

Town Finances Good, Says Williams; Tax Rate Down 9 Points

"Belleville enters 1942 in a financially strong position," Mayor Williams wrote in his annual message this week as he introduced the municipal budget which whittled the tax rate down nine points to $4.53.

The total budget is $1,846,898.11 of which $1,399,304.56 will be raised by taxation if the budget is adopted on Friday night, February 27.

Although the amount to be raised by taxes is $30,886.32 higher than it was in 1941, the taxpayers are saved from a rate rise by a $1,229,092 jump in rates. The budget reveals that in the anticipated revenue column, anticipated revenues have risen $22,593, which is slightly less than half of the gross budget increase.

The mayor-finance director's explanatory budget message shows that the town had on hand a cash surplus of $542,593.53 on January 1 of this year. Of this amount, $114,395.86 came from gross receipts and franchise taxes, $43,395.86 from tax title liens and $28,665.58 from delinquent tax receipts. The board will use $192,593.55 as a credit in the new budget, leaving $350,000 in cash surplus of which $100,000 is invested in defense bonds.

Against Using Surplus

"I urge," Williams commented, "that no sound theories be introduced into the use of present surplus cash nor any sum be used for a temporary rate advantage that may within a couple of years turn into a serious financial error."

The mayor's detailed explanatory statement and the complete budget is published in detail on pages 4 and 5 of this issue. Commissioner Waters' public works department was the only branch to show a drop in its appropriation. As a total, the departments showed a rise of $20,045.16. Public works is down $13,872.84 to $79,502.16. Public Affairs is rising $11,490 to $95,920. Public safety needs went up to $237,110, a rise of $11,265. The revenue and finance budget of $88,388.50 is increasing $9,463; and the parks and public property appropriation is set at $29,200, a rise of $1,700.

Refuse Contract Responsible

With the new garbage contract up $18,000 over the 1941 figure, it accounts for all of the rise in Commissioner King's department. Also included is $3,000 to help pay hospital bills of persons in need of financial help but not on relief.

Included in the revenue and finance budget is a $5,000 appropriation for the defense council and $1,000 for a clerk for the rationing board. Because of the added local expenses of a municipal election, the election expense item has been increased from $1,600 to $6,000. Reductions of approximately $10,000 in the annual contribution to the

School Budget Is Passed By 30 To 1 Margin

The school budget passed Tuesday by a 30 to 1 margin. Only two persons showed up at the polls between 4 and 9 p. m. to indicate their disapproval of the figures put up before the public by the board of education. They went right down the line against the budget on the three items which appeared on the ballot.

The vote on current expenses, which provided for $381,288.35 to be raised by taxation was 60 to 2. Only 59 voted for the $10,000 manual training item while only six approved the maintenance item and the lone two were against it.

HYDE CANDIDACY STEPS UP RACE

Rossmore Place Resident Lost
Out In 1938 By 361 Vote
Margin

The pace of the town commission campaign was stepped up a notch this week when one of the "name" candidates formally mounted the saddle for the three-month political race ahead.

With the election exactly three months from today, Elmer S. Hyde of Rossmore place, three-time runner-up for a commission post, announced last night that he would again be a candidate. This brought to four the total number officially in the race. John F. Coogan, Jr., announced last week, while James Tully and Arthur Mayer previously entered the field.

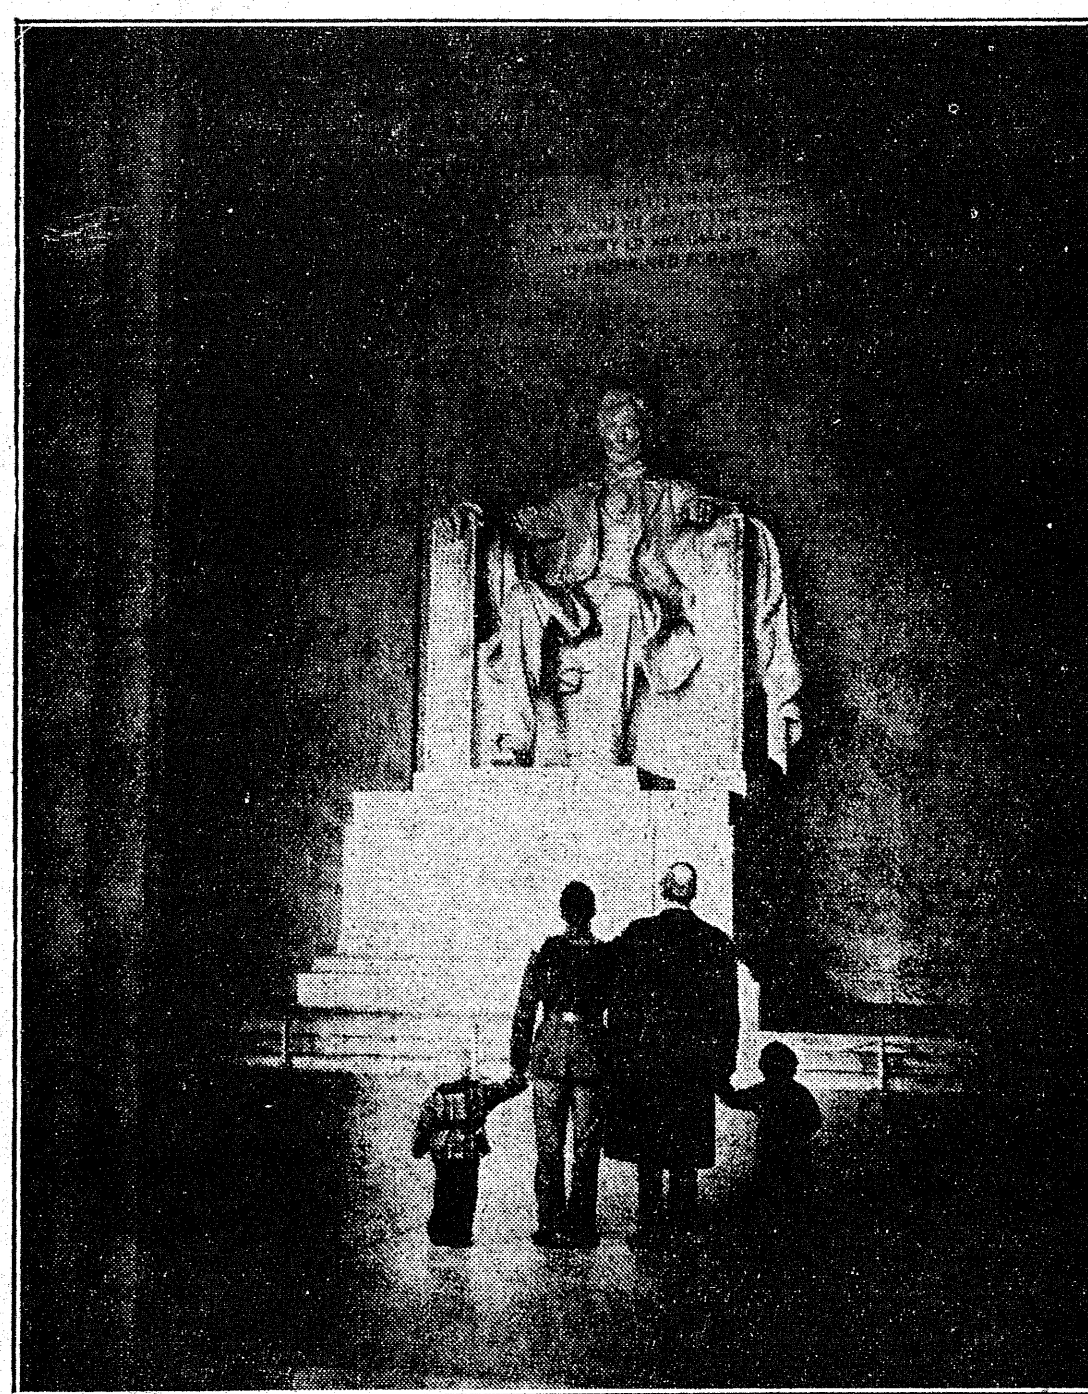

Making a strong bid for a seat on the town commission in 1938, Hyde trailed Public Safety Director William D. Clark, who finished in fifth place, by only 361 votes.

A resident of town for the past 21 years, Hyde has been active in local political and Republican circles for a number of years. He first stepped into the ranks of those seeking political office in 1930 when he ran for commissioner. He was a candidate again in the race in 1934.

Still, let us not be over sanguine of a speedy, final triumph. Let us be quite sober. Let us diligently apply the means, never doubting that a just God, in His own good time, will give us the rightful result."

HUGH KITTLE NEW FEDERATION HEAD

H. S. Principal Succeeds
Clark; Will Make Effort to Get Delinquent Money

Hugh D. Kittle, high school principal, was elected president of the Welfare federation at the annual meeting held at the Washington avenue headquarters Tuesday night.

He succeeds W. Douglas Clark who was asked to continue in the presidency but declined because of other activities, including his part in defense work and Boy Scout activities. Kittle is also active in Boy Scouts, having been recently named district chairman. Clark is district commissioner.

Other officers chosen included: Paul de Hagara, first vice-president; Mrs. Herbert Dobbs, second vice-president; Joseph Howley, treasurer; and John S. Charlton, executive secretary.

Those reelected to serve on the board of trustees for another three years included Mrs. William P. Adams, Herbert C. Schmutz, Hugh D. Kittle, Joseph Howley, Mrs. Morris Rochlin, Wayne R. Parmer and Edward J. Abramson.

New people elected to three-year board terms were Lindsey A. Graves, Mrs. R. L. Lundford, Mrs. John Massarano, George Newman and Nicola A. Duca.

No 2-Year Vacancies

There were no vacancies for the two-year term, but new people chosen to serve for one-year terms included Mrs. W. I. Labaugh, A. G. Salkeld, Mrs. John Denike, A. Hartley, Mrs. William Liebau, Max W. Seiler and R. O. Price.

Members of the nominating committee which made the recommendations were James M. Lynch, chairman, A. A. Buckley, Mrs. William P. Adams, Edward J. Maguire and George Weston.

Paul de Hagara and Abramson were named a two-man committee to endeavor to collect delinquent pledges for 1939 and 1940. It was pointed out that the federation now has a cash balance on hand of $471.99, representing surpluses of 1940 and 1941. If there were no delinquencies, it was said the cash balance would be over $2,000. If the money could be collected from delinquents, the federation budget in succeeding years could probably be lowered somewhat.

No Tires Given Out

No tires were issued or applications considered by the rationing board at its meeting in School No. 8 Tuesday night. The members headed by Edward Gramke, Andrew Jergens vice-president, studied plans for automobile rationing as outlined by the federal government.

Selections From 'Martha' To Feature Tonal Art Program

A highlight of the local musical season takes place on Saturday night when the Tonal Art Quartette will be heard in a concert sponsored by the Woman's club with the proceeds being contributed to the Red Cross War relief drive.

Although two members of the quartette and its accompanist are town residents, and the other two have local connections, this will mark the first time that the singers, who are widely known in Eastern concert circles, have appeared before a Belleville audience.

Mrs. William J. Irvine, general chairman, anticipates that the school auditorium will be filled to capacity when the program starts at 8:30 p. m.

Chosen by Mrs. John Denike to serve as ushers are the following clubwomen: Mrs. William Chapman, Mrs. Frederick Grant-off, Mrs. Elmer S. Hyde, Mrs. Daniel T. O'Connor, Mrs. Morris Rochlin, Mrs. Henry Squier, Mrs. Dwight N. Streeter and Mrs. Harvey B. Thompson.

Mrs. Edgar M. Compton heads the committee on arrangements.

Commission Candidates Lose At Least 1000 Votes Of Men In Armed Forces Unless --- ??

One thousand votes means a lot in any election—and there existed the possibility today that every candidate in the May 12 commission election would lose that many votes or a part of them before he starts his campaign.

That figure is taken as a conservative estimate of the number of local men 21 and over who will be serving the country in some branch of the service by the time election day rolls around.

A couple of hundred votes one way or another would have completely changed the complexion of the election in 1938, and it is easily possible that the same thing will be true in the one which will be coming up in three months. How to get them, and who would suffer most if they did not get any of them, or just a small fraction of them, was a puzzle that had the local politicians putting their fanciest thinking caps on this week.

It's estimated that around 800 men will be in the army through the draft by May. This does not count those who have volunteered for duty with the army, the navy, marines, air corps, coast guard or who have been called up for duty from the reserve lists. Others not taken into consideration are the civilians employed on government jobs elsewhere.

Guesses on the total number in service range from 1,000 to nearly 1,500 men, with the likely figure somewhere in between the two.

To Affect Elections Elsewhere

The societe de politique is not the only outfit that's been mulling over this unusual turn of events, but also head scratching and doing some pencil doodling has been County Superintendent of Elections Anthony P. Miele. Not only does he have an election in Belleville to contend with, but voters in Irvington, Orange and West Orange will be going to the polls, too, on May 12 to choose their commissioners. He's been getting bomb-like questions dropped on his glass-topped Hall of Records' desk from certain interested parties in those areas.

If the law governing the casting of votes by legal residents who are out of town should be followed out the window, the commission candidates can just forget about almost all of the votes that they might squeeze out of the service ranks.

As the present law reads, candidates for commissioner have up until 10 days before election, which is May 2, to file petitions so that their names will appear on the ballot. Then, they have two more days to change their minds and take their names off of the ballot. That brings it up to May 4 with the election on May 12.

Now, if Town Clerk Florence Morey really went to work in earnest with the help of the printer and the grace of somebody or other, she might get paper ballots to be mailed to servicemen out over night. That would mean May 5.

By thumbing over another page in the statutes, it shows that those in Uncle Sam's fighting forces must mail the ballots back four days before the election, which would be May 8.

Must Be Quick On Comeback

This means that within the space of three days, the soldier, sailor, marine or whatever he is, must get the ballot which is mailed from Belleville, think over his choices and mark down the "X's" and mail it back to Mrs. Morey so that she will receive it with a date mark on the envelope showing it was mailed not later than May 8.

What about the fellow who's in California, Texas, or even Florida, Panama Canal Zone, Hawaii, the Philippines, Ireland, Bermuda, Newfoundland, Cuba or any of the other dozen undisclosed places that Uncle Sam has sent his men?

It gets down to the fact that if a man is not in Fort Dix or some other place a stone's throw from New York, he could not vote if he wanted to. No ballot received after midnight, May 11, would count.

One of The News' staff buttonholed Superintendent Miele yesterday and he 'flowed as how a bill introduced by Assemblyman Lester Mahr of Essex is "now in the works" at Trenton. It was introduced before the legislature Monday night and Miele's hopeful that it will be pushed along so that it will be passed, signed by the governor and operative as a part

TOWN LAND GOES TO COOGAN CLIENT AT LONG AUCTION

Local Realtor Argues Down
Other Offers To Get Harvard and Jefferson St. Lots

At the end of a two-hour and twenty-minute public conference, one of the longest on record, the town commission Monday night sold property in Harvard and Jefferson streets after it had listened to arguments and proposals of four bidders.

John F. Coogan, Jr., realtor-commission candidate, finally gained the commissioners' nod, purchasing the Harvard and Jefferson street vacant land for $10,208. He said that he represented Strand, incorporated of Newark. After his agent's commission was deducted, the net to the town was $9,698.

The total amount involved in the land offered for sale was 1,386 feet of which only 459 feet is on Joramelon street.

All bidders but Coogan included the Joramelon frontage in their bids. The Gibbs Development corporation of Lyndhurst, bid with 13,860 with no commission; Brookdale Homes, incorporated of Nutley and Bloomfield, $12,500, less five percent commission. The other prospective bidder, Louis Schlesinger, incorporated, did not make a formal offer.

Argues Against Joramelon St.

At the outset Coogan set the stage for the evening's debate, pointing out that if the board accepted the Gibbs' high offer of $13,860, it would be letting the Joramelon street property go for slightly more than $4,000, which Coogan stated would amount to about $8 per foot.

The former tax assessor, leaning on the knowledge which he had gained during the 11 years he was in charge of town assessing and property sales, painted a picture for the board which purported to show that Joramelon street frontage was worth a lot more than $8 per front foot.

He said his client would build one-family houses on the Harvard-Jefferson tract, and added that the development would undoubtedly expand to Chestnut street and adjacent areas.

With building expansion such as that, Coogan told the board, Joramelon street would be ideal for a business area to serve those homes. He said that he believed the board would be wrong in selling the Joramelon street frontage at such a figure.

Herbert Goldberg, representing the Brookdale Homes, did not definitely reveal what his client would erect, but indicated that it would be multiple dwellings.

Gibbs said that he proposed to build 24-family apartment's. Goldberg finally raised his client's offer to $13,870, $10 higher than Gibbs' price and then Gibbs raised $20 more.

A Garden Apartment

In the midst of this bidding, Lester Marx representing Louis Schlesinger, incorporated of Newark, stepped forward with a

R-Weekend For Men Age 20-45; Must Register At School

If You Can't Get To Board, It Will Get To You

If you can't get to the draft board to register over the coming weekend, the draft board will come to you.

Whether you are an invalid, injured or sick, the law says that if you are between 20 and 45 and have not previously registered as provided by federal statute, you must be registered on Saturday, Sunday or Monday.

Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan, who is chairman of the draft advisory board, said yesterday that arrangements had been made for the members of that group to call at the homes of those unable to get to the high school for registration and take down the necessary information and secure their signatures.

The draft board office will be used as the clearing house to bring an advisory board member to your door if you are unable to register personally. Call Be. 2-1723 and arrangements will be made for an advisory member to visit your home.

Advisory members who have not already been reached should call Draft Clerk Edward Reed and they will be assigned persons upon whom they may call over the weekend.

SALVAGE GROUP LAYS OUT WORK

Second of Weekly Meetings
Will Be Held Tomorrow
Night; Urges Scrap Saving

The salvage committee of the defense council recently appointed by Mayor Williams will hold its second weekly meeting tomorrow night at Davidson & King's office at 414 Washington avenue.

Robert G. Sutherland heads the committee which has as its main purpose the establishment of a program to salvage paper, rags, metal and rubber. Its job is to inform the public and stimulate people to save materials which can be turned over to collectors.

At Friday's meeting, Norbert E. Bertl was placed in charge of technical data, Andrew Salkeld, household contact; Max N. Schwartz, executive secretary;

Charles M. Nutt, speakers' bureau; Mrs. Daniel O'Connor, ways and means; Miss Jane Donnelly, collection facilities; and Dr. O. B. Close, defense council liaison officer.

Big Group Leaves Tomorrow

The biggest draft contingent to depart from town yet will leave from town hall tomorrow morning shortly after 8 a. m. Following the receipt of instructions from board members, they will board a Public Service bus and be taken to Newark where they will board a train for Fort Dix.

The leader of the group will be Charles P. Conklin, a sergeant in the national guard for three years, and resident of 563 Washington avenue. Four assistants have been named who will aid him. They are Robert Wilson, 3rd, of 125 Overlook avenue;

Charles A. Bergman, of 63 Campbell avenue; Jerry Fuselli of 135 Belmont avenue; and James Vincent Iovino of 24 Naples avenue.

Would Push Mailing Data Ahead

Assemblyman Mahr's bill would provide, Miele explained, that the town clerk should obtain from the adjutant general, James I. Bowers, in Trenton a list of all of those who are in service and addresses to which correspondence is sent to them. The only law is that which was passed during the last world war in 1917, and that does not apply because permanent registration was not then in effect as it is today. Other provisions are also inconsistent with present election procedure.

At the present time, the superintendent claims, there is no legislation on the books which applies to men voting in war time. The only law is that which was passed during the last world war in 1917, and that does not apply because permanent registration was not then in effect as it is today. Other provisions are also inconsistent with present election procedure.

The ballots would be mailed back to the superintendent of elections' office with the man in the service placing his name and present address plus his home address on the outside envelope. In the inside would be a sealed, plain envelope in which would be the ballot. All ballots would be accepted up until 9 p. m. May 12, the same hour as the closing of the polls. The election office would then notify the municipal clerks on the following morning the results of the voting by the men in the service.

Some Would Take Air Mail Delivery

Even under the 25-day arrangement, a number of eligible men would be deprived of the opportunity to vote unless ballots were sent to them air mail and stamps were placed on enclosed envelopes for them to be returned air mail.

On the speed or the lack of speed by the legislature may hang the fate of more than one candidate. After all, a thousand votes, even 500, as a matter of record even a hundred, ain't nothin' to be sneezed at in these days of rationing.

R-weekend for an estimated 2,500 Belleville residents—citizens and aliens—between the ages of 20 and 45 will be held Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

This is the period which has been set by national selective service when all those in that age group must register with the government if they have not previously done so in one of the two prior registrations.

The local registration will be held at one place—the high school. With members of the draft board, their office staff and volunteer workers ready to handle the registrants, they will be at the school on Saturday and Sunday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Monday from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Those registering should enter the high school on the Holmes street side of the building at the entrance nearest to High street. Registration will take place in the old gymnasium.

More than 100 teachers have volunteered to assist with the registration. In addition more than 60 volunteers, most of them women, will be on duty Monday when the teachers will not be able to serve because of classes. Members of the draft advisory board, headed by Town Attorney Lawrence E. Keenan, will also be on call for duty.

All of the above named will meet tomorrow afternoon in the high school at 3:45 when they will be given instructions and sworn in for duty by Draft Board Chairman John P. Dailey.

Ask Only Nine Questions

Only nine simple questions will be asked those who register. Lieut. Col. Edgar N. Bloomer, acting state selective service director, pointed out yesterday.

Each registrant must furnish his name, place of residence, mailing address (if other than place of residence), telephone, age in years and date of birth, place of birth, name and address of person who will always know his address, employer's name and address and place of employment.

Registration should take a comparatively short time, Col. Bloomer said. Each registrant will be given a certificate signed by the registrar. It must be in the personal possession of the registrant at all times, Col. Bloomer warned.

Any person who fails to register will be subject to prosecution under federal statutes, it was said.

The biggest draft contingent to depart from town yet will leave from town hall tomorrow morning shortly after 8 a. m. Following the receipt of instructions from board members, they will board a Public Service bus and be taken to Newark where they will board a train for Fort Dix.

The film "WARNING", a picture showing bombing of London and the work of the Civil Defense Workers under actual air attack, will be shown.

A demonstration of bomb action and proper methods of combating same will also be made by Mr. William Gilchrist of our Fire Department.

It is very important that all members of our Civil Defense organization attend this meeting so that they may see, under real bombing conditions, the duties performed by the various committees.

BELLEVILLE DEFENSE COUNCIL

to be the largest of its kind in the United States. His offices are at Malden lane, New York, where he has been in business for himself since 1921.
The candidate was born in New York City on February 6, 1897. His schooling was cut short and he educated himself as he worked, starting in a two-dollar a week job with the Illinois Surety company when he was 13 years old. When war broke out in 1917 Hyde enlisted in the 417th telegraph battalion and saw many months' service in France. After the armistice, he was with the army of occupation in Germany until he returned to this country in 1919.
He is a member of the finance board of the Peddie Memorial church, and active in a number of local organizations.
His wife, a past president of the Woman's club, is active in a number of local affairs. He is the father of seven children.
Hyde said last night that he had no statement to make on his candidacy but that he would have an announcement to release in about a week. He said that George Irwin had been named chairman of the campaign committee working for his election and that Robert Smith would be his campaign manager.

Tickets may be purchased by calling Mrs. Irvine at Bc. 2-1114 or at the door the night of the concert.

Other members are Miss Ruth Miller, a teacher in School No. 5, of Passaic; Donald Gauss of Tappan avenue, Edgar Greene of Newark and Mildred Beaff of East Orange.
The program feature will be the presentation of three selections from VonFlotow's light opera, "Martha." To enhance its presentation the regular quartet concert formation will not be used. The group will use the standard operatic grouping with the stage action. The arrangement adds to the musical and comedy values of the music. Because of the concert program's length, the quartette has decided to omit costumes and scenery, as had been originally planned. Greene will act as the commentator and acquaint the audience with the story and setting.

FIRE FORCE KEPT DOWN '41 LOSSES

Buildings Fired Valued At $340,830, But Loss Was Only $18,626
The fire department was at its best during 1941 in doing its most important job at a fire—saving as much property from damage as possible. Of buildings and their contents valued at an estimated $340,830 which was threatened by fire, Fire Chief Robert A. Reid stated in his annual report to Public Safety Director Clark this week that the loss was only $18,626.
The total estimated value of buildings which caught fire was $287,280 of which $207,380 was covered by insurance. The chief placed the insurance loss at $13,174. The value of the contents was said to be $153,550 of which $140,000 was insured with the insured loss on contents $4,152 and the uninsured loss, $1,300.
During 1941 fire engines went screaming to answer 357 calls. The department received 271 alarm notices by telephone and 86 by the alarm system. Of the total, 18 proved to be false.
Deputy Fire Chief William Dunleavy, who has charge of the signal department, in his annual review of work submitted to Clark this week commented that 112 adjustments and improvements to the fire alarm system and 141 to the police recall system had been made during the 12-month period. Thirty-seven traffic signals and 130 police signals were repaired. During the year more than 35 miles of road lines, crosswalk markers and parking space designations were painted, Dunleavy said.
301 Accidents, Spatz Says
There were 301 accidents in 1941, Police Chief George Spatz revealed in his annual statistical resume on the work of the police department in 1941. Five cases of auto manslaughter were recorded, which was a drop of two in a to death fatalities from 1940.
Five hundred and thirty-two calls were received for the ambulance. Of the total, 333 were calls to transport sick people to or from hospitals. Forty-five were injured in auto accidents who required the ambulance.
The department showed a good average in the stolen automobile column. Twenty-two cars were reported stolen. Of this number, six were recovered by local police, nine by police in other communities and six were later reported as having been taken by friends. Twenty-three automobiles and two trucks stolen in other towns were recovered here by alert local policemen.
Of the 38 cases of breaking entering reported, 48 were solved. Twenty-six were house entries. There were five holdups with only two remaining unsolved.
More than 600 calls were made to the Newark Humane society to pick up dogs and cats. Fifty-two cases were recorded of persons having been bitten by dogs.
In the missing found lost reports, the department handled 1,000. Thirty-six were reported missing in the year and all were found. The same story held good in the cases of 22 persons who were reported lost.
The department average better than three investigations per day, a total of 1,200 being reported. Total estimate of stolen and lost property recovered during the year was put at $17,940.

Lewis N. Davenport, 77, Dies After Long Illness

Funeral services were held Sunday night for Lewis N. Davenport of 129 Union avenue who died Thursday after a long illness. Rev. John Struyk, pastor of the Belleville Reformed church, officiated. Interment was made on Monday morning in Glendale cemetery.

TOWN LAND

sketch of a garden-type apartment, which he said was similar to one built in East Orange.
All board members were interested. Marx was asked if his firm could bid. He said that their plan to erect a garden-type apartment hinged on securing the mortgage. Marx conferred with Town Attorney Lawrence Keenan briefly and the lawyer told Williams that Marx would post a $300 check guaranteeing that his firm would top the Gibbs' bid for the entire tract, if the sale was postponed two weeks.
Goldberg said his client would not go any higher. Gibbs objected to having money, and a possible purchase tied up for two weeks when he might buy some land elsewhere during the period. Coogan told the board that his client could not wait 10 days more for a decision by the board on the acceptance of his offer.
Attorney Keenan asked Coogan if he wished to withdraw his bid. "No I don't wish to withdraw," quickly snapped back the realtor, "mine is still the best bid that's been offered tonight."
Williams said he thought it would be fine if Belleville could get garden apartments such as those in East Orange.
Nice Picture But
"That's only a picture," Commissioner Noll injected. "Mail order houses have nice pictures in catalogues. I used to deliver for one of them and the customers most always insisted that they never got what they wanted. A bird in hand is worth two flying in the air. I think we ought to take Mr. Gibbs' bid."
Goldberg pointed out that Gibbs had an advantage on some of the others in that he did not have to make provision for a commission. If a commission were included, Goldberg pointed out, the Gibbs price would be over $14,500.
At this point, after Commissioner Waters had moved that the Schlesinger offer to post $300 be accepted and the sale postponed, Marx was asked if he felt that his company would pay $14,500 or more. He indicated that it would not.
Coogan then bounded back with the emphatic sales talk that his client's bid was still the best. The mayor and his former employee engaged in an exchange of ideas, during which Coogan several times played his old role of assessor in giving the commissioners information on the footages and ownership of surrounding properties.
Mayor Williams in summing up his recommendation that the property be sold to Coogan's client, reiterated many of the points which had been made by the realtor earlier in the evening against selling the Joralemon street land. The mayor visioned that the town would later obtain $20 or even more per front foot for the property.
Coogan after the sale had been confirmed, handed the town a check for $1,000 with the agreement that the balance would be paid in 90 days or at the time that the title to the land is cleared by the town.

One Challenge Met...

Now Another and GREATER One!

The pre-war drive for defense caused the greatest demand for telephone service in history. That challenge was met fully and on time. Now comes the challenge of the war emergency.

In the past two years nearly every one of the 192 telephone central offices in New Jersey has been enlarged—some entirely replaced

Extensive military requirements, especially at Fort Dix and Fort Monmouth, have been met. More than a thousand new or enlarged private telephone switching systems have been provided for defense industries and others. About 300,000 miles of telephone wire in cable have been added to the statewide network. The telephone organization has been strengthened by 1,800 more workers.

No one knows what further demands may be made upon the telephone or how difficult it may be to secure the essential materials for telephone expansion. You may be sure however that telephone workers will do their utmost to make the service do its full part to help speed the Victory.

Town of Belleville, N. J. 1942 BUDGET

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

By Mayor-Finance Director

TO THE GENTLEMEN OF THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS: As required by State Law, I submit herewith Budget Explanatory Statement covering proposed 1942 Belleville Town Budget and factors involving the management of our municipal business.

CASH DATA

Cash Balance of December 31, 1941.....$753,593.55
Paid to Board of Education for all School needs to July 1st, 1942—end of 1941-1942 School Year as per policy of past 5 years.....200,000.00
.....$553,593.55
Reserved for new fire equipment on order.....11,000.00

Cash Surplus as of January 1, 1942.....$452,593.53
$114,851.19 of above surplus came from Gross and Franchise Taxes, not used in 1941 as Anticipated Revenue.

Tax Title Liens created $43,395.86 of above sum, Delinquent Tax Receipts created $28,665.58.

These three items are specifically cited as types of surplus creations which may impel unwarranted optimism.

The excess of Gross Receipts and Franchise Tax was a non-recurring cash receipt, and the uses and abuses of non-recurring cash receipts have led many municipalities back to financial difficulties.

The resources of Tax Title Lien collections and Delinquent Tax Collections are becoming less valuable as sources of credits against budget needs.

Consideration of any decrease in Current Tax Collections, several new items which will be annual fixed costs, uncertainty of future Federal and State Taxes, in addition to the questions of non-recurring receipts and decreasing reliance on Tax Title Lien and Delinquent Tax Collection, as your Finance Director I urge that no unsound theories be introduced into the use of present Surplus Cash, nor any sum be used for a temporary tax rate advantage that may within a couple of years turn into a serious financial error.

Our Town has had a long and hard struggle emerging from the financialills of the early 1930's. Our gross debt has been reduced since 1930 from $7,800,000.00 to $4,995,000.00. Deducting sinking funds on hand, our present net debt is $4,500,000.00 on our Town, School and Water corporations.

Your Board of Commissioners have approved my recommendations to use $192,573.55 of Surplus Cash as a credit against the 1942 Budget needs. This action leaves a Surplus Cash Balance of $350,000.00. In 1941 we used $140,000.00 cash as a Budget credit, the 1942 Budget uses $192,573.55, an increase in cash of $52,573.55.

Of the above $350,000.00 Surplus Cash—$100,000.00 is invested in Defense Bonds.

TEMPORARY BOND RETIREMENT

During 1941, we paid off $19,000.00 in General Improvement Bonds, and $4,000.00 in Water Improvement Bonds; and this month we will pay off $4,000.00 more of Water Improvement Bonds.

This $27,000.00 under usual practices would be funded, incurring interest costs annually, advertising and legal expenses and an addition to Town Debt.

Retirement instead of funding temporary bonds, combined with steady reduction of funded debt by Town, School and Water divisions, can be done from Surplus Cash and presents the soundest municipal finance policy.

ANTICIPATED AND UNANTICIPATED REVENUES

Receipt in full during 1941 of $48,539.25, of 1938 and 1939 delinquent Gross Receipts and Franchise Taxes, (not used as Anticipated Revenues for 1941 budget purposes), Receipts of $60,641.60 of 1940 delinquent Gross Receipts and Franchise Taxes, (only 60% or $36,000.00 was used for 1941 budget purposes), and receipt of 1941 Gross Receipts and Franchise Taxes of $77,670.34 of over $86,000.00 as anticipated, produced a surplus of $114,851.19 over totals for 1941 budget purposes.

This sum is a non-recurring surplus, developed through very conservative estimating in preparation of the 1941 Budget, and must not be regarded as a type of resource that may ever develop again.

Municipalities, having used 90% of the delinquent 1938 and 1939 Gross Receipts and Franchise taxes, and 100% of the 1940 and 1941, for 1941 Budget purposes, as allowed by State Law, will face an embarrassing situation. Our 1942 Budget item on Gross Receipts and Franchise Taxes is based slightly lower than actual 1941 receipts for year 1941.

Tax Title Liens receipts have not been used as an Anticipated Revenue item for past 4 years, the actual cash receipts are credited to Current Surplus, this method avoiding estimating receipts on a highly variable budget factor.

1941 Delinquent Tax collections totaled $158,663.68 on an outstanding total of $268,000.00—the outstanding Delinquent Taxes as of January 1, 1942 total $168,000.00, therefore $105,500.00 appears as a reasonable anticipation for 1942, the result being a decrease in Anticipated Receipts of $29,500.00. With increasing current collections, the credit reservoir of delinquent taxes becomes lower, and only by maintaining a high current collection schedule can adverse budget action be avoided.

TAX COLLECTIONS AND CASH BASIS OVERLAY

1941 Current tax collections were 88½%, and Reserve for Uncollected Taxes for 1941 of $232,241.31 is lowered for 1942 to $202,898.11, a deduction of $29,353.20.

STATE TAXES—COUNTY TAXES

The 1941 State School Tax paid by Belleville was $89,462.88. The 1942 estimate based on available data is set at $91,500.00, an increase of $1,537.12, subject to change by decision of County Officials. The 1941 County Tax paid by Belleville was $210,592.95. The 1942 County Tax estimate is $223,047.58, an estimated increase of $12,454.63, subject to change by decision of County Officials.

I believe our estimates will cover any possible increase in County and State Taxes, and am hopeful final figures will be lower, if so, our estimated rate of 4.53 will be lowered accordingly.

New taxes have been imposed on local taxpayers by increasing County and State taxes. The following tabulation reflects a situation similar to decreasing local School receipts, showing why heavy increases in local tax dollars are required to overcome the increasing County and State Tax demands:

Year	County Tax	State Tax	Increase From 1937
1937	$151,698.65	$79,628.80	$
1938	181,422.83	89,867.72	29,724.18
1939	187,896.48	95,677.34	36,197.83
1940	189,600.92	97,901.27	37,901.27
1941	210,572.59	89,462.88	58,873.94

Cumulative Increase in County Taxes from 1937 to 1942 $162,697.22

Year	State Tax	Increase From 1937
1937	$79,628.80	$
1938	89,867.72	16,238.92
1939	95,677.34	89,196.14
1940	97,901.27	87,953.44
1941	89,462.88	7,724.64

Cumulative Increase in State Taxes 1937 to 1942.....$ 43,364.98

Total Cumulative Increase in County and State Taxes 1937 to 1942.....$206,062.20

Notwithstanding the local variable growth, and the generally recognized fine administration of Essex County, our local taxpayers have had four successive and substantial increases in County and State taxes, and while I am hopeful final 1942 County and State demands will be lower than estimated in 1942 Budget, an increase appears imminent. Again, as in the School Board problem, the most sincere efforts of your Finance Director and Commissioners are nullified by financial actions beyond local control.

The added taxes of County and State since 1937 plus the losses incurred by decreased State Tax Apportionment and Railroad Taxes since 1932 represent a sum in excess of the total local tax dollars appearing in the 1941 Belleville Budget for the local School System ($487,000.00) which non-receipts and added non-local costs have been absorbed by local taxpayers.

With real estate bearing all the cost of local government, (less Gross Receipts and Franchise Taxes and some minor credits and the major portion of local School costs, our Legislature must realize the increasing burden of non-local demands and decreasing receipts from State apportionment and Railroad Taxes for local school purposes are gradually jeopardizing the safety of property owners as well as the efficient management of competently guided school systems, not alone in Belleville, but State wide.

Due to the serious financial potentialities of a continuance of the above outlined problems, I am placing this portion of my Budget Statement before our State and County officials, State educational and Legislative leaders, and requesting Finance Directors of all other Essex County Municipalities to make similar surveys for comparison to use as basis of efforts to seek corrective measures.

REQUESTS FOR NEW EXPENDITURES OR EXPANSION OF PRESENT SERVICE

At our initial budget conference, your Mayor and Commissioners agreed that New expenditures would be acceptable only where immediately required or where substantial future gain to Town was indicated (See note on Main Street—New Highway and Defense).

Requests were received for expansion of certain existing services where health or safety was involved as it deemed proper to the usual need for most economical public operation, new and utmost important reasons exist for the expenditure of the least possible dollars.

New Defense taxes will reach into every wage and salary pocket. I sincerely believe few people realize how drastic our Federal taxes will be in 1942 and in later years. New demands will be placed for additional State taxes, and even the modest sum of $5,000.00 for our Local Defense needs is small compared to requests and recommendations.

No thinking citizen can justly question the need for new taxes for National and local defense if reasonable value is received, but all money spending agencies must cooperate in obtaining the maximum from their budgets and refrain from urging any program calling for new services or expansion of present services.

NATIONAL PLANNING RESOURCES BOARD

Your Mayor as Coordinator, and our Director of Public Works have surveyed public improvement programs covering types of construction, alteration which may at some future date appear worth while projects. The above National Board has made surveys of all Town and School buildings, equipment, fire alarm systems, and has tabulated all jobs in Washington for future days when unemployment may be a problem.

No expense has been incurred, no work must be done, but sound planning today and study of future potential problems by local, state and Federal officials may avoid many of the problems of the years between 1930 and 1937.

MAIN STREET

We have been assured a 90% contribution of $60,000.00 from State Highway and County Officials to construct a concrete road on Main Street from Nutley Town Line to Joramemon Street, Belleville, share to be 10% or $6,666.00.

Several new high grade industries have located in this area, and our local road maintenance cost for Main Street warrants this expense.

PASSAIC VALLEY SEWER COMMISSION CHARGES—NUTLEY SEWER CHARGES

The requirements of Passaic Valley Sewer Commission decreased from $20,453.63 to $10,230.16 for 1942, a saving of $10,223.47. The Nutley Sewer charges follow the charges of the Passaic Valley Commission and the Nutley Sewer Costs decreased from $5,900.00 to $2,544.40, a saving of $3,355.60—a total decrease in both items of $15,968.47.

WATER DEPARTMENT

The Water Department for the 10th successive year operated on a very profitable basis, showing operating profit and transferring accumulated surplus to Cash Surplus total.

Constant inspections and prompt repairs lowered line losses and purchases, records indicating substantially increased sales with only slight increase in purchased water costs.

NEW INDUSTRIES

Our Industrial growth has continued to date, the Walter Kidde Co., having recently completed one plant of 80,000 square feet, now building a plant of 180,000 square feet. On land recently sold by Town, will be erected another very large plant, and at the corner of Joramemon Street and Cortlandt Street, a new large three (3) story plant is being erected on land formerly town owned.

Care is exercised to obtain high grade industrial units and our industrial development program is regarded as very successful, and assures us of substantial additions to our taxpaying group.

PENSION FUND

The 1942 Pension Fund needs from taxes increased from $6,300.00 for 1941 to $6,600.00. The pension deficit estimated at $6,000.00 for 1941 Budget report, matured as a deficit of $6,000.00. My 1940 recommendation to maintain assets by entering in current budgets the deficits of previous year has become a State Law and our deficit of 1941 of $4,225.00 is increased by $1,775.00 to $6,000.00. Conferences planned as outlined in previous budget with Public Safety Director, Police and Fire Employees, and Finance Director have developed a program whereby Pension Fund is assured of $1,200.00 additional contributions hereafter.

BOARD OF EDUCATION INCOME LOSSES AND DEBT DATA

January 1, 1941—Serial Bonds Outstanding.....$1,135,000.00
Term Bonds Outstanding.....62,000.00
Gross Outstanding.....$1,197,000.00

1941 Debt Retirement Serial Bonds.....60,000.00
Term Bonds.....19,000.00
January 1, 1942—Gross Debt.....$1,118,000.00

(Bonds previously authorized $84,865.00 and not issued, were cancelled, eliminating said sum from Gross Debt financial reports of Town of Belleville.)

The Board of Education Budget represents 31.3% of the total municipal 1942 costs or a tax rate of 1.42 of the estimated rate of 4.53. Analysis indicates an increase of $28,001.73 over 1941, incurred by reduction of State receipts of $9,000.00, less Cash balance of $4,000.00 and $15,000.00 in wage increases.

Local School costs have required increasing sums of local tax dollars as follows:

1937-1938 School Year.....	$447,580.42
1938-1939 School Year.....	484,551.19
1939-1940 School Year.....	484,000.12
1940-1941 School Year.....	481,001.61
1941-1942 School Year.....	486,585.86
1942-1943 School Year.....	514,860.59

Above indicates an increase in cost to total taxpayers of $67,280.17 for the 1942 to 1943 School year against the 1937 to 1938 School year. Our School system operating year runs from July 1st to July 1st as per State School Laws, necessitating School officials to estimate costs beginning 6 months ahead and extending to 18 months in advance, therefore this new budget represents the School year from July 1st, 1942 to July 1st, 1943.

The need for more local tax dollars arises from four principal factors:

1. Decreasing contributions from the State apportionment funds and from Railroad Taxes, because said funds and taxes have been diverted to other agencies.
2. Increasing costs of material.
3. Increases to lower wage personnel.
4. Decreasing cash balances.

The following will indicate why your Finance Director deems it important that our local taxpayers, school officials and school employees appreciate how serious to all of us taxpayers, teachers and students are the losses in State apportionment and Railroad taxes to the local taxpayers:

Estimated Receipts School Year 1937 to 1938.....	$175,950.00
Estimated Receipts School Year 1941 to 1942.....	139,257.00
1941-1942 School Year Loss to Local Taxpayers.....	36,693.00
Estimated Receipts School Year 1942 to 1943.....	132,016.00
1942-1943 School Year Loss to Local Taxpayers.....	43,994.00

The following tabulation more definitely portrays why local schools are required to have more local tax dollars if the present system is to be maintained or improved:

School Year	State Apportionment and Railroad Receipts	Decrease from 1932-1943
1932-1933	$188,496.00	$
1933-1934	192,002.00	6,494.00
1934-1935	182,615.00	5,981.00
1935-1936	163,891.00	24,605.00
1936-1937	171,650.00	16,846.00
1937-1938	163,452.00	25,044.00
1938-1939	170,641.00	17,855.00
1939-1940	152,025.00	36,471.00
1940-1941	146,260.00	42,236.00
1941-1942	139,257.00	49,239.00
1942-1943	132,016.00	56,480.00

Cumulative Loss 1932 to 1943.....$281,251.06

The above listed recurring deficiencies of $281,251.06, indicates the increasing tax cost placed on local taxpayers because State funds and Railroad taxes heretofore available to local school systems have been transferred to other agencies, or have not been available to State officials for previous uses.

I have made this survey for the purpose of outlining to our citizens the problem confronting those who manage our local School affairs, and with the sincere hope that this and similar surveys in other communities will establish the fact that local officials, municipal and educational, have been unable to cope with a problem beyond local control.

This problem warrants the study of all citizens mindful of the need of educational opportunities for our youth and the study of State officials to the purpose of developing a tax procedure that will prove less injurious to local taxpayers and offer assurance to municipal and school officials that economical local public administration will not be nullified by conditions beyond local control.

As your Finance Director I appreciate the approval accorded to recommendations made by me to strengthen our municipal financial status, and as your Mayor, I appreciate the cooperation of my fellow Commissioners in developing and maintaining many municipal policies which have been accorded favorable comment.

Belleville enters 1942 in a financially strong position, strengthened by experience of overcoming many municipal ills, with operating cost and public properties in sound financial condition, retirement of temporary bonds instead of funds, and with continued prudent management of all local spending divisions, I believe we can maintain our present splendid financial position.

Respectfully yours,

W. H. Williams

Mayor-Finance Director.

Should Not Be Deprived Of Right

The possibility that perhaps a thousand or more of our citizens may be deprived of the right to vote in the coming town commission election is a condition which should be rectified with the wholehearted cooperation of not only the town commissioners but all other public officials and individuals.

The right to vote, to express a personal opinion, preference or belief is one of the sacred privileges of our democratic government which we constantly boast of to the rest of the world. The protection of this privilege is one of the basic principles of this war which we are now fighting.

If there is any group which should have the right to exercise that privilege, certainly every effort should be made to lift the barriers contained in present election laws which as they have been interpreted would make it virtually impossible for the many men this town now has or will have in service by May to vote in the municipal, primary or general elections.

According to the information which we have obtained from election officials, Assemblyman Lester Mahr, one of the representatives in the legislature from this county, has introduced a bill in the legislature which if passed would permit many of the soldiers, sailors, marines and others on war-time duty elsewhere to cast their votes.

If the legislature should show its customary speed in passing legislation, there is not much likelihood that it would be a law in time to permit local servicemen to vote. That is why we think that every effort should be made locally to impress upon the legislators the necessity for the speedy adoption of the bill.

Naturally, whirling about in the minds of the politically ambitious who want to be elected to one of the commission posts is the question of whether they would be better off with or without the votes of those in the service. One thousand votes means a lot in any election.

We are not as concerned about the gain or loss of these votes affecting the lives of some one of the politicians as we are about the fact that it would be unfair to bar many of our young men of a right to which they are most definitely entitled.

What A Great Man Would Say Today

In these times, and especially on this day, it is well to reflect on what one of the greatest of all Americans had to say about the importance of victory and the duty and obligation of the men who fight our battles.

The words taken from many of Abraham Lincoln's speeches of eighty years ago sound much the same as if they were made by one of our present day leaders. In his simple, yet beautiful, choice of words, the civil war president possessed the ability of conveying a message of great importance and teaching.

In one of his addresses to the soldiers of the northern forces, he made a statement that could just as well have been made yesterday. In part, President Lincoln declared:

"I always feel inclined, when I happen to say anything to soldiers, to impress upon them the importance of success in this contest. It is not merely for today but for all time to come that we should perpetuate for our children's children that great and free government which we have enjoyed all our lives. . . . Still, let us not be over sanguine of a speedy, final triumph. Let us be quite sober. Let us diligently apply the means, never doubting that a just God, in His own good time, will give us the rightful result."

Those who storm and berate people today who express an opposing opinion might well take a hint from the words of Lincoln who once said in responding to the greeting of some of his supporters:

"May I ask those who have not differed with me, to join with me in this same spirit toward those who have?"

Lincoln clearly expressed his opinion of isolationists and agitators:

"Must I shoot a simple-minded soldier who deserts," Carl Sandburg quotes him in his biography "The War Years" as having said, "while I must not touch a hair of a wily agitator who induces him to desert? This is none the less injurious when effected by getting a father, or brother or friend into a public meeting, and there working upon his feelings till he is persuaded to write the soldier boy that he is fighting in a bad cause, for a wicked administration of a contemptible government, too weak to arrest and punish him if he shall desert, I think that, in such a case, to silence the agitator and save the boy is not only constitutional but withal a great mercy."

Free of flowery expression, he once gracefully said of the work of women in war time:

"I am not accustomed to the language of eulogy. I have never studied the art of paying compliments to women. But I must say, that if all that has been said by orators and poets since the creation of the world in praise of women were applied to the women of America, it would not do them justice for their conduct during this war. I will close by saying, God bless the women of America!"

From this great man, from his many plain worded but most expressive teachings, these few which have been culled should give us much to think about.

Working Hours Change Many Things

The around-the-clock working hours of many people have already resulted in changes in a number of businesses and in plans being made for others.

Radio, which continually has an ear cocked for what the public likes and does not like, has discovered that listening audiences are spread over a 24-hour period. For some years, the day-time radio program has been one serial story after another. Women, it seems, go for that sort of thing. But, it has been discovered with many men employed in industries at night, they are home during the day to listen to the radio. They aren't interested in serial stories and they won't listen to them. Radio must find something else to hold the interest of these potential listeners.

Those in the entertainment and tavern business have found in recent months that many of their regular customers are missing. They are now working at the hours when they used to be taking up their time spending their money in some form of pleasure. Now they either don't patronize these places at all or are seen only one night each week.

The effect which the war has on our daily lives increase every day. Where we used to think little of traveling 80 or 100 miles for some enjoyment, we think twice now about the car, the tires and the gas. Business has discovered that it must regulate itself to changing conditions or suffer.

Let's Cut Out The Arty Stuff

In the early days of the New Deal we were treated to some A-1 brain-trusting which proved not only to be costly financially but a time waster.

Currently, we are going through the same in civilian defense. The down-to-earth, important things are being neglected for fanciful thoughts and ideas of some mentioned people who really do not know what the score is. Dance and play programs in air raid shelters for little children may be quite fine, but in this war, with the present slow pace at which we are moving in getting ourselves organized for the long struggle ahead, some of these doodads could be pushed aside for a while.

There's no worse thing that Washington could do at the present time than promote public discouragement or promote the feeling among the people that a big part of this program is a political football with a lot of incompetents who cannot find anything else to do being put in jobs just so they can draw down big pay checks.

Civilian defense has been kicked around for many months and the only thing that has resulted in a successful preparedness program being developed in many places has been local initiative. Too much stress has been placed by the OCD on some of the arty, glamorous phases of defense, when actually what the public should be prepared against is saving its dollars, conserving where it can and being prepared if anything does come our way in bombings or fire raids.

Drafting 18-Year-Olds

The question of lowering the draft age to 18 is under discussion. To be drafted into the army after leaving high school will, generally speaking, harm no youth as military training does discipline men for useful lives. Should the age limit be reduced, the 18-year-olds might be classed as cadets to receive training, making them first-class soldiers ready for combat duty when they reach 20 or 21.

If 18-year-olds leave high school and obtain employment, and are later drafted into the service, they will often lose good positions, and their employers will lose young men they have trained for steady work and advancement. To go into the service straight from school or college is a much better system than getting started in a trade or profession and then having to lead a completely new life for a year or more.

But while our armed forces are engaged in a combat war, no exemption for school or college, or work not really vital to our defense, should be allowed because it is very unfair to soldiers, and their parents, that some young men must be sent to the firing line while others live normal lives doing work which women, and men beyond the combat age, could do as well if not better.

When We Have to Quit Motoring

We cannot yet realize how serious will be the situation, when the restrictions placed by the government on the sale of cars and tires, because of the war, begin to be really felt over the country at large. The American public has become more generally dependent on private automobiles for getting about in the ordinary course of daily existence, and for traveling from place to place, than it ever was on horse-drawn vehicles and bicycles, "in the dear dead days beyond recall."

Millions of Americans, especially on farms and in small communities, suburban developments and remote industrial and defense plants, have no means of transportation but the motor car. Railroad and bus lines are too far away to be of any use to them. If their tires are worn out, or their present vehicles become too decrepit for further service, before the war is over and the restrictions are removed, what will they do?

Here is where the American spirit and American resourcefulness will be put to the test. Our people have faced bigger problems in the history of the country and found solutions for them. Being in the war to win, we must expect to have to make sacrifices of some things that have seemed so essential to our comfort and convenience. We'll work our way out of this transportation problem somehow or other, and be none the worse for the hardship or trials involved, in the long run. Here will be a great opportunity to apply Yankee ingenuity for all it is worth.

—Ridgewood Herald-News

price of $3.37 and most of the rest at $1.82 class III price. It would obviously be sounder for the farmer to sell 80 percent of his milk at the top class I price.

And this is entirely possible for New Jersey is a milk deficient state. If the dairies need milk for cheese and ice cream they can well import it from Vermont and Wisconsin, states which have a sizeable surplus. This would mean no difference in the consumer price, for the dairies now sell Jersey milk at prices competitive with milk produced in other states.

Unquestionably milk distribution is inefficient, with overlapping of routes, fancy special deliveries, etc., but much of this blame can be placed on the foolish public which demands such extravagant service. But there seems to be no justification for pegging the retail prices. If the quality of the milk is kept uniform by health supervision, a distributor should be permitted to sell at any price he wishes. The smart progressive company will, through advertising and research, command more for his product . . . as is being done with almost every other product the housewife purchases. Price ceilings inevitably pitch an umbrella over the least efficient, penalize the cost-saving operator.

The plea of many distributors that they need price protection as they operate their fluid milk business at a loss or tiny profit is absurd. Investigation in New York and Pennsylvania have proven conclusively that the major companies have taken advantage of their subsidiary companies producing cheese, etc., to cover up their fluid milk profits. The reports show, too, that cost accounting in the milk industry is unbelievably confused with the result that almost anything can be plausibly justified.

The difficulty with the present milk situation in New Jersey and too many other states is that the control boards have forgotten the number one party: Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public. Why not turn the thinking around and start considering the public when establishing milk control?

Recreation In Defense

Last week the recreation column of this newspaper briefly commented on the need for vibrant recreation with emphasis on the relaxing effects in maintaining sound balance during these trying times. The thoughts and opinions expressed if followed on a community basis or even partially so will make Caldwell stronger in terms of national defense. Another approach to community strength in preparation for that day we hope will never come is in the direction of physical fitness. What are we doing now to physically equip ourselves for the hardships which certainly lie ahead. What percentage of the men who volunteer in the local defense program for instance know that they are capable of doing manual labor such as cleaning away debris and fighting fires for hours at a time. Now is the time to toughen up!

Here in Caldwell and West Caldwell we are fortunate in having a recreation department that is tax supported and delegated to the task, together with other things, of developing leisure-time activities for adults. In keeping with the times the department is gearing itself to the national effort. In the physical conditioning activity group one finds a physical fitness class for men and one for women. Both classes are supervised by professional physical educators. In the Central school basement five regulation tables are available for table tennis and there is a group of enthusiasts who meet there every week. Square-dancing (and one must not scoff at the workout possibilities here) is conducted in the high school cafeteria one night a week. On tap for early organization is a "hiking club."

The claim is not made that the only way to develop physically is through an organized program but one has to admit that a program of this sort certainly helps. Let's not kick away a bargain! Get hold of Maxwell H. Tasgal who is the director of recreation through the board of education and ask him about the program. Don't think too much in that easy chair next to the radio. Get working on that waistline now!

The Forgotten Milk Man

For three years now this newspaper has been harping on the milk problem, with, sad to say, only small success. Basically an economic problem, it must of necessity become a political football, for milk knows no state boundaries. It may be that the ultimate solution will necessitate some sort of federal jurisdiction with local enforcement left in the hands of the state.

The recent milk hearings have disclosed much useful and needed information, but as far as we can gather, little attention has been paid to the three basic conditions which either must be remedied or controlled for the public benefit: First—the price paid to the farmer for ALL his milk; second—uniform cost accounting for the distributor; third—the public interest.

As has been pointed out, raw milk is bought on three bases, class I for fluid milk; class II for cream; class III for cheese, ice cream, evaporated milk, etc. While almost all attention has been focused on the price of class I milk, the hearings seem to have forgotten that the farmer is more interested in the total money received for all his milk. At present the farmer sells about 50 percent of his milk at the top class I

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The game of politics is seasonal. The controlling factor is the election laws. These laws fix the time for elections, the filing of petitions for the primaries that decide the candidates for those elections. Since these dates are the same each year, public response to them is likewise constant. Political emotions arise with the same regularity as the sap in the trees. Thus we know in advance that a certain number of months before the deadline for filing petitions for the congressional primaries, candidates will begin to get busy.

No outward disturbances such as the present war can change this picture. In fact, the war may be said to have stimulated interest in the coming congressional contests. The public instinctively knows that decisions of tremendous importance must be made by the American government during the coming years. In the long run these decisions must come from the people, and congress is still the most powerful medium for the translation of such decisions.

The person who would ordinarily scorn a seat in congress is asleep to the vast responsibilities of government if that would still be his attitude. Where under normal conditions a directorship in a large corporation or a bank might carry more prestige, now a seat in congress is temporarily more important. The public doesn't know just why this is true, yet instinctively it senses the fact.

Mortgaged To The Hilt

What has really happened is that the United States has suddenly become a great socialistic state. Private property which we have always valued so highly since America was first settled is now mortgaged to the very hilt for the prosecution of the great war in the history of the world. If the war is not won quickly private property becomes a myth, and the emoluments that come from the possession of property or the direction of capital may likewise be mythical. As in Russia, government will mean everything.

A seat in congress in the past has been looked upon as a very lowly post in the American scheme of things. We considered ours a government of laws and not of men. Congress was but a part of a system — and a very small part. In the socialistic revolution that is upon us, the congressman's position doesn't seem (for the time being) much different. The executive department of the government appears supreme. Even the traditional right of the congress to decide on war or peace was denied it. So far the executive department has been extremely skillful, both in guiding and in anticipating public opinion. It likewise has the confidence of the people in directing the vast collective effort of war. Congress has been and is little but a rubber stamp.

Change of Government?

But what if the executive should falter? What would be the public reaction if it should appear that we were actually losing the war? The American people might decide on a change of government as suddenly as did the German people in the Fall of 1918. They might conceivably decide on a change even if military defeat was not imminent. If they did so decide how would such a change be affected? Most likely through the congress. It was that body which took control after the assassination of President Lincoln in 1865. Things would be different today. But all of these questions are asked to emphasize the basic fact that a seat in congress during the next two years may be of vast historic importance. That body will have a part not only in the conduct of the greatest war in history but in deciding the future of a world which that war is bound to leave on the very brink of chaos. The 500 odd members of congress will either be directors in the organization that will control the world, or else they will be the receivers in the greatest bankruptcy in history.

So the public this year should

SCOUTS DEVELOP YOUNG LEADERS

Many Are Needed To Replace Those Being Called To War Duty

Directed by Frank Parachini, neighborhood commissioner, a Scout service corps is being set up to develop leaders among the older scouts who will be capable of instructing troops in need of help.

The service corps will devote itself to the mastering of signaling, first aid, mapping, compass and nature so that these Scouts will be ready and on call from any Scoutmaster who needs help in instructing his Scouts.

Parachini announces the selection of the following Scouts: Troop 301, Kenneth Potis, Jack Lawson, Bob France and George Guldner; 333, Ludwig Kowalski, Francis Larkin, Carl Nilson; 350, James Price, George Stewart, Dudley Hack, Arthur Clark and Russell Swenson; 386, Henry Russell; 389, Edward Denner and Jerome Holzman; 392, James Petro; 369, Bud Caruso; 388, Ernest Reock and Bob Weiss; Sea Scout Ship 303, Doug Sharp, William Memmer and Charles Watson.

District Commissioner W. Douglas Clark Jr., in giving his approval to this plan, said: "It was one of the finest developments in training junior leaders and holding their interest in the Scout movement." In addition, he said, it will be a contribution to their part in Scouting in times when manpower is being taken for the armed forces and when so much will be dependent on young men to carry on.

The following advancements are announced by Henry Minasian, chairman of the advancement committee: to Star Scout, Bob France, 301; Ed Denner, 389; and George Stewart, 350; to Life Scout, Ernest Reock, 388.

Troop 333 has collected 3,686 pounds of newspapers, to date. All other troops are working hard on the project to help national defense.
