

King Runs On Record; Stewart Is Surprise Entry; Clark Also In

The town commission election campaign which has meandered along lazily for several weeks got a shot in the arm last night when a surprise newcomer and two long-time members of the present board scaled their hats into the proverbial ring. Commissioner Joseph King, two-term board member and director of parks and public property, announced that he would seek re-election "on a platform of honesty and economy, which brought him victory in the 1934 and 1938 elections."

An unexpected entry was George Stewart, Belwood park resident and food company executive, who hopped into the field with the punch line slogan, "Political perennials are not conducive to good government." Earlier in the day, Public Safety Director William D. Clark, oldest member of the present board in years of service, announced that he would be in the field for another term.

Lone member of the board still not officially in the race is Mayor Williams, and last night he was remaining mum on his plans, claiming that he had not as yet made up his mind. The mayor has until next Thursday midnight to file his petitions.

King pledged himself to continue his policy of "honesty and economy" if re-elected to the board. He stated that he is seeking re-election strictly on his record for the past two terms. The public affairs director during the eight years he has served as commissioner has had charge of the relief, health and building departments. During his time in office he has served as supervisor of new construction, inspecting all new buildings, without any extra compensation.

The public affairs head has been in business in town for the past 31 years. He is the president of Davidson & King, real estate and insurance firm. Under King's supervision, a large number of houses and other buildings have been erected here.

His tenure into the commission field in 1934 was not King's first appearance in public life. Previously, he had served for four years as a county freholder. He was chairman of the building committee for the construction of numerous buildings including the Soho Isolation hospital.

King is a past president of the Rotary club, a director of the First National bank and for the past 15 years president of the Glover Building and Loan association which recently merged with two other local building and loans. King has been elected president of the new merger, the De Witt Savings and Loan association.

He was one of the charter members of the welfare board. King is married and lives at 28 Malone avenue. He has one son, John Robert, 10 years old, who is now serving in the marine corps.

Due to wide experience in construction, financial and governmental affairs, and being available in the town at all times, King says he feels qualified to render good service to the citizens of Belleville, and pledges himself to cooperate with the commission in a constructive way, for the best interests of the town if re-elected.

Resident of the town for the past 15 years, Stewart, who is a member of the library board of trustees, has been active in a number of affairs. He has devoted considerable effort and time to town improvements, was active in the Belwood Park Improvement association and was one of the leaders of the residential opposition in the Belwood Park zone case which resulted in many warm sessions before the board of commissioners.

During the administration of the late Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy, Stewart proposed the formation of a citizens' survey group and served as its chairman. He also served one term as the president.

TWO RALLIES OPEN MERTZ CAMPAIGN

First Ward Meeting Tonight; Another In Third Ward On Monday

Two rallies to gain support for Raymond E. Mertz for the town commission will be held in the first and third wards during the coming week.

The Union avenue real estate broker, who entered the field several weeks ago as an independent candidate, has been quietly campaigning about town but tonight opens his drive for votes with a rally for workers and supporters in the first ward which will be held at Veterans' hall in Belleville avenue and Stephens street.

Campaign Manager Robert G. Sutherland announced yesterday that he had appointed Max N. Schwartz, an attorney, first ward campaign manager for Mertz.

On Monday night, supporters in Mertz's home territory will meet at the campaign headquarters, 382 Union avenue. The meeting will be in charge of Sidney Summerfield. Both rallies are scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Mertz is scheduled to address the meetings on the subject of arousing a new and more popular interest in town and civic affairs. Mertz said that he expects to file his nominating petitions some time this week.

HYDE ENDORSED BY WOODHALL

Berkeley Avenue Resident Declining to Run, Urges Support For Candidate

B. J. Woodhall of 11 Berkeley avenue, who has been frequently mentioned as a candidate for the town commission, announced last night that he would not run and at the same time declared that he would support Elmer S. Hyde and urged his election.

"During the past year many of my friends have urged me to become a candidate at the May election for a place on the board of commissioners in our town. 'For some time past I have given this some serious thought, but because of the very great pressure of business I am compelled to refuse such request."

"In withdrawing, I wish to endorse the candidacy of Elmer S. Hyde, and strongly urge to my many friends and voters of the town his election.

"We all know Elmer Hyde, a resident of our town for more than 25 years, a successful business man, the father of seven children, all born and educated in Belleville; a world war veteran, having actively served his country in France and later in Germany as a member of the army of occupation.

"In endorsing Elmer Hyde I know his victory in this election will serve the town well."

NEXT THURSDAY FINAL PETITION FILING DATE

Candidates Will Have Until Midnight; Last Day For Registration, Transfers

Next Thursday midnight will be the deadline for the filing of nominating petitions by candidates for the town commission, Town Clerk Florence R. Morey announced yesterday. Although a number have already formally entered the field, several of the headliners, including Commissioners King and Clark, who today formally announced their candidacies, have yet to file. Mayor Williams, who has delayed making an announcement but is expected in the race within the next week, is also among the missing.

Thursday will also be the final day for voters to register or transfer, according to Mrs. Morey. Tuesday night the clerk's office had its biggest night of registering and transferring voters so that they will be eligible to vote on May 12.

It is expected that the work will hit its peak the first four days of next week with workers for a number of candidates now busy urging new residents or those who have not voted in recent years to register. The town clerk's office will be open for taking registrations and transferring voters from their former local address to their present one next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. Residents may also call during the day between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Draw For Position April 7

Those candidates who file by next Thursday midnight will have until April 6 to file any designation which they wish to have go with their names on the ballot or to submit a request for the grouping of candidates. Mrs. Morey announced that the drawing for position on the voting machine would be held on Monday, April 7, at 2:30 p.m. This will be the first local election in which candidates have not been listed in alphabetical order. In political circles, the first or last position on the machine is regarded as an advantage for a candidate.

Election procedure was amended by the state legislature this year to permit those in the service an opportunity to vote by absentee military ballot. Superintendent of Elections Miele announced this week that Governor Edison had signed Assembly Bill 106 sponsored by Assemblyman Lester Mahr of Essex county setting the deadline for the filing of petitions by candidates for commissioners 40 days before election or April 2. Under the old law, petitions could be filed up until 10 days before the election.

Ballots For Servicemen

The military voting law provides that in municipal elections, the town clerk shall have printed and furnished the county clerk,

Draft Board to Publish Order Numbers Next Week

The draft board will release for publication next Thursday the local order numbers of those who were included in the 20-44 draft lottery.

Draft officials again pleaded yesterday with registrants not to call in person or telephone the office in town hall about information concerning how the latest registration group will be classified or the order numbers.

"We do not know what the government is planning to do," a draft official said yesterday, "so there's no use in registrants calling us and wasting our time and their's too."

COUPLE SERIOUSLY HURT IN CRASH

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gray Overturn in Nutley Collision; Man Killed Here

Automobile accidents took a heavy toll among local residents this week. A Union avenue resident was fatally injured in Saturday night's downpour when he was struck by a car in Belleville avenue, and early Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. George Gray of 99 Little street were seriously injured when their car overturned in Washington avenue, Nutley.

Patrick Neilan of 32 Union avenue died Sunday morning in St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, of injuries received during the rainstorm the previous evening in Union and Belleville avenues. Carmen Santonello of 218 Duncan avenue, Jersey City, was booked by police as the driver of the car which struck Neilan. Santonello said that the green light with him on Belleville avenue when Neilan suddenly darted into the path of his car.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray and Gray's younger brother, Thomas, a 20-year-old sailor, were returning to Belleville when they were in a collision at Washington and Nutley avenues, shortly before 3:30 a.m. Their Pontiac sedan collided with a Chevrolet sedan driven by Leodas Page, a Negro, of 92 Water street, Paterson. Police said that Gray was driving south in Washington avenue, while Page was going north on the same street and turned left in front of Gray to go west in Nutley avenue.

Hit Two Trees

After the collision, the local man's car careened crazily on its way, jumped the curb, struck two trees 28 feet apart, shot out on the road again, turned over on its right side and skidded to a stop 66 feet from the point of the collision, it is alleged.

Police arriving on the scene of the crash-up were forced to use a crowbar to pry open one of the doors of the Gray car so that they could lift out the three occupants, all of whom were unconscious. They were rushed to St. Mary's hospital, Passaic, where it was said that George Gray, 26, suffered a fractured

RATIONING BOARD PLANS MAY 4-7 REGISTRATION

No Official Word on Date Received Yet; Town Gets Ambulance Tires

Although no official word has been received as yet by the local rationing board, state headquarters announced yesterday that the civilian registration required for sugar rationing is scheduled to take place on May 4 to 7. Ruel E. Daniels, secretary to the board here, said that the Belleville rationers are making their plans and arrangements based on those dates.

The school teachers who will be drafted to act as registrars during the four-day period will shortly receive instructions which will be sent out from state headquarters concerning their duties. Plans have been made here to use all of the local schools during the four-day period with residents being able to register either in the afternoon or evening. There is a great need for more volunteers to act as registrars in addition to the teachers, Daniels said. Commercial firms, such as restaurants, diners and confectioners, who require large amounts of sugar will register at the high school for two days prior to the civilian registration.

In this issue is a facsimile of the war ration book which will be issued to each individual requiring sugar in the period between May 4 and 7. Every resident should study it, the ration board believes, to learn what is proposed. More than 4,000,000 copies of the book will be distributed.

PARKING METERS SHOPPERS' AID

Easier to Park in Business Block Now; Many Forget One-Cent Charge

For the first time since the Washington avenue block between Belleville avenue and Rutgers street became the town's business mecca, shoppers found this week that they were able to park there without much trouble.

Parking meters, which were installed there last week, went into operation on Monday and merchants and motorists alike reported that they were satisfied. Many parkers are still ignorant of the fact that they can insert a penny in the slot for 12 minutes parking. Commissioner Clark, Public Safety head, announced at Tuesday night's council conference that receipts from the meters would be deposited in the First National bank. The company which installed the meters will receive 75 percent of the revenue with the balance going to the town.

The restrictions provide that the meters will be in operation on Monday through Friday from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. and on Saturday from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

ASK QUICK ACTION ON LAKE BUS

Manufacturers Urge Public Utilities to Act on P. S. Application

Manufacturers in the Silver Lake area, it was learned yesterday, were pressing the public utilities commission for action on the application of Public Service Co-ordinated Transport company for a bus line to run from the Lake area to the center of town and on to the western section.

Local approval was given several months ago by Director Louis A. Noll, who has charge of transportation, for the line which would run from Passaic avenue, near School No. 7, through the West Belleville and Greylock sections and on to Washington avenue and then into the Lake area.

The Public Service started operation last month of the extension of the No. 100 line in the Valley. It has been an aid to workers in plants there who live in the other sections of town or in Newark.

An adjourned hearing on the Public Service application is scheduled to be held before the public utilities board next Thursday morning in Newark. Opposing the granting of the permit is the Garden States lines, which runs a bus from North Newark through Belleville to Nutley and Brookdale. The Garden State is prohibited, however, from picking up passengers in Belleville. The Public Service proposes to operate over a part of the same route.

There were indications this week that Belleville would overcome the housing shortage which has plagued the town and workers employed here for more than a year.

Plans were revealed for the erection of a 112-family garden type duplex apartment village near Essex County isolation hospital, and the town commission speeded enactment of routine legislation to permit work to start on the development.

Reports were also current that announcements would be forthcoming shortly on several other garden type apartment developments of a similar size, and one that may accommodate an even greater number of families.

John F. Coogan, Jr., Washington avenue real estate broker, appeared before the town board on Tuesday night and submitted an offer of $10,200 for land in Carpenter street, running north from Belleville avenue, with a frontage of 680 feet. Refusing to publicly reveal the identity of the party whom he represented, Coogan announced that if his client is the successful bidder, a colonial type apartment village would be erected. Architect's sketches of the buildings were also presented, and it is understood that detailed drawings and specifications have already been examined and approved by building officials.

The property, which the town acquired several months ago through the purchase of a deed from the former owner, has always been vacant.

Mayor Williams said yesterday that the town has more than $12,000 in tax title liens and interest on the town books against the land. He said that he considered the price offered by Coogan a fair one for the property which runs 212 feet in depth. The mayor estimated that the town would annually receive between $5,000 and $6,000 in taxes from the apartment development.

Mayor Favors It

"It should be understood," the mayor told his fellow board members Tuesday night, "that this type of structure is not in the defense housing group. I consider that it is a rather unique development plan and that it is vastly superior to others which have been presented to the board."

Williams said he believed that any objections which residents near to the Carpenter street property may have to an apartment development would disappear once they saw the proposed sketches and plans. Commissioner Noll, who resides in the nearby vicinity, said that he did not believe the residents would object.

A change of the zoning ordinance is required to permit the erection of the buildings. The property is now in a Residence "A" zone and the board on Tuesday night approved on introduction and amendment to the zoning ordinance making it a Residence "C" area. There will be a public hearing on the amendment on April 14.

At its meeting next Thursday night, the zoning board of adjustment will be asked to study plans and make its recommendation. It will be advised that the board of commissioners is in favor of the project. Coogan will appear to present the detailed plans.

Sale of the property is contingent on the town's changing the zone and approval of the building plan by both the town and the F.H.A. under which the project will be financed.

There will be 14 separate buildings.

50 Fires in February

Fire Chief Reid reported to the town commission Tuesday night that during February the department responded to 50 alarms. Thirty-nine were in answer to telephone calls and 11 box alarms. The total fire loss for the month was put at $2,075.

'cause he told me about the DEVOE 2-COAT SYSTEM by don herold

I'm sold for life on my painting contractor because he was smart enough to save me some money when he painted my new house several years ago.

He tipped me off to the DEVOE 2-COAT SYSTEM, instead of going ahead and giving me the usual old-fashioned, costly, hand-mixed, 3-coat job.

So when the time comes to repaint my house, you can bet I'll use the same painter and the DEVOE 2-COAT SYSTEM AGAIN. If this system is good enough to cover a new house so well, just think of the long life it will give on a repaint job!

My painter not only made a life customer of me; he made me a lifelong booster for his business. I've since sold three friends on using him and the DEVOE 2-COAT SYSTEM for repainting their houses.

This system sees two scientific jobs for house paint: (1) one coat of DEVOE'S is built to do the job of sealing thirty coats against soaking up life-giving oils (raw linseed oil is not enough—DEVOE specially processes its oils to increase porosity); (2) the other coat is chemically built to resist ultra violet sun-rays and weather (a top coat of DEVOE white, for instance, actually brightens with age). The DEVOE 2-COAT SYSTEM outlasts average paint jobs 2 to 1.

The painter who uses DEVOE 2-COAT SYSTEM builds his business by making new lifelong boosters. I know I'm on the homeowner's side of the fence.

Inventor of Bifocals
Benjamin Franklin invented bifocal lenses by combining the top halves of his distance lenses with the lower half of his reading lenses—in the same frame!

Bifocals have come a long, long way since then. Today near and far vision are assured without difficulty—no blur—no blind spots—no troublesome "jump" from one field to the other.

Not everyone needs bifocal lenses. But the eyes of seven people out of ten need the aid of helpful lenses of some kind. Five of these seven do not know they have defective sight. They attribute their headaches, nervousness and fatigue to other causes. The only way to be sure that vision is right is to have it examined—periodically.

Called by many "the best cook in the Army," Private George Boutagou of the Fifth Transport Squadron, Air Corp, U. S. A., while stationed at Patterson Field, Dayton, recently made a trip through the Home Economics Department of General Motors' Frigidaire Division. Boutagou—who's cooked for nine years in the Army, and before that at such swank New York spots as the old Waldorf-Astoria, Cafe Pierre and the Hotel St. Regis—couldn't resist the lure of the deluxe 1942 Frigidaire Electric Range, introduced earlier this year than usual. Here the master cook is shown setting Frigidaire's famous Cook-Master mechanism.

O. C. D., RED CROSS IN AGREEMENT

Local First Aid Head
Releases Plan That's Been Approved

To clearly define first aid training requirements of those in civilian defense units, Mrs. Louis A. Noll, Jr., Red Cross first aid chairman, has made public a memorandum of agreement between Norman Davis of the American Red Cross and James M. Landis, O.C.D. director.

The agreement is as follows: (1) Air raid wardens and members of other units of the civilian defense corps who are required to take 10 hours first aid training must be given the first five lessons consuming 10 hours of the standard 20-hour course for civilian defense. (2) All such members of organized units of the civilian defense will be encouraged to continue their instruction after completing technical training which is required. This technical training does not come under the jurisdiction of the Red Cross, but is handled by the local defense council.

These agreement instructs (3) all local Red Cross chapters to give priority in instruction to citizens who are defense unit enrollees.

"This policy," Mrs. Noll points out, "has been in effect in Belleville since December 27 and will be continued by the local chapter."

By the next provision (4) of the agreement all chapters are instructed to expedite the first aid training of civilian defense units by giving them two classes each week instead of the usual one. "Belleville Red Cross is prepared to furnish two classes a week if it is desired," adds Mrs. Noll.

Summing up the position of the local first aid training staff, Mrs. Noll says that instructors are able to handle requests for training both from those in units and individuals who are desirous of receiving it. The standard 20-hour course is offered and also the 10-hour course outlined above.

The 10-hour course does not constitute a complete first aid course nor qualify participants for a Red Cross first aid certificate. In order to facilitate enrollment in civilian defense units and speed training the first aid division stands ready to give as many as three classes a week to any unit which requests them.

of the Belleville Republican club. He is a member of the Elks' club. Stewart is married and has one daughter. He is an ex-service man having been in the navy. The new candidate is treasurer of Stewart Brokerage, incorporated, food brokers.

Stating that he would have a more detailed statement to make later, Stewart said last night: "I believe that there ought to be competition in a political campaign to keep those in office on their toes and to give the 'outs' something to talk and think about."

Clark On Board Since '26

Clark was first elected to the town board in 1926. He has served three terms as public safety director and one as head of the department of parks and public property. For nearly 45 years he has been in the employ of the Fidelity Insurance company now being an executive officer of the firm. For the past 27 years he has been president of the North Belleville Savings & Loan association. He was organizer of the Greylock Hose company, the Greylock Improvement association and was the first president of the local board of trade.

One of the earliest residents of the Greylock section, he moved here nearly 40 years ago and resides at 121 Floyd street.

ings in the 3 1/2-acre development, Coogan said. Each will house eight families in three-room apartments. The buildings will be of early American colonial design. An innovation in architectural design will be that the front and back of the buildings will look the same, each having a long porch with white columns which will extend the full height of the two-story building. The structures will be of brick.

"There is a real need for this type of housing in Belleville," Coogan, who is also a candidate for the town commission, stated last night. "It is of the finest quality in design and will meet the needs of the town. Many of our young people who are marrying are forced to go elsewhere to reside. Many employed in our industrial plants find it impossible to get places to live. If we can attract this type of apartment development to Belleville, I think that we should encourage it."

Less than two months ago Coogan was the agent in the sale of a tract in Jefferson and Harvard streets, which was owned by the town, to a Newark firm for $10,250. No plans for its development have been announced as yet. A month ago the zoning board of adjustment approved plans for the erection of a garden type apartment in Academy street in the rear of the public library. It provided that construction should start within 60 days. Ground has not been broken yet.

Purse Found at Food Fair

A purse containing a sum of money and no means of identification was found last week in the Food Fair market on Washington avenue. The finder was Joseph Roman of 384 Joralemon street who turned it over to the store manager. The owner may have it by calling at the store and properly identifying the pocketbook.

tributed in this state, according to rationing officials.

Physician Gets Tires

The public safety department was assured Tuesday night that the ambulance will continue to run without tire trouble. The ration board, at its weekly session in its offices at School No. 8, voted to give two new passenger car tires to the town for the vehicle. Two tires and one tube were approved for Dr. E. M. Rizzolo, a physician. The Rowe Manufacturing company was given certificates for two new truck tires and two retreaded tires. The Swiss Farm Dairy received an approval for two retreaded tires.

Anthony P. Miele, who is deputy for State Rationing Administrator Johnson in Essex County, is supporting the local board's appeal for a greater monthly allotment of truck tires. It was pointed out at last week's meeting that the H. R. Ritter Trucking company, fuel oil transporters, could each month more than use up the town's quota of new tires for their trucks. The Ritter firm holds a number of contracts to haul oil for the army, navy and industrial firms.

vertebra and badly bruised head. His wife, Elizabeth, 26, suffered a severe concussion of the brain, probable skull fracture and other lesser injuries.

while Thomas Gray, 26, received cuts on the ear and scalp. At St. Mary's hospital last night, Mrs. Gray's condition was said to still be critical. She was unconscious for a number of hours after the accident.

Gray will probably be confined to the hospital for 14 weeks, while his sailor brother was released from the hospital Tuesday and expects to return to naval duty today.

The Gray car was a total wreck while Page's auto was not badly damaged. Nutley police said Page was not intoxicated. Neither he nor his three Negro passengers were injured. He was paroled in the custody of Richard D. Grano of Clifton, his employer. Summonses issued by the police are returnable March 30. Riding with Page were Mrs.

Bessie E. Mix of 44 street, Nutley; Messour D. of the same address and Sally White of 15 Hope street, Passaic.

To Be Popular - You Must Be Peppy

Physicians all over the world agree that Vitamin B Complex increases physical stamina and nerve health. They call it the "spark plug of the human system," because it tones the nerves and digestive systems, promotes growth, appetite and energy... it induces alertness, pep, better morale.

Did you read the article in the Saturday Evening Post which showed that B is the hardest vitamin to get from food, and that 54% of test cases had to quit work when placed on a diet low in Vitamin B? If you're not getting enough Vitamin B Complex, you grow listless, you tire easily, you "feel your age." But you can fix that by taking just one capsule of Reed's Vitamin B Complex daily. Each capsule contains:

Vitamin B-1—Prevents nervousness and neuritis by nourishing the nerve tissues. Also known as Thiamin Chloride.
Vitamin B-2—Improves stomach tone, remedies skin eruptions and loss of red blood corpuscles. Also known as Vitamin G, or riboflavin.
Nicotinic Acid. The "anti-Pellagra" vitamin, essential to human nutrition.
Vitamin B-6—Stimulates normal growth, induces energy, relieves muscular fatigue.
Filterate Factor—Essential to growth and energy. Also known as Pantothenic Acid.

WITH LIVER AND YEAST POWDER
No need to be "starved on a full stomach," peppy, tired. Amazing energy and robust health can be yours... you'll quickly feel the difference, once you start taking Reed's Vitamin B Complex Capsules.

Conserving Telephone Service Is Important

MAKING everything we have last longer and serve better is a big part of the job of helping to win the war—for industry and individuals alike. Telephone service must be made to go as far as possible, just as rubber, tin or sugar, for it is the first line of communication in our war effort. Critical materials needed for expanding the telephone system are becoming harder to obtain, and demands for more service are increasing.

A real reserve of extra telephone service can be made available by reducing the number of "waste calls" which the New Jersey system now must carry every day.

35,000 calls a day are wasted because people call telephone numbers from memory instead of consulting the telephone directory when in doubt; 35,000 more calls must be used to get the right connections.

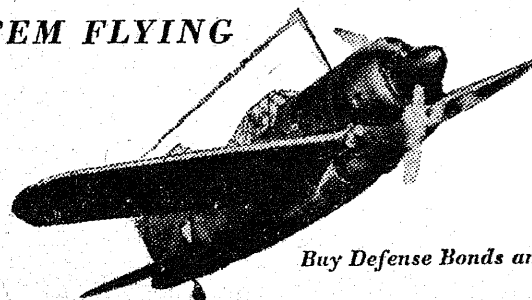

51,000 calls a day are wasted because people do not wait even half a minute for the called parties to answer; this means 51,000 more calls if the messages are to be delivered.

98,000 calls a day are made to "Information" for numbers already listed in the directories of the calling parties; each of these 98,000 calls is unnecessary, for the number desired is right at hand in the telephone book.

By guarding against these wastes—telephone service can be made still more effective at a time when it is needed most.

Economy Factor In New Frigidaire Electric Range

Announcing the new 1942 Frigidaire electric range line as another reliable weapon placed in the hands of American housewives anxious to play their part in the national defense program, William Doeherty, household appliance dealer of Jersey Appliance company, 529 Washington avenue, has pointed out that reduction of family living costs can be effected in the kitchen.

Although food prices have risen, Doeherty said, the budget can still be maintained by economical food handling. The new Radiantube surface cooking units in the Frigidaire electric range eliminate waste in heat, he declares. The automatic timing devices in addition to cutting down heating costs, eliminate cooking failures, and more important still, preserve the necessary minerals and vitamins essential to the proper preparation of health-building meals.

You Be Able To Vote May 12?

Once every four years Belleville voters have the opportunity to express themselves on whom they wish to have run the town. If the five men who have governed for four years seek re-election, the people have the right to indicate whether they think that these men can best do the job for the next term—or if they prefer, they may substitute one or all of them from among the field of other candidates.

The election, seven weeks away, is not meaning much to most folks, but whether or not they will have the right to vote in that election should be important to them. It is the duty and obligation of every legal resident to vote—and by the same rule it is incumbent upon them to know if they do have that privilege.

If there is any doubt in any individual's mind about whether he or she is legally qualified to vote, no time should be lost in finding out. Election day will be too late. Two weeks from now will be too late. The final day for making sure whether or not any resident will be eligible to vote in the commission election is next Thursday—April 2. Those who are not certain should go to the town clerk's office or the county board of elections immediately.

If you know that you are not on the permanent registration list, if you are a new resident of town, if you are a first voter—you must register to have the right to vote.

Important to those who may have lived here for years, but have moved since they last voted is that they must secure a transfer—and the final date for that is also April 2. If they moved next door or across the street—any change of address—they must get a transfer or they will not have the right to vote on election day and if they attempt to, it is most probable that their votes will be challenged.

Do not take any chances. Make sure that you are registered or that the address at which you now reside is listed in the poll books. Do not complain later that you have been deprived of your rights. Ample opportunity is being given you to register or transfer now.

Odds and Ends From Other Pens

Not Defense, But Progressive Attack

Back in December this newspaper suggested editorially that the word "defense" should be dropped in favor of the word "war" or the word "offense." The word "defense," we pointed out, arose when Germany overran the Low Countries and France and we feared might attack us next, if it successfully invaded Britain. In such an exigency, the urgent need would have been to repel a great hostile fleet and keep the enemy off our shores. It would have been actually a last desperate defense.

But while such a defense might have saved us from immediate defeat, no defense will now win the war. We must take the offensive, even to the extent of sending millions of soldiers abroad to attack the enemy wherever we think he is vulnerable. The American people ought to have this brought home to them. The psychology of the continued use of the word "defense" is wrong. We should start calling them War Bonds, War Stamps, War Councils, War Industries. Or, as we said editorially, Offense Bonds, Offense Stamps, Offense Councils, Offense Industries.

"Offense" is not exactly the right word even to describe our taking the offensive, so we are indebted to Major General W. F. Kernan for the suggestion that they be called Attack Bonds, Attack Stamps, Attack Industries, Attack Councils. General Kernan, a former Bloomfielder, has just had a book published by Little, Brown & Company entitled "Defense Will Not Win the War." In peace and in war, says General Kernan, the democracies have thought in terms of defense. In peace, therefore, they prepared for defeat; and in war they are being duly defeated. Victory only goes to the attacker.

Leonard Dreyfuss, state director of Civil Defense, followed the same line of thought this week when he declared that "it's high time we in New Jersey stopped thinking and talking about defense and thought and talked about war. I am going to suggest that we change the name of our organization from the New Jersey Defense Council to the New Jersey War Board."

It is WAR to a greater extent than the world has ever seen, and it will drag along for years as mere "defense" unless we can gather our resources and energies to attack aggressively. We shall refer in this newspaper to all activities as "war activities" until that happy day when we can begin to refer to them as "victory activities."

—Bloomfield Independent Press

Production

Donald M. Nelson, war production chief, has corroborated the findings of Irving Abramson, president of the State CIO council, that industry is not utilizing its full productive capacity.

Mr. Abramson found that in 77 key war plants in New Jersey only 49 percent of capacity is being used. Mr. Nelson puts the figure for the nation at 50 percent.

Industry's defense is that it lacks trained men and suffers from shortages in vital materials. Moreover, union demands for extra pay for Sundays and holidays make it expensive to install the 168-hour week in many plants.

There is no substantial disagreement about the factors in the production lag. Controversy is confined to which of them is most important. This discussion is a waste of time. The thing to do is to eliminate everything preventing maximum production. This requires cooperation by government, labor and management.

The American workman is the key to the productive effort and his interest in expanding production is a development of the most tremendous importance. It should be welcomed enthusiastically by management, because it shows great progress from the days when union leadership was indifferent to anything but more pay for less work.

It should not be difficult for management and labor to reach agreement on such problems as overtime, and managers may obtain substantial help in improving shop practice and production methods if they give their men opportunities to make suggestions.

Mr. Nelson's demand for a 168-hour week cannot be met unless there is a smooth and rapid flow of raw materials. Nothing that managers or labor leaders can do can overcome the handicap of shortages. That's Mr. Nelson's baby. The training of workers is another government job. The need is too great to be met by private initiative.

—Newark Sunday Call

Word of Caution

It is not yet time, not by the calendar, not always by the weather. We had better not speak of it by name. It might not come. There have been years in these Northern regions with frosts in every month. Spots on the sun, clouds, smoke or dust drifting round the earth and cutting off some of the light, a slight nervous wobble in the earth's axis (not Hitler's), a slight increase or decrease in the speed of rotation, any one of a number of things, and Winter might be perpetual.

We had better not speak of it, we humans. Let us expect nothing. Let chill remain, and darkness—we can face them; hunger come and no harvest—we can endure; red sunsets, violent as battle—we are able to look at them steadily. It is better not to count on the miracle. It might not be performed this year.

It is better to leave assurance to the willows, already turning a little green at the tips; to crocuses and pussywillows; to crows, sparrows, robins, kingfishers, chickadees, blue jays, in convention assembled; to the sap of things, that rises; to the roots of things, that quiver. All these parts of Nature may be deceived, thinking that there can be joy still in the world, that ugliness and evil die and beauty is immortal. It is wiser to be skeptical—it may not come. But when it comes, who of us, for all of the twenty-four hours in a day, will desire to be wise?

—New York Times

Hard Truth Driven Home

Wars are not won with brave words and stirring bands. Wars are won with deeds. Wars are won through the full, uncompromising cooperation of government, of labor, of industry and of all the people.

Our war will be won or lost on the home front. Victory depends on whether we can make and deliver the endless quantities of planes and ships and guns and ammunition that our troops and our Allies so sorely need.

Disgraceful labor disputes have cost our military forces untold quantities of weapons—and the lives of many men. Petty officialism has played politics while war rages throughout the world, and slowed production still more. Bogus reformers have hampered and reviled industry at a time when our greatest need was machines and tools, not ideologies.

The people of this nation are now demanding in no uncertain voice that government, industry and labor cooperate so that productive enterprises of this nation—the plane and tank factories, the motor plants, the oil and metal and coal industries, the power plants which motivate the machines of industry—can turn the blueprints of war needs into realities.

The disasters in the Pacific show what we may expect in the future unless we change the piddling policies of the past.

—Montclair Times

Fighting For the Enemy

Down near New Orleans 2,300 men went on strike in a war plant, demanding 10 cents more an hour.

Suppose the enemy were sighted far up in Gulf waters, not so far from New Orleans. Would these workers hoist the white flag and offer to fight on the side of the enemy if the enemy gave them what they asked from their employers?

Isn't that, in effect, just what they are doing—fighting for the enemy and against their country?

Certainly, until the wave of strikes ends, and we all get down to all-out production, we can't hope to put forth our strongest effort against the common enemy—an enemy that knows no union, no 40-hour week, no overtime.

We don't say those Louisiana workers are not entitled to their extra 10 cents an hour, but such issues must be settled without striking.

Better far, for them to do without the 10 cents, than stand in the way of their country's winning the war.

—Passaic Herald-News

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The quest for the Republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey is getting hot As usual the trails and counter trails of the interested parties make a complex pattern. This time, however, much of the activity is centered in Essex.

Joseph A. Bower of Montclair beat the gong last week by announcing his candidacy. There is a story going the rounds that Harry L. Derby, who is president of the huge American Cyanamide corporation and usually reflects the political views of Harold G. Hoffman, advised Bower to announce his candidacy ahead of Albert H. Hawkes. The idea back of Bower's early announcement was the hope of his camp that Hawkes would be more likely to decide against running if Bower was already in the field.

According to reports, however, Hawkes has just about made up his mind to enter the race, and an announcement is expected any day now. His candidacy was considered last Tuesday evening at the home of S. Bayard Colgate in Orange, where Hawkes and a number of those interested in his candidacy were entertained. The Hawkes camp has little fear of being defeated by Bower, but is watching Dr. Lester H. Clee with a sharp eye.

The hope exists in both the Hawkes and Bower camps that Clee can be induced not to enter the race. Arthur T. Vanderbilt is being importuned from every side to use his influence against Clee running. One story has it that if Clee does not run Bower will withdraw in favor of Hawkes, or who ever is the choice of the majority of Republican leaders throughout the state. A number of these leaders, Harry L. Derby included, are trying desperately to avoid a primary fight. It is their belief that if Clee runs, he will be defeated more easily if the Republicans have no primary wounds to bother them. State Chairman Alexander Smith is said to share these views, but Vanderbilt has given no indication of how he feels in the matter. Many Republicans profess to fear that Clee cannot win the general election even though they concede him to be a strong primary contender. They also express doubts about raising enough money to finance a campaign in the general election should Clee be the candidate. My own belief is that Clee will enter the race, please for party harmony and money problems not withstanding. If he doesn't enter, it will be for personal reasons, and not because of pleas for party harmony.

There is surprisingly little effort being made — at least on the surface — for the congressional nomination from the 11th District. The general belief now is that Albert L. Vreeland will not be eligible to seek re-election. A captain in the Military Intelligence department of the Army, Vreeland apparently is tied up for the duration. Anthony P. Miele has been mentioned for the post but it is not certain that he wants to be a candidate. Spencer Miller Jr., would probably make an effort for the nomination if he should fail of confirmation as highway commissioner. But most observers believe that he will win confirmation eventually.

The smear campaign that Mayor Frank Hague is conducting against Miller is adding to his strength. Calling a man a "Red" simply because he has worked with labor organizations is not only silly, it is resented by a vast majority of the people. The Jersey City mayor is using the same tactics against Miller as he did against Norman Thomas four years ago. There is no occasion to have his unformed thugs toss Miller head first onto a ferry boat, but the verbal philippics his press agents are putting out under the

Must We All Become Pinkish Now?

The philosophy that because Russia is now our ally, we must accept all of its fellow travellers is quite out of step with all of that which we have heard and been taught for years. That we should all take on a pinkish tinge because the Russians are holding back the Nazis in Europe does not seem logical. The belief that the Reds are fighting merely to save us and our other allies is stretching the point a bit, for actually the Russians are battling to save their own skins.

About a year ago Earl Browder, this nation's No. 1 Communist, was sent to prison for four years because he had obtained a passport under a name not his own. If Mr. Browder had been put away for twice the sentence meted out to him, not many of us, except his Communistic brethren, would have felt too badly about it.

Now, because Russia is fighting on the same side as we are, there is talk that we have been too hard on Browder. We should let bygones be bygones and permit the poor fellow to start all over again. Quite naturally, a lot of the noise to let Browder go is coming from certain labor circles. Should we forget that it is among our labor unions that during the past 10 years the Communists have been able to spread their gospel, delay and increase the cost of production and build up an organization that has as its sole purpose the destruction of that for which this nation stands?

Has Earl Browder's determination to win by Communism one way or the other been dulled by his stay in jail? Communistic minds don't work that way.

There has been too much evidence presented of Communist infiltration not only into industry and unions, but into the national government itself. Basically, Russia is fighting for the principles for which it stands. Russia is not forgetting its ultimate goal or desire. Our dollars, our planes and guns and other implements of war are helping the Russians. We should not have to open our arms and welcome every last Communist as a bosom companion. If we are to be troubled by every pressure group that speaks up, we will never get any place in this war. Let Browder and his like stay where they are.

Remember, Nothing Is Impossible

Many more men are pondering today what their fate will be in this war. In Belleville, 2,100 more know the order in which they would go into service if called, but how it will be done is something which cannot be answered.

Will draft officials call those in the 20- to 21-year group first or will all between 20 and 44 be judged on an equal footing? Although there have been numerous stories out of Washington to date, there has been no definite ruling. Your guess is as good as ours or that of the next fellow.

Too often today, it is heard—"Oh, it will be terrible if so-and-so is drafted. He's worked so hard to get where he is today." Of course, it is too bad. And so it is for every other of the million or more who are already in the fighting ranks. This war is not of our making but the sooner all of us come to the conclusion that we have a job to do and that we cannot foretell what the future holds, the better we will be able to take what is to come.

Not even our most able military men can predict how long this war will last or how many men it will take to wipe out the Axis nations. But it will be millions. The government has tentatively set 8,000,000 in manpower as a figure to shoot at.

None who has been registered in the draft can afford to feel that future is secure and that they will not be subject to call. The government did not hold the draft registration to provide work. It is the first step in a big job—and whether it be for fighting service or in some industry, every man must face the fact that it may come to him. Those with dependents—a wife and children—should not feel that they are forever secure for already well planned in the minds of selective service officials is an allotment plan to grant monthly allowances to families of drafted men.

This is war and nothing is impossible or too great to give up in the battle for victory.

Must Have Means To Enforce It

Police and health officials report that despite repeated warnings, threats of fines or the imposition of other penalties and rabies scares, many of the public still continue to permit their dogs to run at large. It has become an old story, but perhaps it is worth repeating once more.

The state law, which applies to a dog whether it is in Belleville or Cape May, provides that no dog shall be permitted outside of his kennel or shelter unless it is on a leash. There are certainly a lot of dogs in Belleville that are breaking the law—and their owners are subjecting themselves to a possible fine.

The trouble with any dog regulation is that in most places it depends on the cooperation of the owners. Many people, who just do not care, know that it is virtually impossible for the authorities to enforce the laws which have been passed. The duties of the police chief do not permit him to take time out to play dog catcher. Neither can the health officer. And with their many other duties, the policemen cannot be expected to be on the chase for dogs constantly.

It is another case of a law being passed and looking fine in print, but there are no teeth in the law. It means therefore that if a town is to follow the law as it should, there should be a full-time dog catcher, not just one who ambles in town at a certain time each week. A time, incidentally, which is pretty well known to many owners as well as the dogs.

We haven't the exact figures on what the town secures in dog licenses annually, but it is probably quite a bit more than it pays out to a dog catcher if most of the dogs we see have licenses. If it is important enough to have a law, then it is likewise important enough to have the proper means to enforce it, and until that time comes, there will be a continuing problem.

PASSOVER WILL BEGIN WEDNESDAY

Congregation A.A. Will Start
Observance At Sundown;
Ends April 9

Observance of Passover, the Jewish festival of freedom, will start at sundown next Wednesday and extend to sundown Thursday, April 9, among local Jews. Pesach, as the holy day is known in Hebrew, marks the deliverance of the Jewish people from the bondage in Egypt.

This occurred about 3,500 years ago and Jewry the world over observes it every year. The Jewish dates for the festival are from the fourteenth day of Nisan to the twenty-second day of the month.

Observance of the man-sided significance of the holiday, Passover is known by many names. Among them are "Chag Ha Matzoh," the Feast of the Unleavened Bread, because of the Matzohs that must be eaten during the eight days of the holiday; "Zman Chairusainu," the Season of our Freedom, because the Jewish people acquired their complete freedom, and became a full-fledged nation; and "Chag Ha-Aviv," the holiday of the Spring, because the festival marks the advent of the spring season.

The traditional Seder ceremony is performed in all Jewish homes during the first two nights of the holiday. This event, which brings together all members of the family, stresses the historic ideal of freedom always held high by the Jews. The head of the house leads the Seder ritual as it is arranged in the "Hagadah," the Passover book.

The Seder is filled with symbolic ceremonies. Some of them are "The Four Questions" asked by the youngest child about the meaning of the holiday; the drinking of the four glasses of Passover wine, referring to the four expressions of freedom used by the Bible in relating the redemption of Israel; "Kos Shel Elijah," the cup of Elijah, the prophet who, according to tradition makes a visit to every Jewish home that night, and the singing of many age-old Passover hymns.

The Congregation A.A. has a Seder will hold services and sponsor many events marking the holiday. Services will be held Wednesday and Thursday evenings and on Thursday and Friday mornings, April 1, 2 and 3. The evening services will start at 7:10 p.m. and those in the morning at 9:30 a.m. Rabbi Dobin will officiate at all services assisted by Morris Rosen. Rabbi Dobin will preach at both morning services. His topic for Thursday will be, "Can Freedom Be Universal?" and on Friday he will preach on "The Eleventh Plague."

On Sunday morning the religious school will sponsor its annual children's Seder for Passover. The event, which will start at 10:15 a.m., will be held in the social hall of the congregation. Rabbi Dobin will lead the children in performing the service and will deliver a short talk.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the children's Seder includes Louis Haft, chairman of the school board; Miss Ida Kempert, Mrs. Robert Gruhin, Mrs. E. J. Abramson and Mrs. Rose Cherin.

The final days of the Passover festival will be observed on Wednesday and Thursday, April 8 and 9. The Yizkor memorial services will take place on Thursday morning, April 9, at 10:15 a.m.
