

COLONIAL VILLAGE LAND SALE O.K. IS EXPECTED

Board Expected To Confirm
Deal For Carpenter St. Property For Coogan Client

The town commission is expected at its meeting Tuesday night to ratify the sale of vacant land with 680 feet of frontage on Carpenter street to a group represented by John F. Coogan, Jr., local realtor, who has announced that his clients would erect a 120-family colonial village or garden type apartments there.

Coogan, with an offer of $10,200, was the only bidder for the property owned by the town when a public auction was held Monday afternoon at the town hall. The town will receive $9,600 after Coogan's commission as the broker has been deducted. It is the second big tract of town-owned land that the commission candidate-realtor has sold in the past two months. Previously, he represented a Newark firm in purchasing property for slightly more

Zone Change Will Not Affect Entire Area

Because of inquiries which have been made of him by people residing in the vicinity of the Carpenter street property, Realtor Coogan pointed out last night that the zone change to permit the garden apartment structures of two stories each to be erected applies only—and specifically—to the 680-foot tract which the town now owns.

"Some are under a misapprehension that it would affect the entire area," Coogan explained. "It would not change the nature of that neighborhood since the zoning amendment applies only to the property in which my clients are interested."

than $10,000 in Jefferson and Harvard streets, north of Jorammon street. He said yesterday that he would shortly have an announcement of plans for that property.

Fifteen units, similar in design to those shown in the sketches elsewhere in the paper, would be erected on the tract. Eight families would be housed in each one. Coogan said yesterday that the builders at the present, unless F.H.A. permits a change in building plans, will build the tract entirely of three-room units. He pointed out that the building would occupy only 24 percent of the three and one-half acre tract. Running in from Carpenter street will be three cul-de-sacs around which the units will be erected in groups of five. The remainder of the property will be landscaped with gardens and play areas for the young people.

BASEBALL OUT FOR H. S. NINE

Report That School Board Has Decided To Cancel
Schedule

There will be no baseball at the high school this season, it was reported yesterday. This was confirmed by Hugh D. Kittle, high school principal.

The action, it is understood, has been taken by the board of education. No official of the board could be reached here yesterday for a further statement. The regular season was scheduled to start on April 16. However, the town has no place to practice since young grass is being grown at Clearman field and the municipal stadium grounds are not in condition for baseball as yet.

Although the team did not have too successful a season in 1941, there had been no previous talk of ruling the sport out. Games were scheduled and it was planned to have Larry Gates, football mentor, coach the nine as he did last year. Still hopeful that the situation may be ironed out, some of the players were this week practicing among themselves.

Three Type Designs For Colonial Village

ARCHITECTURAL DESIGNS for the colonial village type garden apartments which are proposed for Carpenter street are shown above. This week John F. Coogan, Jr., local realtor, purchased the property from the town for $10,200 a public auction for his clients who plan to erect the development.

Expect Cherry Blossoms Will Be In Bloom On Sunday

If Warm Weather Continues They'll Be Ready For
The Crowds, Says Park Commission; Police
Will Be Ready To Handle Big Crowd

The flowering cherry blossom trees in the Branch Brook park extension will be in full bloom Sunday if the sun continues to beat down as it has for the past four days. This was the prediction made by the Essex County park commission which has charge of the several hundred trees which line the parkway and the Third river. Yesterday afternoon, shades of light pink began appearing on the trees here and there, so the park commission's tree blossoming experts revised their first prediction that the trees would burst into bloom April 15.

With the thousands who are expected to be attracted to see this sight of nature's work, Police Chief Spatz said last night that he would make arrangements for additional policemen to handle traffic which is expected to wend its way in and out of the parkway. Spatz said the police reserves may be used, pointing out that the traffic jam would be good experience for them. The chief said that he would recommend that no parking be permitted on the section of Mill street running through the Parkway. He said that cars should park on Mill street east of Union avenue and south of Mill street on Union avenue. No parking will be permitted on Union avenue between William street and Mill street.

The trees are the gift of Mrs. Felix Fuld and they are not as commonly thought—Japanese cherry trees. According to the experts, they are Korean cherry trees. Each year more trees blossom because of the younger trees which are set out by the park commission periodically. Those visiting the park are warned that they should not pick the blossoms or they will be subject to prosecution.

Two Newsdealers Announce Delivery Price Change

Newsdealers who have announced an advance in delivery charges this week are Ed Vandemark of 162½ Washington avenue and Louis Chaiken of 179 Smallwood avenue. An increase of one cent will be made on morning papers and one cent on evening papers. The delivery price of Sunday papers will be unchanged.

Both dealers expect to use the increased revenue to raise the wages of their delivery boys and meet other higher costs of delivery. Scarcity and higher cost of bicycle tires is one factor which affects the cost of delivery.

FIRE INSURANCE SAVING $25,000

Clark Points To Department
Improvements as Aid To Rate Reduction

Through the improvement of the fire department and its equipment, the residents of Belleville have received a 30 percent reduction in their fire insurance rates in the past 14 years, Public Safety Director William D. Clark pointed out yesterday. To local residents, this means an annual saving of more than $25,000 per year.

In 1928, Belleville had an insurance rating of "EE" according to the Schedule Rating office while today it is rated in Class "C" a rate much sought after by many communities. In dollars and cents this means $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 in fire rates to local property owners.

This improvement in the fire insurance rating could not have been accomplished without the improvement of the equipment and the addition of new fire apparatus.

Last summer, Public Safety Director Clark urged the town commissioners to approve his recommendation that more fire apparatus be purchased, pointing out to the community's residential and industrial expansion. The board authorized the public safety head to purchase a new pump to cost

NO DEPARTURE CEREMONY FOR NEXT DRAFTEES

Big Group Leaves April 16;
Some May Return Same Day
If They Fail Physical

Belleville will send its next group of young men off for service with the army on April 16, the draft board announced this week when it posted the names of those in the contingent.

It may be possible that some of those who will leave town on that morning will be back before nightfall for they will not receive their final physical checkup by army medics until they have reported to the Newark armory after being sworn in here. This is a reversion to the system which was used prior to last September when men scheduled for induction were given their final medical examination three weeks before their departure.

Draft Clerk Edward Reed also announced yesterday that there would be no send-off ceremony such as was held at the time of the last induction on March 4. Draft board and municipal officials participated in that program which was held at the high school. No reason was given for the decision not to hold any send-off exercises.

Two of Distant Points

Two of the men listed in the group may not be inducted from town. Jack Goldberg of 514 Washington avenue, currently gives his residence as Miami, Fla., while Frank Nick DiRuggiero of 8 Van Rensselaer street is student in a Pittsburg college. Reed said that no requests had been received as yet from either of these men for a transfer to be inducted with groups in the cities where they now reside, but that it could be obtained if they wished.

Those scheduled to be inducted are:

CONSUMER GROUP SEEKS COMPLAINTS

Every Resident Urged to Become Watchful of Prices,
Etc. By Chairman

The consumers' interest division of the defense council this week appealed to all resident to consider themselves part of the defense group. The appeal was made by Dr. Eugene A. Nyiri, who is the consumers' interest chairman. Inflation, black markets, undernourishment, waste, hoarding speculation, profiteering, scare talk and selfishness are what Dr. Nyiri termed as "the treacherous, sneaking, harmful deadly evils that can create dissatisfaction, disunity, unrest and can lead to social chaos."

Speaking to householders, Nyiri said, "It does not help if you complain to your neighbor or friend. Your consumer representation will never hear of your complaints. However, if you let the consumer interest committee or any of its agencies or representatives know your observations, your complaint or suggestion, it will in all probability not only help you but will also be a patriotic service."

People should not waste anything that is urgently needed such as electricity, gas, fuel, gasoline and paper," the chairman said. He urged residents to buy judiciously, to detect price increase if they are unjustified and to fight against any increase in the family's cost of living.

All complaints should be directed to the defense council at the town hall.

FAVOR LABAUGH FOR COUNTY POST

Local Legionnaires Back
Member and County Vice-Commander for Office

William I. Labaugh of Lloyd place, vice-commander of the county American Legion and a member of the local post, was endorsed for the post of county commander by the local Legionnaires at a meeting held Monday night in the Recreation house. The election will be held at the annual county convention in June.

Labough, who has been prominent in local and state veterans' work for a number of years, is also director of the famed 40 and 8 ambulance.

Commander Edward Cantwell named a group of past commanders to serve as a nominating committee for the post election of new officers which will be held shortly.

New members voted into membership were William Hockstahl, John R. Smith, Joseph Glasener, James Griffin, George R. Meyer and Matthew Smith. Membership is now approximately 10 percent ahead of last year.

A memorial day committee was named with Arthur S. Ackerman as chairman. Other members are Henry Denison, William Raymond Gibbs, Willard Strange and Labaugh.

Belleville Will Be Blacked Out During Test Wednesday Night; Defense Units To Be On Duty

New Pumper Gets The O.K.

Belleville will be blacked out Wednesday night between 10 and 10:15 p.m., according to an announcement made early today by Leonard Dreyfuss, state civilian defense director.

All residents are ordered to comply with the regulations and all active civilian defense units will be mobilized for the test emergency, according to an announcement made by Everett B. Smith, local civilian defense chairman.

Belleville is in the area in Passaic, Bergen, Essex and Middlesex counties and parts of Union, Somerset and Morris counties which will be darkened for the purposes of the test by the orders of the state council, similar tests have been held in the Camden and Asbury Park areas.

The plan as outlined by state headquarters calls for the complete cooperation not only of home owners—store-keepers, other business enterprises, but of all civilian defense units.

Air raid wardens, police reserves, emergency medical units, demolition, rescue and repair squads and all other active units

Defense Head Will Speak On Radio Monday Night

Final instructions for local residents and defense volunteers will be given by Municipal Judge Everett B. Smith, defense council chairman, over W.A.A.T. Monday night at 10:30 p. m. Smith, along with other defense council chairman in this area, has been invited by the station to speak at that time.

must be at their respective posts a half hour before the approximate time of the warning.

Notice of the blackout will be sent to Belleville over the teletype system.

As in a real alarm, the four color signals—yellow and blue for warning, red for alarm and white for the all clear will be sent over the machine.

The first notice that residents will have that the blackout is in progress will be the sound of the air raid siren. As soon as the "red" signal is received over the teletype, the desk sergeant in police headquarters will put in a call to each of the plants where the air raid sirens are located giving them the order to send out the alarm.

Wait Until Warning
The blackout, the state order says, should not be put into effect until the red warning is received, otherwise a true effect will not be obtained.

All traffic will be stopped and all cars must pull to the side of the road and put their lights out. The only traffic which will be allowed to proceed is as follows:

Doctors, nurses and ambulances on rush calls, fire equipment and police cars going to a call, public utility repair crews, home guard when absolutely necessary, priests and ministers traveling to give spiritual aid in an emergency and, army, navy, and marine corps units. All must proceed with their lights on, never out.

Air raid wardens, according to the instructions from the state, should start patrolling their sectors or posts as soon as the warning is sounded. They shall see that all house lights are extinguished. Night lights in stores, gas stations, business offices must be extinguished when the last person leaves the premises every night unless an outside switch is already installed for the use of the air raid warden or police reservist.

IT'S A FINE PIECE of apparatus is what Public Safety Director Clark is telling Fire Chief Reid seated in cab after inspecting the fire department's new pumper which was delivered late last week. The white-painted pumper will be stationed at headquarters in Washington and Division avenues. The new apparatus will receive its official test before acceptance today.

Town Surplus Is Attacked By Stewart And Mayer

Stewart Also Hits At Williams Candidacy Statement;
Says Surplus Should Go Back To Public; Mayer
Hits Sound Business Basis Statement

The town's 1942 budget surplus was assailed this week by two candidates for the town commission with first-time candidate George E. Stewart, Jr., of Smallwood avenue cracking down on some of the statements made by Mayor Williams in the statement announcing his candidacy published last week.

The other attack on the surplus figures came from Arthur E. Mayer, real estate broker, who claimed that the town has a half million-dollar surplus and that it should be returned to the people.

Stewart declared that he believed that it would be only fair that the $50,000 surplus be returned to the people who paid for it. "If there is an actual surplus in American dollars in the amount of $350,000 or near it, and it can be determined from whom the over-levy was collected, I shall certainly advise the taxpayers to claim a refund if I am elected."

Stewart and Mayer are the only candidates who have fired any verbal shot in the campaign thus far. Mayer opened last week with the claim that war-time is no justification for the argument that there should not be a change in administration.

On Several Angles

Taking Williams' opening statement of the campaign made last week, Stewart attacked it from several angles in addition to the surplus revenue charge.

Stewart assailed Williams for his claims about the open conferences of the board of commissioners to which the public and members of the press have been admitted.

"What a farce to tell about open conferences and square deals and open door policy. Does the mayor recall the attempt of Mayor Burns of the United States Army, a taxpayer who attempted to speak at one of his 'open door' conferences? Wasn't he ordered out and called a 'mental rag bag'?"

The door opened all right, opened outward, because he dared to speak out in meeting of the big four. It is funny to read the paragraph in his statement of candidate, but let's see how frank he is in answering the questions of the taxpayers before they vote on May 12th. The taxpayer public knows practically nothing about what happens to their money, and any attempt to get the facts will come to naught, we are mistaken. Let's see how many questions he answers."

The frequently heard statement that Belleville's affairs have been operated on a sound business basis was the basis of Mayer's attack.

"Management of a municipality is in a sense a business arrangement, in that its operation does include the receipt and disbursement of money," Mayer said. In "sound" and "good" business, the profit (surplus) reverts to its investors.

Rutgers Singers In Benefit Concert Here On April 17

This is the Rutgers University glee club which appears here in a benefit concert under the sponsorship of the American Legion on Friday evening, April 17 at the high school. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of an emergency inhalator which will be presented to the town by the Legionnaires as one of their contributions to the civilian defense effort.

Following the concert, there will be a dance with music furnished by the university orchestra. Sheldon Henry, Alonzo Hartley, Arthur Ackerman and Arthur MacCreedy head subcommittees which are in charge of arranging the affair.

The group of more than 45 male voices which is widely known throughout the East for its concert work will be directed by F. Austin Walter, a pupil of Dr. Serge Koussevitsky.

Early ticket sales indicate that there will be a capacity turnout.

The singers recently returned from a tour in which several well received recitals were given and the group made several appearances at army camps. In addition to the regularly scheduled recital, a group of popular songs will be presented by a newly formed quartet, while a member of the group, Leonard Hansen, will sing a number of well-known cowboy favorites.

BLACKOUT

Air raid wardens finding lights on and no way of turning them off, and no one on the premises should call the proprietor and have him come to the premises and turn them off.

Any plant engaged in defense work on night shift, should put into effect as much of a blackout as is possible without endangering their equipment, but under no circumstances, the state says, should operations be interrupted. In no plant should a main switch be pulled unless precautions against sabotage have been taken. External lights that will not affect production must be turned off.

All traffic lights and blinkers should be extinguished during the blackout.

Should Wear Arm Bands

Civilian defense workers should wear their armbands on the evening of the blackout. Even if the workers have not completed their courses, they should be equipped with insignia for the blackout, turning them in later. The air raid wardens should make several tours of their sectors between now and the time of the blackout. During the blackout they should note any failure to turn out lights and should keep a record of all failures of cooperation.

All possible safety measures should be taken. Wardens are urged to walk, not run. All must be at their post before the warning is sounded. No one must drive with lights out after the red signal. No one except those listed in the special group must drive at all during the period of blackout, and these drivers must have lights on.

The state order points out that in an actual air raid, defense unit workers would travel to their posts in the dark. In a previous blackout in the state, the rule was made to avoid accidents. Because two men did not obey the "be at your post at the appointed time" rule, one man was killed and one woman was injured driving without lights to reach their posts after all traffic stopped.

TOWN SURPLUS

vestors—with of course, a keen eye to the future. Belleville has a half million dollar surplus. A neat sum, not the result of penny pinching economy, but the natural result of enlarged sources of revenue; brought about by far-reaching conditions. These sources are not likely to diminish in the coming years. On the contrary, they are destined to increase.

"Belleville's investors, its residents—who have borne the heavy load during the lean years, have not received their dividends. Dividends are paid to the people of a community in various forms. From the business standpoint it comes in the form of low taxes. The few points that the 1942 rate has been reduced from the 1941 rate represents to the average taxpayer a mere saving of approximately 70 cents a month; and can hardly be considered commensurate with the profit as shown on Belleville's balance sheet."

FIRE INSURANCE

$8,000 and a new 65-foot ladder truck.

As the needs of the department are growing, Clark has recommended further improvements and predicted that the Schedule Rating office would shortly consider Belleville for an even better fire insurance rating and stated that this would result in even further savings in fire insurance premiums for local residents.

This Time It's Brothers Being Jointly Engaged

Michael J. Gorman Will Wed Margaret F. Faas; John M. Gorman Betrothed To John M. Gorman; Both Announced At Easter Dinner Party

News of the betrothal of sisters is frequent, but it's seldom that stories are told about brothers becoming engaged at the same time. They don't seem to do it that way.

JUNIORS TO JOIN SALVAGE EFFORT

Young Red Cross Members To Do Their Part; Bring Papers, Magazines To School

The Junior Red Cross is joining in the salvage campaign of the defense council. Starting next Monday, youngsters will bring old newspapers and magazines to school.

Appeals have already been made to the pupils, Mrs. William H. Williams, Junior Red Cross head, said yesterday and it is expected that the children will bring papers and books every day. A town truck will make daily calls at all of the schools to pick up the scrap materials. They will be delivered to a dealer who will buy them.

Mrs. Williams pointed to a recent statement of James T. Nicholson, who has charge of the Junior Red Cross in Washington, D. C. "The Junior Red Cross," he stated, "is the American Red Cross in the schools. Today as always, through the Junior Red Cross, the Red Cross provides an opportunity for elementary and secondary pupils to be partners with adults in the Red Cross and provides outlets through which its members may share in the national war effort."

Making Many Things
At a recent meeting of the juniors faculty council, good reports were given on the accomplishments of the youngsters in all schools. Among their activities are the making of afghans, sweaters for those in the service, covers for Braille books for the blind, Pan-American booklets, place cards, favors and candy for the Veterans' hospital at Lyons and menu covers for the men in the service.

In several schools, cake, candy and doll sales were held and operettas staged to raise money for the Red Cross war relief fund.

FEELS CONFIDENT, SAYS HYDE

Candidate Plans Four Ward Meetings For Next Week At Headquarters

Four meetings for workers from every section of town have been scheduled by Elmer S. Hyde, commission candidate, for next week. All will be held at his Washington avenue headquarters near the Capitol theatre.

First ward workers will meet on Monday night with the second ward the following night, the third ward on Wednesday night and the fourth ward on Thursday night.

Based on a survey made by his executive group and reports from workers in various areas, Hyde said yesterday that he feels most confident and that the reports are "very gratifying."

In charge of next week's meeting will be Bert S. Woodhall and Mrs. Louis Frick, who last week were named co-campaign managers by Hyde. The candidate said as a result of a check made this week, more workers have been obtained in certain areas where it was found they could be used.

Ed Smith Says He'll Be His Own Campaign Manager

Edward G. Smith, who placed No. 1 among the candidates on the voting machine ballot, announced yesterday that he would be his own campaign manager. He said that during the next week he would name lieutenants to serve under him in each voting district.

A meeting will be held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars or Ex-empt Firemen's headquarters within the next week, he said.

Christ Episcopal

Talking It All Over

AFTER THE DRAWING was over candidates gathered 'round in Town Clerk Morey's office to talk about who got the best break. Shown in the photo are Commissioner Joseph King, Town Clerk Florence R. Morey, Candidate Arthur Mayer and James J. Tully. In the background are Commissioner Louis A. Noll and Gerald Ferrara, the youngest candidate. Man with his back to the candidate is Edward G. Smith, who is the No. 1 man on the voting machine.

Goldfish Bowl 'Ain't' Legal, Use Shoebox At Drawing

Williams and Waters Wind Up Where They Always Do—Last and Next to Last in Position; Edward G. Smith First; Three Miss Ceremony

The plan to dress up the ballot position drawing ceremony for commission candidates at town hall Tuesday afternoon with a goldfish bowl and capsules fizzled. Town Clerk Florence R. Morey found a section in the law which said it wasn't legal.

The law stated that a cardboard box must be used and the candidates' names put on slips of paper. So in place of a goldfish bowl, which has burst into prominence since it was used in the draft lotteries, an ordinary—very ordinary—shoebox was used, and instead of capsules, the slips with the candidates' names were crumpled up into wads and put in the box, which Mrs. Morey shook up and tossed around as if it had "shake well before using" instructions on it.

Candidates anxious to learn where they would place on the machine, newspapermen and others interested jammed the town clerk's office for the brief ceremony. To Miss Alice Senior, secretary in Commissioner Waters' public works department, fell the honor of unwrapping the slips of paper and announcing the candidate's name after Mrs. Morey had pulled it out of the shoebox.

ONLY TWO FAIL TO FILE SLOGANS

Williams and Cogan Are Lone Candidates Who Will Leave Space Blank

Only two candidates failed to file slogans Tuesday to appear on the voting machine ballot with their names. Mayor William H. Williams, who will have the 13th or last position on the machine, and John P. Cogan, Jr., former deputy director of revenue and finance and Washington avenue real estate broker, were those who chose to be different.

Candidates and the designations of six words or less which they filed with Town Clerk Florence R. Morey were as follows: Edward G. Smith, "Win With Jim"; Gerald Ferrara, "Real Representation For a Better Belleville"; William D. Clark, "Dependable and Experienced"; George E. Stewart, Jr., "Your Vote Here Will Echo Later"; Raymond C. Mertz, "One Who Knows Belleville"; Louis A. Noll, "Experienced Businessman"; Joseph King, "On His Record of Proven Ability"; Arthur E. Mayer, "For Lower Taxes"; Elmer S. Hyde, "A Sound Business Administration"; Patrick A. Waters, "On His Record."

No. 1 position went to Edward G. Smith, who ran in 1938 and then had the 12th spot on the machine. Next were James J. Tully and Gerald Ferrara, the two youngest candidates in the field. Ferrara is 22 and Tully is 25.

The only other commissioners side by side on the machine are Commissioners Noll and King, who are seventh and eighth.

Small Percentage Soldier Vote Appears Eligible

Only a small percentage of those who are in the service will receive ballots, according to the list of names certified to Town Clerk Florence R. Morey by the adjutant general's office yesterday. Mrs. Morey said that she had been instructed to prepare ballots for 258 men.

It is estimated that well over 1,000 men, most of whom are 21 or over, are in the service. Mrs. Morey said that the difference probably meant that the men were not registered or that the adjutant general's office felt that men who should not be certified would be out of the voting territory because of the time limit involved.

GOOD RE-ACTION CLAIMS MERTZ

Commission Candidate Says Public Receptive To Platform Urging More Interest In Town

Raymond G. Mertz, commission candidate, said yesterday that he is finding his platform policy of encouraging the public to take a greater interest in municipal affairs proving popular with those of the public whom he meets. In the number of meetings held, Mertz is the most active candidate to date.

He has been circuiting through the various wards of the town speaking to supporters and naming ward chairmen. Over the weekend, all sectional leaders were called together at a general meeting held in Mertz's campaign headquarters at 382 Union avenue and plans made to have the ward groups moulded into a town-wide organization.

Eugene Donnelly has been selected by Mertz as his second ward campaign head. The announcement of Donnelly's selection was made at a meeting of ward supporters held Thursday night at the Elks' club. Serving under Donnelly as district leaders will be Al Rochel, Dennis Haggerty, Mrs. Joseph McCarthy and Mrs. Agnes Wood.

Registration of All Nurses Is Sought By Committee

A committee was named last week to register local nurses, graduates of accredited schools of nursing, for emergency service under the jurisdiction of the Belleville nursing defense council. Miss Ella Hasenjaeger of Sohio hospital is chairman and Miss Mary Metely, co-chairman. Mrs. Louis A. Noll, Mrs. B. E. Failing, Miss Elizabeth Millar, Mrs. William Herb and Miss Ethel Ackers will serve with them.

Since it is required of this group to furnish the office of civilian defense with a complete list of the nurses residing in Belleville and data concerning them, questionnaires are being mailed to those whose names they now have on their list. Others who do not receive these requests are asked to cooperate with the council by communicating with Miss Hasenjaeger at Essex County hospital by letter.

Miss Hasenjaeger urges all nurses to aid in safeguarding the nursing and health of the community in case of disaster by answering this appeal. Married nurses with home responsibilities are also asked to sign up for the emergency. The committee will attempt to formulate plans to relieve these women of their responsibilities so that their professional services may be available.

PETREANS WORK HARD ON SHOW

'Keep Smiling' To Be Given April 24-25 Seeks To Hold Reputation

Director Waters Praised For Foresight, Planning

It has come to the writer's attention that Commissioner Waters' past months, has been having the rick A. Waters, for the past several months of his public works department organizing and training for the emergency after the fashion of one of New York's largest utilities. These employees are under call 24 hours daily and are appointed to the zones nearest to their residences, and are thoroughly familiar with the town's systems.
These are most vital functions of municipal utilities for health, and protection against fire.
Our national emergency is more serious than most of us realize and the writer therefore feels that Commissioner Waters deserves commendation for showing such deep and intelligent interest in this situation and for his foresight and initiative in purchasing months ago replacements for our water system at a very low cost by comparison with present prices. In fact, these articles now are practically unobtainable.

An accomplishment like this should be called to the attention of the public, as in most cases we do not appreciate the ability and integrity of our public officials.

TO KEEP GUNS, PLANES, TANKS IN ACTION

DETROIT.—To help keep the guns, planes and tanks of the United Nations at the highest possible fighting efficiency, General Motors has launched a new and vital war training and field program beyond the scope of its huge production effort.

In announcing the program, C. L. McCuen, GM vice president in charge of engineering, advised the Army and Navy that General

1. Help train the enormous number of mechanics required to keep a modern armed force in motion by maintaining schools for Army and Navy instructors.

2. Place its own engineers in the field to expedite reports on operating experience, so that its war products can be improved constantly.

3. Assist the Army and Navy in having replacement parts on the spot when needed.

The training job alone calls for expenditures totaling not less than $5,000,000 for the current year. It will involve training thousands of instructors in scores of centers throughout the country.

According to John E. Johnson, director of the training program, the activity opens a new chapter in the relationship of war contractors to their government.

Some GM divisions, such as Allison and Chevrolet, have had schools for Army instructors in operation for some time. These will be expanded. Other divisions will launch schools of their own.

Conserve For Victory!!

You, too, Mr. Average Citizen, have an important part to play in this modern, all-out struggle for Victory. And the part you play is that of conservation — conservation of the essentials of life as well as the elimination of those non-essentials which we have become accustomed to using.

How Are Your Tires?

Begin this conservation program now — today. Be conscious of it every waking minute — walk to the corner store instead of getting out the family car — eliminate those useless trips often taken under the guise of "pleasure". For only by so doing can you effectively do your part.

Buy In Belleville

Another way in which you can actually conserve both rubber and gasoline is by doing as much of your shopping right here in Belleville as is possible. Your Belleville merchants certainly deserve your allegiance — they have located here for the purpose of serving you. The taxes they pay materially help you — whether you own your own home or not. Their stocks are large and their prices are as low as you will find elsewhere. Do your part by helping them do their part.

Blackout Means Business

Next Wednesday night Belleville and many other municipalities in Northern New Jersey will be blanketed in the area's first blackout test. This is not a joke. It will not be the occasion for parties, for people to be indifferent about it.

This is a test that means business. It will show how well prepared or unprepared we are to meet the real thing. It is the duty of every person to observe the rules which are simple—stay home and turn off the lights during the blackout period, or make sure that lights will not show outside of the building.

By staying home, it means that you must stay in the house. Do not wander out in the street. You would not do it during a real blackout or an air raid. Don't do it during the test.

If you are walking on the street when the test starts, get home or to the house of a friend as quickly as possible. If you are driving, pull over to the curb, extinguish the lights on your car and stay in it until the all clear signal is sounded.

Air raid wardens and police reserves will be on duty about town with the regular members of the police department. If they ask you to observe some restriction, obey them. They will be doing only that which they have been instructed to perform.

This test is for your benefit—for your protection and that of the members of your family. It is up to you to cooperate by doing your part. This is war, and it is serious business. Accept it that way and cooperate to the fullest extent with the rules which are published in detail elsewhere in this issue.

Fishing Season's Here Again

There are many ways for people to get relaxation or enjoy a few hours' recreation. Fishing is one way and it attracts thousands of men and women each year. Next Wednesday morning every trout in New Jersey will know that the time has arrived for the annual tussle with thousands of sportsmen who will crowd the banks of streams.

The state fish and game commission, which claims that during March it stocked streams with more than 150,000 brook, brown and rainbow trout, believes that this year's season will be bigger than ever. They reason out that the increased number of defense workers who have been employed in New Jersey industries during the past year will help add many more to the ranks of those who love trout fishing.

A few hours' leisure at some nearby stream will mean a lot to those who must work hard and long, the commission reasons.

There are many who fish for the fun of it. They are just as pleased with catching one fish as they are the limit of 10. It is the sport, the love of the outdoors that pleases them. But then again, there are those who take anything that resembles a fish—whether its the legal limit of seven inches or not—and will attempt to get more than the daily legal catch of 10 trout if they feel that they can get away with it. The latter are not true sportsmen. It is not how many trout you catch. It is your skill and keenness against that of the fish. That's the fun of it. The more people there are who feel that way about it, the more fish there will be for everybody to have some fun.

Still Not Aware Of It

Gasoline restrictions, tire shortages, lack of automobile parts and new cars still have not drummed into many motorists' minds the idea that they will not be able to drive about as freely as they did before the war.

Reports from the majority of motor vehicle license agencies in this region show that license plate sales during the rush period were just as heavy if not heavier than they were last year. It was contrary to the prediction of the state motor vehicle department earlier in the year that there would probably be a number of cars put away for the duration because of increased prices in gasoline and other commodities or inability to get them.

Renewal of license plates indicates that motorists don't think this way about it or else they intend to keep their cars running until the tires are worn right down to the rims.

Easter Sunday was one of the first fine days of spring, and many of the highways in this section were just as crowded with automobiles as they were on any day last spring. The automobile situation is typical of the attitude of many of the public that war or no war there will not be any change or sacrifice in their lives and the pleasures and luxuries to which they are accustomed. The sooner that these people make up their minds to the fact that there will be a change, the better off they will be—for it is bound to come.

State rationing officials apparently believe that either because there will not be sufficient gasoline to go around or because by that time they won't have tires on their cars, many people will use buses to go to the shore and lake resorts this summer.

It is important, they said this week, that the public realize that bus companies will not be granted new tires or retreads for buses used on special excursions. It is therefore suggested that those planning excursions or outings arrange to use regular bus lines or railroads.

Maybe It's Time To Bear Down

It is not nice, perhaps, to accuse the public utilities commission of dilly-dallying, but for some months the Public Service has had before it an application for a local line to run from Silver Lake to the west Belleville area via Washington avenue. Last November local consent was given for the line's operation and since then, the question of a permit has been between here and the utility commission chambers.

It is true that the board has many applications for bus services to consider, but this line is important not only to the residents of both of the areas affected but to many defense workers in getting to and from work. Each month more people are becoming dependent on the bus lines for transportation.

Scheduled for consideration two weeks ago, the utilities board has now put off consideration of the application until later this month. It seems time for Commissioner Noll, who has charge of transportation locally, to forcefully remind the board that action on the application is imperative.

Don't Vote For Positions

The election is now official with all of the candidates having drawn their positions on the voting machines. Many are the interpretations which will be placed on position on the machine during the days between now and election which is slightly more than a month away. Some political analysts take the public for first class nincompoops who go into the voting machine and pull down the first five levers that happen to strike their eye.

We do not wholeheartedly subscribe to this, although we have met some apparently intelligent people who at this late date are not definitely sure about how a voting machine should be worked. We trust that before voters go to vote they will study the names of the men seeking office—their qualifications, ability and experience—so that they can choose their five on that basis and not merely on their position on the machine ballot.

Do Your Part By Saving

Every day at your house, cardboard, paper bags, tin cans, newspapers, magazines and other odds and ends of scraps are tossed into the garbage or burned in the fire. If you are patriotic, and if you knew that some little saving you might do would help to build a bomber, a tank or merely serve as packing for a box of machine gun shells, maybe you would take saving of scrap material more seriously.

It may mean a little more effort, more time to do things or a little inconvenience on your part, but if you would get into the habit of saving waste paper, scrap old rags and old rubber, it would be a hard job.

Take this paper for example. We know what happens to it, unless you happen to be one of the few who takes to saving things so they can be read a year later. It's used to start the furnace fire, maybe burning the logs in the fireplace, or it comes in handy for wrapping up the kitchen scraps. Well, there is a more useful, more patriotic ending for it. It may not weigh much, but save it, and after a month or so when various copies have piled up, you will be able to turn it over to the scrap collector with the knowledge that somewhere along the way it will help us to win this fight.

The Need of Service

While you're out on Sunday afternoons getting a bit of relaxation out of a drive and wearing the remaining twenty-five miles off your tires, give a little thought to what you're going to do when you go to the tire-dealer and find the cupboard is bare. Many motorists aren't letting the rubber-shortage worry them too much for they still have a couple of miles left on the present ones. But what happens when those are worn out?

You'll find the two miles to the station a good walk in the morning.

To keep people here, we'll have to give them a bit of service—service in the matter of bus lines. Even if a bus passes suburban homes two or three times a day, it will at least be a public service. Women's clubs can do their share by having a community taxi. When shopping, invite your neighbors to go along with you. Use one car and bring along many shoppers.

The same holds true in the matter of entertainment. When it comes to going to the movies, have group-parties, using as few cars as possible.

This will be hard on those who do not like mingling with neighbors, but then, there are buses. If one doesn't pass your home now, have a neighborhood meeting, take action via a petition and you will get results. The bus lines are always looking for business and will be glad to hear your suggestions.

Newspapers Forced To Raise Prices

Two magazines of nation-wide circulation have been forced to double their price—from 5 cents per copy to 10 cents. The publisher of at least one other similar magazine will make an announcement in the near future, probably along similar lines. Two Binghamton, N. Y., daily newspapers have just announced price rises from 3 cents per copy to 4. This news indicates the trend and necessities of the times.

The increased cost of materials required in publication and increased taxes partly caused by the war, and other tax increases and costs, together with a large decline in advertising revenue, due to wartime rationing and restrictions, have combined to place many publications in a hazardous financial position. For instance, automobile and tire accounts have been practically blacked out, with the probability that other extensive users of advertising space will be similarly affected in the very near future.

These publishers have no other choice but to raise the price of their publications or go out of business. If the readers want the service of these papers, the prospect is that they will have to pay for them. That the readers do want and need this service is indicated by the large increase in general circulation of newspapers since the war broke out. The press is considered of special importance by the federal authorities at Washington, who in the matter of priority in supplies, and repairs regard it as an essential industry.

War Fashions In Dress

This war is streamlining many things, and men's and women's wardrobes are no exception. Whether it is a shortage of wool or something else we are told that our clothes are to be very different from what we have been accustomed to. Cuffs are to be eliminated from men's trousers, which isn't such a bad idea as their usefulness really is confined to catching dirt and pebbles and frequently being cause of a fellow's tripping, sometimes causing injury. But when we are told that, doing without cuffs, enough material can be saved to make 330,000 more suits of clothes that seems a pretty small number in these days of colossal figures to which we have all become inured.

It is going to be much more difficult to save material for women's clothes, because our fair sex didn't wait for war time but, long before hostilities began, started to curtail the amount of goods thought necessary to cover them. The result has been a better notion of what our ladies look like. Perhaps with this in mind, the suggestion is now made that men wear abbreviated trousers, short pants in fact, which certainly would make the saving by cuff elimination seem picaresque in contrast. It is pointed out that this kind of costume would be most suitable, especially since many men will be riding bicycles, and it is a perfect attire for many sports as well. Possibly in Summer many, if this fashion were adopted, would go around in shorts such as the English wear in many hot countries. At any rate it would reveal a part of men that most of us never see, their legs. Men's legs are always so draped with their long trousers that nobody knows what their shapes are like. Not so with the ladies, who long ago started the fashion of revealing more and more of this part of their anatomy. Indeed many people must be familiar with their various curves from the knees down, so why wouldn't it be fair that the men now show what their underpinning looks like? We should see long thin ones, short fat ones, and those possessed of a curvature that would be the envy of the artist and sculptor. And it would be helping to win the war, too. It would be possible to spot a friend upon the street simply by his calf.

Certainly the suggestion has merit, even if it only puts our men in the same spot with the ladies. But how would a man react if he had a run in his stocking?

Test Of Leadership

Leaders of the CIO and the AFL have agreed to give up double time payments for Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, but insist on time and a half for the sixth consecutive day of work and for over eight hours' work in any given day. CIO insists on retaining double pay for the seventh straight day of work.

It remains now for them to demonstrate that they exercise sufficient power over their followers to obtain general acceptance of their program. Unless this is forthcoming, congress will be unable to resist the demand for far-reaching changes in labor laws, including elimination of overtime for work in excess of 40 hours.

It is doubtful that this provision should have been made law. Such details of labor relations are better left to negotiation between unions and employers. But its repeal at this time presents dangers which it would be wise to avoid if possible. As an incentive to greater production and willing acceptance of long hours, the premium overtime wage is not without its value.

There is still the problem of the independent unions, which want to assert their right to speak for themselves. They aren't going to be bound by the AFL-CIO agreement, war or no war. If they want to attract public attention this is one way to get it, although they may find the result quite different from what they expect.

Milk Control

There's a lot of cock-eyed information floating around about milk control. Some people seem to think that you wave a wand and everything is settled. But this is a tremendously complicated industry, involving thousands of drivers fighting for their jobs, and most important of all, the health of millions.

Conceived in the depths of a bankrupting depression to aid the harassed farmer; milk control undoubtedly saved an adequate milk supply for this state. But today the conditions have changed vastly for now there is greater demand than supply, both of milk and men. Consequently we must revise our whole thinking on this subject, change our viewpoint from an economic to a social basis. The danger of this is that, while the public was poorly equipped to swallow the original milk control, it is even less prepared for such social implications as are now apparent.

There is a tremendous educational task to be done, an explanation to the consumer of her responsibility to take advantage of savings offered; to the distributor of the necessity of increased efficiency; to the farmer of the artificial pricing situation which has grown up.

As we see it, education is now the prime job of the milk control board. There still needs to be protection for the farmer, but the most important job now is the essential one of assuring an adequate and reasonably priced supply of milk and milk products to all the people of New Jersey.

That point seems to have been missed by the present milk control board. It is increasingly evident that the present director, former Senator Foran, no longer enjoys the confidence of the public, the men and women who consume this essential food. Essex Assemblyman Gluckenshauser made this very apparent at the budget hearing a month ago and we agree one hundred percent with this courageous stand as we feel he expresses the feeling of the people of the community.

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

The stock of Mayor William H. Williams of Belleville as the Clean Government candidate to oppose Representative Fred Hartley appears to be sagging. A few weeks ago everything seemed set for Williams to be endorsed—everything but Arthur T. Vanderbilt's approval. Efforts were made to get the Vanderbilt nod, but the sage of Short Hills hesitated. He claimed he was too busy to give the matter proper attention. Meanwhile the enthusiasm of other Clean Government leaders has waned. A number of them are now talking about Mayor Alexander Elder of Glen Ridge as the ideal type to represent the district. Those with this viewpoint say that Hartley can be defeated more easily by a man of Elder's type than by a figure more actively in politics like Williams.

Nothing has been settled yet. Williams may still be designated. But the idea of leaving the political field—where Hartley is firmly entrenched—for a man of a different type seems sound strategy.

I rather expect it to be followed, although some Glen Ridge man other than Elder may be selected.

The new Assembly slate for Essex has been tentatively decided upon. Howard J. Conroy of Bloomfield is to succeed Jerome K. Wiss of Orange, now a captain in the Air Corps. Oliver Randolph, veteran Colored leader, will succeed the late Dr. Hargraves of Orange. Another change is impending but will be announced later. The other nine will go back.

What About Mrs. Harris?

Freeholders Gray and Burnett are slated for nominations to succeed themselves but no decision has been reached yet regarding Mrs. Elizabeth A. Harris of Glen Ridge. The latter is said to desire another term to add to the 21 years she will have served at the end of this year. But whether the party leaders will acquiesce remains to be seen. Heretofore, Mrs. Harris has always held the threat of running on a rival ticket over the heads of the Clean Government leaders, but very few expect any primary opposition this year. With Cleo at the head of the ticket, Clean Government expects to sweep all before it. Rival senatorial candidates might foster a second ticket, however, just to stir up opposition to Cleo. But it is hard to see at this writing how such a move would help them. Attention is likely to be focused so intently on the war this September that political activity will be held to a minimum.

Miller Still In Doubt

Confirmation of Spencer Miller as highway commissioner is still in doubt. A hearing is scheduled Monday by the Senate to check on his qualifications. At the same time the House will vote on a bill to create a three man highway commission. These two events should indicate the sentiment of the New Jersey legislators. It is hard to see what excuse the Senate could give the public for declining confirmation, but then the situation is much like that in the fable of the Wolf and the Lamb. When the latter answered all the charges the former could think of to bring against him the Wolf merely announced that he intended to eat him anyway. So it may be with Spencer Miller and the highway racket. Like that of the wolf, the highway bloc's appetite is insatiable. One thing however is in Miller's favor. He has powerful friends which apparently the lamb didn't.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, in all Christian Science Church and Societies.

The Golden Text is: "The prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins they shall be forgiven him."

Among the Lesson-Sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you."

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Exclude from mortal mind the offending errors; then the body cannot suffer from them. The issues of pain or pleasure must come through mind, and like a watchman forsaking his post, we admit the intruding belief, forgetting that through divine help we can forbid this entrance."

Found!! $350,000.

It Belongs To The Taxpayers---Come And Get It.

Do you know that our Mayor-Financier was so pessimistic in his budgets that he collected in and now has a SURPLUS of $350,000 more than he needed belonging to you, and which you can have for the asking? And as the personnel of the taxpaying public change from year to year, isn't it only just and fair that it be refunded to the people who paid it?

Taxes are levied to meet costs of town government. There never can be a legitimate surplus—we were just overtaxed. Let's get back what belongs to us. Each of us is a pretty good custodian, of his own money. Why don't we have it in our own names? He even says in his Statement that he must keep the operating cost of town government within taxpayers' capacity to pay! So if he has $350,000 of our money now in advance, he may feel inclined on his next budget to play "double or nothing," and then instead of us stretching our pennies to the last length to meet the increasing cost, we will find our "Mayor-Financier" is a heavy investor and not a thrifty minimum tax collector at all. It is a sad day when the TOWN is investing in bonds, and its taxpayers are patching pants and shoes. And when the Mayor thinks operating costs are co-extensive with the taxpayers' CAPACITY to pay, (which means all they can pay) we need a change in administration.

When well over a million dollars piles up on the "asset" (?) sheet, in three items of taxes receivable, tax liens where unpaid taxes are sold and bought in by the town, and foreclosed property where the town has foreclosed the liens it bought—well, it's high time something was done about the tax situation. How OLD are the oldest of these taxes? How much does each parcel sell for? Is it enough to pay the accumulated taxes, or is it even more OR LESS than the back-log of taxes? He brags that not a home has been lost, but does not say HOW MANY HOMES THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SAVED, and how much money it took to save them. Don't pat your Mayor on the back for this—PAT UNCLE SAM.

STATE AND COUNTY INCREASES

In his 1942 Budget he tells a sad and truly pathetic story of the Big Bad Wolf decreasing the moneys it should apply to Belleville, and INCREASING the School system load on local taxpayers. He is very sad and worried about this, and warns us it is going to get worse. But in his Statement of Candidacy he speaks glowingly about the perfect 100% HAPPY HARMONY the State and County expressed

NEW TAXPAYERS

HAPPY our newcomers will feel when they read this. Also compel our Mayor-Financier to tell us if these two taxpayers are TEMPORARY WAR INDUSTRIES, which will close with the war? If so, it will be hard for our Mayor-Financier to see the end of the War—it will grieve him! He most carefully AVOIDS TELLING US the character of the newcomers. We need and want and invite sound, long-run industries, and we don't intend to HAVE THEM PENALIZED for bringing prosperity to us. They should not be over-taxed. They create prosperity, help men to buy and own homes. WE WANT THEM, and they won't have to pay for our Police and Fire Departments if a new regime goes into office.

PENSION FUND

Then we come to the Pension Fund Deficit. Why don't we wade into this and get the full detail? How much should the Fund have been? Was the loss or shrunken condition due to drop in the market value of securities? What securities? When were they bought? When were they sold? Who is responsible? Police, Firemen and school teachers are faithful, loyal public servants, and when they pay in, out of their wages into a sacred trust, let us find out NOW, TODAY, what happens to their moneys and

RESERVOIRS OF DELINQUENT TAXES, ANTICIPATED REVENUES, NON-ANTICIPATED REVENUES

Seems our Mayor-Director doesn't regard taxes as absolutely payable, doesn't anticipate that they will be paid. This is certainly rough on those of us who do pay, and as the town goes right on, you can know that our rate is about twice as high as it should be, because he gets enough to run full blast and pile up a surplus, at the same time that he lists over a million and a quarter as in the "reservoir" and as "non-anticipated." Does he take out of the assessment rolls properties over two years in delinquencies, and does he sell tax liens as soon as the law allows, and foreclose those liens and turn them into real estate as soon as he can?

Or, does he copy the sophistry of our Brethren in an adjoining state whose credit is 10%

OPEN CONFERENCES

WHAT A FARCE TO TELL about open conferences and square deals and open door policy. Does the Mayor recall the attempt of Major Burns of the United States Army, a taxpayer who attempted to speak at one of his "open door" conferences? Wasn't he ordered out and called a "mental rag-bag"—the door OPENED all right, opened outward, because he dared to speak out in meeting of the BIG FOUR. It is funny to read that paragraph in his Statement of Candidacy, but let's see how frank he is in answering the questions of the taxpayers BEFORE THEY VOTE ON MAY 12th!

The taxpaying public know practically nothing about what happens to their money, and any attempt to get the facts will come to naught, or we are mistaken. LET'S SEE HOW MANY QUESTIONS HE ANSWERS.

WATER DEPARTMENT

Is the Water Department a private money-making enterprise which operates at a profit? Wasn't the public straddled with the bonded debt for this "improvement" and wasn't it done to bring water to the taxpayers at the very minimum? How can there be a Profit? Again, our Mayor-Financier is "investing" our money.

LAST BUT NOT LEAST

Though we have paid $1,800,000 per year for the last twelve years, our Pension Fund is in deficit, and our bonded debt is $4,500,000—that is, the taxpayers are in the pawn shop, after paying $21,000,000 these twelve years, we still owe a bonded debt of $4,500,000 which we must still pay to just be even. Aren't we afflicted with the LUXURY of an extravagant, outworn regime, and don't we remember the adage "YOU CAN'T TEACH AN OLD DOG NEW TRICKS"? Why don't we sweep this regime out, get in new, fresh men, who will lift off the lids and see just what is in each departmental stew-pot? There is nothing in the ocean of 2,700 words in his Statement of Candidacy which tells us WHERE THE MONEY GOES and that is what we want to know. WHERE DOES OUR MONEY GO? What are our REAL assets? Only you voters can demand answers, and you can ONLY DEMAND THEM NOW, BEFORE ELECTIONS. You'll get kicked through the "Open door" like Major Burns just as soon as election is over and you will lick your wounds and wait another four years. OR WILL YOU?
