

BASEBALL BAN BRINGS ACTION BY STUDENTS

Plan To Circulate Town With Petitions For Its Return; Lack Playing Field

An aroused high school student body today made plans to convince those in authority that it is important that the high school should be represented on the diamond by a baseball team. Student leaders were making plans today for circulating petitions through town over the weekend in the hope of securing the signatures of parents and baseball followers to support their plea.

It was revealed last week that the baseball schedule had been cancelled because of the inability to secure bus transportation for away games and the lack of a playing field for home games. The decision was made by the executive committee of the athletic council. Clearman field is seeded in preparation for the football season next fall and following inspection, the committee decided that the municipal stadium grounds would not be ready for practice or the opening game.

While among the students this week, it brought sharp re-action and a declaration that they would do something to have baseball restored, a school official expressed the opinion yesterday that this was a sharp change of attitude. He pointed out that a year ago the student body failed to support the team and that the interscholastic program had been continued at considerable expense.

The 15-game schedule provided that eight games would be played at home and seven away. G. Lawrence Gates, high school teacher who coached the football team and the baseball nine last year, was disappointed this week that only one other high school in the state was planning to eliminate its schedule and that was Trenton.

WATCH INCREASE IN ALL PRICES

Consumers' Group's Activity Has Already Resulted In Several Reductions

The consumers' interest division of the defense council is constantly on the watch for increase in prices. Recently, their watchfulness helped to bring prices in stores back to a fair level, while in several cases warnings brought reductions in prices. In urging householders to guard against price increase, Dr. Eugene A. Nyiri, consumer interest chairman stated, "Inflation does more than merely rob the wage earner of a portion of his earnings. It does more than saddle the farmer with a load of debt which he cannot repay. It is more destructive of morale than any other single force. Inflation divides the country. It sets up producers against consumers, workers against employers, the people who owe money against the people to whom the money is owed."

"No group in a community profits from inflation in the long run except the three horsemen—the speculator, the profiteer and the hoarder."

King Is Campaigning Quietly For Re-election To Board

Commissioner Joseph King quietly trod the political path toward re-election this week with group meetings of workers from various parts of town but no large meetings. King said that during the next week he and his campaign manager, Charles Nutt, would meet with workers from every section in an effort to secure more support.

Last Saturday night more than 100 members of the King association met at the headquarters, 414 Washington avenue. In addition to hearing their standard bearer, they were entertained by motion pictures.

Parents Will Meet

The High School Parent-Teacher association will meet next Thursday night, April 23, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The program will be featured by a demonstration of "The House of Magic".

F.P.R.

A PATRIOTIC GESTURE Daniel Canilo of the Glamour Beauty Studio 323 1/2 Union avenue, Belleville, is offering a special for the duration of the war. A Feather Bob or Feather Permanent is not only a practical and flattering asset to Beauty but also a factor for Priorities inasmuch as its casual look eliminates hair pins. It is also safe and comfortable for defense workers using lathes and drills.

With each Feather Permanent Wave an album containing 2—25c War Stamps will be given absolutely free. Mr. Canilo feels that this gesture will encourage many to get those War Bonds started or add to those already purchased.

Public Works Department Force Is Ready

READY TO DO ITS JOB in civilian defense is the public works department which will take over demolition, rescue and repair work in an emergency. Department Director Patrick A. Waters (left) is shown inspecting one of the sand buckets which are carried on every truck in the department assigned to emergency defense work. Shown with him is his deputy, Hugh Welsh.

P. W. DEPT. READY, SAYS COM. WATERS

Trucks Equipped For Defense Emergency And Men Trained For Rescue Work

If there's an air raid and there is any damage, Commissioner Waters' public works department men will be prepared to go to work at a moment's notice—and they'll know what to do. The commissioner revealed this week that five of his trucks are completely equipped for their part in demolition, rescue and repair work and five more will be in service shortly. Each of the trucks carries shovels, picks, crow-bars, brooms, chains, sand, stirrups, pumps, lumber and first aid kits.

"They're ready to meet any emergency," Waters explained. The sewer department truck, Waters said, would be equipped with a searchlight which would be operated by a portable generator.

Headlights on all trucks have been half shielded with a downward beam which extends 20 feet ahead of the vehicle. The equipment of the trucks has been supervised by James Waters, brother of the commissioner, who has charge of department maintenance.

The 21 men in the department are on constant call for duty, Waters explained. Weekly classes of instruction in the use of rescue equipment and what to do are given them by Hugh Welsh, Waters' deputy. This force is augmented by a crew of 47 volunteers from town who are also being given instructions by Welsh.

TO BE KNOWN AS VICTORY VILLAGE

Carpenter Street Development Gets Final Approval From Town To Go Ahead

The 120-family colonial village development to be erected in Carpenter street, west of Soho hospital, will be known as Victory Village, it was learned yesterday.

The board of commissioners moved for the confirmation of the sale of the property to the Finance Investment company, the developer, represented by John F. Coogan Jr., Washington avenue real estate broker. The land was purchased from the town for $10,200. At the same time the board approved an amendment to the zoning law changing the property from Class "A" to "C."

No objection to the village plan was made at the meeting.

Candidate Smith Is Confined To Hospital Bed

Edward G. Smith, the candidate with the No. 1 position on the voting machine, was temporarily out of the running this week. Illness, which has stricken Smith during the past month or so, but had not previously kept him from being active, finally sent him to the hospital this week. He is confined to the American Legion hospital in Newark but expects to be about within a week so that he will be able to resume his campaigning.

Form Baseball League

A baseball league of boys from 11 to 15 years has recently been formed and practice and games are held at Riviera park baseball diamond. The Pirates of School No. 8, the Holy Family boys, the Templar Athletic Juniors of School No. 5 and the Riverias, high school boys, comprise the league.

Householders Are Urged To Buy Coal Early

Householders were advised this week by the consumers' interest division of the defense council to buy their coal or coke supply for next winter as early as possible. This was in compliance with a request from Governor Edison in order to relieve transportation facilities next summer and fall.

Equally important is the fact that the fuel oil supply is in doubt and a number of plants are changing over to coal which would prove to be a further drain on coal resources.

There has been considerable complaint over the drafting of miners for army duty. Arguments have been advanced that the continued supply of coal is important to the war effort.

URGE REGISTERED NURSES FOR TOWN

Check Shows That Some of Them Have Signed For Other Activities

The nursing sub-committee for emergency medical service under the jurisdiction of the defense council mailed out 80 questionnaires to the registered nurses of Belleville more than a week ago. According to Miss Ella Hasenjaeger of isolation hospital, chairman of the group, slightly more than a quarter of these have been filled in and returned.

Information on them indicates that in some cases individuals have registered for other types of emergency service or have registered in adjacent communities. It is believed by the nursing committee that registered nurses should abide by the general rule that professional people should reserve their services for their own field of skilled nursing and should endeavor to serve in the town in which they live.

Miss Hasenjaeger makes a strong appeal to those who have not already filed their applications to do so as it is necessary to speed up the work of assigning individuals to their posts under the emergency medical program.

Stewart Says He's Alarmed At Town's Debt Situation

Candidate George Stewart said yesterday he was alarmed at the situation of Belleville's public debt.

"With our boys going to the front and returning to a dislocated economy, I had hoped Belleville would have a clean slate and debts and could then borrow to create necessary public works and give employment to our returning soldiers," he said.

"It seems a civic misfortune that we are head over heels in debt and our credit in jeopardy." "To think we have to pay $280,000 per year merely to carry the existing debt is disquieting and disheartening."

COLLEGE SINGERS HERE TOMORROW

American Legion To Present Rutgers Glee Club At School In Program

Piano solos, cowboy songs and the voices of a swing quartet will lend variety to the Rutgers Glee club concert presented tomorrow evening in the high school auditorium by Belleville Post 105, the American Legion. The program will be started at 7:45 and will be followed by dancing to music furnished by the Rutgers university orchestra.

Two specialty numbers during the dance period will be an exhibition waltz by Albertino Horstman of Tiona avenue, former drum majorette at the local high school, and her partner, Rudolph Miller; and a military tap dance by Lambert Gayle's High Steps.

A song of Salutation by Grieg; Sing Maiden, Sing by Palmgren and La Danza by Rossini are the selections chosen for the Glee club's opening group. They will also present a Fantasy on American Folk Songs by Donovan; a group of Negro spirituals, an Australian folk song and five of Rutgers college songs.

Proceeds of the concert will be used, as previously stated, to purchase an emergency inhalator which will be presented to the town as the Legion's contribution to civilian defense.

The regular social meeting of Post 105 will be held Monday evening at 8 at the Recreation house.

MORE MEETINGS HELD BY HYDE

Will Hold Sessions With Workers On Four Nights Of Each Week

Speeding up his campaign efforts, Elmer S. Hyde, candidate for commissioner, announced yesterday that meetings would be held at his Washington avenue headquarters the first four nights of each week until the end of the campaign.

Workers are being called in by Hyde and his assistants, headed by Bert Woodhall, campaign manager, for meetings every night. Tonight the workers from the third ward will meet at the headquarters near the Capitol theatre while tomorrow night the fourth ward vote-getters will be there.

The candidate said last night that he had been attending meetings in all sections of town during the past week and that during the next few days a schedule would be worked out for meetings every night until election day.

Canteen Course Is Started At H. S. By Red Cross

A 20-hour course of instruction in canteen work leading to a Red Cross certificate has been started at the high school. Classes will be held from 3:30 to 5:30 on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Miss Bertha Huff, home economics instructor at the high school, will be in charge.

The work is intended for those who have completed the nutrition courses recently concluded by Miss Huff and others interested. Thirty-five enrolled on Tuesday at the first session. Others may join by attending today's class; but no new members can be accepted after today.

The Belleville nutrition council, headed by John J. Hewitt, sponsors these courses.

20-44 MEN WILL START ENTERING ARMY IN JUNE

Questionnaires Sent to First 800; 45-65 Registration April 24, 25 and 26

The first of those to be called in the 20-44 age draft group will enter service some time in June, according to selective service officials. More than 800 questionnaires have been mailed to men in this age group by the local office during the past week.

As soon as the questionnaires are returned, the board composed of John P. Dailey, Herbert V. Hardman and John Gannon, will begin the task of classifying each of the registrants.

The office force has slowed up on the mailing of questionnaires, but it is expected that the dispatching of papers to the remainder of the 2,109 registrants will continue steadily.

Registration Jobs To Keep Teachers Busy

The public school teachers will be kept busy for extra hours during the end of this month and the first few days in April. They will become so accustomed to registering that they will begin to think that it is a part of their job. They have been asked to assist the draft board in registering those between 45 and 65 in the latest selective service group, while the rationing board has sought their services for the sugar registration April 28 and 29 and May 4, 5, 6 and 7.

The draft registration will take place on April 25, 26 and 27, while retail sugar users will be called in to register on April 28 and 29.

It was also announced this week that those between the ages of 45 and 65 would be registered at the high school on April 24, 25 and 26. The draft board and its staff will be in charge assisted by members of the public school teaching staff who have again volunteered their services as they have in other such projects.

The next group is scheduled to leave town this morning. Those who pass the army medical examinations at the Newark armory this morning will be shipped on to Fort Dix this afternoon. While an official list of those to be called is not ready as yet, it is understood that the next call will be the first week in May.

MAYOR DISPUTES TIMES' REPORT

Arithmetical Conclusion Reached In Kidde Plant Property Sale Questioned

Mayor Williams has disagreed with the arithmetical conclusion reached by The Times in a story appearing in its issue of February 19 last dealing with the purchase of property by the Defense Plant corporation from the City of Newark for $7,000.

The Times story stated that less than an acre of ground was purchased for that price, and that previously the Town of Belleville had sold to the same corporation six and one-third acres adjacent to it for $13,000. The property in question is in Main street near Greylock avenue and is the site on which the latest unit of the Walter Kidde Plant is now being erected.

The mayor pointed out that The Times miscalculated for the property sold by the City of Newark was 221 feet by 400 feet, which is approximately two and one-third acres, and not less than an acre. This would make the value of the Newark land about $3,043 per acre.

Gained Land By Law Newark also controlled a 60-foot paper street running 400 feet westward from Main street which was between the two city-owned pieces of property. Under state law, the defense plant corporation by acquiring both Newark properties, automatically became the owner of this strip of land and thus gained another .55 of an acre, making their total acreage 2.85 acres. Therefore, the true cost was $2,456 per acre.

In addition, the town received from the defense plant corporation and by the abandonment of the map street, a plot 350 feet by 30 feet, making a total in one lot of 250 feet by 40 feet or 10,000 square feet. Of this, 125 feet fronts on Greylock avenue and adjoins a plot 150 by 125 feet on which the town now holds a tax title lien.

Thus, Mayor Williams believes, the town has gained greatly through the sale. On property which has been non-productive for a number of years the town will receive at least $5,000 in taxes during this year, and in 1943 and subsequent years at least $15,000.

The Times regrets if any misunderstanding was created by its miscalculation.

Good Blackout Observed Here; Only Defense Plants Lighted; Few Violations Were Reported

Teachers Plan To Hold Forum For Candidates

At a meeting of the board of governors of the Belleville Teachers' association Tuesday evening in School No. 8 plans were put in motion for a forum at which candidates for the coming election of the board of commissioners will be invited to address the public.

Miss Frances Williamson of School No. 1 is president of the Teachers' association and the public relations committee of that group will announce the time and place of the forum in the near future. Invitations were mailed this week to the candidates. The association has assumed this presentation in the nature of an educational feature for the townspeople.

SCHEDULE VISIT OF BLOOD UNIT

Red Cross Mobile Crew Comes Here July 1; Want More Volunteers

A staffed mobile unit for the collection of blood will visit Belleville on July 1. It was learned after an executive board meeting of the local chapter of the American Red Cross Monday evening at the Woman's club.

Miss Esther Adams, secretary, announced that this assignment had been received and the time between 2 and 7 p.m. was selected for operation of the unit. The location, which must be central and convenient to a dressing room site, will be announced later. A committee of local physicians and nurses will assist.

On the basis of national experience, the Red Cross advises, 15% of those who have volunteered their blood are unable to donate when the opportunity arrives for physical reasons or because they cannot be present. One hundred to 135 volunteers are desirable in order to surely obtain the quota. Miss Adams has received registration blanks which will be mailed to the 70 or more persons who have already signed up. She will supply them to any new donors. She may be telephoned daily at the Woman's club, Red Cross headquarters.

Frank Chambers, Red Cross chairman, said that he felt the various civic organizations could be counted on for a prompt and patriotic response now that the actual date for blood giving had been set. An opportunity for service on this occasion will be afforded the Canteen units, now forming under the Belleville Nutrition council and headed by John Hewitt. It is customary for refreshments to be supplied to those who participate.

Reports from national headquarters of the Red Cross remind citizens that the quota of $65,000 pints of blood by July 1 has been only half filled to date. Those in good health between the ages of 21 and 60 are assured that they will suffer no ill effects. Prime importance of this "gift from the heart" is illustrated by the fact that three out of four wounded men at Pearl Harbor needed transfusions.

TWO NEW CARS ARE APPROVED

Ration Board Sanctions Purchase; Grants Retreads And Tire Recaps

Certificates were granted this week for the purchase of two new automobiles by the rationing board. The town was granted the right to accept for the police department car which is the gift of the Eastwood Neally corporation while a car was also allowed for Holyoak W. Bennett, a defense technician.

Retreads and recapped tires were granted as follows:

Albert Romano, four passenger recaps; Joseph E. Catenacci, four passenger recaps; Chester Day, three passenger recaps; William H. Jones, three passenger recaps; Josepa Raaser, three truck recaps; L. Sonneborn Sons, Inc. one truck recap; and George Scaine, one truck recap.

Tires were granted to Joseph E. Catenacci and L. Sonneborn, Inc.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, JEWELRY, at prices always in line with the quality of the merchandise offered, Victor Hart, Jeweler 457 Washington avenue, Belleville, N. J. —Adv.

Belleville residents played their part well in last night's blackout of North Jersey. With more than 1,000 civilian defense volunteers at their posts a half hour before the 15-minute test started at 10 p.m., the town quickly went at its job of dosing lights as soon as the warning sirens began their two-minute wail.

From the town's reported highest point, the roof of School No. 5 at Greylock parkway and Adelaide street, the lone section of town in which there appeared any light at all was the valley where the Walter Kidde, Viking Tool, Wallace & Tiernan plants are located and along the northern end of Washington avenue where the Westinghouse and Bendix plants were in operation.

CLARK EXPECTS AERIAL SHORTLY

65-Foot Ladder Truck Will Be Latest Addition To Town's Fire-Fighting Force

Public Safety Director William D. Clark announced this week that he expected the fire department's new 65-foot aerial ladder truck to arrive shortly from the Seagraves factory where it has been built.

Ordered last summer, there has been some delay in securing the new $14,000 truck because of priority regulations. In recommending that the town purchase it, Clark stated last year that none of the present equipment could combat a serious fire at any of the town's larger industrial plants. An aerial truck would greatly help, he argued.

Another new truck, a pumper, also built by Seagraves, was delivered to the town two weeks ago.

"KEEP SMILING" CAST IS READY

Petreaux Put Finishing Touches On Show To Be Presented April 24-25

The Petreaux club members are putting the finishing touches on their show "Keep Smiling," which will be presented at the school hall on April 24 and 25. They are getting ready for the dress rehearsal performance which will be held next Thursday night.

Assisting on the general committee are: Ramon Grey, secretary; Joseph Connelly, treasurer; Thomas Dowd, Edward Byron, Eugene Barnett, Greta Kinnealy, Grace Maguire, Katherine Donahue, Ann Salmon, Alice Senior, Agnes Lally, Rose Salmon, Grace Monahan, Rita Dunn, Helen Gilman, Leo McClintchey, Richard Lukowski, Patricia Fields, Clara Maguire, Marion Naylor, George Urcioli, John Barrett, Agnes Grum, James Leonard, James Kennedy.

Edwin Byron is the program chairman assisted by Willis MacDonald and Thomas Dowd. Grace Monahan is in charge of publicity assisted by Claire McGuire and Alice Senior. Greta Kinnealy is handling tickets assisted by Rita Dunn, Pat Fields, Joseph Higgins, Grace McGuire, Nick Candura, Philip O'Toole and Peggy McCann.

The usherettes will be Ann Salmon, chairman, assisted by Agnes Grum, Helen Gilman, Virginia Higgins, Marie Davis and Jane Lonergan.

Relief Corps Meets Tomorrow

A semi-monthly meeting of the Henry Vreeland junior corps will be held tomorrow evening at Grace Baptist church at 7:30. Miss Dolores Martin is acting president of the group; Mrs. Gertrude Revere, counselor.

At the same time, claiming that neither their traffic flow nor the accident record warranted it, the county refused to install stop and go lights at Union avenue and Holmes street or Belleville avenue at the intersection with Columbus and Cedarhill avenues.

Notice To Defense Workers

There will be a meeting of the entire personnel of the Belleville Defense Volunteers at Belleville High School, Tuesday, April 21st, at 8 P. M.

A short picture in color on Gas and Incendiary Defense, and a sound film, "Before the Doctor Comes" will be shown.

The guest speaker will be Mr. A. Parker Terhune of N. J. Defense Council, who will talk on First Aid—Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow.

PLAN TO ATTEND

Respectfully BELLEVILLE DEFENSE COUNCIL

Arthur W. Clark, Secretary.

Few Violations

Only a few reports of violation of the blackout order had been reported to the air raid warden patrol center at town hall within an hour after the test. Wardens stationed in the Washington avenue business section reported seeing lights both at the First National Bank and the Sears, Roebuck company, while the lone call made to police headquarters during the blackout was that a man was lighting a cigarette on Cortlandt street.

Many residents did not wait for the local sirens to start their wailing. Both Bloomfield and Newark began the alarm before the local signal and could be clearly heard in several areas. Street lights in Montclair, Bloomfield, Newark and the Oranges were extinguished almost a minute before the local street lights while those across the river in Kearny, North Arlington and Lyndhurst followed.

There were no reports made to police of cars continuing during the test. Police Lieut. Kenneth Smith said that the town's experiment with white and black marked curb lines at the intersections of Washington avenue with Greylock parkway and Overlook avenues was highly successful.

Defense Council Chairman Everett Smith and his assistants reported that they were highly pleased with the cooperation of local residents with the test and the response of volunteers to the call to report to their posts for duty.

COUNTY APPROVES TRAFFIC LIGHT

Give O.K. For Light At Franklin-Joralemon; Turns Others Down

The board of freeholders this week agreed to install a stop and go traffic signal at Franklin avenue and Joralemon street, according to the announcement made by Public Safety Director Clark at Tuesday's town commission meeting.

It will be a vehicle actuated light and will cost $4,200. The town will bear half of the expense and installation costs. This ends several years' controversy between the town and the county. Many complaints have been received from residents in the vicinity and several months ago a petition was presented containing a number of names.

At the same time, claiming that neither their traffic flow nor the accident record warranted it, the county refused to install stop and go lights at Union avenue and Holmes street or Belleville avenue at the intersection with Columbus and Cedarhill avenues.

MERTZ TO TALK IN 4TH WARD

Candidate Will Speak Wednesday At 'Rec' House; Oschner 3rd Ward Leader

Commission Candidate Raymond E. Mertz completes his visits in the town's four wards next Wednesday night when he will speak at a rally to be held in the Recreation house at 8 p. m.

Continued emphasis of his principal slogans that "town affairs can be made interesting to the townspeople," Mertz will discuss campaign topics similar to those on which he has dwelt in his appearances in the first, second and third wards.

The Mertz organization is rapidly expanding with workers being drawn from all corners of town, according to Robert G. Sutherland, the campaign manager. The group now has a complete set of district leaders, a clerical staff, promotion specialists, a planning board and ward leaders.

"One of the most interesting things about this mounting organization," Sutherland said, "is that many people are participating in Mr. Mertz's campaign who have never been active in politics before. They are being reinforced and guided by a group of experienced organization people."

Three fourth ward district leaders were named this week by Sutherland. In the second district, the vote getting will be in charge of Theodore F. Marshall of 221 Brighton avenue. Fred Austin, Jr. of 59 Passaic avenue will handle the fourth district and Robert Harvey of 695 Belleville avenue is handling the fifth district.

Fred Oschner, long active in local political and civic affairs, has been named Mertz's chairman for the third ward, the candidate's home territory. Aiding Oschner will be Arthur Stumpe, Mrs. Robert Bramhall, Al Bor-man, Edward Woods, William Glenck, and H. F. Lamprecht.

Fewsmith Church To Hold Congregational Dinner

The annual congregational dinner of Fewsmith church will be held Tuesday evening in the church recreation rooms and will be prepared and served by the Woman's guild.

Nelligan officiated. A reception was held at the Belleville Elks club.

Miss Helen Weiss of this town was maid of honor and Miss Mae Watson, also of Belleville, and Miss Mary Rich of Delaware were bridesmaids. Mr. Urciuoli's best man was his cousin, Anthony Rich. Ushers were George Kiernan and William Friel of Belleville.

Orchids centered her bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor was gown in pale orchid taffeta and the bridesmaids identically dressed in orchid taffeta of a darker tone. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of pink roses and two shades of orchid sweet peas.

Miss Naylor was graduated from Belleville High school and attended Coleman Business school in Newark. Mr. Urciuoli was graduated from Nutley High school and is employed by Air Associates at Bendix.

LETTERS

Says Coogan Was Invaluable In Helping Young People

From George T. Hearle
76 Cleveland Street
To the Editor of The Times:

It was with sincere regret, some months ago, that I read in your paper the announcement of Mr. Coogan's resignation from his position at town hall. I felt that the people of this town (and particularly the young people) had lost a loyal servant.

No one knows better than I of the invaluable service Mr. Coogan has rendered to the young people of Belleville in their quest for employment, when not too long ago jobs were hard to get.

As great a burden as his duties must have been, he never refused to give some of his limited time to any of us who sought his advice and help in obtaining employment. I obtained my present position through his consideration and help.

Many of us who have received his assistance have been unable to repay him in any way. But, now we have been given our chance. Mr. Coogan is a candidate for commissioner in the coming town election, and I expect to repay him by speaking for his election among my friends.

Among my friends are some others that he has helped in the same way, and in a spirit of gratitude, I want to remind the many that he did help that they have the same opportunity of helping the fellow that helped them.

There is an old saying that "To have friends — you must be one." If that holds true, Mr. Coogan will be elected, and the young people should be responsible for a large part of his votes.

Director Waters Praised For Foresight, Planning

From Wm. J. D. Lynch
444 Washington avenue.

It has come to the writer's attention that Commissioner Patrick A. Waters, for the past several months, has been having the personnel of his public works department organizing and training for the emergency after the fashion of one of New York's largest utilities. These employees are under 24 hours daily and are appointed to the zones near their residence, and are thoroughly familiar with the town's systems.

These are most vital functions of municipal utilities for health, and protection against fire.

Our national emergency is more serious than most of us realize and the writer therefore feels that Commissioner Waters deserves commendation for showing such deep and intelligent interest in this situation and for his foresight and initiative in purchasing months ago replacements for our water system at a very low cost by comparison with present prices. In fact, these articles now are practically unobtainable.

An accomplishment like this should be called to the attention of the public, as in most cases we do not appreciate the ability and integrity of our public officials.

H. S. Student Protests Board Action On Baseball

From H. S. Junior
To the Editor of the Belleville Times:

This letter concerns the discontinuance of baseball in Belleville high. As a student there I feel that I have the right to express my sentiments and those of the majority of the student body. Baseball should be continued at any cost in these critical times. Morale of the students should be kept high, with their older brothers and their fathers leaving for the armed services. Baseball is a national institution, why should a few people in executive positions abolish this fine sport? Their answer immediately will be, "no transportation."

"Well what are the 100 or more other high schools in New Jersey doing about this same problem? Are they excluding baseball from their schools? The answer is positively no! They are finding ways of combating the problems. Cars owned by Belleville high students, which they have volunteered, would transport two baseball teams. This does not include members of the High school faculty who have placed their cars at the team's disposal. Buses, I feel, still could be provided in some way. Other towns are getting them, why can't Belleville? No place for the team to practice! What of the Municipal stadium that was built at a cost of half a million dollars? That stadium was built and dedicated to the youth of Belleville. Now, that is could be used to good advantage, it's apparently not available. Why? Those in favor of discontinuing baseball could find an answer to that no doubt, but whatever it is could be easily overcome.

If the question of baseball as an effective recreation and morale builder during this emergency is a national issue and is being supported all the way down the line starting with President Roosevelt, why should it be obliterated in Belleville? Parents, taxpayers, are you honestly convinced that the expense incurred in continuing baseball this season outweighs the vital need it fills? Was it ever more needed?

Student Wants To Know Why Stadium Isn't Ready

From Phillip Blasco,
160 Crest Drive,
To the Editor of The Times:

This is an open letter to the taxpayers who helped pay for the much talked about municipal stadium and Clearman field. As most of you know from the article in last week's Belleville Times there will be no baseball season for Belleville High school.

The simple reason is that Clearman field is getting a new growth of grass. With that excuse I find no fault. But when they come with the excuse that the stadium isn't ready for baseball, why isn't it? After all the people of Belleville did and are still paying taxes to have it built. So why isn't it ready for baseball? This is a situation that ought to be looked into in the interest of baseball and as a duty to high school sports and students. This is a year when there ought to be an abundance of sports in town. The board of education wants to do away with baseball, but it shouldn't as now is the time to build up morale and physical strength to aid in defense. The board of education wants to do away with baseball, why?

Now I'm finding no fault with the stadium but why in Sam Hill isn't the stadium ready for baseball or other sports when it is wanted? After all everyone has a good idea when the different sports seasons open so why aren't the two fields ready for use. All the big stadiums are. So why isn't the Belleville municipal stadium ready? I ask you?

With the commission elections coming up May 12 such a statement about the stadium not being ready for baseball looks bad for certain commissioners.

The Misses Frances and Dolores Lukowiak of Ralph street held a get-together at their home Saturday evening. The Misses Irene Rawcliffe, Catherine Lemoine, Jane Bogert, Annelise Kehoe, Peggy Holzner, Regina Leone of this town and Frances McGovern of Nutley were present as were Joseph Kehoe, Anthony Bergimini and Joseph Coles of Belleville, Thomas and Raymond Donahue, Ernest Balorasi and Edwin Chapman of Newark.

To The Citizens of Belleville:

On May 12th you will elect five men to govern the affairs of Belleville for the next four years. I want to go on record now—and believe that each of the other candidates should similarly express himself before Election Day—that only through harmony and a progressive spirit among the commissioners can we have a business-like administration.

Therefore each commissioner should be assigned to and be in charge of a department as was intended under the provisions of the Walsh Act, which governs the commission form of government in New Jersey.

When you citizens of Belleville elected me a member of the Board of Commissioners in May, 1938, the majority group of the board without previously granting me the courtesy of a conference, removed from my control authorities and powers ordinarily assigned to the Department of Parks and Public Property by law.

So long as we have men on the board who are obsessed with the craving for power and control, the fair name of Belleville will not be synonymous with good government. The voters should elect in their own interest five men who will guarantee that there will be an equal distribution of powers and authority to promote a sound, business-like administration on a pay-as-you-go principle.

The voters must select men who will sacrifice in the interest of the welfare of the community and will not use their office for personal gains and profit for themselves or their associates.

Our country is in a time when we must all make sacrifices -- when we must all practice honesty, fairness and common decency.

Getting Service that Conserves Your Car?

Come in for service by Authorized Factory-trained Mechanics who know how to make cars last longer

THERE'S a big difference between servicing a car and conserving it.

The first simply takes care of needed matters—the second attends to them in a way that prolongs car-life.

For example—now's the time to change to spring and summer oil and lubricants. But if you want longest car-life, it's also the time to check up on motor efficiency, gas mileage, wheel alignment, clutch and brake condition, battery condition and general tightness.

Buick Spring Servicing includes many of those things—then goes farther.

Every car brought to a Buick dealer for regular seasonal service also gets a complete check-up by a factory-trained mechanic ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT COST.

This check-up helps Conserve Your Car by showing its exact condition, and uncovering any special attention it may need in the near future.

Why not get Spring Servicing that includes this EXTRA safeguard of long life at no extra charge?

Child Care Program Need Stressed In CSB Survey

Bureau Presents Five-Point Plan For Study After Investigating 208 Families In Which Mothers Work; Presented To Defense Council

The Community Service bureau this week presented to the local defense council a five-point program dealing with the care of children of working mothers which was recommended for study and consideration. It was included in a preliminary report prepared by Mrs. Julia O. Reiner, executive secretary of the CSB, and based on a lengthy volunteer survey which has been made by more than 60 local men and women interested in welfare work and the improvement of conditions and better guidance for children in families where both parents are employed.

Mrs. Reiner presented the report and explained it in detail before members of the consumers' interests section of the defense council Tuesday night at town hall.

"Our study indicates that it is already a sizeable problem," Mrs. Reiner said. "With national pressures, it will become an increasing one. We believe that the community and this agency as a part of the community have a definite responsibility to safeguard children.

The services which should be strengthened, increased or newly developed to meet the needs of children as seen by the bureau survey are:

Counseling or advisory service to mothers concerning problems related to day care.

Day care centres.

Out of school programs for children of school age.

Foster family day care.

Supervised homemaker service.

"More adequate care for children of working mothers," the report said, "is already a definite need in many areas in New Jersey, and Belleville is no exception in this respect. We want to be prepared to fulfill our responsibility. The first step is to know the community's current and potential day care problem, and to work out plans to meet it."

Based On 208 Cases

The names of approximately 600 working mothers were obtained by the bureau at the start of its survey. Because of the lack of assistance, it was impossible to interview all of them. A plan was worked out to visit and talk with a certain number of mothers in each school district. Although nearly 300 families were interviewed, insufficient information was obtained in a number of them and the findings of the committee are based on 208 families. In 200 of these, the mothers were employed outside of the homes. The other eight were motherless families who faced similar problems regarding care of children.

At the present time, the report points out, there are no facilities for full time day care although some part time plans do exist which in no way meet the needs of the children whose mothers are employed on a full time basis.

Although mothers in all parts of town have gone to work, the survey showed that the greatest number is among families in the Valley and Silver Lake sections and considerable number in the vicinity of Passaic avenue.

A large majority of these families were native born white. Only 20 colored families and only 44 families in which one or both parents were foreign born were among the 208 cases. Eighty percent of the families were married couples with children. Eleven widows, eight widowers and 27 families broken by divorce, desertion or separation, were included. In each case except those of the widowers, the household included an employed mother.

"The center of our interest," the report said, "is the children of these working mothers. The 208 families included 409 pre-school or elementary school children. Of these the group arousing most concern is the 57 children under five years of age, but hardly less seriously in need of care and supervision are the 166 children from five to 10 years old, who though in school a considerable part of the day are still dependent on adult supervision during their out-of-school hours. The 177 grade school children 10 years of age or older are better able to care for themselves and less dependent on others for their physical well being than are the younger children, but need careful guidance if their time is to be directed into constructive activities rather than mischief and delinquency.

Some Entirely Unsupervised

"What happens to these children while their mothers are at work? We found 80 children who, at some period of the day, were entirely unsupervised. The remainder had some sort of supervision, but in the cases of over 100 children the type of care was felt to be inadequate, as in instances where small children were left in the care of a 12 or 13 year-old sister or under the casual supervision of a neighbor.

"We inquired into the parents' attitudes toward the plans which they had been able to work out for their children. Of the 186 who expressed an opinion, about half were satisfied and half were dissatisfied as they felt that the children were inadequately supervised. Even some of the plans which were adequate in the eyes of the families appeared dubious to the outside observer.

"Eighty families made suggestions of facilities needed to meet the problem of care of children of working mothers. From 51 came the suggestion of a day nursery or nursery school, and three proposed foster day care. Expanded recreational facilities and programs were recommended by 35 families. Eleven expressed the need for some provision for hot lunches to be served in school and four suggested housekeeper service. Some attempt was made to determine how fully the existing resources are utilized. There were some indications that recreational resources are not used as fully as they might be, but we did not learn whether this is due to lack of interest, dearth of adequate leadership or inaccessibility of the facilities. We found only six children spending any part of the day at nursery school, but the nursery school hours are such that few working mothers are able to utilize it for care of their children.

"All but seven of our 200 working mothers gave economic pressure as their reason for working. Husbands' inadequate salary, debts, desire to buy a home, ill health of husband were among the specific reasons given. Only four stated that they preferred working to remaining at home, and three said that they worked to help national defense. Our figures in regard to income are neither exact nor complete, but give an approximate picture of the economic status of the families with whom we are concerned. In 18 cases the father was deceased or unemployed, leaving the major burden of support to the mother. In 13 families the father earned less than $20.00 a week, and in 40 families the father earned between $20 and $30. In only 32 instances were the earnings of the father known to be greater than $40 per week. The total family income was distributed as follows among the 208 cases:

Under $30 per week . . . 48
$30 to $39 35
$40 to $49 39
$50 and over 61
Unknown 25

"About 10 percent of the mothers included in the study had sought advice from the Community Service bureau in regard to plans for care of their children while at work. It was through knowing the problems and difficulties of these families that we became interested in the total community problem and aware of the present lack of facilities to safeguard the welfare of children while the mothers are gainfully employed. We are convinced that before any child is separated from the mother, there should be opportunity for the mother to consider the question with a case worker, for it is a familiar question of which case workers have long been accustomed to counsel with families.

"We are reluctant to accept any general assumption that mothers can best contribute to war effort by taking employment, but will also agree that in some family situations and with suitable care arranged for children, a mother's employment may have a constructive effect. We wish to emphasize our entire accord with the recommendation made by the Conference on Day Care of Children of Working Mothers held under the auspices of the Federal Children's bureau: 'Infants should be given individual care, preferably in their own homes and by their own mothers.' When the mother of an infant either wishes to work or must work, she needs help in understanding a young child's need of its mother and the dangers involved in attempting to substitute any other form of security."

The sub-committee on child care of the consumers interest division of the defense council met Tuesday afternoon in the Community Service bureau at 338 Washington avenue to hear the report of the bureau's executive secretary, Mrs. Julia O. Reiner.

Mrs. Robert Lunsford is chairman of the sub-committee. She accepted the report for consideration by the consumers' interest committee. Earl Seibert, Charles Tedesco, Frank Chambers, Mrs. Martha V. Herkins, Miss Filomena Pomponio, Mrs. Frank Ackerman, Mrs. Mary Ridgeway and Mrs. Madeline Matthews were present. Other members of the sub-committee are Mrs. L. R. Reeves, Mrs. John Denike, Miss Angele Chapman, Mrs. Mae Holden, Miss Helen Willard Borchers and John Charlton.

Lost--$350,000. Surplus Found--Huge Debt!

as NOT told by
The Pied Piper of Belleville and His Three Blind Mice

Citizens of Belleville, we will read another chapter in our weekly serial of town finance. Last week we were all excited, felt rich, we wanted back our share of the ALLEGED $350,000. SURPLUS, for which we had been overtaxed in the zeal of our Mayor-Financier to get Belleville "OUT OF THE RED".

But this week I devoted myself to getting the low-down on Belleville's debt. I was amazed at what I found. As published on

THAT SURPLUS IS IMAGINARY

It is worse. We have "an Irish dividend" coming to us. Our debt is so great that instead of "being out of the red" and "paying as it goes" Belleville is now in the pawn-shop so heavily, that EACH AND EVERY ONE of our 28,167 population owes $167. just to be even. As property-owners carry nearly the total tax burden, and are about 7,000 of the population, they are in the pawn-shop for $668. each. As assessment valuations

December 31, 1940, (the last available data) it consisted of FORTY-SIX items, the oldest being in 1908, and the vast majority of it being borrowed in 1930, 1931, 1935, 1936, 1939 and 1940, while we were being told by our Mayor-Financier that he was DROPPING THE RATE. Whenever he "dropped the rate", he either INCREASED the Tax-Levy, or "increased the Debt"; or BOTH.

are at least 30% above actual selling values, to be honest and conservative, WE PROPERTY-OWNERS ARE $891.00 IN THE RED EACH. Belleville's direct debt is 13.8% of assessed valuations or $145. per person, and adding our share of Essex County's debt, brings it up to the AMAZING amount of 15.3% debt on what we shall know is inflated assessment values.

A PRETTY DISH TO SET BEFORE THE KING

No matter who is elected, the citizens must KNOW NOW, TODAY, what the truth is and who has taxed us into the poor house and borrowed us into the doghouse. Don't wait until after the frenzied-financiers have "retired" or been "kicked upstairs" into Congress, and leave an incoming council to clean up the mess. CLIP THIS NOW, and keep it until each of us has paid over his $167. or the property-owners have made up the $668. or $891. EACH to free his property from the debt-burden. Let's not forget under what REGIME IT HAPPENED! Let's be honest with the incoming commissioners.

MILLIONS BORROWED RECENTLY

Another amazing fact to me in analyzing this debt, was to find that $3,747,000. of it was borrowed recently in 1931 to 1940, at a time the United States Government was "improving" our town and keeping our home-owners from losing their homes,—a time when we were supposed to be "surplusing" and our Mayor-Financier was "dropping the rate". I have in my possession exact tabulated data on the dates, amounts, maturities, and branch for which each item of our bonded debt was created, if the tax-payors want it published. We, Belleville, the town that "IS OUT OF THE RED, that PAYS AS IT GOES"!!

Being curious to know how a "rate could drop 8 and 9 points" while taxes went UP and UP, hand and hand with borrowing as you go, I took the trouble to get the assessed values which they multiply by the rate to get the TAX-levy. Again, I was amazed! It was quite a razzle-dazzle, Houdini couldn't do better. Here is how it works:

YEAR	ASSESSED VALUATION	RATE	TAX-LEVY	RAZZLE-DAZZLE
1926	$21,327,339.	3.90	$ 835,862. Good old boom days
1927	26,050,599.	4.28	1,120,808. The top of the boom
1928	28,380,994.	4.18	1,200,950. Rate dropped—Tax increased
1929	30,714,804.	4.15	1,281,587. Rate dropped—Tax increased
1930	32,404,329.	4.06	1,323,951. Rate dropped—Tax increased
1931	33,211,956.	4.34	1,445,687. Rate higher—Tax higher
1932	33,442,446.	4.46	1,497,464. Rate higher—Tax higher
1933	30,997,876.	4.14	1,289,741. Tax down $207,723. (government relief here)
1934	30,668,076.	3.94	1,213,535. Tax down $76,206.
1935	30,504,976.	3.90	1,188,803. Tax down $24,732. (borrowed $1,103,000.)
1936	29,687,076.	3.80	1,127,325. Tax down $61,478 (borrowed $60,000.)
1937	30,123,104.	3.75	1,129,000. RATE DOWN—TAX UP
1938	30,263,354.	4.48	1,354,000. RATE UP—TAX UP (borrowed $50,000.)
1939	30,227,704.	4.78	1,443,672. *RATE UP—TAXES UP (borrowed $1,517,000.)
1940	29,635,500.	4.68	1,385,008. *RATE DROP—TAX DROP (borrowed $157,000.)
1941	29,680,808.	4.62	1,368,417. *RATE DROP (borrowings not available)
1942	31,909,900.	4.53	1,399,304. RATE DROP—Tax increase $30,886.32

Thus assessment values increased 33% and actual taxes 67% substantially.

OUR CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Now, in his Statement of Candidacy, our Mayor-Financier, never a modest wee violet, and always a super-salesman, goes to town on the miracles he has performed. When he entered, Belleville was a ruined town financially (it had been keeping its head above water on a puny little $835,862. tax-levy). Like brave Jack Dalton saving Nellie the Beautiful Cloak Model, he rescued us from the stigma of State lifeboat.

He cogitated. He pondered. He controlled. He consulted. He supervised. He conferred. He studied. He analyzed. He corresponded. He visited. And what a salesman HE WAS !!! Over a HUNDRED COMMUNITIES in New Jersey, New York, Detroit, Connecticut and even international Toronto, sought him to come and expound the glories of Belleville and explain HOW HE DOES IT. "The Town out of the Red, that pays as it goes"—the model, the pattern, the example!!! (Let us hope they paid our Mayor-Financier's expenses!) Editors, municipal journals, newspapers, public officials—all sought him out—and "still the wonder grew that one small head could carry all he knew." BUT!!

"IMPORTANT, IF TRUE"

Now, did all these seekers after miraculous achievement go to the best school? They could have learned a lot about Belleville's unfortunate town finance and expert mismanagement merely by consulting well-recognized Authorities—Moody, Fitch, Pears and Standard Statistics who have for nearly one hundred years turned cold, scientific X-rays on factors under town government, and used recognized yardsticks of assessment values, tax rates, tax levies, tax liens sold, foreclosed properties piled up, unpaid taxes, borrowings, and they Rate municipal bonds AAA's for the best AA's for second grade

A's for third grade
BAA's for fourth grade and then comes Belleville BA fifth grade or "medium-grade category" because of OUR HEAVY DEBT BURDEN !!!

FINANCIAL EXPERTS ARE NOT CANDIDATES

Now, citizens, put this honest opinion of experts who do not seek your votes, beside the statement of our Mayor-Financier in his Candidacy Statement, who tells us ON THE EVE OF THE ELECTION that "Belleville is out of the Red" when each and every one of the whole population is in debt $167, and if property owners must shoulder it, their amount is $668. or $891., depending on your choice of inflated or conservative real estate values. In speaking about the "surplus" our Mayor-Financier warns us against "unwarranted over-optimism". It would require a pipe of opium to dream so rpsay after reading the true state of Belleville's debt and that it will cost $280,000. IN 1942 TO SERVICE AND CARRY IT, which amounts to $10.00 per person per year, or $40.00 per property owner per year. This is an increase of $26,539. more than the same cost in 1941.

We pay over a Quarter of a Million Dollars before we start to get ready to commence to begin to pay for actual cost of town operation.

That Is Something ! ! ! !

Remember the answer of the philandering Harlem husband caught red-handed: Does you believe your honey, or does you believe your eyes ! !

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD RALLY MAY 2

Two Brownies Are Graduated To Troop 3; Mrs. Hyde Again Scout Commissioner

May 2 has been set for the annual Girl Scout rally which will be held at the high school. Presentations are being worked out by each troop around the general theme of the war songs produced by each war in United States history.

In a colorful and significant ceremony with their leader, Mrs. Edith Staudt, Brownie Troop No. 24 graduated two members to Troop 3 Girl Scouts Monday afternoon at School No. 8.

The girls were Alice Poppel and Virginia Haufier who gave their Girl Scout promise and received tenderfoot pins. Mrs. Estelle Cox is Troop 3 leader. The troop held an Easter party yesterday afternoon at Wesley church.

Troop No. 2 will conduct a tea and reception for mothers this afternoon in the Recreation house. At a recent meeting of the Girl Scout council, held at the home of the commissioner, Mrs. Elmer Hyde, officers were elected for the coming year. Mrs. Hyde was re-elected commissioner; Mrs. Stanley Gibson will be first deputy; Mrs. Bernard Cavalier, second deputy; Mrs. Leroy Long, treasurer, and Mrs. George Gerard, secretary.

Mrs. Burton Whidden has called a meeting of members of the program committee tomorrow afternoon at the Community Service bureau, 338 Washington avenue, to discuss plans for the older girl scouts' program for the duration of the war. Copies of the pamphlet, "Volunteers for Victory", have been received from National Girl Scout headquarters and are being distributed.

The booklet points out the present peace-time activities of the adult leaders of Girl Scout troops and lists the added contributions necessary to incorporate the girls into the civilian defense movement. Openings for adults to help the expansion of the girl scout defense program are described.

Now Playing At The Capitol

But the teacher in this case is dancer Barbara Stanwyck, who invites the sanctity of a research professor's home—Gary Cooper's home—to teach him the other side of life. Their romance is told in Samuel Goldwyn's "Ball of Fire," a bizarre and most unusual love story. Now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Mayer Says Budget Reading Established Surplus Figure

Arthur E. Mayer, candidate for commissioner, was questioned this week concerning his assertion that there was a surplus of $500,000.00 in the town treasury.

"I have at no time," Mayer said "stated the amount of cash surplus in the treasury. The final budget reading established that figure. I did, however, show the relationship of Belleville's tax rate, which is the third highest in Essex county, to its cash surplus. This figure was placed by the finance director at $542,598.55 and with the approval of the board of commissioners, $192,573.55 of the surplus will be used as a credit against the 1942 budget needs. This action does not alter the amount of surplus of operations for the fiscal year."

O. E. S. Installs Tonight

Officers of Belleville Chapter No. 262, Eastern Star will be installed this evening at Masonic temple by Most Worthy Grand Matron Lillian M. Harris of this town. Mrs. Elsie M. tive spirit—and when you attempt to snuff that out, an irreparable harm has been committed.

The members of the athletic council may be farsighted. Perhaps other schools may be forced to suspend their inter-scholastic programs. Lack of transportation and a playing field have been advanced as the principal reasons for the cancellation of the schedule. The transportation problem may be a worthwhile contention, but the question of playing facilities arouses a moot point. Without attempting to insert any thought of politics into the argument, we pointedly ask—what is wrong with the municipal stadium? The baseball team played home games there last year. Is that structure to be permitted to lie idle for months on end?

If suspension of an interscholastic schedule is thought best by the athletic council, it would seem that this would not bar baseball completely from the high school extra-curricular activity program. What about an intra-mural program which would give many more young boys an opportunity to compete than could possibly be given a chance on the high school team? If transportation is a key factor—then what about football and basketball? If competition with other schools is to disappear completely, the sports should not be permitted to die. An intra-mural program should be developed to replace it so that spirit which is so vital to any school will be kept alive. With a stadium such as the town has and the county park system, we are not convinced that there is no place to play.

This year we figured that it was almost impossible to make the same mistake. After the three warm days last week, we called the park commission and they concurred in the thought that if the weather held up for the next three days, the trees would be blooming their best. And who thought it wouldn't be nice? The weather controller switched decks on us when we weren't looking and Thursday morning the trees were covered with a blanket of snow and ice. It kept up on Friday and in spite of the sun's efforts to make amends on Saturday and Sunday, the trees did not bloom.

Next year's a long way off, but we'll think it over a couple of times and do some double checking before predicting when the trees will burst into bloom. Most of them are dressed in their best spring finery now, so if you want to see a beautiful sight or have your picture taken, visit the park during the next few days.

Realizing that warnings may not bring many drivers to their senses, Magee this week issued a state-wide order declaring that any motorists twice convicted of exceeding the 40-mile speed limit in open country, and lesser speeds in built-up districts, will be notified of the proposed revocation of his driver's license. Advice to motorists to conserve has been coming from every corner in recent months, and if they do not heed the warning of those who should know, then they must be prepared to face the consequences.

this week showed that they can put more serious cares aside for a few hours and concentrate themselves on how the pitcher will get the side out when the bases are loaded.

Where else could they sit and yell "kill the umpire" or "t'row da bum out" and get away with it? Where else could players of almost every racial extraction compete against each other? And where else do peanuts, n' hot dogs and soda pop taste as good as they do at a good baseball game? Yes, it's good to see the season back again.

are far down the wage scale ladder. Ordinary laborers can obtain three and four times the money which they have been receiving in private enterprises, and considerably more money than is being paid to school teachers and many other workers who have years of experience and training. The defense program has produced an inequality in wages which is bound to affect morale of many workers for they find that expenses are increasing but the income is not.

Frankly, the only solution to the problem is paying more money, and municipalities, like many private businesses which find themselves in a similar predicament, wonder if they can afford to do it and the public can't pay it.

News Without Sugar

This newspaper has twice commented on the dangers of sugar-coating the war news. Today it appears necessary to speak again. For the United Nations, the first blows of the war in the Pacific were so stunning that they are still very much on the defensive. It is easy to forget that large-scale position in rejoicing over small successes of the Allies.

The Navy communique on Wednesday gave an impression that the sinking or damaging of twenty-three Japanese ships off New Guinea had taken place in one slashing blow. Now it appears that these were the results of a ten-day series of actions and that the invasion armada is far from checked.

It is not pleasant—and it is not news in the immediate sense—to report day after day that the Japanese are still advancing. Newspapers can hardly be expected to write headlines like these: "Another Retreat for the Allies," "Japanese Still Winning," "Navy Hasn't Balanced Pearl Harbor." Headline writers have to summarize a story, and reporters find it easier to make something that looks new out of the day's action than out of a long range survey.

The newspapers are not the only sugar-coaters. Censorship can hide bad news. Official communiques, while factual over the short-range, are not giving an accurate picture of the whole situation. It was an Army officer who reported that American forces were "more than holding their own" at the time the Japanese made their big landing at Lingayen. It was a British officer who described the situation as "well in hand" just when the Japanese were consolidating their landing on Singapore Island.

Do officials or newspapers really believe the peoples of the free countries cannot take bad news? We can take it, and without sugar. We must, if we are to act with the knowledge and resolution that can shorten the war.

—Christian Science Monitor.

We Want to Face the Facts

Our food experts around here, and especially the women who have been conducting nutrition classes in Ridgewood and other nearby towns, have put a lot of thought and study into working out recipes without sugar, and in drawing up rules for the use of sugar substitutes in standard dishes. Now comes a hint that sugar rationing may not, after all, be necessary.

Similarly we have been warned again and again in the strongest kind of words that only cars used for the most vital and indispensable work can hope for tires of any sort—and that even these may not be available. And now comes word that the tire and tube quotas have been considerably enlarged.

The average citizen who patriotically and honestly had made up his mind to gear his life to a sugarless, carless plan, is not unnaturally left a trifle bewildered and, what is worse, a bit sceptical of the whole rationing and priority plan. Is there or is there not a serious sugar shortage? he asks; will people be able to get an occasional tire a few months from now or is it true that present tires must last the war out?

It is almost inevitable that he asks if these things have been announced by the government to scare people, and if he feels they have, he doesn't like it very well.

It is about time the government realized that it is dealing with adult human beings and not with mentally retarded children. The average citizen in these United States is ready and willing to give up his shirt if it is going to help win the war. He may grouse a bit, and he most certainly will make more or less fun of it. But if he once realizes that it is necessary, that his self-denial is a genuine contribution to the war effort he will be more than willing—even proud to comply.

But this back-and-forth business—blow hot, blow cold—inevitably leaves him with the feeling that someone is pulling a fast one and sets him wondering if perhaps some of the other things he has been told are equally unfounded on fact.

An Asset to the City

Four years ago Irvington lacked much which it has today. Primarily it lacked a Chamber of Commerce. It lacked much semblance of a unified civic spirit. It lacked also a progressive and cooperative feeling among its business concerns.

Tonight as the Chamber of Commerce observes its fourth anniversary, we are reminded how indispensable is such an organization in fostering and creating civic progress. Like any other public activity, some outside the membership, perhaps a few within it, felt free to growl and grumble because it may not have accomplished some pet project in which the critic is interested.

It is wise to appraise its value more justly. Without constant efforts by the Chamber many projects important to Irvington would not be done. Today community progress is not halted because so many business men, despite their own personal problems, give so freely of their time and energy to community improvement.

This feeling of civic obligation among business men becomes potent under Chamber of Commerce influence. Much of the business and industrial development is due largely to a new sense of responsibility engendered by this organization. It is to be congratulated on its achievements. Roy Hitchings, its first president, had a vision which others have helped translate into actualities. Good work! Keep it up!

Catch Up With Belleville

It took the Essex county tax board more than six years to catch up to the fact that the Town of Belleville has not been levying personal taxes against its residents. Of all of the taxes which we are required to pay, the personal tax seems to us to be the most unfair.

No municipal assessing department could properly assess for personal taxes unless it employed a staff which be far in excess of the return from the collection of the tax. Belleville's action was unfair to the rest of the county.

It was brought out this week that Belleville has not been the lone violator of the taxing law. Other municipalities in the state are guilty, too. This is unfair to those people who are being forced to pay. Bringing to light this situation may result in some action to eliminate the unfairnesses which exist in this law.

NUTLEY SUN

The Day of the Substitute

For want of a nail a nation was lost! You remember—the want of a nail caused loss of a horseshoe, then the horse, the general, the battle and finally the nation. All U. S. industry is united today to see that no "nail" is wanting to win this battle.

Many of our sources of supply have been cut off—many vitally needed "nails" of production are difficult to get, and without some of these materials it might seem as if certain "horseshoes" would be impossible. But industry and science are developing substitutes for these "missing materials" as they disappear from the market. This is the day of the substitute, and in many cases the substitute may be coming to stay.

Metals—the backbone of America—metals for planes, for tanks, for ships, for ammunition. The mad scamper for materials to replace metals is giving plastics the greatest opportunity they have ever had to prove their industrial worth. There are plastics which are tougher than steel yet weigh but half as much.

Wool for our army—at the very time when the country needs it most to outfit a victory army with uniforms, blankets, and many other necessities a shortage of raw wool seems imminent, but industry is coming to the front with all sorts of substitutes.

Parachute troops in the United States need no longer depend on Japan for silk, and the army may soon be marching on composition soles, which wear better than leather.

These are only a few of the many products American industry is lining up for the future. Substitutes so that we can be independent of many articles that we used to import. Substitutes because there is one thing for which we know no substitute—our democracy and American way of life!

ESSEX COUNTY POLITICS

The views expressed in this column, are entirely those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Publishers or Editors of the Belleville News.

by Meador Wright

This community is acutely political minded just now. But interest centers more on the grim game being played around Pierre Laval than around any figure in New Jersey. Last week Senate President Grant Scott seemed in a mood to compete with Monsieur Laval on fairly equal terms in the type of political game that Laval plays so well. At the last minute, however, the plan to sell New Jersey down the river was reconsidered. Someone must have had a little touch of conscience. The three-man highway board plan was turned down flat by the Republican majority in the Assembly. Mr. Scott and his fellow senators heard Spencer Miller Jr., on Tuesday and the word now is that Miller will be confirmed.

The South Orange engineer went before the Senate Committee armed to the teeth. He carried huge photostats of the now famous John Borg editorial in the Bergen Evening Record and likewise copies of an address delivered by John S. Kennedy, leftist labor leader of Seattle. The great Mr. Borg had simply quoted the wrong man. There were remarks to the effect that he had been imposed upon by "clumsy forgery." Those who knew New Jersey politics better looked to Hudson County for the explanation. Mr. Borg was appointed to the Port of New York Authority through the good graces of one Frank Hague. What Mr. Borg printed might have been at least remotely concerned with repayment of this political debt. Then again it might not. I leave it to my readers to make their own deduction. And speaking of reds, not a few New Jersey citizens had rather seen the highway department turned over to Joe Stalin, himself, than a combination of South Jersey Republicans and Hudson Democrats.

The Newark city manager referendum has been set for May 26. Presumably ballots will be mailed to all Newark voters now in the armed forces of the United States. Since Newark furnishes approximately one third of one percent of all our military strength a statistical analysis of the addresses of these men would give our enemies almost exact information of the disposition of all our forces. County Clerk Russell C. Gates' office may be in a position to keep this simple data secret, and then again it may not. The matter of soldiers' addresses emphasizes the uselessness of the whole referendum. It looks as though remnants of the gangs that bled Newark for almost a decade are taking advantage of public absorption with the War to sneak over a new form of government that would enable these secondhands to sneak back into power. The information that I can gather is that the referendum will fail badly, but then one can never be quite sure what Newark will do. Its population is such a conglomeration of racial and sub-standard economic groups as to furnish a fertile field for political manipulators. Jersey City should be a warning of what could happen here in Essex.

Youth Week Program May 1 Planned By No. 7 Pupils

The pupils of School No. 7 are planning their seventh annual youth week program, which will be presented in the school auditorium on Friday evening, May 1.
The program will include "Rip of how children live democracy in the school. Each phase of it has been worked out not only as an activity with pupils from all grades, including kindergarten, but with the thought in mind of citizenship development, which included training in leadership, in social coherence, in school spirit and unity, in self expression, in audience training, and in the spirit of social service.
The program will include "Rip,

Van Winkle," a cantata by the girls' glee club, with Paul Huchstahl playing the part of Rip, and "The Old Man of the Mountain," a musical comedy, in one act, by the boys' glee club, with James Kayser as Tommy Tucker and Robert Seiler playing the part of the old man.
Both units are under the direction of Ruth Robertson, music teacher, with Dorothy Denison assisting. The scenery and stage settings are being worked out by pupils of grades six and eight under the guidance of M. Isa Abbott.
The school orchestra, directed by Regina L. Kennedy, will furnish the music.
Samples of the year's work, collected and arranged by Virginia Melchior, Ruth Holzhauser and Anna Gerina of grade eight, will be on display in the entrance of the building.
Seventy-five percent of the financial returns will be turned over to the Junior Red Cross.

Keep Your Telephone Always Ready for Use

EVERY WEEK over 2,000 telephones in New Jersey are temporarily out of service—not because there is anything mechanically wrong with them—but because the receiver has been left off the hook (or is held up by a book or other object that prevents the switch hook from going all the way down).
 When this happens, these telephones register "temporarily out-of-order" at the central office. No one can reach them until the trouble is corrected, which may be a few minutes or even hours.
 Today, keeping every telephone always ready for service is highly important, for the telephone is being used to a record-breaking extent to help speed our nation's war effort.
