BANK WILL OPEN SPECIAL HOURS FOR WAR HELP

First National Doors Open From 4 to 6 P.M. for Benefit of Workers

Increased employment in local industries this week prompted the First National bank to announce an addition in banking hours for the convenience of these workers. Banks have been called upon recently, it was estimated, to cash pay checks weekly totalling more than $100,000.

With the recent addition of an industry bringing to town more than 1,500 employees, the First National bank found that it was unable to accommodate these employees during regular banking hours because of their numbers and because of the inconvenience it would put workers to because of the hours they must be at their occupation.

The bank announced yesterday that its door would be open tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m. and every Friday thereafter for the cashing of employees' checks exclusively. Wilbur W. Brooks, executive vice-president of the institution, announced that the new service would be to avoid delay in serving other customers during the regular banking hours.

"Hub" of Activity

Brooks further pointed out that banks are the "hub" or center of war activities, not only because they provide the currency to meet pay-rolls of defense workers but also because they provide many loans to industries engaged in war work, making it possible for these industries to purchase materials and meet pay-rolls until the products are finished, billed, and paid for.

Adding to this part of the war program, Brooks stated that banks were helping to finance the war by buying government bonds in large quantities. The banks in Belleville have bought over $3,000,000 government bonds of various types for their own accounts and have assisted the government in selling in Belleville over $1,000,000 in "Defense or Victory" bonds, without any cost whatsoever to the government.

As They Marched Off To Help Uncle Sam

MARCHING OFF to war. Led by veterans of the first world war, town and draft officials, Belleville's largest group of selectees are shown as they marched down Washington avenue in send-off ceremonies last Thursday morning. After their four-block trek down the Avenue from the high school they boarded bus which took them to Pennsylvania station, Newark. Sign on bus in photo at left was a reminder to "Keep 'em Flying."

Local Druggists Start Shorter Hours Monday

The local druggists in an effort to conserve light, heat, and manpower in cooperation with defense efforts have announced shorter store hours which will go into effect Monday.

The new schedule of closing will be at 10:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings and 11 p.m. on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Emergency prescriptions needed after these hours may be obtained by calling the police department. The department will locate the pharmacist desired so that the prescription can be filled.

Daughters Of America Aided On Mailing Privilege Bill

A representative of the Daughters of America claimed this week that the organization was the one which originally sponsored the free mailing privilege bill for soldiers which Congressman Hartley succeeded in having passed by Congress last week.

At Hartley's office this week it was stated that the Daughters of America were one of the numerous organizations which recommended the introduction of such a bill to the congressman more than a year ago.

Most of the boys are now in distant parts of the country, for they were not kept at Fort Dix for many days. Some are headed for Mississippi. Others for Texas or Washington among the more distant places.

New Closing Hours For Belleville Drug Stores

To further the conservation of Light, Heat, Power and Manpower in the interests of National Defense, the Pharmacists of Belleville have decided to shorten store hours.

The closing hours of all Belleville Pharmacies effective Monday, March 16, will be:

Mon. thru Thurs. - - - 10:30 P.M.
Fri., Sat., Sunday - - - 11:00 P.M.

The cooperation of the public of Belleville is asked in having their Pharmaceutical needs attended to prior to these hours.

Emergency Prescriptions

Emergency Prescriptions, however, will be treated as such. Call the Police Department for any Prescription needed after closing hours; they can reach your Pharmacist at all hours.

General Commodity Committee Formed By Defense Group

The newly appointed general commodity group of the consumers' interest committee of the defense council held its first meeting on Monday night at town hall.

George H. Weston has been named chairman by Dr. E. A. Nyiri, who is the head of the consumers' branch.

The purpose of the committee is to discuss ways and means to check increasing prices of commodities and also what can be done to assure adequate supplies of materials for the use of local consumers.

Other members of the committee are Miss Mary Miller, Mrs. Arthur Ackerman, Mrs. Julia Hutter, Mrs. John Cannon, Mrs. Arthur E. Mayer and Mrs. Luther E. Van Pelt.

Mrs. Ackerman was named secretary of the committee which will listen to written or verbal complaints regarding short weights or measures of staple articles (not food), fuels, clothing, etc., or any justifiable complaint Mondays at 7:30 in the town hall.

20-44 MEN WAIT FOR TUESDAY'S DRAFT LOTTERY

Only Numbers From 1-2,109 Will Affect Belleville Residents

Next Tuesday more than 2,100 Belleville men between the ages of 20 and 44 will have their ears cocked for the radio or an eye on the first newspaper to learn where they stand in the third national draft lottery.

In Washington, capsules containing numbers on green-colored slips (in tribute to St. Patrick's day) will be drawn to determine the order in which men will be called for service or to be classified by local draft boards.

All of those who were enrolled in the recent weekend registration period have been given a serial number by their local boards. Here, as throughout the country, the cards of those who registered were shuffled and reshuffled, by draft officials. Each registrant was given a "T" number, meaning the third draft. Local numbers run from 1 to 2,109. Any number which is called in Washington beyond 2,109 on Tuesday night is not of interest to local registrants and will not affect them. Locally, they are affected by the numbers in the order in which they are called only as they apply to the numbers within the 1 to 2,109 category.

Wait Official Result

After a report on the official tabulation is received from Washington by the local board, they will start sending questionnaires to those who are registered. How long it will be before this occurs is not known, but it is doubtful if it will be before the end of the month or the first week in April.

A complete list of those who were registered in the 20-44 draft and who have been given a number for Tuesday's drawing is published on page 3 of the second section.

DRAFTEES SCATTER TO MANY POINTS

Some Headed For Texas and Mississippi; Others To Washington

Young men who went off to war with the draft contingent that left Belleville last Thursday morning were rolling toward the Pacific coast and the state of Washington today, headed for Mississippi, had arrived there or were due to land in Texas.

This is the way in which army officials scattered Belleville's largest draft contingent within a few short days after their departure from town amidst a public send-off from relatives, friends and the general public. Some had scarcely become settled at Fort Dix when they were notified that they would be en route to distant training centers on Saturday morning.

A number of town officials participated in the brief exercises held on Thursday morning in the flag bedraped high school auditorium. The crowd which jammed the auditorium opened the program with the singing of the national anthem followed by brief remarks by John P. Dailey, draft board chairman. After the roll call, Dailey gave them instructions and assured them that the actions of the draft board in sending them into service had not been willful. Some may have been injured or hurt by the board's actions, he said but stressed that he believed all of them would return to Belleville better citizens.

Mayor Talks Briefly

Mayor Williams gave a short address wishing the men well. Other commissioners who attended the exercises were Joseph King, Patrick A. Waters and Louis A. Noll. Others present include John Cannon and Herbert V. Hachman, draft board members, and Charles A. Gebhardt, draft appeals agent for this territory.

Members of the George A. Younger post V. F. W. formed the color guard which stood at attention throughout the ceremony. They led the parade down Washington avenue to the town hall where the selectees broke rank and boarded two buses which took them to Pennsylvania station where they took the train which transported them to Fort Dix.

The members of the police department followed the color guard in line after which came the high school band, the commissioners and draft officials and then the draftees.

Draft Clerk Edward Reed said yesterday that no word had been received from state headquarters yet on the number who would be called in the next contingent which is due to leave shortly after April 1. He said that he expected the call would go out within the next week.

RATIONING BOARD WANTS SOME HELP

Volunteers Will Be Needed To Assist In Sugar Registration

An appeal for volunteers to assist the rationing board in the registration of thousands of persons representing families when the enrollment for sugar rationing takes place, was made yesterday by the local board.

Went Be Enough

Although the services of all of the 196 teachers in the public schools will be drafted, Rationing Secretary Ruel E. Daniels said they would not be enough. The forms which must be filled out for each family will take about 15 minutes to fill out. Since all of the registration must be done in four afternoons and evenings, it would be impossible for a force of less than 200 to handle it.

All who are willing to help with the work should call Daniels at his office in School No. 8.

The board issued its first order for a new car this week when the police department was given authorization to purchase a new Ford from Briggs & Mead.

Federal Leather company was given a certificate for one new truck tire of passenger car size while Dr. Barney Schaffer was allowed three tires. Joseph Raaser was given an order for three truck tires.

Edward G. Smith

COMMISSION RACE LAGS A BIT

Edward G. Smith is Lone Candidate of Week; Commissioners Delay

The town commission election is two months from today but still four of the present members of the town commission, all veteran members of the board, have failed to officially indicate if they intend to run or not. Filing time for petitions is less than that, for under new bills passed in the state legislature this week, which Governor Edison is expected to sign shortly, all petitions must be filed by candidates not later than April 2.

Lone candidate to announce his intention of running this week was Edward G. Smith, World War veteran, of 232 Ralph street. A candidate in the 1938 race, Smith has resided in Belleville for the past 17 years. He is the father of three children.

Born 48 years ago in St. Mary's, Pa., he studied at Penn State college and upon graduation was a teacher for four years. He was later employed by the post office for four years and for the past 21 years has been in business for himself.

In the first World War, he volunteered for service in 1917 and was promoted to a first class sergeant soon after his enlistment. He was stationed at Camp Joseph Johnson at Jacksonville, Fla. and at the time of the armistice was enrolled in the officers' training school.

He is the seventh candidate to announce his candidacy. Others already in the field are Commissioner Louis A. Noll, John F. Coogan, Jr., Raymond Mertz, Elmer S. Hyde, James Tully and Gerald Farrar, who yesterday became the first candidate to file his petitions with Town Clerk Florence R. Morey.

Four members of the town commission last night overrode Mayor Williams' opposition to the use of a parcel of town-owned land in the valley section for a playground, which was requested by a delegation of residents from the area.

By their action, Williams said the board had deprived the town of an industry which would have occupied 40,000 square feet of space, would have erected a modern type plant and would have had an annual payroll exceeding $140,000.

The mayor said that he was not opposed to a playground for the section, but argued that he believed the area in the vicinity of School No. 9 would be better and safer from the traffic hazard view point.

The property in question which the town owns is bordered by Cortlandt street, Bellavista avenue and Stephens street. The Heyer Products company is situated on the opposite side of Cortlandt street. The mayor said that officials of a concern which he said he was not at liberty to divulge but which he termed a "very desirable industry" were prepared to make an offer for the property and had drafted plans for the erection of the building on the tract which covers 68,000 square feet.

A group of residents headed by Lindley Graves of Cortlandt street appeared before the board asking that the property be designated for a playground. The mayor indicated early in the debate that there was a good prospect that an industry would locate there.

The mayor argued that the playground at School No. 9 could be enlarged considerably by the use of town-owned land which is adjacent to it. It would then have a total area of 66,500 square feet, including the 55,000 which the town now owns. It would be safer he said because there would be only one street, Ralph street bordering on it, while three streets border the other property. A fence could be erected on Ralph street, he said.

At the close of the discussion, Williams pointedly remarked, "If the election were not eight weeks away, some people would not be doing this and some of the stunts wouldn't have been pulled that have been during the past week."

"Can't we forget a factory for once? Our children are at stake," Graves commented at the outset of the discussion.

Williams remarked that it was a possible industrial site. To which Commissioner Waters replied, "I'd be willing to sacrifice a factory."

The mayor asked him if he thought it was right in view of the fact that another piece of property which could be used for a playground lay idle 200 feet away.

"Yes," Waters replied, "it's not a question of dollars."

O. K. '42 BUDGET, DOWN TO $4.47

Fifteen Points Whittled Off 1941 Rate; Lloyd Place Land Sale Approved

The town commission last night approved the municipal budget for 1942 after Mayor Williams had informed the board that Commissioner of Local Government Walter R. Darby had given his approval.

Williams said that based on the latest estimates of the county the rate this year would be $4.47. Two weeks ago he town had shaved three points off the rate. With this week's added three points, however, the total drop from last year's rate to 15 points.

The board also approved the sale for $6,000 of lots in Lloyd place on which Philip Wilensky, Passaic builder, will erect seven homes to sell for $8,000. The decision to sell followed a lengthy conference with property owners in the vicinity.

RESIDENT DIES IN TRUCK CRASH

Joseph Giannotti, Foreman, Killed In Kearny Collision; Lived Here 14 Years

Joseph Giannotti, 42-year old Watessing avenue resident, was fatally injured Friday morning when the automobile which he was driving collided with a truck in Davis and Hamilton avenues, Harrison.

A resident of Belleville for the past 14 years, Giannotti, who was born in Italy, was a foreman for the Pullman Dining Car company in Harrison. He is survived by his wife and two children, Conchita and Vincent.

Mertz Names R. G. Sutherin His Campaign Manager

Raymond C. Mertz, candidate for the town commission, announced yesterday that he had appointed Robert G. Sutherin of Perry street his campaign manager.

Sutherin, a well-known local resident, is an advertising executive. He recently was general chairman of the successful Red Cross war relief drive in which $10,000 was raised and has been named chairman of the salvage committee of the defense council.

HOW TO SALVAGE WASTE AND SCRAP

Clip these official instructions and tack them to your wall

Save everything that you can. The government is dependent upon waste and scrap as an important source of the raw materials so critically needed to win the war. Your time and effort in saving your waste will be helping the boys on the fighting front. Don't turn in anything which you need or use and which would have to be replaced by new materials. Cooperate with your merchants by refusing bags, boxes, and cartons which are unnecessary and help them save time and gasoline by fewer deliveries.

It helps the collector and the converter if you separate your articles. Make tight, compact bundles that take up as little space as possible on a truck. Light, loose bundles get the bulky and fill a truck too quickly and it becomes wasteful of time, fuel and gasoline to make extra trips to collect it. Try to have a fair sized quantity of salvage on hand before calling in your collector. Sell your salvage or give it away, just as you prefer—the important thing is to save it and turn it in so it can be converted into war supplies.

NEWSPAPERS

Separate from other materials and stack in neat piles. A pile five feet high weighs approximately 100 pounds.

MAGAZINES

Stack separately in neat piles.

CARDBOARD

Flatten all cardboard boxes. Tie into tight compact bundles so they take as little space as possible. (These cardboard unacceptable for it takes up too much space in a collector's truck).

WASTE PAPER

Save all scraps of waste paper which are flat, such as letters, envelopes, bags and pamphlets. Keep in flat condition in same type of cardboard box. When packed full tie up and dispose of.

METALS

All types of metal objects should be salvaged, such as old plumbing fixtures, broken tools, license plates, tin foil, wire, aluminum, etc.

Collapsible Metal Tubes

Take to drug stores empty tubes from toothpaste, shaving cream, etc. It is almost pure tin. Drug stores are making special collections in deposit boxes in the store.

TIN CANS

Neatly remove tops and bottoms using only screw type openers. Thoroughly clean all parts, remove labels, and flatten body of can by stepping on it. Do not flatten too tight—in should not rub against tin because acid for removing tin coating must flow in and around the can when being dissolved by the processor. Do not save paint, varnish or oil cans. Keep cans in separate box.

Note: Not all collectors are accepting tin cans as yet. If you are unable to find someone who will collect your tin cans, write or phone Salvage Committee, care of Town Hall, Belleville, N. J., so the problem can be studied further.

RAGS

Save any old rags, including burlap, cast-off clothing, curtains, mattresses, pillows, carpets, etc.

RUBBER

Any discarded rubber objects are very vital—such as overalls, tires and tubes, hot water bottles, rubber gloves, etc.

DISPOSAL

Salvage is to be turned over to any junk man or your favorite charitable organization, or any other collection agency which you prefer. The important thing is to save the scrap and turn it in to collect it.

(The Belleville Salvage Committee does not collect old salvages—it does not interfere with present collecting facilities. Here are some names of collectors you can telephone:

Mayor's Wife Outlines Salvage Program For Junior Red Cross

At an executive meeting of the Belleville Chapter, American Red Cross in the Woman's club Monday evening a Junior Red Cross project entitled "War on Waste" was discussed and Mrs. William H. Williams, chairman of the juniors, turned over the information on it received from national headquarters to Robert Sutherin, salvage committee chairman of the local defense council so that he could incorporate the work of the young people directly into his program.

She also announced the completion this week of the Pan-American booklets which students have compiled for the furtherance of the good neighbor policy. A meeting of the faculty council of the Junior Red Cross will be held at the clubhouse March 24. Miss Eileen Lynch is assistant chairman to Mrs. Williams.

The Red Cross production committee, under the direction of Mrs. Harvey Thompson, announced the shipment last week of 8 cartons and 5 cases of clothing and knitted garments.

She Won First Prize!

Time after time she came away from her bridge club with the consolation prize. Then, one day, she won the First Prize.

It was all merely a matter of better seeing. It dawned on her one day that maybe her six-year-old glasses weren't right for her any more. They decidedly weren't. Nobody's are.

With the keen vision her new glasses gave her, she won easily. Good bridge depends on good sight.

NEW APARTMENT COSTING $100,000

It is expected that construction will start shortly on the first apartment building erected in Belleville in a number of years. The zoning board of adjustment paved the way for the structure on Thursday night when it granted a zoning variance for the "modified" garden type building to be built at 121-139 Academy street.

The builder of the proposed garden type dwellings is William T. Forster of North Bergen. He was represented before the board by William Shapiro of J. I. Kissack, incorporated of Jersey City, real estate brokerage firm. Plans call for the erection of three eight-family units facing a court and one four-family unit facing the street. The property which has been purchased for the project is in the rear of the public library and has a frontage of 246 feet on Academy street with an irregular depth of 153 to 157 feet. An area 78 by 54 feet at the southwest end of the tract will be used as a playground, Shapiro stated.

Under existing zone regulations, only 27 families are permitted to an acre. The proposed apartment would house 28 families in nine tenths of an acre. The condition was made that construction should start within 120 days. Shapiro said it would be much shorter than that if materials could be obtained.

Youngsters Excel In Concert
By Nutley Symphony Group

One of the most enjoyable of the Nutley Symphony society's musicales occurred last Tuesday evening at high school when Anthony d'Amico and Joseph Pigo, 14-year-old duo-pianists assisted the Cambourakis string quartet.

Dvorak's "American" quartet occupied first place on the program. Nicos Cambourakis and Thomas Wilkinson, first and second violins respectively, Rudolph Preyer, violist and Stuart Elder, cellist, gave a brisk rendition of this work, so reminiscent of negro and indian folk airs. The slow movement was particularly well done.

The duo-pianists introduced themselves with the Chopin "Rondo", op. 73, followed by the Saint-Saens "Marche Hebraique". The fire and brilliance in their playing was so felt by the audience that an encore was needed to quiet the prolonged applause.

Directly after the intermission,

They MUST fit Perfectly

Explaining Some Of The Finer Points

ONE WHO KNOWS ALL ABOUT IT shows Red Cross officials, Mrs. Louis A. Noll, center, first aid chairman, and Frank Chambers, chapter chairman, some of the finer points of first aid. Doing the explaining is William Miller (left) president of the North Arlington rescue squad, and an instructor in the local first aid class which the Red Cross is conducting weekly on Thursday nights at the high school for local civilian defense workers.

the "Scaramouche" suite for two pianos by Milhaud was programmed. Beginning at a terrific pace, one felt that some of the musical content was sacrificed for speed. The slow movement was most satisfactory, for the third movement, a dance, was again taken at breathtaking tempo. However, the listeners had no fault to find, for they recalled the boys until they had given two encores, the last being especially effective in its quiet beauty. In spite of inaccuracies, exaggerated crescendos and diminuendos, lack of maturity and awkward stage presence, we predict that these young artists are going to be heard from in a few years.

The quartet concluded the program with a group of short favorites from the "Flonzaley String Quartet Encore Album". These were performed with excellent spirit and style, attested to by the rapt attention of an audience which contained a goodly number of children.

ROWING SEASON
OPENS SUNDAY

Rowing activities will be launched Sunday at Nereid Boat club on Main street when the float is launched. At a meeting last Thursday night officers elected for the 1942 season were Gerard Rhoades, president; Robert Shriver, vice-president; William Bennett, secretary; Russell Sargeant, treasurer; captain, Dr. Brainerd Swain; lieutenant, Leslie Burnley; logkeeper, Victor Cooke.

Trustees in addition to Rhoades, Shriver and Bennett are C. Leve-rich, Brett, Cornelius DeJonge, Leslie Burley and John P. Dailey. The April meeting which will be held on Thursday, April 2, will feature movies of events of the 1941 season. This year marks the earliest opening of the club's activities on record. Daylight saving and the unusually mild weather are probably responsible. Crews will go into practice at once for the schoolboy championship regatta which will be held late in May, possibly in New Jersey.

MAYOR

"This time we must protect the children," commented Commissioner King in urging that Commissioner Noll be given the right to put playground equipment on the Bellavista avenue property. "I'm wholly in accord with the thought that there should be a place for the youngsters to play," Commissioner Clark observed.

"The area's saturated with factories," was another opinion of Waters.

"You and I can't force the people to go to the other playground," Noll told Williams during a heated exchange of words.

"This town was put on the brink of bankruptcy," the mayor replied, "by listening to groups coming down here demanding things."

The lack of co-operation by the board of education or the im- pression that there would be none by the residents and by Commissioner Noll and Waters. The mayor insisted that he believed an agreement could be reached if the school play area were used.

One of the chief reasons for opposition of residents to using the property owned by the town in the year of School No. 9 is that swamped condition exists there, Williams said that could be eliminated easily.

Mr. Sloan, who was formerly employed in New York, had been retired in ill health for the past eight years. He was a member of the I. H. C. of East Orange.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 at the Irving Funeral Home, 276 Washington avenue by Rev. Harry VanPelt and Rev. William Woodson of Little Zion church. Burial will be in Ridgeland Cemetery.

Out to save at least a million and a half motor miles this year...

"WITHOUT IMPAIRING EFFICIENCY OR SERVICE TO CUSTOMERS"

THIS IS THE GOAL of the men who handle the 1,200 trucks and cars in New Jersey's telephone motor fleet, which last year covered 10,600,000 miles in the work of maintenance, repairs and installation.

Conserving materials and equipment today is a major task for industry and individuals. Making what we have last longer and serve better is part of the job of winning the war. The drive to save at least 1,500,000 miles of wear on telephone trucks, cars and tires, without impairing efficiency or service to customers, is part of the conservation effort being made throughout the statewide telephone system. It is being done by better maintenance, more careful routing of each day's run, doubling up of loads, using more strategic garage locations, traveling by train and bus whenever possible on the job.

Telephone service is of vital aid to our war effort and every part of the system must be made to serve to the limit in the emergency.

Franciscans Honor St. Anthony With Special Service Series
Franciscans of Paterson will honor the "Favorite Son of St. Francis," St. Anthony of Padua, by solemnly celebrating the 13 Tuesdays before his feast. The celebration begins on St. Patrick's Day, Tuesday, and will continue thereafter every Tuesday until the Wonderworker's feastday, June 13.
Services will be held in St. Bonaventure's church, Ramsey street, that city, at 8 a.m., 3:15, 6:15, 7:15 and 8:15 p.m.
St. Anthony has been characterized by Pope Leo XIII as the "Saint of the Whole World," and others have called him "Everybody's Saint." His right to this title is confirmed by the study of his life and the record of his work in behalf of the needy, the sick, the distressed and afflicted. All classes, all creeds and all nations have felt the bounties due to his intercession with God. Pope Leo XIII in extolling the Saint, urged the faithful to have recourse to his aid.
The Friars at the monastery and the devoted clients of St. Anthony ask all to join them in this tribute to "Christ's Ambassador and Mary's Champion" and to unite with them in prayer on these 13 Tuesdays for the needs of the church, of the country and of all mankind.

Governor Again Does The Unexpected

Governor Edison, who more often than not seems to do the politically unpredictable and unexpected, this week caught the job-hungry Republican legislative bigwigs off guard when he pulled one out of the hat that still has them reeling.

The governor's announcement on Monday that he would name Spencer Miller Jr. of South Orange, a Republican, as state highway commissioner left politicians—Democrats and Republicans alike—speechless. Since last year when Edison's effort to make William L. Dill highway chief, was blocked, the Republicans have been telling all who would listen that the governor must be constantly watched for he intended to name a Democrat who would build a political machine of magnitude such as had never been seen before in this state. If it could be bigger than some of those which these same Republicans or their next of kin have been able to build up, it would really be a whopper.

But Mr. Edison did not name a Democrat. He reached out and pulled in Mr. Miller, who is president of the village board of trustees in South Orange, a well-run small community governing body. A greater unknown in state Republican politics could not be found. Mr. Miller's sorties into the political woods have been few and far between. Rather than in support of candidates, Mr. Miller's appearances and efforts in the interest of Republicanism have been to instill new spirit and principles into the party.

The governor's own party is quite upset over the turn in events. As could have been expected, the cry has gone up from Jersey City that this is another deal between the railroad interests and Arthur T. Vanderbilt with Edison. The Republican-controlled legislature has not as yet gotten around to confirming the governor's appointment, and according to word from Trenton they are looking under the bed to see what is behind it all. They do not trust Mr. Edison, and besides, that they want some assurance that Mr. Miller will let them slice up some of the political plums that are in the highway department.

The governor, to our mind, has once again demonstrated his desire to keep as many of the state departments as free from the usual political channels as is possible. In the selection of Mr. Miller he has chosen a man who has none of the grime of past political wars or deals on him. The highway department is a big job, and there's no other branch of state government where there is an equally good opportunity for politicians to gain what they want.

Must Be A Change Of Spirit

Complacency may be a poorly chosen word for many are saying that there is no such thing among the American people today. Perhaps it would be better said that many of us still do not realize fully the meaning of this war or what it will mean. Even though it has been three months since this nation officially entered hostilities, there are many who hope—perhaps wishfully—that it will not come to their doorstep. Others half-heartedly believe that it may soon be over—never actually touch American shores or really affect its people.

If you are one of those who has a son, a brother, or relative or even a friend in the army, navy, marines or in the merchant service, you know what war means. If you have someone on one of the many fighting fronts, you know what it is to worry, to day by day wait for some word from them or about them. The true meaning does not have to be driven home to you. You understand.

But for many who have not bid those near to us farewell, it is still something which we do not readily comprehend. It has not come close enough to home yet. We don't think that it is possible that members of our families or even ourselves will be in there fighting. We have become so accustomed to accept as every-day necessities, things which people in other lands would think were luxuries, that we cannot visualize getting along without them.

This attitude cannot bring victory. We must change, for today the vast millions of us are not displaying that traditional fighting spirit of which we so proudly boast. We want our pleasures—our automobiles, trips to the shore and country, but we still want this country to win. We want the nation to conserve on rubber, gasoline, sugar and many other commodities, but we don't want to give them up ourselves. We want more pay, and short hours, but we want the country to produce more planes, more tanks, more guns and other fighting machines and weapons than have ever been produced before. We want our men in battle to fight as they have never fought before, even though the pay is little and there is no such thing as hours. Too many of us want to keep on living just as we have, but still we want to win.

So long as we permit this spirit to remain uppermost in our beliefs, we cannot go forward and we will not conquer, for we are opposing people and forces who long ago sacrificed everything and are still willing to make the supreme effort for the principle which they believe is right and which we believe just as emphatically is wrong.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

Governor Edison has created as much of a sensation by naming Spencer Miller, Jr., highway commissioner as Neville Chamberlain would have three years ago had he then named Sir Stafford Cripps foreign minister. Actually, a comparison of Miller and Cripps is not at all far-fetched. Both are intellectuals with a leaning to the left. The job of highway commissioner is simple compared to those of cabinet ministers, but in intellectual abilities Miller belongs in the very top rank of Americans. This column four years ago in suggesting him for Representative from the 11th District classed him as a man with ideas "concise, exact and gigantic". The "Boys" in Trenton might be inclined to ridicule such adjectives, but they are merited no matter how highbrow they may seem in print.

It has long been noted that intellectual ability is actually a handicap in American politics. The American political success comes nearer being personified by the late Speaker Reed's characterization of a certain Congressman that he never opened his mouth without subtracting from the sum total of human knowledge. The Boys in Trenton—and Senate President Scott's action in holding up the Miller appointment until he gets consideration on some of his own pets in Cape May makes him eligible for charter membership in that select group—may wonder why unusual ability should be essential for a highway commissioner. In their lexicon a highway commissioner's duties consist of jobs for the faithful, road contracts for those who contribute to political war chests, generous treatment to clients of the RIGHT lawyers in right-of-way cases and distribution of highways so that a maximum of mileage is in areas that supply less than 15 percent of the population but more than 50 percent of the Senate. This takes a practical man—say, of the Arthur Foran type—not an engineer or a man with a broad social viewpoint.

"Quisling", "Traitor"

The bitterest indictment of Edison for his appointment of Miller, however, came from Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mater of Montclair, Democratic State Committeewoman from Essex. In a statement of some 2,000 words, Mrs. Mater used the terms "Quisling", "traitor", "disgraceful", "weak-kneed", "perfidy", "ignominious sell-out", "insulting, betrayal", and many others too numerous to mention. Her statement would seem to mean a complete break between Edison and County Chairman James J. McMahon. What this will mean in the elections this fall is hard to predict, with former chairman William H. Kelly a possible contender.

Predicts Confirmation

Whether Miller will actually be confirmed is a moot question. Full Hudson County support would be given, no doubt to a move to set up a three-man highway commission as some Republicans have long contemplated. But it is not certain whether even the gentlemen from Ocean and Cape May would vote to put through such a ripper by means of a Hague alliance. Basically it is a fight between the Essex group and their allies led by Arthur T. Vanderbilt and Republican State Chairman Alexander Smith, and the South Jersey and Hudson group led by Hague and Senate President Scott. The balance of power, in all probability, lies with intermediate groups like the representatives of Passaic and Union. My own belief is that this group will eventually supply the Senate votes that will confirm Miller, or else the Assembly votes that would block a ripper.

Mrs. Ward Lay of Myrtle avenue will be bridge hostess tonight for Mrs. David King, Mrs. Philip Pendleton, Mrs. John Charlton, Mrs. Frank Spotts, Mrs. Harold Ford, and Mrs. John Whitney of this town, Mrs. James Castner of Nutley and Miss Peggie Brooks between Edison and County

Soldiering In Newfoundland Quite Different, Duval Says

Former Reporter With This Paper, Now In Army, Writes To Congratulate High School Court Fire: Says People There Are Most Hospitable

It's been a year since Joseph Duval, who for more than a year was the representative of this newspaper, volunteered for service with the army and was among one of the first contingents to leave Belleville.

After preliminary training at Fort Dix and Fort Hancock, Joe was sent to Newfoundland where he has been stationed for about 10 months. In a letter written to this paper, Joe writes about some of the thoughts which he has had as he has read copies of this paper which have reached him. Since sports were one of his greatest interests while he was here, it is quite natural that one of his first comments should be about the high school basketball quintet.

His letter is as follows:

My prime purpose in writing to you is to congratulate the high school basketball team on what I consider a fine showing this winter. After the things I was saying about it a little more than a year ago in that weekly stint I foisted off on the readers of The Belleville News, this year's quint has been a most pleasant surprise. I suppose this letter will arrive too late to do much good, but I want to wish the team all the luck in the state tournament.

Judging from the columns of your newspaper in recent months, Belleville has stepped up to a furious pace in the thirteen months since I left it to become a rookie in Uncle Sam's army. In my opinion it is far ahead of most places in its contributions to the war effort. I sincerely hope there will be no let-down in this vital work, even for such an important event as the coming town commission election.

Quite Different

Soldiering in Newfoundland is quite a bit different than it was back in the states. Many of the conveniences we then looked on as something to be taken for granted are denied us here. The men here naturally miss the American way of life. They miss the opportunity to sneak home for a weekend once in a while. And they miss being able to drop into a diner for a hamburger and coffee, for American hamburgers are unknown here.

But being stationed here has its compensations. For one thing, we are living among the most friendly and hospitable people it has ever been my pleasure to meet. The most outstanding instance of this was the action of the people of Lawrence a couple of weeks ago when the Truston and Pollux cracked up on the rocks during an extremely heavy gale. But for them the loss of life would probably have been extreme.

Newfoundlanders have done everything in their power with their limited means and facilities to make the Americans completely at home in their midst. I know that for myself I shall never regret the ten months I have spent here so far — and I know
