COLONIAL VILLAGE LAND AUCTION ON MONDAY

Coogan Makes Official Offer Then; WPA Survey Shows Less 1% Vacant Houses

The first step in the efforts of John F. Coogan Jr., Washington avenue real estate broker, to bring the erection of a 112-family colonial village development to Belleville takes place on Monday afternoon at the town hall. In the commission rooms at 4 p.m., the town will offer for public sale a tract of vacant land on Carpenter street, opposite the Essex County Isolation hospital.

Coogan has already submitted an offer of $10,200 for the three and one-half acre tract, which has a frontage of 680 feet on Carpenter street and an approximate depth of 212 feet.

The realtor made the offer on behalf of his unnamed client at last week's town commission conference. Sketches of the proposed buildings shown by Coogan to board members brought a favorable reaction from the members, and Mayor Williams commented that the project was vastly superior to previous ones that had been submitted for garden type apartments.

Coincident with its action putting the property up for sale, the board introduced an amendment to the zoning ordinance which would change the Carpenter street property which Coogan's client plans to purchase from a Residence "A" to a Residence "C" district. A public hearing on this proposed change will be held on Tuesday, April 14.

Tonight Coogan will present his plans and sketches to the members of the zoning board of adjustment. The board of commissioners has referred the project to the zoning board with the information that the commissioners look favorably on the plan.

In Newark this week, State WPA Administrator Robert W. Allan released the results of a survey on housing vacancies made in this area within recent months at the request of the division of defense housing coordination.

The gross vacancy rate proportions in the area surrounding Newark were found to be less than for the city. In Belleville, Bloomfield, East Orange, Montclair, Nutley, Orange and West Orange there was a gross vacancy rate of 1.1 percent out of an estimated 75,000 dwellings. The habitable vacancy rate was 0.9 percent.

Rentals Here At $65 In Belleville and other suburban municipalities surrounding Newark, the average monthly rentals for habitable vacancies is $65, the WPA survey showed. This is in contrast to an estimated average figure of $35 for Newark and $30 for the Elizabeth, Hillside and Irvington area.

The average size of the vacancies in this town was said to be four rooms. In addition to vacant dwellings, it is estimated that 1,600 rooms in occupied dwellings are available for rent in the Newark area, of which more than 60 percent are in Newark itself.

At the time of the survey, units under construction and not available for occupancy in Belleville, Bloomfield, the Oranges, Montclair and Nutley made up 0.6 percent of the total dwellings in the area. None of these units were for rent, it was reported. Two-thirds of them were being built for owner occupancy and one-third for sale only.

No First Aid Classes

There will be no first aid classes today or tomorrow, except the one being conducted by Dr. Joseph D'Angelo this afternoon. Classes will be resumed the same time next week.

Townpeople who are not already permanently registered may do so at the office of the Town Clerk in the Town Hall, Belleville, N. J., between the hours of 9 A.M. and 4 P.M. each day except Saturday when the hours are 9 A.M. to 12 M., or on Monday evening, March 30th, Tuesday evening, March 31st and Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 1st and 2nd, from 7 P.M. to 9 P.M.

All persons who have lived within the state one year and in the county five months, citizens of the United States and twenty-one years of age, are eligible to register.

Absolutely no transfers will be made on election day. It is therefore necessary that all persons who have changed their address should sign the required transfer card.

Last day to REGISTER or TRANSFER for the Municipal Election is Thursday, April 2nd.

Will Use Goldfish Bowl In Drawing For Position

Commission Candidates' Names Will Be Inserted In Capsules; Town Clerk Morey Will Draw Names At 2:30 P.M. On Tuesday

Next Tuesday will be the most important day in the lives of the candidates for the town commission — at least as far as this campaign is concerned.

Amending an old adage a bit, most of them believe that position on the ballot means everything in life and they'll learn next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. whether they will be at the beginning or the end, or sandwiched somewhere in the middle.

At that time, Mrs. Florence R. Morey, officiating in one of her official capacities as town clerk, will draw the names of all of the candidates, and the order in which they are pulled will determine the sequence in which the names will appear on the voting machine.

Like the national draft lottery, Belleville will have its goldfish bowl and capsules in which the names of the candidates typed on small slips of paper will be inserted. However, the local goldfish bowl haven can't lay claim to as famous historical a background as Washington's goldfish bowl. Here — it's just a plain ordinary goldfish bowl.

Think It Means Everything Some political second guessers think that position will mean everything to the candidates. The fellows who draw first and last positions on the ballot have an edge on the other boys, or if a weak candidate is sandwiched in between two of the heavy favorites, he will pick up a lot of votes.

This will be the first time that candidates in a local election have drawn for position. In past campaigns, they have been listed alphabetically.

It is expected that more than 500 new voters will have registered at town hall by 9 p.m. tonight. Town Clerk Florence R. Morey announced yesterday that registrations of new voters or transfers for those already residing in town who have moved since the last time they voted would be accepted all day today and from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight.

No registrations will be accepted or transfers issued after tonight for those wishing to vote in the municipal election on Tuesday, May 12.

The definite number of those who registered during the past month or so will not be known for several days. The previous high in registration was prior to the presidential election when a total of 12,731 voters were listed on the election books.

It is estimated that approximately 1,000 voters are enlisted in some branch of the armed forces. Absentee military ballots will be mailed to these people by the town clerk, who will obtain their present addresses from the adjutant general's office in Trenton. These ballots will be returned to the county board of elections where they will be tabulated on election night, and the results certified to the town clerk on the following day.

Tonight is also the final time for candidates for the town commission to file petitions of nomination with the town clerk.

RELEASE DRAFT LIST NEXT WEEK

Mid-April Group Will Get Physical Exams on Day They Are Inducted

The draft board will publish next week the list of those who will be inducted into the army in mid-April. Draft Clerk Reed said yesterday that a final check of those who will probably be sent is being made.

This is the group which was originally slated to depart for service earlier but was delayed because of the change in the physical examination schedule. Under the former plan, draftees were given their pre-induction physical examinations at Newark and then sent home for three weeks to straighten out their personal affairs.

A reversion to the original induction method has now been made. The men will be given their final physical checkup at the Newark armory on the day that they are inducted. If they pass the checkup, they will be shipped to Fort Dix. After arrival there, they will be granted short furloughs to return home and attend to personal affairs if the commanding officer believes that they have sufficient good reason.

To Weekend at Capitol Miss Mae O'Brien of Cleveland street will spend Easter weekend visiting friends in Maryland and Washington, D. C.

Those who have signed petitions for candidates for the town commission during recent weeks should not feel that they are legally bound to vote for those persons.

The law states that no one person should sign the petitions of nomination of more than five individuals. However, there is no guarantee that you will vote for them as many candidates have learned in the past to their dismay. When a voter goes in the booth to the voting machine, it is up to him.

Navy Favorite

Nicholas Burde, Jr.

Nineteen-year old Nicholas Burde, Jr., a midshipman in his first year at Annapolis, is popular with fellow students because of his piano playing. Burde is a member of the NA-10, swing musical aggregation, which academy students believe is the best of its kind.

In the Annapolis monthly publication, "The Log," Burde is referred to as one of the mainstays of the band and as the only member of the band who is "big time," having played with orchestras before entering the academy.

A graduate of the high school, Burde attended John Marshall college in Jersey City for two years and then received a scholarship for Annapolis where he is taking a three-year course.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Burde of Union avenue. His mother and sister, Miss Josephine Burde, a teacher at School No. 5, and his brother Palmer, who is concluding his studies in the school of dentistry at the University of Pittsburgh, will spend the Easter holidays with him at Annapolis. He has another brother, Anthony, who was formerly with the department of agriculture in Washington, and is now with the coast artillery at Ft. Meyers, Del.

CHURCHILL CHECK SOLD BY BANK

Head of Lloyd Engineering Co. Buys It; Money Goes To Red Cross

The People's National bank announced yesterday that it had sold the check which bears the endorsement signature of Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England.

The $25 cancelled check was bought by Morris Lloyd of Montclair, president of the Lloyd Engineering company in Stephens street, who for more than 30 years has been collecting various odd articles.

The money paid for the check, the amount of which was not revealed by the bank, will be turned over to the local Red Cross chapter.

The story of how Churchill endorsed the check goes back to the Christmas holidays when 25 British-born employees of the Western Electric Kearny plant contributed $1 each to be sent to Churchill while he was visiting in Washington with the suggestion that he use it for some part of his country's war effort.

James C. Fraser of 174 Joralemon street took the collection of money to the bank, had a check made out to himself and in turn endorsed it over to Churchill. The prime minister took the check to England on his return and eventually endorsed it and deposited it in the Bank of England.

VOLUNTEER HELP DRAFT BOARD NEED

Present Staff Snowed Under By Detailed Work; Must Send Out Questionnaire

Each day the draft board is having more detailed work heaped upon it which has completely swamped the regular staff and is putting it behind schedule in trying to keep up with it.

Although no forms have been received as yet, information was received from Trenton headquarters this week that the board would shortly be asked to send occupational questionnaires to the more than 2,100 male residents between 20 and 44 who registered in the third draft registration in February.

Draft Clerk Edward Reed appealed yesterday for more volunteer typists who would be willing to devote some of their time during mornings, afternoons or evenings to assist the board in handling the work. Each board is allotted so much money for salaries and can not go beyond that figure in hiring workers. The staff of three regularly assigned to handle all of the work can not possibly do all that is expected of it, Reed said.

Any person who is interested in helping should call Reed at the draft office in town hall.

Cub Pack to Play Ball Saturday at Stadium

Cub Pack No. 350, Boy Scouts, will play baseball Saturday morning at municipal stadium competing with teams of other cub packs in the Robert Treat council. Joseph Cardozo will be in charge.

Thursday evening, April 9, friends and members of the pack will have an opportunity to attend their annual card party which will be held at Fevsmith church. Mrs. Ruth Herr has been in charge of arrangements. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

DIPHTHERIA CLINIC IS ANNOUNCED

Comm. King Says It Will Be Held May 1 In Cooperation With State Department

The local health department will co-operate fully with the state department of health in the observance of child health day on May 1, Commissioner King, head of the department of public affairs, announced yesterday.

Public health nurses are already advising mothers who have not had their children immunized against diphtheria to take them to their family physicians for injections. In addition, King announced, a clinic will be held in the town hall on Friday, May 1, for those who do not go to their personal physician. The clinic will be in charge of Dr. Martin Meehan, town physician, and Dr. Anthony F. Caputo, assistant town physician.

Each child should be given two injections of toxoid for diphtheria. The first clinic in eight years was held in 1940. Nearly 340 youngsters were immunized in the last clinic.

Health Officer Eugene Berry explained that a child may be exposed at any time to a case of diphtheria or to a carrier of germs causing the disease.

Nearly all deaths from diphtheria in New Jersey occur in children. Berry said. "Over half these deaths are in children less than five years old. If your child is below school age, don't wait until he goes to school before he is protected against diphtheria; he needs protection before school age."

"Full protection for diphtheria by toxoid takes a few weeks; therefore, don't wait until exposure to have child immunized. Sabotage or enemy action at any time may result in mass movements of population under such chances for exposure to diphtheria are increased. Protect your child before any such emergency arises."

"Children must be immunized against diphtheria if we are to reduce further the prevalence of this disease in New Jersey, or if we are to keep the number of cases at the present low point."

Music Club Meets

A meeting of the Junior Music club was held Saturday afternoon at the studio of Mrs. John F. Doyle of Wilber street. Members discussed George Frederick Handel and the development of the oratorio, chorale, and concerto. Group singing, a toy symphony, games and refreshments were enjoyed.

Those present were Suzanne and Alice Seiler, Phyllis Wall, Dolores Bjorkner, Christine Wilkinson, Alan Rosenberg, Walter Shope, William Best and Jack Doyle.

Smith, Commission Candidate, Kept From Campaigning

Edward G. Smith, candidate for the town commission, has been prevented from campaigning by a bad cold and other complications. Back on his feet again, Smith plans to name his campaign manager and other lieutenants shortly and continue where he left off before his illness, in his vote solicitation.

Smith said last night that he would state facts and figures concerning town affairs during the next fortnight which would be of interest to the voters.

Mary Bowler Is Named School Business Secretary

Ruel E. Daniels, business manager of the board of education, announced yesterday that he had selected Miss Mary Bowler of 34 Valley street to serve as secretary in his office.

She will succeed Miss Eleanor J. De Puy, who will resign on April 15, after long service in the position. Miss De Puy was the first clerk of the business manager. Daniels' selection of Miss Bowler was confirmed at a special session of the board of education held on Monday night.

13 Entered In Commission Race With Filing Deadline Nearing; Mayor Last To Enter Campaign

STORES START EARLY CLOSING

Five Groups Will Shut Doors At 8 P. M. Four Nights Each Week

Proprietors of five groups of stores this week put into operation an early closing schedule in the interest of conserving for national defense.

Following a meeting held in town hall Thursday night, those operating dry goods, shoe, dry cleaning and tailoring establishments, and two delicatessen operators, Max Kraus and Julius Friedman, voted to close their stores at 8 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, at 9 p.m. on Fridays and 10 p.m. on Saturdays.

The Miles shoe store was the only chain concern represented and agreed to the closing hours.

Proprietors of package liquor stores, ice cream and confectionery stores will meet at town hall on Thursday night, April 9, along with other delicatessen operators to discuss the early closing problem and determine what policy they will take.

Wilfred Yudin was chairman of Thursday's meeting although Max Kraus opened it as temporary chairman.

NUTT IS NAMED KING MANAGER

Little Street Resident to Direct Drive to Reelect Public Affairs Head

Commissioner Joseph King, seeking his third term as a member of the board of commissioners, announced last night that he had named Charles M. Nutt of 226 Little street as his campaign manager.

A long-time resident of town and active in numerous civic affairs, Nutt is the president of the eight-year old Joseph King association which has its headquarters at 414 Washington avenue.

King announced that the association headquarters would also be his campaign headquarters as it has been in the past two races in which he has been a successful candidate. Although no meetings of workers have been held as yet, the commissioner said that details for meetings during the last month of the campaign would be made during the coming week.

WAR NECESSITY RUMOR IS HIT

Arthur L. Mayer Says Keeping Incumbents In Office Not Vital; Raps Taxes

At a meeting of his campaign committee this week, Arthur E. Mayer, candidate for commissioner, assailed rumors purporting the necessity of continuing incumbents in office during war.

"This is sheep nonsense," Mayer declared, "and a most un-American outlook. The entire national effort is dedicated in preserving this people's government by election from its ranks. Public service and Belleville's residents will cast their votes and will not be misled by confusing a local election with a national war emergency."

"For years I have given freely of time and energy to aid my less fortunate fellow-citizen through local organizations and personal contacts, and now as eight years ago, I again offer for the public's consideration my services in their behalf. To be specific I find myself raising an issue which today is an all-important factor in our personal economy. It seems to me that there should be at least one stabilizing factor to enable us to bear the drastic drain that the Federal Government must place upon us, and that is lower local taxes. And how does Belleville measure up to this? By stoically maintaining her place in the sun as the third highest tax rate in Essex county despite hundreds of increased rates from new homes, industrial plants and converted town-owned properties. Relief expenditures are down, a surplus of $500,000 has been announced and I am for John Citizen for low taxes."

MERTZ INVADES SECOND WARD

Making a round of the town to organize workers and his first campaign speeches, Raymond C. Mertz tonight invades the second ward in his circuit through the wards. Supporters from that area will hear the candidate for the town commission at the Elk's club. The meeting, is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Mertz's subject will be "Town Government Can Be Made Interesting to the People." Meetings have been held during the past week in the third and fourth wards.

Campaign manager Robert G. Sutherland announced this week that he had named Arthur Bloemcke to handle publicity. Mrs. Ansley Kime, Miss Anne Grusas and Mrs. William Englemann will head the clerical divisions.

King Public Affairs Head, Not Director of Parks

The Times regrets that in the story announcing the candidacy of Commissioner King for re-election to the board of commissioners, it was stated that he had served two terms as "the director of parks and public property."

He is not the director of parks and public property, and has never held that post. He is director of public affairs.

Citizenship Class To Start Tuesday In Silver Lake

A class in citizenship will be started Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Silver Lake Community house, 118 Belmont avenue. Classes will continue thereafter on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

A first aid class will also start there Wednesday evening, April 15, at 7:30.

BELLEVILLE DEFENSE COUNCIL

Thirteen candidates are today officially entered in the field for the town commission election on May 12. With the final time for filing—midnight tonight—only a few hours away, it appeared improbable that there would be any more petitions filed.

Mayor William H. Williams was the last to officially enter the race, announcing his candidacy and filing his petitions of nomination yesterday. This marks the fifth time that Williams has sought election to the town commission. In his first attempt in local politics in the 1926 race, he was unsuccessful, but from 1930 on he has been a permanent fixture on the town board, being high man in the 1934 and 1938 elections.

With the mayor in the field, all of the present commissioners are seeking re-election. Commissioners Joseph King, Patrick A. Waters, Louis A. Noll and William D. Clark have previously entered the race.

The outside candidates who aspire to places on the board are John F. Coogan, Jr., Raymond C. Mertz, Elmer S. Hyde, Arthur E. Mayer, James J. Tully, Gerald Ferrara, George Stewart and Edward G. Smith.

This is the earliest date that candidates have been required to file petitions. It has been caused by a change in state law necessitated by the war so that those who are in military service would have the opportunity to vote through absentee ballots which will be mailed to them.

There has been no marked activity by candidates to date outside of the usual organizational meetings and personal vote solicitation among friends by the various candidates. Only a few campaign signs have appeared. Automobile stickers are pretty scarce and campaign buttons and other literature has not been seen in many places.

So far, Commissioners Noll and King and Candidate Hyde are the only ones to open headquarters on the avenue. Hyde's is located near the Capitol theatre while King will use the offices of Davidson & King at 414 Washington avenue. Noll will use 74 Washington avenue, law office of his deputy, Charles Tedesco. He ran this campaign from the same place in 1938.

Mertz, who is a newcomer to politics, has held more public meetings than any other candidate. Hyde held a meeting of first ward workers on Monday night and announced that others would follow during the coming week.

Some candidates have chosen their campaign managers while others have announced that they will handle their own affairs. Between now and Monday night candidates must submit to Town Clerk Florence R. Morey, the slogans, which are not to be more than six words in length, which they wish placed below their names on the voting machine ballot.

Although election day is weeks away, there is already talk of tickets composed of the various candidates with names of new men linked frequently with those of present members of the board. To date, all candidates have announced that they are running independently. There has been no application filed as yet with Town Clerk Morey for the bracketing of a group of candidates.

Give the Person You Call by Telephone Time Enough to Answer

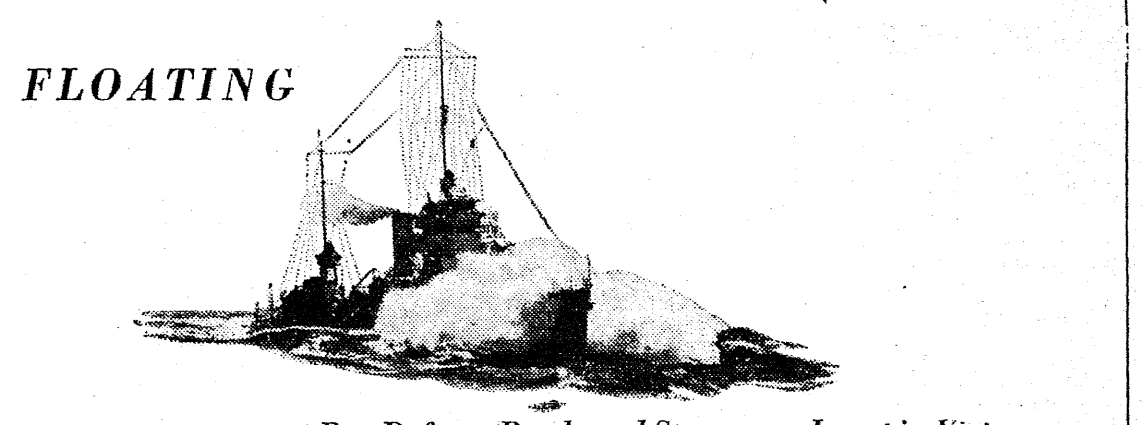

OVER 51,000 telephone calls are wasted every day in New Jersey because the calling parties do not wait even half a minute for their calls to be answered.

TODAY this is important for many of these calls undoubtedly are concerned with war-time action and all must be repeated if their purpose is to be accomplished. It is important too because the telephone facilities are tied up needlessly at a time when the service is being used as never before, to help speed our war efforts.

TO MAKE every telephone call count these days, it's a good rule to BE SLOW TO HANG UP when calling...and...BE QUICK TO ANSWER when called.

A Statement of Candidacy

As in 1930, in 1934, and in 1938, Mayor-Finance Director Williams places his candidacy for re-election before his fellow citizens, repeating the only promise made in any campaign, to work to the utmost of his abilities for the general community good.

Elected in 1930, and assigned to direct the Department of Revenue and Finance, I entered upon my duties with a background of industrial operating and management training, involving production, personnel, sales, administration, transportation and accounting problems. Our Town had entered on a development program in the early twenties which brought the community into 1930 with a gross debt far in excess of the taxpayers' capacity to liquidate for many years to come, and with the development of adverse national conditions, resulting in serious economic reactions for practically every citizen, financial embarrassment confronted the community.

While 212 communities of New Jersey were placed under the supervision of the State Municipal Finance Commission, efforts to reorganize the operating methods of Belleville were started, consistent adherence to a program of rigid economy was effected, development of financial plans which proved successful was begun, and with responsive actions by citizens, the stigma of State control and consequent ill reflection of municipal credit was avoided.

Re-elected in 1934 as high man in a field of 22 candidates, supervision of finances was again delegated to me, and I was honored by selection as Mayor. Again in 1938, elected high man in a field of 14 candidates, the new Board selected me as Mayor, assigning me to continue supervision of the Finance Department.

During each campaign, I have made my campaign, which procedure will again be followed as responsible for public statements relative to my work, operating policies instituted by me and the interpretation of policies and results are my responsibilities.

I have at no time had any semblance of a political organization, relying on a few folks to cover numerous details and on the voting public to give my candidacy thoughtful study during the days preceding election and the votes on Election Day.

The time available for campaign purposes by your Mayor-Finance Director will be very limited. Reporting to my office regularly at eight thirty each day, supervising and consulting on departmental problems, conferring almost daily with other officials, their assistants, citizens on various problems, and business folks at the Municipal Building, or at other governmental agencies, attending many conferences of Civic Defense and other civic natures requiring evening hours, it is my belief that citizens will prefer to have me attending to my duties. Continuous study is given by me to all legislative bills affecting municipal finances and operations, involving considerable time for analysis, conferences and correspondence. State reports require analysis, Sinking Fund and Pension Fund investments require study of municipal bond reports and financial condition of municipalities whose bonds may be considered worthy of purchase for these funds. These and many other duties requiring the personal attention of the Mayor-Finance Director when known to our citizens, will permit them to understand I cannot afford the time nor the dollars required to conduct a political campaign. We are in a time of transition with, and our people deeply concerned over future days, yet our democratic system of government, and public business demands the attention of the voters, therefore my candidacies are submitted to a reasoning public in which I have full faith. I believe the voters on May 12th will extend to my candidacy the same favorable attitude they extended in 1934 and 1938.

These campaigns conducted by me indicate election work can be conducted with the dignity becoming the position of public officials seeking the respect of his fellow citizens. I have never seen fit to malign the personal character nor personal opinions of another. Programs, policies, and results accomplished, or anticipated accomplishments, fitness for office based on ability, and adaptability are the primary interests of the voters in my opinion. Assurances of the respect of my work as your Mayor-Finance Director from many folks throughout Town is most gratifying to me. Most sincerely I do take pride in being the Finance Director and Chief Executive in a municipal corporation which is recognized as an honest and capable administered business institution, a Town which has surrounded very difficult situations, with a citizenry that faced its problems squarely and honestly, and constantly gave my policies encouragement and enabled me to accept invitations to over 100 communities of New Jersey, New York, Detroit, Toronto and Connecticut to discuss the policies of "The Town That Pays As It Goes", as Belleville is so widely known.

Three successive Boards of Commissioners have supported the Financial and Management policies developed by me as your Finance Director and Mayor. These policies have been discussed by editors of municipal journals and newspapers, and public officials in a most favorable manner and have developed dividends for the people of Belleville. Our main operating policies are:

- "Operating Costs Must Be Kept Within Taxpayers' Capacity to Pay". Keen study is given to each new expense item. All requests of all citizens cannot be approved, each new expense request must be studied in its relation to existing expenses, or other new requests to determine which permissible expenses to existing should be considered most urgent.
- Substantial reduction of the Town's Gross Debt has been reduced over three million dollars since 1930 notwithstanding many new improvements, decreasing school contributions from the State, and increasing State and County taxes.
- Consistent Tax Sale and Tax Title Lien Foreclosure Program. Partial payment plans have aided many confronted with tax sale problems. Foreclosure programs have saved paying substantial sums as State and County Taxes yet the Town has not caused the loss of a single home to any property owner. Tax sale and foreclosure laws permit 3 1/2 to 4 years to elapse before the Town can legally function to collect delinquent accounts, and long before that length of time, the mortgage holder will execute legal action. The result is that the Town only occasionally becomes the owner by foreclosure of good grade property.
- Protection of Pension Fund Capital Assets. Such funds throughout New Jersey are generally in an unsound actuarial status. To protect Capital Assets of Police and Fire Pension Funds, budget for past few years has included prior years Fund deficit, as well as regular budget contribution. Recently a new State Law was passed requiring all municipalities to adopt procedure in vogue in Belleville in prior years.
- Conservative Estimation of Anticipated Revenues. Careless or overoptimistic anticipation of Anticipated Revenues has hurt the financial structure of many municipalities causing tax increases while operating expenses were not increasing. Anticipation of services appearing in many other municipalities' budgets do not appear in Belleville budgets, reliance being placed on the actual cash receipts of previous years instead of on a guess at the first of the year.
- Conservative Regard for Non-Recurring Receipts. Such items as receipts of delinquent franchise taxes, land sales, decreasing reservoirs of delinquent taxes and assessments, must be very carefully studied as some are entirely non-recurring and others only partially recurring, and budgets made up anticipating that such items will be annual receipts can easily disorganize a sound budget program.
- Strict Adherence to State Budget Laws and good Business Laws. Twelve successive Belleville budgets have been approved by State officials without a single rejection, indicating our respect for State legal requirements, and the laws of prudent business guide our work where State laws do not exist.
- No Special Favors Given to Obtain New Business or Industry to Locate in Belleville. From the initial day of our municipal and industrial advertising campaign, no tax concessions of any character whatsoever have been given to any firm. I believe the substantial business man does not seek tax exemptions, nor moving expenses, but Belleville had proximity to New York, good roads, fine schools and a widely known record of honest, constructive management of public business and freedom for business and industry of many of the abuses I have personally known to cause business and industry considerable concern. Of the sixteen new industries responding to my efforts to obtain new taxpayers to share our tax burden, the two largest new plants in 1942 will pay in enough dollars to pay all wages of the 24 men of the Fire Department and all the supplies they require, and pension charges. In 1943, the same two plants will pay in taxes more dollars than will be required for the wages of the 88 men in our Police Department and all the costs of supplies they require and their Pension charges. Every new industry is of a clean manufacturing type, those building new plants and those expanding have built high grade units, resulting in over 5,000 new jobs and over $8,000,000 of new payrolls.
- Equitable Distribution of Public Costs. Constant effort is made to equitably distribute the costs of government to all.
- Policy of open Conferences and open Meetings—All conferences of Board of Commissioners as well as all meetings are open to citizens and representatives of newspapers. I firmly believe an informed public is an understanding public. The friction of misunderstandings are avoided by an open door policy on all public questions.

The dividends of our municipal operating policies are: Recognition that Belleville is a successfully operating corporation.

Continual development of all essential services.

Lower Taxes in total and particularly in Municipal or Town Tax points.

The 1938 Town Tax rate of $2.24 has decreased to $1.80 for 1942, a decrease of 44 points in Town government rate in four years.

The 1938 State School tax decreased in same period from 30 to 28 points.

The 1938 Local School Tax rate increased from $1.60 to $1.65 in same period.

The 1938 County Tax rate increased 9 points in same period from 62 to 71 points.

The 1938 Soldier's Bonus Tax of 2 points was eliminated in 1941.

The net decrease is 34 points from $4.78 for 1938 to $4.44 for 1942 as per latest County data.

Increasing Cash Reserves—Present cash reserves after completion of 1942 Budget are $350,000, an insurance against municipal instability caused by adverse economic conditions, decreasing tax collections, or increased costs by agencies other than local governing Board.

nted—If They Meet High Standards

In the past 10 or 15 years, there has been a great change in apartment house design. Formerly, these multi-family dwellings were huge structures of brick and concrete—three, four and five stories high. Few were attractive in design.

The skill of architects has changed that. The garden apartment has taken the place of the old type buildings. These newer dwellings seldom exceed two stories in height, and they are broken into small units to give them individuality. Seldom do they occupy more than 25 percent of the area of the property on which they are built.

Their architectural design plus the landscaping and the gardens which are a part of them have made them attractive places and an asset to a community. With apartments of old, they have one thing in common—they are a lasting ratable, the value of which does not diminish as rapidly as single dwellings.

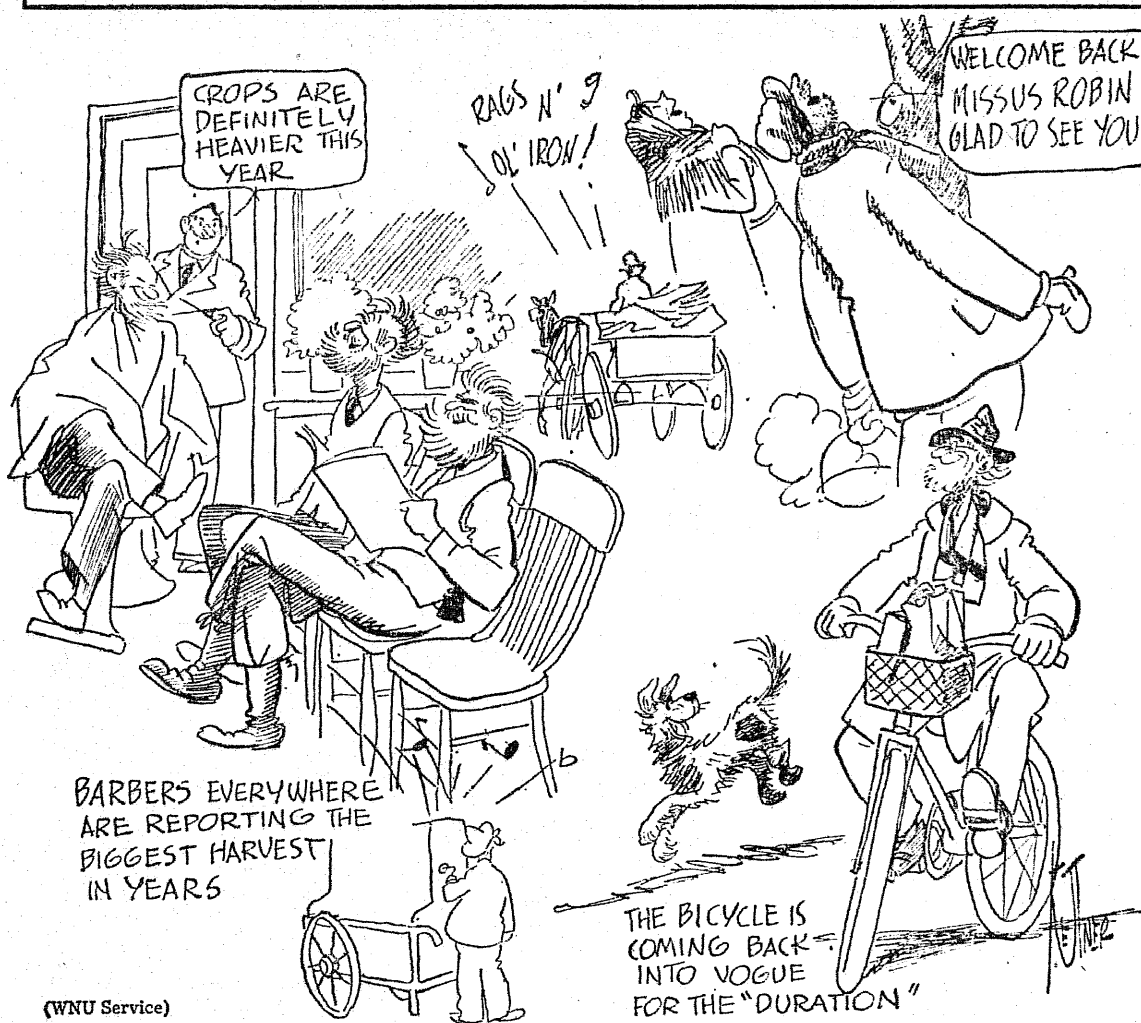

Belleville has the opportunity to acquire at least one and perhaps more of these developments. The town has a housing shortage—one which has not been eased to a great extent by the one-family houses which have been erected in the past year or so. New people brought to town by industries either here or in this section are unable to find a place to live regardless of the rental which they are willing to pay.

Apartments would go a long way toward solving the problem and helping a condition which is a hardship to many people. As long as the proposed garden apartments are of high quality, in structure and in design, we believe that the town should encourage them. In most cases, they are built on property out of which there has been no return for years or in which small home developers have displayed no interest.

Housing remains one of the most acute problems of this region since it has been bent on producing for the war effort. Workers must have places to live that are convenient to their employment. If they have difficulty in obtaining what they can afford and what they need, they certainly won't stay here to work. If Belleville can do its part to help this condition by making available through sale and cooperation its property for attractive garden apartment or village type developments, it will be rendering another one of its many services in this all-out effort.

Urges More Interest In State Constitution Revision

From Irene P. McCorkle
134 Forest street
To the Editor of The Times:

For many weeks various leading daily and weekly newspapers through their columns are carrying articles relatively pertinent to the need for drafting a new constitution, either by revision or amendment, to replace the approximately 100-year-old New Jersey state constitution now in existence.

It is with great interest as a Belleville citizen that I note in this past week's issue of The Belleville Times an article submitted by the Belleville Woman's club, through its legislative committee, referring to their interest in constitutional reform either by convention or amendment.

As one who is active and interested in all public-spirited and worthwhile movements in Belleville, Essex county and state organizations, I believe that all local citizens should acquaint themselves with ready information and available data concerning these needed changes in fundamental law, and whether or not the New Jersey state constitution is an outmoded document.

Many prominent citizens representing people from all walks of life and various organizations appear to have become interested in the possibility of revising our state constitution. The Belleville Times in publishing items such as the one submitted by the legislative department of the local Woman's club is to be commended for its willingness to accept and print news articles to keep Belleville readers well informed on the programs of local clubs and organizations who are affiliated with statewide activities and interests.

Board Grants Tavern Transfer To Harrison Street Man

The board of commissioners last week approved the transfer of the tavern license held by Carmen A. Parrillo from 27-29 Harrison street to 35 Harrison street. The board has recently voted down two requests for tavern transfers from one section of town to another. It was explained that since Parrillo's is in the same neighborhood, the application was granted.

Approve Special Policemen For Eastwood Plant

The town commission last week approved the appointment of five special policemen by Eastwood-Nealley corporation to guard their plant on Main and Joralemon streets. Acting on the recommendation of Commissioner Clark, the board granted police powers on the Eastwood property to Sidney L. Whitford, John R. Barnett, Julius Beulinek, Thomas McKeely, Jr. and William E. Savage.

CAMPAIGN CENTRE OPENED BY HYDE

B. S. Woodhall, Mrs. Louis Frick Campaign Managers; Ward Meetings Planned

After several months' quiet campaigning, Candidate Elmer S. Hyde splurged this week with the opening of his headquarters at 358 Washington avenue, next to the Capitol theatre.

Splashed with lots of patriotic red, white and blue, the new campaign center will be used throughout the pre-election by Hyde workers. The opening meeting was held on Monday night when first ward supporters turned out to make their plans for vote-getting. The candidate announced last night that during the next week, meetings of other ward groups would be held. Hyde will also name a chairman for each ward.

Hyde, who ran seventh in the 1938 race, announced last night that he had appointed as campaign managers Bert J. Woodhall of Berkeley avenue and Mrs. Louis Frick of Division avenue. Woodhall, who had frequently been mentioned as a possible candidate but had never formally entered the race, announced last week that he was withdrawing from the field of aspirants and that he would support Hyde.

Do Not Expect Too Much At Once

Americans love heroes—and we've got ourselves a new one in General MacArthur. He has been crowned the fightingest man of the war as far as the allied nations are concerned. We've already named streets, ball parks, babies, air fields and land knows what in his honor.

He was an idol long before he sneaked out of the Philippines under the very noses of the Japs. His spectacular dash to Australia plus the fact that he has been placed in supreme command of the allied fighting forces in the Pacific, gives him added glory and we Americans more reason for worshipping him.

But aren't we losing sight of the tremendous task confronting this man in our enthusiasm over him and the courageous stand which he made in the Philippines?

Should Weigh Statements Carefully

Every man of draft age and members of his family hang on every word they hear or see. That's quite natural because the rules set by government officials may greatly determine what they or their families will do in the next year or so.

National and state draft heads may not be conscious of it but every time they say something, millions literally jump at their words. Frequently, they put local boards on the spot. Information is given to the newspaper press services or is told over the radio of which local boards have no knowledge. Sometimes they do not learn of it for weeks. Registrants call the board with which they are registered, and when they are told that nothing is known about such and such a ruling, the fellows are befuddled and think the board is not doing its job.

We think a policy should be adopted by General Hershey and his subordinates so that before they give out statements to the press on important draft rulings, copies will be in the hands of local boards. That's where registrants will immediately turn to learn if what they have read or heard applies to them.

Newspaper "dope" stories that are not based on black and white evidence can do just as much harm. After Pearl Harbor, reports appeared that every 1-A would immediately be sent into the army. All 3-A's would be reclassified and shipped off, too. Some youths, we know actually gave up their jobs in the belief that they would soon be in the service and wanted to have a few good times before leaving for war duty.

Today, they still aren't in the army, many have been reclassified in 1-B as the result of slight physical disability, but are walking the streets unable to get a job. You may say that they were foolish to act hastily, but that's natural with many people, especially in this war fervor into which we have been whipped.

The best advice is to await official announcements from the local draft board. If you feel that you must make a decision about your job or a possible change in your home life, consult with the board members. If they have the information, we are sure they will give you all of the help that they possibly can. Your part in this war is not going to be decided by the speech of somebody in Washington, Chicago or Trenton. It is the job of the local board—and on that you should rely.

May Need Own Gardens

Campaigns for community victory gardens are being adopted in many places with considerable interest and enthusiasm. It is not only a way of producing vegetables which may be scarce and an aid to family problems of how to overcome the canned goods shortage, but it gives garden enthusiasts an opportunity to learn the best methods of planting and cultivating in their own back yards.

As yet, the idea has not taken hold in Nutley although there are many people, who have done no gardening for years, who are now bent on having their own vegetable patch. It will serve a dual purpose for them, since they will not only be providing for the family table but will have something to do to replace the automobile rides and trips which are being discouraged.

The state agriculture department states that it has no definite way of telling what food problems or shortages may exist next winter. The picture may change very quickly, not alone because of the transportation situation but because of the inability of farmers to secure much-needed labor. The army and the attraction of better wages in industry has lured many men away from the farms.

While there may be a plentiful supply of certain vegetable commodities today, it may be very different next fall. We should not take the chance of facing next winter with a possible shortage, the agricultural experts believe. In another year, community and home gardens may be a necessity, so it is suggested by the agriculture department that people start planning and planting to familiarize themselves with the best methods so they will be prepared.

CANDIDATES

 on the ballot.
 Has Gained Admiration for Mayor Williams' efforts for Belleville both as its revenue and finance director and as its No. 1 industrial and business salesman have gained for him admiration and publicity throughout the East. A native of Massachusetts, he moved here in 1923 and still resides in his original local residence at 82 Rossmore place.
 Following his first election to the town commission in 1930, he was made revenue and finance director. Belleville was then in its darkest days financially and one of the innovations put into effect by Williams to try to bring the town out of financial chaos was the issuance of baby bonds valued at $1,264,000 were issued to employees and merchants, and through Williams, efforts the town was able to redeem all of the bonds within 22 months and start back on the road toward straightening out its financial house.

During his present administration, the mayor's efforts to bring new industries to Belleville have been outstanding. Among the leading firms which have located here are the Andrew Jergens company, Walter Kidde company and the Eastern Tool corporation. As a private enterprise he erected the buildings housing the Sears Roebuck company, and A. & P. Later the structure housing the F. W. Woolworth company and the Safeway market followed. Several blocks north on Washington avenue an Acme super market erected on the mayor's property is nearing completion.

In the statement announcing his candidacy, Williams said that since he had instituted his promotional campaign to attract industry here, he estimated that it has resulted in 5,000 new jobs and a payroll of more than $8,000,000.

To Work For Community
 In announcing that he would run, the mayor said that he was placing his candidacy for reelection before "his fellow citizens, repeating the only promise made in any campaign, to work to the utmost of his abilities for the general community good."

"I entered upon my duties," Williams said in speaking of the start of his first term in 1930, "with a background of industrial operating and management training, involving production, personnel, sales, administration, transportation and accounting problems."

The mayor continued further on "During each campaign, I managed my campaign, which procedure will again be followed as responsibility for public statements relative to my work, operating policies instituted by me and the interpretation of policies and results are my responsibilities."

"I have at no time had any semblance of a political organization, relying on a few folks to cover numerous details and on the voting public to give my candidacy thoughtful study during the days preceding election and the votes on election day."

The mayor's complete statement on announcing that he would again be a candidate appears on Page 4.

Partial List of Order Numbers of 20-44 Men

Below is a partial alphabetical list of the local order numbers of those who registered in the third or 20-44 draft in February. The order numbers for this group start at 10,001.

This means that the man holding 10,001 would be the first to be considered for drafting with 10,002 and so on following in order.

The remainder of the list will be published next week.

CARE PAYS DIVIDENDS

Maybe the purchase of that new electric refrigerator did seem an extravagance last year, but now, aren't you glad you bought it? The manufacture of automatic refrigerators has been ordered discontinued in order to further war production. So take care of that refrigerator. It will have to serve you for some time:

Defrost it regularly: store foods so that the cold air can circulate freely. If you have mislaid the book of instructions furnished by the manufacturer, we will be glad to tell you how to get the best service from your electric refrigerator. Or ask the dealer from whom you made the purchase.

ST. PETER'S HONORS SERVICEMEN
Huge Service Flag With 106 Stars Is Hung; Small Flags Given Families
One hundred and sixteen young men in the armed forces who are parishioners of St. Peter's church were paid tribute and remembered at special services held at the church Sunday night when a huge service flag bearing a star in honor of each one of them was raised.
Despite the stormy weather, the church was filled to capacity by the families and friends of those youths now serving in all branches of the service on scattered war fronts. As each man's name was called, a member of his family went to the altar and was presented with a small service flag to be hung in the home.
First names to be called were those of two army nurses, First Lieut. Althea Ward, stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C. and First Lieut. Lorraine Grey, stationed at San Juan, Puerto Rico. Their positions on the flag were pointed out by Miss Margaret McCann, sister of James McCann, who is stationed with the army at Hawaii, and Miss Romona Grey, sister of the nurse and Lieut. James Grey, a 1939 naval academy graduate, who is now stationed at San Diego, Cal. She is the daughter of Maj. James R. Grey of the army.
The service flag was raised to a position in the center of the church by John Calogah, John Mazza and Edward Lukowiak.
Rev. Kelly Preaches
Rev. Joseph M. Kelly, the pastor, preached the sermon, taking as his topic, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Rev. John S. Nelligan called the service honor roll and distributed the flags.
The church choir under the direction of Thomas A. Haney, organist, sang "Glory to the Trinity" by Rachmannoff; "Woman Behold Thy Son" by DuBois; "Ave Maria," Gregorian, arranged by Nicolai Montani; and "Mother, Dear Pray for Me," congregational, arranged by a sister of charity at Convent Station.
The service was concluded with the benediction and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."
