, Democratic candidate for re-election to the Senate, will know he is in a real political battle.

Clee sentiment is being sounded out in the various counties of the state and the reports are said to be most favorable. Here in Morris county the Doctor ran good in the primary for the gubernatorial nomination a few years ago and received a big majority in the general election, although he was defeated over in Hudson County.

Tradition and Progress

Half a century of existence too often binds an institution to tradition and precedent, but the Montclair Y.M.C.A. marked the close of its fiftieth anniversary season by inaugurating a new policy.

The Y abandoned its New Year's day open house program and replaced it with a New Year's eve party designed to attract—and hold—the interest of young people in the community. That the affair was a success is attested by the innumerable compliments the Y has received from a wide variety of sources.

Ministers, civic leaders, mothers and fathers applauded the party. What is even more important, the young people who attended applauded, too. From the standpoint of all associated with the Y.M.C.A.'s greeting to 1942, it was such a success that 1943 will be greeted in a similar manner.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

The New Jersey legislature has at last passed a law that had no hidden strings attached to it, and where the occasion was not used by some bright statesman to feather his own nest. It has approved federal "war time." Ordinarily such a law would have been held up for a month or more while someone tried to squirm himself into a public job.

A much-needed amendment to the constitution was lost three or four years ago because Senator Durand of Monmouth wanted to be state auditor. Senator Foran block legislation for a year until the job of milk czar was finally created for him at $10,000 a year. In view of the singular lack of appreciation of New Jersey milk consumers for Foran's noble efforts in their behalf, I suggest an amendment to the recent law making Foran "director" of the new war time.

His brilliant work with milk would seem to entitle him to promotion, so I suggest that he be paid $20,000 a year at this new job with the privilege of appointing not less than three deputies at $7,500 a year each, plus railroad passes and a few dozen cans of trifles.

Seriously, there are reports that members of the Essex delegation will move soon for the abolition of Foran's job. It is sincerely to be hoped that these are true. Raymond Berry ran 10,000 votes ahead of his ticket last fall because he made an issue of the rise in the price of milk. Had the election been at all close, this would have been sufficient margin to have put him in office. It should have been a warning to Clean Government leaders. Foran got his job by Essex acquiescence, although the delegation had blocked previous job bids.

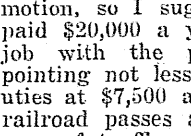

Kick Foran Out

But the record can only be cleared if he is kicked out of New Jersey's government bundle, bag and baggage. The recent supreme court decision in practical effect turns milk regulation over to the secretary of agriculture anyway. Since milk is largely a labor product it is easy to see that the cost of production has gone up considerably during the past year. Farm labor is getting scarce in areas of intense war production activity like New Jersey. I have an idea that the prices recommended by Foran may be at least partially justified. But Foran got his job in such a thoroughly disreputable manner that his efforts were doomed before he started.

Clean Government leaders in Essex are seriously considering some legislation that will prevent senators getting appointments until they have been out of the senate for at least two years. Such a law—or constitutional amendment if that be required—would nip the job racket in the bud. New Jersey will never have any decency in government until this is done. Roy V. Wright is for such legislation as well as Arthur T. Vanderbilt.

War Keeps Down Scandal

War news has kept the scandal of the Newark housing authority from getting the publicity it deserved. The housing board was told to resign or accept the consequences—which might have been serious. A move is under way for the creation of a county housing authority which would coordinate the activities of the 21 Essex municipalities. Something like this is long overdue. More use should be made of the county framework of government, and those who are directing war efforts should become aware of this.

CSB Kept Most Active As Service Agency In '41

During 1941 the Community Service bureau was kept most active filling its job of being a service agency and carried on its work of helping families with their problems in addition to cooperating with other agencies including the draft board and the home service department of the Red Cross.

In its own work, the bureau started a study of the care of children of working mothers and has a committee which is also analyzing the need in town for greater dental care.

In the 12th annual report of the bureau's work, submitted by Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, executive secretary, she stated that in 1941 the bureau had worked with 168 families, representing 700 individuals of whom 354 were children of school age.

Mrs. Reiner's complete report, which was submitted to the organization last week, follows:

"Family life is the home front of democracy in emergency, in defense and in war. A healthy, strong family unit is the foundation of our democratic way of life. The family home is the center of everyone's every-day experience. It is our haven in trouble and in illness and it is here that our children find the source of security that forms the basis of their adulthood. The experience and problems of family life. The family home is the center whatever our race, creed or position."

"The Community Service bureau, carrying out a program of family social work, expresses its belief in the democratic ideal of healthy, happy family life and its responsibility for family welfare in the community. We strive with our skill in helping people to make this ideal of family life a concrete and workable one. Our work is the combination of common thinking and common goals on the part of the community leaders who serve as our board members and the professional workers who carry out the services to families. Our 12th year of service to the families and children of Belleville finds us on the home front where our work has always been. In good times or in bad, in peace or in war we are concerned with the preservation of normal family life and have always recognized the necessity of building morale within individuals and families.

"During 1941 we have worked with 168 families, representing 700 individuals of whom 354 were children of school age. Ninety-six of the families who sought our services were self-supporting and free from financial problems. In 51 cases financial aid from the agency was necessary and $2,440 was spent so that these families could overcome their difficulties.

"This picture shows that we are primarily a service agency and we are doing the work which is our chief function, namely that of helping troubled people to find a satisfactory solution to their individual difficulties. Twenty-one other of the families known to us were receiving public assistance. This group included widows with dependent children, old people receiving an old-age grant, the permanently handicapped and those persons no longer employable. In addition to the 168 families given continued care over a planned period of time there were 60 others who received direction or information from the agency.

"Aside from service to the individual members of the community, during the past year the board and staff of the agency have been interested in other community-wide problems. The need for day care for children of working mothers has been in the process of study by the committee on child care since last October. Also we have been aware of a need for dental care, principally as related to children and our dental committee has been active in working with this problem. This committee is continuing its work along investigational and educational lines. During 1941 the agency has cooperated with all existing agencies and for the first time with the local draft board and the home service department of the Red Cross.

"For three years we have been handicapped by a reduction in staff. Last fall we were able to add a much-needed worker and we are now able to meet increased requests for service that come to us. We are deeply grateful to all those who have given volunteer services on working committees, on the child care survey, in the office on clerical work and to the Red Cross motor corps for transportation to clients to clinics and hospitals. We have been fortunate in having the services of two psychiatric consultants who have been of inestimable help to us in finding a solution to some of our most difficult problems.

"In this coming year we plan to adhere to our existing program of work with families and individuals. However, both board and staff are alert to changing community needs and we stand flexible and willing to adjust our services to whatever Belleville may require from us in the future."

They call it the "spark plug of the human system" because it tones the nervous and digestive systems, promotes growth, appetite and energy... it induces alertness, pep, better morale. If you read the article in the Saturday Evening Post you know that B is the hardest vitamin to get from food, and that 54% of test cases had to quit work when placed on a diet low in Vitamin B. If you're not getting enough Vitamin B Complex, you grow listless, you tire easily, you start to "feel your age." But you can fix that by taking just one capsule of Reed's Vitamin B Complex daily. Each capsule contains: VITAMIN B-1... prevents nervousness and neuritis by nourishing the nerve tissues. Also known as Thiamin Chloride. VITAMIN B-2... improves stomach tone, remedies heartburn and loss of red blood corpuscles. Also known as Vitamin G, or riboflavin. NICOTINIC ACID... the "anti-pellagra" vitamin, essential to human nutrition. VITAMIN B6... stimulates normal growth, relieves muscular fatigue, induces energy. PANTOTHENIC ACID... Essential to growth and energy. Also known as the Filtrate factor with Liver Extract and Yeast Powder Concentrate No need to be "starved on a full stomach," nor to be always tired. Amazing energy and robust health can be yours... you'll quickly feel the difference once you start taking Reed's Vitamin B Complex Capsules. 1.59 Bottle of 50 1.19 2.49 Bottle of 100 1.98	Bottle of 100 5 Grain ASPIRIN TABLETS 12¢

Newark P.O. To Register Enemy Aliens Next Week

Local residents who are enemy aliens — that is, natives of Germany, Italy or Japan — must register between next Monday, February 9, and Saturday, February 28.

Instructions for all enemy aliens were ready for distribution at the Newark post office on Monday, and Postmaster John F. Sinnott, who has charge of the registration in the Newark postal area, recommends that all aliens required to register secure a copy of the instructions, which outline in detail the information which will have to be furnished.

The registration carries out the orders contained in a proclamation recently issued by President Roosevelt.

A few suggestions from the Postmaster are:

1—Look up your alien registration receipt card at once. You must have it to avoid delay when you apply for registration.

2—If you do not have an alien registration receipt card, write immediately to the Alien Registration Division, Washington, D. C. stating (a) whether you lost it or never had one, (b) your nationality and present address and where you registered.

3—Obtain three unmounted photographs with light background 2 by 2 inches in size on thin paper. These photographs must be taken not more than 30 days prior to presenting your application, and must clearly have a front view of the face without a hat. This is very important.

Those aliens who cannot write plainly and clearly may bring with them either a member of their family or friend who can write well to complete the application. If aliens are unable to get such a person to help them there will be clerks at the post office to help complete the application. It is not necessary to pay any person or organization to assist you.

Postmaster Sinnott urges those required to register to act early to file the application for registration.

The total number of enemy aliens in New Jersey is 96,194 of which number 24,516 are Germans, 71,524 Italians, 154 Japanese.

TWO LESS KILLED BY AUTOS HERE

Belleville Drops From Seven To Five; State Is Up; County Down

A total of 971 persons were killed in New Jersey highway accidents last year. Nearly half of them were pedestrians.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee, who makes the announcement, said that the total traffic toll was 60 more than the previous year, an increase of 6.5 percent, whereas the national increase was twice this figure.

"From a statistical standpoint, New Jersey did remarkably well in keeping below 1,000 deaths," said the Commissioner, "but from a practical view the loss of 971 lives is entirely too many. There were more cars registered, more drivers licensed and more miles traveled than any other year in the state's history. Add to this the unusual hazards created by the war activity and it made a perfect setting for a record-breaking highway slaughter. Yet deaths, according to present-day standards, were kept within reasonable bounds."

Accidents of unusual severity helped to push the 1941 toll above the previous year's record.

Essex county reported the best numerical decrease with 100, a reduction of 13 from the previous year. Ocean and Warren counties each lowered their tolls by nine deaths.

Petition For Traffic Light At Franklin-Joralemon

Fifty-three residents in the area of Franklin Avenue and Joralemon street petitioned the town commission last week for the installation of a traffic signal light at that intersection.

They contended that the heavy flow of traffic there is not only a danger to the motorists but to the many pedestrians who cross the streets there. The petition stated that it was the only busy thoroughfare in town that does not have a light.

It was explained that the public safety department is attempting to get the county's cooperation in the installation of a light not only at that corner but also at Union Avenue and Holmes street.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Zirn were hosts Sunday evening to a party of 16. Guests played pin-ochle and mah jong and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dreskin and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Friedman of this town; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roth of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Zirn, Sr., of Brooklyn and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kay of Forest Hills, L. I. were present.

5,000 P.S. Employees Studying First Aid

Doing their part for civilian defense, it is estimated that shortly one out of three employees of the Public Service will be qualified first aid workers. More than 5,000 have enrolled in the first aid course being conducted by the American Red Cross which has been arranged by the company's department of safety education.

There are, in all, approximately 21,000 Public Service employees. Some 2,000 of them — particularly in the electric and gas departments, but also including quite a number of bus drivers and office employees—have been qualified in first aid work for years.

To Honor Past Presidents At Everyman's Bible Class

The Everyman's Bible class will hold past presidents' day at its Sunday morning session in the Masonic temple in Joralemon street, honoring previous leaders of the group. Continuing as in past programs, George Tranter will direct the class and give the lesson.

The blue army won the banner for the first Sunday in the attendance contest, nosing out the red army 38 to 33. Howard Lockhart who is leading the red forces has appealed to every member of his group to come out to every session between now and February 22 when the class ends.

A social evening to be held at Grace Baptist church has been planned for Wednesday night, February 18. There will be bowling, pingpong, other games and refreshments.

18-Month 'Pen' Sentence Given Local Resident In Newark

A Ralph street resident, Aaron Wiggins Jr., was sentenced to 18 months in the county penitentiary last week by Common Pleas Judge Brennan in Newark on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

It was alleged by the prosecution that Wiggins while under the influence of marijuana had attacked his parents with a knife in the kitchen of their home.

LIEUT. BERESFORD SERVICES HELD

Member of Fire Department Dies At Home Following Short Illness

Funeral services were held Sunday night for fire Lieut. Walter C. Beresford who died at his home, 233 Overlook Avenue, following a short illness on Friday night.

Rev. Edgar M. Compton, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, officiated at the services. Interment was in Glendale cemetery on Monday morning.

Born in Brooklyn 52 years ago, Mr. Beresford had resided in Belleville for 50 years and had attended local schools. He joined the fire department the same year that he was eligible to vote, first serving as a volunteer member of the Valley Hose company in days when a paid department was unheard of locally. He also served at one time as a volunteer in Essex Hose company.

In February, 1923, he was appointed a paid fireman. In May, 1938, when he was transferred to the Silver Lake station, he was promoted to lieutenant.

Taken Sick Jan. 7

The lieutenant had been on the department's sick list since January 7, suffering from inflammatory rheumatism. Death, however, was believed to have been caused by a blood clot in the heart.

A member of the Exempt Firemen's association, prior to his appointment to the paid fire fighting force he served as a foreman with the American Perforated Metal company, which was then located here.

Besides his wife Mrs. Jennie Reeves Beresford, whom he married in 1911, the lieutenant is survived by two sons, Pvt. Howard G. and Charles H. of this town; a daughter, Mrs. Muriel Cerami of Nutley; two sisters, Mrs. Isabelle Bechtoldt of this town and Mrs. Ruth Orrok of Arden-on-Arden, Pa.

At a meeting Tuesday the police and fire pension fund commission granted a pension of $1,000 annually to Mrs. Beresford.

SECOND ROUND WON BY EAGLES

The Eagles grabbed a hold on the senior loop championship Tuesday night by turning back the Haffner quintet 40-35 to win the second round.

In the church league this week the Silver Lake Baptist court-sters helped by Marotti's 16 points were too much for the Fewsmiths who bowed 33-29. St. Peter's found Wesley easy pickings, knocking off the Methodists 43-15.

Coming Week's Tilts To Decide Bellboys Status

Tussle With High Scoring Orange Five Tomorrow Night Most Important: Slapped Down West Orange Quintet 34-28 With Calicchio Pacing

The coming week means much to the Belleville high basketballers for the outcome of the next three games their followers should get a slant on the chances of the Bellboys in the state tournament which is scheduled to get under way at the end of the month.

While rated by scholastic pre-tourney experts as having only an outside chance in the tournament, the Blue and Gold lads in their first year under Coach Herman "Jitty" Wische have shown that they can play top ball when the chips are down and are making a better showing than any Bellboy quintet of recent years.

The boys really meet the acid test which will determine whether or not they are A-1 tournament players tomorrow night when they will clash with the highly touted Orange high team at the latter's big "armory" court. The tornadoes furthered their claim to being one of the favorites for the state crown on Tuesday when they tripped East Orange 41-37. In a game earlier in the season, the Orangemen nipped the Panthers 17-16.

Irvin No. 1 Star
Bellboy fans will see one of the best schoolboy basketball players seen hereabouts in a long time in action tomorrow night when Orange trots out Cal Irvin, high scoring forward, who is leading the county in points chalked up to date. Against East Orange he rimmed the basket for 20 points. When the Tornadoes played here on January 16 Irvin's 16 points was high for the night in the Orange's quintet's 37-29 triumph.

The Bellboys evened counts with West Orange on Tuesday night when they piled up early lead to top the Cowboys 34-28. Several weeks ago, the visiting five tripped the locals 26-21.

The Bellboys put on a scoring blitz in the first two periods, chalking up 13 points in each quarter, to lead West Orange 26-17. Young Nick Calicchio was the individual star of the night with 10 points. The visitors were always dangerous, one time in the third period sneaking up to within two points of tying the count, but the Belleville five always had the steam to pull out.

The Blue and Gold ran up against an unexpected surprise on Friday night when they traveled to Teaneck and bowed unceremoniously to the Teaneck high five 38-17. The Bergen lads piled up a big margin in the second and third periods and the locals were never near overcoming the winners after that. Drack with 12 points led Teaneck while McManus's 7 points was the best that the Bellboys could muster.

Next Tuesday night the quintet will be at home to Irvington while on Friday night, February 13, they will entertain Lyndhurst high.

Rabbi Dobin Scout Speaker

The observance of national Boy Scout week starts tomorrow with the 11 local troops planning special programs to commemorate the anniversary and also to participate in the special religious services arranged for three denominations which will take place Sunday afternoon.

Interest in scouting here has stepped up during the past year. District Chairman Hugh D. Kittel reported yesterday. The number of boys in the organization increased 41 percent and a new Troop 369, sponsored by the Edison company, was started in Silver Lake section with Peter Caruso as scoutmaster.

Commenting on the ways in which scouts are doing their part in defense, Kittel emphasized the cooperative plan which has been worked out with the communications divisions of the defense council providing for the organization in each troop of a bicycle and skate patrol which would carry messages in an emergency. Members of the sea scouts are being trained for duty as a river patrol and an emergency service corps is now in training which will later instruct troops and also work as a unit.

EMERGENCY MESSAGE

from the New Jersey Defense Council

"When you hear an Air-Raid Warning DON'T TELEPHONE"

"THE SYSTEM set up to spread air-raid warnings and get reports back to defense centers depends upon the swiftness and flexibility of the telephone system.

"A flood of civilian calls coming at such a time would tax telephone switchboards, perhaps to the point where vital communications would be seriously delayed or even blocked.

"During an air-raid alarm, don't use your telephone. Don't call friends or family to see if they are safe. Don't call to tell them of your own safety or whereabouts. Don't call to report incidents; that is the responsibility of your air-raid warden.

"Only the most urgent calls should be made during an air-raid warning and for some time after the 'All Clear' signal is sounded."
