GROUP TO HELP MEN IN SERVICE

Belwood Park Men To Aid Those In Forces; Others At Home

The list of those men willing to help those who are in the service grew steadily this week in the Belwood park section where an organization to be known as the Belwood Servicemen's Aid league is being organized.

Drawing its membership from that section, its main purpose according to John Hudson, publicity chairman, is to make life easier for those in the service and to furnish aid for their families if they are in need of assistance.

The next meeting of the group is scheduled for March 9. Because the organization is already growing, Hudson said that the consent of Commissioner Noll has been obtained for the use of the Recreation house.

A number of people have already promised financial donations to help the group in its program, Hudson said.

New men enrolled last night included: James Del Guerico, George Newman, George Stewart, Louis A. Noll, Patrick C. Grand, Norman Lauterbach, George F. Smith, Emanuel DeNoia, Fred Zusi.

Those previously signed are: James O'Dea, Frank A. Palmieri, John T. Amato, Peter Johnson, D. M. Gerson, William J. Robinson, Alfonso Pape, Ferguson Hendrie, Morris Weinstein, Ryan J. Lynch.

ATTENTION STOREKEEPERS

OUR COUNTRY IS AT WAR—Every man, woman and child is now being called upon to give his or her utmost assistance to help us to victory. Not all of us can shoulder a gun, sail the seas, or fly the air, or even work in a defense factory, but the humblest task that some of us might do without leaving our own home is vitally important during the present war.

ARE YOU AS A STOREKEEPER DOING YOUR PART?

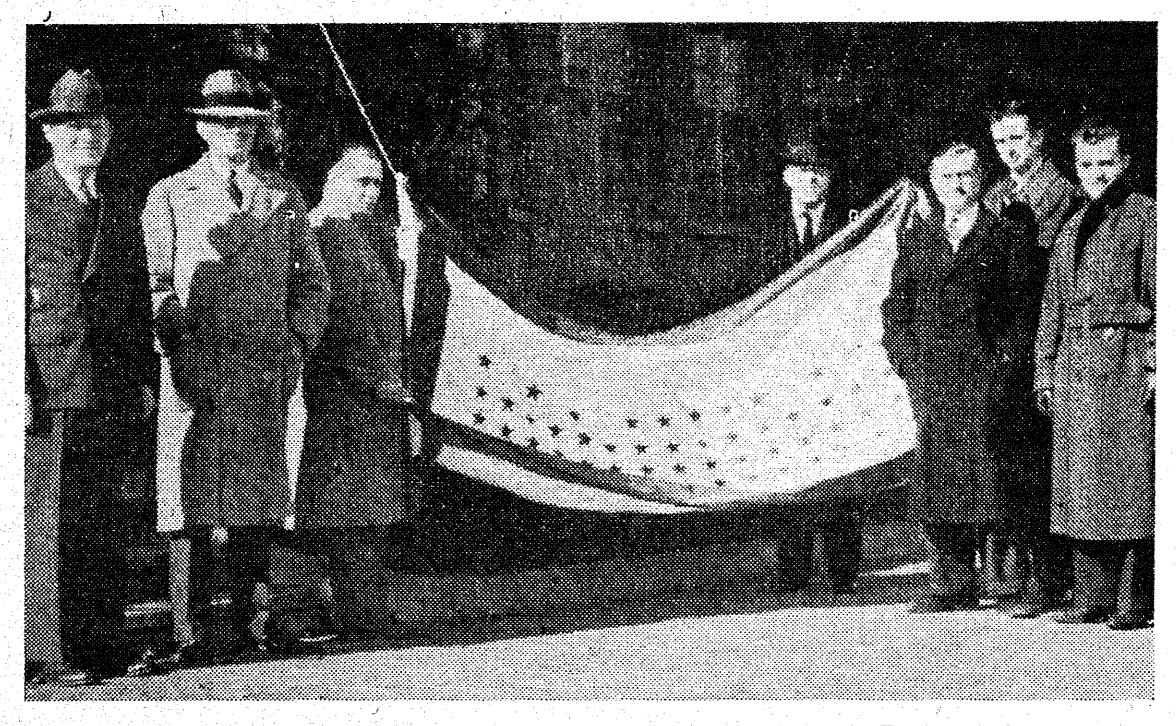

WHAT ARE YOU DOING WITH YOUR WASTE PAPER—OLD CARDBOARD BOXES, CARTONS AND OTHER WASTE MATERIAL THAT MIGHT BE USED TO SPEED UP OUR VICTORY?

ARE YOU SAVING THESE ARTICLES TO BE COLLECTED BY ONE OF THE COLLECTING AGENTS WHO, IN TURN, TURNS THEM OVER TO OUR GOVERNMENT—OR OUT OF THOUGHTLESSNESS LIKE MANY OF US ARE YOU DISPOSING OF THEM AS YOU WOULD RUBBISH—OR ARE YOU LETTING THEM BE THE VICTIM OF A MATCH?

WE, AS THE SALVAGE COMMITTEE OF THE TOWN OF BELLEVILLE, urge you to save all such materials, and are asking you to dispose of them thru any one of the CHARITABLE COLLECTING AGENCIES—such as

A Tribute To Those In Service

PARTICIPATING IN THE SERVICE flag raising at the Wallace & Tiernan plant Thursday morning were, left to right, C. F. Wallace, company vice-president; M. F. Tiernan, W. & T. president; Joseph Seeley, who is entering the army; John P. Service Flag Dedicated To Honor W. & T. Employees

Flag Bearing 55 Stars, Representing Number of Workers In Fighting Forces, Raised At Plant; Tiernan Tells Other Employees They Must 'Work For Victory' Daily

A service flag bearing 55 stars was dedicated and raised Thursday morning at the Wallace & Tiernan plant in Main street. Each star represents a company employee who has already entered some branch of the fighting service. As more of the young men in the concern's employ enlist or are drafted, a star will be added in their honor.

Present to hold the emblem during the brief ceremonies were Joseph Seeley and Edward Thorne, two youths who are among the latest "stars" to be added. They will enter the service shortly. Seeley has been called as a selectee by the Poughkeepsie, N. Y. draft board while Thorne has enlisted in the marines. Officials present to witness the flag unfurling were Martin F. Tiernan, W. & T. president; C. F. Wallace, vice-president; Emil Folbrecht, vice-president of the Independent Employees' Union of Northern New Jersey; Chester Davis, union secretary; Thomas Grant, union treasurer; John P. Dailey, company personnel manager and chairman of the local draft board.

Of the stars now in the flag, about an equal number represent reserve officers who have been called. The men have come from almost every department in the company, — from production, manufacturing, engineering and from the research laboratories.

In addressing the group, Tiernan said in effect, "These stars symbolize our fellow workers who have marched off to the colors. Their job is cut out for them. — They will be called upon to carry the fight to the enemy and may be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice. Our job is to keep them supplied with ample quantities of everything they need. To those of us who remain, an equally important task falls, for no matter what hardships these men endure, no matter what sacrifices they are called upon to make, they cannot be successful without our help. Production at the greatest possible rate of all essential materials must back these men up. We must not let them down but must, in all our daily tasks, 'Work for Victory'."

FIRE EQUIPMENT POOLING BACKED

Board Agrees With Clark That Town Must Cooperate With Others In Emergencies

The town commission voted Tuesday night at its conference to support Public Safety Director Clark's recommendation that Belleville join with other municipalities in pooling its fire fighting equipment in an emergency.

Clark told the board that Commissioner John Keenan, head of Newark's police and fire forces, had first suggested the plan at a meeting of public safety directors more than a month ago. Recently he said the City of New York asked the cooperation of North Jersey municipalities. He said that the plan would take in towns and cities in the area ranging from Edgewater south to Perth Amboy.

If there should be a major catastrophe, he explained, the fire fighting units in Jersey City could go to Manhattan's aid and those in Kearny, for example, would move into Jersey City with Belleville going to Kearny. The same would apply here, he said, with units from Newark, Bloomfield and Nutley probably coming here.

The question of local equipment going out of state came up and Clark raised the point if it would affect the insurance which is on the fire equipment. Town Attorney Keenan offered the opinion that it would only be necessary to notify the insurer. The compensation insurance on the firemen would hold, he said.

Mayor Williams said that if an additional premium payment was necessary, he favored it. "If we expect help from other municipalities," the mayor commented, "we should be ready to repay it."

First Performance Tomorrow Of 'Snow White, Red Rose'

The first performance of "Snow White and Red Rose" by the Newark Junior league, which is being presented to the children of Belleville by the drama department of the Woman's club of which Mrs. Dwight N. Street is chairman, will be given tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 at School No. 8 on Union avenue between Belleville avenue and Holmes street. Students of Schools No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 8 and 10 and St. Peter's school are invited to attend that performance.

On Monday, March 9, the play will be repeated at School No. 5 on Adelaide street at Greyluck parkway for the pupils of Schools No. 5, 7 and 9. Parents may also attend the performances which will last an hour. No admission will be charged, but a small fee will be collected to defray costs of transportation of scenery and costumes.

LLOYD PLACE LAND SOUGHT AGAIN

Builder Says He'll Build $8,000 Homes; Invites Residents To Study Plans

Residents of Lloyd place will be given the chance to view plans for houses which a builder proposes to erect there before the town will put the property up for sale.

On January 27, residents blocked the sale of town-owned lots there for $5,300 on the grounds that the houses erected would not be in keeping with the value of those already erected.

Edward J. Abramson, local attorney, appeared before the town board Tuesday night representing Philip Wilenski, Passaic builder, who made the offer for the property. He said that Wilenski would pay the town $6,000 for the property at 48, 48 1/2, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102, 104, 106, 108, 110, 112, 114, 116, 118, 120, 122, 124, 126, 128, 130, 132, 134, 136, 138, 140, 142, 144, 146, 148, 150, 152, 154, 156, 158, 160, 162, 164, 166, 168, 170, 172, 174, 176, 178, 180, 182, 184, 186, 188, 190, 192, 194, 196, 198, 200, 202, 204, 206, 208, 210, 212, 214, 216, 218, 220, 222, 224, 226, 228, 230, 232, 234, 236, 238, 240, 242, 244, 246, 248, 250, 252, 254, 256, 258, 260, 262, 264, 266, 268, 270, 272, 274, 276, 278, 280, 282, 284, 286, 288, 290, 292, 294, 296, 298, 300, 302, 304, 306, 308, 310, 312, 314, 316, 318, 320, 322, 324, 326, 328, 330, 332, 334, 336, 338, 340, 342, 344, 346, 348, 350, 352, 354, 356, 358, 360, 362, 364, 366, 368, 370, 372, 374, 376, 378, 380, 382, 384, 386, 388, 390, 392, 394, 396, 398, 400, 402, 404, 406, 408, 410, 412, 414, 416, 418, 420, 422, 424, 426, 428, 430, 432, 434, 436, 438, 440, 442, 444, 446, 448, 450, 452, 454, 456, 458, 460, 462, 464, 466, 468, 470, 472, 474, 476, 478, 480, 482, 484, 486, 488, 490, 492, 494, 496, 498, 500, 502, 504, 506, 508, 510, 512, 514, 516, 518, 520, 522, 524, 526, 528, 530, 532, 534, 536, 538, 540, 542, 544, 546, 548, 550, 552, 554, 556, 558, 560, 562, 564, 566, 568, 570, 572, 574, 576, 578, 580, 582, 584, 586, 588, 590, 592, 594, 596, 598, 600, 602, 604, 606, 608, 610, 612, 614, 616, 618, 620, 622, 624, 626, 628, 630, 632, 634, 636, 638, 640, 642, 644, 646, 648, 650, 652, 654, 656, 658, 660, 662, 664, 666, 668, 670, 672, 674, 676, 678, 680, 682, 684, 686, 688, 690, 692, 694, 696, 698, 700, 702, 704, 706, 708, 710, 712, 714, 716, 718, 720, 722, 724, 726, 728, 730, 732, 734, 736, 738, 740, 742, 744, 746, 748, 750, 752, 754, 756, 758, 760, 762, 764, 766, 768, 770, 772, 774, 776, 778, 780, 782, 784, 786, 788, 790, 792, 794, 796, 798, 800, 802, 804, 806, 808, 810, 812, 814, 816, 818, 820, 822, 824, 826, 828, 830, 832, 834, 836, 838, 840, 842, 844, 846, 848, 850, 852, 854, 856, 858, 860, 862, 864, 866, 868, 870, 872, 874, 876, 878, 880, 882, 884, 886, 888, 890, 892, 894, 896, 898, 900, 902, 904, 906, 908, 910, 912, 914, 916, 918, 920, 922, 924, 926, 928, 930, 932, 934, 936, 938, 940, 942, 944, 946, 948, 950, 952, 954, 956, 958, 960, 962, 964, 966, 968, 970, 972, 974, 976, 978, 980, 982, 984, 986, 988, 990, 992, 994, 996, 998, 1000.

Parrillos Get $350 That They Did Not Expect

Charles J. and James Parrillo, operators of the well-known night spot in Harrison street, received a $350 windfall from the town this week that they did not expect. Under an ordinance passed late in 1934, the two brothers from 1935 through 1941 had annually paid the town a $50 fee for a dance hall license.

Mayor Williams told the board Tuesday night that it was not the intention of the ordinance to require places such as that operated by the Parrillos to pay the fee. He said that it was his recommendation that the money be returned to the brothers and the board agreed. Williams said that the Parrillos would apply the $350 to taxes.

New Voters Must Register With Clerk By April 2

Will Also Be Final Date For Transfers; Candidates Can Spend Up To $1,159.50; To Draw For Ballot Position

Those who wish to vote in the town commission election on Tuesday, May 12, who are not already on the permanent registration lists, must register at the office of Town Clerk Florence R. Morey not later than April 2.

Persons who have moved since the last time they voted, even if they are on the permanent registration list, must secure a transfer from the town clerk not later than the April 2 date. This ruling holds good even if the person has moved across the street. Any change of address is regarded as a transfer.

New registrants may report to the clerk's office or transfers may be obtained Mondays through Fridays from 9 to 4:30 and on Saturdays from 9 to 12. The office will be open from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. on March 10, 11, 17 and 24 and also on March 30 and 31 and April 1 and 2.

Mrs. Morey issued a number of regulations yesterday which apply to candidates for the commission posts. The last date for candidates to file petitions has not been filed as yet because of pending state legislation. It may be set at April 2, which would be 40 days before the election. This may be done to enable the clerk to have paper ballots printed and mailed to the men in military service.

The minimum number of petitions which a candidate may file with the clerk is 30. The amount of money which may be spent in the interest of any candidate is 10 cents for each vote cast at the preceding general presidential election, according to Mrs. Morey. There were 11,595 votes cast in

EXTEND DEADLINE ON 1942 CARS UNTIL MONDAY

Local Board Allots One Car; Give Men In Service A Break

A few days' leeway was given those residents who purchased 1942 cars before January 1 but did not receive them because of the national "Freezes" order put into effect by federal officials.

Originally, today was to have been the last day for applying for and receiving certificates for the automobiles release, but State Rationing Administrator Robert W. Johnson announced that it would be extended to Monday. The change was made because of the failure of many local rationing boards, including Belleville's, to receive instructions and other materials in time.

On Tuesday night the board meeting at School No. 8 rationed its first car when the Guarino Marble Works, incorporated of 740 Washington avenue was given authorization to purchase a car. The concern furnished proof that the car had been fully paid for before the "freezing" order went into effect on January 1.

Four other applications have been received Ruel E. Daniels, board secretary, said but all have been tabled pending the receipt of proof of purchase prior to the first of the year. He emphasized yesterday that those persons who paid dealers cash on order for new cars prior to that date must present an affidavit from the dealer so stating before the rationing board can act on the application.

The state rationing authority this week announced another amendment to its present restrictions on the sale of new cars. Johnson announced that the transfer of a new car on or before March 9 will be permitted for any man who is now serving or has been called into the service or has been notified that he will be called for induction, or has enlisted and taken the oath of office in any service branch. Those coming under this classification may apply to the rationing board for the right to transfer a car to another person. All applications must be accompanied by a written statement from an authorized officer in the service of from a member of the selective service board attesting to the eligibility of the applicant.

Daniels also announced that the local board has been granted 16 retroactive truck tires for this month. One obsolete tire was granted to Oscar Holtz and two to Albert Walker by the board Tuesday night.

Hold Hearing Tomorrow Night On 1942 Municipal Budget

The 1942 municipal budget calling for a nine-point drop in the tax rate to $4.53 will be presented to the town commissioners tomorrow night for adoption. The special meeting and hearing is scheduled to be held at 8 p.m.

With the public works department headed by Commissioner Waters the only one showing a decrease in anticipated expenditures, the total budget is set at $1,846,898.11. The amount to be raised by taxation is set at $1,399,304.56.

Noll First Present Board Member In The Field

Announcement Of Independent Candidacy Breaks Up Talk That Present Five Would Run Together; Headed Parks and Property Dept.

Commissioner Louis A. Noll, director of parks and public property, today became first of the present five commissioners to announce that he would be a candidate for re-election to the town board at the May 12 election.

Key point of Noll's announcement was his comment that he would be an independent candidate and that he is not in any bracket of candidates.

This shattered the thought which had been circulated in some circles in recent weeks that the five present board members would run as a ticket for office again. In 1938, which was the first time that he sought public office, Noll polled 4,327 votes. The 43-year old parks and public property director is the head of the Trent Trucking company which he organized more than 17 years ago, with offices on Washington avenue and Mill street. The company has been hauling merchandise and produce for the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company since it started. The firm is a member of the Interstate Chamber of Commerce.

The commissioner is a past president of the Lions club and a prominent member of the Elks. He is married, residing at Belleville avenue in the Belwood Park section and has one son, Tony, who is a student at School No. 10.

Recreation Chief Interest

During his four-year term, the director's chief interests have been the town recreation program in which he has sought the expansion of playground activities and of the softball and basketball leagues for groups of all ages. He has also campaigned for better bus service and is currently bent on securing permits from the public utilities commission for the operation of two cross-town bus services by the Public Service Coordinated Transport company.

At the start of his term on the board, Noll jumped himself into the limelight by refusing to vote for a resolution providing for a $450 pay increase for the commission members. The four other members favored it, but the following year did not take the jump.

REFUSE TAVERN NEAR KIDDE CO.

Commissioners Vote Down Maiorca Request For Transfer To Main Street

The town commission voted unanimously Tuesday night to turn down the application of Charles A. Maiorca to transfer his tavern from 46 Harrison street to 603 Main street.

Mayor Williams was the first to speak out. "Frankly," he said, "I'm opposed. I think it's out." He went on to explain that two units of the Walter Kidde plant are in the near vicinity and that a third is under construction. There will be cafeterias there and he said that he did not believe a tavern would be necessary. There are enough drinking places in the vicinity now, he concluded.

Both Commissioners Noll and King added that the board must keep in mind the owner of the building in which the tavern is now located, pointing out that he may be left with a vacant place and unable to pay his taxes.

Out They Go—Nickels And All

The operators who own the machines were caught flatfooted and only one was able to get out one machine of the 30 licensed, before the police got around. Since the operators have the keys which open the machines, the nickels in the coin boxes went to police headquarters along with the machines.

Prosecutor Wachenfeld's order followed the decision of the supreme court in the Teaneck case in which it ruled that a town ordinance is legal and that the machines are gaming devices.

Bill Brady and Jim Donachie Have Their Big Night

Two local selectees will leave for army service next week with not only the verbal but the financial well wishes of their friends.

Bill Brady and Jimmie Donachie, prominent Petran club members, who frequently have been the men behind the stick at Ralph and Betty's in Washington avenue, had their night on Thursday.

With the boys behind the bar, an estimated 400 of their friends jammed the place to wish them good luck and also help them build up their profits, all of which for the night went to them as a farewell gesture from the owners. In addition, the pair were presented with a purse by their friends.

PUBLIC SEND-OFF FOR DRAFT GROUP NEXT THURSDAY

Exercises At School; Parade On Washington Ave.; V.F.W. To Be In Charge

The townspeople will be invited to join in the farewell send-off to be given Belleville's largest draft contingent when it leaves next Thursday morning to enter the service.

Draft officials announced yesterday that a brief ceremony would be held at the high school at 8:30 a. m. to which members and friends of those departing and the public at large would be welcomed. Those who knew what it meant to serve under the Stars and Stripes in the first World War, veterans of the George Younginger Post V.F.W., will be in charge. John P. Dailey, draft board chairman, will speak briefly.

Following the exercises at the high school, the selectees will march down Washington avenue headed by the school band. In front of the town hall they will board a Public Service bus which will take them to the Pennsylvania station in Newark where they will board the train for Fort Dix.

To Be Regular Feature

The members of the board of commissioners have been invited to participate in the exercises and march down the avenue with the men. This is the first of regular send-off exercises which is planned by the draft board for departing groups of men leaving for the army.

Draft officials said they believed that it would help the public to better understand and realize the number of young men who are leaving town to serve their country, would give the people an opportunity to bid them farewell and be a fitting gesture to make toward the soldiers-to-be.

When the contingent swings down Washington avenue after the exercises at the high school, they will be led by Frank Anthony Siegler, R. O. T. C. man who has been picked as the group's leader, and six assistant leaders. The latter will include William J. Brady, organizer and past president of the Petran club; Stanley Joseph Guskis, Edward J. Manning, Francis W. Smith, Anthony C. Steffanelli and William Joseph Vallazza.

The next group of draftees scheduled to enter the service will report at the town hall Friday morning, March 7, at 1:45 a. m. to be sent to Newark for pre-induction medical examinations.

P. S. VALLEY LINE STARTS MONDAY

Will Run From Nutley Line To Penn Station On 15-Minute Headway

Public Service Coordinated Transport will start a new bus service here on Monday morning when the extension of the No. 100 line running from the Pennsylvania station starts running. Commissioner Noll, who granted local consent for the line, announced that it would operate on a 15-minute headway and that it should prove a transportation aid to those living in the valley section and working in plants in that area.

The bus now starts from Pennsylvania station and comes north over McCarter highway, Ogden street and Riverside avenue to the Newark-Belleville line. It will now continue along Main street to Mill street, west to Washington avenue, north to Rutgers street, east to Stephens street, north to Greyclark avenue, east to Main street and north to the Nutley-Belleville line.

Public utilities has postponed until March 19 action on the Public Service application for the Silver Lake-West Belleville line. The Garden State lines opposed granting of the permit. Commissioner Noll, appearing as a witness before the utilities board hearing Thursday, emphasized the need for the line both by the residents and the employees of plants in the Lake area.

YANK PINBALLS IN FAST TIME

Cops Moved In Quickly After Order; 29 Machines Seized In Hour's Time

Pinball machine "contributors," store and tavern keepers and machine owners were sad today as they looked at the vacant places where their favorite bell ringer once stood. Scarcely had Prosecutor Wachenfeld's edict that all machines be confiscated reached Police Chief Spatz Tuesday afternoon when men under Deputy Chief Elmer Leighton were carrying machines out of confectionery stores, taverns and lunch wagons.

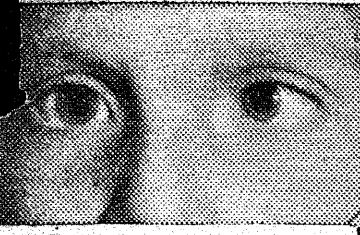

Trucks from the shade tree and public works departments and men from those bureaus were drafted to help the police using the police patrol and the truck donated to the defense council by the National Grain Yeast company in hauling the machines to headquarters. There they were placed in the garage in the rear of the town hall where they now sit under lock and key awaiting further orders of the prosecutor.

The operators who own the machines were caught flatfooted and only one was able to get out one machine of the 30 licensed, before the police got around. Since the operators have the keys which open the machines, the nickels in the coin boxes went to police headquarters along with the machines.

Prosecutor Wachenfeld's order followed the decision of the supreme court in the Teaneck case in which it ruled that a town ordinance is legal and that the machines are gaming devices.

THIS PERFORMANCE WAS REPEATED IN 28 other places here Tuesday afternoon when complying with an order of Prosecutor Wachenfeld following the supreme court ruling, police confiscated pinball machines. Operators were able to get out only one machine, it was said, ahead of the police who swooped down in all parts of town and gathered in the nickel takers in an hour's time.

Somewhere in This Town

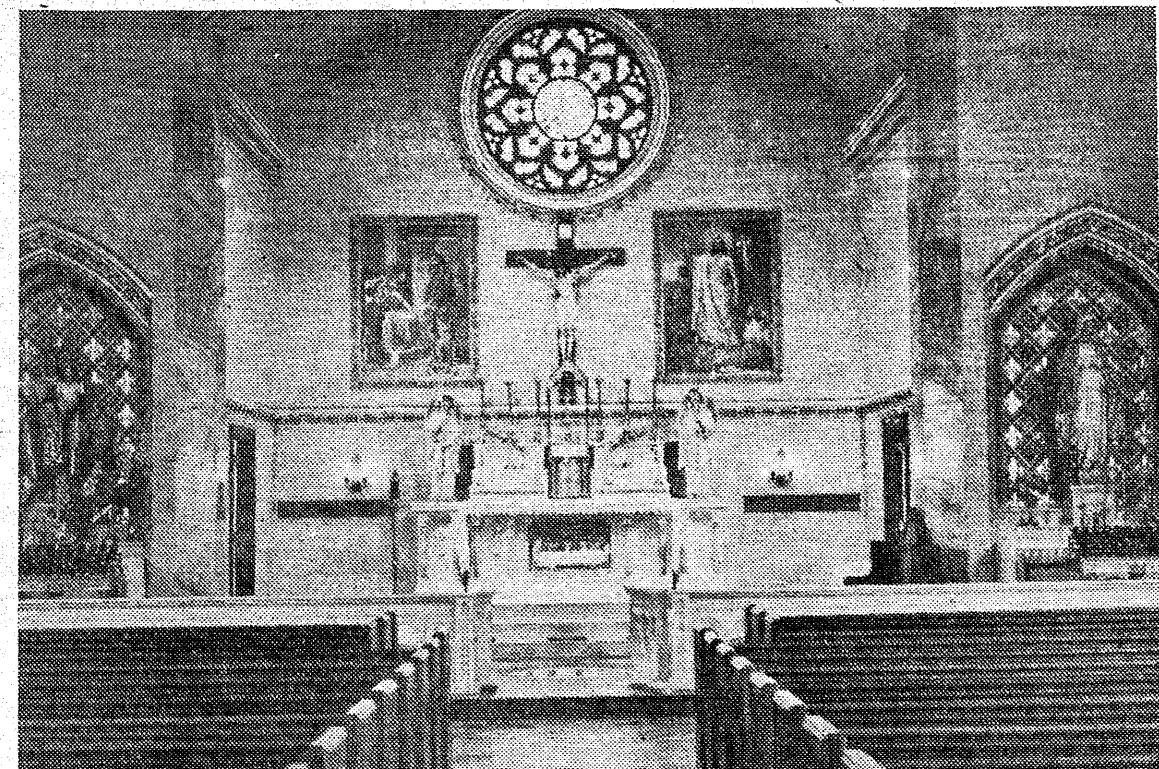

Somewhere in this town, we feel sure, there is a little girl or little boy we don't know, who has crossed eyes.

For the sake of this single child, we print this message to the parents: Crossed eyes do not straighten themselves. Your child will not "out-grow" this sad affliction.

For it is a sad affliction. Not only from the standpoint of appearance, but also because of its effect on the child's character and personality. Supposing you saw the faces of loved ones in a blurred, distorted fashion! If you are the parents of the little boy or little girl with crossed eyes, please come in and see us, and let us talk over what can be done for your child. Do not let the thought of cost keep you away; that can be arranged. While we have the skill and knowledge to liberate a child from this handicap and make his entire life more pleasant and more successful, we do not want any child within our reach to suffer all his life because his eyes are crossed.

Paintings Feature Nuley Church Re-Decoration

RE-DECORATION OF THE ALTER in the Holy Family church, Brookline avenue, Nutley, was completed this week with the hanging of two paintings, "Christ Before Pilate" and "The Resurrection," by John LaRossa, over the altar.

A new schedule of masses starts Sunday at the church with services hourly from 7:15 to 12:15 with the noon mass a new one added to the Sunday schedule.

Conflicting Defense Ways Has This Man Confused

Mayor William this week turned over to Everett B. Smith, defense council chairman, a letter received from Sidney A. Browne of Van Houten place in which the writer criticized the local civilian defense setup.

Browne pointed to several personal experiences which made him believe that confusion exists.

Browne sent a copy of his letter to The Times. It said as follows:

"If 'Lil Abner' was a volunteer of the civilian defense of Belleville, he would say 'it's very amuzzin' but confuzzin'."

"In the middle of December, I volunteered for the demolition squad and after several 'important and emergency' phone calls, I was asked to remain at home on Christmas day and New Year's day in case of an emergency, without any instructions as to what my duties were or what I was to do. Later, I was notified of a meeting which I attended with 23 others and after much discussion, it was found that most men had been solicited to volunteer and if they were too old or worked out of town during the day, they were not to be used as the regular squad but only as substitutes, or let go.

"At a later meeting of the squad (which was attended by three persons) it was found out that the men who worked in town during the day lived out of town at night and vice versa. Hence, two squads were suggested but we were informed that although this was necessary to properly cover the sector in question, it was impossible due to the fact that only a certain number of arm-bands were allotted to that sector. Because of those petty obstacles and lack of organization, those who volunteered lost interest and either joined some other group or forgot the entire matter.

Now Are Confused

I joined the air raid wardens and we got off to a fine start. We organized. We secured certain information from the families in our sector to whom we presented our credentials. We had meetings. We attended movies and lectures and were also given pamphlets to study. Then we became confused and stalemated. Why? Because we now are repeating ourselves and contradicting our original instructions and ideas.

"For instance, the movies that were shown recently, showed how to use a soda and acid fire extinguisher and a foam extinguisher to fight incendiary bombs, and then we attended a lecture, and the lecture advises against the use of soda and acid extinguishers and foam extinguishers due to the fact that the soda and acid extinguisher will create a carbon monoxide gas and the foam type some other poisonous gas. So what are we to do, or believe?"

"Next, one lecturer will advise, at the time of a bombing, to go into the cellar and others say to remain on the first floor. Which is right?"

"In the pamphlets of instructions to air raid wardens, we are advised to phone our immediate superior if there is any damage done in our sector and he is to notify his superior and so forth. Yet our actual organization does not support this. Why the pamphlets, if they are not going to be followed?"

"Then there is the dispute which Father Kelly is having

Jews To Observe Purim At Monday, Tuesday Service

Purim, the Feast of Lots, will be celebrated by Jews all over the world, beginning with sundown Monday evening. Monday is known as the Fast of Esther, commemorating the day when the Jews of the Persian provinces of Syria fasted and prayed that they be spared the massacre planned by the ruthless Haman.

Tuesday will be celebrated as Purim proper. Purim marks the historic episode in the history of the Jewish people that occurred in the Eastern provinces of Syria during the reign of Ataxerxes II when Mordecai, a well-known Jewish merchant was held in high esteem by the court, because he prevented the killing of the king by frustrating a plot of two of the king's guards.

Haman, an officer in the king's court, was jealous of Mordecai. Not satisfied with merely venting his anger on Mordecai, he wanted to destroy all of his people, all the Jews in the provinces. By some ruse, Haman induced the king to order the pillaging of all the Jews. Lots (Purim) were drawn, and the chance fell upon the date, Fourteenth of Adar.

The Jews in all the land fasted and prayed. In Shushan, the capital city, Mordecai conveyed the news of the decree to his niece, Queen Esther, whose Jewish ancestry was unknown to the court. Esther invited the king and Haman to a feast, and pleaded with her master for the lives of her people.

The king then issued a new decree giving the Jews the right to defend themselves. He removed Haman from his high office and ordered him hanged. Mordecai was installed in his place. Jewish people everywhere celebrate this event yearly, thus attesting to their loyalty to the eternal truths of Judaism.

The Congregation Ahavas Achim and affiliated groups will celebrate the holiday in many ways. Services will be held at the synagogue on Monday evening, March 2 at 6:30 p.m. The Megillah, the Biblical book of Esther will be chanted. Rabbi Rubin R. Dobin will officiate and Morris Rosen will act as reader. Special arrangements for the attendance of children have been made.

The Purim services on Tuesday morning will start at 7:30 when the Megillah will be chanted. After services children will have a masquerade party and play holiday games.

Organizations affiliated with the synagogue will observe the Purim festival at affairs of their own. The Sisterhood will hold a Purim party at its regular meeting, Tuesday, March 3.

Soldier Thanks Red Cross for New Woolen Sweater

The American Red Cross chapter recently sent a shipment of sweaters made by production committee workers of wool purchased by chapter funds to Fort Williams, Me. This week a letter was received from a soldier, Corp. Francis Padgug, stationed at Fort Williams.

"Today I received a sweater and scarf from the Red Cross. The sweater bore your emblem," he wrote, "and I certainly want to thank you for it. I have enough money to buy one, but I probably never would take the time to do so. You know, bought ones are never as good as the home knitted ones anyway."

THIS "extra something" is in action today in many places. In the telephone service we know it as the Spirit of Service—the thing that brings forth instant extra effort to meet emergencies—fire, flood, storm, and now war and war-time needs. It is responding to the sudden crisis of today and to the long hard job we all now face. New Jersey can be certain that the telephone organization will do its utmost to meet the service needs of the war emergency.

Don't Put It All At Local Door

A resident, who is apparently most willing to do his part to help civilian defense, writes this week that he is quite confused about the local program. Conflicting instructions have left him at sea, it seems.

There is nothing singular in his confusion. It is quite common, not only here but elsewhere, and it really cannot be put at the door of local officials because they are following directions from higher up. However, if you should read a book dealing with a certain phase of civilian defense published by the state defense council and then one on the same subject issued by the office of civilian defense in Washington, you would probably find that there are varying opinions on the right and wrong thing to do.

Likewise important is the fact that, like military chieftains, civilian defense executives are learning that what they thought was the right way to do it, is apparently incorrect.

Humanly typical of this is one of the instructions given out to those training to be air raid wardens, which in turn should be passed on to householders. One of the original gospel rules of precaution to tell the householder if there should be an air raid, instructions said, would be to fill the bathtub and all available utensils with water.

One day some smart boy figured out that if everybody followed the rules, there probably would not be enough water to go around, or at least there would not be any left. So, the instruction was changed with the recommendation that householders be advised to draw some water but not to lean on the faucet too heavily.

While this may not seem important, it is typical of some of the tangles which have occurred in our hurried rush to prepare ourselves for an emergency if it should come.

As has been written here before, burden for the trouble should be placed at the top of this gigantic organization, before the bottom of it can be blamed. During the past week or so several of the key leaders, who sought to load the OCD up with odds and ends of doo-dads have been tossed out or have taken the hint and left voluntarily. Each day it becomes more apparent that civilian protection is important. Somebody with a big pair of shears had better start cutting red tape and doing it quickly before we all bog down in a swamp of confusion.

fervently pray that disaster will never strike, but we have learned that we cannot afford to take the chance and that we must face facts and reality.

How much more satisfied many people would have been in some of our major disasters if the victims had been fingerprinted and could have been identified! Every parent of school children should give their consent to have their youngsters fingerprinted. It is to the interest of every family.

In fact, we favor fingerprinting everybody.

Red Cross with a well planned, mapped out program which could be put into operation immediately. Best known today among the various divisions of the Red Cross is its first aid group which is headed by Mrs. Louis A. Noll.

Under her direction classes have sprung up in all parts of town. Whether they have been large or small, the chapter has willingly responded to the request for instructors. Groups of volunteers in the emergency defense units are in training, but more important than that are the hundreds of citizens who have shown a desire to learn what first aid is all about.

Doctors, nurses and others could not be every place if a major disaster should occur. Individual responsibility and the ability to do something would be important, so that the more people trained in first aid, the better are the chances that Belleville people will be helped.

If there's never a disaster or an emergency in which the knowledge they are receiving may be used, those qualified in first aid will have learned something which will always serve them well in their homes and daily life.

At this writing it appears that pinball machines are dead in New Jersey. The opinion reached by the supreme court this week in which it ruled that the machines were gambling devices spelled the end of the nickel takers. The defendants may appeal to the court of errors and appeals, but the strong wording of the supreme court verdict left little room for argument and little for the probability that the higher court would reverse it.

Justice Perskie, who wrote the opinion, did not take any middle of the road viewpoint in reaching his decision. "We have no hesitancy," he wrote, "in factually and legally stamping the pinball machine as a game of chance. The pinball machines involved are nothing but ingeniously designed and purposely constructed mechanical gambling devices to appeal to, induce, lure and encourage the gaming instinct in the public generally and children particularly."

Although the court's decision applied specially to a case involving Teaneck, its effect will carry throughout the state. The case was scarcely dry on the decision when Judge Wachenfeld had sent word to Essex county police chiefs telling them

by Meador Wright

There is a story going the rounds that Joseph A. Bower of Montclair and Harold G. Hoffman have torn a close working agreement that covers not only the senatorial contest this year but the gubernatorial primaries on 1943. Convinced that Dr. Lester H. Clee means to run, Hoffman and his followers were faced with the necessity of taking some stand regarding his candidacy. Naturally they mean to oppose him. The decision they had to make was the nature of this opposition. Some of Hoffman's friends wanted him to enter the race, or at least to leave himself available in case developments should present an opportunity to wage a successful campaign. After due study, however, Hoffman decided against either course. He couldn't afford to give up his UCC job to become an active candidate and it became evident that a waiting game would not add to his strength, or be politically practical in other ways.

The next thing was to decide on whom he would support against Clee. After looking over the field the decision was made, according to the story, to back Bower to the limit. Bower in turn has pledged full support to Hoffman next year if he seeks the Republican gubernatorial nomination. This places Bower definitely in the anti-Vanderbilt camp and means a long-range alliance with the Hoffman camp. If Hoffman, himself, should decide not to run for governor, nevertheless he would have a candidate. And Bower would support the man decided upon by the group.

If true, this has political significance of the first order. Bower apparently is serious about a political career—as a candidate if possible, but as a maker of candidates at any rate. Hoffman is in much the same position. He wants to be governor again. But if it seems the will of the people that he is not to be, then he wants to play a role as an influence behind someone else. In a sense such an alliance between Hoffman and Bower is logical. Bower is immensely wealthy, but he is much more than that. He is not looking for a place to invest some wealth that he does not need so much as he is looking for a career of public service. Being a man of iron determination, he will not let political difficulties dissuade him. He thinks he can make the grade eventually and he means to try this year for the Senate.

Hoffman, too, must keep his hand at the political game. He has invested too much effort and acquired too much political skill to quit. Still in his middle forties, he can wait for years if necessary until political shifts in his direction. But he must keep his following together at all odds. This requires alliances and the mixing in an occasional fight if for no other reason than to keep a following experienced.

The existence of any such alliance will naturally be denied from both sides. Bower will endeavor to get the support of Hoffman's followers without incurring the hostility of those who will work against anyone Hoffman is for. But when the time for voting comes, the former Governor's

Fingerprinting Of Children Is Right

We can just see some parents throwing up their hands in horror at the thought of their children being fingerprinted. Some more foolish school ideas, eh?

It is far from that. The board of education in approving of the plan took a far step in the interests of the parents of every child in school. Criminals and fingerprinting have gone hand in hand for years, but we have learned that prints of our fingers are the most accurate means of identification.

While it may seem grim and gruesome, and that is currently the trend of the times, the schools are doing the right thing. We

We Need to Be More Hardboiled

General Douglas MacArthur's 62nd birthday this week aroused anew enthusiastic admiration for the stand MacArthur and his troops are making on the Bataan peninsula. This veteran general has fought 200,000 or more Japanese to a literal stand-still, and until they can overcome him and reduce Corregidor fortress, their capture of Manila and its harbor is of little use to them. The long battle is extremely embarrassing to the Japanese, since they could use the thousands of troops to better advantage in the attacks on Singapore and the Dutch East Indies.

Delay and more delay is the best hope of the united nations for victory in the Pacific—delay until we and our allies can get more troops and more planes over the thousands of miles to the South Seas. It is this element of time which will tell whether the Japanese will crash through to dominance of the whole South Pacific or whether we will be able to hold a few key positions until we can secure dominance of the air. If only we can wrest control of the air from Japan, our fleet can again begin raids on the long lines of Japanese supply with disastrous effect on them. But it will still require immense effort in the factories of this country and along the supply routes for us to secure this air dominance.

Enthusiasm for MacArthur contrasted sharply this week with the shortcomings of Lieutenant-General Short and Admiral Kimmel, as revealed in the report of the Pearl Harbor board of inquiry. On first reading the blame rests largely upon these army and navy heads in Hawaii, but a more careful perusal of the report and a little contemplation on its implications reveals the fact that blame is more widespread. The army and navy departments in Washington did send warnings to the commanders at Pearl Harbor that war was likely with Japan, but at the same time they reported to them that Japanese ship movements were towards the South Pacific and that apparently their aircraft carriers had not left their home ports.

Fundamentally the whole nation was caught napping for the reason that no one has believed, probably for the last 100 years, that any country would be so foolhardy as to attack the great continental nation of the United States. The government thought it quite possible that Japan would move against Singapore or the Dutch East Indies, but against the great fortress of Pearl Harbor—never. This does not, of course, absolve General Short and Admiral Kimmel for their mistake in judgment, but actually they were only sharing the belief of all the rest of us.

The United States has gone through a bitter 10 years of disillusionment—a 10 years of almost stubborn refusal to give up the belief that peace could best be achieved in the world by disarmament and that isolation from a world-wide war was possible. Simultaneously, Germany was devoting its entire energy to arming and Japan was devoting almost as much effort to the same purpose with American raw materials.

A more hard boiled attitude is now imperative. Either we win and dominate the world with the collaboration of our allies, or Germany and Japan win and dominate the seas, control the sources of raw materials, and convert the world to totalitarian government. We not only must win both in Asia and in Europe but we must after the war continue to dictate disarmament of the gangster nations. There is no other choice, however hard it may seem.

Raising Public Servants' Pay

The issue of salary increases for public employees promises to figure prominently in local politics in many states. With local taxes already high and the taxpayer facing unprecedented new burdens the public should be considered as well as public servants.

The matter came to a climax in Detroit, where a strike by the city employees union, which sought a 15 percent wage increase, was narrowly averted.

A chorus of echoes has followed Governor Leverett Saltonstall's advocacy of pay raises for Massachusetts state employees. A bill proposing a 20 percent blanket boost for all state employees has been filed. In Boston, the city council has gone on record, without inquiring into figures on living costs, for a municipal pay raise.

Salary increases for public employees may definitely become necessary because of higher living costs. They may already be imperatively humane for low-salaried workers. But on considering blanket increases, it must be recognized that many non-public employees are now being forced to accept substantial curtailment in buying power because of rising prices and, even more, because of rising taxation. This war's sacrifices should be borne by everyone, including public employees.

Even when granted, wartime public pay raises should be related to the cost of living and therefore should be on a temporary basis. They can be given as extra bonuses or for one year at a time. Unless it is made crystal clear that such increases are temporary, officials may find it politically impossible after the war to scale down personnel costs to a reasonable level.

Wanted: The Will to Win

Is it possible that the effect of Pearl Harbor is beginning to wear off? Can it be that we have merely exchanged one form of complacency for another, even more deadly?

For there is one complacency that is bred of over-confidence and another that stems from a spirit of resignation to whatever befalls. The first, may get us into trouble. But the second can well lead us into disaster.

When Pearl Harbor hit, we first were consumed by a burning sense of outrage; the "up-and-at-em" spirit reigned. Then we heard a lot about reprisals, soon to be visited upon the enemy. But gradually the story changed... heavy losses, rumors of disaster, and finally more factual appraisal.

But along with these facts came the reiteration that we must expect more bad news, that this would be a tough, long war. This may be true, but in the telling of it, something was lost of that Pearl Harbor spirit. We seemed to be getting used to the idea of being licked. AND WHAT A STRANGE, NEW ROLE THAT WOULD BE FOR AMERICANS.

For a time we thrilled to the gallant stand of Wake island. But have we forgotten it? Have we forgotten that between the headlines of the brave stand of MacArthur are men dying in the ravines and on the beaches of Bataan?

How many Americans actually are taking into their homes, their offices, their factories... and their prayers... the stark reality of MacArthur and his smoke-begrimed heroes dying that we may be free! Does it all seem so far away? Has no one who has seen a battle told how awful war is? Can it be that all these warnings to avert panic have sowed lethargy rather than battle?

Whatever may be the reason for the change since Pearl Harbor, we must soon find some way to keep the American people awake to the realities. We must nourish our own fighting spirit to keep ourselves at work with the selfless devotion that keeps MacArthur's men at their desperate task.

Somehow we must make this war a very personal thing. To this end we make the suggestion that the casualty lists should be published, not in a way to give the enemy information, but just the names and addresses of the boys who have gone beyond. Each name would be recognized by relatives, friends, and neighbors. The word of a single life laid down for the nation would stir some spark of feeling.

Then we might have an America keenly aware of the toll of battle, grimly conscious of the personal responsibility, ready, willing, and eager to go all out to help avenge these brave men who are making the supreme sacrifice!
